Greater Washington grows apace. Keep informed regarding the remarkable suburban expansion by reading The Post.

The Washington Post.

Today—Probable showers early, cooler.
Tomorrow—Fair and cool.
Yesterday—High, 33; low, 60.
1931—Highest, 73; lowest, 61.
Details on page 2.

NO. 20,429. ENTERED AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER. POSTOFFICE, WASHINGTON, D. C.
WASHINGTON: SUNDAY, MAY 22, 1932.
FIVE CENTS. WASHINGTON & SUBURBS | TEN CENTS. ELSEWHERE

COPYRIGHT, 1932, BY THE WASHINGTON POST CO

GANGSTER SEEN IN MARYLAND IS KIDNAP SUSPECT

Told Official of Murder Before Finding of Body of Lindbergh Baby.

THREATENED TO GIVE IDENTITY OF KILLERS

Man Angered by Harm to His Jersey Business by Police Work.

Hopewell, N. J., May 21 (A.P.).—The Lindbergh murder investigation turned tonight into a concerted hunt for a Jersey rumrunner, who, two days before the famous baby's body was found, told how the infant had been killed and where the battered little form had been hidden.

There is a possibility this unidentified character may hold the key to the secrets of what is already one of the world's strangest crime mysteries. He has boasted, it was disclosed today, that he knows several of the band who perpetrated the fiendish kidnaping and killing.

As new light was thrown on this "mysterious gangster," now sought throughout the East, John Hughes Curtis, "hoax negotiator," conferred in his jail cell at Flemington with an attorney, and "Jafsie," the ransom payer, went dashing through New England on an unexplained mission.

Norfolk Lawyer Sees Curtis.

The lawyer who visited Curtis was from the shipbuilder's home town of Norfolk, Va. After he left it was learned two local attorneys had been engaged.

They were expected to make early efforts to obtain the prisoner's release on bail.

At the same time another of the bills used in paying the $50,000 ransome was reported to have turned up at a New York bank. Direct confirmation of the report was lacking.

The two-day hunt for the man identified by State police only as "a gangster reported in Maryland and thought to be connected with the case," was given real significance by Arthur Mills, identification expert at the Maryland House of Correction.

In Liquor Traffic.

At Baltimore Mills refused to identify the fugitive, but said he is a character long identified with the liquor traffic in New Jersey.

Two days before the broken body of Charles Augustus Lindbergh, jr., was found by chance in the woods 5 miles from his parents' estate, the rumrunner discussed the mystery with Mills.

He told the identification expert the child had been killed by blows on the head and hidden within 5 miles of where the kidnaping occurred.

He said, Mills repeated, that three or four persons had been involved in the crime and that he knew several of them.

He prefaced these disclosures with a complaint that police activities in the case were hampering his liquor business.

"If somebody doesn't do something about the case soon, I will," Mills quoted the man as saying.

"I didn't pay any attention to it at the time," Mills said, "but later when I read that the body had been

Continued on Page 2, Column 2.

Portland Launched At Fore River Yard

U. S. Cruiser Slides Down Ways; Passes Issued to Exclude Vandals.

Quincy, Mass, May 21 (A.P.).—The U. S. S. Portland, 10,000-ton cruiser, was launched today at the Fore River Shipyards of the Bethlehem Ship Building Co. Because of acts of vandalism on other vessels at the yards recently, spectators were admitted only on special passes. Nevertheless, approximately 5,000 persons watched the ceremony. About 10,000 more lined the shore of the Weymouth River.

The craft, named after the City of Portland, Me., has been under construction since February, 1930. It is now 80 per cent completed and should be in commission by the end of this year. The cruiser is a sister ship of the Northampton, also built at Fore River, sponsored two years ago by Mrs. Calvin Coolidge.

The Portland is one of the fifteen light cruisers authorized by Congress in February, 1929, seven of which are now being built in shipyards on the East and West Coasts. It is 710 feet long, will have a speed of more than 33½ knots, and will develop 107,000 shaft horsepower. Its armament will consist of nine 8-inch guns in three triple mounts; eight 5-inch guns in single mounts arranged for air craft use, and eight antiaircraft machine guns.

Congress Chieftains Warn of Long Term

Senate to Get Economy Bill as Soon as Tax Is Disposed of.

By ROBERT C. ALBRIGHT.

The special Senate economy committee will throw its $300,000,000 savings bill into the tax-torn Senate immediately following the wearing conflict on its $1,000,000,000 revenue measure, Senator Wesley L. Jones, chairman of the Senate appropriations committee, announced last night.

And the storm over the second budget-balancing bill, foreshadowed by the rebellion that racked the House, is expected to approach the revenue measure in violence, if not in duration, despite definite strides toward bipartisan cooperation.

There will follow rapid action on nine pending appropriation bills, their totals trimmed to meet retrenchment needs. This and more bars the way to adjournment.

The economy committee is getting ready to tackle its job anew, following a week's forced respite caused by

Continued on Page 5, Column 1.

Hold-Convention Rest Is Unlikely as Tariff Fight Goes On.

By J. B. McDONNELL.

Republican and Democratic leaders of Senate and House yesterday said there would be no quitting prior to the national political conventions unless members buckled down and enacted the billion dollar tax bill and other necessary measures.

Their warning came at the end of another day of fighting over the tariff provisions of the tax bill, with no definite prospect of an end to the battle.

Senator James E. Watson (Republican), of Indiana, majority leader, and Senator Joseph T. Robinson (Democrat), of Arkansas, minority leader, joined in the outburst of warning statements. Adjournment of Congress would not even be considered until the tax and appropriations bills had been enacted, they said.

Senator David A. Reed (Republican), of Pennsylvania, and Senator

Continued on Page 2, Column 7.

HUGE STOCK PROFITS TRACED TO WARNERS

Film Firm's Chief Upholds Operations to Gain $9,000,000.

(Associated Press.)

The three Warner brothers, moving-picture magnates, were pictured before the Senate banking committee yesterday as having made $9,000,000 in 1930 through undercover buying and selling of the stock in their company, Warner Brothers, Inc.

The description was given by William A. Gray, committee counsel, who said that while Warner Brothers were selling, certain newspapers published articles boosting the value of the stock, and when they began to buy depressing stories were published.

Harry M. Warner, president of the company, denied that the operations were "unethical," contending he and his brothers had sold the stock partly to lend to the corporation which was in need of cash.

He denied that he knew when he was selling the stock the earnings of the company were dropping off or that dividends would be passed, as they were later in the year.

Mr. Warner presented his own figures, showing their profits were slightly over $7,000,000, but he did not challenge the accuracy of Mr. Gray's, which were taken from brokerage records.

Mr. Gray was frequently interrupted by members of the committee as he told the story. Senator Couzens (Republican), Michigan, protested that he was going into too much detail, and Senator Glass (Democrat), Virginia, questioned the relevancy of the case to the stock market investigation which the committee is making.

Toward the end, however, Couzens asked Warner if "it is ethical for the official of a large corporation to trade back and forth in the stock of his own company."

"I think it is ethical and helpful," Warner replied, without explaining.

"I just want to get before the committee the ideals and standards of some of these officeholders whose operations affect the market," Couzens said. "The officers certainly know more than outsiders and have inside knowledge of company affairs."

When Warner, a bronze-faced man

Continued on Page 5, Column 2.

MANY DEAD IN QUAKE IN CENTRAL AMERICA

Six Bodies Are Recovered in Salvador; Property Damage Is Heavy.

San Salvador, May 21 (U.P.).—A violent earthquake rocked the west coast of Central America today, killing an undetermined number and causing heavy property damage. The bodies of six persons were recovered from the ruins at Zacatecoluca, 65 miles southwest of here, and the town itself was badly damaged. Twenty-one other residents were injured.

Crippled communication lines prevented receipt of reports from other parts of the country and fear was felt for the fate of San Vincente, a city of 35,000, some 40 miles south of the capital. San Vincente was thought to have felt the severest effects of the quake, which shook the three Republics of El Salvador, Honduras and Nicaragua at 4:20 a. m. It lasted three minutes.

Government and Red Cross relief expeditions were sent to Zacatecoluca to assist in searching the ruins. A majority of the private dwellings in the town were completely destroyed and the more substantial buildings badly damaged. San Salvador escaped practically undamaged.

Reports from the radio stations of the Pan-American Airways, Inc., said the shock was felt at San Lorenzo, Honduras. It was accompanied by subterranean rumblings, but no serious damage was reported.

Managua, Nicaragua, May 21 (U.P.).—Residents of Managua fled to the streets clad in their night clothes when the city was shaken

Continued on Page 2, Column 5.

42 Men, Entombed 100 Hours, Rescued in Chile

Tamuco, Chile, May 21 (A.P.).—Forty-two workmen were rescued today from Las Raices Tunnel where they had hung to a scaffold for 100 hours to avoid drowning in water that flooded the tunnel after their imprisonment by a landslide.

All were expected to live, but some came out in a pitiable condition. Only twelve were able to walk. The others were borne out on stretchers by rescuers who dug an opening for them.

Venizelos, Greek Premier, Resigns Over Budget Row

Recommends Coalition Republican Cabinet Under Opposition Leader; Also Urges Cut in Interest on Loans, Formerly Paid in Gold.

Athens, Greece, May 21 (A.P.).—Premier Eleutherios Venizelos, his position as head of the government made difficult by Greece's financial problems, resigned today because of difficulty in getting Parliament to pass legislation he sponsored.

He recommended the formation of a coalition Republican cabinet under one of the opposition leaders. Alexander Papanastasiou, who was first premier of the Greek republic in 1924 and is leader of the Agrarian and Labor party, was expected to attempt the formation of a new cabinet.

The situation was difficult. Premier Venizelos announced his resignation shortly after the finance minister, in presenting the nation's budget to Parliament, said it was imperative th[illegible]enditures be reduced. Th[illegible] he said, only by cutting the interest on loans hitherto paid in gold.

Fusion of the three military ministries into one portfolio of national defense was said by the finance minister to be another necessary economy.

M. Venizelos has ruled Greece four times as premier within 25 years. His present regime began in 1928, when he returned from exile in Paris.

Faced with one of the most difficult situations in its history, Greece has abandoned the gold standard and deferred payments on its foreign debts.

ARE YOU CURIOUS?
Then take a ride on SOUTHERN RAILWAY'S MYSTERY OUTING TRAIN, Sunday, June 5; leaves 9 a. m. Everybody traveling under sealed orders (can't tell how far). Remain on until requested to get off. $1.50 round trip, including good old Southern barbecued dinner. Music. Back home by 9 p. m. Wear your outing clothes, hiking shoes, bring your bathing suit. City ticket office, McPherson sq.; phones Nat. 1465, 4460.
SOUTHERN RAILWAY SYSTEM. Adv.

500 ROOSEVELT VOTES CLAIMED; MAJORITY NEAR

New York Governor Picks Up 106 Delegates in Single Week.

ATTITUDE OF SMITH PUZZLE TO BACKERS

1928 Standard-Bearer May Wreck Program; Baker Again Is to Fore.

By EDWARD T. FOLLIARD.

The presidential bandwagon of Franklin D. Roosevelt, which developed motor trouble a while back, is rumbling ahead now at an impressive rate.

The New York Governor is well within sight of his immediate goal—a majority of the 1,154 delegates in the Democratic national convention. A majority is 578. To win his party's nomination for the Presidency, Roosevelt must have two-thirds, or 770.

Usually a majority is enough to clinch the nomination. In the 100 years that the two-thirds rule has been in effect in Democratic conventions, only two candidates having a majority have been defeated—Martin Van Buren and Champ Clark.

194 Yet to Be Chosen.

This past week, Roosevelt has gathered in 106 delegates, sending his total of pledged, instructed and claimed delegates to 468. If he be granted 50 delegates in the disputed Pennsylvania delegation—and that is the minimum his supporters claim—he now has more than 500 delegates favorable to his nomination, not counting those he may have in New York.

Between now and June 27, when the Democratic national convention opens in Chicago, a total of 194 delegates are to be selected. These are to come principally from the South and West—Roosevelt t[illegible]ory.

Notwithstanding the progress Roosevelt has made and seems likely to

Continued on Page 2, Column 2.

Kidnaper's Victim Tells Tale in Court

Dr. Gecht Relates How He and Wife Were Held for Ransom.

Chicago, May 21 (A.P.).—Ransom negotiations of a gang of kidnapers were described from the witness stand today by Dr. Max Gecht, one of the first victims in the recent wave of kidnapers to face his alleged abductors in court.

The men who kidnaped Dr. Gecht and his attractive young wife first demanded $50,000, he testified. Then they cut the ransom down to $20,000, to $5,000, and, finally released both of them after a little over $2,000 had been paid.

"I guess we had you overrated," the doctor quoted one of the kidnapers as saying. He said the gang had an uncanny knowledge of his financial affairs and asserted some of the details were known only to his friend, Ward Swalwell. Swalwell, one of the defendants, claims to have been an intermediary, but the State charges he was really the "brains" of the gang. Edward Pinnen, also a friend of the Gechts, is the other defendant.

Williams Joins Senate Race in South Carolina

Columbia, S. C., May 21 (A.P.).—Ashton T. Williams, Florence attorney, today announced his candidacy for United States Senator from South Carolina with repeal of the prohibition laws as one of the planks in his platform. The former State senator and former candidate for governor will enter the race in the Democratic primary this summer for the seat now held by the veteran Senator E. D. Smith, of Lynchburg, an ardent dry.

He is the sixth man to announce for the position. Senator Smith will stand for reelection. Former Senator Cole L. Blease, Solicitor Leon W. Harris, of Anderson; State Senator R. M. Jefferies, of Colleton, and L. G. Southward, Spartanburg attorney, also seek the senatorial toga.

Veteran Bonus Army Fails In Threat to Seize Train

East St. Louis, Ill., May 21 (U.P.).—The scheduled "bonus army special"—a freight train which 310 World War veterans intended to commandeer to take them to Washington to lobby for the soldiers' bonus—went speeding at 60 miles an hour past the veterans' camp here tonight.

The veterans made no attempt to stop it, as they first intended, because they described it as a "manifest freight," and stopping of a fast freight is a violation of the Federal law.

A later train will be caught, W. W. Waters, "field marshal" of the "army," said. Baltimore & Ohio Railroad detectives, with orders to keep the veterans off, said the later freight would carry no empty cars. Waters said the

Continued on Page 2, Column 5.

PLAN IS BARED TO AVOID WAR DEBTS LOSSES

Two Noted Industrialists Suggest Exchange of Goods in Future.

WOULD AWAIT TIME THAT U. S. NEEDS AID

Scheme Would Obviate Cancellation or Reduction of Obligations.

New York, May 21 (A.P.).—The plan of two prominent American industrialists for solving the war debt problem without reductions or cancellations, but by transfers of goods when needed was made public today by Dr. Magnus W. Alexander, president of the National Industrial Conference Board.

It is the plan of Irenee du Pont, chairman of the finance committee of E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., and George H. Houston, president of the Baldwin Locomotive Works.

The industrialists "start with the recognition of the fact that intergovernmental debts were incurred in abnormal times and that in normal times repayment can not be made without dislocating the commerce among nations," Dr. Alexander said.

Transfer Main Difficulty.

"The problem of transferring the sums from the debtor countries to the United States is the main, if not the only, difficulty. Since we do not wish at the present time to accept payment in commodities, and since outright cancellation is not in the interest of the United States, they (Du Pont and Houston) suggest that our Government should not give up its claims, but should not call upon its debtors to discharge their obligations to us until the payment can be made in the form of goods and services.

"The money that the foreign coun-

Continued on Page 3, Column 6.

Taxi Driver Is Shot In Resisting Arrest

Man Flees, but Is Later Held on Traffic and Assault Charges.

A colored hacker sustained a slight bullet wound in his left shoulder yesterday afternoon as he struggled with Private Irving Lubore, First Precinct policeman, who was attempting to arrest him on a traffic violation charge. The man, Leroy Richardson, 22 years old, of 1200 Six-and-One-Half street, escaped Lubore, but was arrested later at Freedmen's Hospital and charged with a traffic violation and assault.

Lubore stopped the man near Seventh and H streets northwest when he passed a red light. The policeman stepped on the running board of the cab and directed Richardson to drive to the First Precinct Station. Instead the hacker stepped on the gas and the car shot ahead west on H street. Then the cab swerved near a parked car.

The policeman said he then drew his gun and commanded the hacker to halt. The latter stopped the machine and grappled with Lubore. In the fray, the policeman's service pistol was discharged twice, one of the bullets striking Richardson. The latter then jumped from the other side of the machine and fled. Lubore was unable to catch him, but saw him get in another cab.

Body of Capital Cadet Found in Hudson River

West Point, N. Y., May 21 (A.P.).—The body of Cadet Alan J. Light, of the U. S. Military Academy, was found in the Hudson River off Storm King Mountain today. Light and Cadet Leo A. Skeim had been missing since April 13, when they failed to return from canoeing. Skeim's body was recovered yesterday.

Light's father, Samuel K. Light, of 4701 Connecticut avenue, Washington, D. C., was notified of the recovery of the body by Military Academy authorities. Both bodies were placed in the old Cadet Chapel this afternoon and it is probable that a double funeral will be held Monday.

MISS EARHART HAILED AFTER SOLO SEA HOP; DO-X SAFE IN AZORES

Mammoth German Ship Completes Hop From Holyrood, N. F.

JOCKEYING TO LAND REQUIRES 2 HOURS

Three Legs of Journey Back to Switzerland Finished; Woman Aboard.

New York, May 21 (A.P.).—The DO-X, giant of all heavier-than-air craft, tonight completed the third leg of her homeward flight to Lake Constance, Switzerland.

Sixteen hours and 55 minutes after she lifted her bulk from the waters of Holyrood, Newfoundland, the twelve-motored seaplane came to a halt in the harbor at Horta, the Azores, at 7:55 p. m. (Eastern standard time).

Two hours and 40 minutes earlier the DO-X had messaged the Radio Marine Corporation here that it was landing, but at 8:05 p. m. (Eastern standard time) sent a second message saying it had spent the intervening time taxiing to a mooring place.

One Woman Is Aboard.

The 100-passenger airliner, carrying a crew of thirteen, including a woman passenger-purser, Fraulein Antonia Strassman, used two hours and one minute longer to reach Horta than Amelia Earhart Putnam took to cover approximately twice the distance in reaching Culmore, Northern Ireland.

The two airships, Mrs. Putnam's trim, crimson gold striped monoplane and the huge German-built airliner had left 10 hours and 9 minutes apart from points in Newfoundland 24 miles removed.

The DO-X lifted itself from the waters off Holyrood at 3 a. m., while Mrs. Putnam had roared away from the airport at Harbor Grace at 4:51 p. m. last night.

Huge Gas Supply.

Seven thousand gallons of gasoline swished aganist the sides of the vast fuel reservoirs of the DO-X as it took off and it burned on its flight more gallons each hour than the 420 gallons that were in Mr. Putnam's tanks when she took off.

If Fraulein Strassman continues with the DO-X to Europe, she will become the second woman ever to cross the Atlantic by plane.

It was nine months ago that the DO-X glided onto the waters of New York Harbor after a leisurely ten-months flight from her home port at Lake Constance, Switzerland, whither it now is returnbound. It had flown the South Atlantic in slow stages and come to the United States from South America.

Dynamite Store Seized In Spain, Nipping Plot

Madrid, May 21 (A.P.).—A nationwide terrorist campaign was said by the authorities today to have been squashed through the discovery of 650 pounds of dynamite in Madrid.

Large quantities of explosives also were found hidden in barrels of olives at Seville, where two men were arrested. The explosives were believed to have been stolen from mines. The Syndicalist Federation, in a manifesto issued today, threatened to "pulverize the government" if it persisted in a policy of "unjust deportations, the closing of syndicalist headquarters, the prohibition of free thinking and bourgeoisie bias in settling economic problems."

List of Records Held Now by Amelia Putnam

New York, May 21 (A.P.).—Amelia Earhart-Putman is:

1. The first woman ever to fly by plane across the Atlantic.

2. The first woman to make a solo airplane flight across the Atlantic.

3. The first person, man or woman, to make two plane flights across the ocean.

Also, she apparently set a transatlantic time record when she brought her plane down in a field in Ireland today. She made the crossing in 14 hours 54 minutes.

Although time comparisons with other flights are not exactly fair because of different hopping-off and landing places, the previous best time was 16 hours 17 minutes, made by Post and Gatty in 1931.

ENDRES, HUNGARIAN SEA FLIER, IS KILLED

U. S.-to-Budapest Ship Falls in Flames at Roman Aeronautical Meet.

Rome, May 21 (A.P.).—Capt. George Endres was killed today in a crash of his plane, Justice for Hungary, in which he and Capt. Alexander Magyar flew from Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, to Budapest in 1931.

The ship plunged to earth and burst into flames at Littorio Field, where Italy's leading airmen and some of the most famous in the world had congregated to welcome Capt. Endres to the convention of transoceanic fliers which opens tomorrow. Capt. Julius Bittay, the second occupant of the plane, also was killed.

Scores of aviators rushed toward the burning plane with fire extinguishers, but by the time the flames had been quenched the ship was a twisted wreck and the bodies of the airmen were unrecognizable.

The cause of the accident was unknown, but one thing was certain. It could not be blamed on the weather for the sky was blue and it was a perfect day.

The motto of the air force, that although some may die others must carry on, was exemplified a few minutes after the crash when 81 pursuit planes went aloft for a dress rehearsal of the air circus that will be put on next Thursday. The 81 ships roared over Littorio searching for the enemy in a mimic warfare maneuver.

The Hungarian fliers fell from a comparatively low altitude just after they had cleared a hill and come into view of the crowd of airmen waiting

Continued on Page 3, Column 7.

Flying Plane Receives Image by Television

Los Angeles, May 21 (A.P.).—A notable step in the development of television was acclaimed by engineers today when the image of a girl was transmitted successfully from a radio station to an airplane soaring in the sky five miles away.

Between the wave of blue flashes which sputtered across the receiver in the darkened cabin of a tri-motored monoplane of the Western Air Express, observers saw a girl, clad in a white hat with a dark band and a white dress, turn her head slowly.

Aviatrix Forced Down in Ireland as Craft Is Periled by Fire.

SETS TIME RECORD FOR OCEAN FLIGHT

Trip From Harbor Grace to Farm Field Takes Only 14 Hours 54 Minutes.

Culmore, Ulster, North Ireland, May 21 (A.P.).—Amelia Earhart Putman, the first woman ever to fly the Atlantic alone, landed this afternoon in a field in this green countryside after a hazardous flight in which she conquered fog and storm and the even more dangerous menace of fire.

Four hours after she put out yesterday afternoon from Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, she saw flames spitting from her exhaust. But she didn't turn back.

"I thought it safer to go ahead," she said.

Tonight she slept in the farmhouse of Robert Gallagher, owner of the field in which she landed. Tomorrow she will go on to Croydon, England, in a borrowed airplane, leaving her own red and gold monoplane to be crated up and shipped back home.

Anniversary of Lindbergh Hop.

Flying on the fifth anniversary of the successful conclusion of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's New York-to-Paris hop, she put her name just under his on the roll of transatlantic honors, for Col. Lindbergh is the only other person in the world who has made a solo transatlantic flight.

It was 1:45 p. m. (7:45 a. m. E.S.T.) when her almost fuelless ship came to rest in Mr. Gallagher's field. She bounded out of it and ran to the farmhouse, where she found a very surprised Irishman.

Mr. Gallagher offered her tea, but she was in too much of a hurry to take it. So he motored her to Londonderry, 5 miles away, and there she put in a transatlantic call.

"I did it!" she exultingly told her husband, George Palmer Putnam, publisher, who was waiting anxiously in New York for news of her.

Mrs. Putnam made approximately 2,000 miles in 14 hours and 54 minutes, giving her the best time record of any of the transatlantic fliers. She was headed for Paris when she took off from Harbor Grace, but she encountered too much trouble to make it possible to go any farther—almost too much to get to Ireland.

"About four hours after leaving Newfoundland," she said, "I noticed flames from the exhaust, and became very uneasy. But it would have taken four hours to get back and I thought it safer to go ahead.

"My next trouble was a leak in the gasoline tank and all the time I was worried whether the fuel would last out the trip.

"To add to my troubles, I encountered heavy weather and the storm curtailed my speed."

Follows Railroad.

"I saw land at about the middle of Ireland—probably it was Galway—and then flew north. I next saw a railroad line and followed that to Londonderry, and I finally landed in the field.

"All I had to eat on the trip was some tomato juice. The only clothes I have with me are the flying suit on my back and the only money I have is $20 that was handed to me as I was leaving. I haven't even a check to sign.

"I haven't slept since Friday morning, but I don't feel the least bit fatigued."

Mrs. Putnam revealed that she almost met disaster when she landed.

Her plane came to rest within a few yards of the farmer's cottage and she, very tired and half blinded by the continuous strain on her eyes,

Continued on Page 3, Column 2.

Los Angeles Girl Winner Of National Oratory Test

Miss Lucylle Goldsmith to Represent U. S. in World Event.

Miss Lucylle Goldsmith, of Los Angeles, Calif, 16-year-old contestant in the ninth national oratorical contest, was chosen last night to represent the United States in the seventh international contest finals, which will be held here next fall.

The winners of contests held in high schools all over the country, three boys and three girls, who represented their contest districts by virtue of an elimination process, competed for the honor of representing the Nation as the champion orator at the Constitution Hall.

"Our Constitution, the Culmination of Centuries," which was presented by Miss Goldsmith, was the winning oration. The young orator was awarded the championship cup by Henri Van Hoof, the international finalist of last year's contest.

John H. Harman, jr., 18, of Oklahoma City, Okla., was awarded second place in the contest. He spoke on the "Preservation of Liberty Under the Constitution." John P. Ansley, 17, of Birmingham, Ala., who spoke on

Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

LUCYLLE GOLDSMITH.

NEWS
of the Surrounding States
Appears on Pages
2, 8, 9 and 20 Today

FAIRFAX GRADUATION RITES START TODAY

Six High Schools of County Will Give Diplomas to 94 This Week.

Graduation exercises of the high schools of Fairfax County will open today with the baccalaureate sermons. The six high schools in the county will graduate 94 seniors at the close of this week.

The baccalaureate sermon at Clifton will be delivered this evening at 8 o'clock in the Clifton Presbyterian church by the Rev. Royal A. Rice, of Fairfax. Wednesday night will be class night with Emerson Hunsberger as historian, John Hart, giving the class will; Lola Wells, the class prophecy; Lucille John, the class history; Minor Myers, the class motto; Virginia Buckley, the class creed; William Simpson, the class poem. Commencement will be held Saturday with Gertrude Chesley as valedictorian and Clarence Ambler, salutatorian. Other seniors are John W. Buckley, James Mahoney, William Van Doren, Anna Lee Wooster, Laura Rutter and Kathleen O'Bannon.

At Falls Church the Rev. E. V. Wilcox will deliver the sermon to the graduates this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Crossman Methodist Church, Washington street. The senior class dance will be Thursday night in the Madison School. Commencement will be Friday morning at 11 o'clock in the Madison school with the Rev. Percy Foster Hall of Alexandria, as speaker. The Rev. George Farnham, former professor of English at George Washington University, will address the class Friday night in the Jefferson high school. Ann Harrison, the honor pupil, will read a paper and the graduates will be Mary Alice Ankers, Alice Browning, Audrey Edmonds, Ann Harrison, Mildred Herrell, Barbara Hiett, Virginia David, Jean Smith, James Anderson and Victor White.

Herndon's Class Largest.

The largest class of graduates will be from the Herndon High School. The baccalaureate sermon will be delivered this evening at 8 o'clock by Superintendent W. J. McMillan, of the Potomac Presbytery of Washington. The senior play, "At the End of the Rainbow," with all members of the senior class in the cast, will be presented Tuesday night. Commencement and announcement of school awards will be Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the school auditorium, with Wilbur C. Hall, of Leesburg, as speaker. The graduates will be Archie Hummer, Henter Blevins, Jack Patton, Henry DeKay, Wilson McGlincy, Milton Murphy, Elaine Tate, Hilda Peck, Lorraine Roberts, Emily Day, Sarah Jane Hutchison, Nellie Kidwell, Katherine Groom, Julia DeButts, Mabel McClearn, Mary McCarty, Mildred Arnold, Marie Schneider, Vera Mathews, Emilie Robb, Hazel Kirk, Graham James, Harold Lowry and John Lourin.

The Lee-Jackson baccalaureate sermon will be delivered by Dr. William J. Morton in Christ Church, Alexandria. The commencement exercises will be Saturday night in the school, with C. J. Hyslup, of Richmond, State director of vocational education, as the speaker. Marion Daniels will be class valedictorian and Betty Lynch salutatorian. Other graduates will be William Adkins, James Bladen, Archie Dean, Broaders Munday, Herbert Sublett, Warren Tinkle, Dudley Webb, Elizabeth Ballenger, Florine Carter, Madeleine Clark, Patricia Crossen, Virginia Dean, Irene Much, Frances Reid and Barbara Smith.

Franklin Sherman High.

The baccalaureate sermon of the Franklin Sherman High School at McLean will be delivered this evening in the school auditorium by the Rev. Henry T. Cooke, of Chevy Chase, Md. The senior class night will be Thursday, with the graduation Friday evening. Class night will take the form of a gypsy camp fire, with Virginia Blue giving the class will, Lorena Rogers the prophecy, Isabel Beattie the grumble, Vis Walker the history and Vera Kincheloe the poem. Gladys Abell will be the class jester. Catherine Cunningham, class president, will present the cap and gown to the junior class president. Katherine Cunningham is class valedictorian, and Wade Hansboro the salutatorian. Mary Lee Loy, Janice Jerrett and Lorena Rogers will give short talks.

The Rev. He[illegible]t A. Donovan, rector of Zion Episcopal Church, at Fairfax, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon to the seniors of the Oakton High School this evening in the school auditorium. The annual senior dinner dance will be Tuesday night, with Stanley Dove, class president, presiding. The commencement exercises will be held Thursday night, with State Senator John W. Rust, of Fairfax, as speaker. Frances Myers will be the valedictorian, and Charles Thompson, salutatorian. Virginia Showalter will give the class history, Lucy Waple the oration, Alice Poole the prophecy, Stella Fox the class poem and Mayo Stuntz the class will. Other graduates will be Marcel Phalzgraf, Willard Edwards, Stanley Dove, Bruce McClure, Frederick Kielsgard, Harold Compton, Alton Mooreland, Maxie Hunt, Eileen Pearson, Thelma Pearson, Leslie Printz, Jean Ritchie and Frances David.

Mrs. V. M. Vickery Dies at Home Here

Society Leader and Writer Will Be Buried in Wooster, Mass.

Mrs. Valentine Mott Vickery, prominent in Washington social and welfare activities, died late Friday afternoon at the Dresden Apartments, where she lived with her mother and two sisters.

Mrs. Vickery was of distinguished New England ancestry. She was a writer of ability and devoted much of her time and talent to the National Woman's Party, the League of Republican Women and the Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform.

After a private funeral today, she will be buried in Wooster, Mass. She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Josephine Coon, and two sisters, Mrs. Monroe Stearns and Mrs. Edwin Lublin.

Police Arrest Nineteen In Numbers Game Raid

Nineteen persons were arrested yesterday when police raided an alleged numbers game establishment at 1712 Seaton place northwest.

Harry H. Lindsey, 39 years old, of 1417 T street northwest, accused of being the proprietor, was charged with permitting gaming. The other eighteen were released when they posted bond of $100 for their appearance as Government witnesses. The raid was made by Privates J. F. Phelps and G. W. Linn, of the Third Precinct.

ROOSEVELT RAPIDLY FORGING AHEAD TO DELEGATE MAJORITY

Continued from Page 1.

make in the next few weeks, his supporters are plainly worried, and the cause of their worry, of course, is Alfred E. Smith.

May Wreck Bandwagon.

What will Smith do? Will he go farther in his fight on Roosevelt than he has gone? Will he go beyond his implied charge that Roosevelt is a "demagogue?"

Privately, Roosevelt men concede that Smith has the power to wreck the bandwagon. It all depends on how far Smith decides to go.

If Smith should announce flatly that he would not support Roosevelt in the election campaign, it is easily conceivable that the convention would hesitate to nominate him.

An angry Al Smith, openly opposed to Roosevelt, would be a tremendous handicap to the New York Governor. This would be particularly true in the East, where Smith has his greatest following. Here of late this following, thrilled by Smith's frank and courageous speeches on the problems of the day, has become more and more devoted.

May Abandon His Fight.

What will Smith do? The Roosevelt people have been cheered somewhat lately by the reproduction of a statement attributed to Al after the disastrous Madison Square Garden convention of 1924. He is quoted as having said then that he was a firm believer in majority rule, and that had William G. McAdoo ever reached a majority in the balloting, he himself would have withdrawn.

The Roosevelt people take this to mean that Smith will abandon his "stop-Roosevelt" fight if ever his fellow New Yorker gets a majority.

There are others, however, men who are in a position to know, who say that Smith is out to stop Roosevelt, whatever the cost.

According to one report, Smith has told friends that he will take a trip to Europe if Roosevelt is nominated.

Sees Dangerous Rival Retire.

Forgetting Smith and returning to the battle as it looks on paper, Roosevelt in the past week not only picked up 106 delegates, but he had the satisfaction of seeing a potentially dangerous rival, Owen D. Young, eliminate himself.

So unequivocal was Young's language that he is now regarded as being definitely out of the running. His "compelling" reason, it is understood, is the state of his wife's health.

Young, notwithstanding his early statements that he was not a candidate, was regarded as the favorite dark horse in the Smith-Raskob stable.

With Young out, the spotlight is again on Newton D. Baker, who has been regarded by many as the most likely compromise candidate from the very beginning. Baker himself refuses to act like a candidate. Only last week he again praised the League of Nations, when he knew that such praise was bound to hurt him politically. Lord Bryce, who observed that a courageous man had little chance of becoming President, would like Baker.

Deny Ritchie Too Wet.

In Baltimore on the same evening, Gov. Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland outlined the platform on which he stands as an avowed candidate for the Presidency.

In discussions of Democratic presidential possibilities, people are frequently heard to say, "Ritchie is too wet." The answer of Ritchie's supporters is that he is no more wet than millions of others in the party. He only seems "too wet," they say, because he had the courage to become wet early.

In his speech of Thursday, Ritchie reiterated his plea that the prohibition problem be turned to the States; again advocated a sales tax, and again called for a five-day work week as a means of spreading out jobs.

As convention time draws near, the publicity campaign for Ritchie and other candidates becomes more intense. An illustrated folder describing the qualifications of Harry Byrd, Virginia's "laughing cavalier," is being distributed throughout the country. But the most intense publicity drive is being made in behalf of a man who, at this stage, is regarded as an outsider—Melvin Traylor, of Illinois, Kentucky and Texas. The publicity comes from Fort Worth, in the last-named State.

Favorite Sons Not Feared.

The Roosevelt people are not much afraid of the various favorite son candidates. In fact, they are already claiming as their own the votes that are pledged to several of these candidates.

They expect Missouri to give Roosevelt its 36 votes just as soon as the delegation can decently and gracefully desert former Senator Jim Reed. They likewise expect a good part of the Illinois delegation, after a complimentary vote has been given Senator J. Ham Lewis.

They long ago decided that Gov. Alfalfa Bill Murray was out, and they are now counting on getting his delegates, too. Moreover, they say they have been assured that when the time comes to desert favorite sons, they also can count on Speaker John N. Garner's 46 delegates in Texas. With respect to the 44 delegates that California has pledged to Garner, they make no claims, knowing that the real boss of the delegation—William Gibbs McAdoo, is no friend of Mr. Roosevelt.

It was the primary in California, with its surprising outcome, that gave the Roosevelt candidacy its hardest blow. This upset came a week after Mr. Smith had made a clean sweep of Massachusetts and had given Mr. Roosevelt a tough battle in Pennsylvania.

Foes Get Little Comfort.

The anti-Roosevelt people were hoping that these reverses would cause many of the States to remain on the fence and decide to send uninstructed delegations to Chicago.

Events of the past week, however, gave scant encouragement to such hopes. At the outset Kansas pledged its 20 delegates to the New York governor. One of these delegates, incidentally, was Jouett Shouse, regarded widely as a foe of Roosevelt. Other States which gave Roosevelt pledged or instructed delegates were: Montana, 8; Tennessee, 24; Nevada, 6; Oregon, 10, and New Mexico, 6. In addition, the District of Columbia, which has a voice in the convention but none in the election, pledged Roosevelt 6.

South Carolina and Vermont, while they did not instruct their delegates, did adopt resolutions indorsing Roosevelt. South Carolina has 18 delegates; Vermont, 8.

Smith Picks Up 48.

While Roosevelt was thus swelling his total, Al Smith picked up 32 delegates in New Jersey and 16 in Connecticut. In the latter State arose an anomaly similar to that in Kansas. Homer Cummings, an ardent Roosevelt supporter, was given a place on the Connecticut delegation, but instructed, like the other delegates, to vote for Smith until released.

Clouding the whole convention picture is the situation in Congress, where one of the worst legislative jams in history exists. There is a possibility that Congress will still be sitting when the Republican convention opens on June 14.

About a third of the members of Congress are delegates to the conventions, and most of the leaders in Congress likewise are dominant figures at the conventions.

If Congress should continue in session during the conventions, it would be the first time in history such a thing had occurred.

RUMRUNNER'S CLEW CAUSES NEW LINDBERGH SEARCH

Continued from Page 1.

found I communicated my information to Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, of the New Jersey State police.

"Two officers came here yesterday to investigate it."

Although the rumrunner's name has not been made public, those hunting him know his identity.

Mills said he first became acquainted with him when more than a score of men were arrested at Ocean City, Md., in December, 1929, while attempting to land a cargo of liquor on the beach.

Morning Bulletin.

The only information concerning the progress of the search came from Col. Schwarzkopf in his morning bulletin, which said:

"Investigators who are investigating the whereabouts of the gangster reported in Maryland and thought to be connected with the case have been unable to locate him as yet and are continuing their negotiations."

In a later bulletin he said:

"Ning Ling is not the name of the man whom we are seeking in connection with the report in Maryland."

How the Oriental's name had been dragged into the hunt for the rumrunner was not explained.

M. C. Pender, attorney from Curtis' home town of Norfolk, Va., who had been engaged by relatives and friends of the shipbuilder, went directly to the Lindbergh estate upon his arrival from the South.

Accompanied by Trooper.

Then, accompanied by a State trooper, he went to the county jail in Flemington where his client is being held, in lieu of $10,000 bail, on a charge of obstructing justice and furnishing false information, after confessing the whole story of his "contacts with the kidnapers" was a figment of his imagination.

He spent two hours in the little cell where the shipbuilder has been held since Wednesday. Then he conferred with District Attorney Anthony Hauck.

Later it was learned that Attorneys Daniel Vicello and Matthew Alercio, both of Flemington, had been retained in Curtis' behalf. They said they would make no effort to bail Curtis out prior to the arrival of friends or relatives of the shipbuilder.

When he returned to his hotel at Trenton late tonight, Pender said he did not know when Curtis would be out on bail.

"If I have anything to do with this case, I've decided not to talk," he said. "I'm going to be like the proverbial clam."

Dr. John F. Condon, who tossed $50,000 of Col. Lindbergh's money over a cemetery wall to a man he knew only as "John," had been scheduled to visit the State Identification Bureau at Trenton and other New Jersey rogues' galleries today in a continuation of his efforts to pick out a likeness of the ransom-receiver.

Instead, he jumped into a car driven by his son and, trailed by two New York detectives in another automobile, went dashing up into Connecticut.

After a whirlwind trip to Danbury, Conn., he announced that his goal was Pawtuckett, R. I., but declined to tell the purpose of the trip.

He returned to his home at 9:30 p. m., accompanied by the two detectives. He entered the house hurriedly, but about ten minutes later rushd out to say:

"I can't talk. I can't talk."

He refused to enter into any discussion about his activities during the day and again drove off with the detectives. He stopped a few blocks from his home to buy late evening newspapers, and then with the detectives walked off without further comment.

"Dr. Condon," said Col. Schwarzkopf, "has at no time refused to come to New Jersey and still shows the most cordial and complete cooperation with investigators from these headquarters."

Mayor Walker Gets Clew.

Police Commissioner Edward P. Mulrooney and the New York Evening Post explained a public notice ("Citizen—Guarantee absolute confidence—Jimmy") appearing in the New York Times yesterday. The New York police head said he inserted the notice as the result of a letter.

The Post said the letter had been sent to Mayor James A. Walker by a dapper young man who offered a possible clue to the Lindbergh case if guaranteed safety.

Questioned by a detective called in by the Post, the man said his information was based on a confession a young woman made to him regarding her suspicions of her husband.

The youth, fearing gangster reprisals because the husband faces 60 years in prison if he returns to New York State, said he sought protection before telling his story.

Boy, 7, Is Injured by Auto.

Donald W. Griswold, 7 years old, was treated at Georgetown University Hospital last night for cuts and abrasions he received when struck by an auto while playing in the street near his home at 1327½ Thirty-fifth street northwest. The driver of the car, according to police, was Henry H. Torres, 26 years old, of 2213 Hall court northwest.

PRESS CLUB FEASTS AT TEXAS BARBECUE

3,000 Members and Guests Participate in Huge Fete at Beach.

The lone star of Texas rose symbolically above the waters of Chesapeake Bay yesterday in tribute to one of the greatest feasts in the history of the National Press Club—a barbecue, done in famous traditional Texas way by a man who knows how to do the work.

Three thousand or more men, members of the club and their guests, partook of the beef sandwiches and trimmings that went with them and by sundown only a few burned bones were left as evidence of the great feast.

The celebration, which was in the form of an accolade to Bascom N. Timmons, president of the club, and Gov. James R. Beverly, of Porto Rico, both residents of Amarillo, Texas, took place at Seaside Park, amid the carnival atmosphere of hurdy-gurdies and midway attractions. John Snider, of Amarillo, considered the most famous city marshal next to Tex Richard, was in charge of the barbecue.

Thirty Beeves Slaughtered.

Thirty beeves from the Lone Star State made up the piece de resistance of the gargantuan meal. The animals were cooked in immense pits over which Snider kept watch 22 hours without rest. Texas cowmen assisted in serving the meal.

After the repast, the club members listened to brief addresses by governors, high Government officials, senators and others. Mr. Timmons introduced the speakers. Mr. Snider was given an ovation. He praised the splendid weather of Maryland, but could not avoid speaking affectionately of his home State, of its great open spaces and of the duty of every American to see its great ranches and other attractions.

Gov. Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland, welcomed the celebrants to his State, which, he observed, has many advantages over other States and the Government itself in that it has no budget worries and is unhampered by a belief in restrictions. He drew lengthy applause when he expressed faith in the average American to carry through with "intelligence, morality and honesty, without the aid of restrictions."

Secretary Hurley Present.

Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley, after having his accomplishments cited by Mr. Timmons, rose and remarked "Thanks."

Mayor Ernest O. Thompson, of Amarillo, a moving spirit in the organization of plans for the barbecue, was among others who spoke. Gov. Bevery was the cynosure of many eyes. He is the son of a veteran cattleman and was made Governor of Porto Rico, succeeding Theodore Roosevelt on the same day that Mr. Timmons was inaugurated president of the National Press Club.

Wrestling by George Adams and Frank K. McLaughin, boxing matches adn songs from George O'Connor, with Matt Horn at the piano, and singing from the "Hill Billies of Virginia" concluded the entertainment.

Among the other guests were Gov. O. Max Gardener of North Carolina; Senator John B. Kendrick, of Wyoming; Ambassador Ahmet Muhtar, of Turkey; the Minister from Egypt, Sesostris Sidarouss Pasha, and the Minister from Lithuania, Bronius Kasimir Balitis.

LOS ANGELES GIRL WINS ORATORY TEST

Continued from Page 1.

"Liberty Under the Constitution," was awarded third in the contest.

Each orator was allowed six minutes to present a prepared address and was given a topic for an extemporaneous speech, which was limited to four minutes. The topic given Miss Goldsmith was "The Albany Plan."

The Washington contestant, Miss Minnie Sadle, 17-year-old student of Business High School, sponsored by the Washington Star, spoke on "The First Amendment to the Constitution." She later spoke on "The First Amendment During the Civil War."

The judges of the contest were Dr. Cloyd Heck Marvin, president of the George Washington University; the Right Rev. James Hugh Ryan, rector of the Catholic University; Dr. Vincent Hart, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences of Georgetown University; Dr. L. S. Rowe, director general of the Pan American Union, and Dr. Walter M. W. Splawn, dean of the graduate school of the American University.

Dr. William Allen Wilbur, provost of George Washington University, acted as the official scrutator of the contest. He judged the historical accuracy of the facts presented by the orators.

The other contestants for championship honors were John J. Scanlon, of Springfield, Mass., whose topic was "Washington and the Constitution," and Miss Muriel Herzstein, of New York City, who spoke on "The Supreme Court and the Constitution."

The national finalist, Miss Goldsmith, is a student of the Franklin High School in Los Angeles and has been working her way through school behind the counter of a department store. She is the youngest of three children, and her trip to Washington, which was sponsored by the Los Angeles Times, is the first time she has taken an extended train journey.

She was chaperoned by Alma Whitaker on her trip here, and according to Miss Whitaker, the youthful orator was thrilled when she first entered a dining car. The ambition of the young champion is to become a movie star.

The standards of judging the speakers were contemplated fitness of the contestant to make worthily represent the schools of the United States in the international finals and on the foreign tour. Character, poise and personality were among the criteria. Other points of judgment were the composition of the prepared and the extemporaneous addresses with particular emphasis on historical accuracy, logic and general literary effectiveness. The extent to extent to which the speaker could thrill and compel the audience was also weighed.

Randolph Leigh acted as chairman at the contest, which was opened with an address by Dr. W. Coleman Nevils, president of the Georgetown University. Music was presented by the Tech High School Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Dere Walten.

Maj. Gen. Amos A. Fries and Rear Admiral Hillary P. Jones acted as timekeepers. All of the contestants were well received by a large audience. Youthful admirers of the orators besieged them for their autographs at the termination of the contest.

SHAD BAKE ENJOYED BY BOARD OF TRADE

800 Members Go to Chesapeake Bay for Day of Feasting and Sports.

Gathering at Bay Ridge, on Chesapeake Bay, 800 members of the Washington Board of Trade enjoyed their annual shad bake outing yesterday with a varied round of entertainment which included boxing, speed boat riding, baseball, horseshoe pitching and a visit to the battleship Wyoming.

The outing was voted as the most successful in the history of the organization. The weather was perfect and the schedule of events ran without a hitch. The trade board members left the District Building at 9 a. m. in a caravan of buses and private cars, and record time was made through the aid of an escort of District and Maryland motorcycle police.

The outstanding feature of the day was the shad bake dinner which was served in the Bay Ridge pavilion. The shad was served in the old-fashion way, on planks, with trimmings of vegetables. Dancing and singing gave an added sparkle to the dinner.

Visit to Battleship.

A motor launch took the Washington celebrants to the Wyoming. The visitors were greeted on deck by Lieut. H. H. Taylor, divided into parties under the leadership of sailor guides and taken on an inspection of the ship.

The Wyoming, on which the Naval Academy midshipmen will take their annual cruise next month, is an example of the reduction that battleships have suffered through the Government's economy program. The crew has been cut from 1,100 to 500 and the vessel has been stripped of a number of important guns. For all this, the ship is in wonderful trim and a credit to the United States Navy, it was generally voted by those who saw her. Capt. Benjamin Dutton is in command of the Wyoming.

Boxers from the Navy were victorious in bouts against members of the American Legion. Claude Ricketts defeated Leonard Trucci on a decision; Roy Bohoma knocked out Roy Bombarts; John Smothers beat Dave Zabriskie on a decision; Harry Haas, of the legion, defeated Otto Jehl on a decision; Lieut. George Moffett, son of Admiral Moffett, defeated Johnny Ryan, and Duke Crinkley, also of the Navy, beat Jerry Dunn. The wrestling match between George Adams and Frank K. McLaughlin was a tie.

Results of Contests.

J. O. Hite won the kiddie car race, J. R. Wannan, the sack race, C. M. Richards and C. M. Clark were first and second respectively in trap shooting. William F. Mathison won the horseshoe pitching contest, Theodore Laughor was second and D. S. Lanahan, third. The public order committee was the victor over the membership committee in the baseball game with a score of 5 to 2.

Winners in the golf tournament were: F. Kramer, Ralph Russell, W. B. O'Connell, O. T. Wright, Roy Garrett, and Holt Wright. R. P. Schulze was in charge of the golf tournament.

Granville Gude was in charge of the entertainment, while Heinie Miller was responsible for the boxing bouts. Music was furnished throughout the day by the Sixth Marine Reserve Brigade Band. Ben T. Webster, newly elected president of the Board of Trade, was chief host of the day, while Thomas Eagan, as chairman of the shad bake outing, was given full credit for the success of the occasion.

The celebration reached its climax midway in the afternoon when large bags of souvenirs were distributed to all present.

Taxicab Driver Reports Holdup by Two Fares

Another taxicab robbery was reported to police yesterday, when Paul R. Green, of 126 V street northwest, told them that $2.55 was taken from him by two men who held him up in Cheverly, Md.

They hailed his cab and told him to take them to Fifteenth and H streets northeast and then directed him to Cheverly, where they produced guns, took his money, and fled on foot.

BONUS ARMY SHIES AT SEIZURE OF TRAIN

Continued from Page 1.

veterans would commandeer it anyway.

A few of the men found shelter from a steady, soaking rain in empty box cars. Others stood in the rain awaiting orders.

Chief of Detectives Young, of the B. & O., arrived today from Cincinnati with orders to "protect the road's property." He declined to say if he would order his agents to shoot in the event the men attempted to take charge of a train by force. He has asked East St. Louis authorities to be in readiness to send assistance if necessary.

The "bonus crusade" group was organized in Portland, Oreg., and the nucleus left May 11. Additional veterans have joined the group en route. They paid for their food by passing the hat in towns along the route after parades and speeches favoring passage of the bonus bill.

They met little objection to loading onto freight trains until they reached Council Bluffs last Thursday. When a train crew would not couple empty box cars onto the train, the men refused to allow the train to leave the station until their demands were met. The train crew capitulated.

The "army" is organized into companies and squads with elected "officers" in charge. A mess sergeant supervises preparing food army fashion. The men expect to arrive in Washington about May 27.

MANY DEAD IN QUAKE IN CENTRAL AMERICA

Continued from Page 1.

by a heavy earthquake early this morning. The terror-stricken populace, remembering the disastrous quake of March, 1931, when the city was virtually destroyed and 1,000 persons killed, spent the early hours of the day in parks and on the streets. No casualties were reported and no large buildings were damaged.

Tegucigalpa, Honduras, May 21 (A. P.)—A severe earthquake shook Tegucigalpa at 4:30 a. m. today. The alarmed populace rushed into the streets, but there was no damage.

German Ford Company Reports Loss in 1931

Cologne, Germany, May 21 (A.P.)—The report of the Ford Motor Co. of Germany disclosed today that the 1931 business year ended with a deficit of 1,686,000 marks (currently about $404,000), which was balanced, however, by a profit in 1930 and extraordinary reserves.

Business transactions were unsatisfactory at the beginning of the year, the report said, the economic situation having reduced sales. The new Ford factory at Cologne was used to a small extent.

WOMAN, 59, JAILED ON ARSON CHARGE

Is Arrested in Man's Attire Near Blazing Bungalow in Capitol Heights.

Mrs. Florence Healey, 59 years old, of 610 D street southwest, is in the Marlboro Jail on a charge of arson. She was arrested by Constable Earle Blackwell yesterday when he found her, dressed in men's clothing, about three blocks from the blazing bungalow in Capitol Heights. Blackwell said she told him she caused the fire to keep others from coming into possession of the house, but that she refused to sign a written confession.

Two milk-truck drivers are said to have seen "a man" setting fire to the house, and they gave the alarm. Blackwell said that when he arrested Mrs. Healey, she had a gallon can containing a small quantity of kerosene in her possession, as well as matches.

The owner of the house, which was completely destroyed at a loss of about $1,000, has not been discovered. Blackwell said the house had belonged to Mrs. Ida Gates, Mrs. Healey's sister, who died several months ago. After the death of Mrs. Gates it was turned over to the executor of her estate. A man known to Blackwell only as "Mr. Mangum" lived in the house when Mrs. Gates died, and later offered to buy it. He had moved out before the fire.

It was reported that since the death of Mrs. Gates, Mrs. Healey has been caring for Mrs. Gates' afflicted son, Harry. Other relatives reported Mrs. Healey as saying she would burn the house to prevent others from getting it, Blackwell said. Her own son, Wilbur Healey, said:

"I guess my mother felt she was entitled to the house for taking care of Harry. Some other relatives have tried to keep her from getting possession of it."

The son of a neighbor of Mrs. Healey reported that he bought a gallon of kerosene for her Friday, but explained that she burned oil lamps in her home. Mrs. Healey was driven to Capitol Heights in a taxi which picked her up near her home. The driver said he thought she was a man, due to her male attire. She explained to him that she was going to Capitol Heights to visit a sick friend, and told him, when she got out of the cab, to wait, he said.

The Weather

TODAY'S SUN AND TIDE TABLE

			A.M.	P.M.
Sun rises..	4:50	High tide..	9:32	10:06
Sun sets...	7:19	Low tide...	3:46	4:28

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, Weather Bureau,
Washington, Saturday, May 21—8 p. m.

Forecast for the District of Columbia—Probably showers in early morning, followed by clearing Sunday; cooler Sunday and Sunday night; Monday fair and continued cool; moderate north, shifting to northeast winds.

For Maryland—Possibly showers in early morning, followed by clearing Sunday; cooler Sunday and Sunday night; Monday fair and continued cool.

For Virginia—Showers in south portion, and showers in early morning, followed by clearing, in north portion, Sunday; cooler Sunday and Sunday night; Monday fair and continued cool.

The southern disturbance is central over Louisiana with diminished intensity, New Orleans, 29.74 inches. It has been attended by continued showery weather in the South Atlantic and east Gulf States, Tennessee, and portions of the west Gulf States. The northern disturbance remains central over Hudson Strait with diminished intensity, Hopes Advance, 29.64 inches, wtih a trough extending southward to the Gulf of St. Lawrence and thence southwestward to northern Virginia, and it has been attended by showers in portions of the lake region and the North Atlantic States. The extensive western disturbance has moved eastward over the plateau region to Wyoming and Montana with considerably increased intensity, Helena, 29.30 inches, and it has caused rain over middle and northern sections west of the Rocky Mountains. An extensive area of high pressure is moving southeastward over Manitoba, Ontario and the lake region, Sioux Lookout, Ontario, 30.36 inches, and pressure remains high from Bermuda eastward and northeastward over the ocean, Bermuda, 30.20 inches. The temperature has fallen from the upper Mississippi Valley eastward to New England and quite generally west of the Rocky Mountains. The weather has become much cooler in the plateau region and in portions of the southern lake region.

Local Weather Report.

Temperature—Midnight, 63; 2 a. m., 61; 4 a. m., 61; 6 a. m., 60; 8 a. m., 63; 10 a. m., 73; 12 noon, 77; 2 p. m., 81; 4 p. m., 83; 6 p. m., 79; 8 p. m., 75; 10 p. m., 70. Highest, 83; lowest, 60. Relative humidity—8 a. m., 88; 2 p. m., 56; 8 p. m., 62. Rainfall (8 p. m. to 8 p. m.), none. Hours of sunshine, 9. Per cent of possible sunshine, 62.

DEPARTURES FROM NORMAL.

Accumulated excess of temperature since January 1, 1932, 560 degrees.

Excess of temperature since May 1, 1932, 12 degrees.

Accumulated excess of precipitation since January 1, 1932, 3.92 inches.

Excess of precipitation since May 1, 1932, 1.99 inches.

Temperatures and Precipitation.

Temperatures and precipitation for 24 hours ended 8 p. m. Saturday.

	Highest Sat.	Lowest Fri. night.	Sat. 8 p.m.	Rainfall.
Washington, D. C.	83	60	75	....
Asheville, N. C.	78	58	68	0.10
Atlanta, Ga.	72	60	68	0.05
Atlantic City, N. J.	66	56	62	....
Baltimore, Md.	82	58	72	....
Birmingham, Ala.	80	64	64	0.80
Bismarck, N. Dak.	68	48	66	....
Boston, Mass.	74	54	54	....
Buffalo, N. Y.	68	56	56	....
Chicago, Ill.	58	54	50	....
Cincinnati, Ohio	84	64	74	0.03
Cheyenne, Wyo.	72	48	70	0.01
Cleveland, Ohio	66	60	56	....
Davenport, Iowa	80	60	68	....
Denver, Colo.	76	50	70	....
Des Moines, Iowa	86	54	78	....
Detroit, Mich.	68	62	52	....
Duluth, Minn.	54	46	48	....
El Paso, Tex.	94	60	92	....
Galveston, Tex.	84	70	82	....
Helena, Mont.	80	50	78	....
Indianapolis, Ind.	84	62	76	....
Jacksonville, Fla.	86	70	70	....
Kansas City, Mo.	82	62	82	....
Little Rock, Ark.	80	64	76	0.40
Los Angeles, Calif.	72	56	70	....
Louisville, Ky.	82	64	74	....
Marquette, Mich.	50	42	48	....
Memphis, Tenn.	80	66	78	....
Miami, Fla.	72	70	74	0.64
Mobile, Ala.	70	68	68	0.58
New Orleans, La.	74	66	70	0.70
New York, N. Y.	80	54	70	0.01
North Platte, Nebr.	86	60	80	0.01
Omaha, Nebr.	86	58	82	....
Philadelphia, Pa.	78	58	74	....
Pittsburgh, Pa.	82	60	66	....
Portland, Me.	66	58	50	0.02
Portland, Oreg.	58	48	52	0.38
Salt Lake City, Utah	82	52	58	....
St. Louis, Mo.	80	64	74	0.64
St. Paul, Minn.	72	56	64	0.06
San Antonio, Tex.	90	66	86	....
San Diego, Calif.	66	60	64	....
San Francisco, Calif.	60	52	56	....
Santa Fe, N. Mex.	74	44	72	....
Savannah, Ga.	82	66	74	0.14
Seattle, Wash.	60	48	56	0.04
Springfield, Ill.	88	64	78	....
Tampa, Fla.	86	68	78	....
Toledo, Ohio	74	62	58	....
Vicksburg, Miss.	80	64	70	0.04

River Bulletin.

Harpers Ferry, W. Va., May 21.—Potomac and Shenandoah Rivers slightly muddy this afternoon.

GAME WARDEN CUT MADE IN VIRGINIA

State Board Acts to Reduce Areas to Conform With Economy Law.

Richmond, Va., May 21 (A.P.)—The State Game and Inland Fisheries Commission, in session here yesterday, reduced the number of supervising game warden districts in Virginia from six to five, complying with the terms of an economy measure of the recent General Assembly.

In the process R. G. Dillard, of Center Cross, was dropped as the supervising warden of the Tidewater district, to be replaced by J. B. West, of Amelia, who held the office for the central district. Warden West will move his residence to some community in the territory he is to supervise.

The plan to eliminate Mr. Dillard was reported about ten days ago, but the official announcement of its adoption was not made until yesterday. He has been made game warden of Essex County, and will be engaged in educational work for the commission, it was said.

The supervising wardens retained in addition to Mr. West are Albert Fletcher, Warrenton, Northern District; R. L. Seay, Buena Vista, Piedmont District; W. C. Rives, Dinwiddie, Southside District, and R. P. Fuller, Southwest district.

A committee representing Chesterfield Game Protective Association appeared before the commission in opposition to the retention of H. B. Paris as game warden in Chesterfield County, on the ground that Paris was sent to Chesterfield from another county. The association wanted a Chesterfield man for the job.

The same group urged that the deer laws for their county be changed to permit the killing of does, and advocated limiting the deer season to the month of December.

CONGRESS LEADERS WARN OF LONG TERM

Continued from Page 1.

George H. Moses (Republican), of New Hampshire, issued a joint statement urging prompt action on the necessary measures and said they would oppose any stopping of congressional machinery for the conventions unless the legislative program were first completed.

Representative Henry T. Rainey (Democrat), of Illinois, majority leader in the House, said he would oppose any recess unless the tax and appropriations measures were first enacted. He predicted that it would not be possible to enact the necessary legislation and described the tariff fight in the Senate as a "bunk tariff squabble."

Senator Park Trammell (Democrat), of Florida, who has opposed inclusion of both oil and coal tariffs in the tax bill, joined in the widening effort to put other tariffs into the measure. He proposed a tariff of 8 cents per 100 pounds on phosphate rock.

Senator Smith W. Brookhart (Republican), of Iowa, denounced the existing tariff system as detrimental to agriculture and designed solely to aid industry.

Representative Rainey made public a letter from Undersecretary of State William R. Castle, saying that both Chile and Peru had filed protests against the proposed embargo tariffs on oil and copper. Both countries were considerably wrought up over the tariffs, it was reported, and in each there were threats to impose stringent retaliatory tariffs on American products shipped there.

A message from Lima said:

"The president of the congress presented a resolution yesterday calling upon the executive to confer with all Latin-American countries which may be affected by the proposed American duties on copper and petroleum with a view to holding a Latin-American conference for the purpose of suggesting identic retaliatory measures by the various countries affected should these duties be put into effect.

"There is general resentment and even consternation here at the possibility of a 4-cent duty on copper, for it would effectually ruin the largest mining unit in Peru."

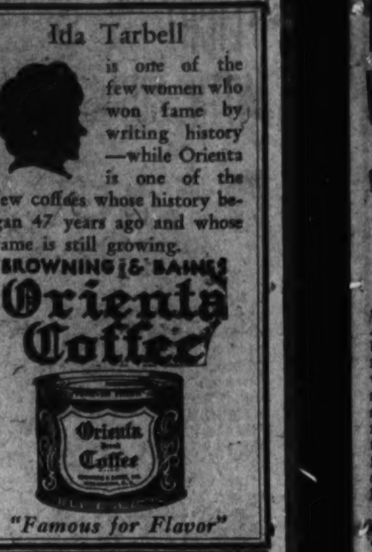
The session of the Senate yesterday was comparatively brief. When it became apparent that a vote on the lumber tariff would not be had in the course of the day the Senate recessed to give its weary members, who have been kept almost continuously on the floor for the last several days, a chance to catch up with the work which has been piling up in their offices.

It was hoped, too, that the brief breathing space of the week-end might bring about a sufficient cooling off to permit some agreement for speedier action. There have been proposals made to agree to a limitation on debate.

Senator Millard Tydings (Democrat), of Maryland, who has bitterly denounced the inclusion of any tariffs in the tax bill, has said, however, that he would push each of his 500 tariff amendments for action. If he does the passage of the bill will be delayed indefinitely. The tariff groups have the votes to keep the four items in the bill and are determined not to yield.

Carb on Chilean Imports Proposed by President

Santiago, Chile, May 21 (A.P.)—President Juan E. Montero opened the regular session of Congress today with a message, delivered personally, in which he outlined a program for licensing imports, similar to the French quota system, to control foreign trade and aid native industry.



Ida Tarbell is one of the few women who won fame by writing history—while Orienta is one of the few coffees whose history began 47 years ago and whose fame is still growing.
BROWNING & BAINES
Orienta Coffee
"Famous for Flavor"

SPECIAL NOTICES

HALF HOURS WITH GREAT MEN AND books. Final meeting of the season, Wordsworth, "Nature, Man and Divinity." Sunday, 5 p. m., 1628 K st. nw. Those interested are welcome.

5704 NEBRASKA AVE.
Chevy Chase, D. C.
A new brick detached home of six rooms, two baths and club room. Two-car garage. Convenient to Lafayette School. The price is astonishingly low. Open for Inspection.
DIEFFENBACH & CO.
Na. 3850. 1343 H St. N.W.

BEAUTIFUL LAWNS GUARANTEED: 1st-class work; sodding, grading, seeding; free estimate. Mr. Schools, Pot. 6307.

Window SHADES; Floor Coverings; SCREENS; prompt, econ serv. KLEEBLATT, 11th and H ne. Linc 0879.

PAYS In real money, in a real position. Constant demand for Boyd trained students. Short, easy secretarial and business courses. Inquire today. Boyd School, 1333 F St. Nat. 2338.

PAINTING—PAPERING
CARPENTER WORK
Complete service. No charge for estimate.
WASHINGTON HOME IMPROVEMENT CO.
General Contractors
1727 K St. NW. National 2221.

SALE! Spring Suits $17.50, $27.50
Charge It! Pay Later in Small Amounts
EISEMAN'S, 7th & F

WHARTON'S
SEALED HOT TOASTED
WHOLE FRIED CHICKEN LOAF
12 to 14 Individual Pieces Delivered Hot Any Hour Till Midnight. Or Drive to 2213 14th St N.W. $1.00
Call North 6617.

F. S. Harris Co. . . . Open Nites
$5 delivers the new 1932 NORGE
$2 Weekly Pays for It.
Priced As Low As $145
Come in or phone Columbia 0100 for a Representative
F. S. HARRIS CO.
2900 14th Street N.W.

LOWEST FARE FOR YEARS
$116.50 30-Day Round Trip From Washington, D. C.
NORTH PACIFIC COAST and CALIFORNIA
Or $130.45 for Season Round Trip
(Return Limit Oct. 31)
You can visit California (and the Olympic Games) also Banff—Lake Louise, Canadian Rockies, at no extra fare. Canadian Pacific Summer Train Service includes "The Imperial" and "The Dominion" via Montreal or Toronto; "The Mountaineer" via Chicago. Liberal stop-overs.
Washington to Banff 30-Day Round Trip $95.00
Season Round Trip Return limit Oct. 31 $108.70
Full information and reservations from
CANADIAN PACIFIC
14th & N. Y. Ave. N.W., Washington, D. C.
ALL-EXPENSE CONDUCTED TOURS, GOING: Grand Canyon-California; or Yellowstone-Columbia Highway; or Glacier National—Mt. Rainier—also Alaska. RETURNING: Lake Louise and Banff. Special Tour 6½ Glorious Days in Canadian Rockies, from Banff or Field—$60.00.

Your FUR COAT STORED, INSURED and GLAZED $2.75
This service includes new buttons, new loops and all rips sewed
ALL WORK GUARANTEED
Parker's
The above service with new lining which we furnish.. $8.75
Complete service including remodeling into latest style and new lining which we furnish $15.75
CALL NATIONAL 6378 and We Will Call for Your Coat

FLIGHT IS REPLETE WITH COINCIDENCES

Mrs. Putnam Has High Rating in World Aeronautical Organizations.

New York, May 21 (A.P.).—Creating surprises is nothing new for Amelia Earhart Putnam. It may have been a coincidence that she took off from Harbor Grace on the fifth anniversary of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's solo flight to Paris; it may have been a coincidence that she landed at Culmore, northern Ireland, five years to the day after Col. Lindbergh landed in Paris, but it was not so much a coincidence that her plans became known after she was in the air.

Four years ago, on June 3, a trimotored monoplane roared over the waters at Boston, but not until it was in the air did it become known that a social settlement worker, Amelia Mary Earhart, was aboard to become the first woman to fly the Atlantic.

Her Permanent Address.

Then, as now, George Palmer Putnam was left behind, though this time as the husand of the noted aviatrix, where four years ago he had charge of arrangements in America for the backer, Mrs. Frederick Guest.

Coincidences do not end there.

Mrs. Putnam lists her permanent address as Rye, N. Y. A year ago another noted aviatrix, Ruth Nichols, also of Rye, headed for Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, with ambitions to become the first woman to fly the Atlantic alone. Injured and defeated by a crash, she left the field open.

But there are new aspects of this flight—the main one of which is experience.

Sporting Aviation.

Born July 24, 1898, in Atchison, Kans., Mrs. Putnam learned to fly in California when she was 22 years old. Her instructor was a former Army tutor, John Montijo, and for three years she learned by flying from an abandoned field near Los Angeles and at Glendale, Calif.

During this period she qualified for a pilot's license of the Federation Aeronautique Internationale, world governing body of sporting aviation, and became the first woman to receive a certificate from the National Aeronautic Association, of which she now is a vice president and member of the contest board.

She rode as a passenger on her first Atlantic venture, Wilmer Stultz being the pilot and Lou Gordon the mechanic, and it was not until nine months afterward that she applied for a Government license.

When she did apply for the highest rating, that of transport pilot, she listed her solo flight time under 500 hours; now she can point to a total of more than 1,200.

She is blonde and gray-eyed, of slender build, is nearly 5 feet 8 inches tall and still is called "Lady Lindy," not for ocean hopping but because of her resemblance to Col. Lindbergh.

Educated at a Philadelphia boarding school, Columbia, Harvard and the University of California, she has mastered five languages. As a social settlement worker, she continued her interest in this line after she had become famous and many times was found in Greenwich Village among a group of children.

DIED

BELT—On Friday, May 20, 1932, at Sibley Hospital, JAMES FREDERICK, beloved son of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Belt, aged eleven years.

Services at his late residence, 3913 Kansas avenue northwest, on Monday, May 23, at 10 a. m. Interment at Glenwood Cemetery.

CARDER—On Friday, May 20, 1932, LENA CLAYTON, beloved wife of Thomas H. Carder and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. O'Bryhim.

Remains resting at the W. W. Chambers Co. funeral home, 1400 Chapin street northwest, until 12 noon, Sunday, May 22. Funeral services in Ramoth Church, Falmouth, Va., at 2 p. m.

DANT—On Friday, May 20, 1932, at Parkton, Md., ANNA E., eldest daughter of R. P. and Edna E. Dant.

Funeral from the residence of her grandparents, A. Hill and Anna M. Blandford, 225 Schley avenue, Penrose Station, Arlington, Va., on Monday, May 23, at 8:45 a. m.; thence to Holy Trinity Church, where mass will be offered at 9:15 a. m. for the repose of her soul. Interment Mount Olivet Cemetery.

DARR—On Friday, May 20, 1932, JOHN, son of the late Arthur L. Darr and beloved brother of Adeline Culloty.

Funeral from the W. W. Chambers Co. Southeast branch parlors, 517 Eleventh street southeast, on Monday, May 23, at [illegible] m. Relatives and friends are invited. Interment in Congressional Cemetery.

RIKER—On Saturday, May 21, 1932, at his residence, 6313 Connecticut avenue northwest, JAMES McKINLEY, husband of the late Agnes Strobel Riker.

Services at his late residence on Monday, May 23, at 2 p. m. Relatives and friends invited to attend. Interment Rock Creek Cemetery.

FURR—On Saturday, May 21, 1932, ANNIE E., widow of the late William H. Furr, and beloved mother of Elmer C. Furr, of Detroit, Mich.

Funeral from the W. W. Chambers Co. funeral home, 1400 Chapin street northwest, on Sunday, May 22, at 4 p. m. Relatives and friends are invited. Interment Tuesday, May 24, at Woodstock, Va.

GATES—On Saturday, May 21, 1932, ANNIE E., beloved wife of Dr. Thomas J. Gates and mother of Robert W. Hazzard.

Funeral from her late residence, 255 Eleventh street southeast, on Monday, May 23, at 2 p. m. Interment at Fort Lincoln Cemetery. Relatives and friends invited to attend.

FUNERAL DIRECTORS

Frank Geier's Sons Co.
1113 SEVENTH ST. NW. Telephone
Modern Chapel. NATIONAL 2473.

THOS. S. SERGEON
1011 7TH ST NW. Telephone Natl. 1090.

JAMES T. RYAN
317 PA. AVE. SE. Atlantic 1700.

WM. H. SARDO & CO.
412 H ST. NE. Phone Lincoln 0524.
ESTABLISHED 1876.

JOHN R. WRIGHT CO.
1337 10th st. nw. Phone North 0047.

J. WILLIAM LEE'S SONS
FUNERAL DIRECTORS.
CREMATORIUM
332 PA. AVE. NW. NATL. 1384 & 1385.

CHAS. S. ZURHORST
301 EAST CAPITOL ST. LINCOLN 0372.

P. J. SAFFELL
733 5th st. nw. Natl. 0537.

FUNERAL DESIGNS

GUDE BROS. CO., Florists
1212 F STREET. National 4276.
APPROPRIATE FUNERAL DESIGNS.

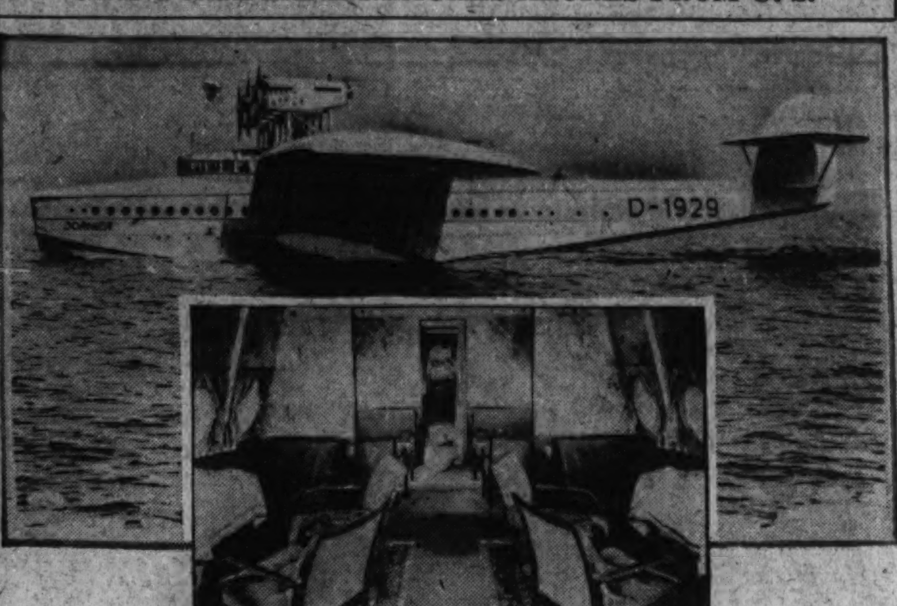
FLORAL TRIBUTES
$3.50 Up
J H SMALL & SONS
Phone NOrth 7000 DUPONT CIRCLE

GEO. C. SHAFFER 900 14TH ST. NW.
Expressive Floral Emblems. Phone
Moderate prices. Open eve.&Sun. Nat. 0106

MONUMENTS

THE LARGEST SELECTION IN D. C.
MONUMENTS AND STATUARY
Do not base the selection of the family monument on photographs shown by peddlers or agents, as you may be deceived. Reduced prices for 30 days.
JAS. E. DUBITY.
Bladensburg Rd., Opp. Sears-Roebuck.

GIANT AIRPLANE REACHES AZORES FROM U. S.



The DO-X, which reached Horta, Azores, early this morning after a flight from the United States via Newfoundland. Lower picture shows the air liner's principal cabin.

FLIER QUITS GLACIER AFTER FIXING PLANE

Mount McKinley Survivors Are Left to Pack Cosmic Ray Instruments.

Fairbanks, Alaska, May 21 (A.P.).—Pilot S. E. Robbins, stranded two days with survivors of the Allan Carpe cosmic ray expedition on Muldrow Glacier, Mount McKinley, because of a broken axle, has returned to Fairbanks.

A spare axle dropped to the glacier in a parachute by Pilot Jerry Jones fitted his plane for the take-off last night.

Robbins had flown there to return Percy T. Olton, jr., a member of the ill-fated expedition, to Fairbanks and to search for Nicholas Spadeveckia, another member of the party.

However, both Spadeveckia and Olton were safe and remained at the camp to collect their instruments. They plan to spend a week or so more on the glacier.

Spadeveckia, who had not been heard from for twelve days, returned to camp Thursday night and said he had never been lost. He explained snow and stream conditions were such he couldn't return to the camp after he had started originally for Fairbanks when Carpe and Theodore Koven, another member of the group, were killed when they slipped into a crevasse.

Spadeveckia said he ran short of food, but caught three porcupines with his ski stick. He saved a can of jam and chicken for the "crawling stage," he added.

Muldrow glacier is now unsafe for further airplane landings because of warmer weather. Robbins had difficulty in taking off.

French Vice Admiral Dies.

Paris, May 21 (A.P.).—Vice Admiral A. Grasset, former chief of the naval general staff, died here today.

DIED

HILL—On Friday, May 20, 1932, at 6:45 p. m., GEORGE C., beloved husband of the late Sallie E. Hill and father of Mrs. George H. Snyder, Mrs. Otto J. DeMoll and John L. Hill.

Funeral from his daughter's (Mrs. George H. Snyder) residence, 35 Baltimore street, Kensington, Md., Monday, May 23, at 1:30 o'clock. Interment at Ok Hill Cemetery, Washington, D. C. Relatives and friends invited.

HURLEBAUS—On Friday, May 20, 1932, at 3:45 a. m., at his residence, 217 Ninth street southeast, FRED A. HURLEBAUS.

Funeral from William H. Scott's, 409 Eighth street southeast, Monday, May 23, at 11 a. m. Interment Prospect Hill Cemetery.

LENNON—On Thursday, May 19, 1932, at Providence Hospital, JOHN J. LENNON, of 1023 Girard street northeast, beloved husband of the late Rose Lennon (nee Gallagher).

Funeral from his late residence on Monday, May 23, at 8:30 a. m. Requiem mass at St. Anthony's Church at 9 a. m. Relatives and friends invited. Interment Mount Olivet Cemetery.

MILLER—On Saturday, May 21, 1932, at 11 a. m., at Providence Hospital, CHARLES F., son of Susie and the late Charles Miller.

Funeral services at the residence of his brother, Howard J. Miller, 9 Tenth street southeast, on Tuesday, May 24, at 2 p. m. Relatives and friends invited. Interment Cedar Hill Cemetery.

REIF—On Friday, May 20, 1932, at his residence, 1032 Fourth street northeast, JOHN, beloved husband of the late Katherine Reif.

Funeral from the above residence, on Monday, May 23, at 3 p. m. Interment at Prospect Hill Cemetery. Relatives and friends invited.

ROSS—On Friday, May 20, 1932, at her residence, 2914 Tenth street northeast, ELEANOR LOWE, widow of David Ross, and beloved mother of Mrs. Roger Garrett.

Funeral from the W. W. Chamberss Co. funeral home, 1400 Chapin street northwest, on Monday, May 23, at 2:30 p. m. Relatives and friends invited. Interment at Rock Creek Cemetery.

SHAFER—On Saturday, May 21, 1932, at her residence, the Wyoming Apartments, MARY N., widow of Charles A. Shafer.

Funeral from the above residence on Tuesday, May 24, at 2 p. m. Interment Oak Hill Cemetery.

SPENCER—On Friday, May 20, 1932, at Sibley Hospital, CORA BELLE SPENCER, beloved sister of Mrs. James B. Nagel, Mrs. J. R. Stevens, Miss Janie Spencer and R. N. Spencer, J. W. Spencer and V. H. Spencer.

Funeral from the residence of her sister, Mrs. J. R. Stevens, 917 Eleventh street northeast, on Monday, May 23, at 11 a. m. Relatives and friens are invited. Interment at Bethel Cemetery, Alexandria, Va. Services by W. W. Chambers Co.

STACK—On Saturday, May 21, 1932, at her residence, 1246 Maryland avenue northeast, MARY AGNES STACK (nee Frost), beloved wife of the late Thomas J. Stack, in the seventy-second year of her age.

Funeral from the above residence, on Tuesday, May 24, at 8:30 a. m.; requiem mass at Holy Name Church at 9 a. m. Interment new Cathedral Cemetery (Bonnie Brae), Baltimore, Md. Relatives and friends are invited.

WEBER—On Friday, May 20, 1932, at Soldiers' Home Hospital, FRANK J., beloved husband of the late Catherine E. Weber and father of Catherine M. Weber.

Funeral from his late residence, 722 Varnum street northwest, on Monday, May 23, at 8:30 a. m. Requiem mass at St. Gabriel's Church at 9 o'clock. Relatives and friends invited to attend. Interment at Soldiers' Home Cemetery.

WEEKS—On Friday, May 20, 1932, at his residence, 1920 Sunderland place northwest, ALFRED CONRAD, son of the late Alfred Conrad and Anne Stephens Hunter Weeks, of St. Mary's Parish, La.

Funeral from his late residence on Monday, 23, at 2 p. m. Interment private.

WEBER—Members of Keane Council, No. 353, Knights of Columbus, are hereby notified of the death of Brother FRANK J. WEBER, and are requested to meet at his late residence, 722 Varnum street northwest, on Sunday, May 22, 1932, at 7:30 p. m.

JOHN E. BURNS, Grand Knight.
DENNIS J. NILAND, Financial Secretary.

YOUNG—On Saturday, May 21, 1932, at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. R. G. Robinson, 206 Hamilton avenue, Clarendon, Va., BETTIE H., wife of the late Adam Young.

Funeral from above residence, Monday, May 23, at 9:30 a. m. Interment at Charles Town, W. Va.

AMELIA EARHART PUTNAM HAILED AFTER SOLO SEA HOP

Continued from Page 1.

did not see the house until the ship stopped.

Apologizes to Farmer.

"It would have been exasperating to crash into the cottage after safely landing," she said, "but my luck held out."

As her plane started its sudden swoop earthward the racket of its motor startled a plowman and his horses in a field nearby. The horses bolted and the plowman had a hard time getting them back at their business.

Late tonight Mrs. Putnam sent her apologies to the man, but they were not needed. He had learned that the plane which came on him like a bolt by the blue had crossed the Atlantic and was piloted by a woman—so everything was all right.

The arrival of the slim, blond, 33-year-old airwoman was so unexpected that even the Londonderry police had a hard time finding her when they learned she had put their community in the all-time log of big navigation feats.

Public Acclaims Her.

Mr. Gallagher first took her to The Elms, the home of Mrs. Francis McClure, a prominent Londonderry woman, and from there she sent out the messages that let the world know she was safe.

It was in Londonderry that she got her first taste of public acclaim. A great crowd gathered about her as she was starting back to have one more look at the plane that brought her across. Mayor McCornell broke through the ring of well-wishers, shook her hand and exclaimed: "You've done an amazing thing!"

Mrs. McClure was much impressed by her unexpected guest.

"She didn't seem a bit disturbed or anxious," she said. "She didn't show any signs of strain or fatigue. She first had to wash and brush up and then she went back to her plane.

"Outwardly she was quite calm but really she was very excited at making the crossing. When every one began to rush up and congratulate her she took it all with a little smile."

Will Go to London.

When the round of felicitations was over, Mrs. Putman hurried back to the Gallagher farm and went happily to bed. She left word to be called early, for she wanted to start her flight to England at dawn.

In addition to setting a speed record, the airwoman put herself in a special niche, for no one else ever flew from America to Europe and then went back and did it over again.

Her other crossing was in June, 1928. That time she was a passenger. Asked which trip she liked better, she said:

"There is no comparison. On this go I was flying low the whole time and had to rely on myself.

"I am afraid I am a bit deaf after the terrible roar of the engine in my ears all the time, but at any rate I have done it."

Hoover Congratulates Woman Ocean Spanner

(Associated Press.)

President Hoover yesterday dispatched a cable to Mrs. Amelia Earhart Putnam, congratulating her upon her transatlantic flight as demonstrating "the capacity of women to match the skill of men in carrying through the most difficult feats of high adventure."

The President's cable, addressed to Mrs. Putnam at Culmore, Ireland, follows in full:

"I voice the pride of the Nation in congratulating you most heartily upon achieving the splendid pioneer solo flight by a woman across the Atlantic Ocean.

"You have demonstrated not only your own dauntless courage, but also the capacity of women to match the skill of men in carrying through the most difficult feats of high adventure. HERBERT HOOVER."

Clarence Young, Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Aviation, commenting on Mrs. Putnam's flight said:

"I want to congratulate the accomplished aviatrix on her most recent and most successful venture.

"It again brings attention to the ability of American aviation personnel and the efficiency of American equipment."

Ocean Plane of Aviatrix Once Crashed in Norfolk

The monoplane which Amelia Earhart Putnam flew to Ireland is the same plane in which she had a minor crash at Norfolk, Va., on September 25, 1930, according to Keeam M. Mathews, Norfolk manager for the Ludington Air Line.

After the crash the plane was rebuilt and was used for two months this year in passenger service for the Ludington line between Washington and Norfolk. The plane was put on Ludington service in January and was removed in March when trimotored planes were put back in operation.

DOCTORS
Recommend CHAMBERS
Ambulances
Clean, Fresh and SANITARY Charges Lowest in City
$4.00 Any Place in D. C.
Phone or write your address.
We will send you a beautiful catalogue on How We Do It.
Call Col. 0432

Atlantic Hop by Aviatrix Sixty-ninth Completed

New York, May 21 (A.P.).—Amelia Earhart Putnam's flight from Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, to Culmore, Ireland, was the sixty-ninth successful crossing of the Atlantic.

Most of the flights have been nonstop. Thirty-four have been across the North Atlantic, along a route similar to that followed by Mrs. Putnam. The remainder have been across the South Atlantic.

Amelia Earhart to Talk On Radio From London

New York, May 21 (A.P.).—Amelia Earhart Putnam will be heard at noon (E. S. T.) tomorrow in a transatlantic broadcast from London through the Columbia Broadcasting Co. network.

Horticulture Club Meets Tomorrow

Takoma Flower Growers to Hear Experts on Tulips and Insect Pests.

The Takoma Horticultural Club will meet tomorrow night in the Takoma Branch Library, Fifth and Cedar streets northwest. The executive committee will meet at 7:30 o'clock. Dr. Floyd F. Smith, of the Bureau of Entomology, Department of Agriculture, will speak on "The Control of Insect Pests of Garden Plants," and his talk will be illustrated with lantern slides.

Dr. David Griffiths will talk on "Varieties of Tulips." His long experience with these plants will be of special aid to members in selecting their blubs. The annual sale of plants, bulbs, &c., will be held at the home of Mrs. John Guill, chairman of the exchange committee, 227 Maple avenue, Takoma Park, Md., beginning at 2 p. m., June 4.

The sixteenth annual rose show of the club will be held Wednesday and Thursday at the Public Library. The library will be open for the reception of flowers at 3 p. m. Wednesday, and judging will begin at 7:45 p. m. The committee includes: Elmer Bradley, chairman; Miss F. D. Egbert, J. T. Gable, W. H. Youngman, Mrs. C. A. Russell and L. R. Swab. J. W. Wellington is president; C. G. Carr, secretary, and W. H. England, chairman of the exhibition committee.

Capital Denies Tax Charge by Canadian

Liberal Stated Minister Forced Off Lumber Tariff by U. S.

(Associated Press.)

Charges made in the Canadian Parliament Friday by William Duff, Liberal member, that Washington authorities "put the gun to the head" of the Canadian minister of national revenue and forced him to remove an excise tax of $1 per 1,000 feet on lumber last October, were stoutly denied yesterday by the State Department.

This repeal was said at the department to have been taken on Canada's own initiative and the United States did not approach Canadian officials on the matter.

Under United States tariff regulations, rough boards are admitted free to the United States from neighboring countries with no countervailing duties. The Canadians had an excise tax of $1 per 1,000 feet which prevented their lumber from enjoying free entry to the United States. This was removed by Canada to avoid the American tariff of $1.50 per 1,000 feet, which would automatically have been collected on their lumber had the Canadian excise tax remained in force.

Secretary Adams to Get Doctor of Laws Degree

Chester, Pa., May 21 (A.P.).—Secretary Charles F. Adams of the Navy will be given the degree of doctor of laws at the commencement exercises of Pennsylvania Military College, on June 7, it was announced today by Col. Frank K. Hyatt, president of the college.

A military program in honor of Secretary Adams, including a portee artillery drill by Battery A, Sixth Field Artillery, of the Army, from Fort Hoyle, Md., will follow the commencement exercises.

WORLD APPLAUDS FEAT OF AVIATRIX

Hoover, Byrd, Ruth Nichols and Lou Reichers Among Those Lauding Her.

(Associated Press.)

News that thrilled the world—"Amelia Earhart Putnam landed near Londonderry, Ireland"—brought instantaneous comments of praise for the calm courage of the woman who yesterday became the first woman ever to cross the Atlantic alone.

From the White House in Washington to St. Johns, N. B., and innumerable points in Europe, messages of congratulations were dispatched to Mrs. Putnam soon after she brought her plane safely to earth.

President Hoover's cablegram said the flight demonstrated "the capacity of women to match the skill of men in carrying through the most difficult feat of high adventure."

His words were echoed by men and women famous for their aviation activities the world over.

Praise by Byrd.

Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, who flew from New York to France and crossed both the North and South Pole, termed the flight: "Simply great! Amelia Putnam is an extraordinary person. I know of no man who has more courage than she. There is absolutely no excuse now for a man to feel proud about his exploits as a male."

Ruth Nichols, society girl, who lives during the summer near the Putnam's home in Rye and who hoped to be the first woman to make a solo flight to Europe: "Her flight proves that aviation is now so safe, that even a woman can fly across the Atlantic alone." She sent a message of congratulations to Mrs. Putnam, saying: "It was a splendid job. My greatest admiration for your planning and skill in carrying out the hop."

Lou T. Reichers, of Arlington, N. J., who only last week fell in the sea 47 miles from Ireland in an attempt to reach Paris from Newark, N. J., in sixteen to seventeen hours: "Splendid. She's a fine girl and I'm happy to know she made Ireland. It was an achievement every woman should applaud."

Wiley Post, who, with Harold Gatty as navigator, set a record of 8 days, 15 hours and 51 minutes in circling the globe: "She did the sensible thing in deciding to cross the Atlantic at night. That gave her daylight at the other end."

Other Comment.

Mrs. Frederick Guest, of Roslyn, N. Y., who owned the plane in which Mrs. Putnam four years ago rode as passenger with Wilmer Stultz and Lou Gordon from Trepassy, Newfoundland, to Burryport, Wales: "I am so delighted Miss Earhart is all right. She has all my admiration and congratulations."

Gov. Joseph B. Ely of Massachusetts—Mrs. Putnam before her first Atlantic flight was a social worker in Boston—: "My warmest congratulations. Massachusetts is proud of you."

Clarence Young, Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Aviation: "It again brings attention to the ability of American aviation and the efficiency of American equipment."

SPANS ATLANTIC ALONE

Associated Press Photo.

AMELIA EARHART PUTNAM.

U. S. INDUSTRIALISTS EVOLVE PLAN TO COLLECT WAR DEBTS

Continued from Page 1.

tries borrowed from us was used to buy our goods, and the problem of transfer did not exist. At some time in the future the United States may be faced with a critical situation when it may urgently need the materials and services of our foreign debtors.

"At such a time payment on account of war debts could be made to us without creating the transfer problem. Our debtors would then be called upon to deliver to us such goods and services as we may require up to the amount that enabled them to buy in the United States with the help of our loans.

"In this manner the United States would not cancel or reduce its present claims, but it would recognize the impossibility or the undesirability of demanding payment now and would expect our foreign debtors to discharge their just obligations by sending us their goods at a time when we should be willing and glad to accept them."

The plan was presented by Dr. Alexander in a speech before the private annual meeting of the board last week and was made public after industrialists attending the meeting suggested its release.

Dr. Alexander urged that "something definite must be done and done quickly" about war debts, since only a little more than a month intervenes before the end of the Hoover moratorium on June 30.

While the United States is not one of the creditors of Germany, it has a deep interest in the coming meeting of the Lausanne conference on June 16, because the United States receives about $23,000,000,000 of the total payment of $27,000,000,000 to be made by Germany to her creditors.

If the Lausanne conference should fail, Germany almost certainly will default on her reparations obligation, Dr. Alexander said.

"Without receiving payment from Germany, many debtors of the United States would find it necessary to default on their debt payments to us. Such default would undermine the economic and financial structure of the world.

"It would imperil or destroy the credit of defaulting countries and might result in almost universal departure from the gold standard and even in default of payments on private foreign debts."

CAPT. ENDRES KILLED AS NOTED SHIP BURNS

Continued from Page 1.

to receive them. They were coming in from Budapest.

When their bodies had been extricated they were covered with Italian flags and were turned over to the Hungarian minister, who will arrange to send them home.

Five noted Americans are among the transoceanic airmen who will attend the convention. They are Hugh Herndon, jr., Harold Gatty, George W. Haldeman, Albert Francis Hegenberger and Holden C. Richardson.

HUSBAND INFORMED OF FLIGHT BY PHONE

Amelia Earhart Putnam Tells Mate of Peril After Her Ship Was Crippled.

New York, May 21 (A.P.).—In six thrill-filled minutes George Palmer Putnam heard over a transatlantic telephone line from his flying wife, Amelia Earhart, this afternoon the story of her perilous solo flight across the Atlantic.

His face showing weariness from a sleepless vigil, he waited impatiently while operators worked to put the connection through. Then he vetoed a suggestion that a stenotype record be made of the conversation and retired to a room by himself while they talked.

He was smiling broadly and looked relieved when he finished.

"It was a burned out collector ring that caused the trouble," he said. "She flew with it for about 10 hours. She said since she'd rather drown than burn up, she flew right on top of the water most of the way.

"For four hours, it was absolutely black and she flew blind," he went on. "It was rough as the devil. It wasn't an awfully good connection, but I think she said she flew high at first, but met ice and had to drop for that reason.

"Tired? She sounded pretty fresh.

"No, I don't think she was very sleepy. It's too exciting and too hard work to fly blind with a sick engine to get sleepy.

"This makes her the first flier to have crossed the Atlantic twice, you know," he said.

Then he laughed.

"As her husband," he added, "I guess it would be proper to remark I hope it doesn't become a habit."

Culmore, Northern Ireland, May 21 (A. P.).—Amelia Earhart Putnam described her husband, George Palmer Putnam, New York publisher, as a "good sport" today for having let her fly the Atlantic alone.

"I did this just for fun," she said, as she was surrounded by an admiring crowd after having landed near here.

"I have always wanted to do the flight myself and my husband is a good sport. He does not interfere with my flying and I don't interfere with his affairs.

"When he was satisfied that I was confident I could make the trip he consented and here I am."

Enjoy Dancing this Summer

DANCING can make or break your vacation. Correct your faults now and spend a happier summer. At Mr. Thayer's delightfully cool studios expert teachers will bring your dancing up-to-date and give you confidence on the dance floor. Call this week for a guest lesson and dancing analysis—without charge. Studios open until 10 P. M.

Leroy H. Thayer Studios
1226 Connecticut Ave. DEcatur 5470

LEONARD
ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR

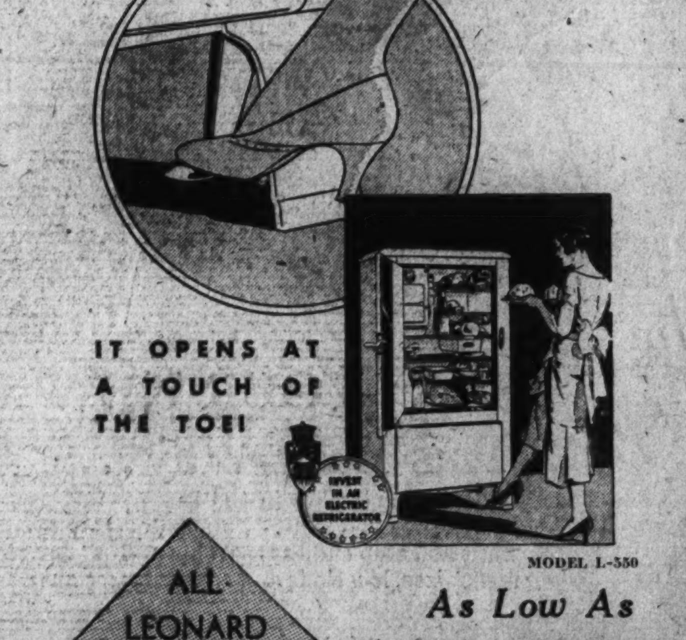
Displayed by these authorized DEALERS

District of Columbia
Albert G. Altemus
5123 Ga. Ave. N.W.
Atlantic Radio & Elec. Co.
2016 14th St. N.W.
A. F. Campbell
2212 Rhode Island Ave. N.E.
Chidakel Sales Co. 509 7th St. S.W.
George's Radio Co.
2139 Penna. Ave. N.W.
The Hecht Co. 7th at F St. N.W.
Hub Furniture Co.
7th and D Sts. N.W.
Arthur Jordan Piano Co.
1239 G St. N.W.
Kelly Furniture Co.
1247 Wis. Ave. N.W.
Kennedy Radio Shop
14th St. Near Tivoli Theater
King's Palace 810 7th St. N.W.
Homer L. Kitt Co. 1330 G St. N.W.
Julius Lansburgh Furniture Co.
9th and F Sts. N.W.
Leonard Refrigerator & Sales Co.
2930 14th St. N.W.
Mayer & Co.
7th St. between D and E
Mitchell Hardware Co.
5000 Wis. Ave. N.W.
National Furniture Co.
7th and H Sts. N.W.
National Majestic Radio Co.
720 12th St. N.W.
Ralph Perry Co.
Takoma Park, D. C.
Ristig's, Inc. 1352 H St. N.E.
Chas. Schwartz & Son
708 7th St. N.W.
W. F. Shea
3711 New Hampshire Ave. N.W.
Smith's
1803 Columbia Rd. N.W.
Star Radio
409 11th St. N.W.
3218 14th St. N.W.
1350 F St. N.W.
Walsh Bros.
3430 14th St. N.W.

Maryland
Woodson Motor Co. Silver Spring.
Arthur W. Dowell Prince Frederick.
Hughesville Garage Hughesville.
Schroeder & Reese Indian Head.

Virginia
Auto Accessories Co. Alexandria.
A. F. Campbell, Potomac.
Del Ray Supply Co. Potomac.
Glaize & Bro., Winchester.
Horn Motors Co.
Lambert Bros., Ballston.

Exclusively Featuring the
LEN-A-DOR



IT OPENS AT A TOUCH OF THE TOE!

ALL LEONARD PRICES Quoted DELIVERED Ready-to-Use in the Home

As Low As $149.50
8 MODELS
3 All-Porcelain
Begin at $195

Exclusive Distributors
SOUTHERN WHOLESALERS INCORPORATED
1519 L Street N.W. Phone DEcatur 0310
24-Hour Service to LEONARD Users

UPROAR INTERRUPTS CLERGYMAN'S TRIAL

Davidson Rages in Dispute Respecting Legitimacy of Youngest Son.

London, May 21 (U.P.).—The Rev. Harold F. Davidson, 60-year-old rector of Stiffkey, caused an uproar in Norwich Consistory Court today when he defended himself against charges of immorality with such impassioned statements that the court was compelled to clear the gallery of demonstrative spectators.

His fists clenched, his face fiery red and his voice raised to a tremulous pitch, the rector caused the greatest disturbance when he accused the prosecution of breaking a promise in regard to statements concerning the legitimacy of his youngest son.

"The only bitter feeling I have about this case is in the prosecution's broken promise not to bring in the question of my youngest son," Dr. Davidson said. "He read it in a newspaper report."

His reference apparently was to an alleged denial by the rector that he was the father of the boy.

Locked Girl in Room.

Sympathetic spectators shouted, "Hear, Hear," and applauded wildly. The court ordered them evicted.

After a brief rest to permit the rector to compose himself, he returned to the witness stand and told how he had locked 18-year-old Barbara Harris, who accused him of immoral relations, in her room to prevent her from going out late at night.

"She said she was going to walk home. It was late and I said that was absurd at that hour of the night. I did not lock myself in with her."

"Did she give you a black eye?" the prosecution asked.

"Certainly not," Dr. Davidson said.

He also described in detail his experiences in brothels during the war, attacking the "icebergs" among church people for "drawing their skirts away" from unfortunate girls.

Denies Hugging in Auto.

At the morning session Dr. Davidson had testified concerning a 26-year-old actress he tried to save. He said she called him "Uncle Harold," but he denied putting his arm around her waist while riding in an automobile. He said that would be a physical impossibility if they were to ride in comfort.

"It has been suggested that you are nervous about the use of your hands," the prosecution said. "Is it usual for you to touch people?"

"I have had to restrain myself constantly," the rector said, "especially from touching the learned chancellor."

"You certainly had better not," the chancellor interrupted.

Dr. Davidson also revealed that he carries his money in his socks, saying he had had his pockets picked several times and did not like to risk losing his cash.

Missing Girl Held Decoy In Holdup of Physician

Derby, Conn., May 21 (A.P.).—Discounting the theory that she had been abducted, police today sought Miss Agnes O'Neill, 22, of New Haven, in the belief she acted as a decoy for two men who robbed and beat Dr. Royal Pinney, of New Haven, wealthy retired physician.

The 68-year-old doctor, his face and head severely bruised, was found in a clump of bushes beside a road early this morning. He told officers that Miss O'Neil, an acquaintance of three weeks whom he had taken riding, had driven away with the bandits after they had stolen $15 and his watch.

The men overlooked $600 sewed in the physician's vest, and were unable to remove two diamond rings from his fingers.

Dr. Pinney was unable to give police much information about Miss O'Neill, who, he said, approached as he stepped into his car at New Haven at 9:30 p. m. yesterday.

"Good evening, doctor," he quoted her as saying. "Where are you going?"

"I told her that I was going for a little ride," Dr. Pinney said, "and she asked if she could accompany me. I told her that she could."

After driving to Derby, where they ate and danced, they started home at 11:30 p. m., the physician said. His companion asked him to slow up so that she could light a cigarette.

As he brought the car to a halt, Dr. Pinney reported, two men carrying revolvers jumped on the running board. One dragged him from the car. The other hit him on the head.

Dr. Pinney, who finished Sheffield Scientific School in 1885, said he was unconscious for at least fifteen minutes.

Police expressed the belief the girl's meeting with the physician was part of a prearanged plan to rob him. On previous occasions she had said she lived near him, but she could not be found in the neighborhood.

Mt. Vernon Ladies Elect Vice Regent

Name Mrs. Fairfax Loughborough; Open Shrine to School Children.

Mrs. Fairfax Loughborough, of Little Rock, Ark., was elected to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of the former vice regent of the Mount Vernon Ladies' Association of the Union at the recent sixty-sixth annual grand council.

A book by Thomas Nelson Page on the "History and Preservation of Mount Vernon," recently revised and republished, tells how this estate was purchased and restored and saved for all time by the first patriotic organization of women in America.

Children under 10 years of age, accompanied by parents or guardians, are admitted free to Mount Vernon, and school children up to and through the eighth grade will be admitted free every day the estate is open when visiting in group and accompanied by teachers.

Six Delaware Delegates Expected for Roosevelt

Dover, Del., May 21 (A.P.).—Democrats in Kent and Sussex, two of Delaware's three counties, today elected delegates to the State convention here next Tuesday at which six delegates will be selected to the national convention, all presumably for Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt for President.

No serious opposition developed to the sloted State convention delegates. In the other county, New Castle, which includes the city of Wilmington, the State delegates were picked at legislative district meetings and no primary was required. Although political leaders said that sentiment was strong in Delaware for the nomination of Roosevelt, it was not certain that the convention would bind the delegation with instructions for him.

Catholic Press Elects Richard Reid President

Buffalo, N. Y., May 21 (A.P.).—Richard Reid, of Augusta, Ga., editor of The Bulletin, today was elected president of the Catholic Press Association of America. He will succeed Benedict Elder, of Louisville, Ky.

Other officers are M. Albert E. Smith, of Baltimore, Md., editor of the Catholic Review, vice president; Joseph H. Meier, of Chicago, publisher of the Catholic Press Directory, reelected secretary, and Charles H. Ridder, of New York, publisher of the Catholic News, reelected treasurer.

Plaintiff in Coolidge Suit Succumbs.

St. Louis, May 21 (A.P.).—Lewis B. Tebbetts, 43 years old, insurance man who recently obtained $2,800 from former President Coolidge, in settlement of a suit over some remarks by Coolidge over the radio, died of heart disease in the Christian Science Sanitarium in Boston at midnight last night.

Gov. White's Daughter Betrothed to Physician

Columbus, Ohio, May 21 (A.P.).—A romance starting with an automobile accident culminated today in the announcement of the engagement of Miss Charlotte White, daughter of Gov. George White, to Dr. Frank E. Hamilton, Columbus physician.

Friends of Miss White said she met Dr. Hamilton while being treated for injuries received in an automobile accident.

Chinese Mail Workers To Start Strike Today

Shanghai, May 21 (A.P.).—The whole of China was expected to be without mail service tomorrow as a result of the postal workers' unions having issued a strike order tonight. The strike was scheduled to begin throughout the country at 5 a. m. tomorrow.

The postal workers objected to certain policies which the ministry of communications has been carrying out in the postoffices. All the workers were expected to respond to the strike call, holding up all mail, incoming and outgoing.

The terms of Morris Plan Loans are simple and practical—it is not necessary to have had an account at this Bank to borrow.

For each $120 borrowed you agree to deposit $10 a month in an account, the proceeds of which may be used to cancel the note when due. Deposits may be made on a weekly, semi-monthly or monthly basis as you prefer.

Amt. of Note	Monthly Deposit for 12 Months
$120	$10
$180	$15
$240	$20
$300	$25
$360	$30
$540	$45
$1,200	$100
$6,000	$500

Loans are passed on within a day or two after filing application—with few exceptions.

MORRIS PLAN notes are usually made for 1 year, though they may be for any period of from 3 to 12 months.

Morris Plan Bank

Under Supervision U. S. Treasury

1408 H Street Northwest

Capital & Surplus, $250,000

YOUR MOVE!

Select YOUR NEW Apartment This Easy Way... See how convenient it is to find all apartments in the same price group lined up together! It will save you time. You can quickly locate the apartment you want and stop endless searching. Full descriptive ads with apartment sizes, locations and conveniences are

Arranged According to Price in Post Classified Ads

Turn to the Classified Section now and take advantage of the many excellent apartment offers.

The Washington Post

Right Reserved to Limit Quantities

Phone District 5215

PEOPLES DRUG STORES

"ALL OVER TOWN" —The Better to Serve You!

For Real Cigar Satisfaction—

Stratford Mild Cigars

You'll like these popular cigars from the very start! Mild and mellow—even to the last puff, for the reason that only pure, ripe tobaccos go into Strattords. Cellophane wrapped to seal in their delightful aroma and extremely mild taste.

Stratford Dips 6 for 25c Box of 50, $1.95

Perfecto or Panetella 8c, 4 for 30c Box of 50, $3.75

Stratford Junior 10 Cigars in Handy Pocket Pkg. 25c

Buy Them By the Box!

Here Are Savings

For Thrift-Wise Washington Shoppers!

For Luxurious, Healthy Hair—Use

Wildroot Hair Tonic

$1.10 Size .. 63c

Massage your scalp regularly with Wildroot. It stimulates the hair roots and helps check dandruff. Start using it now and watch your hair grow healthier and more luxurious.

3-DAY SPECIALS

Effective Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday

(NO PHONE OR MAIL ORDERS)

60c Pint of DETHSPRAY INSECTICIDE And a 35c Dethsprayer

Both For..... 59c

Rid your home of all disease-carrying pests. Dethspray is a pleasant and effective, non-explosive insecticide for repelling ants, moths, bedbugs, flies and roaches. Be sure to take advantage of this special offer tomorrow.

A 95c Value!

Bowling Green Fertilizer

5-Lb. Bag Only 29c

35c Value

Bowling Green is a high quality fertilizer made of tested and guaranteed ingredients. It insures proper growth and development. Use it for lawns, flowers, shrubs and gardens.

Hold FALSE TEETH Tight in Mouth

HOPE DENTURE POWDER holds the plates tight in the mouth. You can eat and talk as well as you did with your natural teeth. HOPE DENTURE POWDER prevents bad breath and has no gummy or pasty taste.

$1 Size 89c

Is your digestion right?

For Indigestion Due to Constipation —Take

Beecham's Pills

25c Size 17c 50c Size 34c

Apex Moth Cakes 25c and 50c

Apex Moth Crystals 25c and 50c

End moth damage to rugs, stuffed furniture and clothing with these crystals. Do not stain. Leave no odor.

2 IN 1 Shoe Polish 12c Can

Shinola Polish 8c Can

Trench Foot

Beware Athlete's Foot

Why suffer from the queer skin disease causing severe itching of toes and feet, cracking, peeling skin, blisters, Ringworm, Trench Foot or Hand Itch, when you can avoid infection and quickly heal your skin with Dr. Nixon's Nixoderm? Based on the famous English Hospital formula, discovered by a leading London skin specialist, Dr. Nixon's Nixoderm acts with amazing speed, because designed for this particular skin disease. Nixoderm is guaranteed. It must stop itch and quickly heal your skin or the small cost will be refunded.

Only 95c

E-Z Corn Pads

Stop, Prevent Corns

Do not cut your corns. They may become irritated and cause blood poisoning. E-Z Pads are antiseptic and will not injure the most delicate skin. They stop pain instantly.

Pkg. of 12 Pads 25c

Sizes for callouses and bunions.

NUJOL $1.00 Pint 57c

BAYER Aspirin 35c Size...... 25c

IDEAL Antiseptic $1 Pint........ 59c

CAR-MAC Tooth Paste 50c Tube.. 19c

HINDS H. A. Lotion 50c Size....... 29c

COTTON 50c Lb. Roll....... 29c

J & J TALC. 25c Tin . 14c

PONDS Creams 35c Jar....... 20c

VANO Sanitary Napkins, 12's... 23c

LYSOL Disinfectant $1 Pint........ 65c

BAY RUM Munez Wurth, pt. 21c

JAVA Face Powder 50c Box.......... 33c

AGAROL Compound $1.50 Size.. 85c

Regular Size Tennis Rackets

Only $1.29

These well made rackets will stand much hard wear and abuse. Tightly strung.

BOURJOIS offers

A special ensemble box of Evening in Paris FACE POWDER and PERFUME

$1 Both for the price of the powder alone

Radiolite Watches

For Only 98c

With luminous hands and numerals so that you can easily tell the time in the dark.

PICNIC & OUTING NEEDS

Keep Foods Warm

Keep Drinks Cold

Gallon Jugs 98c

Strong metal casings with durable inner lining. Three-inch neck opening with rubber insulated top and metal cap. These jugs will keep their contents the desired temperature for hours.

Picnic Sets

Each package contains complete paper service for six. Includes tablecloth, forks, spoons, plates, cups, etc. 25c

Thermos Bottles

Pt. Size 79c Qt. Size $1.49

These strong, well made bottles are not only useful for picnics but for any other outing where a gallon jug is too large. Genuine Thermos quality.

PEOPLES-DRUG-STORES

HOOVER ENTERTAINS 7 AT RAPIDAN CAMP

President Foregoes Fishing for Rest; Confers With Stimson on Europe.

Skyland, Va., May 21 (A.P.).—Around a roaring open fire in the "town hall" of their Rapidan fishing camp in the Virginia mountains, President and Mrs. Hoover tonight entertained seven guests.

The Chief Executive did not reach the Blue Ridge Mountain retreat until very late afternoon. Although more than an hour of daylight remained, he decided not to go fishing and retired at once to his cabin to rest before dinner.

Mrs. Hoover and Mrs. Edgar Rickard, of New York, who drove to the camp yesterday, awaited the arrival of the President's party.

During the evening Mr. Hoover had an opportunity to chat with Secretary Stimson about conditions in Europe, as he found them during his visit to the Geneva Disarmament Conference.

Present also were Representative Tilson (Republican), Connecticut, and Mrs. Tilson, Col. Frank Knox, Chicago publisher; Mr. Rickard, New York business man, and Henry Allen, former Republican senator from Kansas.

Lawrence Richey, one of the President's secretaries, and Capt. Joel T. Boone, the White House physician, accompanied the President on his second visit to the mountain camp this year.

Although the weather was pretty today, there was a threat of rain before morning. The President plans to return late tomorrow.

SENATE SAVING WORK DUE ON HEELS OF TAX

Continued from Page 1.

the illness of Senator Kenneth McKellar, and death, Friday, of the mother of Senator James F. Byrnes. Senator McKellar, author of the 10 per cent Senate appropriation cuts, was greatly improved yesterday. Senator Jones thinks he will be able to continue the economy sessions by Tuesday at the latest.

Though considerable progress has been made on the rebuilt House economy bill, so veiled in secrecy have been the special committee's proceedings that no one, colleagues in the Senate included, knows what economy items have been agreed to in bipartisan conference.

Conviction is growing, however, that the special economy group will write the President's plan of enforced Federal furloughs without pay into the reconstructed bill, throwing out the House plan of 11 per cent pay cuts with $2,500 exemption.

Hold Leaves in Abeyance.

In anticipation of this, a number of Government agencies have issued orders that no employe be permitted to use up all his 30 days' annual leave before July. Vacations for the first half-year are being held generally below fifteen days.

Indicative is the following notice posted yesterday by W. W. Stockberger, director of personnel and business administration for the Department of Agriculture:

"In view of the existing uncertainty in regard to prospective legislation affecting personnel, annual leave should not be granted in excess of fifteen days for Washington employes and seven and one-half days for field employes during the half-year ending June 30, 1932.

"If unusual circumstances beyond an employe's control appear to justify an extension of annual leave beyond the limits stated, there will be for consideration an exception to the the general rule."

Fight for Overtime Pay.

Federal employes are making an energetic fight against several personnel provisions allowed by the House to slip by in its $42,000,000 bill. Cancellation of overtime pay is provoking widespread indignation, particularly among public printers whom the House bill hits to the extent of some $400 a year.

Vigorous exception also has been taken to the House clause restraining husband and wife from both working in the Federal service, with the National Federation of Federal Employes leading the fight to have it deleted from the Senate bill.

Many general economy provisions found obnoxious by the House, including the section curtailing veterans' allowances and hospitalization, are expected to be put back in the bill by the Senate committee. Observers say the Army-Navy merger, however, with savings estimated from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000, is definitely out of the picture.

Organized Labor Against Cut.

American Federation of Labor and American Legion officials mapped a plan of action in event the economy bill contains drastic pay-cut provisions when it comes out of the Senate appropriations committee.

Attending a joint conference at Federation headquarters were President William Green, of the American Federation of Labor; Col. John Thomas Taylor, legislative representative of the American Legion, and Harry King, of the Washington Chamber of Commerce, all on record against a cut in Federal pay.

"Biggest" Gas Station In Washington Opens

Under the name of Rock Creek Service Center, there has been opened at Georgia avenue and Peabody streets northwest what is probably the largest individual superservice gasoline station in Washington.

It covers one acre of ground. In addition to two batteries of gasoline pumps, with ten in each battery there is a grease rack capable of handling sixteen automobiles at once, a wash rack that will turn out a clean car every 12 minutes.

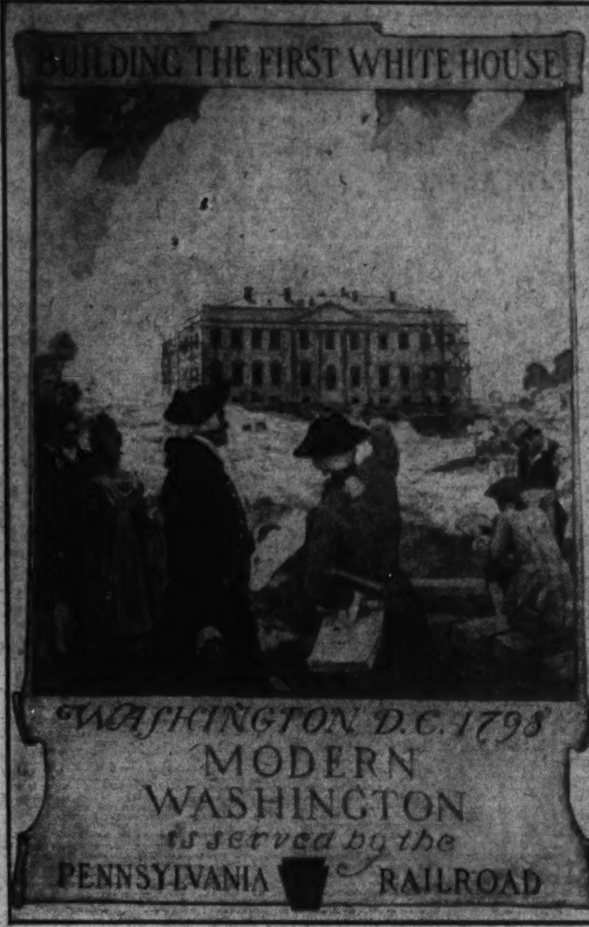
The station is operated by Paul Cramer.

Officers Plan to Honor Col. Frederick H. Payne

A dinner in honor of Col. Frederick H. Payne, Assistant Secretary of War, will be given at the Racquet Club on Tuesday evening by the officers of the 306th Cavalry. Col. John Philip Hill is in command of the regiment. Congressional and military officials will be present.

The celebration marks the close of the inactive training period, during which the officers of the regiment have been training under the direction of Maj Harly C. Dagley for their duties as instructors at the Citizens Military Training Camp at Fort Myer.

Artist Draws Washington At Building of White House



The personal interest of George Washington in the construction of a residence for the Nation's Presidents is shown in this poster, which is from a painting by N. C. Wyeth, American artist.

Poster Is Based on One of First President's Little-Known Activities.

Selecting one of George Washington's less well-known activities for his subject, H. C. Wyeth, American painter celebrated for his historical pictures, has recently completed a notable representation of the first President supervising the building of the White House. The painting has been engraved and issued in poster form as one of the Pennsylvania Railroad's contributions to the Washington Bicentennial celebration. It is being distributed to colleges and schools, libraries, patriotic organizations and other public and semipublic institutions.

The poster is based on the personal interest manifested by George Washington in the planning and building of a residence for the Nation's Chief Executive. It is recorded that he appointed a commission to study plans for a President's House and that on March 14, 1792, the commission offered a premium of $500 or a gold medal for the most acceptable drawings. Various plans were submitted, and these were carefuly examined by the President and the commissioners. Finally, in July, 1792, the prize was awarded to James Hoban, of Charleston, S. C. For his work he requested "a gold medal of eight or ten guineas value, the balance in money." He was retained to make further drawings and to superintend the execution of his design. His salary was 300 guineas a year—a generous allowance for those days.

The President's House required eight years to build and decorate. It was first occupied in November, 1800, by President John Adams and his wife, the talented Abigail Smith Adams.

"President Washington's interest in the erection of this building," Mr. Weyth says, "was constant throughout the years he served in office, and even after his retirement to his beloved Mount Vernon and up to within a month of his death in 1799. It is known that he made occasional visits to the new building in the company of Architect Hoban to discuss details of the construction, and so I have chosen to picture one of thes occasions.

"It is a day in the early summer of 1798, about the time that the slates for the roof were being laid. Mr. Washington stands beside Architect Hoban; both intent upon some question concerning the building. At the left is a group of visitors, friends, perhaps, of Washington. On the right, two of Mr. Hoban's assistants.

"On August 14, 1814, the British burned this building, and the following year reconstruction work was started. In 1820 the President's House was completely restored. It was at this time that the title, so familiar to us now, the White House, was first used.

"Due to the irremovable discolorations caused by the fire of 1814 upon the original free stone walls, the entire edifice was painted a gleaming white. So do we see it today, the White House."

WARNER MADE HUGE PROFITS BY UNDERCOVER OPERATIONS

Continued from Page 1.

with a dark mustache and glasses, took the stand, he said he was the son of a shoemaker and had started out in that business himself but had been in the movies 28 years.

As Gray and committee members questioned him about the organization of his company, Warner called Samuel Schneider, his counsel, to his side at the table.

The witness said he and his brothers, Albert and J. L. Warner, owned about 303,000 shares out of 2,500,000 outstanding at the beginning of 1930, and that when he bought and sold it was for the three of them.

Schneider, testifying for Warner, said most of the trading was done under the names of "Moe Rosenberg" and "Harry Charness." Accounts were maintained in half a dozen brokerage houses, he said, but most trading was done through Schatzkin & Co.

Would "Diversify" Holdings.

"Why did you deal under those names?" Gray asked.

"We found when we traded in the name of Harry or Albert Warner it influenced others," Schneider replied, adding that the purpose was to prevent brokers and not the public from knowing their operations.

Gray said that out of their 303,000 shares they sold about 180,000 in January and February.

Warner explained that they wanted to "diversify" their holdings. More than $3,000,000 of the money was loaned to the company in return for ten-year debentures, he added.

Selling continued through June, Gray said, giving the details for each month.

Dividends of $4 a share were passed in the latter part of 1930, Warner said. He denied, however, he knew that action was coming, insisting that he did not know it until late in the year.

Gray then read to the committee a published statement in August, 1930, saying the earnings of the corporation were not enough to cover dividends.

Next Session Late in Week.

Questioned by Gray, Schneider said the Warner Brothers began to buy the stock back in August, and this continued through November.

Gray said his figures showed that the Warner Brothers sold 305,350 shares during the year for $16,520,000 and bought back 326,500 for $7,544,000, making a profit of $8,976,504. Additional stock brought the profit total to $9,251,454, he said.

The counsel said the average price at which the brothers sold their stock was 54, and the average price at which they bought it was 23.

After the hearing, the steering committee in charge of the inquiry decided to continue it until June 10, and hold one public session a week.

Chairman Norbeck announced the next session would be Friday or Saturday of next week, depending on when Gray could get material ready.

Gray did not indicate what he would present at that time, but said he was investigating certain transactions in Fox Film among other stocks.

Norbeck indicated that if the investigation could not be concluded by June 10 it might be continued into the summer, particularly if Congress comes back after the party conventions.

Budapest, Hungary, May 21 (A.P.). Budapest took on an aspect of national mourning when reports reached the Hungarian capital today that Capt. George Endres had been killed near Rome in the crash of his airplane "Justice for Hungary."

His wife, who is expecting the birth of a child, received the news of her husband's death with restrained emotion.

Church bells tolled and the flags on official and private buildings were placed at half-staff.

Cincinnati, May 21 (A.P.).—Mrs. John Endres embraced her youngest son and wept when told of the death of her eldest boy, Capt. George Endres, at Rome today.

Mrs. Endres, looking at a patch of blue sky through the window beside her sick bed, said:

"Always I have looked up at that little bit of sky," she said, "and thought that some day my son would fly down out of it to visit me."

The frail, gray haired, 75-year-old woman received a letter from Endres three weeks ago, saying:

"I guess you think I'm terrible, always saying that I will come back for a visit—and then never doing it. However, this is the last letter I am going to write before I really come to America. The next time you hear from me—I will be home."

Rum Convict Escapes From Jail in Fairfax

C. A. Collins, alias J. A. Ward, who was serving time in the Fairfax County Jail for a conviction of possession and transportation of liquor, took "French leave" yesterday. Collins, who stated that he was a Florida gardener on his way to Washington in search of work, was made a trusty, and since his conviction had been engaged in taking care of the jail yard.

About noon yesterday he was allowed to go across the street for a bottle of turpentine, and when he failed to return after a short time a futile search was made. A lookout was broadcast by the county police. He received a letter yesterday from relatives, and it is believed that he is trying to return to Florida. He was serving out a fine of $50 and costs and one month in jail, imposed last Monday in the County Circuit Court.

Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont Better.

Paris, May 21 (A.P.).—Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, American society leader who has lived in Paris in recent years, was feeling better today after having been affected by the heat wave from which Paris suffered yesterday.

Baby Slightly Hurt In Fall of 10 Feet

Opens Window and Plunges Out; Rescued From Water Pipe.

A fall from a second-story window resulted in a lacerated mouth and several broken teeth yesterday afternoon for 17-month-old-Ervin Perronie, of 804 I street northwest.

According to the mother, Mrs. Mary Perronie, the baby was playing on the floor of the living room of their home, and crawling to a long window that reached to the floor, managed to open a shutter and fall out. The child fell about ten feet and struck a water pipe to which he managed to cling until picked up.

Police removed the baby to Emergency Hospital and, after receiving emergency treatment, he was transferred to Children's Hospital for further treatment and observation.

Notz Dedicates Status of List.

Dr. William F. Notz, dean of the Georgetown University School of Foreign Service, returned to the city today from Reading, Pa., where he delivered the dedicatory address at the unveiling of a statue to Frederick List, founder of the Reading Railway, diplomat and economist.

Rum Informers' Anonymity Right May Reach High Court

(Associated Press.)

Prohibition authorities may appeal to the United States Supreme Court from a circuit court decision stripping informers of anonymity.

An opinion by Judge Oliver Dickinson Friday, at Philadelphia, upheld a ruling by Federal Judge John P. Nields, of Wilmington, Del., that information as to the identity of tipsters leading to dry raid could not be withheld when it might affect the right of the Government or a defendant.

The possibility that the decision might affect all Government agencies in crime detection—even those now working in the Lindbergh kidnaper search—was mentioned by one official.

It was said that if Federal authorities were compelled to reveal the sources of their clues, they would be cut off from important leads. In many crimes, agents get tips from disgruntled associates of criminals, and from private citizens, both of whom furnish the information with the understanding that their identity will remain secret.

It is up to the Justice Department to decide whether an appeal shall be taken to the highest court. Prohibition officials said they believed precedent was against the decision, and that the bureau might recommend an appeal.

Murderer of Girl, 17, Again Sentenced to Die

Kansas City, May 21 (A.P.).—Paul H. Kauffman again faces death for the murder of Avis Woolery, 17-year-old Webb City, Mo., schoolgirl, August 17, 1930. The 33-year-old former convict was convicted for the second time in criminal court here today. He listened without emotion as the words "find him guilty and set his punishment at death," were read from the verdict of a jury which deliberated five hours.

Ed Woolery, of Kinkaid, Kans., father of the girl Kauffman was charged with having attacked and strangled to death with a stocking, after luring her to Kansas City with the promise of a job, thanked the jurors and termed the verdict just.

Cultivate a SUMMER SANDAL FOOT..

THE SUN-RAY

So cleverly designed—any one could wear them. They not only fit snugly, but support the foot compactly . . . while appearing youthfully free from restraint.

Sea Sand and Beige trim (also white Kid). Cuban heel—cut out for cool comfort.

$8.50

Wolf's Walk-Over Shop
929 F Street

"The Young Men's Shop"
1319-1321 F Street

May 22 BOSTONIAN SHOES Stetson Hats

More than 3,700
Spring and Summer Suits
at $19.75

St. Albans
The Young Men's Shop
WASHINGTON D. C.

This Label Insures Satisfaction

The finest woolens of both Spring and Summer weights. What a sale!

For every suit there is an extra pair of trousers to match . . . . either regular cut, knickers, or "slacks," and these extras are only $3.50

Buy only the three pieces if you wish, but the extra trousers will double the life of the suit and the four pieces were formerly priced at $45. What bargains now!

There are blue serges, tweeds, flannels and basket-weave worsteds; all the desirable colors, and remember the tropical weights for the hot months to come.

Coats of conventional cut or the new Devonshirt drape. Linings resembling the finest silks, but much more durable.

Hundreds of specially designed extra sizes for men of ANY unusual build . . . short or tall, stout or slender.

Every garment is fitted by a master fitter and alterations are made by experienced tailors . . . without extra charge.

St. Albans
Straw Hats
$1.85

A fine sennit braid cushioned with a flexible insert that insures cool comfort, perfect fitting and safety.

Striped
FLAN-L-TEX Pants
$2.25

For Golf For Boating
For Tennis For Motoring
For Gardening or Any Outdoor Work

Will wash like a sports shirt and will NOT shrink. This assures a permanent fit. Designed in the "slack" style; cooler than flannel or duck.

The Washington Post.

THE WASHINGTON POST CO.
Washington, D. C.
EDWARD B. McLEAN,
President and Publisher.

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

The Washington Post is a member of the Associated Press, receiving the complete service of the world's greatest news-gathering organization.

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper, and also the local news published herein.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.
Delivered by Carrier in Washington.

Daily, Sunday included, one year	$8.40
Daily, Sunday excepted, one year	6.00
Sunday only, one year	2.60
Daily, Sunday included, one month	.70
Daily, Sunday excepted, one month	.50
Sunday only, one month (with four Sundays)	.20
Sunday only, one month (with five Sundays)	.25

BY MAIL, PAYABLE IN ADVANCE.
Maryland and Virginia.

Daily and Sunday.		Sunday Only.		Daily Only.
One year	$10.00	One year	$4.00	One year	$7.00
Six months	5.00	Six months	2.00	Six months	3.50
One month	.85	One month	.40	One month	.60

ALL OTHER STATES.
(Mexico and Canada, Incl.)

Daily and Sunday.		Sunday Only.		Daily Only.
One year	$12.00	One year	$5.00	One year	$8.00
Six months	6.00	Six months	3.50	Six months	4.00
One month	1.00	One month	.50	One month	.75

All Subscriptions by Mail Payable in Advance.

New subscriptions for The Post or renewals will not be accepted unless payment accompanies the order. Remittance should be made by draft, checks, postoffice orders, registered letters or express orders, payable to The Washington Post.

Entered at the Postoffice, Washington, D. C., as second-class mail matter.

National Advertising Representative—PAUL BLOCK and Associates, Park-Lexington Building, New York; Palmolive Building, Chicago; Little Building, Boston; General Motors Building, Detroit; Guarantee Trust Building, Philadelphia; Russ Building, San Francisco; 236 South Hill St., Los Angeles.

Sunday, May 22, 1932.

DEFENSE VS. PORK.

Virtually every effort the House has made toward economy at the present session has turned out to be a fiasco. The latest example is the War Department appropriation bill. As sent to the Senate, this measure carries only one substantial cut in expenditures, and that strikes at the very heart of national security.

The House appropriations committee slashed a considerable number of items, including training activities, the number of officers in active service, and the allowance to rivers and harbors. After a heated fight on the floor the House restored all the funds for training camp activities and the development of rivers and harbors. But 2,000 officers, who are a vital part of the nucleus from which the machinery of national defense must be built in times of emergency, were cut off.

Every attempt to reduce the $60,000,000 allotment for rivers and harbors was defeated. This is a pork-barrel appropriation. A substantial saving in this work might have been effected without sacrificing any national interest. But every congressman feels an urge to demonstrate his ability to bring home the bacon just before a national election. Nothing is so certain to escape the economy knife as the pork barrel.

Members of the House have demonstrated their willingness to sacrifice national defense rather than to make any inroads upon their little favor-grabbing game. This brand of "statesmanship" always makes a mockery of economy. When the welfare of the Nation is thus subordinated to sectional and political interests it is not surprising that the people lose faith in the House of Representatives as a responsible agency of government in these critical times.

TARIFF UNION NONSENSE.

Word comes from Peru that several Latin-American countries are negotiating for a customs union for the purpose of directing reprisals against the United States. The idea of South American countries setting out to boycott their best customer must appear as a huge joke, even to those international propagandists who are trying to discredit the American tariff, if they would only glance at the facts involved.

In 1931 South America purchased from the United States goods valued at $158,684,000. During the same year South American exports to the American market amounted to $307,277,000. The balance in favor of South America is nearly 100 per cent. Nations which sell the United States twice as much as they buy in return would be biting off their own noses if they should engage in a tariff war with this country.

Propagandists who are behind this threat assail the Smoot-Hawley act as their basic grievance and the proposed copper tariff in the revenue bill as the immediate incentive to action. It is true that trade with Latin America has undergone a drastic reduction in the last two years. Imports from the southern republics to the United States fell off 30 per cent in 1931. But during the same time exports from this country to Latin America dropped 50 per cent. The ground for complaint is all on the American side. In spite of the tariff, the United States has continued to furnish a fairly good market for South American products, but Latin-American tariff barriers, exchange obstacles and curtailed purchasing power have cut in half the value of American export trade to that continent.

Chile and Peru are reported to be taking the lead in the customs union move. Last year Chile sold Uncle Sam nearly $40,000,000 worth of goods and made purchases amounting to $21,462,000 in return. Peru also has a substantial favorable balance of trade with the United States. These facts show that the proposed boycott of the United States is a pipedream. South American politicians may imitate American blatherskites, but South American governments will not break with their best customer.

SELLING REPUTATIONS.

Disclosures of the methods employed by Wall Street gamblers place many prominent men in an extremely unfavorable light. Individuals who have posed as leaders of finance and public counselors are listed as profiteers in a radio pool which took $5,000,000 from the public within one week. Some of these individuals risked their own money in the operation, while others seem to have received gifts of large sums for unknown reasons.

The first plea in extenuation of this transaction is, of course, that the "public" itself is a gambler, and eagerly bought radio shares hoping to make huge profits on the rising market. The parties in the pool were "on the inside," and were operating on a scale sufficient to raise or lower quotations at will. Their excuse is that since everything was a gamble and everybody was gambling, it was no more than fair that superior ability to manipulate the market should have its reward.

Nevertheless, this list includes names which were held in honor, and these names are now besmirched. The gamblers traded good reputations for easy money. Although at the time the deal seemed to be advantageous, it was not worth the price. Probably every man on the list wishes that he had never yielded to the temptation to risk his good name for the sake of questionable gain.

DR. FERRARA RETIRES.

The Secretary of State has appropriately expressed the sentiment of the governments composing the Pan American Union in regard to the retirement of the Cuban Ambassador, Dr. Don Orestes Ferrara, from his post in Washington. Although he is to assume the broader duties of Secretary of State at Havana, there is a sense of personal loss throughout the diplomatic corps because of the departure of this distinguished representative of Cuba.

Dr. Ferrara has been active in all matters calculated to promote the mutual welfare of the republics of this hemisphere. His position in the corps and his indefatigable industry have been influential in solving difficult problems and in composing bitter differences. Through his efforts much progress was made toward a friendly understanding between Bolivia and Paraguay in the dispute over the Gran Chaco. As vice chairman of the board of the Pan American Union Dr. Ferrara has steadily enhanced the prestige of the Union, here and abroad.

The government of Cuba has just celebrated the 30th anniversary of national independence. Despite unrest caused by adverse economic conditions, President Machado has maintained order and instituted economies which promise to extricate Cuba from its difficulties. In this work he has been supported by the sympathy of Americans and the American Government. The relations between Cuba and the United States can not fail to remain cordial while Cuba's foreign affairs are under the able administration of Dr. Orestes Ferrara.

"SOAK THE DISTRICT."

As the hearings before the Senate subcommittee handling the District appropriation bill close, the myth that Washington is lightly taxed is completely exploded. The basis on which the House voted to increase taxes in the District and to cut down the Federal contribution has been shattered. It is quite apparent that the Mapes special committee, which investigated the question of fiscal relations between the District and the Government, secured the adoption of its new tax bills in the House by a hoax.

Figures prepared by the Citizens' Joint Committee on Fiscal Relations show that the assessed value of real estate in Washington is greater than the assessed value of realty in St. Louis, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, San Francisco, Milwaukee or Buffalo, all of which are larger cities. St. Louis has a population of 822,000, not far short of twice as many people as live in Washington. Yet its assessed valuation is $1,087,000,000, compared with $1,182,000,000 for the District.

Valuations for tax purposes in other cities are made on a much lower basis than in Washington. Congressmen have not been able to get out of their minds the specific tax rate for the District, which seems low because assessed values are so high. The Mapes committee did not make public a fair comparison of tax rates on a per capita basis, but dealt in mythical averages. Now it is revealed that the per capita tax levy in Washington is higher than in half the cities used for comparison purposes by the House group.

Even a per capita basis of comparison is not fair because the District wastes no money on interest, mismanagement or duplication of services rendered by State governments. When these items are eliminated from the comparison Washington's taxes rank high among the levies imposed by cities of comparable size.

Congress would not be justified, however, in imposing higher taxes upon the District merely because mismanagement and waste make high levies necessary in other cities. That is the basis on which the House approved the so-called Mapes tax bills, but even that basis has now been broken down. The attempt to penalize the District as a gesture of Federal economy is left without a semblance of justification. Reduction of the Federal allowance of $9,500,000 for maintenance of the Federal City to $6,500,000 can not be excused on any ground.

It remains for the Senate to do justice to the District. Necessary functions of local government in Washington ought not to be suspended or curtailed simply because Congress is too niggardly to pay a fair share toward maintenance of the National Capital. Residents of Washington are entitled to the benefits accruing from the taxes they pay.

The country can not approve of the attempts to force taxpayers of the District to finance the National Capital, which belongs to all the people. The District and appropriation committees of the Senate have an opportunity to replace misleading data and faulty conclusions with facts and fair judgment, and to substitute for the stubborn determination to "soak the District" a common sense view of justice to Washington's taxpayers.

AMELIA PUTNAM'S FLIGHT.

Amelia Earhart Putnam is the first woman to fly the Atlantic alone. Although she landed in Ireland when Paris was her goal, the flight was a courageous achievement. Mrs. Putnam showed excellent judgment in bringing her plane down when it became evident that the exhaust manifold had burned out and gasoline was leaking from a broken gauge. A less prudent pilot might have ignored those elements of disaster in an attempt to finish the flight as scheduled.

It is difficult to understand why any woman wishes to gamble with death by flying an overland plane across great stretches of water that have swallowed up many brave pilots. Since the risk has been taken and good fortune has won, the public is much relieved and delighted to learn of Mrs. Putnam's success. But it is sincerely to be hoped that her venture will not lead other brave women to risk their lives in what must be considered a useless and dangerous exploit.

In 1893 over 150 railroads went bankrupt. In 1857 soldiers were called to protect the national Treasury against raids. In 1837 most of the industries of the Eastern Seaboard were closed and land sold for less than one-tenth of its normal value. The present depression is a poor imitation of the real article.

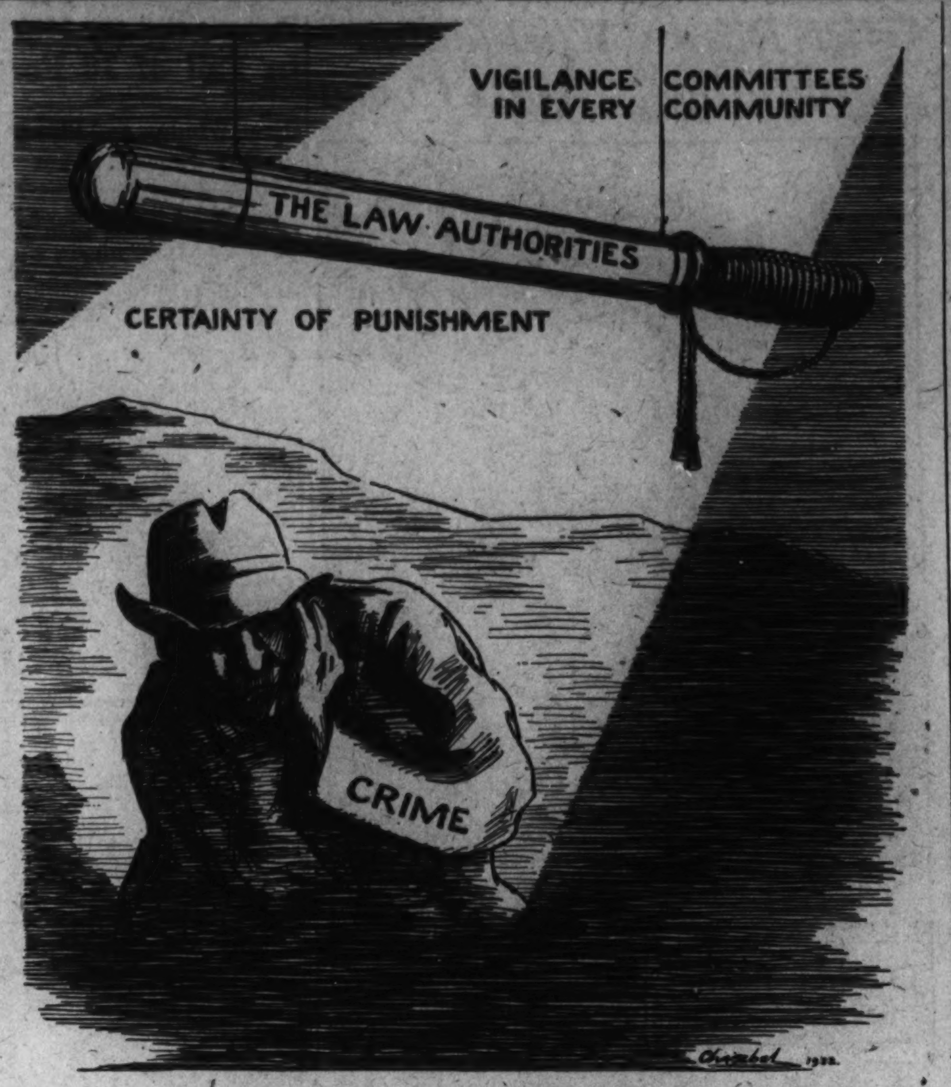
Federal relief plans are becoming so numerous that the sands on the sea shore may be thrown out of a job, so far as simile making is concerned.

Ramsay MacDonald says, "Britain needs more work and fewer slogans." We suggest the slogan, "No more slogans—action, not talk."

What we would like to hear is a good stinging denunciation of the Smoot-Hawley tariff by Senator Connally, of Texas.

Add horrors of war: Instead of tanks, modern nations may send taxicabs against the enemy, collect.

The best torch to thaw out frozen legislation on Capitol Hill is a little public indignation.



"For Common Defense, Make Crime Unprofitable and You Destroy It!"

POST HASTE.

The senators have demonstrated that they have just as oily tongues as the representatives.

Tammany is quite ready to conduct a Seaburyal the first day it can be arranged.

The Democratic convention will be in session so long that the hard-pressed finance committee ought to arrange for a commission on visitors' expenditures after Chicago gets her $200,000 back.

For the first time we are in entire agreement with Dr. Nick Butler—he needs a political party all his own.

The "arguments" are beginning to even up. The claim that the drys favor the bootleggers is offset by the charge that the referendists want the saloons back.

There appears to be no foundation for the rumor that the Democrats, following the example of the French, are seeking a mining engineer for President.

One Jack Pershing also favors our antiracketeer vigilantes. If he has a good recommend we may let him serve as one of Col. Lindbergh's lieutenants.

Gov. Bill Murray tells New York he will not sell himself for the Presidency. He has a sharp ear if he has heard any offers.

Democratic votes in the Senate put the oil tariff in the tax bill, which, of course, added fuel to the demand for more.

Half-pint contemporaries object to the cognomen tabloid, but why pick on the most complimentary one?

All the Democrats will have to do is to convince the people that embargo tariffs are revenue measures because they appear in a tax bill.

The Dail ends the British oath, but there are a few Irish substitutes that will be utilized if England retaliates with tariffs.

Don't rub in the other things too hard on Texans; they have to stand for Ma and Pa Ferguson running for the governorship again.

The big committees that are to help melt the congealed reserves so they will flow should comprise some teachers to practice bankers on the use of that forgotten word "yes."

We fear there will be some grave reactions among European nations when they hear this country has $7,000,000,000 of idle credit and has to start kindergarten lessons on what to do with it.

It was embarrassing for neighbor George, of Georgia, to be the first one called upon to rebuke Huey Long's "clownishness and buffoonery."

Add sporting events: It will be the turn of the House Don Quijotes to tilt against the beer windmill again on Monday.

Senator Barkley, Democratic keynoter designate, contributes several more votes for tariffs. This insures that his remarks against the tariff in his Chicago speech will carry conviction.

A lot of us who are not interested in beer want to know what has become of its side-kick, light wines.

PAUL HUDSON.

WHAT IS A BILLION?

By JOHN HEARD, in the Boston Transcript.

For some time much front page space has been devoted to figures bearing on Government expenditures, veterans' bonus bills—hypocritically termed adjusted compensation certificates—Treasury deficits, revenue bills. All have one element in common, the word billion. What is a billion? So familiar have we become with that word that it rolls blithely off our tongues and we think nothing, when asked what the bonus might cost, of answering quite carelessly, "Oh, a couple of billions." To the heads of big banks and of our largest corporations and to astronomers the term probably conveys a definite meaning. Quite obviously to our congressmen it does not, and to the man-in-the-street, who indirectly votes, raises and spends these huge sums, it means still less. Perhaps if that same man, who knows how hard he must work to earn a $10 bill, would do a little figuring of a simple sort, he would be less eager to send to Washington financially irresponsible representatives to manage his business for him.

What is a billion, anyway? Here are a few things which represent a billion and which any one can at least partially appreciate.

1. To have saved $1,000,000,000 you would have had to deposit $100 daily (without interest) since January 1, B. C. 25,469. From January 1 A. D. to December 31, 1931—the entire Christian Era—slightly over 1,000,000,000 minutes have elapsed. Congress—your appointed agents—has been spending to run your Government annually over four times that sum, or at the rate of $4 per minute for every minute of the Christian Era ($5,760 per day) or at the rate of $17 per minute $24,480 per day) since Columbus discovered America.

2. Some machine guns will shoot 500 shots a minute. If each cartridge were loaded with a silver dollar instead of with a bullet $1,000,000,000 would keep such a gun shooting, day and night, for 3 years, 9 months, 21 days and some hours.

The recent bonus which Congress—your Congress—passed over the protests of the Secretary of the Treasury and over a presidential veto would have kept that gun shooting for over four years and seven months.

3. With $1,000,000,000 you could pay $1,250 for every word in the Bible and have some $75,000,000 left as small change.

The revenue bill required to balance the budget—that is, the sum that citizens must pay during the next fiscal year to meet what Congress—your Congress—cheerfully proposes to spend, and which citizens must pay to the Federal Government alone, exclusive of all State, county, city, poll, real estate and other miscellaneous taxes, would buy the entire Bible at $1,250 a word, with enough over to buy a fair-sized dictionary word for word at the same rate.

4. A billion dollars is fifty million (50,000,000) twenty-dollar gold pieces, which, if stacked, would make a column about fifty miles high. If laid flat, side by side, they would make a line 1,035 miles long—a good bit farther than from Boston to Chicago. To transport one billion dollars in gold would require 400 five-ton trucks, and they would make a line about two miles long.

That is the sum which in one way or another Congress—your Congress—spends each year on Federal relief of veterans, and now proposes to spend more.

5. In one-dollar bills put end to end one billion dollars would make a strip of paper about 97,000 miles long, or nearly four times the length of the equator.

The bonus bills now before Congress—your Congress—would call for the expenditure of about 262,000 miles of dollar bills—about the distance from the earth to the moon.

Many more equally striking illustrations could be produced; these few are perhaps enough to give some idea of what the Congress of the United States is doing with the hard-earned dollars of the taxpayers.

How much longer will the citizens of the United States stand for reckless expenditures which can not be paid for, and for a Congress which, far from economizing at any point, proposes and passes billion-dollar measures which it can meet only by throwing off the thin disguise of legislators and appearing in its true garb and sandbagging sound, successful but politically voteless business to get funds with which to pay for reelection by giving luxuries and tax-immunity to constituents?

One is sometimes inclined to wonder whether there is a limit. Perhaps we shall find out next November.

RICH MEN IN BAD

From the New York Times.

Short selling may or may not be justifiable, but "rigging the market" on an extended scale, and with the use of vast sums of money, will find few defenders. This is particularly true in the case of that "pool" for dealing in Radio stock of which the operations were uncovered in Washington on Thursday. Several very rich men went into it with the purpose, or at least with the obvious effect, of misleading the public with regard to the stock, which they bought with one hand and sold with the other, and inducing outside investors to buy at the higher prices so as to net to the organizers of the syndicate a profit of $5,000,000 within the space of one week.

It was admittedly a mad time—those years 1928 and 1929. Standards not only of finance but of ethics seemed often then to be completely upset and discarded. But as we get new light, from the records of this particular "pool," upon the methods then in vogue, we see how reprehensible they were, and how infallibly they created throughout the country a profound distrust not only of the New York Stock Exchange but of the practices of men in control of large capital. This is the most disturbing thing about this latest revelation. It seems to show that a number of very rich men entered into a secret speculation without inquiring into its nature or consequences, without asking themselves what the judgment of the public would be if the facts were known.

No inquiry by Congress, no attack by agitator or demagogue, could injure these men half as deeply as they injured themselves by the course which they followed, and which has now come to light.

POST EXCHANGE.

THE BABY.

There is nothing to be said;
  Such a grief must walk unfriended.
Leave your helpless tears unshed;
There is nothing to be said.
Upon ravaged hearts and dead
  Fall your words, however splendid;
There is nothing to be said;
  It is ended; it is ended.

DOROTHY KISSLING.

* * * *

WISE AND OTHERWISE.

GILBERT K. CHESTERTON—Long before I think of killing myself, I think of killing a whole lot of other people.

WILLIAM E. BORAH—A fall in prices is like a glacier—once started it sweeps all before it.

NEWTON D. BAKER—The happy effect of constant association with the young is to prolong the best part of our own youth.

STEPHEN S. WISE—Too few of us ever become adult.

AL CAPONE—Anybody that says I am for prohibition is all wet.

ANDRE TARDIEU—Socialism itself is nothing but unfinished bolshevism.

HENRY FORD—What the world chiefly needs today is fewer diplomats and politicians.

WILLIAM G. McADOO—That all men are brothers is a noble and Christian thought. But human experience has demonstrated that it is at best nothing more than a pleasant theory.

HARRY T. COLLINGS—If democracy worships bigness, let us change democracy's standard. A man does not love his mother because she weighs 400 pounds.

NICHOLAS MURRAY BUTLER—The art of politics has changed little in 2,000 years.

BENITO MUSSOLINI—Whoever wounds any part of the earth wounds himself.

MARGARET SANGER—You can't work on an idea nearly a generation without penetrating some minds.

FELIX ADLER—What the average man wants is prosperity.

IDA M. TARBELL—I do not think big business is so rapacious as it used to be.

* * * *

SAILOR JOHNNIE.

Sailor Johnnie's fast asleep
  Underneath the racing foam;
Five and forty fathoms deep,
  Sailor Johnnie's far from home.

Townsfolk see his mother wait
  Anxiously beside the door,
For his hand upon the gate
  And his footstep on the floor.

Every evening finds a lass
  With a ribband in her hair,
Listening to hear him pass,
  Hoping he will see her there.

All their waiting is in vain—
  Five and forty fathoms deep,
Far beyond all joy or pain,
  Sailor Johnnie's fast asleep.

MARGARET H. TOMPKINS.

* * * *

AMERICAN MILITARY GENIUS.

It is curious to observe, since the War of 1914-1918, the enormous and ever-growing prestige of the American generals of our Civil War. If we may judge by expert foreign military opinion, five Americans in one local war—Lee, Jackson, Grant, Sherman, Sheridan—stand higher in military annals than any general from any country in the war between nations. I know nothing about this myself; I am merely recording the opinions of experts.

WILLIAM LYON PHELPS.

* * * *

THE CHILDREN'S GIFT.

The children of the desert plain
May bring a Lincoln in their train,
And Michelangelo may be Excelled by one we yet shall see.

Perhaps the dream that Wagner knew
May rise again from where the blue
Ohio's wide expanse divides
The North and South with changeless tides.

Or Shakespeare's genius may be found
Where dark, greed-ridden slums surround;
And Paganini's vibrant string
May throb again, a living thing.

I know no matter what the curse
Laid on the race by power of purse
There is the spark within the heart
Of little children that is Art!

JAMES WALDO FAWCETT.

* * * *

BYPATHS OF HISTORY.

In the celebration of Trajan's triumph, 106 A. D., 10,000 gladiators are said to have perished.

Shakespeare considered Julius Caesar the founder of the Tower of London.

William Falconer, in his Universal Marine Dictionary, 1769, defined "retreat" as a French maneuver, "not properly a term of the British marine."

In the Boer War, 1899-1902, the British lost 5,774 killed and 22,829 wounded. The Boers lost about 4,000 killed.

Tresham, concerned in the Gunpowder Plot, died a natural death, but his corpse was decapitated because of his treason.

Gen. Nathaniel Lyon (1819-1861), American soldier, killed in action, left $30,000 to the public treasury.

Cleopatra, Queen of Egypt, had a granddaughter, Drusilla, who married Felix, Roman governor of Judea.

Jeremiah Curtin (1840-1906), American folklorist, was familiar with more than 50 languages.

One of the principal causes of the decline of the cities of the Hansa League was the unexplained disappearance of herrings from the Northern seas.

Prisoners at the treadmill, a classic institution of the British penal system from 1818 until about 1905, were obliged to climb 8,640 feet in a six-hour day.

Poles' Claim On Corridor Stirs Berlin

All Eastern Europe Is Kept On Edge by Propaganda From Both Sides.

DANZIG, May 21 (A.P.).—A flood of propaganda, pro-Polish and pro-German, is inundating East Prussia, the Polish Corridor, West Prussia, and this "free city" of Danzig.

Tons and tons of pamphlets are being printed to point out what dangers to civilization lurk behind the political intentions of the two neighbor nations whose territory was intertwined by the treaty of Versailles.

Seen through German eyes, the creation of the Polish Corridor has severed the province of East Prussia from the Reich about as effectively as if New Hampshire were to become a part of Canada, leaving Maine out on a limb.

Seen through Polish eyes, the Corridor is a sore thumb sticking out from the palm of Poland and exposed to the dangers of German attack on two sides.

To convince the world that there can be no peace in Europe until East Prussia is rejoined to the Fatherland by the restitution of the Corridor, is the purpose of German propaganda.

To convince the world that the corridor was, is and must remain Polish if the peace of Europe is to be safeguarded is the purpose of Polish propaganda.

* * * *

BOTH nations invoke Father Time as an ally. The more that people from all parts of the world pass through the corridor and see what an impossible economic and traffic situation it has created, the better will the justice of Germany's demand for restitution be understood, say the Germans.

The more that north-south Polish railways are built within the corridor, and the more that money is sunk in the Polish port of Gdynia, the more obvious will become the Polish character of the coveted strip, say the Poles.

The basic form of propaganda employed by both countries is the pamphlet. Pamphlets in English, in German, in French; pamphlets with and without illustrations, pamphlets with maps tracing the vicissitudes of the corridor through the centuries, are handed to the traveler. After a week in the corridor, I emerged with one suitcase full of German and one of Polish propaganda.

* * * *

DEMONSTRATIONS along the frontier are another favorite method of propaganda. The steel helmet organization of German war veterans held its 1931 summer convention at Breslau, near the Polish frontier.

A few months previously Polish leaders had delivered fiery speeches at Katowice, in an upper Silesia that was once German, serving notice that every Pole would give up his life rather than yield one inch of corridor territory. President Ignace Moscicki underscored the demonstration by his presence.

More recently whispering campaigns have started on both sides.

The Germans pass along the word that Poland is plotting to swallow East Prussia. As evidence they point to the distribution by the Polish National Union of maps showing that the Oder River is the "natural boundary" between Germany and Poland.

The Poles point to the strength of the Hitler vote in East Prussia, where the Nazi leader obtained 400,000 votes, as evidence of German designs.

U.S. Goal Is Soil Map for Every Farmer

(Associated Press).

Nearly a billion acres of American farm land have been mapped and analyzed so that the farmer today may know exactly what crops are suited for his soil.

This work has been going on for more than 30 years under the direction of the Agriculture Department, whose scientists survey approximately 15,000,000 acres annually. On last July 1, 927,866,880 acres, or 449,792 square miles, had been completed.

A soil survey for every agricultural county and a soil map for every farmer are the aim of the department. Such a goal, however, will not be reached for 20 or 30 years, Dr. A. G. McCall, who has charge of the work, said yesterday.

States and the Federal Government share the expense of the survey, which averages 2 to 3 cents an acre.

A report accompanying each soil map describes fully the properties of the soil and subsoil, topography, water supply and drainage conditions, crop adaptation, general fertility, systems of farming and soil management. It also includes a general discussion of the agricultural development of the county, farm improvements, important products, markets, transportation facilities, and then general conditions of the community.

Cities in Trade Race With Death to Loser

Barranquilla, Colombia, May 21 (A.P.).—This coastal city is in a hard struggle with its ancient neighbor, Cartagena, to see which shall be the country's leading Atlantic port.

The winner will gain wealth; the loser probably will die.

Cartagena was the key port to South America 400 years ago. Barranquilla is more than 200 years old, and lies 11 miles inland on the Magdalena River.

Mud, blocking the harbor, ended Cartagena's greatness, and Barranquilla's engineers projected a deep waterway for the Magdalena.

Ocean vessels now unload at Puerto Colombia, 11 miles away, and transship by railroad to river craft at Barranquilla for distribution through two-thirds at Colombia.

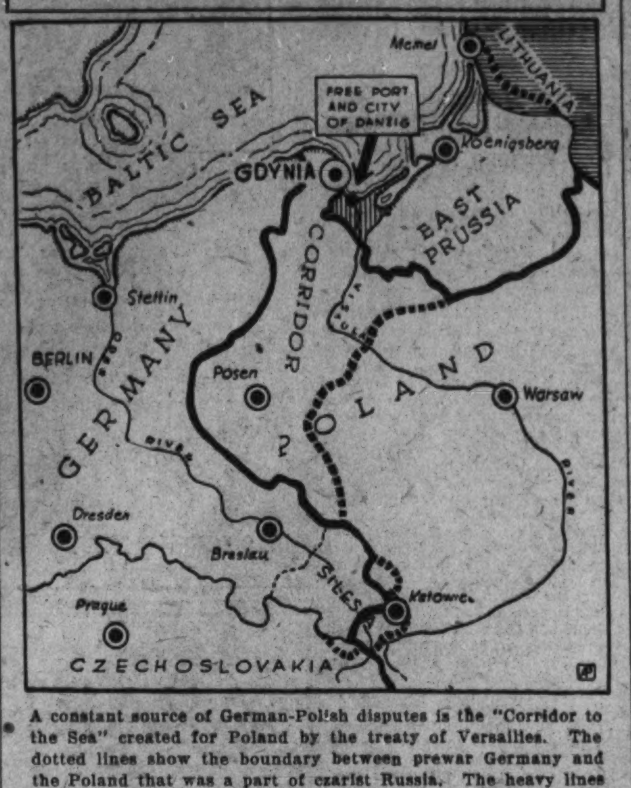
For six years the Tropical Oil Co., subsidiary of Standard Oil of New Jersey, has been operating a pipe line from the interior to tankers at Cartagena Bay. Recently the oil interests put up $1,000,000 for dredging of the harbor and the government added $1,800,000.

Meanwhile Karl and Robert Parrish, two Iowans with large interests in Barranquilla, are in the United States trying to raise $7,000,000 with which to complete the channel to that city.

Italy Exports Books

Rome, May 21 (A.P.).—Italy exports 12,000 books monthly, of which 2,800 go to the United States, 2,400 to Russia and 1,000 to Argentina.

Europe's Bone of Contention



A constant source of German-Polish disputes is the "Corridor to the Sea" created for Poland by the treaty of Versailles. The dotted lines show the boundary between prewar Germany and the Poland that was a part of czarist Russia. The heavy lines mark the Poland of today.

FROM A SENATOR'S DIARY

Being the Day-by-Day Observations of a "Member-at-Large" Set Down for His Own Satisfaction.

—By the 97th Senator

Wednesday.

FRANK LOWDEN, some years ago remarked that "no one has yet run away from the Presidency." Owen D. Young may not be running away from the Presidency, but he certainly has done his best to eliminate himself from consideration as the Democratic nominee. There were no "weasel words" in his statement, and those who looked for loopholes looked in vain. Young is a master in the use of concise English and he left no room for misunderstanding.

Some believe that Young will still be nominated and that if the nomination comes to him in the face of his statement he will accept. They point out that there is no instance in American history of any one refusing a presidential nomination. The nearest approach to an exception that I can recall was the case of the late Senator Samuel Ralston, of Indiana. During the Madison Square deadlock in 1924 leaders were on the verge of nominating Ralston, when they received a telegram from him stating that it would be impossible for him to accept on account of his health. He died a year later.

MAGNUS JOHNSON.

There were some strange paradoxes in the Young boom before he punctured it. Although he was commonly regarded as the "favorite son" of the conservative Eastern wing of the Democratic party, he advocated measures dear to the hearts of the progressives. He recently declared in favor of trying out the equalization fee, the principal feature of the McNary-Haugen bill.

One of my very good friends, an extremely conservative business man of large means, said to me not long ago:

"I've been watching this man Young carefully and studying his speeches." He brought his fist down with a bang and said, "I tell you he is a dangerous radical."

Some of Young's political strength may be transferred to Melvin Traylor, the Chicago banker and international financial expert. Traylor is young, able, aggressive and attractive, but he is not well known among the political gentry. He would be a "dark horse" indeed if he won the nomination.

Thursday.

THE biggest disappointment of Huey Long's public career is his inability to cope with Ham Lewis sartorially. Huey can shake a better silver fizz than Ham, he can outdemagogue Ham, and he can outdunk Ham in a kettle of pot likker. As a matter of fact Ham doesn't go in for dunking at all, but he is trying to keep that secret from the folks "down-State." But when it comes to dressing, Huey the pride of Louisiana, gives up without a struggle.

Dispatches from New Orleans used to tell us of Huey's elegance, of his flamboyant haberdashery, his purple shirts. Once it was reported he wore lavender pajamas when he received a distinguished group of foreign visitors who came to make an official call on the State of Louisiana. Huey is a young man, still under 40, and although he has no pink whiskers there were many willing to wager that he would displace Ham as the Beau Brummell of the Senate.

"Ham is getting old," they would argue, "and he is taking the affairs of state more seriously. Naturally he can't concentrate on his wardrobe as he did fifteen or twenty years ago. He is a candidate for the Presidency and that, of course, distracts his attention from the matter of raiment."

That brings up the question: How old is Ham? Ham himself doesn't tell in his autobiography in the Congressional directory. That immense volume entitled "The Biographical Directory of the American Congress," prepared five years ago, states that Ham was born in Virginia on May 18, 1863, which would make him 69 years old. Some say that Ham is older than that. I don't know.

It is all the more credit to him that he is able to meet the challenge of Huey Long and demonstrate that years have not dimmed the splendor of his sartorial conceptions. Huey came in the other day, dressed to perfection (as he thought) and ready to give the Senate a real treat. As he took his seat he glanced at Ham. And there was Ham in a symphony of brown. Huey instantly recognized the inferiority of his make-up, bowed to the master, and sent to the press gallery this note:

"Lord, it ain't even close. I give up."

Those who think Huey Long can be dismissed as a numbskull and a political accident were never more wrong in their lives. I believe he is the smartest demagogue to come to Congress in years. With a little more training he will make Tom Heflin, Coley Blease and Smith Brookhart seem tame.

Friday.

THAT ominous roar we hear from the Northwest, I learn, is not an approaching cyclone, but simply our old friend, Magnus Johnson, of Minnesota, announcing his reentry into national politics. Magnus was one of the star performers of the Senate a few years ago. He was elected as a Farmer-Laborite to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Knute Nelson in 1923 and he served nearly two years. Tom Schall, the blind senator from Minnesota, beat Magnus after a bitter fight and Magnus has been trying to get back to Washington ever since.

During his brief term, Magnus virtually ruined the acoustic properties of the Senate chamber. He has one of the most powerful pairs of lungs in public life, and when he cuts loose on the "money devils" who prey upon the Minnesota farmers he can make the welkin ring. There would be no necessity for Clarence Dill's resolution to broadcast the Senate proceedings so far as Magnus is concerned. His voice can carry almost as far as the radio.

But Magnus isn't running for the Senate this time. He is a candidate for congressman. Minnesota failed to redistrict properly under the reapportionment bill and the State's entire delegation of nine must be elected at large. So far there are 80 candidates for the 9 jobs and Magnus is one of them. I'm not wagering anything on the outcome because I am not well informed about the prospects, but I'm willing to bet that he will make more noise than any of the other candidates.

REPRESENTATIVE TINKHAM.

If Magnus wins, I suggest that he be paired with Schafer, of Wisconsin. Schafer is the only man in Congress whose voice can approach Magnus' in volume.

Saturday.

George Tinkham, the big game hunter, better known to the natives of Africa as "Bwuona Whiskerino," who represents a Boston district in the House, had a most uncomfortable hour or two the other day. In the ordinary routine manner, he deposited a stack of bills and resolutions in the hamper. Newspapermen, examining them later in the day, found that Tinkham's bills included one to legalize the mailing of birth control information. The next morning the Boston newspapers carried the astounding information that Representative George Holden Tinkham was sponsoring a birth control bill. Telegrams began to arrive at Tinkham's office. At first he was puzzled and then he was horrified. He had introduced the bill by mistake, along with a bundle of other measures piled up on his desk. Tinkham beat all records getting from his office to the House to withdraw the bill.

R. B. S.

(Copyright, 1932.)

Italy Warns Of Big Navy If Talk Fails

Halting of Constructing Held Sign of Faith in Parley on Disarming.

ROME, May 21 (A.P.).—Great pains have been taken both by the press and government spokesmen to point out, since Italy decided to launch no definite naval construction program for the next fiscal year, that this move is not a sign of weakness.

Backing up Navy Minister Giuseppe Sirianni's statement that his department would keep up to the minute with plans for building, so as to be ready in case enlargement of the fleet became necessary, the newspapers sounded a warning that Italy has excellent means for producing warcraft in a hurry.

The Giornale D'Italia, more official even than the rest of the local press, boasted that Italy could, if she wanted to, jump into an armament race with perhaps greater advantages for shipbuilding than has any other power.

"Premier Mussolini's decision to present no construction plan at this time," it said, "is an unequivocal line of conduct which, justly appreciated abroad, can serve as sound counsel. It can not be falsely interpreted, inasmuch as the study of all forms of construction will be kept up—meaning all kinds of warcraft from battleships to airplane carriers and submarines."

* * * *

MINISTER SIRIANNI said that the Duce's initiative was meant as a sign of faith in the success of the disarmament conference, where Italy has proposed abolition of large surface vessels as well as undersea boats and plane carriers.

The proposal is for simultaneous abolition of these craft, but Sirianni explained that abolition could be accomplished within the Italian thesis over a period of time to be fixed by the conference. He left no doubt that immediate scrapping would be preferred, but was willing to compromise on that point.

He referred to the Duce's step as a moral move, intended to show Italy's good faith and to lend weight to the arguments for disarmament advanced by Foreign Minister Grandi.

Japanese Swordfish Competing With U. S.

Boston, May 21 (A.P.).—For the first time Japanese swordfish are giving real competition to the local article. In 1931 imports totaled a million pounds of frozen fish.

These sold in the Boston market for as low as 12 cents a pound when fish dealers had stocks of local swordfish in their freezers that cost them 25 cents a pound. In Japan swordfish sells for two cents a pound.

With the cost of transportation and the two cents duty added the price at Boston for the imported article is far below the cost of catching, icing and landing the fish on the northeast coast. The United States production of swordfish in 1931 was about 7,000,000 pounds.

THE DIPLOMATIC POUCH

—By HAROLD J. T. HORAN

THAT vademecum of diplomacy, the Almanach de Gotha, has just made its 169th appearance, its distinctive red cloth cover, embossed gold coat of arms and its painstaking exactitude the same as it has been since this book was first brought out in the town of Gotha.

Strange to say, the only member of the Diplomatic Corps in the Almanach is now on his way back to Italy to take command of a new cruiser, Luigi Notarbartolo dei Duchi di Villarnosa et dei Principi di Furnari. While he was here as naval attache, Capt. Notabartolo was extremely popular, although he lived a rather retired life. Unlike the dashing Lieut. Col. Marco Pennaroli, Capt. Notabartolo avoided society and was better known in technical and naval circles than in the drawing rooms of the Capital.

The rotogravure photographs in the album are representing members of two of the noble families of central Europe, the Prince of Liechtenstein and the Prince of Prussia. The late lamented President of France, Paul Doumer, and the regent of Hungary, Nicolas Horthy de Nagybanya, are also represented. The late issue contained the photograph of President Hoover.

The little volume abounds in new material—the constitutions of Ethiopia, Polish Silesia, China and Jugoslavia, the claims of Norway to the North Pole, statistical information about Haiti, Paraguay and the Dominican Republic.

* * * *

Lord Bountiful.

THE unknown benefactor of exiled Empress Zita of Austria-Hungary and her young family has recently been revealed as Edward L. Doheny, the millionaire oil man of California. Behind the discovery lies a remarkable story of the modesty and kindness that has characterized the history of Mr. Doheny throughout his life.

The American oil millionaire has never met the exiled queen, but for many years followed the odyssey of her misfortunes as she struggled to raise her family of eight children with diminishing resources. When Zita went to Spain as a guest of the King of Spain, the chateau where she was living was devoid of even one bathroom. At this point Mr. Doheny was told by some friends of the plight of the devoted mother and he at once ordered his agents in Madrid to call on her and offer her every assistance. His one condition, however, was that he should remain the anonymous benefactor of the exiled family.

Since then he has at various times contributed to the family in one form or another and although he has refrained from offering any of his immense fortune to the furtherance of the political fortunes of the family, he has remained constantly in the background their sure financial resource.

At the present time the exiled royal family is living in the Chateau of Steenockerzeel in Belgium not far from Louvain, where the youthful Emperor Otto is pursuing his studies.

In the family besides the oldest boy there are four other boys and three girls.

The growing support of the French government for the accession of the boy emperor to the throne augurs favorably for the eventual restoration to the throne of Hungary of the last of the Hapsburgs.

* * * *

Tamborito.

SVELTE COUNT DE SZCHENYI, millionaire Minister from Hungary, is not the only lithe exponent of his native dances. Any one who has seen the two beautiful daughters of the Minister from Panama, Cecilia and Rebeca Alfaro, dancing the stately tamborito, the native dance of Panama, can not fail to be impressed with its beautiful cadences. The czardas of Minister Count Szchenyi is often dashed off best to accompaniment of a gypsy band from Little Hungary Restaurant in New York and with the minister's tail coat inverted and the arms tied around his waist. The tamboritos, however, requires a special costume which is reminiscent of the elaborate gowns of the Victorian epoch. The music is provided by three drums of different pitch and the accompaniment is made by a violin or flute.

The figures of the dance are extraordinarily complicated and graceful and reminiscent of the stately pavane or polka. The Counselor of the Spanish Embassy, Marquis de Irujo, descendant of that famous Spanish diplomat who figured so prominently in the early history of the United States, is an adept of the tamborito. He was for more than two years minister of Spain in Panama, and there learned the intricate steps.

George Robert Merrell, jr., of the State Department, was for some time secretary of the American legation at Panama and there first learned to appreciate the beauties of the tamborito.

* * * *

Violon d'Ingres.

THE distractions of diplomats have ranged from the ludicrous to the sublime, from the insect-catching proclivities of that English diplomatist who arranged with his foreign office to transfer him to the various regions of the rarest lepidopteras to the metaphysical ambles of Paul Claudel, Ambassador of the third French republic to the United States.

The present charge d'affaires of Nicaragua occasionally takes a day off to run over to Johns Hopkins to perform an operation. Senor Dr. Don Luis Manuel Debayle was one of the most brilliant students at the Mayo Brothers' Clinic in Rochester, and after his graduation there was appointed to the hospital of the University of Pennsylvania. The cares of diplomacy are often relieved after the charge d'affaires has done a particularly difficult prostatectomy.

The Second Counselor of the Italian Embassy, Giuseppe Catalani, however, likes to paint. He has done some very creditable work in pastels, and his latest, the portrait of one of the loveliest Washington girls, Miss Francesca McKenney, has been highly praised by critics.

The Minister from Ecuador, Don Gonzalo Zaldumbide, is one of the foremost critics of the Spanish language today. He is often known to take the latest volume of Spanish poetry and delicately analyse it and present his findings in flawless Olympian prose.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Stress on Foreign Trade as Tonic Hit

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: The United States is in such an enviable position with regard to the marketing of all its products that no fair comparison can be made with any other country in the world. With a home consumption of more than 90 per cent of the Nation's total output, and a uniformly favorable balance of trade, the situation, even in these years of depression, is comparatively very favorable. The constant emphasis put on foreign trade is not justified by actual conditions. Particularly is this so today.

If foreign trade has declined 50 per cent in value, the loss represents about 4 per cent of the Nation's commerce. This is claimed to be a vital blow to American business. All kinds of nostrums are suggested as means to recover this minor fraction of trade, as though it would solve all the troubles of the manufacturer and the farmer.

The decline of domestic business is figured at 40 per cent. It is evident that if one-tenth of the lost trade in the home market is recovered it would be equal to getting back all of the decline in the export trade. Palpably, this can be done more readily than building up far-flung foreign business among impoverished nations.

Since business is at a low ebb, what difference does it make whether the margin of trade recovered between the present unproductive level and profitable output is secured at home or abroad? It can not be repeated too often that the resources of this country, both natural and man-made, remain unimpaired. Untold wealth for investment awaits only a return of confidence to flow again into active use. A homogeneous market is here that will once more expand to accustomed dimensions when the present uncertainty has passed.

Another important point that must not be overlooked is the reduction that has taken place, not only in capitalization, but in inventories and operating costs. The result of these changes, naturally, is that profits will begin to be realized at a much lower level of operations than was necessary formerly to show the same net results. Added to the artificial means of stimulation that are being provided, many natural factors are at work to prepare this country for a resumption of profitable activity. At the close of every depression pessimism has been accentuated, just as after the turning point came there was universal surprise at the rapidity with which normal business was resumed.

P. F. TIMBS.

Orchid 45 Feet Tall Discovered in Gorge

Melbourne, May 21 (A.P.).—What is claimed to be the tallest orchid in the world, 45 feet high and bearing hundreds of beautiful flowers, has been discovered in Southern Queensland.

One spike of flowers measures nearly 6 feet in length and a yard in width.

The giant orchid grows in an almost inaccessible gorge, where no one is likely to find it unless guided there by its discoverer. A botanical expedition is planned for September.

Tariff League Head Answers Editorial, Defending Views

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: My attention has been called to your editorial of April 2, entitled "Making Figures Lie," this being a comment upon my statement in the Congressional Record a few days before on the tariff on agricultural products. After a careful reconsideration of my statement to which you referred and consultation with the best authorities, I know of no informed person who would change my statement concerning wheat.

With the zeal of a not ill-disposed investigator, you found an exceptional case and based your criticism upon that as against my statement which included all exceptional cases in proper balance in the general situation.

I say that the wheat tariff of 42 cents per bushel has ordinarily a face value to our growers of $379,300,000; but that its actual cash value, in ordinary years, is $17,600,000.

In answer you say, "At present a representative grade of wheat is selling in Minneapolis at 67 cents per bushel. The same grade sells in Winnipeg for 46 cents, the difference of 21 cents per bushel representing tariff protection."

Your quotation above is like picking an exceptional apple from a barrel, charging a double price for it, and then figuring the barrel at this exceptional price. Sometimes an exceptional carload of high protein wheat from Dakota will sell at 20 cents a bushel above the standard market price. It is to cover such exceptions of all degrees that the allowance of $17,600,000 was made in my statement. This figure was determined by Prof. John R. Commons, Prof. Hibbard, department of economics of the Wisconsin Agricultural College, and their groups of experts who have worked for years on this and similar tariff problems. It is a principle with me to use only estimates made or approved by the foremost and best-regarded experts in the several fields.

Since reading your editorial I have learned from the Bureau of Agriculture Economics that about the best possible comparison indicative of the present value of the wheat tariff is No. 3 Manitoba Northern wheat in Winnipeg and Liverpool and No. 2 hard winter at Chicago and Liverpool. On March 24, last, No. 3 Manitoba was selling in Liverpool at 63 cents per bushel and No. 2 hard winter at 60.7 cents, a difference of 2.3 cents in favor of Winnipeg.

On the same date the cash prices, gold basis, of these two grades of wheat were in Winnipeg, No. 3 Manitoba Northern, 46.5 cents, and No. 2 hard winter, at Chicago, 53 cents, a difference of 6.5 cents, to which, says the bureau, is to be added 2.3 cents for the better quality of the Winnipeg wheat. This gives Chicago a total advantage of 8.8 cents per bushel because of the tariff as against the allowance in my statement of 9.8 cents, calculated in 1929.

H. E. MILES.
Chairman, Fair Tariff League.

Mountain Youths' Attitude Urged to Eradicate Crime

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Fisher Ames, who served in Congress during Washington's eight years as President, wrote to a friend in regard to the future of the young Republic: "We are too big for union; too sordid for patriotism; too democratic for liberty. Our vices will rule us."

Much of this seems now to have been justified. It is justified by the disorders which have come upon us. What are we going to do about it?

For a number of years I have been among the free people of the Appalachain Mountains, first when I made the "Mountaineer Soldier" statue for the West Virginia Capitol, and more recently as Director of Creative Arts at the Lincoln Memorial University, Harrogate, Tenn.

I want to preface my suggestions by narrating two stories which came under my observation.

Two robbers were going through a train, relieving the passengers of their money. The game proceeded merrily until a West Virginian, without removing his pistol from his pocket, shot down one man and covered the other. There were then many volunteers to complete the arrest. The loot was returned to its owners.

A stranger moved into the mountains and built his camp in an unoccupied place. He was made welcome. No questions were asked. Later, it was discovered that he was killing cattle running at large. He was warned that he must discontinue this practice. The neighbors subsequently discovered that he was branding calves. This finished him. One day when he returned to his cabin he found it in smoking ruins. A few men were sitting about with rifles in their hands. He tried to make a quick retreat, but was prevented by something more potent than words. He then was called upon to listen to the following verdict: "We are honest people in this county. We have treated you fair. We have caught you killing our cattle and branding our calves. We have given you due warning. Now you are to be escorted to the county border, and don't you attempt to run or you will be a dead man. We duly warn you that if you ever show your face in these parts again you will be shot on sight." Arriving at the county line, another escort received him, and he was conducted in this way out of the State.

These two bits of history are enough to show that the mountain people have more to contribute toward saving our country than we have.

What would I do?

First, I would disarm the children who now swarm in our city streets, playing at crime with toy pistols. I would put them at training their hands in craftsmanship. It is craftsmanship and the mountains that will save our civilization.

I would go to the young men who are spending their time in effeminate idleness. I would invite them to go into the mountains and be taught marksmanship by mountain boys who know how to shoot. When graduated, they would return home to take their places on vigilance committees under competent leadership. Such committees, ever on the alert, could meet the robber and kidnaper on their own ground of marksmanship.

An unarmed public is at the mercy of the gang, but when the whole honest youth of the country is armed and organized, crime will be as dangerous as it now is safe.

H. K. BUSH-BROWN.

Senator Capper Is Assailed For Stand Against Weapons

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: One of the amendments to the Constitution which Senator Capper has sworn to uphold is the one which in clear and unmistakable language gives the citizens of this country the right to own and bear arms. Yet Senator Capper is using all the force and power and prerogatives of his senatorial office to bring about a nullification of the third amendment. He talks about law observance and "the crying need of this day is for every living being to respect the Constitution." Let Senator Capper begin the good work and then he can in honesty ask others to do what he is not doing. Senator Capper's concealed weapon bill is a violation of the Constitution and a direct comfort and aid to criminals. I challenge any proponent of concealed weapon laws to show that such laws have ever benefited any one but the crooks. Gangsters, crooks, racketeers and murderers care nothing for weapon laws, and knowing that their victims are unarmed, are actually aided and encouraged by drastic firearms laws.

Not long ago, here in Washington, a taxi driver, cool and brave in an attempted holdup of his cab, outwitted two robbers and captured them with his revolver and promptly delivered them to the proper authorities. Believe it or not, he was arrested and placed on probation for carrying concealed weapons. Thus men have no means of protecting their property, homes or persons. The law protects the crooks.

The founders of this country knew what they were doing when they gave us the Constitution with its amendments of religious liberty, freedom of speech, right to bear arms and freedom from search. Kings of old had robbed the people of these rights. Again, kings of the underworld, but kings nevertheless, aided and abetted by misguided demagogues, are robbing the people of their inalienable rights of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. Once more, true Americans will have to arise and overthrow them.

S. G. JACQUES.
Takoma Park, Md.

Chile Retails Nitrate

Santiago, Chile, May 21 (A.P.).—The nitrate combine is planning to sell "a pound to every home," believing that small lot sales for use on lawns and gardens will help revivify the hard-hit industry. Some success has already been noted in the United States and Argentina.

Swiss Prices Fought

Geneva, May 21 (A.P.).—The Swiss National Federation of Employers is campaigning for reductions in wages and living costs, saying high price levels curtail exports and threaten increased unemployment. Taxes, postage, freight rates and costs of meat and rent are especially pilloried.

White Sea Is Stocked

Leningrad, May 21 (A.P.).—Shipment from far eastern Pacific waters to the White Sea in Northern Russia of 15,000,000 crabs, 2,000,000 salmon and uncounted codfish and flounders has been ordered by the Soviet government. This would increase food supply in the west and conserve transportation facilities badly needed for heavy industries.

American in Vatican

Vatican City, May 21 (A.P.).—The niece of an Italian prelate, born in the United States, is the only American listed in Vatican City's census. Of the 994 inhabitants, only 11 were born since creation of the papal state in 1929.

THE EASY WAY

—By EDGAR A. GUEST

The road is long and hard and steep,
And man must toil the faith to keep,
And many a duty must be done
To hold the friendships he has won,
But how so difficult the way,
'Tis easier than to go astray.

Who sacrifices right for gain
And seeks escape from honest pain
Will learn no hurt cuts deeper than
The scorning of his fellow man.
If toil seems difficult at times,
'Tis easier than the easiest crimes.

The man who wears dishonor's brand
Seeks far to find a friendly hand.
But little rest the world will give
To those who choose as cheats to live.
They trudge beneath a bitter load
Who try to dodge the moral code.

The honest way is often hard;
Its heroes finish bruised and scarred.
Its noblest souls are hardest tasked,
And many a sacrifice is asked,
But though this road is steep and long,
'Tis easier than the path of wrong.

(Copyright, 1932.)

Record Life Ending for Los Angeles

Dirigible's Decommissioning Is Set for June 30 as Economy Move.

(Associated Press.)

IT will be "curtains" for the longest life any American airship has had when the U. S. S. Los Angeles is decommissioned June 30.

To save the Navy $280,000 annually, the veteran craft will be placed out of service nearly a decade after her keel was laid in Germany as the 126th Zeppelin airship.

Unless the Navy finds a buyer for her, the ship is destined to lead a life of ease at Lakehurst, N. J., where she arrived October 15, 1924, after a 5,000-mile flight from Germany.

Her materials will be preserved in a state of good repair that, at some future time, she may be recommissioned for active duty when the Navy purse may bear more easily her operating expense.

Nearly two years ago, when a Navy board examined her condition and forecast two to four more years of life for the airship, it was recommended that she finally be destroyed "through tests designed to yield data on devices for mechanical handling, landing and mooring masts."

* * * *

THERE is no thought now, however, of carrying out this plan.

"In the first place," said Commander Garland Fulton, lighter-than-air construction expert of the Navy, "the Los Angeles is too good to scrap.

"Besides, it would take some time—more time than is available before June 30—to plan a series of destructive tests out of which the Navy would get the most possible information. Then, too, such tests will cost money and the main idea behind the decommissioning is to save money."

The Los Angeles will end her career, at least temporarily, with a record of more than 4,000 hours of flying time.

Among her flying exploits were a nonstop hop of the Atlantic Ocean, two round-trip flights between Lakehurst and Bermuda, a flight to Porto Rico and return, and two round-trip flights between Lakehurst and Panama.

In August, 1929, an airplane successfully hooked on to her by means of a special trapeze and subsequently cast off—presaging a series of cooperative tests between the lighter-than-air and heavier-than-air branches of naval aviation, which led, in the design of the U. S. S. Akron and the U. S. S. Macon, to a special airplane compartment.

* * * *

A YEAR earlier, the Los Angeles was successfully landed on the aircraft carrier Saratoga.

In March, 1931, she concluded a cruise of 11,000 miles, during which she was the first airship to participate in a major fleet problem.

"The Los Angeles and the Shenandoah (America's first airship)," said Rear Admiral W. A Moffett, chief of the Naval Bureau of Aeronautics, "in years to come will be remembered less for brilliant flights than for their more useful and scientific, even if less spectacular, accomplishments."

Among these are developments in mooring masts and in mechanical handling, most of which were undertaken with the Los Angeles, which largely have overcome the difficulties of landing and handling, both afloat and ashore.

Crime Cost in U.S. Assailed by Reader

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Another adage says "straining at a gnat and swallowing a camel." Thus would Congress balance the budget for Uncle Sam.

The cost of crime in the United States is estimated variously at over 13 billion dollars annually. That is $121.10 for every man, woman and child per year. One conservative statement says: Direct property losses cost 3½ billion; indirect losses, preventing, detecting, trials, punishing, 4 billion; indirect economic losses, 2½ billion; undetermined, bribery, gambling, racketeering, alarms, 3½ billion.

Why does not Congress turn attention toward prevention of crime? Is it afraid of this monstrosity that is choking Liberty to death?

It is easier to cut salaries of employes, reduce the pay of Federal employes and increase the income tax. Give them less and soak theme more. Cartoonists could draw good pictures of Congress tugging at its own worthless boot straps in attempting to lift itself over Bankruptcy creek. Meantime the strap may break—then what?

It is easier to cut our defenseless national defense. Some member of Congress says, "Let us reduce cost of national defense which is now in Federal appropriations $6.75 per capita yearly by cutting the Army down 10,000 men in strength. It would save 5 cents yearly for each of us."

We would be paying only $6.70 then to live in peace with the rest of the world and $121.10 for crime among ourselves. Won't Congress do something to save that last 10 cents and make it $121 even for crime?

The cost of one mature criminal in the United States averages $3,500 per year. Five soldiers could be eliminated for each criminal prevented from becoming expert.

Every wheelbarrow of coal each year that our navy ships burn is met by a wastage value of a ton of coal for crime.

Congress considers omitting summer training camps and reducing the Reserve Officers' Training Corps, while up goes the cost of crime annually.

It is time to seek ways to help the youth start right. Spend something for uplift, for boys' clubs and Americanization work. Then defense expense will come down of itself.

That would mean facing racketeers, instead of listening to Mr. Milquetoast.

C. NIXON.

Alkali May Revive Many 'Dry' Oil Wells

Ann Arbor, Mich., May 21 (A.P.).—Dr. F. L. Miller and Prof. F. E. Bartell, of the chemistry department of the University of Michigan, believe they have hit upon a plan of "flushing" millions of barrels of oil from apparently dry wells.

The secret of their method, they say, is the increased "adhesion tension" of a solution of water in which alkali-forming salts have been dissolved.

Gushers give up but 40 per cent or less of the actual oil, they explain, the remainder being held by capillary action in sand beds.

Liquids have different "adhesion tension," however, and when water is forced into empty wells it displaces the oil adhering to grains of sand.

REPEAL OF DRY LAW FAVORED IN FAIRFAX

Democrats in Falls Church and Providence Instruct Delegates to Richmond.

FAIRFAX BUREAU OF THE POST,
P. O. Box 245, Fairfax, Va.
Phone Fairfax 166.

Democratic meetings were held yesterday in the six magisterial districts of Fairfax County to select delegates to the State convention in Richmond next month, when delegates to the national convention in Chicago will be elected.

Each of the Democrats participating in yesterday's meetings pledged himself to support and vote for only the nominees of the Democratic convention in Chicago.

The Falls Church and Providence district convention adopted the following resolutions almost unanimously:

"We reaffirm the traditional adherence to the principles of local self-government and rights and obligations of the several States to enact such police laws and regulations as may be deemed necessary, advisable and in conformity with the habits and genius of the people thereof.

"Believing the eighteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States prohibits the several States from exercising the attributes of sovereignty and destroys the division of powers between the States and Federal Government, written into the original Constitution, we therefore demand the repeal of the said amendment and hereby instruct our delegates to the State convention in Richmond to vote for and support a resolution of this character, and in selecting delegates to the national convention in Chicago to vote for only such persons as favor the repeal of the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act."

The Providence district convention, meeting at Vienna, Va., elected Walter Tansill Oliver, Charles Pickett, James U. Kincheloe, George B. Robey, W. D. Richardson, Harry V. Leigh, John C. Mackall, Oliver Gach, Carl McIntosh and Laurance F. Stuntz, each having a half vote. They will vote as a whole for Providence District.

The Falls Church district convention was held at Baileys Cross Roads. Victor Donaldson, Heywood J. Durrer, Charles Powell, Vernon M. Lynch, James Mason and Mrs. L. P. Daniel were elected delegates with one-half vote each.

The Dranesville district convention was held at Herndon. Andrew G. Hutchison, Asa E. Bradshaw and Silias F. Hutchison were elected delegates, with Turner Wamsley, T. Edgar Reed and B. G. Brown, alternates. The three delegates were instructed to vote to support State delegates to the national convention pledged to former Gov. Harry Flood Byrd. They also were instructed that in case the Richmond convention gave instructions to its delegates for a special candidate for President to oppose the binding of the Virginia delegation indefinitely.

The Lee District convention meeting at Burke elected George C. White, of Burke, delegate and Mrs. J. B. Davis as alternate. They were uninstructed.

The Centerville district convention was held at Clifton Station, and the instruction to vote for the repeal of the eighteenth amendment also was given the local delegates. Robert R. Buckley, of Clifton, and George R. E. L. Tuberville, of Centerville, were chosen delegates, with W. H. Lamb and G. W. Merchant, alternates.

Commissioner of Revenue James U. Kincheloe has announced that all tax returns of intangible and tangible personal property and State incomes for the current year must be made prior to June 1. Mr. Kincheloe will keep his office in the Fairfax Courthouse open until 9 o'clock each night this week. If the returns are not made prior to June 1, a penalty of $2 will be added to the tax bill of each person failing to comply with the State law.

Mrs. Frank A. Wilcox has been elected president of the Women's Missionary Society of the Wesley Methodist Church of Vienna. Other officers include Mrs. James Allen, vice president; Mrs. Maurice Cook, secretary, and Mrs. Albert H. Greenwood, treasurer. Mrs. Vernon Gowen has been elected president of the Ladies Aid Society of the church, with Mrs. Howard Money, vice president; Mrs. Gilbert Winslow, secretary, and Mrs. Garth King, treasurer.

The Fairfax Town Council has set the town tax rate at $1.35 on the $100 property valuation within the corporation, this includes 40 cents for roads, 15 cents for schools and 80 cents to meet the interest and sinking fund charges on the bonds issued last year for the construction of the municipal water system. This is 10 cents lower than last year as the school tax was reduced from 25 cents. The council has authorized the laying of sidewalks on Sager avenue and on School street.

Mrs. Franklin Williams, of Vienna, has been reelected regent of the Fairfax County Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. Other officers elected at the annual meeting were: Mrs. Katherine Walters, of Washington, first vice regent; Mrs. George E. King, of Vienna, second vice regent; Mrs. George Rucker, of Clarendon, recording secretray; Mrs. D. M. Zirkle, of Alexandria, corresponding secretary; Mrs. George W. Hawxhurst, of Falls Church, treasurer; Mrs. C. L. Shear, of Radnor Heights, registrar, and Dr. Jesse Thornton Scott, of Vienna, historian. Mrs. Henry W. Petty, of Arlington, was appointed parliamentarian and Mrs. Ashton Jones, of Clarendon, chaplain.

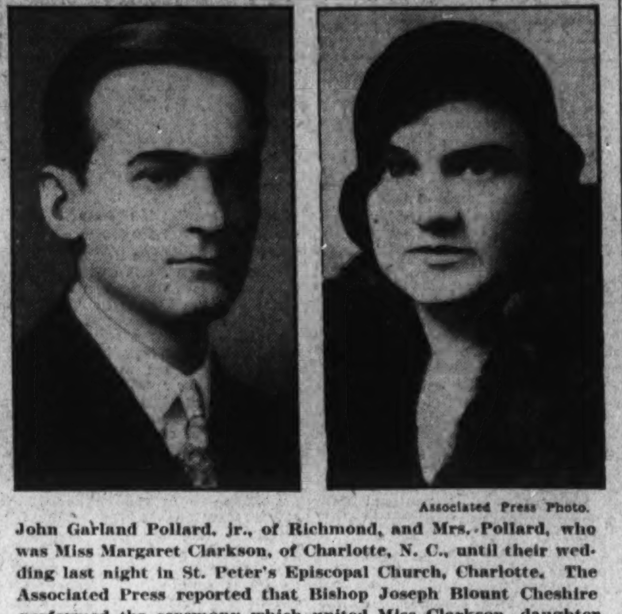
A regional Sunday school convention will be held Wednesday in the Baptist Church at Falls Church under the auspices of the Arlington-Fairfax Council of Religious Education. The principal speaker will be Dr. Henry E. Tralle, of New York City, a leader in religious educational work. He has been called the "Mark Twain" of the religious platform.

This meeting is one of ten which are to be held in the next fortnight in various localities in Virginia and will take the place of the annual State convention. The session will open at 9:30 a. m. with the registration of delegates; an afternoon session will open at 2 o'clock, and the night session at 7:30 o'clock. The afternoon will be devoted to denominational conferences. Each church has been asked to send its pastor, Sunday school officers and teachers.

Volcanic Eruption Resumes.

Mendoza, Argentina, May 21 (A.P.). Advices from Malargue, Argentina, today said the volcano Descabezado had begun to erupt again. Dense smoke clouds were rising from the cone, the dispatches said, a rain of ashes was falling and there were some cracks in the side of the mountain.

PROMINENT YOUNG FOLK WED



Associated Press Photo.

John Garland Pollard, jr., of Richmond, and Mrs. Pollard, who was Miss Margaret Clarkson, of Charlotte, N. C., until their wedding last night in St. Peter's Episcopal Church, Charlotte. The Associated Press reported that Bishop Joseph Blount Cheshire performed the ceremony which united Miss Clarkson, daughter of Judge Herriot Clarkson, of the North Carolina Supreme Court, and Mrs. Clarkson, with the eldest son of the Governor of Virginia. The Rev. Thomas Simons Clarkson, brother of the bride, assisted. Because of the recent death of the bridegroom's mother, there were no social festivities in connection with the wedding.

CHAMBER IS MAKING SURVEY OF TRAFFIC

Bus Issue Is Included in Questionnaire Sent Out by Alexandria Body.

THE WASHINGTON POST BUREAU.
907 Prince St., Alexandria, Va.
Phone Alexandria 523.

The opinion of the Alexandria Chamber of Commerce on traffic conditions in Alexandria is sought in a questionnaire mailed yesterday by the public works committee. Results of the survey are expected to be forwarded to city council if approved by the board of directors and membership.

The present bus controversy is touched on in a section which asks the members to give an impartial opinion as to whether they favor a monopoly, well regulated, or competitive bus transportation and to give an opinion on the present attempt to regulate buses.

Other questions deal with routing buses from King to other streets, King street parking, bus stops and closing of certain streets to heavy traffic.

Alexandria was the Mecca of Shriners from Washington and Virginia yesterday as more than 1,000 gathered for ceremonial of Acca Temple of Richmond, assisted by Almas Temple of Washington. The affair opened with a drill at 3 p. m., followed by a parade in which 2,000 persons took part.

In exercises at the Memorial Temple which lasted until midnight, 100 candidates were intiated into the order. Joseph H. Kretchmer was general chairman.

Jack Martin, 47, of Camden, N. J., employed as a structural steel worker by the Beliron Construction Co., of Philadelphia, suffered a fractured back and other injuries yesterday when he fell 20 feet at the Ford Motor Co. plant under construction here. Alexandria hospital attaches said his condition is critical.

A 2-year-old boy, Charles Loving, of 108 North Patrick street, is in a serious condition at the hospital with a fractured skull, received when he fell from a porch at his home. He is expected to recover, hospital attaches said yesterday, following an operation.

Joseph Duncan, athletic coach at George Mason High School, has been appointed supervisor of municipal swimming pools and boys' athletics for the summer by City Manager Wallace Lawrence. Mrs. Leslie Ryder was named supervisor of playgrounds.

The quarterly meeting of the northern Virginia section of the Holy Name Society will be held at St. Mary's Catholic Church today at 2 p. m. The Rev. Cuthbert Dittmier, of Catholic University, and Leo P. Harlow will address the delegates, who will come from Clarendon, Falls Church, Leesburg and two local parishes.

The thirty-fifth annual session of the State Council of Sons and Daughters of Liberty will open at 8 p. m. tomorrow in Elks Hall, to continue through Wednesday. Headquarters will be at the George Mason Hotel. Business sessions will be held Tuesday and Wednesday.

Tuesday a dinner will be served the delegates in Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church at 6:30 p. m., by Friendship Council, No. 28. On Wednesday, Confederate Decoration Day, a wreath will be placed on the Confederate Monument at 6 p. m., and at 9 o'clock there will be a dance at Elks Hall.

Maj. H. Newman Raymond, of this city, will speak in the V. P. S. Auditorium next Friday night on the subject, "Prohibition Against Prohibition Reform." Boy Scouts will meet at Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church at 7 p. m. and lead the march to the hall. Following the talk there will be an open forum.

Changing his plea to guilty after all testimony had been submitted to a jury in Corporation Court yesterday, Clarence Sims, 57, former barber, was given seven years in the State Penitentiary for performing an illegal operation on a 16-year-old girl. A woman charged with abetting the crime is to be tried this week.

Five youths, charged with stealing $100 worth of auto parts from a garage of W. E. Bowman at 621 Wythe street, are to be given a hearing in Police Court Tuesday. In the court yesterday George Ettleman, junk dealer, charged with buying part of the loot and failing to report it to police, was placed on $500 bond.

Funeral services for Mrs. Mildred R. Goods Beattie, wife of J. Mosby Beattie, who died Friday at her home, 228 South Washington street, will be held from St. Mary's Catholic Church at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow. Burial will be private in St. Mary's Cemetery. Besides her husband she is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. William Goods, and a brother, Albert B. Goods, of Atlanta, Ga.

NOTED COURTHOUSE WILL BE REMODELED

Building in Charlottesville Was Used by Jefferson as Place of Worship.

Special to The Washington Post.

Charlottesville, Va., May 21.—The ancient courthouse in this city, erected 127 years ago and in which Thomas Jefferson worshiped long before there was a church building in Charlottesville, is at last to be remodeled, despite frequent protests in recent years by members of the local bar and older residents.

Announcement of the remodeling plans, made at the opening of the May term of the corporation court yesterday morning by Judge A. D. Dabney, occasioned considerable surprise. It developed that the matter of making changes in the historic building, located in the heart of the city, adjoining Jackson Park, which contains Keck's statue of Thomas J. ("Stonewall") Jackson, gift of Paul Goodloe McIntire, had been considered for some time by a committee appointed jointly by the county board of supervisors and city council. The members of the committee are W. L. Maupin, clerk of the county board; Judges Lemuel F. Smith and Archie D. Dabney, of the circuit and corporation courts, respectively; W. O. Fife, Commonwealth's attorney of Albemarle, and Seth Burnley, city manager.

The work of remodeling will begin July 1 and the contract calls for its completion by October 1. The entire interior of the courtroom will be changed. The gallery, which has rested on wooden pillars, will be removed, and the judge's bench and seats for attorneys and spectators relocated.

The courthouse was erected in 1803. Four years later iron bars were placed in the windows. In 1859 a front, larger than the courtroom was built at a cost of $10,000, embellished with a porch and pillars. This addition was flanked with towers and crowned with gables. After the Civil War the gables and towers were removed.

Conspicuous in the court yard in 1807 were the pillory, stocks and whipping post, regarded as necessary accompaniments of the courthouse and courthouse proceedings, but in process of time they disappeared by natural decay. They were restored in 1820, and a whipping post was built as late as 1857.

In 1811 a brick and stone wall was erected around Court Square, and in 1816 a well was sunk in the courtyard.

Tablet Commemorates First Free Rural Mail

Charles Town, W. Va., May 21 (A. P.).—A tablet commemorating the first free rural mail delivery was unveiled here today. The first rural mail carriers left the Charles Town postoffice on October 1, 1896, when William L. Wilson was Postmaster General in President Cleveland's administration. Wilson was a native of Charles Town.

The tablet is on the postoffice building here. An address was made at the unveiling by C. V. Martin, of Brumfield, Ky., representing the National Rural Letter Carriers' Association. Harry C. Gibson, one of the first three rural carriers, unveiled the memorial.

Youth Held in Threat Of Kidnap Extortion

Norfolk, Va., May 21 (A.P.).—Joseph L. Bullock, 20, charged with extortion on a threat of kidnaping, was held under $500 bond today after a preliminary hearing by Federal authorities. His case will come before the Federal grand jury in February. Bullock was freed yesterday when a State court ruled it had no jurisdiction.

The young man enjoyed only a few hours of liberty, however, before he was arrested by Federal authorities. The State court had no jurisdiction in the matter because the alleged offense was committed in the postoffice, a Federal reservation.

Memorial Day Parade Planned at Culpeper

Special to The Washington Post.

Culpeper, Va., May 21.—A special program is being planned here for May 30, National Memorial Day, under the joint auspices of the Culpeper Post of the American Legion, the newly organized Burton-Hammond Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Spanish-American War veterans.

The program will include a parade of the school children of Culpeper and a firing squad and a bugler from the Rapidan camp of President Hoover. Short addresses and musical numbers will add to the day's program. The American Legion Auxiliary will decorate the graves of all World War veterans in the county.

SENIORS ARE LISTED BY WASHINGTON-LEE

Arlington County High School Graduation Exercises to Be Held June 7.

The graduating class at the Washington-Lee High School, Arlington County as given out yesterday by Supt. Fletcher Kemp contains the following list of pupils:

Rosalie Kennedy, Helen Campbell, Flora Heins, Newlin Duval Davis, Davis Anderson, Marian Josephine Ashby, Horatio Claughton Ball, Mary Elizabeth Bell, Mary Jane Beale, Verna M. Bennett, Bernette Birch, Elizabeth Boaze, Louise Bowersack, Nellie Elizabeth Bowman, Doris E. Boyd, William P. Bragg, Edward E. Buckley, Bertil G. Buhler, Veria May Byrnes, Helen Majorie Campbell, Grace Virginia Carpenter, Elinor Virginia Carter, Edna Mae Chapman, Dolores Isabel Chavoen, Joseph Elwood Clements, Ruth Elizabeth Clouser, Henry S. Coe, Charles R. Couch, jr., Katherine P. Daniels, William W. Davies and Dorothy Jane Davis.

John Warren Divine, Wilbert Earl Donaldson, Charles Malcolm Dulin, William Sawyer Eaton, Robert D. Elliott, Nelson E. Erickson, Windred Anna Evers, Virginia F. Fearson, Ruth Forney, Rita I. Flaherty, Clay Fulcher, Elsie Virginia Gardner, Florence P. George, Estelle Mae Goldsmith, Ruth June Goodrick, Wilda Jane Goodrick, James J. Gorman, John S. Green, Aleane Virginia Harrison, Flora E. Heins, Juliet P. Hensley, Isabel M. Hood, Helen Louise Howser, Margaret C. Huffman, James Huton, Solomon Iskow, Emily C. Jones, Rosalie Kennedy, Henry Lee Kinnier, Lucile R. Legg, Raymond V. Leighty, Edna M. Lovering, John Calvin Lyle, Katherine Manby, Gladys Marie Mathews, Robert McAtee, Audrey L. Newman, Margaret Norfolk, Alva Louise O'Meara, Catherine Virginia Pearson, Gertrude Susie Pearson, Virginia Doris Pigg, Miriam Phelps, Rae W. Potter, Otis B. Printz, Clara M. Raymond, Lilliam Reid, Janice Marie Rice, Margaret E. Rice, Leslie J. Robinson and Claude Rosenberger.

Marjorie M. Rosin, Russel R. Ross, Billie Severance, Samuel Lee Seymour, James J. Short, jr., Charles H. Simmons, Charles Smith, Philip H. Souder, Virginia May Stowell, Hildegarde F. Swenson, Virginia Swicegood, William F. Tapp, Louise E. Tillson, Thelma Turner, Ethel M. Van Pelt, Marjorie Anna Vaughan, George Archie Via, Philip Wall, Grace W. Waldron, Gordon Lee Walker, Alma Wash, A. Tazewell Watson, Hazel Whittington, Eleanor Williams, Iris Williams, LaVerne Wise, Maurine Wise, Elmer Wiseman, Mary Yardley, Lawrence Spilman and John B. Thompson.

The graduating exercises will be held in the school auditorium the evening of June 7.

Virginia Odd Fellows To Convene Tuesday

Lynchburg, Va., May 21 (A.P.).—A concert by the Alexandria Glee Club tomorrow night will start the preliminaries for the meetings next week of the Grand Lodge of Virginia Odd Fellows and Rebekahs. A thousand or more delegates and visitors are expected before the convention sessions begin Tuesday.

Among preliminaries will be a reception to the Rebekahs Monday night and a concert by the Odd Fellows Home Orchestra the same night. Sectional meetings will be held Monday.

MULE DERBY IS WON BY "SIMPLE JENNY"

Virginia 'Burgoo King' Also Leads Steeplechase Despite 25-Yard Handicap.

Afton, Va., May 21 (A.P.).—"Simple Jenny," local burgoo king of the hybrid world, with her owner, Grover Van Devender up, led a long parade of jackasses across the finish line in both the Blue Ridge mule derby and the Afton steeplechase events here this afternoon.

More than 2,000 persons gathered at the Edgar Miller farm, on the Lynchburg highway, to witness the mule races and greeted with wild hilarity the numerous spills as the mounts balked at turns in the derby and at the jumps in the steeplechase. Twenty-two mules were entered in the derby and 24 in the steeplechase.

Second and third in the derby were Burch Bragg and Dick Fox, while Bragg and Richard Pugh finished second and third respectively in the steeplechase. Van Devender's mule won both events by long leads, taking a handicap of 25 yards in the steeplechase.

Fatal Basel-Ostend Train Crash.

Sarrebourg, France, May 21 (A.P.). The fireman was killed and a score of other persons were seriously injured when the International Express train that runs from Basel, Switzerland, to Ostend, Belgium, was derailed while passing the station here tonight.

FORT MYER LEADS WILMINGTON SHOW

Flash, Temptation and Squire Among Ribbon-Winning Horses.

Special to The Washington Post.

Wilmington, Del., May 21.—After the excellent showing of yesterday, opening day of the first annual Wilmington Horse Show, held at Meadows-on-the-Brandywine, the estate of Mr. and Mrs. Norman P. Rood, near this city, the Fort Myer horse show team held its stride in today's card by winning first and second honors in three different classes.

In class 14, pairs of hunters abreast, course 2 and over 4-foot jumps, the United States Army entries Flash and Temptation took the blue, while their running partners of the great show team, Miss America and Squire, carried away the red.

Temptation, the chestnut mare standing 16 hands 1 inch, again was decorated with the blue ribbon in class 35, the scurry class. The other half of the winning hunt team, Flash, a chestnut gelding, standing not quite a hand less than his mate, received the red ribbon and second honors.

In the bareback jumping event, class 24, the gray gelding Squire received the first award with the red going again to Flash.

James N. Andrews, jr., of Bethesda, Md., took a second prize and a red ribbon with his little chestnut mare, Sister, in the class for jumpers over the outside course.

Quicksilver, a 9-year-old gray mare from the stables of Miss Julia B. Whiting, of Middleburg, Va., was judged the champion jumper for the show in the class of the same name, the next to the last event on the program today.

Miss Whiting's entry made quite an outstanding showing throughout the two-day meet, winning one sweepstake class, a second in another sweepstake event, and a second in a $500 jumper event, yesterday, while in her last event today she won the converted award of being judged the best and most outstanding jumper.

Gift Girl, owned by Mrs. Cary Jackson, of Keswick, Va., won class three, the pony jumping sweepstake, to bring Mrs. Jackson's stable wins to a total of five blue ribbons, for two of which the little 6-year-old chestnut mare, which won this event, was responsible. The remaining three belong to the great Shere Kahn, yesterday's best all-round mount, and chosen today as the champion reserve jumper, the second award in the champion jumper class.

"In the Good Old Summertime"

Summer is staging a return engagement . . . get yourself a front seat . . . but have your porch furniture, benches, chairs and other winter-weary things REPAINTED.

Use "Murco" Life Long Paint

"Murco" colors are as beautiful as spring flowers, durable as an old friend. "Murco" is 100% Pure . . . the ideal paint for outdoor work. Get more facts on "Murco" and you'll use no other paint.

E. J. Murphy Co.
INCORPORATED
710 12th St. N.W. Natl. 2477

APARTMENTS

$45 to $67.50. 2001 16TH ST. N.W. One of Washington's finest apartment houses. Located on fashionable Embassy Row, this splendidly equipped, triangular building offers three exposures. 1 and 2 rooms, kitchen and bath, electrical refrigeration. 24-hour service. Resident Manager NORTH 2363.

The above listing is a sample of the many fine apartments listed in today's Classified Ads, arranged in order of price for your convenience.

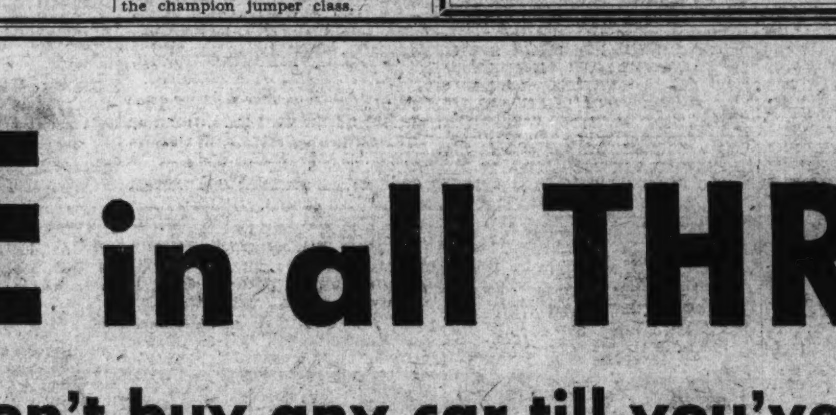
Representative apartments with modern conveniences in select locations will be found in this issue.

The Washington Post

5 8 4

"RIDE in all THREE
—but don't buy any car till you've had a Floating Power ride"

MAKE COMPARISONS WITH ALL THREE LOWEST-PRICED CARS AND DECIDE FOR YOURSELF, URGES WALTER P. CHRYSLER



"ANY CAR without patented Floating Power is out-of-date."

I KNOW you're going to look around this summer before you buy any low-priced car. You should.

In times like these, you're wise to weigh values carefully and demand the most for your money.

That's why I want you to compare this new Plymouth with the other two lowest-priced cars.

I want you to see how much longer and bigger and roomier the new Plymouth is. Why, we're even building a big seven-passenger sedan with 121-inch wheelbase.

Check up on the engineering, too. Try to match the modern features of the new Plymouth in either of the other two cars. It has the very finest. Floating Power, Free Wheeling, Hydraulic Brakes, Easy-Shift Transmission with Silent Second—all of them.

I promise you the surprise of your life in Plymouth's Floating Power. You'll find that vibration no longer exists. You'll marvel at the smoothness of the Plymouth. After ten minutes at the wheel, I think you'll agree with me that any car without patented Floating Power is out-of-date.

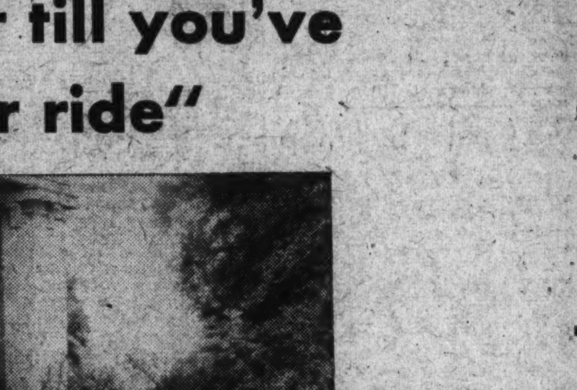
Floating Power is something apart from Free Wheeling. Plymouth also has Free Wheeling. Don't confuse the two.

In all my experience, I never built an automobile that was packed with so much value as this new Plymouth. And I never built one that sold for as little.

See the new Plymouth. Drive it. Compare it with those other two cars of its price, before making any decision. That's the one sure way to get the most for every dollar.

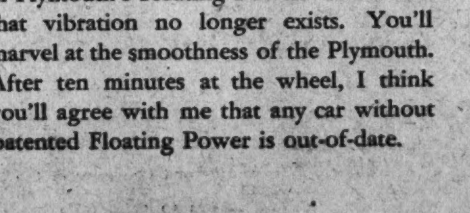
WANTED . . . USED CARS! Now is the time to trade. Dealers now can give you an advantageous allowance on a new Plymouth. Prices on the 10 models range from $495 to $785. Thrift Models—2-door Sedan $495, 4-door Sedan $575. All prices f. o. b. factory.

TUNE IN on Chrysler Motors Radio Program, personally conducted by Flo Ziegfeld—Columbia Coast-to-Coast Network—every Sunday evening.



GO PLACES! Do things in style—all the time, in half the time—in this smart and speedy Plymouth Roadster.

THE TRIUMPH OF FLOATING POWER
Car "A" represents the ordinary car travelling at 60 m.p.h. . . . car and passengers necessarily under vibration.
Car "B" represents a car with Floating Power engine mounting, travelling at 60 m. p. h. . . . car and passengers entirely free from vibration.



PLYMOUTH AS LOW AS $495 F.O.B. FACTORY
IMMEDIATE DELIVERY—DeSOTO, DODGE AND CHRYSLER DEALERS

MOVE MADE TO RUSH WORK ON BOULEVARD

Acquiring of Rights-of-Way by Condemnation Asked by Arlington Board.

ARLINGTON COUNTY BUREAU OF THE POST.
Tel. Clar. 309. Clarendon, Va.

In an effort to speed up construction of the remaining portion of the Lee boulevard in the direction of the Memorial Bridge, over which the State highway department has been unable to acquire rights of way, the Arlington County board in session at the courthouse yesterday upon motion of Fred A. Gosnell authorized Commonwealth's Attorney Lawrence W. Douglas to proceed with condemnation proceedings to acquire rights of way from Washington street to Pershing drive, a width of 80 feet. The land is owned by J. D. McDonnell, of Clarendon.

At the request of Commonwealth's Attorney Douglas the proceedings will be conditioned upon the reaching of an agreement with the State highway commission whereby the commission will commit itself to pave the roadway as soon as the rights of way are obtained.

Ashton C. Jones informed the board that remaining rights of way to Station 107, where the road will meet Government property, are assured.

Having compiled a list of roads covering a large portion of the county which need immediate attention involving an approximate cost of $54,843, County Manager Roy S. Braden was instructed by the board to proceed with the work.

Bruce Cline and Malcolm Williams, both of Washington, pleaded not guilty to charges of housebreaking in connection with the entering of a chain grocery store in Cherrydale early last Tuesday before County Judge B. M. Hedrick. They were held for grand jury action at the June term of the Circuit Court of Arlington County. Bond for each was set at $5,000.

Lawrence T. Tinsman, of Cherrydale, who had turned State's evidence, waived hearing. He was held for grand jury action. His bond was set at $1,000.

Robert W. Hannah was elected president of the Parent-Teacher Association of Stonewall Jackson School, at Mulhall, Arlington County, last night. Other officers are Mrs. Mildred Reeves, vice president; Mrs. Alberta Kerns, secretary, and George Benton, treasurer.

Mrs. Edith Rogers was selected chairman of committee on arrangements for the annual May Day exercises to be held at the school next Thursday.

The fifth annual graduating exercises at Arlington Hall Girls' College will be held in the college chapel at 8 p. m. tomorrow.

The principal speaker will be Dr. Thomas Green, of Washington. The diplomas will be presented by the president, Dr. William E. Martin.

The 22 girls to receive diplomas are, Mary Emma Allen, Tennessee; Sarah Bare, Georgia; Ralah Campbell, Tennessee; Mary Campbell, Ohio; Barbara Casper, Michigan; Alyse M. Cochran, Tennessee; Mildred Hanna, Delaware; Beatrice Hegg, South Dakota; Nettie Henderson, Alabama; Francis V. Hornibrook, Utah; Christine Hughes, Virginia; Shelby Keefe, Mississippi; Betty Mitchell, Maryland; Shirley Mason, Virvinia; Janet Mann, Georgia; Marjorie Morrison, West Virginia; Doris Sampson, Connecticut; Caroline Seldon, Georgia; Helen Toulwin, Alabama; Johnetta Woods, Mexico, and Gertrude Steffin, Michigan.

Taxpayers of Arlington County are advised that on all tax bills not paid on or before June 15 there will be added an additional 5 per cent penalty.

County Treasurer Charles T. Jesse says that he feels that the taxpayers should be allowed until that date to make payment, but after that time he will make a special effort to force collections.

Dr. D. M. Faulkner, of Richmond, Va., will hold his semiannual clinic for cripples, or any bone deformity, today at the Clarendon Health Center.

The clinic will be open from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. for adults as well as children.

Hearing in the case of Israel E. Hartstein, of Brooklyn, N. Y., who has been charged with murder as result of the death in an automobile accident in Rosslyn, Arlington County, several weeks ago of 6-year-old Harry Hughes Rodgers, of Fredericksburg, Va., was scheduled for tomorrow morning before County Judge B. M. Hedrick, has been postponed until Saturday, June 4.

The Rodgers child was instantly killed when the truck on which he was riding with his father, Harvey Rodgers, overturned when it collided with Hartstein's car.

The monthly meeting of the Lyon Village Citizens Association will be held tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis C. Carl.

Among the speakers will be Delegate Hugh Reid and County Board Chairman Harry A. Fellows. They will discuss the Byrd road act.

Prince William County Lectures End Tomorrow

Special to The Washington Post.

Manassas, Va., May 21.—Leaders of the home demonstration groups of Prince William County will conclude a special series of instruction meetings on Monday when Miss Janet L. Cameron, home economics specialist of the State extension department, will be the guest speaker. The meeting will be held in the home economics rooms of the Manassas High School and the sessions will start at 10 a. m.

Several demonstrations will be given by various leaders, assisted by Miss Sarah Pitts, home demonstration agent, bearing on the discussion of supper dishes and canning of fruits and vegetables, which the visiting specialist will lead.

Undernourished Child, Found in Woods, Dies

Luray, Va., May 21 (A.P.).—Paul Cobin, the 4-year-old, 14-pound mountain youngster, found in the mountains by Secretary Ray Lyman Wilbur and a party several weeks ago, died in a hospital here today despite all physicians could do to restore his health.

They had fed him pure cream since Secretary Wilbur and members of a national park group found him in Cabin Hollow, almost dead because of malnutrition. Interested welfare workers are making funeral arrangements.

Women Wet Crusaders Are Speakers at Luray

Special to The Washington Post.

Luray, Va., May 21.—Page County today was visited by women opponents of the eighteenth amendment from Loudoun, Fauquier, Rappahannock and Culpeper Counties. The crusaders traveled in automobiles from each of the four counties, each car carrying banners stating, "We want relief from the intolerable condition now existing by reason of the eighteenth amendment."

Speeches were made in the Luray Park in opposition to the present liquor laws. The women declared that they wanted repeal of the present law, modification of a referendum which would permit the people to say what they wanted.

NEARBY LEVEE COST IS HELD PROHIBITIVE

U. S. Survey, However, Sees Raising Bladensburg Road as Cheaper Plan.

The recent floods at Bladensburg have again focused attention on the problem of preventing them, but any system of protection through dredging and levees is impractical because of the cost, according to a report made by engineers of the War Department. The report does recommend that the main highways passing through the flood area be raised above the level of high water, however.

The report on the Bladensburg flood condition is contained in a larger survey of the whole Potomac basin, which was sent to the House several weeks ago. Because the report of the War Department is unfavorable, no Federal action will be taken on the flood relief program unless a specific bill is introduced, it was siad, and so far as could be learned, no bills are planned for introduction at this session. The Potomac basin report is one of a series which were authorized in 1925 by the flood control committee of the House.

The decision that protection by either of the methods is "not economically feasible" was reached by comparing the cost of the improvements with the damage done by the floods. This is estimated at from $6,000 to $10,000 per year in Bladensburg, Edmonston, Hyattsville, Brentwood and Colmar Manor. It was estimated that $5,000 a year might reasonably be spent for control work, but that this would mean that a larger first cost of more than $63,000 would be inadvisable. All the plans cost more than this sum, but the second plan might be put into effect by agreement between the park and planning commission and the Federal Government, according to the report.

Raising of Highways.

Raising the highways above the level of the usual flood waters would cost about $60,000, the report estimates, and this expenditure would be justified by the importance of the Baltimore and Annapolis traffic. It was suggested that the Federal Government pay no more toward this cost than it would under the Federal road aid plan.

The Army report covers all the basin of the Anacostia River, which extends from Capitol Heights to Lanham; then to a point 3 miles east of Beltsville, then to a point beyond Muirkirk and through Spencerville, Sandy Spring, Glen Mont, Woodside, Silver Spring and Takoma Park. This is an area of 159 square miles. Low lands along some of the tributaries in this basin help to relieve the peak floods at Bladensburg by holding part of the water and releasing it gradually, the report points out. These flooded areas are on Indian Creek below Beltsville, on Paint Branch above Berwyn and on the Northeast Branch.

There are two plans for flood control set out in the report, and the possibility of dams to impound the flood waters and release them gradually is also considered. A maximum flood height of 11 feet is considered possible if high tide and the peak of the flood coincide.

14-Foot Levee.

Plan A calls for a 14-foot levee from Bladensburg to Edmonton and a 24-foot levee and concrete wall along the river at Hyattsville. An embankment 17 feet high is planned to protect East Brentwood and Colmar Manor. This plan will also call for larger opening under the Highway Bridge and a new railroad trestle and for flap gates for drainage openings in the levees.

Plan B suggests the dredging of the river and somewhat lower levees. A channel 200 feet wide would be dredged from the Magruder railroad bridge to the junction of the Northeast and Northwest Branches in Bladensburg. It should be 5.3 feet deep, or a shallower but wider cut might be made. In addition, the Northeast Branch should be deepened as far as Riverdale and a concrete wall erected to protect Hyattsville from the floods. The stream beside East Brentwood would also be dredged and the waste material used to build levees along the bank. Three new highway bridges and a new railroad bridge would be necessary under this plan.

The proposal to establish impounding reservoirs located their sites on the Northwest Branch a mile above Riggs Mill, on Little Paint Branch, a mile west of Beltsville, and on Paint Branch near Lewiston. There are no suitable dam sites on Indian Creek or the Northeast Branch. Aside from the cost—about $1,300,000—these would control only the flood waters from about 87 square miles, and the remaining 70 could send down a "sizable freshet" which could still inundate Bladensburg, the report says.

Casa Del Rio Inn Fire Causes Heavy Damage

Special to The Washington Post.

Annapolis, Md., May 21.—Within a few hours of its formal opening for the summer season, the Casa Del Rio Inn, popular shore resort on South River, 4 miles from Annapolis, was gutted by fire and water shortly after 2 o'clock this morning, causing damage variously estimated between $5,000 and $10,000.

The origin of the blaze, which broke out in the main building is undetermined. It was discovered by neighbors, and firefighters from Annapolis, West Annapolis and Eastport combatted it for more than two hours. The walls of the structure, which is of Spanish design and attractive, remain intact. The inn was a popular rendezvous for pleasure-seekers from Washington and elsewhere, particularly over the week-end. It is owned by Oscar Greissmer, of the Wardman Park Hotel, Washington.

INCENDIARY SOUGHT BY SILVER SPRING

Series of Night Blazes Excites Suspicion of Fire Chief Deffinbaugh.

Montgomery County Bureau of The Post.
9103 Conn. Ave., North Chevy Chase, Md.
Telephone Wisconsin 4205.

Fire Chief Charles Deffinbaugh, of Silver Spring Volunteer Fire Department, has asked Montgomery County police to aid in an investigation into the series of fires which recently have called the department into service nearly every night. The chief is of the opinion that a fireburg is at large in the county. State fire officials also are to be called into the probe.

A vacant four-room house was the last fire, which called out the volunteers yesterday morning. This house was located in a lonely spot in the rear portion of Montgomery Hills and was burning fiercely when the firemen arrived. They were unable to do much more than keep it from spreading to nearby woods. Wednesday morning the department was called to a fire which destroyed the waiting station at Indian Spring Park, and prior to that had been summoned to a burning shack at Burnt Mills and another shack at Four Corners. Thursday morning the barn of G. G. Getty, near Wheaton, was burned to the ground, with a loss of about $500.

All of the fires were early in the morning, and all within a short distance of Four Corners and their appearance led firemen to believe they had been diliberately kindled.

The annual meeting of the Montgomery County Social Service League will be held June 7 at the Manor Club, Norbeck, it was announced yesterday. Dr. Frank Bane, director of the Associated Public Welfare Officials of America, will talk on "Coordinating Public and Private Forces Toward More Efficient Service."

The dinner will begin at 6:30 and those who do not wish to attend this part of the affair can arrive at 8 o'clock when Dr. Bane will talk. Discussion will be held on changes in the by-laws of the league.

The Little Garden Club of Sandy Spring will hold a flower show June 4 from 3 to 9 o'clock at the Community House in Sandy Sprng. A silver offering will be taken at the door.

The committees in charge are: Mrs. Mortimer O. Stabler, show chairman; Mrs. Lionel C. Probert, chairman, and Mrs. Milton Bancroft, publicity; Mrs. Frederick L. Thomas, chairman, Mrs. Garland P. Ligon, Mrs. Henry Owings, Mrs. Mahlon Kirk 4th, Mrs. William Hough, Mrs. Mortimer O. Stabler, Mrs. Milton Bancroft, classification; Mrs. A. Douglas Farquhar, chairman, Mrs. Katherine Alvord, Miss Mary Miller Stabler, staging and decoration; Mrs. Smead Alvord, sr., chairman, Mrs. Joseph Tilton, Mrs. Dean Acheson, hospitality; Mrs. Allan Farquhar and Mrs. Smead Alvord, jr., doorkeepers.

William S. Benson, of near Germantown, was arrested yesterday by County Policeman John Butt, of police headquarters at Rockville, on charges of possession of intoxicants with intent to sell.

Benson was held on bond of $500 for action of the county police court, June 18. He was arrested at his home by the policeman, who found a quantity of alleged beer, he reported.

Edward Barnsley, Spencer Brown, Aubrey Beall, Earl Nicholson, Morris Brown and Bernard Davis have been appointed delegates from the Sandy Spring Volunteer Fire Department to the State convention of firemen at Frostburg in July.

The department expects the arrival of its new pumping engine, fully equipped for fighting forest and field fires. The tank has a capacity of 270 gallons of water.

George Rhodes, colored, of Washington, was arrested yesterday by Sergt. Leroy Rodgers and Policemen James S. McAuliffe and Frank Soper, of the Bethesda Substation, Montgomery County Police. He is alleged to have been driver of a car in which twelve gallons of alleged liquor were seized. He was held on charges of possession with intent to sell intoxicants.

Funds Sought for Cup For Mayor Ben Davis

A committee of leading citizens of Takoma Park, Md., is soliciting funds for a silver loving cup which is to be presented to Mayor Ben G. Davis on the occasion of his retirement in June, after 30 years of uninterrupted public service in the town.

The soliciting headquarters are located at the home of H. L. Thornton, 6900 Fourth street, where subscriptions will be received. Members of the committee are: Mr. Thornton, chairman; Dr. E. Clyde Shade, A. L. Wilson, Mrs. Arthur Reynolds, Prof. Louis Bliss, H. E. Rogers, Alexander Sterling, Milton Derrick, Mrs. Alfred Ray, Mrs. Anna Shadle, Mrs. Frederick Pratt, Louis Sherman, Steve LaScola and Chester C. Waters.

Arrest at Charles Town False Ilsley Case Clew

Special to The Washington Post.

Charles Town, W. Va., May 21.—A Negro giving his name as Willie Martina, was arrested here in connection with the Ilsley murder at Middleburg, Va. The arrest was made at Shenandoah Junction by a Norfolk & Western officer.

The man resembled the Virginia Negro but proved not to be the man. Because of conflicting statements made the man is being held for Washington authorities who will come here to obtain his fingerprints.

MRS. BETTY H. YOUNG RITES

Funeral Will Be Held Tomorrow at Daughter's Home in Clarendon.

Funeral services for Mrs. Betty H. Young, 89 years old, who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. C. Robinson, 206 Hamilton avenue, Clarendon, Va., will be held tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock at her daughter's residence.

The Rev. John H. Pearson, pastor of the Clarendon Methodist Church, will officiate. Interment will be at Charleston, W. Va., her former home.

Mrs. Young is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. W. A. Withers, of Berryville, Va., and Mrs. L. H. Copeland, of Falls Church, Va., and a son, H. Lee Young, of Charleston, W. Va.

Alfonso Returns to France.

Fontainebleu, France, May 21 (A.P.). Former King Alfonso of Spain returned to his home here today from Lausanne, Switzerland.

ALBEMARLE U. D. C. SELECTS OFFICERS

Oldest Chapter in South Names Mrs. J. S. Hanckel New President.

Special to The Washington Post.

Charlottesville, Va., May 21.—Albemarle Chapter, No. 1, Virginia Division, United Daughters of the Confederacy, the oldest chapter organized in the South, has elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. J. Stuart Hanckel; vice presidents, Mrs. J. B. Belk, Miss Sallie J. Doswell and Mrs. Lawson Turner; recording secretary, Mrs. Walter H. Page; corresponding secretary, Miss Emma Wood; treasurer, Mrs. Noble K. Sneed; registrar, Miss Galena Graves; historian, Mrs. Robert A. Watson; custodian of crosses, Mrs. Willard A. Irving.

Plans for the observance of Confederate Memorial Day were announced at the annual meeting of the chapter. The exercises will be held on the afternoon of next Sunday at the Confederate Cemetery at the University of Virginia. The Rev. Cecil C. Bell, pastor of the First Methodist Church, this city, has been chosen to deliver the Memorial Day address. The music will be under the direction of Harry Lowe, director of the Municipal Band, of this city.

A favorable response was made to an appeal from a chapter of Daughters of the Confederacy in Ohio, consisting of seven members, asking for assistance in decorating the graves of Confederate soldiers buried on Johnsons Island, among whom are more than 200 Confederate officers.

Among the local men who suffered and survived the hardships of imprisonment on Johnsons Island was the late W. N. Wood, an adjutant of John Bowie Strange Camp, C. V., this city, and father of Miss Emma Wood, corresponding secretary of Albemarle Chapter.

Virginia Oil Men Close Convention in Staunton

Staunton, Va., May 21 (A.P.).—The Virginia Oil Men's Association closed its two-day convention here this afternoon after naming Charlottesville as its 1933 convention city. The code of ethics committee of the Virginia division, American Petroleum Institute, submitted its report at today's session, but the report was not made public. D. D. Monroe, of Norfolk, presided at today's session.

$100 Given New Pool By Culpeper Chamber

Special to The Washington Post.

Culpeper, Va., May 21.—The Culpeper Chamber of Commerce has donated $100 toward the funds being raised here for the construction of a modern swimming pool to be located 3 miles south of town on the road to Orange.

The pool planned here is to be 125 feet by 50 feet and will be supplied with artesian well water at the rate of 150 gallons per minute. The cost of the pool is to be $3,500. This amount will be raised by the sale of stock. The $100 donated by the chamber gives the total amount of $2,500 toward the cost. Stockholders expect to have the pool open before July 1.

ARLINGTON FLOWER FAIR OPENS TUESDAY

Three Garden Clubs to Hold Show at Clarendon; List of Committees Named.

The Arlington County Garden Club, in cooperation with the Barcroft and Neighborhood Club, at Ballston, announces the annual flower shows to be held at Clarendon, on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

Prof. Paul W. Bowman, of the George Washington University, president of the Arlington County Garden Club, is general chairman in charge of the arrangements. He will be assisted by the following committees:

Schedule committee, Mrs. P. W. Bowman and Mrs. M. L. Payne; publicity, Mrs. F. Dever, G. Hall, I. M. Quigg, O. J. Schuster and Mrs. W. L. Strickler; arrangement and clean-up, G. Hall, H. B. Hartung, G. P. Taylor and H. L. Zile; entry and classification, Mrs. M. L. Payne, Mrs. Frank L. Ball, Miss E. Cannon, Mrs. C. P. Rothery, Mrs. S. G. Stoneburner and Mrs. J. A. Thompson; staging, Miss R. Cathcart, Mrs. J. McKennan, Mrs. S. C. Minor, Mrs. P. C. Pettitt, Mrs. W. L. Strickler and Mrs. Claude O Thomas, and awards committee, Mrs. S. C. Minor and Mrs. G. P. Taylor.

The judges will be Miss Margaret C. Lancaster, of Takoma Park; Mrs. Amos Chilcott, of Fairfax County, and Mrs. Lomas Taylor, of Fairfax.

Entries will be received on Tuesday from 8 a. m. until noon. The judging will begin on Tuesday at 1 o'clock. An exhibitor may make any number of entries, and take prizes according to merit, but may enter only one specimen of any variety.

GORDONSVILLE CLUB TO SHOW FLOWERS

Orange County Gardens to Send Best to Exhibit Next Saturday.

Special to The Washington Post.

Gordonsville, Va., May 21.—The annual spring flower show of the Dolly Madison Garden Club will be held next Saturday from 2 to 6 p. m. The club will serve luncheon from 12 to 2.

Many varieties of plants and shrubs from Orange County gardens will be on exhibit and a number of prizes will be awarded in each of the various classes, all of which, with the exception of the President's Cup, the Sweepstake and class 18 luncheon tables, for club members only, will be open to the public. Judging will begin at noon with Mrs Wainwright, of the James River Garden Club, Richmond, chairman of the judging committee. Mrs. Allen Potts, of "Happy Creek," near Gordonsville, is in charge of the show.

The exhibit will be divided into seven groups embracing 25 classes. Group No. 1 will include varieties of roses. Points for judging to be length of stem, foliage, color, texture, carriage and general beauty. Group No. 2 will include all varieties of Iris, points for judging to be similar to that of roses with distinctiveness of arrangement to count.

Peonies, which form group No. 3, will be judged for size of bloom, color, fragrance, texture of bloom and number of varieties. Blue and lavender flowers exclusively will compose group No. 4, the prize for which is the President's Cup. This cup, like the Sweepstakes Cup, has to be won three times by the same exhibitor before final award.

The fifth group includes all flowers with respect to color arrangement, combination being lemon and orange, pink and rose, white, and crimson. This group will be judged by the perfection of the flowers and the general beauty of arrangement. The sixth group is for table arrangement and the seventh group, for arrangement of flowers by children under 16 years of age.

The Dolly Madison Garden Club, organized in 1919, has a membership of 43. Officers of the club are: President, Mrs. John J. Woodriff, Somerset; vice president, Miss Miriam Hill, Orange; secretary, Mrs. R. C. Slaughter, Orange; corresponding secretary, Miss Mary Cameron, Gordonsville and Richmond; treasurer, Mrs. J. W. Browning, Orange.

It costs less now to go dude ranching the Great Northern way

Come ride the range—and cut vacation expense—on a dude ranch in old Montana this summer. Or choose Glacier Park, the largest and smartest of them all! The Great Northern way there costs less than ever before. More travel, less cost is the order of the day. Reductions in fares apply if you wish to extend your trip to the Pacific Northwest, California or Alaska. Ask about All-Expense Escorted Tours.

Write, phone or visit
GREAT NORTHERN TRAVEL OFFICES
504 Finance Building,
Philadelphia, Pa.
Phone Rittenhouse 3275-6

GREAT NORTHERN

Ride the famous
EMPIRE BUILDER
to Montana Ranches, Glacier Park, the Northwest

A Ride's a Revelation

No other motoring experience is comparable to a ride in the beautiful new Graham Eight. The car seems alive with the smooth power of its new aluminum-head engine.

Yet no other car gives you the same restful relaxation, for no other has

SEE IT
AND DRIVE IT

Graham's advanced deep banjo frame construction, low center of gravity, widely-spaced springs. No other car is so completely safe.

And the new Graham Eight is everywhere the acknowledged style leader of the year. A ride's a revelation.

NEW GRAHAM "8"

GRAHAM MOTOR SALES, Inc.
SALES 1526 Fourteenth St. N.W., Phone POtomac 0772 SERVICE
E. B. FRAZIER MOTOR CO., 518 10th St. N.E.

CARNIVAL PLANNED AT HOOVER AIRPORT

Flying, Water and Land Stunts Included; Alligator Wrestler Booked.

A potpourri of entertainment featuring Henry Coppinger, jr., known as the original "Alligator Boy," who wrestles the dangerous reptiles for hours, and, including stunt flying, parachute jumps, an exhibition ride by Troop E, crack Calvary troop from Port Myer, and aquatic contests by well-known local swimmers and divers is being planned for June 11 at Washington-Hoover Airport, it was announced yesterday by John E. Wynne, manager of the operating company at the airport.

Mr. Wynne announced that the occasion would be known as Greater National Capital day, a percentage of the proceeds going to the Greater National Capital committee of the Washington Board of Trade, which is devoting its efforts to securing more conventions and a better tourist trade here.

A special pool is being constructed at the airport to care for the alligator wrestling exhibition by Mr. Coppinger. Considered daring and skillful, this feature has been booked for the Chicago World's Fair next year, Mr. Wynne said.

The aerial show will include stunt flying by William Payne, and a 1,000-foot delayed chute jump from 5,000 feet by Miss Ruby Herrell, of Baltimore. Fancy diving and swimming races and a beauty contest will be conducted at the airport swimming pool.

Other entertainment features will take place throughout the day, and visitors will have a chance to see Washington from the air at reduced rates, Mr. Wynne said.

Buddy Poppy Sale Drive Indorsed by President

The District Department, Veterans of Foreign Wars, have adopted the slogan "Wear a Buddy Poppy Next Memorial Day" for the eleventh annual Buddy Poppy sale to be held here May 26, 27 and 28.

More than 120,000 of the paper flowers have been fashioned by disabled Word War veterans in the Walter Reed and Naval Hospitals. The Buddy Poppy sale has been indorsed by President Hoover, William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor; the General Federation of Women's Clubs, the Chamber of Commerce of the District, the District Commissioners, the Merchants and Manufacturers Association, local civic organizations and many churches.

New Northwest Bus Route Is Announced

The Washington Rapid Transit Co. has announced that tomorrow a new bus route will be put into effect for the convenience of passengers who board the vehicles at Buchanan street, Allison street and Iowa avenue. The present route, which used Thirteenth street and Iowa avenue as its terminal, will terminate at Thirteenth street and Park road, except during the rush hours, when the buses will continue their present service.

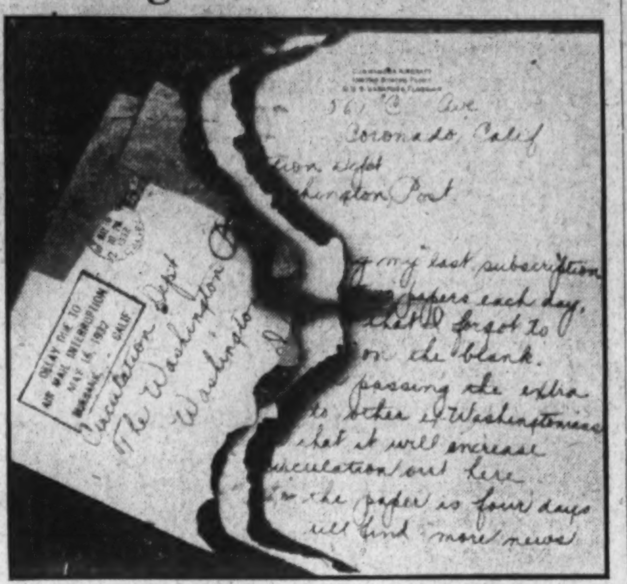
Free transfers will be given at Sixteenth and Buchanan streets to and from buses going farther out Sixteenth street. Transfers will also be given at Illinois avenue and Allison street to and from Petworth buses.

Southeast Citizens Will Honor Davison

The Southeast Citizens Association will present a certificate of distinction to Maj. D. A. Davison, Assistant to the Engineer Commissioner of the District, at a meeting at 9 o'clock Tuesday night at the Buchanan School, Thirteenth and D streets southeast.

J. L. C. Ritter will present the certificate. Vernis Absher, chairman of the committee in charge, will call the meeting to order. A. D. Herman, president of the association, will preside.

Air Letter Saved in Crash Killing Trio Reaches Post



561 C Ave
Coronado, Calif
...tion Dept
...hington Post
...my last subscription
...papers each day,
...that I forgot to
...on the blank.
...passing the extra
...to other ex-Washingtonians
...that it will increase
...circulation out here
...the paper is four days
...ill find more news

DELAY DUE TO AIR MAIL INTERRUPTION MAY 16, 1932 BURBANK, CALIF.

Circulation Dept
The Washington P...
Washingto...

Letter received last week at The Post from Sacramento, Calif., which was one of half a dozen salvaged from a fatal air mail crash at Burbank, Calif., last Monday night.

Fire-Scarred Reminder of California Tragedy Is Collector's Prize.

Practically the only undestroyed article of an air mail plane crash at Burbank, Calif., last Monday night, a badly burned letter, was received at the office of The Post last week.

Mailed at Sacramento Monday evening by Mrs. H. C. Rodd, of 561 C avenue, Coronado, Calif., the letter was placed on board the northbound night mail plane flying between San Diego and Burbank. As the ship approached United Airport at the latter city at 11:40 p. m., it dived sharply from an altitude of 150 feet, crashed and burned.

Pilot Harry C. Crandall, of Pacific Air Lines; a radio operator named Christiansen and another pilot named Johnson, flying as a passenger, were instantly killed. One hundred and four pounds of mail was practically all destroyed, as fire swept the gasoline sprayed wreckage.

Airport attendants hurried to the accident gathering up the few pieces of remaining mail, which were placed on board an eastbound plane. The letter received at The Post bears a special stamp, "Delay due to air mail interruption, May 16, 1932, Burbank, Calif."

Officials at the Postoffice Department had not seen any other covers surviving the accident. A partly destroyed cover from an air mail accident is highly prized by philatelists.

Pageant Will Aid Children's Home

St. John's to Depict History of Church in Two-Day Presentation.

A pageant for the benefit of the building fund of the Episcopal Home for Children will be presented by the St. John's Church in Georgetown in their parish hall at 8 o'clock both Wednesday and Thursday. The presentation will depict the development of the church from its establishment in 1794 to the present.

Many prominent persons of the early nineteenth century were active in making the history of the church Dr. Balch, pastor of the first Presbyterian church in Georgetown, will be portrayed by his direct descendant, Mr. Stanhope Williamson, and the first rector of the St. John's Church will be impersonated by the present rector of the church, the Rev. F. Bland Rucker.

Francis Scott Key, once a vestryman in the church, will be portrayed by Dr. Dallas Sutton. All of the parts will be filled as far as it is possible by members of the congregation whose ancestors actually attended the church in the period depicted. The first scene will be played by the dramatic club of the St. Paul's Rock Creek Church, which was the only other Episcopal church in the District when the St. John's Church was founded.

McAdoo to Be Chairman Of California Delegates

Los Angeles, May 21 (A.P.).—William Gibbs McAdoo, former Secretary of the Treasury, today was elected chairman of the California delegation to the Democratic national convention, pledged to support John N. Garner, of Texas, for President.

The delegates organized in a meeting here.

Society's Member Files $25,000 Suit

Agostino Lacavera Tells of Ouster Cabal in Union Group in Charges.

A suit for $25,000 damages was instituted in the District Supreme Court yesterday by Agostino Lacavera, 1407 Meridian street northwest, with the Societa Arti E Mestieri E Trinacria, Inc., of 617 Pennsylvania avenue northwest, named as the defendant.

Through Attorney Alvin L. Newmyer, Mr. Lacavera claimed that there was a conspiracy afoot to oust him from membership in the society, with its attendant benefits. On February 7, he said, certain members of the society conspired to bring about his dismissal because he had brought suit against the society in Municipal Court. He said that he sued in the lower court because he was entitled to sick benefits of $115 which the society would not pay. He won the suit, and as a result, he said, the conspiracy was formed to force him out. He declared he would be greatly humiliated if the ouster is completed.

Ketoctin Church Plans Homecoming.

Purcellville, Va., May 21 (Special). Plans have been completed for the annual "Homecoming" at old Ketoctin Church, the first Sunday in June. Miss Mary Elizabeth Hughes will preach in the morning and the Rev. Charles T. Herndon in the afternoon.

Infection in the Intestines
Is responsible for much of the suffering from indigestion, flatulency, constipation, toxemia, hyperacidity, some forms of rheumatism, colitis, headaches, &c.—which can be overcome and prevented by keeping the intestinal tract in proper condition. LACTOBACILLUS (L-A) ACIDOPHILUS is the most efficient specific for the correction of these troubles. It is developed from a pedigreed strain of MAXIMUM STRENGTH and conquers effectually. Delivered—CULTURE or MILK—fresh from laboratory to any local address.
NAT. VACCINE & ANTITOXIN INST.
1515 You. North 0089.

Holy Name Group To Offer Benefit

St. Martin's Junior Society to Stage Musical Fete on Tuesday.

A musical entertainment for the benefit of the St. Martin's Church will be presented at 8 o'clock Tuesday night at the Immaculate Conception Hall, 711 N street northwest by the St Martin's Junior Holy Name Society.

The first part of the program, featuring two distinct musical presentations, will be a group of songs, a dance and recitation by Angelo Dondero's Radio Kiddies. A cast of more than 30 will participate in the selections.

"Boy Bandits," a one-act operetta, will be featured in the second half of the program The principal characters in the operetta will be Albert Connors, Joseph Saunders, Eugene Edwards, Eddie Dunnington, Billy Perry and Charles Markward.

Young Democrats of Nation Planning Convention Fete

Tyre Taylor, president of the Young Democratic Clubs of America, and executive counsel to Gov. O. Max Gardner, of North Carolina, stopped off in Washington yesterday for a few hours before returning to his home in Raleigh, N. C., after concluding a speech-making tour, in the course of which he attended Young Democratic meetings in the States of Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Kansas and Missouri. He reports great interest on the part of the younger party members and workers in the approaching election and stated that strong Young Democratic organizations are now in process of formation in practically all of the States.

Mr. Taylor, while in Chicago, assisted in formulating plans for a national Young Democratic conference dinner, during the Democratic national convention, to be held in Chicago Monday, June 27, which will be attended by representatives of Young Democratic Clubs from every State.

Mr. Taylor says: "American youth must, in self-defense, begin thinking politically. That they realize this, is evidenced by the widespread interest in this youth movement in the Democratic party. Our goal is a million members by the time of the election, and judging by the progress made since the formation of the national organization in March, we shall reach or pass this goal by September 1. The young people of the country want a new deal in Washington, and they are looking to the Democratic party to give it to them."

Students Report $1,000 Gem Theft.

Northampton, Mass., May 21 (A.P.). Chief of Police Bartholomew Breshnahan is investigating the reported theft of jewelry valued at $1,000 from Smith College girls who room off the campus. Names are withheld. The jewelry missing includes a platinum wrist watch with diamonds, valued at $500; a ring with diamonds and sapphires, $300, and jade ear rings, $200.

When GLASSES are your greatest comfort

they're like old friends, tried and trusted. When you have absolute dependence on them they MUST be perfect, as to style, fit and adjustment. Leese glasses are dependable glasses, and Leese experts are safe hands in which to entrust the fashioning of the correct type of lense for your vision.

Leese Glasses Cost No More Than the Ordinary Kind

Expert Optometrists Always Available

M. A. Leese Optical Co.
614 Ninth St. N.W.

Read The Post's New Classified Ads

For Appreciation Day!
79c Double Extra Size Rayon Undies
Chemise, vests, bloomers, stepins and panties with lace trims or medallion inserts.
59c
Goldenberg's—Main Floor.

IT PAYS TO DEAL AT Goldenberg's
THE DEPENDABLE STORE "AT SEVENTH AND K"

For Appreciation Day!
$1.69 Doeskin and Kid Gloves
Washable white and eggshell doeskin pullons; and lamskin gloves, plain or novelty pullon style, tan shades.
$1.19
Goldenberg's—Main Floor.

SEMI · ANNUAL CHALLENGE SALE

What a Joy to Find
Such Lovely Junior Dresses

Marked at Only
$2.98
Pure Silk Prints!
Pastel Silk Crepes!
All-Rayon Crepes!

The majority of these clever dresses are made of all-silk crepes—of a most surprising quality for this price! All are as smart and youthful as can be—with boleros, capelets, bows, puffed sleeves, shirrings and other new features. Pastels, bright colors, florals, plaids, etc.

Sizes 13 to 17 Years

A Sporty New Group of White Polo Coats
Of Flannel or Corded Material
$7.95

Your white coat for summer is doubly smart and practical if it is a polo coat—and these are "beauties" at $7.95. Swagger, double breasted, belted models—some with stitched collars.

Cool New Unlined Silk Crepe Coats
In Black or Navy $10.45
Goldenberg's—Second Floor

Appreciation DAY

These extra-tempting values are our practical way of expressing our appreciation to the many, many Goldenberg customers who have shown their confidence in Goldenberg value-giving during our Challenge Sale!

A Value You'll Appreciate!
Smart Dining Room Slip Covers

17 Pieces For Only
$1.88
Just as Sketched

Imagine—cretonne or striped linene seat and back covers for six dining room chairs (straight or round top) and scarfs to match—for only $1.88!
Goldenberg's—Fourth Floor.

Again for Appreciation Day!
$1, $1.19 and $1.39 "Everlasting" Sheets
77c

81x99, 72x99 and 63x99 Sizes
We've sold hundreds at this Challenge price! GUARANTEED FOR THREE YEARS—made from high count, tested sheeting—free from starch or dressing.

29c Everlasting Pillowcases of heavy cotton, in 42x36 and 45x36 inch sizes 19c
Goldenberg's—Main Floor.

Appreciation Day Brings Special Prices on Boys'
White Pants
Knickers! Longies! Shorts!
$1.19 White Duck Knickers, 8 to 17 Years 88c
$1.50 White Linen Knickers, 8 to 18 Years $1
$2.50 White Burton Poplin Knickers $1.95
$1.50 White Long Pants, 8 to 20 Years $1
$1 White Long Pants, 8 to 16 Years 88c
$1 White Linen Shorts, 6 to 12 .... 88c
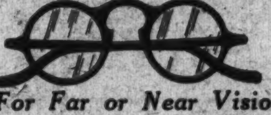
Goldenberg's—Third Floor.

$15 Invisible Bifocal Lenses



For Far or Near Vision
Finest type of lenses fitted to your eyes—for both far and near vision ground in one pair of lenses. Specially priced at $7
Lenses for Far or Near Vision —carefully fitted to your eyes at this very special low price. $3.50
Tinted or Cylindrical Lenses Not Included.
EYES Examined FREE
Two Registered Optometrists—Dr. Kanstoroom in Charge
Optical Dept.—Main Floor
Use Your Charge Account.

For Appreciation Day We Continue to Offer Our Great Purchase of Silks, Wash Fabrics, About 1/2!
Surplus Stocks of Several Prominent Manufacturers—Thousands of Yards at Prices That Offer Savings of About Half!

79c, $1, $1.19 SILKS AND RAYONS 59c yd. 40-inch washable all-silk flat crepes in black, white and about 30 shades; and 40-inch all-rayon printed crepes.

$1, $1.29, $1.50 ALL-SILK FABRICS 69c yd. 40-inch all-silk printed crepes; 40-inch all-silk chiffons; and all-silk shantungs.

89c and $1.00 HONAN SHANTUNG 44c yd. Washable, sunproof silk shantungs in white, black and about fifteen beautiful Summer shades.

69c, $1, $1.19 SILKS AND RAYONS 49c yd. All-silk taffetas, printed chiffons, celanese moire, jacquard rayons, rayon shantungs, rayon chiffons and printed rayons.

Mill Lengths of 69c, $1, $1.50 FABRICS 36c yd. Assortment includes washable flat crepes, canton crepes, rayon French crepes, silk chiffons, taffetas, etc.

Four Tempting Groups of Smart Wash Fabrics

Group One 12½c yd. 19c and 29c Values! Printed voiles, dimities and batistes in fast-colored designs; printed high count percales; and plain-colored voiles.

Group Two 19c yd. 29c, 39c, 50c Values! Ratispuns, rayon-and-cotton crepes, printed voiles, dimities, batistes, printed lawns and printed dotted swisses.

Group Three 29c yd. 50c, 69c, 89c Values! 40-inch printed Swiss organdy; woolly mesh cloth; fine rayon shantungs, and fine imported French voiles in this group.

Group Four 54c yd. Regular $1 Values! Imported Embroidered Swiss Organdy—45-inch, crisp, sheer, permanent finish organdies—white embroidered in colored dots. Exquisite quality.

Announcing the Location of the
REAL ESTATE DEPARTMENT
of the
American Security & Trust Company
In Its Permanent Quarters
on the
Main Floor—American Security Building
Fifteenth Street and Pennsylvania Avenue

◆ ◆ ◆

Real Estate Loans · Insurance · Property Management

AMERICAN SECURITY AND TRUST COMPANY
15th AND PENNA. AVE.

BRANCHES:
Central—7th and Mass. Ave. N.W.
Northeast—8th and H Streets N.E.
Southwest—7th and E Streets S.W.
Northwest—1140 15th Street N.W.

Capital—$3,400,000 Surplus—$3,400,000

BANQUET TO CLOSE JEWISH FUND DRIVE

Nahum Sokolow Will Head Notable List of Speakers of Function Tonight.

Some of the foremost leaders of American and world Jewry will attend the banquet tonight that will mark the close of the $50,000 United Jewish Campaign.

Heading the list of notable speakers at the function, to be held at the Jewish Community Center, is Nahum Sokolow, of England, leading Jewish historian, diplomat and president of the World Zionist Organization.

Others to address the gathering of drive contributors are: James Marshall, son of the late Louis Marshall, and himself prominent in Jewish affairs; Federal Judge Julian W. Mack, of New York; Jehudai Kaufman, Palestinian scholar; Dr. Abram Simon, cochairman of the drive; Mrs. Charles H. Rosenthal, chairman of the women workers, and Morris Garfinkle, head of the men's division.

Hershfield Toastmaster.

Isidore Hershfield, the other drive chairman, will serve as toastmaster. He announced today that no attempt will be made to raise additional funds for the drive at tonight's banquet, but that many of the workers will continue the canvass for another week in an effort to bring the sum on hand closer to the $50,000 goal.

All of the 200 or more workers are out today trying to reach as many prospects as possible. More than 800 contributions have been received and it is hoped today's canvass will bring the total over 1,000.

The funds raised in the drive are to be devoted to eastern European relief and the Jewish homeland cause.

Chief interest in tonight's banquet attaches to the message to be brought to Washington Jewry by Nahum Sokolow, who is visiting this country for the first time as head of the Jewish homeland cause.

Head of Hebrew Literature.

Acknowledged as the dean of Hebrew literature and the leading Jewish historian, he has played a prominent role in bringing to the attention of the world the Palestinian endeavor.

He was one of the three Jewish leaders who attended the Versailles conference and secured the consent of the statesmen there to the rebuilding of the Jewish homeland. He also was largely responsible for securing minority rights for Jews in the treaties that were written at Versailles.

Sokolow is a notable linguist, being familiar with a dozen languages. His most notable work is "The History of Zionism." He has also written a biography of Spinoza, a geography and a primer of self-instruction in English.

Ritchie and Tydings To Address Women

United Democratic Clubs of Maryland Will Hold Luncheon Meeting.

Gov. Albert C. Ritchie and Senator Millard F. Tydings, of Maryland, will be the principal speakers at the United Democratic Women's Clubs of Maryland luncheon Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the Francis Scott Key Hotel, Frederick, Md. The luncheon will be under the auspices of the Democratic women of Frederick. A meeting of the executive board of the State organization will precede the luncheon at 11 a. m.

Among the guests of honor will be Gov. Ritchie, Senator Tydings, David C. Winebrenner 3d, secretary of state; Wm. Preston Lane, attorney general; Representative J. Charles Linthicum, Representative Stephen W. Gambrill, Representative William P. Cole, Representative David J. Lewis, Mrs. Elizabeth R. Menefee, national Democratic committeewoman; Miss Lillian R. Forwood, vice chairman of the Democratic State central committee; Mrs. James G. Whitely, Democratic congressional committeewoman; Miss Lavinia Engel, delegate to the Maryland House of Delegates from Montgomery County; Miss Mary Risteau, delegate from Harford County; Mrs. David C. Winebrenner 2d. Mrs. Charlee E. Roach, president of the United Democratic Women's Clubs, will preside.

Those in charge of the luncheon are: Miss Mary Mausley, Miss Mildred Brengle, Mrs. Andrew A. Annan, Mrs. J. A. Williamson, Mrs. Charles Heck. Plans for the annual meeting of the State organization will be discussed at the executive meeting.

Dixie Ford Plant to Reopen.

New Orleans, May 21 (A.P.).—The Ford plant at Arabi, in St. Bernard Parish, will resume operations Monday, employing 1,000 men, E. H. Sholz, branch manager, announced today. Within a week, he said, 500 additional men will be employed. The plant will operate six days a week with an aggregate pay roll of $180,000 a month.

U. S. Highways in Sound Films.

"An International Study of American Roads," a six-reel motion picture in sound, scored to music by the Marine Band Orchestra, has been released by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The film shows the extent of the highway system of the United States, highway construction methods, and highway engineering activities.

Band Concerts at Masonic Memorial.

Arrangements have been completed by the Chamber of Commerce for the Thirteenth Engineers Band from Fort Humphreys to give Sunday concerts on the lawn of the George Washington Masonic Memorial Temple, Alexandria, from 4 to 5 p. m., June 12, July 17, August 14 and September 11.

Recluse's $19,000 Found in Bed.

Minneapolis, Kans., May 21 (A.P.).—Seeking money to pay the funeral expenses of Josephine Bozek, a spinster who died at Ada, Kans., May 16, authorities discovered $19,000 hidden in a mattress in the attic of her home. She had lived alone for years.

Large Austrian Lay Off.

Loeben, Austria, May 21 (A.P.).—"Alpine," a combined coal and iron mining enterprise with a large forging plant, announced today that 7,000 of its workers would be dismissed June 3. "Alpine" is one of the largest industrial organizations in Austria.

Cult Secrets Sought In Ancient Chateau

Toulouse, France, May 21 (A.P.).—Long hidden secrets of a forgotten religious sect are sought by excavations under way at the Chateau of Montsegur, near here.

Acting on information gleaned from old documents, a young engineer from Bordeaux of the name of Arnaud, hopes to solve the riddle of the Albigensian faith, lost since defeat of the cult by Simon de Montfort in 1209.

Gov. Gen. Roosevelt Given Dime at Hut

Manila, May 21 (A.P.).—Theodore Roosevelt, new Governor General of the Philippines, had a sample of Filipino hospitality when he called, alone and unannounced, at a farm hut near the tip of the Island of Luzon.

He asked the housewife how many eggs her hens were laying. She told him none at all, but handed him a native coin worth 10 cents and said he could buy some in the next village.

Limit on Bread Price Lifted by Turk Town

Konia, Turkey, May 21 (A.P.).—Bread has gone the way of all oriental bargaining in this Anatolian town, the municipality having abolished the maximum price which all town governments in Turkey fix on bread.

Now Konia's bakeries resound while purchasers and bakers haggle over the price of a loaf until one

Steel Secret Sealed By Invention Till 1960

Sheffield, England, May 21 (A.P.). The story of the discovery of stainless steel, a trade secret for several years, is not to be told for another three decades.

Harry Brearley, discoverer of the metal, has given the "cutlers' company" of Sheffield a sealed envelope, admonishing the society not to open it until the cutlers' feast of 1960.

Woman Held in Death Of Stepson by Hanging

Maysville, Ky., May 21 (A.P.).—Mrs. Virgia West, 31, was held for questioning today in connection with the death of her 7-year-old step-son, Edward Franklin West, found hanging by a rope from a rafter in a garage.

Mrs. West denied any knowledge of the boy's death. She said the rope was one used by her 2-year-old son, Junior, to lead his dog and that he frequently tied it about the neck of Edward and led him.

AMUSEMENTS
McKinley Auditorium—All Next Week.
GILBERT & SULLIVAN
Yeomen of the Guard
Washington Civic Opera Co.
50c, $1, $1.50. Students, under 18, ½ rate. Seats Now, 1320 G St. NW., MEt. 8690. AAA and hotels.

L. L. PERKINS
WILL BOND YOU.
United States Fidelity & Guaranty Co.
Phone National 0913. Southern Bldg.

SMITH AUTO LAUNDRY
AUTOS POLISHED (BEST GRADE)
AUTOS OILED AND GREASED. $1.25 UP
REAR 1012 14TH ST. N.W.
Near Arlington Hotel.

Official Service
Stewart Speedometers
CREEL BROS.
1811 14th St. N.W.
Decatur 4220

Final Reductions in BOOK SALE
—All Books in Our 25c, 30c, 39c and 50c Sale groups—(actually worth 75c to $3.50) now...... 25c ea.
All Other Books, Sets, Curiosa, etc.—Now ½ Marked Sale Prices
Special Section—Fourth Floor.

Fur Storage and Repairs
—Coats cleaned, glazed, edges repaired, relined; new snaps and buttons, and storage for the season. $35
Fur Coats Relined only...$12.75
Second Floor.

Kann's
Penn. Ave.—Eighth and D Sts.
Apparel Section
Second Floor
Monday We Open a Special Section of BATHING SUITS

Both of These Styles Are in the $4.95 Group

Bathing Accessories
Bathing Shoes, 75c to $2.95 Pr.
●
Bathing Caps, 15c to 50c
●
Slacks at $1.00 to $2.95
●
Terry Beach Robes, $2.95 and $3.95
●
Beach Pajamas, $3.95
●
Shorts at $1.95 Pr.
●
Terry Beach Mats, $2.95 Ea.
●
Beach Clogs, 69c Pr.
●
Straw Beach Hats at $1.00 and $1.59
●
Elastic Bathing Girdles; Sizes medium, small to extra large, $1.00

Featuring Famous B. V. D. Suits for Men and Women at $4.95
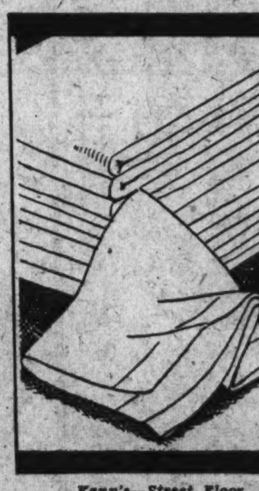
For Misses and Women
—Pure worsted skirted Suits, with square neck forming camesole top, and extreme evening strap back—applique trimmed. In bleu exotique, barbaric red, bright navy, white, desert green and amulet; 34 to 46 sizes, $4.95. (Others $1.95 to $7.95).
Famous "Weissmuller" Suits for Men
—Of pure worsted, made on a spring-needle machine. In sailor blue, black, maroon and bleu exotique. Sizes 34 to 46, $4.95. (Others from $1.95 up.)

Girls' Bathing Suits
$1.95 and $2.95
—All wool, made on a spring-needle machine; in French one-piece style or skirted. Sizes 6 to 14.
'Boys' Bathing Suits
$1.95 and $2.95
—The famous Weissmuller style or the popular "Speed" model all wool suits, made on a spring-needle machine. 6 to 14 sizes.
Women's Jantzen "Shouldaire" Bathing Suits $5.00

FROM THE HELLER BEDDING CO.
—We have secured special concessions on several high-grade mattresses for this sale. Extra good materials and finest workmanhip.

Heller's Famous
"Madison" Inner Spring
MATTRESSES
—Guaranteed mattresses made of fine material; the workmanship is of the best, and in securing one of these you buy real comfort for a very moderate price. All sizes.
$9.95
"Jackson" Inner Spring
MATTRESS
$16.98
—Made with fine inner springs of resilient coil, pure layer felt and heavy ticking cover. All sizes.
100% All-Layer Felt
MATTRESSES
$7.88
—A four-row imperial stitched mattress, diamond tufted; built for comfort and covered with durable ticking. All sizes.
100% Pure Felt Rolled Edge Mattress, all sizes $4.98
99-Coil Double-deck Bed Springs, all sizes $7.98
21x27 in. Sterilized Feather Pillows......................$1.69
Kann's—Third Floor.



Kann's—Street Floor.
A Special Sale of Three Year Certified
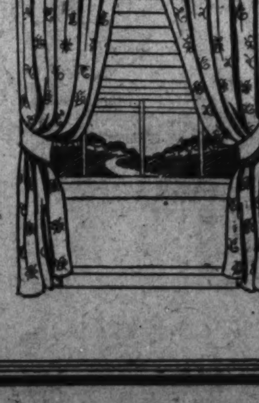
SHEETS
81x99
63x99
72x99
Sizes
69c ea.
—First quality, superior construction. Guaranteed by Kann's. Samples of these sheets have been laundered 78 times—equivalent to three years' wear.
81x108-in Sheets, ea... 89c | 42x36 & 45x36 in. Cases, ea... 19c

Chintz DRAPES
CHINTZ SPREADS
Last Year's Price Was $2.95 Each—Now



—The Spreads are in tailored style in the season's newest patterned chintz and new colorings. $1.88 ea.
—The Draperies are 2¼ yds. long, pinch pleated style, with tailored borders. Colors and patterns to match spreads. $1.88 set.
$1.88
EACH
Emb'd Crash Draperies, Also Spreads
—Pinch pleated draperies, natural crash with colored embroidered designs, 2¼ yards long. $1.88.
$1.88
Each
—Bedspreads in the same attractive design and colors, $1.88 ea.
Kann's—Third Floor.

IN THE MAY SALE
STRAPHANGER SLIPS
$1.67
Made of Silk Crepe Bias Cut, with Non-Slip Straps
—It is no wonder we have sold thousands of these popular slips! They are lace and embroidery trimmed, also tailored. In white and tea rose. Sizes 34 to 44.
—Also beautiful gowns, pajamas, panties, step-ins, dance sets, and chemise at the same price.
Kann's—Second Floor.

There's Style and Value in These Summer
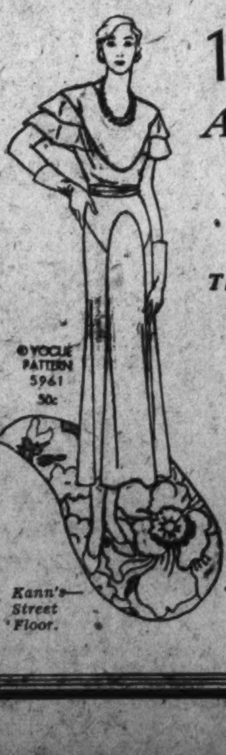
FROCKS
Sizes for Women of 36 to 44 and Little Women of 16½ to 24½
$15
Smart afternoon, tailored, and formal frocks to meet the dress needs of almost any occasion. They are made of floral chiffons, some with jackets; light prints with short or cape sleeves; and others are of fine bedford cords All hand finished.
—In the new colors, including navy, black, all white, beige, pink and blue.
Kann's—Second Floor.



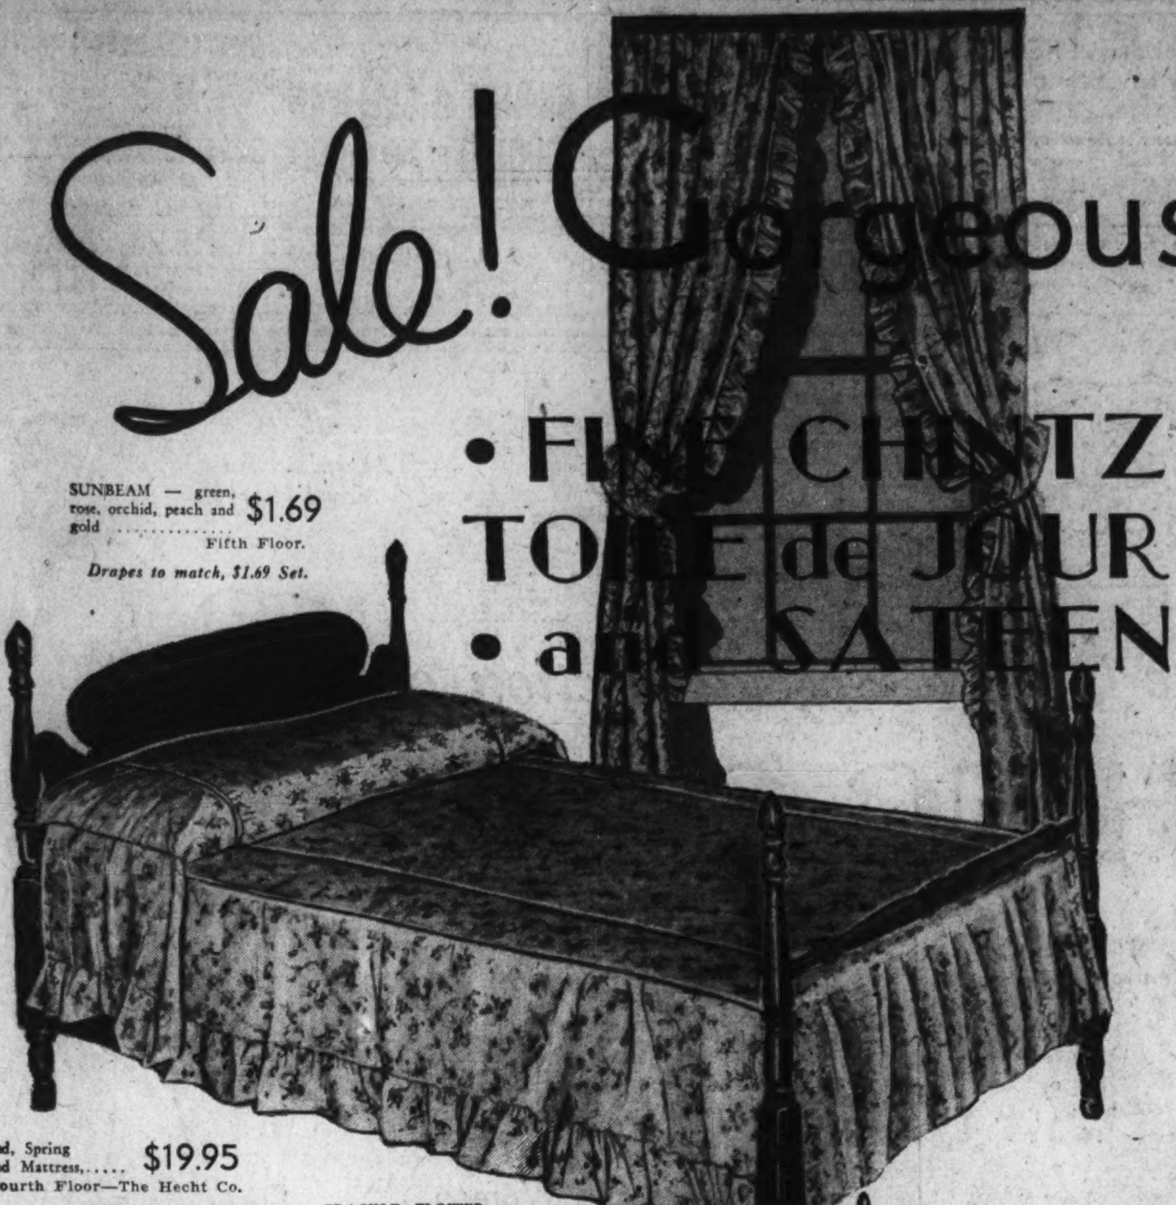
Kann's—Street Floor.
10,000 Yds. WASH GOODS
At the Lowest Price in Years—25c and 29c Grades
38 Inch Lovely Printed Voiles
38 Inch Dolly Madison Batiste
36 Inch Betty Beau Prints
36 Inch Cotton Mesh, plain colors
They're in the season's most popular colors and designs.
19c Yd.
Popular Cotton Prints
35c to 50c Grades 25c yd.
—38-in Printed Chiffon Voile.
—36-in. Printed Anderson Lawn.
—36-in. Printed Checked Lawn.
—36-in Printed Sports Rayon.
All Rayon Flat Crepe
Reg. 59c Grade 49c yd.
—In beautiful pastel and bright colors, also white, black and navy and washable. 39 in. wide.
PERCALE PRINTS—Pepperell and Others, 36 in. wide....15c Yd.
FANCY COTTON MESH, 49c to 69c Grades at...........39c Yd.

Sale! Gorgeous $2.95, $3.95 and $4.95

- FINE CHINTZ

TOILE de JOUR

- and SATEEN



SUNBEAM — green, rose, orchid, peach and gold $1.69
Fifth Floor.

Drapes to match, $1.69 Set.

Bed, Spring and Mattress,..... $19.95
Fourth Floor—The Hecht Co.

SPREADS

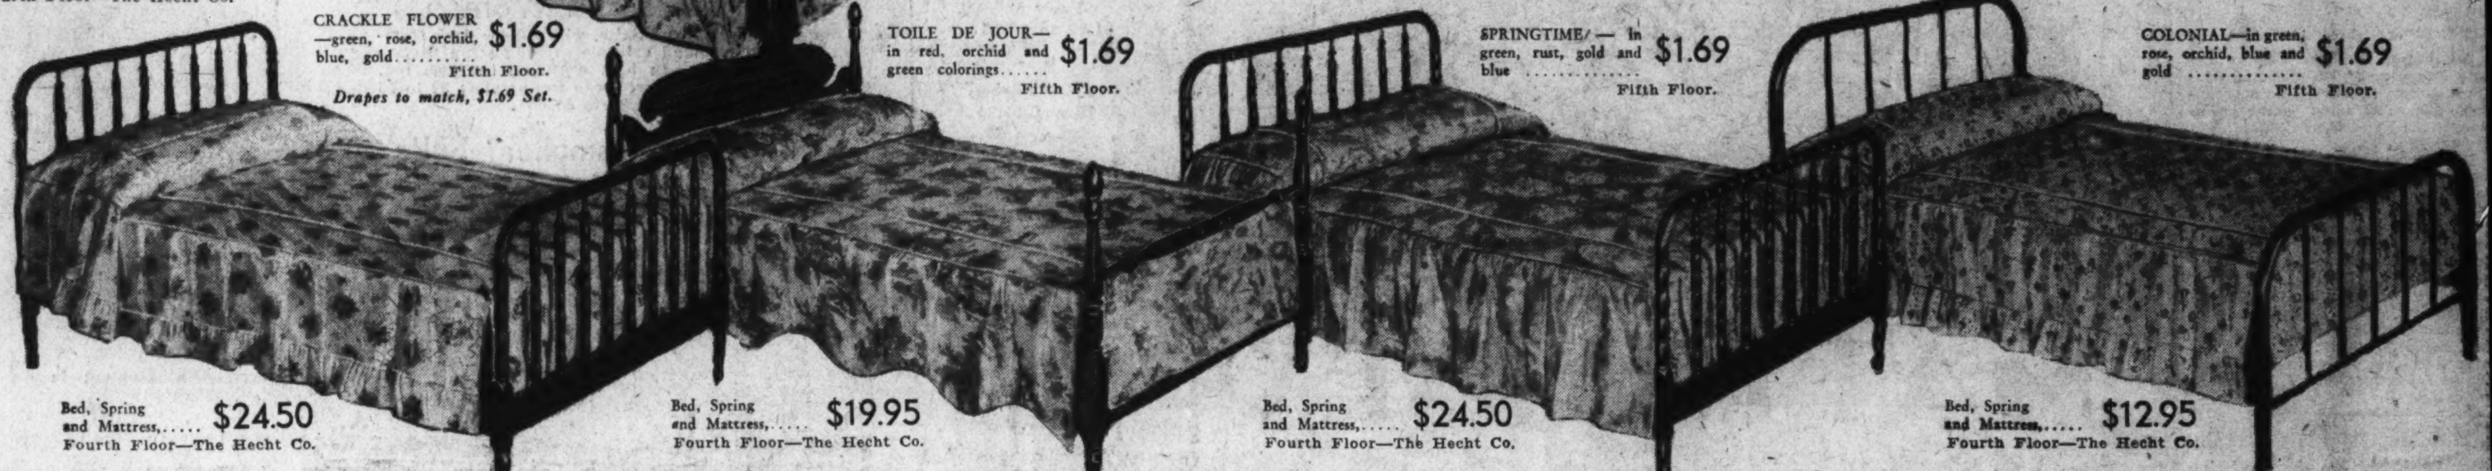
Including Eleven Other Styles Not Illustrated

Now spread yourself! $1.69 works like magic, spreading itself over the most gorgeous bed coverings we've seen since the moon first came over the mountain! You will find them ruffled . . . and flounced . . . and scalloped! You will find flowers and figures and gay little patterns! You will find blue, green, peach, rose, red, rust, orchid and gold. You will be enchanted like the writer, who bought six and had them sent home to Mother.

Fifth Floor—The Hecht Co.

$1.69

Single and Double Bed Sizes



CRACKLE FLOWER —green, rose, orchid, blue, gold.......... $1.69
Fifth Floor.

Drapes to match, $1.69 Set.

Bed, Spring and Mattress,..... $24.50
Fourth Floor—The Hecht Co.

TOILE DE JOUR— in red, orchid and green colorings...... $1.69
Fifth Floor.

Bed, Spring and Mattress,..... $19.95
Fourth Floor—The Hecht Co.

SPRINGTIME — in green, rust, gold and blue $1.69
Fifth Floor.

Bed, Spring and Mattress,..... $24.50
Fourth Floor—The Hecht Co.

COLONIAL—in green, rose, orchid, blue and gold $1.69
Fifth Floor.

Bed, Spring and Mattress,..... $12.95
Fourth Floor—The Hecht Co.

2,400 Pairs of Full Fashioned

SILK HOSE

69c to 85c ALL SILK CHIFFONS

Don't put off buying your summer supply of stockings another minute. These chiffons have picot tops and plated soles. They come in the good spring and summer shades. And, bless your budget, they're only 58c a pair.

58c

$1 to $1.25

Chiffons and Meshes

77c

3 pairs for $2.25

All-silk hose with picot tops and plated or silk soles. In very desirable shades.

$1.35 to $1.65

Fine Gage Chiffons

96c

3 pairs for $2.75

Stockings you'll want to save for your swankiest costumes. Newest shades.

On Sale in a Special Section on the Main Floor

- It Mixes!
- It Squeezes!
- It Beats!

This All-Around ELECTRIC

Food Mixer and Juicer

Nationally Advertised at $18.75! Our Price

$9.95 complete

You'll be all stirred up over this remarkable food mixer. It beats cream. Beats eggs. Beats everything. Mixes cake. Mixes waffles. Squeezes fruit. Bowls and measuring cup of green glass. Finished in green. Several speeds. For AC or DC current.

Fifth Floor—The Hecht Co.

Call NAtional 5100 and make your appointment for

ZOTOS PERMANENT WAVE

$10

It's a joy to take. No machine, no electricity is used on your hair . . . the little pads wound around your hair are self-heating. Take it before Memorial Day and get a full summer's joy out of this beautiful, softly sweeping Zotos wave.

Powder Box, Fifth Floor.

The Powder Box also offers a Frederick Standard, Hecht Co. or Eugene Permanent Wave for only......... $5

THE HECHT CO.

F STREET AT 7th   FREE PARKING WHILE YOU SHOP HERE

NEWS FEATURES AND SPORTS

The Washington Post.

NEWS FEATURES AND SPORTS

M

WASHINGTON: SUNDAY, MAY 22, 1932.

MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR 19 MEMBERS OF CONGRESS PLANNED

Three Senators and Sixteen Absent From House Roll Calls to Be Honored.

GARNER WILL PRESIDE AT IMPRESSIVE RITES

Compelling Life Dramas to Be Recalled by Exercises Wednesday.

(Associated Press.)

For three senators and sixteen representatives who have died in the past year memorial services will be held Wednesday in the House of Representatives.

In the last roll call, the clerk will read an illustrous list of names, many of them bringing freshly to mind life dramas, powerful and interest-compelling.

From an "in memoriam" list, black bordered, they stand out:

"Hon. Dwight W. Morrow, a senator from the State of New Jersey. Died October 5, 1931."

Morrow, the man who was an ambassador to Mexico when a famous flier, Charles A. Lindbergh, won his daughter, Anne. He might have made more history in the Senate, where he briefly served. But he was spared the kidnaping and murder of his grandchild.

"Hon. Nicholas Longworth, First Congressional District of Ohio. Died April 9, 1931."

Longworth's Prophecy.

"Good old Nick!" That's what they all call him yet—the Speaker who stood before the House on the last day of the last session and uttered prophecy—that it might be his last appearance as Speaker but he was "abundantly satisfied."

Only a short time before the full romance of Longworth's career had been recalled to them by the twenty-fifth anniversary celebration of his White House marriage to Alice Roosevelt.

"Hon. Thaddeus H. Caraway, a senator from the State of Arkansas. Died November 6, 1931."

Among those invited as relatives, but entitled to sit on the floor in her own right will be Senator Hattie Caraway, the widow who is going to fight for renomination.

And so it goes down the long list, names bringing back vivid pictures—Henry Allen Cooper, of Wisconsin long the patriarchal dean of the House; Percy E. Quin, colorful Mississippian, courteous in conversation, spectacularly choleric in debate; George S. Graham, who was chairman of the erudite judiciary committee.

Garner Will Preside.

Speaker Garner will preside. The Navy Band Orchestra will play. Addresses will be made by Representative Scott Leavitt, of Montana, and Representative William B. Bankhead, of Alabama.

Front rows will be reserved for relatives of those who will be honored at the intimate annual service.

The rest of the names on the list are:

James B. Aswell, of Louisiana; Matthew V. O'Malley, of New York; Charles A. Mooney, of Ohio; Charles E. Edwards, of Georgia; Bird J. Vincent, of Michigan; Samuel C. Major, of Missouri; Ernest R. Ackerman, of New Jersey; Fletcher Hale, of New Hampshire; Harry M. Wurzbach, of Texas; Samuel Rutherford, of Georgia; Albert Vestal, of Indiana, and Edward M. Beers, of Pennsylvania, all former House members, and Senator William J. Harris, of Georgia.

Opticians to View Equestrian Stunts

Ft. Myer Troops to Stage Program for Members of Guild Tuesday.

Col. Harry N. Cootes, commanding officer of Fort Myer, Va., is allowing an exhibition riding program to be presented for the entertainment of the Guild of Prescription Opticians of America at 8 o'clock Tuesday night.

Officers and soldiers of the Third Cavalry and the Sixteenth Field Artillery will participate in the performance. The north end of the riding hall of the fort will be open to the public.

Features of the program are: The squadron will enter in formation and Troop E of the Third Cavalry will do a jumping ride. Battery B of the Sixteenth Field Artillery, will exhibit a battery drill. Troop F of the Third Cavalry will do a tandem ride, and the Machine Gun Troop of the regiment will perform a gymnastic ride. Troop E of the regiment will exhibit a musical ride. Troop F a rodeo ride and the Machine Gun Troop will do a machine gun ride.

Prospector's Silver Pan To Be Presented Hoover

(Associated Press.)

If President Hoover, mining engineer, ever wants to go prospecting, he'll soon have a solid silver pan in which to wash the sand away from his nuggets.

It's up in the office of Representative Harry Englebright, of Nevada City, Calif., one of the picturesque old gold-rush towns. Mr. Englebright, on behalf of the Bret Harte Pageant Association of Sonora, Calif., will present it to the President with formal ceremony next week.

Medal Asked for Pilot Chamberlin.

(Associated Press.)

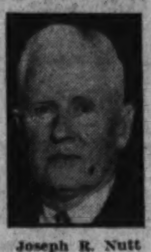
A congressional medal of honor for Clarence D. Chamberlin for making the first nonstop flight with a passenger from America to Germany was asked yesterday in a bill by Senator Brookhart (Republican), Iowa.

CAPITAL ECHOES

By EDWARD T. FOLLIARD

The Depression and Political Campaign Funds.

REPUBLICAN leaders are worried over the problem of financing the 1932 campaign. The indications are that the campaign fund this year will be the smallest the party has had in a generation.



Joseph R. Nutt

A glance at the 1928 list of Republican contributors will show why.

Foremost among the party's angels in that fat year were the automobile men. In fact, the list of contributors reads like a 'Who's Who of motordom. Walter P. Chrysler, for example, contributed $25,000 to help elect Herbert Hoover. John N. Willys, who later was to become Ambassador to Poland, gave a similar sum, as also did Alfred P. Sloan, jr., head of General Motors. Five of the Fisher brothers, makers of automobile bodies, each gave $16,000. W. O. Briggs, another maker of bodies, gave $25,000, and Harvey Firestone, the tire man, gave another $25,000.

No such sums can be expected from the automobile people in this lean year. The automobile industry, like every other industry, has been hard hit by the depression. Now, to add to the industry's troubles, Congress is about to place a stiff manufacturer's tax on all automobiles, trucks, and parts, thus retarding the gallant efforts of the automobile men to stage a come-back.

* * * *

IN going over the 1928 list, Joseph R. Nutt, the Republican treasurer, will find plenty more to worry him.

A number of wealthy men who contributed in 1928 have since died, among them George F. Baker, financier, who gave $25,000; George Eastman, the kodak man, who gave a similar sum; Julius Rosenwald, head of Sears, Roebuck & Co., who gave $50,000, and William Wrigley, jr., the chewing gum king, who gave $5,000.

Treasurer Nutt also will find on the 1928 list a number of men who have bolted. William Randolph Hearst, for example, gave $20,000 to elect Hoover. This year he is backing a Democrat, John N. Garner, for the Presidency.

The largest contribution to the Republican fund in 1928 came from that mysterious individual, E. C. Jameson, of New York. Jameson gave the tremendous sum of $172,000. A large part of this went to Bishop James Cannon, jr., and was spent in Virginia and elsewhere in the South, where Al Smith's religion was the chief issue.

Smith won't be the Democratic nominee this year, and neither will Mr. Jameson be the Republican party's chief angel.

* * * *

THE outlook for the Democrats in this matter of raising money is likewise gloomy.

Certainly John J. Raskob can't be expected to contribute on the scale he has contributed in the last four years. Not that he is not able to; Raskob is still a vastly wealthy man. But what thanks has he received for what he has done? Precious little. On the contrary, a large number of people in the party have denounced him, accusing him of placing a 'mortgage' on the party so as to run it in his own way.

What Raskob does for the Democratic party in the future depends largely on who is nominated at Chicago. If it is Roosevelt, his contribution probably will be a modest one, for there is no affection between these

Continued on Page 14, Column 5.

FAMOUS MINE TOWN TO BE REJUVENATED

Celebration in Central City, Colo., Will Awaken Old Time Memories.

Central City, Colo., May 21 (U.P.). Ghosts of a long gone day are stirring in the steep and narrow streets of Central City, where President Grant walked on a pavement of solid silver ingots; George Pullman made the first $150,000 of his fortune, and many a theatrical star thrilled the audiences of a day now dead.

The streets that for years have been deserted now have awakened. On July 16 the people of Denver are going to reopen the old and justly famous Central City Opera House, where Lotta Crabtree, Fanny Ward, Rose Coghlan, Edwin Booth and a host of others of equal distinction once appeared.

"Camille" will be the drama of the evening and the cast will not be lacking in important names. Lillian Gish is to be starred, supported by Raymond Hackett, Cora Witherspoon, Moffat Johnson, Mary Morris, Helen Freeman, Ian Wolfe Lewis, Martin Chappell and Edna James Chappell. Robert Edmond Jones will stage the play.

The first nighters will wear costumes of 50 years ago, when Central City was a rip-roaring mining town, bigger even than Denver. The women will attend in poke bonnets, sweeping skirts and bustles. The men will wear stovepipe hats and box suits of the period.

The old Teller House, Central City's most famous hotel, will be reopened, too, and a grand ball will follow the play. The famous Teller House bar is being put in shape. The black walnut bed in which Grant slept, and the other furnishings of his rooms are being waxed and polished.

Digging into the old buildings of Central City, the promoters have unearthed old hickory chairs that seated the audiences of the early days and these have been put back in the theater. Notables who inherited fortunes that were taken from the lodes of Central City have purchased these chairs for the first night at $100 each.

They will ride up the mountain from Denver in the "cradle of Colorado" stub line of the Colorado & Southern Railway, in the first tiny narrow gauge railroad cars used to enter the mining camp. In Central

Continued on Page 14, Column 1.

METHODISTS CLOSE FOUR PUBLICATIONS

Abolish Christian Advocates in Various Cities to Aid Economy Program.

Atlantic City, N. J., May 21 (A.P.). Four of the eight Christian Advocates, published in various parts of the country as the official organ of the Methodist Episcopal Church, were legislated out of existence by the general conference today.

Their discontinuance was a part of the general campaign for sweeping retrenchment as an economy measure. The proposal to reduce the number of church publications was fought stubbornly for four hours before being adopted.

The Advocate editions ordered abandoned are those published in Pittsburgh, Chicago, Portland, Oreg., and Athens, Tenn. The circulation of the eliminated editions is to be absorbed by the continuing New York, Kansas City, Cincinnati and San Francisco publications.

This latest economy order further swells the retrenchment moves which the conference has either already ordered or is considering for action.

Seven Episcopal areas thus far have been wiped out by the economy drive, and the pension allowances for bishops have been slashed 60 per cent The conference calendar also lists salary reductions of 16 per cent for all bishops, and cuts of similar percentages for expense allowance. Little opposition is expected against this pending program.

One economy plan, however, which appeared in grave danger of foundering, was the move to expedite the conference session to such an extent as to make adjournment possible by noon Wednesday instead of running the full month.

The delegates approved the Wednesday adjournment earlier this week, but legislative progress has been so slow that today the adjournment date was ordered reconsidered, with all indications pointing to another full week of sessions.

The conference is costing $250,000 and its present deficit of $60,000 may be swelled if the Wednesday adjournment is abandoned.

In the drive for the elimination of four of the eight Advocates, proponents of the legislation cited the $525,000 deficit which the eight publications had incurred in the past quadrennium. "We must pay our debts," they said. "A bankrupt church can not furnish spiritual leadership to anybody."

Law Guarantees Il Duce Booms, Guards and Glory

Elaborate Military Honors Whenever Mussolini Travels in Italy Legalized by New Regulation; Cardinals Also Included.

Rome, May 21 (A.P.).—Elaborate military honors, which must be given Mussolini whenever he travels to any large center of Italy, have been legalized by a new regulation.

The highest officers of the district and a platoon of honor, with a band and a fanfare of bugles, must be drawn up in the railroad station at which he arrives.

Twenty pieces of artillery must boom him a welcome if the city is the headquarters of an army corps. Rome is the only exception to this rule.

Troops must line the route from the station to the place where he will be lodged.

A captain and at least four mounted policemen must accompany him from the station to his lodging or wherever he goes.

A guard of honor of at least a platoon must be stationed at the palace where he lodges.

The national flag must be flown from military headquarters, barracks and other public buildings.

The regulations give also exactly what notes of the bugles and what anthems are to be played in honor of Il Duce.

The order says that in cities where there are naval forces, air force men, customs guards or fascist militia, they must cooperate with the army in furnishing guards and pickets of honor.

These honors, in fact, are customarily given Mussolini wherever he travels inside Italy. The regulation gives them legal effect.

The same regulation provides for the honors to be accorded cardinals It says they are to be considered and treated as princes of reigning houses. The grand master of the Sovereign Order of the Knights of Malta is given the same rank.

1,000,000 EXPECTED TO ATTEND DUBLIN CATHOLIC SESSION

Ireland Plans for Its First Eucharistic Congress Next Month.

POPE MAY OPEN EVENT BY ADDRESS OVER RADIO

Representatives of 50 Nations to Include Church's High Dignitaries.

Dublin, May 21 (A.P.).—Splashed with the scarlet and the violet robes of the princes of the church, a million people, perhaps more, will kneel on the green before a high altar erected in Phoenix Park for the Eucharistic Congress here next month.

The congress will be the thirty-first of its kind, the sixth since the war and the first for Ireland. It was held at Chicago in 1926.

Ireland has been preparing for the event all year, and throughout the month special religious ceremonies will prelude the congress week, June 20 to 26.

On the last day the congress will reach its climax in a solemn pontifical high mass celebrated by the papal legate and a procession through the streets to O'Connell Bridge.

500,000 Visitors Expected.

Scrubbed and newly painted and garlanded with flowers, Dublin expects to welcome something close to half a million visitors during the week.

There will be at least a dozen cardinals, including the four American cardinals, between 400 and 500 archbishops and bishops, and thousands of priests and other minor clergy, including many monks and nuns.

Representatives from nearly 50 nations will crowd the Free State capital, and to provide for the overflow 22 ocean liners will be anchored in Dublin harbor during the congress.

It is possible that Pope Pius may open the congress by radio, and at all events the chief events of the meeting will be broadcast over a special station erected for the occasion by the Free State government.

To Honor St. Patrick.

This congress has a special significance for Ireland, for it is being held on the anniversary year of the landing of St. Patrick in 432, at Saul, and the objects and places associated with his name are expected to receive unusual attention.

It was this missionary to the Irish who implanted in the people the strong faith that has been their heritage for centuries. It is the one great tie binding Irishmen throughout the world to the Emerald Isle.

Today, despite the bitterness of the dispute about the oath of allegiance to King George, it is bringing the factions into the common purpose of making the Eucharistic Congress.

One center of interest for the thousands of American visitors will be the beautiful American Legation, which overlooks the high altar in Phoenix Park.

Cardinal Hayes to Attend.

Cardinal Hayes, of New York, will be the guest there of F A Sterling, United States Minister, during the congress. Mr. and Mrs. Sterling are planning a garden party and a number of luncheons.

The legation is owned by the Free State and was formerly the lodge of the chief secretary for Ireland, under British rule. It is a magnificent Georgian building set in 60 acres of landscaped grounds. The house is about 100 years old, and has 30 rooms.

Frolic Scheduled By Citizens' Group

Southwest Unit Will Stage Colonial Dance on June 16.

A colonial dance and frolic will be given on the night of June 16 at the Neighborhood House, 470 N street southwest, as a Bicentennial celebration of the Southwest Citizens Association.

Besides dancing, there also will be card games, bingo, a colonial fake art gallery, refreshments and grab bags. Mrs. George Fraser will represent Mrs. Martha Washington and John M. Barrett will represent George Washington. Prizes will be awarded for the oldest man who attends, for the prettiest colonial dame, for high scores in card games and a spot prize for the dancers.

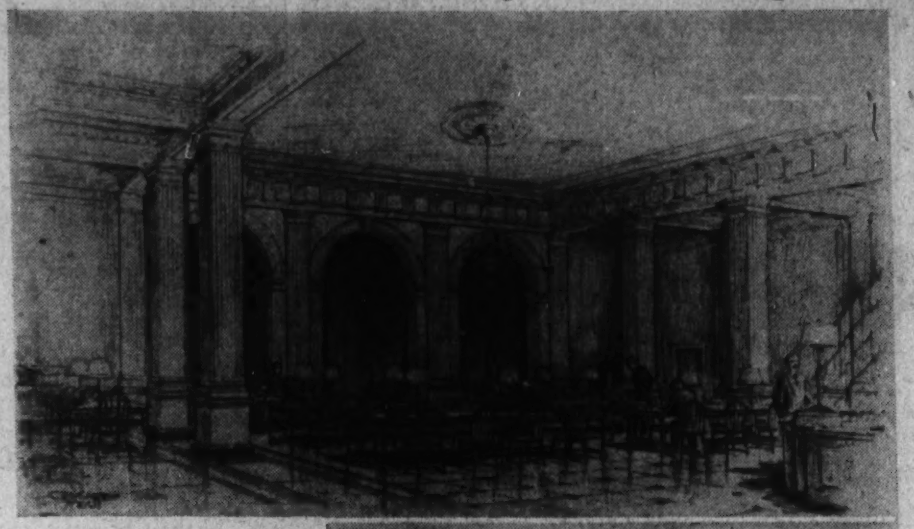
The following committees have been appointed: Mrs. George Washington Davis, chairman of invitations, with Miss Caroline I. Babb and Mrs. Ruth White; Mrs. George Fraser, chairman of refreshments, with Mrs. Ruth White and Mrs. . M. Schaffer; Mrs. Perry Leishear is in charge of the prizes committee, and Maurice B. White is in charge of the decorations committee.

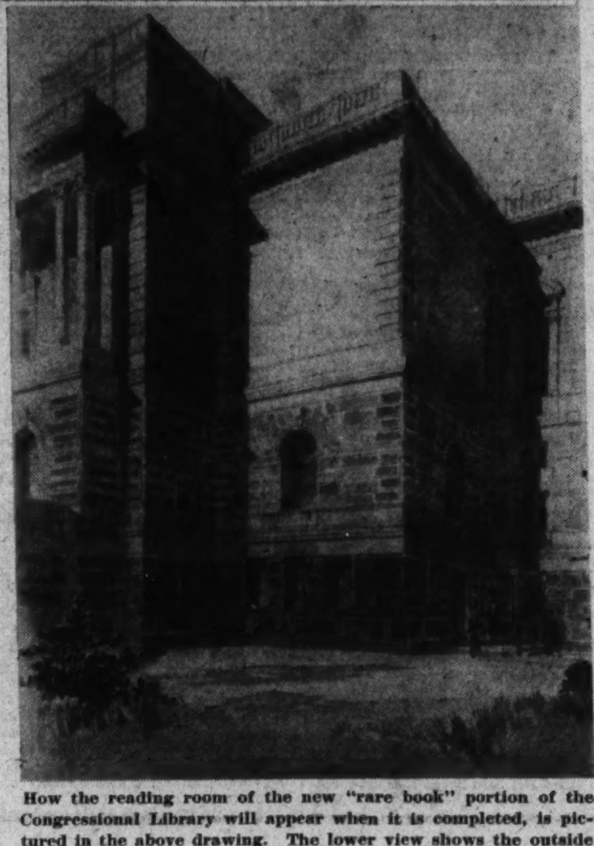
Hitler Ousts Editor Of Nazis' Newspaper

Hamburg, Germany, May 21 (A.P.). Adolf Hitler, leader of the National Socialist party, dismissed Dr. Albert Krebs, chief editor of the Hamburg Tageblatt, National Socialist organ, today for having attacked Gen. Curt von Schleicher, right-hand man of Wilhelm Groener, minister of interior.

Gen. von Schleicher is popularly supposed to be one of those responsible for Herr Groener's retirement from the defense ministry on May 12. He suggested to Herr Groener that the latter's health was such that he ought to resign Dr. Krebs commented after his dismissal that "the National Socialist party does not tolerate any one who presumes to think for himself."

Division of Rare Books Grows Fast at Library of Congress





How the reading room of the new "rare book" portion of the Congressional Library will appear when it is completed, is pictured in the above drawing. The lower view shows the outside features of the addition. Here, the famous Vollbehr collection and other old and historic volumes will rest.

Dr. Herbert Putnam Is Reminiscent of Long Service on Hill.

Is Happily Anticipating Completion of Added Quarters.

By DAVID RANKIN BARBEE.

Dr. Herbert Putnam, Librarian of Congress, does not often grow enthusiastic. As a matter of fact, he has his faculties under perfect control; and I dare say if you were to carry to his office and dump down on his desk in front of him the original manuscripts of Shakespeare's plays and say to him: "Here is a little gift for the library," he would thank you graciously and in faultless English—but never rub the palms of his hands together in his joy over securing such a prize.

Now, this is not to say that Dr. Putnam is a cold, impassive man, for he is not. He has his impulses. I have seen him bestow praise on one of his bright young men in a manner that Napoleon might have envied. And I have felt the warmth of his generous heart betrayed in an ordinary interview. But all the same he usually keeps his enthusiasms to himself.

This rule of his well-ordered life has recently broken down in the face of the fulfillment of a dream of his. For 33 years he has been the Librarian of Congress. When he came here, on that far-off April day in 1899, the library had not long been placed in its great building on Capitol Hill. The collection, huge as it was, did not begin to fill one-third of the shelf space set apart for it. And now it is bursting the walls apart and threatening to overflow into its neighboring houses. This situation was long since anticipated, and Congress made provision not only for an addition to the library, to cover one and a half squares, but also for an enlargement of the present plant. Ol' Man Depression has crimped this program, but it will all be carried through when good times come around again.

Average Reader.

Dr. Putnam's policy, so some of his associates have told me, has been to make the library most useful to the general public, to the average reader; and in carrying it out he has been rather Scottish in his spending of appropriations for rarities. It is only within recent years that general libraries have waked up to the fact that rarities are necessities in the work the are doing. The Library of Congress long ago found this out and began to set aside its rarities technically in the librarian's office, in reality under what is known as the north curtain of the library.

This custom caused all of these items to be catalogued as "Office"—and it will be a long time, perhaps before that classification is abandoned. In the course of time, Dr. Putnam realized, just five years ago. that the library had 20,000 volumes of rare books and pamphlets in his office. Then he acted promptly. surely and wisely. He created a rare book division and continued it, as formerly, as a part of the general reading room.

Rare Book Division.

Having been a book publisher himself and coming from a family of distinguished book publishers, Dr. Putnam went to the trade to get the curator of the new rare book division. He found his man in V. Volta Parma, a member of the firm of Houghton, Mifflin & Co., of Boston, and long their New York representative. Mr. Parma was not just another book man, a good salesman, and something of a scholar.

A native of New York City, a graduate of Cornell and master of arts of Hamilton College, he had specialized in literature and had all the love of books that some artists have caught and thrown on canvas when painting fine old librarians. I imagine Mr. Parma—still a young man—might, in a moment of forgetfulness, climb up on a ladder in some well-ordered private library and sit on its rungs all day and far into the night, reading and glowing over some choice old volume. He could not do that in the Library of Congress, because the shelves are not that high, and no ladders are to be found in the stacks.

A place for the rare book division was found on the top floor of one of the many wings of the library, under the roof and next door to the cubicles in which certain poor scholars hide themselves while doing their work. A series of steel cabinets, fireproof and each locked with a steel door, and a small reading room, which will hold fifteen readers, if they tuck their boots under their chairs, was the equipment of the place. Two small wooden cabinets, each containing six drawers, and no drawer half full, was the complete card index of the collection.

It would be interesting to have a record of the first conversation Dr. Putnam held with Mr. Parma when

Continued on Page 14, Column 3.

WORLD COURT PACT FACING LONG DELAY

Reaches Senate Calendar After 18 Months; Action at Early Date Doubtful.

(Associated Press.)

The World Court protocol is due for a long wait on the Senate calendar, which it has just reached after eighteen months in the foreign relations committee.

A vote at this session is conceded impossible by friend and foe. An agreement to consider the amended resolution of ratification at the next session is sought by advocates.

The agreement is improbable and so is a vote next session, for it will be only three months long.

Nevertheless, proponents of American adherence to the court are cheered by a new victory in the tedious drive. The foreign relations committee approved the revised protocol, 11 to 9, after adding some very pointed—if not disputed—reservations.

Senator Walsh (Democrat), Montana, who led the successful fight in committee, is now seeking the agreement for action next session. With Senator Fess (Republican), Ohio, he will present the report on the protocol to the Senate early this week

But the determined opposition, led by Chairman Borah, of the foreign relations committee, and Senators Johnson, of California, and Moses, of New Hampshire, smile at the suggestion of an agreement.

JUDD OPPOSES BILLS ON HAWAII CONTROL

Island Governor Sees Great Disaster in Proposals of Senator Bingham.

(Associated Press.)

An assertion that "no greater disaster could befall any part of our country" than enactment of three measures to strengthen Federal control over Hawaii was contained in a report by Gov. Lawrence Judd of Hawaii.

Among the bills to which Judd objected were three by Senator Bingham (Republican), Connecticut, carrying out recommendations of Assistant Attorney General Seth W. Richardson. Richardson investigated conditions in the island as a result of the attack on the wife of a naval officer and the subsequent killing of a native accused of the crime.

Judd objected particularly to a bill which would remove all residential requirements for Hawaiian officials.

Senator Bingham said yesterday he introduced this at the request of Rchardson and "did not believe in it" himself.

The other two bills which Judd said would bring "disaster" if enacted propose that the attorney general of the islands be appointed by the President of the United States instead of the Hawaiian governor; and that the territorial high sheriff also be appointed by the President and be given the privilege of appointing his own police force.

Hostess for Conventions To Wear Butterfly Sign

Mrs. Bertha Baur, Official Welcomer for Both Party Gatherings in Chicago, to Have Favorite Emblem When Delegates Assemble.

(Associated Press.)

A butterfly, instead of an elephant or a donkey, is to be the tactful symbol worn by Mrs. Bertha Baur, welcoming hostess to both the Republican and Democratic conventions in Chicago.

Mrs. Baur, formerly secretary to four of Chicago's postmasters, takes the gay-hued butterfly as her symbol of life.

Bavarian ancestors bequeathed to her a love of beauty, light and gaiety. She has butterflies embroidered on her linen, she wears jeweled ones on her gowns, a wrought-iron butterfly holds the doorbell of her home and painted ones dot the walls of her telephone booths.

Though Mrs. Bauer is a Republican, friends say she will play hostess to the Democrats with equal grace. She is chairman of the women's division of the Chicago citizens' welcoming committee for both conventions.

Mrs. Baur's life story reads somewhat like that of Cinderella. From a working girl she has risen to a position of importance in the business political and social worlds She started as secretary to the president of the Midland Railroad, in Anderson, Ind., then went to the Republican national committee headquarters in Chicago.

She entered the postal service as assistant and secretary to Postmaster Charles U. Gordon, a post never before given a woman. From 1897 to 1908 she was secretary to four Chicago postmasters, and under Frederick A. Busse, who was injured in a railroad wreck, she was practically the postmaster.

At her brilliant wedding to Jacob Baur, in Chicago in 1908, the bridegroom's wedding gift to her was a butterfly of pearls and diamonds, which she had once admired, as a poor working girl, through the frosty window of a jeweler's shop.

DIPLOMAT PLEADS FOR COOPERATION OF TWO AMERICAS

"New World Patriotism" Is Urged by Envoy Here From El Salvador.

FRIENDLY ROLE OF U. S. IS GIVEN HIGH PRAISE

South American Countries Developing Own Culture Stressed in Book.

By HARRY W. FRANTZ, U. P. S. C. (United Press).

Antonio Reyes-Guerra, formerly Minister of El Salvador at London and charge d'affaires of the legation here, has published an appeal to Latin-American countries for a continental spirit of confidence and appreciation not only toward each other but the United States of America. He would banish the old concept of the "colossus of the North."

In a book entitled "Salvemos Neustra America," issued here, he has developed the idea that Latin Americans and Saxon Americans have common interests in the preservation of the New World which transcend any possible motives for antagonism, and has suggested what might be termed a "New World patriotism."

Senor Reyes-Guerra believes that unintelligent political elements in some Latin-American countries have furthered their own ends by giving encouragement to an artificial sentiment of misconfidence toward the United States of America, and he has endeavored to counteract such sentiment by a philosophical exposition of the reasons for a general spirit of fraternity and a review of the altruistic achievements of the North American people.

Desire to Serve Expressed.

"It is my desire to serve the interests of the Latin-American people and the Saxon Americans, to whom destiny has confided the preservation of this beautiful region of the world, to counteract the unworthy sentiments that separate them unduly, and to promote their mutual understanding and their cordial rapprochement," he said.

After reviewing historical instances where certain Latin-American tyrants sought to advance their fortunes by exploiting popular misconfidence toward the United States, Senor Reyes-Guerra said:

"Why maintain hatred against a powerful neighbor country which is not annexationist and which can communicate to us its civilization and associate us to its prosperity and order? Why curse that great country if with its neighborliness it gives us honor and useful example?

"The United States displayed its protective and altruistic purpose throughout the world, with generosity beyond historical precedent. The American Red Cross, the Rockefeller Institute, and the Carnegie Institution particularly scattered good with unparalleled prodigality through all parts of the globe, spontaneously and nobly. No other country does that, or even less."

Senor Reyes-Guerra insists that the policy which he commends does not imply any ill will toward Germany, France, England, Spain or other nations.

Urges Hatred for None.

"Hatred for none," he said; "not even for those arrogant nations who consider us worthy only to be their tributaries. Without ceasing to be strong and preserving in defense of our homes, let us free our souls from the vulgarity of the market place and elevate them to the heights of dignity above the brutalizing illusions of low passion.

"Spain especially we can not hate. It is true that the repeated chant of that nation toward the Spanish-speaking republics of America—the same tender love that the mother feels for a child—is a pure lyrical composition, but it is important to remember that our language, much of our blood, many of our virtues and some of our defects are of Spanish origin."

Senor Reyes-Guerra in turn sees a responsibility upon the United States to cultivate the sympathy of Latin-American countries and to develop ties of interest that guarantee intimate relations. The future of this country, he believes, does not lie in Europe.

"Its relations," he says, "are with the other countries of America, the effective base of consolidation for North American greatness, and at the same time necessary foundation for the happy evolution of this new people. These countries must not yet enter into decadence; they have commenced their development and only require for its perfect growth the pure air of liberty together with substantial and sane spiritual nourishment. The United States by approaching them gently to aid in their necessities will not contaminate itself with enervating lassitude, but will better fortify its vigorous and enterprising spirit. And the Latin-American nations, conscious of their duties, will know how to respond with eternal gratitude for benefits received."

Farm Bureau Delegates Will Besiege Congress

Chicago May 21 (A.P.).—Representatives of the American Farm Bureau Federation, the Illinois Agricultural Association and the Iowa Farm Bureau announced tonight they will leave tomorrow for Washington to stay there "until Congress does something to raise the price of farm products."

"Farmers are in the market for almost everything, but they have no money to buy" said Earl C. Smith, president of the Illinois Agricultural Association. "If farmers get better prices, every kind of business would improve. There must be more concerted effort and determination in Congress. We shall insist that Congress does something before adjournment."

BAPTISTS' SESSIONS WILL OPEN TUESDAY

Columbia Churches' Group to Hear Chicago Pastor and Missionary.

The fifty-fifth annual meeting of the Columbia Association of Baptist Churches will be held at the Calvary Baptist Church, Eighth and H streets northwest, with sessions lasting through the days of Tuesday and Wednesday.

The meeting will be opened Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock by the Rev. J. S. Potter. The annual sermon will be delivered by the Rev. J. Wesley Loftis, of the Silver Spring (Md.) Baptist Church. Among the participants in the program will be the Rev. M. P. German, the Rev. W. S. Abernethy, the Rev. C. B. Austin, the Rev. G. G. Johnson and the Rev. F. B. Harris.

The keynote address of the day will be delivered by the Rev. Allyn K. Foster, of Chicago, who will tell the meeting about the Southern Baptist convention.

The meeting Wednesday will be opened by Mrs. George A. Ross and will be conducted by the wives of ministers attending the meeting. Mrs. E. H. Cressy, wife of the Rev. Earl H. Cressy, of Shanghai, China, has been engaged in missionary work with the American Baptist Foreign Mission Society. She will talk on "Women's Work In China."

At 5:45 p. m. W. W. Everett will address the group at a banquet. His topic will be "The Need and Value of a Men's Organization in Washington." C. C. Tillinghast, headmaster of the Horace Mann School for Boys at Columbia University, also will speak at the banquet.

Girl at Business High Wins Scholastic Award

At a recent assembly at Business High School, Miss May Bradshaw presented to Shirley Rowe the awards sent to her by the Scholastic Magazine and the Quill and Scroll press.

Shirley Rowe competed with students in 4,000 high schools over the United States in the eighth annual contest. Her article was written on the Folger Memorial Library. The Scholastic combined with other magazines on this award, and sent Miss Rowe a substantial check. The Quill and Scroll Press, for the same article, sent her a portable typewriter.

Rock Creek Revel Held By Junior Girl Scouts

The annual revel of the Brownies, the Junior Girl Scouts, was held yesterday in Rock Creek Park in which 125 children participated.

The picnic was held under the auspices of the local Girl Scout headquarters, and the troops attending were: Pack 1, of Chevy Chase, Md.; Pack 3, of Holton Arms School; Pack 4, of Southeast Washington; Pack 5, of Friendship; Pack 7, of Chevy Chase, Md.; Pack 8, of Michigan Park, and Pack 9, of Northwest Washington.

Recall Against Mayor Of Portland, Oreg., Fails

Portland, Oreg., May 21 (A.P.).—An attempt to recall Mayor George L. Baker failed in Friday's election. With 426 precincts counted out of 495 in the city the result was: For the recall, 31,145; against the recall, 36,621.

City Commissioner John H. Mann, however, was snowed under by the recall vote which was: For the recall, 42,542; against the recall, 23,711. The two officials were accused of negligence and inefficiency in office.

Wine Flows in Gutters As Storage Plant Burns

Santa Rosa, Calif., May 21 (A.P.).—Gutters flowed with wine today as the Grace Bros. ice and cold storage plant here burned with a loss in excess of $500,000.

Sacramental wine totaling 400,000 gallons, was stored in a bonded winery adjoining the plant. As the building burned the wine ran into the streets. Firemen at times waded ankle deep in it. Crowds salvaged the liquor in cans, bottles, buckets and hats.

Murray Hits Tendency Of Centralized Regime

Albany, N. Y., May 21 (A.P.).—Gov. William H. Murray of Oklahoma, who would like to be President but is convinced he stands no chance, reverently unfolded the blue flag of his Southwestern State today on the Revolutionary War battle grounds of eastern New York.

As the banner fluttered into its place with flags of 47 other States above the Saratoga battlefield, the Western executive issued a warning against too great centralization of power in the Federal Government.

Sales Tax Is Demanded By National Advertisers

Cincinnati, May 21 (A.P.).—a demand for a sales tax, rather than any other method of producing emergency revenues, was made today in a resolution at the annual convention of the Association of National Advertisers, an organization of the leading buyers of advertising.

Other levies were considered inadequate, unfair and discriminatory. At the same time, reduction of governmental expenditures and balancing of the Federal budget were termed "fundamentally necessary" to end unemployment and restore business confidence.

FAMOUS MINE TOWN TO BE REJUVENATED

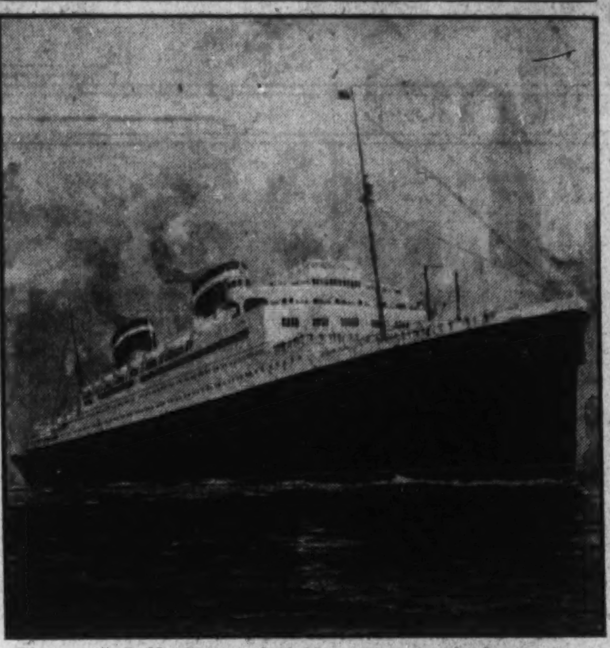
City they will ride in ancient carriages. Some of the men will ride burros.

The history of Central City presents a fascinating chapter in the annals of the West. Pullman wasn't the only man to start on the road to fame and fortune here. W. L. Douglas, who became the shoe manufacturer, was the town cobbler. They say that Oscar Wilde was once here, to lecture the miners.

The cabin still stands were "Baby Doe" Tabor lived before she met that croesus of the West—the late Senator H. A. W. Tabor—whom she married in a ceremony attended by President Arthur.

The revival next month is being sponsored by the University of Denver and the Denver Art Museum.

UNITED STATES LINE'S NEWEST



The new S. S. Manhattan of 30,000 gross tons, the largest liner ever built in the United States, which is to join the transatlantic fleet of the United States Lines this summer. The picture is from a painting by Worden Wood. The Manhattan will sail from New York on her maiden voyage on August 10.

RARE BOOK DIVISION GROWS FAST AT LIBRARY OF CONGRESS

Continued from Page 13.

he checked in and started to work. I imagine it ran something like this: "The library, dear Mr. Parma, is devoted to the public. Our first efforts are to serve, and serve pleasantly and intelligently. You have a small collection of old books to start with. I think you will find some more on the shelves that have been overlooked. We want you to build the collection up on a firm, sure foundation."

That was pretty much like turning a man loose and telling him to make his own place. In five years the little card index has grown until now the steel cabinets that hold it would fill the walls of an average office; there are 60,000 volumes on the shelves, and 20,000 old pamphlets. And Mr. Parma is still trotting around the Library, almost every day finding some rarity. He has no regular route he follows.

In a sense he reminds me of Dr. Paul Bartsch, the malocologist, who told me that every time he left his office in the National Museum he went a different route through the great collection, hoping he would see something he had never seen before, and never being disappointed. Whenever he goes from one division to another, Mr. Parma changes his route and idles a few moments in the stacks and usually picks up an old book that is almost priceless.

Created New Division.

Not only has he done this; not only has he, in a large measure, created a new and interesting division in the library, but he has probably a better knowledge of what the books in the rare book division are, a completer understanding of their contents and of their importance, than any man on the library staff or in this country. His idea has been not so much to get hold of old books, but to make collections of rare books, and make them useful to readers. Therefore, he has built up the finest collection of books written by Benjamin Franklin and printed by Benjamin Franklin in existence. In the collection is one item that has no duplicate anywhere.

There are two or three finer Poe collections in other places, but he has brought together a very good one and has one Poe item—a first edition of "Murders in the Rue Morgue," a presentation copy by Poe—which sold originally for 12½ cents and was priced the other day at $60,000; and it is the only such item (a perfect copy) in existence.

A few days ago Mr. Parma stopped in a little used stack for no known reason, and began to pull down books whose bindings indicated the era in which they came to the library. In the lot he found a "lost book," about which bibliographers have written and which none of them had ever seen. It is a work written by one Samuel Mullinax, first printed in Ireland, and reprinted in Boston in 1691. Who can compute its value?

Rarest of Rare Books.

If you were to ask Mr. Parma or Dr. Putnam, what is the rarest rare book in the collection, one or both might shrug his shoulders—they might shrug together if they were together—and then with one movement go to one of the steel cases and withdraw cautiously. Thevet's "Singularitez"—a French work, in which tobacco, the American bison and the pineapple are first mentioned. There are only two copies of this edition, printed in 1557, known to exist, and the other is in the Huntingdon Library, at San Marino, Calif. A later edition of the same work is in other libraries.

If they did not show you this work, they might tell you, with a sly wink, that the first American books were not printed in New England; nor was the Dale Press set up at Williamsburg, Va., the first press established on this continent. To prove it, they would go to another steel case and just as cautiously withdraw a book that was printed in Mexico City by the Jesuits 100 years or more before any thrifty Puritan in New England had learned to stick type. I imagine the Jesuits would give Georgetown University to possess this book. They can start another college any day; but first editions of sixteenth century Jesuit publications are scarcer than hen's teeth.

It was never Dr. Putnam's idea, I feel certain, just to have a rare book division, as an advertisement for the Library of Congress. His vision looked way ahead, when the library could have a proper housing for its rare book division, built with a quiet dignity in keeping with the richness and rarity of the growing collection; something that would be as far in advance of other libraries as the present building was at the head of its class when it was built in 1896. What he saw was the dream that caused him to break into enthusiasm while he was describing it to me the other day.

Mrs. Browning's Visit.

Perhaps I can best describe it with a little story. One day two years ago I saw an elderly and cultured lady wheeled in a roller chair into the rare book division. Mr. Parma met her with all the grace of a plumed knight. Dismissing the attendant, he wheeled her down the alley to one of the steel cases, unlocked the door, and gently pushed her in. Then he left her. After a while he went back and wheeled her out. It was a very beautiful scene.

When the lady had retired, Mr. Parma came over to my desk and said: "That lady is the widow of Robert Browning's only son. She is going back to England to spend her last days, and came here this morning to bid her books good-by."

Mrs. Browning, an American lady, on the death of her husband brought the library of the Brownings to this country. Part of it—the larger part—she gave to her alma mater, Vassar. The other part she gave to the Library of Congress. In the latter collection is a first edition of every one of the Browning works—the only one in existence, perhaps; and a number of books autographed by the authors, given to her on her wedding day by friends of Robert and Elizabeth Barrett Browning.

Most Beautiful Room.

When the addition on the east side of the library is completed, the library will have the most beautiful room, or collection of rooms, anywhere in the world, in which this rare book division will be housed. It will be an invitation to anybody and everybody who has such a collection as the Browning collection to come to the library and say: "Here, take care of this for me till the end of time. You can do it better than anybody else, and I can die dead and go to heaven now without misgivings, knowing that my precious books will be in good hands."

When Dr. Putnam dreamed this dream he called in W. C. Bond, the superintendent of the building, who is an architect, and has been associated with the library for 26 years, and talked it out with him. Then they talked it out with Mr. Parma and got his reaction to it. And little by little the idea grew until it took definite shape.

It having been decided to add to the present building a room to care for the growing union catalogue division, that was the starting point, and gradually one thing after another was added to the program, until one day the vision of the rare book division flitted into the thoughts of the consultants and it was decided to run the addition to the top of the present structure and make the rare book division the center of it, as the reading room now is the center of the main building.

Preservation of Books.

In the planning the Bureau of Standards was called on to make certain tests for the preservation of old books, and the results of its tests were written into the plans which Mr. Bond first sketched out. These plans were then turned over to Pierson & Wilson, Washington consulting architects, and Alexander B. Trowbridge, the consultant on the Folger Shakespeare Library, was called in. After these gentlemen had done their work, David Lynn and his staff had to check and double check on the plans, and then the Fine Arts Commission had to approve them.

Work had already started on the addition. Jacobson Bros. & Co., of Chicago, have the contract, which is to be completed in thirteen months, but the contractors think much sooner than that. The job will cost $1,123,000.

On the basement level will be located the mailing and shipping divisions, stationery and stock rooms, storage space, and a garage. On the first floor the union catalogue division, the bibliography division, together with large work areas and offices. On the very top floor will be housed the Slavic division.

Exhibition Hall.

On the second floor the rare book division, with an exhibition hall, book stacks to house 150,000 volumes, a reading room that will accommodate 150 readers without having to tuck their feet under their chairs, and offices for the curator and his staff. This room will be built in early colonial architecture—and it will be a dream!

Its construction is in the nature of a fireproof steel shell, air conditioned, burglar proof, with great bronze doors, and everything known to science added that will protect the books and preserve them. I could write quite a column of good stuff about this feature of the architecture alone.

When it is completed it will be the loveliest corner in the library and the most unique feature in any library in the world. It will be one of the show places in the library, and poor scholars who use it will be set apart from the drift of the human tide which flows on and on day after day through the portals of that incomparable university.

Is it any wonder that Dr. Putnam's self-control broke down for a moment when he began to talk about this addition to the Nation's great library? The famous Vollbehr collection gets a proper home at last!

Steamer Manitoba Runs Aground.

Owen Sound, Ontario, May 21 (A.P.).—The steamer Manitoba, of the Canadian Pacific Railroad, ran aground in Georgian Bay, about 5 miles west of Cape Croker on the Bruce Pininsula, early today. She was reported in no danger.

CAMP LETTS OPENS JUNE 24 FOR YOUTHS

Y. M. C. A. Announces Many Improvements Complete for 1932 Season.

Its appearance, drastically changed by numerous improvements effected under an expansion program, Camp Letts, Y. M. C. A. vacation haven for Washington boys on the Rhodes River, near Annapolis, will open for the 1932 season on June 24, it was announced yesterday.

J. C. Ingram, director of the boys' department of the Washington Y. M. C. A. and a national authority on camping, will be in charge of the 217-acre camp. It will be his fourth year as camp director.

Aided by continued benefactions of John C. Letts, retired merchant for whom the camp is named, and by generosity of several organizations, camp officials have embarked on an ambitious five-year building program, the first units of which now are being completed.

Five of a group of log-type cabins, with modern improvements, unknown in pioneer days, will be ready for the new season. The cabins will form a large semicircle overlooking the river and, in the distance, Chesapeake Bay. They are well screened

A broad, scientifically planned athletic field will greet the campers this year. This development is the gift of the Washington Lions Club. The field, graded and drained, is encircled by a running track and accommodates two baseball diamonds and four tennis courts.

The shore line of the big peninsula has been cleared and protected from erosion.

A new water system of pressure type, with 65-foot tank tower, has been constructed, sanitation has been improved and a new electric lighting plant has been installed.

Other improvements include reconditioning and repainting of the recreation hall, mess hall and other buildings.

The camp is for boys from 10 to 18 years old. Registration is in charge of Director Ingram, at 1732 G street.

Missing Man and Girl Still Sought in Virginia

Special to The Washington Post.

Martinsburg, W. Va., May 21.—Police and relatives were without encouragement today in their hunt for J. D. Vansant, 54 years old, of Harpers Ferry, and Frances Grove, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Grove, who are believed to have disappeared Thursday together.

A request for police search was made by the girl's father here yesterday, but up to late today neither police, the girl's father or Vansant's home had any leads. A description of the missing pair was broadcast yesterday. Mrs. Vansant, it was learned today, has gone to Washington to confer with her brother, an attorney.

CAPITAL ECHOES

By EDWARD T. FOLLIARD

Continued from Page 13.

two. On the other hand, if it is Newton D. Baker or some other candidate more to the liking of the anti-Roosevelt faction, Raskob will loosen up.

* * * *

IN 1928 Raskob gave $129,000 to aid Al Smith's candidacy. Later he gave and loaned large sums to rehabilitate the party and make it the fighting force it is today.

Next to Raskob, the largest contributor in 1928 was Al Smith's boon friend, William F. Kenny, the New York contractor, who gave $107,000.

Kenny still is a wealthy man. He proved this not so long ago by paying a barber to travel all the way from New York to London just to give him a hair cut. But Kenny can't be counted on to give $107,000 in 1932—not with Al Smith out of it.

* * * *

HUGE campaign funds date back to the first McKinley-Bryan campaign of 1896, when, with Mark Hanna in charge, the Republicans spent $3,500,000 to put the Ohio man in the White House. Against this sum, the Democrats were only able to raise $675,000.

Since 1896 the presidential candidate with the most money behind him has, with one exception, been the victor at the polls. In 1916 Woodrow Wilson won over Charles Evans Hughes, although the latter was backed by twice as much money.

In the report of the Steiwer committee, which investigated campaign expenditures after the 1928 election, is found the following table citing amounts expended in behalf of Republican and Democratic candidates from 1896 to 1924, inclusive:

1896	McKinley	$3,500,000
	Bryan	675,000
1900	McKinley	2,500,000
	Bryan	425,000
1904	Roosevelt	1,900,000
	Parker	700,000
1908	Taft	1,655,518
	Bryan	900,000
1912	Wilson	1,130,000
	Taft	1,070,000
	Roosevelt	670,000
1916	Wilson	1,958,000
	Hughes	3,829,000
1920	Harding	5,319,729
	Cox	1,318,374
1924	Coolidge	3,063,952
	Davis	903,908
	La Follette	221,977

In 1928, the amount expended in behalf of the Republican ticket was nearly $10,000,000; the amount expended in behalf of the Democratic ticket, $7,000,000.

Three Men Severely Hurt as Car Overturns

When the car in which they were riding ran off the Marlboro pike near Forestville and overturned early yesterday, three men received broken bones and other injuries.

They are John F. Leggan, of Marlboro, possible fractured skull and broken left ankle; Harry Green, 1669 Columbia road northwest, broken ribs, cuts and bruises, and Lewis Daingerfield, 2017 Hillyer place northeast, both legs broken. They were taken to Casualty Hospital by the Marlboro unit of the Prince Georges County Rescue Squad.

Italy, Land of Sunshine. Profligate With Beauty

Ancient Cities Rich With Legends and Art of Olden Times; Nature Shows Her Most Magnificent Charms.

By DARRELL PRESTON AUB.

Our group of Washingtonians, on our imaginary tour of Europe, now has reached Italy, the land which, since time immemorial, has been the goal of conquerors and adventurers. The fruitfulness of her meadows and vineyards, the majesty of her scenery, the kindness of her inhabitants and the glory of her sunshine lure an endless stream of eager seekers of beauty. A succession of civilizations—Etruscan, Greek, Phoenician and Roman—has left to Italy, from the snow-clad Alps to the fertile shores of sunny Sicily, an unimaginable wealth of art—churches, palaces, monuments, paintings, masterpieces of sculpture—all witnesses of its glorious past.

Its glorious present, too, is thoroughly enjoyable. Music lovers have a fine time in Italy. The scenes of operas and the native towns of composers are everywhere. And lovers of art, for you there is Michael Angelo, Raphael and Cellini, and the great masters of the Renaissance!

We go to Rome—the Eternal City—which keeps the archives of the world of which it was once the absolute mistress. It is a world of art and history of which no one has succeeded in giving a complete representation, although great poets with hearts swelling with emotion have glorified it from Dante, Petrarch and Tasso, to Byron, Renan and Shelley. The most notable heritage is the Roman Forum, in which are buildings such as the Basilicas of Julius Caesar, Amelius Paullus and Constantine the Great; the Temples of Caesar, Venus and others and the superb Arch of Titus. Outside the forum are buildings such as the Arch of Constantine, the Colosseum and the Forum, the Column of Trajan, Castle of St. Angelo and the Pantheon.

Much research and digging actually is being done in Rome to unearth even more of its glorious past. The demolition of buildings now being carried on between the Capitoline Hill and the Fara will shortly include the pulling down of a small isolated block on the old Via Salaria, of which the Convent of the Mercedari, annexed to the Church of St. Adrian, forms a part. This is important, for behind the church are the remains of an ancient Roman building, the famous Curia, where the senate held its sessions.

But Rome is a vivid, living city of today as well as yesterday—these memories and ghosts of the past were evoked by our seeing the monuments and mementos of a by-gone era. The natives of Rome live modern lives, unconscious of the Appian Way or the Colosseum. The modernizing effect of its energetic government can be seen everywhere.

Milan, an important tourist center and the gateway of the idyllic Italian lakes, is visited by our party. This city is at once modern and ancient. It is the "capital of Italian progress" and the second largest city in Italy. It is also a treasure house of old and beautiful things.

From Milan we go to the Italian lakes, traveling by rail to Bellagio, on Lake Como. A rare and distinctive beauty characterizes the Italian lakes and the undulating country in which they are situated, a beauty which has inspired poets. The gleaming sapphire waters, their wooded shores, the luxurious vegetation, the amazing variety of flowers, the historic villas and the quaint medieval villages—all of this forms a perfect picture which is unforgettable.

Our trail through this lovely lake land leads by steamer and motor through seven towns and four lakes, the jewels of this part of Europe.

Our first town in the lake district is Bellagio, a small town delightfully situated on a wooded promontory separating Lake Como from Lake Lecco. Lake Como, which is 32 miles in length, is considered one of the most beautiful lakes in the Alps. It is about 656 feet above sea level and is shaped like the letter "Y," with its base pointing north.

On the west shore and at a central point is the little town of Menaggio, more actually a village, well-beloved by English and Americans—the services in its little church are even in English. Close by are the famous Villa Mylius and Vigoni, and at Croce is a clubhouse and an 18-hole golf course.

Lake Lugano is like Lake Lucerne in shape; it is a union of gulfs, the main one commencing at Porlezza, and one of its main branches descending to Ponte Tresa, both of which towns we visit and where we embark on our steamers. Here we find a most delightful climate, an almost continual spring, and very lovely and diversified scenery. The side of the lake on which is situated the town of Lugano, is Swiss, and part of the opposite shore is Italian.

Lugano is an old Italian town with picturesque, tortuous arcaded streets. Its vegetation is subtropical and its scenery noted for its brilliant coloring and intrinsic beauty. There are many old buildings and churches through which visitors like to wander, and many of them do, for Lugano is the tourist center for the Lombardy Alps and lake district. There is the Palazzo Civico and the Church of San Lorenzo of the fifteenth century. In the Church of Santa Maria degli Angioli are good frescoes. And to while away the starlit, flower-scented evenings, there is a Kursaal, with theater, concerts and gaming rooms.

We now find ourselves on Lake Maggiore, which extends from north to south for about 40 miles. It is curious that this lake is green at the north end and becomes deep blue in color toward the south. The loveliest part of this lovely lake is the bay on the west side, where the Borromea Islands rest lightly upon it. In spite of hundreds of reproductions by artists and photographers, these islands must be seen to be really loved and remembered. They are the original "Fairy Isles" afar.

Luino, on this lake, is a busy little place on the frontier, where Italian and Swiss customs examinations are made. It also boasts splendid frescoes in its Church of Santa Pietro.

Stresa, our last town on the lakes, has justly been named "the beauty spot of Lake Maggiore." It is situated on the widest part of the lake, close to the Borromean Islands. Here are the summer palaces of Queen Margherita, the Duke and Duchess of Genoa, and many fine villas of the Italian nobility.

SWAMPSCOTT HOTEL OPENED FOR SEASON

New Ocean House Is Within Center of Historic Area of Massachusetts.

As long as the New Ocean House at Swampscott, Mass., situated in one of the most beautiful scenic spots of New England, operates as the leading resort hotel representing the perfection of refinement, home comforts, and modern recreational opportunities, the Massachusetts North Shore will never cease to be an attraction to visitors from all over the country.

On May 12 this renowned hostelry opened its doors for another season under the direction of Clement E. Kennedy, president, who is also well known as manager-director of the Vinoy Park Hotel in St. Petersburg, Fla.

Exceptionally good motor roads and convenient trasportation service bring the most famous historic places within easy reach of Swampscott. Indeed the town itself is at the center of the great historic area of New England! Nahant, Marblehead, Salem, Gloucester, and other landmarks are but short drives from the New Ocean House, and Cambridge, Concord, and Lexington are close by. The charm of this part of New England is that it has conserved the old landmarks so appropriately.

The New Ocean House is all that a modern hotel should be—and a little more, for here is strikingly conserved the old New England spirit of hospitality which characterized the traditional homes of our wealthy forefathers.

Southern Railway Adding Pullmans

Crescent Limited to Carry Double Bedroom Cars on New Orleans Run.

A double bedroom and a private section are two recent developments in sleeping car construction. The new comfort additions have been made a regular feature in accomodations on the Crescent Limited, according to an announcement by Southern Railway officials.

On trains leaving New York and New Orleans on the line a car containing three double bedrooms and ten open sections will be placed on each train. The cost of these accomodations will be less than that of drawing rooms or compartments. The double bedrooms are furnished with normal size beds, which may be converted into a comfortable sofa. The private sections are screened by heavy velour curtains.

Ten section lounge cars have also been placed in service on the Piedmont Limited from Washington to New Orleans.

Fishing for Trout Is Carolina Lure

Well-Stocked Brooks Near Asheville Are Attracting Many Anglers.

The opening of the trout fishing season on April 15 has attracted many anglers to the vicinity of Asheville, N. C., where the well-stocked trout brooks of three game preserves, Mount Mitchell, Daniel Boone and Wayah Bald Refuge, are being opened for short periods during the remaining days of May. Other streams will be open to anglers until September 1.

Attracting a number of visitors to the locality is a new North Carolina highway. A total of 200 automobiles traveled over the new road in one day after it was opened to traffic, and an increased number of motorists are expected to drive over the road as the summer season progresses.

The fifth annual rhododendron festival, which will be held in Asheville June 15 to 17, will be celebrated with floats, speed boat races and floral displays. A feature of the pageant of flowers will be the coronation of the Rhododendron King and Queen.

"Mystery Train" Now Introduced

Unannounced Resort Used as Lure by Southern on Excursion Run.

In these days of acute transportation competition the railroads are experimenting with all manner of reduced fares and excursions with the view of having the traveling public become train conscious. The latest effort is a "mystery outing train" to be operated by the Southern Railway Company from Washington on June 5 wherein the destination of the train is unannounced. The crew and passengers all travel under sealed orders, remaining on the train until invited to disembark, which will be their destination.

A very nominal rate is charged which will cover transportation and a good old fashioned barbecue dinner.

They will be taken to a resort where bathing will be possible, also picnicking, hiking, music and similar amusements, and returned home at an early hour in the evening.

Anglers Are Attracted By Fishing at Bermuda

Bermuda fish are snapping up the bait cast over the sunny reefs of the island by enthusiasts of the rod and reel, according to recent reports. Barracuda, lizardfish, hogfish, chub and amberfish are easily hooked, but anglers have a hard fight when the piscatorial suckers feel the tug of the line.

The dean of all the scrappers is the rockfish, which sometimes weigh 100 pounds, and can always be relied upon to put up a stiff fight. The green moray is said to be a menace to the equanimity of lolling fishermen, having been rumored in one instance to have chased two men up the mast of their boat when it prematurely landed in the vessel. One of the species bit a piece out of a 1-inch plank in a struggle for liberty.

Nazi Named Premier of Anhalt.

Dessau, Germany, May 21 (A.P.).—Counselor Freyberg, of Quedlinburg, a National Socialist, was elected premier of Anhalt by the new state diet today. Dr. Knorr, of Dessau, a Nationalist, was named as the state's minister at Berlin.

Profitable Season Seen For Resorts in Maine

The vacation season in Maine has opened several weeks earlier than in previous years, according to reports of the Maine Development Commission. Hundreds of summer cottages have been opened, and public utilities have noticed a number of early applications for light and power service.

RESORTS

Maine

At the Salt Water's Edge
SPARHAWK HALL
Ogunquit · · Maine
Surf Bathing, Golf, Tennis, Saddle Horses, Fishing, State Roads, Orchestra, Elevator, Sprinkler System.
June 25 to Sept. 15
MRS. R. P. H. JACOBS, Owner
T. H. MURPHY, Manager

Rehoboth Beach, Del.

SHOCK COTTAGE, 8 Olive Avenue, 3 doors from Boardwalk. Large, airy rooms and best board, $2.50 per day—to parties. Mrs. Mary E. Downes, Box 55, Rehoboth, Del.

Virginia Beach, Va.

NEWCASTLE Ocean Front at 12th St., Va. Beach
Modern. Delightful informal atmosphere. Fine surf bathing. Excellent meals. Ocean front dining room.
Write, or Phone 792 for Rates, Reservations, Etc.
Geo. M. Modlin, Mgr.

Pennsylvania

EAGLES MERE
"The Loveliest Spot in Pennsylvania"
Is on the summit of the Alleghanies, 2,200 feet above the sea. Here are ideal bathing, boating, canoeing, two rarely beautiful golf courses, one of 18 holes and one of 9, numerous tennis courts, and many other recreational facilities, both outdoors and in. For details write
The Raymond—Henry E. Kirk, Jr.
The Crestmont Inn—William Woods.
The Edgemere—Miss E. E. Peschmann
The Forest Inn—Henry E. Kirk, Jr.
The Lakeside—J. S. Kirk & Son.

STEAMSHIPS

The DeLuxe Gateway to All Europe
MEDITERRANEAN
GIBRALTAR · PALERMO · NAPLES
GENOA · NICE (Villefranche)
Conte BIANCAMANO
JUNE 10* JULY 16*
Conte GRANDE
JUNE 28 JULY 30
Stopover privileges. Write for booklet. *Omits Palermo.
ITALIAN LINE
Apply LLOYD SABAUDO 3 State St., N. Y. C.
Or Local Agent

MEDITERRANEAN DE LUXE SERVICE
Without change of ship, to the RIVIERA · ITALY · EGYPT
PALESTINE · SYRIA
NEW Triple-Turbine Liners. (16000 Tons Displ.)
Exochorda May 21 Exeter June 28
Excalibur June 14 Excambion July 12
AND FORTNIGHTLY THEREAFTER
ONE WAY
To Marseilles, Naples, now $160
To Alexandria, Jaffa, Haifa and Beirut, now $230
43 Day Cruise, now . . . $460
[illegible]
American Export Lines
The Export Steamship Corp.
Keyser Building, Baltimore

STEAMSHIPS

LONG-DISTANCE TRIP!
3,500 miles at sea, visit Jacksonville, Miami, Savannah, Norfolk and Boston, only $73.
From Baltimore and return; greatly reduced fare includes excellent meals, comfortable berth on ship. An incomparable all-water vacation; requires about 16 days. Via newest and largest M. & M. steamships all the way!
. . and the ever popular vacation cruise
BOSTON-BY-SEA
Round trip from Baltimore now only $36
Reduced round trip fares to Miami and Jacksonville. Longer time on ocean, in cool, bracing salt air. ALL-EXPENSE tours to New England, including one to Maine camp; one to Nantucket Island; Canada, Nova Scotia, Florida. Low automobile rates.
Illustrated folder on request. Apply Travel Bureau, 1338 H Street, N. W., Washington. new low fares!
MERCHANTS & MINERS LINE

ANNUAL CRUISE to All Europe
LANCASTRIA
MEDITERRANEAN AND NORWAY . .
The economical way to Europe this summer . . low rate covers shore excursions, guides, hotels, etc. World famed Cunard service and cuisine.
12 countries 54 days
S. S. LANCASTRIA . . JULY 2nd
One ship throughout, New York to New York
$495 up
Rates for better accommodations are lowest in the history of this cruise. Investigate today.
CUNARD DEFERRED PAYMENTS (In Cooperation with Morris Plan) AVAILABLE FOR THIS CRUISE
CUNARD LINE
1504 K St. N.W., Washington, D. C.
Phone District 1536
FRANK TOURIST CO.
E. L. OBER,
1420 H Street N.W.
National 2347

$175 up FIRST CLASS
GRACE LINE
CALIFORNIA VISITING
en route Panama, Costa Rica, Nicaragua, El Salvador, Guatemala, Mexico!
Inland excursions at small expense. Lowest cost per day of any coast-to-coast water route. No passports. 21 days of delightful vacation afloat and ashore. Grace Line's superb comfort, cuisine, service. Sailings: Santa Ana, May 28; Santa Elisa, June 11. Consult your travel agent or GRACE LINE (Panama Mail Route), 10 Hanover Sq., New York.
Coming! 4 NEW Santa Liners

GOING ABROAD?
For the benefit of our readers who plan a European trip this summer, we have established
An Information and Travel Bureau
at
1, Rue Scribe - PARIS (France)
(In the Heart of the Travel and Shopping District)
Where the following service is provided:
Copies of this paper on file.
Travel, shopping, and general information.
Motor tour itineraries.
Comfortable reading room.
Maps of Paris and other leading cities.
Publication of registrants names.
Securing theater tickets.
Do not fail to take the fullest advantage of this new and exclusive service offered by
The Washington Post

Read The Post's New Classified Ads

SPORTS
The Washington Post.

58,000 SEE NATS BOW TO YANKEES TWICE, 14-2, 8-0

66 U. S. Open Aspirants in Test Here

District Section Is Allotted 8 Places in Qualifying.

Congressional Club to Be Scene of Play on June 6.

By HENRY LITCHFIELD WEST.

WHEN the Congressional Country Club was fortunate enough to be selected as the course upon which the sectional qualifying round for eligibility to play in the national open championship would be staged, it was expected that an interesting affair would result. It is now certain that the event will be one of unusual importance. The date is Monday, June 6. The national tournament will be held on the Fresh Meadow course, Flushing, Long Island, from June 23 to June 25.

The field which will gather on the Congressional course numbers 66 entrants, the largest in the history of this section. It includes not only the best-known professional golfers in the District and surrounding States, but professionals from as far South as North and South Carolina. With this large field this section has been allotted eight places, a number which will encourage keen competition.

Many Amateurs Among Local Entries.

Nor have the amateurs been backward about entering. Chevy Chase will be represented by C. Ashmead Fuller and R. P. Davidson, former club champions, and A. McCook Dunlop; Manor will send Harry G. Pitt, Middle Atlantic and District champion, and John C. Shorey, D. A. Nee and Maurice Nee; Roland Mackenzie has entered from Columbia, and J. William Harvey, jr., will be the Indian Spring representative.

It is more than possible that among these amateurs will be found eligibles to compete in the national open, as more than one is capable of holding his own even in competition against professionals. Roland Mackenzie, for instance, despite the fact that he has been playing comparatively little golf in recent years, was low amateur in the Los Angeles open last January and had a card of 36—34—70 on the Chevy Chase course last week in the final round of the club's invitation tournament.

36 Holes of Play In Qualifying.

The qualifying round will consist of 36 holes and while the pairings have been arranged by the officials of the United States Golf Association, the starting times remain to be designated by local authority in the near future. The probability is that this task will be undertaken by Alex. Armour, the Congressional Club professional.

This section's entries and the pairings in threesomes are as follows:

Lawrence Wisner, Pikesville, Md.
Richard W. Cooke, Washington.
Robert T. Barnett, Chevy Chase, Md.

Gene Larkin, Chevy Chase, Md.
Benny Loving, Petersburg, Va.
R. Cliff McKimmie, Rockville, Md.

*J. W. Harvey, jr., Indianapolis, Ind.
Joseph M. Fungy, Martinsburg, W. Va.
Talford Gibraski (unattached), Washington.

*John M. Reid, jr., Petersburg, Va.
A. B. Thorn, Bethesda, Md.
Ralph B. Beach, Pikesville, Md.

William Hardy, Chevy Chase, Md.
Jack Isaacs, Richmond, Va.
Andy C. Merrilees, High Point, N. C.

George Diffenbaugh, Silver Spring, Md.
*John Shorey, Rockville, Md.
Arthur Ham, Charlotte, N. C.

Leo Walper, Silver Spring, Md.
George Slingerland, Greensboro, N. C.
Fred McLeod, Chevy Chase, Md.

Allan Burton, Chevy Chase, Md.
Cliff Spencer (unattached), Arlington, Md.
Hugh M. Gordon, Bretten Woods, N. H.

Alex Armour, Rockville, Md.
Warner Mather, Pikesville, Md.
Dave Thomson, Rosslyn, Va.

Archie Clark, Rockville, Md.
*R. P. Davidson, Chevy Chase, Md.
Dugan Aycock, High Point, N. C.

*C. Ashmead Fuller, Chevy Chase, Md.
William Spencer, Arlington, Md.
W. R. Coffey, jr., Harrisonburg, Va.

Clegget L. Stevens, Rockville, Md.
James M. Roche, Baltimore, Md.
*A. McCook Dunlop, Chevy Chase, Md.

*Roland R. MacKensie, Chevy Chase, Md.
Al Houghton, Bethesda, Md.
Jack Harris (unattached), Rockville, Md.

F. H. Hyatt, Charlotte, N. C.
Charles Penna, Rockville, Md.
A. L. Treder, Rockville, Md.

*Darrel Mapler, Richmond, Va.
Mel Shorey, Rockville, Md.
Frank Cunningham, Bethesda, Md.

Clarence Owen, Greenville, S. C.
Ralph S. Fowler, Cherrydale, Va.
*Harry G. Pitt, Rockville, Md.

John Bulla, Salisbury, N. C.
Walter W. Cunningham, Bethesda, Md.
Bill Auchterlonie, Richmond, Va.

Charles P. Betschler, Rodgers Forge, Md.
T. D. Webb, jr., Rosslyn, Va.
*M. A. Nee, Rockville, Md.

*Dick Lane, Richmond, Va.
Ramon Atkins, Greensboro, N. C.
William C. Schreiber, Baltimore.

*Eddie Stevens, Rockville, Md.
Harold O. Long, Raleigh, N. C.
Nelson Long, Roanoke, Va.

Tom Galloway, Richmond, Va.
*D. A. Nee, Rockville, Md.
Carroll T. MacMartin, Towson, Md.

Norman Atkins, Greensboro, N. C.
Peter Jackson (unattached), Rockville, Md.
Elmer Loving, Roanoke, Va.

*Amateur.

Carideo Accepts Grid Post at Missouri U.

Columbia, Mo., May 21 (U.P.).—Frank Carideo, one of the flashiest stars in the Notre Dame constellation, today was chosen head football coach at the University of Missouri, to succeed Gwinn Henry, coach since 1923, who recently resigned.

Eastern Wins 'C' Meet by One Point

Scores Heavily in 2 Hurdle Events to Win, 21 to 20.

John Marshall High Second; 4 Records Are Bettered.

DIVISION OF POINTS.

Eastern	21	Tech	6
John Marshall	20	Harrisonburg	5
Massanutten	19	Hargreave	3
Woodberry	16	Western	2
Central	15	Balto. City Col.	2
Charlotte	14	Forest Park	1
Episcopal	9	Tak.-Silver Spring	1
Balto. Poly	8

JUNIORS.

Forest Park	15	Baltimore Poly	3
Eliot	6	Paul	2
Macfarland	6	Episcopal	1
Woodberry	3

By BOB CONSIDINE.

THE perennial ability of Michael J. Kelley to develop boys who run a hurdle race as if there were no impediments in the way, yesterday gave Eastern High its second consecutive "C" Club track meet, a stunning upset if ever one was scored in the 14-year-old history of this sawdust and cinder carnival.

Counted out on all sides before the meet, and almost ready itself to give up the Emory Wilson, the Cornell and the several minor trophies which go with the winning of the meet, Eastern unleashed a trio of hurdlers who swept the track clean in the 120 event and took two places out of three in the 220 endeavor, to win over John Marshall High, of Richmond, by 1 point, 21 to 20.

Four records bit the dust as Eastern triumphed by a split-hair margin, and the more favored schools—Massanutten, Woodley Forest, Central, Episcopal and Tech—were forced to be content with also-ran positions.

Slye and Kocsis Set Records.

Bob Slye, of Eastern, competing at the special invitation of the committee, shattered the 120 high hurdle mark set by Harry Flippen, of Episcopal, in 1926, by negotiating the timber-laden stretch in 15 3-5 seconds, 1-5 better than the old mark. Frank Kocsis, sturdy Central field events man, leaped 21 feet 9 inches to destroy by 3½ inches the mark established last year by Grover Everett, of Eastern.

Johnnie King, of Baltimore Poly, ran the mile in 4:40, to hang up a new mark, 1 1-5 seconds better than that of Plat Bullard, of John Marshall, made in 1930. And to cap the day, Train, of Episcopal, placed 50 feet 1 inch between himself and his unresilient shot to better the putting mark by 10 inches, as recorded by Walter Benz, of Staunton, in 1921.

The meet came to a thrill-packed ending in the final event of the day. Eastern, with 21, John Marshall, with 20 and Massanutten, with 18 went into the javelin event with the knowledge that the lead might well change hands through the work of some brawny right arm. Eastern and John Marshall failed to place a man in the javelin finals, but Speer, of Massanutten, had the leaders worried gray.

Dispute Rages Over Javelin.

Speer hurled the aluminum and ash device 140 feet 1¼ inches which was but ¼ of an inch behind the fifth best man, Meikeljohn, of Tech. Since only five were to be chosen for the finals, the judges agreed that Speer should be allowed one more throw, because the tape measure was felt to be not especially accurate.

At this decision the Celtic rage of Coach Kelley began to boil and he demanded to know the reason for this action. The matter of the tape measure was brought before Kelley but he held that the first reading must stand. Speer, a powerful boy, might well have got into the finals on that extra heave, and, once there, have boosted his side into the championship.

Referee Win Johnson ruled that both Speer's and Meikeljohn's heaves be remeasured. The second measurement showed conclusively, by several inches, that Speer did not belong in the final.

The finish of the C Club mile relay was savagely contested as John Marshall's iron legged anchorman, Ed Odell, beat off Tech's last man, Hartman, in the last three strides, after Tech had led from the start.

Central's strange tactics of withdrawing its crack sprinters from competition in the 100 and 220 was bruted about the stadium all afternoon. Coach Bill Foley, veteran head of the team which was expected to capture the meet, explained that he chose to save them for the bicentennial 440-yard relay and for next Friday's inter-high meet. Central won over Massanutten by 40 yards in the 440-yard relay, running the distance in 44 seconds, the second fastest time ever

Continued on Page 19, Column 6.

Stirring Action Marks Schoolboys' Races in "C" Club Meet

Louis Johrden, Post Staff Photographer.

At top, Bob Slye, Eastern High's hero, leading Willard Beers, of Western, and Rudy Smith, of Tech, over the high hurdles, which he won in new record time. Lower left, Edward Odell, of John Marshall High, Richmond, carrying the baton to victory over Hartman, of Tech, and Handlan, of Episcopal, in a close finish in the "C" Club one-mile relay. Lower right, Arthur Jannell, of Massanutten Military Academy, beating Dodson, of Episcopal, and Smeltzer, of Tech, in the 220-yard dash. He also won the 100-yard event. In inset, Johnny King, of Baltimore Poly, who set a new record in the mile run.

MARYLAND U. BEATEN AT LACROSSE

12,000 See Defeat by Hopkins, 7-3, in Olympic Test.

Special to The Washington Post.

VENABLE STADIUM, Baltimore, Md., May 21.—University of Maryland's Olympic aspirations underwent a decided reverse as Johns Hopkins conquered the Old Liners, 7 to 3, here this afternoon before a crowd of 12,000. It was the first defeat for Maryland this season after seven consecutive triumphs and the eight straight win for the Blue Jays, who today were bringing their regular season to a close.

While the loss was a severe setback for the Terrapins, it did not eliminate them from the running for Olympic representation. Both Maryland and Hopkins undoubtedly will be selected for the final play-off for the title.

Blue Jays Roll Up Score.

The Blue Jays won through a superior first half attack, scoring all seven goals before the intermission, while holding Maryland to a lone tally. In the second half the Old Liners braced and outscored the Baltimorians, 2 to 0, but never seriously threatened to overhaul the ultimate victors.

Maryland's vaunted line of defense was riddled in the first half before Hopkins' dazzling offense, while the Blue Jays' zone defense, considered shaky before the game performed in high class manner at all stages of the contest.

Millard Lang, Hopkins second defense, was the first player to find the net, making good on a screen play after six minutes. Four minutes later Fred Steiber, Maryland out home, evened the count, registering on a

Continued on Page 19, Column 3.

MAJOR LEAGUE STATISTICS

AMERICAN LEAGUE.
TEAM STANDINGS.

	W	L.	Pct.
New York	22	8	.733
WASHINGTON	21	12	.636
Detroit	17	12	.586
Cleveland	19	15	.559
Philadelphia	17	14	.548
St. Louis	16	18	.471
Chicago	9	21	.300
Boston	5	26	.161

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

New York, 14-8; Washington, 2-0.
Philadelphia, 18-6; Boston, 6-2.
St. Louis, 8; Cleveland, 7.
Detroit, 5; Chicago, 1.

TODAY'S GAMES.

Boston at WASHINGTON.
Philadelphia at New York.
Detroit at Chicago.
St. Louis at Cleveland.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.
TEAM STANDINGS.

	W.	L.	Pct.
Chicago	22	11	.667
Boston	19	10	.655
Cincinnati	20	17	.541
St. Louis	15	17	.469
New York	12	15	.444
Philadelphia	13	19	.406
Brooklyn	13	19	.406
Pittsburgh	11	17	.393

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

New York, 12-2; Brooklyn, 5-7.
Boston, 6; Philadelphia, 5 (14 innings).
Cincinnati, 6; Chicago, 5.
Pittsburgh-St. Louis (rain).

TODAY'S GAMES.

Chicago at Cincinnati.
Philadelphia at Boston.
New York at Brooklyn.
Pittsburgh at St. Louis.

Braves Beat Phils, 6-5, in Fourteenth

Schulmerich's Double Is Decisive Blow; Cantwell Gets Credit.

Boston, May 21 (A.P.).—The Boston Braves won a fourteen-inning game from Philadelphia today, 6 to 5. West Schulmerich smashed out a double in the fourteenth, scoring Urbanski to break a 5 to 5 tie.

Cantwell relieved Brown in the box for Boston in the eighth and held the Phillies to three hits for the remainder of the game. Harold Elliott pitched for Philadelphia till the seventh when he was relieved by Nichols.

Phila.	AB	H	O	A	Boston.	AB	H	O	A
Mallon,2b	6	0	7	5	Knothe,3b	4	2	1	1
Bartell,ss	4	2	3	7	Urb'ski,ss	7	1	3	4
Klein,rf	7	1	4	0	Berger,cf	3	0	4	0
Hurst,1b	5	1	13	2	Worth'n,lf	6	0	3	0
Wh'ney,3b	4	1	1	1	Schul'ch,rf	7	3	4	1
Lee,lf	5	2	0	0	Shires,1b	5	0	15	3
*Brickell	0	0	0	0	M'nville,2b	4	1	3	5
Bressler,lf	1	0	0	0	Spohrer,c	4	1	5	1
G.Davis,cf	6	0	8	1	§Clark	1	0	0	0
McCurdy,c	6	2	3	1	Hargrave,c	2	0	2	0
Elliott,p	2	1	0	3	Brown,p	2	0	1	2
Nichols,p	3	0	2	2	‡Leach	1	1	0	0
					Cantwell,p	3	0	1	4
Totals	49	10	†41	22	Totals	48	9	42	21

*Ran for Lee in tenth inning.
†Two out when winning run scored.
‡Batted for Brown in seventh inning.
§Batted for Spohrer in eighth inning.

Philadelphia	002 110 100 000 00—5
Boston	002 000 300 000 01—6

Runs—Mallon (2), Bartell, Lee, McCurdy, Knothe, Urbanski (3), Berger, Leach. Errors—Bartell, Knothe (2). Runs batted in—Mallon, Bartell, Hurst, Whitney, Lee, Schulmerich (3), Urbanski, Berger, Maranville. Two-base hits—McCurdy, Schulmerich (2), Urbanski. Home run—Lee. Stolen base—Bartell. Sacrifices—Bartell (2), Whitney, Knothe. Double play—Nichols to Bartell to Hurst. Left on bases—Philadelphia, 1; Boston, 12. First base on balls—Off Elliott, 3; off Nichols, 3; off Brown, 5. Struck out—By Nichols, 2; by Brown, 3; by Cantwell, 1. Hits—Off Elliott, 4 in 6 innings (none out in seventh); off Nichols, 5 in 7 2-3 innings; off Brown, 7 in 7 innings; off Cantwell, 3 in 7 innings. Wild pitch—Brown. Winning pitcher—Cantwell. Losing pitcher—Nichols. Umpires—Donnelly and Rigler.

HYATTSVILLE PLAYS.

Hyattsville All Stars have listed a game with Skinker Eagles this afternoon at 3 o'clock on the Riverdale Field.

Reds Check Cubs As Bush Weakens

Chicago Relief Hurler Walks Heath, Bases Full, to Give Reds 6-5 Win.

Cincinnati, Ohio, May 21 (A.P.).—Guy Bush, Cubs' pitcher, won a game for the Cincinnati Reds today by walking Heath while the bases were loaded in the ninth to give Cincinnati a 6-to-5 decision.

Going in in the eighth as Malone wilted before the Cincinnati bombardment, Bush snuffed out a budding Cincinnati rally. Then with a one-run lead to defend he walked Herman, saw Hafey place a sacrifice that Jurges fumbled, let Lombardi single to send Herman home and walked High and then Heath to end the game.

Chicago.	AB	H	O	A	Cincinnati.	AB	H	O	A
Richb'g,rf	5	2	0	0	Douthit,cf	4	0	4	0
W.Her'n,2b	3	0	4	4	Gr'tham,2b	4	0	3	2
English,3b	4	3	0	1	Herman,rf	3	2	3	0
Moore,cf	4	1	1	0	Hafey,lf	4	1	4	0
Steph'n,lf	3	1	3	0	Lombardi,c	5	3	2	0
Hemsley,c	4	1	2	0	Gilbert,3b	3	0	1	2
Grimm,1b	3	1	9	0	High,3b	0	0	0	0
Jurges,ss	4	0	5	4	Heath,1b	3	0	7	3
Malone,p	3	0	0	1	Du'cher,ss	2	0	0	3
Bush,p	1	0	0	2	†Crabtree	1	1	0	0
					M'rissey,ss	0	0	1	0
Totals	34	9	*24	12	Lucas,p	3	2	2	1
					Totals	32	9	27	11

*None out when winning run scored.
†Batted for Durocher in eighth.

Chicago	1 0 0 2 2 0 0 0 0—5
Cincinnati	1 0 1 1 0 0 0 1 2—6

Runs—Richbourg, English (2), Stephenson, Hemsley, Grantham, Herman (2), Hafey, High, Durocher. Errors—W. Herman, Jurges (2), Grantham. Runs batted in—English, Moore, Stephenson, Hemsley, Jurges, Hafey, Lombardi, Crabtree, Lucas. Two-base hits—Lucas, Hemsley, Grimm. Three-base hits—F. Herman, English. Sacrifices—Grimm, W. Herman, Hafey, Lucas. Double play—Jurges to W. Herman to Grimm. Left on bases—Chicago, 5; Cincinnati, 13. First base on balls—Off Malone, 6; off Bush, 3; off Lucas, 1. Struck out—By Malone, 2; by Lucas, 2. Hits—Off Malone, 7 in 7 innings, none out in eighth; off Bush, 2 in 1 inning, none out in ninth. Losing pitcher—Bush. Umpires—Moran, Magerkurth and Pfirman. Time of game—Two hours 21 minutes.

LANHAM BOOKED.

Lanham A. C. baseballers will entertain Fort Myer Post Hospital nine today at 3 o'clock. Herb Brickerd is slated to hurl for the local team.

U. S. WOMEN WIN GOLF MATCH

Outscore British Team Despite Defeat of Glenna Collett.

By FRANK H. KING.

WENTWORTH, Surrey, England, May 21 (A.P.).—Although her stars met defeat, America's strongly balanced team of women golfers today fought its way through a melange of English weather to defeat England's best, 5½ to 3½, in their first official team match.

The invaders made a clean sweep of three Scotch foursomes in the morning and piled up a sufficient lead to stand off a determined stand by the English women in singles in the afternoon. Victory in two of the six singles matches and a half in another established the Americans' team triumph.

Singles Matches Played in Rain.

The morning matches were played in a bright sunshine, but a light rain fell through the afternoon and caused a falling off in the brilliant scoring that marked the play in the foursomes.

England's only consolation lay in the drubbing administered Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare by her old nemesis, the great Joyce Wethered. The American star, who at one time or another has beaten practically every noteworthy rival except the tall Englishwoman, was caught in a maze of bunkers and was an easy victim, 6 and 4.

After driving into a trap from the second tee and taking four shots to get out, Mrs. Vare never endangered her long-shooting opponent. Miss Wethered did not play the game of which she is capable, but she didn't need to today.

Helen Hicks, America's national champion, also encountered defeat at

Continued on Page 19, Column 1.

Pennock and Allen Baffle Washington in Twin Bill As Yanks Clout 5 Homers

Ruth Hits Two for Circuit, One With Bases Full, in Attack on Brown in Opening Battle.

New York Rookie Blanks Nats With Five Hits in Second, Getting Homer Off Crowder With 2 on Base.

By FRANK H. YOUNG
(Post Staff Correspondent).

NEW YORK, May 21.—Baseball's largest crowd of the season turned out for today's double-header between the Nationals and Yankees, 58,185 paying for the privilege. If they expected to see two real battles they were greatly disappointed, for the Yanks gave Walter Johnson's charges their worst defeat of the season in the opener, 14 to 2, and then followed with a convincing 8-to-0 triumph in the nightcap.

This "one-two" punch of the New Yorkers put the Washington club one game farther back than it was when the series started, the Nats now trailing the Yankees by two and one-half games.

Five homers featured the afternoon's play. Babe Ruth poled out Nos. 9 and 10, Lou Gehrig No. 6, and Tony Lazzeri No. 2, in the first game, while Pitcher Johnny Allen practically won his own game for himself with one, with two on, in the second game. Ruth's first homer came with the bases loaded and one was on when he poled out his other, giving him credit for driving in six runs in the first battle.

Nats Use 3 Hurlers In Each Game.

Manager Walter Johnson used three pitchers, Lloyd Brown, Frank Ragland and Johnny Friedrich in the opener and another trio, Alvin Crowder, Fred Marberry and Carl Fischer, in the nightcap. None of the six was effective, the natives getting 30 bases on their 14 hits in the first affair and 23 for a dozen safeties in the finale.

But for two errors, the Nationals would have been shut out twice instead of once. These misplays were responsible for the two runs scored in the opener, which saw Herb Pennock grant but six scattered hits. Johnny Allen yielded only five, and, as was the case in the first game, all were singles. But for his wildness in two innings, Allen would have kept all but one Nat from passing first.

Crowder must have assumed that just because a fellow is a pitcher he can not hit. He grooved one for Allen in the second inning of the nightcap engagement, with Chapman and Dickey on base, and a homer barely over the fence into the right field stands resulted, giving the Yankees a three-run lead.

It looked as though the Nats might get some of these markers back in their third, when Berg's single and two passes filled the bases with only one dead. West then lofted to Chapman and Cronin popped to Lazzeri.

Crowder gave way to a pinch hitter in the fourth, bringing Marberry into action in the home half, and he immediately got himself in trouble. Dickey's opening double and Lazzeri's single netted one run and a walk, a sacrifice and long fly were responsible for another, this pair giving the natives a total of six.

Nats Powerless Before Allen.

In the fifth, Allen walked Myer as a starter and then hit Manush, but so impotent were the Nat bats that West, Cronin and Reynolds failed to advance either a single base, all dying on outfield flies.

A one-handed catch at the base of the right center stands by Ruth prevented the Nats from scoring in the seventh. Kuh hit for Marberry and walked. After Myer flied out, Manush hit into a force play and moved up on West's single. Cronin's drive looked as if it would easily score both runners until Ruth stepped into the picture with his brilliant catch.

The Nats did not threaten thereafter. Just as the final out was turned in, the clouds opened and this downpour simply added to the blueness of the Nats.

As has been the case during the last three games, the Washington pitchers simply could not get Lazzeri out. He added three more hits to his total in the second game, one a triple, to be high gun. In the opener he hit two doubles and a homer.

Thanks to a two-base error by Chapman and Judge's useful out in the second and a miscue by Lazzeri, Myer's single, Manush's sacrifice and West's long fly, the Nats led for a few moments in the first game, but the Yankees stopped making errors and started making hits after this stage of the proceedings and the worst Washington defeat of the season resulted.

The Yankees had scored once in the second but Brown cracked wide open in the home third. An error by Myer and a walk helped pack the bases when Ruth homered. Gehrig's double and Chapman's single scored another run and Dickey's four-base clout brought the total to seven.

Ragland started the sixth and got along well enough until he walked Lary with two dead. Then Ruth and Gehrig hit round-trippers in succession. Friedrich hurled the last two frames and just for luck, the Yankees knicked his slants for three runs, four walks in the seventh not doing him any good.

First Game

*FIRST GAME.

WASHINGTON.	AB	R	H	O	A	E
Myer, 2b	4	0	2	2	3	1
Manush, lf	2	0	0	1	0	0
Freidrich, p	1	0	0	0	0	0
West, cf	4	0	1	2	1	0
Cronin, ss	3	0	0	0	3	0
McLeod, ss	0	0	0	0	1	0
Reynolds, rf	4	1	1	2	0	0
Judge, 1b	3	0	0	3	1	0
Kuhel, 1b	1	0	0	3	0	0
Bluege, 3b	3	0	1	1	0	0
Kerr, 3b	1	0	0	0	0	0
Berg, c	2	0	0	2	0	0
Maple, c	2	0	1	1	0	0
Brown, p	2	1	0	0	2	0
Ragland, p	0	0	0	0	2	0
Harris, lf	1	0	0	7	0	0
Totals	33	2	6	24	13	1

NEW YORK.	AB	R	H	O	A	E
Combs, cf, lf	5	1	0	2	0	0
Lary, ss	2	2	1	1	3	0
Ruth, rf	4	2	2	1	0	0
Byrd, cf	0	0	0	2	0	0
Gehrig, 1b	5	3	3	10	0	0
Chapman, lf, rf	4	2	2	3	0	1
Dickey, c	4	2	2	2	0	0
Jorgens, c	0	0	0	1	0	0
Lazzeri, 2b	4	1	3	4	4	1
Saltzgaver, 2b	0	0	0	0	0	0
Crosetti, 3b	3	0	0	1	0	0
Pennock, p	5	1	1	0	2	0
Totals	36	14	14	27	9	2

WASHINGTON	011 000 000— 2
New York	010 078 12x—14

Runs batted in—Judge, Pennock (2), West, Ruth (6), Chapman (2), Lazzeri (3), Gehrig. Two-base hits—Lazzeri (2), Gehrig, Chapman. Home runs—Ruth (2), Lazzeri, Gehrig. Stolen bases—Myer, Chapman. Sacrifice—Manush. Double plays—West to Judge to Myer, Brown to Myer to Judge. Left on bases—New York, 7; Washington, 6. First base on balls—Off Brown, 3; off Ragland, 1; off Friedrich, 4; off Pennock, 1. Struck out—By Pennock, 3; by Brown, 2; by Friedrich, 1. Hits—Off Brown, 9 in 5 innings; off Ragland, 2 in 1 inning; off Freidrich, 3 in 2 innings. Hit by pitched ball—By Ragland (Chapman). Losing pitcher—Brown.

WASHINGTON.	AB	R	H	O	A	E
Myer, 2b	3	0	0	2	2	0
Manush, lf	2	0	0	0	0	0
West, cf	4	0	2	4	0	0
Cronin, ss	4	0	0	0	3	0
Reynolds, rf	4	0	0	4	0	0
Judge, 1b	4	0	0	9	1	0
Bluege, 3b	4	0	1	0	1	0
Berg, c	3	0	2	5	0	0
‡Harris	1	0	0	0	0	0
Crowder, p	1	0	0	0	2	0
*Rice	1	0	0	0	0	0
Marberry, p	0	0	0	0	3	0
†Kuhel	0	0	0	0	0	0
Fischer, p	0	0	0	0	0	0
§Maple	1	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	32	0	5	24	12	0

*Batted for Crowder in fourth.
†Batted for Marberry in seventh.
‡Batted for Berg in ninth.
§Batted for Fischer in ninth.

NEW YORK.	AB	R	H	O	A	E
Combs, cf-lf	5	0	2	1	0	0
Sewell, 3b	4	1	1	1	1	0
Ruth, rf	3	0	0	3	0	0
Byrd, cf	0	0	0	1	0	0
Gehrig, 1b	4	0	1	5	0	0
Chapman, lf-rf	3	1	0	6	0	0
Dickey, c	4	2	2	2	0	0
Lazzeri, 2b	3	2	3	6	4	1
Lary, ss	3	1	1	2	4	0
Allen, p	3	1	2	0	0	0
Totals	32	8	12	27	9	1

WASHINGTON	000 000 000—0
New York	031 200 02x—8

Runs batted in—Allen (3), Gehrig, Lazzeri, Lary, Combs (2). Two-base hits—Sewell, Allen, Dickey, Combs. Three-base hits — Gehrig, Lazzeri. Home run—Allen. Sacrifices—Sewell, Lazzeri, Allen. Double plays—Lary to Lazzeri to Gehrig. Cronin to Judge to Berg. Left on bases—New York, 6; Washington, 10. First base on balls—Off Crowder, 1; off Allen, 4; off Marberry, 2. Struck out—By Allen, 2; by Crowder, 1; by Fischer, 1. Hits—Off Crowder, 4 in 3 innings; off Marberry, 4 in 3 innings; off Fischer, 4 in 2 innings. Hit by pitched ball—By Allen (Manush). Passed ball—Berg. Losing pitcher—Crowder.

DEAL OFF, SAYS CAREY.

Pittsburgh, May 21 (A.P.).—Max Carey, manager of the Brooklyn Club of the National League, notified officials of the Pittsburgh Pirate Baseball Club today that trade negotiations centering around Heine Meine, Pirate pitcher, are at an end.

Meine was suspended when he would not sign a Pirate contract. He held out for a higher salary than the Pirates would offer.

Kiesel Beats Wykoff in Dash But Trojans Win Coast Meet

EDWARDS STADIUM, Berkeley, Calif., May 21 (A.P.).—Southern California won its third successive California intercollegiate track and field championship today in a meet featured by the running of Bob Kiesel and Ben Eastman, stars of other schools.

The Trojans scored 85 1-6 points. Stanford was second, with 42 5-6; California took third with 27 2-3, and the University of California at Los Angeles finished with 9 1-3.

Kiesel, University of California's chunky sprint ace, thrilled 8,000 spectators when he led Frank Wykoff, of Southern California, unofficial holder of the world's 100-yard dash record, to the tape.

Clocked in 9.5 seconds, Kiesel equaled the recognized record for the distance and came within one-tenth of a second of the time Wykoff has

Continued on Page 19, Column 4.

Yale Crew Beats Cornell By Fifth-of-Second Margin

ITHACA, N. Y., May 21 (A.P.).—Staving off two Cornell spurts, Yale whipped the Red varsity by three feet today in the climax of the annual Cornell spring day regatta on Lake Cayuga.

Heralded as a battle of the East's chief contenders for the right to defend the United States Olympic rowing championship next summer, the crew rowed one of the most thrilling of all the varsity two-mile duels in triangular competition with Princeton since 1911. The margin of the Blue was so close some in the crowd of 10,000 went home thinking Cornell had won, while the judges and timekeepers went into a huddle to find that Yale had squeezed down in front by one-fifth of a second.

The varsity victory gave Yale two triumphs for the day as the Eli freshmen, in a tight, two-mile race, nosed out Cornell by three feet. Cor-

Continued on Page 19, Column 4.

20,000 SEE EQUIPOISE WIN METROPOLITAN AT BELMONT PARK

Whitney Colt Scores 4th Straight

Packs 127 Pounds to Beat Sun Meadow and Mate.

Mile Is Run in 1:37; Pilate Sets Early Pace, Falters.

BELMONT PARK RACE TRACK, May 21 (A.P.).—A crowd estimated at 20,000 saw C. V. Whitney's great colt, Equipoise, score the fourth straight and most impressive victory of his comeback campaign in the Metropolitan Handicap here this afternoon. The 4-year-old son of Pennant was an easy winner, having three lengths advantage over K. E. Hitt's Maryland star, Sun Meadow, at the end of the mile journey, which was completed in 1:37 flat.

A. C. Bostwick's Mate, making his first start since a dull effort in the Dixie, was third, a length and a half behind.

Equipoise, favorite at 3-to-5, picked up $7,225 by his victory. As he took the lead in the stretch, the colt's admirers let out a resounding cheer, which continued until Sonny Workman returned his charge to the paddock.

Pilate, Light-Weighted, Sets Early Pace.

Andy Schuttinger's Pilate, with a big pull in the weights, ran like a winner for six furlongs, Alfred Robertson making use of the colt's high speed. But after having to race Epithet into the ground in the first half mile, the pacemaker weakened when challenged by Equipoise and dropped back to fourth.

Equipoise was well back in the early running, but Workman got the ultimate winner into his best stride around the bend. Coming around the outside turning for home, Equipoise wore down Pilate with ease and clearly left all doubt behind as he sped through the final furlong going easily.

Sun Meadow Closes Big Gap.

Sun Meadow and Mate also trailed in the early running. Sun Meadow closed a big gap in the last quarter mile and held Mate safe when the latter, under G. H. (Pete) Bostwick, made a fair closing bid.

President J. E. Widener today announced that he has turned over the local course to the emergency unemployment committee of Nassau County for a charity program Monday, June 6. The admission price for that day may be reduced for the occasion.

WOODBINE ENTRIES.

(FOR MONDAY.)
(Associated Press.)

FIRST RACE—Four and one-half furlongs; purse, $1,000; the Rutland Plate; claiming; for 2-year-olds.

1 Farmington ...105
2 *Good Guess...108
3 Half Saint.....105
4 L'some Glory...110
5 Busy Ike.......105
6 Keltwick 105
7 Gallic 108
8 Natanis 112
9 Happy Anne...114
10 Canterb'y Rain 105

SECOND RACE—About 2 miles; purse, $1,500; claiming; the Helter Skelter Steeplechase; for 4-year-olds and upward.

1 †Channing L...145
2 ‡Hamptonian ..143
3 My Care.......150
4 §Rienzi 131
5 Gaffguard ...150
6 ‖D. de Vertu..145
7 §Fordham 143
8 ‡Rockdale 143
9 Knockenar'gan.152
10 *Arundel 131
11 †Paul's Sister..141
12 ¶Huon Joy.....150
13 [1]Dundesert ...135
14 ¶Fathallah ...150
15 [1]Capt. Somers.140
16 [2]Cahanamore .151
17 [2]Devilkin 148

†Brier Farm entry.
‡Mrs. F. A. Clark entry.
§Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hamilton entry.
‖Lieut. Col. Fraser Hunter and S. Cohoun entry.
¶John Bosley, jr., and Mrs. T. W. Durant entry.
[1]H. C. Hatch and Whittier Park entry.
[2]J. Simpson, jr., entry.

THIRD RACE—Four and one-half furlongs; purse, $1,000; claiming; the Rutland State; for 2-year-olds.

1 Peeved 108
2 Fair Clark.....105
3 Sixty Ninth....105
4 Broad Lights...111
5 Bright Pattern.105
6 Silly Sis.......107
7 Flower Time...105
8 Brown Torch..111
9 Toytown 110
10 Dark War.....105

FOURTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles; purse, $1,200 added; the Connaught Cup Handicap; for 3-year-olds and upward.

1 Frumper 110
2 Traumagne ...95
3 †Khorasan 120
4 Deedie 97
5 Blue Arab......102
6 Big Blow.......92
7 †Young Kitty...103

†Seagram Stable entry.

FIFTH RACE—One and one-eighth miles; purse, $1,200; claiming; the Grafton Plate; for 3-year-olds and upward.

1 Celeritas 115
2 Spectacular ...113
3 Mainsheet 116
4 Friendly Ways.102
5 Deedie 120
6 Parsnip 117
7 Make Believe..118
8 *Angry Lass...111
9 Torealong 118
10 Chosen Pal...107
11 *Fair Thorn...108
12 Wrackell 123

SIXTH RACE—Six furlongs; purse, $1,000; claiming; the Hamilton Plate; for 3-year-olds and upward.

1 Clotho 104
2 †Vacillate 114
3 Royal Ruffin...111
4 Donny Johnny.111
5 Londsun 111
6 Gallant Lass... 99
7 †Fair Jack.....111
8 Branch 109
9 Solace 114

†H. G. Bedwell and H. D. Bonsteel entry.

SEVENTH RACE—Six furlongs; purse, $1,000; claiming; the Hampton Plate; for 3-year-olds and upward (Canadian foaled).

1 Collar Victoria.118
2 Kitling 118
3 Lord Cardigan.120
4 Logwood 109
5 Anoka 109
6 Sabana 120
7 Sea Kale.......121
8 Margie Moon...109
9 Poppin Cracker.109
10 Toe Dance.....118
11 Chivalrous 118
12 Sun Man......120
13 Clarry 109
14 Hayloft 121
15 Free Thinker..123
16 Kebbie 110
17 Gev 108
18 Roving 107

*Apprentice allowance claimed.

AURORA RESULTS.

(Associated Press.)

FIRST—Five furlongs; purse, $800; allowances; for 2-year-olds.
Sunny Sideup, 104 (McCoy) 14.18 6.34 3.98
Monks Bela, 101 (Boganowski) 11.30 4.44
Pana Franka, 112 (R. Jones) 2.44
Lerack, Fair Mole, Joe Macaw, Untimely, *Charming Emma, Venetian Girl, Demagogue and *Our Pride also ran. Time, 1:00 2-5.
*Field.

SECOND—One and one-sixteenth miles; purse, $700; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.
Runar, 103 (Neel) 16.96 7.50 3.54
Happy Lad, 108 (Martin) 5.38 3.68
Vanquish, 113 (Meade) 2.84
Curtsey, Lauree, Cesare, Popcorn, Mozart, Suneur and Bunyora also ran. Time, 1:46 3-5.

THIRD—Six furlongs; purse, $700; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.
Tufinuf, 115 (Neel) 30.06 19.88 8.70
Believeitornot, 120 (Leyland) 16.38 11.04
Agnes Sorel, 115 (Cooper) 4.74
J. George, Ipsara, Bobbie R., *Princess Carolyne, Jargon, Romany Baw, *Alcove, *Scandal Sheet and Noel's Dress also ran. Time, 1:14.
*Field.

FOURTH—Six furlongs; purse, $800; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.
Nell Kuhlmann, 100 (C. King) 11.68 7.71 5.32
Andora, 106 (Cox) 4.82 3.52
Run On, 104 (McCoy) 7.00
Bag Smasher, Noah's Pride, Liberty Ace, Iranah and Eighty Twenty also ran. Time, 1:12.

FIFTH—Six furlongs; purse, $1,200, handicap; for 3-year-olds and upward.
War Saint, 108 (Critchfield) 12.22 5.38 3.50
War Glow, 107 (Cox) 4.56 3.00
Burning Up, 111 (Jones) 8.00
Sherab, Dr. Freeland, Astute also ran. Time, 1:11 2-5.

SIXTH—One mile and 70 yards; purse, $800; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.
His Last, 111 (Montgomery) 18.24 10.44 6.52
Moranuff, 108 (King) 4.06 3.76
Who Win, 111 (McCoy) 3.02
Waterport, General Court, Chehalis, Battling On and Chief's Challenger also ran. Time, 1:44 2-5.

SEVENTH—One and one-quarter miles; purse, $800; claiming; for 4-year-olds and upward.
Ladrone, 106 (Arcaro) 8.38 3.80 2.94
Tiger Flowers, 115 (McCoy) 3.96 2.98
Southland Boy, 105 (Neel) 2.88
Tommy, Stanley Scott, Peter Peter, Master Ogden and Look at Lillian also ran. Time, 2:07.

EIGHTH—One mile and seventy yards; purse, $800; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.
Play Bird, 110 (Neel) 8.56 3.68 3.08
Analyst, 110 (Whitacre) 4.16 3.82
Royal Riot, 105 (Boganowski) 7.84
Vestah Clark, Gay Down, Afridi, Jack Alexander, Golden Play, Sweep Past, Fair Lotion and Lady Bienville also ran. Time, 1:46 3-5.

Churchill Downs Race Charts

Associated Press.

Saturday, May 21, 1932.

WEATHER, DRIZZLING; TRACK, FAST.

FIRST RACE—Five furlongs. Purse, $900. For 2-year-old maidens. Start good. Won easily; place driving. Went to post at 2:02. Off at 2:09. Winner, W. F. Axton's, b. g. (2), by In Memoriam—Grace Minard. Trained by Wayne Lewis. Value to winner, $675; second, $150; third, $50; fourth, $25. Time, 0:24 1-5, 0:47 4-5, 1:00 4-5.

Horses	Wgt.	Post	St.	¼	½	Str.	Fin.	Jockeys	Straight
OLD HILLSIDE	115	12	5	1½	1^2	1^2	$1^{1½}$	H. Fisher	$2.58
MT. WASHINGTON	115	1	1	2^2	2^1	2^4	$2^{1½}$	Rose	22.41
TECHNIQUE	112	6	2	3^1	$4^{1½}$	$3^{1½}$	3^1	Landolt	†13.73
NEVER QUIT	115	2	7	6½	3^h	4^2	4^2	Clelland	*17.08
CURLY HEAD	115	10	4	4^h	7^2	5^h	5^h	Pool	3.75
SWEET FLAG	115	11	10	$7^{1½}$	6½	7^1	6^h	Riley	4.46
WAYWARD LAD	115	8	11	5^h	5^h	6½	7^2	Meyer	80.26
GO FETCH	115	4	8	9^2	9^2	8^1	8^h	Fronk	†
FRANK K.	115	9	6	8½	8^1	9^2	9^1	Corbett	48.52
SOUTHARD	115	7	3	10^1	$10^{1½}$	10^1	10^2	Simpson	10.23
WOODWORKER	115	3	12	12	11^1	11^4	11^4	Elston	*
NANNY D.	112	5	9	11^2	12	12	12	Laidley	113.56

*Field. †Beaumont Farm and H. P. Headley entry.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—OLD HILLSIDE, $7.16, $4.78, $2.76; MT. WASHINGTON, $16.84, $7.50; TECHNIQUE, $6.18.

OLD HILLSIDE worked way to the front, racing wide in the run to the turn, easily drew clear entering the final three-eighths and maintaining fine speed, won thereafter. MT. WASHINGTON, away fast, had speed, saved ground throughout and held on well in an impressive effort. TECHNIQUE, given a hustling ride, lost some ground and went gamely, under strong urging, never quit, was a strong factor throughout and saved much ground. CURLY HEAD was in close quarters shortly after the start and showed a good effort. SWEET FLAG, fractious at the post, was on extreme outside for three-eighths. SOUTHARD was outrun.

SECOND RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $800; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good. Won driving; place same. Went 2:41. Off 2:45 1-2. Winner, J. H. Gaines' ch. f. (3), by Stimulus—Change. Trained by C. H. Ferguson. Value to winner, $600; second, $125; third, $50; fourth, $25. Time, 0:23 2-5, 0:47 3-5, 1:13.

Horses	Wgt.	Post	St.	¼	½	Str.	Fin.	Jockeys	Straight
FIRE FLASH	103	8	3	4^2	3^h	$1^{1¼}$	1^{ns}	Fowler	$9.71
SAMBO BROWN	115	1	9	10^1	7^2	$4^{½}$	2^1	H. Fisher	3.50
TOWN LIMIT	110	9	1	$1^{1½}$	1^2	$2^{1¼}$	3^h	W. Garner	1.97
WINONA LADY	103½	3	4	2¼	2^1	3½	4^2	Turner	*28.27
MADELON	110	10	8	9^2	6^2	5^2	5^2	South	8.13
DARWIN	109	4	10	8^h	10^2	8^2	$6^{1½}$	Laidley	*
NIATO	111	7	11	12	12	11^h	7¼	Fronk	*
MANNERS	107	11	2	3^h	4^1	6^2	8½	Frye	17.82
LADY WITT	110	6	6	5¼	5¼	7^1	9^h	Clelland	17.82
UFORME	110	5	5	6¼	8^1	9^1	10¼	Rose	8.67
MANDELL	107	2	12	11¼	11^1	10^h	11^1	Elston	10.45
BLACK WEST	107	12	7	$7^{1¼}$	9^1	12	12	Corbett	91.53

*Field.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—FIRE FLASH, $21.42, $8.06, $4.36; SAMBO BROWN, $5.26, $3.58; TOWN LIMIT, $2.64.

FIRE FLASH began fast, was crowded back slightly leaving backstretch, overtook leader quickly when straightened up in stretch and holding well, outstayed SAMBO BROWN. The latter improved position gradually stood strong urging gamely and was wearing down the winner. TOWN LIMIT showed good speed from the start, but weakened slightly in the drive. MADELON began slowly. MANNERS quit. MANDELL was outrun.

THIRD RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $900; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good. Won driving; place same. Went to post at 3:11. Off at once. Winner, J. W. W. Parrish's ch. g. (5), by Luke McLuke—Rosewood. Trained by W. Crump. Value to winner, $675; second, $150; third, $50; fourth, $25. Time, 0:23 2-5, 0:47, 1:12 2-5.

Horses	Wgt.	Post	St.	¼	½	Str.	Fin.	Jockeys	Straight
STOCK MARKET	118	5	3	3½	3^1	1¼	1¾	Allen	$2.39
SMEAR	118	3	4	4^2	4^2	$4^{1½}$	2½	Elston	4.43
CHARLIE BERGIN	118	4	2	5^2	5^2	5^2	3^1	Rose	17.08
RUSTY	120	2	5	1^{nk}	$2^{1½}$	$3^{1½}$	4^h	Pool	2.97
PARNELL BOUND	118	7	1	2¼	1^2	2½	5½	Meyer	6.16
BILLY JONES	115	6	6	6^2	6^2	6^2	6^2	Corbett	20.76
BACK LOG	120	1	7	7	7	7	7	Laidley	6.14

Two-dollar mutuels paid—STOCK MARKET, $6.78, $4.02, $2.52; SMEAR, $4.74, $2.74; CHARLIE BERGIN, $4.74.

STOCK MARKET, rated off the fast early pace, came around leaders slowly after reaching the stretch and outstayed SMEAR. The latter, probably much the best and overconfidently ridden, was allowed to remain a good distance out of it, was blocked after swerving behind leaders in stretch and closed fastest of all when clear. CHARLIE BERGIN, unable to keep up, lost some ground and closed with good speed on extreme outside. RUSTY had keen speed, was used up racing PARNELL BOUND into submission and quit in the drive. PARNELL BOUND quit. BILLY JONES bore in badly much of the trip. BACK LOG broke slowly and sulked.

FOURTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $900; claiming. For 4-year-olds and upward. Start good; for all but Princess Zelda from gate. Won easily; place driving. Went to post at 3:35½. Off at 3:36. Winner, H. C. Hopper's br. g. (7), by Golden Guinea—Playmate. Trained by D. H. Riddle. Value to winner, $675; second, $150; third, $50; fourth, $25. Time, 0:24, 0:48 2-5, 1:14, 1:39 3-5, 1:53.

Horses	Wgt.	Post	St.	¼	½	¾	Str.	Fin.	Jockeys	Straight
CHUM	113	6	2	$4^{1¼}$	3^1	1^2	1^2	1^4	Clelland	$3.36
SON O' SWEEP	113	4	1	$2^{1¼}$	2^h	3^4	2^4	2^2	Landolt	2.92
FAIR MANNA	108	1	4	6^2	6^2	5^h	4^2	3^1	Elston	32.85
TYPHOON	113	2	3	1^4	1^2	2^h	3^h	4^h	Allen	8.18
BEN BLAIR	113	5	5	7	7	7	6½	5^2	Rose	2.34
PRINCESS ZELDA	111	3	7	3^{nk}	$4^{1¼}$	6^2	7	6^h	Fronk	5.27
HARVEST SUN	113	7	6	5^h	5¼	4½	5^h	7	H. Fisher	32.56

Two-dollar mutuels paid—CHUM, $8.72, $3.98, $2.90; SON O' SWEEP, $4.46, $3.62; FAIR MANNA, $5.08.

CHUM, much the best and under light restraint for five-eighths, drew into command easily at the stretch turn and continuing boldly to the end, won without pressure. SON O' SWEEP, a strong factor from the start and restrained for three quarters, rallied mildly in the final quarter, but could not threaten the winner. FAIR MANNA saved much ground and held on fairly well. TYPHOON quit after showing speed the first three quarters. BEN BLAIR was outrun from the start. PRINCESS ZELDA got away poorly and quit badly in the last three-eighths.

FIFTH RACE—One and one-eighth miles. Purse, $5,000 added. Kentucky Oaks. For 3-year-old fillies. Start good. Won driving; place same. Went to post at 4:12½. Off at 4:13½. Winner, W. S. Kilmer's b. f. (3), by Sun Briar—Simpatica. Trained by J. White. Value to winner, $4,590; second, $1,000; third, $500; fourth, $250. Time, 0:24, 0:48 2-5, 1:13 2-5, 1:38 4-5, 1:52 1-5.

Horses	Wgt.	Post	St.	¼	½	¾	Str.	Fin.	Jockeys	Straight
SUNTICA	116	5	3	3^1	$4^{1¼}$	3^2	2^2	1^1	Pascuma	$2.13
I SAY	116	9	1	$1^{1¼}$	1^1	1^2	1^h	2^4	Allen	18.18
DEPRESSION	116	6	5	$5^{1¼}$	$5^{1¼}$	4½	5^4	3^1	W. Garner	6.84
PRINCESS CAMELIA	116	2	4	2^1	$2^{1½}$	2^h	$3^{1¼}$	4^h	Landolt	1.67
TWEENY	109	3	2	4¼	3¼	5^2	4^h	5^2	Riley	21.74
PREFER	116	7	6	$7^{1½}$	6^1	6^2	6^1	6½	Rose	13.37
JORETTA	116	4	8	9	9	7^1	7^2	7^2	Corbett	29.62
OSCILLATION	116	8	7	6^h	$7^{1½}$	8^h	8^2	8^2	H. Fisher	16.76
LIGHT EAGLE	109	1	9	8¼	8½	9	9	9	Pool	26.62

Two-dollar mutuels paid—SUNTICA, $6.26, $4.38, $3.84; I SAY, $12.10, $7.40; DEPRESSION, $6.24.

SUNTICA raced wide throughout, responded well when called upon and wearing down I SAY, won drawing out. The latter, taken into the lead, cleverly rated, held on stubbornly under vigorous urging, but was not good enough. DEPRESSION, under strong reserve first three quarters, rallied only mildly when called upon, but outfinished TWEENY and PRINCESS CAMELIA. The latter forced early pace under very light restraint and weakened in the final quarter-mile. TWEENEY saved much ground and quit under pressure. OSCILLATION dropped out of it after a half-mile.

SIXTH RACE—One and one-eighth miles. Purse, $900; claiming. For 4-year-olds and upward. Start good. Won driving; place same. Went to post at 4:44. Off at 4:44. Winner, A. B. Letellier's b. g. (5), by Sporting Blood—Miss Mint. Trained by J. McNamara. Value to winner, $675; second, $150; third, $50; fourth, $25. Time, 0:25, 0:50, 1:15 2-5, 1:40 4-5, 1:54.

Horses	Wgt.	Post	St.	¼	½	¾	Str.	Fin.	Jockeys	Straight
DIXIE LAD	113	3	7	7	7	7	$4^{1½}$	1^{nk}	Corbett	$4.25
MR. DICK	113	7	4	2^2	2^{nk}	1^{nk}	1^{nk}	2^{ns}	Frye	24.86
LA FERIA	108	2	3	5^2	3^1	3^h	3¼	$3^{1¼}$	Elston	3.16
HERENDEEN	113	5	6	6^2	5¼	$4^{1½}$	2^h	4^2	Allen	1.21
RESPOND	113	1	2	3½	$6^{1¼}$	6½	6^2	5^{ns}	Clelland	10.21
SPUD	113	6	5	4^1	4^1	2^1	$5^{1½}$	6^2	H. Fisher	21.51
TEAGREEN	113	4	1	1¼	1^1	5^h	7	7	Landolt	16.55

Two-dollar mutuels paid—DIXIE LAD, $10.50, $6.68, $4.80; MR. DICK, $23.09, $9.14; LA FERIA, $3.38.

DIXIE LAD, far out of it first five-eighths, improved position steadily on outside thereafter, stood a long drive courageously and was up in final strides. MR. DICK forced the early pace under strong restraint, drew into command slowly entering the stretch and held on stubbornly. LA FERIA, taken back repeatedly when in close quarters, but never far back, closed resolutely and might have been best. HERENDEEN, weakening after making a bid at the close of a mile, responed, had no mishap. SPUD weakened. TEA GREEN had early speed.

SEVENTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $800; claiming, for 3-year-olds. Start good. Won easily; place driving. Went to post at 5:15. Off at 5:16. Winner Ridgeview Stock Farm's ch. f. (3), by Ciambala—May Ella. Trained by John O. Whitlow. Value to winner, $600; second, $125; third, $50; fourth, $25. Time, 0:24 3-5, 0:49 1-5, 1:15, 1:41 1-5, 1:48.

Horses	Wgt.	Post	St.	¼	½	¾	Str.	Fin.	Jockeys	Straight
OLAMAY	108	6	8	7^2	7^2	6^2	$1^{1½}$	1^4	Riley	$3.21
PRINCE MEGAN	114	7	2	4^1	2¼	2^h	2^2	2^1	Rose	4.11
BLOW FLY	105	1	5	5^h	3^h	5^2	4^1	3^{nk}	Elston	3.50
JUST ORMONT	109	2	7	8	8	7^2	6^1	4½	H. Fisher	13.52
PRETTI SING	110	8	1	1¼	1^2	1^1	3^h	5^2	Landolt	7.91
THE WHIG	109	5	6	6¼	5¼	4½	5^1	6^2	Pool	3.61
HARD LINES	111½	3	3	$2^{1¼}$	4^1	3¼	7^2	7^2	Allen	28.01
CASSINETTE	104	4	4	$3^{1¼}$	6^h	8	8	8	Turner	40.30

Two-dollar mutuels paid—OLAMAY, $8.42, $4.54, $3.30; PRINCE MEGAN, $5.00, $3.20; BLOW FLY, $2.96.

OLAMAY, allowed to remain well out of it, came through on inside at the stretch turn and racing into safe command, won in hand. PRINCE MEGAN, well up, saved much ground and holding on well, outstayed others. BLOW FLY lost ground at the first turn, lacked room approaching the stretch and closed gamely. JUST ORMONT began slowly and showed a good effort. PRETTI SING quit. THE WHIG lost ground. HARD LINES had early speed.

WASHINGTON PARK ENTRIES

(FOR MONDAY.)
(Associated Press.)

FIRST RACE—Six furlongs; purse, $1,000; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.

1 Golden Sun...110
2 Tombereau ...118
3 Balderdash ...110
4 Knowlton 118
5 *Sans Coin...100
6 Easter Time..110
7 Benefit 110
8 *Estin 113
9 *Imelda 100
10 Dick Morris...118
11 Totem 118
12 Nora D........113
13 *Wee Drop....108
14 Cuddle 113
15 Fervor 118
16 Ballyhoo 118
17 Master Ace....118
18 Zone 118
19 Bacciocco 118
20 Grand Prince..118

SECOND RACE—Five furlongs; purse, $1,200; allowances; the Blue Island; for 2-year-olds.

1 Miss Brilliant..109
2 Princess Val...107
3 Projectile 108
4 Red Whisk....112
5 Le Bruyere....110
6 Old Judge.....108
7 Black Squaw..107
8 Ballygran 110
9 Flying Fleet...108
10 Royal Blunder.108
11 Doramelia ...105

THIRD RACE—Six furlongs; purse, $1,000; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.

1 Unencumbered.110
2 *Black Comet.113
3 Predict 110
4 Sobieha 105
5 The Okah.....113
6 Booby Bird....105
7 Flagtime 118
8 Louis Dear....110
9 Mild 110
10 *Muskoday ...113
11 Calgary Kay...118
12 Don Romiro...110
13 *Verity Ballot.100
14 *Half Day....113
15 *Eliz. Bella...108
16 *The Dago....113
17 *Shasta Star..108
18 *Tufinuf 113
19 *Semester 105
20 Checkerberry ..118

FOURTH RACE—One and one-eighth miles; purse, $1,000; claiming; for 4-year-olds and upward.

1 *Ping Coates...107
2 *Milady 102
3 Titus 115
4 Eveline F.....107
5 Blue Law.....112
6 Southland Boy.112
7 Judge Leuders..112
8 *Gabbo 109
9 *Plutarch 107
10 *South Seas....107
11 *Freight Clerk.110
12 *Banjo 107
13 Bobby Powers..112
14 *Laurie 107
15 *Battling On..112

FIFTH RACE—Six furlongs; purse, $5,000 added; the Washington Park Handicap; for 3-year-olds and upward.

1 Burning Up...111
2 Don Leon.....111
3 Tannery 116
4 †Pansy Walker.116
5 ‡Justinian 106
6 Manta 107
7 Street Singer..104
8 Hyman 104
9 Gold Step.....107
10 ‖Flag Bearer...109
11 Sup. Sweet...102
12 *Camp Boss...106
13 Ladder 112
14 §Sir Melton...102
15 §Gay Past.....106
16 Silverdale 108
17 ¶Fr. Atheling..109
18 Higher 108
19 Cayuga 109
20 †Surfboard ...106
21 Betty Derr....107
22 Indian Runner.105
23 Polydorus 112

*Three D's Stable entry.
†Greentree Stable entry.
‡McCuan entry.
§Superior Stable entry.
¶Marsch entry.

SIXTH RACE—One and one-eighth miles; purse, $1,000; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.

1 *W. G. Bowman.111
2 *Brass Monkey.111
3 Hatteras 108
4 Come On......116
5 *Skidmore ...103
6 Culloden 116
7 Bather 116
8 Lady Ebony ...116
9 *Crescent City.103
10 Sophist 108
11 His Last......116
12 *O No........103

SEVENTH RACE—One and one-eighth miles; purse, $1,000; claiming; for 4-year-olds and upward.

1 Runar 107
2 *Hal Riley....107
3 Noel's First....115
4 *Lucky Carter..110
5 Jodhpur 112
6 Attil 112
7 *Curtaser 112
8 Gunfire 112
9 *Homewood ...107
10 M. Perfection..107
11 Tack 112
12 *Comatockery..107
13 *Sand Fiddler..107
14 Blue Cloud....112

*Apprentice allowance claimed.
Weather, clear; track, fast.

BAINBRIDGE ENTRIES.

(FOR MONDAY.)
(Associated Press.)

FIRST RACE—Six furlongs; purse, $600; claiming; for 4-year-olds and upward, fillies and mares.

1 *Lucky Drift..110
2 *Knee Glader..110
3 Lightning Girl..115
4 *Selka 110
5 Nosduh 115
6 Crooning 115
7 *Silver Wave...110
8 The Fr. Rose..115
9 Hilda A.......115
10 *Lady Lecomte.110
11 Highl'd Fling..115
12 *Bavelle Fronk.110
13 Flying Fantom.115
14 Zela K........115
15 Anne L........115

SECOND RACE—Six furlongs; purse, $600; claiming; for 3-year-olds.

1 Tricycle 116
2 Red Shadow...116
3 Nina's Baby...111
4 Northern Sir...116
5 Cousin Roger...116
6 Justa Hug.....111
7 Dazetta 111
8 Agnes P.......111
9 *St. Mica.....106
10 Butch 116
11 La Reoyu.....111
12 *Kuvera 111
13 *Nat Weiss....111
14 *Hasty Polly...106
15 Gurgler 111
16 Shaun Padraic.116
17 Curry Girl....111
18 Zean 116

THIRD RACE—One mile and 70 yards; purse, $600; claiming; for 4-year-olds and upward.

1 *Phi Delta.....105
2 *Woodgain 110
3 *Lucky Pal....110
4 Stampdale 115
5 Sweepstakes ...115
6 Allegretto 115
7 Watch Girl....110
8 Chorister 115
9 As Fair.......115
10 Silkoline 110
11 *Bashful Beau.110
12 *E. Go Bragh..110
13 *Pan 110
14 Halliard 115
15 Balzar 115
16 Aspin Lake....115

FOURTH RACE—One mile; purse, $600; for 3-year-old and 4-year-old maidens.

1 Tears 107
2 Kitty O'Way...107
3 William J.....116
4 Justa Harry...112
5 Ed L..........111
6 Mak's Bubbles.107
7 Usurp 107
8 Master McGee..112
9 Bob F.........112
10 Tortway 112
11 Danny Boy....112
12 Miss Burke...107
13 Borealis 116
14 Maj. Lee.....112
15 Alvin Sieve...116
16 Prince Tommy.112
17 Upset Ann....107
18 Ivan W.......112

FIFTH RACE—One mile; purse, $600; the Erie; claiming; for 4-year-olds and upward.

1 *Aurica 110
2 R. K. Girl.....110
3 My Beauty....110
4 Cecelia Grob...115
5 *Purple Robe...110
6 *Monde 110
7 Jaz Mint.....115
8 *Amour 110
9 *Wega 110
10 Ninghal 115
11 Wise Maid....115
12 *Polylith 110
13 Free Helen...115
14 Kinfolks 115
15 Busy Ven.....115

SIXTH RACE—Four and one-half furlongs; purse, $600; claiming; for 2-year-olds.

1 *All Forlorn....104
2 *Doris B......108
3 June Burbon...109
4 *Lady Trust....104
5 *Marion T.....108
6 Thorsen Girl...109
7 Miss Frisky....109
8 Parkersburg ...112
9 Dreamy Belle..109
10 Yvetta V.....109
11 Daises Boy...116
12 *Laura Clay...104
13 Sudie B......109
14 Bobby F......114
15 Easy Way.....111
16 Miss Steinhaus.109
17 *Sammy Tuck.107
18 Baldy Thinker 112

SEVENTH RACE—One mile and 70 yards; purse, $600; claiming; for 4-year-olds and upward.

1 *Thomas Seth..110
2 *Here Ashby...110
3 Selection 115
4 Ken Kling.....115
5 Intruder 110
6 Jimmy Finn...115
7 Uncle Si......115
8 Southland Toy.115
9 On Trial......115
10 Basha 115
11 Super Toy....110
12 Bound's Rock..110
13 Scala 110
14 Sally's Hour...110
15 *Earfull 110
16 *Lad's Run....108

*Apprentice allowance claimed.
Weather, clear; track, fast.

MARYLAND PARK PLAYS.

Maryland Park A. C., unlimited baseball tossers will entertain Landover A. C. today at 3:30 o'clock.

SUNTICA, 2-1, WINS FILLY STAKE

Beats I Say in 58th Running of Oaks at Churchill.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 21 (A.P.).—Suntica, owned by Dr. Willis Sharpe Kilmer, of Binghamton, N. Y., won the fifty-eighth running of the Kentucky Oaks here today.

The race ended in a driving finish between Suntica and Albert Sabath's I Say, with J. W. Parrish's Depression, chief reliance of Kentucky, a distant third. Time for the mile and an eighth was 1:52 1-5.

The largest crowd of the spring meet since Kentucky Derby day was out to see the Oaks, Kentucky's historic race for fillies, which was the feature of the closing day card.

Princess Camelia, Favorite, Wilts.

Princess Camelia, owned by Mrs. John Marsch, of Chicago, was made the favorite with Suntica a warm second choice, but Princess Camelia fell back in the home stretch as Suntica began to set the pace. I Say, handled by Jockey C. E. Allen, was the first to show speed and Suntica dropped back at the far turn but Jockey Tony Pascuma appeared to be merely giving her a breathing spell.

The race was worth $4,590 to the winner and the parimutuels paid her backers $6.26, $4.28 and $3.84 for a $2 ticket. I Say paid $12.10 and $7.40, and Depression paid $6.24.

TWO FOR DOR-A NINES.

Dor-A Jrs.	AB	H	O	A	Berwyn Jrs.	AB	H	O	A
Fitzp'k,lf	4	1	4	0	Case,cf	3	3	2	0
France,c	6	3	3	2	America,3b	3	0	2	1
Keane,1b	4	1	7	0	Carl,ss	2	0	2	2
F.Bo'rs,3b	5	3	1	4	Maho'y,lf	1	0	2	0
S.Bo'rs,ss	5	2	3	0	B'rdsley,2b	3	1	1	2
Brown,2b	4	1	2	1	Remady,1b	3	1	6	0
Miller,cf	4	1	0	0	Deak,rf	2	0	0	0
Fowler,rf	4	1	0	0	Wright,c	3	0	4	1
Wood,rf	1	0	1	0	White,p	3	0	0	2
Chaney,cf	1	1	0	0	Buscher,p	1	1	2	0
Cain,p	3	1	0	0
Keegin,p	1	1	0	0	Totals	28	6	21	8
Totals	42	16	21	7

Dor-A Jrs. .... 4 3 0 1 5 3 7—23
Berwyn Jrs. .... 0 0 4 0 0 0 1— 5

Error—S. Bowers. Two-base hits—Chaney, Fitzpatrick, France. Three-base hit—Keegin. Home run—F. Bowers. Stolen base—Cain. Double play—F. Bowers to Brown. Left on bases—Dor-A, 11; Berwyn, 6. Hits—Off Cain, 5 in 5 innings; off Keegin, 1 in 2 innings. Hit by pitched ball—By Cain (Deal), by White (Kease, Miller). Struck out—By Cain, 2; by Keegin, 1; by White, 4. Winning pitcher—Cain. Losing pitcher—White. Umpire—Hamel.

Dor-A Srs.	AB	H	O	A	West. Elec.	AB	H	O	A
Troy,ss	5	2	0	4	Don'son,1b	4	1	8	1
Burdick,1b	3	0	7	0	G'dnette,ss	5	1	2	1
Ch'bris,lf	4	1	2	0	J.Curtain,lf	4	0	2	0
Hamil,cf	3	2	1	0	Parhood,2b	4	0	0	2
Bartoo,3b	5	1	2	2	Peall,c	3	0	7	2
Belt,c	3	2	11	3	Beall,3b	2	1	2	6
R.Bo'rs,2b	2	0	2	2	Rob'son,cf	3	0	2	0
S.Bo'rs,2b	2	1	0	2	Phoebie,rf	3	0	1	0
Tenley,rf	2	0	0	0	C.Curtain,p	3	0	1	2
Brown,rf	0	0	0	0
Watson,rf	2	1	2	0	Totals	31	3	24	14
Moran,p	2	0	0	0
Ruble,p	2	0	0	2
Totals	35	10	27	15

Western Electric .. 0 0 0 0 4 0 0 0 0—4
Dor-A Srs. .... 0 1 1 0 0 2 2 0 x—6

Errors—Brown, Watson, Burdick. Two-base hits—Troy, Hamil, Donaldson. Three-base hit—Belt. Stolen base—Beall. Sacrifice—Bowers. Left on bases—Dor-A, 7; Western Electric, 6. Hit by pitched ball—By Curtain (Burdick, 2). Winning pitcher—Ruble. Umpire—Keane.

ANACOSTIA EAGLES WIN.

Eagles.	AB	H	O	A	Col. Hts.	AB	H	O	A
Gill,lf	4	1	1	1	Wellens,3b	5	1	1	3
Connick,cf	4	0	4	0	Clark,cf	5	0	6	0
C.Plumb,1b	4	2	10	3	Frat,rf	4	2	2	0
Davis,c,2b	2	0	6	2	Winaati,1b	4	2	9	3
E.Plumb,rf	4	0	2	0	Lewis,c	4	0	4	2
Harris,p	4	1	0	3	Coulter,lf	3	0	3	0
Pizza,3b	3	2	2	2	Wiltshire,ss	4	0	1	4
Raedy,ss	1	0	0	1	Coleman,2b	4	0	2	2
Love,2b,ss	4	2	2	4	Tomagni,p	4	1	0	2
Padgett,c	3	0	3	1	Totals	37	6	28	16
Totals	33	8	30	17

Anacostia Eagles. 0 0 0 0 2 0 0 0 0 1—3
Columbia Heights. 0 0 0 0 0 2 0 0 0 0—2

Runs—Harris, Pizza (2), Wellins, Clark. Errors—Lewis (2). Two-base hits—Pizza, Tomagni, Love. Stolen bases—C. Plumb, Harris, Winaati.

CLOVERS TRIM WOODWARD.

Clover.	AB	H	O	A	Woodward.	AB	H	O	A
Cum'gs,ss	3	0	3	2	Maldy,lf	2	0	0	0
I.G'tler,cf	2	0	0	0	T.Ball,p	2	0	0	0
Prez'ti,2b	2	0	0	0	Winestine,c	2	1	3	2
M.G'tler,p	2	1	3	2	Hamb'g,3b	2	0	2	0
Palmer,lf	1	1	0	1	Mann'g,1b	2	1	6	0
Dosh,3b	2	1	0	1	Smith,2b	2	1	1	1
Strong,1b	2	0	6	0	Kimball,cf	2	0	1	0
Feltner,c	2	2	3	2	Bobbie,rf	2	0	2	0
Fanning,rf	1	0	0	0	Billy,ss	1	0	0	1
Totals	17	5	15	8	Totals	17	3	15	4

Clover A. C .... 0 0 0 4 0—4
Woodward .... 0 0 0 0 2—2

Runs—M. Gertler, Dosh, Strong, Feltner. Errors—M. Gertler (2), Dosh, Manning. Two-base hits—M. Gertler, Feltner. Stolen bases—Fanning, Palmer, Feltner, M. Gertler, Dosh. Umpire—Neil.

SEARS INSECTS SCORE.

Sears.	AB	H	O	A	Marberry.	AB	H	O	A
Colton,1b	6	3	10	1	Marshall,2b	4	1	2	2
Miller,2b	6	2	2	3	Collins,3b	3	0	0	3
Bres'n,3b	4	1	1	2	Morse,c	4	1	10	1
Welche,ss	4	1	0	3	Martin,lf	4	2	2	0
S.Nojak,rf	2	1	2	0	Sutterf'd,ss	5	0	0	4
Leggan,cf	5	0	1	1	Kidwell,cf	5	0	1	1
Essex,lf	5	4	3	0	Maho'y,1b	4	1	7	0
E.Nojak,c	5	0	7	1	Shute,rf	5	1	0	0
Spicer,p	4	2	0	1	Mitchell,p	3	2	1	2
Taylor	1	0	0	0	Emerson,p	1	0	1	0
Donovan,p	1	0	1	0
Palmer	1	1	0	0	Totals	38	8	24	13
Totals	44	15	27	12

Sears .... 0 4 0 3 5 0 0 1 0—13
Marberry A. C. ..1 0 0 1 1 2 1 0 3— 9

Runs—Colton (3), Miller (2), Bresanhan, Welche, J. Kojak, Essex (2), E. Kojak, Spicer (2), O. Marshell, Collen (2), Martin, Sutterfeild, Kidwell, Shute, Mitchell (2). Errors—P. Marshall (2), Collins, Sutterfeild, Shute, Miller, Bresanhan, J. Nojak. Two-base hits—Bresanhan, Essex, Mitchell. Three-base hit—Miller. Stolen bases—Miller, Essex (2), Welche, O. Marshell. Double plays—Bresanhan to Colton. First base on balls—Off Mitchell, 3; off Spicer, 2; off Donovan, 4. Hits—Off Spicer, 5 in 7 innings; off Donovan, 1 in 2 innings; off Mitchell, 8 in 7 innings; off Martin, 2 in 2 innings. Hit by pitched ball—Mitchell, Bresanhan. Struck out—By Spicer, 10; by Donovan, 3; by Mitchell, 7 by Emerson, 3. Winning pitcher—Spicer. Losing pitcher—Mitchell.

HAGERSTOWN RESULTS.

(Associated Press.)

FIRST—About 5 furlongs; purse, $500; claiming; for 2-year-olds.
Scope, 106 (Godfrey) 10.40 3.80 2.60
Wanderoo, 114 (Lang) 2.60 2.20
Sorcery, 109 (Martin) 2.60
St. Hendor, Skitter, Marie Getz, Sedgeville and Westaction also ran. Time, 1:02.

SECOND—About 5 furlongs; purse, $400; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.
Gift O' Gab, 100 (Godfrey) 4.30 3.30 2.70
Priscilla Lee, 100 (Martin).... 11.10 6.90
Cupidity, 110 (Lang) 3.00
Bessie S., Party Boots, Regulation, Ricks, Appellate also ran. Time, 1:01 4-5.

THIRD—About 5 furlongs; purse, $400; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.
Black Dreams, 114 (Lang).. 5.10 3.50 3.00
Remedy, 119 (Smallwood)....... 10.10 8.90
Blue Berry, 109 (Laurin) 9.30
Lady Monte, Annie A., Rain King, MacDonald H., Poetic License also ran. Time, 1:01 3-5.

FOURTH—About 1 mile and 70 yards; purse, $500; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.
Step Sis, 105 (Martin) 5.80 3.30 2.70
Redcliffe, 116 (Jackson) 3.00 2.50
Your Flag, 106 (Laurin) 2.30
Black Princess, Primitive Man, Dun Past, Mercy B., Turf King also ran. Time, 1:46 1-5.

FIFTH—About 6½ furlongs; purse, $400; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.
Black Vim, 102 (Godfrey) 10.50 4.20 2.60
Kudos, 127 (Jackson) 3.30 2.40
Bounder, 118 (Lang) 2.80
Bobby Polson, Bless Her Heart, Run Off, Matagain and Dolesia also ran. Time, 1:21 1-5.

SIXTH—One and one-sixteenth miles; purse, $400; for 3-year-olds and upward; claiming.
Francis Cooper, 110 (Martin 9.80 6.00 4.40
Lookby, 110 (Pierce) 7.10 4.60
Apopka, 110 (Lourin) 6.30
Welsh Betty, Silver Keys, Colonial Beau, Torrito and Brown Maid also ran. Time, 1:53 1-5.

SEVENTH—About 1 1-16 miles; purse, $400; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.
Noisy Miss, 116 (Martin)... 6.70 3.40 2.50
Billie N, 116 (Parker) 4.20 2.50
Bootland, 111 (Pierce) 2.80
Brunette Preferred, Jack of Clubs, Thundercast, Trellis and Hernobs also ran. Time, 1:53.

CLINTON IN ACTION.

The Clinton baseball team has scheduled Wilkins Press Club nine for a game today on the Camp Springs diamond.

KOCSIS AND SCHWARTZ BATTLE

Bout Next Feature at Portner's; Strickler Faces Phelps.

HAVING stepped aside for this week in deference to Twin City Arena's inaugural the Alexandria Day Nursery Athletic committee yesterday scheduled its next boxing show for Thursday night, May 31, in Portner Arena. The card will consist of three eight-round bouts and a six-rounder presenting several of local fandom's favorites.

The main event will show Benny Schwartz, popular Baltimore bantamweight, and Antol Kocsis, Hungarian champion, while next in importance will be a clash between Billy Strickler, rugged Washington light-heavy, and Cowboy Owen Phelps, one of the ten leading light heavies in the country. The third eight involves Bill Fiemster, lanky light-heavyweight champion of the Carolinas, and Joe Finazzo, Baltimore left hook artist. The six-rounder has not been arranged, but efforts are being made to match Joe Fino, Mexican bantam, against Frankie Murray, Los Angeles veteran.

Schwartz Seeks Revenge.

In meeting Kocsis, Schwartz will have an opportunity of justifying the confidence of hundreds of fans who thought that he was entitled to the decision over Billy Landers two weeks ago. At that time Landers, who had previously been defeated by Kocsis, was awarded a referee's decision over Schwartz, much to the disgust of a majority of the crowd. Kocsis is a slugger with plenty of speed, while Schwartz relies mainly on counterpunching and other fine points of defense.

Billy Strickler faces the biggest chance of his five-year career, as Phelps is the best known boxer he has ever been pitted against. The local youth, a southpaw, has been improving rapidly this year and thus far has beaten Al Treanor, of Philadelphia, and Fiemster. He was held to a draw by Sam Finazzo.

Fiemster, who staged a rousing rally after absorbing a body beating from Strickler for six rounds a couple of weeks back, will seek to redeem himself fully at the expense of Joe Finazzo, who is rated a "trial horse." If the Carolinian's punches conquer the tough Italian, he will have regained much of the prestige that was stripped from him by Strickler.

BELMONT PARK ENTRIES.

(FOR MONDAY.)
(Associated Press.)

FIRST RACE—One mile; purse, $1,000; claiming; the Peconic; for 3-year-olds and upward.

1 *C.Troubadour.100
2 *Fleet Flag...106
3 Genial Host...111
4 Swatter 109
5 King Row.....109
6 Sun Shadow...109
7 Quick March..109
8 Elcidio 109
9 Almond 103
10 Blue Blitzen..100
11 Bill Kennedy..109
12 Robrack 109
13 Dextro 103
14 *Daily News...100
15 Affirmative ...105
16 Odds 109
17 *Whileaway ...106
18 Conacher 109
19 Blue Damsel...100
20 Roan Antelope.111
21 *Call Play.....106

SECOND RACE—Seven furlongs; purse, $1,000; conditions; the Waverly; for 3-year-olds and upward, maidens.

1 Bectoi 115
2 Noon Whistle.115
3 Well Played...112
4 Macac 112
5 Watch Him...112
6 Urbanity II...102
7 Magyar 112
8 Brandon Light.112
9 Victress 107
10 Cheela 112
11 Short Appr'ch.112
12 Polo Bar.....112
13 Tug o' War...112
14 Epidawn 112
15 Rozell 107
16 Scout Master..112
17 Dunny Boy....112
18 Forewarned ...112
19 Trajectory ...112

THIRD RACE—Four and one-half furlongs (Widener course); purse, $1,000; conditions; for 2-year-old fillies.

1 Espinetta 112
2 Crazy Jane....120
3 Fusina 115
4 Fretwork 115
5 Brown Erne....112
6 Edelweiss 115
7 Iseult 112
8 Eva B........115
9 My Daughter..112
10 Cut Short....112
11 Tickory Tock..112

FOURTH RACE—Seven furlongs; purse, $1,200 added; the Milkmaid Handicap; for 3-year-olds and upward, mares.

1 Parry 117
2 All Rowes....106
3 Risque 126
4 Ladana 118
5 Pintail 108
6 Sheltered ...105

FIFTH RACE—One mile; purse, $1,200; conditions; the Campfire; for 3-year-olds.

1 War Hero.....108
2 Jimmy Sutro...108
3 Larranaga 108
4 Bubble Up.....104
5 Economic 117
6 Faireno 115
7 Polonaise 110

SIXTH RACE—Four and one-half furlongs (Widener course); purse, $1,000; claiming; the Flower Field; for 2-year-olds.

1 *All Ablaze....104
2 *Lei 104
3 *Flying Dragon.110
4 Well Shod.....109
5 Capt. Jerry....112
6 Ipral 112
7 Denon 109
8 True John.....109
9 Corn Cob......109
10 *Irish Knight..104
11 *Pomponius ...109
12 Oriley 109
13 Center Lane...109

*Apprentice allowance claimed.
Weather, clear; track, fast.

BELMONT PARK RESULTS.

(Associated Press.)

FIRST—Seven furlongs; purse, $1,000; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.
Contribute, 107 (Hanford) .. 5-1 2-1 1-1
Brandon Rose, 102 (Coucci) 3-5 1-5
Charon, 112 (Workman) 1-1
Zaidee, Impeach, Peacock Alley, Panguitch, Haggerson, Prince Barton, Clear Way and Abeth also ran. Time, 1:26.

SECOND—About 2 miles; purse, $10,000 guaranteed; Charles L. Appleton Memorial Cup Steeplechase; for 4-year-olds and upward.
Arc Light, 148 (Byers) 11-5 9-10 2-5
Azucar, 135 (Bauman) 9-10 2-5
Beacon Hill, 158 (G. Smoot) 1-2
Spar, Sydney, Barometer, Inception and Cree also ran. Time, 3:43 3-5.

THIRD—Four and a half furlongs; purse, $1,000; allowances; for 2-year-olds.
White Lies, 114 (M. Garner) 2-1 2-5 out
Swivel, 114 (E. Sande) .... 1-6 out
Bolilee, 114 (H. Mills) 2-5
Caesar's Ghost and Parity also ran. Time, 0:52.

FOURTH—One mile; purse, $5,000 added; Metropolitan Handicap; for 3-year-olds and upward.
Equipoise, 127 (Workman) .. 3-5 1-4 out
Sun Meadow, 118 (M. Garner) .. 3-1 6-5
Mate, 128 (G. H. Bostwick) 7-5
Epithet, Iron Clad, Pilate and Osculator also ran. Time, 1:37.

FIFTH—Four and a half furlongs; purse, $1,000; conditions; for maiden 2-year-olds.
Rapscallion, 117 (Robertson) 1-1 2-5 1-5
Kerry Patch, 117 (Kelsay) 5-1 2-1
Maebee, 114 (Sande) 1-1
Gallivanter, Miney Myerson, Propontis, Llandaff and Idealist also ran. Time, 0:52 2-5.

SIXTH—One mile; purse, $1,000; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.
Glidelia, 102 (Coucci) .... 3-5 1-4 out
Sergt. Donaldson, 104 (Gilbert) 2-1 4-5
Charleigh, 109 (M. Garner) 4-5
Honey Grove, Bonnie Prince, Despoil, Colossal and Grand Vizer also ran. Time, 1:38.

RACING SELECTIONS

FOR MONDAY.
WOODBINE.
(For Fast Track).

1—Keltwick, Half Saint, Happy Anne.
2—No selections.
3—Dark War, Toytown, Broad Lights.
4—Khorasan, Frumper, Deedie.
5—Mainsheet, Deedie, Wrackell.
6—Vacillate, Solace, Fair Jack.
7—Sea Kale, Kitling, Freethinker.
Best bet—Vacillate.
—Louisville Times (A.P.).

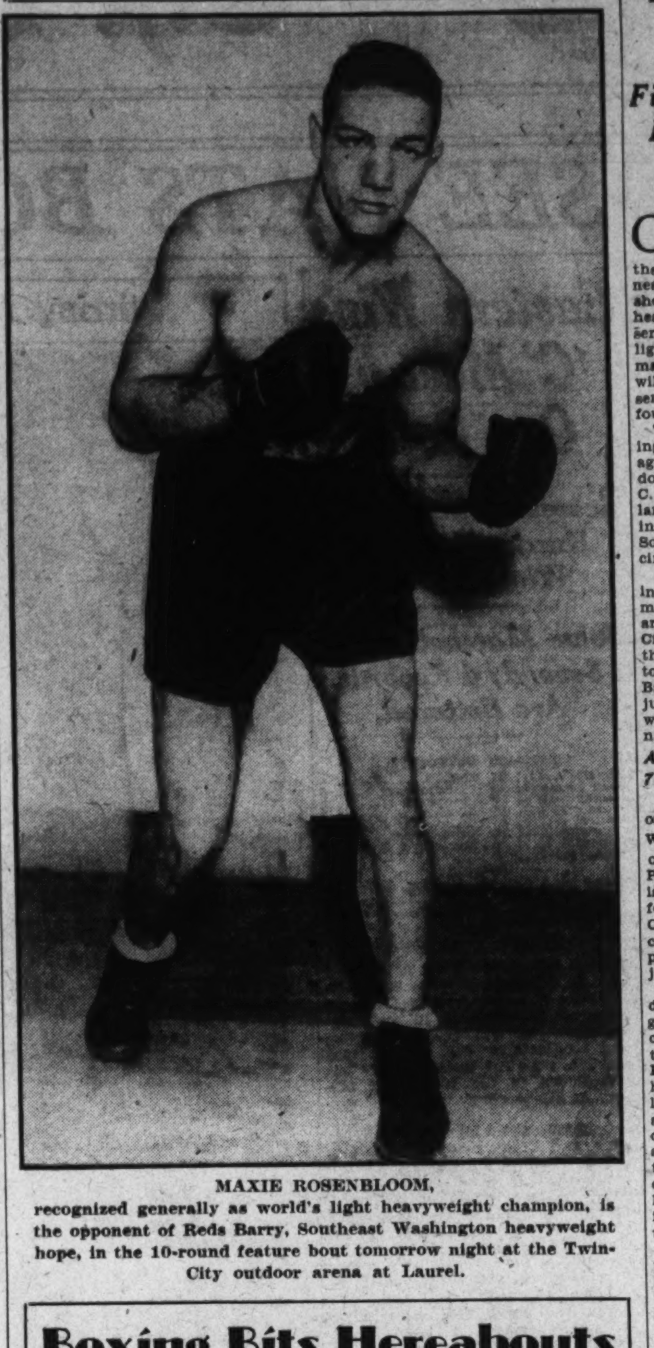
BAINBRIDGE.
(For Fast Track).

1—Lucky Drift, Highland Fling, The French Rose.
2—Kuvera, Zean, St. Mica.
3—Allegretto, Erin Go Bragh, Pan.
4—Making Bubbles, Master McGee, William J.
5—Armour, Jaz Mint, Wega.
6—Dreamy Belle, Parkersburg, Baldy Tinker.
7—Thomas Seth, Ken Kling, Southland Toy.
Best bet—Kuvera.
—Louisville Times (A.P.).

BELMONT PARK.
(For Fast Track).

1—Call Play, Sun Shadow, Roan Antelope.
2—Well Played, Brandon Light, Epidawn.
3—Fretwork, Crazy Jane, Edelweiss.
4—Risque, Ladana, Parry.
5—Faireno, Economic, War Hero.
6—Captain Jerry, All Ablaze, Ipral.
Best bet—Risque.
—Louisville Times (A.P.).

Champion in Twin-City Bout



MAXIE ROSENBLOOM, recognized generally as world's light heavyweight champion, is the opponent of Reds Barry, Southeast Washington heavyweight hope, in the 10-round feature bout tomorrow night at the Twin-City outdoor arena at Laurel.

Boxing Bits Hereabouts

By JACK ESPEY

WHEN Maxie Rosenbloom steps in the ring to meet Reds Barry tomorrow night at Twin City Arena, it will have been the first time a world's champion (now, wait a second, we'll explain!) has appeared in the Capital area against a local boy since Freddie Welsh boxed Tommy Lowe at the old Ardmore Club, more than fifteen years ago. (Note—The boxing world in general recognizes Rosenbloom as title-holder, despite the N. B. A. support of George Nichols.)

In the Welsh-Lowe brawl the circumstances were virtually the same as those attending tomorrow night's affair. Welsh was the lightweight champion and an extremely clever boxer. Lowe, the Washington pride, was given only a slight chance of winning in the prefight dope. Welsh won the decision, but Lowe was not disgraced.

Barry, like Lowe sixteen years ago, is going into his first big fight with none but his warmest supporters conceding him a chance of winning. Reds has everything to gain and nothing to lose.

However, there is no doubt in this department's mind that Barry will be shooting with all he has, and will give Rosenbloom a fast session.

Barry intends to carry the fight to the champion. He has profited from the experience of his bout with Natie Brown, to whom he lost chiefly because of sluggishness in the early rounds. Barry's plan of attack is properly indicated by the excellent physical condition he now enjoys. The Southeast youngster, naturally fast, is stronger than ever.

A spirit of "live and let live" is being voiced by those behind the three boxing organizations hereabouts. Twin-City, Portner's and Fort Washington intend to avoid conflicts of any description. It is to be hoped in the interests of the game that this situation will always exist.

Twin-City takes tomorrow night because Maxie Rosenbloom could not appear on any other date. According to schedule, Portner's would have operated tomorrow night, but the Alexandria Day Nursery committee, headed by Jack Tulloch and Abe Martin, stepped aside in a courteous gesture, for which Promoter Cornell of Twin-City showed his appreciation by donating a sum of money to the Nursery.

Monday night will be the regular weekly date for the shows at Fort Washington, the matchmaker for which is Frankie Mann, who also arranges the Nursery cards. Cornell's Twin-City group has selected Wednesday for its offerings following tomorrow's inaugural.

This cooperative attitude is evidenced by Patsy Donovan, boss of the Mohawk stable of fighters, including Reds Barry. Although Cornell is interested in Barry, Donovan has stated that Twin-City holds no monopoly on the services of Reds or other Mohawk boys.

Benny Schwartz, pleasing Baltimore bantam, seeks reinstatement in his home State where he was suspended a year ago for "running out" of a match with Dick Welsh, of Norfolk. Schwartz needs work now and since his fine exhibition against Billy Landers at Alexandria, finds Twin-City and the Day Nursery both extending offers. He goes again at Alexandria May 31 against Antol Kocsis, Hungarian bantam champion. A return match between Benny and Landers is in the making.

Speaking of return bouts, Bob Godwin and Joe Banovic are good for another shot hereabouts. The fans, as well as Godwin, were surprised when Banovic spilled the Southerner in the first round last week at Portner's. Joe also upset the Washington suspicion that out-of-town fighters with reputations won't exert themselves when appearing in these "sticks."

Ritchie Martell, 21-year-old Italian junior welter, of Philadelphia, is anxious to show his wares here. So anxious, in fact, that he instructed his local agent, Goldie Ahearn, to promise that he would agree to give a pleasing performance or go unpaid. Ritchie has victories over Ray Bowen, Al Treanor, Frankie Hayes, Eddie Reed, Frankie Garcia, Roxie Allen and Gene Baldoni.

Others looking for engagements are Midget Mike Dundee, a bantamweight hailing from Florida, and George "Kid" Lees, lightweight, and Joe Dody, junior lightweight, from Johnstown, Pa. These three are now training at the Mohawk Club.

JABS, HOOKS AND CROSSES—Cowboy Owen Phelps, who battles Billy Strickler May 31, is in line for a bout with Ace Hudkins on the Coast. Joe Fino and George Nerron, his stablemates, may meet Speedy Dado and Max Baer, respectively. Johnny Jadick, junior welter champ, has consented to appear at Twin City. Lou Raymond, Baltimore, is a likely opponent. Billy Edwards took time out last week from sparring duties to shellack Young Stewart in Baltimore. Nick Antonelli and Al Martin will repeat soon. Joe Bruno, Baltimore flailer, wants to give Antonelli another shot. Trimmed Nick recently at Portsmouth. Natie Brown vs. Johnny Risko is a possibility at a nearby arena. Walter Kirkwood, last seen hereabouts in March, is polishing up the old dukes in the Mohawk gym. Looks as though Charley Thompson ran out when he heard Ray Bowen easily beat Patsy Lewis. Pete DeAngeles substitutes for Thompson against Bowen tomorrow night. Bob Tow, who flattened Wid Mathews the other night, was Jack Tunney down Alabama way a year ago.

GRID TICKETS REDUCED.

Lincoln, Nebr., May 21 (A.P.).—Athletic directors of the Big Six Conference today announced prices of football tickets would be lowered next fall. Although official action has not been taken, directors indicated the reduction might amount to 20 per cent.

The directors voted to take fewer players on football trips and also to cut the scouting expense in half.

BAINBRIDGE RESULTS.

(Copyright, 1932.)

FIRST—Six furlongs; purse, $600; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.
Indicative, 105 (Nertney).. 4.40 3.80 3.40
Deja, 105 (Marinelli) 9.00 4.40
Sky High, 110 (Roussell) 5.40
Balzar, Pegg's Lassie, Merger, Princess Nancy, Nowski, French Ace, Bright Knot, Westys Fox and Eternal Girl also ran. Time, 1:13 3-5.

SECOND—Six furlongs; purse, $600; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.
Easter Boy, 120 (Shaw). 18.80 7.80 4.60
Anne L., 115 (West) 4.20 3.40
Halliard, 120 (Horvath) 3.20
Justa Hurry, Earfull, Miss Peggy, Rain or Shine, Dry Nation, Magna Mater, Leon Lass, Bubby Boy and Master Sweep also ran. Time, 1:14.

THIRD—Six furlongs; purse, $600; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.
Busy Ven, 115 (Kern) . 99.00 30.00 19.80
Friar, 120 (Hardy) 11.00 6.60
Nonana, 105 (Nertney) 5.40
Mrs. Foster, Navro, Lad's Run, Drooping Eye, Topsie H., Coots, Hippias and Norwalk also ran. Time 1:14 2-5.

FOURTH—One and one-sixteenth miles; purse, $600; claiming; for 3-year-olds.
Bonnet, 105 (Nertney) 4.80 4.00 2.80
Tennywood, 107 (West) 4.60 3.80
Beauty Bride, 100 (Lane) 3.20
Hasola, Trim and Zegora also ran. Time, 1:48 3-5.

FIFTH—Six furlongs; purse, $1,300 added; Bainbridge Inaugural Handicap; for 3-year-olds and upward.
Silver Cord, 113 (Horvath) 14.40 6.40 3.40
Mad Wind, 105 (Hardy) 8.00 6.60
Mynheer, 107 (Roussell) 3.00
Penchant, Justa Betty, Birthday Gift, Honey Locust, Nyack, Perkins and John P. also ran. Time, 1:12 3-5.

SIXTH—Four and one-half furlongs; purse, $700; allowances; Geauga Lake Purse; for 2-year-olds.
Sir Michael, 109 (West) ... 4.00 3.60 3.00
Singleam, 101 (Nertney) 8.60 3.40
Blazing Crimp, 103 (Marinelli) 3.20
Swincourt, June G., Major Gomes, Modern Miss also ran. Time, 0:55 1-5.

SEVENTH—Six furlongs; purse, $600; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.
Fashion Show, 101 (Pryor) 48.50 14.20 4.40
Most Wise, 110 (Gooler) 16.00 6.60
Al Green, 115 (Nertney) 4.40
Rag Tag, Satin Spinner, Jack Howe, Ellen D., Rudyard, Porgie, Bill Orange also ran. Time, 1:13.

EIGHTH—One and one-eighth miles; purse, $600; claiming; for 4-year-olds and upward.
Little Toots, 109 (H. West) 5.40 4.20 2.80
Sniper, 109 (Clemens) 6.00 3.40
Upsweep, 114 (Kern) 3.00
Griego, Francock, Pauline H., Tchadex, Gypsy Blood, Clownish, Sally's Hour and Gold Finder also ran. Time, 1:56.

ROSENBLOOM AND BARRY READY

Fight Scene Shifts to Laurel; Van Seeks 8th Victory.

OPEN air boxing will be offered Capital fans for the first time this year tomorrow night when the reorganized Twin City Arena near Laurel stages its inaugural show, featuring Reds Barry, local heavyweight prospect, and Maxie Rosenbloom, generally recognized world's light heavyweight champion. The main bout is listed for ten rounds and will be supported by an eight-round semifinal, two sixes and a pair of fours.

The prospect of a local boy meeting a champion has caught the imagination of Washington fistic fandom, leading Promoter-Matchmaker C. E. Cornell to predict one of the largest crowds in recent ring history in this vicinity. The fans of the Southeast section, Barry's own precinct, are especially enthusiastic.

Baltimore fans, too, are anticipated in goodly numbers, as the management has made special efforts to arouse interest in the Monumental City where the boxing game during the last three years has been slipping toward the athletic graveyard. Two Baltimore boxers, Pete DeAngeles, junior welter, and Pete Zingo, lightweight, will appear in the preliminaries.

Arena Will Seat 7,500 Crowd.

The arena, with a seating capacity of 7,500, is located on the Baltimore-Washington boulevard, about 1 mile on the Baltimore side of Laurel. Parking space for 3,000 automobiles is available as are other conveniences for patrons. The Maryland Athletic Commission will be in charge of the conduct of the bouts and will appoint the officials, a referee and two judges.

Rosenbloom will enter the ring a distinct favorite on account of his greater experience, but there are some critics who look for Barry to hand the New York Hebrew a surprise. Barry is exceptionally fast for a heavyweight, and these observers believe his speed, plus average boxing ability, will carry him through to a decision. Rosenbloom's championship, however, will not be affected by the result because both fighters will come in over the light-heavyweight limit of 175 pounds. Barry will weigh in the neighborhood of 190, with the titleholder scaling approximately 180.

Barry concluded his sparring work yesterday in a warm session with Billy Edwards in the Mohawk Club gym. The Southeast youngster was impressive as he bombarded Edwards with left hooks, one of which floored him for a count of five. Edwards stated afterward that Barry never before had punched so hard.

Haverlak Tackles Whitlock.

The semifinal will bring together Freddy Haverlak, New York lightweight and a stablemate of Rosenbloom, and Don Whitlock, of Tallahassee, Fla. Haverlak boasts a good record in bouts with lightweights through the 135-pound ranks in the South.

Ray Bowen, Washington welterweight, is matched against Pete DeAngeles, of Baltimore, in the main preliminary of six rounds. In the other six, Young Van, sensational local middleweight, will seek his eighth straight victory, meeting Sammy Britt, of Philadelphia. Much interest centers in Van's appearance for he sports an unblemished professional slate and is hailed as the best fistic prospect turned out in Washington in a decade.

The fours will present Billy Essinger, Capital lightweight, vs. Pete Zingo, Baltimore, and Billy Hoe, Mohawk Club junior welter, vs. K. O. Anderson, of the Quantico Marines.

COLORED SCHOOLS PLAY.

The Dunbar and Armstrong High School baseball teams will meet in a charity game next Wednesday at Griffith Stadium. Both schools are represented by their strongest teams in years and a close game is expected. Dunbar recently competed for the South Atlantic colored scholastic championship, but lost the title to a Baltimore school.

WOODBINE RESULTS.

(Associated Press.)

FIRST—Six furlongs; purse, $1,200; the Trial Plate Handicap; for 3-year-olds and upward.
*Springsteel, 117 (J. Burke) 7.35 3.50 2.6
†Solace, 116 (Legere) 4.10 2.7
Vacillate, 109 (Ralls) 2.5
Pat Galety, Pardeen, Mr. Galety, Kopeck, *Mexico, Gallant Lass, †Soll Gills, Magnifico also ran. Time, 1:12.
*Labrot entry.
†Seagram entry.

SECOND—Four furlongs; purse, $1,000; Goodwood Plate; for maiden 2-year-olds; Canadian foaled.
Rockoma, 115 (Mann)... 4.30 3.05 2.7
Bald Crest, 115 (Wells) 13.00 12.8
†Spring Violet, 115 (Townrow) 5.4
†Nadine, Crofter, Sugar Jar, Khaki John, Hollandaise, Court Butterfly, Old Fashioned, King's Bounty and Die Cast also ran. Time, 0:48 3-5.
†Four L entry.

THIRD—About 2 miles; purse, $2,000 added; Frazier Memorial Handicap Steeplechase; for 4-year-olds and upward.
‡Crumpler, 150 (Harroway) 3.35 3.35 2.8
‡Alpheus, 133 (Wren) 3.35 2.8
Channing Lee, 136 (Blackburn) 4.6
Le Bey, Muskogee, †Olan C., †Thistle John and Jack Whittier also ran. Time, 4:02 4-5.
†Perry entry.
‡Clark entry.

FOURTH—One and one-eighth miles; purse, $7,500 added and 50 guineas; King's Plate; for 3-year-olds and upward, foaled in Ontario.
Queensway, 112 (F. Mann). 8.00 4.10 3.0
†King O'Conner, 112 (J. Burke) 3.74 2.7
§Spey Crest, 112 (Schaffer) 3.3
‡Royal Guest, Miss Gormley, †Easter Dandy, §Fragrant Gift, ‖Bronze, †Shady Well, ‖Serfman and *Easter Hatter also ran. Time, 1:55 1-5.
†Seagram entry.
‡Bridgewood entry.
§Wright entry.
‖Thorncliffe entry.

FIFTH—One and one-sixteenth miles; purse, $1,000; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.
The Doctor, 118 (W. Marsch) 5.95 3.05 2.5
Spanfair, 102 (Clancy) 3.45 2.9
Banderlog, 107 (Battiste) 4.2
The Marquise, Traumagne, Tetra Khan, Sunchen, Fair Judge, Homelike, Entray, Billy Baughn and Hogan's Dance also ran. Time, 1:48 1-5.

SIXTH—Four and one-half furlongs; purse, $1,000; allowances; for 2-year-olds.
Slapstick, 111 (Barnes).. 6.35 3.65 2.9
Seemego, 104 (Arnold) 30.35 13.6
Paint Box, 109 (Burke) 4.1
Meany, Chatwater, Gamma Delta, Calchas and Flamborough also ran. Time, 0:55.

SEVENTH—One mile and 70 yards; purse, $1,200 added; Lorne Plate; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.
Broadway Lights, 106 (O'Malley) 5.25 3.35 2.9
Burnside, 108 (Malley) 9.65 7.7
Marplot, 121 (Barnes) 10.7
Louis Merryman, Princely Attention, Live One, Partisan, Lindsay, Sweet Sentiment, Baltimore, Dark Celt and Guide Right also ran. Time, 1:45 1-5.

LOANS
HORNING
South Washington, Va.
Diamonds—Watches—Jewelry
Take All Buses 10th St. and Pa. Ave.

DISCOVERY OF REYNOLDS, NATS' STAR, WAS AN ACCIDENT

Scout Sought Pitcher at College

Football and Track Star, Unkown as Ball Player.

Sent to Minors Without Trial; Popular Big Leaguer.

By FRANK H. YOUNG.

NEW YORK, May 21.—With Carl Reynolds hitting the ball high, wide and handsome, fielding much more flashily than he was expected to when he was obtained in a trade from the Chicago White Sox, his name appears to be on the tongue of most Washington fans. So many questions have been asked by admirers of the Nats' new right fielder that the story of his discovery by Roy Largent, White Sox' Southern representative and scout, no doubt will prove interesting.

Largent, who has been following Carl's work through newspaper accounts and the box scores, is one of Reynolds' greatest admirers. His discovery of Carl was entirely accidental, as he was scouting a pitcher performing for Trinity University at a game being played with Southwestern U. at Waxahachi, when the work of the young shortstop of the Southwestern team caught his eye. The shortstop was Reynolds, who since has been converted into a fly chaser.

Here's Largent's story of his discovery, as told in a letter just received:

"Back in 1926, there was a pitcher at Trinity University who was going fine and I, along with five other scouts, dropped off at Waxahachie, where Trinity played Southwestern University, to look over this young hurler. There was a big youngster named Reynolds playing short for Southwestern, who was as fast as Paddock. He was hitting everything that came near the plate, going after bad balls, but hitting them. He got four hits that day.

Football and Track Star.

"No one had ever heard of him as a ball player as his forte was football, where he was an all-State man; also in track he held the 100-yard record. After watching him in that game, I arranged to be in Georgetown the next week to see him again. He kept up his hitting and after the game I had a talk with him relative to signing a White Sox contract. He did not enthuse over the matter as most youngsters would, but said he wasn't good enough to play pro ball, the result being that he failed to sign. In about two weeks, I went back and took my wife with me and, with her assistance, we finally got his name on the dotted line. That was late June and he was to report to the Sox the next spring.

"Well, during the winter he got cold feet again and advised me and the Sox that he would not play pro ball. We finally got him in line and he reported to the Sox training camp at Shreveport, but the manager thought so little of him that he never let him even put on a uniform, so I found a place for him with the Palestine Club in the old East Texas eague.

"All he did there was to hit .386 and lead the loop in everything. That fall, the Sox called him in and you know his history since.

Lucky Break for Scout.

"Guess other scouts who attended that 1926 game when I did were right in calling me lucky in getting Reynolds. I know, myself, that I feel lucky in attending that game."

Largent's account of discovering Carl is interesting in more ways than one. Among other things, it tells of one characteristic of this player—his modesty—which makes him most popular with his teammates. Carl may never lead the league in hitting, although he ranked fourth in 1930 and has been right around the top of the heap since soon after the present season started, but if he ever does, he will still be a quiet, unassuming fellow showing no signs of temperament or what is commonly called "swelled head."

The Chisox scout also brings out one other point in connection with the signing of Reynolds—the matter of luck which figures in the failure or success of a baseball "ivory" hunter. Six scouts were on hand to bid for the services of a highly-touted pitcher, but the work of this unheard-of youngster caught Largent's eye, he signed for a small bonus, was not even given a tumble when he reported to the Shreveport camp, yet three seasons later boasted an American League batting average which was topped by only Al Simmons, Babe Ruth and Lew Gehrig, and probably had a market value of $100,000.

There were some Washington fans who loudly expressed their disapproval of the trade which brought Reynolds here, but his work undoubtedly has won them over, especially as it has lost the Nats no games and has won many for them, while Pitchers Irving (Bump) Hadley and "Sad Sam" Jones, shunted away for him, collectively have lost more games than they have won. And there is still that Johnny Kerr for Jack Hayes angle to be considered, and it doesn't look as though Washington got any the worst of it there, either.

Home Run Hitters

(Associated Press.)

YESTERDAY.

Ruth, Yankees	2
Foxx, Athletics	2
Williams, Athletics	2
Jolley, Red Sox	2
Webb, Red Sox	2
Gehrig, Yankees	1
Lazzeri, Yankees	1
Allen, Yankees	1
Lee, Phillies	1
Wilson, Dodgers	1
Wright, Dodgers	1
THE LEADERS.
Foxx, Athletics	13
Ruth, Yankees	10
Terry, Giants	9
Collins, Cardinals	8

BASEBALL TODAY, 3:00 P. M.
AMERICAN LEAGUE PARK
Washington vs. Boston
TICKETS ON SALE AT PARK AT 9 A. M.

COMPLETE MAJOR LEAGUE AVERAGES OF ALL games played up to and including Saturday, compiled by The Washington Post Statistician.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Club Batting.

Team.	G.	AB.	R.	H.	2b.	3b.	Hr.	Sb.	Rbi.	Ave.
New York	30	999	202	297	44	24	36	19	192	.300
Philadelphia	31	1,065	179	298	61	15	31	12	167	.279
WASHINGTON	33	1,142	148	314	58	24	14	10	152	.275
Cleveland	34	1,172	185	316	61	9	15	11	163	.268
St. Louis	34	1,192	154	319	58	19	9	17	138	.267
Detroit	29	1,033	147	274	47	13	17	20	128	.265
Chicago	30	1,044	122	243	44	9	3	18	107	.233
Boston	31	1,037	101	234	43	8	11	12	96	.226

FIRST BASEMEN.

Player and team.	G.	AB.	R.	H.	2b.	3b.	Hr.	Sb.	Rbi.	Ave.
Foxx, Chicago	31	115	34	53	6	4	13	2	42	.461
Gehrig, N. Y.	31	117	26	39	4	4	6	1	24	.333
Burns, St. L.	34	138	20	43	5	3	1	6	17	.312
Morgan, Cleve.	34	129	20	39	8	0	0	4	19	.302
Blue, Chi.	30	116	17	35	12	0	0	7	22	.302
JUDGE, WASH.	33	122	16	34	8	1	1	0	15	.279
Davis, Det.	29	115	16	31	6	3	0	3	16	.270
Roettger, Phila.	14	34	5	9	1	0	0	0	3	.265
Alexander, Det.	14	9	0	2	0	0	0	0	0	.222
KUHEL, WASH.	11	6	0	1	0	0	0	0	1	.167
Van Camp, Bos.	14	39	2	6	0	0	0	0	2	.154
Reder, Bos.	14	34	4	5	1	0	0	0	3	.148

SECOND BASEMEN.

Player and team.	G.	AB.	R.	H.	2b.	3b.	Hr.	Sb.	Rbi.	Ave.
Lazzeri, N. Y.	26	83	16	35	10	5	2	2	23	.422
Gehringer, Det.	29	110	19	35	8	2	7	4	28	.318
Olson, Boston	19	59	5	17	0	0	0	0	1	.288
McManus, Boston	26	98	17	27	5	2	2	1	10	.276
Burnett, Cleve.	25	92	12	25	3	1	0	0	11	.272
MYER, WASH.	33	133	30	36	4	6	3	3	13	.271
Melillo, St. L.	34	134	18	36	5	1	2	1	16	.268
Appling, Chi.	25	75	9	20	4	2	0	2	8	.266
Cissell, Cleve.	24	93	18	24	6	1	2	1	9	.259
Bishop, Phila.	20	68	12	13	6	0	0	1	3	.191
Hodapp, Chi.	22	41	3	7	2	0	0	0	0	.171

THIRD BASEMEN.

Player and team.	G.	AB.	R.	H.	2b.	3b.	Hr.	Sb.	Rbi.	Ave.
Selph, Chi.	29	115	17	37	9	3	0	2	18	.322
Rhiel, Det.	11	45	6	12	0	0	0	0	8	.267
Kamm, Cleve.	34	122	17	32	6	1	1	2	22	.262
Dykes, Phila.	31	111	12	28	3	1	2	2	20	.252
BLUEGE, WASH.	33	105	10	25	7	1	0	1	10	.238
Crosetti, N. Y.	29	101	25	23	5	1	0	1	11	.228
Pickering, Bos.	27	85	10	19	5	0	0	0	12	.224
Storti, St. L.	17	65	4	14	6	0	0	0	8	.215
Richardson, Det.	22	62	4	13	1	1	0	3	2	.206
McLEOD, WASH.	4	4	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	.000

SHORTSTOPS.

Player and team.	G.	AB.	R.	H.	2b.	3b.	Hr.	Sb.	Rbi.	Ave.
Levey, St. L.	34	128	16	43	5	2	0	3	13	.336
CRONIN, WASH.	30	114	22	35	7	3	2	1	16	.307
Rogell, Det.	29	119	19	30	5	1	2	2	13	.252
McNair, Phila.	15	53	7	13	4	0	1	2	7	.245
KERR, WASH.	9	13	1	3	0	0	0	0	2	.231
Williams, Phila.	15	49	5	11	2	0	0	0	2	.224
Lary, N. Y.	26	87	23	19	1	1	1	4	5	.218
Montague, Cleve.	36	110	12	23	4	0	0	1	7	.209
Rhyne, Bos.	30	93	15	18	4	3	0	3	13	.194
Kress, Chi.	30	116	20	19	3	2	2	2	18	.164

CATCHERS.

Player and team.	G.	AB.	R.	H.	2b.	3b.	Hr.	Sb.	Rbi.	Ave.
Dickey, N. Y.	28	104	23	42	5	3	6	0	22	.404
SPENCER, WASH.	18	49	6	18	2	0	0	0	8	.367
Myatt, Cleve.	18	59	14	21	4	0	2	1	9	.356
Cochrane, Phila.	30	106	31	35	11	1	7	0	15	.330
R. Ferrell, St. L.	34	121	22	35	7	2	1	3	12	.289
Ruel, Det.	12	35	2	10	0	0	0	0	4	.286
Hayworth, Det.	22	69	9	19	3	0	0	0	11	.275
MAPLE, WASH.	4	4	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	.250
L. Sewell, Cleve.	18	58	6	14	3	0	0	0	10	.241
BERG, WASH.	23	66	5	13	2	1	1	1	10	.197
Berry, Chi.	22	74	2	14	4	0	0	2	11	.189
Tate, Bos.	18	56	2	10	1	0	0	0	1	.179
Connolly, Bos.	11	23	1	4	1	0	0	0	0	.174
Grube, Chi.	16	51	2	8	1	0	0	0	5	.157

OUTFIELDERS.

Player and team.	G.	AB.	R.	H.	3b.	3b.	Hr.	Sb.	Rbi.	Ave.
D. H'RRIS, WASH.	17	17	2	7	0	0	0	0	3	.412
Combs, N. Y.	25	78	21	27	2	2	4	1	18	.346
R'YN'LDS, WASH.	30	127	17	42	9	3	2	3	20	.331
Goslin, St. L.	34	127	21	42	11	1	0	3	21	.331
Walker, Det.	22	73	11	24	4	1	1	0	9	.329
Vosmik, Cleve.	34	133	28	43	8	4	3	2	17	.323
Jolley, Bos.	30	113	10	36	5	0	5	1	21	.319
Oliver, Bos.	30	113	12	36	10	2	0	0	11	.319
Porter, Cleve.	33	139	25	44	8	3	1	0	12	.316
Simmons, Phila.	31	127	26	40	11	3	5	1	35	.315
Fothergill, Chi.	23	71	12	22	2	1	2	2	16	.310
Averill, Cleve.	34	135	22	40	7	0	7	1	32	.296
WEST, WASH.	33	136	18	40	5	3	2	0	26	.294
White, Det.	19	34	4	10	2	0	1	0	3	.294
Cramer, Phila.	27	92	14	27	3	2	1	2	9	.293
Webb, Bos.	31	116	17	34	6	1	4	0	18	.293
F. Schulte, St. L.	34	145	26	42	8	3	2	0	15	.290
Jenkins, St. L.	19	56	4	16	1	0	0	0	5	.286
R. Johnson, Det.	29	126	21	35	9	2	2	5	8	.278
Stone, Det.	29	118	21	32	7	3	4	0	20	.271
Ruth, N. Y.	28	103	22	28	0	1	10	2	35	.271
Haas, Phila.	31	128	17	34	9	1	0	0	9	.266
Chapman, N. Y.	27	98	19	26	5	2	2	6	16	.265
Byrd, N. Y.	26	76	17	20	4	1	4	1	9	.263
Campbell, St. L.	28	107	14	28	10	3	0	0	12	.261
MANUSH, WASH.	33	136	24	35	10	3	3	0	19	.257
Seeds, Chi.	20	80	14	20	0	2	0	0	4	.250
Watwood, Bos.	30	111	10	27	4	0	0	4	4	.243
E. Miller, Phila.	12	29	2	7	1	1	0	2	6	.241
RICE, WASH.	18	22	1	5	1	2	0	0	4	.227
Rothrock, Chi.	25	74	4	12	1	0	0	4	2	.162
Funk, Chi.	15	35	5	5	1	0	0	3	1	.143

PITCHERS.

Player and team.	G.	AB.	R.	H.	2b.	3b.	Hr.	Sb.	Rbi	Ave.
Hogsett, Det.	7	6	2	4	0	0	0	0	0	.667
Pipgras, N. Y.	7	17	0	7	0	1	0	0	4	.412
Hildebrand, Cleve.	5	5	0	2	0	0	0	0	0	.400
Ruffing, N. Y.	8	18	2	6	0	1	0	0	2	.333
RAGLAND, WASH.	6	3	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	.333
WEAVER, WASH.	10	20	2	6	2	0	0	0	2	.300
CROWDER, WASH.	12	25	2	7	0	2	0	0	2	.280
Allen, N. Y.	5	11	2	3	1	1	1	0	3	.273
Hudlin, Cleve.	9	17	5	4	1	1	1	1	3	.235
FISCHER, WASH.	9	13	1	3	1	0	0	0	0	.231
Wyatt, Det.	7	22	1	5	1	0	1	0	3	.227
Hadley, St. L.	9	22	2	5	1	0	0	0	2	.227
Earnshaw, Phila.	10	24	3	5	0	1	0	0	2	.208
Grove, Phila.	11	24	0	5	0	0	0	0	0	.208
Gomez, N Y.	9	24	4	4	2	0	0	0	5	.167
Harder, Cleve.	9	20	3	3	1	1	0	0	0	.150
MacFayden, Bos.	9	21	0	3	1	0	0	0	3	.143
Russell, Bos.	9	7	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	.143
Hebert, St. L.	8	7	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	.143
C. Brown, Cleve.	9	23	4	3	0	1	0	0	6	.130
Blaeholder, St. L.	9	24	1	3	2	0	0	0	1	.125
A. Thomas, Chi.	6	8	2	1	1	0	0	0	0	.125
W. Ferrell, Cleve.	12	35	2	4	0	2	0	0	1	.114
BURKE, WASH.	9	9	0	1	0	0	0	0	1	.111
Weiland, Bos.	8	9	0	1	1	0	0	0	1	.111
Gray, St. L.	11	21	1	2	0	0	0	0	1	.096
BROWN, WASH.	9	11	1	1	0	0	0	0	1	.091
Caraway, Chi.	6	11	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	.091
Sorrell, Det.	8	24	4	2	0	0	0	0	1	.083
Jones, Chi.	6	13	2	1	0	0	0	0	0	.077
Lisenbee, Bos.	8	13	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	.077
Lyons, Chi.	9	14	2	1	0	1	0	0	1	.071
Durham, Bos.	7	14	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	.071
Mehaffey, Phila.	7	14	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	.071
Uhle, Det.	6	15	0	1	1	0	0	0	2	.067
Whitehill, Det.	5	15	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	.067
Walberg, Phila.	10	16	0	1	0	0	0	0	1	.063
Frasier, Chi.	8	16	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	.063
FRIEDERICH, W.	2	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	.000
Faber, Chi.	6	3	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	.000
Kimsey, St. L.	8	5	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	.000
W. Moore, Bos.	14	7	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	.000
MARBERRY, W.	14	10	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	.000
Stewart, St. L.	9	16	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	.000

PITCHING RECORDS.

Player, Team.	W.	L.	Ave.	Player, team.	W.	L.	Ave.
Allen, N. Y.	3	0	1.000	Ruffing, N. Y.	3	2	.600
Pennock, N. Y.	2	0	1.000	Lyons, Chi.	1	1	.500
Kimsey, St. L.	2	0	1.000	Hogsett, Det.	1	1	.500
RAGLAND, WASH	1	0	1.000	Hadley, St. L.	3	4	.429
Bridges, Det.	1	0	1.000	Hudlin, Cleve.	3	4	.429
H. Johnson, N. Y.	1	0	1.000	Stewart, St. L.	2	3	.400
Hildebrand, Chi.	1	0	1.000	Uhle, Det.	2	3	.400
Herring, Det.	1	0	1.000	Gray, St. L.	3	5	.375
Gomez, N. Y.	6	1	.857	Jones, Chi.	2	4	.333
Pipgras, N. Y.	4	1	.800	Harder, Cleve.	2	4	.333
L.BROWN, WASH.	3	1	.750	MARBERRY, W.	1	2	.333
FISCHER, WASH.	3	1	.750	A. Thomas, Chi.	1	2	.333
Coffman, St. L.	3	1	.750	Gaston, Chi.	1	2	.333
Connally, Cleve.	3	1	.750	Rhodes, N. Y.	1	2	.333
Mahaffey, Phila.	3	1	.750	Weiland, Bos.	1	2	.333
Whitehill, Det.	3	1	.750	Caraway, Chi.	1	3	.250
Sorrell, Det.	5	2	.714	Faber, Chi.	1	3	.250
CROWDER, WASH	6	3	.667	W. Moore, Bos.	1	3	.250
Grove, Phila.	6	3	.667	Walberg, Phila.	1	4	.200
W.Ferrell, Cleve.	6	3	.667	Frasier, Chi.	1	5	.167
BURKE, WASH.	2	1	.667	Russell, Bos.	1	5	.167
Cain, Phila.	2	1	.667	MacFayden, Bos.	1	8	.111
Andrews, N. Y.	2	1	.667	Wells, N. Y.	0	1	.000
C. Brown, Cleve.	5	3	.625	Donohue, Bos.	0	1	.000
Wiatt, Det.	4	3	.571	Bowman, Phila.	0	1	.000
Blaeholder, St. L.	4	3	.571	Bridges, Det.	0	2	.000
Earnshaw, Phila.	5	4	.556	Kline, Bos.	0	2	.000
WEAVER, WASH.	4	4	.500	Hebert, St. L.	0	3	.000
Durham, Bos.	1	1	.500	Lisenbee, Bos.	0	4	.000
Hudlin, Cleve.	3	4	.429

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Club Batting.

Team.	G.	AB.	R.	H.	2b.	3b.	Hr.	Sb.	Rbi.	Ave.
New York	27	997	154	292	57	10	18	14	148	.293
Philadelphia	32	1,154	161	316	64	18	19	19	148	.273
Boston	29	1,070	156	289	54	11	15	10	141	.270
St. Louis	32	1,123	161	301	69	12	15	17	140	.268
Chicago	33	1,140	170	303	57	19	11	10	157	.266
Cincinnati	37	1,278	153	340	64	19	7	21	137	.266
Brooklyn	32	1,131	138	293	58	9	14	10	129	.259
Pittsburgh	28	957	112	243	55	20	5	22	104	.249

FIRST BASEMEN.

Player and team.	G.	AB.	R.	H.	2b.	3b.	Hr.	Sb.	Rbi.	Ave.
Terry, N. Y.	27	118	25	42	9	2	9	2	34	.356
Collins, St. L.	32	127	26	42	8	2	8	0	29	.331
Hurst, Phila.	32	129	17	40	8	2	2	1	25	.310
Suhr, Pitts.	28	108	18	32	8	4	2	2	21	.296
Grimm, Chi.	33	119	16	35	5	1	1	0	19	.294
Shires, Bos.	13	47	8	12	1	1	0	0	6	.255
Kelly, Bklyn.	32	117	12	28	6	0	1	0	14	.239
R. Moore, Bos.	11	34	2	8	2	0	0	0	6	.235
Heath, Cin.	28	97	11	20	0	3	0	0	14	.206
Bottomley, St. L.	18	60	4	12	2	1	0	0	6	.200
Leslie, N. Y.	14	14	0	2	0	0	0	0	3	.143

SECOND BASEMEN.

Player and team.	G.	AB.	R.	H.	2b.	3b.	Hr.	Sb.	Rbi.	Ave.
Friberg, Phila.	11	26	4	9	3	1	0	0	2	.346
Critz, N. Y.	27	122	18	42	4	2	0	0	13	.344
W. Herman, Chi.	34	137	24	44	10	2	0	3	12	.321
Grantham, Cin.	20	80	17	24	6	1	1	1	7	.300
Mallon, Phila.	25	91	14	26	5	0	1	1	11	.286
Cuccinello, Bklyn.	32	124	13	35	6	1	1	1	22	.282
Frisch, St. L.	32	137	20	38	7	2	0	7	21	.277
Morrissey, Cin.	26	82	5	22	5	1	0	1	7	.268
Piet, Pitts.	28	98	11	24	6	3	0	5	13	.245
Maranville, Bos.	29	117	17	25	5	0	0	0	8	.214

THIRD BASEMEN.

Player and team.	G.	AB.	R.	H.	2b.	3b.	Hr.	Sb.	Rbi.	Ave.
Whitney, Phila.	32	130	23	45	10	3	0	4	15	.346
English, Chi.	15	61	9	20	0	4	0	1	12	.328
High, Cin.	18	26	6	8	1	1	0	0	2	.308
F. Knothe, Bos.	28	112	15	32	4	0	0	2	13	.286
Traynor, Pitts.	28	112	14	31	4	0	0	3	11	.277
Adams, St. L.	30	127	22	35	4	1	0	0	13	.276
Stripp, Bklyn.	32	118	20	32	6	1	0	5	13	.271
Vergez, N. Y.	25	96	12	24	5	0	2	0	12	.250
Gilbert, Cin.	37	145	11	32	7	1	0	2	14	.221
Hack, Chi.	19	73	13	15	2	2	1	3	4	.205

SHORTSTOPS.

Player and team.	G.	AB.	R.	H.	2b.	3b.	Hr.	Sb.	Rbi.	Ave.
Urbanski, Bos.	26	109	24	34	6	2	2	1	17	.312
Jackson, N. Y.	19	75	14	21	9	1	2	1	16	.280
Vaughn, Pitts.	17	59	3	16	0	4	0	0	10	.271
Wright, Bklyn.	32	142	14	37	7	2	4	0	20	.260
Bartell, Phila.	32	126	16	32	8	1	0	1	14	.254
Jurges, Chi.	33	115	10	29	9	3	0	0	19	.252
Gelbert, St. L.	30	105	18	26	5	2	1	1	12	.248
Thevenow, Pitts.	13	46	3	9	0	0	0	0	8	.196
Durocher, Cin.	32	89	10	16	2	1	0	2	6	.180

CATCHERS.

Player and team.	G.	AB.	R.	H.	2b.	3b.	Hr.	Sb.	Rbi.	Ave.
Lombardi, Cin.	18	63	12	29	7	2	2	0	15	.460
J. Wilson, St. L.	20	76	11	23	5	1	0	2	7	.303
Hogan, N. Y.	23	75	4	21	3	0	0	0	16	.280
V. Davis, Phila.	16	43	4	12	1	1	2	1	10	.279
W. Hargrave, Bos.	19	65	6	18	5	1	1	1	11	.277
Mancuso, St. L.	18	47	4	13	1	0	1	1	6	.277
McCurdy, Phila.	24	70	9	19	5	1	1	0	6	.271
O'Farrell, N. Y.	12	26	3	7	2	0	0	0	3	.269
Spohrer, Bos.	15	50	4	13	1	0	0	0	5	.260
Grace, Pitt.	21	71	7	17	2	1	0	0	8	.239
Manion, Cin.	22	69	3	16	2	0	0	0	7	.232
Lopez, Bklyn.	28	101	10	21	2	1	0	1	9	.208
Hemsley, Chi.	17	42	11	7	2	2	0	0	6	.167
Hartnett, Chi.	23	85	7	14	3	0	0	0	6	.165

OUTFIELDERS.

Player and team.	G.	AB.	R.	H.	2b.	3b.	Hr.	Sb.	Rbi.	Ave.
Hafey, Cin.	26	99	21	40	12	2	0	2	12	.404
Orsatti, St. L.	18	40	5	16	7	0	0	0	2	.400
P. Waner, Pitts.	28	111	20	42	22	4	1	5	13	.378
Worthington, Bos.	29	128	19	44	11	3	5	1	27	.344
Brickell, Phila.	17	35	7	12	3	1	0	2	4	.343
Klein, Phila.	32	134	33	45	8	5	7	6	27	.336
Stephenson, Chi.	29	114	16	38	12	0	1	1	22	.333
J. Moore, Chi.	24	86	17	28	4	1	5	2	15	.326
F. Herman, Cin.	36	142	22	46	10	5	4	4	25	.324
Ott, N. Y.	27	99	18	32	9	0	1	2	16	.323
L. Wilson, Bklyn.	21	64	13	20	4	2	3	1	16	.312
Watkins, St. L.	28	109	18	34	9	1	2	5	14	.312
Berger, Bos.	29	120	24	37	6	1	0	3	13	.308
Cuyler, Chi.	11	39	4	12	4	0	0	0	6	.308
Richbourg, Chi.	22	88	16	26	2	2	1	0	14	.307
Frederick, Bklyn.	30	129	16	38	10	0	3	1	12	.295
Fullis, N. Y.	11	17	5	5	1	0	0	1	3	.294
O'Doul, Bklyn.	26	113	25	33	9	2	0	1	6	.292
L. Waner, Pitts.	28	123	17	35	7	2	1	2	8	.284
Crabtree, Cin.	18	46	4	13	1	2	0	0	4	.283
Blade, St. L.	17	44	14	12	5	0	2	0	10	.273
Schulmerich, Bos.	29	123	18	33	7	1	6	1	20	.268
Lindstrom, N. Y.	25	106	19	28	5	0	1	3	13	.264
Koeneche, N. Y.	23	90	18	23	2	0	3	2	8	.257
G. Davis, Phila.	26	101	14	26	6	1	1	1	13	.257
Pepper, St. L.	19	51	3	13	2	1	0	1	7	.255
Allen, N. Y.	13	36	6	9	3	2	0	0	4	.250
Hendrick, St. L.	15	25	4	6	1	0	1	0	3	.240
Lee, Phila.	27	110	10	26	2	2	5	2	13	.236
Leach, Bos.	15	40	5	9	3	1	0	1	6	.225
Douthit, Cin.	37	159	16	34	5	0	0	3	11	.213
Barton, Chi.	11	44	7	8	0	1	1	0	4	.182
Martin, St. L.	15	52	7	9	3	0	0	2	4	.173
Comorosky, Pitts.	17	53	7	9	0	1	0	2	6	.170
Boone, Bklyn.	13	20	2	3	1	0	0	0	2	.150
Dugas, Pitts.	16	25	1	3	0	1	0	0	3	.120

PITCHERS.

Player and team.	G.	AB.	R.	H.	2b.	3b.	Hr.	Sb.	Rbi.	Ave.
Cantwell, Bos.	8	10	1	4	0	0	0	0	0	.400
Zachary, Bos.	9	16	2	6	3	0	0	0	0	.375
H. Bell, N. Y.	5	3	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	.333
Gibson, N. Y.	8	6	1	2	0	0	0	0	0	.333
J. Elliott, Phila.	7	9	1	3	0	0	0	0	0	.333
Lucas, Cin.	23	39	4	13	3	0	0	0	9	.333
Kolp, Cin.	7	14	1	4	0	0	0	0	0	.286
Dean, St. L.	10	14	4	4	2	0	0	0	2	.286
R. Smith, Chi.	5	11	0	3	1	0	0	0	2	.273
Clark, Bklyn.	7	15	1	4	1	0	0	0	3	.267
Betts, Bos.	6	19	1	5	0	0	0	0	1	.263
Hubbell, N. Y.	8	23	2	6	0	0	0	0	1	.261
Carleton, St. L.	8	4	1	1	0	1	0	0	2	.250
Heimach, Bklyn.	7	4	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	.250
P. Collins, Phila.	10	21	2	5	1	0	0	0	0	.238
French, Pitts.	12	21	2	5	0	0	0	0	0	.238
Warnecke, Chi.	7	26	3	6	0	0	1	0	3	.231
Shaute, Bklyn.	7	13	0	3	0	1	0	0	1	.231
Syl. Johnson, St. L.	9	13	0	3	1	0	0	0	1	.231
W. Harris, Pitts.	8	13	1	3	2	0	0	0	2	.231
Benton, Cin.	7	9	1	2	0	0	0	0	0	.222
Fitzsimmons, N. Y.	6	14	0	3	2	0	0	0	1	.214
Swift, Pitts.	8	10	0	2	0	0	0	0	0	.200
Brandt, Bos.	9	20	3	4	0	0	0	0	2	.200
Rhem, St. L.	7	16	2	3	2	0	0	0	0	.187
Vance, Bklyn.	6	16	1	3	0	0	0	0	0	.187
Schumacher, N. Y.	6	11	2	2	1	1	0	0	0	.182
Hallahan, St. L.	7	17	0	3	0	0	0	0	2	.176
Brame, Pitts.	8	6	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	.167
Hansen, Phila.	9	6	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	.167
Mungo, Bklyn.	7	18	0	3	1	0	0	0	0	.167
Bush, Chi.	8	19	2	3	1	0	0	0	1	.158
Root, Chi.	9	20	0	3	0	0	0	0	3	.150
Phelps, Bklyn.	8	16	0	2	0	0	0	0	2	.125
Benge, Phila.	9	20	0	2	0	0	0	0	0	.100
Walker, N. Y.	7	10	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	.100
Spencer, Pitts.	10	11	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	.091
Swetonic, Pitts.	6	12	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	.083
Malone, Chi.	7	14	1	1	0	1	0	0	1	.071
Holley, Phila.	8	23	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	.043
Si. Johnson, Cin.	12	26	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	.038

PITCHING RECORDS.

Player, Team.	W.	L.	Ave.	Player, Team.	W.	L.	Ave.
Bell, N. Y.	1	0	1.000	Lindsey, St. L.	1	1	.500
Brown, Bos.	2	0	1.000	Brame, Pitts.	1	1	.500
Frankhouse, Bos.	1	0	1.000	Luque, N. Y.	1	1	.500
Grimes, Chi.	2	0	1.000	Zachary, Bos.	2	2	.500
Haines, St. L.	1	0	1.000	Ogden, Cin.	1	1	.500
Wysong, Cin.	1	0	1.000	Benge, Phila.	3	4	.429
Betts, Bos.	5	0	1.000	Holly, Phila.	3	4	.429
Chagnon, Pitts.	1	0	1.000	Syl.Johnson, St.L.	2	3	.400
Tinning, Chi.	1	0	1.000	Mungo, Bklyn.	2	3	.400
Lucas, Cin.	7	1	.875	Carroll, Cin.	2	3	.400
Dean, St. L.	3	1	.750	Collins, Phila.	3	5	.375
Swetonic, Pitts.	3	1	.750	Harris, Pitts.	1	2	.333
Warnecke, Chi.	5	2	.714	Fitzsimmons, N.Y.	1	2	.333
Hansen, Phila.	2	1	.667	Hoyt, Bklyn.	1	2	.333
Kolp, Cin.	2	1	.667	Grabowski, Phia.	1	2	.333
Malone, Chi.	4	2	.667	J. Elliott, Phila.	1	2	.333
Mitchell, N. Y.	2	1	.667	Skift, Pitts.	1	2	.333
Schumacher, N.Y.	2	1	.667	French, Pitts.	3	8	.273
Hubbell, N. Y.	4	2	.667	Spencer, Pitts.	1	3	.250
R. Smith, Chi.	2	1	.667	Shaute, Bklyn.	1	3	.250
Rhem, St. L.	4	2	.667	Frey, Cin.	1	3	.250
Bush, Chi.	5	3	.625	Gibson, N. Y.	1	3	.250
Clark, Bklyn.	3	2	.600	Benton, Cin.	1	3	.250
Hallahan, St. L.	3	2	.600	Derringer, St. L.	1	3	.250
Cantwell, Bos.	4	3	.571	Carleton, St. L.	0	2	.000
Brandt, Bos.	4	4	.500	Hilcher, Cin.	0	2	.000
Si. Johnson, Cin.	4	4	.500	Mooney, N. Y.	0	3	.000
Phelps, Bklyn.	3	3	.500	Thurston, Bklyn.	0	1	.000
Root, Chi.	3	3	.500	Walker, N. Y.	0	2	.000
Rixey, Cin.	1	1	.500	Quinn, Bklyn.	0	2	.000
Seibold, Bos.	1	1	.500	Haines, St. L.	0	1	.000
Vance, Bklyn.	3	3	.500	Nichols, Phila.	0	1	.000

Penn Crew First In Ohio Regatta

Marietta, Ohio, May 21 (A.P.).—Red and blue tipped blades of the University of Pennsylvania eight-oared shell flashed triumphant today in the mid-America rowing regetta, finishing ahead of the University of Wisconsin by two lengths and three and a quarter lengths ahead of Marietta College.

Pennsylvania covered the two miles in the comparatively good time of 10 minutes and 23 seconds. Wisconsin was 7 seconds slower, and Marrietta 11.4 seconds behind.

Pulling easily and trailing Wisconsin for more than a mile, Penn boosted its stroke, and a mile and a half from the starting point, edged in front of Wisconsin.

Five hundred yards from the finish the advantage had been increased to a length and a half, and in a grand burst of speed that staved off a challenge from the Badgers, Penn crossed the line a full two lengths in front.

Ruth, With 11 Homers, Ahead of Record Pace

Special to The Washington Post.

New York, May 21.—By getting two homers in the first game of today's doubleheader with the Nationals, Babe Ruth stepped out four games ahead of the pace he set in 1927, when he made his record of 60. Today' blows were numbers 10 and 11, the first of these being his first of this season with the bases filled and the fifteenth of his career.

This was the twenty-ninth game played by the Yankees this year and figure sharks discovered that the Bambino did not get his eleventh round-trip in 1927 until his thirty-third game.

POST WANT ADS PAY

Moore Earns Pole In Motor Classic

Indianapolis Motor Speedway, May 21 (A.P.).—Lou Moore, ordinarily a conservative driver, late today won the pole position for the 500-mile automobile race to be run here May 30, with a sensational qualifying speed of 117.363 miles per hour. A total of 21 drivers qualified.

It was the fastest 10-mile dash ever made over the Indianapolis Motor Speedway track with a motor that did not have a supercharger. Superchargers were outlawed three years ago from speedway racing. The all-time 10-mile record for the Indianapolis course is 122.396 miles per hour, made by Leon Duray in 1928.

The shadows were lengthening over the 2½-mile course as Moore, who lives in Hollywood, Calif., began his terrific drive. He scarcely lifted his foot off the accelerator as he rushed into the sharp turns, handling the skids with skill equal to any ever exhibited here.

PILOTS LOSE TO SOX IN 13TH, 8-5

Relief Pitcher Fails; Capital Club Drops League Game.

WHEN Don McDonald, who had breezed through twelve innings of an overtime game at Griffith Stadium yesterday between the Washington Pilots and the Baltimore Black Sox, was yanked by Manager Warfield, and Nip Winters sent in the box to relieve the tiring flinger, the wrecking crew from the Oriole City chased the latter to the showers in a hurry. The score, tied 5-5 in the sixth inning, stood 8-5 with the Sox on the long end, in the thirteenth, after Hayes also had been chased from the mound, and Chet Brewer flung in to stem the tide.

The Pilots tied the score in the sixth when Hughes drove a three-bagger to deep left field and Hampton hit a liner to right field to bring him across. From this inning to the thirteenth, the battle lay between Allen and McDonald, with the latter getting a shade the better of the breaks.

Finley Caught At Plate.

The afternoon's fielding thrill was furnished in the tenth when, with two out, and Dixon and Seay on the paths, Dixon hit to short right field, Johnson making a spectacular trap of the liner at full sprint and hurling to Hampton to nab the flying Finley going home. Hampton stood on his head when Finley hit him at the plate, but held on to the ball.

The thirteenth started with Dixon out on a pop fly. Seay bunted to Winters, who had relieved McDonald, and Winters threw to first, but hit the runner, who advanced to second. Winters was removed and relieved by Hayes, who walked Allen on four straight balls, and was yanked for his generosity.

Brewer was called in with two on bases, and Burbridge hit to right field, scoring Seay and sending Allen to third. The latter scored when Warfield let Thomas' drive go through his legs. Burbridge scored on Lundy's sacrifice and Thomas was out trying to make third on a passed ball. The Pilots went out in order after Hughes took second on Lundy's wild throw to first to nail him.

Black Sox.	AB	H	O	A	Pilots.	AB	H	O	A
B'bridge,lf	7	3	1	0	Jones,lf	7	1	4	0
Thomas,1b	7	3	18	0	Warf'ld,2b	4	0	6	1
Lundy,ss	5	0	1	8	Warm'k,cf	4	1	5	0
Casey,c	6	0	3	1	Johnson,rf	5	1	4	2
Finley,3b	6	4	0	0	Sias,3b	6	2	4	0
Wash'n,cf	4	1	7	0	O'Brien,ss	6	0	5	3
Dixon,rf	5	2	2	0	Hughes,1b	5	2	5	0
Seay,2b	6	5	7	7	Hampton,c	5	2	5	3
Smith,p	0	0	0	0	McDon'd,p	4	2	1	5
Allen,p	5	2	0	5	*Durant	0	0	0	0
					Winters,p	0	0	0	1
					Hayes,p	0	0	0	1
					Brewer,p	0	0	0	0
					†Forman	1	0	0	0
Totals	51	20	39	21	Totals	47	11	39	16

*Ran for McDonald.
†Batted for Brewer.

Black Sox.. 0 0 0 0 2 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 3—8
Pilots...... 2 1 0 0 1 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—5

Runs—Burbridge, Finley, Washington, Dixon, Seay (3), Allen, Warfield (2), Warmack, Hughes (2). Error—Warfield. Two-base hits—Finley, Warmack. Three-base hits—Seay, Hughes. Stolen base—Lundy. Double plays—Lundy to Seay to Thomas, O'Brien to Hampton to Sias. Left on bases—Pilots, 8; Black Sox, 13. First base on balls—Off McDonald, 1; off Allen, 3; off Hayes, 1. Hits—Off Smith, 4 in 1 1-3 innings; off Allen, 7 in 11 2-3 innings; off McDonald, 18 in 12 innings; off Hayes, 1 in 1-3 inning; off Brewer, 1 in 1-3 inning; off Winters, 0 in 1-3 inning. Hit by pitched ball—By Smith (Warmack), by McDonald (Washington), by Winters (Lundy). Struck out—By McDonald, 1; by Allen, 3; by Hayes, 1. Wild pitches—Allen, Hayes, Winter. Passed balls—Hampton, Casey. Winning pitcher—Allen. Losing pitcher—Brewer. Umpires—Taylor and Gholston.

Browns Solve Harder In 9th; Beat Tribe, 8-7

Cleveland, May 21 (A.P.).—Mel Harder went to pieces in the ninth inning, Willis Hudlin failed as a relief pitcher, and the St. Louis Browns made four runs to beat Cleveland today, 8 to 7.

Until the ninth Hudlin allowed only seven hits, three of them scratches, but with one out in the final inning he issued two bases on balls and permitted one hit to fill the bases. Hudlin came in and Goose Goslin socked his first pitch for a single that scored two men. Ferrell's single tied the score and Goslin came across with the winning run on an infield grounder.

St. Louis.	AB	H	O	A	Cleveland.	AB	H	O	A
F.Sch'te,cf	3	2	2	0	Cissell,2b	4	1	3	5
Burns,1b	5	2	12	0	Porter,rf	5	1	1	0
C'pbell,rf	5	2	1	0	Averill,cf	4	2	3	0
Goslin,lf	4	1	2	1	Vosmik,lf	5	3	2	0
R.Ferrell,c	5	1	6	0	Morgan,1b	4	3	10	0
Melillo,2b	5	1	3	3	Myatt,c	4	1	4	0
Storti,3b	5	1	0	3	Kamm,3b	5	2	1	3
Levey,ss	4	1	1	5	M'tague,ss	4	0	3	3
Gray,p	1	0	0	0	‡Burnett	0	0	0	0
*Kloza	1	0	0	0	Harder,p	3	0	0	2
Kimsey,p	1	0	0	1	Hudlin,p	0	0	0	0
†Jenkins	1	0	0	0	§Jamieson	1	0	0	0
Hadley,p	0	0	0	1
Totals	40	11	27	14	Totals	39	13	27	13

*Batted for Gray in fourth.
†Batted for Kimsey in ninth.
‡Batted for Montague in ninth.
§Batted for Hudlin in ninth.

St. Louis .... 0 3 0 0 0 0 1 0 4—8
Cleveland .... 4 0 2 0 0 0 1 0 0—7

Runs—F. Schulte, Burns, Campbell, Goslin, Storti, Levey (2), Gray, Cissell, Porter, Averill, Vosmik (3), Morgan. Errors—F. Shulte (2), Campbell, Goslin, Storti, Levey, Cissell, Montague. Runs batted in—F. Schulte (2), Goslin (2), Campbell, R. Ferrell, Melillo, Morgan (2), Kamm (2), Averill, Vosmik. Two-base hits—Porter, Vosmik. Three-base hit—Vosmik. Sacrifices—Cissell, Myatt. Left on bases—St. Louis, 9; Cleveland, 11. First base on balls—Off Kimsey, 2; off Harder, 4; off Hadley, 1. Struck out—By Gray, 2; by Kimsey, 1; by Harder, 1; by Hudlin, 1. Hits—Off Gray, 8 in 3 innings; off Kimsey, 5 in 5 innings; off Handley, none in 1 inning; off Harder, 9 in 8 1-3 innings; off Hudlin, 2 in 2-3 inning. Hit by pitched ball—By Hadley (Brunett). Wild pitch—Harder. Winning pitcher—Kimsey. Losing pitcher—Hudlin. Umpires—Moriarty and Dineen. Time of game—Two hours 18 minutes.

Detroit Wins 2d; Beats Chisox, 5-1

Chicago, May 21 (A.P.).—Vic Sorrell held the White Sox to 5 hits today and Detroit took the second straight game of the series, 5 to 1. Jonathan Stone, who helped beat them yesterday with a home run, came back today with a triple, double and a single to drive in two runs.

Bob Fothergill, of the White Sox, and Harry Davis, of the Tigers, were hurt during the game, Fothergill catching one of Stone's hits in the groin and Davis being hit on the elbow by one of Thomas' pitches. Both had to leave the game.

Detroit.	AB	H	O	A	Chicago.	AB	H	O	A
Davis,1b	4	1	8	0	Funk,cf	4	0	3	1
Alexa'r,1b	0	0	2	0	Selph,3b	4	1	3	1
Rogell,ss	3	2	2	4	Seeds,rf	4	1	3	0
Stone,lf	5	3	2	0	Kress,ss	4	0	4	1
Gehr'r,2b	3	1	2	4	Blue,1b	4	1	5	1
Walker,cf	3	0	2	0	Foth'gill,lf	2	0	0	0
White,cf	2	1	0	0	Rothrock,lf	1	0	0	0
Johnson,rf	2	0	5	0	Appling,2b	4	0	2	2
Rich'n,3b	4	1	2	0	Grube,c	3	1	7	0
Hayw'th,c	4	1	1	0	Caraway,p	1	1	0	0
Sorrell,p	3	0	0	1	*Hodapp	1	0	0	0
					Thomas,p	1	0	0	1
Totals	37	10	27	9	Totals	33	5	27	7

*Batted for Caraway in fourth.

Detroit .... 0 1 0 4 0 0 0 0 0—5
Chicago .... 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0—1

Runs—Davis, Rogell, Johnson (2), Sorrell. Caraway. Errors—Gehringer, Selph. Runs batted in—Hayworth, Selph, Davis, Rogell, Stone (2). Two-base hits—Blue, Selph, Stone. Three-base hit—Stone. Stolen bases—Richardson, Johnson, Davis. Left on bases—Detroit, 9; Chicago, 6. First base on balls—Off Caraway, 3; off Sorrell, 1. Struck out—By Carraway, 3; by Thomas, 2; by Sorrell, 1. Hits—Off Caraway, 6 in 4 innings; off Thomas, 4 in 5 innings. Hit by pitched ball—By Thomas (Davis). Passed ball—Grube. Losing pitcher—Caraway.

New Nemesis of Nats

JOHNNY ALLEN,

rookie right-hand pitcher of the Yankees, who blanked the Nats yesterday with five hits, his second consecutive shutout. The Nats also were held scoreless by young Allen for five and one-third innings when he pitched a relief shift here two weeks ago.

Macks Beat Red Sox Twice, 18-6 and 6-3

Philadelphia, May 21 (A.P.).—The Athletics ran their winning streak to six straight and swept the four-game series with the Boston Red Sox by taking both ends of today's double-header. The Mackmen won the first game 18 to 6, and the second, 6 to 3.

Boston used six pitchers in the first game, starting with four in the first inning. Five of them issued 15 bases on balls and gave up 17 hits, including home runs by Foxx and Williams, both of whom also hit for the circuit in the second game. Foxx's homers brought his total for the season to 13.

FIRST GAME.

Boston.	AB	H	O	A	Phila.	AB	H	O	A
Watw'd,1b	4	0	10	0	Cramer,rf	4	2	4	0
Olson,2b	5	1	5	6	Haas,cf	4	2	2	0
Webb,rf	5	2	1	1	Cochrane,c	3	3	5	0
Jolley,lf	5	2	3	0	Heving,c	1	1	0	0
Picker'g,3b	3	0	1	2	Simmons,lf	6	3	4	0
Oliver,cf	4	2	2	0	Miller,lf	0	0	0	0
Rhyne,ss	3	0	0	4	Foxx,3b	4	1	1	2
W'atler,ss	1	0	0	2	Roettger,1b	4	1	10	0
Tate,c	2	0	2	1	Will'ms,2b	5	2	4	5
Storie,c	1	1	0	0	Dykes,ss	4	3	0	3
Michaels,p	0	0	0	0	Earnshaw,p	2	1	0	0
Kline,p	0	0	0	0	Rommel,p	1	0	0	1
Weiland,p	0	0	0	0
Moore,p	1	0	0	0
Donohue,p	1	0	0	1
Lisenbee,p	2	1	0	0
Totals	37	9	24	17	Totals	36	17	27	11

Boston .... 3 0 1 0 2 0 0 0 0—6
Philadelphia .... 5 0 2 4 0 4 0 3 x—18

Runs—Watwood (2), Webb (2), Jolley (2), Cramer (3), Haas (4), Cochrane (2), Heving, Simmons (2), Foxx, Williams (3), Dykes (2). Errors—Oliver, Williams. Runs batted in—Jolley (4), Webb (2), Simmons (6), Roettger, Dykes, Haas (3), Cochrane (2), Foxx (4), Williams. Two-base hits—Simmons, Roettger, Williams, Cochrane, Oliver, Haas. Three-base hit—Simmons. Home runs—Jolley (2), Webb, Foxx, Williams. Sacrifices—Earnshaw (2). Double plays—Warstler to Olson to Watwood (2). Left on bases—Boston, 7; Philadelphia, 14. First base on balls—Off Michaels, 3; off Weiland, 1; off Moore, 3; off Donohue, 2; off Lisenbee, 6; off Earnshaw, 3. Struck out—By Moore, 1; by Earnshaw, 2. Hits—Off Michaels, 0 in 0 innings (pitched to 7 batters); off Kine, 2 in 1-3 inning; off Weiland, 3 in 1-3 inning; off Moore, 4 in 2 innings; off Donohue, 3 in 2-3 inning; off Lisenbee, 5 in 4 2-3 innings; off Earnshaw, 7 in 5 innings (none out in 6th); off Rommel, 2 in 4 innings. Hit by pitcher—By Lisenbee (Dykes). Winning pitcher—Earnshaw. Losing pitcher—Kline. Umpires—Vangraflan and Guthrie. Time of game—Two hours 15 minutes.

SECOND GAME.

Boston.	AB	H	O	A	Phila.	AB	H	O	A
Watw'd,1b	4	2	8	0	Cramer,rf	3	0	4	0
Olson,2b	4	1	4	2	Haas,cf	4	0	4	0
Webb,rf	3	1	1	0	Cochrane,c	4	1	6	0
Jolley,lf	4	0	3	0	Simmons,lf	4	2	2	0
Picker'g,3b	3	0	1	0	Foxx,3b	4	1	0	0
Oliver,cf	4	1	2	0	Roettger,1b	4	2	9	0
W'stler,ss	3	0	1	4	Will'ms,2b	4	2	1	5
*VanCamp	1	0	0	0	Dykes,ss	3	1	1	2
Connolly,c	3	1	4	0	Cain,p	3	0	0	2
M'Fay'n,p	3	0	0	1
Totals	32	6	24	7	Totals	33	9	27	9

*Batted for Warstler in ninth.

Boston .... 2 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0—3
Philadelphia .... 1 0 0 2 0 0 2 1 x—6

Runs—Watwood, Olson, Webb, Cramer, Cochrane, Simmons, Foxx, Roettger, Williams. Runs batted in—Jolley, Oliver, Webb, Simmons, Foxx (2), Williams (2), Roettger. Two-base hits—Simmons, Cochrane. Home runs—Foxx, Williams, Webb. Stolen base—Cramer. Sacrifice—Webb. Left on bases—Boston, 4; Philadelphia, 4. First base on balls—Off MacFayden, 1; off Cain, 1. Struck out—By MacFayden, 3; by Cain, 5. Umpires—Guthrie and Van Graflan. Time of game—One hour and 34 minutes.

Boley Denies Signing To Play With Newark

Philadelphia, May 21 (A.P.).—It was reported at Shibe Park today that Joe Boley, former shortstop of the Philadelphia Athletics, had signed with the Newark Club, of the International League, but when Joe put in an appearance at the A's park, he denied that he had connected with the Jersey team. Boley was unconditionally released last week, and has been keeping in trim by practicing with the Athletics.

LONDOS' REAL NAME.

Jimmy Londos, the grappler, answers to the real name of Christopher Theophilos.

Giants and Robins Divide Two Games

Brooklyn, May 21 (A.P.).—The Dodgers and the New York Giants battled to a draw in a double-header today before a packed house of 34,400 paying customers. New York won the first game, 12 to 5, breaking up a close game in the eighth inning, when they blasted Phelps, Heimach and Moore with nine hits and eight runs. Brooklyn staged a comeback behind Van Mungo's pitching to take the second, 7 to 2.

FIRST GAME.

New York.	AB	H	O	A	Brooklyn.	AB	H	O	A
Critz,2b	5	1	2	1	Freder'k,cf	4	0	4	0
K'necke,lf	4	2	3	0	O'Doul,lf	5	3	3	0
L'strom,cf	4	1	1	0	Stripp,3b	4	1	0	3
Terry,1b	5	3	9	1	Wilson,rf	5	3	3	0
Ott,rf	5	2	3	0	C'nello,2b	4	1	3	3
Jackson,ss	4	2	2	3	Wright,ss	5	1	0	2
Vergez,3b	4	1	2	3	Picinich,c	4	2	5	1
Hogan,c	5	1	3	0	Kelly,1b	3	1	9	0
Fitzs'ns,p	1	0	1	1	Phelps,p	3	0	0	3
Luque,p	3	1	0	3	Heimach,p	0	0	0	0
					W.Moore,p	0	0	0	0
					*Taylor	1	0	0	0
					Quinn,p	0	0	0	0
Totals	40	14	27	12	Totals	38	12	27	12

*Batted for W. Moore in eighth.

New York .... 2 0 0 0 0 0 2 8 0—12
Brooklyn .... 1 0 0 2 0 0 1 0 1—5

Runs—Koenecke (2), Lindstrom (2), Terry, Ott (2), Jackson (2), Vergez, Hogan, Luque, O'Doul (2), Cuccinello, Wilson (2). Error—Cuccinello. Runs batted in—Terry (4), Hogan (3), Ott, Jackson, Vergez, Koenecke, Stripp, Kelly, Frederick, Wilson, Wright. Two-base hits—Jackson, Terry, Vergez, Luque, O'Doul, Picinich, Wilson. Three-base hits—O'Doul, Wilson. Stolen bases—Terry, Lindstrom. Sacrifices—Vergez, Stripp. Left on bases—New York, 5; Brooklyn, 11. First base on balls—Off Phelps, 2; off W. Moore, 1; off Fitzsimmons, 3; off Luque, 1. Struck out—By Phelps, 2; by W. Moore, 1; by Luque, 3. Hits—Off Phelps, 7 in 7 1-3 innings; off Heimach, 3 in none; off W. Moore, 4 in 2-3; off Quinn, none in 1; off Fitzsimmons, 4 in 3 1-3; off Luque, 8 in 5 2-3. Winning pitcher—Luque. Losing pitcher—Phelps.

SECOND GAME.

New York.	AB	H	O	A	Brooklyn.	AB	H	O	A
Critz,2b	3	1	2	3	Taylor,cf	4	2	1	0
K'necke,lf	4	2	2	0	O'Doul,lf	5	0	3	0
L'strom,cf	3	2	2	0	Stripp,3b	4	1	0	1
Terry,1b	3	0	7	1	Wilson,rf	4	2	0	0
Ott,rf	3	1	3	0	Freder'k,rf	0	0	0	0
Jackson,ss	4	0	2	1	Wright,ss	4	2	4	5
Vergez,3b	4	1	1	2	C'nello,3b	3	2	2	7
Hogan,c	2	0	4	0	Lopez,c	3	0	3	0
Mooney,p	2	0	0	1	Kelly,1b	3	0	12	0
*Allen	1	0	0	0	Mungo,p	3	0	0	2
Gibson,p	0	0	0	0
†Leslie	1	0	0	0
Parmelee,p	0	0	0	1
Totals	34	7	24	9	Totals	33	9	27	15

*Batted for Mooney in sixth.
†Batted for Gibson in eighth.

New York .... 1 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0—2
Brooklyn .... 0 0 3 1 2 0 0 1 x—7

Runs—Critz (2), Taylor (2), Stripp, Wilson (2), Wright, Lopez. Errors—Jackson, Cuccinello, Wright, Lopez. Runs batted in—Lindstrom (2), Wilson (4), Wright, Cuccinello, Taylor. Two-base hits—Vergez, Wilson. Three-base hit—Cuccinello. Home runs—Wilson, Wright. Stolen base—Ott. Double plays—Cuccinello to Wright to Kelly (2); Critz to Terry. Left on bases—New York, 11; Brooklyn, 7. First base on balls—Off Mungo, 6; off Mooney, 2; off Gibson, 2; off Parmelee, 7. Struck out—By Mungo, 7; by Mooney, 1; by Parmelee, 2. Hits—Off Mooney, 7 in 5 innings; off Gibson, 1 in 2 innings; off Parmelee, [illegible]. Wild pitch—Mooney. Balk—Parmelee. Losing pitcher—Mooney.

NATS RETURN TO BATTLE RED SOX

Johnson, in Need of Pitching, May Use Weaver Today.

YANKEE STADIUM, New York, N. Y., May 21.—Immediately after this afternoon's games the Nats entrained for Washington where they will entertain the Boston Red Sox in the first of a two-game series in Griffith Stadium tomorrow. There is no indication as to who will pitch for the Nats, as Johnson has used practically all of his boxmen hard here. Monte Weaver may get the call.

While the Nationals did not fare as well here in victories as they hoped, especially after they copped the first two games, the intake at the game was most satisfactory. Approximately 123,000 paid to see the games the three days the Nats were here, an average of about 41,000 per day.

Pennock, who started the game on the hill for the Yankees, had not seen his name in a box score since he was beaten by the Nats in Washington on May 3. He pulled up with a lame back after that fracas.

Manager Walter Johnson gave up after the Nats' seventh and yanked all of his regulars except Reynolds, West and Myer. Kerr played third, McLeod short, Kuhel first and Harris in left. Berg previously had given way to Maple.

Friedrich walked four Yanks in the seventh, his first inning on the slab, but was only scored on once. He held Ruth to a roller with the bases full for the third out.

Frank Crosetti, who has been almost useless at the bat, gave way to midget Joe Sewell at third for the Yankees.

When Allen hit Manush in the fifth canto it was the third straight game in which the Nat left fielder had gotten his base in this manner. Pennock hit him in today's first game and Gomez socked him in the back yesterday.

PETITE AND PRETTY
"POLLY PRIM"
SWIMS DAILY IN THE POOL AT THE AMBASSADOR, THE SHOREHAM, AND Y. W. C. A. TO GET IN TRIM FOR OUTDOOR SWIMS
AT THE MAGNIFICENT
GLEN ECHO
FREE ADMISSION, AMUSEMENT PARK
CRYSTAL POOL
(WITH 10,000 SQ. FT. OF SAND BEACH)
WHICH OPENS FOR THE SEASON
SAT. MAY 28th
AT NOON AND CONTINUING DAILY THEREAFTER FROM 9:30 A. M. UNTIL 11:30 P. M.
WITH PRICES SCHEDULED AS FOLLOWS:
CHILDREN UNDER TWELVE 25c INCLUDES LOCKER, TOWEL AND SWIM
SUIT RENTAL 15c EXTRA OR USE YOUR OWN
ADULTS, 50c
INCLUDES LOCKER, TOWEL AND SWIM
Suit Rental 25c Extra or Use Your Own
THESE PRICES WILL PREVAIL
DAILY, SUNDAYS & HOLIDAYS
UNTIL FURTHER NOTICE OR SUBJECT TO CONDITIONS THAT MAY APPLY TO ANY ADMISSION TAX THAT MAY BE IMPOSED UNDER THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT REVENUE ACT NOW BEING CONSIDERED BY THE CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES.
COURTEOUS ATTENDANTS ON DUTY AT ALL TIMES
BATHING BAGS & VALUABLES CHECKED FREE!

LOUISIANA U. WINS SOUTHERN CONFERENCE TRACK CROWN

Duke Second; 3 Records Broken

Moreau, La., Hurdler Sets 120-Yd. Mark of 14.9 Secs.

Discus, Javelin Standards Also Fall in Atlanta Meet.

By DILLON GRAHAM
(Associated Press Sports Writer).

ATLANTA, May 21 (A.P.).—Louisiana State University today showed well distributed strength in many events to spread-eagle a fast field and win the Southern Conference track championship. The Tigers scored 38 points.

The decisive victory gave the Louisianans their fourth conference championship in the past six seasons. The Baton Rouge team held the title for three successive years starting in 1927.

Duke University, with only a five-man team, came second with 27 points while Auburn was third with 24 and North Carolina fourth with 23. Tulane, 1931 winner, was sixth, with 16 points, just behind Georgia, which had 21.

Although heavy rains for the past few days had left the track slow and the field soggy three new records were made and two were tied.

New High Hurdle Mark Is 14.9.

Moreau, Louisiana's fast stepping hurdler, hung up a new mark over the high timbers in 14.9 seconds to erase the 1926 mark of 15 seconds by Baskin, of Auburn. In one of the preliminaries in this event Stewart, of Auburn, equalled Baskin's time.

Jenkins, of Florida, broke the four-year-old discus record of 136 feet 6¼ inches made by Lund, of V. P. I., when he tossed the plate 142 feet 9 inches. Legore, of North Carolina, threw the javelin 195 feet 3 inches to better the 193 feet 8¼ inch mark of Anderson, of Georgia, made in 1928. Brownlee, of Duke, equalled his own conference record of last year in the low hurdles in 24 seconds flat.

The preliminaries of the 100-yard dash saw such stars as Kelly, of Kentucky, who won a year ago; Owens, of Georgia; Smith, of Alabama, and Brownlee, of Duke, fail to qualify, while a little-heralded speedster from Clemson, Lynn, nosed out Farmer, of North Carolina, and Stockwell, of Louisiana, to win the final dash.

Zimmerman "Off" In Pole Vault.

Marland, of North Carolina, favored to take the quarter mile, ran only third to Fulmer, of Drake, who won in the near record time of 49.2 seconds.

Zimmerman, of Tulane, who had pole vaulted 13 feet 6 inches this season, could do no better than 12 feet 9 3-4 inches in winning this event today, while he placed only fifth in the broad jump, which he was expected to win.

Graham Batchelor, of Georgia, was high-point man of the meet with 10 points. Fulmer, of Duke, and Stockwell and Moreau, of Louisiana State, had eight points, while Lynn, of Clemson; Ritchey, of Auburn; Torrance, of Louisiana State, and Farmer, of North Carolina, and David, of Georgia, had seven.

Point scores for the other teams entered follow: Virginia 15; Florida 11; Mississippi State 8½; Georgia Tech 8; Clemson 7; Alabama 6½; Kentucky 6; Tennessee 5; Vanderbilt 5; V. P. I. 3.

100-YARD DASH—Won by Lynn, Clemson; second, Farmer, N. C.; third, Stockwell, L. S. U.; fourth, Dupree, Auburn; fifth, Galloway, Georgia Tech. Time, 9.9 seconds.

120-YARD HIGH HURDLES—Won by Moreau, L. S. U.; second, Stewart, Auburn; third, Bryan, Virginia; fourth, Decoligny, Tulane. Time, 14.9. (New record; former record of 15 seconds made in 1926 by Baskins, of Auburn.)

440-YARD RUN—Won by Fulmerm, Duke; second, Leigh, Mississippi State; third, Marland, N. C.; fourth, Miller, Tulane; fifth, Jones, Florida. Time, 49.2 seconds.

MILE RUN—Won by Stout, Tennessee; second, Samuels, Vanderbilt; third, Lehman, L. S. U.; fourth, McQueen, Auburn; fifth, McRae, N. C. Time, 4:28.

SHOT PUT—Won by Torrance, L. S. U., distance, 47 feet 3 inches; second, Bryant, Virginia, 47 feet 1 inch; third, Swart, V. P. I., 46 feet 7½ inches; fourth, Batchelor, Georgia, 45 feet 4½ inches; fifth, Hall, Florida, 45 feet ½ inch.

JAVELIN THROW—Won by Legore, North Carolina, 195 feet 3-5 inch (new record; former record of 193 feet 8¼ inches made in 1928 by Anderson, Georgia); second, Batchelor, Georgia, 194 feet 6-10 of an inch; third, Graydon, Georgia Tech, 188 feet 9.6 inches; fourth, Haynes, Tulane, 175 feet 6.8 inches; fifth, Lackey, Georgia Tech, 172 feet .85 inch.

BROAD JUMP—Won by Bowman, L. S. U., 23 feet 7¼ inches; second, Owens, Georgia, 23 feet 1¾ inches; third, Fulmer, Duke, 23 feet ½ inch; fourth, Higby, North Carolina, 22 feet 5¼ inches; fifth, Zimmerman, Tulane, 22 feet 3¾ inches.

MILE RELAY—Won by Duke (Hicks, Bradsher, Brownlee, Fulmer); second, Florida; third, Georgia Tech; fourth, Auburn; fifth, Vanderbilt. Time, 3 minutes 3.2 seconds.

TWO-MILE RUN—Won by Lewis, Duke; second, McQueen, Auburn; third, Baker, Kentucky; fourth, Hubbard, N. C.; fifth, Sullivan, N. C. Time, 10 minutes 5.2 seconds.

220-YARD LOW HURDLES—Won by Brownlee, Duke; second, Ritchey, Auburn; third, Moreau, L. S. U.; fourth De Coligny, Tulane; fifth, Slusser, N. C. Time, 24 seconds. (Tied conference record, set by Brownlee, Duke, in 1931.)

220-YARD DASH—Won by Stockwell, L. S. U.; second, Smith, Alabama; third, Farmer, N. C.; fourth, Lynn, Clemson; fifth, Kelly, Kentucky. Time, 21.9 second.

DISCUS THROW—Won by Jenkins, Florida, 142.9 feet (new record; former record of 136 feet 6¼ inches made in 1928 by Lund, of V. P. I.); second, Batchelor, Georgia, 142.65 feet; third, Beard, Auburn, 141.15 feet; fourth, Torance, L. S. U., 135.55 feet; fifth, Payne, Tulane, 131.7 feet.

880-YARD RUN—Won by Carey, Virginia; second, Bradsher, Duke; third, Dudley, Virginia; fourth, Bryan, Kentucky; fifth, Lehman, L. S. U. Time, 1 minute 58.3 seconds.

POLE VAULT—Won by Zimmerman, Tulane, 12 feet 9¾ inches; tie for second, Gordy and Yawn, L. S. U., Reigels, Alabama, and David, Georgia, 12 feet 6 inches.

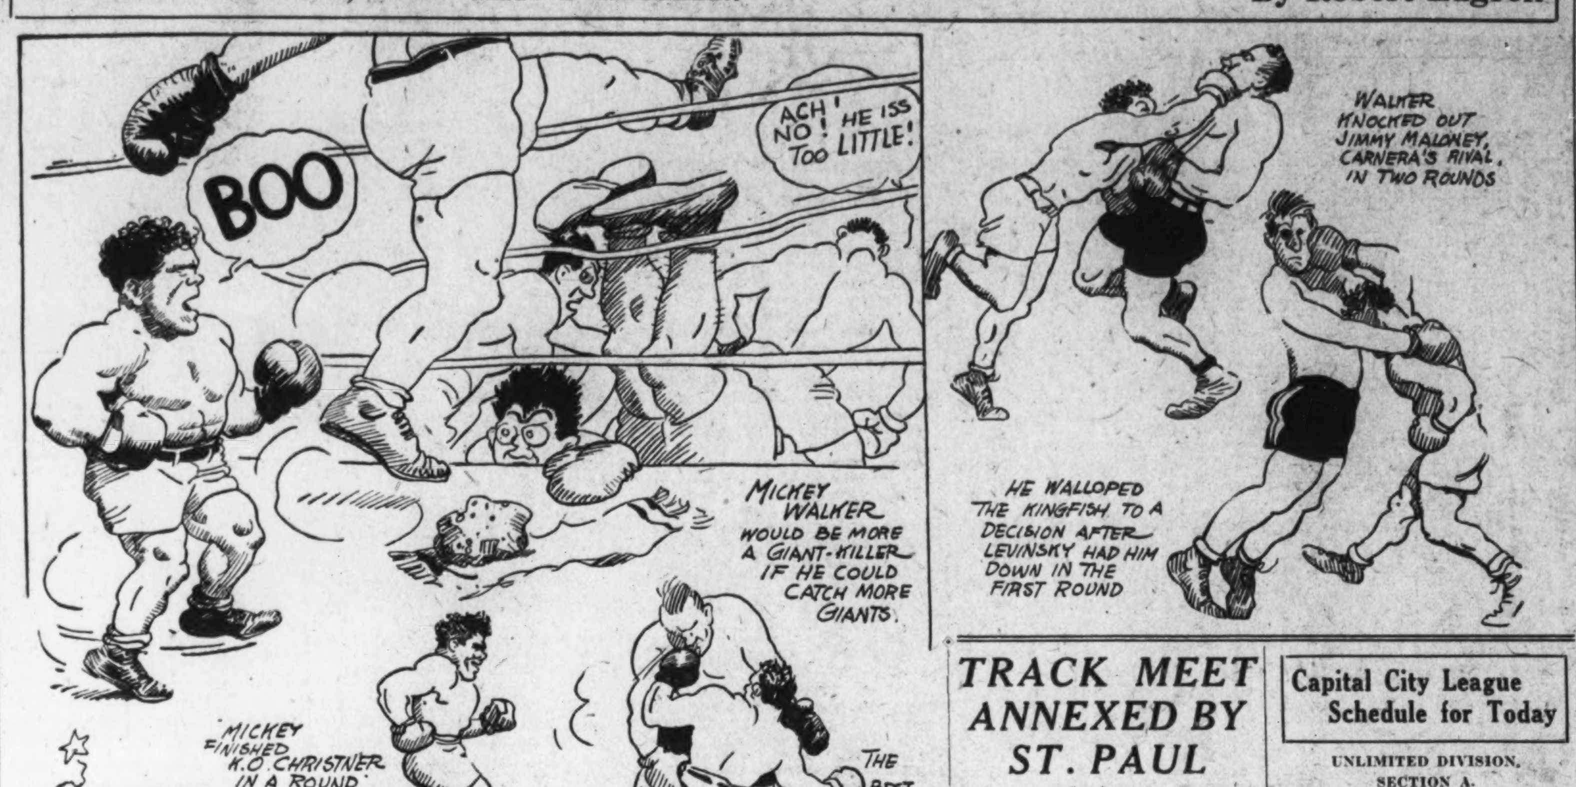
HIGH JUMP—Won by David, Georgia, and Reeves, Mississippi State, tied at 6 feet 2 inches; third, Richey, Auburn, 6 feet 1 inch; tie for fourth, Stafford, N. C., Brown, L. S. U., and Taylor, Tulane, 5 feet 11 inches.

WINS ELEVEN STRAIGHT.

The 380th Field Artillery Team won eleven straight matches to lead the Service Pistol League of St. Louis.

AUTOMOBILE TRUNKS
L. S. JULLIEN, Inc.
1443 P ST. N.W. ~ NOR. 8076

MICKEY WALKER, THE GIANT KILLER. —By Robert Edgren



BOO
ACH! NO! HE ISS TOO LITTLE!
MICKEY WALKER WOULD BE MORE A GIANT-KILLER IF HE COULD CATCH MORE GIANTS.
"MICKEY FINISHED K.O. CHRISTNER IN A ROUND"
THE BEST SHARKEY COULD GET WAS A "DRAW".
WALKER KNOCKED OUT JIMMY MALONEY, CARNERA'S RIVAL, IN TWO ROUNDS
HE WALLOPED THE KINGFISH TO A DECISION AFTER LEVINSKY HAD HIM DOWN IN THE FIRST ROUND
© R. Edgren
5-21

TEMPLE NINE BEATEN, 4-3, BY NAVY

Davenport Wins Box Duel With Dougal; Each Gives 5 Hits.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., May 21.—Baseball teams of the Naval Academy and Temple University of Philadelphia, both of which are in the homestretch of rather poor seasons, staged a good battle here today, and the Naval lads came through with victory by a score of 4 to 3. The game was a pitcher's duel throughout, and "Slim" Davenport, of Navy, held a slight edge over Dougal, ace of the Owls' staff of moundsmen, largely by tighter support given him in the pinches.

The Philadelphians started a ninth-inning rally that made things look blue for Navy, but it was nipped after one runner had crossed the plate. A wild heave by Davenport was directly responsible for this marker, but the lanky Middie hurler uncorked a good sample of effective pitching, and superb fielding, as he handled three ground balls to retire the side at first.

A circuit clout by Masterton was the batting feature of the game. It was a line drive to left center. Kilkuskie was the mainspring in the visitors' attack. Each team collected only five safe blows.

Temple.	AB	H	O	A	Navy.	AB	H	O	A
Kilk'kie.lf.	5	2	1	0	H'gkins.2b.	4	1	1	3
Cressee.2b.	4	1	3	1	Keen.ss.	3	1	2	1
Clouser.rf.	2	0	0	0	Daunis.1b.	3	0	11	0
Gavazzi.rf.	2	0	0	0	Hurley.c.	4	1	9	1
Johnson.1b	4	1	9	0	Kossler.3b.	4	0	1	2
Graham.cf	3	0	2	0	Master'n.lf	4	1	0	0
Whitlock.c	4	1	8	1	Bunce.cf.	3	0	0	0
Dezube.3b.	4	0	0	2	White.rf.	3	0	0	0
Sibson.ss.	4	0	0	2	Davenp't.p.	2	0	1	6
Dougal.p.	3	0	1	3
*Spalding.	1	0	0	0
Totals.	36	5	24	10	Totals.	31	5	27	13

*Batted for Dougal in ninth inning.

Temple .... 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 1—3
Navy .... 1 0 0 0 1 1 1 0 x—4

Runs—Hodgkins, Keen, Masterton, Davenport, Kilkuskie, Graham, Whitlock. Errors—Keen, Gavazzi, Kossler, Dezube, Sibson (3). Three-base hit—Kilkuskie. Home run—Masterton. Stolen bases—Keen, Daunis, Bunce, Dezube, Graham. Sacrifices—Keen, Daunis. Left on bases—Navy, 8; Temple, 6. First base on balls—Off Dougal, 2; off Davenport, 2. Struck out—By Dougal, 5; by Davenport, 7. Wild pitch—Davenport. Umpires—Brockman and Hughes. Time of game—One hour and 45 minutes.

Alexandria High Nine Wins State Game, 12-2

Alexandria, Va., May 21.—Amassing a commanding lead in the early innings of the game, Alexandria High School defeated the hitherto unbeaten Clifton Forge High School team, 12-2, in a game played here today. The victory gave the twins the State championship in class B, and marked the first time in the history of the Virginia Athletic and Literary League that a school has carried off all three sport titles in a single year. It was the thirty-second conference victory for the Twins.

The local nine found Carter early in the fray and drove him from the mound with a four-run splurge in the fourth inning. Nichols, who succeeded him, fared little better, yielding six runs in five innings. Hudson held the Mountaineers to six well scattered safeties and was rendered airtight support by his mates.

Alexandria.	AB	H	O	A	Clif. Forge.	AB	H	O	A
Cliff.cf.	3	1	3	0	Burger.2b.	5	2	0	1
Schr'ner.s.	5	2	2	8	Robinson.lf	5	0	1	0
McM'n.3b.	5	2	1	0	C.Smith.cf.	4	2	2	0
Bruin.1b.	5	3	5	1	Wrenn.ss.	4	0	2	5
Fl'cher.1b.	5	2	10	0	Chaplain.rf	4	0	1	0
Baber.rf.	4	2	1	0	Nichols.p.	4	0	0	1
Jennier.lf.	5	1	0	1	Jones.3b.	4	1	0	3
Carr.2b.	4	1	4	2	Carter.p.	0	0	0	0
Hudson.p.	3	1	0	0	H'phries.1b	4	0	7	0
					*B.Smith.	1	0	0	0
Totals.	38	14	27	7	Totals.	35	6	24	7

*Batted for Humphries in ninth.

Alexandria .... 0 0 1 4 2 0 3 x—12
Clifton Forge ..... 0 1 0 0 0 0 1 0 0—2

Runs—Burger, Carter, Cliff (2), Schreiner, McMenamin, Bruin (2), Fletcher, Baber, Jennier, Carr, C. Smith, Wrenn. Errors—Burger (2), W. Renn (2), East, Carter, McMenamin, Bruin. Two-base hits—Bruin, Schreiner. Stolen bases—Bruin, Carr. Double play—Robinson to Jones. First base on balls—Off Hudson, 2; off Nichols, 2; off Carter, 2. Hit by pitched ball—By Carter (Cliff, Baber). Struck out—By Hudson, 8; by Nichols, 5; by Carter, 3. Losing pitcher—Nichols. Umpire—McDonald.

S. Methodists Win In Suburban League

Hyattsville Southern Methodist opened their season in the Suburban Church League by defeating Hyattsville Episcopal, 13 to 2, yesterday afternoon on the Mount Rainier High School diamond.

Morris Flory was on the mound for the winners and held the Episcopal nine to seven hits, while the Methodists were shelling Clark Owings for 17 safe blows. Arnold, Hart and Pistil led the Methodists at bat with three hits apiece. Glasgow was best for the losers with a trio of bingles.

Minor League Results

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE.

R. H. E.
Buffalo .... 000 033 010—7 13 1
Rochester ...... 000 111 12x—9 12 1
Brewer, Bartulis, Wilson and Hargrave; Wysong, Kaufmann and Florence, Jonnard.

R. H. E.
Reading .... 000 000 010—1 7 0
Newark .... 000 001 01x—2 8 2
Yerkes and Leggett; Welch, Miner and Hargreaves.

R. H. E.
Jersey City ..... 000 231 000—6 11 2
Baltimore .... 300 010 32x—9 12 1
Pipgras, Morrell and Veltman; Tauscher, Smythe and Linton.

First game— R. H. E.
Montreal .... 000 000 000—0 5 1
Toronto .... 101 000 10x—3 8 3
McAfee, Fisher and Head; A. Smith and R. Smith.

Second game—
Montreal .... 200 010 0—3 8 2
Toronto .... 000 101 0—2 9 0
Clasel, Fisher and Susce; Barnes, Cantrell and Stack.

EASTERN LEAGUE.

R. H. E.
Springfield ..... 313 000 01x—8 11 2
Hartford .... 000 025 000—7 13 4
Newkirk, Jenkins, Frazier and Glenn; Greene, Stryker, Graf and Kimbrel.

R. H. E.
Norfolk .... 100 100 300—5 9 0
Allentown ...... 302 100 01x—7 12 0
Head, Hinkle and Niebergal; Evans, Pate and Bird.

R. H. E.
Richmond ...... 010 110 000—3 9 1
Bridgeport ..... 001 003 00x—4 9 0
Ferguson and Urban; Signor, Pattison and Gillespie.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION.

R. H. E.
Kansas City ..... 000 000 001—1 7 6
Minneapolis ..... 002 002 30x—7 13 2
Dawson, Thomas and Phillips; Day and Griffin.

R. H. E.
Milwaukee ...... 504 001 001—11 13 0
St. Paul .... 001 000 500—6 9 2
Stiely, Knott and Crouch; Adkins, Harvin, Munns and Fenner.

R. H. E.
Indianapolis ..... 004 100 100—6 13 0
Toledo .... 000 000 100—1 5 2
Barnhart and Angley; Van Gilder, Toogood and Henline, O'Neil.

R. H. E.
Louisville ...... 000 100 200—3 5 4
Columbus .... 105 110 11x—10 15 1
Hatter, Jonnard, Marcum and Shea; Fowler and Sprinz.

SOUTHERN ASSOCIATION.

First game— R. H. E.
Little Rock ...... 000 003 010—4 8 1
Atlanta .... 000 000 000—0 6 2
Barnabe and Whitney; Messenger and Rowland.

Second game— R. H. E.
Little Rock ...... 000 000 0—0 4 1
Atlanta .... 020 010 x—3 5 1
Nugent and Whitney; Carithers and Butler.

R. H. E.
Birmingham ...... 003 000 000—3 5 0
Nashville .... 000 011 002—4 8 5
Walkup and Berres; Miller, Simmons and Gooch, Rabe.

R. H. E.
Memphis .... 200 001 000 01—4 11 4
Knoxville ...... 200 000 001 00—3 10 2
Jacobs, Kelly and Berger; Thomas and Thompson.

First game— R. H. E.
New Orleans ..... 210 000 030—6 12 2
Chattanooga ..... 100 000 100—2 11 4
Gliatto and Autry; McColl, Hulvey and Bolton.

Second game— R. H. E.
New Orleans ..... 201 010 0—4 7 3
Chattanooga ..... 005 202 x—9 12 0
Moon, Perrin and Parks; Pettit, Moore and Jilek.

Maryland Park High Seeks County Crown

Maryland Park High School baseball nine, champion of the upper section of Prince Georges County, will be the favorite to gain county laurels and its first county baseball title when it meets Upper Marlboro High Tuesday afternoon at Upper Marlboro. The latter team has won the championship in the lower division of the county.

Maryland Park twice defeated Hyattsville, 1931 State and county title-holder, and captured two out of three decisions from Mount Rainier, the only other contender in the upper group. The team has exhibited smart hitting ability and boasts a clever hurler in Nick Palmer. The Parkers recently won a practice contest from Upper Marlboro.

PLEBE NINE TRIUMPHS.

Annapolis, Md., May 21.—The baseball team of Mount St. Joseph's High School, Baltimore, bowed to the Naval Academy plebes in a heavy-hitting game here today.

Mt. St. J.	AB	H	O	A	Navy Plebes.	AB	H	O	A
Bracken.c.	5	3	3	0	Sellers.cf.	5	2	2	0
Dugan.rf.	5	1	0	0	Walters.2b.	5	1	3	3
Bossle.lf.	5	2	4	0	Cain.1b.	5	2	5	0
Carroll.3b.	5	2	0	3	Gadrow.3b.	5	2	3	1
Malone.1b.	5	2	13	0	Gorham.ss.	5	2	1	1
McG'vey.p.	5	1	0	2	Vestel.rf.	4	2	1	1
Dellomo.2b	2	1	1	0	McC'thy.lf.	4	1	1	0
K'erski.ss.	3	0	2	2	McKee.p.	4	2	1	0
Hews'n.ss.	1	0	0	0	Fitzpat'k.c.	4	1	8	0
R'hoefer.cf	1	0	0	0
Wills.cf.	2	0	0	0	Totals.	41	14	27	9
Totals.	38	13	*23	15

*Vestel out for failure to touch base.

Mt. St. Joseph ..... 0 0 3 2 0 0 0 1 0—6
Navy Plebes .... 1 2 1 3 0 3 0 1 x—11

Runs—Bracken, Dugan, McGreevey, Dellomo (2), Rothenhoefer, Sellers (2), Walters (2), Cain (2), Gadrow (2), Gorham, McCarthy (2). Errors—Bracken (2), Carroll (2), Malone, McGreevey, Dellomo (2), Hewsman (2), Wills, Walters. Two-base hits—Sellers, Rothenhoefer, Bossle, McGreevey. Three-base hits—Bossle, Malone (2), Vestel, McCarthy. Stolen bases—Carroll (2), Sellers, Walters, Cain, Fitzpatrick, Dugan, Bossle, McGreevey. Sacrifice—Sellers. Left on bases—Navy, 5; Mt. St. Joseph, 3. First base on balls—Off McKee, 3; off McGreevey, 2. Struck out—By McKee, 4; by McGreevey, 2. Wild pitch—McGreevey. Hit by pitched ball—McKee (McGreevey). Passed balls—Malone. Umpires—Schmidt, Bucknell.

Fishburne Wins State Prep School Honors

Staunton, Va., May 21 (A.P.).—Fishburne Military School's nine defeated Augusta Military Academy at Fort Defiance today, 10 to 8, to capture the State Prep School championship for the third time in four seasons.

SMITH HURLS TODAY FOR CELTICS

Ex-Minor League Star Faces Blue Coals on Twin Bill.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., May 21.—Ken Smith, former minor league pitcher, has been selected to pitch the initial game of the twin bill here tomorrow afternoon at Baggett's Stadium for the St. Mary's Celtics.

The locals will meet Griffith's Blue Coals in this encounter. In the night-cap the Green and Gold will cross bats with the Campbell Shoe Nine, of Harrisonburg, Va. This club annexed the title of the Shenandoah Valley loop last season. Leon Riley or Doc Dreifus will work against the valley champions.

Federal Storage nine, of Washington, winners of nine consecutive games, will be the opponents of the Del Ray Athletic Club on Edward Duncan Field at 3 o'clock. "Kitty" Curtis will pitch for Del Rayans.

The Alexandria Fraters baseball team will make a bid for their sixth consecutive win in Fredericksburg, Va., where they tangle with the White Oak A. C. The Fraters will depart from the Puritan Candy Shop at 10:30 o'clock.

The Virginia Juniors will play a double-header on the R. F. & P. diamond starting at 1 o'clock. Manager Travers has scheduled the Sanico nine for the opener, while the Powhatan A. C. will be met in the night-cap.

Theodore Beach's Nation-Wide nine swings into action on Haydon's Field Sunday at 2:30 o'clock, mixing with the Palisade Club, of Washington.

The Colonials will trek to Triangle, Va., for a battle with the home town nine. Hammond requests players to report at St. Asaph and Queen street at 12 o'clock to make the trip. Lefty George, ace of the Colonials, will probably pitch.

Fort Hunt Rangers will play the N. E. Bricklayers at 2 o'clock Sunday on the Fort Hunt diamond. The Rangers have a fast nine.

St. John's Stickmen Beat N. Y. C. C., 7-1

Special to The Washington Post.

New York, May 21.—The St. John's College of Annapolis lacrosse twelve scored its seventh victory in eight starts by swamping the City College of New York in a hard-fought contest at the Lewisohn Stadium here today, 7 to 1. The Gold and Black was held in check during the first half by the sterling defense work of Capt. Ralph Singer, C. C. N. Y. goalie. St. John's led at the half, 2-0.

Willis Lynch starred for the victors by scoring three goals before a severe laceration of the face in the second period forced him from the game for medical attention. Bill Athey tallied twice in the final half and Doug Ramsey and Noble Russell, substitutes, added a single goal apiece. The lone City College score was made by Willie Rosenthal a few minutes before the final whistle.

St. John's.	Position.	City Col., N. Y.
Bean	Goal	Singer
Lamond	Point	Vance
Lotz	C. P.	Maurer
Morris	F. D.	Wachsman
Carpenter	S. D.	Kaufman
Williams	T. D.	Gildoley
Trader	Center	Kushner
Zeigler	T. A.	Binder
McCartee	S. A.	Gise
Scheffmacher	F. A.	Schulhafter
Lynch	I. H.	Mittelman
Athey	O. H.	Rosenthal

Goals—(St. John's) Lynch (3), Bill Athey (2), Douglas Ramsey, Noble Russell; (C. C. N. Y.), Willie Rosenthal. Substitutions—(St. John's) Stearns for Scheffmacher, Ramsey for McCartee, Purvis for Stearns, Russell for Trader, Cassassa for Carpenter, Lamotte for Lynch, Zeigler for Cassassa, Carpenter for Williams, Lynch for Ramsey, McCartee for Lynch; (C. C. N. Y.) Trupin for Wachsman, Detz for Gise, Abroff for Detz, Detz for Trupin. Referee—Taylor. Judge of play—Wardell. Time of halves—30 minutes.

Hampden-Sydney Wins In Conference Tennis

Hampden-Sydney, Va., May 21 (A.P.).—Hampden-Sydney, with Talbot showing the way, today won the Virginia Conference tennis crown with victories in both singles and doubles play.

Talbot, seeded No. 1, for the third consecutive time, captured the singles title with a 6—1, 8—6, 6—4 victory over Johnson, Lynchburg ace, who contested the second and third sets sharply, forcing Talbot to the limit.

TRACK MEET ANNEXED BY ST. PAUL

Howard Team Fourth in Intercollegiates; Cheyney Stars.

ST. PAUL Normal and Industrial Institute, of Lawrenceville, Va., which won the recent games at Hampton Institute, also took first place in the Colored Intercollegiate Athletic Association track meet yesterday in the stadium at Howard University, with 41 points. Morgan College, of Baltimore, was second, Hampton was third and Howard University fourth.

Cheyney, for Howard, won the 440-yard dash, and headed the relay team which brought victory to Howard in the medley race. Davis, of Howard, who was expected to excel in the high jump, was tied with Williams, of Hampton, and Pendleton, of Virginia State, of Petersburg. Virginia Union University, of Richmond, also participated.

In the scholastic events, Bordentown Industrial Institute, of New Jersey, took first place, with 41 points. Dunbar High School was second and Armstrong High School third, followed by Douglas High School, of Baltimore, Cardozo High School, Randall Junior High School, and Bowie, Md., Normal School.

COLLEGIATE SUMMARIES.

100-yard dash—Won by Tull, Hampton; second, Scurry, Howard; third, Cottman, Morgan. Time, 10.1 seconds.

220-yard dash—Won by Thompson, Morgan; second, Fuller, Hampton; third, Williams, Virginia Union. Time, 22.3 seconds.

440-yard dash—Won by Cheyney, Howard; second, Williams, Virginia Union; third, Gibbs, Morgan. Time, 49.7 seconds.

880-yard run—Won by Staten, St. Paul; second, Hammond, Morgan; third, Plummer, Howard. Time, 2 minutes 9 seconds.

Mile run—Won by Staten, St. Paul; second, Haskett, St. Paul; third, Johnson, Morgan. Time, 4 minutes 41 seconds.

2-mile run—Won by Haskett, St. Paul; second, Taylor, Morgan; third, Sengestacke, Hampton. Time, 10 minutes 45.4 seconds.

120-yard high hurdles—Won by Johnson, St. Paul; second, Larry, Howard; third, Boyd, Virginia State. Time, 15.8 seconds.

220-yard low hurdles—Won by Johnson, St. Paul; second, Larry, Howard; third, Caldwell, St. Paul. Time, 25.2 seconds.

Mile relay—Won by Morgan (Cottman, Hammond, Thompson, Gibbs); second, Hampton; third, St. Paul. Time, 3 minutes 38 seconds.

Medley relay—Won by Howard (Cheyney, Larry, Scurry, Parker); second Hampton; third, St. Paul. Time, 3 minutes 44.5 seconds.

Broad jump—Won by Cunliffe, St. Paul; second, Williams, Morgan; third, Boyd, Virginia State. Distance, 21 feet, 6 inches.

Pole vault—Won by Rivers, Hampton; second, P. Johnson, Howard; third White, Hampton. Height, 10 feet.

Shotput—Won by Butler, St. Paul; second, Conrad, Morgan; third, Troupe, Morgan. Distance, 39 feet 9½ inches.

Javelin throw—Won by Williams, Hampton; second, Tucker, Hampton; third, Palmer, Howard. Distance, 185 feet 8 inches.

High jump—Tied between Davis (Howard), Williams (Hampton), and Pendleton (Virginia State). Height, 6 feet 2 inches. Three points to each team.

Discus throw—Won by Butler, St. Paul; second, Conrad, Morgan; third, Moore, Hampton. Distance, 128 feet 8 inches.

POINT SCORE.

St. Paul, 41; Morgan, 35; Hampton, 33; Howard, 27; Virginia State, 7; Virginia Union, 4.

SCHOLASTIC SUMMARIES.

100-yard dash—Won by Williams, Armstrong; second, Franklin, Dunbar; third, Fickling, Randall Junior High. Time, 10.1 seconds.

220-yard dash—Won by Williams, Armstrong; second, Gibbs, Bordentown; third, Jackson, Bordentown. Time, 23.2 seconds.

440-yard dash—Won by Rollison, Bordentown; second, Walton, Bordentown; third, Bowie, Douglass High School.

880-yard run—Won by Newman, Bordentown; second, Thomas, Douglass High School; third, Trent, Bordentown. Time, 2 minutes 5.4 seconds.

Mile relay—Won by Bordentown (Jackson, Gibbs, Walton, Rollison); second, Dunbar High School; third, Armstrong High School. Time, 3 minutes 28.2 seconds.

Medley relay—Won by Bordentown (Walton, Gibbs, Watson, Newman); second, Armstrong High School; third, Dunbar High School. Time, 3 minutes 54.5 seconds.

120-yard low hurdles—Won by Lomax, Bordentown; second, Conrad, Douglass High School; third, Neil, Dunbar High School. Time, 14.9 seconds.

Broad jump—Won by Gibbs, Douglass High School; second, Davidson, Dunbar High School; third, Wormley, Douglass High School. Distance, 20 feet 6 inches.

High jump—Won by Tolson, Cardozo High School; second, Brooks, Dunbar High School; third, Fickling, Randall Junior High School. Height, 5 feet 11½ inches.

Shotput—Won by Dow, Douglass High School; second, Preval, Dunbar High School; third, Goldsborough, Bowie Normal School. Distance, 36 feet 7½ inches.

POINT SCORE.

Bordentown, 41; Dunbar High School, 18; Armstrong High School, 15; Douglass High School, 11; Cardozo High School, 5; Bowie Normal School, 1.

Bowman Beats Keiles At Old Dominion Nets

Richmond, Va., May 21 (A.P.).—Herbert Bowman, of New York, unleashed a terrific attack in the finals of the Old Dominion tennis tournament today to defeat Alex Keiles, of Baltimore, 6—2, 6—1, 6—0.

Bowman returned the contender's shots with machine-like precision, forcing the Baltimore player to chase back and forth across the courts in an effort to keep up with the champion's criss-cross play.

Competition for the women's singles crown, resigned by Mrs. Frederick Bennett, of New York, the former Penelope Anderson, of Richmond, was closed with Mrs. Delloyd Thompson, of Pittsburgh, conquering Mrs. Carspecker, fellow Pennsylvanian, 6—4, 6—4.

PIRATES BUY CATCHER.

New York, May 21 (A.P.).—The New York Yankees, through their International League Farm, Newark, today sold Catcher Tom Padden to the Pittsburgh Pirates, of the National League, for $7,500.

Capital City League Schedule for Today

UNLIMITED DIVISION.
SECTION A.

Horning Jewelers vs. Union Printers, north Ellipse, 3 p. m.
Highway Department vs. Congress Heights, Congress Heights, 3 p. m.
Ciro's Villagers vs. City Cab, east Ellipse, 3 p. m.
Dixie Pigs draw bye.

SECTION B.

St. Joseph's vs. Rock Creek Service, No. 10, 3 p. m.
Diamond Cab vs. Columbia Heights, No. 3, 3 p. m.
Franc Jewelers vs. Federal Employe Unionists, Rosedale Playground, 3 p. m.
Federal Storage draws bye.

SENIOR DIVISION.

Clifton Barbers vs. Koontz Service, north Ellipse, 1 p. m.
Dor-A vs. Swann Service, No. 10, 1 p. m.
Takoma Park vs. Miller Furniture, east Ellipse, 1 p. m.

JUNIOR DIVISION.

Dixie Polish vs. Swann Service, No. 4, 1 p. m.
Dor-A vs. Southwest Merchants, No. 10, 11 a. m.
Wheeler Club vs. Mount Rainier, Fairlawn, No. 1, 1 p. m.
Georgetown vs. Fussell-Young, No. 3, 1 p. m.

MIDG DIVISION.

Arlington Post vs. National Pale Drys, north Ellipse, 11 a. m.
Thompsons' Furniture vs. Goodacre's, east Ellipse, 11 a. m.

Episcopal High Nine Beats Woodberry Forest

Special to The Washington Post.

Orange, Va., May 21.—Hitting in the pinches, Episcopal Prep School, of Alexandria, Va., defeated Woodberry Forest, 6-3, in a hotly contested game played here today. The home team assumed a two-run lead in the second inning, but was unable to hold it, as the visitors brought their big guns into play in the third and fourth frames to go into the lead, never to be headed.

Episcopal.	AB	H	O	A	W. Forrest	AB	H	O	A
Mizell.3b.	4	0	0	1	S'erfield.ss	3	1	1	6
Clevel'd.ss	5	2	1	5	Parrott.p.	3	0	0	5
Watts.1b.	4	2	10	0	Woolen.c.	4	0	7	2
Carter.c.	4	0	7	0	Mason.cf.	4	1	2	0
Pinner.cf.	3	1	2	0	Hanes.rf.	4	2	3	0
Cox.rf.	4	0	0	0	Monsted.lf.	4	0	0	1
Fisher.lf.	2	0	0	0	Landers.1b.	4	0	7	0
Kopper.l.rf	2	0	0	0	W.Ray.2b.	4	1	1	2
Wiley.2b.	3	1	3	1	Folger.3b.	4	0	2	0
Barnes.p.	3	0	1	0
Totals.	32	6	27	10	Totals.	34	6	24	16

Episcopal .... 0 2 0 2 2 0 0 0 x—6
Woodberry Forest .. 0 0 0 2 0 1 0 0 0—3

Runs—Mason, Hanes, Monsted, Mizell (2), Cleveland, Penner, Wiley. Two-base hits—Pinner, Hanes, Landers. Three-base hit—Hanes. Stolen bases—Mizell (2), Cleveland, Watts, Kopper, Wiley.

Sigma Nu Wins Frat Meet at Maryland U.

Sigma Nu Fraternity, scoring 33 points, won the annual interfraternity track meet yesterday at the University of Maryland. Kappa Alpha with 24 points was second, followed by Sigma Phi Sigma with 17½; Delta Sigma Phi, 10; Lambda Chi Alpha, 6; Phi Delta Theta, 5½, and Alpha Tau Omega, 3.

Frank Hines, of Sigma Phi Sigma, scored 15 of his team's points, winning the javelin, discus and broad jump.

100-yard dash—Won by Naughton (Delta Sigma Phi); second, McCurdy (Kappa Alpha); third, Woods (Sigma Nu). Time, 11 seconds.

220-yard dash—Won by Burns (Sigma Nu); second, Naughton (Delta Sigma Phi); third, Simpson (Kappa Alpha). Time, 24.6 seconds.

440-yard dash—Won by Kiernan (Kappa Alpha); second, Berger (Sigma Nu); third, Weber (Sigma Phi Sigma). Time, 56.4 seconds.

880-yard run—Won by Crotty (Sigma Nu); second, Remsburg (Alpha Tau Omega); third, Davidson (Kappa Alpha). Time, 2 minutes 16 seconds.

120-yard low hurdles—Won by Kiernan (Kappa Alpha); second, Physioc (Lamda Chi Alpha); third, Lovell (Sigma Phi Sigma). Time, 13.2 seconds.

Half-mile relay—Won by Sigma Nu (Woods, Burns, Pickels, Dyer); second, Kappa Alpha; third, Sigma Phi Sigma. Time, 1 minute 38 seconds.

Shot put—Won by Duley (Phi Delta Theta); second, G. Norris (Kappa Alpha); third, Rooney (Delta Sigma Phi).

Javelin—Won by Hines (Sigma Phi Sigma); second, Goldman (Sigma Nu); third, Worthington (Kappa Alpha). Distance, 138 feet 8½ inches.

Discus—Won by Hines (Sigma Phi Sigma); second, J. Norris (Sigma Nu); third, G. Norris (Kappa Alpha). Distance, 107 feet.

High jump—Won by Berger (Sigma Nu); second, Physioc (Lambda Chi Alpha); third, tie between Van Horn (Sigma Phi Sigma) and Edwards (Phi Delta Theta). Height, 5 feet 4 inches.

Broad jump—Won by Hines (Sigma Phi Sigma); second, Woods (Sigma Nu); third, Kiernan (Kappa Alpha). Distance, 19 feet 10 inches.

EPISCOPAL NETMEN WIN.

Special to The Washington Post.

Orange, Va., May 21.—Rallying its forces after losing the opening singles match, Episcopal High School, of Alexandria, Va., swept to a 6—1 victory over Woodberry Forest in a return match played here today. The victory was the second of the day for the visitors, who also defeated the home team in baseball.

McDougel (W.) defeated Swift, 6—1, 7—5; Williams (E.) defeated Phelps, 6—1, 6—2; Tabb (E.) defeated Cowles, 6—1, 6—4; Burks (E.) defeated Jones, 6—0, 6—2; Lee (E.) defeated Walker, 6—3, 6—0; Tabb and Williams (E.) defeated McDougel and Lee, 4—6, 6—4, 6—2; Swift and Lee (E.) defeated Cowles and Walker, 6—3, 6—0.

NAVY RACQUETERS WIN.

Annapolis, Md., May 21.—The Naval Academy Tennis Team easily disposed of the racqueters of Temple University, 7 to 2. The Tars, with all regulars in play, swept six straight strings of singles. Navy substitutes were paired for the doubles matches, and the Philadelphians managed to eke out two victories.

TRACK MEET IS WON BY BLUES

Gallaudet Is Winner Over Wash. College by 78-48 Score.

GALLAUDET COLLEGE scored its first track victory in four starts by defeating Washington College yesterday on Hotchkiss Field, 78 to 48. As usual, the Blues were led by the slender physical marvel, Jimmy Rayhill, who won four first places and a second for a total of 23 points. It was the second meet in as many weeks that Rayhill accomplished this feat.

Rayhill, a product of the Illinois School for the Deaf, ran the 100 yards in 10 seconds and galloped the 220 in 22 4-5 seconds. He then captured the high jump, equalling the field record of 5 feet 9 inches, and followed this up with a 10-foot victory in the pole vault. He strained his leg in the vaulting, but completed his assignments by entering the broad jump, in which he finished second.

Altogether, the Blues accounted for ten firsts in the fourteen events, and two of Rayhill's buddies from Illinois turned in double triumphs. George Walnoha won the shot and javelin while John Leicht won both hurdles races and established a new Gallaudet record in the lows with a time of 17 seconds flat.

Arlie Gray, leading from the start, won the 2-mile run for Gallaudet and also set a new college record with a time of 11 minutes 1-5 second.

Bob Fleetwood was Washington's mainstay with victories in the quarter-mile and broad jump, and a second in the pole vault.

100-YARD DASH—Won by Rayhill (G.); second, Chose (W.); third, Parris (W.). Time, 10 seconds.

1-MILE RUN—Won by Harris (W.); second, O'Brien (G.); third, MacCono (G.). Time, 5:03.

220-YARD DASH—Won by Rayhill (G.); second, Chose (W.); third, Parris (W.). Time, 22.8 seconds.

120-YARD HIGH HURDLES—Won by Leicht (G.); second, Ladner (G.); third, O'Branovich (G.). Time, 17 seconds. New college record; old record, 17 3-5 held by Leicht.

440-YARD DASH—Won by Fleetwood (W.); second, Higgins (G.); third, McCullough (W.). Time, 52.6 seconds.

SHOTPUT—Won by Walnoha (G.); second, Delph (G.); third, Proudfoot (W.). Distance, 40 feet 92-100 inches.

DISCUS—Won by Squires (W.); second, Delph (G.); third, Blizzard (W.). Distance, 106 feet 77-100 inches.

JAVELIN—Won by Walnoha (G.); Monaghan (G.); third, Ward (W.). Distance, 164 feet 7-100 inches.

880-YARD RUN—Won by Travis (G.); second, O'Brien (G.); third, Bonwill (W.). Time, 2:11.

HIGH JUMP—Won by Rayhill (G.); second, Proudfoot (W.); third, Groaworth (W.). Height, 5 feet 9 inches. Equals Hotchkiss Field record.

2-MILE RUN—Won by Gray (G.); second, Harris (W.); third, MacCono (G.). Time, 11:00.2. New college record; old record, 11:12.8 held by Gray.

220-YARD LOW HURDLES—Won by Leicht (G.); second, Blizzard (W.); third, O'Branovich (G.). Time, 27.3 seconds.

POLE VAULT—Won by Rayhill (G.); second, Fleetwood (W.); third, Thomas (W.). Height, 10 feet.

BROAD JUMP—Won by Fleetwood (W.); second, Rayhill (G.); third, Baker (W.). Distance, 20 feet 1¼ inches.

3-Cornered Rifle Match To Quantico Marines

Special to The Washington Post.

Annapolis, Md., May 21.—Marines from the training station at Quantico, Va., proved the better sharpshooters in a three-cornered rifle match over the Naval Academy ranges today, winning by a team score of 2,334. The Midshipmen finished second with 2,291, and the Marines from League Island Navy Yard, Philadelphia, registered 2,278.

The contest was keen throughout and the race for high individual honors close. Moore, of the Philadelphia Marines, led the field with a score of 241; Fischer, of Quantico, was second, with 239, and Hunter, of Navy, and Blakely, of Quantico, tied for third, with 238. The firing was over ranges of 200 and 600 yards, slow fire and 200 and 300 yards rapid fire. The Quantico Marines led at all ranges with the exception of the 300 yard rapid, at which the Middies topped them by 1 point with a score of 457. The winning team gained its biggest margin in 200 yard rapid, its score being 479, while the Middies and Philadelphia Marines each registered 455.

Navy.	200s.	200r.	300r.	600s.	Tl.
Sunderland	45	45	48	96	234
Short	45	46	43	92	226
Turton	44	44	46	94	228
Remee	39	46	45	89	219
Hunter	43	50	49	96	219
Richards	44	47	45	97	233
McDougal	43	48	48	97	236
St. Germain	44	45	44	94	227
Wells	43	44	44	97	228
Blenman	46	40	45	91	222
Totals	436	455	457	943	2,291
Quantico.	200s.	200r.	300r.	600s.	Tl.
Thompson	45	50	47	95	237
Blakely	49	48	45	96	238
Guy	46	49	46	94	235
Cogle	47	47	46	93	233
Harker	44	47	41	93	225
Hagan	44	48	47	92	231
McQuillen	41	49	46	97	233
Crowe	44	48	45	96	233
Fischer	46	49	47	97	239
Boschen	43	44	46	97	230
Totals	449	479	456	950	2,334
Phila.	200s.	200r.	300r.	600s.	Tl.
Mowell	45	44	45	95	229
Parker	44	43	41	94	222
Larson	37	48	47	95	227
Van Orden	48	46	43	96	233
Davis	43	43	44	91	221
Marie	44	40	39	97	220
Moore	47	49	48	97	241
Rucker	41	47	46	45	229
Walker	42	44	44	94	224
Oles	42	48	47	95	232
Totals	440	455	444	947	2,278

PLEBE NETMEN WIN.

Annapolis, Md., May 21.—Tennis players of the Maryland State Normal School, Baltimore, were no match for the Naval Academy Plebes here today, the latter sweeping six strings of singles and all three doubles matches. All of the matches were decided in straight sets.

Singles—Mann (Plebes) defeated Lieberman, 6—1, 6—2; Gay (Plebes) defeated Hardesty, 6—1, 6—0; Arellano (Plebes) defeated Krulacki, 6—3, 6—3; Kimmel (Plebes) defeated Land, 6—2, 6—0; Walling (Plebes) defeated Kremen, 6—1, 6—1; McCormick (Plebes) defeated Harris, 6—1, 6—2.

Doubles—Mann and Arellano (Plebes) defeated Lieberman and Land, 6—4, 6—0; Gay and Kimmel (Plebes) defeated Hardesty and Krulacki, 6—1, 6—1; Rivis and Alexander (Plebes) defeated Harris and Kremen, 6—0, 6—2.

HILLTOP NINE AGAIN STOPS MARINES

Hutchinson Is Star of 5-3 Victory; Errors Aid Winners.

Special to The Washington Post.

QUANTICO, Va., May 21.—In a hotly-contested game of baseball Georgetown won from the Quantico Marines, 5-3. Hutchinson, of Georgetown, played a sparkling game at short and cracked out two timely bingles. His stop of a hard-hit ball by Surrett and a throw from deep short was the feature of the game. Henry, the Marines' pitcher, kept his hits scattered but errors by his mates proved his undoing. Higgins, Marine catcher, was the fielding star for the Leathernecks.

It was the second victory in as many days for the Hilltoppers over the Devil Dogs.

Geo'town.	AB	H	O	A	Marines.	AB	H	O	A
Hall.lf.	3	0	1	0	Sullivan.3b	4	0	1	3
Kilgalen.lf	2	0	0	0	Porter.1b.	4	1	9	0
Lione.2b.	5	0	0	5	Surrett.2b.	4	0	2	4
McN'ra.1b.	5	2	12	0	Chen'th.ss.	4	0	2	3
O'R'rke.rf.	5	1	1	0	Richards.rf	4	1	0	1
Hutch'n.ss	5	2	1	5	Gann.cf.	3	1	1	0
King.3b.	5	2	1	2	Bracci.lf.	3	1	2	0
Evers.cf.	5	1	4	0	Higgins.c.	2	2	7	0
Rapp.c.	4	3	3	1	Henry.p.	3	0	0	3
Carpen'r.p	4	2	0	3
Totals.	41	14	27	16	Totals.	31	6	27	15

Georgetown .... 0 0 0 2 0 0 3 0 0—5
Marines .... 0 0 0 0 1 2 0 0 0—3

Runs—McNamara, O'Rourke, Hutchinson (2), Evers, Porter, Surrett, Gann. Errors—Hutchinson, Rapp, Sullivan (2), Chenoweth (2). Three-base hit—King. Stolen base—Evers. Double plays—Lione to Hutchinson to McNamara, Carpenter to Hutchinson to McNamara, Surrett to Chenoweth to Porter. Left on bases—Marines, 3; Georgetown, 9. First base on balls—Off Henry, 1. Struck out—By Henry, 2; by Carpenter, 3. Umpires—Clark and Hamilton.

Marlboro Soccerists Awarded League Cup

Special to The Washington Post.

Upper Marlboro, Md., May 21.—The Marlboro Soccer Team has been awarded a loving cup by the Capital City League as reward for winning second place in that circuit during the past season.

Players on the team are: Archie Binger, Melvin Buck, Randolph Mitchell, Harry Nicholson, jr., George Deck, Mike Wyvill, Louis Mitchell, Howard Ford, Charles Bailey, Harold Suit, Albert Wells, jr., Martin Buck and George Buck.

Marlboro Fire Department baseball team will face the Esso nine from Owings, Calvert County, here tomorrow afternoon. The county seat combination will be out for its third win of the season, having defeated Glenn Dale twice in previous games.

Culpeper Nine Joins New 4-Club League

Special to The Washington Post.

Culpeper, Va., May 21.—The Culpeper Baseball Club has entered the newly organized Piedmont League, consisting of teams from Culpeper, Louisa, Locust Grove and Orange.

Twelve games will be played on the Culpeper diamond. The first of the four-team league contests will be played in Orange on May 26.

Though the league schedule calls for one game weekly, there will be no restrictions on games played with other teams, so it is expected that the local nine will try to schedule more games than their regular league schedule calls for.

With many college boys, who have been doing well on the various teams and the older local talent together, the local fans have high hopes of seeing a well-organized club here.

FRONT ROYAL WINS.

Special to The Washington Post.

Front Royal, Va., May 21.—The Front Royal All Stars defeated the Millwood, Va., A. C. here this afternoon, 9 to 6. The locals clouted out 12 hits off of Lefty McIntire, pitching for the visitors.

Millwood.	AB	H	O	A	All-Stars.	AB	H	O	A
Waddell.1b	5	3	12	0	Riddick.1b.	3	2	7	0
Gordon.2b	3	0	1	1	Simpson.1b	1	0	4	1
Hares.2b.	1	0	0	0	La.McF'l.2b	4	1	3	2
Grimes.rf.	4	0	1	0	McC'ken.lf.	4	0	3	0
Hammer.rf	1	0	0	0	Jewett.cf.	5	3	2	0
Bell.3b.	5	2	0	5	Downing.ss	4	2	0	1
Grover.cf.	3	0	0	0	Ed.Cas'ti.cf	4	1	0	0
Shoem'r.3b	3	0	2	5	Ly.McF'l.3b	4	2	1	3
Burtner.lf.	4	0	3	0	Er.Cas'ti.c.	3	0	6	1
Levy.c.	4	2	4	1	Johnson.p.	4	1	1	3
McIntire.p	4	2	1	2
Totals.	37	9	24	14	Totals.	36	12	27	11

Millwood .... 1 2 0 0 0 3 0 0 0—6
All-Stars .... 1 0 0 4 2 1 1 0 x—9

Runs—Waddell, Bell, Grover, Levy (2), McIntire, Riddeck (2), Downing, Ed Casarotti (2), Lyle McFall (2), Ern Casarotti, Johnson. Errors—Gordon, Grimes, Bell, Burtner, McIntire (2), Lacy McFall, Jewett (2), Lyle McFall. Two-base hit—Ball. Three-base hits—McIntire, Jewett. Sacrifice hits—Gordon, Shoemaker, Ern Casarotti. Stolen bases—Jewett (2), McCracken, Riddick, Lacy McFall, Downing, Ed Casarotti, Waddell, Ern Casarotti. Double play—Levy to Shoemaker. First base on balls—Off McIntire, 2; off Johnson, 1. Struck out—By McIntire, 3; by Johnson, 6. Passed balls—Levy (2). Left on bases—Millwood, 7; All-Stars, 6.

PLEBES BOW AT LACROSSE.

Special to The Washington Post.

Annapolis, Md., May 21.—The lacrosse team of Baltimore Polytechnic Institute put up a clever game here today to add the Naval Academy plebes to its string of victims. The count was 4 to 3.

Baltimore Poly.	Position.	Navy Plebes.
Pasarew	Goal	O'Neill
Van Orman	Point	Schacht
McDowell	C. P.	Sherwood
Triplett	T. D.	Larsen
Wagner	S. D.	Veth
Millan	F. D.	Samuels
Grochmal	Center	Cox
Michaels	F. A.	Nibbs
White	S. A.	Ward
Dukehart	T. A.	Gimber
Ellender	I. H.	McQuilkin
Weist	O. H.	McQuairy

Baltimore .... 3 1—4
Navy .... 2 1—3

Substitutions—(Poly) Leech for Wagner, Chamblis for Pasarew, Carson for Grochmal, Houck for Weist, Monks for Ellender, Yearly for White, Louis for Van Orman, Maunard for McDowell, Thomas for Triplett; (Navy) Mills for Nibbs, Schaffer for Sherwood, Briggs for Larsen, Thompson for McQuairy. Goals—Triplett, Wagner, Ellender, Monks, Nibbs, Veth, McQuilkin.

See for Yourself
... THE BOAT
you can get for
$695 F. O. B. WORKS
Incl. 45 H. P. Engine
Let your eyes convince you. Designed especially for the family. Safe, comfortable and roomy, yet trim, fast and beautiful. 19 feet long and 6 feet 2½ inches wide, seating eight or more, with plenty of room for duffel. A 45 h. p. Lycoming engine drives it easily 18 miles an hour.
•DODGE BOATS•
14 Dodge Model boats, ranging in price from $695 to $8,895 f. o. b. works.
STANLEY H. HORNER, INC.
Marine Dept.
1218 Connecticut Ave. Open Evenings DEc. 1213
Demonstrations from Our Dock Adjacent to Washington Airport

MRS. NICOLSON WINS DISTRICT GOLF TITLE FOR THE 6TH TIME

Mrs. Eynon Defeated on 19th Hole

Former Miss White Regains Title by Birdie Four.

Takes Lead on Sixth But Match Squared on the 18th.

MRS. HUGH L. NICOLSON, formerly Miss Dorothy White, yesterday won the women's District golf championship, defeating Mrs. Everett Eynon on the nineteenth hole, in the final round played on the course of the Manor Club. Winning the District championship is almost a habit with Mrs. Nicolson for her victory yesterday gave her the title for the sixth time. She was also champion of the Washington Golf and Country Club when a member of that organization, while Mrs. Eynon is the present champion of the Columbia Club and recently won the women's State championship of Rhode Island.

The fact that the final match went to the nineteenth hole shows that there was a real battle nor were there any apologies for the brand of golf exhibited. Mrs. Nicolson had a score of 44—43—87, and Mrs. Eynon duplicated these totals.

Mrs. Nicolson Takes Lead on Sixth.

It was nip and tuck between the two players on the first few holes, but Mrs. Nicolson became one up on the sixth, halving the seventh and ninth but losing the eighth when she took three putts. The players were thus all even at the turn.

A stymie on the tenth green led to a half and then Mrs. Nicolson won the eleventh and twelfth. The match was again squared when Mrs. Eynon won the sixteenth, Mrs. Nicolson losing shots in a trap, and then the eighteenth when Mrs. Nicolson failed to hole a putt which would have given her the match. On the extra hole Mrs. Eynon pushed her drive into the woods and although she holed out for a par 5, Mrs. Nicolson ran down a long putt for a birdie 4. The cards:

Out—
Nicolson:	6	3	6	4	6	4	4	4	7—44
Eynon:	5	4	6	5	5	5	4	3	7—44
In—
Nicolson:	6	3	4	5	4	5	6	4	6—43—87
Eynon:	6	4	5	5	4	5	5	4	5—43—87

Herbert T. Shannon Presents Prizes.

Herbert T. Shannon, donor of the handsome trophy emblematic of the championship, was introduced by Mrs. F. R. Keefer, president of the Women's District Golf Association, and presented the prizes in the presence of a large group of women golfers. The summary:

First sixteen, final round—Mrs. Hugh L. Nicolson, unattached, defeated Mrs. Everett Eynon, Columbia, 1 up, 19 holes. Consolation, final round—Mrs. J. O. Rhyne, Congressional, defeated Miss Susan Hacker, Chevy Chase, 1 up.

Second sixteen, final round—Mrs. E. A. Rule, Kenwood, defeated Mrs. B. C. Hartig, Manor, 2 and 1. Consolation, final round—Mrs. H. Simons, Manor, defeated Mrs. T. N. Beavers, Manor, 1 up, 19 holes.

Third flight, final round—Mrs. E. B. Wagner, Indian Spring, defeated Mrs. L. G. Walper, Kenwood, 6 and 4. Consolation, final round—Mrs. J. W. Cramer, Manor, defeated Mrs. D. M. McPherson, Manor, 2 and 1.

Fourth flight, final round—Miss Virginia Irvin, unattached, defeated Mrs. R. C. Mitchell, Beaver Dam. Consolation—Mrs. H. T. Whitlock, Manor, defeated Mrs. A. C. Minnix, Columbia, 7 and 6.

Fifth flight, final round—Mrs. F. A. Smith, Manor, defeated Mrs. F. G. Awalt, Congressional, 1 up, 20 holes. Consolation, final round—Mrs. A. A. McEntee, Kenwood, defeated Miss Elizabeth Harris, Kenwood, 2 and 1.

Sixth flight—Mrs. B. G. Simpich, Indian Spring, defeated Mrs. C. B. Amorous, Congressional, 2 and 1.

U. S. WOMEN DEFEAT BRITISH GOLF TEAM

Continued From Page 15.

the hands of Enid Wilson, English titleholder, 2 and 1, but not without a bitter struggle. Miss Wilson's victory came on the seventeenth green, where the American champion took three putts to get down. Both registered fine 36's for the first nine.

In the long run the victory was decided by the fact that the supposed weak end of the American team held up better than that of the British side. Virginia Van Wie's win over Wanda Morgan, 2 and 1, and Mrs. Leona Cheney's 4 and 3 triumph over Elsie Corlett clinched the series.

SINGLES.

Joyce Wethered, England, defeated Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare, U. S., 6 and 4.
Diana Fishwick, England, defeated Maureen Orcutt, U. S., 4 and 3.
Enid Wilson, England, defeated Helen Hicks, U. S., 2 and 1.
Virginia Van Wie, U. S., defeated Wanda Morgan, England, 2 and 1.
Mrs. Leona Cheney, U. S., defeated Elsie Corlett, 4 and 3.
Mrs. Opal Hill, U. S., halved with Molly Gourlay, England.

SCOTCH FOURSOMES.

Mrs. Vare and Mrs. Hill, U. S., defeated Miss Wethered and Miss Morgan, England, 1 up.
Miss Orcutt and Mrs. Cheney, U. S., defeated Miss Gourley and Doris Park, England, 1 up.
Miss Hicks and Miss Van Wie, U. S., defeated Miss Wilson and Mrs. J. B. Watson, England, 2 and 1.

WESTERN NETMEN WIN.

Western High School's racqueters chalked up their tenth victory of the season at the expense of Mount St. Joseph's in a match played at Baltimore yesterday. The final score was 8-0. Vaeth's defeat at the hands of Corcoran, coming after three torrid sets, the last of which was deuced, featured play.

Latona defeated McDonnall, 6—2, 6—2; Jacobs defeated Wilson, 6—2, 6—2; Hanall defeated Gore, 6—0, 6—0; Langtry defeated McManey, 6—2, 6—0; Corcoran defeated Vaeth, 2—6, 6—2, 7—5. Latona and Jacobs defeated McDonnall and Wilson, 6—4, 7—5; Langtry and Corcoran defeated Vaeth and Gore, 6—4, 4—6, 6—2.

Can You Qualify For This Unique Membership In an Exclusive Country Club?

An unusual opportunity is offered to a group of desirable men now lacking golf and other sports activities while visiting New York.

Now a famous private country club* offers a unique nonresident membership (full privileges except voting power) at only $50 yearly. There are no extras.

Send for cub brochure describing the championship golf course, riding, tennis, swimming pool. Exclusive beach clubs available. A $350,000 club house with ample sleeping accommodations. Beautiful 1,000-acre grounds.

*Convenient to North Jersey Shore—1 hour from New York and Philadelphia

Address Box 233, The Washington Post.

District Champion and Runner-up

Post Staff Photo.

Mrs. Hugh Nicolson (right), who regained the District women's golf championship yesterday by defeating Mrs. Everett Eynon in the finals after an extra-hole match at the Manor Club. Mrs. Nicolson won the title five times previously.

G. U. Prep Golfers' Dominate Tourney

Place Four in Semifinals of Prep Event; Nee Wins in Feature Match.

Georgetown Prep assured itself of the school trophy and individual prizes in the annual prep school championship yesterday afternoon at Garrett Park by placing four men in the semifinal round of play.

In the best match of the day, Maurice Nee, of the home team, defeated John Ruane, last year's champion, 1 up in 19 holes. Pearson Stanley, of St. John's, this year's medalist, went down before Georgetown Prep's No. 1 golfer, Allen, 5 and 4.

The semifinals will be played at 10:30 o'clock this morning. The finals will be held at 3 o'clock.

First round—Ruane (St. John's) defeated Cloud (Georgetown Prep), 4 and 2; Nee (G. P.) defeated Child (Devitt), 7 and 6; Zubrod (G. P.) defeated Detweiler (G. P.), 5 and 4; Ortman (St. John's) defeated J. Baer (Devitt), 3 and 1; Finn (G. P.) defeated O'Leary (St. J.), 5 and 3; Barry (G. P.) defeated Eddy (G. P.), 5 and 4; Stanley (St. J.) defeated Turner (St. J.), 3 and 2; Allan (G. P.) defeated Donoghue (G. P.), 4 and 2.

Quarter-final round—Nee defeated Ruane, 1 up, 19 holes; Zubrod defeated Ortman 4 and 3; Finn defeated Barry, 4 and 3; Allan defeated Stanley, 5 and 4.

G. W. Netmen Bow To Pittsburgh, 7 to 2

Winning but one match in singles and one in doubles, the George Washington University tennis team bowed to University of Pittsburgh yesterday, 7 to 2, on the Columbia Country Club courts. It was G.W.'s final engagement, the result balancing its record for the season at four victories and as many defeats.

Billy Jacobs, of Baltimore, former national boys champion, scored twice for the Panthers, defeating Goldsmith, G.W. No. 1 man, in the singles by a score of 6—3, 6—3, and teaming with Ganger to conquer Goldsmith and Edwards in doubles, 6—3, 6—3.

SINGLES.

Jacobs (P) defeated Goldsmith, 6—3, 6—3; Edwards (GW) defeated O'Laughlin, 5—7, 6—3, 10—8; Ganger (P) defeated Robinson, 6—4, 6—1; Alcorn (P) defeated R. Sherfy, 6—1, 6—4; Goodman (P) defeated L. Sherfy, 6—2, 6—1; Wald (P) defeated Lee, 6—1, 6—2.

DOUBLES.

Jacobs and Ganger defeated Goldsmith and Edwards, 6—3, 6—3; L. and R. Sherfy defeated O'Laughlin and Alcorn, 1—6, 6—3, 6—4; Goodman and Wald defeated Robinson and Gable, 6—4, 6—1.

Won by Okla. Aggies

Omaha, Nebr., May 21 (A.P.).—Dashing away to an early lead that was never overcome, Oklahoma A. and M. track and field athletes captured the Missouri Valley Conference championship at Creighton Stadium today, while individual performers on other squads were breaking three long-standing records.

The well-balanced squad of cowboy runners and field men won eight first places and enough seconds and thirds to run up 65 points. The Drake Bulldogs, defending champions, accumulated 45 to take second and Grinnell was third with 38.

Burrows Annexes D. C. Traps Crown

Morgan Beaten by 1 Target in Shoot-Off, Wins Over-All Title.

In one of the most thrilling shoot-offs ever staged by the Washington Gun Club, W. F. Burrows yesterday won the District championship by beating R. D. Morgan after both tied after clipping 191 clays out of 200. Burrows won by one target in the play-off. He succeeds C. C. Fawsett, and will represent Washington in the national championships at Vandalia, Ohio, in August.

Morgan won the high over-all title, with 323 hits out of 350. The Bicentennial Handicap, 100 targets at distances of 16 to 24 yards, was captured by Dr. O. T. Brice, of Annapolis, with 97. Dr. A. B. Stine, C. C. Fawsett and R. D. Morgan tied for the District Handicap championship. Dr. Stine won the shoot-off.

Other prizes went to S. M. Crothers, Julius Marcey and F. P. Williams.

S. M. Crothers	199	45	49	89
F. Gerriets	193	43	44	88
H. L. Worthington	192	40	..	..
W. F. Burrows	192	37	44	86
R. D. Morgan	192	38	44	94
F. P. Williams	190	42	..	90
Dr. A. B. Stine	186	..	..	94
C. C. Fawsett	187	40	47	94
Henry Winchester	187	..	..	..
Parker Cook	187	..	..	90
Julius Marcey	184	40	50	88
Dr. A. V. Parsons	183	..	40	88
William Britt	182	..	..	..
Dr. A. E. Rush	181	..	..	92
E. H. Hartge	180	36	42	83
H. A. Bartholomew	179	35	39	88
Dr. W. D. Monroe	179	35	44	89
P. M. Shelton	195	41	44	84
A. W. Strowser	179	33	41	78
Dr. J. C. Wynkoop	175	35	45	86
Walter S. Wilson	173	38	43	87
H. H. Shelton	168	41	44	77
Donald Woodward	164	33	42	75
W. E. Saxton	156	..	..	87

MARYLAND BEATEN IN LACROSSE UPSET

Continued From Page 15.

From that point until the gun sounded for the intermission the Blue Jays rained goals on the Maryland net. Jack Turnbull, out home, scored twice, while Ives, Packard and Darrell each counted one goal apiece. The ball was in the Old Liners' territory practically all of the last fifteen minutes.

Terrapins Improve In Second Half.

Maryland's defense stiffened in the second half and succeeded in clearing the ball in good style, but the Terrapin attack was not equal to the task of overcoming the Blue Jays' side point advantage.

Ronkin registered a goal after four minutes on a clever circle-dodge to bring the score to 7 to 2 and after five more minutes Smokey Wood counted after taking a pass from Faber.

The remainder of the half was scoreless, both teams making frequent assaults on the other's net, but the good work at goal of Freddy Invernezzi, of Maryland, and Fritz Stude, of Hopkins, held down the score.

Johns Hopkins.	Position.	Maryland.
Stude	Goal	Invernezzi
Reynolds	Point	Nicholson
Merriken	C. P.	Loughran
Yearley	F. D.	May
Lang	S. D.	Norris
Weitzel	T. D.	Sothoron
Beeler	Center	Push
Guild	T. A.	Poppelman
Stone	S. A.	Hockensmith
Ives	F. A.	Ronkin
Turnbull	O. H.	Stieber
Darrell	I. H.	Faber

Johns Hopkins	7	0	—7
Maryland	1	2	—3

Goals—Lang, Packard, Stone, Ives, Turnbull (2), Darrel, Wood, Ronkin, Stieber. Substitutions—(Johns Hopkins) Kneip for Lang, McGowan for Weitzel, Packard for Beeler, C. Kelly for Stone, McDorman for Ives; (Maryland) Nordenholz for Norris, Snyder for Poppelman, Zirckel for Snyder, Wood for Hockensmith. Referee—Mr. Baker (Swarthmore). Judge of play—Mr. Wehr (Pennsylvania). Goal umpires—Messrs. Budnitz (Navy) and Keech (Mount Washington). Time of Halves—Thirty minutes.

BAN GRID BROADCASTS.

Salt Lake City, May 21 (A.P.).—Faculty representatives of Rocky Mountain Conference colleges voted here today to eliminate radio broadcasting of all football games. They urged the National Collegiate Athletic Association to take similar action.

SHIKAT BOUT HERE NEXT THURSDAY

Curley Star Battles McCready Thursday at Stadium.

DICK SHIKAT, whom Jim Londos at last has been ordered to meet in a wrestling match by the New York State Athletic Commission, will meet a noted warrior in the firm of Curley, Curley, Londos and Curley Thursday night at Griffith Stadium, when he engages Earl McCready.

McCready's last appearance here was not particularly auspicious, being held to a 30 minute draw by George Manich, then on his way to a Londos match, but McCready is rated highly within the corporation, and in a friendly match on the sands of Ocean City, Md., last summer threw Ray Steele and Rudy Dusek in succession. He is young, more than powerful and a student of the venerable Farmer Burns.

Sammy Stein will rassle in the semifinal with Renato Gardini, the voluble Italian who claims (along with George Calza, Mike Romano and Gino Garibaldi) the championship of his race. Gardini is a reasonably good wrestler, but his greatest claim to fame are the speeches he feels called upon to make after his matches. Quite a show.

Two of the greatest bruisers of the herd, George Zaharias and Jack Washburn, are to meet in the main preliminary. The two boys stoop to anything but wrestling during the course of a match.

Mattress Kirilenko, the downing Russian who regained some of his fallen prestige last week by trimming nasty Milo Steinborn, will meet George Manich this week, while Sandor Szabo, one of the most pleasing figures in this odd occupation, meets the world's worst wrestler, Benny Ginsberg.

Ladies free, with escorts.

Ireland Gains Victory In Davis Cup Play

Dublin, Ireland, May 21 (A.P.).—Ireland today defeated Hungary in their Davis Cup series, winning the last two singles matches for a 4-1 victory.

G. Lyttleton-Rogers defeated Baron von Kehrling, 6—0, 6—3, 6—3, and E. A. Maguire won from E. Kabrowitz, 6—1, 8—6, 6—2.

Hungary won only a singles match, Von Kehrling defeating Maguire Thursday.

Vienna, May 21 (A.P.).—Austria came back to take the doubles match in its Davis Cup series with Germany today and make the score 2 and 1 in favor of Germany. Germany won both singles encounters yesterday.

Hermann Arthens and Franz Mateka paired to defeat Gottfried von Cramm and Walter Dessart, 6—3, 7—5, 6—4 today.

National Team Leads Women's Net League

Closely pressed by the George Washingtonians, the Nationals continued to lead the Women's District Tennis League last week, with a mark of 22 wins to 2 losses. The university girls have won 18 and lost 2. Chevy Chase continued in third place.

STANDING OF THE TEAMS.

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Nationals	22	2	.916
George Washington	18	2	.882
Chevy Chase	11	3	.785
Wardman	12	9	.571
Rock Creek	5	5	.500
Shoreham	7	10	.411
Racquetters	6	14	.300
Bureau of Standards	5	12	.294
Columbia	2	9	.181
Mount Pleasant	1	20	.047

RESULTS OF MATCHES.

Elizabeth Clary (G. W.) defeated Ruth Colladay (Shore.), 6—3, 7—5; Mrs. Nathan Wyeth (C. C.) defeated Margaret Ryan (Rac.), 6—2, 6—1; Mrs. Nathan Wyeth (C. C.) defeated Cecyle Raver (B. S.), 8—6, 6—2; Abigail Sard (C. C.) defeated Connie Thompson (Col.), 6—1, 6—2; Abigail Sard (C. C.) defeated Helen Philpitt (B. S.), 7—9, 6—4, 7—5; Abigail Sard (C. C.) defeated Betty Kronman (Mt. Pl.), 6—4, 7—5; Reine Claudel (C. C.) defeated Margaret Tolman (Mt. Pl.), 6—3, 6—2; Mrs. Trubee Davison (C. C.) defeated Mattie Pinette (B. S.), 6—4, 6—1; Mrs. Trubee Davison (C. C.) defeated Mrs. John Shaw (Col.), 6—4, 7—5; Mrs. Lee Butler (Col.) defeated Mrs. Charles Stone (C. C.), 6—2, 4—6, 8—6; Edith McKelvey (Rac.) defeated Margo Wyeth (C. C.), 6—2, 6—1; Hilda Levey (Ward.) defeated Elizabeth Judd (B. S.), 7—5, 6—4; Ruth Martinez (Ward.) defeated Mary Ryan (Rac.), 6—0, 6—0; Betty Whitfield (Ward.) defeated Betty Kronman (Mt. Pl.), 6—1, 6—8, 6—3; Katharine Wassman (Rac.) defeated Hope Donchess (Ward.), 6—0, 6—1; Margaret Ryan (Rac.) defeated Clara Alderton (Nat.), 4—6, 11—9, 6—4; Anne Goldsmith (Ward.) defeated Mary Jarrell (Col.), 6—3, 6—0; Sara Moore (R. C.) defeated Dorothy Kingsbury (B. S.), 6—3, 6—1; Eleanor Finckel (Nat.) defeated Mattie Pinette (B. S.), 6—1, 6—1; Peggy Keyser (Nat.) defeated Louise Stambaugh (Rac.), 6—4, 6—1; Florence Meier (Nat.) defeated Betty Hubbell (B. S.), 6—2, 6—3; Dorothy Dawson (Nat.) defeated Elizabeth Zandonini (B. S.), 6—2, 8—6; Frances Walker (G. W.) defeated Marian Butler (Shore.), 7—5, 6—2; Frances Walker (G. W.) defeated Carolyn Jansen (Mt. Pl.), 6—1, 6—1.

TROJANS WIN MEET AS KIESEL STARS

Continued From Page 15.

posted as a new mark. One full yard separated the rivals at the finish.

In deciding today to match strides with his fleet-footed opponent, Wykoff opposed the wishes of his coach, Dean Cromwell, and the team's physician. Each had urged Frank not to run and take chances of aggravating muscular injury to his back, which has troubled him several weeks.

Kiesel followed up his century victory with a win in the 220-yard dash. His time in the 220 was 21 3-10 seconds.

Sharing plaudits with Kiesel was the lanky Eastman, applicant for world's records in the quarter and half-mile runs. Eastman captured the 440-yard event for Stanford in 46.5 seconds.

YALE BEATS CORNELL CREW BY 1-5 SECOND

Continued from Page 13.

nell swept home a length ahead of Yale in the junior varsity. Princeton was a bad last in all three races, trailing five lengths back in the freshman event, two in the junor varsity, and three more in the varsity.

The course was bathed in sunshine. A light wind barely ruffled Cayuga's waters. All three winning crews bettered the best time in which the two-mile course ever had been rowed here before.

Th Yale freshmen swept down the lake in 10 minutes 32 5-10 seconds with Cornell, only 1-5 of a second behind, and the Cornell junior varsity came home in 10:32. Yale's time for the varsity duel was 10:31, Cornell's 10:31 1-5, and Princeton's 10:37. The best previous time for the course was 10:33, made by Princeton in 1921.

SPEAKING —OF— TENNIS

By BOB CONSIDINE

GEORGETOWN PREPARATORY SCHOOL, located 10 miles out on the Rockville pike, will dedicate its new tennis settlement this afternoon with a series of singles and doubles matches by Dooly Mitchell, Tom Mangan, Bud Markey, George Crowley, Francis Cole, Tom O'Callaghan and George Cannon.

Comprised of ten fine clay courts, a colonial-design tennis house, two pergolas, a giant flagpole and high wire fence which encloses the entire layout, the new tennis settlement is one of the best-equippd and best-looking layouts in this section of the country. The courts were built by the builders of Georgetown's and University of Virginia's tennis settlements.

The courts are laid out on two levels. On one side of the field are six courts, set three by their sides. They are separated from the remaining four by the pergolas and a 5-foot slope of grass. The other four courts are in pairs, behind one another.

Playhouse Planned Next Year.

The school plans, next year, to start work on a playhouse which, when completed, will be unique among the sports equipment of local and nearby schools. Situated in a building which will blend in with the colonial motif of the school itself, the sports represented will be basket ball, swimming, handball and squash, bowling, indoor track and general gymnasium games. The school already has a golf course.

The exhibition tennis matches today start at 2 o'clock. Mitchell will play Mangan, in singles, and Markey will be pitted against Considine. Mangan and partner play Mitchell and Markey in doubles. The tennis house and courts were made possible through the generosity of James E. Gaffney, wealthy sportsman and race horse owner, whose grandson, Robert J. Renehan, '35, will open Sunday's program by raising the flag.

The word "professional" still seems to have some bearing on the caliber of tennis player's game in the minds of laymen. At the recent Tilden matches a person overheard another say that Tilden seemed even better in the last year or so since he's been a professional. The statement was challenged by a militant lady who said that Tilden had been a professional since about 1920.

They tried to explain to her that no such thing was true, but she countered them with: "How could he have played on the Davis Cup teams if he weren't a professional. And many of us could not answer that one.

The City of Washington tournament, which started yesterday, may indicate that the depression has caught up with tennis and struck it in several vital members. Less than 64 entered the men's singles, about half as many as last year. The entry fee is double this year, which may have something to do with it; or it may be that the general all-around futility of tournament play has occurred at last to the average player.

Mrs. Lee D. Butler sprang the surprise of the week, in the Women's District Tennis League, by beating Mrs. Charles P. Stone, City of Washington champion, 6—2, 4—6, 8—6. She is expected to figure largely in the women's tournament at the Reservoir courts this year. The Nationals continue to lead this league. Mrs. Ruth Martinez, of the Wardman Park team, won the most decisive match of the week, allowing Mary Ryan no games. Frances Walker returned to competition, after an extended layoff, with two victories, beating Marian Butler and Carolyn Jansen.

Sid Wallenstein, the Patent Office player with the weird loop shots, numbers two prominent scalps upon his belt this year. He bumped off Bud Markey, 6—4, 6—4, and Maurice O'Neill, 7—5, 4—6, 6—1, both of them in Capital City League matches. Wallenstein hits his shots a glancing blow, sweeping his racquet rapidly up from near the ground and finishing high above his head. It imparts enough topspin to make the balls resemble eggs.

District Women's tennis should be notably better this year with Reba Kirson in the running. Miss Kirson is a Baltimore girl who is making her home in the District for the time being. She hits about as hard as any girl in the tennis business, and if she can maintain a touch of steadiness now and then, should sweep aside all women's competition here this year.

DROPSHOTS.

Herb Bowman, the great New York player who campaigns only through the paluka tournaments yesterday won the Old Dominion championship . . . A team of ten Washington players will meet the Navy Leech Cup team June 26 at Annapolis . . . The Shoreham is putting in a raft of tennis courts . . . More permits have been sold at the Reservoir courts this year than were sold last year from the start of the season until after July 4 . . . There's an elderly millionairess who follows Tilden wherever he plays . . . She always occupies a box by herself . . . Young Van, the sensational knock-out fighter developed here in recent months, is not adverse to tennis . . . Frank Hunter fell to sleep while driving, which accounted for the accident which broke his right leg in two places, his left arm and placed a jaw and shoulder out of commission . . . Watch out for Kay Rathgeber in the 1950 women's District championship . . . Tilden believes the American Davis Cup team may be bumped off this week-end by Australia . . . Oh, well.

Illinois and Minnesota Capture Net Titles

Evanston, Ill., May 21 (A.P.).—Tennis stars from Illinois and Minnesota volleyed to Big Ten championships on the hard courts of Northwestern today.

Ed Lejeck, Illinois sophomore, captured the singles crown by defeating Cal Dennison, of Ohio State, the heavy pretournament favorite, in straight sets, 6—0, 6—3, 7—5.

Later, Lejeck teamed up with Fred Hand in the doubles finals against Paul Scherer and Charles Britzius, of Minnesota, only to fall. Displaying sparkling team work, the Gopher duo stormed through and won with comparative ease, 6—4, 6—1, 7—5.

WINS BIG TEN GOLF TITLE.

Minneapolis, May 21 (A.P.).—John Fischer, of Michigan, today won the Western Conference individual golf championship with a 303 score in 72 holes of medal play over the University of Minnesota course.

TWO UPSETS IN CITY NET TOURNEY

Yen and Freshman Surprise; Schedule Heavy Today.

TWO rousing upsets were scored in the first round of the City of Washington tennis tournament yesterday as play opened on the courts at Sixteenth and Kennedy streets, with the most cosmopolitan entry list ever gathered for a local net meet.

Yungsun Yen, an attache of the Chinese Legation and singles champion of Shanghai and Hankow in the recently passed years, scored upset No. 1 when he eliminated Frederico Sendel, former Mexican Davis Cup player and fourth seeded player, 7—5, 6—2. Art Freshman, Amherst star, accounted for the second of the day's upsets by beating the eighth seeded player, Pat Deck, in a bitter battle, 3—6, 8—6, 7—5.

Dooly Mitchell, defending champion, had no trouble trouncing his first round opponent Spencer, 6—1, 6—1.

Buchanan Plays Trigg.

Play goes on today at all hours on the Reservoir courts in men's and women's singles and men's doubles. One of today's outstanding men's singles matches pits Bill Buchanan against the veteran Hugh Trigg. This is at 11 o'clock.

The best field of women players ever to compete in a tournament here will start operations at 11 o'clock. Mrs. Charles P. Stone, 1931 champion, will meet Jane McNair at 12 o'clock. Among the participants are Alice Davis, daughter of the former Secretary of War, Governor General of the Philippines and donor of the Davis Cup. Miss Davis is women's singles champion of the Philippines. Rene Claudel, daughter of the French Ambassador, will compete in women's doubles.

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

First round—Grant defeated O'Brien, 6—0, 6—0; Hunt defeated Tomeldon, 6—0, 6—0; Yeomans defeated Wells, 6—0, 6—0; Garnett defeated Boyle, 6—0, 6—1; Johnsen defeated H. Buchanan, 6—1, 6—1; Yen defeated Sendel, 7—5, 6—2; Martinez defeated Martin, 8—3, 8—6; Rutley defeated Haney, 10—8, 6—4; Ruckman defeated Henderson by default; Freshman defeated Deck, 3—6, 8—6, 7—5; Attwood defeated Hoffecker, 6—1, 6—1; Dr. Smith defeated Carpenter, 6—1, 6—1.

Dorst defeated Moffitt, 6—3, 6—1; Mitchell defeated Spencer, 6—1, 6—1; Hill defeated Dreschler, 6—1, 6—3; Judd defeated Newgarden, 6—1, 3—6, 6—3; Baker defeated Tracy, 9—11, 6—4, 6—3; Staubley defeated Reynolds, 6—1, 7—5; Ladd defeated Krause, 6—1, 6—3; Mason defeated Yeomans, 6—1, 6—2; Lord defeated Haas by default; Ritzenberg defeated Groves, 6—2, 6—4; W. Buchanan, 3—6, 8—6, 6—2; Trigg defeated Owens, 6—2, 6—1; Hermann defeated Shoemaker, 6—3, 6—1.

Second round—Rutley defeated Ruckman, 6—2, 6—2.

TODAY'S SCHEDULE.

MEN'S SINGLES.

First round, 10 o'clock—Latona vs. Kirson.

Second round, 10 o'clock—Shore vs. Edwards; Considine vs. Grant; Hunt vs. Clyde Yeomans; Garnett vs. Johnsen; Freshman vs. Attwood; Smith vs. Dorst; Mitchell vs. Hill; Mason vs. Lord.

11 o'clock—Yen vs. Martinez; Judd vs. Baker; Stubly vs. Ladd; Buchanan vs. Trigg; Hermann vs. Burns.

12 o'clock—Ritzenberg vs. winner of Latona-Kirson match; Oldhausen vs. Erana.

WOMEN'S SINGLES.

First round—11 o'clock—Frances Walker vs. Mrs. Lee D. Butler; Elinor Totten vs. Margaret Graham; Elinor Finckel vs. Sara Moore.

12 o'clock—Kay Johnson vs. Edith McKelvey; Mrs. Charles Stone vs. Jane McNair; Reba Kirson vs. Mattie Pinette; Mrs. E. K. Morris vs. Alice Rose.

Second round—3 o'clock—Dorothy Kingsbury vs. Dorette Miller.

MEN'S DOUBLES.

First round—11 o'clock—Cyr and Cyr vs. Haney and Shoemaker.

12 o'clock—Dorst and Smith vs. Johnsen and partner.

1 o'clock—Newgarden and Groves vs. Reynolds and Pickett; Rutley and Ladd vs. Grant and Krause.

4 o'clock—Shore and Latona vs. Hoffecker and Dreschler; Considine and partner vs. C. Yeomans and partner; Staubly and Sendel vs. Dyas and Ehlshlager.

Second round—12 o'clock—Hunt and Mason vs. Freshman and partner. 1 o'clock—Hermann and Yen vs. Hill and partner. 4 o'clock—Deck and Seidel vs. Atwood and partner.

EASTERN HIGH WINS IN C CLUB MEET

Continued From Page 15.

shot close to the crease after a good pass from Ronkin.

made by a high school team, the record being set by Mercersburg at the Penn relays this year, 43 and 2-5 seconds.

Central's absence from the sprints hardly lowered the caliber of these events. Art Jannel, of Massanutten, ran the century in 10 seconds and the 220 in 23 seconds. His 10 points gained him individual scoring honors, followed by Slye and Dave Sprinkle, of the winning Easterners, who amassed 8.

SENIOR EVENTS.

100-YARD DASH—Won by Jannell (Massanutten); second, Smeltzer (Tech); third, Pickard (Charlotte). Time, 0:10.

220-YARD DASH—Won by Jannell (Massanutten); second, Dodson (Episcopal); third, Smeltzer (Tech). Time, 0:23.

440-YARD DASH—Won by Bullard (John Marshall); second, Holland (John Marshall); third, Van Winkle (Woodberry). Time, 0:51 3-5.

880-YARD RUN—Won by Roller (Harrisonburg); second, McLaughlin (Charlotte); third, Sholtes (Western). Time, 2:06.

ONE-MILE RUN—Won by King (Baltimore Poly); second, Headley (Hargreave); third, Moore (Eastern). Time, 4:40 (old record, 4:41 1-5).

120-YARD HURDLES—Won by Slye (Eastern); second, Stouffer (Eastern); third, Caron (Eastern). Time, 0:15 3-5 (old record, 0:15 4-5).

220-YARD HURDLES—Won by Lassiter (Woodberry); second, Slye (Eastern); third, Stouffer (Eastern). Time, 0:26.

440-YARD SPRINT RELAY—Won by Central (Price, Naylor, Smith, Ditzler); second, Massanutten; third, Forest Park. Time, 0:44.

SPRINT MEDLEY 1-MILE RELAY—Won by John Marshall (Turner, Harley, Holland, Bullard); second, Baltimore Poly; third, Central. Time, 3:46 1-5.

"C" CLUB 1-MILE RELAY—Won by John Marshall (Davis, McMullen, Rideout, Odell); second, Tech; third, Episcopal. Time, 3:37 2-5.

ONE-MILE MARYLAND RELAY—Won by Gilman (Stafford, Constable, Baetjer, Hartman); second, Georgetown Prep. Time, 3:42.

SHOT PUT—Won by Train (Episcopal); second, Evine (Woodberry); third, Zori (Massanutten). Distance, 50 feet 1 inch (old recrod, 49 feet 3 inches).

HIGH JUMP—First place tie between Sprinkle (Eastern), and Harman (Woodberry); third, Chapman (Tech). Height, 5 feet 11 inches.

BROAD JUMP—Won by Kocsis (Central); second, Sprinkle (Eastern); third, Beers (Western). Distance, 21 feet 9 inches (old record, 21 feet 5½ inches).

DISCUS—Won by Zori (Massanutten); second, Lassiter (Woodberry); third, Evins (Woodberry). Distance, 126 feet.

POLE VAULT—Won by Peabody (Charlotte); second place tie between Williamson (Baltimore City College), and Shaeffer (John Marshall). Height, 10 feet 9 inches.

JAVELIN—Won by Sutton (Charlotte); second, Buscher (Central); third, Kocsis (Central). Distance, 167 feet 3½ inches.

JUNIOR EVENTS.

70-YARD DASH—Won by Caplan (Forest Park); second, Lynch (Macfarland); third, Poole (Paul). Time, 0:08.

100-YARD DASH—Won by Rome (Forest Park); second Knapp (Baltimore Poly); third, Clinton (Eliot). Time, 0:10 2-5.

440-YARD RELAY—Won by Forest Park (Caplan, Lapidus, Stern, Martin). Time, 0:51 1-5.

880-YARD RELAY—Won by Eliot (Palmer, Forame, Decker, Clinton); second, Woodberry; third, Episcopal. Time, 1:39 1-5.

ALUMNI HOLD TOURNEY.

The local chapter of University of Michigan Alumni will hold its annual golf tournament Friday at the Washington Golf and Country Club. The winner will be presented with a handsome trophy at the annual spring smoker to be held that evening at the club.

From Tee to Green

Henry Litchfield West

There's a subtle fascination
Which defies all explanation
In the playing of the good old Scottish game;
For congenial employment,
And continual enjoyment,
There is nothing equal to it I can name.

Though I play like any duffer,
And thus consequently suffer
All the penalties and pains of rotten play,
I'm combining health and pleasure,
Laying up some precious treasure
Which the future years will certainly repay.

Lest there be misapprehension
Of my ultimate intention
And a fear I'll give up golfing by and by,
I assert my firm conviction,
Without fear of contradiction,
That I plan to go on playing 'til I die.

Then, when earthly life is over,
And my spirit is a rover
In the region far beyond the starry frame,
May I find some heavenly creature,
Some angelic golfing teacher,
Who will show me how at last to win a game.

THERE was once a member of Congress who, when a constitutional discussion was in progress, dismissed the whole problem with a casual inquiry. "What," he remarked, "is the Constitution between friends?" In the same spirit there are any number of golfers who end a controversy concerning a happening on the course by quoting a paraphrase of the congressman's famous remark. "What," they ask, "are the rules between friends?"

Tournaments recently held afford some apt illustrations. In the women's District championship on the Manor course last week a notice was posted plainly that winter rules were to be observed on the first nine, where the fairways are new, but not on the second nine, which is an older course. One of the players came up to the score board with a confession.

"Having played winter rules on the first nine," she said, "I forgot all about the second nine and on the tenth hole I improved my lie for my second shot. Am I disqualified?"

Literally, her question should have been answered with an emphatic affirmative. Was it? It was not. There was a chorus of negatives from the group of other contestants surrounding the board. "That's all right," they said. "Lots of us did the same thing." Whereupon the player's card was duly recorded.

Players Delay Against Rules.

And there was another incident in the same tournament. Two players, having finished the first nine, stopped in the clubhouse for luncheon. The rule in the case of stroke competitions is drastic. It says that competitors "shall not discontinue play nor delay to start on account of bad weather or for any reason whatever, except such as the committee may deem satisfactory." The half hour or more spent in the clubhouse during the progress of the qualifying round was a distinct violation of the rule, and, the rule book continues, "the penalty for a breach of this rule shall be disqualification." Were the players disqualified? Not at all. What are the rules between friends?

It is different, for instance, in a national amateur championship, for the writer recalls that once upon a time the famous "Chick" Evans, amateur and open champion, was disqualified because, with his partner, he discontinued play by standing under a tree during a heavy shower. It will be remembered, also, as showing that in an amateur tournament the rule is not so strictly enforced, that there was a tremendously heavy downpour some two or three years ago in the late afternoon during a qualifying round on the Chevy Chase course. Some of the contestants, remembering the rule, kept on playing through soggy fairways and on water-soaked greens, which naturally handicapped their game, so that they scored 6s and 7s instead of lower figures. Others, declining to get drenched, waited under shelter until the storm was over. Despite the objection of those players who had obeyed the rule, no one was disqualified. What are the rules between friends?

Rules Taken Lightly By Many Players.

Of course, when a number of business men in the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs and similar organizations play in friendly contests once a year, it is natural to expect violations of the rules, for these players frankly admit that they do not know anything more about the rules than they do about the Greek alphabet. Some of these days, however, when they graduate into tournament play they will wish that they knew the rules, for they are apt to be called down for some infraction. And why? Because while they may criticize their opponent for being too technical, the latter does it for his own protection. Not every golfer is familiar with the fact that under the rules a player may himself be disqualified if he agrees to waive a penalty incurred by a competitor who has violated a rule. This seems to be a severe judgment, but there it is in the rules and the rules ought to be observed, even among friends.

Golfers, however, are improving. It is not so often nowadays that in a qualifying medal stroke round a golfer will pick up his ball when it lies within an inch or two of the cup and score himself on his card with a putt that was not made but merely conceded. He has the right to replace the ball, make his putt and add two strokes to his score if he remedies his mistake before driving from the next tee or leaving the green if it is the final hole. It is true that in a stroke competition participated in by out-and-out amateurs the error is frequently made, but it is growing less and less in tournaments where the players are experienced.

Ball Caught in Flag Puzzles Player.

Even professionals do not always know how to interpret the rules. Warner Mather, of the Woodholme Club, Baltimore, and president of the Middle Atlantic Professional Golfers Association, told an interesting story last week. "I was playing to the pin on a hole on my course some time ago," he said, "and the ball hit the flag with such force that it wrapped itself in the folds of the flag. I did not know what to do. Fortunately, a gust of wind straightened out the flag and the ball dropped to the green by the hole." "It has been officially decided by the United States Golf Association that a ball which lands in the pocket of a bystander can be lifted from the pocket and dropped without penalty. Perhaps the same rule applies in the case of a golf ball which lodges in the flag of a staff on the green.

Golfers who follow events at the Woodmont Club must have noticed the absence of the name of Max Weyl, former champion of the club and one of Woodmont's star players. He has abandoned competitive golf on account of the demands of business and now contents himself with an occasional friendly round on Sunday afternoons.

Ed. Carroll, of the General Accounting Office, and a member of the Indian Spring club, is a left-hand golfer who is creating a sensation at his club by his long drives. He has a full swing and hits the ball with tremendous force. Two hundred yards or more are easily covered by his drives. He has not yet mastered his short irons, for he is a newcomer at the game, but when his approaches and putts are equally as good as his drives, he will be found in the front ranks of Indian Spring players.

Pros Not Interested In Amateur Debate.

Al Treder, the Manor Club professional, says that the professionals, as a rule, do not take much interest in the effort of the national golf authorities to define an amateur. "There is no second Bobby Jones in the amateur ranks today," he says, "to threaten professional supremacy. Of course, I think that it is against real amateurism for a noted golfer to give instruction in a magazine article for which he gets paid, because he is doing with pen and ink, exactly the kind of thing for which a professional is paid. However, I am not disturbed for I find that golfers who read an article about driving or iron shots generally come back to me to get themselvess straightened out. I might add that the ranks of the amateurs would be sadly depleted if the governing body enforced the rule which provides disqualification for taking money as the result of skill. In the olden days a Nassau was a ball-ball-ball affair Now it is a matter of dollars and cents. "Wouldn't there be a howl if it should be decided that every amateur who played for money became a professional?"

Carroll T. McMaster, for several years golf professional at the Rolling Road, near Baltimore, and a frequent competitor in golf events played in this city, has resigned to accept the position of professional at the Hillendale Club, also near Baltimore.

D. C. College Players Shine in Tourneys.

Georgetown University has every reason to be proud of the fine showing which is being made by its students in golf competitions. Joseph P. Lynch, of Boston, was the medalist in the recent Army-Navy spring invitation tournament and finished third with 75 in the qualifying round of the Chevy Chase tournament last week. No less than seven Georgetown students qualified, all in the first three sixteens. In the first sixteen there were Joseph P. Lynch, John Slattery and William Tynan; in the second were J. A. Galvin and R. F. McPartlin, and in the third, Vincent Wilder and George Dooley.

All of the large Washington educational institutions are showing an increasing interest in golf. In the Chevy Chase event George Washington University had three qualifiers—D. W. Atherton, Graig McKee and L. T. Newton. Catholic University was represented by two, J. J. Jankowski and R. Noble Cook, while the banner of the American University was upheld by Burke Edwards.

The out-of-bounds stakes seemed to have a fatal attraction on the Kenwood course when Lee A. Strong, of Indian Spring, played in the 20-man team match last Sunday against Thomas Powers, of Kenwood. He drove out-of-bounds from five separate tees during his round and when he lost by only 1 down he felt thoroughly satisfied.

It was something of a distinction to qualify in the Chevy Chase tournament last week. It is true that there were about 400 entrants and that the course was in fine condition but nevertheless a golfer had to shoot 87 or better to be listed among the 80 players who were paired for match play after the qualifying round. If the sixteens had been limited to four, as originally planned, only four 86s would have qualified.

Local Golfers Show Improvement.

There was a time, not so very long ago, when scores in the high 90s would have secured qualification, but nowadays one has to be something more than even an average player to get within the charmed circle. There is no question but that better golf is now being played in this section than ever before and golfers who are really ambitious to qualify can not afford to flub their strokes or miss their putts. The real lesson of the Chevy Chase tournament is that average golfers are improving in their game.

TOURNEY AT MANOR.

More than 250 members of the Manor Club, who found golf more attractive than a shad bake and barbecue, participated in a club tournament yesterday. The competition was a blind bogey affair, 18 holes, medal play. The winners were J. E. Neil, 98—18—80; H. B. [illegible], 98—18—80; K. P. Patten, 88—16—72.

4 BALLS ARRANGED FOR U.C.V. REUNION

Southern Belles Will Dance With Survivors of Lee's Army Next Month.

Richmond, Va., May 21 (A.P.).—The boys of '62 will escort the belles of '32 at four society balls planned for the Forty-second Reunion of the United Confederate Veterans here June 21-24.

The balls will be outstanding on the program of social functions for the veterans who fought under the stars and bars in units immortal to the Southland.

Virginia society is working enthusiastically in preparation for the return of the heroes who defended Richmond three score and ten years ago.

The belles of Richmond, and throughout the Old Dominion have manifested an eagerness to open the first of the balls with the veterans to the strains of the Virginia reel.

Beside those who are to be hostesses, society of the South will be represented among the sponsors, matrons of honor, and relatives of the veterans.

Prominent Women Aid.

Miss Mary McLester Reid, who became noted for her popularity at the Montgomery reunion last year, will come to Richmond as maid of honor on the staff of the commander-in-chief, Gen. C. A. Desaussure.

Mrs Fred C. Culvern, president of the United Daughters of the Confederacy in South Carolina, will come as matron of honor on the staff of Gen. N. G. Osteen, commander of the South Carolina Division.

Others of prominence attached to the staffs of the various commanders included: Miss Annie V. Mann, sponsor of the staff of Gen. William McC. Evans, commander of the Virginia division; Miss Phoebe Elliott, sponsor on the staff of Maj. Gen. William Harden, commander of the Georgia division; Miss Laurie Beauregard Larenden, sponsor on the staff of Gen. W. B. Freeman, honorary commander for life; Mrs. R. T. Lee, matron of honor on the staff of Gen. Harry Rene Lee, adjutant general, and chief of staff Mrs. Catherine Wilcox, chaperon on the staff of Gen. R. D. Chapman, commander of the trans-Mississippi department, who will be accompanied by Mrs. Witt Boyd, president of U. D. C. in Texas, also and Mrs. Nancy Field Hoffmann, matron for the Missouri division.

Many Other Functions.

Gen. Thomas H. Dennis, commander of the West Virginia division, announced today that Miss Pattie Feanster, of Alderson, would be his sponsor, and the Misses Moss Nelson, of Parkersburg; Lillian C. Vaughan, of Huntington; Annie Warwick Feanster, of Alderson, would be his sponsors, and Mrs. Jewell Vaughan, of Huntington, his matron of honor.

Maj. Mills F. Neal, commander of the famous Richmond Light Infantry Blues, heads the balls committee. He has arranged for the first dance to be held June 22, immediately following a reception in honor of the veterans, and members of the Confederate Memorial Association, and the Sons of Confederate Veterans, who are to meet simultaneously. The grand ball of the reunion will be held in two sections June 23. While some are dancing in the armory of the First Virginia Regiment, others will find a twin program under way in the Blues armory, and on June 24 the sons' annual ball will be held in the First Regiment Armory.

In addition to these there will be a continuous round of teas, receptions and other official functions.

Lodges Will Pay Honor To Purcellville Veteran

Special to The Washington Post.

Purcellville, Va., May 21.—Fairmont Lodge, No. 54, at Purcellville, will celebrate on Monday night the fiftieth anniversary of the occasion when Charles F. Hagan, of Paeonian Springs, became a knight in the local lodge. A large gathering of members from the lodges at Purcellville and Lovettsville, will be present, as well as representations from lodges at Alexandria, Fredericksburg, Washington, D. C., and Frederick, Md.

Col. George F. Cabell, of Norfolk, supreme keeper of records and seal, and distinguished State officers, will attend. Mr. Hagan is well past the allotted three score and ten years and is still an active member of Fairmont Lodge. Monday night the lodge will present him with a token as its most distinguished member in time and service.

Front Royal Tomorrow To Hold Memorial Rites

Special to The Washington Post.

Front Royal, Va., May 21.—Front Royal will observe Memorial Day Monday in commemoration of the Battle of Front Royal on May 23, 1862. All Confederate veterans will be guests at a dinner given in the Veterans Hall by the Warren Memorial Association assisted by the Warren Rifles Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy.

R. Gray William, of Winchester, Va., will be the principal speaker at the exercises, which will be held in the Warren Park Theater, beginning at 2 o'clock. Special music has been prepared. Following the speaking a procession will form at the courthouse, led by Marshals G. L. Wilkerson, Barbour Baldwin, Richard Baldwin and Maj. S. Rolfe Millar, and march to Prospect Hill Cemetery, where the graves of Confederate veterans will be decorated.

Orange County P.-T. C. Meets Next Saturday

Special to The Washington Post.

Orange, Va., May 21.—The annual meeting of the Orange County Parent-Teacher Council will be held next Saturday at Dunsale, on top of Clark Mountain. While business of the council will be transacted, the affair will also be in the nature of a picnic and get-to-gether meeting, to which all parent-teacher workers in the county are invited.

The members will furnish a basket lunch and teachers of the county and others specially invited will be guests of the assoication. Mrs. W. H Dunn, former president of the council and president of the State Congress of Parents and Teachers, at whose home the meeting will be held, will preside.

Two One-Legged Men Solve Shoe Problem

Special to The Washington Post.

Culpeper, Va., May 21.—Buying two shoes and never being able to wear but one had often given Perry Hatcher, deputy sheriff of Culpeper county, who lost his left leg some years ago in a railroad accident, considerable thought of extravagance. But now Mr. Hatcher has solved the problem to the point of buying only one shoe.

Mr. Hatcher has met D. D. Miller, an Orange resident who recently moved to Culpeper, who has had the misfortune to lose his right leg. In talking over their mutual misfortunes it was developed that both wore a size eight shoe, and Mr. Miller immediately presented Mr. Hatcher with two new shoes for the left foot that had never been worn. The two men had a good laugh over their coincidental size of foot and loss of oposite legs and thereupon agreed that they would take turns in buying shoes in the future.

FAUQUIER COUNTY TEACHERS NAMED

List Is Made Public by Walter H. Thomas, Division Superintendent.

Special to The Washington Post.

Warrenton, Va., May 21.—Walter H. Thomas, division superintendent of schools for Fauquier County, has just announced the names of the teachers for the county for the session of 1932-33.

They are:

Upperville—W. E. Tyler, jr., principal; Miss Nelia B. Shute, Miss Dorothy Gibson, Miss Mildred Wiltchire, Miss Mary E. Lawson. Delaplane—Mrs. Edith M. McCarty, Miss Lila J. Finley. Paris—Miss Anne Gochnauer. Marshall—W. G. Coleman, principal; Miss Susia A. Smith, Miss Marie H. Brent, Mrs. Virginia L. Coleman, Mrs. Rosalie P. Merchant, Miss Elizabeth Johnson, Mrs. Sara B. Eason, Miss Ruby Jones, Miss Lorraine Stephens, Miss Helen M Fewell, Miss Marion Carter, Miss Kathleen Moffett, and Miss Eliza L. Hunter, home economics.

The Plains—J. Thomas Helm, jr. principal; Mrs. Eliza F. Cochran, Mrs. Elsie P. Turner, Mrs. Eleanor L. Moffett. Rectortown—Miss Ruth Skeen, Miss Delia Rawlings. Landmark—Mrs. Virginia L Elgin. Enon—Mrs. Adelia Wingfield. Hume—A. di Zerega, principal; Mrs. Susan M. di Zerega, Miss Alice Asby, Miss Mildred Bowen, Miss Amye C. Clarke. Orlean—Miss Florence Moffett, Miss Helen Hansbrough. Markham—Miss Madeline Hinkel. Western—Miss Inez Gum.

Warrenton—P. B. Smith, principal; Miss Lillie Hotchkiss, assistant principal; Philip di Zerega, Miss Elizabeth Sexton, Miss Marie Lake, Miss Florence Hickerson, Mrs. Watkins C. Smith, Mrs. Grace R Fletcher, Miss Louise Dunnington, Miss Katherine Omohundro, Mrs. Margaret W. Hudson, Mrs. Alice P. Hutton, Miss Maude Lee, Miss Virginia Brockwell, Miss Frances B. Hundley, Mrs. Virginia T. Allison, Miss Mildred Lake, Miss Ruby Lowman, Miss Alice T. Johnson, Miss Marguerite Downs, Miss Carrie S. Vaughan, home economics teacher; Mrs. J. A. Whitmore, agricultural instructor.

New Baltimore—Mrs. Delia C. Poe and Mrs. Lillie Compton. Evergreen — Mrs. Christine Birchmire. Red Hill—Mrs. Richard Lewis. Piney Mountain—Miss Fannie Stafford. Baldwins Ridge — Mrs. Daisy Hutchinson. Calverton—C. M. Bradley principal; U. P. Marcum, Miss Charlotte Garner, Mrs. Marie T. Blanchard, Miss Nellie Hill. Bristersburg—Henry H. L Smith, Miss Rebecca Crittenden, Miss Beulah Tavenner. Catlett—Mrs. Eudora W. Thorpe, Miss Gladys Silcott. St. Stephens—Miss Cleo Kilday.

Bealeton—John Guy, principal; Miss Mary Bigger, B. A. Pope, jr., Miss Irene Pilcher, Miss Jane F. Campbell, Miss Mary Weaver, Miss Loula Connelly, home economics teacher, and J. P. Jenkins, agricultural instructor. Midland—Miss Eloise Gray. Morrisville—Miss Ida B. James. Goldvein—Miss Mayme Daffan. Lois—Miss Mary Walter.

Remington—Mr. J. A. Whitmer, principal; Mrs. E. M. Pearson, Miss Frances A. Wills, Mrs. Katherine R. Perrow, Miss Dora Glascock, Miss Mary V. Blankenbaker, Miss Clara Baldwin, Miss Lillian Stonesiffer and Miss Zanie Guthrie. Summerduck—Miss Frances Edwards. H. M. Pearson is elementary instructor.

The schools for Fauquier County completed their final examinations Tuesday. Wednesday will be allowed the teachers for the corrections of papers, and Thursday will be graduation day in all of the high schools of the county.

Woman Held as Witness In Slaying of Husband

Special to The Washington Post.

Leesburg, Va., May 21.—Mrs. Margaret Smith Littleton is under bond of $500 for her appearance in court here June 20 as a witness for the prosecution in the second trial of Virgil E. Clough, indicted in the slaying of her husband, Clayton Littleton. W. E. Smith, of Bluemont, father of Mrs. Littleton, was accepted as surety.

Mrs. Littleton's failure to appear when the case was called for trial May 2 caused postponement of the proceedings. She was arrested in Washington and brought here by Sheriff E. S. Adrian. She is held under a warrant charging her with obstructing and impeding justice.

Loudoun Civil War Marker Is Planned

Spot Where First Federal Gun Entered County Would Be Site.

Special to The Washington Post.

Leesburg, Va., May 21.—Interest is being shown in establishing a marker at the place where the first gun was brought into Loudoun County by the Federal Army. This is situated in Loudoun Heights not farm from Harpers Ferry.

It was in February, 1862, that Maj Gen. Banks, commanding the department of the Shenandoah, planned an extensive crossing of the Potomac to the right and left of Harpers Ferry. He ordered Col. John W. Geary, of the Twenty-eighth Pennsylvania Infantry, to cross at Harpers Ferry. Geary crossed and on February 25 he ascended Loudoun Heights with five companies of infantry and two guns. The Infantry was placed in three fortifications from which Confederate detachments had been driven, and the two guns were placed in position. Hence these guns were the first to be taken into Loudoun County and put in position.

On February 28 Col. Geary sent a detachment of Infantry and another gun to take position on "Short Mountain" to protect his flank. At that time Geary's command was in the vicinity of Lovettsville, having forced the retirement of a hostile force in the direction of Waterford and Leesburg.

NEWS OF SUBURBAN SOCIETY

Alexandria

An event of the coming week will be the wedding Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock in St. Mary's Church of Miss Josephine Cowan Ramage, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cowan Ramage, and Mr. Robert Caldwell McCann, of Richmond, the son of the late Dr. Daniel McCann and Mrs. McCann, of Bangor, Me. Miss Elizabeth Ramage will be her sister's maid of honor, and Mrs. Robert Edwin Graham will be the matron of honor.

Mr. McCann will have as groomsmen his two brothers, Mr. John S. McCann, of Boston, Mass., and Dr. James Cole McCann, of Worcester, Mass. Ushers will be Mr. S. Cowan Ramage, of Richmond, brother of the bride; Mr. James Grovem, of Frederick, Md.; Mr. Carroll Kirby and Mr. Harry Boyle, of Baltimore; Mr. Larry McElligott and Mr. Charles Carr Koones, of Washington. The ceremony will be followed by a wedding breakfast at the home of the bride in Duke street extended.

Mrs. Louis Sleman Scott, president of the Alexandria Garden Club; Mrs. Gardner Lloyd Boothe, State chairman of slides; Mrs. Robert Miller Reese, State chairman of wild flower gardens; Mrs. Francis Carter, Mrs. Charles F. Holden and Mrs. Richard Hammett have passed the week in Roanoke attending the convention of the Garden Club of Virginia.

Mrs. C. B. Spilman and her little granddaughter, Permelia Burgess Bayol, left yesterday for Revs, Culpeper County, Va., to pass several weeks with Mrs. Spilman's mother, Mrs. Walter Burgess.

Mrs. George T. Klipstein, with the assistance of other members of the Alexandria School Board, will sponsor an authors' recital Friday afternoon in the auditorium of Maury School, and in the evening in the old First Presbyterian Church, Percy MacKaye will talk on Kentucky mountain folk lore and also interpret his drama, "George Washington."

Patrons and patronesses include Dr. and Mrs. Hugh McGuire, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Hunt Roberts, Dr. and Mrs. John T. Ashton, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Carlin, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Lawler, Mr. Gardner L. Boothe, Mr. and Mrs. Urban S. Lambert, Mr. Dan S. Hollenga, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Book, Mr. and Mrs. William B. McGroarty, Mr. Julian T. Burke, Mr. Arthur Herbert, Mr. Richard L. Ruffner, Mr. Carroll Pierce, Mr. Francis Fannon, Mr. Harry Hammond, Mr. Leo P. Harlow, Mr. George E. Warfield, Mr. L. H. Dudley, Mr. Charles R. Hooff, Mr. Wallace Lawrence, Mr. Charles C. Carlin, jr., Mrs. John Leadbeater, Col. and Mrs. Clarence Deems, Miss Helen C. Calvert, Mrs. Curtis B. Backus, Miss Joyce Graham and Mr. and Mrs. Elliott F. Hoffman.

The annual May fete of St. Agnes Episcopal School Wednesday afternoon on the school campus featured Miss Dorothy Rust, as queen of the May; Miss Jacqueline Cochran, maid of honor; Miss Marian Martyn, Miss Margaret Rust, Miss Natalie Schoonmaker and Miss Anne Carter Waller, as maids. Jean Campbell Roberts was the flower girl, Margery Smith, crown bearer; elves were Gordon Rust, Billy Bell, Mac Patch, Paul Crocker, Murray Studs, Wilmer Waller, Richards Williams, Jack Van Bibber, Gus Washington, Arthur Brown Serman, Jimmy Baker, Frank Williams, Fielding Washington, David Rust, Bill Allen, Frank King, Douglas Lindsey, Taylor Burke, Bobby Powell, Alan Procise, Kemper Brooke and Jimmy Julian.

Flower seller and chorus: Harriet Hulfish, Fanny Lee Brooke, Patty Sarle, Helen Tucker Andrews, Helen Peterson, Rebecca Worthington.

Spring dance: Alberta Thomas, Grace Richards, Mary Lee Carter, Gladys Procise, Julia Ann Patch, Betty King, Harriet Hulfish, Jane Hulfish and Evelyn Dillard.

Minuet: Virginia Coryell, Anna McDonald, Mary Brown Serman, Natalie Schoonmaker, Dale Carter, Nancy Sentz, Margaret Williams, Margaret Rust, Mary Hopkins, Marian Martyn, Virginia Walton and Anne Carter Waller.

Garland waltz: Alberta Thomas, Grace Richards, Gladys Procise, Mary Lee Carter, Betty King, Julia Ann Patch, Harriet Hulfish and Jane Hulfish.

Rhythm orchestra: David Burke, Evelyn Cox, Richard Hammett, Martha May, Neil McDowell, Richard Marshall, Betty Lee Penn, Anne Powell, Anne Harmon Roberts, Jimmy Smith, Audrey Studds, Patsy Wemyss, Jack Worthington, Wilton Clarke, Carter Randolph Andrews, Billy Boothe, Lloyd Ross, Pamela DeSousa Zabriskie, Jane Coen, Mary Agnes Dent and Robert May.

Irish lilt: Virginia Walton, Violet Smith, Barbara Crewe, Anna McDonald, Dale Carter, Myrtle Holden, Mary Brown Serman and Margaret Williams.

Espanita: Grace Richards, Mary Lee Carter, Evelyn Dillard, Gladys Procise, Betty King, Julia Ann Patch, Harriet Hulfish and Jane Hulfish.

Dutch dance: Myrtle Holden, Elizabeth Clagett, Alice Aholt, Anne Cleveland, Betty Brown Serman, Emma Lipps, Louise Backus, Nancy Sentz, Agnes Washington and Grace Bowdoin.

Chinese dance: Harriet Hulfish and Alberta Thomas.

Maypole dance: Agnes Washington, Imogene Shepperson, Mary Rust, Margaret Gordon, Charlotte Anne Spittle, Sallie Gorman, Margaret Hewitt, Landon Burke, Nancy Vest, Dolly Hiden, Betty Bowman, Bertha Cochran, Peggy Bowman, Mary Lord Andrews, Mary Brookridge and Eleanor Rust.

Mr. John Lloyd Uhler, of Pittsburgh, Pa., has been the guest this week of his sisters, Miss Katherin G. Uhler, Mrs. T. Anderson Sommers and Mrs. Charles C. Smoot.

Mrs. Charles T. Nicholson has returned from Richmond, where she visited Mr. and Mrs. Boyd P. Beall and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Koogle.

Gaithersburg

Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Palmer, of Washington Grove, Md., announce the marriage of their daughter, Doris Margaret Palmer, to Charles Thomas Hershey, son of Mr. and Mrs. David R. Hershey, of Gaithersburg, on August 17, 1931, at King George Courthouse, Va. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. Fletcher at the parsonage. Mr. and Mrs. Hershey are living with the bride's parents.

Mrs. Irving Thomas has returned from a visit with her parents in Pennsylvania.

Mr. George Donner, of Princeton University, was a recent guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred McGraw.

The annual cooking school sponsored by the Potomac Electric Power Co., with Miss Mary Turner as instructor, was held in St. Martin's Hall here Thursday and Friday, under the auspices of the Home Demonstration Club of Gaithersburg. Many valuable electrical appliances and food products were given away.

The monthly meeting of the Alumni Association of the Gaithersburg High School was held in the school auditorium Friday evening. This was the last meeting of the season. The association sponsored the play, "Am I Intruding?" which was staged by the Thespian Dramatic Club of Washington in the high school auditorium Saturday evening. This play was given for the benefit of the Alumni Association.

The Community and School League met in the high school auditorium Monday evening. Mrs. Helen Rice's room furnished the program, which consisted of a Greek play, written, adapted and acted by the fourth grade. Mr. Sutch, of Battery Park, Md., talked on "Camp Life." Mrs. Carson Ward presided.

Mrs. Clyde Thomas entertained members of the Thursday Evening Bridge Club at her home on Walker avenue the past week.

Pentalpha Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, held its initiation Friday evening in the Masonic Hall here. Four members were initiated. Worthy Matron Mrs. Laura Walker presided.

Gaithersburg - Washington Grove Fire Company held its monthly meeting in the firehouse Friday evening. Mr. Ernest Gartner presided.

The Neighborhood Garden Club had a meeting in the Firemen's Hall Wednesday morning. Mr. Anderson, of Ballston, Va., spoke on "Perennials." Luncheon was served after the meeting, with Mrs. John Stover, Mrs. Sprig Ward, Mrs. Marshall Walker and Mrs. Sidney Carr as hostesses.

A benefit card party was held in the Masonic Hall Saturday evening under the auspices of the Temple and Library Association.

Warrenton

Dr. W. N. Hodgkin has returned from Winchester where he attended the State Dental Association meeting this week.

Mr. R. Walton Moore was the weekend guest of Mr. Lucien Keith at his home on Culpeper street.

Mrs. Katherine F. Bowman left Tuesday to attend the Garden Club of Virginia meeting in Roanoke.

Mr. Edward Thoma has returned to Berryville after spending the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Thoma.

Mrs. D. P. Wood, who spent the winter with her daughter, Mrs. R. L. Bailey, in Columbia, S. C., has returned to Warrenton accompanied by her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Sadler, of Blacksburg, Va.

Mrs. W. D. Whittle and Miss Georgiana Whittle, of Norfolk, are spending some time with Mr. and Mrs E. Astley Cooper here.

Mr. and Mrs. James C Biddle have returned to Warrenton and opened their home, Paradise, after a winter spent in Augusta, Ga.

Miss Margaret Robertson entertained at a buffet supper at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Robertson, on Bethel road, last Saturday.

Mrs. W. W. Drake, Mrs. Gwynne R. Tompkins and Mrs. D. Turner Day attended the Garden Club meeting at Roanoke, Va., this week, as representatives of the Warrenton Garden Club.

Mr. Percy Kenyon of England, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Adams, of Lebanon, Pa., are the guests this week of Mr. and Mrs. Isham Keith.

Mrs. William Newton Hodgkin entertained at a bridge luncheon at her home this week.

Miss Susie M. Gaskins, of Front Royal, spent the past week-end in Warrenton with her sisters, the Misses Gaskins.

Mrs. William H. Gaines spent Wednesday in Washington.

The Rev and Mrs. Fremont Hinkel and Miss Jane Hinkel, of Leeds, spent the week in New York.

A party of seven of the Warrenton troop of Girl Scouts, with their leader, Mrs. Watson Smith attended the court of honor held in the Central High School, of Washington, this week.

Miss Virginia Bowman is in New York for the reunion of her class at Sarah Lawrence College. While there she will be the guest of Miss Grace Drake.

Falls Church

Maj. Jean K. Stacey, who spent a number of years among the American Indians, gave a lecture Thursday evening on Indians at the Annual Praise Service of the Women's Missionary Society of the Falls Church Presbyterian Church. Mr. Bert Dadranoff sang a solo, accompanied at the piano by Mr. Steuart.

Mrs. C. A. Ransom, Mrs. E. L. Redfield, Mrs. E. L. Brandon and Miss Nora Kropp were on the committee in charge of the luncheon given at Corby's Bakery Friday, under the auspices of the junior department of the Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Marie Groves will be the delegate to the Rebekah convention at Lynchburg, Va., Tuesday and Wednesday. Others attending will be Mrs. Isabel Cousins and Miss Lillian Groves.

Mrs. Philip Nourse will entertain at her home this week the Tuesday Afternoon Bridge Club.

Dr. Andrew M. Broadie, associate pastor of the Washington New York Avenue Church spoke Wednesday on the theme "The Hawaiian Situation," at the Falls Church Presbyterian Church. The music was furnished by Mr. Arthur Jones, of Falls Church, and the male quartet of the Presbyterian Church of Clarendon. Refreshments were served.

Mrs. Pearce Horn, of Washington, will entertain on Thursday the Old Falls Church Chapter of the D. A. R. at a luncheon at the Woodward & Lothrop Tea Room.

The moderator of the Washington Presbyterian Church will speak Wednesday before the Men's Club of the Falls Church Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Arthur Campbell, of Lexington, Ky., has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Butterworth, of Falls Church.

Mrs. J. L. Crupper was in charge of the arrangements of the program in celebration of the last payment and the burning of the mortgage on the Columbia Baptist Church, of Falls Church. Mrs. H. H. Rogers, Mrs R. E. Ankers, Mrs. Robert Storey and Mrs W. E. Dillon assisted with the luncheon. The program consisted of a short history of the parsonage of the church given by the president of the Ladies' Aid. Mrs. Guy Ervin, Mrs. George W. Hawxhurst and Mrs. J. L Crupper gave a short talk of remembrances of the work done by the Ladies' Aid, and Mrs. R. C. Staebner sang, and Mrs. Edgar Shreve, of Dunn Loring, Va., gave a reading. A short business meeting was also held.

Miss Helen Jewell entertained at her home Saturday evening the Girls' Auxiliary of the Columbia Baptist Church Missionary Society.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen N. Mason and family, of North Andover, Mass., are the guests of Mr. Mason's sister, Mrs. Guy Ervin, and family.

Mrs. G. B. Fadley entertained at her home the Evening Study Club Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Elizabeth Styles gave a paper on Rembrandt.

Herndon

John Stoddard, of Staunton, was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Detwiler for several days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gall and three sons, of Aurora Hills, were dinner guests on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Rosenberger.

Mrs. A. G. Hutchison spent last week with relatives in Washington.

Mrs. Russell A. Lynn entertained the Friday Night Bridge Club at her home on Tuesday.

W. W. McGlincy and Harry A. Sager attended the convention of Red Men last week at Roanoke as delegates from the Herndon Lodge.

The Rev. Alexander Galt, former rector of St. Timothy's Episcopal Church, who now makes his home at Virginia Beach, spent last week-end with his daughter, Mrs. George A. Bready.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Bogan and daughter, of Washington, were dinner guests last Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Bready.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Robert Sims and sons, Louis and Clarke, of Silver Spring, Md., were guests of friends in Herndon last week.

Mrs. George Buell was hostess to the Four Table Bridge Club at luncheon at her home Monday. Mrs. Elmon Miller, of Leesburg, was a guest of the club.

Mr. and Mrs. Bently Harrison and daughter, Mary Lee; Mrs. Ruth Keyes and son, Billy, were guests last Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Hood Wayland, in Culpeper.

The Rev. and Mrs. Arthur Lee Ribble have returned from a visit with friends at White Post.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldred Thompson entertained four tables at bridge Wednesday evening.

Miss Sadie Marten, of Charlestown, W. Va., was a recent guest of Mrs. F. W. Robinson.

Mrs. Ruth Downs, Mrs. Glenna Mae Sibold and Mrs. Clara Holtzclaw attended the annual session of Daughters of America, in Alexandria the past week as delegates from Herndon Council, No. 25.

Herndon Chapter, No. 55, Order of Eastern Star, will celebrate its eighteenth birthday Wednesday evening with a party in the lodge hall. The committee is composed of Mrs Estelle Thompson, Mrs. Genevieve Hanes Miss Mildred Kidwell and Mrs. Mildred Kidwell.

Herndon Women's Christian Temperance Union met in the Congregational Church Friday, with twelve members ttending. The president, Mrs. Robert E. Lowe, and Miss Mamie Bready gave readings on temperance work. Plans were made for a luncheon and meeting on Thursday, May 26, in the church. The State president, Mrs. Howard M. Hoge, the State treasurer, Mrs. Strickler, and the corresponding secretary, Mrs. Lillian Shepherd, have been invited to address the gathering.

White Sulphur Springs

Special to The Washington Post.

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., May 21.—The annual May meeting of the board of governors of the Investment Bankers Association of America brought many bankers and their wives to the Greenbrier from Eastern and Western cities, and the week has been filled with social activities. The bankers' golf tournament for the president's trophy given by Allan M. Pope, of New York, was won by Charles B. Crouse, of Detroit. Mr. Crouse also won the bankers' tournament here last year. Robert A. Gardner, of Chicago, was runner-up. F. Seymour Barr, of New York; E. C. Wampler, of Chicago, and Harry B. Wagner, of Grand Rapids, Mich., were elected to governorship. Bankers in attendance included William G. Baker, C. Provost Boyce, J. S. Wilson, jr., James C. Fenhagen and C. T. Williams, of Baltimore, and Paul V. Keyser, of Washington.

C. T. Williams had as his guest at a large luncheon Frank E. Furst, who motored over from Hot Springs; Eugene H. Beer, city registrar of Baltimore, and Mrs. Beer, and John E. Griner. Gov. Albert C Ritchie, whom he expected from Baltimore, was not able to join them.

T. J. McKay, jr., arrived from Baltimore by airplane and passed several days here this week. Mr. and Mrs. Beer, William G. Dancy and Mr. Griner all took airplane trips over the valley during their stay.

Recent arrivals at the Greenbrier this week included E. J. Costa, Eric B. Kramer, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Blunt and P. J. Ruysler, of Baltimore, and Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Kimbel, Mrs. S. W. Hendricks, Joseph C. Colquitt and R. R. Shively, of Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen M. Pope, Mrs. Bayard Pope and Mr. and Mrs. John Raynard Todd all departed for Washington by motor on their way to New York.

Arlington County

Mrs. Stanley Williamson, of Lee Heights, entertained on Friday at a bridge luncheon in honor of Mrs. Fred Gosnell, the occasion being her birthday anniversary. The dining room was beautifully decorated in cut flowers and ferns. A large cake in the center of the table with green candles surrounded with tea roses and ferns was quite attractive. Among those playing were Mrs. Gosnell, Mrs. Charles Harris, Mrs. John Prager, Mrs. Ray Coswell, Mrs. Belle C. Schutts, Mrs. Victor Myers, Mrs. Arthur Dawson, Mrs. Russell Wines, Mrs. Derek Breitenbach, Mrs. Harry B. Bates and Mrs. Eugene Tucker.

Miss Doris M. Burns, of Lyon Village, was tendered a birthday surprise party on Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. James Duvall, by Miss Bruns' mother, Mrs. Grace Bruns. Among the guests were Miss Harriet Linger, Miss Alice Crawford, Miss Gladys Ives, Miss Ethel Benton, Miss Rebecca Hensley, Miss Doris Dungon, Miss Mildred Rice, Miss Marjorie Gretem, Miss Eloise Sunderman, Miss Florence Harrison, Miss Virginia Rees, Miss Jean Ristine, Messrs. Elmo Legg, Earl Wiltshire, Robert Yardley, Harry Calhoun, Richard Gretem, George McCloskey, Robert Livingston, Lester Rees, Charles Abrams, Woodman Harris, Allen Duvall and Louis Shroff.

On Sunday afternoon Lucille Van Naley Saugstad presented a group of pupils in a piano recital at Red Gables, Lee Heights.

Those taking part were Mark Reid Yates, Ben Weems Dulany, Jane Pickens, Cornelia Pickens, Charles Russell, James Russell, George Bunker, Mary Holmes, Mary Elizabeth Davis, John Sellars Yates, Mary Jane Maltby, Ann Peter, Margaret McFall, Betty Carol Maltby, Patsy Ferry, Martha King Harris, Don Nicklason, Dorothy Ahalt, Louise Grant, Virginia Harris, Hugh Nicklason, Frances White and Austin Kiplinger.

Additional suburban-society news will be found in the second section of this issue.

Staunton

Special to The Washington Post.

Staunton, Va., May 21.—Col. Thomas H. Russell, president of Staunton Military Academy, and Mrs. Russell entertained at tea Tuesday following a dress parade given by the cadet corps in honor of the seniors of Mary Baldwin College and Stuart Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. William Mondell were recent guests of the latter's father, Mr. Clyde Lambert, at Waynesboro.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Tate Kennedy have announced the engagement of their daughter, Evelyn Mae, to Bernard Harrison Ewing, of Lewisburg, Tenn., the marriage to take place June 2.

Esca Helms, of Washington, has been a guest of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. George Boserman.

Miss Laura Lejeune, daughter of Gen. and Mrs. John A. Lejeune, of Virginia Military Institute, is a house guest of Miss Margaret Hilleary.

Mrs. Elizabeth Williams has returned to Washington following a visit with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. Williams, of Waynesboro.

Mrs. Percy H. Willson has returned from Washington.

Miss Kathryn Wayt, daughter of Col. and Mrs. H. Hampton Wayt, left this week for Washington and New York.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Hall have returned from a visit in Washington and Alexandria.

Mrs. Joseph Nelson McComb has left for Washington, where she will be the guest of her sister, Mrs. I. M. Smoot.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Dean Sutphin, who motored to Washington and Hagerstown, have returned.

Mr. and Mrs. Cabel Clothier, who have been guests of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Clothier, have left for their home in Rochester, N. Y.

Rockville

Miss Ila Moore recently entertained at luncheon and bridge at Hungerford Tavern. Her guests were Mrs. Harry Beall, Mrs. Leversia Powers, Miss Margaret Ansdell, Mrs. Fern Schneider, Miss Eleanor Smith, Miss Kristin Nilsson, Miss Elizabeth Meany, Mrs. Edwin Broome, Mrs. Olivia Simms, Mrs. Guy Watkins, Mrs. Theodore Ricketts, Miss Lena Ricketts, Miss Elberta Rice, Mrs. Oliver Perry and Miss Willie Green Day.

Mr. and Mrs. John Banks Berry are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a daughter. Mrs. Berry and her infant daughter are at Georgetown Hospital, in Washington.

Mrs. Hugh Magruder, of Baltimore, has been spending a week with her sisters, Miss Lydia Prettyman and Mrs. Alexander Kilgour.

Mrs. Fern D. Schneider and Miss Margaret Ansdell entertained groups of friends both Wednesday and Thursday evenings at bridge, at Mrs. Schneider's apartment in Washington.

The last meeting of the season of the Rockville Woman's Club was held at the home of Mrs. E. L. Bullard, with Mrs. Clinton Allnutt as joint hostess. Mrs. Bullard gave an interesting report on the State federation meeting recently held in Baltimore. The club was entertained by Miss Mildred Mockabee, who talked to them about her work, character reading from handwritings.

Dr. Joseph Albert Stimek and Mrs. Stimek have returned from Atlantic City and are living at the Seco Apartments. Mrs. Stimek was, before her marriage last Saturday, Miss A. Lorene Garrett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Franklin Garrett.

Mrs. Almus Spear entertained one of the afternoon bridge clubs at her home this week.

Mr. Olan Anderson, of South Carolina, is visiting at the home of his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Anderson.

The last meeting of the Rockville Garden Club was held at the home of Mrs. Lawson King, with Mrs. T. W. Troxell as associate hostess. Reports of the committee were given and the meeting was then given over to a detailed discussion of the flower show which the club expects to hold on June 3. Mrs. L. L. Nicholson headed the committee on arrangements, with the following members assisting: Mrs. George Hane, Mrs. George Ninas, Mrs. Lawson King, and Mrs. B. T. Elmore. Members of the Garden Club have been invited to exhibit their flowers at this show and others in neighboring vicinities, the first one of which will be the National Capital Dahlia and Iris Show, to be held at the Carlton Hotel, in Washington. The club is planning a pilgrimage to the garden of Horace McFarlane, president of the American Rose Society, in Harrisburg, Pa., in June. In July the club will visit the water lily ponds of W. B. Shaw, at Kenilworth, D. C.

Mrs. James Buzzard has returned to her home at Berkeley Springs, W. Va., after visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Saunders.

Loudoun Farmers Plan Wool-Production Pool

Special to The Washing Post.

Leesburg, Va., May 21.—J. R. Lintner, county agent, has announced that Loudoun farmers would pool their wool again this year. The committee for the county, R. J. McCray, Owen Thomas, jr., and Mr. Lintner, has ordered wool sacks to be used in cooperative shipments to the United Wool Growers Association in Baltimore, a member of the national association.

Inquiry concerning sacks and methods to be used in making cooperative shipments should be made, Mr. Lintner said, to members of the committee at an early date.

Pollard Favored For Keynoter Post

Governor May Be Named Temporary Chairman at State Convention.

Richmond, Va., May 21 (A.P.).—Preliminary plans for the State Democratic convention here, June 9, today indicated that Gov. Pollard will be the keynote speaker and temporary chairman.

J. Sinclair Brown, of Salem, speaker of the House of Delegates, was being mentioned as the choice for permanent chairman of the arrangements committee.

Action by many of Virginia's counties indicated that former Gov. Byrd will be proposed as the presidential choice of the Virginia Democrats, and that resolutions instructing for him will be proposed. There was an inclination among the party leaders to favor sending 48 delegates to the national convention in Chicago to cast Virginia's 24 votes—each with one-half vote.

Farmville School Will Graduate 188

Judge of Supreme Court of Virginia to Give Address at Teachers College.

Farmville, Va., May 21 (A.P.).—Judge George L. Browning, of the Supreme Court of Virginia, will deliver the principal address at the graduation exercises of the State Teachers' College here on the morning of June 7, when approximately 200 graduates will receive their diplomas.

The annual commencement sermon will be delivered Sunday, June 5, by the Rev. R. V. Lapsley, jr., pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Roanoke.

Of the graduating class, 76 are members of the degree class and 112 are members of the diploma class.

Commencement exercises will start Saturday evening, June 4, when the annual reception for graduates and their families is held. On Monday, the class day exercises will be held, and the daisy chain and other features of commencement will appear. On Monday night the commencement play by the college dramatic club will be given. "The Ivory Door," by A. A. Milne, is this year's presentation.

FOUR HIGH SCHOOLS WILL GRADUATE 67

Orange County Institutions Preparing Ceremonies at Close of Term.

Special to The Washington Post.

Orange, Va., May 21.—This year's graduates in the four high schools of Orange County announced today by divisional superintendent of schools, D. N. Davidson, of Orange, total 67.

Orange and Gordonsville each have a class of 21. Unionville Agricultural High School comes next with a class of 14, and Barboursville will graduate 11.

The Rev. W. L. Ware, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church, will preach the baccalaureate sermon to the Orange class in the Baptist Church tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. The graduating exercises will be held in the school auditorium Friday night. Dr. J. D. Eggleston, of Hampden-Sydney College, will address the class. Orange school is closing several days earlier than the other schools of the county, as classes have been held on Saturday to make up for the time the schools are giving to continue the nine months' term.

The baccalaureate sermons for Gordonsville, Unionville and Barboursville will be given May 28. The Rev. G. E. Powell, pastor of the Methodist Church, Louisa, will preach the sermon at Gordonsville, the Rev. A. C. Tucker, rector of Christ Church, Gordonsville, will deliver the sermon at Barboursville, and Dr. Charles R. Stribling, of the Presbyterian Church, Orange, will be the speaker at Unionville.

The Rev. G. F. Powell will deliver the address to the Barboursville class the night of May 30. Speakers for Gordonsville and Unionville have not been announced, though it is expected that Dr. Sidney Hall, superintendent of public instruction, will address the Gordonsville class.

William May will be salutatorian, and Joe Stratton, valedictorian of the Gordonsville class; Iva Tinder, Randolph Reynolds, Marian Powell and Virginia Powell, salutatorian and valedictorian of Unionville and Barboursville High, respectively. Those from Orange have not been announced.

Apple Growers Seeking Cut in Inspection Cost

Special to The Washington Post.

Martinsburg, W. Va., May 21.—A $1-per-year reduction in the cost of State inspection of apples has been asked of West Virginia authorities by the West Virginia Horticulture Society through its executive committee meeting here today. The committee also requested that more mature and experienced men be selected as inspectors in place of some of the younger members of the past seasons' inspection force.

The plea pointed out that inspection costs are among the few costs of apple growing that remain at "boom time" levels; that considerable savings are possible now in wages of inspectors and other costs which might be passed along to the growers who are cutting costs wherever possible to meet lower prices for their products. A conference on the matter with Commissioner of Agriculture Howard M. Gore is requested.

Woodstock Youth, 14, Is Drowned in River

Special to The Washington Post.

Woodstock, Va., May 21.—Eldridge Holley, 14-year-old son of the Rev. and Mrs. Watson Holley, was drowned in the Shenandoah River one mile east of here this afternoon. The youth had gone to the river with his older brother, Watson Holley, jr., and several other youths from this place. He was swimming below a submarine bridge in water between ten and fifteen feet deep, when without warning he suddenly disappeared. The older brother and others close at hand were unable to rescue him. A large rescuing party from Woodstock finally located the body.

The youth was a high school student here. His father, the Rev. Mr. Holley, is pastor of the local Methodist Church, having come to Woodstock from Roanoke, Va. Funeral arrangements have not been made.

3 Greenbrier Students Named for West Point

Special to The Washington Post.

Lewisburg, W. Va., May 21.—Three Greenbrier Military School cadets have been ordered to report to Walter Reed General Hospital, Washington, D. C., to undergo physical examination for admittance to West Point.

The three candidates, honor graduates of Greenbrier recommended by Col. H. B. Moore, president, and Capt. Glen T. Strock, D. O. L., U. S. A., are Cadet Sgt. Thomas E. Clifford, jr., and Cadet Sergt. Robert Newton Vaughan, both of Conceverte, W. Va., and Cadet Capt. Dewitt Clinton Snyder, of Mount Hope, W. Va. Greenbrier's three honor cadets have this privilege because of the honor rating given to the school by the War Department.

TEACHERS' PAY CUT IN CHARLOTTESVILLE

School Board Announces 10 Per Cent Reduction; Makes Appointments.

Special to The Washington Post.

Charlottesville, Va., May 21.—The city school board last night elected teachers for the 1932-33 session. Every employe on the pay rolls of the schools will receive 10 per cent less for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1932, than was paid for similar positions during the present fiscal year, ending June 30. This reduction in the total city school budget will amount to between $15,000 and $16,000. The list of white teachers follows:

Principals: Lane High, Hugh L. Sulfridge; McGuffey School, Miss Carrie C. Burnley; Venable School, Miss Sarepta A. Moran; George Rogers Clark School, Miss Florence Buford.

Miss Ada L. Berrey, Criglersville; Miss Virginia Bolen, Culpeper; Miss Florence Fleet, Biscoe; Miss Winona Johnston, Salem; Miss Mildred Jones, Stevensburg; Miss Edith Virginia Moore, Dillwyn; Miss Louise Nickels, Big Stone Gap; Miss Grace V. Reynolds, Newport; Miss Gladys Schuder, Covington; Miss Naomi P. Sheppe, Staunton; Miss Lillian Virginia Mickle, Nathalie; Miss Garnette Shufflebarger, Pennington Gap.

Other Teachers Elected.

Miss Nellie M. Cowan, Norfolk; Miss Shirley Elizabeth Miller, Edinburg; Miss Ora Lee Cole, Chilhowie; Miss Betty E. Davis, Clifton Forge; Miss Pauline D. Fry, Waynesboro; Miss Mary E. Snavely, Pennington Gap; Miss Helen Woolfolk, Thornhill; Miss Emma Pettit, Roseland; Miss Bertha Williams, Nickelsville; Miss Mildred K. Thacker, Carters Bridge; Miss Susie Moore, Amherst; Miss Julia E. Jones, Sheppards; Miss Doris Persinger, Salem; Miss Thelma Virginia Gochenour, Elkton.

Miss Helen Louise Sadler, Cobham; Miss Frances Clore, Madison; Miss Elizabeth Crenshaw, Cambria; Miss Grace A. Deputy, Waynesboro; Miss Rosalyn Dowell, Gordonsville; Miss Lena Gochenour, Elkton; Miss Ruth Alma Hill, Lynchburg; Miss Annie Lorayne Osborne, Galax; Miss Grace E. Buck, Liberty Mills; Miss Minnie Graham Quarles, Ashland; Mrs. Annie B. Adams, Ivy; Miss Dorothy Corinne Luck, Ashland; Miss Rosemary M. Jones, Petersburg; Mrs. Alberta H. Loving, Norfolk; Miss Geneva P. Knox, Emporia; Miss Mary Dobyns Derieux, Tappahannock, and Frances G. Lankford, jr., Morratico.

Teachers From Charlottesville.

Teachers from Charlottesville include: C. J. M. Blume, Leroy Hilldrug, W. E. Lacy, E. R. Riedel, H. H. Walker, Edward Alvey, jr., R. E. Swindler, Edward W. Venning, Miss Webb Brown, Miss Martha W. Duke, Miss Sylvia P. Horwitz, Mrs. Cecile B. Hewson, Miss Lucy T. Jones, Mrs. Isabel C. McCue, Miss Dandridge Blakey, Mrs. Lillie P. Woodson, Miss Elizabeth Atkins, Mrs. Evelyn M. McCoy, Mrs. Margaret K. Sims, Miss Jo Wright, Miss Edith B. Payne, Miss Janie K. Werner, Mrs. Margaret B. Burnet, Mrs. Evelyn M. Burruss, Mrs. Mary G. Fitzhugh, Miss Madge Trevillian, Miss Mildred Burnley.

Mrs. Marshall Baker, Miss Mildred Bouldin, Miss Susan Craft, Mrs. Alma C. Spitzer, Mrs. Laura K. Bailey, Mrs. Katherine P. Kinney, Miss Helene Brown, Miss Marion Trevillian, Miss Anne Browne, Miss Elsie G. Woodward, Miss Nancy Waddell, Miss Mollie B. Whitlock, Mrs. Agnes Moon Shaw, Mrs. Lucile Eastham Michie, Miss Mary Cornelia Hankins and Miss Josephine Bridgman.

Culpeper Youth Passes Annapolis Entrance Test

Special to The Washington Post.

Culpeper, Va., May 21.—Clifford F. Clark, jr., will enter the United States Naval Academy with the June class, having recently passed the entrance examinations.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Clark, of Culpeper, and prepared himself for the academy at Augusta Military Academy, Fort Defiance, Va., and Bullis School in Washington. He received his appointment from Representative Howard W. Smith, of the Eighth Virginia District.

Norfolk Police Seeking Motive of Curtis Hoax

Norfolk, Va., May 21 (A.P.).—A mass of theories, data and possible clews was studied today by police to determine the motive of John H. Curtis in pursuing an imaginary hunt for the kidnaped baby of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

The search for the motive, Chief of Police S. W. Ironmonger explained, is forming a central line of endeavor in the general investigation of the hoaxer's activities, and of "leads" that may end in the discovery of the actual kidnapers. There have been no developments, however, in the local investigation.

Schools Complete Penmanship Tests

Miss Beatrix Clark, Rural Supervisor, Lists Winners.

Special to The Washington Post.

Manassas, Va., May 21.—Tests in penmanship and composition in the grade schools of Prince William County were concluded this week and the names of the winners announced today by Miss Beatrix Clark, rural school suprvisor, are as follows:

Penmanship—First grade, Celestine McLearan, Nokesville; second grade, Betty Brower, Catharpin; third grade, Dorothy Breeden, Bennett School, Manassas; fourth grade, Dorothy Herndon, Bristow; fifth grade, Kathleen Garman, Nokesville; sixth grade, Bertha Potters, Catharpin; seventh grade, Madeline Dawson, Occoquan.

Composition—Fourth grade, Marcus Perkins, Nokesville; fifth grade, Katherine Garman, Nokesville; sixth grade, Lavinia Kincheloe, Dumfries; seventh grade, Lorena McLaren, Nokesville.

Reading—First grade, Audrey Cline, Dumfries; second grade, Virginia Pullen, Manassas; third grade, Frances Ellis, Greenwich; fourth grade, Nancy Swecker, Haymarket; fifth grade, Althea Hooff, Manassas; sixth grade, Robert Smith, Bethel.

Primary story telling, Marjorie Bourne, Occoquan; grammar grade story telling, Shirley Fowler, Haymarket; spelling, Beulah Fritter, Nokesville.

Second Section	Pages
Society	1-4
Fashions	5
Club Notes	6-7
Helen and Warren	8

The Washington Post.

WASHINGTON: SUNDAY, MAY 22, 1932. S

Second Section	Pages
Community Center	8
Among Artists	9
Music Notes	9
John Erskine	9

Woods, Fields and Gardens Beckon to Society as Summer Blossoms

Underwood & Underwood.

Upper, left to right—Miss Mary Fechet, daughter of Maj. Gen. J. E. Fechet, in their lovely garden; Mrs. Doak, wife of the Secretary of Labor, in the grounds of their country place in Virginia, high above the Potomac; Mrs. Gilbert Grosvenor, wife of the director of the National Geographic Society and daughter of the late Alexander Graham Bell, at their suburban home on Woodland Drive; Miss Ruth Miller Green, daughter of Mr. Lincoln Green, in their Georgetown home. Lower, left to right—Mrs. Bishop Perkins Hill, who was formerly Miss Alice Worthington, in her garden; Mme. Nano, wife of the counselor of the Roumanian legation, seeks the open near the garden wall; Miss Winifred Jacobs, daughter of Commander W. F. Jacobs, U. S. N., beside a shade tree.

Ambassador de Ferrara Bids Farewell to Friends

Cuban Envoy and Wife to Leave City Tomorrow for Havana, for Former's State Secretary Post; Bon Voyage Dinner Given Them Last Night.

THE retiring Cuban Ambassador and Senora de Ferrara will leave Washington tomorrow for Havana, where the former will assume his duties as secretary of state.

Last evening the Counselor of the Embassy and Senora de Baron entertained at a farewell dinner in the Mayflower for the Ambassador and Senora de Ferrara.

Friday afternoon the Ambassador and Senora de Ferrara entertained at a large reception in celebration of Cuban independence day, and to say farewell to their many friends. Senora de Ferrara received the guests in one of the drawing rooms, wearing an afternoon dress of cream lace. The Ambassador moved through the various rooms greeting friends and colleagues in his genial way. The entire Embassy was decorated with a profusion of red roses and white lilies. Diplomats, officials and members of resident society thronged the Embassy to congratulate the newly appointed Secretary of State and Senora de Ferrara, and to express their sincere regret in their leaving Washington.

Frau von Prittwitz, wife of the German Ambassador, and their small daughter, Marisa, will sail on the S. S. New York, on June 9, to pass the summer in Europe. The Ambassador will join them there later in the season.

The Polish Ambassador, Mr. Tytus Filipowicz, has returned to Washington after spending several days in New York.

The Chilean Ambassador, Senor Don Miguel Cruchaga Tocornal, who is in Mexico City, will return to Washington the end of June. Mr. Ben Cohen, who accompanied the ambassador on his trip, will return to the Capital early next month.

Spanish Ambassador Entertains at Dinner.

The Spanish Ambassador, Senor Don Juan Francisco de Cardenas entertained at dinner Friday evening in the embassy.

Senor Ramon Padilla, second secretary of the embassy, and son of the former ambassador, will have with him for a week, his brother, Senor Don Ricardo Padilla, who now makes his home in New York.

The Naval Attache of the Japanese Embassy, Capt. Shosuke Shimomura, entertained at a dinner Friday evening at the Japanese Tea House near Silver Spring, Md.

The Attache of the British Embassy and Mrs. Harold H. Sims will leave early in June to spend the summer in England.

Representative and Mrs. Edward L. Stokes, who have been spending a few days at Wardman Park Hotel, have returned to their home in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Carley, wife of Representative Patrick J. Carley, of New York, returned to Washington last week, and has joined her husband in their apartment at Wardman Park Hotel to remain for the rest of the congressional season.

Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Alexander E. Williams entertained at the dinner dance at the Shoreham last evening in honor of Maj. Gen. and Mrs. John L. DeWitt. Their other guests were Maj. Gen. and Mrs. Harry L. Gilchrist, Col. and Mrs. Edmund B. Gregory, Col. and Mrs. Odiorne H. Sampson, Col. and Mrs. Clement Hale Wright, Col. and Mrs. Edgar A. Fry, Col. and Mrs. Richard deT. Ellis, Col. and Mrs. Edgar S. Stayer, of Baltimore; Col. and Mrs. Irving L. Hunt, Col. and Mrs. Edward L. Gunner, Maj. and Mrs. Edmund B. Ellis and Maj. and Mrs. Stuart Hamilton.

Dr. and Mrs. Ulysses G. B. Pierce head the list of patrons and patronesses for the production of "Her Husband's Wife," by the Pierce Hall Players on Thursday and Friday evenings. Other subscribers include Gen. and Mrs. Henry Clay Newcomber, Mr. and Mrs. James C. Rogers, Miss Helen Nicolay, Mr. and Mrs. Laurence C. Staples, Mr. and Mrs. K. Hilding Beij, Dr. and Mrs. Truman Abbe, Mr. and Mrs. Morton Mack, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hosmer, Mrs. E. F. Mueller, Miss Florence Spofford, Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Aldrich, Miss Martha Blossom, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hyde, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Knight, Mr. Sedgley Thornbury, Miss Sallie Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Alexander, Mr. William Greenleaf Eliot 3d, Miss Alice Cushman, Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Steele, Miss Ina Hawes, Miss Elizabeth Johnson, Miss Christie Allen, Mrs. Virginia Nottingham, Miss Mabel Van Dyke, and Miss Angelina Carabelli.

Mrs. Fitzhugh Lee Fetes Miss Kate Hyde Scully.

Mrs. Fitzhugh Lee, who has been at the Mayflower for the past two weeks, will leave tomorrow to rejoin Col. Lee at their country place, Mon Repos, in Marietta, Ga.

Last evening Mrs. Lee entertained at dinner at Chevy Chase Club in honor of Miss Kate Hyde Scully, one of the past season's debutantes, when her guests included Miss Anne Wyant, Miss Elizabeth Shouse, Miss Mary Henry, Miss Beatrice Patton and Miss Patti Edmonston, of Baltimore.

Also Lieut Albert Watson, U. S. A.; Lieut. John K. Waters, U. S. A.; Lieut. Alex Stone, U. S. A.; Lieut. Fletcher Cole, U. S. A., son of the hostess; Mr. Merritt Cootes, Mr. Prescott Gatley, jr. and Mr. Upshur Moorhead.

The District of Columbia Chapter of the Society of the Sponsors of the Navy was delightfully entertained on Monday afternoon at a tea given by Mrs. E. R. Wilson at her home on Kanawha street. This chapter is interested in philanthropic work and assists sons of deceased officers. At these meetings, which take place once a month, articles are read by the sponsors of the achievements of the vessels they have christened. On this occasion Miss Helen Colhoun told of the ship named for her father, the late Rear Admiral E. K. Colhoun. The U. S. S. Colhoun was selected from over 300 destroyers and called the victory ship when she made the trip from San Francisco to New York in the interest of the victory loan campaign.

Gov. Ritchie to Speak At Benefit Luncheon.

Gov. Albert C. Ritchie and Mr. Fiske Kimball, director of the Pennsylvania Museum of Art, will address the luncheon to be given at the residence of Mrs. I. Brooke Lee at Silver Spring on next Friday.

Mrs. Lee has loaned her house and garden to the Robert E. Lee Memorial Foundation for this luncheon for the benefit of Stratford.

Among those on the Washington commitee of the foundation receiving with Mrs. Lee will be Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, Mrs. Harry Hawes, Mrs. McCook Knox, Mrs. Cazenove Lee, Mrs. Fairfax Harrison, Mrs. Lloyd Shippen, Mrs. Harry Covington, Mrs. Cary Grayson, Mrs. Rosier Dulany and Mrs. Breckinridge Long.

Capt. and Mrs. Roe Adams To Be Feted at Reception.

Capt. Ralph P. Craft, U. S. N., and Mrs. Craft have issued invitations for a reception on Wednesday afternoon in honor of Capt. and Mrs. Roe Adams, who will leave Washington soon for the Boston Navy Yard, and the officers and families of the 1902 class at the Naval Academy.

Miss Beatrice Craft, who has been visiting Capt. and Mrs. William Riddle, in Norfolk, Va., returned to Washington yesterday, accompanied by Miss Mary Elizabeth Riddle.

Another Talk By Mrs. Gann

Mrs. Edward Everett Gann will leave on Thursday for Philadelphia, where she will spend the day. She will make a speech in connection with Republican campaign activities.

Mrs. Ogden L. Mills, wife of the Secretary of the Treasury, and her daughter, Miss Dorothy Fell, have returned to Washington after spending several days in New York.

Mrs. Patrick J. Hurley, wife of the Secretary of War, motored to Leesburg, Va., yesterday to supervise the work on her new estate, Belmont. She returned to Washington late yesterday.

The Secretary of Labor and Mrs. William N. Doak will leave Washington Tuesday for Barrington, R. I., where they will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Peck for several days, returning to Washington on Friday or Saturday.

The Assistant Secretary of War and Mrs. Frederick H. Payne were the guests of honor at a dinner given last evening by Maj. Gen. and Mrs. Thomas Q. Asburn, who entertained a company of 36 at the Army and Navy Country Club. The decorations on the table were white and green.

The Assistant Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. David Sinton Ingalls, en route by plane from Cleveland to their home in Washington, are spending a short time in Hot Springs, Va.

Senator and Mrs. Royal S. Copeland entertained a company of 75 at the dinner dance at the Shoreham last evening. Their son, Lieut. Royal S Copeland, jr., and his fiancee, Miss Virginia M. Duryee, who made them a recent visit at the Shoreham, have returned to New York.

Mr. John I. Palmer Weds Mrs. Kathleen W. Trist

The marriage of Mrs. Kathleen Watts Trist to Mr. John Ingles Palmer was solemnized in the Church of the Epiphany at noon yesterday. The rector, the Rev. Dr. Phillips, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. Frederick Watts, of Chambersburg, Pa., and is descended from a long line of distinguished ancestors of Pennsylvania, Maryland and Virginia. Mr. Palmer, formerly of Richmond, Va., is also descended from distinguished Pennsylvania and Virginia ancestry.

The bride was given in marriage by her cousin, Mr. Frederick Watts Culbertson, of Lewistown, Pa. The best man was Mr. T. Douglas Claiborne, of Baltimore. There were no attendants. The bride was attired in a rose beige triple sheer chiffon dress, with brown hat and carried a prayer book. After the ceremony a breakfast followed at the home of the bride.

Among the out-of-town guests were Dr. and Mrs. John Claiborne Palmer, of Charleston, W. Va.; Mrs. A. Hamilton Bayly, Miss Alverda D. Bayly, Mrs. Brice W. Goldsborough, Mrs. A. Shepherd Bayly, Miss Sara Bayly, Miss Anne Bayly Lloyd, of Cambridge, Md.; Mrs. James H. Cator, Mrs Marion Le Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. T. Douglas Claiborne, Dr. and Mrs. Henry I. Berkley, Mr. and Mrs. Courtland Hart and Miss Hart, Mrs. James Cranston Forman, of Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. James W. Cree, Mrs. Robert R. Reed, of Sewickley, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Watts Culbertson, Miss Julia Watts Culbertson, of Lewistown, Pa.; Mrs. Clement [illegible] Smith, Miss Smith, Miss Comstock, of Harrisburg, Pa.; Mr. S. R. Johnston, of Roanoke, Va.; Mrs. James Caskie, Mr. and Mrs. William Palmer Hill, Mrs. John B. Young, Mr. and Mrs. John Palmer Lea, Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Hill, Mr. William Palmer Gray, of

Continued on Page 2, Column 3.

Party Planned By Democrats

Senator Walter F. George, Mr. Samuel Herrick and Mr. John W. Holcombe have made reservations for the card party of the Woman's National Democratic Club in the garden of Admiral and Mrs. Grayson on Tuesday. Mrs. Burton K. Wheeler has taken three tables to entertain a party. Others who have reserved tables include the following: Mrs. Joseph T. Robinson, Mrs. Morris Sheppard, Mrs. John J. Cochran, Mrs. Heartsill Ragan, Mrs. William C. Wright, Mrs. Edwin L. Davis, Mrs. John N. Sandlin, Mrs. William J. Driver, Mrs. Scott Leavitt, Mrs. Malcomb Tarver, Mrs. Frank Crowther.

Mrs. John Walsh, Mrs. Charles J. Brand, Mrs. W. A. Ayers, Mrs. Charles Edward Riggs, Mrs. Moncure Berg, Mrs. Edward K. Campbell, Mrs. Mary N. Jones, Mrs. Royal McKenna, Mrs. Harry T. Woodward, Mrs. S. Otis Bland, Mrs. Tom Connally, Mrs. L. D. McReynolds, Miss Evie Morris, Mrs. Jesse W. Nicholson, Mrs. Alexander Bull, Mrs. M. G. Doyle, Miss Florence Livingston, Miss Ruth Oberly, Miss Frances B. Liggett, Mrs. E. E. Eslick, Mrs. Alvin Barkley, Mrs. Herbert C. Easterday, Mrs. Daniel C. Roper, Mrs. J. Franklin Hilton, Miss Genevieve M. Brown, Mrs. Reeve Lewis, Mrs. Rodman Walsh, Mrs. Harry M. Rickey, Mrs. Robert Kirkpatrick Noble, Mrs. Lewis J. Battle, Mrs. Thomas M. Boyle, Mrs. K. L. Bryarly.

Mrs. William D. Sterrett, Mrs. A. E. Murphy, Mrs. Edward Richard Martin, Mrs. Joseph B. Day, Mrs. Herbert Plummer, Mrs. Charles C. McChord, Mrs. William Beverly Mason, Mrs. George B. McClellan, Mrs. Horace McFarland, Mrs. Edward A. Keys, Mrs. Stuart Walker, Mrs. Manon Green, Mrs. James Craig Peacock, Mrs. LeRoy L. Sawyer and Miss Eva M. Wilson.

Life in Outdoors Luring Society Group of Capital

Visits to Gardens, and Boating Attract Many to Open; Saddle Club Horse Show Closes Season Here; Tribute to Garfield Planned.

WASHINGTON society is taking to life in the open—in the gardens and on the water. There appears to be renewed interest in gardens and equally renewed taste for the water, in house boats, motor boats and yachts of various sizes and values. While it was quite the fashion to spend much time upon the river in the seventies and eighties, the sport fell into the background for many years and the boat clubs disbanded or nearly disbanded, the Analostan, Potomac and Columbia.

Garden parties and garden tours have kept society busy for a week and it is likely to occupy the attention of lovers of nature during this week. Every flowering thing was late this season, so that some of the garden tours held earlier were minus the very things they were arranged for. Last week it was different and will be so this week. The dogwood, late as the other things were, never was more beautiful than last week. Because of its lateness it seemed to be much more abundant in the parks and in the wooded districts of the country roads.

The circus opened the last week auspiciously with parties of distinguished children under the escort of distinguished elders going early to the big tent, and staying late. Mrs. Hoover took a little party of children and several grown-ups on Tuesday afternoon. Among them were Mrs. Gann, Lieut. and Mrs. Frederick Butler, an aid at the White House, and a secretary to Mrs. Hoover, respectively; the Butler children, Patsy and Billy; Miss Grace Newton, daughter of Secretary Walter H. Newton; Miss Suzanne Boone, daughter of the President's physician; French Strother, jr., son of Secretary French Strother, and Russell Train, son of the retiring naval aid to the President, all of whom had the most delightful afternoon with the First Lady. Both Mrs. Hoover and Mrs. Gann "have a way with children," the First Lady through her grandchildren and the Second Lady through the grandchildren of her brother, the Vice President.

IN this circus party Mrs. Hoover but followed the example of Mrs. Coolidge, who always took a little party, usually the Davis children, of the Cabinet circle, the "Five little Jays" in the family of the former Secretary of Labor, now senator from Pennsylvania, and Mrs. James J. Davis. The little Jays were represented last week at this circus, but not the whole five. James, the only boy, felt a little grown-up to go with the children, and Jane, the eldest girl, was much too interested in the riding she did yesterday at the Horse Show of the Shoreham Saddle Club to give up her daily practice for the antics of the clown and the performances of the animals. So only three of the Davises showed up, Jean, Joan and Jewell. They went early and stayed late.

The Saddle Club Horse Show yesterday closed the season of horse shows, which the weather has not exactly been kind to. It interfered greatly with the big show of the National Capital Horse Show and after postponing it entirely the first two days they had only three days of show instead of the scheduled four. And then they had to show on Sunday, which was not such a great success, not because of religious scruples exactly, but because of week-end engagements.

There will be an impressive tribute to President James A. Garfield paid Thursday evening in the National Museum Auditorium and Art Galleries, when the Ladies' Aid to Garfield Hospital will have a reception and program to commemorate the founding of the hospital. It has been announced as a celebration of the 100th anniversary of President Garfield's birth and the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the hospital, but Garfield was born in November, 1831, so it is actually almost the 102d anniversary. The mention of the founding of this worthy institution makes the oldest inhabitant's memory go back to the scene of the great fair held in the rotunda of the Capitol in December, 1881, a few months after the death of the President, for the purpose of founding a hospital as a memorial to him.

THE idea was conceived by the late Mrs. John A. Logan, whose husband, the late Gen. John A. Logan, was then United States Senator, and she without question the most popular woman in Washington. Gen. Logan assisted in getting Congress to permit the use of the rotunda for the purpose, a thing which had never been done before in the history of the Government. Booths were erected and the most brilliant fete took place under the dome, and under the management of one of the country's most brilliant women. The fund raised by the fair, which lasted two days, was the nucleus of the fund which established the hospital. Mrs. Logan was made president of the board of managers, and she served in that capacity until her death.

Vice President Curtis and Gov. George White, of Ohio, are sponsoring the memorial service and reception and there is an Ohio committee, headed by Senator Fess and Senator Bulkley, of Ohio, and Assistant Secretary of Agriculture R. W. Dunlap. Mrs. J. Stanley Brown, of Long Island, who was Miss Mollie Garfield, only daughter of President Garfield, and a little girl in the White House, is expected to be here for the occasion and will have with her, her daughter, Mrs. Herbert Feis, who lives in Georgetown.

Bridge Luncheon Given By Miss Ruth Rampley.

Miss Ruth Rampley, who is now making her home with Dr. and Mrs. Latane, of 311 North Washington street, Alexandria, Va., entertained at a bridge-luncheon Thursday, May 19, at Ye Little Hatchet Tavern, Mount Vernon, Va., for a group of Georgia ladies now living in Washington.

A color scheme of yellow and orchid was delightfully carried out and bridge was played on the terrace. The guests were Mrs. Gussie Wyrick, Mrs. S. B. Wilson, Mrs. George Wood, Mrs. Ralph Lovell, Mrs. Stephen Van Ranssalaer Spitler, Miss Emily Daltan, Mrs. S. P. Bratton, Mrs. Ralph Conover, Mrs. Wallace Payne, Mrs. Frank McDonald, Mrs. George Whittaker and Miss Dorothy Shanks.

First prize was won by Mrs. George Whittaker, and the consolation prize by Mrs. George Wood.

A dinner-meeting will be the closing business session of the All States Officers Society and will be held on Monday, June 6, at the Kennedy-Warren Hotel at 6:30 p. m. Mr. Ira Y. Bain, president of the Alabama Society, chairman of the committee, is arranging for a prominent guest speaker. Invitations have been sent to all officers of State societies to be present, and a large attendance is expected. Those desiring to attend should communicate with the president of the society, Mr. W. E. Hoffheins, 1315 Decatur street northwest, so that proper reservation may be made.

Fairfax Hunt Club Gives First Dance of Summer.

The first of a series of summer dances was given last evening by the Fairfax Hunt Club at Sunset Hills at 10:30 o'clock. Patrons for the fete included Mr. and Mrs. Smith Bowman, Mr. and Mrs. John Barbour, Mr. and Mrs. George Rothwell Brown, Mr. Robert Merritt, Mr. and Mrs. Arlon V. Cushman, Miss Elizabeth Jackson, Miss Edith Preece, Mr. and Mrs. Newbold Noyes, Mr. John Mackall and Mr. and Mrs. William Jeffries Chewning, jr.

Mrs. Dahlman, wife of the late Mayor James C. Dahlman, of Omaha, will arrive in Washington next Saturday, and be at the Hotel Martinique for a few days.

First Lady Will Attend Club's Fete

Senator Bulow to Deliver Speech at Luncheon of Women's Federation.

Much interest is being shown in the preparation for the annual luncheon to be given by the D. C. Federation of Women's Clubs, on Thursday, June 2, at the Mayflower Hotel. Mrs. Herbert Hoover will be the guest of honor.

Among those who will attend will be Mrs. Ray Lyman Wilbur, wife of the Secretary of the Interior; Mrs. Arthur M. Hyde, wife of the Secretary of Agriculture; Mrs. Leonidas C. Dyer, president of the Congressional Club; Mrs. William J. Bulow, wife of the senator from South Dakota; Mrs. Luther H. Reichelderfer, wife of the District of Columbia Commissioner; Mrs. John F. Sippel, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. Samuel Herrick, president of the Woman's National Democratic Club; Mrs. Edith A. Williams, worthy grand matron of the District of Columbia O. E. S.; Mrs. Gertrude Lyons, president of the District of Columbia Federation of Music Clubs; Mrs. Frank Kimmal, Mrs. Charles Cook, Mrs. Samuel M. Brosius, Mrs John Hurley, Mrs. H. H. McKeever and others.

Senator Bulow, of South Dakota, will be the guest speaker; Mrs. Sippel will extend greetings from the general federation; others bringing greetings will be the director to the general federation, Mrs. Virginia White Speel and past presidents, Mrs Ellis Logan, Mrs. Howard L. Hodgkins and Mrs. John W. Frizzell. Mrs. Edgar B. Meritt will preside.

Mme. Skalicky, wife of the counselor of the Czechoslovakian Legation, soprano soloist, will give a group of songs; Mr. Edward Childs Steffe, radio audition winner, barytone, will give a group of selections, with Mrs. Willa Sempel accompanist; Miss Mary Appel, contralto soloist, also will sing. The luncheon committee includes Mrs. William LaVarre, Mrs. Harvey W. Wiley, Mrs. Ernest Daniel, Mrs. Eva Criswell, Mrs. F. C. Brinley, Mrs. Tamar Rorke, Mrs. Oliver Gillingham, Mrs. May B. Gibbon and others. Committee chairmen are: Mrs. Charles Marvin Jones, reservations, with Mrs. Thomas Faris, vice chairman; Mrs. H. M. Hunter, general chairman of program; Mrs. Tilman B. Parks, speakers; Mrs. J. Harry Cunningham, music; Mrs. Grattan Kerans, publicity; Mrs. Thora Hinshaw Seaton, decorations.

Mrs. Aldis B. Browne, who left Washington several weeks ago to visit in Chicago, is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. J. A. Comer, at Alexander City, Ala., until the latter part of next month. She will return to her apartment at Wardman Park Hotel on June 29 and will remain here throughout July, afterward going to New Bedford, Mass., where she will spend the remainder of the summer.

St. Patrick's Alumnae Plan Dance on Friday.

Final arrangements have been made for the dance to be given next Friday by the St. Patrick's Alumnae Association at the Kennedy-Warren.

Miss Nellie McCormick, chairman, is assisted by Miss Marie Allen, Miss Mary Ellen Arendes, Miss Pauline Gallagher, Miss Mae Mulvihill, Miss Marie McCoy, Miss Katherine McGlynn, Miss Marion McLaren, Miss Frances Neff and Miss Louise Brew.

Mrs. du Putron Glidden, of Wardman Park Hotel, is in Boston for a few weeks prior to sailing for England, where she will spend the summer. She will return to her apartment at Wardman in September.

Mrs. J. H. Genung has returned to her apartment at Wardman Park Hotel after a lengthy absence.

Miss Katherine Bennet, of Williamsport, Pa., with Miss Kay McC. Scheffel came yesterday to spend the week-end at Wardman Park Hotel.

Garden Party to Honor Washington Architects.

Mr. and Mrs. George Oakley Totten, jr., have out invitations for a garden party at their home, 2633 Sixteenth street, to meet the Washington Chapter of the American Institute of Architects on Thursday afternoon, from 4 to 7 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman W. Van Nostrand, of New York, are in Washington for the week-end at Wardman Park Hotel.

Mrs. J. W. Payne, of Atlanta, Ga., is passing a few days at the Dodge and is accompanied by Miss J. F. Patton, of Asheville, N. C.

Mrs. Cecil Barret, of New York, has gone to Baltimore to join her sister, Mrs. Henry May Gittings.

Mrs. John H. Dwight, who has been in New York for several days, has returned to Washington.

Women's City Club

The Women's City Club has arranged a tea for this afternoon when Miss Edith Hoyt will be the guest of honor. Miss Hoyt, a member of the Washington Society of Artists Club, will tell of her trip last summer through the Canadian Rocky Mountains and show some of her paintings done at that time.

Miss Clara R. Saunders, chairman of the art section, will be assisted in receiving by Miss Emma B. Arnall, Mrs. Viola M. H. Baker, Miss Julia C. Banningan, Miss Florence C. Beil, Miss Eva M. Bullard, Mrs. Merritt O. Chance, Mrs. William Lee Corbin, Miss Sarah K. Cushing, Miss Martha Eads, Miss Elaine Eppley, Mrs. Edith Oriani Fitzgerald, Mrs. Patrick Gallagher, Miss Ella M. Garlick, Mrs. Frank Golden, Mrs. Lila B. Graves, Miss Mary Gott, Miss Bessie P. Howlette, Miss Florence W. Layton, Miss Elva McNamara, Miss Elsa A. Needham, Miss Helen G. O'Neill, Miss Grace R. Osgood, Mrs. Custis R. Perry, Dean Grace Hays Riley, Mrs. Minnette M. Ruddiman, Mrs. S. J. Shoemaker, Mrs. Phylis R. Sjolin, Miss Mary E. Van Houten, Mrs. George Perkins, Mrs. Helen M. Montague, Mrs. Andrew Stewart and Mrs. Charles Willcox. Mrs. Nell M. Dunlap, Mrs. Minnie M. Howerth, Mrs. Anna H. B. Kinney, Miss Jessie G. Lane, Miss Nell V. Price and Miss Mary King Porter will preside at the tea tables.

THE BRIGHTON
2123 California St.
5-COURSE DINNER
EVERY DAY $1.00
Including Sunday
6 to 7:30 P. M.

Bride of Wednesday

Bachrach.

MRS. RAYMOND VIRGIL MARRON, who was before her marriage Miss Caroline Lowman. She is the daughter of the Assistant Secretary of the Treasury and Mrs. Seymour Lowman.

Republican Club's Plans For Week

Approach of the Republican National convention and launching of the summer entertainment program has made the National Capital Republican Club the scene of intensified social and political activity. The program for this week ranges from the usual Sunday afternoon tea to the election of officers of the League of Republican State Clubs and includes meetings of several local organizations.

The tea today will be a Maryland Day affair sponsored by the membership committee of the club, while a tea from 4 to 6 Friday afternoon will be given by the League of Republican Women of the District.

The Young Republicans will be addressed by Senator Simeon D. Fess, of Ohio, and Representative Edith Nourse Rogers, of Massachusetts, at their regular meeting Thursday evening. Senator Fess will conclude his survey of Republican party history, while Mrs. Rogers will speak on current questions. The anual meeting of the League of Republican State Clubs, at which new officers will be chosen, also will take place Thursday evening.

Another open-house night program with bridge as the chief entertainment will be held at the clubhouse Wednesday under the direction of Mrs. Virginia White Speel, Republican national committeewoman from the District. This series opened last week with a large attendance and is expected to prove one of the features of the summer season. Members are free to invite guests. Other card games are arranged for those who do not enjoy bridge.

Committee meetings of the Young Republicans and a meeting of the club's board of directors are listed for Monday night and Tuesday afternoon. All events will take place at the clubhouse at Sixteenth street and Scott Circle.

Mrs. Katharyn Fuqua and her young daughter, Katharyn, have returned to their apartment at Wardman Park Hotel for the spring season. They have been spending several months in Florida.

Mrs. Frank Evans, who makes her home at the Shoreham, entertained at luncheon there yesterday her guests, including Mrs. Reed Smoot, Mrs. William H. King, Mrs. Don B. Colton, Mrs. Heber M. Wells, Mrs. Carl Williams, Mrs. Harold A. Lafount, Mrs. George W. Osbourn, Mrs. Cyrus B. Denman, Mrs. C. S. Jarvis, Mrs. E. B. Brossard, Mrs. C. S. Wilson, Mrs. George W. Phillips, Mrs. M. C. Merrill, Mrs. Stanley Child, Miss Florence Ward, Miss Grace Frysinger and Miss Huntington Loofbourow.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Taylor, of Celina, Tenn., are guests at the Dodge during their brief sojourn in the Capital.

Mr. and Mrs. David H. Blair entertained a company at dinner last night at Wardman Park Hotel, where they spend their winters.

The Ladies Aid of St. John's Orphanage will hold a tea at the home of Mrs. John H. Howard on Friday afternoon. Those assisting Mrs. Eloise Heiberg, the president of the orphanage, are Mrs. Esther Brice, Mrs. Jerry J. Corington, Mrs. Robert Giles, Miss Hegeman, Mrs. Charles S. Hamlin, Mrs. Robert Johnston, Mrs. Frederick Solger, Mrs. Clarence Williams, Mrs. Henry W. Matson, Mrs. Nathan Wyeth.

The Ladies Aid of St. John's Orphanage will hold its tea this afternoon at the home of Mrs. John H. Howard, 1915 Twenty-third street, from 4:30 until 7 o'clock.

Mrs. George King, jr., was hostess at a charming bridge luncheon given yesterday at the Vindobona Hotel, Braddock Heights, Md., when her guests from Washington included Mrs. Tilman B. Parks, Mrs. Fred Rasch, Mrs. A. Lawrence, Mrs. F. M. Shortall, Mrs. A. M. Free, Mrs Henry Albers, Mrs. G. Louis Weller, Mrs. E. L. Dyer, Mrs. Carrol L. Nash, Miss Hallie Clemson, Miss Mabel Owen, Mrs. Harry M. Packard, Mrs. Charles C. Curtis, Mrs. Albert Ayre, Mrs. Lawrence Naylor, Mrs. Harry Grant, Mrs. Richard Quigley, Mrs. Bonnie L. Von Steinner, Mrs. Maude Mitchell and Mrs. Hattie V. Warfield, of Braddock Heights.

We Treat Hair
ELECTROLYSIS
Superfluous Hair and Scalp Treatments supervised by our Bacteriologist.
Hair Gone Forever
Call NAt. 8779
H. DILLON, Inc.
1000 Conn. Ave., 2d Floor. NAt. 8779.

Weddings of Week Offer Interest Here

Continued from Page 1.

Richmond, Va., and Mrs. James R. Foster, The Plains, Va.

After an extensive motor trip, Mr. and Mrs. Palmer will live at the Ontario in Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Fitzgerald U. Sircom, of Boston, Mass., announce the engagement of their daughter, Ruth Sircom, to Lieut. Wendell Gunner Johnson, U. S. A., son of Mr. G. A. Johnson, of Genesco, Ill.

Miss Sircom is the sister of Mrs. H. L. Waggoner, wife of Capt. Waggoner, on duty in the War Department.

She is a graduate of Miss McClintock's School and Katherine Gibbs School, both of Boston.

Lieut. Johnson is a graduate of the Limited States Military Academy, class of 1923. At present he is an instructor of Spanish at the military academy.

The wedding will take place during the summer.

Miss Margaret Douglas Reese, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller Reese, and Dr. John Langdon, son of Mrs. Courtney Langdon and the the late Prof. Langdon, of Providence, R. I., have selected Wednesday, June 8, for the date of their marriage. The wedding will take place in the home of the bride's parents in Alexandria in the presence of members of the two families and intimate friends of the bride and groom.

Miss Reese will have as her only attendant her sister, Miss Katharine Meredith Reese, and Dr. Langdon will have his brother, Mr. Henry G. T. Langdon, for his best man.

Dr. Langdon and his bride will make their home in Providence after September 1.

Mr. and Mrs. James Nealon announce the marriage of their daughter, Margaret, to Mr. Louis Jongbloet, of Brussels, Belgium, and Philadelphia, on May 5, at Frederick, Md. Mr. and Mrs. Jongbloet will make their home in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Warren Vaiden, of 1424 Iris street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Ermyntrude Virginia, to Mr. Robert Maynard Stearns, of Corydon, Iowa.

Alpha Pi Epsilon's Tea This Afternoon.

Alpha Pi Epsilon, honorary home economics fraternity of the George Washington University, will entertain at tea this afternoon from 4:30 to 6:30 o'clock in the garden of the home economics building of the university. The fraternity will have as special guests outstanding women in the home economics field of Washington and vicinity.

Miss Constance D. Wirt entertained some of her friends from Miss Eastman's School and their escorts at the dinner dance at the Shoreham last evening. Her guests included Miss Beverly Moffett, Miss Ashland Cannon, Miss Sally Taylor, Miss Edna Kimberly, Miss Catherine Desmond, Miss Eleanor Boehs, Miss Marian Reilly and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hardy.

Dr. and Mrs. Richard Derby and their four children returned to New York last week from a six months' stay in Europe. Mrs. Derby is the former Miss Ethel Roosevelt, a White House belle in the later years of her father's regime.

All activities of the Congressional Club for this season ended with the tea on Friday. The club will remain closed all summer, opening early in December with the convening of Congress.

Miss Ethel Ely Pattison, of New York, is at the Carlton for a few days.

MRS. K's
Toll House Tavern
COLESVILLE PIKE
SILVER SPRING, MARYLAND
DINE SUNDAY in the Country
12 Noon to 8:30 P. M.
At the "Old Tavern," either in its quaint rooms or on the surrounding Lawns and Terraces.
Ten different good dinners from which to choose. Spring Chicken, Country Ham, choice cuts of Steaks and Chops.
Short drive out 16th Street to Maryland State Line, then right one mile straight thru traffic light.
Reached also by FOUR CORNERS BUS hourly.
Sunday Morning Breakfast, too, 9 to 12
Phone Shepherd 3500

Orchestra's Boxholders Announced

Countess Szechenyi Heads List of Subscribers to Concert Series.

Good news followed Mr. Hans Kindler on his departure for Europe last week, with the report that fully three-fourths of the season boxes for the Thursday symphony series of concerts of the National Symphony Orchestra of Washington had been subscribed for, assuring a brilliant social year for the orchestra as well as a prosperous one.

The Sunday concerts will again be given, with two series for the youth of the city in a young people's series and a children's series, thus completing Mr. Kindler's full quota of 24 symphony concerts for the Capital.

The Countess Szechenyi heads the list of season boxholders for the National Symphony that includes Mr. Percy Atherton, Mrs. Robert Low Bacon, Mrs. Truxton Beale, Miss Mabel Boardman, Mrs. Chester C. Bolton, the Misses Brickenstein, Mrs. Eugene Byrnes, Mrs. Calderon Carlisle, Miss Alice J. Clapp, Mrs. W. L. Crounse, Mrs. Tracy Dows, Mrs. Carl A. Droop, Mrs. James C. Dunn, Mrs. Charles W. Fairfax, Mrs. Frank Frost, Mrs. W. W. Galbraith, Mrs. Leland Harrison, Mrs. Christian Heurich, Mrs. Frederick C. Hicks, Mrs. Miriam B. Hilton, Mrs. Beale R. Howard, Mrs. Walter Bruce Howe, Mrs. Patrick Hurley, Mrs. Frederic A. Keep, Mrs. Allan Lard and Mrs. Jacob Leander Loose.

Mrs. Russell William Magna, newly elected president of the Daughters of the American Revolution, also will be a boxholder for the season, as will Mr. Frank B. Noyes, Mrs. Edwin B. Parker, Miss Elizabeth Patterson, the Rev. Z. B. T. Phillips, Mr. Edward C. Potter, Mrs. Charles Mason Remey, Mrs. Warren D. Robbins, Mrs. H. J. Staley, Miss Jean Stier, Mrs. Harlan Fiske Stone, Mrs. Henry Alvah Strong, Mrs. Walter R. Tuckerman and Mrs. Edward C. Walker.

A number of the above boxholders are also subscribers to boxes for the Sunday concerts of the orchestra that are steadily gaining in popularity, according to reports from the new box office of the orchestra in Garfinckel's.

Miss Jessie Washington Alder, of the Edward Washington family, entertained the members of her graduating class, '88, of the Georgetown Collegiate Institute, on last Sunday at dinner at her residence in West Chevy Chase. Those present were Mrs. Hite-Miller, Miss Daisy Harrison, Miss Mary Eltinge Baker, Miss Nellie Catharine Alder and Miss Cordelia Jackson.

The Woman's National Democratic Club will give tomorrow the last of its series of Monday forum luncheons of this season, when the guest of honor and speaker will be Representative Walter J. Lambeth, of North Carolina.

Dr. and Mrs. M. K. Elmer, of Bridgeton, N. J., were week-end guests at the Dodge, and were accompanied by the Rev. and Mrs. James S. Holland, also of Bridgeton.

Miss Faye Ehrlich Is Given Shower.

Miss Faye Ehrlich, whose marriage to Dr. Max Silverman will take place June 12, was given a shower Wednesday evening at the home of her aunt, Mrs. E. J. Ehrlich on Princeton place, by a group of friends including Miss Lee Ware, Miss Sally Felter and Miss Dorothy Janos. There were 100 guests.

The Junior Guild of the Christ Child Society is making plans for a card party to be held on next Friday at the Christ Child House, 608 Massachusetts avenue northeast. The proceeds of the party will be used to purchase necessary equipment for the Convalescent Home in Rockville. Junior members and friends of the society have been asked to support this worthy cause. Reservations for tables may be made through the treasurer, Mrs. W. E. Bacon, jr., 3311 Sixteenth street.

Mrs. Robert Cahill, chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. Louis C. Arthur, Miss Mildred Clark, Mrs. Abner Drury, Misses McIntyre, Mrs. Bryson Norris, Mrs. Leo Rocca, Misses Tumulty, Miss Cecilia Talbott and Mrs. John J. Hagerty.

Mrs. Harry S. Lewis Is in Atlantic City.

Mrs. Harry S. Lewis, of the Wardman Park Hotel, is passing a week in Atlantic City and is at the Shelburne Hotel.

The Arkansas State Society will hold the final dance for this season at the Wardman Park Hotel on next Saturday night from 9 until 12 o'clock. There will be bridge for those who desire to play. The officers of the society are as follows: President, Representative John E. Miller; vice presidents, Mr. Hugh Brewster, Mrs. Joe T. Robinson, Mrs. Tillman B. Parks and Mrs. W. J. Driver; secretary, Mrs. Brownie H. Kerr; treasurer, Carl Sadler.

Miss Tillie Steiner is passing three weeks with relatives in St. Louis, Mo.

Miss Sylvia Sherby and Miss Gertrude Sherby are home from Goucher College to pass the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sherby. Miss Sylvia Sherby is a member of the June graduating class. Mr. and Mrs. Sherby have just returned from Cleveland, where they visited their son, Mr. Dan Sherby.

Miss Margaret Johnson, of Cleveland, Ohio, is passing a few days at the Dodge, accompanied by Mrs. M. W. Bliss, also of Cleveland.

Miss Lillian Kahn, who attends Goucher College, will arrive home tomorrow.

Miss Elizabeth Kaufman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Kaufman, will attend the Ivy dance at the Summit Club in Baltimore this evening.

VLADIMIR HOROWITZ
JOHN CHARLES THOMAS
PERCY GRAINGER
MISCHA ELMAN
SYLVIA LENT
already engaged as soloists with
THE
NATIONAL SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA
HANS KINDLER, Conductor
C. C. CAPPEL, Manager
Concert Season 1932-33
Other artists to be announced later.
MAKE TICKET RESERVATIONS
at Box Office, main floor, Julius Garfinckel & Co., 14th at F.

Wedding in June

Harris & Ewing

MISS MARION COX, daughter of Capt. (U. S. N.) and Mrs. Ormond Lee Cox, whose engagement to Mr. Holland B. Idleman, of New York, has been announced. The marriage will take place next month.

Dr. Stockdale To Address Study Club

Many Prominent Women to Attend May Breakfast of Political Group.

Mrs. Charles Evans Hughes, wife of the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court; Mrs. Ogden L. Mills, wife of the Secretary of the Treasury; Mrs. Arthur M. Hyde, wife of the Secretary of Agriculture; Mrs. Samuel E. Herrick, president of the Woman's National Democratic Club; Mrs. Frank W. Mondell, president of the League of Republican Women; Mrs. Leonidas L. Dyer, president of the Congressional Club; Mrs. Pat Harrison, Mrs. Virginia White Speel, Mrs. Edgar B. Merritt, Mrs. Allen A. Stockdale and Miss Janet Richards will be among the honor guests of the Political Study Club at its May breakfast on Thursday at the Mayflower Hotel at noon. Four past presidents of the club, Mrs. L. B. Thompson, Mrs. Frank E. Odenheimer, of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Mrs. Clyde B. Aitchison and Mrs. Frank Morrison, also will be guests of honor.

Dr. Allen A. Stockdale will be the speaker, and a musical program will be given by Mr. Ross Farrar and Mrs. Dorothy Sherman Pierson.

Other guests include Mme. Skalicky Mrs. David E. Kincheloe, Mrs. Kurt Hetzel, Miss Lillian Chenowith, Mrs. Ross Farrar, Mrs. Robert L. Fuerestein, Miss Eveline Monico, Mrs. Augusta Simpson and Miss Priska Kaspar. Among those recently making reservations are Baroness von Lowenfeldt, Mrs. John W. Norwood, Mrs. Theodore Morgan, Mrs. Ernie Pyle, Mrs. T. T. Hawksworth, Mrs. Mary D. Adams, Mrs. Olin Hawkins Graves, Mrs. Joseph N. Saunders, Mrs. Clinton K. Yingling, Mrs. Marcella Cline, Mrs. Frederick Young, Mrs. Stuart Womeldorph, Mrs. John Aitchison, Mrs. Victoria Faber Stevenson, Dr. Laura S. Brennon, Mrs. Ruth L. Bonnette, Mrs. Catherine M. Vosbury, Mrs. Mahlon A. Winter, Mrs. Laura B. Lawrence, Mrs. Harry L. Englebright, Miss Lena L. Rowe, Miss Grace M. Rowe, Mrs. E. E. Collister and Mrs. David Pfeiffer.

At Mrs. Edward Dixon Hayes' table will be Mrs. Oscar Bland, Mrs. Emily Hyer, Mrs. Walter Walters and Mrs. Robert McNeil.

Mrs. Ernest Humphrey Daniel, president of the club, will preside at the breakfast.

The annual Hadassah get-together luncheon will be held June 7 at 12:30 p. m. at the Mayflower Hotel. Mrs. H. D. Shiparo is chairman. Mrs. Robert Dennison and Mrs. Eliza Gellman have charge of tickets.

Miss Beatrice Strausberger will return early in the week from Barnhard College, New York. Miss Strausberger will sail for Europe June 25 with friends.

The Afternoon Bridge Club entertained at its annual formal party Tuesday evening with a dinner at the Dodge Hotel with the husbands of the members as the honor guests. Mrs. E. T. Morgan was the chairman of the committee on arrangements. The guests include: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brigham, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hemphill, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grinble, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Willard, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Morgan, Mrs. Ernest Eliot and son, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lees, Mrs. Val Austen and son, and Mr. and Mrs. Elbie Foltz.

Miss Janet Kohner, who went to Baltimore to attend the Ivy dance at the Summit Club, was the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Henrietta Sommers, of Pimlico road.

Est. 40 Years 1892
POTTHAST
The true Antiques of Tomorrow
SALE
20 TO 50% REDUCTIONS
It is our policy at this time to close out many discontinued patterns here of our own hand-made Dining, Living and Bedroom furniture at large price reductions, varying from 20% to 50% and under cost of production—to make room for new furniture designs being made in our Baltimore shops during the summer months.
Custom Made
DINING ROOM FURNITURE
Our Specialty.
Est. 1892
POTTHAST BROS., INC.
1741-43 Connecticut Ave.
Baltimore Showrooms
224 N. Charles St.
FACTORY
1400 Block Wicomico St.

Recent Social Happenings in Hot Springs

Number of Washington Visitors Are at Virginia Resort; Many Parties Planned.

Special to The Washington Post.

Hot Springs, Va., May 21.—Mrs. Joseph Leiter, of Washington, D. C., and Chicago, is at the Homestead for an extended visit, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Nancy Leiter. Mrs. Leiter's mother, Mrs. John R. Williams, and Mr. and Mrs. Leland Harrison, came this week from Washington to join her here, and Mrs. Ormsby B. McCammon is expected within the next few days.

Miss Leiter, a member of the Aiken Hunt, is one of the many enthusiastic devotees of riding in the colony at this time. The sport is outstandingly popular, with the miles of riding trails through the mountains in the vicinity at their loveliest at this season. Objectives for riding parties have included Fassifern Farm, the Cascades Club and Valley View, and there have been many delightful picnic excursions.

Maj. and Mrs. William McKee Dunn, who have recently arrived from Washington to reopen their Hot Springs home, Gramercy Farm, for the season, were included among the many estate holders in the valley who were guests in the Homestead this evening at dinner parties and for the assembly, affairs climaxing the gay round of social and sports activities enjoyed here today. With scores of visitors in the spring colony at this time, much informal entertaining is planned for tomorrow to conclude a brilliant week-end program.

Mrs. Cecelia Michaelis and daughter, Miss Virginia Michaelis, accompanied by relatives from Baltimore, motored to Pittsburgh for the week-end and are guests of her niece, Mrs. Harry L. Fox, formerly of Washington.

Miss Lucille Nathans is visiting in New York.

The eighth annual banquet of the Father and Son Club, of the Washington Hebrew Temple, will be held Thursday at the Mayflower Hotel. An elaborate program has been arranged.

Miss Marion G. Reilly, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., is at the Dodge for a brief stay.

Miss Esther Behrend has returned after passing a week at the Traymore, in Atlantic City. Miss Rae Hahn and her brother, Dr. Milton Hahn, with whom Miss Behrend visited, have returned to their home in Arkansas City, Mo.

Miss Anna M. Nolan, of Mamaroneck, N. Y., is a week-end guest at the Dodge. Miss Nolan came to the Capital to attend the national oratorical finals, which were held last evening.

Democratic Club

The Woman's National Democratic Club will entertain at the last of the season's series of forum luncheons tomorrow, when the guest of honor and speaker will be Dr. William Crane Johnstone, jr., of the faculty of George Washington University. He will discuss the latest crisis in Japan.

The club will entertain at its annual garden card party on Tuesday at the historic suburban home of Admiral and Mrs. Cary Grayson in Wisconsin avenue. This gives every promise of being one of the most brilliant entertainments of the social season.

The club's last Friday evening dinner of the season will take place this Friday evening, when the guest of honor and speaker will be Mr. Gutzon Borglum, America's famous sculptor. It will be a forum dinner, when the topic discussed will be "America, Arts and Washington."

The dining room at the club will be closed in June and July except for private dinners, luncheons and teas, for which arrangements can be made a day in advance. Afternoon tea in the garden will be served each day during the months of June and July.

It's sensational the New ZOTOS*
PERMANENT
★ NO MACHINE
★ NO ELECTRICITY
Nothing like it has ever been heard of—or dreamed of! A really permanent wave—without any of the discomfort of machinery or electricity. No wires to be strung up on. No baking. No nervous waiting. Zotos is safe—it's comfortable—it's quick—in fact it's simply marvelous . . . Even white, bleached, dyed or baby fine hair takes a deep, beautiful wave with Zotos. Such a gentle method that your hair retains all its natural sheen and lustre.
★ Phone early for your appointment. Our books are being rapidly filled.
Public Zotos Demonstration MONDAY, MAY 23d, 7 to 9 p. m. A permanent wave will be given free to visitor holding lucky number.
LILLIAS BEAUTY SHOP
2817 14th St. N.W.
Columbia 10412-10413.

JULIUS GARFINCKEL & Co.
F STREET AT FOURTEENTH FOR TOMORROW
New Collections
of
Unusual Fashions and Accessories
FOR WOMEN, MISSES AND JUNIORS
Summer things you'll be keen about having at once, so unusually good-looking and well-styled are they in every way . . . and all of them, the many wonderful moderately priced lines included, have a charm and difference not found anywhere else.

Metropolitan PUSH-UP
Croquignole
The Exclusive Permanent Wave
. . . the smartest permanent possible. You'll love its soft, natural waves and charming ringlet ends.
You will want a permanent wave all Summer . . . Come to the METROPOLITAN for the RIGHT KIND, that needs no finger wave, a permanent that will keep you always looking your best. The Metropolitan staff are experts, true artists in their profession . . . prices are low, and our service complete.
METROPOLITAN BEAUTY SHOP
10th and F Sts. N.W.
527 10th St. N.W. National 9281

2 Days Special!
Regular $10 Oil Wave.... $3.50
Eugene $4.50
Fredericks Vita-Tonic.... $7.50
Columbia 10180 in West Clifton Terrace
Corner 14th and Clifton Streets N. W.
Anglin's BEAUTY SHOPPE

FOR YOUR BRIDGE PARTY
Serve
A. W. ABBOTT'S
Velvet Frozen Custard
Delivered to your door packed in Dry Ice for only 60c Qt.
Phone MET. 8250
1347 E St. NW.—922 F St. NW

PIERRE
Conn. Ave. at Que St.
SPECIAL LUNCH, 75c
REGULAR LUNCH, $1.00
DINNER, $1.25 and $1.50

Hotel Pierre
Fifth Ave. at 61st Street
New York
Single Rooms and Suites
FOR Transient or Extended Visits
A Famous Restaurant
CHARLES PIERRE, Managing Director

The Collier Inn
Columbia Rd. at 18th St.
SUNDAY DINNER
Served 12 Till 8 P. M.
$1
Cocktail, Soup
Olives Radishes
Roast Duckling
Fried Milk-Fed Chicken
Philadelphia Capon
Baked Smithfield Ham
Roast Baby Lamb
Prime Ribs of Beef
Club Steak
Fresh Vegetables
Choice Salads
Large Variety of Our Own Make Ice Cream and Desserts
Sea Food Plate, 65c
Special—A Tempting and Delicious Chicken Dinner Served.................. 75c
FOR ENTERTAINING LET US SUPPLY YOUR NEEDS
Tinted Bread for Sandwiches
Ice Cream Moulds, $2.50 dozen
Salads, Sandwiches, Fancy Cakes
We Cater to All Sized Parties
Phone Orders, Columbia 5042.
WE DELIVER

LINE UP with this
LINE UP
$45 to $125. 1921 KALORAMA ROAD, corner of 20th st.—1 room and bath to 5 rooms and 2 baths; secretarial telephone service; 2 elevators; refrigeration included. Manager on premises.
$47.50 At 3220 CONN. AVE NW.—In center of finer apartment house section; 24-hour elevator and switchboard; free refrigeration; garage space; 1 room, foyer, dinette and bath.
$50 to $130. HIGHLANDS APTS., at Conn. ave. and California st. Nonhousekeeping apartments of 1, 2 and 3 rooms and bath and housekeeping apartment of 5 rooms and bath; electricity and refrigeration included.
$65 3220 CONN. AVE. N.W.—24-hour elevator and switchboard; free refrigeration; garage space; 2 rooms, foyer, kitchen, dinette, tiled bath, shower. Resident manager.
Don't walk up and down the streets. Look up and down these ads for SELECT APARTMENTS
Read this morning's list of apartment vacancies, lined up for your convenience according to price. Easy to read, easy to find—
Turn to the Classified Ads for Complete Apartment Lists in
The Washington Post

Fete's Queen Is Visitor at Takoma Park

Mrs. H. E. Saunders Hostess to Miss H. A. Washington During Week.

Mrs. H. E. Saunders, wife of Commander Saunders, U. S. N., had as her guest for a short time the early part of the week Miss Helen Ames Washington, of Overbrook, Pa. Miss Washington, niece of Mrs. Richard Evelyn Byrd, was en route to her home from Winchester, Va., where she was made queen of the apple blossom festival held in the valley city.

Mr. and Mrs. William T. Sabine have as their guest Mrs. Edith Wheeler, of New York.

Mrs. Alice Dean was hostess at a dinner followed by bridge on Saturday night at her home in Cedar avenue.

Mrs. Willard Douglas entertained at a bridge luncheon the first of the week when her guests were members of the Monday Afternoon Bridge Club.

Dr. Charles C. Galloway, past grand patron, Order of Eastern Star of the District of Columbia; Mrs. Galloway, their daughter, Miss Maxwell Galloway, and Miss Ethel Guill, returned from a motor trip to New London, Conn., the middle of the week, where they spent some time visiting Miss Guill's brother, Cadet Samuel Guill, of the Coast Guard Training School.

Miss Marion Crittenden and Miss Virginia Ladd left Monday morning by motor for a week's trip to Richmond, Va.; Asheville, N. C., and points of scenic interest in Tennessee.

Mr. and Mrs. James P. Atkinson had as their house guests last week-end Mr. and Mrs. William St. John, of East Orange, N. J.

Mrs. Albert F. Lingle entertained the garden department of the Takoma Park Women's Club Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at a short business session when informal meetings for June, July and August were planned. Following the meeting the group made a tour of Takoma Park gardens, visiting the home grounds of Mr. and Mrs. Homer C. Skeels, Mrs. E. Clyde Shade, Mrs. E. L. Crandall and Miss Margaret Caldwell Lancaster.

Mrs. Waldo Schmitt will entertain Circle No. 2, of the Takoma Park Fortnightly Book Club, Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when Mrs. Wilbur H. Youngman will review Henry Handell Richardson's book, "Ultima Thule."

Mrs. Albert W. Volkmer will review one of the outstanding books of fiction published in 1932 and Mrs. Duncan Stuart will give a paper reviewing an outstanding nonfiction book at the meeting of Circle No. 1 of the Fortnightly Book Club on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock when the circle will meet at the home of Mrs. William L. Holt, in Blair road.

Mr. Herbert Hubbard has returned from New Market, Va., where he spent last week-end with relatives.

Miss Patricia Hall, a student at the Nashville Agriculture and Normal Institute, located near Nashville, Tenn., is the guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hall.

Mrs. Max Trumer and her daughter, Miss Sarita Trumer, who have spent several months here visiting friends, will leave tomorrow to return to South America where they will join Mr. Trumer, who is stationed in Colombia.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Riebin have gone to Mount Vernon, Ohio, where they will attend commencement exercises at the Mount Vernon Junior Academy and a meeting of the Academy Alumni Association.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Stevenson Announce Birth of Daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Stevenson announced the birth of a daughter, born Friday, May 13. Both Mrs. Stevenson and her new daughter are doing nicely.

At the meeting of the Brotherhood Club of the Takoma Park Presbyterian Church Wednesday night the Bliss Glee Club will furnish the musical part of the program. Dr. Mordecai J. Ezekiel will speak on economic conditions in Russia and Mrs. Ezekiel will speak on the educational facilities of Russia. Dr. Ezekiel is an economist of the Federal Farm Board and he and his wife have but recently returned from an extended stay in Soviet Republic. The brotherhood meeting will be open to the public. The meeting will begin at 8 o'clock.

The Parent-Teacher Association of the Philadelphia Avenue Grade School will hold its annual meeting Thursday at 2 p. m., at the school, when election of officers will take place. Mrs. George A. Cook is president of the association and will preside over the meeting.

At the annual meeting of the Catholic League of Takoma Park the following officers were elected to serve for one year: President, Father Lawrence McGlone; vice president, Mr. Henry E. Seidel; secretary, Miss Katherine C. King; treasurer, Mrs. Lester Zinn, and trustees, Mrs. A. L. Reynolds, Mr. W. G. Carey, Mrs. Walter O'Laughlin, Mr. Joseph Wilson and Dr. Lester Zinn.

Mr. H. L. Thornton was named chairman of the committee having charge of subscriptions for the Ben G. Davis testimonial, at a meeting of the friends of Mayor Davis, who retires from official life after a service of more than 30 years, during which time he was town clerk and treasurer for 25 years and mayor six years. Other members of the testimonial committee are Mrs. A. L. Reynolds, Mr. H. E. Rogers, Dr. E. Clyde Shade, Mrs. Anna Shadle, Dr. Louis D. Bliss, Mr. A. Sterling, Mr. M. Derrick, Mr. Steve LaScola, Mr. C. C. Waters, Mr. L. Sherman and Mrs. F. C. Pratt. Mr. Davis's term as Mayor of Takoma Park, Md., will expire on June 1.

Mrs. Norman E. McIndoo will be hostess for the drama department of the Takoma Park Women's Club Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. The more recent outstanding short plays will be reviewed.

Attractive Spot

One of the most attractive spots in the garden of the Convent of Perpetual Adoration will be the Japanese tea tables, with Mme. Debuchi as hostess, assisted by Mmes. Kato, Tsushima, Washizu, Shudo, Gunji, Kase and Countess Fumasoni-Biondi, Mlle. Debuchi, Mlles. Reine and Renee Claudel, Countess Cornelia Szechenyi, Senoritas Cecilia Alfaro, Marie Sacasa, Rebeca Alfaro; Miss Mary Louise McQuade, Miss Helen Robbins, Miss Mary Louise Johnson, Miss Louise Harrison Gwynn, Miss Virginia O'Donoghue, Miss Isabell Perry, Miss Eleanora Ewing, Miss Anna Maria Sherwell, Miss Evelyn Walker, Miss Leslie Wright and Miss Helen Walker. The feature attraction will be the doll booth, with Frau Rudolf Leitner in charge. Mrs. William Kearny Carr, chairman of the committee, has selected tomorrow and Tuesday as the dates, weather permitting, for the garden party. The proceeds will be used for work among poor churches.

Married and Started for China

Underwood & Underwood.

MRS. JOSEPH N. WENGER, who was formerly Miss Mary Crippen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin E. Crippen, whose marriage occurred recently. Lieut. and Mrs. Wenger are now en route to his new post of duty in China, where they will not arrive for some time as they will make many stops in Europe en route.

Luncheon Meeting Fetes Mrs. Magna

Mrs. William Russell Magna, president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution, was the guest of honor at the annual spring luncheon meeting of the State Officers Club, D. A. R., held yesterday in the palm court of the Shoreham. Mrs. Charles Cyrus Coombs, president of the club, presided. Other guests included Mrs. David D. Caldwell, vice president general; Mrs. John M. Beavers, corresponding secretary general; Mrs. Stanley Forman Reed, registrar general, and Mrs. William Louis Dunne, historian general. Miss Ella Lorraine Dorsey, an honorary member of the club and long active in the historical work of the organization, was the guest speaker.

The luncheon was followed by a period of entertainment with Miss Lillian Chenowith and Mrs. Ralph P. Barnard, soloists, presenting a group of songs, with Miss Doree Germaine Holman accompanying.

Among the prominent members present were the newly elected State regent of the District of Columbia, Mrs. Harry Colfax Grove; the founders of the club, Mrs. Howard L. Hodgkins and Mrs. Ellen Spencer Mussey; the organizers, Mrs. Francis A. St. Clair, Mrs. William B. Hardy and Mrs. Harry B. Gauss; the past presidents, Mrs. Lyman B. Swormstedt, Mrs. G. Wallace W. Hanger, Mrs. John M. Beavers and Mrs. Gaius M. Brumbaugh, and the following club officers: Mrs. Charles Cyrus Coombs, president; Mrs. Edwin J. Ryan, first vice president; Mrs. Harry H. Thompson, second vice president; Mrs. Frank S. Ray, chaplain; Mrs. Tonnis J. Holzberg, recording secretary, and Mrs. Richard E. Claughton. Members of the board of directors are as follows: Mrs. Harry S. Ridgeley, Mrs. Alfred B. Garges, Mrs. Edmund K. Fox, Mrs. Jasper M. Beall and Miss Harriet Chase.

The committee in charge of the event included Mrs. Edwin J. Ryan, Mrs. Jasper H. Beall, Mrs. Joseph H. Wheat, Mrs. Alfred B. Garges, Miss Harriet Chase, Mrs. Gaius M. Brumbaugh and Mrs. Richard E. Claughton.

Garden Fete Plans Are Being Arranged

Mrs. William Henry White is chairman of the committee in charge of the garden party to be given Tuesday and Wednesday at the Presbyterian Home for the Aged at 1818 Newton street northwest, from 3 to 9 o'clock, for the benefit of the home. Mrs. Brainard H. Warner is president of the board of managers and Mr. William M. Terrell president of the board of trustees.

Mrs. D. K. Muir will have charge of the homemade cake table, assisted by Mrs. Millard F. Thompson, Mrs. Chester Smith, Mrs. H. C. Armstrong, Mrs. W. B. Davis, Mrs. M. C. Bennett and Mrs. Franklin J. Lord.

Useful articles will be on sale by Mrs. M. J. Vaughan, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Louis J. Smith, Mrs. R. C. Collison, Mrs. Daniel Miller, Mrs. Peter Snyder, Mrs. Charles Drexillius, Mrs. Harry Blake and Mrs. Clyde Allen. Mrs. Edward Tarring, assisted by Miss Cornelia Cotton, Miss North, Mrs. Elmer Saul, Miss Lottie Mayfield and Mrs. Hugh Smith, will have charge of the candy table.

Mrs. Harry Benjamin will have charge of the ice cream table, assisted by Mrs. F. L. Fridley, Mrs. D. E. Morgan, Mrs. Edith Galt Mish, Mrs. Curtis Feeser, Mrs. James T. Newton, Mrs. A. L. Hough and Miss Ann Glass.

The grounds of the home will be decorated to carry out the Bicentennial spirit under the supervision of Mrs. Edgar Hanvey, Mrs. W. Hall Trigg and Mrs. F. L. Pridley.

Strolling musicians will add to the entertainment of the guests during the afternoon and a section of a student orchestra will furnish music in the evening.

The Rev. and Mrs. John Brittan Clark, of Tryon, N. C., are at the Powhatan for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Kaufman have been passing a week at the Shelburne Hotel in Atlantic City.

The board members of the Junior Council, of which Miss Hilda Levy is president, held a meeting Thursday evening followed by a dinner at Harvey's. Covers were laid for 25.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Hogan, of Yonkers, N. Y., are passing some time at the Carlton.

Frederick's Social News Chronicled

Frederick, Md., May 21.—Mr. and Mrs. George Baskerville Norton, of Richmond, Va., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Jean Norton, to Mr. Edward C. Shepherd, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Shepherd, this city. The wedding will take place in June.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gall, of Thurmont, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mabel Louise Gall, to Mr. Samuel Royer, jr. The wedding will take place this summer.

Plans are being made for the opening dance of the Catoctin Country Club, near this city, May 28. Mr Charles Byerly is chairman of the committee in charge.

A large crowd attended the annual May ball of Frederick Chapter, Order of De Molay, at the Catoctin Country Club, Friday night. Guests were present from Washington, Baltimore and other places.

The annual dance by the Marionettes, Hood College dramatic organization, was given in Coblentz Hall Saturday night. Guests were present from Washington, Philadelphia, Harrisburg, Lancaster and other places.

Dr. and Mrs. Guy L. Hunner, Miss Betty Hunner, Mr. John Hunner, Mr. Carroll Williams and Dr. and Mrs. Lomas, of Baltimore, were guests of Miss M. Louise Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Kimball Nelson and young daughter, of Kenosha, Wis., are spending several weeks at the home of Mrs. Nelson's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Frank Hill Hedges. Mrs. Nelson was formerly Miss Elizabeth Hedges.

Twenty Hood College girls and their escorts attended a dinner at the Catoctin Country Club Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Smith have returned after spending the winter in Haines City, Fla.

Miss Katherine Tydings, Havre de Grace, Md., sister of U. S. Senator Millard E. Tydings, was the week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll H. Hendrickson, of Upper College Terrace.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis B. Sappington have returned from their wedding trip and are residing near this city.

Miss Florence V. Zepp, of this city, and Mr. Irving S. Hammond, of Keedyville, were married Saturday by the Rev. F. Berry Plummer, pastor of the United Brethren Church, Hagerstown.

Miss Nellie McDonough, Monrovia, and Mr. Harold F. Cooley, Comus, were married in this city Saturday by the Rev. Dr. Charles E. Wehler, pastor of the Presbyterian Church.

Miss Sarah G. Jack, Rowlandsville, Md., and Miss Lois M. Belfield, Washington, students of the University of Maryland, were guests this week of Miss Louise Saylor, Walkersville.

Miss Marjorie Renn, of Washington, was the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. R. Lillard, Barnesville.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Lillian Gertrude Migan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Migan, Randallstown, and Lando Henry Sanders, near Pikesville. The wedding took place in the Holy Family Catholic Church, Randallstown, Tuesday, by the Rev. Phillip Nelligan.

Mrs. Edwin Lundgren, Miss Annabelle Lundgren and William Lundgren, New York, have opened their country home, near Lingamore, for the summer.

Mrs. Clayton O. Keedy has returned from a visit to relatives in Richmond, Va., and Washington, D. C.

Minnesota Society

The seventy-fourth anniversary of Minnesota's admission to the Union, which occurred this month, will be celebrated on next Saturday evening at the Washington Club, Seventeenth and K streets northwest, when the Minnesota State Society holds a birthday party, at which its members and many friends have been invited to be present.

This affair will be strictly informal and in the nature of a get-together meeting, during which a special program will be given before the dancing. Refreshments will be served. Miss Bede Johnson, president of the society, says that she has a big surprise in store for all who attend. Mr. Selforde M. Stellwagen, chairman of the society's George Washington Bicentennial committee will make a report on Minnesota's participation in the Flag Day processional to take place on June 14.

Mrs. W. S. Hurley, of Erie, Pa., has joined Mr. Hurley at the Carlton.

Society Waits Graduation at Naval Academy

Commencement Festivities Are Being Prepared With With Numerous Events.

Special to The Washington Post.

Annapolis, Md., May 21.—Local society folk are "standing by" for the hustle and bustle that comes with the commencement festivities of June Week at the Naval Academy. The commencement period will extend from May 27 to June 2.

Outstanding formal events on the program include the garden party in honor of the midshipmen graduates to be given by the Superintendent and Mrs. Thomas C. Hart; the second class ring dance, and a dance by the third class midshipmen all on the evening of May 31, and the farewell ball in honor of the graduates on the following night. There will be numerous luncheons, supper and dinner parties, and informal dances on and off the naval reservation that will make the ceremonies leading up to commencement day a continuous round of gayety.

The Superintendent and Mrs. Hart entertained a large party of guests at a buffet luncheon last Saturday afternoon prior to the rowing regatta between crews of the Naval Academy, Harvard, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts Tech. Honor guests included the Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Charles F. Adams, the Assistant Secretary, Mr. Ernest Lee Jahncke and Mrs. Jahncke, and a number of representatives from the competing colleges. The Director General of the Pan-American Union, Dr. Leo S. Rowe, who addressed the first class midshipmen Saturday evening, was the overnight guest of Admiral and Mrs. Hart.

The Commandant of Midshipmen and Mrs. Henry D. Cooke also were hosts at luncheon prior to the boat races.

Lieut. Comdr. and Mrs. John L. Hall, jr., entertained at dinner Saturday evening in honor of Capt. and Mrs. Henry.

Rear Admiral and Mrs. Joseph W. Oman, of New York, were week-end guests of Capt. Charles M. Oman, Medical Corps, and Mrs. Oman, who will entertain a party of friends for them at luncheon tomorrow.

Rear Admiral and Mrs. John A. Hoogerwerff left here Tuesday for Blue Ridge Summit, Pa., after passing the spring and winter season at Carvel Hall.

Mme. Cadaret des Pres, of Paris, France, has arrived here for a visit with her son-in-law and daughter, Prof. Molton A. Colton, of the department of modern languages, Naval Academy, and Mrs. Colton, at their home in Hanover street.

Lieut. and Mrs. Edward W. Clexton have returned to their home in Philadelphia, after a visit with Lieut. Comdr. John H. Colhoun (retired) and Mrs. Colhoun, at their country estate, Windsor Farms, West River.

Lieut. and Mrs. Rufus Rose have arrived here from New York for a month's visit with Mrs. Rose's parents, Capt. and Mrs. A. R. Alfred, 215 King George street.

Several Parties Held Prior to Officers' Dance.

Among those who entertained parties of friends at dinner tonight preceding the dance given by officers assigned to the local station were Commander and Mrs. Frank T. Lighton, 36 Upshur road, and Lieut. Comdr. and Mrs. Vincent H. Godfrey. The Godfreys entertained for Mrs. Bancroft Matthews, of Wilmington, Del., their guest over the week-end.

Mrs. Turner, wife of Lieut. Thomas L. Turner, left here yesterday for New York to pass a few days visiting friends. She will be joined by Lieut. Turner and they will sail May 26 on the steamship President Hoover for San Diego, Calif. Lieut. Turner has just completed a course at the Navy Post Graduate School here.

Mayor and Mrs. Walter R. Auenstedt were among the guests of honor at the dinner-dance given by the Civitan Club of Annapolis, at the Annapolis Roads Beach Club Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Riddick, wife of Commander Willard J. Riddick, Medical Corps, entertained a small company of friends at luncheon Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Shivers, of Haddonfield, N. J., are guests this week-end of Lieut. Comdr. and Mrs. William G. Greenman at the Naval Academy.

Mrs. Bootes, wife of Col. James T. Bootes, Marine Corps (retired), entertained at tea Tuesday afternoon from 4 to 6.

Commander and Mrs. Harry W. Hill were hosts at dinner Tuesday evening for Mrs. Laurance T. DuBose, at their quarters in the naval reservation.

Mrs. Owen Thompson, of Washington, is visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Lieut. Comdr. and Mrs. Laurance T. DuBose.

Lieut. Comdr., and Mrs. Vincent H. Godfrey entertained at tea Sunday afternoon in honor of the midshipmen who belong to the Naval Academy tennis squad. The guests numbered 30.

Mr. Carol H. Foster, American Consul at Rotterdam, and Lieut. and Mrs. Festus F. Foster, U. S. Navy, were guests over last week-end of Prof. and Mrs. Carroll S. Alden at their home in the naval reservation. Prof. and Mrs. Carroll gave a dinner in their honor prior to the officers' dance Saturday evening.

Commander and Mrs. Wolcott E. Hall had as their guests last week-end, Miss Louise Hall sister of Commander Hall, and Miss Ethel Bret Harte, of Boston.

Mrs. A. A. Sacks, of East Orange, N. J., is visiting Commander and Mrs. James A. Longan, at their quarters in the naval reservation.

Garden Fete Held

Mrs. Gilbert H. Grosvenor entertained at a garden party yesterday afternoon at Wild Acres, her suburban home. Receiving with her was Mrs. Charles J. Bell, her maternal aunt. Assisting were Mrs. Harlan Fiske Stone, Mrs. William V. Pratt, Mrs. Joshua Evans, jr., Mrs. Merle Thorpe, Mrs. Cloyd Heck Marvin, Mrs. Frederick B. Coville, Mrs. Lloyd B. Wilson, Mrs. Lynn S. Horner, Mrs. Henry C. Jewett, Mrs. Melville Grosvenor, Miss Polly Foote and Miss Mary Louise Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dolph are spending several days in Atlantic City.

The LITTLE TEA HOUSE
Luncheon Tea, Dinner
12 Noon to 8 P.M.
1¼ miles south of Highway Bridge
Arlington Ridge, Va.
Upper Road to Alexandria

Engaged

Harris & Ewing

MISS NORVELL CLARK MUNFORD, daughter of Mrs. Edward S. Munford, who has announced her daughter's engagement to Mr. Joseph W. Mullally, of Pittsburgh.

Social Happenings In North Woodside

Dr. and Mrs. Howard Dozier had as their guest last week-end Mr. Frederick Wilson, of Houston, Tex. Mr. Houston addressed the men's Bible class at the Woodside M. E. Church last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce E. Clark, Miss Clara Lutz, Miss Gertrude Lutz and Miss Brooke Stiefel were the supper guests last Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Lutz.

Mrs. W. Leyshon, who has been ill at Walter Reed Hospital for seven weeks, has returned to her home on Second avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Matre entertained the North Woodside Bridge Club Saturday evening. Mrs. F. Wells was the prize winner.

Mrs. Robert W. Benner, of Montgomery Hill, entertained at two tables of bridge last Friday evening. Her guests were Mrs. Duvall, Mrs. Jack Chavez, Mrs. Julius Simpson, Mrs. Archer Cummings, Mrs. James Bowling, Mrs. James Revie and Miss Janet Williams.

Mrs. L. A. Titus, who has been ill at Garfield Hospital, has returned to her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Torreyson, of Woodside, were the bridge guests Wednesday evening of Dr. and Mrs. Marion S. Alley.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Bailey Scrimgeour had as their dinner guests last Sunday Mr. Scrimgeour's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Scrimgeour.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Clark entertained the Glen Ross Road Bridge Club Wednesday evening. First prize was won by Mr. John Williams and second by Mr. Harold Northup.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Dulin, Dr. and Mrs. Marion S. Alley and Miss Jane Alley spent last Sunday at Falls Church, Va., where they were the guests of Miss A. Birch.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Milne had as their guest last week Mrs. Elizabeth R. Dividson.

Last Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. Philip M. Hamilton had as their dinner guests Miss Nancy Lay, of Bethesda, Md., and Mr. Howard F. Strine, jr., of Washington.

Last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Melvin F. Bergmann had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Hermann H. Bergmann, Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Appleman, Mr. and Mrs. Julius A. Maedel and Mr. and Mrs. Philip M. Hamilton.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip M. Hamilton and son, Philip, jr., were the dinner guests last Sunday of Mr. Hamilton's mother, Mrs. Mary Hamilton, in Washington.

Garfield Hospital Reception Thursday

Invitations have been sent out by the board of lady managers of Garfield Hospital for a memorial reception on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the National Museum, honoring the late President Garfield. Guests are asked to present invitations at the auditorium doors, although no cards are needed for admission to the museum. This memorial is sponsored by the Vice President, Mr. Charles Curtis; the Governor of Ohio, the entire Ohio delegation in Congress, Mr. R. W. Dunlop, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, and Mr. Wade H. Ellis.

In addition, Mrs. Cabot Stevens, who initiated the function as president of the ladies' aid of the hospital announces the following list of distinguished men serving as sponsors: Senators George Moses, Arthur Capper, James E. Watson, Morris Sheppard, Charles McNary, Arthur R. Robinson and Representative John Q. Tilson.

For the reception to be held in the art galleries, the Vice President, Mr. Curtis, Mrs. E. E. Gann, Mrs. Stanley-Brown (Mollie Garfield), Mrs. Herbert Feis, granddaughter of President Garfield; Gen. MacArthur, and other officials will head the receiving line. The reception committee will be augmented by the Social Service Bluebirds of Garfield, wearing their uniforms and veils. A program of unusual interest is being arranged.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Bolland, of Chicago, who have been guests for a fortnight of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Fischer, of Clifton street, will continue their stay through the coming week.

Mrs. Louis Glaser and young son, Anthony, have returned to their home in Boston after passing several weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Kaufman.

Mrs. Ralph Barnsby, of Wesley Heights, will entertain the members of the Washington Chapter of the League of American Pen Women as well as some of the Chevy Chase members at a tea on her lawn in Wesley Heights this afternoon, when Miss Marguerite Merigold and Miss Katherine Jacobs will preside at the tea table. Mrs. Barnsby will be assisted in receiving by Miss Jean Stephenson, president of the Washington chapter, and Miss Ruth Forney.

Beautiful Sprays
$3.50 up
Blackistone
1407 H St. N.W.
Nat'l 4905

Social Events Of Past Week In Bethesda

Bridge and Dinner Parties Feature Recent Activities of Area's Residents.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Willis entertained at dinner and bridge on Wednesday evening at their home in Edgemoor, in compliment to Mrs. Sherman Ryan, of Pittston, Pa. Mr. and Mrs. Willis entertained the members of the freshman tennis team from the University of North Carolina, when the team played in some of the matches at the Columbia Club. Mr. Richard Willis is a member of the team.

Mr. and Mrs. Wharton Moore have returned to their home in Battery lane from a stay of some time in Tampa, Fla.

Mrs. Bernhard G. Spille entertained the Newcomb Club on Friday afternoon at her home in Edgemoor lane.

Mrs. Oliver Owen Kuhn has returned from Baltimore, where she attended the regional conference of the Girl Scouts.

Capt. and Mrs. Sydney Barwick are receiving congratulations on the birth of a little son. Mrs. Barwick, who has recently returned from Shanghai, where her husband, Capt. Barwick, is stationed, is staying with her sister, Mrs. Butler L. Knight, and Capt. Knight, in Wilson lane.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent A. Carlin have leased their home in Langdrum lane to Assistant Postmaster General Arch Coleman and Mrs. Coleman. Mr. and Mrs. Carlin have taken a house in Lyon Park, Va.

Nancy Lee Hill, Marcel O'Shaughnessy, Shirley Masten, June Zumwinkle, Mitzi Bryant, Jane Foley, Ruth Bauersfeld and Melissa Smoot are members of Miss Flannigan's dancing class, participating in the pageant given at Wardman Park Hotel yesterday.

Mrs. Harry E. Hill will entertain at a bridge luncheon on Wednesday.

Mrs. Aldrich Moore, Mrs. Arlington Comstock, Mrs. Ford E. Young, Mrs. George Baldwin, Mrs. Nellie Morrison, Mrs. Robert Service, Mrs. William N. Riley, Mrs. George Laird and Mrs. Agnes McGee were the members of the committee in charge of the very successful card party sponsored by Naomi Chapter, O. E. S., on Tuesday evening at the Bethesda Masonic Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Young, of Alta Vista, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son, who has been named Walter H. Young, jr. Mrs. Young was formerly Miss Helen Sommers.

Miss Elizabeth Wheeler Is Feted at Supper Party.

Mrs. William Collins entertained at a birthday supper party on Saturday evening in honor of her niece, Miss Elizabeth Wheeler. The guests were Miss Marjorie Cassey, Miss Rosabelle Robbins, Miss Rosalinde Sullivan, Miss Anne Hagner, Miss Jane Walker and Miss Doris Medley.

Mrs. Fred O. Coe, of Battery Park, has been elected recording secretary of the Woman's Club of Chevy Chase.

Miss Beverly Gaylor, Miss Marguerite Gaylor, Miss Betty Fieser, Miss Cynthia Hathaway and Miss Anna Moore Converse were members of the senior class at Bethesda-Chevy Chase High School, who modeled in the fashion show sponsored by the senior class on Wednesday.

Mrs. Raymond N. Beebe will entertain the senior class at a picnic on Tuesday at her summer home on the Chesapeake Bay. Mrs. Emilie Dunbar and Miss Peggy Duncan, members of the graduating class, have been awarded scholarships for college work by the Women's Club of Chevy Chase.

At the meeting of the Battery Park Association held on Wednesday evening, Commander W. H. Porter, vice president of the association, was appointed chairman of a committee to devise ways and means of planting about 280 trees along the streets of Battery Park. Judge R. Granville Curry is president and Ray E. Brown is secretary.

Mrs. A. Brookhouse Foster and Mrs. Watkins have charge of the arrangements for the annual evening party of the Parent-Teacher Association of the Bethesda Elementary School. Mrs. E. G. Bauersfeld was named president of the association for another term at the election held last week. Other officers elected were: Vice president, Miss Mary Nichols; second vice president, Mrs. Mark O. Smith; recording secretary, Miss Miriam Smith; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Earl Broadhurst, and treasurer, Mrs. J. K. O'Shaughnessy.

Sandy Spring

Mr. and Mrs. A. Douglas Farquhar and children spent the past week-end in Richmond and Old Point Comfort, Va., while Mrs. R. Bentley Thomas, who accompanied them, spent the time with her daughter, Cecelia, at William and Mary College at Williamsburg, visiting points of interest nearby.

The Misses Pancoast and Mr. Henry T. Pancoast, of Purcelville, Va., were guests on Sunday of the Misses Stabler, at Edgewood, while Miss Alice T. Stabler spent several days with her sisters, returning to Washington on Monday.

Miss Cornelia Reese, of Baltimore, is a guest of Mrs. Robert H. Miller at The Highlands.

An American flag given to Boy Scout Troop No. 230 by the community council, was presented by Mortimer O. Stabler to the troop last week.

Mr. Willard Stabler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Stabler, has received a scholarship to Columbia University from the George School, of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Ellis Shoemaker, of Philadelphia, was a guest during the past week of his brother, Mr. J. Janney Shoemaker, and family, at their home Amity.

Mrs. Maurice J. Stabler has returned from a motor trip to New Jersey, where she visited friends.

Mr. Edward Iddings entertained the last meeting of the Sunday Night Group for the season on Sunday evening at his house in the village of Sandy Spring, after which the group held an open meeting at Community House, with Frederick Libby, of Washington, as guest speaker. Mr. Libby addressed the Friends meeting in the morning, speaking on "Peace."

SUNDAY DINNER $1
Delicious Entrees, Fresh Vegetables, Crisp Salads, Home Made Desserts
Not connected with Olney Inn, Olney, Md.
MRS OLNEY'S
CONNECTICUT AVE. & CALVERT ST.

JULIUS GARFINCKEL & CO.
F STREET AT FOURTEENTH

Unusual . . . Beautiful . . . Of Assured Quality

Fine Jewelry . . . Diamonds
Wedding and Engagement Rings
Wedding Gifts
Remarkable Silverware

New assortments have just been received, extraordinary values we think you will want to see at once.

We also do all repairing of jewelry, watches and clocks . . . and expert recreating and redesigning . . .

THE NEW Jelleff's
1216-1220 F Street N.W.
A Woman's Fashion
Mallison's
Washable Vagabond Crepe
$25

A jacket frock that fulfills all summer's requirements . . . smart, practical, and cool. In Mallison's rough surface crepe, white, pink and blue. Sizes 36 to 44.
SECOND FLOOR DRESS SHOPS

OPPOSITE MAYFLOWER HOTEL
Rizik BROTHERS
CONNECTICUT AVE.

. . . To Your Everlasting Satisfaction

. . . the wearers of Rizik creations always enjoy the satisfaction only found in high quality garments. Styled by couturiers—created by superior dressmakers in the finest fabrics——Rizik Gowns look beautiful—fit well and retain their superb appearance over an exceptionally long time. Really—they are the most inexpensive dresses when you consider what you're actually obtaining.

General Reductions Now in Effect

Tomorrow . . . We Feature
A Special Group of FROCKS $28.50 Formerly $55.00 to $78.50

STEINWAY
"THE INSTRUMENT OF THE IMMORTALS"

Long regarded as world leaders in the music industry, the famed house of Steinway has adjusted its prices to conform to the present material and labor costs, which makes it more than ever possible to own one of their supremely beautiful instruments.

With a nominal cash deposit and the balance in monthly payments over a period of three years, we will deliver a new Grand and Bench to your home.

PRICE: $1175

E. F. DROOP & SONS CO., 1300 G

WASHINGTON'S MOST DISTINGUISHED APARTMENT RESIDENCE

Atmosphere and Refinement

—are among the many exclusive advantages that residents of the Kennedy-Warren may enjoy. When Summer's scorching heat sends the thermometer skyward you will find your apartment here will be cool and comfortable.

NOW AVAILABLE

2 rooms, dining alcove, kitchen and bath, $90.00 to $95.00.

4 rooms—living room, bed room, sun room, dining alcove, kitchen, bath and extra lavatory, $95.00 to $120.00.

5 rooms—living room, dining room, kitchen, 3 bed rooms, 3 baths, $175.00 to $185.00.

6 rooms—living room, library, dining room, kitchen, 2 bed rooms and 2 baths, $175.00 to $225.00.

Also a few furnished apartments to sublet for Summer months.

Rentals include electricity, electric refrigeration, gas, and parking facilities for guests of tenants. Inspection at your convenience, day or evening, upon application at the Lobby Office.

THE KENNEDY-WARREN
Washington's First Air-Cooled Apartment
3133 Connecticut Avenue Adams 9600

Chevy Chase Social Events Of Past Week

Parties and Entertainments Features of Recent Activities; Visitors Feted.

The Chevy Chase Woman's Club will give a silver tea and garden party on Thursday afternoon from 3 until 6 at the home of Mrs. Roy M. Palmer, 416 Dorset avenue, to help raise the club's quota of the guarantee fund for the National Symphony Orchestra. All the sections of the club will join in this entertainment, which culminates the club's activities for the season. Mrs. J. Harry Cunningham, chairman of the music section, is in charge of the program. Mrs. Douglas Griesemer, chairman of the educational section, and Mrs. George Finch, chairman of the social section, are in charge of the tea. All persons interested in the National Symphony Orchestra are cordially invited.

At the last meeting of the year of the Woman's Club, which was held on Wednesday, the following officers were elected for the coming year: Mrs. Karl Fenning, president; Mrs. E. Hutton Russell, first vice president; Mrs. Charles D. Curtiss, second vice president; Mrs. Roger Whiteford, treasurer; Mrs. Fred O. Coe, recording secretary; Mrs. William Orem, jr., corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Frederick M. Kerby, assistant treasurer.

The Chevy Chase branch of the National League of American Pen Women entertained at a dinner Wednesday evening at the Congressional Country Club in honor of the newly elected national president, Mrs. Clara Keck Heflebower; the president of the Chevy Chase branch, Miss Viola Offutt, and the past president of the branch, Mrs. A. Pearl McPherson. After the dinner the following program was presented: "The Big Mistake," a playlet, given by Miss Hester Beall and Mrs. Emma W. P. Slack. Miss Victoria Copping gave humorous selections, and Mrs. Lucia R. Maxwell read her own poem, "America at Cross Roads." Mrs. Clarence Crittenden Calhoun, who was toastmistress, read a description of the magnolia gardens of Charleston, S. C., from her latest book, "Miss Magnolia."

The unit of the Sanctuary Society of the Church of the Blessed Sacrament of which Mrs. J. E. Shillinger is chairman, entertained at a bridge party on Friday afternoon in the garden of Mrs. Curtis W. Handley in Cedar Parkway for the benefit of the Church of the Blessed Sacrament. Mrs. Handley and Mrs. Shillinger were assisted by Mrs. Radford Moses, Mrs. Alan E. Walker, Mrs. Joseph Travers Maguire and Mrs. Percival E. D. Nagle.

Mrs. Elmer T. Cummins was hostess at luncheon and bridge on Wednesday at the Congressional Country Club in honor of Mrs. Jessie Beckwith, who is visiting here from Iowa. There were twelve guests

The Assistant Attorney General and Mrs. Charles P. Sisson were hosts at dinner Monday evening in their home in Brookville road.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Temple Webster, of West Irving street, were the guests last week-end of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Angle in their home in Shippensburg, Pa.

Presbyterian Church Group Holds Luncheon.

Section 4 of the Woman's Guild of the Chevy Chase Presbyterian Church met for luncheon on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Hugh Southgate in Chevy Chase Circle. Mrs. John T. Vance was assistant hostess. Mrs. Norman J. Hough is the new leader of the section.

Miss Eleanor Branson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Branson, spent last week-end in Atlantic City, where she was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Strickland Gillilan.

Miss Grace Edwina Dutton attended the spring prom last week-end at Hood College, Frederick, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin C. Dutton and their daughter, Miss Grace Edwina Dutton, will leave June 3 for Nashville, Tenn., to attend the wedding of Miss Julia Aileen Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Collins, and Mr. Harmon Nicodemus, of Rocky Mount, N. C., son of Mrs. Dutton, which will take place on June 4. Miss Dutton will be maid of honor for Miss Collins.

The Elizabeth Jackson Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution will hold its final spring meeting tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Nelson M. Shepard, 51 West Lenox street.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Lee, jr., of Primrose street, will leave Friday by motor for Columbus, Ohio, where they will be the guests for ten days of Mrs. Lee's brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. Campbell Taylor, whose home is in Bexley.

Mrs. Roland Whitehurst was hostess on Monday evening in her home in Military road to the Washington Chapter of Hunter College Alumnae Association.

Mrs. E. F. Geddings, wife of Col. Geddings, of Raymond street, will go to Baltimore on June 4 to attend the graduation exercises at the Hannah More Academy, where her niece, Miss Frances Ellerson, of Charlestown, W. Va., is a member of the graduating class.

The Chevy Chase Elementary School celebrated Education Day on Friday at the school, where an extensive program was presented for the parents who were in attendance. Included in the entertainment were recitations, songs and a pageant given by the various classes. The kindergarten orchestra rendered musical selections. In the afternoon the Parent-Teacher Association held its final meeting of the year. Mrs. Daniel C. Walser, who was recently reelected president, presided.

Mrs. F. S. Steinwachs was hostess at luncheon on Tuesday in her home in Oliver street to section 5 of the Women's Guild of the Chevy Chase Presbyterian Church, of which Mrs. Gilbert Young is the leader. Mrs. J. M. McKee assisted the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. George R. Manchester entertained at dinner and bridge last Saturday evening in their home in Elm street.

Lieut. Comdr. and Mrs. Frank E. Beatty entertained informally at dinner on Monday night, later taking their guests to see "Grand Hotel."

Mrs. George W. Morey entertained at a garden party on Friday, May 13, in her home in Pinehurst Circle in honor of her mother, Mrs. Mary Dame. Mrs. Harvey Wiley and Miss Elsie Hill gave talks on the National Woman's Party.

Mrs. Dame left last week for Minneapolis, Minn., where she will spend the summer.

The All Saints' Episcopal Church board of lady managers of the Episcopal Home for Children are sponsoring a card party tomorrow at 2 o'clock at the Kennedy-Warren for the benefit of the home. Mrs. William H. Waters is chairman of the arrangement committee, assisted by Mrs. Arthur Ilsley, Mrs. George Harris, Mrs. Joseph Little, Mrs. Robert Chaffee, Mrs. Walter G. Dunlop, Mrs. Robert Burke, Mrs. Julian Richards and Mrs. Austin.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Dotterer and Mr. and Mrs. Allison Buchanan entertained at a progressive dinner and tacky party in their homes on Saturday evening, May 14.

Dr. O. E. Baker went to San Francisco last week, where he was one of the principal speakers on Thursday night before the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce. Dr. Baker talked on "The Agricultural Outlook."

Mrs. William M. Smith was hostess at luncheon last Wednesday in her home in Spring street, when she had the following guests: Mr. Charles F. Plitt, Mrs. Paul S. Anderson, Mrs. Fred W. Perkins, Mrs. John D. Little, Mrs. Claude E. Mossburg and Mrs. Leona M. Reynolds.

The following officers were elected at a recent meeting of the Mother's Club: Mrs. Lee Pennington, president; Mrs. Elmer Weaver, vice president; Mrs. John Low, treasurer.

Mrs. Albert A. Fenderson was hostess at luncheon and bridge on Tuesday in her home in East Bradley lane to the members of her bridge club.

Plans Fall Wedding

Harris & Ewing

MISS ELIZABETH MORRIS KENNEDY, daughter of Rear Admiral Robert Morris Kennedy, who will be married in the early fall to Mr. Richard White Miller.

Bridge Fetes Feature Last Week's Events

Two Tables Entertained by Mrs. Robert W. Bender in Silver Spring.

Mrs. Robert W. Benner entertained at two tables of bridge at her Montgomery Hills home on Friday night of last week when her guests included Mrs. Julia Simpson, Mrs. Jack Chavez, Mrs. Archer Cummin, Mrs. John Revie, Mrs. James M. Bowling, jr., Mrs. Duvall and Miss Janet Williams. Mrs. Duvall carried off high score honors.

Mrs. Gilbert Clark was hostess for the regular meeting of the Glen Ross Road Bridge Club on Tuesday evening. Mrs. John Williams and Mr. Harold Northrup won high score prizes.

Dr. and Mrs. Edwin C. Powell had as their house guests for a short time the first of the week, Mr. Floyd White and his daughter, Miss Florence White, who were motoring north from Florida, where they spent the winter.

Miss Eloise Hopkins has returned to her Woodside home from Annapolis, where she attended the Naval Academy hop on Saturday night.

Mr and Mrs. Frank Lutz had as dinner guests Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Baughman, of Berryville, Va., and Mr. and Mrs. John Lutz and Miss Mary Katherine Lutz.

Mrs. John J. Dolan spent last week in Philadelphia, where she attended the annual convention of the Lady Shriners.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Maurice Wolfe had as their guests last week-end at their Linden home, Dr. Mary Smith and Miss Dowd, of Hudson, N. Y., who were en route to their home from Fort Myers, Fla., where they spent the winter months.

Mrs. A. J. Vorhees is expected to return to her Wynnewood Park home the first of the week from Albany, N. Y., where she went several days ago to spend a few days with her husband, who is temporarily stationed there.

Members of Lions Club Attend Laurel Meeting.

Quite a large group of members of the Silver Spring Lions Club attended a charter night meeting of the Laurel, Md., Lions Club Monday night. Those in the group were Mr. and Mrs. Robert McKeever, Mr. and Mrs. J. Oscar Foulk, Mr. and Mrs. William Thies, Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Hanan, the Rev. and Mrs. Ralph D. Smith, Dr. and Mrs. Howell Forsyth, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Warfield, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Crossan.

Mrs. Edwin Warfield, of Roanoke, Va., and Mrs. Florence Baughman, of Baltimore, were week-end house guests of Mr. ad Mrs. Howard Griffith.

Mrs. Marie N. Carroll left yesterday for Colonial Beach, Va., where she opened her cottage, Carrollton, for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Neuman had as their house guest last week-end Mrs. William Milner, of Norfolk, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Matre entertained the North Woodside Bridge Club at their Montgomery Hills home on Saturday night of last week. Mrs. F. Wells carried off high score honors.

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Moore have returned from . motor trip to Scranton, Pa., where they visited Mrs. Moore's mother, Mrs. H. C. Hatton.

Mr. and Mrs. George Shields left by motor Tuesday for Spartansburg, S. C., where they fill visit their daughter, Miss Mary Shields, and attend the graduation exercises of Converse College. Miss Shields will be graduated from the college this year.

Miss Sarah Morris and Miss Frances Wolfe have returned from a motor trip to Flemington, N. Y., where they visited friends for a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin F. Bergman entertained at dinner Sunday evening, their guests being Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Hamilton, of North Woodside; Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Appleman, of Kensington, and Mr. and Mrs. Julius A. Neadle, of Washington.

Dr. and Mrs. Marion S. Alley entertained at a bridge party on Wednesday evening.

W. & J. Sloane 709 Tw n

You are to have choice of our entire stock of

Upholstered Furniture and Occasional Pieces

at reductions that are so radical as to urge attention

It is an event of mutual interest—for it is time for us to make clearance of these lines—and for you it offers an opportunity to buy to an advantage that justifies anticipating one's needs.

Included, of course, is the furniture produced by the Sloane Mastercraftsmen; Sloane Oneidacraft, as well as that of contemporary makes. You have had no such illustration before of the purchasing power of your dollars. Of course it is a special occasion—limited in its time—but one you must appreciate—and will want to profit by.

A modest deposit will reserve any selection for later delivery.

Special Models Sofas and Love Seats Exclusive Designs

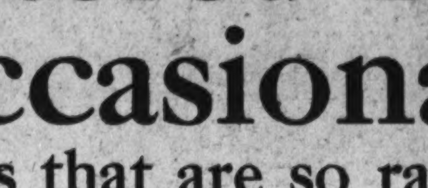
Fine reproduction Sheraton Sofa; satinwood and mahogany; upholstered in a handsome design of rust damask.

Regular Price $375 ----NOW $125

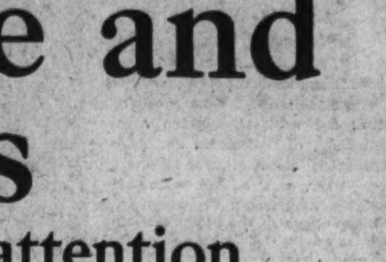


Chippendale Sofa, with carved genuine mahogany base; and upholstered in DuBarry damask.

Regular Price $275 ----NOW $139

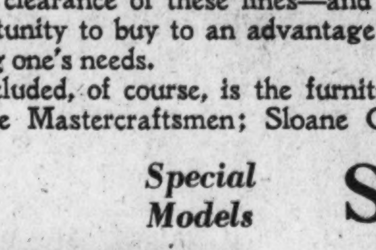
English Sofa with typical roll back, low arms and deep seat. It looks the comfort it affords. Upholstered in green or gold damask.

Regular Price $195 ----NOW $115



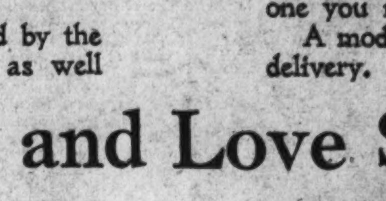
Hayden Sofa, one of the most graceful and decorative models, combined with extreme comfort. The upholstery is in damask, repp, tapestry or frieze.

Regular Price $195 ----NOW $118



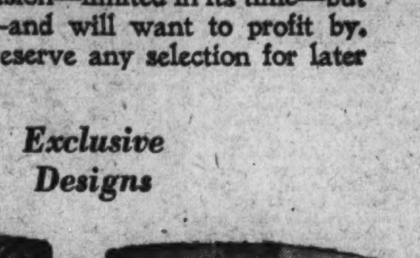
English Club Love Seat, with separate back pillows and seat cushions, down-filled. The covering is wool tapestry of effective patterning.

Regular Price $250 ----NOW $100



English Club Sofa, with separate down-filled pillows in back and separate down-filled seat cushions. Upholstered in blue brocatelle or rust damask.

Regular Price $270 ----NOW $160



Tuxedo Love Seat, both attractive and practical in design. Upholstered in fine quality rust damask.

Regular Price $225 -------NOW $85

Bedford Sofa, an exclusive Sloane design adapted to the modern size room, combining exceptional comfort with effectiveness. Upholstered in rose silk damask.

Regular Price $175 ------NOW $75

Charles of London Sofa, which has earned the distinction of being the most luxurious sofa made. Upholstered in fine antique velour in gold and red.

Regular Price $350 ----NOW $210

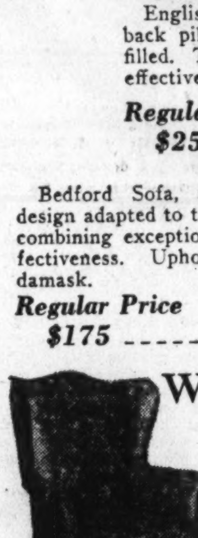
Directoire Sofa, with maple frame in rich antiqued color and finish. Upholstered in blue, gold and red striped satin.

Regular Price $225 ----NOW $125

Raleigh Love Seat, another of the more comfortable and decorative pieces, of a size which makes practical their use in pairs. Upholstered in figured tapestry.

Regular Price $270 ------NOW $90

Wing Chairs



Hollis Wing Chair, of Colonial thought, inspired by an old American Chippendale model. Upholstered in tapestry, frieze and chintz.

Regular Price $65. NOW— $38.50

Early American Fireside Chair of quaint design in maple, with down-filled cushion and upholstered in homespun type of tapestry.

Regular Price, $150. NOW $50

Colonial Fireside Chair, with walnut base; very roomy and comfortable in type and upholstered in small figured frieze.

Regular Price, $135. NOW $55

Easy Chairs

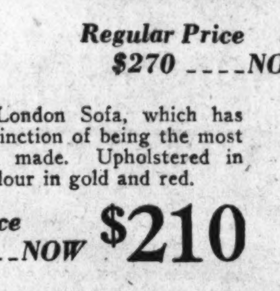
American Queen Anne Easy Chair, with roll-back, deep seat and low arms. Upholstered in damask.

Regular Price $100. NOW— $45

Chatham Chair, one of the Sloane special designs, very comfortable and with semi-tufted back, deep seat. Upholstered in tapestry or leather.

Regular Price, $120. NOW $55

Easy Chairs



Charles of London Easy Chair, famous for its luxurious comfort; upholstered in antique velour.

Regular Price, $175, NOW— $125

Ideal Reading Chair, large, generous proportions, with roll-back, deep seat; down-filled cushions; upholstered in gold damask and green brocatelle.

Regular Price, $120. NOW $55

English Club Chair, luxurious proportions with separate down-filled cushions. Upholstered in damask.

Regular Price, $125. NOW $70

Buckingham Easy Chair, smart in design and comfortable in practical use, with just the right poise to back and seat. Upholstered in tan and rose damask.

Regular Price, $180. NOW $110

End Tables and Coffee Tables

Genuine Mahogany End Table, with book trough below.

Regular Price, $10. NOW— $6.50

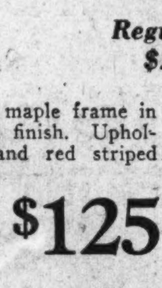
Genuine Mahogany Candle Stand; the design is both quaint and artistic.

Regular Price, $15. NOW $8.50

Genuine Mahogany Coffee Tables, with carved base and brass claw feet.

Regular Price, $25. NOW $12.75

Open Armchairs



Colonial Chippendale Chair of moderate size, making it the ideal pull-up chair; at the same time extremely comfortable. Upholstered in damask.

Regular Price, $50. NOW— $29

Sloan Schuyler Chair, very pleasing model with curved back and saddle seat. Frame is mahogany with ball and claw legs, and upholstered in a variety of fabrics.

Regular Price, $50. NOW $30

A group of American Chippendale, Queen Anne, Martha Washington and Colonial Open Armchairs upholstered in a variety of handsomely designed fabrics.

Regular Price, $80. NOW $45

Living Room and Library Tables

Early English Table, walnut construction.

Regular Price, $95. NOW $25

Jacobean Table, walnut construction; beautiful turnings and the old mellow finish.

Regular Price, $100. NOW $50

Early American Stretcher-type Table; cherry and maple construction.

Regular Price, $40. NOW $15

Elizabethan Center Table, in oak with handsomely carved pedestal base.

Regular Price, $120. NOW $45

Desks

Gov. Winthrop Desk, true to tradition in type, in mahogany or cherry and maple.

Regular Price, $110. NOW— $70

Straight Front Desk, in maple, inlaid with bands of rosewood. A very quaint design is created.

Regular Price, $175. NOW $50

18th Century English Straight Front Desk, genuine walnut construction.

Regular Price, $150. NOW $90

Tambour Desk, of genuine mahogany, inlaid with satinwood. This is a fine copy of a genuine antique.

Regular Price, $125. NOW $85

Lowboys

Genuine Mahogany Lowboy, a faithful reproduction of an historical original.

Regular Price, $110. NOW— $55

Early American Lowboy, in cherry and maple, with the typical sunburst carving and the fine old amber finish.

Regular Price, $80. NOW $35

Bookcases

Walnut Bookcase, Queen Anne design; two sections and adjustable shelves.

Regular Price, $160. NOW $50

Genuine Mahogany Bookcase, two-section type; with adjustable shelves.

Regular Price, $110. NOW $45

709 Twelfth W. & J. SLOANE Just Above G

The House with the Green Shutters

SIMPLE, YET DISTINCTIVE FROCKS SUPERSEDING FURBELOW VARIETIES IN FASHION

Beauty Hints For Summer Season Given

Use Vanishing Cream Freely, "Special" Water and Take Many Shampoos.

By DARE.

NEW YORK, May 21.—I know this is supposed to be a fashion letter, but since one must be lovely before one can attempt to be fashionable, you won't mind if I give you some hints for summer care and the protecting of your loveliness, will you? For it is so much easier to avert damage to your beauty than to repair it!

First, here is a real beauty secret, summer or no! The waters in every part of the world differ, and many of them are injurious to the skin. Acquire the habit of making a lot of little bags of gauze an inch in diameter, fill them with ordinary rolled oats mixed with almond meal and powdered orris root in the proportion of half of the oatmeal and a quarter of each of the others. Tie these bags with thread, and in every basin full of water drop one of them and squeeze it until the basin is milky. There are times when one simply must wash the face with soap and water, and one of these little bags will positively perform miracles in the way of softening the water and neutralizing it should it contain any injurious chemicals, not only to the face but to the hands as well.

And then there is vanishing cream. Take a goodly supply of this with you wherever you go during the summer, whether you ordinarily use it or not, as well as a very good and not too heavy cleansing cream, and cleansing tissue. Probably you could get these where you are going, but because of the mere possibility that you might not be able to, I suggest that you take them.

Vanishing Cream Important.

Vanishing cream you simply must use on your face and hands whenever you are going to be exposed to wind or sun. Mustn't forget that you can be as badly injured by windburn as you can by sunburn, and that one bad dose of either injures permanently the epidermis.

Lots and lots of vanishing cream, all that your skin will absorb And don't forget your hands and arms when applying this to your face! The hands do not respond as quickly to treatment as does the face, and one bad coat of sunburn or tan may leave them scrawny and yellow "for always."

And now buy a reliable but very mild bleaching lotion, and use it every summer's night on your face! Cleanliness, prevention and repair are necessary summer skin protection. Keep your face thoroughly cleansed with cleansing cream and an occasional soap and water, washing with water that has been softened with the little gauze bag; use plenty of vanishing cream and hand lotions for protection; and let never a night pass without its mild bleaching lotion. That is all you must do during the summer—afterward there must be some simple repairs, but more of these anon.

Vacation Hair Hints.

Your hair will suffer even in the few days that it might be exposed to the hardness of salt water or drying effects of sun and wind. Especially if you shampoo it after each swim, which, by the way, you should do—never leaving the salt water in it even for one day. And shampoo it with your own soap, not just any soap that you find in the bathhouse.

And never dry hair that you expect to retain its loveliness with a hot air dryer or in the sun. With towels, friction and cool air currents, yes. And after it is dry, sun baths are excellent for it.

But because of the unaccustomed strain that the hair encounters, especially during the vacation time, do rub a tiny bit of olive oil or vaseline into your scalp every night. It won't take but a minute, and does so much to replace the natural oils that are being dried and washed out of it. If you can heat the olive oil a little bit, so much the better—just set a very tiny bottle into hot water—that's all.

Care of Eyes.

Any woman who gives more than the snap of her finger for her beauty, which naturally means every woman, will early acquire the habit of wearing sun glasses every time and every place where her eyes will be exposed to any glare or wind whatever. Not only will she thus avoid serious eye trouble, but, what is probably more important to her, the wrinkles and crowsfeet that come from eyestrain. Sun glasses do not mean the awful things that one buys in any drug store in brilliant greens, ambers and yellows that are far more injurious than beneficial. But have a reliable optician prescribe a pair of sun glasses for you that have just the proper amount of shade that you need. This is a small investment for a lifetime, and you will save their cost many times over in beauty parlor bills. If you wear glasses their prescription can be incorporated in sun glasses if necessary.

And then the eye wash, which you must use every night, and as well, after every exposure. The eyes get as dirty as the face, you know and especially motoring and traveling they become fatigued trying to do their own housecleaning. You must assist them!

By the way, eyelids can get sunburned too, so give them their proper share of the protecting vanishing cream.

(Copyright, 1932.)

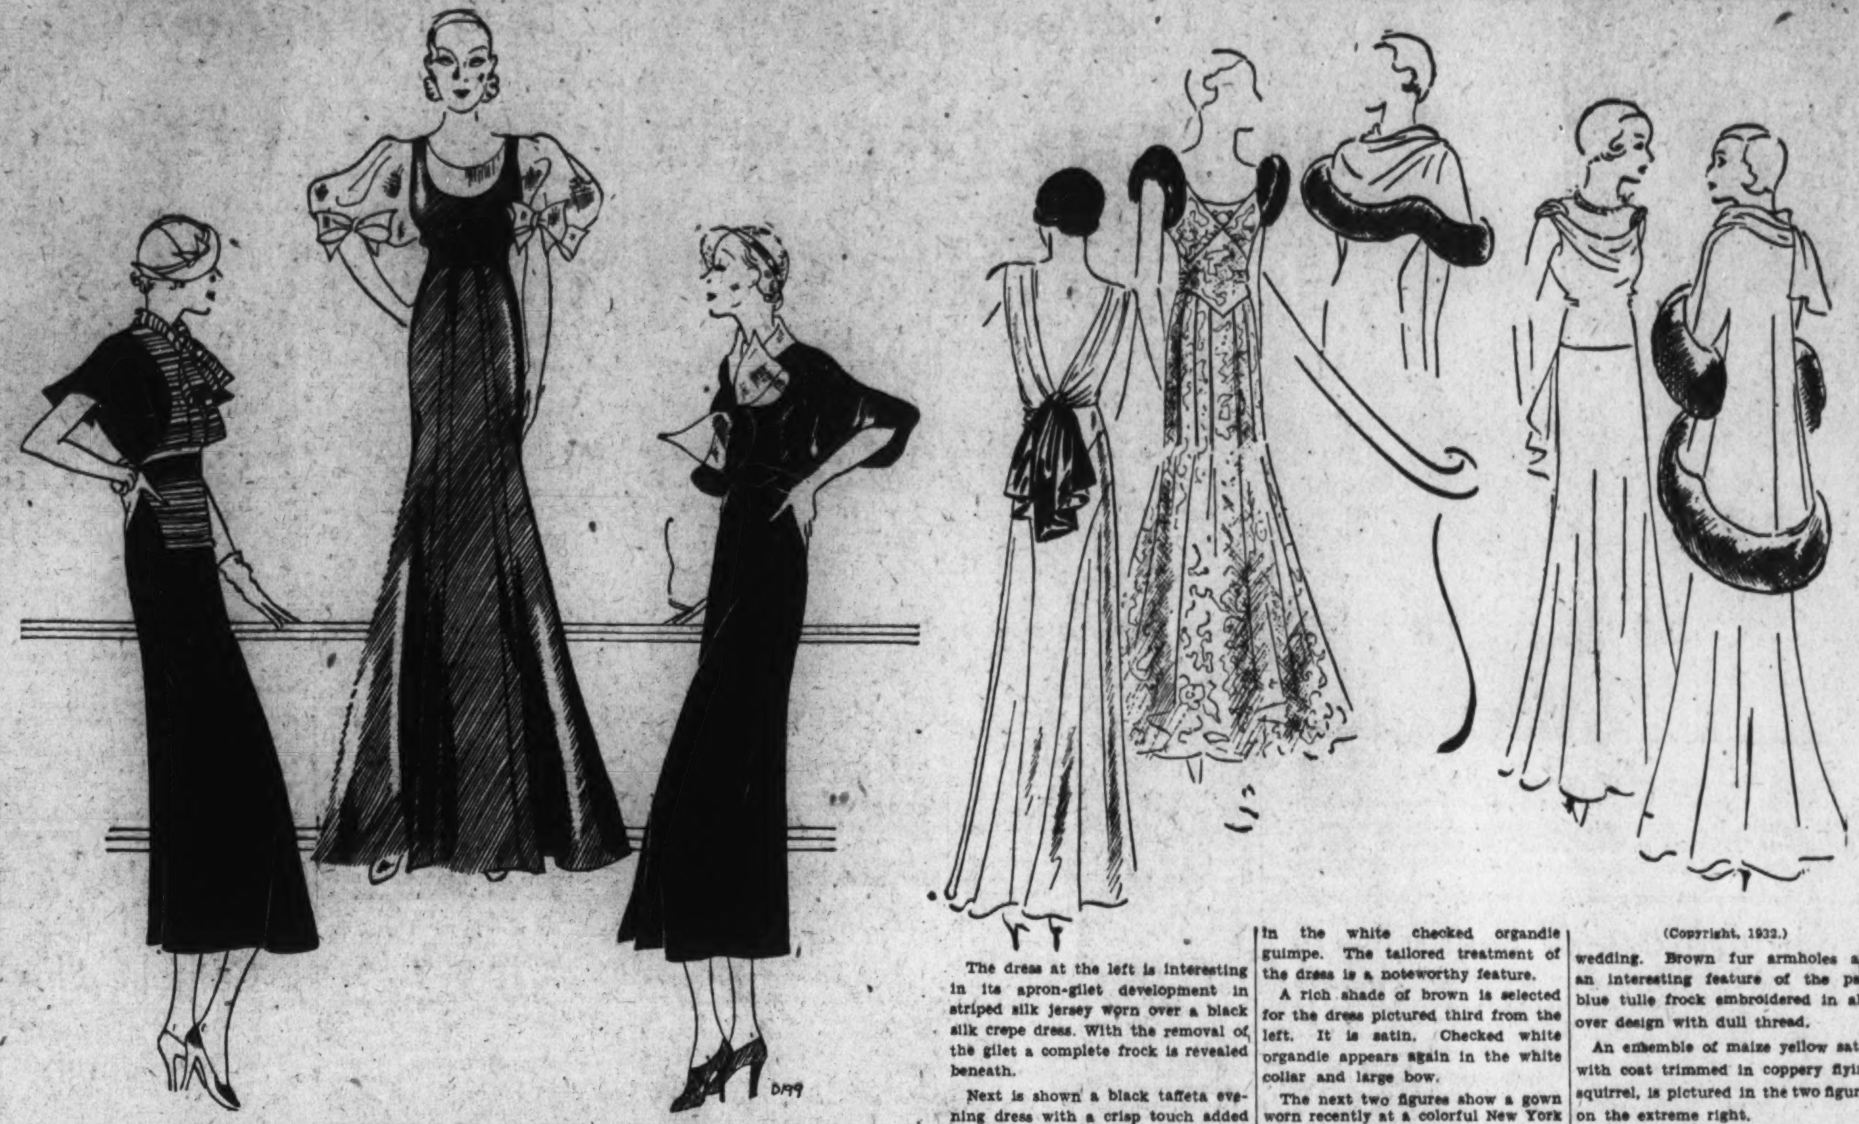
Tucking on Coats

Chicago, May 21 (A.P.).—Tucking is a distinctive note on spring coats. One model was seen with scalloped tucking around the neckline and down the sleeves. Also the waistline was tucked. Another style had tucks starting at the neckline and running to the cuffs. Both coats were collarless and both had flowers on the shoulder.

Striped Ensemble

Paris, May 21 (A.P.).—The Princess Sixte de Bourbon Parme is among smart Parisians who are following the vogue for stripes this spring.

For town wear she has an ensemble of navy blue and white striped crepon designed with a close-fitting sleeveless dress and a short jacket which is accented by a wide scarf of deep red crinkly ribbon. With it the princess wears a blue straw hat.



The dress at the left is interesting in its apron-gilet development in striped silk jersey worn over a black silk crepe dress. With the removal of the gilet a complete frock is revealed beneath.

Next is shown a black taffeta evening dress with a crisp touch added in the white checked organdie guimpe. The tailored treatment of the dress is a noteworthy feature.

A rich shade of brown is selected for the dress pictured third from the left. It is satin. Checked white organdie appears again in the white collar and large bow.

The next two figures show a gown worn recently at a colorful New York wedding. Brown fur armholes are an interesting feature of the pale blue tulle frock embroidered in allover design with dull thread.

An ensemble of maize yellow satin with coat trimmed in coppery flying squirrel, is pictured in the two figures on the extreme right.

(Copyright, 1932.)

Trim Turn-Out In Travel Togs Is New Trend

Paris, May 21 (A.P.).—"No nonsense" is the rule for this spring's travel togs.

Chic travelers now are known by their trim turnouts. Their coats are generally unfurred with broad shoulders and button-up necklines, their skirts from 12 to 14 inches from the ground and their suits or frocks have no unnecessary knick-knacks cluttering their lines.

The handbags they carry are flat, long and sufficiently commodious for passport, powder and puff. Shoes are calf or dull kid with medium high Cuban heels and hats are of some collapsible fabric or straw which can withstand being crushed into a corner.

Tones Are Gayer.

Their chic lies in their simplicity and the fastidious combination of their colors, for travel togs this spring are in gayer tones than for many years.

Colors, though far from brilliant, have definitely departed from the neutral tones which smart travelers affected last year.

Warm chocolate browns, sapphire blues, rich greens and varied beiges are the colors generally seen when the boat train pulls out of the Gare St. Lazare these days.

Most of the costumes are further lightened by a bright scarf or a colored kerchief.

Coat Is First Concern.

A warm wool coat with broad revers, a belted waist and roomy sleeves is the Parisian traveler's first costume concern, for spring produces unexpectedly cool days on the continent and at sea.

With it she wears a plain wool frock or a jacket suit lightened with gay blouses and scarves. One of the smartest travel costumes which recently departed for America consisted of a chocolate brown wool jacket suit worn with a leaf green sweater blouse and brown and green striped scarf and topped by a brown wool coat flecked in green.

German Schools Urge Farming for Youths

Berlin, May 21 (A.P.).—German universities are helping to make farmers of young men who in normal times have become college professors.

Both Berlin and Leipzig universities have established "academic self-aid" societies and these, failing to place graduates who have chosen academic professions as life work, in ordinary jobs, are urging them to forget their schoolings and go back to the soil.

Berlin University is asking the Prussian government to donate homesteads in thinly populated provinces. Qualifications are brawn and willingness to stick to the farm.

The number of men and women in the academic professions out of work in Germany is put at 60,000 and is increasing at the rate of 12,000 a year. Unless conditions improve, one out of every three academicians will be jobless within five years.

Ancient Oak Honored

Rouen, France, May 21 (A.P.).—The 1,200th anniversary of a great oak tree will be celebrated in the village of Allouville-Bellechesse on July 2, when 40 children will receive their first communions in two chapels within its trunk.

One of the two chapels contains a statue of the Virgin Mary presented by the Empress Eugenie. The second chapel, over the first, is reached by an exterior stairway.

Theaters Are Closing

Budapest, May 21 (A.P.).—Under difficulties like those which trouble opera and drama in many lands, three of Hungary's subsidized theaters have been forced to close. One night recently the total receipts of a provincial theater were less than a dollar.

Daring Color Stripes All Right on Frocks

Chicago, May 21 (A.P.).—Striped blouses are being shown in smart shops. There are narrow stripes, recalling memories of peppermint stick candy. There are inch-wide stripes, and now there are stripes in daring color combinations. One of these is mahogany red, gentian blue and chalk white. The sleeves are short and the necklines are either V-shaped or square.

Red Note at Races

Paris, May 21 (A.P.).—The Princess de Faucigny-Lucinge is wearing red this season. She appeared at the races at Longchamps recently in a coat of brick red wool designed with a semifitted waistline and collared in beige lynx. Her hat was a small model of lusterless red straw turned-up on one side.

Crystal Trimmings

New York, May 21 (A.P.).—Calf etched with criss-cross lines is used for the newest purses. Hand-carved crystal ornaments provide a smart decorative note in handles and clasps.

Comfortable Evening Gown Makes Debut

New York, May 21 (A.P.).—Women are gradually being freed from the tyranny of fashion, at least as far as evening gowns are concerned.

The gowns they wore last winter were every bit as uncomfortable as the boiled shirts in which men were confined at formal functions. They literally had to be "poured" into them.

New evening gowns are graceful flowing creations draped about the curves of the body, in no way confining it. They are simple, not fussy, and their beauty depends chiefly on line and color, though fabrics are highly important.

Most of the models are undated, belonging to no special period of style. While many achieve an informal appearance, their simplicity of design assures them a quiet elegance, a distinction that belongs to this era of modern feminism.

Skirts are generally heel-length and fall in even gathered fullness from the normal waistline. Some keep all of the fullness to the back, where often it is banked in cascading tiers. The use of peplums and tunic effects gives variety to a number of others.

The top is usually bloused, or softly draped from the shoulders. Flowers, bands of quiet beading, sashes, large buckles, or lace are used for decorative complements.

Cotton Frocks For Each and All Functions

New York, May 21 (A.P.).—'Way down South in the land of cotton, there's been plenty of hustling to get out enough bales to supply milady with a complete summer wardrobe.

As far as the eye can reach—up and down the avenue, on the beach or in the night club—one will see cotton in all its charming variety this season.

For morning wear there are trim little frocks, most of them sleeveless. One-piece affairs, of striped or figured cotton, or of smart rough weaves in plain colors.

For street and semidressed-up occasions in the country, there are suits of white fancy weaves and frocks of lacy or sheer mesh weaves.

Afternoon dresses are made of pique, a fabric which will be seen at many evening functions also. Organdie, embroidered with colored flowers and other smart patterns, lace, and net are dainty and quite smart.

Cotton hats are also in vogue, the daytime and sports chapeaux made of pique, gingham and other weaves, the dress hats made of starched organdie, cotton lace, or mesh.

Shoes, bags, gloves, occasional jackets, even lingerie will be featured in cotton during the season.

Sensible and Suitable Styles Make Girls of 1932 Alluring

Tiny Bows on Sports Ensembles Hark Back to Uncomfortable "Clinging Vine" Era; Quaint Bodices Are Figure-Revealing, but Never Tight or Boned.

By VYLLA POE WILSON.

THE first bright days of summer brought out summertime clothes last week. The summer girl of 1932 is an alluring picture. There is a demureness and dash to her attire from morning to late into the evening. Even the sport clothes have a distinctively feminine note. Much more so than they have had for many a year.

But the new-fashioned woman looks more her part partaking in out-of-door sports than did the Gibson girl of the turn of the century who wore shirtwaist and skirt when she went golfing or played tennis. But her skirt was so long that it hampered her movements and artificial aids must have been employed to make the waistline so small where the joining of the waist and skirt was marked by a tight leather or kid belt. Then the Gibson girl wore a high stiff collar for her sport attire while the modern woman has a soft comfortable collar or cut-out neckline.

The sport girl of today has a liking for the tiny bows and knots and the "little girl" effects which are subtle reminders of the days long before the turn of the century and the Gibson girl era when girls were "clinging vines" and clothes were designed with that type of woman in mind who was content to sit a cushion and sew or eat chocolates and read a novel.

But the modern woman with the determination to face her world in the schoolroom, office or drawing room, on the golf course or tennis court, unhampered, has taken great liberties with the frills and ruffles and such style notes of other days.

The woman of today ties the cuffs of her above-the-elbow sleeves to her sport frock with tiny bows, but there are no hampering, floating ends. She wears her dance dresses long, but they do not drag on the floor and hamper her freedom of motion. She wears the quaint bodices and basques in all their figure-revealing effects, but will not have them really tight or boned.

As primly as the maid of long ago, the girl of 1932 walks forth for her pleasures of life with her hair in staid little ringlets. The only difference between our girls and those who lived in other days is that our girls do not suffer the tortures of curling papers and hot tongs. The modern woman hies herself to a beauty shop and has her hair permanently waved, or has her naturally curly or wavy hair "set" and goes forth for any pursuits she elects—out-of-doors sport, business or dancing—with the knowledge that her hair will look "right" through the busy hours.

The sport girl of 1932 adopts sensible shoes, but in footwear generally the modern woman is not really as sensible as her sisters of the clinging-vine age. They wore French heels for the evening, but would never have thought of going shopping or calling in the stilted heels of the walking and street shoes of today. Of course our shoes are made more scientifically today, and the high heels do not throw the foot joints out of place to the degree this type of shoe once did.

Mrs. Hoover is wearing a springlike costume of black satin, with a gray coat faced with the satin and with a scarf collar. With this she wears a black straw hat with black and white flowers across the back.

Mme. Michael Clemenceau, who was a recent caller at the White House with her husband, the son of the French war premier, wore a strikingly modish dress of navy and cream striped silk. This has a wide belt and scarf collar of the material and the sleeves are open and of three-quarter length. With this Mme. Clemenceau wore a hat of black straw with a shallow crown and medium brim.

Latest reports from London describe the platinum gray costume the Duchess of York is wearing this spring. It is made with a belted dress and coat with a yoke and long, tight sleeves. With this the duchess wears a closely fitted felt turban with a scalloped edge about the face, each scallop marked by a flat felt rose. The collar of her coat is of silver fox.

Mrs. Henry Ford had on at one of the recent events at the Colony Club in Detroit a modish dress of white crepe satin, made with a draped neckline, caught with a corsage of velvet roses and a long skirt falling well to the floor from a shirred girdle effect.

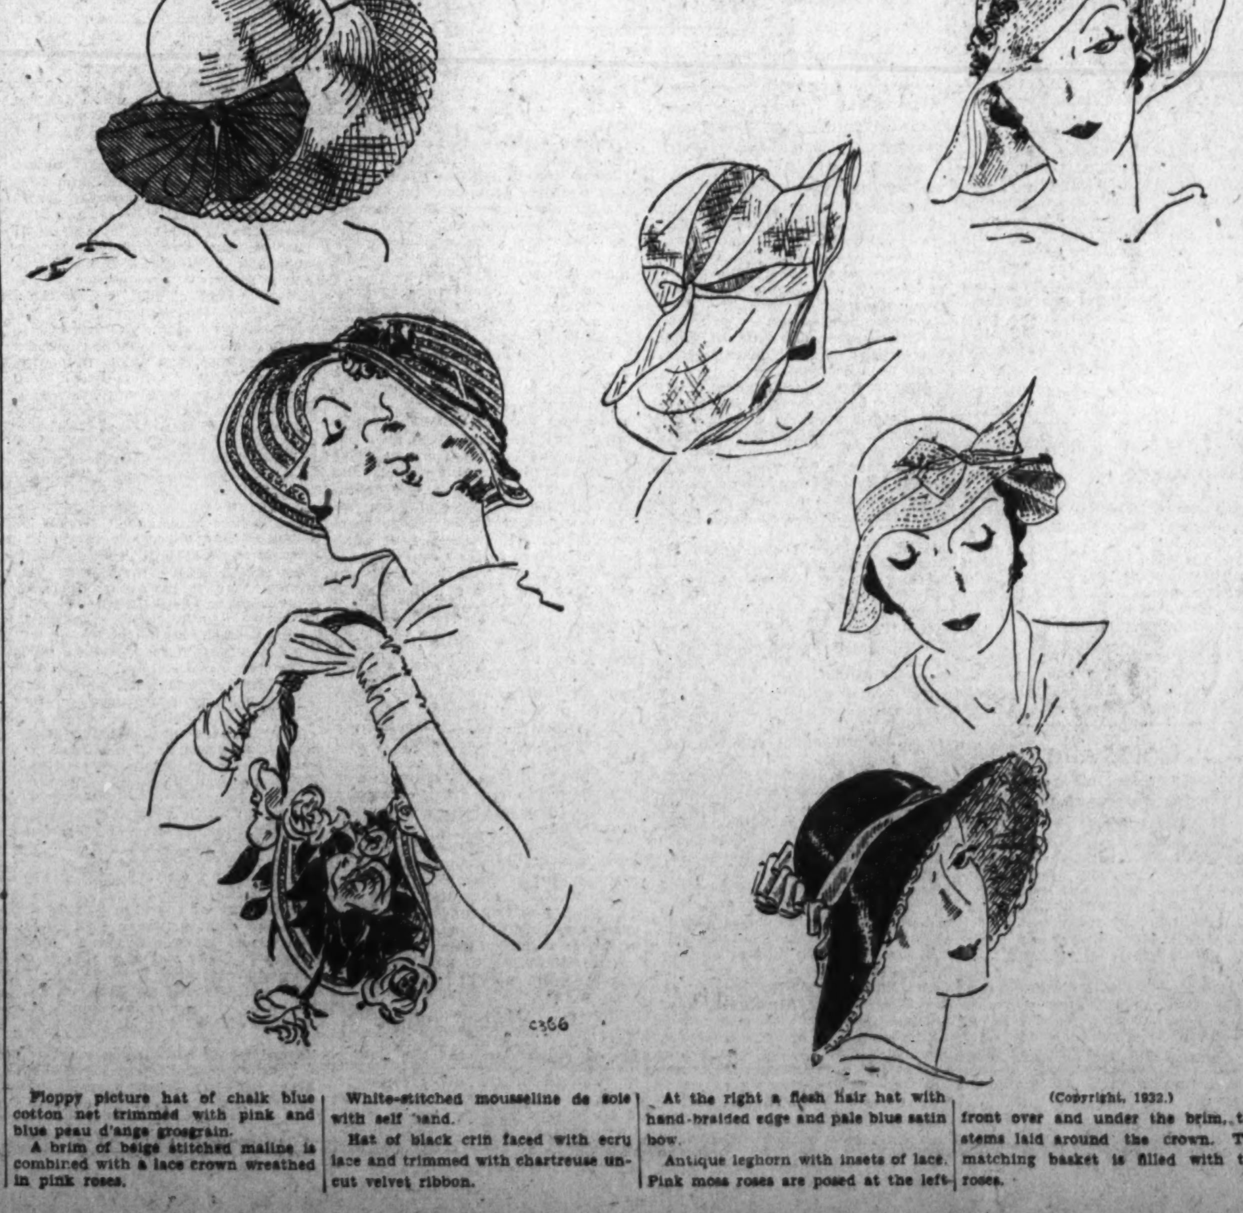
Mrs. E. Marshall Field had on recently at a luncheon in New York a dress of beige chiffon with which she wore a black satin coat with a beige collar and small black satin hat.

At the same luncheon Mrs. Kenneth O'Brien wore a dress of blue polka dotted chiffon, made with a surplice bodice and flared skirt. Her hat was of black straw.

Mrs. William Jeffries Chewning is wearing a dress of black silk with "flock" dots of white. This is made

Continued on Page 6, Column 4.

Newest in Summer Hats Straight From Paris Shops



Floppy picture hat of chalk blue cotton net trimmed with pink and blue peau d'ange grosgrain.

A brim of beige stitched maline is combined with a lace crown wreathed in pink roses.

White-stitched mousseline de soie with self band.

Hat of black crin faced with ecru lace and trimmed with chartreuse uncut velvet ribbon.

At the right a flesh hair hat with hand-braided edge and pale blue satin bow.

Antique leghorn with insets of lace. Pink moss roses are posed at the left front over and under the brim, the stems laid around the crown. The matching basket is filled with the roses.

(Copyright, 1932.)

Frills Unable To Thrill Like They Used To

Faultless and Individualistic Lines and Colors Seen as Most Important.

By ELEANOR GUNN.

NEW YORK, May 21.—Just around the corner keeping a rendezvous with Prosperity is the Memorial Day week-end and that starts the summer season off with a bang. All sorts of festivities follow close at heel and there is an urgent demand for summery, frothy looking frocks and great shadowy hats.

It is not necessary for us to continue the saccharine diet of frills and furbelows on which we are somewhat fed up.

Paris has prepared a simpler diet and is serving us with cool cottons made on sane and simple specifications with a minimum of ballyhoo about them.

It's very refreshing and certainly a great relief to be freed of the burden of costly fabrics and permitted, even encouraged, to wear the simpler ones. It stands to reason that if pique and organdies are to be worn for evening, they must be distinctively cut and treated, be faultless in detail and charming in color. Chanel's flower leis are having a tremendous success. They are sufficient decoration for any frock.

Necklines Quite Varied.

Necklines are amazingly varied and avoid extremes. Demure boat-shaped decolletes with puff sleeves are a favorite. The bandage idea continues although built up several inches.

Waistlines are never below normal, although sometimes slightly above. Belts are wider—when there are belts. Shoulder lines remain wide, busts defined.

Skirt range is from the ankle to the floor for evening, excepting in the more formal dresses, which are not so very important this year. This type of dress has, most frequently, a bell sweep at its hem and is, of course, very long.

Vivid Colors Stressed.

Recent reports of what is being worn in Paris stress rather vivid colors such as, for instance, royal blue used for one of the most striking gowns worn at a recent gala.

Mention is frequently made of contrasting girdles, as for instance black taffeta crushed or twisted into a girdle for a pastel lace frock, the girdle ending in a flat bow at the back.

Summing up the impression of the gowns worn at this gala, most of them making their debut on the occasion, it may be stated on authority that the silhouettes affected were 1932 versions of First and Second Empire styles.

Graduation Dress Is Made of Cotton

New York, May 21 (A.P.).—With cotton in "polite society" at tea parties, weddings and balls, sweet girl graduates look upon it this spring with favor as they plan their commencement frocks. Graduation dresses are simpler in design and more girlish in effect than for several years.

Organdie is favored by younger girls and cotton laces and nets, more formal in design and with longer skirt length, by college graduates.

Ruffles and little capes, puffed sleeves and white ribbon slashes are used to trim the organdie frocks. White mousselaine is used for one demure dress with covered shoulders and a "peplum" sash.

A frock of cotton lace has a little jacket with cape sleeves, a silk sash and flowers at the bodice, and the skirt is attached to a deep yoke fitted about the hips.

Another gown of cotton net has a tucked bodice and skirt yoke and a separate jacket of the tucking with sleeves finished with ruffles.

Four-In-One Gives Quick Garb Change

Chicago, May 21 (A.P.).—Here's good news for the feminine pocketbook—the four-in-one dress that is two up on the jacketed double duty daytime and evening frocks.

This four-in-one model was found in a sports collection obviously designed and destined for the young and slender. One particular style consisted first of a white crepe tennis dress with a suntan neckline and was smartly trimmed with pearl buttons. With it came a printed silk blouse in red and white or green and white. The blouse could be worn outside or as a guimpe, turning the tennis frock into a jumper dress. And then there was a little jacket of green or red. The dress can be worn with the jacket and not the blouse.

Guimpes Modish

Paris, May 21 (A.P.).—The dimity guimpes which were worn on small girls' school frocks fifteen years ago have returned to this year's mode for modish matrons.

Many smart wool frocks are designed with a little front guimpe of white tucked or barred dimity. Most of them are detachable in order to simplify the laundry problem.

Intriguing Eyelets

Chicago, May 21 (A.P.).—And this is a season for eyelets. One can all but match the openwork in mesh gloves, hosiery, shoes, belts and hand bags. Perforations in shoes and leather accessories continue smart.

Beige Shades Chic

New York, May 21 (A.P.).—Gloves and hosiery shades are much paler in tone than during the winter. Various beige shades are favored and gray is chic, especially with blue ensembles.

The long coat of cotton or linen is to sportswear what the silk coat is to the dressier costume. Since it covers the dress completely, it may be worn with more different dresses than the short jacket. White wide wale pique or white crash linen, mixture cotton tweed or linen tweed style simply are among those types that should appeal for resort, town and travel.

Chevy Chase Club Elects New Officers

Woman's Group Again Names Mrs. Karl Fenning to Presidency.

Mrs. Karl Fenning was unanimously reelected president of the Woman's Club of Chevy Chase, Md., at the annual business meeting held in the Presbyterian Church of Chevy Chase, Wednesday. The entire ticket was renamed without change. Mrs. H. Hutson Russell was reelected first vice president and Mrs. William Orem, jr., recording secretary. Mrs. Charles D. Curtiss was elected second vice president, Mrs. Fred O. Coe, recording secretary; Mrs. Roger Whiteford, treasurer, and Mrs. Frederick M. Kerby, assistant treasurer.

A luncheon preceded the business meeting, with Mrs. Karl D. Williams as hostess. The keynote of the president's annual report was the urgent need of a club home which would facilitate and extend the club work in philanthropy, civic improvement and cultural advancement. The report of every chairman echoed this need.

Mrs. Eugene Stevens, director of the club, told of the splendid work being done in the county. Mrs. Joseph T. Maguire, recently elected recording secretary for the Maryland Federation of Women's Clubs, gave a complete report of the annual convention held in Baltimore in April. Mrs. Robert F. Griggs, chairman of the moving picture committee, urged the support of a community committee, headed by C. J. North for the betterment of moving pictures in local theaters.

Much work has been accomplished by the civics section, as was shown by the leader, Mrs. James V. Bennett, and her sub-chairmen. Mrs. Douglas Greisemer, chairman of the applied education committee gave a resume of the work covering 18 years. She said that while the local schools no longer needed the aid of the club in securing equipment as they had in previous years, they did need the interest of the club members in carrying out their projects. Early in the year this committee was instrumental in obtaining a permanent scholarship from George Washington University for the Bethesda-Chevy Chase high school. The committee also has supplied from its allotment of the club funds, $150 for books, $75 of which went to the Chevy Chase, District of Columbia, library and $50 to the Bethesda-Chevy Chase high school library. In addition, $100 was contributed to the State scholarship fund. A club scholarship of $250 and another partial one of $100 have been created. The first one has been awarded to Emily Dunbar of Somerset, the second to Peggy Duncan of East avenue, Chevy Chase, D. C. The awards were made on a basis of general scholarship and ability in extracurricula activities. Both girls are outstanding in the community.

Mrs. William Meyers, membership chairman, reported that in spite of resignations the membership of the club is now 588, an increase of 12 over last year. Forty-seven new members have been admitted to the club during the year. New members for the month are Mrs. M. H. Bletz, Mrs. Robert J. Chetham Mrs. Willis J. Nolan, Mrs. John I. Louritzen, Mrs. Clarence Dawson, jr., Mrs. Thomas M. Anderson, Mrs. Harold Burton, Mrs. Emmet D. Borden and Mrs. Dutee Smith.

Mrs. Edward Bebb, leader of the nature section, announced that $235.50 had been raised by the sale of plants, the money to be used for the Montgomery County General Hospital. Mrs. Harrison Fitts reported that although luncheon had been served to between 300 and 400 each meeting, with a record attendance of over 500 at Christmas time, she had a surplus of $115, which was given to the building fund.

Other committee chairmen reporting were Mrs. George Finch, for the social section; Mrs. Sanford Bates, legislation and resolutions; Mrs. Earl Clapp, program; Mrs. Clarence Dawson, sr., art; Mrs. Charles Pimper, printing; Mrs. Frederick Crocker, press; Mrs. Edward Smead, international relations; Mrs. Leslie Frank, French; Mrs. Arthur Hummel, literature; Mrs. George Mikkelson, building fund. Mrs. Frederick W. Crocker reported for drama in place of Mrs. Raymond Sanford, and Mrs. Harold Dotterer for music, in the absence of Mrs. J. Harry Cunningham. Every report showed the fine spirit of cooperation which has prevailed throughout the work of the year in meeting emergencies due to the present economic situation. The report of the treasurer, Miss Emma Hays Heck, showed that $1,161.75 had gone for philanthropy alone.

Mrs. J. J. Underwood, Mrs. William S. Greeley and Mrs. Joseph T. Maguire were appointed as delegates to the biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs to be held in Seattle in June.

Mrs. Edward L. Smead and other members of the international relations committee were appointed to attend the county federation meeting to be held in Sandy Spring on May 27

Mrs. J. J. Underwood, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Hazel Brown Piers, sang three delightful songs, "Cyania Mia," by Rudolf Friml; "The Wind's in the South," by John Prindle Scott, and "Lullaby," by Cyril Scott. Her encore was "A Birthday," by R. Huntington Woodman.

The culmination of the season's activities will be a garden party and "silver tea" at the home of Mrs. Roy Palmer, on Dorset avenue, on Thursday afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock. The music section will furnish the program. The arrangements are in charge of the social section and education committee. All sections are cooperating to make this function a fitting close to a happy and prosperous year. The proceeds will go to the National Symphony Orchestra guarantee fund.

Oxon Hill

Eight members of the Oxon Hill Women's Community Club attended the achievement day exercises of the county home demonstration clubs at Maryland Park School on Wednesday. They were Mrs. Henry Kerby, Mrs. Wentworth C. Jones, Mrs. R. J. Campbell, Mrs. William W. Cohen, Mrs. Leo Langley, Mrs. F. S. Hungerford, Mrs. William H. Cusick and Mrs. C. E. Janes. Each club had a part on the program, and Mrs. William H. Cusick sang a song in honor of Miss Regan, home demonstration agent, as the contribution of the Oxon Hill Club.

There will be a memorial dance at the Oxon Hill School Auditorum on next Saturday for the benefit of the school.

The Dramatic Club of the Oxon Hill High School will repeat its entertainment on Tuesday, in the school auditorium. The program consists of a play, a pantomime, and humorous readings and songs.

The members of the junior and senior classes of Oxon Hill High School enjoyed a banquet at the Arlington Hotel on last Tuesday.

CHEVY CHASE CLUB OFFICERS

Post Staff Photo

Newly elected officers of the Woman's Club of Chevy Chase. Left to right, seated—Mrs. Karl Fenning, president; Mrs. William L. Orem, jr., corresponding secretary. Standing—Mrs. E. H. Russell, first vice president, and Mrs. Charles D. Curtiss, second vice president.

Daughters of America

The members of Esther Council, No. 20, D. of A., and Reno Council, No. 46, of the local Jr. O. U. A. M., have been invited to be the guests at the religious services tonight at 8 o'clock at the Eldbrooke M. E. Church, Wisconsin avenue and River road northwest, of which Dr. Michael is the pastor.

Massing of the colors of patriotic orders will be held on Sunday, May 29, at the Sylvan Theater. Both the United States Marine and Army Bands will assist.

At the last meeting of Independent Council, No. 2, Mrs. Helen Keys, the councilor, presided. New officers were nominated. Visitors of the evening included State Councilor Mrs. Mabel G. Downing and her associate, Mrs. Emma Brooks. Both gave very interesting remarks. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Hattie M. Miller, chairlady.

Kenilworth Council No. 13 convened Tuesday evening with Councilor Virginia Adair in the chair. Nomination of officers was held Plans were discussed about the Bicentennial parade. Paul Dallman displayed a uniform, hat and belt to be worn by Kenilworth Council in the parade. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by our hostesses, Helen Gibson, Etta Kraft and Jane Frei.

Fidelity Council No. 4 convened Tuesday evening with the councilor, Mrs. Eleanor Risdon presiding. Miss Marjorie Jones spoke concerning the sale of an ice tea set May 24 for the benefit of the orphans' department and funds. Mrs. Cora Jones spoke in reference to the banner which is to be made for the parade on June 4. Mrs. Ollie Montgomery, State council warden of Golden Rule Council, No. 10, and Mrs. Ida Kerper, of Old Glory Council No. 12 gave interesting remarks.

The Past Councilors' Association of Esther Council No. 20 met in the home of Mrs. Addie Benson, Cabin John, Md., with the largest attendance the association has had yet. The caravan was comprised of seven automobiles filled to the capacity with past officers and several friends. There was only a brief session, after which games were indulged in. A delightful supper was served by the hostess, Mrs. Benson, who was ably assisted by Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Henley.

Martha Dandridge Council, No. 1, convened last Tuesday evening with the councilor, Madeline Frye, presiding. This council is planning an entertainment, to conclude with dancing, at the Northeast Masonic Temple on Tuesday evening, May 24. The members are invited to assist the mother council to put this affair over big. The Bicentennial committee of the council has been reported working hard on their float and arrangements for their part in the big parade June 4. During a short recess, Mr. Samuel Hubacher, of Anacostia Council, No. 16, Jr. O. U. A. M., gave the assembly a splendid talk. A donation was given for flowers for the memorial services and after nomination of officers the meeting was closed, after which the members and their friends met in the auditorium, where an old-fashioned square dance was enjoyed.

Golden Rule Council, No. 10, convened Friday evening with Mrs. Mignonette Harman, councilor, presiding. Nomination of officers took place and the unwritten work was given in a very impressive manner by Mrs. Ella Burneley, inside sentinel. Arrangements were made for a delegation of more than twenty members from this council to make an inspection tour through the Smith's Storage for the benefit of our orphans' department. The councilor, Mrs. Harman, welcomed Mr. Walter Harman, State outside sentinel of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics, also Mr. C. A. King, both members of Eagle Council, No. 9, Juniors, who gave a fifteen-minute talk relative to the plans for the parade, as outlined by the Bicentennial committee. A committee was appointed to visit delinquent members not attending the meeting and to urge them to participate in the parade. This council made donations toward amplifiers to be used at the dance on Constitution avenue on June 4, also for flowers to be used at the memorial service, Sunday night, May 29. There was an unusually good attendance present at the meeting, including visitors from Loyalty, Pride of Washington and Old Glory Councils. Remarks were made by Mrs. Guinette Brennan and Mrs. Helen Streitz, two former color bearers of this council, also our deputy, Mrs. Cora Thompson. Since the organizing of a kitchen band last Friday evening by several members of this council, this group of entertainers have had several engagements in and around the city. At the close of the meeting, Mrs. Bessie Hixson, assistant chairman of the entertainment committee, presented the kitchen band as a surprise, who rendered several musical selections. Mrs. Nellie F. Teeple is the director and Mr. Leroy Risler is the leader.

Triumph Council, No. 8, was called to order on Thursday evening by the councilor, Mrs. Agnes Barbour. Mrs. Louise Schwenk made report on the Bicentennial meeting. Plans are in progress for the celebration of the council's anniversary, which occurs this month. The young people of this council are planning another dance for the near future. The first reading of the council's new by-laws was read by the secretary, J. William Schwenk. Continuation of nomination of officers was held Thursday evening. Mrs. Louis Schwenk, past State councilor, received the penny march prize and Mrs. Peake was appointed in Mrs. Burke's place on the relief committee. At the conclusion of the meeting coffee and sandwiches were enjoyed by all.

Esther Council, No. 20, will reopen nomination of officers at the meeting of the council May 25 and the degrees will be conferred on several candidates. The council will also have the new beautiful flags and the members of the drill team will have their new uniforms.

The regular meeting of Anacostia Council, No. 14, held Wednesday evening was conducted by the councilor, Mrs. Bertha Hubacher. Initiation was set for the meeting of June 1. The parade for June 4 was the outstanding topic. Members are urged to turn out to parade; also the massing of the colors on May 29 at the Syylvan Theater and the memorial service Sunday, May 29, at 8 p. m., at the Ingram Memorial Church, Tenth and Massachusetts avenue northeast Edna Dyer made report on committee on caps and she was appointed by the councilor to purchase the caps and belts for the parade. Two flag bearers and one banner holder were also appointed.

Brief addresses were made by the past State councilors, Mrs. Fannie Joyner, deputy; Mrs. Ethel E. Burroughs, Mrs. Mary P. James and past councilors Mrs. Ella Smith, Mrs. Pearl Torney, Mrs. Roy Thomas and Howard Beall, at the last meeting of Anacostia Council, No. 14, which was devoted to a Mother's Day program. Mrs. Ethel Burroughs and Mrs. Mary Plumb rendered vocal selections. Tableaux were presented, as follows: To represent "The Life of a Child"—mother, holding baby, Mrs. Bertha Hubacher, with solo, "Rock-a-Bye Baby," by Mrs. Mary Plumb; "School Days" was presented by Miss Gertrude Thomas and Jack Lainhart, with solo, "School Days," by Mrs. Plumb; "A Graduate"—Miss Alice Fowler, with solo, "Little Red School House," by Mrs. Ethel Burroughs; "Bride"—Miss Dorothy Steivers, vocal solo, "I Love You Truly," Ethel Burroughs, and "Mother," Mrs. Helen Stevens, and vocal selection, "Mother," by Mrs. Plumb. Mrs. Mary Torney was presented a beautiful basket of flowers, she being the oldest mother present, while Mrs. Lillie Hazel was presented a bouquet, she being the mother present with the largest family living. Prayer was offered by Mrs. Torney and refreshments were served.

With a favorable report from the committee of Mizpah Council, No. 3, Thursday evening, balloting for candidates was in order and Mrs. Katherine Baum, presiding officer declared Mrs. Anna Riedicil, Mrs. Florence Hanley and Mrs. Laura May Stepp elected to receive the membership degrees. Capt. Naomi Swann advised the members of the drill team that initiation will take place on Thursday evening, May 26. Mrs. Eula Barnette gave an outline of the parade and dance on June 4. Plans for a float have been completed.

Mizpah's sewing circle will hold its next meeting at the home of Mrs. Mary Bauer on Thirty-third street northwest on Wednesday, May 25.

Colesville

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Woodward had as their dinner guests on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wright and Mr. and Mrs. Willie Wright, of Burtonsville.

Miss Virginia Dean, of Beltsville, Md., and Mr. Sherman, of Colesville, were married on last Saturday evening by the Rev. Melvin Lederer, of Burtonsville, at the parsonage.

Miss Gertrude O'Keefe and sister were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ermin Harding on Sunday.

The Rev. and Mrs. Howard Monroe, of Spencerville, were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Woodward on Monday, after which the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Monroe and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Woodward attended the revival services of Mr. Gypsy Smith at Rockville.

Mr. Donald Hobbs, of Colesville, and Miss Mary Sweeney, of Washington were married on Wednesday in Washington.

Curley Club And Singers Hold Meeting

Catholic U. Group's Concert Is Feature; First Hike This Afternoon.

Members of the Glee Club of the Catholic University of America were guests of the Curley Club at an entertainment and dance, following the regular business meeting of the organization Thursday evening in the Continental Hotel. The glee club, under the personal direction of Dr. Leo Behrendt, who organized the musical organization nearly ten years ago, entertained with an excellent program of classical and popular numbers, the concert taking place on the mezzanine amidst ideal surroundings.

During the evening the following program was rendered: "Morning" (Olay Speaks), "Chorus of Bacchanales" (Gounod), "Thou Art Repose" (Schubert), "Joshua Fit de Balls of Jericho" (Negro spiritual), "Month of Maying" (Morley), English folk song; "The Scissors Grinder" (Juntsz), "Italian Street Song" from the operetta, "Naughty Marietta" (Victor Herbert); "Rantin' Rarin' Robin."

During the concert Mr. William Hannan rendered the tenor solo parts to several of the numbers, while Frank J. Brennan accompanied the glee club on the piano. The Catholic University Glee Club is one of the outstanding musical organizations of the city, and ranks first among glee clubs in colleges throughout the country.

Later in the evening Earl Grimes, who has been playing a leading role in one of the Schubert companies playing the "Student Prince," entertained with several vocal selections. Mr. Grimes was accompanied at the piano by Miss Gretchen Baden. Refreshments were served and dancing continued until midnight.

The first hike of the season, under auspices of the Curley Club, will be held this afternoon, members and friends of the club assembling at Key Bridge, Georgetown, for a 5-mile hike up the towpath to Chain Bridge, where refreshments will be enjoyed. Charles Ziehl, chairman of the athletic committee, is in charge of arrangements for the hike.

The next meeting of the Curley Club will be held Thursday evening at the Continental Hotel, when an entertainment incidental to the tenth anniversary of the founding of the organization will be enjoyed, following the regular business meeting.

Fairfax

Dr. S. R. Donohoe, of Norfolk, who has been in Fairfax on a short visit with his sisters, Mrs. F. Shield McCandlish and Mrs. George R. Robey, has returned home.

Mrs. Mark Turner, of Forestville, and Mrs. Harmon Roberts, of Mount Vernon, will represent the Home Demonstration Advisory Council at the annual meeting of the Homemakers' Association at Blacksburg this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Felton, of New Hampshire, were week-end guests last week of Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Cooper.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. McCaffrey, of Washington, were recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Carne.

Miss Mary Walters has been elected president of the McLean Library Association, Mrs. U. S. Walters, vice president; Mrs. Henry C. Mackall, secretary; Mrs. Hunter Mack, treasurer, and Mrs. Albert Mack, librarian.

Mrs. William E. Earl entertained the members of the Garden Club, of Fairfax, at her home on Tuesday. G. Rothwell Brown gave a talk on the cultivation of herbs.

Miss Mary Cooper has returned from a two weeks visit with her brother, Dan Cooper, in New York City.

Mrs. W. Peyton Moncure has returned from a visit with her niece, Mrs. George Bradfield, in Washington.

The Fairfax Hunt Club gave the first in a series of dances at its club house at Sunset Hills Saturday night.

Farmerette

LUCY FRANKLIN.

Eldom, Mo., May 21 (A.P.).—Miss Lucy Franklin, 25-year-old partner in a Missouri farm, who claims direct descent from Benjamin Franklin, is a candidate for the Republican nomination for State representative from Miller County.

In her spare time she is studying law.

Clubs' Board Hears Report Of Activities

Maryland Federation Unit's Convention Delegates Are Instructed.

The first meeting of the new board of directors of the Maryland Federation of Women's Clubs was held on Tuesday at 10:30 a. m. in the Home Economics Building, University of Maryland.

Mrs. Rudolph S. Allen, the president, gave an interesting report of federation activities since the annual meeting in April, and announced the appointment of several departmental and standing committee chairmen.

Delegates to the twenty-first biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, to be held in Seattle, Wash., June 9 to 18, were instructed by the board.

It was announced that poetry week will be observed May 22 to 29, inclusive.

Following the meeting, the members of the board were entertained as luncheon guests of the University of Maryland.

Speakers at the tables were Mrs. R. S. Allen, who was in charge of the program; Dr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Pearson, Prof. H. C. Byrd, Dr. T. B. Symons and Miss Adele Stamp, dean of women.

Miss Stamp extended an invitation to the guests to attend the annual May day frolic on the campus at 3:30 p. m., which colorful entertainment was entitled, "The Harp of the White Thorn Tree," and was presented in three episodes by juniors of the university, under the direction of Miss Elizabeth R. Phillips, with music directed by Miss Phoebe Steffey.

Jewish Center Girls To Hold Play Contest

The annual play contest given by the Girls Club of the Jewish Community Center will be held tomorrow and Tuesday evenings in the Cafritz Auditorium of the Jewish Community Center. The clubs competing in the senior group tomorrow evening are the Shoshanah Club, Las Amigas, the D. P. S. and the Esther Club. In the junior group Tuesday evening will be Hatikvah, Napthali, Blue Star and Dr. Helfgott Clubs.

Among the judges will be Mrs. Yvonne Levy Kushner, Eleanore Wilson, Lucy Ann Rogers and William E. Bryant. The public is invited.

Sensible and Suitable Styles Make Girls of 1932 Alluring

Continued from Page 5.

in surplice style with short sleeves. With this Mrs. Chewning wears a black wrapped turban of silk and a swagger beige sport coat.

Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt wore at one of the governor's events in the Philippines an evening dress of white taffeta made with a fitted bodice and flounced skirt. Miss Grace Roosevelt had on at this party a dress of pink chiffon. Miss Roosevelt wore at one of the functions a lovely costume of native design with the wide sleeves of the women of fashion of Manilla and the quaint cut of the long-trained skirt trimmed with a rarely beautiful lace.

Miss Teresa Saul, daughter of Mrs. B. F. Saul, looked very smart at an out-of-town event in a cape suit of beige silk. With this she wore a small beige straw hat.

Mrs. Chester Lockwood is wearing a dress of black crepe silk with dainty collar and cuffs of lace. With this she wears a black coat with a scarf collar.

Mrs. Alexander Gregg looked very smart at a luncheon in a spring-like dress of Alice blue crepe flowered in tiny white flowers. With this she wore a navy-blue hat and navy-blue slippers.

Mrs. Charles Parker Stone had on recently a dress of white chiffon flewered in blue and made in coat effect with a white jabot of chiffon closing the coat at the neckline over a white chiffon blouse. With this she wore a rather wide-brimmed straw hat.

Mrs. John A. Hinckley is wearing a dress of white silk with a conventional design of navy blue. With this she wears a navy blue hat trimmed in white.

Mrs. Alexander B. Hanger is wearing a suit of tweed silk in rose and green, with a cream chiffon blouse and a hat of green straw. At a dinner party Mrs. Hagner wore a white chiffon dress with a wide flared skirt and surplice bodice tied at one side of the waistline.

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson was seen one day last week in a summery sport costume composed of a white crepe silk dress and a black tailored coat faced in white. With this she wore a sport hat of black and white and black and white sport shoes. At a dinner party Mrs. Wilson wore a lovely dress of black lace and chiffon over white chiffon. This has a slight train.

Mrs. Tracy Dows was seen strolling on Connecticut avenue recently in a very smart suit of dark cloth made on strictly tailored lines. With this she wore a white satin blouse and a silver fox fur. Her hat is a narrow crowned black straw one with a slight brim.

Mrs. Russell William Magna, the new president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution, is wearing a becoming costume of dark blue silk with a lighter shade chiffon blouse. Her hat is of blue straw with touches of tiny blue flowers.

Mrs. Adam Wynant wore at a recent dinner a dress of black lace and chiffon over a chiffon, made with a draped neckline and a full long skirt.

Mrs. James J. Davis is wearing a spring ensemble of blue silk with a blue blouse and small blue hat.

The pastel shades of the current mode show at their best in the spectator sport frocks of crepe de chine and silk and linen and cotton. Soft pinks and blues and lavenders and greens and yellows look very fetching and very cool. Most of these follow the sport frock of recent years except that all of them have some kind of sleeve or cape sleeve arrangement. Dresses of this type are worn with matching hats of silk or straw with shallow crowns and narrow drooping brims.

The vogue for cotton and linen gives much opportunity for the tailored convertible suit, which is good for the spectator at sport events as well as the participants for when the chic little coats are removed a very presentable sport dress is disclosed.

To match the pastel sport dresses and tailored sport suits, the summer sport coats and wraps are also of pastel shades.

The woman who plans to spend at least part of the summer in Washington provides herself with many white costumes, for they seem to fit into the background of the National Capital. This summer with the high note of fashion being cotton, the woman who likes to look well and freshly groomed will adopt white wash frocks.

Since white is so much in demand for dresses the question of white footwear is an important one. The well-dressed woman this season chooses one of the many types of white sandals of basket weave. Some of the open-work effect white shoes are unlined, but are so well made that they keep their shape and are really as cool as they look.

Relief Corps Will Honor Dead Today

Burnside Group's Memorial Services to Sea Victims to Be Observed.

Burnside Corps, No. 4, Woman's Relief Corps, held its meeting on Wednesday last at Woodmen Hall, 935 Grant place, with its president, Miss Mary Howarth, in the chair.

Two applications for membership were read and the investigating committees appointed. An appropriation of money was made to assist in the rehabilitation of the Peterson House where Abraham Lincoln died. The Woman's Relief Corps has the privilege of furnishing a room in period style in this house.

Burnside's members will be present at the memorial exercises to be held on the steamer General Rucker today at 1:30 p. m. The steamer will leave the War College wharf and go down the Potomac River, scattering flowers on its way in memory of those who lost their lives at sea. Burnside's colors will be present at the massing of colors at the Sylvan Theater next Sunday at 2:30 p. m. These colors will be carried by Mrs. Rosalie McKee Shelton, Miss Frieda Frederick, Miss Adelaide Foster and Mrs. Josephine Grimsley.

Burnside's members also will participate in the memorial services held in memory of the airmen on the Key Bridge next Sunday at 2:30 p. m. These exercises are held each year by Mrs. Mary M. North, the originator. Mrs. North is past department president and a member of Burnside.

Mrs. Nettie Lyons, Mrs. Stella Buxton and Mrs. Susan McClure are leaving the city for several months. Mrs. Buxton has been ill for the last two years and has gone North to recuperate. Mrs. Lyons and Mrs. McClure accompanied her.

Out of respect for the late Dr. Tindall, commander of the Grand Army, Department of the Potomac, who died recently, Burnside's membership stood in silent prayer. Resolutions of sympathy are to be sent to Mrs. Caroline Burrows, past senior vice president of Burnside Corps, upon the recent death of her mother. Burnside's next meeting, on June 19, will be called at 7:30. After a short business meeting a social will follow.

Memorial services will be held on Sunday, May 29, at 2 p. m. at Glenwood, St. Mary's and Prospect Hill Cemeteries. The services will be sponsored by Kit Carson Woman's Relief Corps, under the direction of Mrs. Mary H. Wingate.

On Memorial Day the exercises at the Tomb of the Unknown of the Civil War will be in charge of the department president, Mrs. Louise Watson, her staff of officers assisting. All organizations will assemble at the Arlington Mansion at 10:30 a. m. and march to the tomb, where the exercises will begin promptly at 11 a. m. All allied organizations have been invited to participate.

Point of Rocks

Mr. and Mrs. Gideon W. Lilly, Middletown, Va., were guests on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs I. B. Stunkle, parents of Mrs. Lilly

A Mothers' Day social was held in the basement of the Methodist Episcopal Church last Friday evening. Proceeds from the sale of refreshments were for the benefit of the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mullican and children, Edward, jr., Marguerite and Ann Victoria, of Frederick, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hartman on Sunday.

Misses Barbara Hickman and Jean Tuck and Mr. David Hickman, members of the Frederick High School Glee Club, participated in the choral festival given at the Frederick City Opera House on Firday night. This event is given annually by the music department of Frederick High School.

Mr. J. J. McCabe, assistant train master of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, is still in a critical condition at the University Hospital in Baltimore.

Mr. and Mrs. Henderson Sanders and young son were recent visitors for several days at the home of Mr and Mrs. William Stewart.

Mrs. I. B. Stunkle is visiting Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Mossen in Atlantic City. Mrs. Mossen before her marriage was Miss Edna Stunkle.

Announcement was recently made of the marriage of Miss Mildred Compher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Compher, and Mr. James Loy, of Lucketts, Va., son of Mrs. Mary E. Loy and the late Mr. Loy. The ceremony was performed in the parsonage of the Faith Chapel Presbyterian Church by the Rev. F. W. Osburn, pastor of that church. Mrs. Loy, for the past several years, has been employed in the postoffice here. Mr. Loy is in the employ of the State of Virginia. They will reside in Lucketts.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Titus motored to Aldie, Va., on Sunday.

Miss Ocale Wright has returned after visiting Miss Carmen Shrack in Coatsville, Pa. She was accompanied by Miss Lucy Kuykendall, Washington.

Mr. C. C. Mullen, Grafton, W. Va., motored here on Sunday. Mrs. Mullen and young son, Lysle, who were here for several days visiting relatives, will continue their stay. Mr. Mullen, who is in the engineering department of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, was recently transferred from Aberdeen, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Magaha were in Baltimore last Sunday to see their son, Charles W. Magaha, who is attached to the flying squadron of the Maryland State Police.

The Woman's Club met last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lawrence E. Sigafoose, with ten of the membership present. The program, in charge of Mrs. Walter Spittle, was on public welfare with members participating in the program. Mrs. A. B. Fisher read a report of the executive board meeting of the Federation of Rural Woman's Clubs, of which she is local director. The next meeting of the club will be at the home of Mrs. George F. Stunkel on Wednesday, at which time Mrs. Thomas P. Scally will have charge of a fine arts program.

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Frye, of Hagerstown, were guests on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David L. Frye.

Mrs. Mary E. Hickman is expected to return this week from Frederick where she has been convalescing from a recent illness at the home of her daughter, Mrs. G. O. Paxson.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gosnell were week-end visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Loy.

Speaks Pieces

ILA VERE BEYNON.

Columbus, Ohio, May 21 (A.P.). When Ila Vere Beynon was about so high, the neighbors used to stand her up on a chair or piano bench and urge again and again, "speak a piece."

There was no reluctance on Ila Vere's part. She would knit a babyish brow and lisp off a verse in sober fashion. There would be many admiring "ohs" and "ahs," and then she would recite something else from a surprisingly large repertoire.

Now—a 16-year-old Amsterdam, Ohio, high school girl—Ila Vere is Ohio's champion in a State-wide verse speaking contest.

She dreams of Broadway.

Candidates Initiated by Catholic Unit

District Court of Daughters Honors Bethesda Pastor During Ceremony.

The beautiful initiation ceremonies of the Catholic Daughters of America were exemplified in an impressive manner Tuesday evening when a class of candidates were received into the local court.

Mrs. Mary B Kelly, vice State regent of Maryland, was assisted by Miss Frances McDermott, grand regent of Court Kavanagh, Alexandria, Va. Mrs. Mary Hunter, grand regent of Court Our Lady of Lourdes, Bethesda, Md.; Mrs. Frances Brennan, grand regent of Court Forest Glen, and the officers of their courts. The musical program was under direction of Miss Josephine Walsh; the chorus in charge of Miss Kitty Ruppert and Miss Florence Hosford; solos were given by Mrs. Barbee. The candidates and guests were welcomed in the name of Court 212 by Miss Mary C. Boland, grand regent.

The Rev James J. O'Connor, pastor of Our Lady of Lourdes Church at Bethesda, Md., was an honored guest. Merit pins were presented to Miss Mary O'Connor, Mrs. Anna Cunningham, Miss Loretto Creahen and Mrs. Margaret Mork; and in appreciation of her aid and cooperation a pendant was given to Miss Mary Baldwin, a member of the organization from Los Angeles, Calif. Under direction of Miss Loretto Creahen, a musical and dance program was given by well-known local artists The home and assembly hall was elaborately decorated by the decoration committee—Mrs. Alberta Jones, chairman; Miss Mary McMahon and Miss Ruth Doyle.

Thursday evening the Rev. Francis P. Lyons, C. S. P., spiritual director of the Converts League, was principal speaker and guest of honor. The Catholic University Glee Club, under the direction of Dr. Leo Behrendt, gave a program of exceptional merit that was enthusiastically received by the large audience. A letter was received from the most Rev. P. Fumasoni-Biondi, apostolic delegate, congratulating Father Francis Lyons and the Catholic Daughters on the success of their work in the Converts League. Miss Mary C. Duffy, supreme regent, also sent greetings. Miss Florence Winter, chairman, presided.

Leesburg Society Activities Reported

Special to The Washington Post.

Leesburg, Va., May 21.—Among those attending the meeting of the Garden Club of Virginia which was held at Richmond were Mrs. Moncure Lyon, president of Leesburg Garden Club; Mrs. Eleanor Chamberlain, Mrs. Richard Wainwright, Miss Mary Conrad and Mrs. Thomas Fendall, representing the Fauquier-Loudoun Garden Club, also one of the vice presidents of the Garden Club of Virginia.

Miss Betty Craighill is attending a house party given by Miss Deo duPont, of Atlantic City.

Mrs. Charles O. Tittman and daughter, of Washington, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Tittman.

The Rev. and Mrs. G. P. Craighill have been in Richmond this week attending the Episcopal Council in session there.

Mrs. William C. Galleher, of Philadelphia, was the guest last week of Mrs. W. R. Galleher.

Mrs. Robert R. Walker is visiting her daughter, Mrs. George Durfey, in Chicago.

Misses Margaret and Nancy Rust entertained the bridge club on Friday.

Mrs. S. M. Kier and son, of Pittsburgh, have been the recent guests of Miss Elizabeth White.

Mrs. Grace Ashton, Miss Grace Ashton, Miss Alice Neaker, Messrs. Robert Ashton and Samuel Hawkins, of Washington, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Slack.

Miss Jennie Cline has opened her home for the summer after spending the winter with relatives in East Orange, N. J.

Mrs. Adin Laycock has returned home after spending the winter in Warrenton and Washington.

Miss Ida Beuchler, of Baltimore, has been a recent guest of Mrs. W. R. Galleher.

Miss Flossie Giddings is visiting her sister, Mrs. Edward Martin, in Washington.

Mrs. Charles Harrison was hostess to the two-table bridge club on Tuesday.

Mrs. E. V. White and Miss Helen Pittman were hostesses at bridge on Monday.

Mrs. William Cox and child spent the week-end with her mother, Mrs. T. W. Edwards.

Woman's Club Of Kensington Has Luncheon

Mrs. J. Harry Cunningham Is Guest of Honor at Annual Affair.

The annual luncheon of the Woman's Club of Kensington, held last Friday at Mrs. K's Toll House, was a delightful affair and was attended by 36 members and several guests. Mrs. Henry M. Milburn, president, acted as toastmistress.

Mrs. J. Harry Cunningham, a charter member (formerly of Kensington), of Chevy Chase, was the guest of honor. She wore the corsage of talisman roses sent to her by her son-in-law and daughter, Prof. and Mrs. Elden Hartshorn, of Dartmouth University. The centerpiece was the coach won by Mrs. Harry McGinniss, of Kensington, in the Fisher Body contest. It was surrounded by snapdragons, carnations and pink tulips

The guest artist was Kenneth Frisbie, pianist, of Washington. Among the numbers he played were: "Why?" "Whims," "Soaring," "The Shadow Dance," by MacDowell, and selections from Grieg. Mrs. E. J. Wakefield, soprano, sang "May Time" and "I Know a Lovely Garden." She was accompanied by Mrs. Thomas Tremearne. Both wore colonial costumes. Mrs. Tremearne played a piano medley, selections from the "Link of Notions," and an operetta by Mrs. Cunningham, and club chorus, "Dara, Dara, Give Me Your Answer True."

Mrs. Milburn gave her "greeting" and spoke of Mrs. Cunningham's relation to the club. She then recited "Paul Revere's Ride" and introduced "Six Minute Men," Mrs. Philip Herrmann, Mrs. George W. Ashworth, Mrs. William L. Lewis, Mrs. Harry C. Armstrong, Miss Annie Wilson and Miss Annie Gayley. Each gave a one-minute tribute to Mrs. Cunningham.

The club historian, Mrs. Frank T. Chapman, gave a talk on the club's activities during the past year.

Miss Anna C. Reinhardt extended an invitation to the members to attend the commencement to be held at her private school for deaf children on June 11.

The guests were Mrs. Fred Graff, Mrs. James T. Marshall, Mrs. Philip Herrmann, Miss Annie Wilson, Mrs. Fred Kullmar, Mrs. Herbert Filer and Mrs. M. B. Drum, of Gettysburg.

The delegates elected to attend the spring meeting of the Montgomery County Federation of Women's Clubs, to be held at Sandy Spring Friday, are: Mrs. Wilson L. Townsend, Mrs. Edward A. Farrell and Miss Annie Gayley; alternates are Mrs. Frederick W. Brown and Mrs. Hosmer Hartshorn.

The annual meeting will be held on June 3 at the home of Mrs. L. M. Cleveland, Bladensburg road, Kensington. A box luncheon will be held.

Mrs. Wilbur N. Baughman was hostess to members when the last regular monthly meeting was held. Mrs. W. L. Townsend had charge of the program. Her subject was "Maryland Poets." Among those she mentioned were Edgar Allan Poe, born in Massachusetts but claimed by Maryland; Francis Scott Key, Maria Briscoe Crocker, author of "Dorothy, Gift o' God," and several others.

Tea was served by the hostess.

Berryville

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Levi have just announced the marriage of their oldest daughter, Marion, to Mr. Richard Morrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Llewellyn Morrison, of Washington, which took place at Rockville, Md., Friday. Mrs. Morrison is a member of a prominent family of Clarke County, the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Levi, of Woodley; a graduate of the local high school and Mary Baldwin College, of Staunton, and of the Columbia School of Nursing at Washington. Mr. and Mrs. Morrison will make their future home in Washington.

Miss Audrey Fritts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Fritts, of Clarke County, will be married to Mr. Charles Chamblin Funkhouser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Funkhouser, of White Post, on Tuesday evening, in Meade Memorial Episcopal Church. The Rev. Arthur Ribble, a former pastor of the church, will perform the ceremony. Miss Fritts has been extensively entertained this past week, Mrs. Frank Conley and Mrs. Arthur Ribble being joint hostesses at a tea and linen shower in her honor Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Conley. Last night Miss Elizabeth Lee entertained at bridge in honor of Miss Fritts. Other guests included Mrs. Frank Conley, Miss Kathryn Funkhouser, Miss Elizabeth Fritts, Miss Rebecca Earle, Miss Elizabeth Blackwell and Miss Lola Funkhouser. Misses Reba and Ruth Berlin also entertained in honor of Miss Fritts with a tea and a miscellaneous shower at their home in Berryville. Yesterday afternoon Misses Lola and Kathryn Funkhouser, sisters of the groom, entertained at a large tea in honor of the bride-elect.

Miss Portia Baldwin, of Norfolk, and Miss Mary O'Fallon, of St. Louis, are guests of Miss Annie Stribling at her home on South Church street. Miss Baldwin expects to return to Norfolk this week, but Miss O'Fallon expects to remain here with Miss Stribling through the summer.

Mrs. John B. Neill and her son, Mr. Lewis Neill, were the week-end guests of Mrs. Neill's sister, Mrs. E. L. Eustaphieve, at her home in Charlottesville, Va.

Mrs. Charles Consolvo, of Baltimore, has opened her summer home in Millwood and had as her dinner guests last night Mrs. George H. Burwell, Mrs. Kennedy Edsall and Mrs. Courtney B. Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Mitchell will have as their guest at their home, The Glen, Miss Isabelle Cameron, who has been spending some time in New York. Miss Cameron is expected to arrive Thursday.

Miss Annie Vandergrift, of Gloucester, who is the guest of her cousin, Mrs. Hugh M. Nelson, at her home, Long Branch, was the luncheon guest Wednesday of Mrs. H. B. Gilpin at her home in Winchester, Va.

The Blue Ridge Country Club was informally opened for the season last Saturday afternoon. Mr. Roy Rutherford is again the golf instructor for the season.

Miss Juliette B. Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Courtney B. Jones, who has for the past three years been in training at the Emergency Hospital in Washington, will receive her diploma at the closing exercises on Wednesday.

Those from Clarke County who are attending the annual council of the Episcopal Church of the Diocese of Virginia being held in Richmond this week are the Rev. Dr. Louis Tucker and H. B. Whiting, of Grace Episcopal Church, Berryville, and the Rev. B. Duval Chambers and R. G. Mitchell, of Christ Church, Millwood.

Club Members Planning Many New Activities

Out-of-Door Meetings, Hikes, Picnics and Sightseeing Trips Are Scheduled.

By VYLLA POE WILSON.

The end of the season activities of the local and national woman's organizations have gained impetus as final plans for the summer and checking up on the winter's progress goes on apace at final meetings and committee conferences.

Since Washington club and organization headquarters are often times clearing houses or information bureaus for national issues for women organizations and groups throughout the country, vacation time does not mean here an actual suspension of the work especially in this year of national conventions and presidential elections.

Even the women who expect to go on vacations this year will make the great political conventions in Chicago and the conventions of organizations of women part of their summer itinerary.

In the meantime the many organizations of women in business and professions and Government executives who must keep their houses in order in the summer as well as in the winter have many plans for summertime out-of-door meetings and picnics, hikes and cruises down the river.

So many women who take part in national and local affairs of women have estates or country or suburban homes about Washington that many of the organizations and local clubs are invited to meet at these homes at forum dinners, luncheons and even breakfasts.

Many of the clubs will follow their custom of other years and entertain at picnics, bus and boat rides for children in the Washington institutions.

Some of the women's organizations interested in District legislation, will hold "adjourned meetings" in the galleries of the House and Senate when District measures are being discussed.

One of the high lights of the out-of-door programs of the local women's club this summer will be visits to historic spots and gardens about Washington.

Some of the clubs plan to take groups of boys and girls with them in order that they may have the opportunity to see these historic spots in the Bicentennial summer of the Birth of George Washington.

With a realization that the busy women engaged in business and profession or Government work in Washington do not have time to really enjoy the interesting places in the Capital, many of the clubs will arrange sight seeing trips each week during the summer.

Some of the tour of inspection of the Washington places of interest will form the themes for reports and club discussions in the winter time.

Of course the national presidents of women's organizations look forward to visit the member organizations in the States and cities during the summer. To be the head of a great woman's organization means many miles of travel and many speeches and many hours of work.

Gamma Delphians

At the meeting of the Gamma Chapter of the Delphian Society at the Shoreham Hotel on May 16 Miss Kathryn Wood led the study of the paintings of Ghirlandajo and Botticelli. Mrs. Henry Judson Sears discussed "Florence of the Medici" and told of the strong influence of this family on Florentine art and culture. Miss Irene Westerman reviewed Pater's "Estimate of Botticelli," and Miss Mary G. Wolford gave an interesting resume of "Italian Painting to the Year 1500." Mrs. Elizabeth Richards Davidson made the study of Ghirlandajo's "The Last Supper," "Old Man and Child" and other paintings most interesting by personal comments and by the use of lovely copies of these paintings which were loaned by the Library of Congress. Miss Julia Moore Gilbert also used colored copies of Botticelli's "Allegory of Spring," "Calumny" and the "Birth of Venus" in her interesting and intelligent interpretation of the artist's ideas as expressed by these paintings. Mrs. O. N. Fansler gave interesting current events on art. Mrs. Esma Maybee Lachowicz summarized the work of the evening. She said that critics of all ages have expended the most scathing criticism upon Ghirlandajo, but that he was really a stepping stone for those great artists who followed. Through his work we have a picture of Florence of that time with her smug satisfaction and contentment. Ghirlandajo's "Last Supper" is lacking in any emotional or spiritual qualities. Botticelli's life was almost colorless and his days were ended in a religious melancholia, but he was able to catch the secret motives of his subjects and revealed their souls. It is only comparatively recently that his work has been appreciated. He was a poetic and a visionary painter.

The one joint social activity of the year given by the five Delphian Chapters in the city was a banquet held on May 10 at the Shoreham Hotel. At this function Mrs. Evelyn Bright Buckley, past president of Gamma Chapter, was responsible for the entertainment which was a delightfully clever and novel two-act play, "The Delphian Prescription," given by members selected from each chapter. This play is the work of Mrs. Buckley.

Gamma Chapter will visit the Monastery and the Shrine at the Catholic University at 2:30 p. m., May 21, in order to study the paintings there. This pilgrimage is in connection with the year's work on art.

The next meeting of Gamma Chapter will be held at 8:15 p. m. at the Shoreham Hotel on May 23, when Miss Lulu G. Adams will be the leader. "The Zenith of Florentine Painting" is the subject to be discussed. The speakers will be Miss Alice Cushman, Miss Clara Dickerson, Mrs. O. N. Fansler, Mrs. Ella G. Prescott and Mrs. E. Emerson Snyder. The studies of pictures will be made by Mrs. Jessie Krause, Miss Olive Newbold and Miss Emma Hoffer. Mrs. Bertram C. Moore will present "Current Events on Art."

Hard Hearing League

The Washington League for the Hard of Hearing will have a small delegation of representatives at the annual conference of the American Federation of Organizations for the Hard of Hearing. Miss Frances H. Downes, the national champion, will defend her title in the annual lip reading contest to be held at this conference. Miss Ada Hill recently made a trip to Philadelphia to supervise an exhibit of the activities of the American Federation of Organizations for the Hard of Hearing.

Models on Shipboard Display Latest in Travel Costumes for Olympic Year

Associated Press photo.

Travel wear as shown by the above young women adds to that certain appeal of vacationing which sends one to shops, steamship offices and railway offices in the summer. These traveling costumes were exhibited on board the S. S. Pennsylvania in New York recently. The show was conducted in connection with the forthcoming Olympic games. The models, left to right—Anna Fay, Mabel Ellis, Pearl D. Vail, Gladys Law, Elsie Ford, Beatrice Orsi, Jane Lane, Joan Burgess, Dorothy Donnelly, Lillyan Picard, Aileen Wenzel and Betty Dumbries.

Anniversary Is Observed By Delphians

Five Capital Chapters Take Part in Celebration of National Society.

One of the outstanding events of the week was the reception and banquet held in the gold ballroom of the Shoreham Hotel celebrating the second anniversary of the five local chapters of the National Delphian Society.

Mrs. Eleanor R. Wilson, District representative of the national society, was assisted in receiving by the presidents of the chapters, Mrs. T. F. Law, who also acted as toastmaster; Mrs. Roy Clyde Miller, Mrs. Esma Maybe Lackawich, Mrs. W. Burrough Hays and Mrs. John K. Freiot.

Mrs. Eleanor Wilson made the principal address of the evening, using as her subject "Values Which Do Not Decrease."

The toastmaster introduced the presidents, and as they arose to speak they were saluted by a chorus of "Jolly Jinglers," composed of Mrs. Ruth H. Snodgrass, Mrs. William Graham, Mrs. H. C. James, Mrs. A. B. Manly, Mrs. E. B. Buckley and Mrs. C. M. Jansky, composer and director of the songs. A skit was then presented, "A Delphian Prescription," arranged by Mrs. E. B. Buckley, and directed by Mrs. Ruth H. Snodgrass. The cast was composed of Mrs. Freda Clayton DeBender, Mrs. Holland Huntingdon, Mrs. Edna Nalls, Miss Lulu Adams and Mrs. Ruth Snodgrass.

A feature of the evening was the living interpretation of Perugenio Pietro's Madonna, posed by Mrs. Adele Pugh. An explanation of the picture was given by Mrs. C. M. Jansky in true Delphian style.

The following chapters were represented: National Capital, Columbia Gamma, Delta Sigma and Washington. The president of the Washington Chapter, Mrs. John K. Freiot, wore a colonial costume as representing the Bicentennial. The committee in charge of the affair was Mrs. J. Leroy Elliott, Mrs. Charles Bassett, Mrs. W. B. Hays, Mrs. Wilson B. Nairn and Mrs. Evelyn B. Buckley.

The out-of-town guests were Mrs. Sammis, of Madison, Wis.; Mrs. Mount, of Denver, Colo.; Mrs. Welch, of Portland, Me., and Mrs. Lillian A. Bernhardt, of Baltimore, Md.

Free Lance Club

At the last meeting of the Free Lance Club Gideon Lyon, judge of the short story contest, awarded first prize to an action story, "The River Fight," by Benjamin Ferrill; second prize to a romantic desert story, "The Star Sapphire," by Ione Lee Mooney, and honorable mention to an historical narrative, "George Washington Meets Ponce de Leon," by Jean Pritchard.

Following a talk by Mr. Lyon on "Judging the Short Story" and the presentation of the prize awards by the treasurer, Felix Schwarz, the prize stories were read by Mr. Schwarz and Mr. Lyon.

At the next meeting of the Free Lance Club, on Thursday, May 26, 8 p. m., Sears-Roebuck Art Galleries, 1106 Connecticut avenue, Jean Pritchard, Bobby Hayes, Gertrude Mackenzie and Georgia Redaway will read short stories for criticism. Col. Edmund Sayer, of the executive committee, will present for discussion amendments to the club's constitution.

Writers' Rendezvous

"Jack" Stearns Gray, pioneer woman flier and Maryland secretary of the Writers' Rendezvous, will speak at the art galleries (Wednesday, June 8, 8 p. m.), 1106 Connecticut avenue. Others on the program include Myrtle R. Patterson, verse writer of the Young Republican Club; Hinda Burke, artist and essayist, and Louise Norman, of W. T. S. V. Mr. E. J. Irvine will preside. Writers, artists and literature lovers invited.

Capitol Hill Club

The regular meeting of the Capitol Hill History Club was held at the Broadmoor Apartments on May 12. Mrs. J. B. Ried and Mrs. Ernest Elliott were the hostesses. Luncheon was served, followed by the business meeting which was opened and conducted in the usual manner. Two interesting papers were given, "Life of John Marshall," by Mrs. D. L. Fitcher, and "History of the Political Parties and For What Each Stands," by Mrs. Charles Jones. The members of the club have accepted an invitation to visit the frigate Constitution on June 1. Twenty-five members responded to roll call and there were three guests present. The last meeting of the year will be at Mrs. Phillip Martin's on May 25.

Takoma Park Club

The garden department of the Takoma Park Woman's Club met with Mrs. A. F. Lingle, 19 Grant avenue, Monday, at 1:30. Informal meetings were planned for the summer months of June, July and August, changing the time of meeting to 10 o'clock in the morning. Monday, May 23, the members of the garden department will visit some of the neighborhood gardens, starting at the home of Mrs. Henry B. Ewing, from there to the iris gardens of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Skeels, thence to the gardens of Mrs. Clyde Shade and Mrs. E. L. Crandall and ending with the beautiful gardens of Miss Margaret Lancaster.

The executive board of the Woman's Club met at the home of Mrs. James A. Robertson, 54 Flower avenue, Friday at 1 o'clock. Mrs. Roy Ferner and Mrs. Waldo Schmitt assisted the hostess.

Mrs. N. E. McIndoo, 7225 Blair road, will entertain the members of the drama department May 25 at 8 p. m. Recent plays will be reviewed at this meeting.

Woman's Club Of Park View Area Meets

Philanthropic Chairman Gives Report of Aid Extended Visiting Nurses.

The annual meeting of the Park View Woman's Club was held on the evening of May 10, at the home of Mrs. P. B. Ashburn, 3532 Park place northwest. The president, Mrs. Ashburn, presided.

There will be no meeting of the art or literary committees in May. A meeting of the Bridge Club was held at the home of Mrs. Thomas Faris, 3206 Park place, on the afternoon of May 17. Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Erwin, Mrs. Scott and Mrs Evans.

Mrs. George Russell, philanthropic chairman, gave an account of the work of her committee, which has cooperated with the instructive visiting nurses and with various hospitals and institutions during the year. A ward party was given at Walter Reed Hospital the week of June 19, in charge of Mrs. Thomas Faris.

Because of the unfinished condition of the playground at Park View School, it was decided to postpone the Bicentennial tree-planting until fall. At that time a tree which can also be used as a community Christmas tree will be planted by the civic associations of Park View, with appropriate ceremonies. These associations held a Bicentennial celebration in the school on the evening of May 11. A group of women from the Woman's Club under the direction of Mrs. W. O. Hancock gave a dance of the colonial period.

During the month of May the Park View Club is furnishing hostesses at the Octagon House on Saturday mornings in connection with the Bicentennial celebration. The hostesses for May 21 were Mrs. Theron Brooks and Mrs. George Dalwick.

A motion was placed before the meeting to raise the dues to $2 per annum. This motion will be taken up at the June meeting for a vote, after 30 days' notice, as provided by the by-laws.

The annual banquet will be held at the Kennedy-Warren at 6:30 o'clock on the evening of June 14. The committee in charge are Mrs. Thomas Faris, Mrs. John Potts, Mrs. Warren Wagner and Mrs. George Dalwick.

At the annual election of officers the following were chosen to serve for one year: President, Mrs. P. B. Ashburn; first vice president, Mrs. Fred S. Walker; second vice president, Mrs L. E. Murray; recording secretary, Mrs. George F. Dalwick; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Harry Gutridge; treasurer, Mrs. Arja Morgan; parliamentarian, Mrs. L. E. Felton. Mrs. Ashburn thanked all officers and members for the spirit of cooperation which has made possible such a successful year, and all chairmen for fine annual reports of work accomplished.

Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Murray, Mrs. Stitt, Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Wixson.

University Women

There will be no tea at 4 o'clock tomorrow at the clubhouse of the American Association of University Women, but there will be a branch meeting at 8 p. m. Miss Eleanor Golden will be hostess.

The walk today will start at Chevy Chase Circle at 2:30 p. m. sharp. Those having automobiles will please bring them for transportation to the Fenning farm near Darnstown, from which place an exploration walk will be taken. There will be a picnic supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Fenning.

Dr. Paul Pearson, governor of the Virgin Islands, will be the guest of honor and speaker at the tea given Monday, May 30, at 4 p. m.

Pen Women Executive Unit Holds Meeting

Board Approves Committee Chairmanships of the National Body.

The national executive board of the National League of American Pen Women held its May meeting Tuesday at the Willard Hotel. Mrs. Clara Keck Heflebower, national president, came from Cincinnati for the meeting and remained throughout the week at the Willard.

Further committee chairmanships were approved by the board. Included among standing committees are Harriet E. N. Chace, director of publicity. On the special committees, Mrs. Theodore Tiller is chairman of the social committee, and Mrs. Agnes M. Newman, the parliamentarian. Under the department of letters are the following chairmen: Motion pictures, Miss Laura Thornborough; poetry, Miss George Elliston, of Cincinnati; radio, Miss Anita Browne, of New York; books, Mrs. Edna M. Colman, past national president; short stories, Mrs. Gene Ziegfeld, of Baltimore, who is fourth national vice president; features, Mrs. Victoria Faber Stevenson; copyright, Mrs. William Atherton DuPuy, past national president; markets, Mrs. Flora Dingle Jesseph, of Chicago; drama, Mrs. C. Antoinette Wood, of Boston, national vice president of the league. Phyllis Fergus Hoyt is chairman of the department of music. Other appointments will be announced by Mrs. Heflebower at the June meeting.

Appointments ratified at the special meeting of the board immediately following the convention in April were Mrs. Theodora Cunningham, past president and past treasurer, as chairman of the membership committee; Miss Agnes Winn, bulletin editor, Miss Winn having been associate editor of the publication, and Mrs. Larz Anderson, clubhouse. Mrs. Anderson was second vice president of the District Branch of the league in the administration of Mrs. Harriet Hawley Locher, 1923-25, who founded the craft groups at that time, for which Mrs. Anderson established the Isabel Anderson Craft Prize Fund, from which prizes are still annually given in this branch, and Mrs. Nina Swalm Clark, chairman of ways and means, and Mrs. Charles Fisher Taylor, chairman of the league's participation in Bicentennial celebrations.

Mrs. Heflebower has returned to Ohio, where she will be a guest of honor tomorrow at the poetry dinner in Cleveland, to be given by the Cleveland Branch of the Pen Women in celebration of poetry week. Prior to leaving Washington Mrs. Heflebower accepted membership in the Poetry Council of New York State, at the invitation of Miss Anita Browne, founder of poetry week there.

On Saturday of this week Mrs. Heflebower will be the guest of honor of the Cincinnati Branch, from which she is just retiring as president. They will give a large reception on the afternoon of that date, to which the Cleveland and Columbus Branches have been invited as well as leaders in the literary and cultural organizations in Cincinnati.

R. M. A. Auxiliary

Women's Auxiliary, R. M. A., held their regular monthly meeting at the Capital Park Hotel on May 16, Mrs. F. B. Justis presiding. Reports were given and various communications read. Mrs. F. C. Gardiner, first delegate to the annual meeting of the District of Columbia Federation of Women's Clubs, gave a most interesting report of said meeting. Several changes in the by-laws were adopted. Announcement was made of our coming picnic June 4, as well as a radio program over Station WMAL on July 1. The meeting closed with an illustrated lecture by Mrs. W. Collins, on the Bok Tower in Florida and the various State capitol buildings. The card party given on May 7 was as much a social success as a financial one, the net proceeds being well over $30. Among those attending were thirteen division presidents, R. M. A., the national president, Mr. William Collins, and Mr. Fischer, of the Postoffice Department.

Cultus Club

The Cultus Club met at the home of Mrs. Augustus Taylor on Tuesday, and after luncheon the meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Charles Demonet. After the routine business the following were elected officers for the coming year: Mrs. Herman H. Smith, president; Mrs. Ralph P. Barnard, vice president; Mrs. William K. Cooper and Mrs. A. P. Clark, recording secretaries; Mrs. William Stewart, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Samuel Lewis, treasurer.

Mrs. Charles Nesbit read a most interesting paper on the "Mothers of Famous Men."

Installation Of Officers Takes Place

Reports Read at Meeting of Daughters of American Colonists.

The Daughters of the American Colonists held their regular meeting on May 9, at the home of Miss Annie Alexander, 1243 Thirty-third street northwest. The meeting was opened by the State regent, Mrs. Pedro Capo-Rodriguez, presiding officer of the society. The minutes of the previous meeting were read. Reports of officers and chairmen of the committees on the various activities of the past year were also read and accepted. Appropriations were made as follows: $15 as a help in restoring Fort LeBoufe, Waterford, Pa.; $10 toward restoring the old kitchen at Fort Niagara, N. Y.

The newly elected officers for the coming year dere duly installed, and were as follows: State regent, Mrs. William H. Wagner; State vice regent, Mrs. Catherine Nagle; State recording secretary, Mrs. George L. Palmer; State treasurer, Mrs. Sol Lansburgh; acting chaplain, Mrs. Helen Brown; color bearer, Mrs. Lee R. Pennington.

The following committees were appointed by the State regent: Banquet, Miss Caroline V. Sutler, chairman; Miss Annie Alexander, vice chairman. Flowers, Mrs. Frances F. Corbett, chairman; Mrs. Leonard C. Brown, vice chairman. Genealogical research, Mrs. Josiah A. Van Orsdell, chairman; Mrs. Graeme T. Smallwood, vice chairman. Hostesses, Miss Mary C. Oursler, chairman; Mrs. William G. Carter, vice chairman. Membership, Mrs. Henry L. West, chairman; Mrs. Charles M. Bryant, vice chairman. Music, Mrs. Clyde B. Aitchison, chairman, Mrs. Harry W. Dowling, vice chairman. Press, Miss Mary W. Durham, chairman; Mrs. George L. Palmer, vice chairman. Printing, Miss Lillian Norton, chairman; Mrs. Grace F. Meeks, vice chairman. Program, Mrs. Catherine Nagle, chairman; Miss Maude Morris, vice chairman. Ways and means, Mrs. Grant F. Chase, chairman; Mrs. Frank Steele, vice chairman.

Mrs. Pedro Capo-Rodriguez, the retiring State regent, was presented with a past regent's pin by the national registrar, Mrs. John F. Little, as an appreciation of her excellent work during the past two years.

Mrs. Frederick Sparrow, former vice regent, extended an invitation to the chapter to join with her in a picnic party at her summer home, Fair Haven Cliffs, on the bay, Saturday, June 4.

A social hour with refreshments followed.

Girls' Friendly

Thirty-five members of the St. Paul Rock Creek Branch were present at the corporate communion, May 8, and the following girls were admitted as members: Elinor Law, Jeane Taylor, Esther Sommers, Helen Wigfield, Lelia Dixon and June Dolman. Mrs. A. R. Hales, Mrs. K. R. Garrott and Miss Edna Souder were made associates. On Monday evening, May 9, Miss Edna Souder, who is well known in musical circles, was installed as the new branch president. Mrs. George E. Pariseau, diocesan president, welcomed Miss Souder, and the Rev. C. S. Ridenour also spoke a few words of greeting. Mrs. A. S. Steuart, diocesan head of activities, sent Miss Sadie L. Carlisle, the retiring president, a corsage, and the branch gave her a surprise party and a $10 gold piece. Prizes for perfect yearly attendance were awarded as follows: Ruth Miller, Helen Miller, Annie Miller, Margaret Miller, Irene Coe, Margaret Waldecker, Grace Waldecker, Evelyn Wingate and Mildred Stimmel. The yearly honor gift to the girl showing the most improvement and outstanding spirit of the G. F. S. was awarded to Miss Louise Helff; for the best examination paper of the probationers' training class to Elinor Law, and for perfect attendance at the training classes to Jeane Taylor.

On Sunday evening, May 15, the following girls were admitted as members of St. Stephen's Branch: Margaret G. Coan, Laura R. Dunawin, Gill Piquette, Frances E. Proctor, Lucille Hepfin, Helen F. Razzelle, Eugenia M. Sanderson, Ruth E. Tanty, Margaret L. Wilkinson and Helen Herfurth. Mrs. Marion Hamilton and Miss Abigail Dodge were made senior members.

At the Epiphany Branch, May 16, Mrs. William Channing Johnson spoke on "How to Read, When to Read, and What to Read," and gave a most interesting review of Lloyd C. Douglas' much-talked-of book, "Magnificent Obsession." Miss Julia Cunningham, diocesan president of Baltimore, was a supper guest of Miss Ethel Grimes, branch president. On May 23 supper and classes will be held as usual, and the colonial tea and skit benefit will start at 6:15 p. m. All are invited.

Delta Delphians

Delta Sigma Chapter of the Delphian Society held a meeting in the Shoreham Hotel on May 16. The president, Mrs. W. B. Hays, presided. Mrs. G. E. Pugh led the literary program. Mrs. Nalls gave the Delphian traveler. Mrs. R. Bates, Mrs. Charles Riordan, Mrs. David Bethune and Mrs. William Ballinger also participated in the program. Mrs. Odell was a guest at the meeting. The president gave a summary of the lesson. The subject was "The Rome We Inherited."

The next meeting will be held in the Shoreham Hotel at 10 a. m. on Monday, May 23. Mrs. John D. Rhodes will be the leader and Mrs. M. O. Hayes will give the Delphian traveler. The subject will be "Latin Literature;" general theme, "Roman Genius as revealed in Literature;" approximate dates, 14 B. C. to 150 A. D.; the Delphian traveler, "Roman Manners and Customs;" preparatory discussion, "General View of Roman Literature;" topics for report, "Poets of 'The Simple Life;'" "Virgil, Court Poet: In Praise of Country Life, Arcadian Shepherds, Eclogue V," "The Seasons on the Farm," "On Bee Keeping" and "Deeds of Augustus' Ancestor."

Club Members Plan Journey To Mt. Vernon

Tree-Marking Ceremony to Be Observed by Women's Federation Today.

Mrs. L. B. Stine, chairman of conservation of natural resources of the District of Columbia Federation of Women's Clubs, will conduct a pilgrimage to Mount Vernon by motor tomorrow morning, leaving the Roosevelt Hotel at 10 o'clock, where a ceremony of dedication will be held and the tree planted in 1916 in honor of George Washington will be suitably marked.

Miss Hazel Neilson, of the Bicentennial Commission, will be the speaker. Mrs. Deeds will give an original reading; Mrs. William T. Reed, contralto soloist, will sing; Mrs. Edgar B. Meritt, president, will place wreaths on the tomb of Martha and George Washington.

Mrs. Charles Bair, chairman of the Bicentennial committee, announces hostesses for the visiting hours on Saturday mornings from 9 to 1 o'clock at the Octagon House will be Mrs. Fred Walker and Mrs. Louis Felton for June.

Miss Lena Hitchcock spoke over Station WMAL on Friday on "The History of the Army Hostess Service." Her talk was part of "Among Women" program sponsored by the federation.

Margaret Lambie, international lawyer, will be the speaker over Station WJSV tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. A musical program also will be given.

Mrs. Charles Marvin Jones is chairman of reservations for the annual luncheon to be held at the Mayflower Thursday, June 2, when Mrs. Herbert Hoover will be guest of honor. Mrs. Tilman B. Parks is chairman of speakers; Mrs. H. M. Hunter, chairman of program; Mrs. Edgar B. Meritt will preside. Tables have been reserved by members of the following clubs: Sunshine and Community Society, Housekeepers Alliance, Takoma Park Club, Legion of Loyal Women, Chapter B, P. E. O.; Capital Hill History Club, Park View Women's Club, Political Study Club, Nurses Dietetics Club and the Entre Nous Club.

D. C. Federation

The District of Columbia Federation of Women's Clubs will make a pilgrimage by motor to Mount Vernon, Monday morning, May 23, leaving the Roosevelt Hotel at 10 o'clock. A tree planted in honor of George Washington in 1916 will be dedicated. Mrs. L. B. Stine, chairman of conservation of natural resources, will conduct the tour. Mrs. Edgar B. Merritt, president, will place wreaths on the tombs of Martha and George Washington. A Bicentennial speaker will make an address. Mrs. William T. Reed will be the soloist. Mrs. Frederick Lincoln, of 114 Maple avenue, Takoma Park, is chairman of auto listing and transportation.

W. C. T. U.

Capitol Hill Union.

The Capitol Hill Union was pleasantly entertained by Mrs. Clayton Corliss at her home, 110 Maryland avenue northeast, for their May meeting.

The director of the flower mission urged all members to aid in arranging and distributing flowers on flower mission day, June 9.

Most interesting reports were given of the Law Enforcement Dinner at the Mayflower on May 9.

Patriots' Unit Given Reports Of Work Done

Lincoln Circle, No. 3, Ladies of G. A. R., to Hear Papers on Civil War History.

The business session of Abraham Lincoln Circle, No. 3, Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic, was called to order on Monday evening by its president, Miss Rebecca L. Blaine.

Mrs. Mary E. Vail visited the circle in the interest of pension legislation. Miss Mate Lewis, delegate to the District of Columbia Federation of Women's Clubs, gave a report on the work of that organization. Mrs. Media Bergren gave a short resume of the National Bicentennial and Creed Day exercises held in the Park View Public School. Mrs. Mary Logan Tucker was requested to read Gen. Logan's Memorial Day Orders at Arlington on Memorial Day, as a part of the public service.

An invitation was received from the District of Columbia Federation of Women's Clubs asking the members to join in making their luncheon, to be held at the Mayflower Hotel, June 2, a gala occasion. Mrs. Mida Peabody, past president of the group, was appointed chairman to handle reservations for the circle. Mrs. Herbert Hoover will be the honor guest at the luncheon. All members desiring reservations should get in touch with Mrs. Peabody at once.

General Order No. 3, received from national headquarters, Grand Army of the Republic, was read. It stated that the sixty-sixth national encampment of the Grand Army and allied organizations will be held in Springfield, Ill., September 18 to 24.

A resolution was adopted authorizing the planting of a tree in Cedar Hill Cemetery, dedicated to the memory of Mrs. Helen Nelson Doocy, with appropriate ceremony, by the members in the early fall. Mrs. Doocy was for many years the group patriotic instructor.

It was also agreed that at each future meeting a member would be allowed time to read a paper on some historical incident of the Civil War, and relate a personal experience of the ancestor through whom she is eligible to membership in the order. The first assignment fell to Mrs. Helena Doocy Reed, whose maternal grandfather was Capt. John S. Nelson, of Iowa. Mrs. Reed will read her paper at the June meeting, to be held in room 127, New Willard Hotel.

All members and friends have been invited to attend the joint memorial services under the auspices of Grant and Lincoln Circles in the Rotunda of the Capitol this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Representative Charles West, of Ohio, will deliver the principal address.

The circle has accepted the Grand Army of the Republic Memorial Day Corporation's invitation to participate in the parade to be held on Monday, May 30, starting at 9:30 a. m., from Ninth street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest, and going west to Seventeenth street.

The question of entering a float in the Flag Day processional on June 14, was placed in the hands of the president.

Audubon Society

At the fifth bird outing, which was held May 14 and which took the excursionists to Miller and to Mount Vernon and its vicinity, there were 40 persons attending. The observers saw 97 species. The weather was perfect and the birds were in full song. Although they made a fine list of species the individuals were very scarce. This was particularly true of the warblers, the most numerous of which were the hooded and the yellow-throated.

The rose-breasted grosbeak gave the observers a real thrill, who were delighted also to see the black and common terns, the loon and red-breasted merganser. At the last of the field meetings, which takes place at the University of Maryland campus, the bird lovers will say good-by to the migrants till next year, while the resident birds and the summer visitants will have settled down to housekeeping.

Rainbow Club

The Rainbow Club met at the home of Mrs. Mary Freeland, 239 Fifteenth street southeast, with the president, Miss Nellie Teeple, presiding.

After the regular order of business, Mrs. Shepherd reported on the pins for the club.

Two names were added to the waiting list.

The last barn dance will be held at Cabin John.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. Sudwarth, 37 U street northwest.

The club adjourned, to enjoy delightful refreshments served by the hostess, and celebrate the birthday of Mr. L. Risler.

Woman's Club Of Kensington Holds Meeting

Community Group's Literary Section to Hold Session on Tomorrow.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Community Club of Kensington was held Monday at the Masonic Hall. Mrs. Lewis Meriam, president, was in the chair.

The meeting was preceded by a luncheon. Mrs. Frank Rusk was chairman of the luncheon committee. She was assisted by Mrs. James E. Lamb, Mrs. W. W. Skinner, Mrs. Lawrence V. Appleman, Mrs. George C. Shinn, Mrs. Edmund S. Noyes, Mrs. B. L. Vipond, Mrs. E. W. Moore, Mrs. Harry D. Appleby, Mrs. Kalstrom Mrs John Feeney, Mrs. Sabin, Miss Margaret Grove and Miss Harriet Houghton.

Among those giving reports were Mrs. Asa N. Cummiford, who read letters of resignation from Mrs. Edgar Spinks, Mrs. Eugene Jones and Mrs. Howard S. Bean, which were accepted by the club with regrets.

The literary section will hold the last meeting of the season at the home of Mrs. G. C. Shinn, on tomorrow. Mrs. Harry K. Corrick, chairman, will have charge of the meeting. Mrs. B. W. Kumler will talk on John Masefield, poet laureate of England, and Miss Annie Wilson, former director of art in the public schools of Washington, will talk on "Art." The annual picnic luncheon will be held.

Mrs. B. L. Vipond, treasurer, reported a balance of $77.10 in the treasury. The art department, Mrs. George H. Snyder chairman, has made a large number of beautiful and useful articles. Its work was reported by Mrs. Clarence V. Sayer.

Mrs. E. S. Singleton, chairman of the dramatic section, reported the meeting held Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Harry W. Wanner. Mrs. J. A. Kaiser had charge of the program.

The annual reports of the different chairmen and officers were read and filed with the recording secretary, Mrs. J. H. Taylor.

The county resolutions which had been submitted by the "As You Like It Club," of Germantown, and the Civic Study Club, of Garrett Park, were read by Mrs. Meriam, and action was taken on each resolution separately by the club.

The official ballot of the Montgomery County Federation of Women's Clubs, which had been submitted by the nominating committee, was read by Mrs. Meriam and presented to the club. The club voted to instruct the delegates to the county convention to vote ticket as read.

The delegates elected to represent the club at the spring meeting to be held at Sandy Spring on May 27 are Mrs. Morris K. Barroll, Mrs. Robert N McMillen, Mrs. LeRoy Rogers, Mrs. Harry K. Corrick and Mrs. Spencer Bean. Alternates are Mrs. Archer Woodwell, Mrs. Frank Rusk, Mrs. George C. Shinn, Mrs. Fred B. Kitterman and Mrs. E. S. Singleton.

The club voted to give $25 to the county hospital; also to maintain the club membership in the Montgomery County Civic Association.

Mrs. Meriam, the retiring president, closed the meeting with words of appreciation to the club members.

Seventy members and their guests attended the annual breakfast of the Woman's Community Club held Tuesday at the Olney Inn, Norbeck, Md., which was a colorful affair. Mrs. Meriam presided.

Following the luncheon a musical program was given. Mrs. George W. Ashworth directed the singing of the club song, "Our Pledge," by the entire assemblage. Miss Adele Meriam, pianist, played "G Minor Ballade," by Chopin. Mrs. Ernest J. Wakefield, soprano, sang two numbers, "Songs of May" and "I Know a Lovely Garden." She was accompanied by Mrs. Thomas Tremearne, both wearing colonial costumes.

Mrs. A. T. McPherson, club historian, told of the work and achievement of the chairmen, officers and other members of the club during the past year.

Following her report Mrs. Meriam turned the gavel over to Mrs. J. H. Taylor, the newly elected president, who gave a brief talk.

S. and D. of R.

Sons and Daughters of the Republic.

May has been a busy month for the clubs of the Sons and Daughters of the Republic. All clubs have held regular meetings and special drills have been held for preparation and participation in the Flag Day procession on the evening of June 14, when the S. D. R. will march in a unit. A number of our club members are taking part in various Bicentennial celebrations, and especially were there a number in the "Youths" parade on May 14. Great interest has been shown in the club library recently started by contributions of books and magazines by the State committee and chapter members. The members are hopeful that many more contributions will be made as they all love to read.

Of course, "can I go to camp this year" is the paramount question at present, and it is hoped that the chapters of the Daughters of the American Revolution in the District of Columbia will make it possible for every club member to go to camp this year. The State committee on Sons and Daughters of the Republic is very proud and happy to announce that for the first time, and after an earnest effort of several years, there will be a "Sons and Daughters of the Republic Camp" this year, personally supervised and directed by members of the District of Columbia Daughters of the American Revolution. Every healthful recreation, with swimming, boating, crabbing and other sports and games and splendid food will be provided. A program is now being prepared by the State committee which will give every possible opportunity for the promotion of the principles of true American citizenship and the study of first-hand, historic data and early American settlement. Miss [illegible] Barnes, who has served as State chairman for two years, has been reappointed to this position by the State regent, Miss Harry Colfax Grove, and invites all chapters of the D. A. R. to cooperate in helping to make this the most successful camp ever sponsored by the State committee on Sons and Daughters of the Republic.

Research Club

The Washington Research Club will hold its last meeting for the school year at a dinner to be given on Monday, May 23, at 6:30 p. m., at the Kennedy-Warren. The speaker for the evening will be Dr. H. W. Johnson, professor in the psychology department of American University. He will present an illustrated lecture on his research study of sleep.

Parent-Teacher Association Notes

All material for this column should reach the State office, Room 501, National Education Association Building, Sixteenth and M streets northwest, by the first mail on Wednesday preceding the Sunday on which publication is desired.

The annual June picnic of the District of Columbia Congress of Parents and Teachers will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. P. Eschner, in Clarendon, Va., on June 14. Luncheon will be served by the Georgetown Boys' Club, under the direction of a committee headed by Mrs. J. Daniel Fry, Mrs. Hurley, Mrs. Compton, and Mrs. C. E. Schultz. More comprehensive plans will be announced later.

Presidents who have not as yet made returns to the State music chairman for the National Symphony Orchestra will, when collections are completed, please take unused cards and contributions direct to the secretary of the National Symphony Orchestra Association, Woodward Building.

POWELL JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL.

Officers elected at the last meeting of this association were: President, Mr. S. M. McCathren; vice president, Miss Myrtle Moore; secretary, Mrs. C. C. Culver; treasurer, Mrs. Bertram Lobred; members at large, Mrs. Alexander and J. T. Robbe.

The annual luncheon was held Tuesday at the school and was successful. Mrs. Paul White, who was general chairman in charge, was ably assisted by about 50 members of the association.

BANCROFT.

Officers elected by the Bancroft Association at the last meeting, who will be installed at the regular meeting on June 7, are: President, Mrs. Joseph F. Randall; first vice president, Mrs. Robert Hall; second vice president, Mrs. Riley Elgin; third vice president, Mrs. Crane; fourth vice president, Mrs. Margaret Bowie; fifth vice president, Mrs. Ada Fields; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Jack Miller; recording secretary, Mrs. Mangege; historian, Mrs. James Grubbs.

The plans for the Bicentennial pageant to be given by the pupils of both the Johnson and the Bancroft schools on the playground of the Bancroft School on next Wednesday, are about complete, and it is evident that this will be the most elaborate outdoor entertainment ever attempted by them.

KINGSMAN-PIERCE.

At the last meeting of the Kingsman-Pierce Association the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. T. Whinerey; vice presidents, Mrs. Bray, Mrs. Decker and Mrs. Diedel, teacher at the Kingsman School; secretary, Mrs. Reier; treasurer, Miss Mosedale, teacher at Kingsman School, and historian, Mrs. Hodges.

Mrs. Ralph Hoagland, chairman of the juvenile court committee, spoke of the duties of the parents who gave their time to care for the children waiting for cases to come up.

Pupils of the first grade of the Pierce School, Mrs. Hough, teacher, danced the minuet, and Gladys Epstein, fourth grade pupil, played a piano solo.

Mrs. Davidson's second grade, Pierce School, and Mrs. Smith's third grade, Pierce School, tied for the attendance prize.

POWELL ELEMENTARY.

The study group will meet in the school auditorium tomorrow at 1:30 p. m. Miss Sibyl Baker, director of playgrounds, will speak.

Bundle week was observed the past week.

PARK VIEW.

Colonial dames and gentlemen were very much in evidence on Wednesday night at the George Washington Bicentennial celebration arranged by the Park View Parent-Teacher Association, Citizens' Association, Women's Club and Community Center. Colonial songs, readings and dances were given by local groups. Col. Charles Stengel, of the District Bicentennial committees gave an address on "Washington, the Man." A one-act play, "Martha's Letters," was given by Mrs. Aurora Poston. Refreshments were served in the gymnasium, after which a grand march and dancing of colonial dances were participated in by the community.

EMERY-ECKINGTON.

The last meeting of the year took place on May 13 in Emery School, at which time Mrs. L. B. Castell, first vice president of the District of Columbia Congress of Parents and Teachers, installed the following officers for the coming year: President, Mrs. Samuel H. Simmons; first vice president, Mrs. C. H. Rhodes; second vice president, Mrs. F. P. Phelps; recording secretary, Mrs. E. M. Tucker; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Thelma Sawyer, and treasurer, Mrs. Hoyme.

Miss Evelyn Mae Henderson sang and was accompanied by Miss Mae Stevens. Mrs. W. F. Atkinson played a piano solo. Mr. C. C. Cappell spoke about the National Symphony Orchestra. The Emery-Eckington Association contributed $11 to the fund.

The attendance prizes were won by Miss Hortogensis at Emery and Miss Shewmaker at Eckington.

A pageant took place at Eckington School on May 6. There is also to be a pageant at Emery School on Friday at 9:15 a. m.

A luncheon will be held for the Boy Patrol on Thursday, June 2.

Thirty-eight preschool children were examined by Drs. William E. Long and Millard F. Ottman on May 5 and 8 and by Dr. L. A. Cornet on May 12 at Emery School. There are about 30 children yet to receive these physical examinations.

EDMONDS-MAURY.

On May 9, the Edmonds-Maury Parent-Teacher Association elected the following officers, who were installed by Mrs. J. N. Saunders, State president: Mrs. J. Darlington Denit, president; first vice president, Mrs. Victor Esch; second vice president, Mrs. Florence Cornell; secretary, Miss Mary McGlynn; treasurer, Mrs. Charles Langmead.

WHEATLEY.

Over 50 boys represented Wheatley at the Rosedale division track meet Tuesday and won the senior and junior championships. They were presented with a cup by Mrs. Florence Rogers, supervising principal, Wednesday afternoon. Boys placing in this meet are eligible to compete in the city-wide meet. Miss S. Mellichampe, sixth grade teacher, directs this activity.

"Circus animals," under the supervision of Miss Rose Mary Easton, Wheatley playground director, participated in the recent "festival of youth" activities.

The baseball team, under the direction of Miss Agnes Motyka, has been successful in every game played thus far this season.

An outstanding attraction at Wheatley School this week was the "frieze" of life-sized animals in Miss Motyka's first grade, made by her pupils. Many members attended this exhibit.

A recital of Wheatley piano students was held Wednesday morning at the educational assembly and was enjoyed by the community.

The school luncheon held Thursday was a success socially and financially.

TRUESDELL.

The regular meeting of the Truesdell Parent-Teacher Association will be held on Tuesday in the school at 8 p. m. Officers for the coming year will be elected. Mrs. L. B. Castell, first vice president of the District of Columbia Congress of Parents and Teachers, will install them.

The executive board met in the school Monday with 23 members present. Mrs. R. C. Swann, librarian, reported that all of the books for which money had been appropriated had been purchased and placed in the classrooms. An appropriation of $10 was made toward the National Symphony Orchestra.

ADAMS.

Spring bundle day at the Adams School will be held on Thursday. All parents are urged to send outgrown clothing to the school to be used for student aid work.

Fifty-one exhibits were sent by children of the John Quincy Adams Stamp Club to the festival of youth contest and are now on display at the Public Library. All 51 received honorable mention and 17 awards were won by them, namely, Nancy Malloy, Jan Rus, Katherine Gill, Frances Storey, Jane Kirsch, Lucille Kirsch, Wilbur Jefferys, William Malloy and Luis Rivera. The club is sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association.

WEST.

The West Association will hold its last meeting tomorrow at 8 p. m. Dr. Julia Letheld Hahn, supervising principal of the third division, will talk. Officers for the coming year will be elected. The spring luncheon will be held on Tuesday.

LANGDON.

The last regular meeting of the school year of the Langdon Association was held at the school auditorium Thursday night, May 12. The inclement weather prevented a large attendance, but those present enjoyed the operetta which was given by the seventh and eighth grades under the direction of Mrs. Luyster. The school orchestra accompanied the singers and the scene was laid in the time of George Washington's boyhood. The choral work and dancing were well done. Miss Seed, a newly appointed teacher at Langdon, had the leading role and sang several solos.

Mrs. Emil Smith, president, called on her committee chairmen for reports of their work, and a very satisfactory year's work was reported.

Selden M. Ely installed the officers for the coming year.

A luncheon to be given at the school June 1 was announced.

BROOKLAND-BUNKER HILL-NOYES.

The regular meeting was held last Monday at 8 p. m. in Brookland school. The following were elected officers and will be installed at the June meeting: Mrs. P. G. Nevitt, president; Miss M. Pepper, first vice president; Mrs. John Wilkins, second vice president; Mrs. Walter White, third vice president; Mrs. Joseph Baumer, corresponding secretary; Mrs. C. N. Merillat, treasurer; Mrs. A. L. Mitchell, historian.

The chairmen gave their annual reports. A social hour and refreshments, with Mrs. Baumer and Mrs. Armstrong as hostesses, followed.

The card party planned for May 20 has been postponed to June 3.

BLAIR-HAYES.

The final meeting of the Blair-Hayes Association for the 1931-32 term was held Thursday, May 12, 2:30 p. m., at the Hayes School. Miss Susan Bennett, of the American Automobile Association, delivered an address on the subject of "Safety." The new officers for the 1932-33 term were installed by Mrs. Louis B. Castell, State first vice president.

THOMSON.

The regular meeting of the Thomson Parent-Teacher Association was held Thursday evening, May 12, in the school auditorium.

The officers for the 1932-33 term were elected. Mrs. Finis Morris, second vice president, District of Columbia Congress of Parents and Teachers, was the guest of honor and presided during the election and installation of officers.

J. T. Robb, president; Miss Margaret K. Patterson, first vice president; Mrs. M. Hope Garrison, treasurer, were all unanimously reelected. A. V. Kay was elected second vice president; Mrs. J. B. Cole, recording secretary; Mrs. R. Stevens, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Miller, historian.

Miss Belfield's first grade won the attendance prize for the second consecutive time, and Miss Hewson's fifth grade won the attendance prize for the upper grades.

Mrs. John Edwards, study group chairman, reported three meetings of the group. The study group meets each Tuesday afternoon fom 2 to 3 p. m. in the school auditorium.

ELIOT JUNIOR HIGH.

On account of the amount of time taken for entertainment at the last meeting, the election of officers was postponed until the June meeting of the association. Election and installation of officers will take place the same evening.

Mr. Oliver M. Maxam, chief of operations, U. S. Coast Guard, gave an illustrated lecture on "Life in the Coast Guard." Fire regulations prevented the showing of motion pictures on the same subject.

Class 7B3, Mr. Goss, won the monthly attendance banner for the second consecutive time. The class was presented a check for $5 by the association for 100 per cent enrollment of parents in the association.

BRADLEY-FAIRBROTHER.

The election of officers for the coming year was the chief business of the Bradley-Fairbrother Parent-Teacher Association meeting last Thursday. The vote resulted as follows: President, Mrs. Guyer; first vice president, Mrs. Castle; second vice president, Miss M. White; secretary, Mrs. Riggle, and treasurer, Mrs. L. W. Fraser.

Beneficial results of the lunches furnished to needy pupils were brought out in a short talk by Mrs. L. W. Fraser.

Songs, reading of inspirational messages and business matters were also part of the program.

A crystal necklace was presented to the retiring president, Mrs. F. A. Litman, as a token of appreciation.

The award for attendance was given to Miss McClare's sixth grade class.

RANDLE HIGHLANDS-ORR.

A farewell reception was held at the Orr school on Wednesday, March 23, from 3 until 4:30 p. m., in honor of Miss Blanche Fawcett, former principal.

Miss Sibyl Baker addressed the May meeting upon the subject of "Playgrounds."

"Your Circus and My Circus," a health May Day play, was performed by students of Randle Highlands School, under the direction of Miss Hester Brooks.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. Mabel Murray; first vice president, Mrs. O. E. Stanger; second vice president, Miss Florence C. Wallace; secretary, Miss M. A. King; treasurer, Mrs. G. E. McDuffie. These officers-elect will be installed at the June meeting by Mrs. Harriet F. Saunders, State president.

A school luncheon was held at both schools on last Wednesday.

Dr. Homer K. Butler, Dr. Arnold and Dr. Vincent Gould examined 25 preschool children who will enter school next year. Mrs. Clara King is summer round-up chairman in charge of this work.

FILLMORE.

Fillmore Association met Monday, May 16, in the school. Miss Sibyl Baker addressed the members on "Playground Layouts and Their Operation."

The following were elected as officers to serve for the school year 1932-33: President, Ben H. Seekford; treasurer, Miss M. B. Tennyson; assistant treasurer, Miss Lena F. Wilkins; secretary, R. E. Conner.

LANGLEY JUNIOR.

The Langley Parent-Teacher Association met on last Tuesday. During the half hour from 7:30 to 8 p. m. conferences between parents and teachers were held in the classrooms.

The program began in the auditorium at 8 o'clock. The students of Sections 9A-301 and 8B-206 presented a play, "Judge Langley's Court," written for them by Miss Etta Matthews.

Miss Jessie La Salle, assistant superintendent of schools, spoke on "The Problems of Adolescence."

William Thompson, 8B-207, gave a number of fine imitations of bird calls.

At the business meeting the following officers for next year were elected: President, Bert W. Auspon; first vice president, Charles H. Kendall; second vice president, Chester W. Holmes; corresponding secretary, Miss Agot Nordley; treasurer, William H. Jordan.

Miss Haslup's section, 8B-102, won the banner for having the largest representation.

BRENT-DENT.

The May meeting of the Brent-Dent Parent-Teacher Association was held at the Dent School May 9. Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, Mrs. W. M. Hale; vice president, Mrs. Clarence Cottom; treasurer, Mrs. Morgan Otterback; secretary, Mrs. King Stephens.

A sextet from the Capitol Studio sang several numbers. The talk on "Health," by Dr. John F. O'Brien, child specialist, was interesting. Mrs. King's room, fourth grade, Dent, won the banner.

BUCHANAN.

The May meeting of the Buchanan Parent-Teacher Association was held last Tuesday evening in the school auditorium. It was a colonial night with most of the parents, teachers and friends appearing in colonial costume. The program opened with a chorus of old-fashioned songs by the sixth grade, accompanied by Miss Maloy. All were in costume. Then followed a play by the parents of the association.

Officers were elected and reports of committees were read. Mrs. M. Kudolla, retiring president, was presented with a wrist watch and a past president's pin. The new officers, who were installed by Mrs. J. N. Saunders, State president, are: President, Mrs. Koegel; first vice president, Mrs. Weikel; second vice president, Miss C. P. Dulin; recording secretary, Mrs. Guess; corresponding secretary, Mrs. McGrail;, and treasurer, Mrs. Kerby.

The Buchanan School will hold a picnic for members of the Parent-Teacher Association on June 11.

JEFFERSON JUNIOR HIGH.

Mrs. Freda Chamberlain was elected president of the Jefferson Junior High School Parent-Teacher Association last Monday evening. Mrs. J. M. Schaffer, Mrs. William Bonsall, Mrs. Mabel Newman and Mr. Ralph W. Strawbridge, principal of the school, were elected vice presidents. Van Dusen Rickert and Mrs. Elsie Welty were reelected secretary and treasurer, respectively.

The installation of officers followed the general business meeting. Mrs. Miner Buell, of the District organization, conducted the installation program and with ceremony vested the new officers with their new duties.

Mrs. Mary Hart, retiring president, was presented with a past president's parent-teacher pin by Mr. Strawbridge, principal of the school, on behalf of the association. Mrs. Hart was also presented with a basket of flowers by the executive committee. Mrs. Julia Zimmerman, of the program committee, made the presentation speech.

The main feature of the program was the speech by Mrs. Buell on "The Relationship of Home and the School."

Announcement was made of a lawn fete to be held at the school Thursday, June 2. Mrs. Hart announced the following committees and their members: General chairman, Mrs. Mary Hart; cake, Mrs. Mabel Newman; ice cream, Mrs. Dorothy Bonsall, Mr. Howard Higbie; punch, Mrs. Bowen Shaw.

Round Hill

"Dress Finishes" was the topic for the demonstration given by the county agent, Miss Penelope Morgan, at the May meeting of the Home Demonstration Club on Wednesday afternoon. In the absence of the president, Mrs. J. G. Carruthers, the vice president, Mrs. H. H. Cooley, presided.

Miss Katherine Summers, of Washington, passed the week-end with her grandfather, Mr. J. A. Lynch.

Mrs. Lillian Moore, of Washington, has been the guest for several days of Mrs. W. M. James.

Dr. George Thomas, of Staunton, Va., has been visiting his brothers, Joseph B. Thomas and A. I. Thomas, for several days.

Mrs. Amy Robinson, of Barnesville, Ohio, has been the guest of relatives in the county recently.

The 4-H Club girls entertained at a picnic supper at Bears Den Park on Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Zimmerman, of Washington, passed the week-end with the latter's sisters, the Misses Wynkoop.

Mr. Harry H. Cross, of Chicago; Mrs. Nonine Ballenger and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Graham attended the funeral of James Cross in Fredericksburg on Friday.

Mrs. William H. Moody, has returned to her home after passing the week with her sister, Mrs. Will Riley in Alexandria.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Debutts, jr., of Washington, are passing several days with Mrs. Don Debutts, sr., who is improving from a recent illness.

Mr. and Mrs. William Cordoza and children, of New York, have been recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Larrick.

ROUGH SAILOR THIS SEASON SHOWS SAUCIER TILT

The traditional sailor conforms to this year's mode by adapting a shallow crown and tilting more saucily. Here Karen Morley shows both sides of the hat question—with a navy blue model fashioned from a parchment-like fabric of rough paper. A polka dot drape and a bow of blue and white add a smart touch, heightened by a "cat's whiskers" scarf of similar pattern.

The Married Life of Helen and Warren

An Awkward Aftermath Tests Helen's Opera Alibi

By MABEL HERBERT URNER

The continental luxury of their Munich hotel. Long draped windows, ivory-paneled walls, Persian rugs.

In negligeed languor, Helen relaxed on the chaise longue. A brief before-dinner rest.

"What's the idea?" Warren breezed in from the bathroom. "Now snap out of the Cleopatra pose and get into your togs."

"I'm all ready but my dress. Dear, I was just thinking—— What if we run into the Merwins again tonight?"

"Jove, hope not! Where's that blue tie? No, the other one. Got an earful of her clubs on the boat. And the times he's sprung the old Scotch wheeze!"

The Merwins met on the voyage—adjacent steamer chairs. His interminable stories. And her discourses on her civic importance!

Now stopping at this hotel. An encounter in the lobby this morning—and an unevadable breakfast together.

"They'd be certain to suggest dining with us," getting her brown chiffon from the wardrobe trunk. "And our one night to roam around Munich alone——"

"Why worrying in advance?" knotting the blue tie. "Probably won't see 'em."

"We shouldn't go down now when every one's going to dinner. Can't we wait—give them a chance to get off?"

"No, we can't!" with squelching emphasis. "Now, I've been tramping around all day—not postponing my dinner."

Helen Offers Alibi.

A few moments later, through the red-carpeted hall and down in the mirrored lift.

As they stepped into the lounge, a swift apprehensive survey.

On that leather couch by the showcase of Nymphenburg porcelain——

Yes, the Merwins!

"In for it!" muttered Warren. "Can't sneak by without their spotting us."

Helen thinking frantically as they neared the couch.

Visions of a tiresome evening. And he'd pay for everything—he always did.

"We were just hoping you'd come along," Mrs. Merwin's effusive greeting. "Now we can have dinner together! We've found a wonderful place——"

"Oh, I—I'm awfully sorry. But we've already had ours," not daring to glance at Warren.

"Already? Why, it's only seven!"

"We're going to the opera," her fabricating flush. "You know they start so early—seven-thirty."

"And I had so much to tell you! We motored out to the Starnberger See today. You mustn't miss it——"

Launching an instructive recital as they crossed to the door.

They Refuse a Ride.

"Which way do you go?" Mr. Merwin sent the gold-braided porter for a taxi. "Can't we give you a lift?"

"Why, thank you, but we love to walk here—and we've plenty of time."

"We're leaving Munich Saturday. Can't we fix up something before then?"

"Oh, I hope we can!" Helen's fervid emphasis. "I'm so sorry about this evening."

"Why the gushy good-by?" grumped Warren, as the Merwins' taxi sped off.

"Dear, I had to say something. You wouldn't! You'll never help me."

"Well, I don't have to," cupping his hands to light a cigarette. "Nothing you can't sidestep on your own."

"But it did sound convincing, didn't it?" relieved at his condoning grin. "That we'd already dined?"

"Didn't convince my appetite! But they fell for it. They don't know what an alibi artist you are. Now where do we eat? How about Boettner's?"

"No, no, we told them about that. They might go there!"

"Didn't tip 'em off to Kurz's, did we? Good!" steering her to the curb. "We'll go this way."

Across the tree-shaded Maximiliansplatz. Stately buildings looming out of the lamp-starred twilight.

The spacious dignity of the Bavarian capital. Wide avenues, classic buildings, fountained and monumented squares.

The lure of lighted shop windows. Antiques. Rare and erudite books. Modernistic art, textiles, ceramics. Munich a cultural center of the old and new.

Run Into the Merwins.

Soon the busy Marienplatz, dominated by the Gothic spires of the Rathaus.

On through the narrow winding streets of the old quarter. Blind walls, deep arches. Mysterious shadows of the brooding past.

Under the twin towers of the ancient Frauenkirche, a quaint corner. Kurz's—the oldest wine house in Munich.

Into the small dark-oak room. Starting to their favorite wall-bench table.

A panic stare——

The Merwins!

"Wow!" Warren's undertoned grunt. "We're sunk!"

No escape. They had seen them. That puzzled incredulity——

"Don't say a word!" her breathless whisper under a dissembling smile.

With the poise of desperation, she darted over.

"How fortunate we came here!" spontaneity achieved. "We'd still a little time—thought we'd have coffee first."

"Coffee? You came here just for coffee?"

"Oh, we—we're old patrons." Then, hastily, "May we sit here with you? Just for a few moments?"

"Of course." Mr. Merwin had risen. "Delighted to have you."

Heart-thumping apprehension. Warren always a reluctant conspirator. If he should make some betraying blunder——

The waiter hurrying in now. Greeting them with after-a-year cordiality. His politely concealed surprise at the "Zwei Mokka" order.

The Merwins just starting their Krebssuppe. The savory crawfish bisque a specialty here.

Sullenly Warren sipped his black coffee. Scowling at the alluring tureen on the serving table.

They "Discuss" the Opera.

"We'll need coffee to keep awake,' flustered Helen, to cover an awkward pause. "The Wagnerian operas are so long."

"Yes, aren't they? What're you going to hear?"

"Why — oh, Tristan," a random stab.

"Something I couldn't sit through." Mr. Merwin refilling his wine glass. "I shouldn't think you'd care for it, Curtis"

"Huh, I don't!" grimly.

"But you're dragged into it, too!" a comrade-in-misery laugh. "Anything to keep the peace. Like the Irishman in the story——"

"Henry, I don't have to drag you to the opera! You know you appreciate good music," his wife annoyed coaching. "And they give very fine performances here."

"Best thing about 'em's the intermission—always have a great buffet," grinned Warren. "Can even sit through Wagner fortified with sandwiches and Munchner."

"Everybody eats so much," Mrs. Merwin's affected shudder. "But I suppose one gets hungry when they start at 7:30."

"And they're always so punctual in Germany. That's why we didn't have coffee with our dinner," elaborating her excuse. "Afraid we'd be late."

The waiter now uncovering a lager platter. Grilled Rheinlachs and Remoulade sauce.

"Jove, that looks good," Warren's covetous appraisal.

"Shame you folks have already eaten," regretted Mr. Merwin. "They're giving us a wonderful dinner."

"Darned sight better'n we had," ironically, setting down his diminutive cup.

"Why don't you try some of the salmon? More than the two of us can manage. We'll get some extra plates."

"No, no!" Helen fumbling with her gloves. "It must be time for us to go."

"Twenty after," frowning at his watch.

"Then we'll have to taxi to the opera," jumping up. "And they make you check your things—that takes so long."

A flurried good-by, and they were out in the dark, quiet street.

"Golly, got in deep that time!" exploded Warren, swinging her off. "Now hustle, we eat at the Ratskeller. That's the nearest place and I'm famished."

"Oh, to think we'd run into them there! I was never so stunned."

"I was never so starved! Had to sit there sniffing that soup——"

"And the way you looked at it!" almost running to keep up. "I was afraid they'd notice."

"When they brought on that fish—and there was I with a demitasse! Demitasse!" a disgusted snort. "Of all the fool ideas!"

"What else could I do? I had to think of something plausible—quick! The only way out. You must admit that."

"Darned punk way," now back to the soaring Rathaus. "Come on, restaurant's around this side. That's what you get for stalling at the hotel—pretending we'd already fed."

"But in all Munich—why did they have to go there? And you didn't want to dine with them, either," a blame-sharing impulse.

Warren Wastes Food.

"Rather dine with them than not dine at all," striding on under the colonnades. "Your dodges! You spring one, then spin a dozen to bolster it up."

"But they did believe me! You do think they did?" wistfully. "I tried to make it convincing."

"Tried too blamed hard!" savagely. "Way you piled on the details. Tristan! How d'you know it's Tristan?"

"They're always giving that. And I think I saw it on this week's program. It might be tonight——"

"Well, it's not!" His cane thrust at a black-and-red poster on one of the columns. "Die Meistersinger!"

Her verifying scrutiny of the opera schedule. Yes, today! Dienstag—Tuesday.

"Now what if they check up on you?" callously.

"Oh, they wouldn't! They didn't suspect—I'm sure they didn't," straining for self-conviction. "Dear, you don't think——"

"Huh, don't know and don't care!" pushing back the heavy carved door of the Ratskeller. "Watch your step down here. All I'm concerned about now is grub. And it's the last time you pull that already-eaten gag. I'll not stand for any alibi that does me out of my dinner!"

(Copyright, 1932.)

NEXT WEEK
THE PEWTER PLATE.

QUANTICO SOCIETY NOTES

Mrs. John H. Russell, wife of the commanding general, entertained in her home on Wednesday afternoon at a bridge tea. Those who played were Mrs. Charles H Lyman, Mrs. Philip L. Torrey, Mrs. Harold L. Parsons, Mrs. Clarence E. Nutting, Mrs. Maurice S. Berry, Mrs. William C. James, Mrs. Samuel A. Woods, jr., Mrs. William D. Davis, Mrs. Robert S. Davis, Mrs. John H. Falge, Mrs. Campbell H. Brown, Mrs. Floyd W. Bennett, Mrs. Samuel C. Cumming, Mrs. James L. Denham, Mrs Charles I. Murray, Mrs. Edwin Miller, Mrs. Lionel C. Goudeau, Mrs. Shelton C. Zern, Mrs. John H. Stadler, Mrs. Charles E. Chapel, and the following guests came in later in the afternoon for tea: Mrs. James L. Breckenridge, Mrs. Franklin B. Garrett, Mrs. Wilfred R. Hall, Mrs. Pedro A. Del Valle, Mrs. Lowry B. Stephenson and Mrs. Ralph J. Mitchell.

Mrs. Harold L. Parsons was hostess on Thursday afternoon at a bridge tea in her quarters. Mrs. Parson's guests were Mrs. John H. Russell, Mrs. Charles H. Lyman, Mrs. Uriel Sebree, Mrs. Philip L. Torrey, Mrs. Maurice Berry, Mrs. Reynolds Hayden, Mrs. Eli K. Cole, house guest of Col. and Mrs. Walter E. Noa; Mrs. Floyd W. Bennett, Mrs. Andrew B. Creesy, Mrs. Alfred E. Noble, Mrs. John B. Sebree, Mrs. Walter E. Ansel, Mrs. Evans O. Ames, Mrs. Robert S. Pendleton, Mrs Lionel C. Goudeau, Mrs. Jacob Plachta, Mrs John K Martenstein, Miss Irene Noa, Mrs. James M. Bain, Mrs. Edwin D. Miller, Mrs. Allen E. Simons, Mrs. Franklin G. Cowie and Mrs Harold D. Campbell. The additional guests who came in for tea were Mrs. James L. Breckenridge, Mrs. Harold H. Utley, Mrs. Lowry B Stephenson, Mrs. Augustus T. Lewis, Mrs. John H. Falge, Mrs. Robert S. Davis and Mrs. Charles D. Barrett.

Mrs. Robert S. Pendleton entertained at a luncheon, followed by bridge, in her home on Tuesday. Those present were Mrs. John H. Russell, Mrs. Charles H. Lyman, Mrs. Eli K. Cole, Mrs. Tom D. Barber, Mrs. Harold L. Parsons, Mrs. Allen E. Simon, Mrs. Walter E. Noa, Mrs. John H. Falge, Mrs. William Sihler, Mrs. William W. Scott, Mrs. Lionel C. Goudeau, Mrs. Samuel C. Cumming and Mrs. Kendrick.

Mrs. Francis M. McAlister and Mrs. Chester B. Graham were hostesses at a bridge tea given at Mrs. Graham's home on Friday afternoon. About 40 guests played bridge, and Mrs. Charles D. Barrett and Mr. Francis O. Fenton came in later for tea.

Maj. and Mrs. William Capers James entertained at an informal bridge supper at home on Friday evening. Their guests were Capt. and Mrs. Reynolds Hayden, Maj. and Mrs. Harold L. Parsons, Mrs. Uriel Sebree, Maj. and Mrs. John B. Sebree, Capt. and Mrs. Daniel Earle Campbell, Maj. and Mrs. DeWitt Peck, Capt. and Mrs. Charles N. Muldrow, Lieut. Comdr. and Mrs. William D. Davis and Capt. and Mrs. Alfred E. Noble.

The boys' tennis tournament was brought to a conclusion when Thomas McWilliam, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Vardy, defeated Hunter Reinberg, son of Mrs. Clayton C. Jerome. The mixed doubles, men's singles and doubles have yet to be played off. The prizes are large silver cups, suitably engraved.

Lieut. and Mrs. Clayton C. Jerome and two sons have left Quantico on leave for 30 days, at the end of which time they will reside in Annapolis, where Lieut. Jerome will take up his new duties.

Capt. and Mrs. Charles N. Muldrow are on leave from the post and have driven to South Carolina, where they will visit relatives.

Find Ancient Rubaiyat

Lucknow, India, May 21 (A.P.).—What experts claim is the oldest manuscript copy in the world of the Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam has been found here in the archives of an old family. It was made in 1423, or 37 years before the Ousley manuscript in the Bodleian Library at Oxford.

At the Community Centers

COMMUNITY CENTER NEWS.
Community Center Department,
Mrs. Elizabeth K. Peoples, Director,
Franklin Administration Building,
National 1300.
Week of May 22 to 28, 1932.

CENTRAL.

Thirteenth and Clifton streets, Mrs. Edith H. Hunter, community secretary.

Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday mornings—Practice, baseball team of House of Representatives.

Thursday evening—Drill team of Ohepa Lodge No. 31.

Saturday morning — Playground track meet.

CHEVY CHASE.

Ben Murch School, Thirty-sixth and Ellicott streets, Mrs. F. K. Espenschied, community secretary.

Friday afternoon—Tap class.

Friday evening—Boy Scout troops, No. 53 and No. 59.

COLUMBIA HEIGHTS.

Powell Junior, Hiatt place and Lamont street, Mrs. M. S. Young, community secretary.

Tuesday afternoon—Rhythmic dancing at Raymond.

Thursday afternoon—Tap dancing at Johnson.

Thursday evening—Oates' and Padgett's Orchestras, Ye Olde Tyme Dance Club.

Friday evening—Boy Scout troops No. 40 and No. 41, Girl Scout troop No. 12, Capital City Orchestra, Radio Club.

Saturday evening—Boy Scout court of honor and court of review, Padgett's Orchestra, program of one-act plays presented by the Bartfield players.

EAST WASHINGTON.

Seventeenth and East Capitol streets, Mrs. L. W. Hardy, general secretary.

Tuesday evening — Dressmaking, Boys' Independent Band, library, Robert LeBruce Chapter, Order of DeMolay tumbling team.

Wednesday evening—East Washington community players.

Thursday evening—Library open from 5 to 9 o'clock.

Saturday morning — Handcraft groups at Eliot Junior High School.

Saturday evening—Tap dancing for boys and girls, Gallinger Hospital nurses' basket ball team, social dancing, patrol of Robert LeBruce Chapter, Order of DeMolay drill.

GEORGETOWN.

Gordon Junior, Thirty-fifth and T streets, Mrs. A. L. Irving, community secretary.

Thursday afternoon—Rehearsal of Petworth drama class and Georgetown rhythm class for program on Friday.

Friday evening—Recital by Georgetown rhythm class, and a play, "The Rose and the Ring," presented by the Petworth drama class.

LANGLEY.

Second and T streets northeast, Mrs. D. E. Middleton, community secretary.

Tuesday afternoon—Girl Scout troop No. 83.

Friday afternoon — Parents have been invited to attend the closing program of the rhythm and tap classes for this season, which will be held in the gymnasium.

Friday evening—Elks' Boys' Band rehearsal.

BURROUGHS.

Eighteenth and Monroe streets northeast; Mrs. D. E. Middleton, community secretary.

Tuesday afternoon—Girl Scout Troop No. 44.

MACFARLAND.

Iowa avenue and Webster street; Mrs. A. L. Irving, community secretary. Closed for season.

McKINLEY.

Second and T streets northeast; Mrs. A. L. Irving community secretary.

The Washington Civic Opera Company will present "The Yeoman of the Guard" on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings at 8 o'clock and on Saturday afternoon.

SOUTHEAST.

Mrs. M. W. Davis, community secretary.

Hine Junior High School, Seventh and C streets southeast.

Monday evening—Friendship House A. C., Gardenia Circle drama rehearsal, Pride of Washington Drill Team, Daughters of Scotia drama rehearsal.

Wednesday evening—Public speaking forum, final meeting; Foresters Drill Team, Southern Serenaders Orchestra, dance rehearsal.

Saturday morning—Piano study groups, Jolly Junior Club, Protected Home Circle.

BIRNEY.

Nichols avenue and Howard street southeast; Mrs. M. E. Ellis, community secretary.

Monday afternoon—Piano group.

Tuesday evening — Boys' game group, industrial art group, junior art group, Wistaria Dramatic Club, young peoples' quiet game group, Henson's Melody Orchestra, young ladies chorus, Choral Society, Young Men's Association, Parent-Teacher Association, Anacostia A. C.

Wednesday afternoon—Girl reserves.

Thursday afternoon—Junior Needle Guild, piano group.

Friday afternoon—Girls' Glee Club, girls' game group.

BUCHANAN AUDITORIUM.

Thirteenth and D streets southeast.

Tuesday evening—Southeast Citizens Association meeting.

Thursday evening—Social dancing, drama club.

Friday evening—Friendship House Club social evening.

THOMSON.

Twelfth and L streets northwest; Mrs. A. C. Driscoll, community secretary.

Monday evening—Chaminade Glee Club, Lovette Glee Club, Spanish midcity citizens.

Tuesday afternoon—Music groups for junior high school.

Tuesday evening—French for beginners and advanced groups, Junior Air Legion.

Wednesday afternoon—Music groups for children, junior children's rehearsal for June program.

Thursday evening—Gaelic study group, French beginners' groups.

Friday afternoon—Children's dancing groups and rehearsal for June recital.

Friday evening—French for beginners and advanced groups, stamp club.

Saturday morning—Music groups for children in violin, piano, drums, saxophone, trombone and clarinet.

BURRVILLE.

Division avenue and Corcoran street northeast; Mrs. C. J. Knox, community secretary.

Tuesday evening—Demonstration in all children's activities—music class, dancing, singing and dramatics.

DUNBAR.

First and N streets; Mrs. C. J. Knox, community secretary.

Friday evening—Closing program of season with vaudeville, including all children's activities of season. Closing night for swimming. Will reopen July 5 at 4 p. m. for summer swimming.

GARFIELD.

Twenty-fifth street and Alabama avenue southeast; Mrs. C. J. Knox, community secretary.

Wednesday evening—Closing program of exhibition of art class and children's work.

GARNET-PATTERSON.

Tenth and U streets northwest; Miss Etta Johnson, community secretary.

Tuesday evening — Amphion Glee Club, recreation group, Hoffman's Music Association, Paramount Players, home hygiene, Ross' Band.

Thursday evening—Drum corps and buglers, Columbia Temple Marching Club, Cooperative League, piano group, Metropolitan Chorus, recreation room, first aid, concert orchestra, nurses' unit.

WEST WASHINGTON.

Francis Junior High School, Twenty-fourth and N streets; Mrs. Florence Neal, community secretary.

Monday and Friday afternoons—Fife and drum corps.

Tuesday evening—Rock Creek Citizens Association, card tournament.

Wednesday evening—Patriarch drill team; closing of Red Cross Sewing Club; West Washington Glee Club.

Friday evening—Cantata, 50 children taking part. "Wedding of the Paper Doll."

With the Citizens

Citizens' Meetings This Week

The following citizens' associations are scheduled to meet this week:

MONDAY.

Georgetown, at Potomac Savings Bank.

Mid-City, at Thomson School.

North Capitol, at McKinley High School

WEDNESDAY.

Anacostia, at Masonic Hall.

Randle Highlands, at Benjamin Orr School.

Rhode Island Avenue, at Sherwood Presbyterian Church.

This week will bring the practical cessation of citizen association activities until September. Only six organizations are scheduled to meet this week and two next week, after which only another meeting of the Federation of Citizens Associations and the usual picnic remain this season.

Should Congress remain in session after June 10, however, the plans of the delegates to the parent body for a quiet vacation may be disrupted by special, called meetings despite the hot weather.

The proposed local utilities tax is about the only important District bill on which the federation has not taken some stand, however, and a special report is being made on this measure by the fiscal relations committee for action at the next session.

Social Happenings At Bowie Reported

Recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Bell were Mrs. Jacobs and son, of Patuxent and Mr. and Mrs. W. M. [illegible]er, of Laurel.

Mrs. Millard Schafer and Mrs. George Phelps were hostesses at a luncheon on last Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Schafer. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Schafer and two sons, Milton and Andrew; Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Harman, Miss Louise Brown, Miss Ruth Schafer, Mr. and Mrs. John Davidson, Mr. George Davidson and Miss Bessie Silver.

Miss Gertrude Trott, of New Jersey, has returned to her home after a visit with her parents.

Messrs. Robert and Wilbur Harman spent several days in New York last week.

Miss Louise Kelbaugh entertained the Bible class on Thursday evening. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Kelbaugh, Mrs. Grace Roberts, Master Burton Kelbaugh, the Rev. W. E. Nelson and Miss Frieda Martin.

Mr. V. M. Nichols spent the week-end with his mother at Mayo recently.

Mrs. George Phelps and Miss Ida Phelps were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Davidson last week.

Mrs. Mildred Corey, of Washington, spent the week-end with Mrs. Lorraine Randle at the home of her parents.

Mrs. Julia Kimble, of Washington, visited friends in this vicinity on Sunday.

Mrs. Lydia Anderson and Mrs. George Phelps were luncheon guests of Mrs. Mamie Schafer last week.

Guests on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Harman were Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Schafer, Messrs. Milton and Andrew Schafer, Mrs. Davidson and Miss Alberta Davidson, of Hyattsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Weagly had as their guests on Sunday Mr. James Haines, Mr. and Mrs. Chauncy Nuthall and brother and Miss Elizabeth and Mary Haines, of Ellicott City.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Buck and little daughter, Ann, visited Mr. J. W. Ryon last week.

Potomac

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harrington passed the week-end with relatives in Winchester.

Mr. and Mrs. George Mills visited relatives in Baltimore the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wells are visiting relatives in Lynchburg, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Harrington have returned from a visit to relatives in Martinsburg, W. Va.

Mrs. Emma Jones, who has been visiting Mrs. E. D. Arnold, has returned to her home in Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. William Wine, Miss Janet Wine and Miss Anna Tucker, of Quicksburg, Va., are the guests of Mrs. George Woods.

Mrs. Douglas E. Swan, of Culpeper, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Rosson.

Mr. and Mrs. David Winters are visiting relatives in Fredericksburg, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Watts are visiting relatives in Warrenton.

CAPITAL ART AND ARTISTS

Edith Hoyt Will Tell Her Experiences Painting in Canadian Wilds.

Howard University Gallery Presenting Works of Negro Artists

By ADA RAINEY.

THIS afternoon Edith Hoyt will give a talk on her experiences in Jasper National Park, Canada. Miss Hoyt was invited by the Canadian National Railroads last summer to paint in Jasper Park as the guest of the railroad for two months and then had an exhibition of the paintings that she had done while there. At The Woman's City Club these paintings will be on view through the coming week.

Miss Hoyt had a rare experience. She went alone to the Canadian mountains and was courageous enough to take a pack horse and her canvasses and go into the higher parts of the mountains. She was left alone by the guides and the other members of the small party and painted in oftentimes perilous positions until late hours after.

It was impossible to take large canvasses with her, so often merely small paintings were sketched and then finished later. Mostly the paintings have been completed in sight of the mountains.

Both oils and water colors will be on view this afternoon and one can get an excellent idea of the extent and grandeur of the Canadian Rockies, Lake Maline and the great Tonquin Ramparts. The color of the paintings is especially fine.

From the far north of Canada to the far south of Florida this versatile artist has journeyed. Two months after her return from Canada, Miss Hoyt went to Boca Grande, off the coast of Florida, and painted the brilliant color of the southern skies. Mostly in water color are these skies and the smooth waters of the Gulf depicted. There are delightful paintings of the swaying palms, of the tall pine trees and the vivid color of the setting sun.

Last week one of her recent paintings was requested for the newly formed art association of Little Rock, Ark. Many of the foremost artists in the country also are represented in this recently formed gallery, and one other Washington artist will be represented there, Susan B. Chase.

Miss Hoyt is the daughter of an Army officer and lived for years in Venice and Florence after her father retired.

* * * *

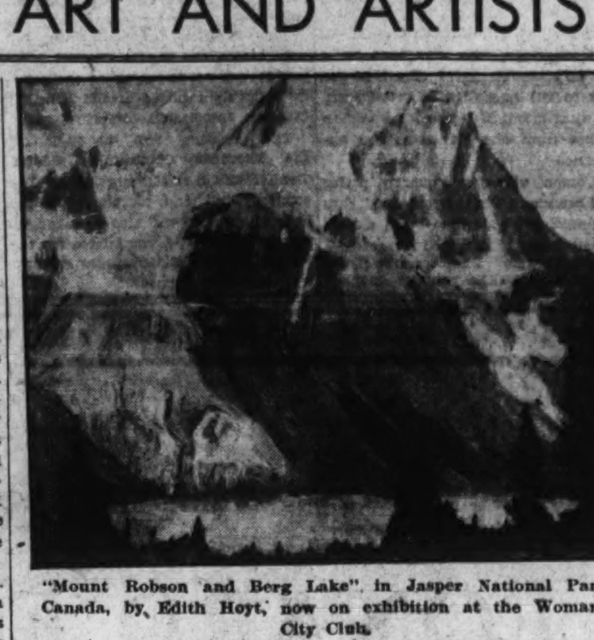
AN EXHIBITION of the work of Negro painters has been arranged by James Herring, art director of the Howard University art gallery, and is at present on view there. The paintings have been chosen from the work of Negro artists from all over the country and also includes several paintings from the Harmon Foundation. Much credit is due to the director for his excellent choice, for there are few, if any, poor paintings and there are a great many excellent ones. It is an exhibition that deserves the highest commendation.

The exhibition was arranged to celebrate the convention of the Washington Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People which was held last week. The exhibition will be on view through Wednesday.

Paintings by James A. Porter and James L. Wells, both instructors in art at Howard University, stand up well in comparison with the rest of the paintings. Porter received the Harmon award two or three years ago and his present painting, "Woman With Jug," is one of the best things in the show. Wells shows two landscapes, one has been loaned by the Phillips Gallery and the other is of "Conduit Road."

"Bridge, Near Avalon," by Hale A. Woodruff, another Harmon Foundation award winner, is constructed with strength and an understanding of structure. "Late Afternoon," a composition of boats, is by Allan Freelon which is excellent work, as are several other paintings by this artist, notably "Main Street, Gloucester." A canvas depicting an old woman sitting among her jars and jugs called "Port au Prince" by William A. Scott is pictorial and well composed.

There are excellent still life paintings by Hilda Wilkerson Brown and a really brilliant "Still Life on Table," by Hale A. Woodruff. Two portraits of Lois M. Jones, "Girl With Red Sweater" and "Portrait of a Young Man," show strong characterization. There are other paintings that deserve mention, notably "Street in France," by W. H. Johnson; "Mother and Child," by Charles C. Dawson, and "Grandma's Kitchen," by a student, George Walker. Many of the paintings show native racial characteristics and individuality which is strongly to be commended.



"Mount Robson and Berg Lake", in Jasper National Park, Canada, by Edith Hoyt, now on exhibition at the Woman's City Club.

* * * *

THE Critcher Summer School of Art will be held at "Rugby," University of Virginia, beginning June 20 and continuing to August 1. This is the first out-of-town summer school by the Critcher School of Painting and the place chosen should prove most acceptable. The instructors will be the director of the school, Catherine C. Critcher, assisted by Marguerite Munn. Both parties are well known in the city. Both have exhibited in art exhibitions in Washington and through the South.

* * * *

STUDENTS under 18 years have been having an exhibition in the National Art Gallery for the past week. The celebration of the Festival of Youth was inaugurated with a pageant under the direction of Miss Marie Forest. The Abbott School of Fine and Applied Art made the banners and the stage properties for the pageant, which was held in the Sylvan Theater.

The work of the students in the public schools, including the junior high schools, the Mount Vernon Seminary, the Abbott School of Fine and Applied Art and the National School of Fine and Applied Art were represented by creditable exhibits.

The art students of high schools under direction of Jesse Baker showed excellent work in design. Those of May Ashton were represented by good water colors and Norma Bose's by design. The Mount Vernon Seminary students had illustrations in design and etchings, students of Anne Abbott's School showed unusually interesting masks, wall decoration, commercial design, costume design and pictorial illustration and the students of Felix Mahony were represented by tinted sketches done by the children of one another in the Saturday morning classes.

The Corcoran School of Art will hold its annual student exhibition beginning May 31 and continuing for three weeks.

* * * *

AT NEW HOPE, Pa., there is being held the spring exhibition of art which will continue through June 26.

It is held in Phillips Mill and is opened every afternoon from 1 to 6 p. m. and on Saturday and Sunday from 10 a. m. until 6 p. m. This is an exhibition that will be especially interesting to architects of the city as well as to others who are interested not only in painting but also in the decorative arts which were so interestingly exhibited here for the past month at the Sears-Roebuck gallery.

Current Exhibitions

CORCORAN GALLERY OF ART—Portraits of Washington and his associates until Thanksgiving. Permanent collection of paintings, sculpture, faience, textiles and other works of art. Open daily except Monday morning, 9 to 4:30; Sunday, 2 to 5.

NATIONAL GALLERY OF ART—Exhibition of mural paintings and sculpture for Bicentennial until Thanksgiving. Permanent collection of paintings and sculpture. Open daily, 9 to 4:30; Sundays, 1 to 4:30.

FREER GALLERY OF ART—American paintings. Whistler etchings and Oriental art. Open Sunday and daily except Monday, 9 to 4:30.

ARTS CLUB OF WASHINGTON, 2017 I street—Bicentennial exhibition by Washington artists until October 1.

SEARS-ROEBUCK GALLERY, 1106 Connecticut avenue — Architectural exhibition of American master craftsmen and artists in decoration. Paintings by Waggaman, Gaul, Hausman and Zaal, until June 1.

PHILLIPS MEMORIAL GALLERY, 1600 Twenty-first street—Group exhibition of contemporary paintings.

TEXTILE MUSEUM OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA, 2330 S street—Rugs and textiles of the Near and Far East. Open Monday, Wednesday and Friday, 2 to 5. Cards of admission obtained at office of George H. Myers, 730 Fifteenth street.

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS — New group of Pennell lithographs. Loaned collection of Japanese prints.

MOUNT PLEASANT LIBRARY — Washington Water Color Club, until June 1.

DUMBARTON HOUSE, 2715 Q street —Portraits, toys and articles pertaining to child life in early Federal period. Open daily, 10 to 6; Sunday, 2 to 5. Exhibition opened until May 29.

HOWARD UNIVERSITY FINE ARTS GALLERY—Paintings by Negro artists until May 25.

With District Musicians

By ELISABETH E. POE.

MANY out-of-door music events are to mark the summer season in the National Capital. Visitors to Washington expressed deep appreciation of our band concerts in the various parks which dot the Capital City and journey to the Marine Barracks, the Navy Yard and to Fort Myer to enjoy our splendid service bands. Washingtonians and visitors alike keenly enjoy the programs at the Pan American Union as they form important parts of the summer time entertainments.

An unusual out-of-door music event is scheduled for June 5, at 8 p. m., when the opera, "Aida," will be presented at Griffith Stadium with a host of singers and elaborate stage settings including the animals which form such an important part of this opera.

The title role of "Aida" will be sung by Leonora Corona, soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company. Miss Corona is also a composer and has been presented a number of times in opera.

Other principals in this opera will be:

Dreda Aves, contralto, as Amneris; Pasquale Ferrara, tenor, as Rhamades; Pasquale Amato, barytone, as Amonasro; Nino Ruisi, basso, as Ramphis; Imerio Ferrai, basso, as the king; Gertrude Neely, soprano, as the priestess, and Enzo Paltrinieri, tenor, as the messenger.

Maestro Alfred Salmaggi, who is presenting this opera spectacle, has announced that the entire orchestra of the Metropolitan Opera Company will participate, as well as the chorus and ballet. Maestro Salmaggi also announced that a number of artists from the Chicago Opera Company will participate.

Small boys and girls who have no taste for grand opera will doubtless be eager to attend this production to view what Maestro Salmaggi describes as triumphal pageantry—numbers of elephants, camels, horses and other features of colorful Egyptian life.

The churching going music lovers of Washington are much interested in the numbers of spring organ recitals, concerts, operas and festivals by the church organists and choirs which are scheduled for the month of May and June.

Elsa Louise Raner, violinist; Elizabeth Winston, pianist, and Katharine Riggs, harpist, all members of the music faculty of Mount Vernon Seminary, gave a recital for the faculty and entire student body last Sunday, the proceeds to be given to the fund for the National Symphony Orchestra.

Edith B. Athey will present this evening her organ pupil, Alma Swope, as guest organist for the regular "Meditation Period" from 7:45 to 8 o'clock, preceding the evening service, Hamline Methodist Episcopal Church, Sixteenth and Allison streets northwest.

The Chesapeake and Potomac Male Glee Club will present the last of this season's Sunday afternoon muusicales, at the Congressional Country Club, today at 5 p. m.

The concert will be given on the terrace of the clubhouse, if the weather is favorable; otherwise it will be presented in the Pompeian room.

The schedule of the United States Marine Band and Orchestra will include the following:

Monday—Band concert, auditorium Marine Barracks, 2 p. m.

Wednesday—Band concert, Walter Reed General Hospital at 6:30 p. m.

Thursday—The orchestra will furnish music at a service and reception in the National Museum memorializing the 100th anniversary of the birth of President Garfield and fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the Garfield memorial.

Friday—The band will participate in the memorial exercises at the Bureau of Printing and Engraving at 12 o'clock noon.

Friday—The orchestra will play for the Memorial Day Service at the Government Printing Office at 3 p. m.

Sunday—The band will furnish the music at the massing of the colors service in the Monument grounds at 2:30 p. m.

Sunday—The orchestra will play for the memorial service in St. Elizabeths Hospital to be held by the Spanish-American War Veterans at 2:30 p. m.

Pupils of Mrs. Isabel Garvin Shelley will give a recital at her studio, 1824 H street northwest, Friday evening.

The soloists for the concluding meeting of the Washington Chapter Hadassah, to be held at the Jewish Community Center Tuesday night, May 31, will be Mrs. Herman Hertzberg, soprano, and Master Benjamin Levinson, cellist.

"The Crimson Eyebrows," a two-act operetta, seldom heard in Washington, will be sung next Wednesday evening by the quartet and 50-voice chorus of the Mount Pleasant Congregational Church, in Fishburn Hall, recreation center of the church.

An organ recital will be presented at the Chapel of the Nativity by Mary Louise Wood, Wednesday, at 8:30 p. m.

An organ recital will be given by Dorothy Iffert Lakin at the Church of the Epiphany, Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

NEWS OF D. A. R. CHAPTERS

E Pluribus Unum

E Pluribus Unum Chapter, D. A. R., held its May meeting at the home of the State regent, Mrs. Harry C. Grove, 2708 Cathedral avenue. Assisting her were her mother, Mrs. Charles Bryant, and her daughter, Miss Anna Grove. The regent, Mrs. Harvey Friend, opened the meeting with a prayer for the grieving family of Charles A. Lindbergh, jr., in their terrible sorrow. The saying of the Lord's Prayer followed and the salute to the flag. The minutes were read and approved. Reports were given by the officers and chapter chairman. It was voted to send a boy to camp this year and the money was voted for this purpose. The regent's report covered her three years in office and gave a synopsis of the progress of the chapter during that time. She thanked all officers for their cooperation with her.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: Regent, Mrs. William B. Sinnott; vice regent, Mrs. William C. Teubner; chaplain, Miss Elizabeth Cooper; recording secretary, Mrs. Carl Smith; corresponding secretary, Mrs. C. C. Baden; treasurer, Miss Harriet P. Lander; registrar, Mrs. Frank E. Mack; historian, Mrs. Henry L. West; delegate, Mrs. Harvey M. Friend; first alternate, Mrs. Frederick L. Rowe; second alternate, Mrs. Theodore Knappen; third alternate, Miss M. L. Pfeiffer; fourth alternate, Miss Marguerite Godoy; fifth alternate, Mrs. Frank E. Mack; sixth alternate, Mrs. Hubert Rex Johnson; seventh alternate, Mrs. James Douglas; eighth alternate, Miss Anna Grove; ninth alternate, Mrs. Carl Smith; tenth alternate, Mrs. William C. Teubner.

Mrs. Harvey M. Friend, the retiring regent, with appropriate remarks, presented to the new regent, Mrs. William B. Sinnott, the chapter regent's pin. The chapter will present the former regent's pin to Mrs. Friend at a later date. The retiring regent, Mrs. Friend, and the new regent,

Thomas Marshall

Thomas Marshall Chapter held the May meeting with Miss Linda Nance. Reports of the Continental Congress were given by the delegate, Mrs. Colburn, and by the page, Miss Sarah Howe. Officers' reports for the year were read. Mrs. Marshall was accepted as a member of the chapter. The following officers were elected: Regent, Mrs. Harry Howard; vice regent, Mrs. William H. Wagner; recording secretary, Mrs. Colburn; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Coolidge; treasurer, Miss Agnes Randolph; registrar, Miss Mary McCabe; historian, Mrs. Raymond H. Tuttle; chaplain, Mrs. Mary H. Fortier; parliamentarian, Miss Essie Vaughan; delegate, Miss Linda Nance. Following the election the new officers were formally installed. Mrs. Wallace, a member of the chapter residing in Arkansas, attended this meeting, having come to Washington for the Continental Congress. Miss Edna Harris and Mrs. Marshall were guests. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served in the dining room, a color scheme of red, white and blue being carried out.

Livingston Manor

Livingston Manor Chapter, D. A. R., on May 18 gave a colonial tea reception in honor of Mrs. Arturo Y. Casanova, newly elected State historian, at the home of Miss Katharine Pike, 2303 Eighteenth street Besides the guest of honor, the regent, Mrs. A. S. McAllister, and vice regent, Mrs. A. P. Anderson, there were in the receiving line Mrs. David D. Caldwell, vice president general; Mrs. Stanley Reed, registrar general, and Mrs. Harry Colfax Grove, State regent, D. A. R. The members of the chapter as hostesses were assisted by Miss Hazel Stephens, Miss Kitty Pike and the three small Misses McAllister, Miss Betty Anderson and Master Mortimer Bryan Moorehouse, all in colonial costumes. Serving at the tea table were the past regents of the chapter, Mrs. Horace P. McIntosh, Mrs Gaius M Brumbaugh, Mrs. Frank S. Ray and Mrs. Alanson D. Morehouse.

Continental Chapter

Continental Chapter of the D. A. R. met for the last meeting of the season at the home of Miss Evelyn L. Yeomans, 3740 McKinley street northwest, May 16, 1932, at 8 p. m.

The meeting was opened with the usual exercises, after which the regent, Mrs. Stanley H. Beasley, gave a report of her activities as regent during her term of office. As a tribute to the outgoing regent it must be stated that her never-failing enthusiasm, her rare tact, and her unflagging energy are all a splendid exampe to her coworkers—the admiring members of Continental Chapter.

The various other officers also gave reports for the year, showing splendid work and an increasing interest in the chapter.

Miss Elizabeth Mallatt Barnes gave an interesting talk on "Sons and Daughters of the Republic." A D. A. R. camp has been established on the Tobacco River. This spacious camp will provide a marvelous outing for the children, who will be under the care and guidance of responsible people and the vacation will be a joy and upbuilding in character and health.

The former State historian, Miss Kathrina L. Harvey, also gave a talk which was much appreciated.

The society next held its annual election of officers. This was accomplished with the greatest harmony. The following officers were elected for the ensuing two years: Regent, Mrs. Lora Fay Manion; vice regent, Miss Mary Josephine Edmonds; chaplain, Mrs. Harriett Gerber; recording secretary, Mrs. Hazel Kirk Hoggett; corresponding secretary, Miss Mary Russell Shelton; treasurer, Mrs. Elizabeth Randall Murray; registrar, Mrs. Helen Ferry Thigpen; historian, Miss Evelyn L. Yeomans continues in office; delegate, Mrs. Hazel Kirk Hoggett.

Army-Navy

The following are the newly appointed committee chairmen of the Army-Navy Chapter, D. A. R.: Americanism, Mrs. H. E. Paddock; better films, Miss I. S. Chamberlin; conservation and thrift, Mrs. R. T. McIntyre; Constitution Hall finance, Mrs. L. H. Halstead; correct use of the flag, Mrs. G. C. Shaw; D. A. R. student loan fund, Mrs. R. W. Fleming; Ellis Island, Miss Emma Nourse; entertainment, Mrs. J. W. Holcombe; genealogical research, Miss S. P. Casey; girl homemakers, Mrs. W. S. Baker; legislation in U. S. Congress, Mrs. J. C. Shafroth; library, Miss J. E. Goldman; magazine, Mrs. J. V. White; manual for immigrants, Mrs. J. G. Field; membership, Mrs. J. A. Gaston; national defense, Mrs. J. H. Becque; patriotic education, Mrs. M. S. Western; publicity, Mrs. Godwin Ordway; Revolutionary relics for Memorial Continental Hall, Mrs. W. R. Smedberg, jr.; Sons and Daughters of the Republic, Mrs. D. J. Rumbough; visiting, Mrs. R. D. LaGarde; chapter house, Mrs. R. M. Griswold; C. A. R., Mrs. Roy Geiger.

Kath. Montgomery

Katherine Montgomery Chapter held its regular and annual meeting at the home of Mrs. Lillian N. Sanford, 2520 Eleventh street northwest, assisted by her two daughters, Miss Frances Sanford and Mrs. Kingree. The regent, Mrs. Charles J. Newhard, presided.

Mrs. Joseph W. Hiscox, delegate, read her report of the Forty-first congress. Annual reports were read by the officers, which disclosed a busy and profitable year's work.

The following officers were elected for a term of two years: Regent, Mrs. Joseph W. Hiscox; vice regent, Mrs. Benton E. Rothgeb; chaplain, Mrs. Frank H. Smith; recording secretary, Miss Grace E. Meginniss; corresponding secretary, Miss Frances Sanford; treasurer, Mrs. Charles J. Newhard; registrar, Mrs. William Bonar Bell; historian, Mrs. Lillian B. Sanford; delegate, Mrs. F. A. Evarts.

The former regent, Mrs. Newhard, was presented with an ex-regent's bar pin. The presentation speech was made by Mrs. Bell.

Mary Washington

A large and enthusiastic audience attended the regular monthly meeting of the Mary Washington Chapter, D. A. R., Tuesday evening, May 10, at the Washington Club, Miss Darinda E. Rogers, the regent, presiding. Officers and committee members gave their annual reports showing the splendid patriotic work of the chapter. The election of officers followed. A unanimous vote of thanks and appreciation was given Miss Rogers, the retiring regent, for her inspiring leadership and deep regret that according to the by-laws of the chapter a regent may only serve two years. Miss Rogers is a perfect regent. She was elected by acclamation the first member of the board. Other officers elected were: Regent, Mrs. W. Gwynn Gardiner; vice regent, Mrs. Thaddeus M. Jones; chaplain, Miss Mary Louise Marean; recording secretary, Mrs. J. Franklin Meyers; corresponding secretary, Mrs. George S. Barnes; treasurer, Mrs. Frederick T. F. Johnson; registrar, Mrs. Frances E. Pope; historian, Miss Janet E. Richards. The entertainment of the evening was a delightful address on "George Washington's Will," given by our brilliant and beloved historian, Miss Janet E. Richards.

Susan Hetzel

The Susan Riviere Hetzel Chapter, D. A. R., was entertained at luncheon on May 13 by Mrs. Wilbur S. Hinman in her suburban residence at Falls Church, Va. Immediately after luncheon, the regular monthly meeting was called to order and yearly reports were delivered. Mrs. Geoffrey Creyke, regent, presided, and Mrs. Gertrude J. McPherson, delegate, read a paper on the life of Mrs. Harry Lee Rust, written by Mrs. Bessie W. Gahn for the Chapter House Memory Book. Mrs. Rust was a member of this chapter.

Miss Luella Chase, sister of Mrs. Wade Ellis, of Washington, D. C., was unanimously voted a member of the chapter.

Mrs. Richard L. Hoxie, registrar, spoke of recent needs of the Crossnore School for Children, and the chapter voted to lend further support to this institution.

Annual election of officers for the chapter resulted as follows: Regent, Mrs. Geoffrey Creyke; vice regent, Miss Julia McFarland; chaplain, Miss Leah Burkhart; recording secretary, Mrs. Bessie W. Gahn; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Ryland C. Bryant; treasurer, Mrs. William T. Clerk; registrar, Mrs. Richard L. Hoxie; historian, Mrs. George Combs; librarian, Mrs. Larz Anderson, and delegate, Mrs. Robert Clay Sherrill.

The chapter adjourned until the second Friday of October.

Capt. Magruder

Capt. Joseph Magruder Chapter, D. A. R., held the May meeting on the afternoon of May 13, at 2:30 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Arthur S. Field and Miss Katherine L. Harvey.

The regent, Mrs. Herbert Merwin, presided, and the meeting was opened by the reciting of the Lord's Prayer and the salute to the flag, led by the chaplain, Mrs. Dewhirst.

The annual reports of the officers were given and accepted.

At the roll call reports of the Continental Congress were read.

Mrs. Dewhirst, chairman of the nominating committee for chapter officers, read her report and the election resulted as follows:

Regent, Mrs. Evert L. Harvey; vice regent, Mrs. Arthur S. Field; chaplain, Mrs. Sarah R. Harmon; recording secretary, Mrs. Earl B. Fuller; corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. H. Brisebois; treasurer, Mrs. Towson Price; registrar, Mrs. Herbert Merwin; historian, Mrs. Thomas Roberts; board of management, Mrs. W. S. Dewhirst, Mrs. David D. Caldwell, Mrs. Joseph Stewart, Miss Katherine Harvey, Mrs. Ira Whitacre.

Mrs. Dewhirst, a former regent, and Mrs. Merwin, the retiring regent, were presented with ex-regent bars.

Following adjournment a social hour followed, with Mrs. Dewhirst presiding at the tea table.

Democratic Council

Mrs. Clara Wright Smith presided at the regular meeting, held Monday in the Sears-Roebuck Galleries. Annual reports were read by officers and committee chairmen. It was voted to address a letter to Mr. Warren I. Glover, Second Assistant Postmaster General, asking if he had been correctly quoted in the recent dispatch from the postmasters' convention, held in Springfield, Mo., in which he was quoted as being in a receptive mood for "resignations of postmasters of that State who did not expect to support the candidacy of President Hoover at the coming election."

Summer outings to be held again this year was decided and notice to the membership of time and place will be announced later.

The annual election was held. Mrs. Clara Wright Smith was elected president; Mrs. Grattan Kerans, first vice president; Mrs. Lester J. Pollock, second vice president; Mrs. Robert Kirkpatrick Noble, treasurer; Miss Julie Mayer, recording secretary; Mrs. Mary D. Heffernan, corresponding secretary; Miss Lida Mae Francis, field secretary; Mrs. Charles P. Stewart, historian; Mrs. Mabel Jennings Fry and Miss Nina Jones, auditors; Mrs. Alma B. Partridge, parliamentarian.

Woman's City Club

The art section, Miss Clara R. Saunders, chairman, will be hostesses at the tea this afternoon when Miss Edith Hoyt, well-known painter, will be guest of honor.

The Monday Auction and Contract Bridge section plans to meet for a box luncheon picnic tomorrow at 12 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sidney Ulfelder, Maplewood, McLean, Va. Mrs. Dixie T. Wright, chairman, is in charge of transportation.

The Tuesday Contract Practice Club, under the direction of Mrs. C. H. Curl, continues to meet on Tuesday mornings at 10:30.

Mrs. Katherine Seelye Wallace will be guest speaker at the current events section Tuesday afternoon at 4:45. Mrs. Wallace, who has recently returned from a three year residence in Shanghai and Nanking, will talk on "The Far Eastern Situation."

The nutrition and health section, Dr. Edith L. Allen, chairman, will meet Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Mrs. Rose Gouverneur Hoes, lecturer and writer, will be guest of honor and speaker at a luncheon on Saturday. She will talk about the Bicentennial exhibition of portraits and personal belongings of Gen. Washington and his family at the Corcoran Art Gallery, later conducting the group through the gallery. Miss Clara R. Saunders will preside.

Business Women

The Business Women's Council holds its meetings in the lecture room of the Church of the Covenant every Tuesday evening. Supper is served from 5 to 6:15, and they are excellent. Good programs are arranged. At the meeting on Tuesday evening, May 24, the devotional will be in charge of Mrs. N. S. Gould Wickey and at 8 o'clock we will be privileged to hear Mr. Matsubara, son of Bishop Matsubara, of Japan, who will tell us some of the interesting facts regarding Japan. All are invited

On Monday, May 30, the recreation committee have arranged for a private bus party to go to Selby on the Bay. Luncheon will be served by the ways and means committee. As the cost for the entire trip will be very reasonable it is to be hoped that many will take advantage of this opportunity.

North Capital Union

North Capitol W. C. T. U. held its regular meeting Monday, May 16, at the home of Mrs. Fred Briggs, 45 Bryant street northwest.

Dr. Charles Butler, of the Anti-saloon League, was the principal speaker of the evening.

The winners of a recent Demorest Medal contest gave their selections. "A Threat From Tommy," Jesse Watt; "He Did It," John Keefer; "The Giant," Janet Lohr.

Mrs. Brinley, president of North Star Union, told of some of the plans being worked out by her union.

Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Cowan. A social time was enjoyed by all.

BOOKS AND THEIR AUTHORS

By ELISABETH E. POE.

MANY of the workers of the world devote their leisure hours of spring and summer not to what the publishers term "summer fiction" at all, but to the enjoyment of biography and the books which can be catalogued under the heading of "literature."

Many a busy man or woman turn to the mystery story or the lighter fiction to take their minds off of their business and professional worries during the busy season, saving the books which take more time and study for the vacation times and hours of leisure which come when the winter season ends.

While the lighter works of fiction serve very well as narcotics to lull the jagged nerves at the end of a busy day, they would pale on the really thoughtful as steady diet, hour after hour, during the leisure weeks.

Nothing can give as much pleasure as good biography of some favorite character of history or modern times, or a well written book of fiction or one on a favorite topic in the quiet of the country or near the seaside when busy and professional cares have been put aside for a while.

It is at this time, too, that many of us like to go back to the favorites of our youth, reading again the classics which entranced us at the first reading.

To meet this demand for biography and history and a re-reading of old favorites the publishers have wisely provided volumes of these amidst the summertime fiction.

This is an age of biography and history. This biography and history is presented to the reading public with a sugarcoated fictionized pill, or in the sketchy light modern manner of writing which may entertain but does not always instruct or linger in the memory. Or it is tendered to those with a real appreciation in works which show much time and research and thought and are perfect gems of purity in the English and in the presentation of the subject.

Biographies which chronicle the lives of men and women whose names live or will live after them are artistic literary masterpieces, not from the coloring or flourishing given to the writing by the biographer but by the manner in which the facts are marshaled and written to let the lives and deeds, the characteristics and the emotions, the ideals and motives of the characters live once more in the mind of the reader. With great skill and much adherence to truth the real biographer etches in the background of the character or characters portrayed the era and the historic surroundings and scenes through which they moved. In this type of chronicle of the lives of the great the reader can see the way they lived, what they wore and the vista of their physical and mental eyes.

Lessons in etiquette and the fine art of being a gentleman may appear an anomaly in an age which prides itself on individualism and the right to live one's life exactly as desired at the moment. Yet, after all, there are those still who strive after perfection in this art. For such souls, the refreshing inspiration "The Letters of Lord Chesterfield" is ever apparent. Therefore the new limited edition of this classic, with introduction and editing by Donamy Dobree, and printed by Eyre & Spottiswoode, Kings Printers, London, and the Viking Press in New York, is a publishing event of surpassing interest.

These new volumes present 1,400 new letters of Lord Chesterfield as written by him. Others of the 2,600 letters contained in the book have been printed in an unexpurgated form. The editor has achieved a monumental task with consummate mastery. Of course, because of the private ownership of some Chesterfield letters, all the Fourth Earl of Chesterfield wrote is not available for publication. The letters included are chronologically arranged, and it is safe to assure book lovers that this new edition now becomes a standard reference book of eighteenth century politics, life and literature.

Only 350 sets of this edition are available in this country and they have all been subscribed for, of course, and it is already a rare item. Physically, the books are gems of the bookmaker's art.

Heretofore, much of the fame of Lord Chesterfield from a literary point of view has hinged on the 400 "Letters to His Son," which have been regarded as models of paternal advice. Macaulay even thought the publication of Lord Chesterfield's letters a mistake, an estimate he would have modified, no doubt, after the perusal of the present volumes.

Chesterfield, the gallant, is portrayed in the series of bantering letters to Mrs. Howard, and "how to write to a king" is depicted in the epistles to George II. In his letters to His Lordship, the Lord Bishop of Waterford, another Chesterfield, the wit, is disclosed, as well as the faithful friend of long years' standing who knew how to keep such relationships in good repair. Pope was about the only literary man of his age, with the exception of Dean Swift, to whom Chesterfield troubled to correspond. Yet in his letters to his son, Chesterfield expressed pleasure over being found frequently in the company of Addison and Steele.

The political letters are fraught with important facts. It is a fine study of the England of his day, seen from the inside and from the vantage point of acquaintance with the great and good of his time

Strictly from the literary point of view, Chesterfield confined himself to his letters save for occasional contributions to Dodsley's periodical.

It is a real contribution to English literature that Mr. Dobree has given us. The gratitude of all who know and estimate it at its true worth is due to him for his achievement.

MEN PASS. By Marcelle Capy. (Liveright, New York.)

This most excellent translation from the French by Victor Yakhontoff of a war book which has been much read overseas, will be doubtless welcomed to the American reading public. It is a narrative of a French village simply told, but grippingly graphic just the same.

After reading some of the recent war books which rack and tear our credulities as well as our nerves, this book which gets any force and vigor it may have from its quiet understanding of the lives and emotions of the people of whom it tells comes as a happy change.

This village escaped being touched as a village by the war, but the lives of every man and woman and child in it was affected by the battles that raged around it.

And then at the end the introduction of German prisoners as farm laborers and the subtle change they wrought in the village.

MOON OUT OF THE SKY. By Netta Syrett. (Dodd, Mead & Co., New York.)

Pride of race forms the theme of this novel. And it is an entertaining tale the author has woven about the proud Fairleighs, so many generations of whom had been born, lived and died at Priors Beeching.

So the Fairleigh heir, in the way of heirs of proud families of fiction, fell in love with the gardener's daughter, his childhood playmate.

Of course, the war came and the young heir married the gardener's daughter. She, on her part as proud of the Fairleighs and as jealous of their family prestige as the Fairleighs themselves, is willing to give up her son and go away so that the son of the heir-apparent may realize his heritage as a Fairleigh. But this story has a happy ending, and they all lived happily forever after.

SOUTH CAROLINA DURING RECONSTRUCTION. By Francis Butler Simkins, Ph. D., and Robert Hillard Woody, Ph. D. (University of North Carolina Press, Chapel Hill, N. C.)

This book, one of the most interesting issued by University of North Carolina Press, is already causing much comment throughout the South.

It deals with what the book points out is the most disgraceful page in American history. The page written just after the Civil War. The book, written after much study and thought, portrays the gross misrule of the conquered by the conquerors, and the effect it had on the government of the country not only in that section and not only in that time.

This is not an attack on the Northerners by a group of Southerners, as such books are apt to be. It is not an attack at all. It simply portrays man as he was and probably as he is, with traits good and bad, and influenced by conditions and circumstances as man will probably always be.

The authors have presented the picture of the Negroes raised from slavery who did not really understand their status and thought that freedom meant freedom from work. It was hard to show them the folly of leaving the rural districts for the cities. The picture drawn in this book is of a Negro race lacking understanding, retaining as a rule their spirit of submission in social relations but with the idea in their heads that politically they were to run the government.

And then the authors led us out of this dark picture into the brighter one that grew of it. For they point out that out of this turmoil came the beginnings of cotton manufacture, modern education and popular suffrage.

A BOOST FOR THE SAINTS

Gamaliel Bradford Does Well by Them. Finding One Famous Sinner Dull.

By JOHN ERSKINE

"SAINTS AND SINNERS," by Gamaliel Bradford. (Houghton, Mifflin & Co.).

THE recent death of Gamaliel Bradford gives this book a poignant interest. We read it with a backward glance on a finished life, the accomplishments of which were altogether fine and in some ways remarkable.

This man was born to a name already distinguished in our history, but he gave to that name a fresh significance. Handicapped by poor health, he yet produced a surprisingly large amount of admirable writing.

He himself said that he liked best to write novels and plays, but the world recognized his special talent in psychological criticisms of historical characters. We know him for such books as "The Soul of Samuel Pepys," "Damaged Souls," "Lee, the American," "American Portraits."

His method was to select a subject already known, a personality about whom opinions were already formed. He would then submit this character to a series of reactions, as though he were analyzing an unknown substance. The fact that the subject was already familiar and the analysis proceeded as though it were not, stimulated the reader's imagination to an unexpected alertness.

Of each subject Bradford asked a series of questions. In the present volume, for example, writing of Caesar Borgia, he begins by asking what his physical equipment was, and how far his natural health and strength affected his career and defined his ideals. He asks what was Caesar Borgia's attitude toward power, toward money, toward beauty, toward intellectual effort, toward women, toward his friends, toward religion, toward morality.

Such questions are in a sense obvious, yet the choice of them, quite as much as the way they are put, illuminated Bradford's character, indicate his tastes, expressed his philosophy.

He has been called an analyst of souls. He often speaks as though he were getting at the spiritual secrets of his subjects, exactly as an anatomist cuts his way to hidden bones and muscles. The value of his books, however, is in their unconscious confession of his soul.

* * * *

It was no accident that he felt an enormous sympathy with Samuel Pepys, and the grounds of that sympathy are significant. Pepys reveals himself by the events which he recounts, and many readers enjoy him for his overt gossip about his own behavior or about the conduct of other men. He reveals himself also in the verdicts he pronounced, in the approvals or disapprovals which he wrote down.

Bradford felt that this was the more important kind of confession; at least it was the kind in which he excelled. He was of another spiritual type than Pepys, but he understood that a soul's adventure among men, like a soul's adventure among masterpieces, ends in a revelation of the critic.

Bradford's books give us a consistent portrait of the author. In this last volume there is such a shifting of emphasis as one might expect from approaching age. There is less attraction to that gusto with which the famous sinners lived and for which they are famous, and there is more stress upon those moods in which we make ready to say farewell to this world. But the portrait is essentially the same as in the earlier works.

* * * *

POOR health allowed Bradford to write no more than two hours a day, and surprise has been expressed that on such a small allowance of time he could produce so much. But for a writer who knows the technique of composition as he did, working two hours a day is a generous working period. In two hours you can write a good many pages, if the material is urgent in your head, and you don't have to bite the end of your pencil for ideas.

The other hours of Bradford's day were important to his work, even though he was not writing. He was richly sensitive, but sensitiveness is an art as well as a gift, and he must have practiced it in long periods of meditation.

One gets the impression not that he read more than other scholars, but that he found more in what he read, and obviously he sought an understanding of books and of history less from other books than from life.

Caesar Borgia, St. Francis, Casanova, Thomas a Kempis, Tallyrand, Fenelon, Byron, the saints and sinners of this volume, can all be explained to some extent historically by a certain meeting of influences in their moment and their place. To study them so, the usual method, is to study influences rather than to study men.

There is a philosophy abroad in the world today which would have us study ourselves, also, not as moral characters, but as a result of influences. You and I certainly are as much the result of influences as St. Francis was, or Casanova.

Bradford preferred to study men in the past and men today as moral persons who however much they are influenced by heredity or environment, still lead their own life and choose to do right or wrong. To read his books, therefore, is to exercise our sense of values. Whether or not we agree with him, we are aware that this exercise is unusual and salutary.

* * * *

In this volume Bradford does much better for the saints than for the sinners. The title points a contrast, and the studies run perhaps too violently to extremes of black and white.

This result is not objectionable in the case of the saints, whose charm makes us eager to forget whatever frailties they may have had but when the sinners are studied chiefly for their shortcomings, one wonders what gave them their claim to fame.

I turned to the chapter on Casanova with some eagerness because Casanova seems to me one of the dullest of writers, and his industrious villainies are quite without lure. If Bradford wrote about him, I thought I might find out at last where his attraction lay, as writer and as man, but to Bradford also he seems to have been a dull fellow.

On the other hand, I have rarely been so stirred by a picture of goodness as by Bradford's account of St. Francis. He examines the saint by standards suggested by our spiritual needs today, by our discomfort with modern civilization, by our suspicion that the world is too much with us. Having read this chapter, we may not become followers of St. Francis, but to some extent we are likely to be changed men.

Soroptimist Club

The Soroptimist Club held a membership luncheon at the Hotel Lafayette on Wednesday at 1 p. m. and seven new members were admitted to the club. They were Edna Fussell, Louise Guest, Crienna Mahoney, Isabel Peterson, Ella Howard, Paula Everhart and Alice Terral. Nell Hysong, president, turned the meeting over to Laura Waters, chairman of the membership committee.

The Baltimore club was represented by its president, Gertrude Galliger and four club members. The music program was by John Lederer, pianist, of Baltimore, and Mrs. Roberta Keen Tubman, soloist, of New York City.

A sketch of the national clubhouse at Washington was presented to the club by President Hysong.

A final farewell rally was held for the fourteen members who left on Friday for the national convention at Sacramento, Calif. This transcontinental special stopped en route for the installation banquet at Akron, Ohio, the newest Soroptomist Club, which received its charter on Saturday. Mary Catherine Lewis was guest speaker at the banquet.

Some of the guests present at the luncheon Wednesday were Mrs. Nat Keen, of Baltimore; Mrs. Martin Nilsen, of Peekskill, N. Y.; Mrs. Henning, of Denver, Colo., and Mrs. Ira Bennett, of Washington

Daughters of 1812

The society held its regular meeting May 14 at national headquarters, 1461 Rhode Island avenue. It was the last meeting until October. The president, Mrs. Elma Ray Saul presided. Mrs. Saul and the other officers gave interesting reports of the year's work.

Newly elected officers are Mrs. Clement W. Sheriff, first vice president; Mrs. Sol Lansburgh, historian; Miss Evelyn L. Yeomans, librarian; Miss Margaret Cameron Beer and Mrs. Frederick W. Sparrow were reelected recording secretary and treasurer, respectively.

An interesting feature of the meeting was the report of the associate council which met in Washington April 26, and the reports of the various standing committees.

On Sunday, May 22, the society will dedicate a grave-marker at the tomb of Maj. Stephen Stewart Johns in the Westminster Church yard in Baltimore, Maj. John rendered distinguished service in the War of 1812.

After the business meeting members and guests enjoyed a delightful social hour. The hostesses were Mrs. Walter A. Bloedorn, Miss Mary E. Stallings and Miss Alice Goddard.

The guests included Miss Gertrude Bergman, of the University of Maryland staff, and Mrs. Anthony Gramer, of Philadelphia.

Zonta Club

Mrs. Harriet Howe, president of the Washington Zonta Club, presided at the regular luncheon meeting held at the Raleigh Hotel on Wednesday. Mrs. Pauline Wagner MacMillan, a former member of the club, who has spent the past two years traveling in Europe, was a guest of the club, and Mrs. May Moyers McElroy, another member of the club who divides her time between Washington and Chicago, was also present and spoke of matters to be presented for consideration at the International Zonta Club Confederation Convention to be held in St. Louis in the near future and which she will attend. Mrs. F. N. Richards, executive secretary, Washington Real Estate Board, was a guest of Mrs. Louise R. Stambaugh. Quite a number of the Washington Zontians will motor to Frederick next Monday evening to dine with the Frederick Zonta Club.

Schiaparelli's double-skin scarf that is arranged to simulate a cape has achieved wide popularity in coats now being worn. It is usually in silver fox and may be allied with dark brown, with beige, black, or in coats combining black satin with suede.

CATHOLICS TO STAGE BICENTENNIAL FETE

Field Mass Will Be Observed in Stadium of University; Parade Is Feature.

More than 60,000 Catholics are expected to participate in a huge celebration of the George Washington Bicentennial in the stadium of the Catholic University, May 30, at which a pontifical field mass will be celebrated by Archbishop Michael J. Curley, of Baltimore.

The United States Bicentennial Commission has officially sanctioned the field mass, which will not only be an archdiocesan observance, but will be in the nature of a tribute to George Washington from Catholics all over the United States.

A parade at 10 o'clock will start the ceremonies and a reviewing stand will hold a group of Catholic dignitaries, officials from the District and Federal Governments, members of the Diplomatic Corps and others in public and private life.

Arrangements have been made to seat 100,000 visitors and the ceremonies will be broadcast over a Nation-wide hook-up. The Georgetown R. O. T. C. Band, St Mary's Industrial Band, and the Industrial School Boys' Band will participate. Aid in handling the large crowd expected will be given by officers and members of the Marine Corps.

The sermon will be preached by the Rev. Peter Guilday, a member of the faculty of the Catholic University and editor of the Catholic Historical Review.

Trade Board Plans Week-End Cruise

Many Stops Will Be Made in Trip That Starts Next Saturday.

The second annual cruise, sponsored by the Washington Board of Trade as the first social activity of the new membership year, has been arranged for the Memorial Day week-end, according to John T Bardoff, chairman of the committee in charge of the outing for the board members and their families.

The S. S. District of Columbia, chartered from the Norfolk and Washington Steamship Company, will leave Washington next Saturday, at 3 p. m., returning on the morning of Tuesday, May 31. The boat will cruise over the Potomac River, Chesapeake Bay, Patuxent River, Capes of Virginia and Hampton Roads, stopping at Annapolis, Norfolk, Ocean View and Virginia Beach. Entertainment including Leon Brusiloff's orchestra is being arranged and souvenirs obtained for those to go on the cruise.

Because of the success of the outing last year, two-thirds of the boat has already been sold for this Memorial Day cruise, Mr. Bardoff said.

Jewish Women's Group Plans for Spring Fete

The ladies' auxiliary of the Hebrew Home for the Aged will hold a Bicentennial spring luncheon Tuesday at 12:30 p. m. at the home, 1125 Spring road northwest.

Mrs. Jack Vea will preside. Mrs. Charles A. Goldsmith, Mrs. Herman Hertzberg, Mrs. Yvonne Kushner, Mrs. Elias Gelman, Mrs. William Levy and Mrs. Morris Stein will take part in the program.

Blind since birth, Ralph C. Kidd, of Belding, Mich., is the local authority on road and tourist information.

FORESTRY MEETING TO BEGIN THURSDAY

Secretary Hyde to Be Among Speakers at Joint Convention Here.

Seven Washingtonians, including Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde and Mrs. John F Sipel, president of the Federation of Women's Clubs, will be speakers before the fifty-seventh annual meeting of the American Forestry Association, to be held jointly with the Maryland Forestry Association next Thursday and Friday.

Other Washington notables on the list of speakers are Henry O'Malley, chief of the United States Bureau of Fisheries; Paul G. Redington, head of the United States Biological Survey; W. S. Conant, of the American Engineering Council; N. G. Grover, chief hydraulic engineer, of the Geological Survey, and Maj. Robert Y. Stuart, chief forester of the United States Forest Service.

Senator William T. Bulow, of North Dakota, and Representative Robert Crosser, of Ohio, also will address the forestry gathering. Other noted authorities on forests and related subjects will speak.

Chief among the agenda of the gathering will be the project of focusing public attention upon the watershed and the importance of giving due recognition and development to watershed influences.

Shoe Workers on 5-Day Week.

St. Louis (U.P.).—Shoe factories here have adopted a five-day week for workers during the slack summer period in order to keep more of their employes on the pay roll.

New Capital-Cleveland Air Mail Schedule Set

Announcement was made yesterday by Assistant Postmaster General W. Irving Glover that, effective June 6, an additional air mail schedule will be operated at night between Washington and Cleveland, connecting at the latter place with the transcontinental route.

The air mail will leave Washington daily at 10 p. m., arriving in Chicago at 5:12 a. m. the next morning. Leaving, Chicago at 8:30 p. m., the air mail will reach Washington the next morning at 4:40 a. m. At present the air mail from Chicago reaches Washington at 7:40 in the morning.

Cops Protect Petters At Spot Pond Paradise

Stoneham, Mass. (U.P.).—On the shore of picturesque Spot Pond here is one of the longest established petters' paradises in America.

Nightly for the past fifteen years or more hundreds of automobiles have parked on the broad reservations by the roadside overlooking the pond. There, with police patrol to insure protection against petting-party bandits, lovers may spoon unmolested.

A midnight curfew must be observed, however, early-morning lovemaking not being tolerated by the metropolitan police.

Woman's Appearance Reveals Cigarette Taste

London (U.P.).—Lieut. Comdr. G. N. Woodbridge, who says that he is the only retired naval officer of his rank to sell cigarettes in a shop, can tell what brand of cigarettes a woman smokes from one glance at her appearance.

"Women who dress smartly prefer good brands of Virginia tobacco," says Commander Woodbridge, "and elderly women prefer gold-tipped cigarettes—usually Turkish. They seem to like a shorter smoke than younger people."

City Funds to Be Topic Of Mid-City Citizens

The District Appropriations bill now before the Senate District committee will be discussed at the regular monthly meeting of the Mid-City Citizens Association tomorrow night.

The meeting will be held at the Thomson Community Center, Twelfth and L streets northwest. The economy bill and its effect on the Federal employe will also be taken up at the meeting. A committee for the Fourth of July Bicentennial celebration will be appointed.

OURISMAN
DAY & NIGHT
CHEVROLET SERVICE
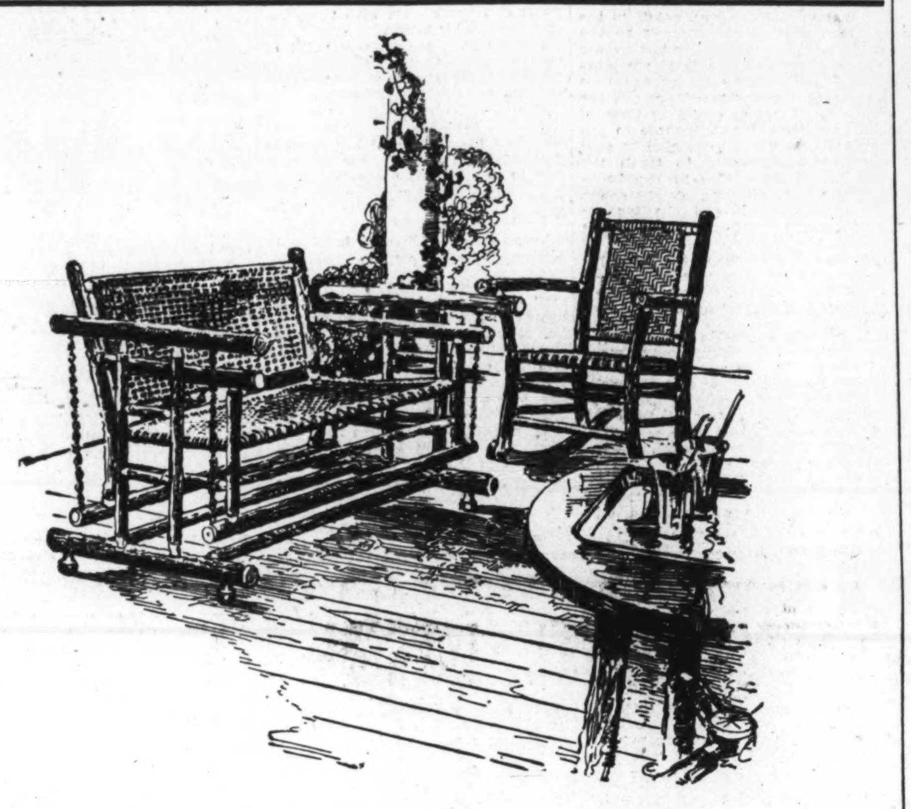
610 H STREET, N.E.
LINCOLN 10200
ALWAYS OPEN

PARKING . . . DRIVE TO REAR ENTRANCE . . . YOUR CAR WILL BE PARKED



Summer Furniture

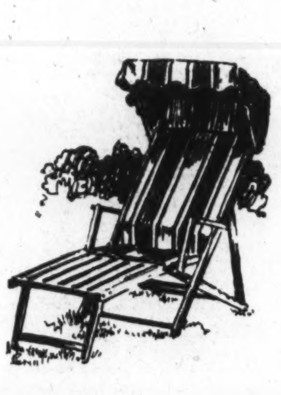
specially reduced in the

SALE OF LIFETIME FURNITURE

Just imagine being able to buy smart, new Summer Furniture at this time of the year at reduced sale prices! You will find a delightful variety for every Summer need. Let us show you.

Quaint, Old Hickory Pieces for Outdoors

Included in our colorful display are many sturdy old Hickory pieces and groups. A few are listed below.



Old Hickory Settee in Varnish Tahiti finish, 44 inches over all	$9.25
Arm Chair in Varnish Tahiti finish, Old Hickory, spindle back	$4.75
Spindle back Old Hickory Rocker in Varnish Tahiti finish, comfortable	$5.50
Exceptionally comfortable Old Hickory Glider with woven seat and back and woven arm rests...	$29.95
Old Hickory Beach Chair of much comfort, woven seat and back..	$9.00
Comfortable Old Hickory Arm Chair with woven seat and back, Tahiti Varnish	$7.00

Gliders . . . Rockers Steamer Chairs and Folding Chairs . . . Fiber Furniture in Gayly Colored Fabrics. All Reduced Now . . .

Furniture Slip Covers Custom Built, $27.75

FOR AVERAGE 3-PIECE SUITE (SOFA AND 2 CHAIRS)

MAYER & CO.

Seventh Street Between D aud E

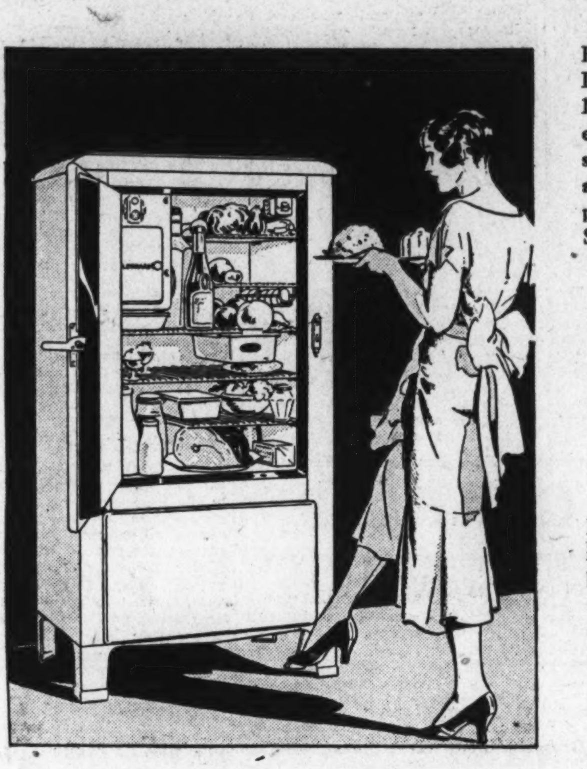
LIFETIME FURNITURE

FROM APRIL 25TH TO MAY 25TH—A SALE OF LIFETIME FURNITURE

Practical, Convenient Features In the LEONARD Electric

THE REFRIGERATOR BUILT FROM YEARS OF EXPERIENCE

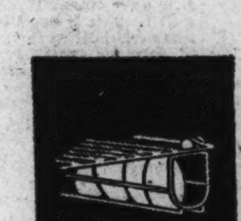


Behind the manufacture of the new Leonard Electric Refrigerator are 17 years in mechanical unit experience and 51 years in cabinet construction. The Leonard Electric is a good refrigerator — an efficient performer and a safe investment. See all the models at Mayer & Co.

Only Leonard Gives You All These Features

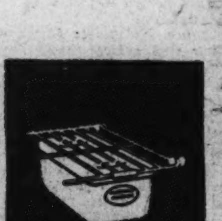
Many of the Leonard features are illustrated on the right. You will be delighted with every one of them. They are practical, convenient and labor-saving. Please feel under no obligation to come in and look at the Leonard at Mayer & Co.

Sold on the Budget Plan



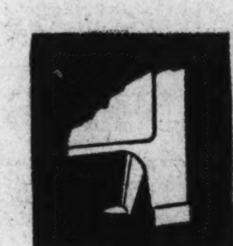
Egg Basket

The egg rack saves shelf room and protects eggs from breakage. Also better air circulation. A convenience extraordinary.



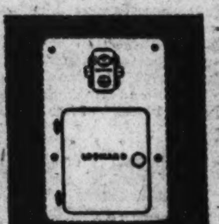
Vegetable Crisper

Standard equipment on all models except Nos. L-400, L-450 and AS-450. Arranged to take up little space. Bar type shelves on all.



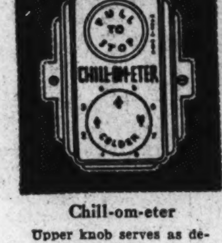
Len-a-Dor

A touch of the toe and the door swings open. Quite a convenience when both hands are full. All models except AS-450 model & PA-450.



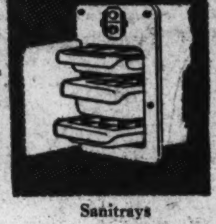
Cooling Unit

All-porcelain cooling unit. Sanitary and attractive. Chromium finished metal door separates ice cube trays from food space.



Chill-om-eter

Upper knob serves as defrosting switch and automatic cut-out, providing overload protection for motor. Lower knob affords 8 freezing speeds.



Sanitrays

The metal Sanitrays and the removable partitions are treated electrically (anodic process) to preserve their original sanitary finish. Odorless rubber trays.

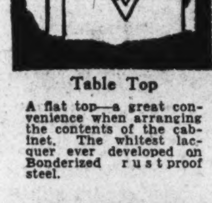


Table Top

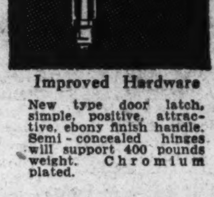
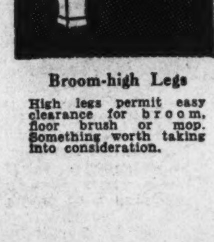
A flat top—a great convenience when arranging the contents of the cabinet. The whitest lacquer ever developed on Bonderized rust proof steel.



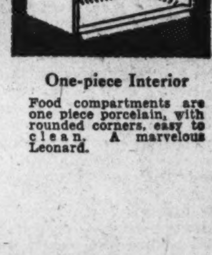
Improved Hardware

New type door latch, simple, positive, attractive, ebony finish handle. Semi-concealed hinges will support 400 pounds weight. Chromium plated.



Broom-high Legs

High legs permit easy clearance for broom, floor brush or mop. Something worth taking into consideration.



One-piece Interior

Food compartments are one piece porcelain, with rounded corners, easy to clean. A marvelous Leonard.

9 NEW LEONARD MODELS AT MAYER & CO.

24-Hour Mayer & Co. Service (Phone District 8976)

$149.50 (MODEL AS-450)

Leonard porcelain interior, white lacquer on rustproof steel exterior; 9.34 sq. ft. of shelf area; 63 cubes at one freezing, 5.1 lbs. of ice; 5.10 cu. ft. capacity with 4.46 cu. ft. of food storage space.

$159.50 (MODEL L-400)

Interior of Leonard porcelain, white lacquer exterior; cubical capacity 4.55 cu. ft. with 4.00 cu. ft. of food storage space; Len-A-Dor feature, egg basket; 42 ice cubes (3.4 lbs.) at one freezing.

$175 (MODEL L-450)

This model has 9.34 sq. ft. of shelf area; cubical capacity 5.10 cu. ft. with 4.46 cu. ft. of food storage space; 63 ice cubes (5.1 lbs.) at one freezing; porcelain interior; semi-concealed hardware.

$196.50 (MODEL L-550)

6.28 cu. ft. capacity with 5.57 cu. ft. of food storage space; 11.70 sq. ft. shelf area; 63 ice cubes (5.1 lbs.) at one freezing; all Leonard features illustrated at right; white porcelain interior.

$211.75 (MODEL L-650)

7.48 cu. ft. capacity with 6.65 cu. ft. of food storage space, 13.73 sq. ft. of shelf area; all Leonard extra features at right; 84 ice cubes (6.8 lbs.) at one freezing; Leonard porcelain interior.

$245 (MODEL L-750)

8.55 cu. ft. capacity with 7.52 cu. ft. of food storage space, 16.98 sq. ft. of shelf area; 108 ice cubes (11 lbs.) at one freezing; porcelain interior and all Leonard extra features illustrated.

$249.50 (MODEL PL-550)

All porcelain inside and out; cubical capacity 6.28 cu. ft. with 5.57 cu. ft. of food storage space; 11.70 sq. ft. of shelf area; electric light and all extra features; 63 cubes of ice at one freezing.

$299.50 (MODEL PL-750)

All porcelain inside and out; 8.55 cu. ft. capacity with 7.52 cu. ft. of food storage space, 16.98 sq. ft. of shelf area; electric light and all extra Leonard features; 108 ice cubes (11 lbs.).

ALL-PORCELAIN APARTMENT MODEL (net 4.46 cu. ft.)................ $195

See the Complete Leonard Display at Mayer & Co.

MAYER & CO.

Seventh Street Between D and E

RADIOS . . . BEDDING . . . DRAPERIES LIFETIME FURNITURE CARPETS . . . VACUUM CLEANERS . . . RUGS

Third Section Pages
Real Estate..........1-5
Finance..........6-7
Classified Ads..........8-10

The Washington Post.

Third Section Pages
Real Estate..........1-5
Finance..........6-7
Classified Ads..........8-10

WASHINGTON: SUNDAY, MAY 22, 1932.

R

POST'S MODEL HOME OPENED TO VISITORS

Especial Care Is Exercised in Decorating Residence in Beechwood.

Marking a new epoch in ultramodern home construction and arrangement is the opening today of The Washington Post model home at 6318 Beechwood drive, in Beechwood, entrancingly beautiful development of its builder, G. F. Mikkelson & Son. This dwelling, furnished and decorated by Woodward & Lothrop, well merits the praise of the most discerning visitor and the indorsement of this publication.

This residential structure stands an appealing incentive to the exercise of one of man's noblest wishes, the desire to own a home. It presents all that a home should be, plus the finest environment, atmosphere and background such a place to live in should offer. It has all of these healthy and desirable things, and an outlook that delights and a neighborhood that welcomes.

Let us consider these inducements, taking environment first. Here, Beechwood meets every requirement. It comprises 16 acres of rolling woodland in the heart of Chevy Chase, Md. It is a choice tract bounded by Meadow lane and Thornapple street and traversed by Beechwood drive, Hillcrest place and Sycamore street. In its planning, nothing of its natural beauty was sacrificed. Its stately, graceful trees have been preserved and this community has all the comforts and conveniences expected of it.

Care in Building.

The home embodies all that has made its builders successful. The firm of Mikkelson has ever rigidly adhered to the structural and architectural precedents it set up originally. Always exercising the most scrupulous care in the selection of its materials, its chief executives give their work personal supervision from cellar to roof. These identical standards have been maintained with respect to all of the more than $2,000,000 worth of houses erected by the Mikkelson organization.

That such care has not been without results is manifested in a record sale of nearly $250,000 worth of Mikkelson-built houses in five months to some of the most prominent citizens of Washington. It is further reflected in the fact that few vacant lots remain in this successful operation and when these are built upon, one of the most outstanding real estate projects in the country will have been realized.

The Washington Post model home announced today presents all the attributes which have made its parent development famous throughout the city and country. Its interior decoration is of the usual excellence that is typical of the efforts of an enterprising and established house. The style of the house is the dignified American Colonial. It is of brick construction with slate roof and built-on two-car garage.

Its plan is the center-hall one, with spacious living room to the left upon entering, opening to a large, finished sun room. Opposite is a dining room of pleasingly ample proportions. On the second floor, four bedrooms open off the main hall, the master bedroom being an unusually large one with two closets and private bath. The entire third floor is finished as a heated recreation room. The large kitchen is thoroughly equipped and the house has the conveniences of all gas appliances, Electrolux, gas furnace, latest type range and storage water heater. Its grounds are attractively landscaped and it is shaded by more than a dozen trees.

Way to Model Home.

The way to the model home lies out Connecticut avenue to Thornapple street. Go left on this street two squares to Beechwood drive and left again to the home.

There is nothing more significant than the awakening of men and women throughout the country for home ownership. "Home makers are determined to have their houses, outside and in, correct according to the best standards," writes a foremost decorator. What are the so-called best standards and how shall we strive to live up to them? Woodward & Lothrop, who have furnished this house, suggest as a beginning, the development of the modern house; the self-taught lessons of common sense, and suitability; the meaning of color, form, harmony and proportion. All of these fundamental elements are exemplified in the model home on Beechwood drive.

This model home seems to belong to its location. It is sturdily constructed and well designed—two essential requisites. The flagstone walk, the red brick of the house, and the simple white doorway signify its blue-blooded American architectural ancestry.

As you enter the doorway, there is a feeling of spaciousness and welcome—should not the hall express this idea? Oftentimes too little thought is given to the hall but it is the guest's first impression, and, as has been truly said, first impressions are lasting ones. This room is wide and long and immediately gives the feeling of space. The wall paper is a warm ivory with a self-toned design, and the woodwork is a delicate cream. Into this setting, what is more appropriate than a mahogany low boy of exquisite proportions with a Chippendale mirror hanging over it. On either side of the low boy is a Sheraton chair. This gives a perfect balance, yet the grouping is not too formal for a hall.

On the left as you enter, and visible through a wide opening, is the living room. It is a lovely size, not too large to be gracious, but small enough for comfort and intimacy. The wallpaper and woodwork are the same as the hall. The lighting fixtures are most appropriate with the architecture of of the room; Federal ones, simple in design, and not overladen with superfluous ornamentation. The mantel, too, is a well-designed colonial one. The windows at either end of the room and the doors on either side of the fireplace are well arranged. This leaves an abundance of wall space.

Into this setting eighteenth century furniture fits admirably. First, let us tell you about the color scheme, then, piece by piece, the furniture will be placed in the room by those very standards of proportion and suitability. The scheme of the room is taken from the rug, an American Oriental. In it you will find those red-wine and blue-green tones peculiar only to this type of rug. So these two colors and gold are used in forming this gracious living room.

A living room, you know, must be the most unselfish room in the house, and must be planned for every member of the household. For this very reason, furniture is arranged in groups: Namely, the conversational group, the reading group, the writing group, &c. These various ensembles must be so closely arranged that they form a complete room unit and are not discernible to the casual observer as separate groupings. They must present a harmonious whole.

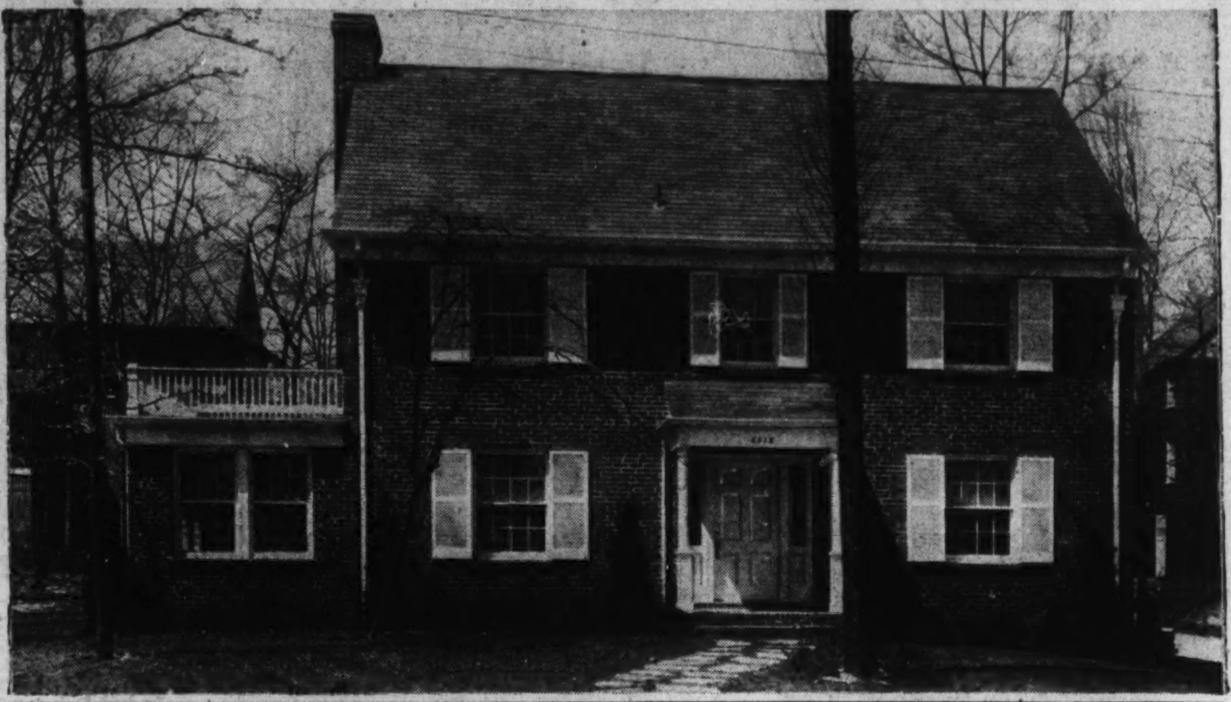
To the right as you enter, against the long wall and across from the fireplace, is the sofa, a luxurious pillow back affair, and so comfortable. We moderns are comfort-conscious, as well as period-conscious. It is upholstered in a sturdy, plain blue-green material. This color is an interesting contrast against the wall, and is nice with the figured rug. In front of it, and conveniently placed, is the indispensable coffee table, of a charming Georgian design. Another indispensable article of furniture, the radio, stands a short distance from the sofa. Here it is a decorated screen which gives color and life to the corner.

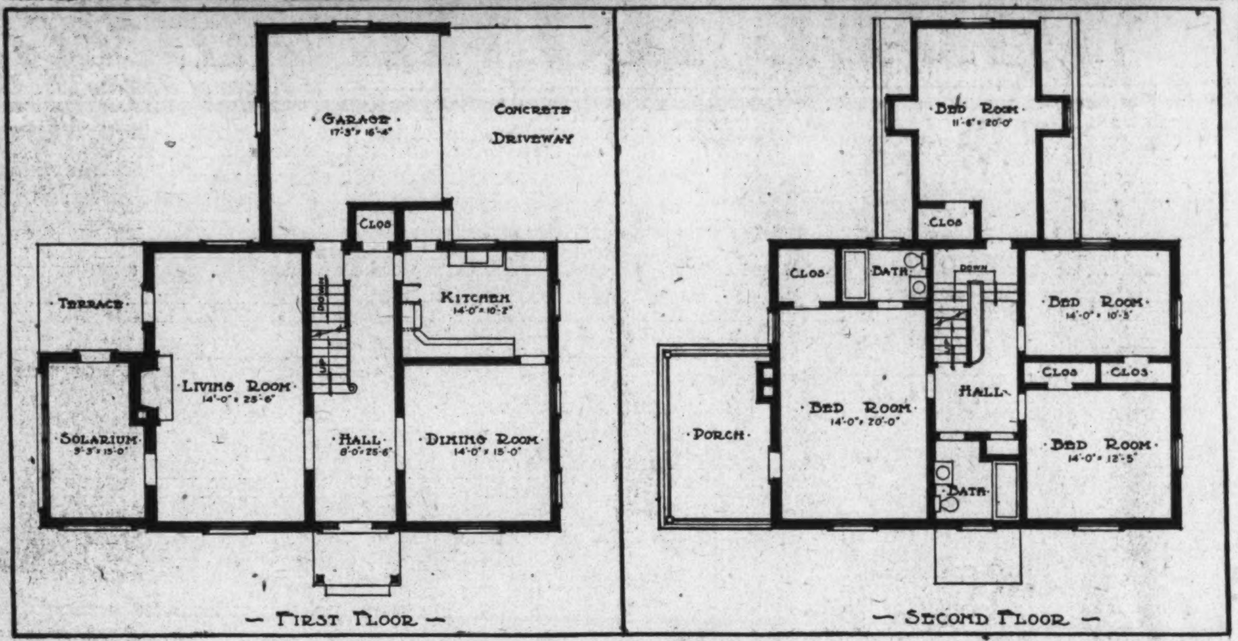
Room's Reading Group.

At this end of the room is what we might call the reading group, which is charming in its arrangement. The

Continued on Page 3, Column 3.

FLOOR PLANS OF NEW POST MODEL HOME





Post Staff Photo

The Washington Post model home at 6318 Beechwood drive, in Beechwood, Chevy Chase, Md., opening today for public inspection. This home, built by G. F. Mikkelson & Son, developers of Beechwood, is furnished and decorated by Woodward & Lothrop. It will be on exhibit for the next four weeks. Below are shown the first and second floor plans.

NORTHGATE HOMES READY FOR MARKET

Developers of Distinctive Community Place One on Inspection Today.

Taking advantage of present low construction costs, the North Washington Realty Co. is carrying out an extensive building program in the development of Northgate this season. Of the two homes now completed, one was sold during the past week and the other is open for inspection today. Three other distinctive colonial homes are scheduled for completion within the next week or two and plans for a steady succession of Northgate homes are approaching the actual construction stage.

Situated within the District, just south of the Sixteenth street entrance to the National Capital, Northgate is bordered by important residential developments containing many of the city's most attractive homes.

The development, which has attained its popularity in less than three years, is part of a tract that for four generations has been held by the family of Maj. E. Brooke Lee, president of the North Washington Realty Co.

Like Sligo Park Hills, another popular development of the company, it is laid out on beautiful, rolling terrain. Its house values range from $16,00 to $27,500. The dwellings, all of detached type, grace broad lots larger than the average apportioned to those of such character in the District of Columbia.

Architectural Standards.

The North Washington Realty Co., the largest home building and developing organization operating in the northern suburban area of Washington, has set up architectural and constructional standards for its new homes, which are rigidly adhered to. Extreme care has been exercised in the selection of materials and a standard of workmanship and supervision has been established which assures permanent satisfaction to an owner of a North Washington-built home.

The prominence and reputation of the organization added to its years of experience in the development of beautiful suburban communities and exceptionally well built homes, is another assurance of satisfaction to the purchasers of one of these homes.

More than $100,000 worth of homes have been erected in the Northgate development thus far, this spring; one of Colonial mansion type occupying a high knoll at Fourteenth street and Locust road northwest, being especially striking. Just completed and opened for the first time today, it contains five bedrooms, three baths, two log burning fireplaces and many other features.

Overlooking upper Sixteenth street and Rock Creek Park, this house with its colonial columns, reminiscent of Mount Vernon and other famous estates, has a two-car garage and a first floor den and lavatory. It is tastefully decorated with wainscoted paneling in the dining room and living room and embodies all the latest types of construction features such as concealed copper gutters, copper downspouts, latest type built-in radiation, ultra-modern plumbing and stately colonial fixtures.

History Made on Site.

The Colonial and prebellum architecture of Northgate is attuned to its historical setting. Here was the bivouac of Gen. Jubal Early, great cavalry leader of the Confederacy, prior to his raid on the National

Continued on Page 3, Column 2.

BARGAIN IS OFFERED IN NEW MODEL HOME

Luxurious Residence With All Improvements Costs Less Than $15,000.

Value, comfort, convenience, modernity and fine location are all combined in the new ultra-smart detached home at 6116 Thirty-second street northwest for a price that would not have been possible two years ago.

In keeping with the conservative trend of these times, the beautiful red brick colonial mansion, with its six bedrooms and four baths (two bedrooms and a bath on the third floor), its spacious ballroom, its recreation and club rooms, its additional lavatories on first and basement floors, with its magnificent step-down living room, its two-car built-in garage—placed on a 50-foot lot with a depth of 157 feet—is priced substantially under $15,000.

This would have been a fair price for a house of this size before the World War—even without considering the many remarkable modern features which have never before been available. These features, making the value offered here almost sensational, form an excellent index to the high purchasing power of today's dollar. Take the all-electric kitchen for example. This home will be sold completely equipped with a fine electric range, an electric refrigerator and even an electric hot water heater and clock. With the new rate of 2 cents per kilowatt hour, the cost of electric current for these purposes is brought down to new low levels, giving the housewife the speed and convenience of electricity with no added expense. Practically every electrical convenience now available will be found on exhibit in the home. Among the most interesting of these are a portable dishwasher that materially saves time in the kitchen, a washing machine and an ironer.

Location Easy of Access.

The house is located half a block from the intersection of Thirty-second and Rittenhouse streets, near the Purple Iris Tea Room. The location adjoins the park and is both smart and quiet, being one of the best sections of Chevy Chase, D. C. The traction company's bus passes the corner every fifteen minutes, connecting with the Chevy Chase line. Schools, stores and movies are only a few blocks away, making for convenience and comfort.

The house is now illuminated with flood lights and presents a beautiful

Continued on Page 5, Column 6.

NEW GRUVER HOMES COMMAND INTEREST

Many Modern Touches Add to Attractiveness of Realty Project.

Commanding a widespread interest among prospective home buyers is a newest group of homes being presented for the first time today by B. H. Gruver in his organization's attractive operation of Glover Park.

The homes, adjoining an exhibit dwelling at 2445 Thirty-ninth street northwest, are of six, seven and eight rooms each, with recreation room and two baths, the latter being most attractively finished in colored tile. All of the houses are beautifully finished and well worth inspection.

Their kitchens are completely equipped with all of the latest labor saving devices and contain the popular Oxford kitchen cabinet units. All the residences being presented contain built-in garages and are of the usual type of excellence found in this popular development.

Glover Park is a delightful, restricted community situated on a high and pleasant elevation adjoining Massachusetts Avenue Heights. It is conveniently located with respect to the downtown sections, being but five minutes' distance from Dupont Circle.

Veteran Flier Made 3,000 Trips.

Paris (U.P.).—Capt. William Rogers, veteran pilot of the British airmail line between Paris and London, has completed thirteen years day flying between the two capitals. He has now covered about 750,000 miles and recently rounded out his count of 3,000 safe flights across the channel.

NOVEL BUNGALOWS OPEN TO INSPECTION

"Honeymoon"-Type Homes of Eaton & Co. Have Many Features.

Credit the enterprise of Eaton & Co., exclusive agents, for the introduction of structural novelties described as "apartment honeymoon bungalows," at 6600-6602 Sixth street northwest, being exhibited for the first time today. To visit these delightful innovations offered at $7,950, drive out Georgia avenue to Piney Branch road, then turn right to Sixth street. The homes are open daily until 9 p. m. They were built by Everett A. R. Searl.

The first appeal of these homes is their charm and coziness, their complete construction and immaculate finish. They have living rooms with open fireplaces, colored tile baths, hardwood floors, hot-water heat, attics, built-in garages with "over the top" doors and are situated on tastefully-landscaped yards.

Their bedrooms are cool and airy and their kitchens have built-in cabinet units with electric clock, electric refrigeration, west wind ventilating fan in wall and lineoleum floors The attics of these bungalows can be heated and converted into second stories as heat connections are already in place.

The inlaid linoleum of the kitchens is cemented on felt which, in turn, is cemented to the flooring. It is also finished in Sanitas. There is a recreation room in the basement, 15 by 19 feet, and fire joists and studding are used throughout the structure.

The houses are thoroughly insulated with insulite and roofed with an extra fine grade of composition shingle. The flashings are of copper and the baths are done in pea green with Sanitas of the same color. They have all necessary fixtures, including shower.

Fire brick is used in the fireplaces equipped with regulating dampers. The lawns are attractively laid out and beautified by flagged walks, shrubs, bird baths and sun dials. All of the houses' fixtures are of solid brass and the basement walls are furred.

Paramount to all these conveniences, however, is that in beauty of design, which is colonial, the bungalows vie with homes far more expensive. They are built of the same quality of material that would be used in the construction of homes selling at $20,000, it is stated.

OPEN TODAY
5461 Nevada Ave. N. W.
New all brick house with 4 bedrooms.
WM. H. SAUNDERS CO., INC.
DI. 1016 1519 K ST. N.W.

Homes of Tomorrow in FOXALL
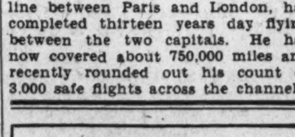
● Double fronts, six and eight rooms, with one, two and three baths . . . double screened porches . . . open fireplace . . . electric refrigeration . . . gas heat . . . built-in garage . . . outstanding value at $11,350 to $14,950, with monthly payments less than rental value. Visit our Furnished Model Home at 4422 Volta Place, three short blocks south of Reservoir Road. Open 9:30 A. M. to 9:30 P. M.
WAVERLY TAYLOR, Inc.
1522 K Street Nat'l 1040



SPRING VALLEY
Washington's Distinctive Residential Community.
Now at the Height of its Beauty—
Resplendent with the matchless blossoms of native dogwood.
You will be interested in visiting the new Hillbrook Lane Section, where there are available houses in the various stages of construction.
EXHIBIT HOUSE
4900 Glenbrook Road
W. C. & A. N. Miller
Developers
1119 Seventeenth St.
DEcatur 0610

A Pretty Suburban Home
Greatly Reduced in Price
$10,950
ALL-BRICK CONSTRUCTION. 6 large rooms, built-in bath, open fireplace, attractive side porch, electric refrigeration, garage.
Almost ¼-Acre of Ground
6804 45th St.
(LELAND)
An Inspection Will Prove Well Worth Your While Open Saturday and Sunday
2 blocks east of Wisc. Ave. on Leland Street, ½ block north.
Wm. M. Throckmorton
Invest. Bldg. Dist. 6093

Apartment Renters . . . Attention!
Why pay rent when you can buy this lovely
5 BEDROOM home in delightful
BURLEITH HEIGHTS
On terms like rent, with a small cash payment
3819 T St. N. W.
All brick of charming English Village design. 8 rooms, 2 baths, electric refrigeration, Celotex insulation, cedar closets, open fireplace, brick garage. Lot 175 feet deep. Preferred residential section, convenient to downtown but with the charm and freedom of a suburban location.
●
Will trade for small, clear house
Cooley Bros.
"BUILDERS OF BETTER HOMES"
Tower Bldg. Nat'l 9240

HOT AND STUFFY THAT CITY LIVING
Now You Can Get in
CHEVY CHASE
WEST OF CONN. AVE.
$10,750
Brick Detached
Center Hall
Basement Play Room
Big Floored Attic
Wooded Lots
Marvelous Baths
3 Big Bed Rooms
Selling because they are the most remarkable value we have offered in twenty-six years of building.
Why be pushed off in a less valuable section?
TO INSPECT
Drive out Conn. Ave. past the Chevy Chase Club to LELAND STREET, at sign turn LEFT two squares to homes.
Shannon & Luchs
Development Company

Let Us Rebuild or Create Your Own Family Homestead in The Colonial Village of Rock Creek Park Estates
(Near the Northern End of Beach Drive Thru the Park)
A community of real historical significance — dedicated entirely to the reproduction of historic Colonial homes and others true in character to the period of the Thirteen Colonies.
Visit the Reproduction of WASHINGTON'S HEADQUARTERS
at Valley Forge
Furnished and Decorated as a Bicentennial Exhibit in period exactness by
W. and J. SLOANE
◆
EDSON W. BRIGGS COMPANY
Owners
1817 Plymouth St. N.W.
Georgia 4904

Only $7,250 EASY TERMS
4504 STANFORD STREET
CHEVY CHASE, MD.
6 rooms and bath bungalow and garage—newly decorated and in perfect condition. Lot 50x125.
OPEN ALL DAY.
Out Wisc. Ave. to first street beyond Bradley lane—turn right to property.
J. NOBLE BOAZ West 0692

Closing Estate
New Homes
5510 4th St. N. W.
Spacious Dinett, Model Kitchen, Extra Tiled Lavatory with Master Bedroom; Detached Garage. Six large rooms, Frigidaire, three porches, Cedar Closets, Copper screens, built-in double drainboard porcelain sink. Detroit-Jewel gas range, beautifully finished hardwood floors, handsome brass lighting fixtures. Paved street and alley.
Prices Reduced
Open Daily and Sunday
L. T. Gravatte
Realter
729 15th St. Natl. 0753

SAVE MONEY
A Highly Restricted Community of Chevy Chase, Md.
REDUCED prices on these delightfully modern new homes in the "Country Club Section" of Chevy Chase, Maryland, commend them to your immediate inspection. The homes are truly charming in design and appointments, and conveniently located with respect to transportation, schools, etc. Here is a real opportunity for those qualified to judge exceptional values!
$11,950 to $14,950
Drive out Connecticut Ave. to traffic light at Columbia Country Club, then turn left (West) on East-West Highway two short squares to—7107 Chatham Rd.
Meadowbrook

NORTH HILLS OF SLIGO PARK
Facing a Permanent PARK
FRONTING on a main highway into Northwest Washington, this new English style all brick residence is truly a wonderful value. It has exceptionally large rooms, an attached brick garage, comfortable covered living porch, beautiful landscaped grounds and every modern convenience and luxury. In restricted surroundings with neighbors of culture and refinement. The terms of purchase are unusually moderate!
9121 Colesville Pike
ONLY $11,950
—also—
A Corner HOME
REALLY a small estate of a quarter acre, the house itself on a high elevation looking across a spacious lawn toward lovely trees. All brick construction with many outstanding features, including a spacious living room with rich paneled walls at the fireplace end and opening onto an immense covered concrete living porch looking South toward the entrance of this exclusive community. Exceptionally large entrance hall and dining salon, with completely equipped kitchen; three pleasant bedchambers and colored tile bath with shower. Two-car built-in garage. Very reasonable terms!
9123 Thornhill Road
JUST $12,500
From 16th St. extended turn right at D. C. line, crossing Georgia Ave. at traffic light and proceeding direct on Colesville Pike. Or from D. C. line at Georgia Ave. drive North to traffic light and turn right on Colesville Pike to property.
Erected by North Washington Realty Co.
J. WESLEY BUCHANAN
Realtor
1427 Eye St. Metro. 1144

RULES OF REALTORS MAY BE LIBERALIZED

Council Urges Changes So as to Admit Many More Real Estate Firms.

The States Council has recommended to the board of directors of the National Association of Real Estate Boards that the constitution be amended so as to afford an opportunity for individuals engaged in the real estate business in unorganized or unassigned territory to become members of the national association through membership in the State associations. The directors on April 30 approved this suggestion in principle and instructed the secretary and counsel to draft an amendment to be considered at the Cincinnati convention on July 10. The following amendment has been prepared, which incorporates the various suggestions that have been made.

The suggestions are:

Amend article 3, section 1, by striking out the period at the end of line four and adding threto the following: "and State and provinicial associations of real estate boards, as provided in section 4."

Amend article 3 by inserting a new section 4 as follows:

Section 4 (a) State and provincial associations having membership agreements with the national association as provided in article 13, section 2, of this constitution may be elected to membership in the national association in order to more closely integrate the work of local, State and national bodies, to further the purposes contemplated by article 13, section 2, of this constitution and also to afford an opportunity for individuals engaged in the real estate business in unorganized or unassigned territory to become members of the national association, subject to its standards and to be represented in the national association.

Conditions of Election.

(b) Such State and provincial associations shall be elected to membership only upon the following conditions:

1. Only one State or provincial association shall be elected from a given State or province.

2. Such State or provincial associations so elected shall accept for direct membership in such association individual active members in territory which is not within the jurisdiction of any local real estate board holding membership in the State and national associations, but shall not accept such individual members not in any such territory.

3. Any State or provincial association so electing individual active members agrees to be responsible for the enforcement of the code of ethics of the national association with respect to such individual active members.

4. Such State or provincial association shall have the same right to grant the use of the term "realtor" and control the use of the term in such unorganized territory as any local board has in organized territory.

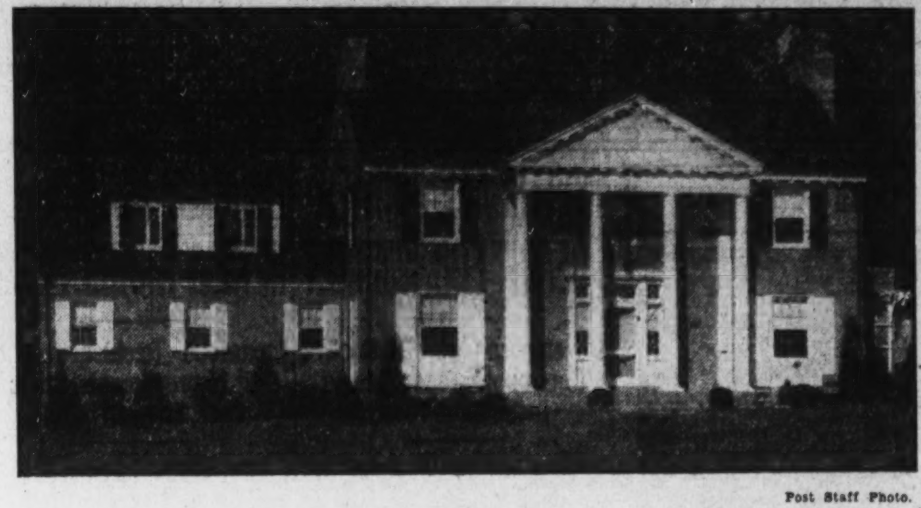
Terms of Organization.

5. Any such State or provincial association electing individual members agrees to pay dues for them in the same manner as a local real estate board pays for its active members.

6. Any such State or provincial association agrees that when it secures five individual active members in any town or city such members shall be immediately organized under its direction as a local real estate board to held membership in the State and national association, and that thereupon any such individual active members included in any local real estate board so organized shall cease to have individual active membership in such State or provincial associations.

7. Wherever the terms "member board" or "real estate board" are used in this constitution or the bylaws of the national association, they shall be held to include State or provincial associations elected under the terms of this section, and said State or provincial associations shall be held to be "members" under the provisions of Article II, section 5, of this constitution with reference to the right to grant the use of or to use the term or symbol, "realtor."

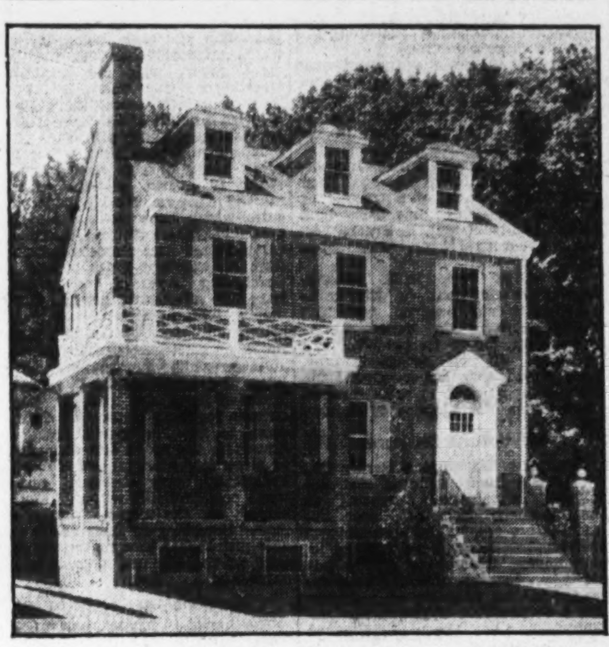
NEW COLONIAL RESIDENCE ON LOCUST ROAD



Post Staff Photo.

Large colonial residence built by North Washington Realty Co. in its Northgate development located on Locust road just off Sixteenth street northwest.

FEATURES ELECTRIC KITCHEN



Post Staff Photo.

This new home at 6116 Thirty-second street northwest, built by the Shapiro Corporation, features a complete electric kitchen. It is equipped with electric range, refrigerator, water heater and an electric clock. It is open daily and Sunday for inspection.

BUILDING INCREASE SHOWN IN 351 CITIES

Reports for April Indicate Gain Over March, Labor Department Says.

Reports of building permits issued have been received by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the United States Department of Labor from 351 identical cities of the United States having a population of 25,000 or over, for the months of March, 1932, and April, 1932. The estimated cost of all buildings for which permits were issued in these 351 cities in April, 1932, was $54,489,287. This was 19.3 per cent more than the estimated cost of building operations in these cities during the month of March, 1932.

The number of permits for all building operations increased 28.3 per cent, comparing these two periods Comparing permits issued in April 1932, and March, 1932, there was a decrease of 4.4 per cent in the number and a decrease of 9.6 per cent in the indicated expenditures for new residential buildings. New nonresidential buildings increased 41.0 per cent in number and 38.1 per cent in estimated cost. Additions, alterations and repairs increased 29.6 per cent in number and 18.6 per cent in estimated cost. During April, 1932, 3,211 family dwelling units were provided in new buildings. This is a decrease of 12.8 as compared with March.

Various agencies of the United States Government awarded contracts during March for buildings to cost $11,665,731. This valuation was higher than for either March, 1932, or April, 1931.

Comparing permits issued in 343 identical cities in April, 1932, and April 1931, there was a decrease of 68.2 per cent in the number and a decrease of 79.4 per cent in the cost of new residential buildings. Nonresidential buildings decreased 43.5 per cent in number and 62.6 per cent in estimated cost. Additions, alterations and repairs decreased 19.0 per cent in number and 45.5 per cent in indicated expenditures. Total construction decreased 34.4 per cent in number and 66.6 per cent in estimated cost.

Permits were issued during April, 1932, for the following important building projects: In the Borough of Manhattan for a theater to cost $4,500,000; in Philadelphia for two school buildings to cost nearly $3,500,000; in Grand Rapids for a public library to cost nearly $900,000; in Baltimore for a gas holder for a public utilities corporation to cost $440,000; in Austin, Tex., for an office building for the State Highway Department to cost over $400,000; contracts were awarded by the Supervising Architect, Treasury Department, for a postoffice at Terre Haute to cost $439,000; in Detroit for a building at the Marine Hospital to cost nearly $400,000; in Washington, D. C., for an addition to the Library of Congress to cost $1,123,000, and for an extension to the postoffice to cost nearly $3,000,000; in Baton Rouge for a postoffice to cost over $300,000.

Indiana farms are being electrified at the rate of 2,101 a year, according to statisticians at Purdue University.

913 ASPEN ST. N.W.

$13,250

Open Today

7 ROOMS — 2 BATHS — 2 OPEN FIREPLACES—RECREATION ROOM

Drive out Ga. Ave. to Aspen St. and turn east one-half square.

WM. H. SAUNDERS CO., INC.

1519 K St. N.W. DI. 1015

THE WASHINGTON POST MODEL HOME in Beechwood

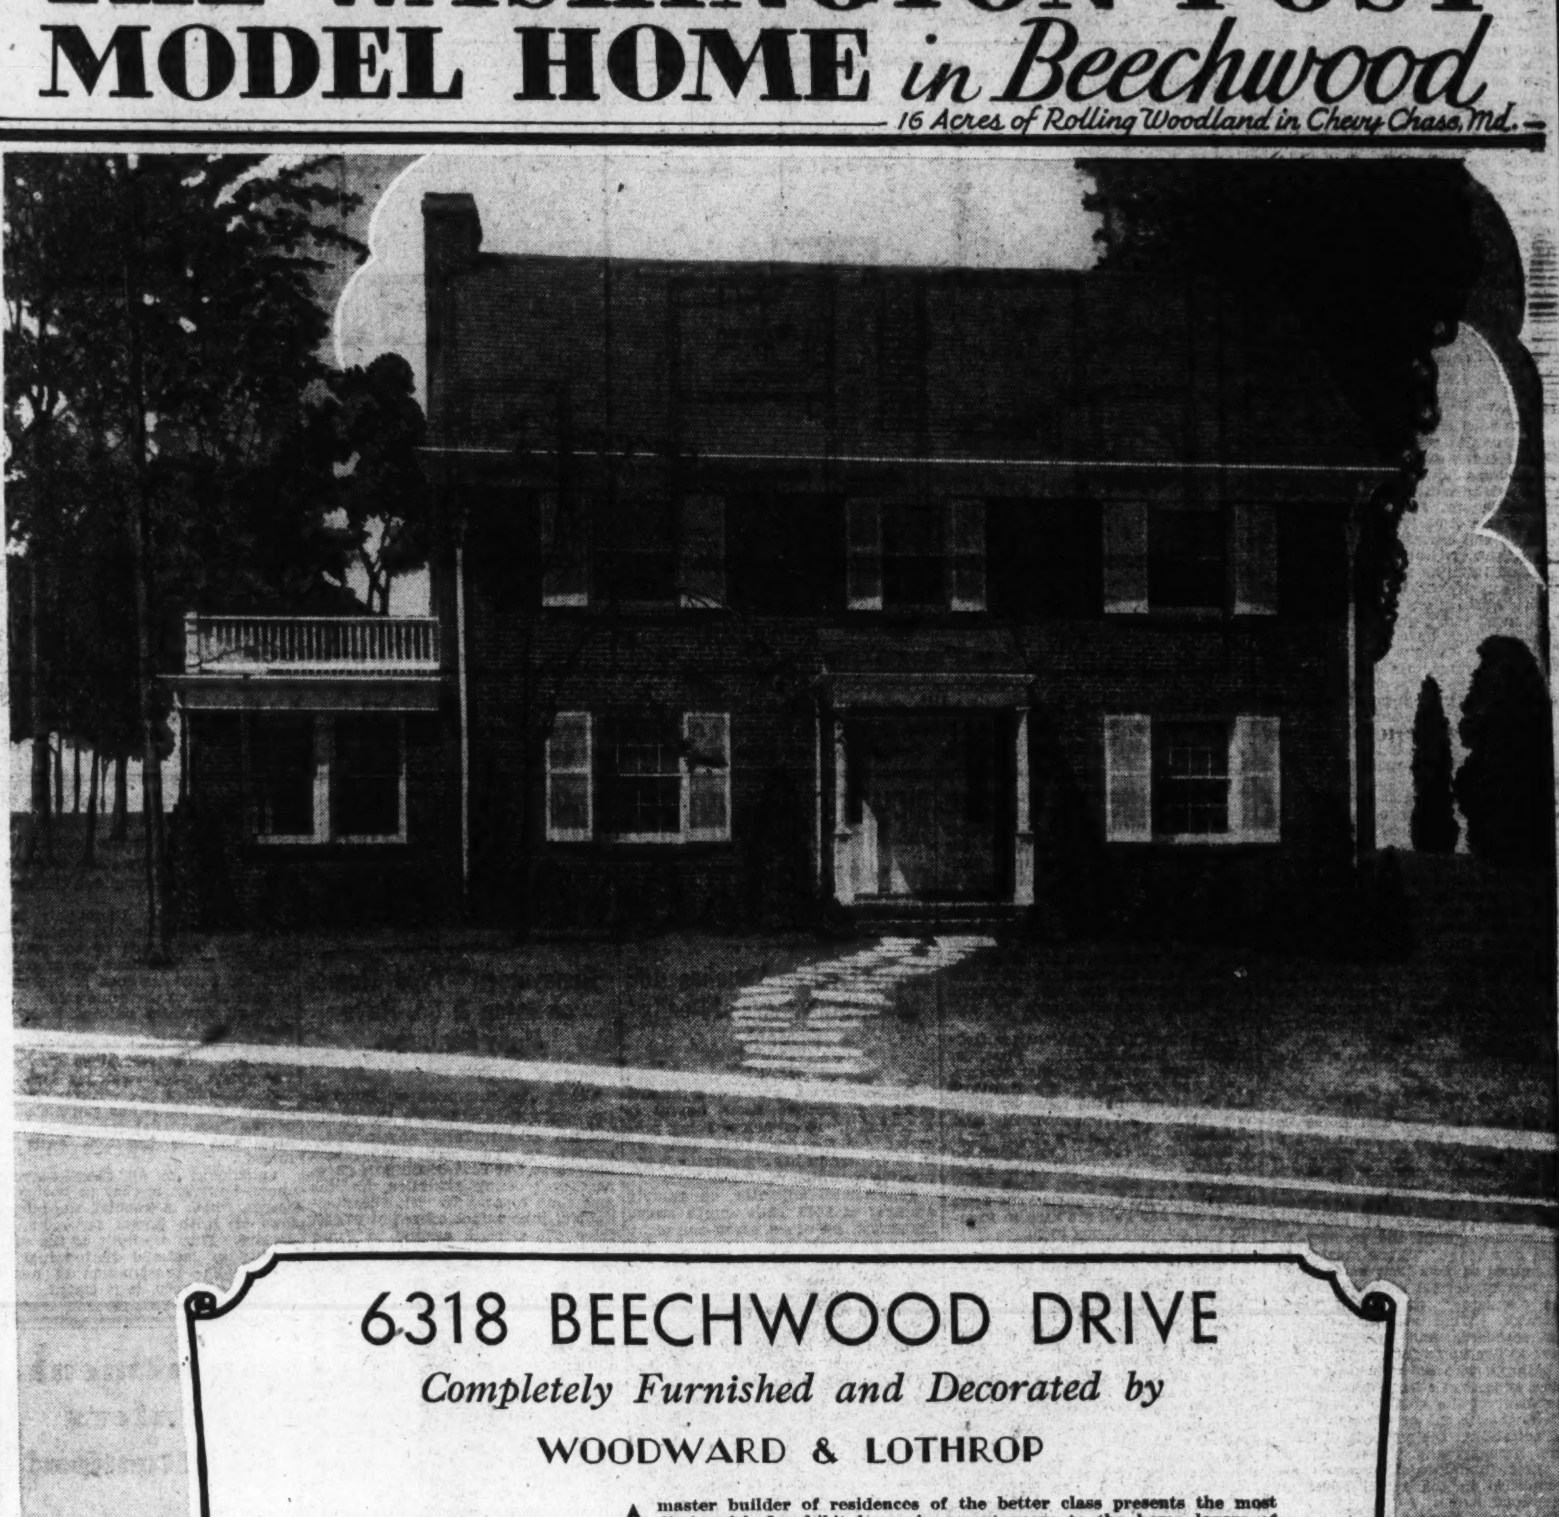
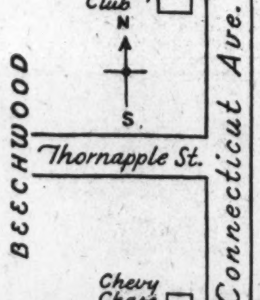
16 Acres of Rolling Woodland in Chevy Chase, Md.



6318 BEECHWOOD DRIVE

Completely Furnished and Decorated by

WOODWARD & LOTHROP



To reach: Drive out Conn. Ave. to Thornapple St., left two squares to Beechwood Drive and left again to house.

A master builder of residences of the better class presents the most distinguished exhibit home in recent years to the home lovers of Washington.

BEECHWOOD, virginal in its natural beauty of unspoiled woodlands and sunny vistas, provides a setting of incomparable charm, in perfect harmony with the architectural motif of this fine American Colonial residence.

In the luxuriousness and extreme good taste of the furnishings and decorations WOODWARD & LOTHROP have achieved an interior of indescribable beauty.

You will want to linger for hours over each detail of refinement and structural excellence that distinguishes this splendid home. The home is of brick construction with slate roof and two-car brick built-on garage. Center hall plan, spacious living room to the left upon entering, opening to a large finished sun room; opposite, a dining room of pleasingly ample proportions. On the second floor four bedrooms open off the main hall, the master bedroom an unusually large room with two closets and private bath. There are two baths. The entire third floor is a finished, heated recreation room. Maid's room and bath in basement. The kitchen, with equipment and of a size that only Mikkelson-built homes provide, will be the greatest pride of its future owners. The home is equipped with all gas appliances, Electrolux, gas furnace, latest type gas range, and storage water heater. A charming winding flagstone walk, more than a dozen shade trees, and beautiful landscaping enhance the beauty of the lovely grounds.

Drive out today. It is the "home beautiful" sensation of the year!

G. F. MIKKELSON & SON

Office, 200 W. Thornapple St., Chevy Chase, Md.

Wisconsin 4255-2323

FIRST SHOWING..

Of a New Group of Gruver-Built Homes in Delightful

• Glover Park •

—the Capital's most distinguished community of popular priced homes

Exhibit Home

2445

39th St. N.W.

6-7-8 Rooms

2 Baths

$9,550 Up

These De Luxe Homes of 1932 are the values you've long awaited. We've outdone all previous efforts to give most for the money. Superior construction, more features, finest equipment, beauty of decorative detail and finish—all combine in bringing you the ultimate in value and structural excellence . . . All brick; concrete porches; screened rear porches; large, light rooms; 2 colored tile baths; built-in bookcases in living room; ultra-modern kitchen with Oxford cabinet and linoleum floor; paneled wall paper beautifully patterned; recreation room; built-in garage. Highest elevation in Glover Park, one block from new school, restricted residential section adjacent to exclusive Mass. Ave. Heights, only five minutes drive to Dupont Circle.

Take Burleith-Glover Park bus or drive out Que or R Sts. to 37th, north to Tunlaw Rd., left on Beecher St. to 39th St., or two blocks west on Calvert St. from 37th and Wisconsin Ave. Open every day until 9 p. m.

B. H. GRUVER

Investment Building Builder NAtional 1737

GIRL WILL SUPERVISE REAL ESTATE NEWS

Miss Elizabeth Shoemaker to Operate Chicago Publicity Bureau.

A girl will open tomorrow the country's first office devoted solely to real estate publicity and advertising. She is Miss Elizabeth Shoemaker, of Chicago, former news editor of the National Association of Real Estate Boards. There is no other office anywhere specializing in this type of work.

Miss Shoemaker has been a special writer, editor and publicity consultant for the real estate association for the past seven years, during which time she established the "Looking Into Real Estate" syndicate issued by the association for 160 consecutive weeks.

Under her management this syndicate attained a regular circulation of 33,000,000 in 1,000 of the leading newspapers of the country.

New Kind of Publicity.

The "Looking" series, which developed a new type of publicity in the real estate field, was devoted to human interest stories on realty, building, finance and allied subjects. It was copied by newspapers throughout the world and drew thousands of letters from home owners.

Miss Shoemaker has specialized in the real estate field for the past twelve years. She began work as press agent for the once popular New York and Chicago "Own Your Home" Expositions, and probably reached the pinnacle in this field when she handled this year from Washington the Real Estate Association's coverage on the pending home loan bank bill urged by President Hoover as part of his reconstruction program. The bill would establish a new system of banking.

She was publicity director for Albert W. Swayne, Chicago, pioneer in the cooperative apartment business. During this time she published a monthly magazine for the Swayne corporations and edited a book on standard cooperative apartment forms published by the Chicago Real Estate Board.

Managed Press Bureaus.

She once specialized in money-raising campaigns, having raised large sums for the Y. W. C. A., the Salvation Army and other organizations, and has managed convention press bureaus for the real estate association, the United States Building and Loan League and other national organizations.

A new syndicate on real estate entitled "Landmarks, established by this writer during the past month, already has a weekly circulation of 1,300,000.

She was the first member of the property owners' division of the Chicago Real Estate Board.

She says that she feels present conditions in this field warrant opening her office, which is located in the Straus Building, Chicago.

All-Electric Kitchen Is Residence Feature

The new all-electric kitchen at 6116 Thirty-second street northwest is attracting widespread attention, due to its many novel features. These include an electric range, a portable dishwasher of the latest type, an electric refrigerator and electric hot-water heater.

The all-electric kitchen is considered one of the most unusual features of this unusual new home—other features including a paneled ballroom, a two-car heated garage, six bedrooms, four baths, recreation room and two wood-burning fireplaces. The home is located a half block from the Purple Iris Tea Room, in Chevy Chase, D. C., near the corner of Thirty-second and Rittenhouse streets. Though unusually large and complete, it is offered by the Harvard Terrace Development Corporation at a price of substantially less than $15,000.

NEW GROUP OF RESIDENCES IN GLOVER PARK

Post Staff Photo.

New group of houses just completed by B. H. Gruver in the 2400 block of Thirty-ninth street northwest, in Glover Park. The exhibit home at 2445 Thirty-ninth street is open for inspection daily and Sunday.

APARTMENT HONEYMOON BUNGALOWS SHOWN

Post Staff Photo.

"Apartment honeymoon bungalows," structural innovations in cozy homemaking, being presented for the first time today at 6600-6602 Sixth street northwest by Eaton & Co., exclusive agents. They will be open for inspection daily until 9 p. m. They were built by Everett A. R. Searl.

MORTGAGE DOLLAR VOLUME INCREASES

57 Per Cent Gain Shown in 38 Cities, Leaving Out Special Recordings.

Chicago, May 21.—The total dollar volume of real estate mortgages recorded in March in 38 principal metropolitan districts of the country increased more than 200 per cent over February, according to a monthly compilation of official reports by Nelson, Hunt & Co., of Chicago. Figures from 34 of the districts on which comparative data are available showed an increase for March, 1932, of 58.66 per cent over March, 1931. This large increase, however, was due in part to the recording of a $100,000,000 railroad mortgage in Oakland, Calif., a $25,000,000 bond issue by the Brooklyn Edison Co., and some large industrial mortgages in Manhattan, neither February of this year nor March of last year having any like recordings.

By eliminating these special recordings, amounting to approximately $150,000,000, the figures show a March increase of approximately 57 per cent over February and a March decline of only approximately 21 per cent from March, 1931, whereas, February showed a decline of approximately 53 per cent and January of approximately 41 per cent, from respective months of 1931.

Again eliminating the effect of the special recordings, only Grand Rapids, Mich.; Greenwich, Conn., and Manhattan showed an increase in March, 1932, as compared with the same month last year, whereas 27 cities and all New York boroughs except the Bronx showed an increase over February of this year.

Cities showing an increase of more than $1,000,000 in March over February, and the increases shown were: New York, all boroughs, and eliminating special recordings, approximately $35,000,000; Chicago, $9,445,376; Los Angeles, $5,667,763; Philadelphia, $1,345,013; San Francisco, $1,535,327; Buffalo, $1,474,878; Milwaukee, $1,330,750; Oakland, eliminating special recording, $1,324,794; Boston, $1,005,833.

BUILDING CONTRACT TOTALS SHOW RISE

34 Eastern States Gain in April, Due to Public Works Program.

F. W. Dodge Corporation reports that of the 13 districts comprising the 37 States east of the Rockies all but three showed higher construction contract totals in April than in March. April contract totals for the entire Eastern area showed an 8 per cent gain over March in contrast with a loss of 9 per cent between the corresponding two months of 1931. But only slight encouragement is offered by the current pick-up, since analysis discloses that the gain was entirely due to public works, especially highways.

Metropolitan New York, Southern Michigan and the Chicago territory were the exceptions which did not partake in the April advance over March this year. The April total for the entire 37 States east of the Rockies was $121,704,800. Residential building formed $28,894,000 of this total; nonresidential building formed $45,515,000, and public works and utilities amounted to $47,295,000.

Residential building gains over March of this year were shown in the New England, Chicago, Central Northwest, Southern Michigan, St. Louis, Kansas City and New Orleans districts. In the case of nonresidential building, gains over March were shown only in the New England, Metropolitan New York, up-State New York, Middle Atlantic and St. Louis territories.

In public works the April gain over March amounted to 93 per cent, according to the monthly statistical bulletin published by F. W. Dodge Corporation, while a year ago a loss of 14 per cent was shown between March and April. For residential building the April contract record showed a loss of almost 13 per cent from March and for nonresidential building April contracts were almost 8 per cent smaller than the March awards.

Introducing
WEST LELAND

4802 Leland Street
$9,950

In the Heart of the COUNTRY CLUB District of Maryland

A new restricted residential community in the Progressive Northwest.

One block west of Wisconsin Avenue and facing on the beautiful new highway "Bradley Boulevard."

Here it is planned to erect over one hundred beautiful detached dwellings, designed by architects of vast experience in selected home building. Convenient to Elementary and High Schools and within one square of bus line, street cars and stores.

In the charming homes just completed and those in the process of construction, WEST LELAND offers you the maximum in beauty, comfort and convenience.

Morrison-Sacks Corporation
Owners and Developers
Realty Associates, Inc.
Realtors
1427 Eye St. Nat. 1438

MODEL BUNGALOW OPEN TO INSPECTION

Continued from Page 1.

Capital which was stopped on the site of what is now the Walter Reed hospital reservation. The section abounds with relics of slavery days and the war between the States. There is a grotto on the land built by slave labor.

But there are modern conveniences as well as historical associations here. A new District school building has been opened two blocks away on Kalmia road and the homes of Northgate are within a few minutes drive of half a dozen country clubs.

Bridle paths and delightful wooded walks are available to the residents of Northgate within a few feet of their homes. Lovers of nature will find many unusual varieties of trees and shrubs, while scores of different species of birds can be seen among the age-old giant oaks, in a picturesque glen through which runs a sparkling ribbon of clear water winding its way into Rock Creek.

Northgate is truly one of the Capital's delightful communities, offering every advantage of city dwelling plus the added attraction of a delightful suburban setting.

Building Projects

Classification	No. of Projects.	Valuation
Nonresidential	1,005	$17,945,100
Residential buildings	1,931	12,787,800
Total buildings	2,936	30,732,900
Public works and public utilities	766	32,346,200
Total construction	3,702	$63,079,100

Above is a detailed statement of contracts for new building construction awarded in the 37 Eastern States during the period May 2 to 14. Compiled by F. W. Dodge Corporation.

POST'S NEWEST MODEL HOME IS NOW OPENED TO VISITORS

Continued from Page 1.

window is curtained in a soft-toned marquisette, and the overdraperies of damask carry that exquisite red-wine tone up on the walls. A gold cornice adds just the touch of dignity. There is a fine Pembroke table in front of the window. On this is a delightful alabaster lamp in the soft amber tones. Its shade is in those same soft tones with a dignified bouquet motif. This lamp is interesting in color and design, yet does not neglect its purpose of giving a good light. On one side of the table is a neutral toned, curved back chair. On the other side is a beautifully proportioned wing chair. It is upholstered in a figured material carrying all of the color notes of the room. The height of this chair is a pleasing balance with the screen.

Next comes the fireplace grouping. There is always one dominant note in a room, and the fireplace unit is usually the most interesting. Pieces of furniture are doubly smart when used in pairs, so two semi-circular commodes are placed one on either side of the fireplace. They lend a certain note of individuality to the room, especially so since on each one is placed an extremely smart black marble lamp, with a golden-colored parchment shade. The chairs on each side of the fireplace are very comfortable, yet not too large to be placeed out in the room. One is upholstereed in an interesting textured material. It is gold colored with flecks of blue-green and dull red running through it. The other chair is covered in a blue-green figured material. This brings the color of the sofa to this side of the room, making a better color balance. The chairs have their accompanying tiny tables. This fireplace grouping, the gleaming brass of the fire set, the colorful mantel accessories, the Girandole mirror over the mantel, the chairs and the commodes, certainly make an ensemble of enduring charm.

At the other end of the room is the same window treatment, with its dignified drapery. The writing group is placed at one side of the window. It consists of an authentic copy of a truly lovely block-front desk, and an appropriate desk chair. On the opposite side of the window and next to the hall is another reading group; charming lounge chair, covered in a delightful fabric in tones of wine and tan. Near it is a table, exquisitely carved, holding an alabaster lamp with a pleated parchment shade.

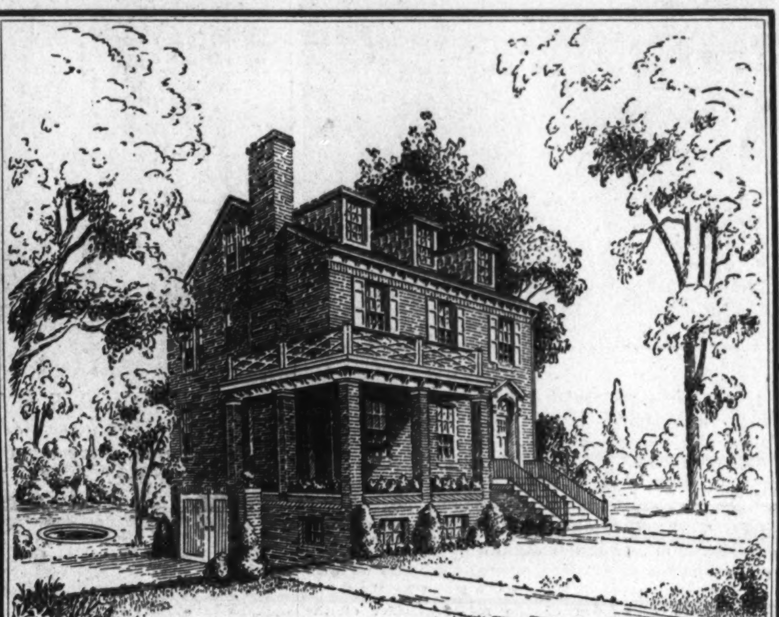
Well chosen accessories complete the room. It has fulfilled the standards of a living room. It is comfortable, inviting and well-balanced as to color and placement of furniture. If this is true, it must, of necessity, be harmonious. Other rooms will be described during the next few weeks.

Cowboys Plan Round-Up Of Elusive Panda

Philadelphia (U.P.).—A group of American cowboys are soon leaving for Tibet to corral the giant panda for the Philadelphia Zoological garden.

The trip will be under the direction of Howard S. Reed, famed wild animal hunter, who consulted with C. Emerson Brown, of the Zoo, before announcing his plans.

Reed expects to bring the elusive animal back alive with the aid of a few American lassos and an American trained pack of dogs.



Open Daily and Sunday
10 A. M. to 9 P. M.

Colonial Type Home
Located at 6116 Thirty-second St. N.W.
Built by Shapiro Construction Corp.

THIS TRULY MODERN HOME FEATURES
A MODERN ELECTRIC KITCHEN
Inspect It Now

Today, this attractive modern residence will be opened for your inspection. The builders have spared no expense in making it one of their outstanding new homes and, realizing the demands of present day home buyers for the most modern equipment, naturally, "Matchless Service" has been chosen as a feature.

The kitchen has been made truly modern. You'll find a modern, fast-cooking Electric Range which is smokeless, odorless, sootless and flameless. There is also an Electric Refrigerator for keeping your foods at a constant, healthful temperature. An Electric Clock which needs no winding or attention of any kind, furnishes absolutely accurate time. In the basement you'll find an Electric Water Heater which assures you of a plentiful supply of hot water at all times. Like the Electric Range, it, too, is sootless, smokeless, odorless and flameless. The installation of these truly modern Electrical Servants assures you of the greatest possible convenience and protection of your health.

Many other refinements and unusual features include:

BASEMENT
Ballroom or recreation room extending across the entire width of the house; wood paneled walls; hardwood floors; large brick fireplace; dressing or serving room; complete lavatory; laundry room with built-in tubs; spacious 2-car garage.

FIRST FLOOR
Entrance foyer; large step-down living room; brick fireplace; exit from living room to Colonial side and front porch; attractive dining room; modern Electric Kitchen; breakfast nook; complete lavatory; painted walls.

SECOND FLOOR
Four large, airy bedrooms; 3 baths of distinctive Hollywood design in attractive colors; 3 of the bedrooms communicate with baths; an abundance of closet space has been provided; walls are attractively papered.

THIRD FLOOR
Large Bohemian room; bedroom; bath; smaller room for use as den or study; tremendously large cedar closet.

This beautiful, modern home, with all its outstanding features is priced substantially under $15,000. The builders will be glad to extend accommodations toward the purchase which harmonize with your financial requirements. By all means, drive out to see this exceptional value.

POTOMAC ELECTRIC POWER CO.
"Matchless Service"

OPEN FOR INSPECTION TODAY
One Block From 16th Street On Locust Road

In the True Colonial Manner. Five Bedrooms, Three Baths; First-Floor Den, With Lavatory. Two-Car Garage.

Extensive Grounds, Overlooking an Historic Wooded Valley. Carefully Restricted Community Close to Rock Creek Park

DRIVE OUT SIXTEENTH STREET TO LOCUST ROAD

Office
7900 Georgia Ave.

NORTH WASHINGTON Realty Company Inc.
E. BROOKE LEE, President
Builders Developers

Phone
Shepherd 2400

50,000 IN 12 STATES JOIN LOAN SOCIETIES

Three-Month Figure Given; Big Gain in Industrial Areas Expected.

Chicago, May 21.—Nearly 50,000 people in twelve different States joined the ranks of building and loan association savers during the first three months of 1932, the United States Building and Loan League reports. The new members, although far from supplying funds sufficient to keep up with the growing loan demand, are a mark of public confidence, says William E. Best, Pittsburgh, president of the league.

A total of 47,231 new accounts were opened in associations which have some 11 per cent of the entire building and loan assets of the country.

Mr. Best points out that any marked growth in building and loan investors for the country as a whole this year is looked for in the industrial States and will probably hinge on a pick-up in employment. The States reporting for this quarter include only two of the leading industrials, and one of these reports 32,481 of the total new accounts listed for the quarter. The league president cites the growth of association assets in eleven leading industrial States during the five years from 1925 to 1930, showing the gains to be three times the total asset increase in 37 other States.

Significance of the new shareholders during the past quarter lies not only in the confidence manifested but in the indication here that those who still have jobs are turning more seriously to thrift programs and investments they can understand, the building and loan official holds. The new accounts were opened in small amounts, in the main, and represent such a small portion of total assets that no appreciable gain in funds for lending or of total assets can be expected at present, he says.

Gain of $2,431,143,077.

"The eleven most important industrial States in the Union, that is those with more than 200,000 employes in industry, gained $2,431,143,077 in building and loan assets in the five-year period from 1925 through 1930," says Mr. Best. "This compares with an increase of $754,355,315 during the same period in all other States, showing the importance of the industrial wage-earner in the building and loan associations' membership.

"Nine out of eleven of those States are the highest ranking in the Nation in total building and loan assets. Eight of these States rank in the highest one-third of per capita building and loan assets, having $299.88, $187.20, $142.37, $132.42, $98.88, $94.75, $89.92 and $61.60, respectively. We may still expect our biggest gains in shareholders and their investments from these States, and those States which have not reported for the quarter would undoubtedly add considerably to the list of new savers, from among the ranks of the industrial employes who still have work.

"A recent study by the industrial relations section of Princeton University dealt with the establishment of employe savings plans by industries. Building and loan associations were cited as one of the chief means of facilitating saving among wage-earners. Our plan is peculiarly adapted to the wage-earner's periodic income, since it originated as a means whereby the country's first industrial employes could save little by little toward the realization of home ownership.

"Unprecedented emphasis by employers upon the establishment of savings plans is looked for by the United States Department of Labor, as soon as better times are at hand, and building and loan associations are prepared for an expansion of their investment services to wage-earners which will rival in importance their century old service of financing homes for this same group of workers.

Beneficial Effects Evident.

"The beneficial effects of savings carried on by employes have been evident in this passing crisis. Contrast the position of the average worker who is said to be only one month from the breadline when he loses his job, with that of the average building and loan member in the leading industrial States who has at least $737 invested where it does not depreciate and continues to earn dividends. The coming era must lay stress on the accumulation of much greater savings reserves than this average amount, but we see here in the 1925 to 1930 figures some definite reasons to believe that this is the employe's most promising course with his extra quarters and half dollars.

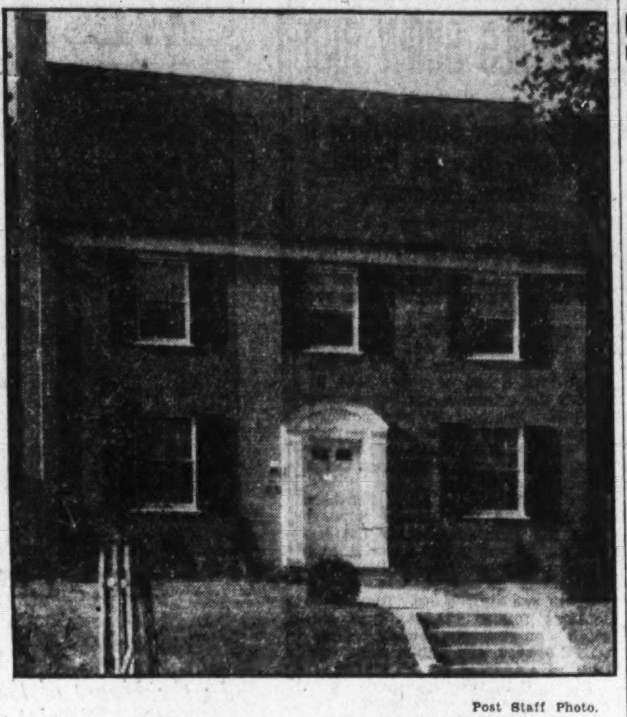
"New members added to the building and loan associations in the past quarter represent a return to the old idea that systematic saving is the only way for a man to acquire financial independence. As far back as 1860 building and loan associations were described as the workingman's way to wealth. The past 70 years have convinced the working group of the truth of this definition.

"Under present conditions we must still look to this group for the provision of the major portion of the financing funds for the small homes in the country. The proposed Home Loan Bank bill would bring into the home financing field a stabilizing factor and employes' savings could be expected to flow still more freely into home financing institutions which have the credit facilities of a Federal system behind them."

City May Become Pool-less.

Westfield, Mass. (U.P.).—Westfield, home of Massachusetts' governor, Joseph B. Ely, may soon become a pool-less city. Though nearly 20,000 persons live here, only one poolroom remains.

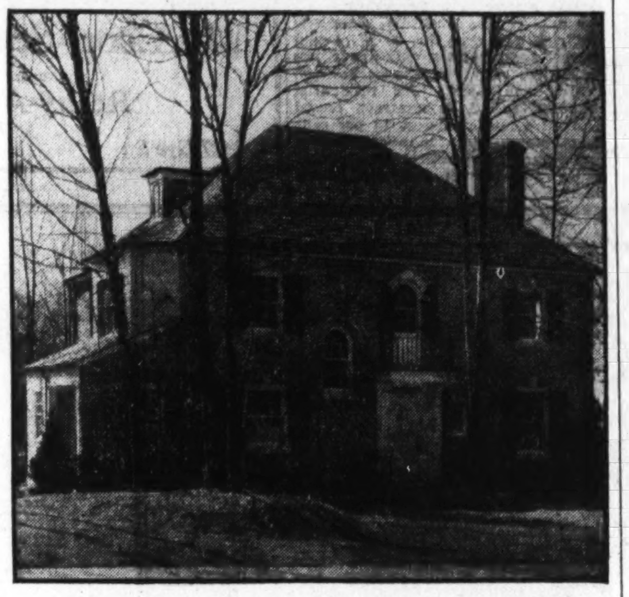
ATTRACTIVE HOME PURCHASED



Post Staff Photo.

Attractive colonial residence at 1371 Locust road, Northgate, built by the North Washington Realty Co., and sold by them during the past week. Three other of the company's new homes in Northgate are nearing completion.

NEW FRENCH PROVINCIAL HOME



W. F. Roberts Co.

All-brick house of French provincial influence recently purchased by David P. Wolhaupter at 4926 Hillbrook lane northwest, Spring Valley. This house contains 11 rooms, three baths and a two-car built-in garage. It was designed, built and sold by W. C. & A. N. Miller.

HOME COOLING UNIT SALES SEEN GAINING

Large Scale Production of Conditioning Device Is Predicted.

Cooling of America's homes for comfort in hot weather as they have long been kept comfortable by heating in winter will make its debut on a big scale this summer, a survey made by the Holland Institute of Thermology, Holland, Mich., indicates.

The survey, which was Nation-wide in scope, revealed that cooling devices have been developed and are being marketed by approximately a score of the country's leading manufacturers.

The device, according to the institute, range from small units capable of cooling only the room in which they are set up, to complete air-conditioning systems which not only cool the entire house, but provide constant circulation of air, adequate humidity in winter, and keep out dirt and dust by filtering and washing the home air. Prices are well within the reach of even the smallest home owner.

One of the most interesting of these air-conditioning devices is a low-priced unit which is attached to a warm-air heating plant or installed in connection with any other type of heating system. This achieves cooling of the home by washing the summer heat out of the stifling indoor atmosphere. The air in the home is constantly circulated through a series of fine swirling water sprays which cools it from 5 to 20 degrees, depending on the temperature of the water and the amount of water used. An accompanying steady though gentle air movement effects a sensibility of comfort comparable to a drop of several degrees in temperature by the removal of body heat and body moisture.

Effective cooling of the home by the washing process depends largely on the temperature of the available water supply. An auxiliary cooling refrigerating unit is employed to reduce the water temperature if it is higher than 60 degrees.

From the householder's point of view, the installation of a complete air-conditioning system holds many advantages, according to the institute. It not only provides the means for cooling the home in summer, but it serves to circulate and clean the air in the house all through the year. By actual test, the filtering and washing process removes from the indoor air 98.2 per cent of dust, germs, smoke and other impurities, thereby eliminating much housework, damage to furniture and furnishings and acting as a stimulus to health and comfort the year around.

Oil Burner Cleans Self

Stockholm (U.P.).—A self-cleaning, silent burner, said to be suited for oil-cookers of the gas plate model, has been brought out in Sweden. By simply turning a wheel of an ingenious device, which serves to regulate the flame and the pressure in the tank, the orifice is automatically cleaned.

President Praises Home Loan Plans

Mortgage Needs Stressed by Hoover in Comment on House Bill.

With the House committee on banking and currency holding hearings on the Watson-Luce bill, recommended to it by a special subcommittee which earlier held extensive hearings on the measure, President Hoover, in a statement given to the Ladies' Home Journal and published in its June issue, not only points out the emergency need of the bill because of present inability of lending institutions to renew sound home mortgages, but also states emphatically:

"Beyond this, despite everything that has been said, a canvass of the country shows that there are several thousand communities where there is today a need and demand for new homes which cannot be constructed for lack of credit. The immediate result of restoring credit facilities would be the resumption of a large amount of construction work, which is one of the most important keys to unlock the problem of unemployment."

He states that the proposed Federal system of home mortgage discount banks, which the bill would create, "has found sympathetic support and indorsement of thousands of savings banks, building and loan associations, country bankers, and, above all, from would-be home owners," and adds, "I am in hopes that it will have an early enactment into law."

Hearings on the proposed home loan bank bill by the House committee opened May 9.

BUILDING PERMITS

Application for a permit to build a 2½-story stone and clapboard residence, costing $30,000, at 4615 Loughborough road northwest, was filed last week with the office of District Building Inspector Oehmann by Guy L Scott, jr., 4000 Cathedral avenue. Charles H. Tompkins Co. will be the builder and John J. Whelan is the architect. The house, containing 11 rooms, will be located on a lot 200 feet wide and 349 feet deep.

Permits to build issued during the week were the following:

William J. Lee's Sons Co., two-story stone, brick and steel funeral parlors building at Fourth street and Massachusetts avenue northeast; cost, $75,000.

Wire Construction Co., Inc., six two-story brick, concrete and frame residences at 607, 609, 613, 615, 619 and 621 Quackenbos street northwest; cost, $5,500 each.

John S. Smith, two-story brick and stone residence at 1615 Juniper street northwest; cost, $15,000.

H. L. Thornton, two two-story brick dwellings at 5733-35 Colorado avenue northwest; cost, $9,000.

Capital View Realty Co., two-story frame and brick residence at 5000 Blaine street northeast; cost, $4,000.

Y. Panaroff, two-story brick addition to dwelling at 107 Carroll street southeast; cost, $1,400.

Charles M. Hunter, 3d, two-story brick dwelling at 6214 Twenty-ninth street northwest; cost, $6,000.

G. W. Forsberg, two-story brick gasoline station at Tenth and Water streets southwest; cost, $5,000.

Pearl E. Mockabee, one-story cement block office building at 1201 New Jersey avenue southeast; cost, $2,500.

C. P. Powell, one-story frame and stucco dwelling at 319 Quackenbos street northwest; cost, $3,000.

Sullivan & Helan, one-story brick and tile gasoline station at 3010 Rhode Island avenue northeast; cost, $1,000.

D. Trimarchi, one-story freight depot at Fourth near Neal street northeast; cost, $5,000.

Mr. and Mrs. William O'Connor, 1½-story brick residence at 2501 Thirty-second street southeast; cost, $4,000.

Joseph M. Schaefer, two two-story frame dwellings at 326-328 Anacostia road southeast; cost, $2,000 each.

McGuire & Rolfe, one-story masonry office and store at 1401 First street southeast; cost, $2,000.

M. Herzog, one-story brick store at 2629 Barry road southeast; cost, $1,800.

Joseph A. Shafer, two-story brick residence at 6008 Utah avenue; cost, $7,500.

Tolson, Kemp & Hix, two-story brick and frame dwelling at 3505 Tenth street northeast; cost, $6,000.

Miss France Given Bob.

Paris (U.P.).—France has modernized her coins and on the new alloy pieces of one franc, which were put into circulation recently Marriane has been given a windblown bob. Under her phrygien bonnet the allegorical figure of "Miss France," which adorns the coins, shows distinctly her bobbed hair.

AGAIN

MIKKELSON CHOOSES GAS for BEECHWOOD

Model home of G. F. Mikkelson & Son at 6405 Beechwood Drive, in the Beechwood development of Chevy Chase. To reach the house, drive out Connecticut Avenue, turn west on Thornapple Street to Beechwood Drive and left—south to house. For information call the builder at Wisconsin 4255.

●

In addition to G. F. Mikkelson & Son these Washington builders also modernize their homes with gas:

●

G. L. Bennett
L. E. Breuninger & Sons, Inc.
Beitzell & Horning
Boss & Phelps
Breuninger & Phifer
Burdett Stryker
B. M. Brosius
Edson W. Briggs, Inc.
Cafritz Construction Co.
Capital View Realty Co.
Columbia Construction Company
Country Club Hills, Virginia
Henry J. Connor
Cooley Bros.
D. J. Dunigan, Inc.
Federal Construction Co.
J. F. Fox
G. H. Gaskins
Clarence W. Gosnell
B. H. Gruver
Harvard Terrace Development Corp.
Fred W. Horton
H. P. Huddleson
Independent Investment Co.
Jacobson Bros.
Randolph L. Jennings
Kennedy-Chamberlin Development Co.
Max Gorin
McKeever & Goss
M. Mezzanotte
W. C. & A. N. Miller
Frederick B. Mills
J. C. Nealon
A. T. Newbold
L. E. F. Prince
Fred Schnider
Security Building Corp.
Shapiro Construction Co.
Joseph M. Stanley
Waverly Taylor
John B. Tiffey
Waple & James
Wakefield, Inc.
C. M. Wilcox
C. W. Williams
Edward M. Willis
P. H. Willis Realty Co.
Earl Warren
Walter Vaughn

When a model home in a model community is opened to the public it becomes an event, and an opportunity for every lover of beautiful homes. In charming Beechwood, with its wooded hills and quiet valleys, G. F. Mikkelson & Son, the developers, have just opened their latest and finest dwelling, and they invite you to see it at 6405 Beechwood Drive.

Long ago Mikkelson sensed the trend toward gas conveniences, and began installing them. So enthusiastic was the public's response, and so satisfied have purchasers been, that these leading builders now make all their houses all-gas-convenience homes. For example, this new residence has Bryant automatic gas heat, a gas refrigerator, an insulated heat-controlled gas range and an automatic gas water heater. Housekeeping here will be simple, and as effortless and automatic as it can be.

The house is of authentic Colonial design even to the attractive wall paper and unusual fixtures. Living room, dining room, library, kitchen and pantry are all large, and one of the prize features of the plan is a spacious screened porch off the living room, overlooking the tree-bordered garden. Upstairs are four bed rooms, each with a cedar closet, and two baths. On the third floor are two maids' rooms, bath and storage space. In keeping with the forward-looking policy of the builders, the third floor and roof are completely insulated.

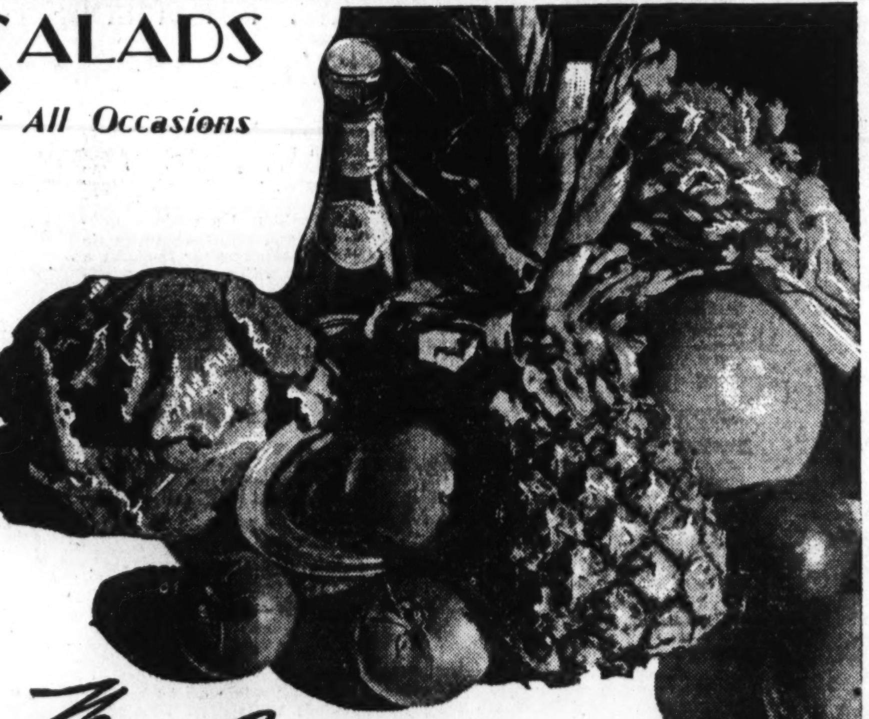
The price of this exceptional home is $23,900. Because of experienced building and gas conveniences, the house offers value which could not have been had a few years ago for twice that figure.

WASHINGTON GAS LIGHT COMPANY
BUILDERS' AND ARCHITECTS' DIVISION
419 Tenth St. N.W. NAtional 8280

MODERNIZE with Gas

Tune in the Washington Gas Light Orchestra every Sunday evening at 6:30 on WRC

SALADS
For All Occasions



Nancy Carey

This nationally prominent adviser to homemakers has prepared an interesting folder which presents many new and appetizing recipes for the ever-popular salad . . . A copy is yours for the asking and it will prove of incalculable value during the coming months —and remember—Nancy Carey's articles appear daily in—

Nancy Carey,
The Washington Post,
Washington, D. C.
Dear Miss Carey:

Will you please send me a copy of your folder "Salads for Every Occasion." I am enclosing a self-addressed stamped envelope.

Merely enclose this coupon, with the stamped, self-addressed envelope and mail to Miss Carey at The Washington Post.

The Washington Post
"The Capital's Greatest NEWSpaper"

REZONING APPEALS CONSIDERATION SET

Commission Also to Act on Proposed Amendments; Complaints Sent In.

The District Zoning Commission will on June 1 consider application for rezoning of eighteen areas and two amendments.

The first amendment concerns the minimum amount of side yards permitted in development of a lot. Under building regulations here porches of a house may be erected so as to extend three feet beyond the building restriction line. In computing the minimum width of the side yards, consideration is given to the depth of the house. The amended definition would specify that in this computation the extension of the porch over the building restriction line would be included in the measurement, which would result in some difference in the side-yard rule.

The other amendment would give the District power to prevent storage of "abandoned" motor vehicles, building materials and other "debris" on a first commercial lot, over which practice it is reported the District government has been receiving numerous complaints. It is said the District now can not prevent such storage of abandoned automobiles in first commercial zones if the owner claims the lot is being used merely as a parking place instead of a storage place for junk.

Scope of Applications.

The applications cover the following proposed changes in zoning classifications:

From residential 60-foot C area to second commercial 60-foot C area, lots at the northeast corner of Virginia avenue and Twenty-eighth street; from residential 90-foot C area to first commercial 90-foot C area, property at 1705 Corcoran street; from residential 60-foot C area to first commercial 60-foot C area, property at 1701 Thirteenth street; from residential B and second commercial 90-foot D area to industrial 90-foot D area, four squares bounded by V, Second, T and Water streets southwest.

From residential 60-foot B area to second commercial 90-foot D area, property at 1001 to 1015 Third street and 302 K street northeast; from first commercial 60-foot C area to second commercial 60-foot C area, lot at southwest corner of Fifth street and Florida avenue northeast; from second commercial 60-foot D area to industrial 60-foot D area, square bounded by L, M, Water, Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets southeast.

From residential 40-foot B restricted area to residential 90-foot B restricted area, two squares, being a part of the Georgetown University campus on the west side of Thirty-seventh street, north of O street.

Taylor Street Change.

From residential 90-foot C area to irst commercial 90-foot C area, property at 1681 Columbia road; from esidential 40-foot B restricted area o second commercial 60-foot C area, property on south side of Taylor street etween Georgia and Kansas avenues; rom residential 40-foot A restricted rea to first commercial 60-foot C rea, property on north side of Tuckrman street between Georgia avenue nd Ninth street; from first commerial 40-foot C area, to residential 40-oot B area, all of first commercial ortion of property fronting on west de of Fourth street between Jefferon and Kennedy streets.

From first commercial 40-foot C to esidential 40-foot B area, lots on ast side of Fourth street between efferson and Kennedy streets; from rst commercial 40-foot C area to esidential 40-foot B area, property n west side of Kansas avenue beween Jefferson and Kennedy streets; om residential 40-foot A restricted rea to first commercial 60-foot C rea, property on east side of Conecticut avenue between Yuma and lbemarle streets.

From residential 40-foot A restricted area to first commercial 60-ot C area, property in rear of 4509 Visconsin avenue; from residential -foot C area to residential 40-foot area, all property zoned C area onting on both sides of Pennsylnia avenue between Branch aveie and Thirtieth street southeast, d from residential 40-foot A area to sidential 40-foot B area, property west side of Seventh street beeen Raleigh place and Portland eet southeast.

Leases Reported By Carl Rosinski

Vide Variety of Businesses Represented in List of Properties.

The office of Carl G. Rosinski, specializing in business property leasing, s reported the closing of numerous ases, in which the following appear: ogod & Dubb have leased space in e Fidelity Garage, which will be ed by them for storage warehouse rposes. The renewal of a lease vering premises 3046 Fourteenth eet northwest, to Abraham and rtrude Sures, is announced. No. 97 Holmead place northwest is sed to Harry Wolf, who will conct in the premises a high-grade ocery and meat market. No. 2446 sconsin avenue northwest is leased Footer's Dye Works, Inc., as the venth unit of their chain here. emises 1217 G street northwest has en leased to J. H. Kaplan to be erated as a millinery shop. No. 1525 urteenth street northwest is leased Williams & Baker, who will occupy premises as a used-car salesroom. emises 3416 Fourteenth street rthwest is leased to Miss Kitty Gar- for use as a beauty parlor. No. Thirteenth street northwest is sed to Donner & Levy for resrant purposes.

ew Leases in Press Building Are Listed

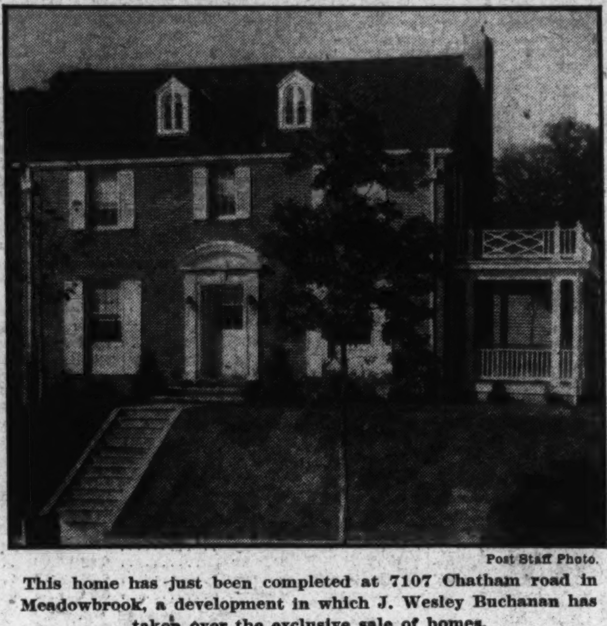
he following leases are the latest orted by the National Press Build- Corporation: District of Columbia rge Washington Bicentennial Comsion, four offices; Aero Digest Buu, Suite 900; William L. Edmonn, patent law offices, Suite 989; lers' National Federation, Rooms and 958; B. W. Construction Co., te 984-986; R. C. A. Victor Co., ., Room 1234; D. S. Wallerstein, olesale millinery, office 1097; adcasting Publications, Inc., Suite 862, 868 and 870; White Studios, ., photography, Suite 906, 910, 916 918; W. N. Brown, Inc., engineer- firm, Suite 969-971; Francis G. son, attorney and tax specialist, te 1108, 1110 and 1116.

BEDROOM AND SUN PARLOR IN EXHIBIT HOME

Post Staff Photo.

Back bedroom, showing sun porch, in the furnished exhibit home at 1342 Sheridan street northwest, being presented by McKeever & Goss, Inc.

ATTRACTIVE NEW HOME OPENED



Post Staff Photo.

This home has just been completed at 7107 Chatham road in Meadowbrook, a development in which J. Wesley Buchanan has taken over the exclusive sale of homes.

American Indian Princess Scores Hit

Berlin (U.P.).—Although Europe has its share, and more, of former royalty, and princesses ordinarily stir little notice, a personage from the Western Hemisphere can still attract interest, as was demonstrated by the appearance in mid-April of the American Indian, Princess Lushanya.

Lushanya, who is 24, a granddaughter of Silver Eagle, of the Chickasaws, was well received not only for her music, but for her own personality, which quickly established a bond of understanding with her German admirers. She appeared before a well-filled house, including many Americans, in a recital of American Indian, German and English songs.

Her Indian costumes, and her costume changes for the varying character of her program, pleased the Germans.

"Last of Mohicans" Aiding University

Chicago (U.P.).—The last Mohican, Makwa Monpuy, literally "Onieda Springs," has been discovered and is now aiding the University of Chicago department of anthropology in recording the supposedly lost language.

William Dick, as he is known, is 75 and lives with his daughter in Milwaukee, Wis. He formerly lived with his parents on a Wisconsin Indian reservation and now receives a State pension. He is an elder in a Presbyterian church and does not smoke, or eat sweets. A drink, now and then, can do no harm, he says, but for him the modern world is too complicated.

Chicago Plans Garden Plots for Jobless

Chicago (U.P.).—A garden plot for every unemployed man in Chicago is the program of the joint emergency relief commission.

A plan to make 25,000 acres of land in the city and suburbs available to the unemployed for food-raising purposes was announced by Frank B. Loomis, secretary of the commission. He believes men out of work can raise at least $5,000,000 worth of vegetables for next winter's use.

Feet Tell Fortune, Orthopedics Declare

Chicago (U.P.).—Orthopedic surgeons now tell fortunes by studying feet. In the case of a woman:

Short, thick toes denote lethargy and lack of imagination.

Long toes and long feet mean temperament.

High arches mean the subject is aristocratic; low ones, that she works for a living.

The bigger the feet, the prettier the woman.

WEST LELAND, NEW DEVELOPMENT, OPEN

Morrison-Sacks Concern Is Sponsoring Residential Community.

West Leland, one square west of Wisconsin avenue and on Bradley boulevard, in the heart of the Country Club district, is a new development which eventually will contain more than 100 homes on lots ranging from 50 to 60 feet or more in width, announced today by Morrison-Sacks Corporation, owners and developers. It will be sponsored by Realty Associates, Inc.

It will be a restricted residential community in the progressive northwest section on the beautiful new highway, Bradley boulevard. The dwellings, to be detached, will be designed by architects of wide experience have a price range of from $9,750 to $35,000. The development will be located conveniently to elementary and high schools and is within one square of bus line, street cars and stores.

Leland street traversing the development, has been taken over by Maryland as a State highway, which will eventually become the main artery of the proposed new memorial boulevard to Great Falls.

Southwest of the operation is Kenwood Golf and Country Club; on the west of it, Congressional Country Club; on the north, Town and Country and Columbia Country Clubs, while Chevy Chase Country Club is southeast of it.

Two homes are now completed and open for inspection at 4802 and 4804 Leland street northwest. They contain six rooms, one and two baths, side porch, one-car garage, and every modern convenience.

APPRAISERS GROUP PLANNING PROGRAM

National Real Estate Body to Tell of Actual Cases During Convention.

Chicago, Ill., May 21.—The American Institute of Appraisers of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, new professional body authorized to certify qualified real estate valuators, is building its program for its first meeting, to be held in connection with the coming annual convention of the association, at Cincinnati, June 29 and 30 and July 1.

Fifteen actual appraisal cases in which realtors during the past year have called on the help of the association's consultation service will be brought before the institute as embodying typical questions of appraisal principle or method.

Leaders chosen to open the discussion on the fifteen points so raised are as follows:

Maurice F. Reidy, Worcester, Mass.; Henry A. Babcock, Chicago, Ill.; Harrison S. Colburn, New York; Mark Levy, Chicago; Frank M. McCurdy, Brooklyn; K. Lee Hyder (assistant vice president, American Appraisal Co.), Milwaukee, Wis.; H. H. Wooten (associate agricultural economist, United States Department of Agriculture), Joliet, Ill.; Harry S. Cutmore, Chicago; Delbert S. Wenzlick, St. Louis, Mo.; James D. Henderson, Boston, Mass.; Carlton Schultz, Cleveland, Ohio; D. Howard Doane, St. Louis, Mo.; A. P. Allingham, Buffalo, N. Y.; Stanley Roe, Chicago, and J. Alvin Register, Jacksonville, Fla.

Sessions in which formal organization of the new institute is to be effected: (1) meetings of the organization committee, June 27 and 28; (2) formal organization meeting, Wednesday forenoon, June 29. Regular sessions will open Wednesday afternoon, June 29, and continue June 30 and July 1.

Gas Furnace Is Comfort Item in Modern Home

In keeping with their policy of up-to-the-minute modernism in comfort and economy, the Shapiro Corporation has installed the dependable Ideal gas furnace in the new home recently built for the Harvard Terrace Development Corporation. This new home, located at 6116 Thirty-second street, near the corner of Thirty-second and Rittenhouse, in Chevy Chase, D. C., represents the newest departures home-owning comfort.

Gas furnace, electric water heater, portable dishwasher, a laundry complete with washing machine and ironer, gorgeous Hollywood bathrooms, built-in, heated two-car garage and handsomely landscaped grounds with lily pond are some of the unusual features offered here at prewar prices. The home is open for the inspection of the public every day, including Sunday, until 9 p. m.

Electrical Refrigerators Sales Show Increase

Detroit U.P.).—Up to 1920, only 10,000 electric refrigerators, valued at $6,000,000 retail, had been sold, while during the year of 1931 alone, 965,000 units were sold, with a total retail value of $248,970,000, the National Electric Manufacturers Association reports. During the same time the average price has decreased from $600, in 1920, to $258, in 1931.

In 1931 the rapidly increasing industry employed an average of 16,754 employes, who drew $26,000,000 and used materials and power amounting to $71,787,000.

BARGAIN IS OFFERED IN NEW MODEL HOME

Continued from Page 1.

sight, especially in the early evening. Due to the unusual interest which has been displayed by the public, the house is now open to inspection daily and Sunday until 9 p. m. An early visit of inspection is suggested.

Women will be particularly interested and pleased to see that the builders have devoted an unusually large amount of room to the kitchen and filled it with a remarkable array of the most modern and wonderful of time-serving devices. There is a beautiful and extremely practical built-in Oxford kitchen cabinet, finished in cheerful shades of buff and green, and an extra big one-piece colored porcelain sink with plenty of drain-board space. The electrical equipment mentioned above makes this, without doubt, a splendid example of the most modern kitchen engineering. In addition to the kitchen, and adjoining it, is a delightfully cozy breakfast nook—bright and cheery in appearance—with built-in benches and table beautifully finished.

Has Big Closets.

Among the other attractions that will have a strong appeal to women are the big closets all through the house—one near the front door, convenient for overcoats, rubbers and umbrellas, and other closets in all the bedrooms, with a commodious linen closet in the upstairs hall.

Of even greater interest are the magnificant Hollywood bathrooms—in beautiful pastel shades, with colored faience tile to harmonize. In addition to the standard sanitary fixtures throughout, these bathrooms have the extra convenience of built-in towel cabinets, soiled linen receptacle and a recessed shower with glass door.

The men have not been forgotten in the design of these houses. The built-in showers with glass doors will have a special appeal to the busy businessman who likes to take his before-breakfast or after-golfing bath in solid comfort. On the third floor there is a big room with plenty of elbow space for swinging a ping-pong bat or a billiard cue. This room has been especially set aside for a men's den and recreation room—a place where clubs, racquets, fly rods, shotguns, boots and favorite briar pipes will be safe from feminine hands.

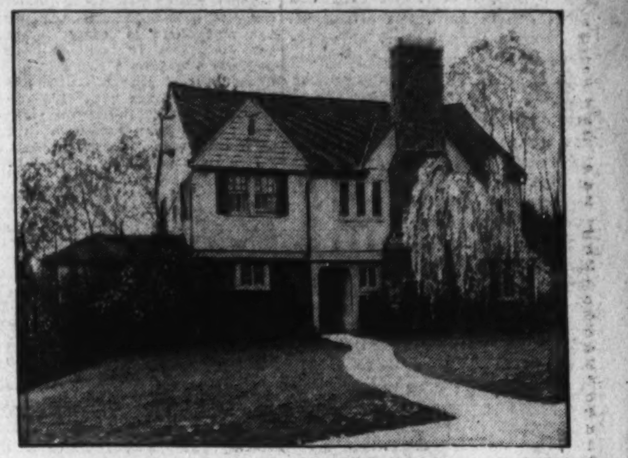
Beautiful Grounds and Landscaping.

As befits a home of this character, it is placed in a setting of unusual beauty. The grounds are to be handsomely landscaped, sodded and planted with shrubbery. One of the loveliest features of the side garden will be the miniature pool, planted with water lilies and stocked with goldfish.

Due to the great depth of the lot, there is plenty of room at the back for a tennis court, a swimming pool, a practice putting green, magnificent flower gardens or a grape arbor.

There is an atmosphere of grandeur about this house—a handsome, homelike place, architected in the best colonial traditions—with its spacious covered porch a front and side, its two great wood-burning fireplaces, its paneled ballroom that will accommodate 50 dancing couples, its billiard room above, its lofty living room and its luxurious baths.

Complete with its two-car heated garage, its modern laundry, its many novel cupboards and closets, it stands ready to deliver a maximum of comfort to the family throughout a lifetime. The Shapiro Corporation, which built this splendid home or the Harvard Terrace Development Corporation, is indeed to be congratulated on its unique accomplishment—that of constructing such a home of this type priced to sell at less than $15,000.



WESLEY HEIGHTS
The Garden Spot of Washington

4530
Cathedral
Avenue
Open
All Day
Sunday

A HOME of beauty and dignity. Extensive grounds, with pool and prize-winning formal garden. Lot 90x246. 1st floor—living room, dining room, library, sun room, lavatory, kitchen and pantry. 2d floor—4 bedrooms, 3 baths and large porch. 3d floor finished. 3 maids' rooms and bath—2-car built-in garage—Gas heat.

W. C. & A. N. Miller
1119 17th St. Decatur 0610

NEW DETACHED BRICK RESIDENCE
in North Cleveland
Park

Four bed rooms, two baths, sun parlor, open fireplace, attic, slate roof, oak floors, electrical refrigeration, built-in garage, large lot with nice shrubbery.

4327 RENO
ROAD N.W.
Reduced $3,000 From Original Sale Price
A REAL BARGAIN
Open Sunday and every day to 9 P. M.
Drive from Conn. Ave. up by Bureau of Standards to Van Ness St. and north 2 blocks or east from Wisconsin Ave. at Warren St.

Wm. M. Throckmorton
208 Invest. Bldg.
Dist. 6093

Sensational Value
of 1932!

• Inspect the beautifully furnished exhibit home

1342
SHERIDAN ST.
N. W.
Off 16th St.—Overlooking Rock Creek Park
$9,950
Open Daily and Sunday Until 9 P. M.
TO REACH: Drive out 16th St. to Sheridan St. and turn right.

Inspect
232 Longfellow
St. N. W.

A new group of well planned homes with new, modern features that will please you.

Contain seven large rooms, large two-tone baths, modern kitchens, built-in garages.

Screened Throughout.
Open and lighted until 9 P.M.

FLOYD E. DAVIS CO.
Realtors
733 12th N.W. Nat'l 0352

SPRING VALLEY

Washington's Distinctive Residential Community.

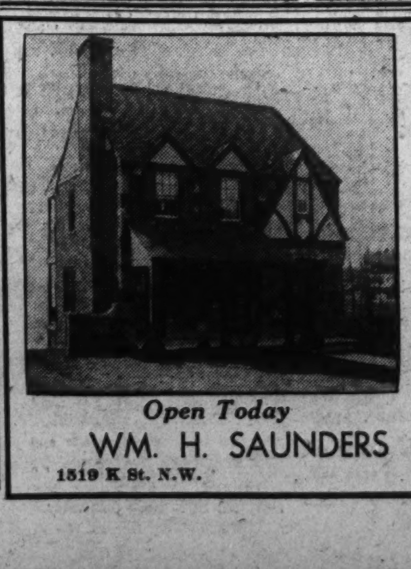
Now at the Height of its Beauty—

Resplendent with the matchless blossoms of native dogwood.

You will be interested in visiting the new Hillbrook Lane Section where there are available houses in the various stages of construction.

EXHIBIT HOUSE
4900 Glenbrook Road

W. C. & A. N. Miller
Developers
1119 Seventeenth St.
Decatur 0610



Amazing Chevy Chase Value!
2942
McKinley St.
$11,950.

All large bedrooms, two splendid baths, attic, recreation room, breakfast room. Latest kitchen equipment. Stone open fireplace.

Open Today
WM. H. SAUNDERS CO., Inc.
1519 K St. N.W. Dist. 1015

$9,750

Attic
Gum Trim
2 Cedar Closets
Tile Bath in Colors
Spacious Sleeping Porch
Copper Down Spouts
Hardwood Floors
Real Fireplace
3 Porches
Screens

6522 7th Place N.W.
Between 7th and 8th, Van Buren and Underwood Sts.

A Charming
Detached
Home that is fully $2,000
Underpriced
Monthly Payments Less Than Rent on Similar Homes
Call GEorgia 2294 and We Will Furnish Transportation to Home

J. DALLAS GRADY
1010 Vermont Ave. District 9179

A Kitchen Truly MODERN

Built by H. G. Smithy Co.

. . . finer than any you've ever seen in homes at this price!

Exhibit Home
328
MADISON
St. N.W.
$9,250

—and every feature of these beautiful, up-to-the-minute homes reflects the painstaking craftsmanship of a builder who KNOWS HOW TO BUILD the type of home that 1932 purchasers are looking for. 7 room, 2 bath brick homes overlooking the new 200 ft. Fort Drive one square from Fort Slocum Park. Spacious recreation room different from any you've seen.

Open Daily and Sunday, 10 A. M. to 9 P. M.
Tower Bldg. Beitzell & Horning Dist. 0853

BUILT BY EVERETT A. R. SEARL

And Now..the HONEYMOON Apartment Bungalow—the Newest Thing in Washington!

FIRST SHOWING . . . TODAY
6600-6602 6th St. N.W.

$7,950
Open Daily Until 9 P. M.

June brides will thrill to the charm and coziness of these lovely little homes. Say good-bye to apartment dwelling today—own your own home at less than you are paying for rent . . . And it's a gem of a home, complete, wonderfully constructed, and immaculately finished. Living room with open fireplace; cool, airy bedrooms; colored tile bath; 1932 ultra modern kitchen with built-in kitchen cabinet unit with electric clock, electric refrigeration, ventilating fan in wall, linoleum floor. Hardwood floors, hot-water heat, attic, built-in garage with "over the top" door. Tastefully landscaped yard. See these today—they will sell quickly! . . . the sensation values of 1932!

Drive Out Georgia Ave. to Piney Branch Rd., Bear Right to 6th St.

EATON & COMPANY
Exclusive Agents
1010 Vermont Avenue National 2920

GAS LIGHT CONCERNS INCREASE EARNINGS

Washington Company's Net for April Is $170,291; in 1932, $625,140.

By THOMAS M. CAHILL.

Net income of Washington Gas Light Co., in April, was $170,291.21, the company's statement of operations for that month filed yesterday with the Public Utilities Commission reveals. This was an advance from $114,135.06, which was the company's net income in the month last year. Net income for the first four months of 1932 now aggregates $625,140.62, or a rise from $528,425.06 in the corresponding period a year ago.

The statement of Georgtown Gas Light Co., submitted yesterday, also showed gains. Its net corporate income for April was $16,009.62, as compared with $12,732.24 in the month in 1931. Net corporate income for the four months of 1932 totals $69,594.01, as against $55,661.65 for the comparative period last year.

Collins to Speak.

Charles Wallace Collins, budget authority and lawyer, was announced yesterday as the third speaker before the convention of the District of Columbia Bankers Association at Hot Springs, Va., June 9-12. He will deliver an address on "Recent Legislation and Its Effect Upon Business," at the third business session.

Mr. Collins is a former counsel for the United States Bureau of the Budget and drafted the Senate bill establishing a national budget system, at that time being legal adviser to the Senate and House committees appointed to devise a budget plan. He is the author of several books on the budgetary systems of the United States and Great Britain and was a former first deputy Comptroller of the Currency. An attendance of more than 200 is expected at the convention.

Virginia Public Service.

Virginia Public Service Co. and subsidiaries, operating unit of National Electric Power Co., reports gross operating revenues of $7,056,559 for the twelve months ended March 31, 1932, compared with $6,627,296 for the corresponding period the year previous. After operating expenses, taxes and other charges, the net available for retirement and dividends was $1,935,316, compared with $1,969,236 a year ago.

For the quarter ended March 31, 1932, gross operating revenues totaled $1,776,172, compared with $1,612,405 a year ago. Net for retirement and dividends was $488,192, as compared with $463,942.

Seaboard Public Service.

Gross earnings of subsidiaries of the Seaboard Public Service Co. for the twelve months ended March 31, 1932, aggregate $14,804,080, as compared with $13,208,802 for the corresponding period a year ago. After deducting operating expenses, taxes and other charges, the net income available for retirement and dividends on stocks of Seaboard Public Service Co. was $2,920,731, as against $2,714,328 in 1931.

For the three months ended March 31, 1932, the subsidiaries' gross earnings totaled $3,666,776, compared with $3,303,050. Net for retirement and stocks after operating expenses, taxes and other charges, aggregated $684,394, as against $654,249.

Loans either actually made or authorized by the Railroad Credit Corporation as of April 30, to railroads to meet their fixed interest obligations, totaled $18,681,159.50, according to the monthly report of that corporation filed yesterday with the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Of that amount, loans so far made totaled $4,188,582, of which $1,825,462 were made in April. Loans authorized but not actually made up to April 30, totaled $14,492,577.50.

The application of the Santa Fe Railroad to the California Railroad Commission for authority to execute a first lien and refunding mortgage on its properties does not imply any new financing by the road in the immediate future, according to opinion in railroad circles. It is believed to be merely a move to provide for the financing of additions and betterments when needed so that the road will not have to depend on its common or preferred stock as a medium of financing.

"Disposals of farm real estate of the Federal Land Banks were greater in 1931 than in any previous year," says the annual report of the Federal Farm Loan Board transmitted to Congress. The number of sales exceeded those of 1930 by 35 per cent and the amount obtained for the farms exceeded the previous year's figure by 16 per cent. The total number of properties disposed of was 4,232 for a total consideration of $11,302,235.

Medley G. B. Whelpley, president of the Nitrate Corporation of Chile, today confirmed the report that the company was considering a reduction in the wages and salaries of its personnel.

A committee has been formed to represent the holders of the convertible 6 per cent debentures, initial series due March 1, 1945, and series "B" due May 1, 1945 of the Appalachian Gas Corporation, which was recently placed in receivership. John C. Adams, of Hale, Waters & Co., is chairman of the committee.

Air Passengers to Get Market Trading Facility

New York, May 21 (A.P.).—Facilities for dealing in stock and commodity markets will be placed at the disposal of passengers flying the air transportation routes of American Airways, throughout the South and Southeast, by the New York Stock Exchange firm of Fenner, Beane & Ungerleider.

The new service will be inaugurated on Monday. Several months ago the firm established a similar service on Southeastern air routes.

Bank Failures Decline; 3 Institutions Reopened

New York, May 21 (A.P.).—Bank suspensions during the past week numbered 12, compared with 15 in the previous week, according to the American Banker.

Three banks reopened during the period.

Business Barometer

By LYNNE M. LAMM

EVIDENCE of a recent decline in consumer buying is furnished by the failure of rail shipments of merchandise and department store sales to respond normally to seasonal influences. Financial conditions have shown further recent improvement and bank failures have been greatly reduced in number.

The business interests of the country are veering around in favor of a sales tax and there is every indication that Congress is being advised of this. If the Senate had turned to a sales tax and sent the new revenue bill to the House with this change, there is every indication that it would have been accepted, in spite of the vigorous opposition that was shown to it when the bill was before that body. The business interests have changed their opinion very materially on this point during recent weeks, since they have had time to digest what it really means.

Cigarette Sales Off.

In spite of the decrease in cigarette sales the wholesale and retail tobacco business is keeping up with last year. Merchants claim that the decline in cigarette sales is due in large part to the cigarette machines which have been put on the market recently. Thousands of these machines are reported to have been purchased by cigarette smokers and the dealers feel that this, at least in part, has cut down their sales. However, this business, they state, will come back after the novelty has worn off.

Tobacco consumption has increased and there is an increase in the general tobacco business compared with last year in many localities.

Reports show that cigarette sales are off 10 per cent compared with last year; cigars, 11½ per cent; little cigars, 14 per cent, and large cigarettes, off 37 per cent. On the other hand, tobacco sales increased 1½ per cent.

Employment in the tobacco industry has been declining. The Bureau of Labor Statistics received reports from 206 cigar and cigarette factories which gave their March employment at 47,471, a decrease of 1.6 per cent from February, and of 16.3 per cent from March of last year. The weekly pay rolls in these plants in March were $608,666, a decrease of 1.1 per cent from February, and of 24.8 per cent from March of last year.

Hides and Leathers Quiet.

April was the quietest month the tanners have had since the slump started. There was very little activity in any line of leather. The credit position of shoe retailers and chain stores is still the subject of the most careful scrutiny.

Tanners are reported as much pleased with the fall style show which the Tanners' Council recently held in New York City. Not much business was transacted but there was a record attendance, and the number of exhibitors was about normal. Considerable interest was shown by buyers. There was little new at the show in the way of colors or fancy grained leathers, and the exhibits leaned more to staples.

Leather stocks of the country are reported as being lower than at any time since records have been kept. This applies to both tanners and shoe manufacturers, with the latter buying on a hand-to-mouth basis.

The undertone of the hide market is firm and the better qualities of late April and early May hides have sold at ¼-cent advance. In April packer hides reached the lowest figure on record since this type of hide has been on the market. This resulted in a clearance of accumulation of practically all winter hides up to the May kill. Prices of hides are now so low that the small packers of the country are reported to be cutting up the cheap hides for tankage.

Construction Costs Lower.

Construction costs declined further during March and are still on the decline, with wages also coming down. This has led builders to feel that their business will soon be on the upgrade. Those who have been holding off building know that costs are about at rock bottom. On the other hand, long-term real estate bonds issued during the first quarter of this year amounted to less than one-fifth the value of those floated during the same period of last year.

The Federal Reserve Board reports that the total value of building permits in 168 selected cities for March was $35,381,247. Also there were more building contracts awarded during March than in February. The board's unadjusted index, based on a three-month moving average of values, was the highest for the current year during March, but during the first quarter of this year fell to only 25 per cent of the 1923-1925 average. Reports for the first half of last month showed a continuation of the seasonal building expansion.

Residential building contracts for March amounted to $3,000,000 more than the awards for public works and utilities. The value of the latter during the first three months of 1930 and 1931 was considerably above residential building during the same periods.

SHORT LOANS MAKE SAVING TO FARMERS

New Legislation to Expand Reserve Bank Credits Aids Thousands.

New York, May 21 (A.P.).—The saving of many thousands of dollars in interest charges by farmers was forecast today by Charles R. Dunn, fiscal agent for the Federal Intermediate Credit Banks, as a result of new legislation making the banks' bonds eligible for fifteen-day loans by the Federal Reserve Banks.

A bill authorizing this step was signed yesterday by President Hoover. Mr. Dunn said a large new offering of Intermediate Credit Banks, which normally appear about once a month, would be undertaken early next month.

"This is a long hoped for step in the right direction," said Mr. Dunn, with reference to the new legislation. "It will not only facilitate the future financing of the Intermediate Credit Banks, but will also cut the cost of borrowing by the farmer, who pays as high as 9 per cent under existing conditions."

Exchange Trading Smallest in Months

302,540 Shares Handled in Short Session, as Apathy Increases.

New York, May 21 (A.P.).—Trading in the New York Stock Exchange slackened today to the slowest pace for a Saturday session since August 8, 1931.

The turnover for the two-hour session was only 302,540 shares, or slightly more than the 299,030 traded on August 8. Prices sagged a little, then recovered, closing with extremely narrow changes.

While the turnover was the smallest for a Saturday session since August 8, the first two hours of full-day sessions have recently seen trading quite as apathetic. During the first two hours of the April 25 session, the turnover was only about 200,000 shares.

Only 4 Bond Offerings Reach Million or More

New York, May 21 (A.P.).—Only four flotations of $1,000,000 or more are included in next week's total of $9,324,749 in new State and municipal financing scheduled by 38 communities, according to the Daily Bond Buyer.

The total for the past week was $57,225,746.

MONEY MARKETS

FOREIGN EXCHANGE.

New York, May 21 (A.P.).—A 6-point drop in Dutch guilders to 40.52, which is the current outgoing gold level, featured foreign exchange trading today. Holland has been a large taker of our gold in recent weeks, but this reaction indicated that the movement might be coming to an end.

German marks sagged 4 points, but otherwise changes were narrow and irregular.

Sterling cables eased ⅛ to $3.67¼, while French francs made a nominal gain to 3.94 13-16 cents which is still above that currency's dollar gold point.

Swiss francs and the belga were about unchanged.

New York, May 21 (A.P.).—Foreign exchange irregular. Great Britain in dollars, others in cents.

Great Britain—Demand, 3.67; cables, 3.67¼; 60-day bills, 3.65¾.
France — Demand, 3.94¾; cables, 3.94 13-16.
Italy—Demand, 5.14; cables, 5.14½.
Belgium—Demand, 14.02.
Germany—Demand, 23.83.
Holland—Demand, 40.51.
Norway—Demand, 18.34.
Sweden—Demand, 18.91.
Denmark—Demand, 20.04.
Switzerland—Demand, 19.58½.
Spain—Demand, 8.22.
Portugal—Demand, 3.34.
Greece—Demand, 0.65¾.
Poland—Demand, 11.30.
Czechoslovakia—Demand, 2.96¾.
Jugoslavia—Demand, 1.78.
Austria—Demand, 13.99.
Roumania—Demand, 0.59¾.
Argentina—Demand, 25.79.
Brazil—Demand, 7.42½.
Tokyo—Demand, 31.31⅛.
Shanghai—Demand, 30.50.
Montreal—Demand, 87.00.
Mexico City (silver peso)—Demand, 30.10.
Note—Demand rates are nominal.

NEW YORK.

Call money steady, 2½ per cent all day. Time loans steady; 60 to 90 days, 1½; 4 to 6 months, 1½ per cent. Prime commercial paper, 3@3½. Bankers' acceptances unchanged.

Bar silver quiet and ⅛ lower, at 27⅝.

LONDON.

Money, ⅞; discount rates, short bills, 1⅛; tthree-month bills, 1 3-16@ 1¼ per cent.

Bar silver quiet and ⅛ lower at 16⅝d.

PARIS.

Three per cent rentes, 73 francs 85 centimes. Five per cent loan, 96 francs 35 centimes.

Exchange on London, 93 francs 10 centimes. The dollar was quoted at 25 francs 22¼ centimes.

PERU.

Lima, Peru, May 21 (A.P.).—The reserve bank of Peru reduced its rediscount rate from 7 per cent to 6 per cent today.

GOLD MOVEMENT.

New York, May 21 (A.P.).—The outward movement of gold continued today with shipments of $2,605,900 to France.

This export together with a $3,499,700 increase in earmark account resulted in a further loss of $6,105,600 in the country's monetary stock of the metal.

STOCK AND BOND AVERAGES

(Associated Press.)

STOCKS.

	50 Industrials.	20 Rails.	20 Utilities.	90 Total.
Yesterday	42.6	16.9	69.9	43.5
Previous day	42.8	17.1	69.3	43.5
Week ago	42.1	17.2	72.8	43.7
Month ago	47.4	24.0	80.2	49.6
Year ago	105.8	75.7	157.7	110.3
Three years ago	216.1	134.1	225.3	204.1
Five years ago	119.4	116.9	113.9	116.7
High, 1932	68.9	39.8	111.0	71.3
Previous low, 1932	42.1	16.9	69.3	43.2
High, 1931	140.2	106.2	203.9	144.3
Low, 1931	60.0	30.8	92.8	61.3
High, 1930	202.4	141.6	281.3	205.8
Low, 1930	112.9	86.4	146.5	114.7

BONDS.

	20 Industrials.	20 Rails.	20 Utilities.	60 Total.
Yesterday	56.3	52.6	74.2	61.0
Previous day	56.4	52.2	74.2	60.9
Week ago	57.1	55.7	76.1	62.9
Month ago	60.4	64.9	79.3	68.2
Year ago	84.5	99.3	100.4	94.7
Two years ago	93.9	106.6	99.4	100.0
Three years ago	93.4	103.3	97.5	98.1
High, 1932	71.3	78.0	85.7	78.1
Low, 1932	56.3	52.2	74.2	60.9
High, 1931	90.4	105.7	101.5	98.7
Low, 1931	62.3	62.3	80.2	68.5
High, 1930	94.9	109.8	101.4	101.9
Low, 1930	83.3	97.3	96.6	92.6

(Copyright, 1932, Standard Statistics Co.)

NEW YORK CURB MARKET

Total stock sales, 60,000 shares. Total stock sales year ago, 142,035 shares. Total bond sales, $1,600,000. Total bond sales year ago, $1,932,000.

Sales in hundreds.		High	Low	Close
	A
.20	Ala Pow $6 pf (6)	55	55	55
2	Allied Mills	3⅜	3¼	3¼
1	Alum Co Am	24	23¾	23¾
1	Alum Co Am pf (3)	35	34⅜	34⅜
3	Am Cyan B	2⅜	2⅛	2⅛
1	Am & Fgn P war	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜
1	Am Founders	½	½	½
4	Am Gas & El (1a)	24	23¼	23⅞
3	Am Sup Power	1¾	1⅝	1¾
3	Ark N Gas pf (.60)	3¾	3⅜	3⅜
1	As El Ind	2⅜	2⅜	2⅜
12	As G&E A (5%f)	2	1⅝	2
10	As G&E war	1-16	1-16	1-16
4	Atlas Util	5⅛	5	5⅛
1	Atlas Util pf A (3)	34	34	34
	B
8	Braz Tr & Lt (8%f)	8⅝	8¼	8⅝
	C
25	Cities Serv (.30a)	3¾	3⅝	3¾
1	Cit Serv pf (6)	31½	31⅛	31⅛
.50	Cit S P 7 pf (7)	36	36	36
1	Claude Neon Lts	⅝	⅝	⅝
.40	Col G&E cv pf (5)	52½	50½	52
1	Col O & G vtc	⅝	⅝	⅝
....	Com'w Edis (8)	64½	64½	64½
1	Con G&E Bal(3.60)	52	52	52
8	Cord Corp	2⅛	2⅛	2⅛
2	Corroon & Rey	1⅞	1⅞	1⅞
1	Cor & Rey pf A	10⅜	10⅜	10⅜
19	Cosden Oil	½	½	½
2	Cosden Oil cod	½	½	½
1	Creole Pet	2¼	2¼	2¼
	D
2	Durant Mot	⅛	⅛	⅛
	E
22	El B & S (6%f)	9¾	9½	9¾
1	El Pow As (1)	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜
1	El Pow As A (1)	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜
	G
1	Gen Th Eq cv pf	⅛	⅛	⅛
1	Golden State	5	5	5
2	Goldman Sachs	1⅝	1⅝	1⅝
.10	Gt A&P 1st pf (7)	114¾	114¾	114¾
2	Gulf Oil Pa	30¼	29½	29½
	H
1	Hecla Min	2⅛	2⅛	2⅛
1	Holling Gold (.65)	4⅛	4⅛	4⅛
1	Humble Oil (2)	39½	39½	39½
	I
11	Imp Oil Can (½)	8	7⅝	8
3	Imp Tob Brit (.53g)	14	14	14
2	Insuran Sec	¾	¾	¾
5	Intercon Petrol	⅛	⅛	⅛
7	Internat Pet (1)	10¼	10¼	10¼
1	Inter Util B	7⅝	7⅝	7⅝
9	Inter Util war	¼	¼	¼
	K
34	Kleinert	4	4	4
	L
5	Lake Sh M (2½b)	23½	23½	23½
1	Lehigh C&N (1)	7⅝	7⅝	7⅝
10	Leonard Oil	⅜	¼	⅜
	M
2	Mid West Util	⅜	⅜	⅜
3	Mount Prod (.80)	3⅛	3	3
	N
.50	Newberry J J pf(7)	68	68	68
.40	New Eng Pow pf (6)	30	29⅛	29⅛
3	Niag Hud P (.40)	4	3⅞	4
1	Nitrate B	⅛	⅛	⅛
1	Nor Pipe L	4	4	4
	O
10	Outbrd Mot B	⅜	⅜	⅜
	P
1	Pan-Am Airways	13⅞	13⅞	13⅞
1	Pantepec Oil	¼	¼	¼
4	Pennroad	1⅝	1½	1½
5	Phila Co (.80g)	7¼	7¼	7¼
1	Pilot Radio A	1¼	1¼	1¼
1	Pioneer Gold M(.12)	2¾	2¾	2¾
7	Pitney-Bowes (4%f)	2	2	2
1	Pitts Lake E (5)	25	25	25
1	Pruden Inv	3	3	3
4	Pub Ut Hold xw	¼	¼	¼
1	Pyrene	2¼	2¼	2¼
	R
1	Radio Prod	2	2	2
2	Rep Gas	¼	¼	¼
4	Roosevelt Fd	1	1	1
1	Ruberoid (4)	18	18	18
	S
5	St Regis Pap	2⅛	2	2
.10	St Regis Pap pf (7)	20	20	20
6	Sec Al Corp nv (1)	5	5	5
1	Selected Indus	⅝	⅝	⅝
10	Sentry S Con	¼	¼	¼
2	Sheaffer Pen (1)	11	10	10
1	Shenandoah pf	7¼	7¼	7¼
.10	S W G&E pf (7)	36	36	36
1	St Cap & Seal(2.40)	24	24	24
1	Stand Inv pf	4⅜	4⅜	4⅜
80	St Oil Ind (1)	18½	18⅛	18⅜
2	St Oil Ky (1.60)	11¼	11⅛	11⅛
7	Swift & Co (2)	9¾	9⅝	9¾
	T
1	Teck-Hugh G (.60)	3	3	3
2	Tob & Al Stks	16⅞	16¾	16¾
1	Tob Prod of Del	⅛	⅛	⅛
2	Tob Prod Exp (.10)	½	½	½
1	Todd Ship (2)	10	10	10
1	Trans-Lux	1	1	1
	U
35	United Gas	1⅛	1	1
2	Unit Gas pf (7)	17	15⅛	17
3	Un L&P A	2⅞	2⅝	2⅞
3	Unit Verde (⅜g)	2	2	2
1	Util Pow & Lt	¾	¾	¾
	V
3	Vick Finan (.30)	4	4	4
1	Vogt Mfg (.60)	2⅜	2⅜	2⅜
	W
2	Walgreen	9	9	9
.25	West Cartr pf (6)	51⅛	51⅛	51⅛
1	Wright H (.12½b)	2	2	2

DOMESTIC BONDS.

Sales in hundreds.		High	Low	Close
	A
3	Ala Pow 5 '68	77	77	77
2	Ala Pow 4½ '67	74½	74½	74½
1	Alum Co 5 '52	82½	82½	82½
2	Alum Ltd 5 '48	56½	56½	56½
1	Am Comw P 6 '40	1½	1½	1½
1	Am & C C 5 '43	50	50	50
3	Am E & P 6 '57 A	28½	28	28
5	Am G & E 5 2028	73½	73½	73½
2	Am G & P 6 '39	18⅞	18⅞	18⅞
1	Am G & P 5 '53	15½	15½	15½
8	Am P & L 6 2016	56⅛	56⅛	56⅛
4	Am Rad 4½	85	85	85
50	Am Roll M 4½ '33	48	48	48
5	Am Seat 6	26	26	26
2	Am S 6½ '36 ww	20⅝	19¾	20⅝
1	Appalach Gas 6 '45	4½	4½	4½
10	App Gas 6 '45 B	7	6½	7
2	App Pow 5 '56	77½	77½	77½
1	Ark P & L 5	71	71	71
3	Asso El 4½	35⅝	35½	35½
7	As G & E 5½ '38 i c	18	17¼	18
17	As G & E 5 '50	19	18¼	18⅜
23	As G & E 5 '68	18⅜	18⅜	18⅜
7	As G & E 4½ '48	19	18	18
1	As G & E 4½ '49 C	16	16	16
5	As T & T 5½ '55 A	37	36½	36½
	B
4	Bell T Can 5 '55 A	87	86¼	86¼
5	Bell Tel Can 5 '60 C	85½	85½	85½
8	Bklyn Ed 5 '52 E	101⅜	101⅜	101⅜
39	Buffalo G E 5	102½	102⅛	102⅛
	C
21	Can N R E 7 '35 E	99¾	99¾	99¾
2	C Ill P S 5 '68 G	66	66	66
2	Cen Me 4½ '57 E	78¾	78¾	78¾
3	Cen P & L 5	52	52	52
3	C Pub Serv 5½ '49	84½	84	84
1	Cen St E 5½ '54	24¾	24¾	24¾
4	Cen St El 5 '48	22¾	22¼	22¼
4	Cen S P & L 5½ '53	28	28	28
4	Chi Ry cod 5	40	40	40
3	Cig S R 5½ '49 A	18	18	18
2	Cities Serv 5 '66	29⅛	29⅛	29⅛
137	Cities Serv 5 '50	32½	31⅞	32½
14	Cities Serv G 5½ '42	39½	39	39½
2	Cities S G Pipe 6	54¾	54⅛	54¾
7	Cities Serv P 5½	36¼	36	36¼
10	Cleve El Il 5 '54 A	103⅜	103⅜	103⅜
1	Cleve El Il 5 '39	103⅛	103⅛	103⅛
2	Comw Ed 5 '53 A	93	93	93
2	Comw Ed 5 '54 B	92	92	92
1	Comw Ed 4½ '57 D	85	85	85
1	Comw Ed 4 '81 F	76¾	76¾	76¾
11	Comw Sub 5½ '48	41	40	41
1	Cons Gas B 4	90½	90½	90½
1	Cons G U 6½ '43 A	12	12	12
1	Cons G U 6 '43 A	23¼	23¼	23¼
23	Consum P 5 '36	102	101¾	102
2	Consum P 4½ '58	93	93	93
23	Cont G & E 5 A	48½	47¾	47¾
3	Cont Oil 5¼	85	85	85
2	Cudahy P 5½	72	72	72
	D
1	Denver Salt 6	26	26	26
1	Derby G&E 5	55	55	55
1	Dix G G 6½ A ww	60½	60½	60½
8	Duquesne Lts 4½ B	98½	98⅛	98⅛
	E
43	East Ut Inv 5 A	14	12½	12½
2	Ed El Ill 5 '35	99¼	99¼	99¼
2	Ed El Ill 4 '32	100⅞	100⅞	100⅞
5	Elec P&L 5	36½	36½	36½
1	Empire D E 5	49⅛	49⅛	49⅛
8	Empire O&R 5½	33½	33	33½
	F
2	Fisk Rub 5½ '31	14½	14⅛	14½
4	Fisk R 5½ '31 cod	14	14	14
12	Fla P&L 5 '54	56⅛	55¾	55¾
4	Fla P 5½ '79 A	52½	52	52
	G
10	Gatineau P 5 '56	58	57¾	58
2	Gatineau P 6 '41	50	50	50
3	Gen P U 6½	22¼	22	22¼
5	Gen W W 5 A	24	24	24
21	Geo Pow 5	73¾	73	73
2	Gillette 5	78	78	78
4	Glidden Co 5½	67½	67	67½
5	Grand Tr 6½	94½	94⅛	94½
7	Great W P 5	96⅞	96½	96½
2	Gulf Oil Pa 5	92	91⅞	92
2	Gulf St Ut 5 A	70	69	69
	H
1	Houst G G 6½ ww	26½	26½	26½
4	Houst L&P 5 A	92½	92½	92½
2	Hudson B 6	59	59	59
1	Hydr P N F 5	101	101	101
	I
6	Ill P & L 5 '56 C	57	56¼	57
3	Ill P&P 6 '53 A	62	61½	61½
9	Ind E 5 C	69⅝	69⅛	69⅛
2	Ind & Mch 5	94¼	94¼	94¼
5	Ind Serv 5 '50	27	26¼	26¼
9	Indnapls P&L 5 A	81	81	81
2	Insull Util Inv 6 B	1	1	1
5	Interl P Sec 7 '36 D	87¾	87¾	87¾
3	Interl P Sec 7 '57 E	69	69	69
4	Interl P S 6½ '55 C	63	62	62
2	Int Salt 5	62¼	62	62
16	Interl Sec Am 5	47¼	46	47
4	Inters Pow 6	29½	28	29½
6	Inters Pow 5	49	48¾	49
5	Inters Pub Serv 4½	62⅞	62½	62⅞
1	Inters P S 6½ B	83¼	83¼	83¼
5	Inters Pub S 5 D	71	69¾	71
1	Iowa P & L 4½ A	77¾	77¾	77¾
1	Iowa Ry & Lt 5	96¾	96¾	96¾
	J
1	Jamaica W S 5½ A	91	91	91
7	Jer Cent P&L 4½ C	75	74⅝	75
1	Jer Cent P & L 5 B	85	85	85
5	Jones & Laugh 5	96½	96½	96½
	K
9	Kop Gas & C 5	53	53	53
	L
5	Lehigh P S 6 2026 A	59	58¾	58¾
3	Libby McN & L 5	44⅛	44⅛	44⅛
6	Louis P & L 5	74½	74	74½
	M
5	Manitoba P 5½ A	48	47½	47½
4	Mid W Util 5 '32	5	4⅜	4⅜
6	Mid W Util 5 '33	3⅛	3	3
5	Minn G Lt 4½	68	68	68
1	Minn Gen Elec 5	101	101	101
1	Miss P & Lt Co 5	65½	65½	65½
1	Miss Riv Pow 5	94¼	94¼	94¼
	N
5	Nat Pub Serv 5	19½	19½	19½
5	Nat Tea 5	68⅛	68⅛	68⅛
6	Nevada Cal El 5	63⅛	63	63
25	N Eng G & El 5	52	51	51⅛
2	N Eng G & El 5	50	50	50
3	New Eng G & El 5	51	51	51
7	New Eng P 5½ '54	42¾	42⅝	42¾
8	New Eng P 5 '48	42½	41½	41½
12	N Y Ed 5 C	102	101⅞	102
7	N Y Pow & L 4½	84⅝	84	84
2	Niag Falls P 6 '50	104⅜	104⅜	104⅜
1	Nor Wes Pow 6	84	84	84
	O
1	Ohio Pow 4½ D	82¼	82¼	82½
1	Okla G&E 5	74⅝	74⅝	74⅝
	P
2	Pac G&E 4½ '57 E	87¾	87¾	87¾
36	Pac G&E 4½ '60 F	87¼	86⅞	87¼
1	Pac G&E 5½ '52 C	100	100	100
7	Pac West Oil 6½	50	50	50
1	Penn Oh P&L 5½ A	90¼	90¼	90¼
3	Penn Pow Co 5	86¾	86⅝	86¾
4	Phila El Pow 5½	101⅜	101⅜	101⅜
2	Piedmont El 6½ A	46	46	46
1	P S N Ill 4½ '81 F	72	72	72
1	Pub S Okla 5 D	61¼	61¼	61¼
1	Pu Sd P&L 5½ '49	66	66	66
1	Pu Sd P&L 5 '50 C	61¾	61¾	61¾
	R
1	Rep Gas 6 A	10	10	10
1	Roch Cent Pow 5	20½	20½	20½
4	Ryerson & Son 5	62	62	62
	S
7	Sha W&P 4½ '67 A	55	54½	55
1	Sha W&P 5 '70 C	52¼	52¼	52¼
5	Snider Pack 6	47	45	47
4	S E P & L 6 A xw	55½	55	55
1	South Cal Ed 5 '51	98	98	98
2	South Cal Ed 5 '52	97¼	97⅛	97⅛
2	South Cal Ed 5	98	98	98
3	South Cal Gas 5 '37	80½	80⅛	80½
5	S Cal Gas 4½ '61	79⅝	78¾	79⅝
2	Southern Nat Gas 6	34½	34½	34½
2	Souwest L&P 5 A	51	51	51
1	Sowest P&L 6 2022A	57	57	57
12	Stand G&E 6 '35	45¾	44¼	44¼
1	Stan G&E 6 '35conv	44¾	44¾	44¾
4	Stand G&E 6 '51	44	43½	44
3	Stand G&E 6 '66	43¼	43¼	43¼
7	Stand P&L 6	41⅛	41⅛	41⅛
3	Stand Tel 5½	29	28½	28½
1	Sun Oil 5½	90	90	90
8	Swift & Co 5 '40	74	71	74
2	Swift & Co 5 '44	96	96	96
10	Syracuse Lt 5 B	96⅝	96½	96½
	T
2	Tex P&L 5	97⅝	97⅝	97⅝
3	Twin City R T 5½A	29¼	29¼	29¼
	U
3	Ulen & Co 6	14½	14½	14½
5	Union Gulf Corp 5	86	86	86
2	Un L&P 6	41½	41¼	41½
2	Un L&R 5½	45½	45	45½
5	U S Rub 6½ '37	29	27	29
1	U S Rub 6½ '39	25½	25½	25½
1	U S Rub 6½ '40	25½	25½	25½
1	Utica G&E 5 E	91	91	91
	W
8	West Pa 5 2030	46½	46½	46½
4	West Tex Util 5 A	44	43½	44
2	Wisc Pub S 6 A	80	80	80
1	Wisc P&L 5 F	74¾	74¾	74¾

FOREIGN BONDS.

Sales in hundreds.		High	Low	Close
	B
2	Bogota Mtg Bk 7 '47	25¼	25¼	25¼
4	Bogota MB 7 '47new	25¼	25	25
	C
6	Cent Bk Ger 6 A	12	12	12
5	Cent Bk Ger 6 B	26½	26½	26½
7	Com Privat Bk 5½	32	32	32
	D
2	Danzig Port 6½	31	31	31
	E
32	Europ Elec 6½ xw	41	39⅞	40
12	Europ Mtg 7 C	27	26	26
	F
1	Fin Ind Bk 7	54	54	54
5	Fin R M Bk 6	38	38	38
1	First Bohem Gl W 7	37	37	37
	G
4	Ger Cons Mun 6	17¼	16⅞	17¼
	H
35	Hamburg El 5½	25¼	24½	24½
1	Hung-Ital-Bk 7½AC	28½	28½	28½
	M
7	Mendoza Pr 7½	21⅞	20¾	21¼
	R
1	Ruhr Gas 6½ A	15⅛	15⅛	15⅛
5	Ruhr Housing 6½	18	15¼	18
	S
3	Saar Basin Con 7	89⅝	89⅝	89⅝
1	Santa Fe Arg 7	25	25	25
29	Saxon Pub Wks 5	38¾	37⅜	38¾
5	Stinnes 7 xw	19⅝	19½	19½
	T
2	Terni Elec 6½	45½	45½	45½

XD—Ex dividend. EX—First sale since ex dividend date or dates. XR—Ex rights. (a) Plus extra or extras. (b) Including extra or extras. (e) Paid last year. (f) Payable in stock. (g) Paid so far this year. (h) Cash or stock. (ur) Under rule. (ww) With warrants. (xw) Without warrants.

EXCHANGE BOND LIST

Total sales, $6,180,000; previous day, $14,520,000; week ago, $6,235,000; year ago, $5,475,000; Two years ago, $4,790,000; January 1 to date, $1,203,932,000; same year ago, $1,102,918,000; same two years ago, $1,220,833,000.

U. S. GOVERNMENT BONDS.

(Dollars and Thirty-seconds. Sales in $1,000.)

Sale		High	Low	Last
16	Lib 3½ '32-47	100.12	100.8	100.12
18	Lib 1 4¼ '32-47	101.12	101.8	101.8
252	Lib 4 4¼ '33-38	102.2	101.31	102
17	Lib4 4¼ r '33-38	101.31	101.31	101.31
438	Tsy 4¼ '47-52	102.28	102.8	102.28
94	Tsy 4 '44-54	100.2	99.20	100
360	Tsy 3¾ '46-56	97.24	97.1	97.20
184	Tsy3⅜ '40-43Jun	96.3	95.27	96.3
369	Tsy 3⅜ '43-47	96	95.13	96
629	Tsy3⅜ '41-43Mch	96	95.14	96
95	Tsy 3⅛ '46-49	90.28	90.2	90.28
28	Tsy 3 '51-55	90	89.16	90

CORPORATION BONDS.

Sale		High	Low	Last
	A
11	Alleghany 5 '50	8	8	8
1	Am & For P 5 2030	25	25	25
29	Am Smelt 5 '47	79	78	78
19	Am T & T 5½ '43	102¼	101¾	102
70	Am T & T 5 '65	97¼	97	97⅛
5	Am T&T cvt 4½ '39	99½	99½	99½
5	Am W W & El 5 '34	77	76¾	77
28	Arm & Co Del 5½	53½	52	53½
1	A T&S F cvt 4½ '48	73	73	73
19	A T&S F gen 4 '95	81	80¼	81
	B
36	Balt & O rfg 5 '95	33	33	33
2	Balt & O 4½ '33	40	40	40
39	B & O cvt 4½ '60	19½	19	19
1	Boston & Me 5 '67	48⅛	48⅛	48⅛
41	Bklyn M T 6 '68	83⅛	82⅛	82⅛
1	Buf R&P 4½ '57	30	30	30
	C
4	Can Pac 4½ '60	63½	63½	63½
9	Can P deb 4 perp	55½	54¾	55½
1	Cent Ill E&G 5 '51	62½	62½	62½
1	Cert-teed 5½ '48	25	25	25
1	Chesa Corp 5 '47	41	41	41
53	Chic & E Ill 5 '51	9½	8	8
7	Chic Gt West 4 '59	30¾	30	30
27	C M St P&Pac 5 '75	18	17¾	18
7	CMStP&Padj 5 2000	3⅝	3¼	3⅜
11	Chic&NW cv 4¾ '49	11¼	10¾	10¾
6	Ch R I&P cv 4½ '60	11⅞	11	11⅞
10	C R I & P rfg 4 '34	27	26½	27
4	Cinn G&E 4 '68	88	87⅝	87⅝
2	CCC&SL rf4½ '77 E	35	32	32
10	Clev U T 4½ '77 C	60	59	59
7	Col G&E 5 '52 May	66	65	65
1	Coml Inv Tr 5½ '49	83⅝	83⅝	83⅝
17	Con G N Y 5½ '45	102	101¾	101¾
7	Cuba N Ry 5½ '42	17	17	17
	D
14	D&R G con 4 '36	37⅜	37	37
1	Det Ed 5 '49 A	100½	100½	100½
19	Det Ed 4½ '61 D	92⅛	91¾	91¾
30	Dodge B deb 6 '40	70	70	70
19	Duqu Lt 4½ '67 A	98½	97⅞	97⅞
	E
13	Erie rf & Imp 5 '75	18	17⅞	18
1	Erie gen lien 4 '96	37	37	37
	G
6	Gen Cable 5½ '47	43	42	42
2	Gen M Ac 6 '37	100½	100½	100½
10	Gen St C 5½ '49	40	40	40
1	Gen Thea Eq 6 '40	2⅞	2⅞	2⅞
2	Goodr B F 6½ '47	77½	77½	77½
3	Goodyr T&R 5 '57	65	65	65
7	Gr Tk Ry C 6 '36	93¼	92½	92½
2	Gt Nor Ry 7 '36 A	60½	60	60½
	H
1	Hud Coal 5 '62 A	27⅝	27⅝	27⅝
8	H & M rfg 5 '57 A	72	71	72
3	H & M adj inc 5 '57	35½	35½	35½
3	Hum O & R 5½ '32	100⅝	100½	100⅝
	I
2	Ill Bell T 5 '56	101¾	101¾	101¾
3	Ill Cen 4¾ '66	26	26	26
11	Inland St 4½ '78 A	63¼	62¼	63¼
14	Interb R T 7 '32	58¼	58	58
28	Interb R T rfg 5 '66	41	40½	40½
6	Int Cement 5 '48	45	44¼	44¼
7	Int Hyd El 6 '44	29½	29⅛	29⅛
2	Int Match 5 '41 cvt	1	¾	1
5	Int Pap cvt 5 '47 A	42	42	42
6	I T & T cvt 4½ '39	21½	21⅛	21⅛
5	I T & T deb 5 '55	21½	21	21
	K
1	K C So rfg 5 '50	36	36	36
2	K C Term 1st 4 '60	80¾	80¾	80¾
13	Kans G & E 4½ '80	82	81	81
	L
2	Lautaro Nit 6 '54	1¾	1¾	1¾
3	Ligg & Myers 5 '51	102	101¾	102
21	Loew's Inc 6 '41	70	67⅞	70
7	L&N 1 rfg 4½ 2003	50	50	50
	M
12	Manhat Ry 4 '90	30¼	29¾	30
2	McKess & R 5½ '50	37	36	36
2	Midv Stl cvt 5 '36	83	83	83
5	Mil El R&L 1 5 '61B	77½	77½	77½
9	Mo Pac cvt 5½ '49	8⅛	8	8
8	Mo Pac 5 '77 F	26	25½	26
22	Mo Pac gen 4 '75	10⅝	10	10
9	Mo Pac 1st 5 '81	26	25¾	26
	N
26	Nat Dairy 5¼ '48	79½	79	79¼
16	Natl Steel 5 '56	62	60	62
2	New E T&T 5 '52	103½	103½	103½
2	N O T&M 5½ '54	22	22	22
4	NCY rf & I 5 2013	40½	40½	40½
4	NYC & S L 6 '32	27½	26	27
2	NYC&S L 4½ '78C	15	14½	14½
30	N Y E rfg 6½ '41	108⅛	107⅞	108⅛
5	NYNH&Hcvtdeb6'48	58	57	57
41	N Y T gen 4½ '39	100	99⅞	99⅞
2	N Y W & B 4½ '46	33⅝	33⅛	33¾
3	Niag Sh 5½ '50	53	53	53
12	N Am Co 5 '61	72⅛	71	71
8	Nor Am Ed 5 '69 C	66½	65	66
5	Nor Pac 6 2047 B	55½	55½	55½
10	Nor Sts Pow 5 '41A	94¾	93¼	93¼
	O
17	Ore-Wash RR&N 4	69	68¾	68¾
	P
9	Pac Gas & El 5 '42	101¼	100¾	101¼
3	Pac T & T 5 '37	102	102	102
32	Para Publix 5½ '50	15½	13	13½
1	Penn Dix 6 '41 A	29	29	29
24	Penn P&Lt 4½ '81	82½	82	82
14	Penn R R 4½ '70	43	42⅛	42¾
4	Phila Co 5 '67	75½	75¼	75½
10	Phil Rd C & I 6 '49	36	35	35
2	Phillips Pet 5¼ '39	55	55	55
12	Port G E 4½ '60	49⅜	49	49
3	Postal T & C 5 '53	17⅝	17½	17½
5	Pub S E & G 4½ '70	97½	97½	97½
4	Pure Oil 5½ '37	75	75	75
	R
4	R Rand 5½ '47 ww	35¾	35	35¾
3	Richfield O C 6 '44	29⅛	28¾	28¾
12	St L S F 4½ '78	11	10½	11
5	St L S F 4 '50 A	15	15	15
	S
5	Shell P L 5 '52	64¼	64¼	64¼
13	Shell Un 5 '49 ww	36½	35⅞	35⅞
7	Sinc C Oil col 7 '37	86⅞	86¾	86⅞
1	Sinc Cr Oil 5½ '38	99¼	99¼	99¼
1	So Bell T & T 5 '41	101⅞	101⅞	101⅞
1	Sou Pac 4½ '68	37	37	37
1	Sou Pac 4½ '69 ww	36	36	36
2	S Pac 4½ Ore L '77	56	56	56
22	South Ry con 5 '94	74	73	74
7	South Ry gen 4 '56	18	17½	18
5	St Oil NJ deb 5 '46	101	100⅞	101
16	St Oil NY 4½ '51	86½	86	86½
	T
2	Tenn E P rfg 6 '47A	93	93	93
15	Tex Corp 5 cvt '44	77¼	76½	76¾
1	Tex & Pac 5 '80 D	35	35	35
15	Third Ave adj 5 '60	26	25¾	25¾
	U
3	Un Pac 4½ '67	66	66	66
3	Un Pac gold 4 '68	60½	60	60
3	Unit Drug Del 5 '53	69	68	69
1	U S Rub 5 '47	35	35	35
6	Ut P&L 5 '59 ww	18½	18	18½
1	Warner Bros P 6 '39	14	14	14
3	West Mary 4 '52	38½	38½	38½
3	West Pac 1st 5 '46	26	25½	26
1	Western Union 5 '51	45	45	45
1	Western Union 5 '60	44⅛	44⅛	44⅛
1	Wilson&Co 1st 6 '49	74	74	74

FOREIGN BONDS.

Sale		High	Low	Last
	A
24	Abitibi P&P 5 '53	19	17⅝	17⅝
1	Akershus 5 '63	56⅞	56⅞	56⅞
4	Arg 6 sf '59 June	43¾	43⅝	43⅝
24	Australia 5 '55	62	61½	62
12	Australia 4½ '56	56½	56	56½
21	Austria gtd 7 '43	83	80	83
	B
4	Belgium 7 '56	95½	95⅜	95½
6	Belgium 6 '55	84⅜	84⅛	84⅜
9	Berlin C E 6½ '51	24	24	24
6	Bordeaux 6 '34	103¾	103⅝	103¾
1	Brazil 8 '41	19¼	19¼	19¼
4	Brazil 6½ '26-57	16¾	16¾	16¾
17	Brazil 6½ '27-57	17	16¾	17
32	British 5½ '37	103⅜	103⅛	103⅛
10	Buenos Aires 6 '61	26	25½	25½
	C
25	Canada 5 '52	92⅞	92½	92¾
8	Canada 4 '60	76	75½	75½
4	Chile 6 '60	6½	6	6½
7	Chile 6 '61 Jan	50	45	50
1	Chile 6 '61	6	6	6
8	Colombia 6 '61 Oct	26	25⅞	26
3	Cuba 5 (1914) '49 A	87	87	87
1	Czech 8 '51	77	77	77
10	Denmark 4½ '62	57⅜	57	57⅜
1	Deutsche Bk 6 '32	63	63	63
	D
1	Duke Pr Pow 6 '66	52½	52½	52½
	F
2	Finland 5½ '58	47	46¼	47
6	French 7½ '41	121½	120⅞	121½
4	French 7 '49	114	113⅝	114
	G
6	Ger C Ag Bk 6 Oct	23	22	23
134	Ger G Intl 5½ '65	30⅛	29⅞	30¼
54	Ger Rep 7 '49	46¼	45½	45½
4	Ger Gen El 6 '48	27	27	27
5	Gt Con El P Jap 7	46	46	46
	I
3	Ilseder Steel 6 '48	18¾	18	18
3	Ital Pub Util 7 '52	66	66	66
9	Italy 7 '51	88	87¼	87¼
	J
30	Japan 6½ '54	67¼	66¾	67¼
	K
47	Kreuger & T 5 '59	7⅝	6	6¼
	N
5	New S Wales 5 '57	56¼	56½	56½
12	Nor Ger Lloyd 6 '47	18⅜	18¼	18¼
3	Norway 6 '44	77¼	77¼	77¼
	O
5	Orient D L 5½ '58	48½	48½	48½
	P
32	Par-Lyons M 6 '58	103⅞	103⅞	103⅞
4	Par-Orl RR 5½ '68	103	102½	103
1	Poland 8 '50	47¾	47¾	47¾
4	Poland 7 '47	42¾	42½	42¾
	Q
5	Queensld 6 '47	62¼	62	62
	R
7	Rhine W 6 '55 ww	20½	20½	20½
3	Rio de Jan 6½ '53	6½	6½	6½
5	Rome 6½ '52	65½	64¾	64¾
1	Royal Dutch 4 '45	69½	69½	69½
	S
2	Sao Paulo St 7 '40	60	59⅞	60
7	Sax Pub Wks 7 '45	19	18⅝	19
1	Sax Pub W 6½ '51	17	17	17
2	Serbs Cts Slov 7 '62	32¾	32¾	32¾
10	Siemens & H 6½ '51	28½	27¾	27¾
11	Swiss 5½ '46	104½	104¼	104¼
	T
7	Tokyo E P 7 '55	45¼	45	45
1	Tokyo City 5½ '61	50⅝	50⅝	50⅝
6	Tokyo El Lt 6 '53	36	36	36
	U
12	Un S W 6½ '51 A	16	15¾	15⅞
2	Uruguay 6 '60	27¾	27¾	27¾
	V
9	Vienna City 6 '52	40½	40⅛	40⅛
	Y
1	Yokohama 6 '61	52	52	52

BANK STOCKS

New York, May 21 (A.P.).—Over-the-counter market:

BANKS.	Bid.	Asked.
Chase Nat'l	27¼	29¼
Commercial	112	120
Fifth Avenue	1260	1380
First National	960	1060
Manhattan	18½	20½
Natl. City	30¾	32¾
Public	18½	20½
TRUST COMPANIES.
Bankers	46¼	48¼
Brooklyn Trust	155	170
Central Hanover	99	103
Chemical	28½	30½
Continental	12⅛	14⅛
Corn Exchange	43	46
Empire	17½	19½
Guaranty	202	207
Irving	15⅛	16⅛
Manufacturers	20⅜	22⅜
New York Trust	66½	69½
Title Guar. & Tr	29	32
United States	1150	1250
INSURANCE.
Aetna Cas. & S	20	23
Aetna Fire	15¾	17¾
Aetna Life	14¼	16¼
Agricultural	25½	35½
Amn. Surety	10¼	13¼
Balt. Amn	1¾	2¾
Boston	250	275
Conn. Gen. Life	28	31
Fid. & Dep	30	35
Firemen's Ins	5	6½
Franklin Fire	6½	8½
Glen Falls	27	29
Globe & Rut	40	55
Great American	6⅞	8⅜
Hanover	13⅜	15⅜
Great American	6⅞	8⅜
Hartford Fire	24¼	26¼
Home Ins	7½	9½
Kansas City	500	600
Mass. Bond	9	19
Natl. Fire	20½	22½
Natl. Liberty	2¼	3¼
Nor. River	6¾	8¾
Phoenix	32½	34½
Prov. Wash	12¼	14¼
St. Paul Fire	75	85
Sun Life	265	330
Travelers	264	285

CHICAGO STOCKS.

(Furnished by W. B. Hibbs & Co.)

	Bid.	Asked.
Yellow Taxi	8	10
Thompson	9¼	9¾
Wahl	½	1
Butler Bros	1⅛	1¼
Natl. Leather	⅜	½
Swift	9½	9¾
Swift International	14⅞	15¼
Libby, McNeil & Libby	1⅛	1¼
Midwest Util	⅜	½
City Con. com	...	½
City Con. pfd	¾	1⅛
Edison	63	63¾
Public Service, $100 par	42	52
Public Service, no par	47	51
Quaker com	73	78
Quaker pfd	103	105
Bendix	5¼	5¾
Borg Warner	4⅜	4½
Illinois Brick	3½	4½
U. S. Gypsum	15¼	15¾
Great Lakes Dock & Dredge	6¾	7
Balaban & Katz	12	15
Cons. com	¼	½
Cons. pfd	....	4
Elec. Household	3	3¾
McCord	....	3

TREASURY CERTIFICATES.

(Reported by Charles D. Barney & Co.)

Rate.	Maturity.	Bid.	Offer.
2¾	June 15, 1932	100 8-32	......
3⅛	Aug. 1, 1932	100 15-32	100 19-32
1⅛	Sept. 15, 1932	100 6-32	100 10-32
3	Sept. 15, 1932	100 25-32	100 29-32
3⅛	Oct. 15, 1932	101 1-32	101 5-32
3¼	Dec. 15, 1932	101 15-32	101 19-32
3¾	Feb 1, 1933	102	102 3-32
3¾	Mar. 15, 1933	102 3-32	102 7-32
2	Mar. 15, 1933	100 12-32	......
2	May 2, 1933	100 20-32	100 24-32
3	May 2, 1934	101 20-32	101 24-32

INVESTMENT TRUSTS.

(Quotations furnished by Knapp & Co.)

	Bid.	Asked.
Cumulative Trust Shares	2¼	2¾
Nation-Wide Securities "B"	2	2⅜
New York Bank Trust Shares	2½	3
N. Amer. Trust Shares, 1953	1.60	....
N. Amer. Trust Shares, 1955	1.50	1.65
N. Amer. Trust Shares, 1956	1.50	1.65
Super Corp. of America "C"	3¾	4¼
Super Corp. of America "D"	3⅜	3⅞
U. S. El. Lt. & Pow. Shares "B"	2¼	2⅝

BALTIMORE SECURITIES.

Baltimore, May 21.—Closing prices:

Arundel	19½
Con. G. E. L. & P.	51
C. & P. Tel. Balto. pfd.	112½
Maryland Casualty	2⅝
New Amsterdam Casualty	15
Monon West Pa. P. S. 7% pfd.	18⅝
U. S. Fidelity & Guar.	3

THE METAL MARKETS.

New York, May 21 (A.P.).—COPPER—Easier. Electrolytic spot and futures, 5¼@5⅜.

TIN—Steady. Spot and nearby, 21.25; futures, 21.50.

IRON—Quiet, unchanged.

LEAD—Steady. Spot, New York, 3.00; East St. Louis, 2.90.

ZINC—Steady. East St. Louis spot and futures, 2.32@2.35.

ANTIMONY—5.12@5.25.

QUICKSILVER—65.00@68.00.

COTTON PRICE SAGS ON SOUTH'S SELLING

July Contracts Close at 5.75; Market Is Influenced by Good Weather.

New York, May 21 (A.P.).—A moderate decline in cotton today was attributed to a little Southern selling and realizing or liquidation promoted by favorable weather reports from the South and absence of aggressive support.

Offerings were absorbed by trade buying at the decline, and after selling off to 5.71 for July prices rallied slightly on reports of a steadier turn in the stock market. July closed at 5.75, with the general market closing steady at net declines of 3 to 5 points.

The opening was steady at a decline of 1 to 5 points under a comparatively small volume of offerings. Houses with Liverpool and continental connections were said to be selling some cotton here, while there was also a little selling by the South and liquidation promoted by the rather heavy tone of the early stock market.

A favorable view of the weather map encouraged reactionary sentiment after the advance of yesterday morning, and the decline extended to 5.69 for May and 6.06 for December contracts later in the morning, or to net losses of 4 to 8 points. There was nothing more than a very moderate volume of offerings, however, and closing quotations showed rallies of about 4 points from the lowest on more active months as a result of week-end covering.

Except for the favorable weather news which indicated further rains or showers in the eastern belt with clear weather in the West and somewhat higher temperatures, no particular news factor was emphasized in connection with the decline. The failure of Washington advices to show more rapid progress in balancing the budget, however, was referred to as a disappointing feature, which may possibly have increased a disposition to liquidate small long accounts.

Except for the trade buying and a little southern selling business was attributed largely to week-end evening up. The Liverpool market will remain closed today, but will reopen for business on Monday. The amount of cotton on shipboard awaiting clearance at the end of the week was estimated at 104,000 bales against 70,000 last year.

Futures Price Range.

	High	Low	Close
May	5.71	5.69	5.70
July	5.78	5.71	5.75
October	6.01	5.95	5.99
December	6.12	6.08	....
January	6.18	6.15	....
March	6.36	6.33	6.35

Cottonseed Oil.

Cottonseed oil closed firm; prime summer yellow, 3.30; prime crude, 2.37½@2.50; May, 3.35; July, 3.60; September, 3.66; October, 3.74; November, 3.76; December, 3.84. Sales one contract.

WASHINGTON PRODUCE

BUTTER—One-lb. prints, 19@21; tubs, 18@20.

POULTRY—Alive: Turkeys, young toms and hens, 12@18; old toms, 11@13; spring broilers, Rhode Island Reds, small, 18@19; large, 19@21; Plymouth Rocks, small, 22@24; large, 24@26; Leghorn broilers, small, 16@18; large, 18@20; winter fowls, 18@20; ducks, 15@18; hens, 14@16; Leghorn hens, 12@13; roosters, 9@11; keats, young, 40@50; old, 30@38. Dressed: Turkeys, old toms, 15; young toms and hens, 18@22; spring broilers, Rhode Island Reds, small, 20@22; large, 22@23; Plymouth Rocks, small, 25@27; large, 27@29; Leghorn broilers, small, 19@21; large, 21@23; winter fowls, 21@23; stags, 14@16; ducks, 19@23; Leghorn hens, 15@18; roosters, 12@14; keats, young, 60@68; old, 30@46.

EGGS—Hennery, 13½@14; current receipts, 12@13.

MEATS—Beef, prime, 13; choice, 12; good, 11; veal, top, 10; medium, 9; pork loins, 10@13; lamb, fall, 12½@15; fresh hams, 12@14; smoked hams, 14@16; strip bacon, 16; lard, packages, 7½; compound, 6½.

LIVE STOCK—Hogs, light and medium, 3.25@3.50; heavy, 2.75@3.25; pigs, 3.00@3.60; calves, 3.00@5.50; lambs, 4.50@7.00.

FRUIT.

STRAWBERRIES—North Carolina, 32-quart crates, 2.50@3.50 per crate; Norfolk section, 32-quart crates, various varieties, 2.00@2.50; Eastern Shore, Virginia, 2.25@2.50.

ORANGES—Florida, all sizes, 3.50@4.00; California, 3.00@3.50.

LEMONS—4.00@4.25.

PEARS—Best, 3.50@4.00; poorer, 2.75@3.50.

ALLIGATOR PEARS—4.00.

GRAPEFRUIT—Florida, boxes, all sizes, 3.25@3.50.

BANANAS—1.25@2.20.

PINEAPPLES—2.50@2.75.

LIMES—Per 100, 1.90@2.10.

RHUBARB—Home grown, 50@60 dozen bunches.

HONEYDEWS—3.25@4.00.

GRAPES—Almeria, 2.90@3.10.

CHERRIES—California, best, 2.25@4.00.

WATERMELONS—Isle of Pines, various varieties, 22 to 24 lbs. average, 75@1.00; Florida, Tom Watsons, 20@22 lbs. average, 45 each; 24-26 lbs. average, 75 each; 28-30 lbs., 75@1.00 each.

CANTALOUPES — California, Salmon Tints, standards, 36s-45s, 4.50; jumbos, 36s-45s, 6.00; ponys, 4.50.

APPLES—Virginia, U. S. No. 1, yellow Newtowns, 1.75@2.25; Winesaps, 1.50@2.00; Ben Davis, 1.00@1.50.

VEGETABLES.

LIMA BEANS—Florida, bushel hampers, 3.75.

SNAP BEANS—South Carolina, bushel hampers, green, flat type, 1.50@2.00; Florida, bushel hampers, green, flat type, 1.50.

OKRA—North Carolina, bushel hampers, 4.00.

TURNIPS — North Carolina, 32-quart crates, loose, 50@75.

BEETS—Virginia, Norfolk section, crates, hotbed stock, 3½ dozen, 2.00.

KALE—Maryland, bushel baskets, 40@50.

SPINACH—Maryland, bushel baskets, 50@75.

PEPPERS — Florida, 1½-bushel crates, green, medium size, best, 2.00; poorer, low as 1.00.

STRING BEANS—50@2.00.

EGGPLANT—2.00@2.50.

CARROTS—Best, 3.50@3.75; poorer, 3.00@3.50.

ASPARAGUS—According to size, 1.50@3.50.

MUSHROOMS—50@1.00.

CABBAGE—North Carolina, 1½-bushel hampers, Pointed type, 90@1.25; Virginia, Norfolk section, ½-barrel crates, Pointed type, 1.00.

CELERY—Florida, 10-inch crates, individually washed and precooled, 3-4 dozen, 2.50@2.75; 6-8 dozen, 2.75@3.00.

LETTUCE—California, crates, Iceberg type, 4-5 dozen, 1.50@3.50.

ONIONS—Texas, 50-lb. sacks and standard crates, Yellow Bermudas, U. S. commercial, 1.50@1.75.

POTATOES—Old stock: Maine, Green Mountains, U. S. No. 1, 150-lb. sacks, 2.00; 100-lb. sacks, 1.25; New York, 100-lb. sacks, Round Whites, U. S. No. 1, 1.25. New stock: Florida, double-head barrels, Spaulding Rose, U. S. No. 1, 7.50; North Carolina, stave barrels, Cobblers, U. S. No. 1, 6.00@6.25; South Carolina, stave barrels, Cobblers, U. S. No. 1, 6.50; bushel baskets, 2.00@2.25.

TOMATOES—Florida, lug boxes, green, wrapped, 6x7 and larger, 2.75@3.00; ripe, wrapped, 6x6 and larger, 2.75@3.50; ripe, 1.50@1.75; 6x7 and smaller, 1.50@2.00.

SQUASH—South Carolina, bushel hampers, white, wrapped, 1.50; yellow, 1.00.

CUCUMBERS—Florida, bushel hampers, fancy, 1.50@2.00; culls, 50@1.00.

PEAS—Virginia, bushel hampers, large pod varieties, 1.50; small pod varieties, 1.00@1.25.

PHILADELPHIA.

EGGS—Receipts, 5,853; steady and unchanged.

LIVE POULTRY—Broilers, fancy, Plymouth Rocks, full-feathered, 18@25.

BUTTER—Unchanged.

CHEESE—Unchanged.

DRESSED POULTRY—Unchanged.

WHEAT STAGES TOP RISE SINCE APRIL 27

Market Defies Bearish News and Closes Strong; Corn Continues Advance.

Chicago, May 21 (A.P.).—For the first time in a long while, the wheat market today scored a substantial advance despite bearish cable reports.

Increasingly sensational crop damage developments in regard to United States winter wheat led to broader speculative buying, with the market at the last outdoing the topmost previous limit since April 27. Nebraska and Kansas crop advices were worse than any heretofore this season, and were supplemented by disturbing reports from Illinois and Indiana.

Wheat closed strong, ⅝ to 1¼ above yesterday's finish, corn ¼ to ⅜ up, oats varying from ⅛ decline to ⅛ advance, and provisions unchanged to 10 higher.

The first radically bullish element of the day's news regarding winter wheat was a comprehensive report from a leading crop expert, who telegraphed that Nebraska's prospects were poor and were going back daily, that numerous fields were choked with Hessian fly, and that thousands of acres were being plowed under in sections heretofore promising.

News From Southwest.

Then came advices from Southwest milling interests saying Kansas 193 wheat production estimates were as low as 60,000,000 bushels, and that wheat acreage was still being abandoned in many sections, having failed to respond to liberal rains. Traders were further aroused later by Illinois and Indiana reports of widespread severe infestation of Hessian fly.

A Chicago crop authority predicted that in the coming week the havoc from Hessian fly would become more apparent, and would continue to do so until harvest. He said the damage would develop from the breaking over of straws, and that because of prevalence of fly throughout an unusually big sweep of territory the loss of wheat promised to be greater than in any season since 1915.

Large purchases of wheat for domestic mills were noted, and there was also some United States hard winter wheat bought for export. An exception to bearish foreign advices concerning wheat was the fact that Italy had removed import restrictions altogether in some districts and had elsewhere raised the import quota about 12 per cent.

Corn, oats and rye made a somewhat laggard response to wheat strength. A restraining influence was continued rapid progress of corn planting.

Provisions moved upward as a result of scattered buying of lard.

Futures Price Range.

	High	Low	Close
Wheat—
May	58½	56⅞	58
July, new	59¼	58	59
September, new	61⅛	60⅛	61
December	64⅜	62⅞	64
Corn—
May	31	30½	31
July	33¼	32⅞	33
September	35½	34⅞	35
December	35⅝	36	35
Oats—
May	23	22⅝	22
July	22⅞	22½	22
September	22¾	22⅜	22
December	24⅝	24¼	24

Cash Grain

WHEAT—No. 2 red, 58½; No. 3 red, 58; No. 2 mixed, 59½.

CORN—No. 2 mixed, 33; No. 2 yellow, 33@33¼; No. 3 yellow, 32½@32¾; No. 2 white, 33¼.

OATS—No. 2 mixed, 23; No. 2 white, 23¾@24; No. 3 white, 22@23; No. 4 white, 22@22½.

RYE—No sales.

BARLEY—34@44.

TIMOTHY SEED—2.75@3.00.

CLOVER SEED—9.25@13.75.

LIVE STOCK PRODUCE

CHICAGO.

(Associated Press.)

CATTLE—Receipts, 1,000; compa week ago fed steers and long yearli 25@50 higher; light heifer and mi yearlings barely steady; stockers feeders scarce, steady; all she st strong to unevenly higher, but edge beef cow market at close; bulls fully lower and vealers mostly 50 down; lar steer and light yearling run; latter c being in fairly liberal supply; extr top fed steers, 7.85; next highest p 7.75; best light steers, 7.50; bulk steers, 5.25@6.75; several loads grassers, 4.90 down to 4.55; light hei topped at 6.20; bulk better grades, 5. 6.00; demand drop for all light yo cows and butcher heifers of value sell at 4.00@5.25.

SHEEP AND LAMBS—Receipts, 8, today's market nominal; for week en Friday 76 doubles from feeding stati 30,400 direct; fat lambs, largely 1. 1.25 lower for second consecutive w sheep, 15@25 down; spots off more; ing bulks follow; well finished old wooled lambs, 4.50@4.75; week's top, no choice clippers offered late; na spring lambs, 5.50@6.00; Californ 5.75—with 15 per cent sort; shorn e 1.00@1.75.

HOGS—Receipts, 7,000, including 5 direct; quality plain; steady to w good, 170-210 lbs., 3.35@3.45; actual 3.45; choice grades quotable higher; 290 lbs., 3.20@3.35; light lights, good choice, 140-160 lbs., 3.25@3.30; nomi light weights, 160-200 lbs., 3.35@ nominal; medium weights, 200-250 3.25@3.60, nominal; heavy weights, 350 lbs., 3.05@3.35; pigs, good and ch 100-130 lbs., 3.00@3.25.

BALTIMORE.

CATTLE—Receipts yesterday were head; market steady. Steers: Good choice, 6.00@6.75; medium to good, 5. 6.00; fair to medium, 4.50@5.50; plai fair, 4.00@4.50; common to plain, 3. 4.00. Bulls: Medium to good, 3.75@ fair to medium, 3.50@3.75; plain to Cows: Medium to good, 3.50@4.00; fa medium, 3.25@3.50; plain to fair, 3. 3.20@3.50; common to plain, 3.00@ Good to choice, 5.50@5.75; medium good, 5.00@5.50; fair to medium, 4. 5.00; plain to fair, 3.50@4.00; commo plain, 3.00@3.50. Fresh cows and spr ers, 30.00@60.00.

SHEEP AND LAMBS—Receipts ye day, were 350 head; market lower 1.00@3.50; spring lambs, good to ch 7.00@7.50; common to medium, 4.50@

HOGS—Receipts yesterday were head; market steady. Lights, 3.85@ heavies, 3.30@3.85; medium, 3.85@ roughs, 2.20@3.00; light pigs, 3.50@ pigs, 3.85@4.10. Western hogs, 10 higher than quotations.

CALVES—Receipts yesterday were head; market steady. Calves, good choice, 5.00@6.00; common to med 3.00@4.00.

POTATOES—Old stock: Maine, 10 sacks, Mountains, U. S. 1s, 90@1.00. stock: Florida, barrels, Spaulding Rose, U. S. 1s, 6.00@7.00; U. S. 2s, 4.00; Carolina, barrels, Irish Cobblers, U. S. 6.00@6.50; North Carolina, bushel cr Irish Cobblers, U. S. 1s, 1.75@2.25; U 2s, 1.25@1.40.

DUCKS—Young white Pekins, 4 lbs. over, 12@13; Muscovy, 4 lbs. and 12@13; other prices unchanged.

NEW YORK.

BUTTER—Receipts, 14,161; bar steady. Creamery, extra (92 score), @18¾; seconds, 15¼@15¾.

CHEESE—Receipts, 280,321; st State, whole milk, flats, held, averag fancy specials, 18@20.

EGGS—Receipts, 25,439; steady, colors, rehandled receipts (cases net, 14½@14¾; dirths, 12¼@12¾. grades unchanged.

POULTRY—Dressed; steady, uncha Live, nominal. No freight quotat Broilers by express, 17@21; fowls, ex unquoted; ducks, express unquoted.

SUGAR—Raw; was quiet and changed today. The undertone, how was steady with buyers still showing terest at last paid prices of 2.5 spots, but nothing was firmly offered low 2.60 and no sales were reported was rumored that China was inqu for sugar in Cuba.

In refined there was a moderate in reported and prices were unchange 3.75 for fine granulated.

CATTLE—Receipts, 1,410; all held

VEALERS AND CALVES—Rec 1,270; steady. Vealers, good, 6.00; c nominal.

NEW YORK GETS CUT IN GASOLINE PRICES

Standard Oil Sells Motor Fuel at 9½ Cents; War on Independents Seen.

New York, May 21 (A.P.).—A drastic reduction in gasoline prices in the New York metropolitan area, beginning today, was announced by the Standard Oil Co. of New York.

The new rates put the cost of motor fuel at 9½ cents a gallon at service stations. This is a drop of 4 cents a gallon from previous charges. Tank wagon prices have also been cut 2 cents a gallon. The lower rates do not include the State tax of 3 cents a gallon.

Officials of the Standard Co. declined to comment on the slashing lict. It was understood, however, at the move was ordered because recent price cutting tactics on the art of independent service stations. The Colonial Beacon Oil Co., a subdiary of the Standard Oil Co. of ew Jersey, together with the Texas orporation, Richfield Oil Co., Warner uljan Co. and the Shell Eastern etroleum organization announced ey would meet the new prices in e metropolitan district.

Young Credit Body Is Hailed in Street

Effect Is Expected to Aid Banks in Making Bond Investments.

New York, May 21 (A.P.).—Brokerage ouse commentators said formation f the Young credit committee had een well received in Wall street, although they warned that too much hould not be expected immediately f the group's activities. It was beeved that one of the first results might be an expansion of banks' bond nvestments.

While nothing in the way of direct omment from members of the group was available, Wall street was busy with gossip over the prospect of a oncerted move to stabilize the bond market.

Principal activity in Saturday's ond session was confined to United States Government loans, most of which recovered part of their losses of he past two days. Four of the reasury issues, which bore the brunt f liquidation Thursday and Friday, ecorded gains of a point or more nd the Libertys moved fractionally igher.

Followers of the Government group were said to have been somewhat impressed by the apparent determination of the Federal Reserve Board to ress its easy money and credit exansion program.

Announcement that no railway interest defaults were expected next month was received with seeming indifference by the holders of carrier onds.

Dissolution Sought In Pipe Line Suit

Stockholder Files Action Against Consolidated Oil; Large Fee Cited.

Chicago, May 21 (A.P.).—A suit to dissolve the $500,000,000 Consolidated Oil Corporation, formed in a merger of several oil and pipe line companies March 1, has been filed in Federal Court here on behalf of Roy Carney, of Chicago, a stockholder of one of the merged concerns.

The Carney action entered yesterday also asked appointment of a receiver and charged the merger was fraudulent, illegal and against the best interests of the stockholders of the individual companies involved. The suit was directed not only against the merged companies collectively, but named most of the individual concerns as defendants, among them the Commonwealth Transportation Co., the Commonwealth Oil & Gas Co., and the Sinclair Consolidated Oil Corporation.

Allegations were made that the Bancamerica Blair Corporation was paid $700,000 in fees for assisting in the several months' negotiations for the consolidation, and that due to the merger, stockholders of the Prairie Pipe Line and the Prairie Oil & Gas companies were burdened with $100,000,000 in debts of other companies. Mr. Carney is president of the Scandia & Carney Coal Co., and several large interests are associated with him in the suit. He owns 3,825 shares of Prairie Pipe Line stock.

Cotton Manufacturers Elect B. B. Gossett

Atlanta, Ga., May 21 (A.P.).—B. B. Gossett, of Charlotte, N. C., was elected president of the American Cotton Manufacturers' Association, in convention here today. He succeeds Cason J. Callaway, of La Grange, Ga.

Donald Comer, of Birmingham, Ala., was named first vice president and T. M. Marchant, of Greenville, S. C., second vice president.

The secretary and treasurer, W. M. McLaurine, of Charlotte, was reelected.

Steel Market Aided By Auto Purchases

General Trading Quiet, With Structural Orders Usually Small.

New York, May 21 (A.P.).—Demand for steel remained quiet this week, with the exception of a slightly increased call for automobile sheet from one large manufacurer. This was refl by a point advance in ingot pr tion to 25 per cent of capacity, b regularity was reported in other l and in mill operations.

reased buying of bars was re d in some districts, but struc awards were small.

me companies have announced advances for the third quarand current quotations are mained with the exception of easiness he scrap market.

g iron developed an easier unone, with demand still restricted. opper eased into further new low und with some custom smelters ring electrolytic ¼ cent lower, at cent delivered in the Connecticut lley. Call for finished products, pecially from the electrical industry, said to be small.

SALES ON STOCK EXCHANGE

Total sales, 302,540. Previous day, 773,280. Week ago, 600,190. Year ago, 550,210. Two years ago, 960,570. Jan. 1 to date, 145,854,397. Same year ago, 262,807,978. Same two years ago, 403,968,829.

Sales in hundreds		High	Low	Last	Chg.	Bid
	A
2	Abitibi P & P	1	1	1	.....	1
6	Adams Express	2⅝	2¼	2¼	— ⅛	2⅜
.10	Adams Express pf (5)	43	43	43	+ 3	35
1	Affiliat Prod (1.60)	6½	6½	6½		6½
5	Air Reduc (3)	38	37¼	38	— ½	38
3	Alaska Juneau (½)	9⅝	9½	9⅝	— ⅛	9⅝
8	Alleghany	⅞	⅞	⅞	— ⅛	⅞
3	Alleghany pf $30 ww	1½	1½	1½		1
43	Al Chem & Dye (6)	53⅝	52¼	53⅛	— ¼	53
10	Allis Ch Mfg (½)	6	5½	6		5⅝
10	Amerada (2)	15½	15¼	15½	— ¼	15½
1	Am Bank Note	7¼	7¼	7¼	— ¼	7⅛
.10	Am Bank Note pf (3)	31	31	31		31
.10	Am Br Shoe pf (7)	50	50	50		49
78	Am Can (4)	38⅛	37¼	37⅝	— ¼	37⅝
.20	Am Car & F pf (7)	20⅛	20	20		20
5	Am & For Pow	2⅝	2⅜	2⅜	— ⅛	2⅜
1	Am & F P $7 pf	7	7	7	— ½	6½
1	Am Ice (2)	15⅝	15⅝	15⅝	+ ¼	15¼
2	Am Internat	4⅛	3⅞	3⅞	— ⅜	3⅞
2	Am Loco pf (7)	32¼	32¼	32¼	— 2¾	31
2	Am Mach & Fdy (1.40)	11½	11½	11½	— ¾	11½
3	Am Metal	2¼	2¼	2¼		2¼
1	Am Met 6% pf	10	9¼	9¼	— 1¾	9
20	Am Pow & Lt (1)	6	5⅞	5⅞	— ⅛	5⅞
4	Am Rad Std San	4⅛	4⅛	4⅛		4⅛
3	Am Roll Mill	4⅞	4⅞	4⅞	— ⅛	4⅞
2	Am Safety Raz (3)	14¼	14¼	14¼	— ⅞	14¼
12	Am Smelt & R	8½	8¼	8⅜	— ⅛	8⅜
1	Am Sugar pf (7)	58	58	58	— 8	56
109	Am Tel & Tel (9)	96	94½	96	+ ½	95⅞
25	Am Tob B (5)	61¼	60¼	60⅝	— ⅞	60⅞
1	Am Woolen	2	2	2		1⅞
1	Am Wool pf	22½	22½	22½	— ⅞	22½
1	Am Wtg P pf	2½	2½	2½	— 1	2½
3	Am Zinc Ld & S	2	2	2		1¾
10	Anaconda	4⅜	4⅜	4⅜	— ⅛	4⅜
1	Armour Del pf (7)	25¼	25¼	25¼	+ ¾	25⅞
20	Arm Ill B	½	½	½		⅜
....	Atch T & S F (2½g)	29⅛	28⅞	29⅛	+ ⅛	29
1	Atl Coast Line	10½	10½	10½	— ½	10
20	Atl Refin (1)	11⅝	11⅜	11⅝	— ⅛	11⅝
37	Auburn Auto (4a)	33⅝	32¼	33¼	+ ½	33¼
10	Aviation Corp	2⅜	2¼	2¼	— ⅛	2¼
	B
22	Balt & Ohio	5¾	5½	5⅝	+ ⅛	5⅝
1	Balt & Ohio pf	7⅜	7⅜	7⅜		7⅛
1.10	Bamberger pf (6½)	74	73½	74	+ ½	74
4	Barnsdall	4⅛	4	4⅛	+ ⅛	4
1	Beatrice Cr (4)	18	18	18	+ ¼	17¼
4	Bendix Aviat (.60)	5¾	5⅜	5⅜	— ⅛	5½
2	Best & Co	7⅝	7⅝	7⅝	— ⅛	7⅝
7	Bethlehem Stl	13¼	12⅝	13⅛	+ ⅛	13
1	Beth Stl pf (7)	32⅝	32⅜	32⅜	— ⅜	32
1	Bohn Alum	6½	6½	6½	— ⅛	6⅜
10	Borden (3)	28	28	28	+ ¼	28
1	Borg-Warner (1)	4½	4½	4½	— ⅛	4⅜
5	Briggs Mfg (1)	4⅛	4⅛	4½	.....	4⅜
5	Briggs & Strat (1)	5	5	5	.....	4¼
78	Bklyn-Man T (4)	35½	33⅛	34⅜	— 1¼	34¼
2	Bklyn-M T pf (6)	63	63	63	— ½	62
2	Bucyrus-Erie	2½	2½	2½		2½
1	Burr Ad Mach (.80)	7½	7½	7½	+ ⅛	7¼
1	Bush Term (2½)	6¼	6¼	6¼	+ ¼	6
	C
1	Canada D G Ale (1.20)	7¼	7¼	7¼	— 1	7⅛
15	Canad Pac (1¼)	10¼	10	10⅛	— ¾	10⅛
1	Cannon Mills (1.60)	14⅝	14⅝	14⅝	— ⅛	14½
31	Case (J I)	20	19⅛	20	+ ¼	19⅞
.20	Case (J I) pf (7)	35¼	35¼	35¼	+ 2¾	31
2	Caterpil Tract (½)	5⅞	5⅜	5⅜	— ⅛	5⅞
7	Ches & Ohio (2½)	14⅜	14¼	14⅜	— ⅛	14⅛
3	Ches Corp (2)	8½	8	8½	— ⅛	8⅛
7	Chi & N W	3	2⅞	2⅞	+ ⅛	2¾
4	Chi Gt West	1¾	1⅝	1⅝	— ⅛	1⅝
1	Chi M St P & P	1	1	1	— ⅛	1
1	Chi Rk Is & P	2½	2½	2½	— ⅛	2½
2	C R I & P 7% pf	4¾	4⅝	4¾	— ¼	4⅜
93	Chrysler (1)	6½	6	6¼	— ¼	6⅛
1	City Ice & F (3.60)	16	16	16	— ⅛	15¾
.10	City I & F pf (6½)	59¼	59½	59½	— ⅛	59¼
4	City Strs	⅝	½	⅝	+ ¼	½
.10	Cluett Pea pf (7)	95	95	95		95
7	Coca-Cola (8b)	94⅞	94⅛	94¾	+ ⅛	94¾
55	Colgate-Palm (2½)	14¾	13¾	14⅛	— ½	14⅛
15	Colum G & El (1f)	8	7½	8	+ ⅛	7⅞
1	Coml Credit (1)	5⅝	5⅝	5⅝	— ⅛	5⅛
.20	Coml Cr 1 pf (6½)	50	50	50	+ ⅞	49
.20	Coml Cr pf (1¾)	15	15	15	+ ⅛	14¼
1	Coml Invest Tr (2)	14	14	14		13¾
35	Coml Solv (.60)	5¼	5⅛	5⅛	— ⅛	5
21	Com'wlth & So (.30)	2½	2½	2½		2⅜
1	Congoleum-Na (1)	7⅝	7⅝	7⅝	— ¼	7⅞
.20	Con Cig 6½% pf ww(6½)	30	30	30		29
4	Con Film	1⅝	1½	1½	— ⅛	1⅜
15	Con Film pf (2)	6	4½	4½	— 1⅝	4½
59	Con Gas (4)	46¼	45⅛	46⅛	+ ¼	46
4	Con Laundries (1)	6¼	6	6¼	+ ¼	.....
30	Con Oil	5⅜	5	5	— ⅜	5
4	Con Oil pf (8)	83	82	83	+ 2¼	83
1	Con Text	¼	¼	¼		¼
3	Cont Can (2½)	21⅞	21¾	21⅞	— ¼	21⅞
1	Cont Diam Fib	3¼	3¼	3¼		3¼
2	Cont Ins (2.40)	8½	8½	8½	— ⅛	8¼
3	Cont Mot	⅞	⅞	⅞		⅞
7	Cont Oil Del	5⅛	5	5⅛	+ ⅛	5
4	Cont Shares	¼	¼	¼		¼
6	Corn Prod (3)	32⅝	32¼	32⅝	+ ⅛	32½
48	Coty	2¼	2	2	— ¼	2
1	Crex Carpet	18¾	18¾	18¾		17
.80	Crucible Steel pf	18½	18	18	+ 1¼	17
4	Cuban-Am Sug	½	½	½		⅜
1	Cudahy Pack (4)	21⅞	21⅞	21⅞	— ⅛	21
14	Curtiss-Wright	1⅛	1	1		1
1	Curtiss-Wright A	1⅞	1⅞	1⅞		1¾
1	Culter Ham	5	5	5	— ½	4½
	D
1	Davega Strs (.60)	4⅜	4⅜	4⅜	.....	4¼
1	Deere & Co pf (.40)	7⅛	7⅛	7⅛	+ ⅛	6¾
2	Den & Rio G W pf	2¼	2	2	— ¼	1⅞
1	Detroit Ed (8)	80⅛	80⅛	80⅛	.....	79¾
5	Diamond Mat (1)	12⅝	12⅝	12⅝	— ⅛	12¾
2	Dome Mines (1.20b)	9¾	9¾	9¾	— ¼	9¾
13	Drug Inc (4)	34¾	34⅛	34¾	+ ⅜	34½
26	Du Pont de N (3)	29¾	29	29¾	+ ¼	29¾
	E
1	Eastern Roll	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛	— ⅞	.....
10	Eastman Kodak (5)	43¼	42⅜	42⅝	+ ½	42½
3	Eaton Mfg (½)	4½	4½	4½		4½
3	El & Mus	1¼	1¼	1¼		1¼
1	El Auto L (4)	11	11	11	+ ¾	10⅝
14	El Pow & Lt (1)	5¼	5	5	— ¼	5
2	El P & L $6 pf (6)	16	16	16	— 3¾	16⅛
2	El P & L pf (7)	21	21	21	— ½	20¾
1	Eng P S $5 pf (5)	30	30	30		30
	F
2	Fid P Fire Ins (.260)	8⅝	8¼	8⅝	+ ⅛	8¼
1.30	Filene's Sons pf (6½)	82½	82	82	— 3	82
5	Firestone T & R (1)	12	11⅞	12	+ ⅛	11¾
3	Firestone T & R pf (6)	48½	48½	48½		48⅜
8	First Nat Stores (2½)	41	40½	40⅝	— ⅜	40½
2	Foster Wheel	4½	4½	4½	— ⅛	4½
1	Foundation	1¼	1¼	1¼	— ⅛	1⅛
1	Fourth Nat Inv (1.10)	14½	14½	14½	— ⅛	14½
1	Fox Film A	1½	1½	1½		1½
7	Freeport Tex (2)	13¾	13⅝	13⅝	— ⅛	13¼
	G
4	Gabriel A	⅝	⅝	⅝	— ⅛	⅝
1	Gen Am Tank (4)	13	13	13	+ ⅛	13
1	Gen Asphalt (1)	8½	8½	8½	— ⅛	8¼
1	Gen Cable pf	6⅛	6	6		6
1	Gen Cigar (4)	25¼	25¼	25¼	+ ⅛	25¼
27	Gen Elec (1)	13½	13¼	13½	+ ¼	13⅜
13	Gen Elec Spl (.60)	10⅞	10⅝	10⅝	— ⅛	10⅞
34	Gen Foods (3)	27¼	26⅞	27	— ⅜	26⅞
1	Gen G & El A (6%f)	1	1	1		⅞
54	Gen Mot (1)	10¼	10⅛	10¼	— ⅛	10⅛
.40	Gen Print Ink (1)	5½	5½	5½		5½
2	Gen Pub Serv	1⅞	1¾	1⅞	+ ¼	1⅛
1	Gen Ry Sig (3)	10⅜	10⅜	10⅜	— ½	10⅜
1	Gen Real & Ut	¼	¼	¼		¼
4	Gen Thea Eq	¼	¼	¼		¼
16	Gillette (½g)	13⅞	13⅝	13⅞	— ⅜	13⅝
1	Gobel	3	3	3		2⅝
6	Gold Dust (1.60)	11⅝	11¼	11¼	— ¼	11⅛
2	Goodrich	3¼	3¼	3¼		3¼
7	Goodyear T & R	7⅝	7⅜	7⅝	— ⅛	7½
2	Goth Silk H	12¾	12¼	12½	— ½	12½
2	Graham-Paige	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜		1⅜
1	Granby Con M	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜		3⅜
1	Grand-Sil Strs	⅜	⅜	⅜		⅜
2	Grant (W T) (1)	17¼	17¼	17¼	— ¼	17
1	Gt No Ry pf (2)	8¼	8¼	8¼	— ¼	8⅛
7	Grigsby-Grun	¾	¾	¾		⅝
	H
.30	Hanna pf (7)	37	37	37		36
1.40	Hercules Pow pf (7)	71	71	71		70½
1	Homestake M (9) EX	125	125	125	+ ¾	122½
2	Houston Oil new	2½	2½	2½	— ⅛	2⅜
3	Hudson Mot	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜	— ¼	3⅜
	I
1	Illinois Cent	7	7	7		6¾
.20	Ill Cent l l (4)	22	21½	21½	— 2	21½
4	Indust Ray (4)	18½	18	18	— 2	17¾
3	Inger Rand (3)	17	17	17	— ¼	16⅞
2	Insuransh (Del) (⅜b)	4⅞	4⅞	4⅞	— ⅛	4⅝
1	Insuransh ctf (Md) (.28)	2¼	2¼	2¼		2⅛
1	Interb Rap T	6⅜	6	6	— ⅛	5¾
3	Int Bus Mach (6)	74¾	74	74¾	+ ⅜	74
5	Int Carriers (.22½g)	1¾	1¾	1¾	— ¼	1¾
3	Int Cement (2)	7½	7½	7½	— ½	7⅛
1	Int Comb E	⅜	⅜	⅜		⅜
6	Int Harvest (1.80)	17½	17	17½		17½
3	Int Hydro-El A (2h)	6	6	6	— ⅛	6
1	Int Mer Mar	1½	1½	1½		1
5	Int Nick Can	4⅞	4⅞	4⅞	— ⅛	4⅞
1	Int Salt (1½)	13½	13½	13½	+ ½	13
34	Int Tel & Tel	4	3⅞	4	+ ¼	4
	J
1	Jewel Tea (4)	20⅛	20⅛	20⅛		20
4	Johns-Manville	11⅝	11½	11⅝	— ⅛	11¾
	K
2	Kans City Sou	4½	4½	4½		4½
4	Kaufmann Dept (.80)	3½	3	3¼	— ¾	3
20	Kelly-Spring	1	1	1		⅞
6	Kelvinator	3⅝	3½	3½	— ⅛	3⅝
10	Kennecott	6¾	6½	6½	— ⅛	6½
1	Kinney (G R)	1	1	1		⅞
.10	Kinney pf	5⅞	5⅞	5⅞	+ ¼	5
6	Kresge (S S) (1.60)	10	9⅞	10		9⅞
.20	Kresge Dept Strs	1	1	1		1
.10	Kresge D Strs pf	20	20	20	.....	20
97	Kreug & Toll	⅛	⅛	⅛		⅛
2	Kroger Groc (1)	12½	12¼	12½	— ⅛	12½
	L
10	Lambert (8)	31⅞	31⅛	31⅞	— ⅛	31
3	Lehigh Port C	4⅛	4	4	— ½	4
1.20	Lehigh P C pf (7)	49	49	49	.....	49
1	Lehigh Val C	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛	+ ¼	1⅛
1	Lehman Corp (2.40)	35¼	35⅛	35¼	+ ⅛	34¾
1	Lehn & Fink (2)	13¾	13¼	13¼	— 1¼	13
4	Ligg & Myers (4)	42	40¼	40⅛	— 3⅛	40
8	Ligg & Myers B (4)	43⅝	42½	42½	— 1⅛	42
72	Loew's (3)	18⅞	17⅞	18⅞	+ ⅜	18½
7	Loew's pf (6½)	59⅛	54¼	59	+ 1¼	56½
3	Loft	2½	2½	2½		2⅜
10	Loose-Wil Bis (3b)	21⅛	20	20	— 2	20
5	Lorillard (P) (1.20)	12½	12¼	12½		12¼
2	Louisv & Nash	8¼	8¼	8¼	— ½	8¼
	M
2	Mack Trucks (1)	13	13	13		13
3	Macy R H (2)	25¾	25⅝	25¾	— ½	25⅝
.10	Manh Ry gtd (7)	31	31	31	+ ½	30½
6	Manh Ry Mod gtd	8	7½	7½	— ½	7½
32	Marine Midl (.80)	8	7⅞	8	— ⅛	7⅞
1	Market St Ry pr pf	4	4	4	— ⅛	3¾
1	Marlin Rock (⅝g)	6⅜	6⅜	6⅜		6
1	Math Alkali (2)	10½	10½	10½	— ½	10¼
2	McCall (1⅝g)	12	12	12	— ½	12
.10	McCrory Stores pf (6)	24⅞	24⅞	24⅞	+ 2⅞	23
3	McIntyre Porc (1)	13⅛	13⅛	13⅛	— ¼	12⅝
3	McKeesport T (4)	32	31¾	32		31½
26	McKess & Rob	1⅞	1½	1½	— ⅜	1⅛
9	McKess & Rob pf	6¼	5¼	5⅞	+ ⅞	5⅜
1	Metro Gold pf (.189)	17	17	17	— ⅝	16½
1	Miami Cop	2	2	2		2
6	Mid Cont Pet	5¼	5	5		5
1	Midland Steel	2⅝	2⅝	2⅝		2½
1	Mo K T pf	6½	6½	6½	+ ¾	6
3	Mo Pac pf	4	4	4		3⅝
55	Montgomery Ward	6⅛	5½	5⅝		5⅝
1	Motor Wheel	3	3	3		3
3	Mullins Mfg	4⅛	4⅛	4⅛		4⅛
.10	Mullins pf	13½	13½	13½	— ⅛	13½
	N
4	Nash Mot (2)	10½	10⅛	10⅛	+ ⅜	10
2	Nat Acme	1⅞	1⅛	1⅛	— ¼	1½
12	Nat Biscuit (2.80)	33½	32⅞	33⅛	+ ¼	33¼
36	Nat Dairy Pr (2.60)	19⅝	19⅛	19⅝		19⅝
.60	Nat Lead pf A (7)	103	103	103	+ 1¼	102¼
9	Nat Pow & Lt (1)	10½	10¼	10¼	— ¼	10⅞
1	Nat Stl (1)	15⅛	15⅛	15⅛		15
.30	Nat Sup pf	16⅛	15⅞	15⅞		15
1	Nat Surety	5½	5½	5½	— ⅛	5¼
5	Nev Con Cop	3⅛	3⅛	3⅛	— ⅛	3
3	Newport Indust	2	2	2	— ⅛	2
42	N Y Central	11¼	11⅛	11⅛	— ⅛	11⅜
.60	N Y & Harlem (5)	90	87½	88	+ 3	87½
2	N Y N H & H	8¼	8¼	8¼	— ½	8⅛
3	N Y Ont & W	5½	5½	5½	— ⅜	5⅜
1	Noranda Mines	12⅝	12⅝	12⅝	— ⅜	12⅝
1	Norfolk & W (10)	76	76	76	— 4	75
2	No Am Aviat	1¾	1¾	1¾		1¾
26	North Am (10%f)	20	19⅝	20	+ ⅜	19⅞
5	North Am pf (3)	37⅞	37	37	— 1	36¼
1	No Am Ed pf (6)	71	71	71		70
2	Northern Pac (3)	7⅞	7⅞	7⅞	— ⅛	7¾
.10	Northwest Tel (3)	18	18	18		17
3	Norwalk T & R	1	1	1		1
.20	Norwalk T & R pf (3½)	15	15	15		15
	O
15	Ohio Oil (.80)	8⅛	7¾	7¾	— ⅜	7¾
2	Otis Elev (1⅛g)	11⅛	11⅛	11⅛		11
.10	Otis Stl pr pf	4⅛	4⅛	4⅛	+ 1	3½
	P
11	Pac G & El (2)	22	21¾	22	+ ½	21⅞
2	Pac Ltg (3)	28	28	28	— ⅛	28
.10	Pac T & T (7)	68⅛	68⅛	68⅛	— ⅞	68
3	Packard Mot	2⅛	2	2⅛		2
.40	Panhandle pf	3½	3½	3½	— ½	3½
38	Param Publix	2	1⅞	2	+ ⅛	1⅞
1	Penick & Ford (1)	21¼	21¼	21¼		21¼
2	Penney (J C) (2.40)	20¼	20⅛	20¼	+ ½	20⅛
1	Penney pf (6)	76½	76½	76½	— 2½	76
1	Penn-Dix pf A	4⅛	4⅛	4⅛	— ½	4
9	Penn R R	9⅝	9¼	9⅝		9¼
3	Peoples Gas L & C (8)	60	59½	59⅞	+ ⅛	59¾
1	Petro Corp	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜		3⅜
13	Phelps Dodge	5	4¾	4¾		4½
2	Phila Co pf (6)	51	51	51	— 1	50
1	Phila R C & I	2⅝	2⅝	2⅝		2½
1	Phillip Morris (1)	8	8	8		8
11	Phillips Pet	4⅛	4⅛	4⅛		4
3	Pierce Oil pf	4½	4½	4½	— ⅞	4
2	Prairie Pipe Line	7¼	7	7¼	— ¼	6¾
4	Procter & Gam (2.40)	29¼	28¾	28¾	— ⅞	28½
1	Prod & Ref	¼	¼	¼		⅛
27	Pub Serv N J (3.40)	41	40¾	41		41
1	Pub Serv N J 6% pf (6)	81¾	81¾	81¾	+ ¼	81½
5	Pullman (3)	13⅝	13½	13½	— ⅜	13⅜
2	Pure Oil	4	4	4	+ ⅛	3⅞
.30	Pure Oil pf (8)	54	54	54		53
	R
15	Radio	3⅞	3¾	3¾		3¾
2	Radio pf B	6¼	6⅛	6¼	— ¼	6⅜
1	Radio pf (3½)	16	16	16	— 1	15
2	Reo Mot	1⅞	1¾	1⅞	+ ⅛	1¾
4	Republic Steel	3	2⅞	3		2⅞
1	Reynolds Met (1½)	6¼	6¼	6¼	— ½	6¼
1	Reynolds Sp	4¼	4⅜	4¼	— ¼	4
13	Rey Tob B (3)	31¼	31	31¼	+ ⅛	31⅛
1	Rich Oil Cal	½	½	½		½
7	Royal Dut (.81g)	16⅛	15¾	16⅛		16¼
	S
6	Safeway Strs (5)	44	43½	44	+ ¼	44
2	St Jos Lead	5⅝	5⅝	5⅝	— ⅛	5½
2	St L Southwest	3	3	3	— ¾	3
2	Seaboard Air	¼	¼	¼		¼
12	Seaboard Oil	8⅝	8¼	8⅝	— ⅛	8⅜
10	Sears Roebuck (2½)	17¾	17¼	17⅝	— ¼	17½
6	Servel	2⅛	2	2		2
1	Sharon Stl H	2	2	2	+ ⅜	1½
1	Shell Union	3	3	3		2¾
4	Skelly Oil	3¼	3¼	3¼		3¼
17	Socony Vacuum (.45g)	8½	8¼	8¼	— ¼	8¼
3	Sou Cal Ed (2)	21¼	21¼	21¼	— ¼	21¼
18	Sou Pac	8⅞	8¼	8½		8½
1	Sou Ry	3½	3½	3½	+ ¼	3⅜
2	Sou Ry pf	5	5	5	+ ¾	4½
15	Standard Brands (1.20)	11⅛	11	11		10⅞
9	Standard G & E (3½)	11	10⅝	11	— ⅛	10⅞
1	Standard G & E pf (4)	20¼	20¼	20¼		18
15	Standard Oil Cal	18⅝	18¼	18½		18½
135	Standard Oil N J (2b)	24¾	24⅛	24¾	— ⅜	24¼
25	Sterl Sec A	⅜	⅜	⅜		¼
4	Sterl Sec pf	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛		½
1	Sterl S cv pf	17	17	17	— ¾	16¾
5	Stewart Warner	2¼	2¼	2¼	— ⅛	2⅛
4	Stone & Web (½)	7⅜	7⅜	7⅜	— ⅛	7½
2	Studebaker	3⅞	3¾	3¾		3¾
.10	Studebaker pf (7)	49	49	49	+ 1	47
3	Sun Oil (1)	27⅛	27	27		27
1	Superior Steel	2⅝	2⅝	2⅝	— ⅜	2⅝
	T
8	Texas Corp (1)	10⅞	10¾	10⅞	— ⅛	10⅞
4	Tex Gulf Sul (2)	16⅜	16¼	16¼	— ⅛	16¼
3	Tex Pac L Tr	3½	3⅜	3⅜		3⅜
1	Third Ave	7⅛	7⅛	7⅛		7⅛
29	Tide Wat As	2⅜	2¼	2¼	— ⅛	2¼
1	Tide Wat As pf (6)	28¾	28¾	28¾	— ½	28¾
1	Tide Wat Oil pf (5)	38	38	38	— 2	38
2	Timk Roll B (1½)	13⅝	13¾	13⅝	— ¼	13⅛
4	Transamerica	3⅛	3	3⅛		3
3	Tri-Cont Corp	2	1⅞	1⅞	— ⅛	1⅞
21	Tri-Cont pf (6)	53½	52	53½	+ 1½	52½
	U
2	Underwood-Ell (1)	10	10	10	.....	9⅞
10	Un Carbide (2)	17¾	17⅜	17⅜	— ¼	17¾
5	Un Oil Cal (1.40)	9¼	9¼	9¼		9⅛
18	Un Pac (6)	42¾	41½	42⅝	+ ⅜	42½
4	Unit Aircraft	7⅞	7¾	7⅞	+ ⅛	7¾
1	Unit Aircr pf (3)	38¼	38¼	38¼	+ ⅞	37⅞
6	Unit Cigar	½	⅜	½		⅜
2	Unit Cigar pf	2⅛	2⅛	2⅛	— 7⅞	2¼
24	United Corp (.40)	5⅝	5⅛	5¼		5¼
1	Unit El Coal	3⅛	3⅛	3⅛	— ⅛	3⅛
3	Unit Fruit (2)	15¼	15⅛	15¼		15¼
24	Unit Gas Im (1.20)	15⅞	15⅝	15⅞	+ ⅜	15⅝
2	U S & For S pf	35⅛	35	35	— ⅞	33½
2	U S Gypsum (1.60)	15⅜	15¾	15¾	— ¼	15
3	U S Indus Alco	15⅞	15⅝	15⅞		15¾
3	U S Leather A	3¾	3¾	3¾	— ¼	3½
2	U S Pipe (2)	9¼	9¼	9¼		9⅛
2	U S Pipe 1 pf (1.20)	12⅝	12½	12½	— ½	12¾
2	U S Real & Im	3½	3½	3½		3½
1	U S Rub 1 pf	4⅞	4⅞	4⅞		4⅝
2	U S Smelt & R (1)	12¼	12¼	12¼	— ¾	12¼
37	U S Steel	29	28¼	29	+ ⅜	28⅞
2	U S Steel pf (7)	71¾	71½	71¾	+ ¼	70¾
2	U S Tobacco (1.81¼g)	58¾	58½	58½	— ¼	58½
12	Unit Strs A	1	1	1	— ⅛	1
2	Util P & Lt A	2⅝	2½	2½	.....	2½
	V
4	Vadsco	½	½	½		½
1	Vadsco pf	16	16	16		15
3	Vanadium	7	7	7		7
1	Va-Caro Chem	1	1	1		⅞
2	Va-C Chem 7% pf	36	35	36	+ 1	34
1	Va-C Chem 6% pf	6⅛	6⅛	6⅛	+ ⅛	6⅛
.80	Vulcan Detin	12½	12	12½	+ ¼	12⅝
	W
2	Wabash Ry	1⅛	1	1		1
2	Wabash pf A	1½	1½	1½		1½
11	Warner Pict	1	1	1		1
2	Warren Bros	2¼	2¼	2¼	— ⅛	2⅛
3	Wesson Oil & S (1)	10	10	10		9¾
.10	W Penn El A (7)	35	35	35		35
.40	W Penn El 7% pf (7)	40⅝	40¼	40¼	— 6	38¼
.10	W Penn El 6% pf (6)	34	34	34	— 14	.....
.30	W Penn P 7% pf (7)	92¼	92¼	92¼	.....	92
2	West Pac pf	1⅞	1½	1½	— ½	1½
8	West Un Tel (4)	19¼	19¼	19¼	— ½	18¾
27	Westingh El & M (1)	24⅛	23⅝	24	— ⅜	24⅛
.10	Westingh El 1 pf (3½)	60¾	60¾	60¾	+ 2½	58¼
1	Westvaco Chl (.65g)	4⅞	4⅞	4⅞	— ⅛	4⅞
3	Willys-Over	⅞	⅞	⅞	+ ⅛	⅞
14	Woolworth (2.40)	29¼	28¾	29¼	.....	29⅛
1	Wor P & M pf A	18	18	18	.....	18
	Y
5	Yell Trk & C	1¾	1¾	1¾	— ⅛	1¾
	Z
1	Zenith Radio	⅝	⅝	⅝	+ ⅛	½
5	Zonite Prod (.60)	5½	5½	5½	— ½	5½

XD—Ex dividend. EX—First sale since ex dividend date or dates. XR—Ex rights. (a) Plus extras. (b) Including extras. (e) Paid last year. (f) Payable in stock. (g) Paid so far this year. (h) Cash or stock.

REVIEW OF TRANSACTIONS ON WASHINGTON STOCK EXCHANGE

Total sales since January 1, up to and including Friday, May 20, giving opening, high, low and closing figures. Compiled by W. B. Hibbs & Co.

Sales.		Open.	High.	Low.	Close.
	BONDS.
	PUBLIC UTILITIES.
$10,000	Ana & Pot Riv R R 1st 5s, 1949	51½	52	51¼	52
1,500	C & P Tel of Va 5s, 1943	99¼	100	99¼	100
32,500	Capital Traction 1st 5s, 1947	60	63	55	55
23,000	City & Suburban Ry 1st 5s, 1948	49	49	49	49
8,000	Georgetown Gas Lt 1st 5s, 1961	100¼	101	100¼	101
29,000	Pot El Pow cons 5s, 1936	100	102	100	101¼
8,000	Pot El Pow gen and ref 6s, 1953	106	106¼	103¼	106½
39,000	Wash Gas Light 5s, 1960	100¼	101	99	100½
86,900	Wash Gas Light 6s, 1933, ser A	100	100⅜	97	98¾
21,600	Wash Gas Light 6s, 1936, ser B	100¼	103⅝	100¼	101½
60,500	Wash Ry & El 4s, 1951	82	84	79½	79½
	MISCELLANEOUS.
1,000	Chevy Chase Club 5½s, 1976	100¼	100¼	100¼	100¼
	STOCKS.
	PUBLIC UTILITIES.
1,111	Capital Traction	18¼	20	12	12½
9	N & W Steamboat	135	135	135	135
123	Pot El Pow pf 6s	110⅝	112	107½	108
500	Pot El Pow pf 5½s	102½	105	100⅛	103
78	Washington Gas	85	90	85	86
544	Washington Ry & El pf	86	94½	78½	78½
	TRUST COMPANIES.
7	Prince George Bk & Tr Co	30	30	30	30
	SAVINGS BANKS.
15	Commerce & Savings	325	325	325	325
	TITLE INSURANCE.
10	Columbia	7	7	7	7
	MISCELLANEOUS.
20	Col Sand & Gravel pf	99½	99½	99¼	99½
28	Federal Storage Co pf	100	100	80	80
336	Lanston Monotype	65	66	58	58
13	Mer Tfr & Stg com	95	95	95	95
10	Mer Tfr & Stg pf	78	78	78	78
792	Mergenthaler	55	55	36½	41
290	Nat Mtg & Inv pf	3	3	2½	2½
25	Peoples Drug pf	80½	88	80½	85
100	Real Estate Mtg & Guar pf	4¼	4¼	4¼	4¼
150	The Carpel Corp	10½	10½	7	9
60	Woodward & Lothrop pf	107	107½	107	107
	UNLISTED DEPARTMENT.
80	Chapin Sacks pf	102	102	102	102

Republic Gas Receivership.

Wilmington, Del., May 21 (A.P.).—Application for the appointment of a receiver for the Republic Gas Corporation, of Chicago, was filed in chancery court today by Doris L. Charing, of New York, a bondholder.

With the single exception of New York, reports of machine tool activity from all parts of the country, indicate that the low point in business was reached in April, according to the American Machinist.

California Oil Production.

New York, May 21 (A.P.).—The daily average crude oil production in California for April was 517,481 barrels, compared with 502,449 barrels in March, according to the American Petroleum Institute.

Lumber Shipment Lower.

New York, May 21 (A.P.).—Though lumber orders for the week ended May 14 exceeded prdouction by approximately 13 per cent, they were more than a third below the volume of new business received during the same period a year ago. Shipments for the week exceeded the cut by 18 per cent.

STOCKS UNCHANGED; BOND PRICES FIRMER

Market Is Quietest Session Since Last August; Curb Drifts Lower.

What the Stock Market Did

	Sat.	Fri.
Number of advances	81	173
Number of declines	185	189
Stocks unchanged	133	163
Total issues traded	399	525

By JOHN L. COOLEY

New York, May 21 (A.P.).—Stocks ambled today through the quietest Saturday market since August of last year.

On dealings of only 302,540 shares final variations were so narrow that for the second successive session the Standard Statistics-Associated Press composite closed unchanged. Quotations reacted moderately in the first hour, but slow recoveries during the second evened accounts.

U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Electric, Du Pont, Case, Union Pacific and Eastman averaged half a point higher, off-setting losses of similar proportion for Westinghouse, Allied Chemical, Standard of New Jersey and American Tobacco "B."

American Telephone threw off early heaviness and closed with a gain. Several inactives dipped sharply on small sales. United Cigar Stores preferred dropped 7⅞, American Sugar preferred lost in the first transaction this week and Electric Power & Light $6 preferred tumbled 3¾ to 1.

Indifferent to Credit.

The market's seeming indifference to credit expansion activities reflects, in Wall street's opinion, a desire to await not only results but information on just what plans are being formulated by the Young committee.

Gossip has it that one line of endeavor is to be in the bond market which needs the support of bank buying. Rumors of a large "bond pool" have recently been revived, but whether such an operation is contemplated has not been disclosed.

It is believed, however, that Federal Reserve member banks will be encouraged to increase investments in legal securities other than U. S. Governments.

Trade news at the week-end was encouraging in that activity in leading lines seemed to be about holding its own. Youngstown district steel operations are to be a shade higher beginning Monday and manufacturers are understood to be looking for some further gain in automobile buying.

Prices Hold Up.

Also, prices so far have held up against the 15 per cent wage reduction, although consumption volume has perhaps been too light to test them thoroughly.

Lower gasoline prices in the New York metropolitan district were viewed as a local condition rather than as a forerunner of weakness through the general structure of oil quotations.

There was some further loss of gold, but weakness of Dutch guilders suggested the movement to that country might be coming to an end. Europe has already drawn down her balances here very substantially and bankers feel that exports from now on should be smaller, since it is necessary for foreign nations to maintain some funds here for commercial purposes.

Bond Market Steadies.

A rally in United States Government bonds, which have been somewhat heavily liquidated recently, had a steadying effect on the bond market.

While corporate issues did little better than hold their own on the average, the majority did not, at least, extend their losses. The greatest volume of trading was in the Federal department. Sales totaled $6,180,000, par value for the entire market.

The recovery in the Government section was attributed partly to improved sentiment regarding the Federal Reserve System's credit expansion campaign. Four of the Treasury loans advanced a point or more while the liberties moved fractionally higher.

Carriers Not Buoyant.

Although the railway average showed a modest recovery, the carriers exhibited no exceptional buoyancy. Included among the mild gainers were Santa Fe general 4s, Baltimore & Ohio first 4s, Canadian Pacific 5s, St. Paul 5s, Rock Island 4s and 4½s, Erie convertible 4s and consolidated 4s, Hudson & Manhattan refunding 5s, Illinois Central 4¾s, Kansas City Southern refunding 5s, two of the Missouri Pacific 5s, Pennsylvania debenture 4½s, Frisco 4½s Southern Pacific 4½s and Texas Pacific 5s.

The utilities and industrials were practically unchanged. Power & Light Co. liens were easy. There were a few outstanding slumps. Lehigh Valley Coal 5s lost 37¾ points and Kresge Foundation 6s dropped 25 5-6 points on the sale of only two bonds in each instance. Loew's 6s rallied moderately, but most amusement company loans were soft. The oils generally improved.

German government 7s drifted to a new low, but the Reich's 5½s came back for a fractional gain. French and British loans were steady. Japanese bonds declined.

Curb Drifts Lower.

The curb market drifted irregularly lower in an extremely apathetic week-end session. The turnover of roughly 60,000 shares was the smallest in a month. A number of the more active issues held up well, but offerings in thinly traded shares still found nearby bids lacking.

Standard Oil of Indiana was an active feature, and encountered some week-end liquidation, which sent it down ½ point at one time, but at the close its decline had been reduced to ⅛. Gulf lost 1½ points, but Humble advanced ½.

The utilities group firmed in spots. Electric Bond & Share and United Light "A" were up minor fractions at the finish. American Gas dipped ¾, then recovered most of its loss United Gas preferred was a soft spot, dipping to a new low, at 15⅛, and closing at 17, off 3 points net.

The Aluminum Co. issues sagged, despite announcement of the regular 75-cent dividend on the preferred. The common lost a point, and the preferred sagged ⅝. Sheaffer Pen sold at 10, off 2, and a new low. Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad declined a couple of points to a new minimum, at 25.

New York Bank Clearings.

New York, May 21 (A.P.).—The weekly statement of the New York Clearing House Association shows total clearings of $2,856,787,921 for the week ended today, against $2,864,712,308 for the previous week.

WALL STREET—AND BEYOND

Markets and Business in Review and Outlook

By LAWRENCE SULLIVAN

IT is too early, of course, for any sound speculation as to what will survive in history as the most absurd and fantastic economic nostrum advanced by the irresponsible Democratic-insurgent coalition in the present session of the honorable Congress. Anything can happen on Capitol Hill between now and adjournment—assuming that Congress will adjourn eventually. But unless something not now on the legislative horizon comes out of today's chaos in the House and Senate, the final award for first honors in quackery and humbug probably will be a draw between the Honorable Wright Patman's "reflation" dole to Our Boys and the Fletcher-Goldsborough bill for the stabilization of prices through official edict of the Federal Reserve Board.

At the moment, Patman appears to have the advantage. He was first in the field. And he achieved a signal honor in advancing to serious consideration in the House a proposal so ridiculous on its face that the Nation at large dismissed it for more than a month as a mere bit of political horseplay.

But the big incompetence award, if it is to command any respectable degree of public confidence, obviously will have to take into account the relative contribution of the various honorable members to the prolongation of the depression and the extension of misery, suffering and anguish in the most favored Nation on the face of the globe. It is on this basis that the Messrs. Fletcher and Goldsborough come into the running as worthy adversaries of the Honorable Mr. Patman.

* * * *

WHEREAS Mr. Patman recognized his own scheme as mere quackery, and proceeded on the bold theory that letters from home were more powerful than the collective reason of the Nation, the Honorables Fletcher and Goldsborough offered their respective nostrums of inflation in the apparently sincere belief that they were sound policy.

The so-called stabilization bills directed to the Federal Reserve Board to maintain prices at about the 1926 level. The implication was that 1926 represented a normal index. The fact is, of course, that 1926 prices were highly inflated, due to the fact that the United States still was rebuilding Europe with inflationary credits, which, in turn, were reflected in tremendous exports of machinery, tools and other capital equipment.

Thus, Mr. Goldsborough, in the House, and Mr. Fletcher, in the Senate, were seeking, as it turned out, not only to inflate the Nation out of a depression but to peg its price structure permanently at an inflated level.

Yet all the time the honorable gentlemen believed, or professed to believe, that they were seeking merely to restore prices to a "normal" level.

Then it was, and not until then, that the country came to the shocking realization that all that had been dismissed as a mere legislative sideshow was, in fact, the new expression of serious American statesmanship.

Then it was that the country was informed bluntly that its destiny rested for the nonce, not only in the hands of completely irresponsible politicians, but in the hands of a group of irresponsible politicians who possessed no faculties for even appraising the elements of the complex economic problems as demanding their attention.

It was as if a man high in the treacherous passes of the Andes learned suddenly that neither his guide nor his donkey ever had been over the trail before.

* * * *

QUITE inevitably, the relationship between congressional incompetence and national confidence is a subtle one. It is particularly elusive to senators and representatives, for it is a thing as intangible as faith. Yet the relationship is so real that it bobs up constantly in such things as dividend reports, business reviews, Wall street gossip and trade letters. A single item from last week's business news will illustrate.

In a letter to stockholders on Thursday announcing that Crucible Steel was forced to pass its preferred dividend, President Horace S. Wilkinson explained the Congress-minded state of today's business paralysis in these terms:

"The present House and Senate have now been in session more than six months trying to frame a tax law that will be just and equitable to all the people and still obtain a sufficient amount to balance the budget. During this long period of time they have been able to accomplish nothing, while the business of the country is paralyzed, everyone waiting for enactment of legislation upon which we must base business policy.

"Constant proposing and rejecting of remedial measures is going on. It seems impossible to obtain any action designed to stabilize the business of the country. This applies to the question of reducing the burden of governmental expenses, finding credit with which to do business, tariff, and other matters of like importance. These delays have retarded the restoration of confidence, which can only be restored by an entirely different attitude being taken by our legislative bodies in Washington."

MARKET COMMENT

Hornblower & Weeks—Fearful of the effects of proposed legislation, the market has now declined for ten weeks. During this period the industrial averages have shown a loss of 40 per cent, the rails 50 per cent and the utilities 40 per cent. Although the course of the market is still greatly influenced by news from Washington, there is a growing tendency to resist adverse developments, indicating a more hopeful attitude regarding the final disposition of taxation, appropriations and economy measures.

G. M.-P. Murphy & Co.—We do not believe those who have been doing speculative buying recently should change policy. This week stocks have shown practically no net movement. Various forces toward betterment are at work. Position of stocks now is such that a real rally is likely from near present levels and even if a substantial decline occurs before such a turn comes, it is fairly certain that the next major rally will take prices to above present levels.

Westheimer & Co.—A slightly better undertone in bond market at the week-end is considered encouraging. The course of stocks is likely to be influenced in an important way by movements of bonds next week in view of efforts being made to expand bank investments. The speculative element, however, still is inclined to hold back until more definite assurances are received concerning a balancing of the budget.

Robert C. Jones & Co.—Bank deposits in New York are showing a substantial increase and money rates are easing. As this money piles up, it will have to seek investment, and in our opinion, we shall soon see substantial improvement in high-grade bonds and bank stocks.

Waggaman, Brawner & Co.—Bank and insurance stocks made new lows during the week, but closed steady and slightly above the lowest point. Transactions were light and absence of buying orders was more responsible for the decline than the amount of selling.

Last Week's Dividends.

New York, May 21 (A.P.).—The number of unfavorable dividend changes rose slightly in the past week, totaling 50 against 47 in the preceding week, the Standard Statistics Co. reports. There were six favorable changes, compared with fourteen the week before.

THE MARKETS AT A GLANCE

Stocks.

The trade was the smallest since August 8, 1931. Averages were unchanged for the list as a whole, with fractional advances and declines about balanced among the leaders.

Bonds.

United States Governments braced up under the new credit policy. Corporate issues ruled about unchanged with a firmer undertone.

Curb.

Active issues held their ground, but the thinly traded shares registered heavy losses in an extremely dull and sluggish market. The turnover was but 60,000 shares.

Wheat.

Liverpool cables were weak, but Italy was in the market again. The bulls took matters in hand at Chicago and ruled the day with sensational crop reports. The close was at the best, ⅝ to 1⅛ cents above Friday's last.

Cotton.

Both Liverpool and the South were week-end sellers. The close was 3 to 5 points lower.

Exchange Votes Holiday.

New York, May 21 (A.P.).—The board of governors of the New York Hide Exchange today voted to close the exchange on May 28, the Saturday preceding Memorial Day.

Greece Bids for Wheat.

Athens, Greece, May 21 (A.P.).—Two American firms have offered to sell the Grecian government 250,000 tons of wheat, payment to be half in currency and half in Greek tobacco.

FOR SALE
Any part of
50 North Capitol Bank stock at $9.
And 60 Departmental Bank at $10.
Write Box 187, Washington Post.

First Mortgages YIELDING 6%
Secured on properties in the Nation's Capital. Denominations as low as $100. On monthly payments
Real Estate Mortgage and Guaranty Corp.
1610 K St. Nat. 1403

First Mortgage Loans
Lowest Rates of Interest and Commission
Prompt Action
Thos. J. Fisher & Co. Inc.
738 15th Street

BOND LOSSES MARK TRADING FOR WEEK

Continued Recession Proves Discouraging to Trade; Gold Exported.

New York, May 21 (A.P.).—The extreme flabbiness of bonds was one of the most trying aspect of the past week in Wall street, and formation of a credit expansion committee to cooperate with the Federal Reserve was accompanied by much talk of strengthening that market.

Save for a fresh slump in the utilities, there was little of interest in the wreckage of the stock market. Prices tried to rally at times and managed to push up rather briskly for about half an hour in response to formation of the credit committee, but enthusiasm soon flagged and the upturn was lost.

The price index of 60 corporate bonds ended the week at 61 (1926 average level equal to 100), a net loss for the week of nearly 2 points. The price index of 90 representative stocks, however, lost only 1-5 of a point during the period. But twenty utilities alone lost nearly 3.

Discouraging to Trade.

The steady recession of bond prices during the past several weeks is widely regarded as one of the most discouraging developments in the financial markets, in view of the shrinkage of bank and insurance company investment values reflected, and it was immediately suggested in important banking quarters that one of the first steps that could be taken by the credit committe might conceivably be designed to halt this persistent wasting away of investment values.

Financial quarters continued to complain over the uncertainties of Federal taxation and budget balancing, as the Senate struggled determinedly with the tax measure.

Gold still flowed to Europe in substantial volume, the week's loss approximating some $60,000,000, but bankers generally were inclined to deprecate talk of "inflation."

Countries Need Gold.

It was pointed out that general banks of such countries as Holland and Switzerland had real need of additional metal, since reserve requirements have been increased by the heavy piling up of capital in those countries in recent months. But the free or excess gold in this country, under provisions of the Glass-Steagall act, now amounts to the huge sum of about $1,300,000,000.

Reports of improving conditions in the oil industry provided about the only bright spot in the week's industrial news.

Steel executives attending the semiannual meeting of the American Iron and Steel Institute were largely reticent over the outlook, although Charles M. Schwab spoke hopefully over credit expansion, explaining that a substantial volume of orders required only conditions which would permit the necessary financing.

Receiver Sought For Fox Theaters

Stockholder Files Suit Charging Attempt to Take Assets.

New York, May 21 (A.P.).—Appointment of a receiver for Fox Theaters Corporation is asked in a stockholder's action brought by Jacob Rubenstein, it was disclosed in Supreme Court today, when officers and directors of the company filed a motion to vacate notice for an examination before trial.

Mr. Rubenstein charged that there was a conspiracy among the defendants, who include officers and directors of the corporation, to mulct Fox Theaters Corporation of its assets, and that as a result the company has lost prestige.

The complaint also charged that Harley L. Clarke, as president of both Fox Theaters Corporation and General Theaters Equipment, Inc., was enabled to further the interests of the alleged scheme. General Theaters Equipment, Inc., owns all of the voting stock of Fox Theaters Corporation, Rubenstein said. The defendants, in their reply, denied all charges of wrong-doing.

Pacific Light & Power Is Being Liquidated

New York, May 21 (A.P.).—The New York Stock Exchange has been informed that Pacific Light & Power Corporation, most of whose stock is owned in Southern California Edison Co., Ltd., is in process of liquidation.

In the distribution of assets Southern California Edison has received 467,207 shares of its own stock, which have been cancelled, and has returned its holding of Pacific Light and Power.

EXTINCT SECURITIES WANTED
Will trade desirable residence property in the District for block of Foreclosed Corporate Bonds, Railroad First Mtg. or Latin-American Bonds. What have you?
Box 231, Washington Post.

PERPETUAL BUILDING ASSOCIATION
Pays
5%
Assets Over $27,000,000
Surplus $1,250,000
Cor. 11 and E N.W.
JAMES BERRY, President.
EDWARD C. BALTZ, Secretary.

Edward F. Gruver Co.
Bookbinders and Paper Rulers
Manufacturers of Loose Leaf Sheets and Blank Books.
Library Books Rebound
Special Binds for "National Geographic"
1320 F N.W. NAtional 0113

CREDIT MEN TO OPEN CONVENTION IN JUNE

Many Prominent Speakers Will Be Heard at Annual Meeting.

The annual convention of the National Retail Credit Association will be held at the Mayflower Hotel June 20 to 24, according to Stephen H. Talkes, secretary-treasurer of the local Retail Credit Association.

The following committees of the local association are in charge of all convention activities: Stephen H. Talkes, general chairman, and H. V. Ostermayer, assistant chairman; Ben Stein and O. W. Brown, reception committee; A. Coonin, chairman entertainment; Miss Elsie M. Lee, chairman ladies' entertainment; Adolph Weyl and Charles M. Keefer, chairman and vice chairman of display and hotel arrangement; Martin M. Watson and E. Emerson, chairman and vice chairman of hotel reservation and registration; H. V. Ostermayer and H. J. Rich, chairman and vice chairman of advance reservation; Leo Baum and Milford Brotman, chairman and vice chairman of transportation and boat excursion; H. J. Rich and Milton W. King, chairman and vice chairman of publicity; Benjamin Blanken and Ray McCarthy, chairman and vice chairman of ushering committee; J. W. Tallentire and H. V. Ostermayer, chairman and vice chairman of banquet committee, and Albert G. Keen and Adolph Weyl, chairman and vice chairman of budget committee.

Many prominent speakers are on the program for the convention, some of whom will be: W. W. Everett, vice president of Woodward & Lothrop's; Harold H. Levi, vice president and general manager of the Hecht Co., and John Guernsey, in charge of retail distribution, U. S. Chamber of Commerce. Other speakers will be Dr. Julius Klein, Henry J. Allen, aid to Gen. Dawes, of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and Representative Malcolm Baldridge, of Nebraska.

Entertainment for both the delegates and their wives has been planned, including a mardi gras excursion down the Potomac River on June 20 on the specially chartered City of Washington, and personally conducted tours of the White House, Mount Vernon and other places of interest around and in Washington. The annual banquet at the Mayflower June 24 will close the convention.

Community Garden Feeding Jobless

St. Louis (U.P.).—A community garden sponsored by the citizens committee on relief and unemployment is furnishing more than 400 families with fresh vegetables daily. The garden is rent free and even the seeds were furnished by the committee to unemployed.

Next fall a cannery will be established and unemployed will cooperate in preserving vegetables for use during the winter. The garden comprises nearly 100 acres.

Graduates Are Warned Of "Pollyanna" Ideas

Ann Arbor, Mich (U.P.).—College seniors must rid themselves of "Pollyanna nonsense," in the opinion of Alexander G. Ruthven, president of the University of Michigan.

Ruthven, in an address to the university graduating class, said he would not, if he could help it, have seniors leave the university with Pollyanna platitudes ringing in their ears.

One Divorce for Three Marriages in California

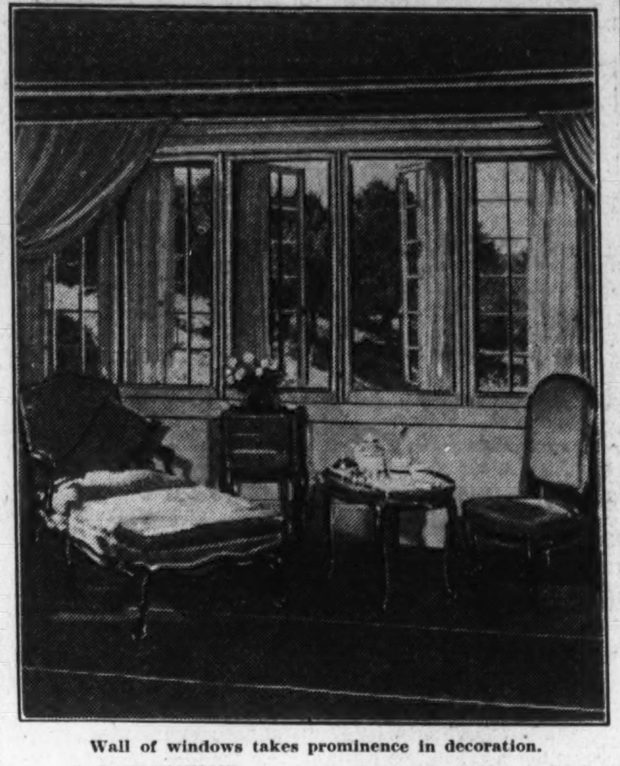
Sacramento, Calif. (U.P.).—There was one divorce for every three marriages in California last year, statistics of the State department of public health reveal.

While economic conditions caused a drop of 5.2 in the number of marriages, the decrease in divorces amounted only to 3.1 per cent.

There were 47,525 marriages in the State last year, 15,117 divorces and 1,497 marriages were annulled.

COLORS ALTER SIZES

Light Hangings Make Small Room Seem Larger



Wall of windows takes prominence in decoration.

By HOPE HAMMOND

Interior Furnishings Editor, the Woman's Home Companion. Written for The Washington Post.

Windows and doors are an important part of any room, but they often have a blunt, square-cornered ugliness unless properly curtained and draped.

Thus clothed, they add to the room a scenic effect that blends harmoniously with the architecture and furnishings.

The living room which has one wall consisting almost entirely of windows, ranged in a necessarily monotonous succession of squared spaces, offers a sometimes troublesome problem. The curtaining, therefore, must be done with skillful emphasis on design and color harmony.

If there are casement windows, they should be partly open whenever weather permits, and the draperies must be hung so as not to interfere with this essential function.

Color is perhaps the most important single factor in window decoration. Artistic color selections can correct bad proportions, strengthen weak lines, or modify the quality of light entering a room.

In choosing colors, the room as a whole should be studied. Heavy, coarse materials seem to increase the size of windows and decrease the size of the room. Filmy, light-colored glass curtains have the opposite effect.

HYGIENE SOCIETY TO HOLD MEETING

Karl deSchweinitz, Social Worker, Will Be Speaker of Evening.

The annual meeting of the Social Hygiene Society of the District of Columbia will be held in Barker Hall, Y. W. C. A., Seventeenth and K streets northwest, at 8 o'clock Friday evening. Dr. William A. White, superintendent of St. Elizabeths Hospital, will preside.

Karl deSchweinitz, director of the Community Council of Philadelphia and an internationally known social worker and author, will speak on "The New Family." Mr. deSchweinitz is also the author of "Growing Up," a book which has become a handbook for mothers of small children. He also is the author of "The Art of Helping People Out of Trouble."

A report of the year's work will be made by Paul L. Benjamin, executive secretary of the society.

Preceding this meeting there will be a dinner meeting of the board of the society and its committee members at 6:30 p. m., at the Y. W. C. A. At this meeting there will be an election of officers and new members of the board for the ensuing year. Reports will be made by the following committee chairmen:

Protective social measures committee, Miss Fay Bentley; legislative committee, Mrs. R. Thomas West; medical measures committee, Dr. R. A. Vonderlehr; educational committee, Mrs. Henry Grattan Doyle, and membership committee, Mrs. Walter S. Ufford.

Mrs. Maurice D. Rosenberg is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

G. A. R. PLANS MADE FOR MEMORIAL DAY

Daughter of Gen. Logan Will Read His Famous Order Fixing Custom.

Mrs. Mary Logan Tucker, daughter of Maj. Gen. John A. Logan, Civil War leader, will read the order issued by her father when he was the commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, May 5, 1868, at Arlington Amphitheater at 1:30 p. m., Memorial Day, May 30.

In Gen. Logan's order May 30 was designated "for the purpose of strewing with flowers or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country and to inaugurate this observance with the hope that it will be kept up from year to year, while a survivor remains to honor the memory of his departed comrades."

The United States Marine Band will present a group of selections. The assemblage will be called to order by the department commander, William F. Dorsey, who will introduce James G. Yaden, president of the G. A. R. Memorial Day Corporation. The colors of the various veterans organizations will be massed around the rostrum of the amphitheater.

The program of memorial exercises will start Saturday, May 28, and will continue through Monday. The Memorial Day Corporation was chartered several years ago by Congress and is composed of veterans of the Grand Army, Spanish War, Foreign Wars, American Legion and Disabled Veterans of the World War.

Intelligence Test Given Jurors in St. Louis

St. Louis (U.P.).—Intelligence tests are being given prospective jurors here to determine their fitness for jury service. Canvassers grade the men as No. 1, No. 2 and No. 3.

The last group is eliminated immediately and the second called only after the first has been exhausted. The grading was a suggestion of circuit judges.

"Poor jurors made bad verdicts," Amos L. Seman, jury commissioner, said. "We are trying to weed out the illiterates and those who would be unable to understand what goes on in court."

Utilizing Our Resources

Taken from the Christian Science Monitor.

CHANGING economic conditions have brought many discouraging terms into everyday usage; hence the alert individual needs to be cautious that they do not enter into his thinking and so take possession of him. As we resist the temptation to listen to the depressing, limiting, futile talk of depreciating values, unemployment, hoarding, that public opinion is constantly pressing upon us, we begin to use our most active resource in healing the situation.

What an opportunity it holds for us today, in that we may utilize our God-given resources to combat the false impressions of material sense and replace them with spiritual ideas, which alone bring harmony and true riches! As we let the wrong concept disappear from our mentality, we begin to clearly see good in its true light, good which becomes available to us in the measure of our consciousness of its presence.

What are our real resources? In other words, what is our ability to cope with a difficult situation? Where do we resort for our supply or support? Man's most vital resource is his ability to think correctly, a quality derived from divine Mind. What we have in our consciousness are our resources; and our ability to discern what is the right and true viewpoint constitutes our responsibility. Let us begin, then, by recognizing God as the infinite source of all good, and man as having an unlimited and endless ability to reflect and use every quality of God. The consciousness of the ever-presence of infinite Mind, governing and controlling the universe with His unchanging law of universal supply, is a resource that will unfailingly meet our requirements.

Have we been truly relying on God for our resources, or have we been concerned with the unstable, variable, delusive material resources presented by the material senses? Have we been making use of our spiritual heritage as the sons of God to claim our portion of the bountiful riches that our heavenly Father bestows upon His beloved children? David, who learned to rely on God gave to Him the entire credit "Both riches and honor come of thee and thou reignest over all; and in thine hand is power and might; and in thine hand it is to make great, and to give strength unto all." In "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," (p. 60), Mary Baker Eddy says, "Soul has infinite resources with which to bless mankind, and happiness would be more readily attained and would be more secure in our keeping, if sought in Soul."

God's resources are quickly convertible; and some of them are intelligence, substance, and divine law. The moment we know Him, we bring the omnipotent law of God to bear upon our human experience and we find that we have all of good to aid us in getting rid of whatever is unlike good. We find Principle, which is never depleted, never insolvent. We find Truth, which turns the lie of lack, poverty, discouragement, fear, doubt, worry, and all the other lies of material sense, back into their native nothingness. Having no foundation on which to stand, no basis of thought to prove themselves, they can not touch the real man. We find intelligence, which makes us capable of discerning the right or wrong aspect of any case and gives us the ability to accept the true fact and reject all that is false. We find love, which, as Mrs. Eddy has said (ibid., p. 451), "inspires, illumines, designates, and leads the way."

As we let the influx of spiritual thinking into our consciousness, we find that it has not been a real condition that needed correction, but our thought about it. We can hardly expect to find employment while our thought and our talk are about unemployment. If we are ready to employ (put to use) the spiritual understanding that Christian Science teaches of the inseparable relation of God and man, we are given the opportunity to be constantly employed in the service of restoring harmony. Healing is always a fruitful employment. It is the nature of divine Love to give, and as we share we shall have.

Expressing more of the divine quality in our daily living, being considerate to see our neighbor with more love, elevating our thinking so that it will yield more readily to the harmony of spiritual truths, and testing our motives will give us little time for dejection or depression. Equipped with the strength, the energy, the power of Spirit, let us rejoice, as did Mrs. Eddy when she said, "No evidence before the material senses can close my eyes to the scientific proof that God, good, is supreme." (Miscellaneous Writings, p. 277).

OFFICERS SELECTED BY VETERANS' GROUP

R. J. F. McElroy, of Washington, Heads Sons of Union Veterans' Body.

The following officers were elected at the forty-sixth annual encampment of the Maryland department of the Sons of the Union Veterans of the Civil War at Wilmington, Del., May 18-20: R. J. McElroy, commander; John R. Wells, junior vice commander; O. A. C. Oehmler, department council, all of Washington; Edmund G. Patterson, of Wilmington, senior vice commander; Elmer P. Corry, of Smyrna, Del., and Howard Michael, of Baltimore, Md., were appointed to the council.

The following attended the encampment from Washington: Everett P. Warner, James W. Lyons, Druid H. Evans, Michael Casey, E. Albert Lang, John F. Hauck, William B. Wells, Maj. E. R. Campbell, John R. Wells, Thomas R. Hellmuth, John A. P. Farnham, Horace J. Phelps, Wendell C. Hill and C. E. Ruebsam. Mr. Casey and Mr. Hill were elected as delegates to the national encampment which will be held at Springfield, Ill.

At a joint meeting of the Harding Camp and Campbell Camp held recently at 808 I street northwest, Everett Warner of the Lincoln Camp and Past National Councilor presented the charter to the newly formed Campbell Camp, formed in honor of Maj. E. R. Campbell, who was present. R. A. Webster, commander, accepted the charter.

Commander Brown of the Harding Camp presented a resolution to the joint meeting, which was adopted, to combat communism and all violations against law and order and to promote industrial confidence throughout the country. The resolution was sent to the department convention at Delaware and was there accepted and recommended for action by the national convention.

Maine Changes Diet For Its Lake Trout

Augusta, Me. (U.P.).—To improve the flavor of the trout caught in Maine's lakes and streams, State authorities have put the fish on a milk diet.

The liver diet formerly fed the trout in State hatcheries gave them an unpleasant flavor, which persisted even though the fish had long flings at liberty before being landed.

So a milk food was produced, consisting of ordinary cow's milk mixed with certain chemical compounds, the result being a grainlike preparation.

George J. Stobie, State fish and game commissioner, said some trout hatched at Gray were fed on the milk diet and grew 12 to 14 inches in 12 months.

State Prison Paper Berates Kidnapers

Boston (U.P.).—The latest issue of "The Mentor," edited and published by the inmates of Massachusetts State Prison, contains the following editorial comment:

"We feel we are expressing the opinion of the inmates of Charlestown when we say that the Lindbergh kidnapers, when caught, should be sent to the chair or given life. The final penalties for the criminals will be echoed in the sobbings of the child, which are much more potent and crucifying in one's conscience than the thunderings of any Blackstonian echo.

"If every man does not shudder with hatred and bitterness toward the contemptible Lindbergh kidnapers, we are very much mistaken."

Howard University.

Dr. Robert R. Moton, principal of Tuskegee Institute, and winner of the Spingarn medal this year, was guest of honor at a banquet Friday evening in the trustees' dining room, sponsored by the Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity.

Dr. Joseph A. Tulloh, last year's graduate of the college of medicine, now an interne at Freedmen's Hospital, has been informed of his standing among the highest ten of 169 candidates taking recent examinations by the National Board of Examiners.

Charles S. Lofton, graduate of Dunbar High School, was awarded the loving cup given by the Scrollers Club of Alpha Kappa Psi for the highest scholarship in the junior class. The achievement automatically designates Lofton as president-elect of the society for the forthcoming year, succeeding Edna Burke, also a Dunbar graduate.

Other members elected into the society were Rietta May Nines, Valeria E. Parks, J. Clark Bailey, William F. Newman, Marie Louise Taylor, Willard Phillips, Ruth Ann Bellinger, Bernice Whitfield, Vera Brantley, Esther Fairfax, Keturah Whitehurst, William H. Sneed, James N. Ward and Mary K. Wade.

HULA ATTRACTS SWIMMING CHAMP

Associated Press Photo.

When Flo Ziegfeld talked Follies to Eleanor Holm, world's champion back-stroke swimmer, he apparently inspired her to become a dancer, for here she is going through some hula steps with Charita Alden (left), American professional dancer.

SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES

George Washington University.

The George Washington University Glee Clubs will give their annual spring concert on Tuesday evening, May 24, at 8:45 at the Willard Hotel, presenting a program of selections from world-famous composers. Two members will appear as soloists, Adele Meriam, pianist, and Robert W. Cushman, barytone.

Editorial boards of student publications for the year 1932-33 have been selected. The University Hatchet, student weekly, will be under the editorship of C. Manley Fessler, with Lester Gates continuing as business manager. Associate members of the Hatchet editorial board will be John T. Madigan, Gordon V. Potter and John T. Vivian.

Ralph H. McCoy has been selected as editor in chief of the 1933 Cherry Tree, and Wendell H. Bain has been reelected business manager. Editorial associates are Edith Brookhart, John Everett, Dorothy Niess and John Walstrom.

Sphinx, women's honor society, has elected to membership Mildred Omwake, Elizabeth Churchill and Martha Osborne. Election is based on exceptional scholarship and leadership, the membership being limited to seven. A scholarship average for the entire college course well above the grade of "B" is required for election.

Hour Glass Honor Society, for the recognition of outstanding ability in extra-curricular activities, has elected Louise Berryman, Edith Brookhart, Ruth DeVane, Evelyn Eller, Cecile Harrington, Louise James, Ruth Molyneaux, Pauline Schaub and Kathleen Watkins. These students were initiated at a banquet held at the Kennedy-Warren on Friday.

Columbia Tech.

H. C. Corpening, supervisor in charge of the Federal vocational rehabilitation service for Washington, will address the graduating students of the Columbia Technical School, 1319 F street northwest, at the formal graduation banquet exercises and dance June 2 at the Washington Hotel.

The school is graduating one of its largest classes, which consists of students of the drafting, building construction, aviation and engineering departments. Final examinations will be held during the next two weeks and graduation will be subject to passing grade marks on these final tests.

H. R. Erps will be toastmaster of the graduation night banquet, at which 200 graduates are expected to be present. Beta Chapter of the school's sorority, Delta Tau Gamma, will sponsor the graduation exercises.

Washington Missionary.

Prof. Victor N. Johnson, director of the music department of Washington Missionary College, Takoma Park, and also director of the Men's Glee Club of that institution, will receive his bachelor of music degree from the Von Unschuld University of Music, Washington, at the Willard Hotel, on May 23.

Prof. Johnson, for the past four years has been studying violin at the local university, coming to the Takoma Park institution from Walla Walla, Wash., where he spent seven years as the head of the music department of Walla Walla College.

There will be three new teachers on the faculty of Washington Missionary College the next school term, according to an announcement just made. These include Miss Lotta Bell, who will be the director of the normal department, who has been connected with several Adventist institutions in the United States; Miss Eleanor McClanahan, a graduate of Emmanuel Missionary College, of Berrien Springs, Mich., who comes to assist in the English department, and Miss Ellen Klose, of Pacific Union College, of St. Helena, Calif., who will connect with the normal department.

The graduation exercises of the college will begin next Thursday and continue until Monday, the 30th.

Columbus University.

Official announcement that William E. Leahy had been appointed president of Columbus University Law School was made by the board of trustees last week. It was also announced that John R. Fitzpatrick had been made dean to succeed Mr. Leahy. Mr. Leahy succeeds the late Charles W. Darr.

The final intersociety prize debate was won by Vincent A. Sheehy, jr., and Raymond J. Walter, who defended the affirmative side of the subject: "Resolved, that the chain stores are beneficial to the community." Joseph D. Busher and John B. Nesbitt argued in the negative.

Sheehy was declared best individual speaker and by that decision was virtually given the title of "best debater in the university," since the three other contestants were winners of previous prize debates. Judges were Daniel S. Ring, John J Scanlon and John D. Kiley, all graduates of Columbus University. Prof. Arthur Deering presided over the debate. Sheehy will be awarded a prize at June Commencement exercises.

Catholic University.

James Bergen, 622 Fifth street northeast, was elected president of the 1934 engineering class at the regular elections held during the past week. The other officers are: Julius Kinlin, Baltimore, vice president; Thomas Healey, 66 Adams street northwest, secretary, and Edward Brennan, Clarendon, Va., treasurer.

Arts and Science, 1934, elected Herman F. Cook, Baltimore, president; Vincent P. McDonnel, New Haven, Conn., vice president; Henry J. Begnal, Waterbury, Conn., secretary, and Joseph McInerny, Williamsport, Pa., treasurer.

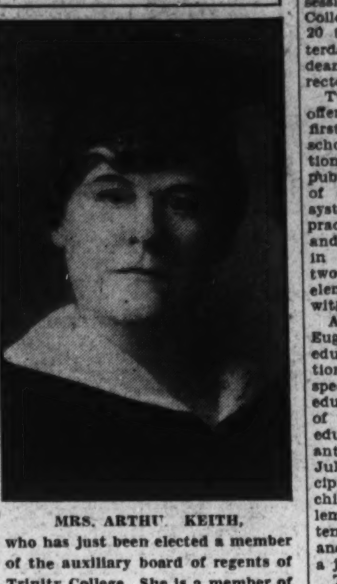
Dr. Thomas MacKavanagh, professor of electrical engineering, has been appointed chairman of the Washington section of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

The Washington chapter of the Alumni Association, at a meeting with the officers of the senior class, appointed committees to conduct the annual dance and smoker given to the graduating class by the local alumni. Dr. John J. Clarke, instructor of biology, was made chairman of the dance committee, and Edward Leasure was made chairman of the committee to arrange for the annual smoker.

The Utopian Club has named Lester J. Sheary, of Worcester, Mass., as supreme Utopian for the year 1932-33. Other officers are Norbert P. Billinger, Reading, Pa., vice supreme Utopian; Patrick J. Monnelly, Troy, N. Y., secretary; Francis J. Triggs, Springfield, Mass., Utopian of the exchequer; Francis P. Donaher, Worcester, Mass., interclub representative, and Louis C. Spinelli, Orange, N. J., alternate interclub representative.

The annual banquet for the pledges to the Senators Club will be held next Saturday at a downtown hotel. Robert H. Dunnington, 2121 Fourth street northeast, is chairman of the committee in charge.

BOARD MEMBER



MRS. ARTHU KEITH, who has just been elected a member of the auxiliary board of regents of Trinity College. She is a member of the American Association of University Women.

Washington College of Law.

At Washington College of Law activities are beginning to take final form in preparation for the events culminating in commencement on June 9. Regular class sessions ended on Saturday with the conclusion of several trial cases in practice court. Final examinations begin tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock and will continue daily up to June 4.

On Saturday, May 28, a luncheon in honor of the young women of the graduating class will be given at Pierre's by the girls of the freshman and junior classes. The committee in charge of arrangements is composed of Mary V. Marraffa, chairman; May B. Wright, Grace B. Stiles, Nell Guinn, Mildred Nisewander, Norma Windsor and Veronica Ann Dodd. The Alumni Association will be hosts to this year's graduates at a buffet supper to be held at the college on Monday, June 6, at 6 p. m.

The freshman class of the morning division last week elected officers to serve next year when they become juniors. They are Donald Imirie, president; Melvin H. Mandell, vice president; Richard L. Tedrow, recording secretary; Thomas X. Dunn, treasurer, and Naomi K. Friedman, sergeant-at-arms.

Officers for next year's senior class in the evening division were also elected as follows: Edgar S. Idol, president; Bernice Woodward, first vice president; Rae R. Zaontz, second vice president; Nell Guinn, secretary; Lee R. Schermerhorn, treasurer; James Lannon, sergeant-at-arms. The executive committee is composed of Noble S. Williams, D. Elizabeth Falconer, Mary B. Wright, Nathan D. Golden and Selma Borchardt.

Strayer College.

Pinckney J. Harman, director of Strayer College, was recently made a member of Alpha Kappa Pi Fraternity at the installation of the Phi Chapter which was held recently at St. John's College, Annapolis, Md.

William F. Somers has been added to the faculty of Strayer College of Accountancy as an instructor of advanced accounting and corporate finance. At the present time he has charge of classes in both day and evening sessions.

Dr. Stephen E. Kramer, first assistant superintendent of schools, and John O. Malott, specialist in commercial education in the United States Office of Education, were initiated as honorary members of Phi Theta Pi Fraternity at a recent installation ceremony held by the Strayer Chapter at the Hay-Adams House.

Other new members who were initiated at the time are C. Vaughan Darby, dean of the faculty; Elgie G. Purvis, dean of the college; L. E. Smith, registrar; Theodore Nickson, cost accounting instructor; Donald Montgomery, Melcin Scott, and Frances Young.

The fraternity will hold a country club dance on Friday evening, May 27, was the announcement made yesterday by Charles Clagett, president. D. J. Wiltrout is chairman of the committee in charge and is being assisted by Pinckney J. Harman, Charles Apperson, and Franklin Richards.

American University.

Complete plans for the summer session of the Graduate and Senior College of American University, June 20 to July 29, were announced yesterday by Dr. Walter M. W. Splawn, dean of the Graduate School and director of the summer session.

Two programs of study are to be offered in the field of education. The first includes the courses in city school administration, administration of secondary school curricula, public school finance, administration of educational tests in city school systems, the junior school theory and practice, the senior high school theory and practice and modern tendencies in education. The second includes two unit courses, one concerned with elementary education and the second with special problems.

Among the new lecturers are Dr. Eugene S. Lawler, senior specialist in educational finance, office of education; Dr. Arnold E. Joyal, associate specialist in school finance, office of education; Dr. David Segel, in charge of tests and measurements, office of education; Bess Goodykoontz, assistant commissioner of education; Dr. Julia Letheld Hahn, district principal of this city; Katherine M. Cook, chief of the division of special problems, office of education; Else Martens, formerly of Stanford University, and Harold S. Warner, principal of a junior high school of this city.

The summer session also offers courses of instruction in philosophy, international law, history, economics, government, psychology and German and French.

The new American University chapter of Delta Sigma Rho was installed with ceremony yesterday by Dr. Henry L. Ewbank, of the University of Wisconsin, national president, in charge.

Sidwell's Friends School.

The annual tea and exhibition of the work of the intermediate department of Sidwells' Friends School was held at 1811 Eye street on Friday afternoon, May 20, under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Hawthorne, assisted by Mrs. Edgar Nye and Mrs. Frank E. Sutch.

An original French play by Mme. de Porry was presented by pupils of the fourth intermediate class, Peggy Furlow, Marjorie Quinter, Margaret Thornton, Jane Dulaney, Eleanor Barton, Robert McBride, Keith Merrill, jr., David Blair, jr., and Simon Bolivar Buckner 3d.

A Japanese garden was made by the pupils of the second intermediate, under the direction of Miss Louise Tuers and with the assistance of Miss Taka Debuchi, of the high school, daughter of the Japanese Ambassador. The work of the art departments was under the supervision of Mrs. Isabelle Hunter and Mr. Roman Steiner.

At the tea tables were Mrs. J. B. Cochran, Mrs. Walter E. Barton, Mrs. Edward Rowell, Mrs. John N. Swartzell, Mrs. Hermann Hagedorn and Mrs. Herbert B. Crosby.

Southeastern University.

A farewell to lessons for the current term was sounded last night by students of Southeastern University at a celebration staged under auspices of the combined faculties of all schools affiliated with the institution. The event marked the close yesterday of all examinations.

There was a program of dancing and specialty numbers. The committee of professors in charge included Thomas J. Frailey, of the law and accountancy schools; Louis M. Denit, law school; Ralph S. Scott, law and accountancy; Maurice A. Martin, accountancy; August H. Moran, law, and Peter Valaer, preparatory schools.

The final social function of the year will be a dinner June 2 to the seniors by the Southeastern Alumni Association. A highlight of this celebration will be the announcement of grades and publication of names of honor students. There will be a general get-together of alumni, students and faculty. Officers of the Alumni Association for the ensuing year will be installed.

The baccalaureate sermon will be delivered June 5 in Christ Episcopal Church, Alexandria, by the Rev. William J. Morton, rector of that church. The commencement ceremonies will be held June 7 in Memorial Continental Hall.

World War Vets United By Newspaper Want Ad

Pueblo, Col. (U.P.).—W. C. Warden, Youngstown, Ohio, World War veteran, tried for 14 years to get in touch with Rufus Jacoby, Pueblo veteran.

They had been buddies in the Rainbow Division, but lost track of each other after the Armistice.

By chance, Warden found a copy of a Pueblo newspaper. In the advertising section was a small ad that called attention to the shoe repair shop operated by one Rufus Jacoby.

Warden wrote to ask if by chance the two Rufus' were the same, and found they were.

Warden needed Jacoby's signatures on some legal papers, and traveled here to meet his buddy and end the fourteen-year search.

PERSONALS 3

BOYS from refined homes may join family spending summer on lake-side farm in Maine; invigorating climate; home food and care; safe swimming; college graduate and former teacher in charge; cost moderate; auto transportation furnished. For information phone Hyatts. 804-F-2 or address Box 230, Washington Post.

SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES.

LEARN ANOTHER LANGUAGE
By our easy conversational method, famous for 54 years. Private or class instruction. Moderate rates.
FREE TRIAL LESSON.
Berlitz School of Language
1115 CONNECTICUT AVENUE.
Telephone DEcatur 3932
Classes Limited to 8 Students

★★★★★★
Felix Mahony's
National Art School
Our Eight Months Professional Courses Fit You to Accept a Position in Color Interior Decoration, Costume Design, Commercial Art, Posters. Children's Saturday Class. See Our Exhibit
1747 R. I. Ave. North 1114

SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES

SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES

The Washington Post
EDUCATIONAL DIRECTORY

Accountancy

STRAYER COLLEGE OF ACCOUNTANCY Day and evening courses leading to B. C. S. and M. C. S. degrees. Walton courses. Every accounting instructor a C. P. A. 721 13th St. N.W. Nat. 1748.

Art

ABBOTT SCHOOL OF FINE & COMMERCIAL ART Summer session June 15. Landscape Painting and Commercial Art. 1624 H St. National 8054.

Business and Secretarial

BOYD SCHOOL New, easy Shorthand saves 2-3 usual time. Very easily learned. Is rapid. Typewriting, English, Spelling, Bookkeeping, Gregg Shorthand. Individual and small class Instruction. Diploma. Positions guaranteed graduates. Enroll immediately, classes limited. Boyd Secretarial School, 1333 F St. (opp. Fox). National 2342.

MARJORIE WEBSTER SCHOOL for SECRETARIES. 1 and 2 year courses. Fall term opens Sept. 19. Dormitory. Catalog. 16th and Kalmia Rd. GE. 1700.

POTEET'S BUSINESS COLLEGE Individual Instruction. Start any time. Ask for free Secretarial bulletin. 14th and Eye Sts. N.W. National 4717.

THE TEMPLE SCHOOL, INC. Day, late afternoon and evening classes. Register now for summer classes. Telephone for catalogue. No solicitors. 1420 K St. Na. 3258.

Foreign Languages

DE JARDIN FRENCH LANGUAGE SCHOOL By Native Paris Graduate. Best results, shortest time. 908 14th St. Met. 1832.

PERSONALS 3

CASH for pawn tickets, diamonds, jewelr antiques, silver, gold and watches. Livingston, 601 13th st. nw.; Nat. 5649.

FACIAL hair killed forever by Dr. Stevens' devitalizing cream or money refunded. Office hrs., 10 to 5. 302 Kresge Bldg., 1105 G.

HEMORRHOIDS (piles) eradicated by own method; results guaranteed for life or money back; write for booklet. Dr. Summerwerck, 1365 Columbia road.

LADIES—Full-fashioned silk hose, seconds, 3 pairs, $1.05, postpaid; satisfaction guaranteed. Economy Hosiery Co., Asheboro, N. C.

MASSAGES, baths; graduate white nurse. 1917 Eye nw. Hrs., 10-8; open Sun.

MOTHERS! Fathers! Vacation approaches! What are you going to do for your child this summer? The TUTHILL SCHOOL offers unusual rates for the summer months. One hour of tutoring daily. Picnics, nature study, tennis, basket ball, ring games, ball games, flag exercises, singing, rhythms, orchestra and handwork of various kinds are activities for summer session. Hot noonday meals, milk or fruit midmorning and midafternoon are served daily. Hours, 8 a. m. to 5:30 p. m., including Saturday. Forty-five dollars for the entire season if registered before June 14, 1932. The regular summer rate of $25 a month holds good unless child is registered for the entire 3 months. We advise you to act now to take advantage of this remarkably cheap summer offer. Save $30 by registering now. Pay your tuition monthly or semimonthly in advance, beginning June 15, 1932. Register now! Bus accommodations upon request. Classes in swimming and horseback riding under special teachers, $15 each for the summer. Phone Adams 1443 or write The Tuthill School for Boys and Girls, 1860 Mintwood place.

REDUCE THOSE LARGE HIPS—My treatments are unusually successful. Dr. Della Ledendecker, 3025 O nw.; W. 1120.

WHEN DEATH STRIKES A FAMILY There is no need for them to feel that they must accept inferior funeral services due to inability to pay a high price. THE GREATER W. W. CHAMBERS offers a complete funeral, cars and all, for as little as $75; the world's finest waterproof, airtight, guaranteed steel burial vault may be had from Chambers for $85. In case of death, call the Greater W. W. Chambers Co., 14th st., corner Chapin st. nw.; Columbia 0432.

FOOT Bunions, Corns, Fallen Arches. Dr. J. L. Bliss Bates, 1110 F nw.

CAKE Home-made, finest angel food; yesterlaid eggs used; own poultry. Shepherd 3355.

WANTED TO ADOPT
BABY GIRL AT ONCE
under one month old; excellent reference. Phone Greenwood 2246.

CLAIRVOYANTS 4

LICENSED BY DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA
29 Years' Successful Practice in Washington, D. C.
Martha Spencer
THE ADVICE OF A TRUE, RELIABLE READER IS ABSOLUTELY VALUABLE AND NECESSARY AT THIS TIME OF WORRY AND DEPRESSION. MY MANY YEARS OF EXPERIENCE AND HONORABLE DEALINGS IN WASHINGTON SHOULD GIVE YOU A FEELING OF GENUINE CONFIDENCE IN ALL I AM ABLE TO ADVISE AND HELP YOU WITH. WITHOUT A QUESTION I WILL TELL YOU THE OBJECT OF YOUR CALL, NAMES OF FRIENDS, RELATIVES AND ACTUAL FACTS CONCERNING YOUR LIFE AND CIRCUMSTANCES WHICH YOU KNOW TO BE ABSOLUTELY TRUE. PERFECT SATISFACTION OR NO FEE.
924 14th St. N.W.
Cut this out for future success and reference.

MME. LE ROY, of Egyptian Tearoom. Advice on business, love. Cards. Tea readings, 50. Moved 616 5th st. nw. DI. 4149.

PROF. LOVEL, American Indian clairvoyant, astrologist; seance Wed., 8 p. m.; readings daily, 50c. 913 M nw. DI. 5727.

MME. YACAN from Egypt, will tell your future by cards; answer any question. $1. Ladies only. By appointment. Col. 8979-W.

D'ASHMAN 1212 EYE ST. NW. MET. 3257. Advice on all affairs of life.

MADAM NAOMA PALMIST MEDIUM
Tells anything you want to know; who and when you'll marry; makes up lovers' quarrels and family troubles, how to gain and hold a good position, overcome troubles, bad luck. Hours, 9 to 9. Life readings, $1. 623 7TH ST. NW. (OPP. PATENT OFFICE).

MADAM PEARL
The world's famous palmist, giving names, dates, facts, figures, business, marriages, divorces and love, law and wills, patents, deeds and mortgages. Overcomes all evils. Luck and happiness. Don't be discouraged. See me. I never fail. $2 readings, 50c. 1114 7TH ST. NW.

PROF. AND MME. AVON
Royal Egyptian world's greatest palmists, mediums. Absolutely have no equal. Tell the object of your call without asking you a question. Give advice on all affairs of life. Oriental Studio, 943 Pa. ave. nw. NEXT TO FRANKLIN NATIONAL BANK.

MADAME PHILLIPS
SPIRITUAL MEDIUM.
Tells past, present and future. Gives advice on all affairs of life. Tells you how to have success in business, love, courtship, marriage, divorces, lawsuits and speculations of all kinds. Readings confidential. Satisfaction guaranteed. Office hours, 9 a. m. to 10 p. m. 707 7th st. nw., Over Morris' Hardware Store.

MME. DILL GIFTED LIFE READER
Challenges the world for her great readings and power as a gift by birth to her to help those who are in trouble, giving names, dates, facts, guides you to success, health and happiness, settles lovers' quarrels, causes speedy and happy marriages, guarantees to help and tell you what your troubles are and how to overcome them. One visit to her will mean more than thousands to your happiness. THIS CLIPPING AND $1.00 ENTITLES YOU TO A $2.00 READING. HOURS, 9 TO 9 DAILY. 739 7TH ST. NW., NEAR CORNER OF H ST.

SPIRITUALISTS 5

DR. JANE COATES.
3 DAYS' FREE TREATMENT WITH EACH READING APPOINTMENT.
1473 MERIDIAN PL. NW. COL. 6227.

MRS. RIZPAH ELDON,
1336 MASS. AVE. NW.
SE. Cor. 14th st. and Mass. ave.
Spiritual message meetings Monday, 8 p. m. Readings daily. Me. 2726.

MOTOR TRAVEL 6

LEAVING for Los Angeles early in June; can accommodate 3 passengers; new car. Emerson 5761.

PARTY driving Omaha, June 3 or 4, then Houston; good car; refs.; can take 1 to 3. Bradley 221-R evenings.

TRAVEL FOR LESS—Passengers for your car; cars for your destination. Tourist Travel Exch., 1110 New York ave. nw. Met. 4095.

HELP WANTED—FEMALE 17

COLLEGE STUDENT—For vacation position at summer resort; salary and valuable experience. Box 163, Washington Post.

REGISTERED NURSE—Two hours a day; to assist in hiring and training women to sell a feminine hygiene preparation. Address Box 229, Washington Post.

SPECIAL work for married women demonstrating amazing styles. Start at about $16 weekly. No experience or investment. Not house-to-house. Write fully, Harford Frocks, Dept. B-5564, Indianapolis.

LANSBURGH will employ two women capable of demonstrating and selling Easy Washers and Ironers; new low prices and easy terms; this is outside work, with an opportunity to earn $20 to $35 per week. Mr. Gaddis, washing machine dept., 6th floor, Lansburgh Dept. Store.

HELP WANTED—MALE 18

ARCHITECTURAL draftsmen—The Allied Architects, Inc., offers a competition for designs for a monument to Robert Mills, architect. Prizes are offered. Call or address 726 Jackson pl. nw. (6th floor).

CHAUFFEURS—Wanted to drive Security cabs; good proposition. 801 H st. nw.

MEN—White, to sell goods on trains; must be hustlers; small cash security and blue suit required. Apply to the Union News Co. Office, Union Station, East Basement.

SALESMEN for new beverage on market, Virginia territory. College men preferred. Excellent seller. Box 242, Washington Post.

3 JUNIOR SALESMEN wanted; salary and commission. Apply between 10 and 12 a. m., Room 237, Potomac Electric Appliance Bldg.

3 MEN—Able to meet the public; remuneration discussed with interview. Apply after 9 a. m., Monday, Room 603, 1319 F st. nw.

500 MEN WANTED to come to the Empire Barber Shop and get their haircut for 25c daily; 10 expert barbers. 523 9th st. nw., 8 a. m. to 11 p. m.

SALESMAN.
Vacuum cleaner experience, with car, to sell Royal Cleaners. Mr. William at 4:30 p. m., Barber & Ross, Inc., 11th and G sts. nw.

MORE USED CAR VALUE

Chrysler

Used Car Department SPECIALS

1932 Chrysler De Luxe 8 Sedan
Six wire wheels; also equipped with Philco radio. Perfect in every detail..... $1,250

1932 Chrysler 8 Coupe
Painted in a beautiful black; with very low mileage $1,185

1931 Chrysler 8 Rdstr.
Radio and other extras; one of the snappiest cars offered today $985

1931 De Soto 6 Sedan
See this bargain; very low mileage and driven by careful driver $495

1931 Studebaker 6 Rdstr.
Perfect in every way; can hardly be told from new.... $565

1930 Austin Coupe
What a value..................... $140

1932 Plymouth Convertible Coupe
Run very little—looks like new........................ $545

1930 Chrysler 6 Rdstr.
Just consider this class of car and you will wonder how we sell them at this price.......... $395

1930 Olds 6 Coupe
A really beautiful little coupe with rumble seat..... $395

1930 Essex Coach
Run just a few thousand miles. This is a really clean car for only $385

MANY OTHERS

H. B. Leary, Jr., & Bros.
1321-23 14th St. N.W.
Open Evenings and Sundays
NOrth 6826

BUICK, 1929 Master Model Four-Door Sedan. Fully equipped. This smart, dependable car has been thoroughly reconditioned to assure its new owner new-car appearance and performance at a greatly reduced price, $545. Terms.
GRAHAM MOTOR SALES, INC.
1526 14th St. N.W. POtomac 0772.

BUICK Demonstrator. 1931—67, sold for $1,550; now $1,175; new-car guarantee. Terms or trade.
STANLEY HORNER, INC.,
1015 14th St. NW. NATIONAL 5800.

BUICK 1930 Coach; condition 95% perfect; guaranteed; $595.
WILLIAMS & BAKER, INC.
1525 14th St. N.W.

BUICK SEDAN, 1929, standard 6; fine condition; sell for unpaid notes; only $390, on terms. Mr. Roper, Nolan Motor Co., 1111 18th st. nw.

CHEVROLET 1927 COACH.
Good condition throughout—new paint job—at the price it can't be beat. Only $25 down.
LUSTINE-NICHOLSON MOTOR CO.,
Hyattsville, Md. Greenwood 2200.

CHEVROLET 1930 COACH.
Clean as a whistle—you just can't find another in same condition at our price—only $80 down.
LUSTINE-NICHOLSON MOTOR CO.,
Hyattsville, Md. Greenwood 2200.

CHEVROLET 1932 SPECIAL SEDAN.
Driven less than 3,000 miles; tip-top condition throughout; repossessed. Yours at a bargain.
LUSTINE-NICHOLSON MOTOR CO.,
Hyattsville, Md. Greenwood 2200.

BUICKS

New Car Guarantee—90 Days
TERMS
Open Sunday Till 6 P. M.
Phone Dec. 2890 for Demonstration

'31 De Luxe "8" Sedan; synchromesh; 6 wire wheels; well fenders $775

'31 De Luxe Sedan; synchromesh; wire wheels; well fenders........ $775

'31 "8" Cyl. Sedan; synchromesh; w. w. $750

'31 Sport "8" Cyl. De Luxe Roadster, synchromesh; 6 natural wood wheels; well fenders........ $650

'31 Sport Coupe Master 6, wire wheels, well fenders, synchromesh $750

'30 Master Sedan, finish, tires and upholstery perfect $675

'30 Std. Coupe, tires, finish and upholstery excellent $525

Barnes Motors—1729 14th St.

CHEVROLET—Sport roadster; 1930 R. S.; yellow with green wheels; new tires; mechanically perfect; $250 cash. Box 224, Washington Post.

CHRYSLER SPORT COUPE—Has 1929 65 motor; all new tires; best of condition; only $220; cash or terms. Mr. Roper, Nolan Motor Co., 1111 18th st. nw.

DODGE SEDAN, 1927 type; best of condition; only $80, on terms. Nolan Motor Co., 1111 18th st. nw.

FORD DE LUXE SPORT ROADSTER, 1929. Best of condition; must sell for unpaid notes; only $129; can refinance. Mr. Roper, 1111 18th st. nw.

FORDS—Latest 1931 Tudor Sedans, Fordor Sedan Company used cars; splendid condition; look like new; low price and terms. Mr. May, Ford Motor Co., 451 Pa. ave. nw. Nat. 8391.

FORD 1930 TUDOR.
Beautiful black with smart red wire wheels—this car will mean happiness to the man with a family—carries our regular guarantee. $65 down—balance easy.
LUSTINE-NICHOLSON MOTOR CO.,
Hyattsville, Md. Greenwood 2200.

FORD SEDAN, latest 1931; only few months old; owner could not pay; sacrifice, only $90 down, balance in 12 to 16 months; new-car guarantee. Mr. Roper, Nolan Motor Co., 1111 18th st. nw.

FOR DE LUXE SPORT ROADSTER, latest 1931; this car is just like new; sell for unpaid balance; only $90 down, balance 12 months. Mr Roper, Nolan Motor Co., 1111 18th st. nw.

FRANKLIN—'29 victoria brougham; 17,000 miles; excellent mechanical and body condition; reasonable. Write or see Miss Nalle, Somerset, Va.

GRAHAM 1930 Special Four-Door Sedan. Equipped with 4 speeds forward. If you are interested in an ideal family car that is slightly used and is a bargain, don't fail to see this beautiful car today. $545. Terms and trade.
GRAHAM MOTOR SALES, INC.
1526 14th St. N.W. POtomac 0772.

GRAHAM-PAIGE that very popular model 621 Sport Roadster. Equipped with 4 speeds forward; 6 disc wheels, white sidewall tires and a fast, powerful motor that will perform perfectly. $595. Terms and trade.
GRAHAM MOTOR SALES, INC.
1526 14th St. N.W. POtomac 0772.

People who can afford to buy new CADILLAC and LA SALLE cars turn in good used cars. Kempton-Cadillac has "another you can't afford to miss."
LA SALLE 1929 7-PASS. SEDAN.
1138 Connecticut Avenue.

We Are Listing Below

some of the greatest buys in Washington of highly reconditioned automobiles.

1928 Hudson 3-window Sedan	$300
1928 Hudson Coach	250
1927 Hudson Sedan	175
1928 Essex Sedan	150
1928 Essex Coach	100
1927 Essex Sedan	95
1927 Essex Coach	75

Come in today or tonight, drive one of these cars and see for yourself the wonderful condition. Trade accepted, terms extended.

LAMBERT
"The House of Confidence"
14th & P Sts. N.W., Dec. 3900

PACKARDS

New Car Guarantee—90 Days
TERMS
Open Sunday Till 6 P. M.
Phone Dec. 2390 for Any Demonstration

'30 Big "8" Sedan $1,350
De Luxe, 7-pass., 6 w. w.; cost over $5,500; owner going abroad (name on request).

'29 De Luxe Sedan.....$750
Well fenders, tires, upholstery and finish excellent; driven 1,300 miles (owner's name on request).

Barnes Motors—1729 14th St.

GRAHAM

"Straight 8"
BLUE STREAK DEMONSTRATORS

Here is the opportunity long waited for. Four cars to choose from. A substantial reduction. These cars can be purchased on our new-car payment plan and new-car guarantee.

GRAHAM
MOTOR SALES, INC.
1526 14th St. N.W., POt. 0772

HUDSON SPORT SEDAN—All new U. S. tires; bargain; only $139, on terms. 1111 18th st. nw.

HUDSON 1927 Sedan. This car is in perfect condition. Has been thoroughly reconditioned. Come in today and see it. You've never seen such a buy for $175; $59 down, balance $5 weekly.
LAMBERT.
"The House of Confidence."
14th and P Sts. N.W. Dec. 3900.

HUPMOBILE SEDAN—Best of condition; straight eight; real bargain; only $185, on terms. Nolan Motor Co., 1111 18th st. nw.

LINCOLN Four-Door Sedan; excellent finish, wire wheels, exceptionally clean inside; good tires; ideal for family car and priced for quick sale. $195. Terms and trade.
GRAHAM MOTOR SALES, INC.
1526 14th St. N.W. POtomac 0772.

MARMON SEDAN—Beautiful gun metal color; condition like new; five tires and all extras; sell for unpaid notes; only $270; can refinance. Mr. Roper, Nolan Motor Co., 1111 18th st. nw.

NASH 1930 Two-Door Sedan. Values like this are hard to find. Shows practically no wear. Beautifully appointed body. Deep, comfortable seats, and powered by that famous 7-bearing Nash motor. A genuine bargain at this amazingly low price. $425.
GRAHAM MOTOR SALES, INC.
1526 14th St. N.W. POtomac 0772.

OLDSMOBILE 1930 Coupe. Fully equipped. A smart, beautiful car. Finish like this year's model. Practically new tires and smooth, fast, powerful 6-cylinder motor. $495. Terms and trade.
GRAHAM MOTOR SALES, INC.
1526 14th St. N.W. POtomac 0772.

PLYMOUTH SEDAN, latest 1929; all new tires; motor A-1 condition; must sacrifice; $259; terms. Nolan Motor Co., 1111 18th st. nw.

PONTIAC 1929, Late Model, Second Series Coach. We know we won't have to urge you to buy this beautiful car once you see it. Perfect in every detail and selling at a sacrifice price. $295. Terms.
GRAHAM MOTOR SALES, INC.
1526 14th St. N.W. POtomac 0772.

WHIPPET 1929 SEDAN.
A neat little job—sure to please. Only $50 down.
LUSTINE-NICHOLSON MOTOR CO.,
Hyattsville, Md. Greenwood 2200.

People who can afford to buy new CADILLAC and LA SALLE cars turn in good used cars. Kempton-Cadillac has "another you can't afford to miss."
BUICK 1929 BROUGHAM.
1138 Connecticut Avenue.

1928 ESSEX Coupe, with rumble seat; new paint; tires and motor are excellent. See it today or tonight. Only $150—$50 down, $4.00 weekly.
LAMBERT.
"The House of Confidence."
14th and P Sts. N.W. Dec. 3900.

1929 HUDSON Coach, has fender well and trunk rack; reconditioned and ready to give miles of good transportation. $395—$158 down; balance $23.96 monthly.
LAMBERT.
"The House of Confidence."
14th and P Sts. N.W. Dec. 3900.

2—1929 ESSEX Challenger Roadsters. Here's the car for this kind of weather. Beautiful red finish, like new; tires, battery and general condition far above the average. Only $295—your old car or $118 down; balance $18.21 monthly.
LAMBERT.
"The House of Confidence."
14th and P Sts. N.W. Dec. 3900.

3—1929 HUDSON Town Sedans; Big three window Sedans with the famous all-steel body; quiet and comfortable. See these cars today and you won't need to look further. Priced to sell, $475—your old car or $190 down; balance $28.51 monthly.
LAMBERT.
"The House of Confidence."
14th and P Sts. N.W. Dec. 3900.

3—1929 ESSEX Challenger Sedans; beautiful black finish like new; car has been carefully driven by former owner. Will just suit the man with a family. Priced at $295—your old car or $118 down; balance $18.21 monthly.
LAMBERT.
"The House of Confidence."
14th and P Sts. N.W. Dec. 3900.

People who can afford to buy new CADILLAC and LA SALLE cars turn in good used cars. Kempton-Cadillac has "another you can't afford to miss."
CADILLAC 1929 5-PASS. SEDAN.
1138 Connecticut Avenue.

A CHALLENGE By NASH-ORR

We agree to sell you the car you select for less money than you can buy one one like it for elsewhere.

Reconditioned 63 guaranteed used cars to select from, including most all models of Nash Sedans, Coaches and Coupes.

We also have 28 cars of other makes, including FORDS, CHEVROLETS, BUICKS, HUDSONS, PONTIACS, STUDEBAKERS, WHIPPETS, ESSEX, etc.

YOU MUST HURRY!
WE MEAN WHAT WE SAY

Reconditioned Car Dept.
Phone DE. 4419 1733 14th St. N.W.

DODGE

TREW VALUES
Money Back Guarantee
Our Used Car Stock REDUCED

1931 Chevrolet Sedan	$425
1929 Chevrolet Roadster	145
1929 Chevrolet Sedan	275
1928 Chevrolet Sedan	160
1928 Chevrolet Coach	135
1928 Chrysler "62" Coupe	175
1929 Essex Sedan	293
1928 Essex Coupe	95
1931 Ford Coupe	295
1930 Ford Roadster	275
1930 Ford Town Sedan	350
1930 Ford Coupe R. S	295
1929 Ford Coupe R. S	175
1929 Pontiac Coach	195

Also Trucks—Various Makes and Models
The Same "TREW VALUE" Standard

Trew Motor Co.
Established 1914
Dodge Distributors
1509 14th St. N.W. Decatur 1910.

BUICK Extra Values

1931 Buick 7-pass. Sedan	$1,250
1931 Buick 8 Sedan	895
1931 Buick 8 Spt. Coupe	850
1930 Buick Stand. Coach	675
1927 Buick Master Spt. Cpe.	345
1930 Dodge 6 Sedan	475
1930 Buick Master Spt. Rds.	900
1928 Studebakeer Com. Sed.	350
1929 Chevrolet Cabriolet	225
1929 Nash Std. 6 Sedan	395
1925 Packard 8 Limo	350
1927 Reo Sedan	200
1930 Buick 5-pas. Sd., Mas.	795
1930 Buick 5-pass. Sdn., Std.	750
1929 Buick 5-pass. Sedan	650
1931 Buick Mas. 5-pas. Sed.	1,250
1930 Cadillac Cus. 5 Sedan	1,550
1931 Ford Cabriolet	375
1930 Ford 4-door Sedan	350
1928 Olds Sedan	275
1928 Willys-Knight 70 Sedan	275

Stanley H. Horner
1015 14th St. N.W. NAt. 5800
1111 14th St. N. W. NAt. 7651

CHEVROLET

DONOHOE

TERMS TRADES

1927 Nash Sedan	$79
1928 Chevrolet Sedan	169
1929 Chevrolet Coach	195
1929 Chevrolet Sedan	279
1930 Chevrolet Coach	295
1930 Chevrolet Sedan	325
1930 Ford Sport Coupe	255

TRUCKS

1929 Chevrolet Panel	$195
1930 Ford Panel	295
1929 G.M.C. Panel	295

15 CHEVROLETS, FORDS and OTHER MAKES.
$79 EACH—TERMS ALSO.

Donohoe Chevrolet
1620 M St. N.W.
Bet. 16th and 17th Sts.
DEc. 6300 Open Every Night and Sundays

AUTO TRUCKS—TRACTORS 8

FORD—1931 157-inch, stake body truck, used very little by our company; low price and terms. Mr. May, Ford Motor Co., 451 Pa. ave. nw.; NA. 8391.

AUTO PAINTING—Plating 11

FREE—LOOK!—FREE
Send us 2 customers, $25 each, we'll give you a 5-coat job free.
COME SEE US! 1231 20th St. N.W.

WANTED—AUTOMOBILES 13

CASH FOR YOUR CAR
Without a doubt I pay highest price. If your car is not paid for, will pay your undue balance, give you the difference in cash. No delays. Drive to 1729 14th st. nw
SEE MR. BARNES

WE BUY any make car; highest prices paid. See us before you sell. Auto Mart. Open evenings and Sundays. North 8137
1333 14TH ST. N.W.

HELP WANTED—MALE 18

25 Chauffeurs
To Drive for the
BELL CAB CO.
1317 L ST. N.W.

SALESMEN
Experienced refrigeration supervisors, must be good closers; ten junior salesmen; training by factory experts; leads furnished. Earnings start immediately—this is Majestic year. Apply Monday.
Retail Sales Manager
Eisenbrandt Co.,
932 H St. N.W.

SALESMEN.
An established Washington enterprise has a program of advertising that offers large financial possibilities to salesmen of character and ability who can qualify. Apply 9 to 10 a. m.
SALES MANAGER
3407 14TH ST. NW.

WANTED
Good Reliable Drivers
With Identification Cards
Apply
CITY CAB CORP.
1127 21st St. N.W.

HELP—Male and Female 19

MAN AND WIFE, colored, experienced, as cook and butler, to go to Maine for the summer; must have first-class local reference. Telephone North 5208 for appointment.

WANTED—Men and women; to learn the real estate business; also agents in towns within 100 miles of D. C.; all or part time; we own our properties and have large selection. Fulton R. Gordon, 1427 Eye st. nw.; Dis. 5231.

SALESMEN—AGENTS 20

AGENTS—Amazing new patented dish washer! Only $5.95 complete! Every woman buys on sight! Your commission $1.50 each sale. Narcor, 1845 Broadway, New York.

EXCLUSIVE—Distributor; no competition; handle Heidelberg Brumalt; a superior German brew; nothing added; 2 days, 5 gallons prewar beverage; legal; large profits. The Heidelberg Corporation, 732 Poydras, New Orleans, La.

JUST OUT—Menzit mends anything; sticks tight to aluminum, pottery, steel, leather, wood, &c.; no heat, no acid, no skill required; waterproof; up to more than 200% profit to agents. Write Menzit Co., Dept. 385, Delphos, Ohio.

MEN—Wanted to conduct world-renowned Rawleigh Home Service business in Washington, D. C., Counties of Prince Georges, Charles and St. Marys; reliable hustler can start earning $35 weekly and increase rapidly. Write immediately Rawleigh Co., Dept. DC-1-S, Chester, Pa.

SALESMEN—AGENTS 20

SALESMEN—Sell customed tailored guaranteed shirts to consumer. $1 each; advance cash commissions. Write for sample outfit. F. & F. Shirt Co., 1141 Broadway, New York City.

SIGN SALESMEN, agents; absolutely new; Motorless Neonlike Display Signs; sell retail stores; largest comm.; sure seller. Rotating Neonlike Products, 8 W. Broadway, New York.

51 MILES ON A GALLON?
New gas saver-engine oiler; saves gas, oil; faster speed; nothing like it; low price; easy seller; every autoist buys; 230% profits; one sent free. Write quick, Scientific, B-11, Wheaton, Ill.

SITUATIONS—FEMALE 21

COLORED woman; experienced cook or general houseworker; refs. 1324 Quackenbos st., Brightwood, D. C.

COOK—Experienced, to get evening dinner or day's work, or washing and ironing; refs. Lincoln 1483.

GOVERNESS—Swiss, French; competent, useful; physical care; teaches French, piano, languages, sport; references. Mme. Tricot, 35 West 67th, New York. SUsquehanna 7-7540.

LEAVING TOWN JUNE 1 AND WANT TO PLACE COLORED MAID; WITH ME OVER FIVE YEARS. EXCELLENT COOK, LAUNDRESS AND GENERAL HOUSEKEEPER. HONEST AND LOYAL. TELEPHONE CLEVELAND 8562.

PLACE as general houseworker or cook, by reliable colored woman; stay nights if desired. 1239 23d st. nw.

WANTED—By reliable colored woman washing to take home or dishwashing after 6:30 p. m. 1918 N. H. ave. nw.

PERSONS advertising for "Situations Wanted" are warned to exercise careful investigation of persons offering positions where cash deposits are required to secure employment.

SITUATIONS—MALE 22

BUTLER - COOK—Filipino; experienced; refs. Box 227, Washington Post.

BUTLER—Valet, cook; Dutch; for city or country; low wages. Box 225, Washington Post.

COLORED man will care for small apt. for apt. in return; good habits; excellent refs. Box 228, Washington Post.

HOUSEMAN—Settled; white; experienced as butler, valet and cook; go anywhere; best refs. Decatur 2172.

PASTRY COOK wishes place in store or hotel; 15 years' experience; excellent references. Box 205, Washington Post.

WHITE MAN wants work on farm, with room and board; waxing floors, cleaning windows and painting. Adams 0941.

YOUNG MAN, 26; col. ed., desires position as secretary or as companion-instructor to young boy or boys; willing to travel; 7 years' varied exp. accounting, correspondence, stenography; fluent French; traveled; drives car; very moderate salary. Box 241, Washington Post.

SITUATIONS—Male—Female 23

COUPLE (colored) want work as butler, chauffeur, chambermaid, laundress; together or separate; at present with justice of Supreme Court. Decatur 0210.

MAN and wife, janitor for apt. house or butler, chambermaid, laundress; city refs. Decatur 0210.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES 24

CHARTERS — Delaware; best, cheapest; granted day received; free forms. Colonial Charter Co., Wilmington, Del.

FOR SALE—The furnishings and good will of small desirably located hotel having 23 rooms and 8 baths, dining room and kitchen; located on Main st., Lynchburg, Va.; hotel continuously full. For further particulars write Walker, Mosby & Calvert, Inc., Box 47, Lynchburg, Va., or Mrs. Cordie E. Bunker, New Central Hotel, Lynchburg, Va.

FOR SALE—Established electrical retail business of over 25 years' standing. Stock consists of electrical supplies, fixtures, appliances, &c. Owner retiring from retail business. Wonderful opportunity to quick buyer. Address Goldenberg Bros., 717-719-721 N. Gay st., Baltimore, Md.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES 24

GET INTO your own business; learn how to silver mirrors at home; personal supervising by experts; guarantee results; small capital needed. Natl. 9737.

5100 GEORGIA AVE.
NORTHWEST CORNER
Opposite A. & W. Bar-B-Que. Permit available for Drive In Bar B Que and Frozen Custard Establishment
For sale or lease.
Phone Georgia 0216.

REAL ESTATE LOANS 27

FIRST AND SECOND TRUST LOANS
C. F. WARING,
1416 F st. nw. National 9172.

INSTRUCTION COURSES 29

FRENCH.
By graduate Parisian lady; rapid progress; moderate terms; conversational method. 906 14th st. nw. Metropolitan 1832.

DOGS—CATS—PETS 31

AT STUD—American pit bull terrier; registered and pedigreed. Whelan, 436 Jefferson st. nw. Georgia 4150.

GERMAN police puppies, 2 months old; one white male; cheap. Call Adams 6339-J.

CHOW PUPPIES.
Rare blacks; huge bone; best English and American lines; unusually healthy. 5905 Wilson Lane, Bethesda; Wisconsin 4893.

MISCELLANEOUS for SALE 35

BICYCLES—"Rollfast," other high-grade wheels. Bicycle repairing. Hazleton Bicycle & Sport Goods Co., 424 9th st. nw.

COMBINATION lady's lace pin and saintor platinum and diamond and chain; also solitaire; weight 4½ ct.; perfect and white; cost, $4,500; sacrifice for cash. Phone Bowie 28-F-14 any time.

DIAMOND—2½ Carat Solitaire "Blue-White" Diamond Ring. Finest cut and brilliancy. Party must sacrifice. $290. Kahn Optical Co., 617 7th st. nw.

DIAMOND—1 Carat Solitaire Diamond Ring. Cost $225. Party needs cash. $110. Kahn Optical Co., 617 7th st. nw.

DIAMOND solitaire; 2 kt.; white; perfect emerald cut; cost, $1,500; sell, $500. Box 243, Washington Post.

DIAMOND—½ carat and 12 points. Solitaire Diamond Ring. Blue-White. Unusual bargain. $50. Kahn Optical Co., 617 7th st. nw.

DIAMOND PLATINUM BRACELET—Finest quality and workmanship. Cost $1,600. Party will sacrifice. $450. Kahn Optical Co., 617 7th st. nw.

DIAMOND solitaire; 1 kt.; white; perfect; cost, $600; sell, $150. Box 234, Washington Post.

DIAMOND platinum dinner ring; cost, $350; sell, $100. Box 239 Washington Post.

DIAMOND PLATINUM Baguette Wrist Watch and Diamond Bracelet. Newest design. Cost $325. Must be sold. $150. Kahn Optical Co., 617 7th st. nw.

JUST pledged $3,500 worth of jewelry for $600; will sacrifice ticket if sold immediately. Box 237, Washington Post.

MISSION SET—7 pieces; 2 crex rugs, 9x12; suitable for cottage; kitchen table; $15 lot. 1720 Euclid st. nw.

PIANOS FOR RENT—Uprights and grands. Ask about our new special offer. Nat. 3659. W. W. Kimball Co., 721 11th st. nw.

PIANO—The Kimball, praised by past and present famous musicians. Emil Liebling, pianist-composer, said: "The Kimball meets my requirements in every respect." The late models in Kimball uprights and grands on display at Kimball Hall, 721 11th st. nw.

PIANO—Hinze upright; beautiful plain mahogany case; like new; taken in trade on a new Kimball; our price for quick disposal, $135. Special rental-purchase terms arranged for time buyers. Nat. 3659. W. W. Kimball Co., 721 11th st. nw.

WASHING MACHINE—"Voss" demonstrators; 6 regular $59.50 at $47.50; only $2.50 down; $4 per month. Barber & Ross, 11th and G sts. nw.

WATCH—$60, Hamilton 21-Jewel Open-Face Watch. $25. Kahn Optical Co., 617 7th st. nw.

1.48 CT. PERFECT marquise platinum diamond ring; cost $650; sell for $275; also platinum - and - diamond sapphire bracelet; lady needs money at once. Box 236, Washington Post.

RECONDITIONED
SEWING MACHINES
SINGERS and WHITES
As Low as $5.95
We clean, adjust and repair any make. Phone Met. 0952 for estimate.
White Sewing Machine Co.,
800 H St. NW. Met. 0952

WANTED—MISCELLANEOUS 36

BOOKS—All kinds. Bring them or call. Met. 5415. Pearlman's 933 G nw.

GOLD, SILVER, WATCHES
Diamonds and Old Jewelry needed for our mfg. dept. Full cash value paid
SELINGER'S, 818 F ST. NW.

COUNTRY BOARD 39

MODERN home, 15 miles from Capitol; modern improvements; excellent table; special diet; terms, $10 and $12.50 per week. Address Locust Hill, Mitchellville Md.; Bowie 23-F-14.

NEAR Frederick—Place to relax and rest; porches, trees, city comforts. Mrs. Roy J. Hyndman, Box 275, Frederick, Md.

ROOMS—FURNISHED 42

ARIZONA HOTEL—310 C st. nw., block off Pa. ave.; neatly furnished rooms; lobby; 3 baths on each floor; shower bath; continuous hot water; $4 week up; transients, 75c to $1.

ATTRACTIVE, large, bright room; next bath; in private home; half block from cars and bus; rent reasonable. 1608 Hobart st. nw. Col. 5385.

ATTRACTIVE single, double room; next bath; in physician's quiet home; reasonable; every convenience. 1747 P st. nw.

BANCROFT PLACE NW., 2111 (off Conn. ave. and S)—Sunny room, running water; next shower; $5. No. 6993, after 5.

BEAUTIFUL homey rooms, single or en suite; well furn.; fireplaces; also unusual 1 or 2 rms., k., b.; clean, quiet; refs. 1626 17th st. nw.

BELMONT RD. NW., 1816—Newly furn. room; adj. bath; $5; also fine small room, $4; quiet home. Col. 6304-J.

BEST Northwest section, new corner home; unusually pleasant, cool double room; private lavatory; c. h. w.; reasonable. 5201 Kans. ave.; 20 minute downtown; 8th and Emerson bus.

BROOKLAND—4 rooms, bath porch; nicely furnished; on car line. 925 Monroe st. ne.

CALVERT ST. NW., 1842—Nr. 18th st. and Col. rd. Attractive outside double rms., $3 person up; transients, $1; parking.

CLEAN, well-furnished housekeeping and single rooms; rent reasonable; first week free. 450 H st. nw.

COL. RD., 1736—Apt. 102. Attractive rm. in refined home; for lady; $18; also rm. (5 windows), bath; for 2. Col. 8099.

COLUMBIA RD., 1860 (Apt. 403)—Pleasant, comfortably furnished room for one or two people. Col. 0610.

CONN. AVE., 5115—Attractive, large, bright room; overlooking flower garden; semipriv. bath; gentleman. Emer 8692

CENTRAL LOCATION (1314 15th st. nw., Apt. 3)—Attractive corner front room, double or single; permanent or transient.

D ST. NE., 1501—2 rooms, kitchen and bath; for l. h. k.; clean, cozy and modern; private entrance; adults; quiet home.

DECATUR PLACE, 2234 (between Mass. and Conn. aves., at S)—Large bed-living room, $25; bedroom, $16; convenient to car and bus and within walking distance.

DOWNTOWN—Attract. 1-2 rm. apts.; also delightful suite, 2 r., b. (4 exposures); bright bed-liv. r.; refs. 1717 De Sales.

DUPONT CIRCLE (1620 19th)—Clean, cozy housekeeping rm.; near bath; cont. hot water; quiet home.

EUCLID ST. NW., 1348—Apt. 24. Room; suitable for 2; reasonable. Ad. 4036-M.

EYE ST. NW., 1529—Modern home; single and double; twin beds; newly decorated; new furniture; prices reasonable.

GEORGETOWN, 3048 N St. nw.—Large, bright room; housekeeping; semiprivate bath; quiet, refined woman; $20 month.

EAST CAPITOL ST., 204—Wanted congenial young man to room with another; twin beds; next bath; new private home.

GRANT PLACE NW., 920—Nice front rm.; running water; $5 week; others, $3 and $3.50.

H ST. NW., 2102—Nicely furnished room, with kitchen; 2d floor, near bath; for 2 adults; reasonable. West 1159-J.

LANIER PL. NW., 1775—Rooms with porch, $3 and $4 per week; basement room, $20 month.

ROOMS—FURNISHED 42

IF YOU are coming to New York, call on or write to New York Herald Tribune for best list of personally inspected rooms or small suites; no obligation for this service.

K ST. NW., 1627—Handsome house; single or double rooms, private bath, showers; central; near Carlton Hotel; men only.

KANSAS AVE. NW., 5624—Attractive room in best nw. section; in new home; every convenience; garage if desired; rent reasonable. Phone Ga. 5230-J.

KLINGLE RD., 2013—Delightful room facing park; private home; sleeping porch; near bath; $10 month; meals optional. Ad. 1709

MASS. AVE. NW., 1229—Large front room, single beds; also single room.

MASS. AVE.NW., 1501—New management; several desirable rooms for respectable people; clean, cool; $4, $5, $6 weekly.

MASS. AVE. NW., 1414—Double room; for refined women; running water in room. Phone Dec. 5220.

MOUNT PLEASANT, 3204 18th st. nw.—2 attractive front rooms; single or double; convt. cars, bus, park, C. H. W.; reas.

N ST. NW., 1913—Large, sunny front room; 4 windows, hot water; telephone; private family; service; convenient.

NEAR Dupont Circle; l. h. k. apts., $6.50 and $8; gas and electricity included; next to bath. 1817 Riggs pl. nw.

NEVADA AVE. NW., 5708—Large room; nicely furnished; 2 exposures; in private family.

PARK RD., 1827—Delightful large front rm., private bath; in exceptionally cool house; also another corner room, next bath. Col. 10322.

PETWORTH—5004 7th place nw. Exceptionally beautiful large front rm.; priv. bath; suitable for couple; priv. home 2 adults; $25. Ga. 1827-W.

RHODE ISLAND AVE. NW., 1703—Large room; unusually well furnished; baths with showers, continuous hot water, plenty of linen; walking distance; single or double.

SHEPHERD ST. NW., 1356—Large room, sleeping porch; a. m. i.; twin beds; running water; adjoining shower; suitable for 1 or 2; private home; reasonable. Col. 4439-W.

SUBURBAN—410 Georgetown rd., Bethesda. Large rm., private bath; $25; breakfast will be given; rent June 1. Bradley 221-R.

THE WESTMINSTER 1607 17th st. nw.)—Nicely furnished rooms; single and double; private bath; shower; elevator; reception rooms; reasonable North 2206.

TWO LARGE rooms, 3 single beds, bath; nonhousekeeping in private home. 1331 Harvard st. nw.

WOODLEY RD. NW., 2707—Attractive room, glass-inclosed porch, for 1 or 2; hot water; all conveniences; breakfast and garage optional.

409 G ST. NW., opp. Pension Park—Furnished rooms for l. h. k. or sleeping; running water, gas, elec.; references.

702 N. J. AVE. NW.—Completely furnished living room (day bed), kitchen with sink; suitable for two; $9 weekly.

11TH ST. NW., 1324—Two-room apt.; 3-room apt.; other l. h. k. rooms.

14TH ST. NW., 1125 (downtown)—Neat, small room, $15 month; near bath.

14TH ST NW., 3800 (Apt. 312)—Cool front room, private bath; private family; refined gentleman; $25. Col. 5558-W.

15TH ST. NW., 1332—Apt. 33. Cool, nicely kept; adjoining bath; light, cheerful; walking distance; gentleman.

15TH ST. NW., 1228—Room with kitchenette; running water; also single rms.; for ladies, gentlemen; reasonable 16TH ST. NW., 3321—Exceptionally attractive room; screened porch; near bath; garage; reasonable.

16TH ST. AND COL. RD. NW.—1648 Argonne pl. nw. Double room with porch; next to bath; well furnished. Col. 9157-J.

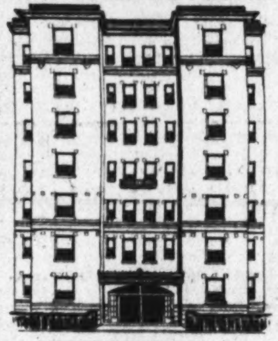
16TH ST. NW., 916—The Gordon Hotel. Under new management; light, outside rooms; elevator service; some rooms with running water or private baths; single rooms, $6, $7 weekly; double rooms, $8.50 up.

19TH ST. NW., 1813—Beautiful 2d-floor front; 5 windows; terms; also single rm.; h. k.; $4 week. Potomac 5132.

35TH ST. NW., 1416—Neatly furn. double room; access to private porch; also single room, $3 up per week.

MERRILL MANSIONS,
1361 Fairmont st. nw., top of hill; 14th st. car line; nice suites, bath, kitchenette; $10-$18 wk.; rms., $7-$10 wk.; day rates.

OVERLOOKING LOGAN CIRCLE.
1511 13th. Cool, quiet home; large, front; shaded by trees; single, $12.



The Manchester
(Under New Management)
Spacious rooms with bath; maid service; elevator service. $40 up per month.
1426 M St. N.W. Decatur 0410

ROOMS—UNFURNISHED 43

HOPKINS ST. NW., 1406—Near 20th and P. Third-floor front; $14; l. h. k.

Furnished or Unfurnished 44

5TH ST. NE., 624—2 or 3 fur. or unfur rooms; sink, garage, porch; near 2 car lines and bus.

17TH ST. NW., 3150—Entire floor, 3 rms.; bath; l. h. k.; 1 large rm., 2d floor; l. h. k.; a. m. i.; corner home. Adams 0574

ROOM and BOARD 45

BEAUTIFUL HOME for refined elderly people; lovely, spacious grounds; location R. I. Ave. and Bunker Hill rd. Atlantic 4065.

CONN. AVE., 1834—Well-furnished cool rooms; plenty baths, showers; ideal summer location; a good home; $35 each.

K NW., 1741—Ideal home for young people; excel. accomod.; $8.50. Met. 6076.

LIVE on a beautiful estate; 7 miles north of White House; free swimming and other outdoor recreations; wholesome meals; pleasant company; reasonable rates. Carroll Springs Inn, Forest Glen, Md.

LYON VILLAGE, 116 Wheeler ave. (Virginia)—Large, cool rm. in quiet, refined private new home; tile bath; shower; no other boarders; excellent fare; garage; transportation close; reasonable.

M ST. NW., 1709—Walking distance; pleasant home with Southern family; lovely large bed-living room; for ladies or employed couple; $40 each; also double room at $35 each.

MD AVE. NE., 326—Large, bright single or double rm.; near Capitol; best meals; very reasonable. Linc. 1357

MORRISON ST., 3733—Beautiful Chevy Chase, D. C. Single rm. with board; for young man, $40; references.

MORRISON ST., 3733—Spend summer in beautiful Chevy Chase, D. C.; single, double rms.; fine meals; large veranda.

MORRISON ST., 3733—Beautiful southeast double front corner room with bath, for rent June 1; home-cooked meals

NEAR Dupont Circle; attractive corner room; for 2; next bath; comfortable beds; cool, convenient, homelike; congenial young people; good home cooking; $35 mo. Dec. 4455.

PRACTICE your French; room and board with Parisian family; good location; reasonable; excellent meals. Potomac 0458.

S ST. NW., 1919—Attractive, cool room; home privileges; Southern cooking; $8 week; walking distance. Decatur 1909.

SONATA CLUB studio; beautifully furn.; day bed; dressing closet; also attractive apt., 2 bedrooms, living room, priv. bath, reception hall; suitable for 4 young ladies or gents; excellent meals; special summer rates. Dupont Circle, 1322 19th st. nw.; North 2733.

VICINITY Conn. ave. and R st.; 2 nicely furn. rooms, with private bath; all the pleasures of a home; excellent food and service; $40 for 3, $35 for 4 each Dec. 4455.

10TH ST. NW., 1126—Large front rm.; twin beds; other large rm for 2 or 3; excellent food; reasonable; gentlemen.

SCOTT INN, 1333 K ST. NW
Beautifully located; near downtown business and theaters; double and single rms., with excellent home-cooked meals.

THE EVANGELINE RESIDENCE FOR YOUNG WOMEN.
Several vacancies. Lowered rates.
1330 L ST. NW. NA. 7870.

BUSINESS PROPERTY—Rent 54

737 7TH ST. N.W.
Up-to-date store with 3 large display windows and 2 spacious floors. Equipped with modern clothing fixtures. In heart of business section. Long lease at specially low rent.
KAHN OPTICAL CO.
617 7th St. N.W. Nat. 5977

OFFICES—STUDIOS for Rent 55

2 1ST-CLASS ROOMS in law office suite; also desk room in same suite; 15th and K sts.; reasonable rent. Phone District 2475.

617 7TH ST. NW., 2d-floor front; suitable for professional man; rent reduced. Kahn Optical Co., 617 7th st. nw.

HOUSES—Rent—Furnished 57

CHEVY CHASE—For summer; 7-room house with porches and 2-car garage; in quiet, tree-shaded neighborhood. Wisconsin 4268.

WHEN you are buying or renting a home (or apartment), look for the General Electric All-Steel Refrigerator.

HOUSES—Rent—Unfurnished 58

FOR RENT—Chevy Chase, D. C., 6 rooms, bath, large veranda, Spanish type, made-over-new, $65; also 6 rooms, bath, garage, $75; also 11 rooms, 3 baths, brick, 2-car garage, near Rock Creek Park, splendid for large or two congenial families, $110; also near Chevy Chase Circle, 8 rooms, 2 baths, 2-car garage, $125. Fulton R. Gordon, 1427 Eye st. nw. Dis. 5231; eves., Clev. 4733.

WHEN you are buying or renting a home (or apartment), look for the General Electric All-Steel Refrigerator.

1218 RANDOLPH ST. NE.—New, 8-room house, double garage; near car line; $75. Key at 3611 12th st. ne. North 8968.

911 LONGFELLOW ST. N.W.
Detached frame house; 10 rooms and bath; a. m. i.; lot 50x150; immediate possession. Stephen, 735 14th st. nw. Met. 9616.

RENTALS—Out of Town 63

FAUQUIER, VA.—White Sulphur Springs. 5 room cottage, furnished; ½ acre, garage and stable; 1½ hours from Washington by auto. Write Room 1201, Cunard Building, Philadelphia.

WARRENTON, VA.—Furnished 9 room cottage, 17 acres; barn, chicken houses, garden, Fishing, stream through place. ½ mile from R. R. station; 1½ hours from Washington by auto. Write Room 1201, Cunard Building, Philadelphia.

SHORE PROPERTY for Rent 64

TO RENT FOR SEASON—WELLS, MAINE. 18-room colonial house, on country seashore estate, overlooks ocean from highest land between Portland, Me., and Portsmouth, N. H. Excellent beach; also river for boating, unusual opportunity for horseback riding on wood roads and beach. Bungalow on beach. Finest Guernsey milk and baby milk produced nearby. Golf links and yacht club within 15 minutes' drive. New York trains stop at either Wells or Kennebunk. Private stable and garages. $2,500. Apply Mrs. George C. Lord 2d, Wells, Maine.

VIRGINIA BEACH—Ocean front cottage for rent; $50 a week during June. Write Floyd Ward, Lynchburg, Va.

WANTED—TO RENT 65

LARGE HOUSE wanted; with large rooms and 2 acres of ground; to be used for school; $2,400 yearly. Box 206, Washington Post.

NAVAL OFFICER ordered to Washington desires to sublet for July suburban residence or apartment completely furnished; three adults, including maid, and two children. Box 207, Washington Post.

APARTMENTS for SALE 66

ATTRACTIVE 3-room, kitchen and bath cooperative apartment; south and west; corner bedroom; Frigidaire; reasonable. Dec. 2763.

BUSINESS PROPERTY—Sale 67

WHEN you are buying or renting a home (or apartment), look for the General Electric All-Steel Refrigerator.

HOUSES for SALE 68

FOR SALE—All-brick residence near Chevy Chase Circle, D. C., 9 rooms (4 bedrooms), 2 baths, 2-car built-in garage, being made over new. Will accept clear lot or small house and some cash, balance to suit. Clev. 4733.

WHEN you are buying or renting a home (or apartment), look for the General Electric All-Steel Refrigerator.

BEAUTIFUL CHEVY CHASE HOME
At greatly reduced price; 10 rooms, 3 baths, 1st-floor lavatory; 2-car garage; lovely grounds; 6100 BROOKVILLE ROAD; price, $16,500. Call Columbia 5416, between 7 and 9 p. m.; NA. 8113, Br. 33, during the day.

2800 ADAMS MILL RD.
For sale at LESS THAN HALF original cost of construction. Corner residence, overlooking Government park. Must be sold. Owner on premises. Col. 3159.

$5,975—JUST COMPLETED
1330 E ST. N.E.
A modern colonial brick dwelling, six rooms, tile bath with shower, cellar, hot-water heat, hardwood floors, screened rear porches. The most reasonably priced new house of this type to be found anywhere. Easy terms.
JOHN F. DONOHOE & SONS
314 Penna. Ave. S.E.
Realtors.

MASS. AVE. EXTENDED
4925
Truly a lovely home, designed to please the most discriminating; 7 rooms, 2 baths; deep lot, beautifully landscaped.
INSPECTION INVITED.
Price Reduced for Quick Sale, $16,500.
CHEVY CHASE REALTY CO.
4329 Wisconsin Ave. Emerson 3117.

FOR EXCHANGE 70A

WHAT HAVE YOU?—We make trades in Oriental rugs, furs, diamonds, jewels, antiques, stocks, bonds, clear real estate or equities, city or country—anywhere or anything of value in trade for fine California homes, business or residential lots, chicken ranches, small orange, lemon or walnut groves, small truck farms, or choice Las Vegas property, near Hoover Dam ($165,000,000 development). Write us frankly, bonded and bank references. Monthly bulletin. Thrift Properties Exchange, 1007 W. 7th st., Los Angeles, Calif.

SALE or EXCHANGE 70

FLOUR MILL—Excellent 100 barrel, with one run meal stones, bolting outfit and chopping mill; capacity, ton per hour; combination water and steam power; brick and stone building; slate roof; brick stack; excellent farming community; only mill in town of 20,000; prefer exchange for farm. Address L. O. H., Box 535, Orange, Va.

HOUSE—9 r. and b., a. m. i.; deep lot to ally; will concede lots or property. Mt. Pleasant near 16th st. Adams 8113.

SELL or exchange, $1,400 equity 6 r. and b. house; screened; h.-w. h.; garage; terraced back yard; flowers; pleasantly situated between Mt. Pleasant and Rock Creek Park; convenient cars and buses. Box 232, Washington Post.

LOTS for SALE 72

WOODLAND BEACH—3 lots, choice beach front. Box 226, Washington Post.

SUBURBAN for SALE 73

WANT cozy home on big plot of ground, nearby Va. and Md. hills at reduced prices on cash payment $250 upwards, then consult our Va. Specialists, Mrs. Chambers, 1004 Wilson blvd., Clarendon 1250; eves., Clar. 732-J-2, or Mrs. R. W. Truitt, Glenn Dale, Bowie 64-J for Md. N. E. RYON CO., 1216 N. Y. Ave., 3418 14th

SHORE PROPERTY—Sale 76

EXTREMELY attractive 3-room bungalow, front and back porches; good-sized plot; fine harbor and excellent salt water bathing; electricity available; one hour drive; small deposit, balance at rate of $15 per month. Telephone National 4955.

HISTORICAL Potomac River, Maryland, estate, directly opposite Mount Vernon, Va.; about 1½ miles water front; about 280 acres; also suitable for club or subdivision; will sell outright or consider subdivision with responsible parties. Telephone Wilson Barrett, National 4800, National Press Bldg. or see your own broker.

VERY PRETTY 5-room log cabin in beautiful grove, right on Potomac River; cabin cost $4,000 to build, land $1,000; health compels sacrifice for $3,000. Decatur 2598-J.

LAKE JACKSON
a fresh-water lake 10 miles long in the forested foothills of the Blue Ridge near historical Manassas, Va. Over 300 select Washingtonians already owners of summer homes and sites—fine fishing and boating. Come and see it. Home sites and acreage. Deal direct with owners, representatives. Cabins and summer homes built and financed. Phone or write C. W. Alpaugh & Sons, owners, Manassas, Va.

Wetumpka Lodge for Sale
Private country estate of 20 acres, on banks of Potomac—over mile of river front. Extremely quiet, cool and healthy. Very attractive modern lodge, in grove of old oaks, marvelous scenery and elevation. Two extra cottages, garage, &c.; all in finest of condition. Excellent boating, bathing and fishing. A beauty spot of W. Va.; very private. Will sell beautifully furnished or unfurnished. 2½ hours to Washington, D. C. Address M. I. Brewer, Falling Waters, W. Va.

APARTMENTS—Furnished 50

BEAUTIFULLY furnished apt.; in fashionable hotel; for 5 months. Call Natl. 3120, Branch 418.

COOL, BREEZY APT., 3 rooms, all outside; kitchen, bath; artistically furnished; available summer months; bargain to right party. 1673 Col. rd., apt. 700. Col. 8806.

APARTMENTS—Furnished 50

CAPITOL HILL, 127 4th st. se.—One room, kitchenette, private bath; cont. h. w.; 2nd floor; references.

CORDOVA—Apt. 115, 20th and Fla. ave. nw.; attractive, cool, 6 rooms; grand piano; June to November; reasonable. Adams 2852.

COUPLE or 2 girls to share attractive apt. (furnished); rent reasonable. Metro. 1233.

NEAR Capitol and Postoffice; beautifully furnished 4 r. and bath; modern; silver and linen included. Lincoln 0973.

N. H. AVE., 1625—Charming furn. bed-living rm., kit., bath., dressing rm.; closet; piano; Frigidaire; complete equipment; for 2 or 3; $55 mo. Dec. 4770, Apt. 814.

TILDEN ST. NW., 3020—Large 5-room apt.; 2 bedrooms, 2 baths; 3 exposures; attractively furnished; until Oct. 1. Cleve. 5334. Apt. 504-B.

THE EMBASSY—Apt. 501, 1613 Harvard nw. 5 large, bright rooms and foyer; completely furn., $125. Adams 6874.

THE BERLIN—7 Logan Circle, Apt. 32. 2 rms., kit., bath; unusual offer to discriminating persons; modern; adults; refs. Dec. 4030-J.

WHEN you are buying or renting a home (or apartment), look for the General Electric All-Steel Refrigerator.

WOODLEY PARK TOWERS—Beautiful 3-room apt. until October, $135 month; everything furnished. Phone Col. 5633.

YOUNG LADY wanted to share apt. with 2 others. Apt. 802, The Ravenel, 1610 16th st. nw.

1402 MASS. AVE. NW.—Ideal location, exceptionally large 1 room, kitchen, bath; 3 closets; suitable for 2 or 3 persons; gas, elec., included. $45.

16TH ST. NW., 1026—Nicely furnished 2-room, kitchen, and bath apt.; Frigidaire, electricity, gas and radio; reasonable.

1745 K NW.—Apt. 53. Attractively furn. apt.; southern exposure; living room, dressing room, kitchen and bath; $60 monthly; June 1 to Sept. 15. Dist. 8662.

1842—PARK RD. NW.—Living room, dining room, kitchen, bath, bedroom (twin beds); gas and electricity included; private home; garage; reasonable.

20TH ST. AND KALORAMA RD.—Cool 5-room apt.; all outside exposures; well furn.; available summer months. North 4218.

NO CHARGE TO PLACE YOU.
Furn. and unfurn. apts and houses.
NATIONAL RENTAL SERVICE.
1427 Eye st. nw. Dist. 6768; Eves., Ad. 0377.

RUTLAND COURTS, 1725 17th st. nw.
Two largest rooms, kitchen, bath, large reception hall; nicely furn.; suitable for 2 or 3; $65 for summer months; Frigidaire included; southeast exposure.

RAVENEL, 1610 16th st. nw.
TIFFANY, 1925 16th st. nw.
3435 BROWN ST. (off 16th) at Oak.
One to 4 rooms, kit., bath, dining alcove; $55 to $110. Resident Manager.

$65 THE MADRID, 18th & Kalorama rd.; cool, roomy 4 rooms, kitchen, bath; furn.; rent greatly reduced. Resident manager.

1882 Columbia Rd., Apt. 22.
Cor. apt. of 2 large rooms, kitchen, dinette, bath; Frigidaire; 3 mos., from June 15; attractively furn.; price reduced.

BENEDICK
For Bachelors
1808 EYE ST. N.W.
Meal Service to Rooms
Club Service
Two Rooms and Bath Single Rooms
BEST LOCATION
TRANSIENT ACCOMMODATIONS

CAVANAUGH COURT
1526 17th St. NW.

1 room, kitchen and bath; Frigidaire	$45.00
2 rooms, kitchen and bath; Frigidaire	$70.00

DUMBARTON COURT
1657 31st St. NW.

1 room and bath	$30.00
2 rooms, kitchen and bath	62.50
3 rooms, kitchen, bath, porch	80.00
5 rooms and bath; Frigidaire	85.00

NETHERLANDS
1860 COLUMBIA RD. NW.

3 rooms, kitchen and bath; Frigidaire, Nicely furnished	$100.00

Allan E. Walker & Co., Inc.
302 Edmonds Building.
917 15th St. NA. 2690.

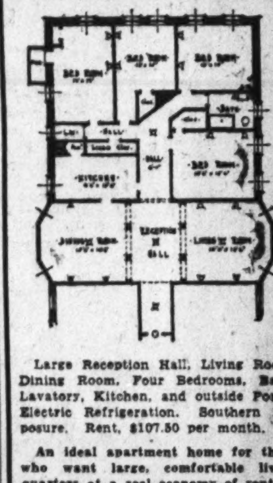
APARTMENTS—Unfurnished 51

HIGHLANDS
CONN. AVE. AND CALIFORNIA ST.
Best Located Apartment in Washington.
Housekeeping apartment of 5 rooms and bath.
Nonhousekeeping apartments of 1, 2 and 3 rooms and bath.
$50 to $130 Unfurnished.
$65 to $167.50 Furnished
All Outside Rooms
Highest Class of Occupancies
Excellent Dining Room.
Complete Hotel Service if Desired.
Rentals Include Electricity and Refrigeration.
Manager on Premises.

WESTMORELAND
2122 CALIFORNIA ST.
Just Off Connecticut Avenue
5 rooms, reception hall and bath, $122.50.
Cafe. Electrical Refrigeration.
24-Hour Elevator and Telephone Service.
Manager on Premises.

THE RICHELIEU
1750 Harvard St.
Overlooking Rock Creek Park.
Attractive apartment of 2 rooms, kitchen and bath. All outside rms. Rent, $60.00.
Elevator. Frigidaire on House Current.
Manager on Premises.

LINKINS CO.
1733 DeSales St. Dec. 2500.

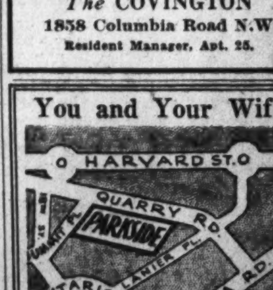


Large Reception Hall, Living Room, Dining Room, Four Bedrooms, Bath, Lavatory, Kitchen, and outside Porch. Electric Refrigeration. Southern Exposure. Rent, $107.50 per month.

An ideal apartment home for those who want large, comfortable living quarters at a real economy of rent.

The COVINGTON
1858 Columbia Road N.W.
Resident Manager, Apt. 25.

You and Your Wife



—will enjoy this cool, quiet, secluded place. Fine apartment house section. Modern 5-story building. 24-hour elevator. Free refrigeration.

2 rooms, foyer, kitchen, dinette, bath, $52.50

The Parkside
1702 Summit Place N.W.
Resident Manager, Apt. 101
Adams 1563.

Post Directory of the Capital's most desirable Apartments

Apartment Price Indexed Ads

$26 TO $43.50. EAST CAPITOL APTS., East Capitol St. bet. 17th and 18th. Under new management. All buildings are being newly renovated. Attractive buildings, surrounded by lawns and trees, in a desirable section of the city, with good car and bus service. Efficiently designed, newly decorated apartments, ideal for the individual or small family. Heat, hot water, janitor service furnished. A small amount of furniture will mean an apartment home comfortable in summer and winter at a rental that is within the average salary budget. 1 room, kitchenette, bath $26.00; 2 rooms, kitchenette, bath (some with dinette), $32.50 to $39.50; 3 rooms, kitchenette, bath, $43.50. Reserve one, rent to start on occupancy. Can be seen Sunday or during week. Res. mgr., Apt. 22, 1723 East Capitol. Phone Atlantic 3490. Take Lincoln Park car.
FRANK A. SIMON.
Southern Bldg. National 3668

$27.50 to $42.50. 219 H ST. NW.—Apts. of 1 room and bath; and 1 and 2 rooms, kitchen and bath. Resident manager.
THOMAS J. FISHER & CO., INC.,
738 15th St. NW. DI. 6830

$27.50 up. NEW HAVEN, 236 Mass. Ave. ne.—One room and bath and 1-room kitchen and bath. Kelvinators. Elevator. Manager.
BOSS & PHELPS.
1417 K St. NW. Nat. 9300

$27.50 to $42.50. THE FLAGLER, 736 22d st. nw. 1 and 2 room apts., consisting of kitchen, dinette and bath; 24-hour elevator service. Frigidaire on house current. Apply Resident Manager or phone West 0692.
THE MUNSEY TRUST CO.,
Real Estate Dept. Nat. 8080.

$30 TO $47.50. 1321 Belmont St. N.W. Near Central High School; 1 room, dining alcove, kitchen and bath, and 2 rooms, dining alcove, kitchen and bath.
SHANNON & LUCHS CO.
1435 K St. N.W. National 2345.

$30 to $42.50. CAMBRIA-MAJESTIC, 1324-26 Euclid St. NW. Convenient to shops, schools and churches, in the best Northwest residential section. Modern, well-equipped building with porches 2 rooms and bath, nonhousekeeping; 2 rooms, kitchen and bath apartment now available.
C. A. SNOW CO.,
710 8th St. NW. Nat. 1921.

$32.50 1311 11TH ST. N.W.—Third-floor 3 rooms private bath, electricity furnished. $32.50
GEORGE F. HANE
1422 F St. N.W. Nat. 3964

$35 up. GLASGOW COURTS, 330 R. I. ave. ne.—Superior Northeast location. Splendid corner building. Attractive 1 and 2 room, kitchen and bath apartment, electric refrigeration. Manager.
BOSS & PHELPS.
1417 K St. NW. Nat. 9300

$35 to $60. THE HIGHVIEW, northeast corner 13th and Clifton streets. Overlooks entire city. Elevator Service. Frigidaire. One room, kitchen, bath and Murphy bed, $35; 2 rooms, kitchen and bath, $55; 3 rooms, kitchen and bath, $60. See Resident Manager.
H. R. HOWENSTEIN CO.
1315 H St. N.W. District 0908

$35 THE LELAND, 2012 O St. N.W.—Apt. 35. Bright and cheerful bachelor quarters of 2 rooms and bath.
AMERICAN SECURITY & TRUST CO.
15th and Pa. Ave. N.W. Nat. 4815

$35 AND $37.50. 1329 BELMONT ST. nw., near Central High School. 1 room, kitchen, dinette, bath, and Murphy bed.
FRANK A. SIMON
Southern Bldg. Nat. 3668

$35 TO $65. THE CHANCELLOR, 214 Mass. ave. ne.—24-hour elevator and switchboard, electric refrigeration, resident manager; 1 room and bath; 1 room, kitchenette and bath; 2 rooms, kitchen and bath, and 3 rooms, kitchen and bath.
WEAVER BROS.
Washington Bldg. Dist. 9486

$35 to $50. THE BLAIR, 1321 M St. N.W. Special bargains in Apts., 106 of 2 rooms, kitchen and bath and 401 with one room, kitchen and bath. Elevator and janitor service. Easy walk to downtown.
H. R. HOWENSTEIN CO.
1315 H St. N.W. District 0908

$35 AND $37.50. THE CONARD, corner 13th and Eye sts. nw. No lease required. Cheaper than paying room rent. Downtown location, overlooking beautiful Franklin Park; 24-hour elevator and switchboard service. Resident manager. Na. 9070. 1 room, kitchen, bath, reception hall, unfurnished, $35 and $37.50. Also attractively furnished apartments.
FRANK A. SIMON
Southern Bldg. Nat. 3668

$36 TO $38.50. 2109 F St. N.W.—One room, dining alcove, kitchen and bath; in-a-door bed; refrigeration included.
SHANNON & LUCHS CO.
1435 K St. N.W. National 2345.

$37.50 AND $40.00. 412 3RD ST. NE. (3d and Mass. Ave.) THE ELITE. Desirable and conveniently situated to Union Station, Capitol and Library. 2 rooms, kitchen and bath, $37.50 and $40.00.
L. T. GRAVATTE,
729 15th St. Realtor. Nat'l 0753

$37.50 TO $67.50. 900 19TH ST. N.W. One room, kitchen and bath, and 2 rooms, kitchen and bath; refrigeration included; telephone switchboard; 2 elevators. Manager on premises.
SHANNON & LUCHS CO.
1435 K St. N.W. National 2345.

$37.50 1314 14TH ST. N.W.—Central—3 rooms, kit., bath. Manager on premises.
BOSS & PHELPS.
1417 K St. NW. Nat. 9300

$37.50 AND $40—1430 G ST. N.E.—General Electric refrigeration service free. Desirable first and second floor and corner apts., two rooms, kitchen and bath, $37.50 and $40.
L. T. GRAVATTE, Realtor.
729 15th St. National 0753.

$37.50 WEST VIEW, 2123 Eye St. N.W. One room, kitchen and bath; Frigidaire on house current. Resident manager.
GOSS REALTY CO.
1405 I St. N.W. Nat. 1353.

$37.50 to $135. SEDGWICK GARDENS, Conn. ave. at Sedgwick st.—Where luxuriousness prevails. A beautiful new building with apartments excellently planned, combining luxury with modern comforts. Suites of 1 room and bath [illegible] rooms and 2 baths. Secretarial service. Garage. Resident manager.
WEAVER BROS.
Washington Bldg. Dist. 9486

$37.50 THE WILSON, 412 First St. SE.—Adjacent to House and Senate Office Buildings and Library of Congress. Modern, well-equipped apartments, featuring pantries and porches. 2 rooms, kitchen and bath apartment, in excellent condition, now available.
C. A. SNOW CO.,
710 8th St. NW. Nat. 1921.

$37.50 to $47. 2500 K ST. NW.—Apts. of 2 rooms, kitchen and bath. Electric refrigeration.
THOMAS J. FISHER & CO., INC.,
738 15th St. NW. DI. 6830

$37.50 UP. THE DUPONT CIRCLE Conn. ave. at Dupont Circle. Beautiful suites where sunlight penetrates every room. One room and bath. Ownership management.
DECATUR 6201.

$38 TO $45. THE EUCLID, 1740 Euclid St. NW. Electric refrigeration, 6-story building near 18th and Columbia rd. shopping section. 1 room kitchenette, Pullman dinette, dressing closet, Murphy bed, bath, $38 to $45. 2 rooms, foyer, kitchen, bath, $53. Resident manager.
REAL ESTATE MTGE. & GUAR. CORP.
1610 K St. NW. NAtional 1403

$40.50 TO $53. 524 8th ST. N.W. 2 rooms, kitchen and bath; refrigeration included.
SHANNON & LUCHS CO.
1435 K St. N.W. National 2345.

$40 1133 14TH ST. N.W.—Near Thomas Circle. Two rooms, kit., bath, front.
BOSS & PHELPS.
1417 K St. NW. Nat. 9300

$40 814 M St. N.W.—Easy walking distance of downtown section Apt. 3. 3 rooms, kitchen and bath
AMERICAN SECURITY & TRUST CO.
15th and Pa. Ave. N.W. Nat. 4815

$40 TO $47.50. HAMILTON COURTS, 2140 N st. nw. 4 and 5 room apartments.
J. DALLAS GRADY
Dist. 9179 1010 Vt. Ave.

$40 and $50. THE BELFORD, 304 F st. nw.—Modern building. Apartments of 1 and 2 rooms, kit., bath. Murphy beds in small units; refrigeration; manager.
BOSS & PHELPS.
1417 K St. NW. Nat. 9300

$40 to $60. THE WADE, 1201 13th St. NW.—Special bargain, new and up-to-date; 3 rooms and bath, electric refrigerator, porch and reception hall. See Resident Manager.
H. R. HOWENSTEIN CO.
1315 H St. N.W. District 0908

$40 THE RIPLEY, 1424 R St. N.W.—Quiet and convenient to schools and shopping center. Apt. 43. 2 rooms, kitchen and bath.
AMERICAN SECURITY & TRUST CO.
15th and Pa. Ave. N.W. Nat. 4815

$40 1109 14TH ST., N. W.—Central. 2 rooms, kitchen, bath.
BOSS & PHELPS.
1417 K St. N.W. Met. 9300

$42.50 AND $55. 1126 11TH ST. N.W. (Near Mass. Ave.). Walking distance Government departments and downtown stores. Elevator. Frigidaire free. One room, large dressing closet, kitchen and bath, $42.50. Two rooms, large foyer, kitchen and bath, $55. Resident Manager.
REAL ESTATE MTGE. & GUAR. CORP.
1610 K St. NW. NAtional 1403

$42.50 LONDON HALL, 1133 13th St. N.W. One room, kitchen and bath; Murphy bed; Frigidaide on house current; elevator and switchboard. Resident manager.
GOSS REALTY CO.
1405 I St. N.W. Nat. 1353.

$42.50 to $65. THE GUTHRIDGE, 2115 F ST. NW.—Apts. of 1 and 2 rooms, kitchen and bath. Switchboard and elevator service. Electric refrigeration. Resident Mgr.
THOMAS J. FISHER & CO., INC.,
738 15th St. NW. DI 6830

$42.50. 3220 CONN. AVE., between Klingle Bridge and Macomb St. Fine apartment house section. Splendid service. Free refrigeration. Garage space. One room, kitchen, dinette, tiled bath and shower. 1 room, large closet, bath, $32.50. Resident Manager. Clev. 0764.
REAL ESTATE MTGE. & GUAR. CORP.
1610 K St. NW. NAtional 1403

$42.50. 914 22d ST. NW.—Apt of 4 rooms and bath. Newly redecorated.
THOMAS J. FISHER & CO., INC.,
738 15th St. NW. DI. 6830

$42.50 TO $60.00. THE MARCHETA, 1121 New Hampshire ave. nw.—Desirable apts. consisting of 1 room, kitchenette, dining alcove and bath; 24-hour elevator service; Frigidaire on house current. Apply Resident Manager or phone West 0780.
THE MUNSEY TRUST CO.,
Real Estate Dept. Nat. 8080.

$42.50 to $57.50. THE HOWE, 300 F st. nw.—Short walk downtown. 2 and 3 rooms, kit., bath with shower. G. E. refrigeration.
BOSS & PHELPS.
1417 K St. NW. Nat. 9300

$42.50 and $62.50. WISTERIA MANSIONS, 1101 L St., at Mass. Ave. Apts. of 1 and 2 rooms, kitchen and bath. Switchboard and elevator service. Electric refrigeration. Resident manager.
THOMAS J. FISHER & CO., INC.,
738 15th St. NW. DI 6830

$43 TO $48. 410 15TH ST. NE. Two rooms, kitchen and bath. Frigidaire on house current.
EDW. M. WILLIS, Apts.
Tower Building. National 7479.

$43 to $62.50. MAMMOTH OAK GARdens, 1609-1611 31st st. nw.—Superb location facing old Dumbarton estate. Finely finished apartments of 1 and 2 rooms, kit., bath. Electric refrigeration. Manager.
BOSS & PHELPS,
1417 K St. NW. Nat. 9300

$45 TO $60. PARK TOWER, 2440 16th st. nw., 1 room and bath and 1 room, dining alcove, kitchen and bath, refrigeration included. Telephone switchboard. 3 elevators; garage in the building. Manager on premises.
SHANNON & LUCHS CO.
1435 K St. N.W. National 2345.

$45 and $57.50. THE ELLWOOD, 1421 12th St. NW.—Apts. of 2 and 3 rooms, kitchen and bath. Electric refrigeration. Resident Manager.
THOMAS J. FISHER & CO., INC.,
738 15th St. NW. DI. 6830

$45 1719-29 35TH ST. N.W.—Appealing Burleith locality. 2 rooms, kit., bath. Frigidaire; manager.
BOSS & PHELPS,
1417 K St. NW. Nat. 9300

$45 3620 CONN. AVE. N.W. (opposite the Broadmoor). 1 bedroom, living room, kitchen and bath. Free refrigeration.
FRANK A. SIMON,
Southern Bldg. Nat. 3668

$45 to $67.50. 2001 16TH ST. N.W. One of Washington's finest apartment houses. Located on fashionable Embassy Row, this splendidly equipped, triangular building offers three exposures. 1 and 2 rooms, kitchen and bath, electrical refrigeration. 24-hour service. Resident Manager.
NORTH 2363.

$46 and $48. 5338 COLORADO AVE. N.W.—1 large room, kitchen, dinette and bath, with porch; General Electric refrigeration; excellent summer location. Apply resident manager or phone Columbia 10014.
THE MUNSEY TRUST CO.,
Real Estate Dept. Nat. 8080.

$47 THE EVARTS, 1208 Evarts St. ne.—Something extra nice in this fine Northeast section. Very attractive apartments of 2 large rooms, kit., bath. Frigidaire. Manager.
BOSS & PHELPS,
1417 K St. NW. Nat. 9300

$47.50 TO $60. THE WILLSON, 1405 Harvard st. nw.; 3 rooms, kitchen and bath; refrigeration included.
SHANNON & LUCHS CO.
1435 K St. N.W. National 2345.

$47.50 1832 WISC. AVE. N.W.—Vacancy of 2 rooms, kit., bath. Frigidaire.
BOSS & PHELPS,
1417 K St. NW. Nat. 9300

$47.50 809 KENNEDY ST. N.W.—Brightwood—2 rooms, kit., bath. Electric refrigeration.
BOSS & PHELPS,
1417 K St. NW. Nat. 9300

$47.50 2133 P ST. N.W.—5 rooms, kitchen and bath.
WEAVER BROS.
Washington Bldg. Dist. 9486

$49.50 up. 4240 39th St. nw. 2 rooms, kitchen, foyer and bath. Electric refrigeration included. 3 rooms (2 bedrooms), foyer, kitchen and bath, $59.50.
J. E. DOUGLASS CO.
1621 K St. N.W. Met. 5678.

$49.50 to $61.50. 3432 CONN. AVE. nw.—Delightfully cool. Attractive apartment of 2 and 3 rooms, kit., bath front. Frigidaire.
BOSS & PHELPS.
1417 K St. NW. Nat. 9300

$50 LINCOLN ARMS, 5435 Conn. Ave. N.W. 2 rooms, kitchen and bath; Frigidaire on house current. Resident manager.
GOSS REALTY CO.
1405 I St N.W. Nat. 1353.

$50 1812 AND 1814 N. CAPITOL ST.—Special bargains. Apartments now being newly redecorated. See this offer of 5 big rooms, bath and porch. Cars and busses pass the door. See Janitor.
H. R. HOWENSTEIN CO.
1315 H St N.W District 0908

$50 THE RANDOLPH, 1372 Randolph st. nw. 2 rooms, kitchen and bath. Frigidaire.
WEAVER BROS.
Washington Bldg. Dist. 9486

$50 THE SUSQUEHANNA, 1430 W St. NW.—Modern building, adjacent to Meridian Park, close to schools churches and shops, between car and bus lines. 4 rooms, kitchen and bath apartment, in perfect condition, now available.
C. A. SNOW CO.,
710 8th St. NW. Nat. 1921.

$50 THE MADRID, 18th and Kalorama Rd.—4 large rooms, kitchen, bath; all outside rooms; newly decorated; convenient.
RESIDENT MANAGER.

$50 TO $52.50. 429 KENYON ST. N.W. One-half square from Soldiers' Home Park. Two second-floor apts. 5 rooms and bath, $52.50; 3 rooms, reception hall, kitchen, bath and porch, $50. Will completely renovate for responsible tenants.
L. T. GRAVATTE,
729 15th St. Realtor. Nat'l 0753

$50 2520 10TH ST. N.E., off Rhode Island Ave. Two rooms, kit. and bath. Frigidaire on house current.
EDW. M. WILLIS, Apts.
Tower Building. National 7479.

$50 up. THE WOODBURY, 3511 13th St. N.W.—Desirable neighborhood. Well arranged units of 2 rooms, kit., bath, $50 up. Best exposures. Frigidaire on house. Manager.
BOSS & PHELPS.
1417 K St. NW Nat. 9300

$51.50 and $53.50. DAHLGREN COURTS, 2504 10th St. N.E., off Rhode Island ave. Two rooms, kitchen, dining alcove and bath. Frigidaire on house current. Elevator.
EDW. M. WILLIS, Apts.
Tower Building National 7479

$52 3435 R ST. N.W.—Proximate to Western High; 2 rooms, kit., bath. Frigidaire; manager.
BOSS & PHELPS.
1417 K St. NW. Nat. 9300

$52.50 3010 WISCONSIN AVE.—Overlooking National Cathedral. Modern, fireproof building. Free Frigidaire with large, new cabinets. Elevator. All apts. in excellent condition. 2 large rooms, kitchen, bath, large closets, furnished dinette. Resident manager, Apt. 102.
J. C. WEEDON CO.
1727 K St. N.W. Met. 3011

$52.50, $65 and $72.50. ALTO TOWERS, Wisconsin ave. and Woodley rd.—New, bright, cheerful, modern apartments. Kelvinator, radio outlets, parquetry floors, resident manager. Schools, churches, stores, buses and car line at your door. A few choice apartments left of 1 room, kitchen, dinette and bath; 2 rooms, kitchen, dinette and bath.
WEAVER BROS.
Washington Bldg. Dist. 9486

$52.50. 54 RHODE ISLAND AVE. N.W. 4 rooms, kitchen and bath.
SHANNON & LUCHS CO.
1435 K St. N.W. National 2345.

$52.50 TO $75.00 THE GRAYSTONE, 815 18th St. N.W. This new and attractive apartment, easy walking distance of all Government departments and shopping area. 1 room, kitchenette and bath and two rooms, kitchenette and bath. Manager on premises.
M. M. PARKER & CO.
1223 Conn. Ave. N.W. Dec. 2861.

$55 AND $65 UP. HAMPTON COURTS, 2013 New Hampshire Ave. N.W. (Near 16th St.). Quiet location. Close to car and bus. Ten minutes downtown. 24-hour switchboard and elevator service. Frigidaire on house meter. 2 and 3 rooms, foyer, kitchen and tiled bath, $55 up. 2 rooms, kitchen, foyer, bath; completely furnished: $65. Apartments furnished if desired. Resident Manager.
REAL ESTATE MTGE. & GUAR. CORP.
1610 K St. NW. NAtional 1403

$55 and $59.50. BROOKLAND COURTS, 1210-18 Perry st. ne.—Quiet, homelike neighborhood; vacancies; 2 rooms, kit., bath, front apartment, $55; and 4 rooms, kit., bath, in good location, in building, $59.50. Electric refrigeration; newly installed shower baths, incinerators. Manager.
BOSS & PHELPS.
1417 K St. NW. Nat. 9300

$55 to $60. 6 APARTMENT BLDGS., 1433 to 1443 Spring Rd. NW.—Apartments of 2 rooms, kitchen and bath. Murphy beds, dinette. Electric refrigeration included. Resident manager. Adams 5598. Apt. 102. 1437 Spring rd.
THOMAS J. FISHER & CO., INC.,
738 15th St. NW. DI 6830

$55 TO $75. 1717 Columbia Road—2 rooms, kitchen and bath, $55; 4 rooms, kitchen and bath, $75; refrigeration included.
SHANNON & LUCHS CO.
1435 K St. N.W. National 2345.

$55 and $65. 1020 MONROE ST. NW.—Apts. of 2 and 3 rooms, kitchen and bath. Electric refrigeration. Resident manager.
THOMAS J. FISHER & CO., INC.,
738 15th St. NW. DI. 6830

$55 TO $62.50. NEWTON HALL, 1417 Newton st. nw.: 2 rooms, dining alcove, kitchen and bath; refrigeration included; elevator. Manager on premises.
SHANNON & LUCHS CO.
1435 K St. N.W. National 2345.

$55 THE HOME, 7th and Mass. Ave. NW., Downtown—Apt. 40, 3 rooms, kitchen and bath in excellent condition. Free Frigidaire.
AMERICAN SECURITY & TRUST CO.
15th and Pa. Ave. N.W. Nat. 4815

$55 TO $62.50. CHATEAU THIERRY, S St. at 20th NW. Apts of 2 rooms, kitchen and bath. Porches, electric refrigeration. Res. Manager.
THOMAS J. FISHER & CO., INC.
738 15th St. N.W. DI 6830

$55 UP. DORSTAN HALL, 4800 Georgia Ave. N.W. Modern building, convenient to car line and stores; free refrigeration. Two large rooms, foyer, kitchen, lovely dinette, tiled bath, built-in tub, shower, cedar closet, tiled porch; corner apartments. Resident Manager.
REAL ESTATE MTGE. & GUAR. CORP.
1610 K St. NW. NAtional 1403

$55, $65, $75. THE PLYMOUTH, 1236 11th st. nw. Ownership management. Refined adults; references required. No wild parties, cats or dogs. Elevator, 24-hour service. Refrigeration. Telephone connection. Clean, neat outside rooms, spacious closets, mirrored doors. Walking distance to Govt. depts., churches, stores, theaters: car lines and buses. 4, 5 and 6 room apartments.
RESIDENT MANAGER. Met. 8516

$57.50, 1730 CONN. AVE.—2 rooms, kitchen and bath. Frigidaire.
WEAVER BROS.
Washington Bldg. Dist. 9486

$57.50 TO $70.50. THE AL-ROY, 1615 Kenyon St. N.W. Excellent building, lovely lobby, carpeted corridors. 24-hour switchboard and elevator service. Two rooms, kitchen, dining alcove, tiled bath, built-in tub, shower, some with dressing closet and Murphy bed. Frigidaire on house meter. Resident Manager.
REAL ESTATE MTGE. & GUAR. CORP.
1610 K St. NW. NAtional 1403

$57.50 THE CONARD, Corner 13th and Eye sts. nw. No lease required. Cheaper than paying room rent. Downtown location, overlooking beautiful Franklin Park; 24-hour elevator and switchboard service. Resident manager. Na 9070. 2 rooms, reception hall, kitchen and bath, $57.50. Also attractively furnished apartments.
FRANK A. SIMON
Southern Bldg. Nat. 3668

$57.50. THE QUEENSBOROUGH, 1614 17th St. NW. Convenient walk business center. Large, airy rooms, freshly decorated; free refrigeration. 2 rooms, foyer, kitchen, bath; southern exposure. Resident manager. North 2176.
REAL ESTATE MTGE. & GUAR. CORP.
1610 K St. NW. NAtional 1403

$60 AND $65. THE LOUISIANA, 2123 18th St. NW., at Wyoming Ave.—Apts. of 5 rooms, kitchen, bath and porch.
THOMAS J. FISHER & CO., INC.,
738 15th St. NW. DI. 6830

$60 WINTON-STANLEY, 1409-11 Harvard St. NW.—At the top of Sixteenth St. Hill. Ideal location, close to churches, shops, schools and theaters. Cool, airy apartment consisting of 4 rooms, kitchen bath and porch; ready for occupancy.
C. A. SNOW CO.
710 8th St. N.W. Nat. 1921

$60 TO $68. THE ROCKLEDGE 2456 20th St. NW. Superb view of Rock Creek Valley. Public park adjoining. Charming corner apartment. 2 rooms, kitchen, dinette, tiled bath, built-in tub. Frigidaire on house meter. Resident manager.
REAL ESTATE MTGE. & GUAR. CORP.
1610 K St. NW. NAtional 1403

$62.50. 1361 IRVING ST. N.W.—3 rooms, kitchen, bath and porch. Electric refrigeration.
WEAVER BROS.
Washington Bldg. Dist. 9486

$62.50. FULTON COURT, 2551 17th St., near Columbia Rd.—Apartments containing bedroom, living room, dinette, kitchen, bath and porch. Electric refrigeration. Resident manager.
THOMAS J. FISHER & CO., INC.,
738 15th St. NW. DI. 6830

$62.50 UP. THE DUPONT CIRCLE. Conn. ave. at Dupont Circle. Beautiful suites, flooded with sunlight, concealed radiation, fireplaces, Westinghouse refrigeration, full tiled baths, tub and shower and circulating ice water. 2 rooms and bath including electricity Ownership management
DECATUR 6201.

$62.50 TO 69.50, 3220 Conn. Ave., between Klingle Bridge and Macomb St. Fine apartment house section. Splendid service. Free refrigeration. Garage space. Two rooms, foyer, kitchen, dinette, tiled bath, built-in tub and shower. One room, large closet, bath, $32.50. One room, rec. hall, kitchen, dinet, bath, $42.50. Resident Manager. Cleveland 0764.
REAL ESTATE MTGE. & GUAR. CORP.
1610 K St. NW NAtional 1403

$63 THE HARFORD, 1315 Clifton st. nw. 3 rooms, kitchen and bath. Electric refrigeration.
WEAVER BROS.
Washington Bldg. Dist. 9486

$65 up. 1616 16TH ST. N.W.—Eminently suited for the Nation's Capital. Desirable units of 2 and 3 large rooms, kitchen, dinette, bath with shower. Murphy bed and Kelvinator in each apartment. Switchboard; elevator: manager on premises.
BOSS & PHELPS.
1417 K St. NW. Nat. 9300

$65 TO $100. THE CLIFTON, 1336 Mass. ave. nw., at Thomas Circle; 4 rooms and bath to 7 rooms and bath: electric refrigeration.
SHANNON & LUCHS CO.
1435 K St. N.W. National 2345

$65 and $75. THE MOZART, 1630 Fuller St., at Mozart Pl—Apartments of 2 and 3 rooms, kitchen and bath. Electric refrigeration. Resident manager.
THOMAS J. FISHER & CO., INC.,
738 15th St. NW. DI. 6830

$65 AND $67.50. 4007 CONN. AVE. Attractively priced apartments in one of Washington's newer and finer buildings. Exceptionally well located at the northeast corner of Conn. Ave. and Tilden St.; beautifully landscaped grounds; elevator and secretarial switchboard service; built-in Frigidaires and kitchen cabinets. Built-in tubs and showers. Resident Manager Clev. 6335. 2 rooms, reception hall, kitchen, dinette and bath, $65 to $67.50; same size apt., with porch, $70, and with solarium, $72.50.
FRANK A. SIMON
417 Southern Bldg. National 3668

$67.50 DON CARLOS, 2007 O st. nw.—Special Bargain! Beautiful location, just south of Dupont Circle and within easy walk of downtown section; 4 large, light rooms, kitchen and bath; elevator; south front, and a refined, well-kept building. Open at all times. See elevator man.
H. R. HOWENSTEIN CO.
1315 H St. N.W. District 0908

$68 and $93. 1830 R ST. N.W.—Dupont Circle section. 2 and 3 rooms, kit., bath, G. E. refrigeration; manager; elevator.
BOSS & PHELPS,
1417 K St. NW. Nat. 9300

$69.50. 3620 CONN. AVE. N. W. (opposite the Broadmoor). 2 bedrooms, living room, kitchen and bath. Free refrigeration.
FRANK A. SIMON
Southern Bldg. Nat. 3668

$72.50 UP. EMBASSY TOWERS, 1620 Fuller st. nw.—A real inducement to comfortable living at moderate cost. New buildings. 1 and 2 rooms, kit., dinette, bath, with or without solarium—and 3 rooms, kit., dinette, bath, solarium. Electric refrigeration; elevator; manager on premises.
BOSS & PHELPS,
1417 K St. NW. Nat. 9300

$72.50 to $95. THE BRADFORD, 1800 K st. nw.—Downtown; 2 and 3 rooms, kit., bath, unfurnished. Electric refrigeration; elevators; switchboard; manager.
BOSS & PHELPS
1417 K St. NW. Nat. 9300

$72.50 up. SULGRAVE MANOR, 5130 Conn. ave. Ultramodern apartments under owner's personal supervision. Unexcelled 24-hour switchboard and elevator service. Electric refrigeration included. 2 rooms, foyer, kitchen, dining alcove and bath with shower. Open and inclosed porches. Resident manager.
J. E. DOUGLASS CO.
1621 K St. NW. Met. 5678.

$73.50 AND $75. 1921 Kalorama Road, Corner of 20th st. nw. 2 rooms, dining alcove, kitchen and bath. Refrigeration included; secretarial telephone service; 2 elevators. Manager on premises.
SHANNON & LUCHS CO.
1435 K St. N.W. National 2345.

$75 TO $140. 3901 CONN. AVE., just south of Tilden Street—Modern apartment of 2 rooms, foyer, dinette, kitchen and bath. Also 5 rooms, sun porch, kitchen and 2 baths, electric refrigeration. Resident manager. Garage space in basement.
THOMAS J. FISHER & CO., INC.,
738 15th St. NW. DI. 6830

$75 to $90. THE MONTANA, 1726 M St. NW. Just off Connecticut Ave., around corner from Mayflower Hotel. Within walking distance downtown. Finely equipped building. 3 and 4 rooms, kitchen and bath, electrical refrigeration 24-hour service.
DECATUR 2140.

$77.50 TO $80. PARK TOWER, 2440 16th st. nw., 2 rooms, dining alcove, kitchen and bath; refrigeration included; telephone switchboard; 3 elevators; garage in the building. Manager on premises.
SHANNON & LUCHS CO.
1435 K St. N.W. National 2345.

$77.50 UP. THE BILTMORE, 1940 Biltmore St. NW. Old-fashioned fireplace; great rooms that lend themselves to things colonial. Large living room and dining room connected; massive fireplace, porch. 1 and 2 bedrooms, kitchen, pantry, tiled bath, shower. Free refrigeration. Garage space. Resident manager. Adams 9493
REAL ESTATE MTGE. & GUAR. CORP.
1610 K St. NW. NAtional 1403

$80 THE BRIARCLIFF, 1862 Mintwood Place NW.—One block north of 19th and Columbia rd. Very attractive apartment, No. 302, containing 3 rooms, kitchen and bath. Electric refrigeration on house current.
AMERICAN SECURITY & TRUST CO.
15th and Pa. Ave. N.W Nat. 4815

$80 TO $175. PARK TOWER, 2440 16th st. nw.: 3 rooms, dining alcove, kitchen and bath; 5 rooms, bath and porch; 6 rooms, 2 baths and porch. Refrigeration included: telephone switchboard; 3 elevators; garage in building. Manager on premises.
SHANNON & LUCHS CO.
1435 K St. N.W. National 2345.

$85 TO $135. SEDGWICK GARDENS, Conn. Ave. at Sedgwick St. Where luxuriousness prevails. A beautiful new building with apartments excellently planned, combining luxury with modern comforts. Suites of 2 rooms, kitchen and bath to 5 rooms and 2 baths. Secretarial service; garage. Resident manager.
WEAVER BROS
Washington Bldg. Dist. 9486

$85 up. SULGRAVE MANOR, 5130 Conn. ave. Ultra-modern apartments under owner's personal supervision. Unexcelled 24-hour switchboard and elevator service. Electric refrigeration included. 3 rooms, foyer, kitchen, dining alcove and bath with shower. Open and inclosed porches. Resident manager.
J. E. DOUGLASS CO.
1621 K St. N.W. Met. 5678.

$90 THE RADNOR, 2901 16th St. N.W. At the corner of Columbia rd.; 5 rooms, bath and porch; refrigeration included; elevator.
SHANNON & LUCHS CO.
1435 K St. N.W. National 2345.

$92.50. 1921 Kalorama Road, corner of 20th st. nw.; 3 rooms, dining alcove, kitchen and bath; refrigeration included; secretarial telephone service; 2 elevators. Manager on premises.
SHANNON & LUCHS CO.
1435 K St. N.W. National 2345.

$102.50 UP. THE DUPONT CIRCLE. Conn. ave. at Dupont Circle Ideal location and environment in Washington's most modern apartment hotel. Owner management. Beautiful suites of 3 rooms and 2 baths with or without service pantry. Concealed radiation, wood-burning fireplaces. Westinghouse refrigeration, full tiled baths tub and shower. Circulating ice water. Hotel accommodations available.
DECATUR 6201.

GOOD PLACES TO LIVE

MODERATE RENTALS
OWNERSHIP MANAGEMENT

FALKSTONE COURTS
1401 FAIRMONT ST NW.
Apartments, 3 rooms, bath and foyer, to 5 rooms and bath, $55 to $85.
24-hour elevator and switchboard service. Electric refrigeration.

THE CORTLAND
1760 EUCLID ST. NW.
Near 18th St. and Col. Rd.
Apartments of 5 rooms, bath and foyer, $80 to $100. 5 rooms, bath, pantry and porch to sublet furnished from June 1 to Oct. 1 at a very low price.
24-hour elevator and switchboard service. Electric refrigeration.

2800 ONTARIO ROAD N.W.
NORTHWEST CORNER LANIER PL.
Apartments, 3 rooms and bath, $75; 5 rooms and bath with enclosed porch to sublet furnished from May 15 to November 1; 6 rooms and 2 baths, $135. Electric refrigeration and all-night service. Agent on premises.

2659 CONN. AVE.
Southeast Corner Conn. Ave. and Woodley Road.
Apartment of 2 rooms, bath and foyer, $55. Electric refrigeration.

2701 CONN. AVE. N.W.
CORNER WOODLEY ROAD
Apartments of 2 rooms, kitchenette and bath, to 5 rooms, bath and foyer, $55 to $135. 24-hour elevator and switchboard service. Electric refrigeration. Some apts. furnished.

PARK ROAD COURTS
1346 PARK ROAD.
Apartments of 4 rooms, bath and foyer, $73 and $78. Electric refrigeration. Some with porches.

VENTOSA
SW. CORNER 1ST AND B STS NW
Close proximity to Capitol.
Splendid apts. of 1 room, kitchenette and bath and 2 rooms, kitchenette and bath, $30 to $50.

LA GRANDE
607-615 4TH ST. NW.
Splendid downtown location, opposite Judiciary Park. 4 rooms and bath and 5 rooms and bath, $45 and $50.

THE CHEVY CHASE APTS.
AT CHEVY CHASE CIRCLE.
Apartment 4 rooms and bath, $75. 5 rooms and bath, $100.
Electric Refrigeration.

6TH AND K STS. N.E.
Splendid housekeeping apartments of 4 rooms, kitchen and bath, $45 and $50.

THE WOODWARD
2311 CONN. AVE. NW.
South end Conn. Ave. Bridge. Most attractive apartments at very reasonable rentals. 3 rooms and bath to 8 rooms and 2 baths, $65 to $200. Two apartments of 5 rooms and bath splendidly furnished, to sublet from June 1 to Oct. 1. Very reasonable rentals.
24-hour elevator and switchboard service; electric refrigeration.

CHATHAM COURTS
1707 COLUMBIA RD.
Apartments of 2 rooms, bath and foyer to 4 rooms, bath and foyer, $50 to $100. 24-hour elevator and switchboard service; electric refrigeration

CALVERTON
1673 COLUMBIA RD.
Apartments of 3 rooms, bath and foyer to 4 rooms, bath and foyer $65 to $100.
24-hour elevator and switchboard service; electric refrigeration.

BLENHEIM COURTS
1840-42 CALIFORNIA ST. NW.
Splendid Location.
Apts., 3 rooms, bath, and 4 rooms and bath, $45 and $60.
Electric Refrigeration.

THE VICTORIA
SW. CORNER 14TH AND CLIFTON
Apartments, 4 rooms and bath to 5 rooms and bath, $60 to $75. 1 room and bath nonhousekeeping apt., $25.
Some with porches.
Electric Refrigeration.

THE KINGMAN
423 MASS. AVE. N.W.
Very desirable downtown location: 5 rooms, bath and porch $70.

THE RAYMOND
814-16 22D ST. NW.
Convenient to Government offices. 3 rooms, kitchenette and bath, $40

THE DUNSMERE
2523 14th ST NW.
Apartments 3 rooms, bath and foyer, $50 to $60. Electric refrigeration.

ST. ALBANS
2310 CONN. AVE. NW.
South End Conn. Ave. Bridge.
Apartments of 4 rooms and bath to 5 rooms, 2 baths and foyer, $100 and $135.
24-hour elevator and switchboard service. Electric refrigeration.

BLISS PROPERTIES

35 B St. N.W. or 1401 Fairmont St. N.W.
Telephone Lincoln 1860 or Adams 8464

CONN. AVE., 2812—Apt. 1. Three large outside rooms; screened porch; awning; Frigidaire; partly furn. at unfur rental; $50 to right party. Adams 6326.

COOPERATIVE apartment, 1705 Lanier pl. nw., 2 rooms, dinette, kitchen, bath, phone Col. 3091. Key with janitor. Rent $40 per month.

NEAR CAPITOL—2 and 3 room, kitchen bath apts.; entirely modern; very reas.; janitor service. 317 3d st. se.; Linc. 5831

WHEN you are buying or renting a home (or apartment), look for the General Electric All-Steel Refrigerator.

3026 PORTER ST. NW., Apt. 303—Sunny corner apt.; large living room, bedroom, breakfast room, kitchen, elec. refrigeration; woodland outlook; $55. For inspection, phone Cleveland 6951-J.

420 LONGFELLOW ST. NW.—2 large, bright rooms; semiprivate bath; private home; reasonable; near cars.

1326 LONGFELLOW NW.—2 rooms, with double inclosed porch for l. h. k.; a m. i.

23D ST. NW., 1010—2 rms., kitchen and bath; $37.50; heat, lights, gas included West 0722; agent on premises. Residence. Metro. 1992.

RUTLAND COURTS, 1725 17th st nw.
Two large rooms, kitchen, bath, large reception hall; southwest corner; reduced to $65, including Frigidaire. One large room kitchen, bath, reception hall, $39 and $40 including Frigidaire. One room and bath $30.

DESIRABLE APARTMENTS ALL SECTIONS OF THE CITY

ALBAN TOWERS,
3700 Massachusetts Ave. N.W.
2 rooms, dinette, kitchenette and bath to 5 rooms and 2 baths, and porch, $60 to $155.
Cafe—Hotel Rooms, Furn. Apts., Drug Store, garage, Resident Manager.

THE ALTAMONT,
1901 Wyoming Ave. (At 20th St.)
5 rooms and bath, $150.00.

THE PONCE DE LEON,
4514 Connecticut Ave.
4 rooms and bath to 6 rooms and 2 baths, $85 to $160.
Resident Manager.

2000 MASS. AVE. N.W.
11 rooms and 3 baths, $500.

WENDELL MANSIONS,
2339 Mass. Ave. N.W.
11 rooms and [illegible] baths, [illegible]

2630 ADAMS MILL RD. N.W.
2 rooms, bath and porch to 4 rooms, bath and porch, $45.00 to $75.00.
Resident Manager.

1316 NEW HAMPSHIRE AVE.
4 rooms and bath to 5 rooms and bath $87.50 to $100.
Resident Manager.

THE WINDERMERE,
1825 New Hampshire Ave. N.W.
2 rooms and bath to 4 rooms and bath, $40 to $90.
Resident Manager.

THE HARROWGATE,
1833 New Hampshire Ave. N.W.
2 rooms and bath to 4 rooms and bath, $40 to $87.50.
Resident Manager.

THE SHELBURNE,
N.E. Corner 17th St. at S.
2 rooms and bath to 4 rooms and bath, $40.00 to $69.50.
Resident Manager.

THE ASHTON,
1436 R St. N.W.
2 rooms and bath, $30.00.

THE ROCKINGHAM,
1317 R. I. Ave. N.W.
5 rooms and bath, $70.00 and $72.50.
Resident Manager.

THE BAYHEAD,
724 3rd St. N.W.
1 room, kitchen and bath, $35.00.
2 rooms, kit. and bath, $55.00.

3314 MT. PLEASANT ST. N.W.
2 rooms, kit. and bath, $47.50 to $52.50.
Resident Manager.

THE WALRAFF,
3025 15th St. N.W.
2 rooms, kit. and bath, $42.50.
3 rooms, kitchen and bath, $55.00.
Resident Manager.

STUDIO APARTMENTS,
Near Dupont Circle.
Large living room with open fireplace, bed room, kitchen and bath. Reasonable rent.

CARLISLE COURTS,
1401 Columbia Rd.
3 rooms and bath, $42.50.
Resident Manager.

THE SEVILLE,
2129 18th St. N.W.
5 rooms and bath, $55.00 to $60.

2310 ASHMEAD PL. N.W.
2 rooms and bath to 4 rooms and bath, $50 to $70.
Resident Manager.

1665 LAMONT ST. N.W.
1 room, d. a., kit., bath to 3 rooms, d. a., kit., bath, $37.00 to $60.00.

4700 CONNECTICUT AVE.
4 rooms bath, porch to 7 rooms, 2 baths, porch, $85.00 to $170.00.
Resident Manager.

4701 CONN. AVE.
4 rooms and bath, $100.
5 rooms and bath, $110.
Resident Manager.

KEW GARDENS,
2700 Que St. N.W.
1 room, kit. and bath to 5 rooms, kit. and bath, $45 to $125.
Resident Manager.

3701 MASS. AVE. N.W.
2 rooms, dinette, kitchenette bath and porch to 4 rooms, kitchen, bath and porch. Rentals reduced.
Resident Manager.

THE McREYNOLDS,
Corner 18th and G Sts. N.W.
1 room, kitchen and bath, $37.50 to $45.00.
2 rooms, kitchen and bath, $50.00 to $65.00.
Resident Manager.

THE CECIL,
15th and L N.W.
1 room and bath to 5 rooms and bath, $40 to $85.
Resident Manager.

THE ARDEN,
1425 R St. N.W.
2 rooms, bath and porch to 3 rooms, bath and porch, $30 to $42.50.

THE PORTSMOUTH,
1735 N H. Ave. N.W.
1 room and bath, $35.00, to 4 rooms, kitchen and bath, $90.00.
Resident Manager.

3409-11 29th ST. N.W.
3 rooms and bath, $53.00. 4 rooms and bath, $63.00.

THE MARNE,
2400 13th St. N.W.
3 rooms and bath to 5 rooms and bath, $45.00 to $70.00.
Resident Manager.

THE KLINGLE,
Conn. Ave. and Macomb St.
2 rooms, dining alcove, kitchen and bath, $57.50 to $67.50.
Resident Manager.

2124 EYE ST. N.W.
1 room, kitchen and bath to 3 rooms, kitchen and bath, $42.50 to $67.50.
Resident Manager.

1811 H ST. N.W.
3 rooms and bath, $52.50.

THE ALABAMA,
1015 N St. N.W.
4 rooms and bath to 7 rooms and bath, $62.50 to $75.00.

1303 RANDOLPH ST. N.W.
1 room, dining alcove, kitchen and bath, $40. 2 rooms, kitchen and bath, $49.50.

THE EVERETT,
2127 P St. N.W.
3 rooms, dining alcove, kitchen and bath, $60.00 and $62.50.
Resident Manager.

1611 CONN. AVE. N.W.
2 rooms, kit. and bath, $50.00.

2222 QUE ST. N.W.
3 rooms, kit. and bath to 5 rooms, kitchen and 2 baths, $70 to $125.
Resident Manager.

A number of large apartments ranging in price from $115.00 to $1,250.00 per month

RANDALL H. HAGNER & COMPANY
MORTGAGE LOAN CORRESPONDENT
New York Life Insurance Company
1321 Connecticut Ave. Phone Decatur 3600
Nights and Holidays Call Clev. 4705

SPRINGTIME in Washington

The Argonne

WHEN you have selected an apartment at the Argonne, you are assured of a correct social background as well as a charmingly appointed residence, for which every modern device of architecture, decoration and management has been employed to bring you comfort and convenience.

This season offers a special beauty to residents of the Argonne who look down on lovely, blossoming Rock Creek Park.

16th and Columbia Road

RAVENNEL, 1610 16th st. nw.
TIFFANY, 1925 16th st. nw.
1875 MINTWOOD pl. nw.
1 rm., kit., bath, din. alcove; 2, 4 rms., kit. and 2 baths; $38.50 up to $110; very attractive. See Resident Manager.

BEACON APARTMENTS,
1801 CALVERT ST. NW.
2 rms., kitchen, bath; Frigidaire....$52.50
1, 2 and 5 room apts. reasonable.
APPLY RESIDENT MANAGER.

Under Management of H. L. Rust Company

$30 to $35. THE AMBASSADOR, 1750 16th St. N.W. 1 room, bath. *MOUNT VERNON, 9th and New York Ave. N.W., 2 rooms, bath; 3 rooms, bath, kitchen. 1414 V ST. N.W., 1 room, kitchen, bath. *1244 D ST. S.E., first floor flat, 3 rooms, kitchen, bath. Clifton Terrace, 14th and Clifton Sts. N.W., 1 room, kitchen, bath. Drake, 2119 H st. n.w., 1 room, kitchen, bath. McKINLEY, 1831 2nd St. N.E., 1 room, kitchen, bath. ROCKSBORO, 1717 Que st. n.w., 1 room, bath; 1 room, kitchen, rec. hall, bath. *1414 V St. N.W., 1 room, kitchen, bath.

$40 to $45...DRAKE, 2119 H St. N.W., 1 room, kitchen, bath. 1473 IRVING ST. N.W., 2 rooms, kitchen, bath. CLIFTON MANOR, 2514 14th St. N.W., 1 room, kitchen, bath. TILDEN HALL, 3945 Connecticut Ave. N.W., 1 room, kitchen, bath; playground for children. ROCKSBORO, 1717 R St. N.W., 1 room, kitchen, reception hall, bath. RICARDO, 3625 16th St. N.W., 1 room, kitchen, dinet, bath. 3026 WISCONSIN AVE. N.W., 2 rooms, kitchen, bath. *1914 G ST. N.W., 2 rooms, kitchen, bath. 3701 13th ST. N.W., 1 room, kitchen, bath. 1414 V ST. N.W., 2 rooms, kitchen, bath. CLIFTON TERRACE, 14th and Clifton Sts. N.W., 1 room, kitchen, bath. CAPITOL TOWERS, 208 Massachusetts Ave. N.E., 1 room, kitchen, bath. COMFORT, 5504 7th St. N.W., 2 rooms, kitchen, bath. *CAMBRIDGE, 510 Eye St. N.W., 3 rooms, kitchen, bath. *IRIS, 1420 Harvard St. N.W., 2 rooms, kitchen, bath. MAYCROFT, 1474 Columbia Rd. N.W., 1 room, kitchen, bath. SOMERSET HOUSE, 1801 16th St. n.w., 1 room, bath.

$50 to $55. CLIFTON TERRACE, 14th and Clifton Sts. N.W., 2 rooms, bath; 2 rooms, kitchen, bath. CAPITOL VISTA, 211 Delaware Ave. S.W., 2 rooms, kitchen, bath. *124 WEBSTER ST. N.W., 3 rooms, kitchen, bath, inclosed porch. *JEFFERSON, 315 H St. N.W., 4 rooms, kitchen, bath. THE HADDON, 1930 New Hampshire Ave. N.W., 3 rooms, kitchen, large reception hall, bath. THE MONTCLAIRE, 1331 Belmont St. N.W., 3 rooms, kitchen, dinet, reception hall, large porch. 3701 13TH ST. N.W., 2 rooms, kitchen, dinet, bath. IRIS, 1420 Harvard St. N.W., 3 rooms, kitchen, bath, inclosed porch. ROCKSBORO, 1717 R St. N.W., 2 rooms, kitchen, reception hall, bath. WARRINGTON, 1801 Wyoming Ave. N.W., 2 rooms, kitchen, bath. McKINLEY, 1831 2nd St. N.E., 2 rooms, kitchen, bath. AMBASSADORE, 1750 16th St. N.W., 1 room, kitchen, bath. PASADENA, 2633 Adams Mill Rd. N.W., 2 rooms, kitchen, bath. CAPITOL TOWERS, 208 Mass. Ave. N.E., 1 room, kitchen, bath. CLEVELAND, 3039 Macomb St. N.W., 2 rooms, kitchen, bath. CLIFTON MANOR, 2514 14th N.W., 2 rooms, kitchen, bath. *CORA, 3267 N St. N.W.—4 rooms, kitchen, bath. MAYCROFT, 1474 Columbia Rd. N.W., 2 rooms, kit., bath. WILMINGTON, 1811 Wyoming Ave. N.W., 3 rooms, kitchen, bath. 1447 CHAPIN ST. N.W., 2 rooms, kitchen, bath. *1914 G St. N.W., 2 rooms, kitchen, bath. 2530 QUE ST. N.W., 3 rooms, kitchen, bath.

$60 to $65. *1425 CHAPIN ST. N.W., 4 rooms, kitchen, bath, 2530 QUE ST. N.W., 3 rooms, kitchen, bath. WILMINGTON, 1811 Wyoming Ave. N.W., 3 rooms, kitchen, bath. TILDEN HALL, 3945 Connecticut Ave., 2 rooms, kitchen, bath; playgrounds for children. 3800 14TH ST. N.W., 2 rooms, kitchen, bath, inclosed sleeping porch. 3701 13TH ST. N.W., 2 rooms, kitchen, bath, inclosed sleeping porch; 3 rooms, kitchen, bath. THE ALWYN, 1882 Columbia Rd. N.W., 2 rooms, kitchen, bath. CLIFTON MANOR, 2514 14th St. N.W., 2 rooms, kitchen, bath. THE AVALON, 2627 Adams Mill Rd. N.W., 3 rooms, kitchen, bath. 1800 EYE ST. N.W., 2 rooms, bath (no kitchen). 3026 WISCONSIN AVE. N.W., 3 rooms, kitchen, bath. 1414 V ST. N.W., 3 rooms, kitchen, bath. CAPITOL TOWERS, 208 Mass. Ave. N.E., 2 rooms, kitchen, dinet, bath, porch; 3 rooms, kitchen, bath, porch. *HADDON, 1930 New Hampshire Ave. N.W., 3 rooms, kitchen, reception hall, bath. *IRIS, 1420 Harvard St. N.W., 3 rooms, kitchen, bath, porch. MAYCROFT, 1474 Columbia Rd. N.W., 2 rooms, kitchen, bath. PASADENA, 2633 Adams Mill Rd. N.W., 4 rooms, kitchen, bath. 2401 CALVERT ST. N.W., 2 rooms, kitchen, bath. 1016 16th ST. N.W., 3 rooms, kitchen, bath.

$70 to $75. THE PASADENA, 2633 Adams Mill Rd. N.W., 4 rooms, kitchen, bath. 1800 EYE ST. N.W., 2 rooms, kitchen, bath. ALBERT, 1825 F St. N.W., 4 rooms, kitchen, bath. 3800 14TH ST. N.W., 3 rooms, kitchen, bath. CAPITOL TOWERS, 208 Massachusetts Ave. N.E., 2 rooms, kitchen, dinet, bath, porch. WARRINGTON, 1801 Wyoming Ave. N.W., 5 rooms, kitchen, bath. WAKEFIELD HALL, 2101 New Hampshire Ave. N.W., 2 rooms, kitchen, dinet, bath. THE AMBASSADOR, 1750 16th St. N.W., 2 rooms, kitchen, bath. CLEVELAND, 3039 Macomb St. N.W., 3 rooms, kitchen, bath. THE AVALON, 2627 Adams Mill Rd. N.W., 4 rooms, kitchen, bath. CLIFTON TERRACE, 14th and Clifton Sts. N.W., 3 rooms, kitchen, bath. IROQUOIS, 1410 M St. N.W., 4 rooms, kitchen, bath. ALWYN, 1882 Col. Rd. N.W., 3 rooms, kitchen, bath. TILDEN HALL, 3945 Conn. Ave. N.W., 3 rooms, kitchen, bath. 2401 CALVERT ST. N.W., 2 rooms, kitchen and bath. 1016 16th ST. N.W., 3 rooms, kitchen, bath.

$80 to $85. THE ALWYN, 1882 Columbia Rd. N.W., 3 rooms, kitchen, bath. RICARDO, 3625 16th St. N.W., 3 rooms, kitchen, bath, porch. 1016 16TH ST. N.W., 3 rooms, kitchen, bath.

$90 to $95. IMPERIAL, 1763 Columbia Rd. N.W., 4 rooms, kitchen, bath, porch. 1016 16TH ST., 3 rooms, kitchen, dressing room, bath. FLORENCE COURT (West) 2205 California St. N.W., 4 rooms, kitchen, bath. THE MAYCROFT, 1474 Columbia Rd. N.W., 4 rooms, kitchen, bath. THE ALWYN, 1882 Columbia Rd. N.W., 4 rooms, kitchen, bath. SOMERSET HOUSE, 1801 16th St. N.W., 3 rooms, kitchen, bath.

$100 to $115. WAKEFIELD HALL, 2101 New Hampshire Ave. N.W., 3 rooms, kitchen, dinet, bath; 4 rooms, kitchen, 2 baths. RICARDO, 3625 16th St. N.W., 4 rooms, kitchen, bath, porch. IMPERIAL, 1763 Columbia Rd. N.W., 5 rooms, kitchen, bath, porch. SOMERSET HOUSE, 1801 16th St. N.W., 2 rooms, kitchen, bath.

*Without Electrical Refrigeration.

A large selection of apartments from $115 up. These apartments are available in preferred northwest sections of Washington. Practically every apartment need can be supplied. You are cordially invited to call at our office or telephone.

H. L. Rust Company
1001 Fifteenth Street National 8100
Established 1889
(Member Washington Real Estate Board)

Read The Post's New Classified Ads

Fourth Section Page
Stage and Screen......1
Radio Programs......2
In Chess Circles......2
News of Theaters......3

The Washington Post.

WASHINGTON: SUNDAY, MAY 22, 1932.

A

Fourth Section Page
With War Veterans......4
Reserve Corps Notes......4
Take-offs and Landings...5
Fraternal Activities......5

Five New Films on View as "Grand Hotel" Continues

A MOOT QUESTION IS REVIVED—MEMORY TESTS—ART OF ACTING

By NELSON B. BELL

UNIVERSAL'S temporary withdrawal of the Rialto Theater from the cinema's front-line shock troops in the Capital raises again the moot question of whence come a theater's audiences and whither do they go when the playhouse throws off its light switches and hangs the heavy padlocks on its usually welcoming portals.

When a theater like the Rialto, for instance, joins the list of those in active operation, it is to be presumed that audiences aggregating a weekly average of from 20,000 to 25,000 persons will be attracted from somewhere. Are they proselyted directly from the box offices of the other amusement places in the downtown, first-run area, or are they for the greater part made up of individuals who stand ready at all times to add one more source of entertainment to their accustomed weekly round, let the strain on the budget fall where it may?

And inversely, when, as the Rialto did last week, a theater closes up shop for the summer, what becomes of the money that has been poured—or perhaps only dribbled—through its ticket wickets? Is it turned back to the strengthening of the personal budget, or does it trickle without cessation into other theatrical coffers?

These, of course, are questions that have never been accurately or definitely solved. It has been the observation of this department that when a new theater is added to the number the public is called upon to support, except in certain extraordinary circumstances, those already flourishing do not appreciably suffer. Audiences for the new enterprise always come from some unfathomable source, and it has never been determined with any surety whether they represent "new money" attracted to the theater for the first time, or merely a slightly modified allocation of thoroughly habituated "old money."

It is, I suppose, a matter that might be dubbed the Nebulous Hypothesis as well as anything else.

* * * *

Thus, while there is no assurance that the other temples of the motion picture will experience any tonic rejuvenation as a result of the Rialto's closing, at least they have the satisfaction of knowing that there is in the gesture of retreat no inherent threat that must be added to the early summer's already precarious outlook.

* * * *

THE Rialto's early surrender to a seemingly impending scarcity of film product of the first rank, can not but sharpen the contrast between the present era of economic harassment and the golden days that signalized the advent of Tom Moore's "Temple of the Muses" upon the scene of Washington's major entertainment, back in 1918.

Feature pictures capable of sustaining a week's run in a theater of the capacity of the Rialto were not too numerous in that remote period of a decade and a half ago, either. Cognizance of that fact was one of the controlling factors in the plans made for the inauguration and subsequent conduct of a house that was foredoomed to failure by many who deemed its location too far off the beaten path of theater traffic to serve as anything more heartening than an unequivocal augury of disaster.

Negotiations were entered into for every "super special" picture in process of making, or in contemplation for production, a full year before the Rialto was expected to be ready for occupancy. Many of these bickerings were successfully consummated—enough, so that when the Rialto finally threw open its doors it was able to announce the unbroken presentation of a group of week-run pictures of superlative merit while all of its downtown competitors still found themselves forced by less beguiling product to adhere to a split-week policy.

It was at this juncture in its history—when such features as Nazimova in "An Eye for an Eye"; Mabel Normand in Mack Sennett's "Mickey"; King Vidor's "The Turn in the Road"; Mary Pickford's "Daddy Long-Legs" and similarly distinguished productions of their day constituted the regular film fare on upper Ninth street—that the Rialto was recognized throughout the United States as one of the foremost prerelease houses on the continent.

In the sagacious selection and shrewd exhibition of the best pictures afforded by the industry, it was looked upon during its first year of operation as an undisputed leader by the entire motion picture industry.

There have been many successful enterprises since in the same field, but never, I think, has the Capital witnessed so overwhelming a success, or one so speedy, as was scored by the Rialto in the first twelve months of its existence.

* * * *

These casual reminiscences are no more than futile indulgences of a memory that is inclined to wander, unless by some miracle they might come to the eyes of those most vitally interested and suggest a way by which what was once the National Capital's proudest theatrical boast might in some season to come be made to experience a glorious and a rehabilitating renaissance. It never can be done by week-to-week booking.

* * * *

LAST Sunday night's testimonial performance at the National Theater served a threefold rather than a single purpose. It afforded more than three hours of enjoyable entertainment for those out front, it reimbursed the personnel of the National Theater Players for their self-imposed assessments to meet the demands of the musicians' union and insure a continuance of their season through at least the ten weeks originally allotted and it bore eloquent testimony to the mental alertness, skill and indefatigability of the gifted company assembled by Mr. Stephen E. Cochran and directed by Mr. Clifford Brooke.

These versatile thespians seem to be uniformly endowed with amazingly retentive memories. Preeminently does this seem to be true of Miss Leona Powers, the Players' charming leading woman.

Ordinarily it is considered an ample task for any stock player to carry in his mind all that must be stored there for the successful pursuit of his profession. Always there is one play being enacted on the boards, another being studied and rehearsed and a third skimmed through for its continuity and general "feel." Arduous mental drill is necessary to keep the requirements of a repertoire season properly pigeon-holed in the unmeasured cubicles of the human brain. All of the members of the National Theater Players apparently have mastered this prerequisite of their calling.

It was with the utmost astonishment that I learned from a member of the company that practically none of the material they had presented so flawlessly in the Sabbath evening performance had even been approached until about 10 o'clock the morning of the testimonial.

This means that George S. Kaufman's clever skit, "If Men Were Women," played so hilariously by Owen Davis, jr., Raymond Bramley, Donald Woods and Forrest Orr; "The Impertinence of the Creature," offered by Miss Bowers and Donald Woods, leading man, and "Trial By Jury," a short blackout enlisting the entire roster of the organization, were learned—both lines and business—in a matter of hours. And that, with three plays to be shut out of consciousness and for the time being forgotten.

Try it some time; it is an elegant trick, even if you can't do it!

* * * *

In the execution of the third of its triple functions the testimonial emphasized the possession by the entire company of that rare faculty of accomplishing a "quick study" that is palpably responsible for the unblemished perfection that has lent genuine distinction to so many of their first nights since the National's "little season" opened on April 18. This column is not alone, I suspect, in being able to recall other stock companies in the Capital whose first nights were prompters' field days, no less, with more lines whispered hoarsely offstage than were spoken by the harried actors on!

* * * *

THE most severe tests of memory during the first five weeks of the auxiliary season, it would appear, have been imposed upon Miss Powers, many of whose roles have entailed countless pages of lines—"sides," if you must be technical about it—with Donald Woods, leading man, a close second.

The proficiency of these two—and if the demands made upon them were as great, I dare say every member of the troupe would

Continued on Page 3, Column 5.

Warner Baxter, Karen Morley in "Man About Town"—Loew's Fox.

Dorothy Jordan in "Roadhouse Murder"—RKO-Keith's.

Douglas Fairbanks, jr., Mary Brian in "It's Tough to Be Famous"—Earle.

BAXTER-EDDY COMBINATION IS FEATURED

Warner Baxter is with us again, this time at Loew's Fox Theater, in "Man About Town," a Fox production many of the scenes of which are laid in Washington. On the stage this week are Wesley Eddy, master of ceremonies, and "Three Screens," a revue from the Capitol Theater, New York.

"Man About Town" features Karen Morley, with Baxter for the first time. It also marks another screen appearance of that popular star, Conway Tearle, recently seen in "Vanity Fair."

The production is based on the life of a real character in Washington's society, several years ago, who turned his mansion into a gambling house, which later became the center of one of the most astounding mysteries in the police history of the Capital.

Sophistication is the keynote of "Man About Town." It is a smart drama, with smartly dressed women and men and clever and sparkling dialogue. It shows Baxter at his polished best and Miss Morley in the best part since her splendid work with the Barrymore brothers, in "Arsene Lupin."

Many of the outside scenes in "Man About Town" are easily recognizable. Several of them are laid in the embassy section of the city and others around the Capitol. The picture is not an expose of anything, but is supposedly a true story of the life and love of one of Washington's most interesting characters.

Wesley Eddy, the ever-popular master of ceremonies, who has returned to the city for an indefinite engagement, has arranged another informal and highly personal program. You see him again with his tuneful songs and syncopating rhythms.

Heading the cast of "Three Screens" is Franklyn D'Amore, comedian, with his partner, Jack Lane, doing a knockabout act of merit. Chaney and Fox, the dancing favorites of two continents, offer a newly arranged series of steps that is winning applause from coast to coast. Joe Griffen, popular vaudeville songster, is back again with his melodies, this time featuring "Marta." Another well-known singer on the program is Stella Powers, billed as "The Australian Nightingale."

Phil Lampkin, conductor of Loew's Fox Orchestra, will offer a special arrangement of the overture from "William Tell."

Madge Evans, Ramon Novarro in "Huddle"—Palace.

Wallace Beery, Joan Crawford in "Grand Hotel."—Columbia.

NOVARRO AS A COLLEGE HERO IN BEST ROLE

Ramon Navarro attempts a radically different type of role in his new starring picture, "Huddle," now playing at Loew's Palace Theater.

His portrayal as "Tony Amatto," tough Italian mill hand, who enters Yale University, gives him an opportunity for some of the most aggressive and virile acting of his career. He spent weeks with a coach to learn football technique. In scenes of varsity games, he plays in a line-up with many famous all-American and other noted gridiron stars, including Enrie Pinckert, Jess Hibbs, Dale Van Dickel and Don Hill.

Many actual campus scenes at Yale were used as an authentic background for the production, which utilizes many of the old traditions of this famous education institution. The celebrated Derby Day and various class activities are employed as atmospheric details of the story.

"Tony Amatto," the role played by Navarro, is an Italian youth working in an iron mill. He wins a scholarship while a laborer and goes to Yale against his father's wishes. His native pride makes things difficult for him until he becomes a football hero and wins athletic honors.

Even then, while he is accepted socially, he is unpopular with other men at the university. Rosalie, daughter of an official at the mill from which she came, is still his ideal, but his boorishness has made him insufferable to her.

The manner in which the contacts and experiences help Tony to find himself forms a gripping theme for the feature.

The movie was adapted from a college humor story written by Francis Wallace. The cast includes, first of all, Madge Evans, and, among others, Una Merkel, Ralph Graves, John Arledge, Frank Albertson, Rockcliffe Fellows and Martha Sleeper.

It is a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production, directed by Sam Wood, who also did "So This Is College" and "One Minute to Play."

"GRAND HOTEL" IS HELD OVER A SECOND WEEK

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Grand Hotel," is still the attraction at Loew's Columbia Theater and is assured at least another week's run.

For those who may have been indifferent, "Grand Hotel," has in its cast such Hollywood stars as Greta Garbo, John Barrymore, Joan Crawford, Wallace Beery, Lionel Barrymore, Lewis Stone and Jean Hersholt.

The picture is adapted directly from the famous stage play and novel by Vicki Baum and is said to be a careful and studied transcription. Edmund Goulding was the director.

"Grand Hotel" opened at the Columbia on Friday, May 13, to capacity houses and has been splendidly attended from that time on. It enjoyed one of the largest advance sales ever rung up by any picture or play ever to show in the Capital.

A reserved seat policy is being maintained here. Showings are twice daily week days and three times on Sunday. Prices for matinees are 50 cents and $1 and for the evening, 50 cents, $1 and $1.50. Reservations may be made by mail, but not by telephone. The afternoon showing is at 2:30 o'clock and the evening at 8:30. The Sunday showings are 2:30, 6 and 8:30 p. m.

"Grand Hotel," according to Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer officials, positively will not be shown in any other theater in Washington this season.

Complete Cast.

"The Jewel Robbery," adapted by Erwin Gelsey from the play by Ladislas Foder, and costarring William Powell and Kay Francis, is now in production on the West Coast under the direction of William Dieterle. The complete cast of principals is as follows: The Robber, William Powell; Teri, Kay Francis; Marianne, Helen Vinson; Paul, Hardie Albright; Count Rudolf, Andre Luguet; Franz, Henry Kolker; Hollander, Lee Kohlmar; Lenz, Spencer Charters; Concierge, Robert Greig; Henry, Charles Coleman; the Maid, Ruth Donnelly.

Javanese dancer in "The Blonde Captive." —Metropolitan.

THE DEVIL IS LURED INTO A TICKLISH BIZ

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has acquired the motion picture rights to "The Devil Passes," the Benn W. Levy play which enjoyed a run of three months recently at the Selwyn Theater and was recently seen here at the National. Produced on the stage by Arch Selwyn, the cast included Mary Nash, Basil Rathbone, Cecilia Loftus, Arthur Byron and Diana Wynyard, who recently signed a long-term contract with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Levy has written "Art and Mrs. Bottle," "The Man With Red Hair," "Mrs. Moonlight" and "Springtime for Henry," currently to be seen at the Broadhurst Theater.

No cast or director has yet been announced for the screen production.

"The Challenger."

James Gleason, well known for his stage, screen and radio work, has been signed for a leading role in George Bancroft's "The Challenger."

A NEW CRUSOE STORY ON RKO CURRENT BILL

Since Defoe wrote his "Robinson Crusoe" some 200 years ago there have been numberless stories of castaways on desert islands.

Now comes "Cain," to RKO-Keith's, the picture being a sort of modern Robinson Crusoe story, with a beautiful native girl thrown in to provide the necessary romance.

Cain is a stoker on a luxury vessel With a curse for the society that offers him nothing, he steals a satchel containing jewels and escapes in a native boat. After much suffering he reaches a wild, desert island and later captures by sheer force a native woman, Zouzour, whom he takes to wife.

The big scene where Cain abducts the bronzed girl, throwing her over his shoulder and carrying her to his house built in a tree, is one of the highlights of the unusual production, one that is said to break away from all the Hollywood conventions.

"Cain" was produced on the little island of Nossi-Be, just off Madagascar, and the backgrounds are particularly beautiful. There are no faked thrills such as have marred otherwise good pictures. So perfect is the acting and settings that one really feels that Cain is cast away on the island.

In "Cain" there are only three essential characters—man, woman and nature—and principally it is the joys and sorrows of a man and a woman amid exotic backgrounds.

The motive of the picture may be said to be the birth of the human conscience.

Society may make a villain of a good man, nature reclaims him and in the end civilization loses him forever.

"Cain" is being shown as an added attraction at Keith's in addition to the regular feature, "The Roadhouse Murder," whose principal players are Dorothy Jordan and Eric Linden.

This Radio production tells the story of those events behind most every newspaper story which never reach print. It tells of a young reporter (Eric Linden) who, to convince his city editor of his ability, assumes the responsibility for a murder he and his sweetheart accidentally discover. From the moment of that discovery thrill upon thrill pile up to create a distinctly different sort of motion picture mystery-drama.

Keith's will also present Pathe News and a cartoon.

EVEN BABIES KNOW HOW TO NURSE A JOB

If W. S. Van Dyke's hair is getting grayer it isn't because of the troubles of appeasing the temperaments of wild animals in making such pictures as "Trader Horn" and "Tarzan, the Ape Man."

Persuading lions, elephants, cougars, rhinos, crocodiles, leopards and zebras to act and roar for the talkies isn't such a job after all, Van Dyke reflects, compared to the patience-testing task of filming scenes with a 9-month-old baby.

In "Night Court," his new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer directorial assignment, Van Dyke had to shoot a courtroom scene in which the baby played an important role. All the infant had to do was to be held in Phillips Holmes' arms and keep quiet. It chose to do neither.

Under the California law an infant is permitted to remain in a studio only two hours a day. Van Dyke discovered that most of the two hours was being consumed in trying to keep the baby contented.

The director, the child's mother, actors, property men and other helpers made faces, dangled watches, did stunts and went through all the known routines for making a baby laugh. But it wasn't until the two-hour limit was almost up that the infant decided to allow the filming of the scene to continue.

"Even babies in Hollywood know how to cry for an extra paycheck," Van Dyke observed.

"Oh, Sadie!"

Walter Huston, whose "Abraham Lincoln" was one of the highlights in United Artists' release a year ago, is practically set as the missionary in "Rain," which will be made on forthcoming United Artists program, according to advices from Hollywood.

"Rain," as previously announced, will have as its star Joan Crawford, the M-G-M star, who was borrowed by U. A. for the picture. Several other actors and actresses are being tested for the other principal roles.

GANGSTER PICTURE APPROVED BY OHIO BOARD OF CENSORS

"SCARFACE," Howard Hughes' sensational underworld picture, which has been shattering records for weeks in several cities of the country, has been passed in its entirety by Ohio, first of the States with censorship boards to take such action.

In a communication received today (Wednesday) at the office of United Artists, a clean bill of health was given to the Hughes picture. It was signed by B. O. Skinner, director of the division of censorship of the State Department of Education.

"Scarface" is now before the boards of the six other States which have censorship, including New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland and Kansas. Meanwhile the picture is being booked in the remaining States and already has played cities in Louisiana, Minnesota, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Missouri, Tennessee, North Carolina, Kentucky and New Jersey, and has opened in California.

Everywhere it is being indorsed as the greatest single factor in campaigns against the gangster. In Bridgeport, Conn., it was viewed by leaders of women's clubs and heartily indorsed. They declared that the picture "will do more than any other single factor in announcing indignation against, and bringing about the extermination of, the gangster," and added that it reveals the gunman as he really is.

The group included leaders of the Bridgeport Mothers Association, the Connecticut Congress of the Parent-Teacher Associations, the Fairfield County Republican Women's Association, the Bridgeport Chapter of the American Red Cross, the Bridgeport Art League and several school teachers.

FAIRBANKS IS FLANKED BY A UNIQUE COMIC

Roscoe "Stuttering" Ates, one of the funniest of comics, and Douglas Fairbanks, jr., favorite of the younger stars, will occupy the stage and screen, respectively, at Warner Bros.' Earle Theater this week, Ates appearing in person, as the headliner of the vaudeville bill, and Fairbanks, jr., in "It's Tough to Be Famous," his latest First National comedy.

Roscoe "Stuttering" Ates, famous Hollywood comedian, who made millions laugh with his character roles in "Cimarron," "Politics," "Ladies of the Jury" and scores of other hits, was formerly a vaudeville actor, and has brought to the Earle stage an offering which is said to be as entertaining as it is novel.

In "It's Tough to Be Famous," the screen attraction, Doug Fairbanks, jr., appears as a young naval lieutenant in command of a submarine, who skyrockets to fame as a result of a deed of valor performed in the course of duty

He is hailed as a national hero. He is greeted in New York after the fashion accorded the country's great aerial heroes. He is photographed and written about until the most intimate details of his life have become common knowledge. His marriage is sacrificed to the newspapers and magazines. His entire life is paraded before the greedy eyes of an adoring public. After a few months of testimonial banquets and hero-worshiping, the hero is permitted to return to obscurity by a strange twist of fate.

Mary Brian has the leading feminine role and the cast includes Walter Catlett, David Landeau, Oscar Ajfel and Emma Dunn.

Other acts completing the vaudeville portion of the bill are Allen and Canfield, two gloom chasers; the sensational Kikutas, Oriental wonder workers; Atlas, LaMarr and Betty, offering new dance ideas, and Maxine Doyle, mistress of ceremonies.

The program is completed by a new screen souvenir, the Graham McNamee talking newsreel and the Earle orchestral prelude.

The sinking of a submarine with all men on board, and the subsequent rescue of the crew, one of the most exciting and novel episodes ever photographed for the movies, is shown in full detail in "It's Tough to Be Famous."

Fairbanks, portraying the young commanding officer of the submarine, is trapped with his men after the undersea boat has been rammed and sunk by an excursion vessel. Because the submarine was sunk in only 80 feet of water, Doug is able to save his men by shooting them to the surface through the torpedo tubes.

With no one left to release him through the torpedo tube, Doug prepares for the lingering death which will follow exhaustion of oxygen in the submarine. His rescue by divers when he has lapsed into unconsciousness provides further thrills.

Good Policy!

Robert Young sold insurance to become an actor. He was playing in the Pasadena Community Theater, and took the insurance job so that his work wouldn't interfere with his rehearsals. It led to his movie engagement and appearance in "The Wet Parade."

A WEIRD TALE COMES OUT OF WILD COUNTRY

Have you ever wished to "go native?" Have you ever had a vagrant desire to be shipwrecked on a desert island? Nearly everyone at some time or other has had such adventurous and romantic longings. In "The Blonde Captive," the current screen attraction at Warner Bros., Metropolitan Theater, the camera records a startling tale of a white woman who went native among primitive savages and refused to be rescued by an exploring party, preferring her cave-man lover and cave existence to life among civilized people.

Startling though it may seem that a white woman should be living primitively in a cave, it was this discovery that turned the camera record of the Northern Australia Expedition Society into a drama of truth that was stranger than fiction, and gave the picture the title of "The Blonde Captive."

Dr. Paul C. Withington, of Harvard, and now of the University of Hawaii, vouches for the authenticity of this amazing discovery, for it was he who traveled 10,000 miles by water, land and air from San Francisco to the lonely northern shore of Australia to find a living human replica of a bust of the Neanderthal man of 50,000 years ago. And he found not only the face he was looking for, but the face of a woman with blue eyes, fair skin, tanned, and blonde hair bleached white by the tropical sun! A white woman the wife of an aborigine!

But before they find the "blonde captive" and the Neanderthal man, the travelers have many great adventures and witness many interesting sights, all of which are pictured vividly on the screen.

A new Karl Dane and George K. Arthur comedy entitled "Summer Daze;" a song cartoon, "Bosko and Honey," and the latest issue of the Paramount Sound News complete the program.

The expedition set sail from San Francisco, touched Honolulu, Bali, Pago Pago, on the island of Samoa; Suva in the Fiji Islands and finally Sydney, Australia. It was on that vast continent that Dr. Withington hoped to find living proof of the existence of the Neanderthal cave man.

Landing in East Australia, the expedition wished to go north, but had to go south and west to get there. Traveling by train to Melbourne, then Adelaide, and finally to Perth, the expedition took to the air. After 26 hours of flying, on the fourth day they reached the seaport of Broome, center of the world's pearl fishing industry. When a freight boat from Perth brought their motor truck the journey was continued across a desert, where they could make 40 miles an hour part of the time.

The truck finally gave place to a pearling schooner—not very roomy, but built for traveling the treacherous waters of the Pearl Coast and the Timor Sea, 900 miles along the most inhospitable coast in the world .

Vacation.

Miriam Hopkins, who has been at work almost constantly since she won her first film success a year ago with Maurice Chevalier and Claudette Colbert in "The Smiling Lieutenant," has been granted a leave of absence for two months and is en route East for a vacation.

A GUIDE TO THE PICTURES

THIS WEEK.

LOEW'S FOX—Warner Baxter in "Man About Town" (screen). Wesley Eddy with "Three Screens" revue (stage). Fox Movietone News and orchestra, with Phil Lampkin.

EARLE—Douglas Fairbanks, jr., and Mary Brian in "It's Tough to Be Famous" (screen). Roscoe Ates, in person, headlining the vaudeville (stage). Universal News, with Graham McNamee, Screen Souvenir and orchestra.

RKO-KEITH'S—Dorothy Jordan and Eric Linden in "The Roadhouse Murder" and added screen feature, "Cain;" Pathe News and cartoon comedy.

PALACE—Ramon Novarro and Madge Evans in "Huddle;" Hearst Metrotone News and short sound subjects.

METROPOLITAN—"The Blonde Captive;" Karl Dane and George K. Arthur in "Summer Daze;" song cartoon, "Bosko and Honey," and the Paramount Sound News.

COLUMBIA—Greta Garbo, John Barrymore, Joan Crawford, Wallace Beery, Lionel Barrymore and Lewis S. Stone in "Grand Hotel." Second week of reserved seat engagement.

NEXT WEEK.

PALACE—Greta Garbo in "As You Desire Me."

RKO-KEITH'S—Pat O'Brien in "Radio Patrol."

LOEW'S FOX—James Dunn and Peggy Shannon in "Society Girl," Johnny Weissmuller, in person, and Wesley Eddy with "Dive In" revue.

METROPOLITAN—Barbara Stanwyck, George Brent and Dickie Moore in "So Big."

EARLE—Joe E. Brown in "The Tenderfoot," and "Song Writers on Parade," headlining vaudeville.

COLUMBIA—"Grand Hotel," third week. (Probable.)

McGoofey's First Reader

By H. I. PHILLIPS

THE STORY OF GERALD.

GERALD was a dare-devil.

He always wanted to do something wild and reckless.

In his grammar school days he was the boy who first took the high dive from the sycamore into the old swimmin' hole. He used to climb the steel posts marked "Danger, Live Wires," throw stones at policemen and stick his fingers into the electric fan.

He once jumped off a dock with his hands and feet tied to show the gang he could get ashore like Houdini.

He fed a circus elephant tobacco and went back the next year to see if it remembered him.

Everybody said he would come to a violent end.

His ambition was to become a stunt flier. Once he talked of going over Niagara Falls in a barrel.

He wasn't afraid of anybody or anything.

When he was 16 he ran away from home.

The folks all said he would carve out a spectacular career and make the big headlines.

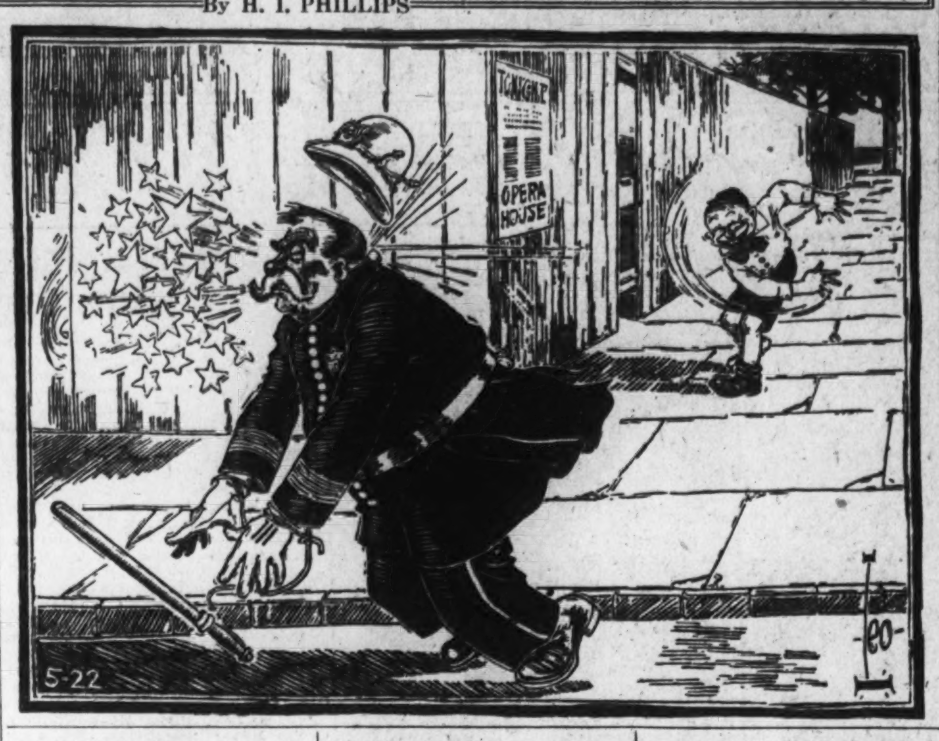
Nothing was heard from him for many years.

Then, some home folks returned from a visit to the big city and brought back tidings of him.

He had a big job, they said.

He wore side whiskers and had become a national organizer for safety first councils.

Moral: Life doesn't make any sense.



VOLUME XLIX.

THIS is Mr. X.

Who is Mr. X?

Mr. X is a favorite son.

What is a favorite son?

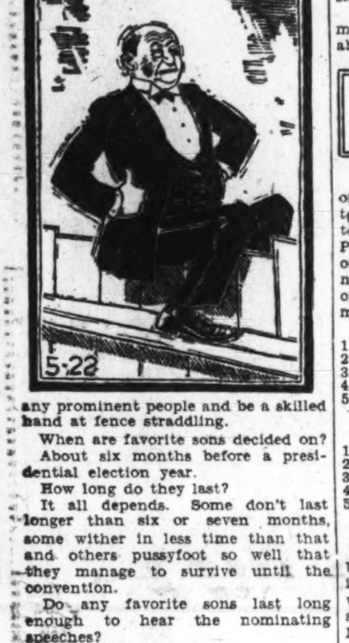
A favorite son is a candidate whom few people favor for the Presidency.

Then what makes him a favorite son?

Oh, a few after-dinner speeches, a colorless past and a good press agent.

What is necessary for a man to become a favorite son?

He must look good in dinner clothes, take a good newspaper photograph (singly or in groups), have a reputation for never having offended any prominent people and be a skilled hand at fence straddling.



When are favorite sons decided on?

About six months before a presidential election year.

How long do they last?

It all depends. Some don't last longer than six or seven months, some wither in less time than that and others pussyfoot so well that they manage to survive until the convention.

Do any favorite sons last long enough to hear the nominating speeches?

Yes, if they behave.

And then what?

That's all there is; there isn't any more.

BE KIND TO ANIMALS. No. 36.

The rabbit is a pretty pet;
On cabbages it lunches;
It marries when it's very young
And then has twins in bunches.

INDUSTRY.

ALWAYS be industrious. Never shirk a task. Remember it is only by diligence and hard work that success is attained.

It is the early riser who gets ahead. The lazy stay-abed is always outdistanced by the boy who is up with the lark in the morning.

No matter how lowly your task is, apply yourself to it with your whole mind and with your whole strength. There is no job too small to be worth doing well.

When you arrive at the shop or office plunge into your duties with zest. Go about your job with a light heart. Never watch the clock or be envious of fellow workers who may have better jobs.

Do not strive to call attention to your diligence or boast of your abilities and performances. Trust in your boss to note your value to the organization.

Do not hop about from one place of employment to another, but remain loyal to one employer and resolve to master every detail of your department.

Then in after years you will be known as one of the oldest and most faithful employes. The boss will slap you on the back and tell visitors: "Yes, this is George. He came here as a boy and has been with us ever since."

When the big chance for advancement comes the boss' nephew probably will get the position.

But you will still be the oldest employe.

That's something.

SUCCESS RECIPE.

Lead a life that's upright,
Scorn the cup that cheers,
Work, be ever frugal—
And wash behind your ears!

GENERAL INTELLIGENCE TEST.

Check the words which properly complete the following sentences:

1. Marionettes are..natives of Marion, Ohio..people who abuse authority..things used by Spanish dancers ..automatons.

2. A sinecure is..a name written in the signer's own handwriting..a retract from the world..an institution where drunkards are treated..a position involving little or no responsibility.

3. A simoon is..a type of ape..a kind of melon..a heavenly body..a hot wind.

4. Catacombs are boats of unorthodox construction..a kind of reed found in marshes..insects with furry bodies..underground burial places.

5. A somnambulist is .....a traveling musician.....an ambulance driver.....a person who tells fortunes.....a man who can throw a ball with either hand.....a person who walks in his sleep.

6. A sturgeon is.....a kind of fish .....a flower that grows on vines .....a doctor.

Curious Facts.

The average life of a pipe cleaner is 48 hours.

The male robin lays no eggs.

A nutcracker will outlast any set of teeth, natural or false.

A barrel full of nails will sink faster than a barrel half full of nails, but the difference in time is not worth an argument.

Man o' War, Jack Dempsey and the British fleet attained their supremacy without knowing anything about vitamins A, B or C.

Ninety-nine out of every hundred automobile drivers do not know on which side of the engine the oil intake is located.

Penguins will not live happily in bowling alleys.

The most nonnegotiable thing in the country today is a Tom Thumb golf course.

A good way to break up a bridge party is to burn some rubbers in the fireplace.

Seventy-two per cent of the Virginia hams are raised in Illinois.

The bullfinch has only two legs.

Women have never made good as blacksmiths.

The revolving door in a department store increases its revolutions 26 per cent between the hours of 2 and 4 p. m. during a sale of dress goods.

Lionel Barrymore was 32 years old before he learned to whistle through his teeth.

There are 365 brands of smoking tobacco in the United States, all of which taste the same.

(Copyright, 1932.)

Hindu Woman to Die For Sacrificing Child

Lucknow, India (A.P.).—For offering an 8-year-old girl as a "human sacrifice" at the altar of the Goddess Bhagwati, Musammat Umrai, a Hindu woman, has been condemned to death here.

It appears that some women of the village of Sujauli, including the accused, were singing psalms together when their voices became hoarse. Taking this to be an ill omen, requiring the spilling of human blood, the women sacrificed the terrified child by hacking it to pieces with a spade. The women then declared they were able to sing properly.

Michigan Inventor Plans Congress Race

Saugatuck, Mich., (U.P.).—Dr. Raymond Lee Angelmire, kite telephone inventor, balloon builder, dentist and soldier, now aspires to become Democratic Congressman from the Fourth Michigan District.

In 1906, Dr. Anglemire, superintended building of five spherical gas balloons and their dirigible airships. One of them flew from Oconto, Wis., to Wolverine, Mich., crossing Lake Michigan in seven hours. Two years later he submitted a design for a rigid dirigible to cost $20,000 at the request of the United States Government.

Lax Divorce Laws Professor's Target

Chicago (U.P.).—Lax divorce laws will put divorce on a par with marriage before the end of the century, believes Prof. James J. Cherry, of the law college of DePaul University, who excoriated Reno as the symbol of "easy, quick and painless divorce."

A legal maze more intricate than a jig-saw puzzle has resulted from conflicting State laws, said Cherry. He pointed out that present laws would call a man legally married in one State, while in others he would, at the same time, be variously single and a bigamist.

About the Chess Table

By WILLARD H. MUTCHLER

The second round of the District of Columbia Chess League's team tournament is progressing according to schedule. Last week University Park defeated Model Basin by a score of 3 to 2, while Agriculture was winning from Chevy Chase by a score of 4 to 1. The board-by-board summary of the matches are appended.

University Pk.	W.	Model Basin.	W.
1 G. Trusler	0	D. F. Windenb'g	1
2 D. Hillingsw'th	1	M. J. Markovich	0
3 S. Hillingsw'th	1	R. H. Peterson	0
4 Y. Hillingsw'th	1	L. Landweber	0
5 A. McChesney	0	W. H. Bowers	1
Total	3	Total	2
Agriculture.	W.	Chevy Chase.	W.
1 J. Roberts	0	E. R. Shepard	1
2 E. R. Kalmbach	1	T. M. Wilkins	0
3 D. S. Buch	1	J. Tucker, jr.	0
4 A. E. McClure	1	G. H. Parks	0
5 F. E. Kurtz	1	G. J. North	0
Total	4	Total	1

Two games in the Chevy Chase vs. University Park match were played in advance of schedule. The Hollingsworth family, which was solely responsible for their team's win over Model Basin, met with two reverses when D. Hollingsworth and Y. Hollingsworth, on boards 2 and 4, lost to J. Tucker, jr., and G. H. Parks, respectively.

Decisive Game.

The final game in the District of Columbia championship tourney, wherein V. Sournin acquired the title from F. B. Walker, was a loosely played affair and not at all worthy of either player. However, owing to its general interest, and the somewhat unexpected manner in which Sournin finally achieved the victory, the score is herewith reproduced.

Center Counter Gambit.

	V. Saurnin, White.	F. B. Walker, Black.
1	P—K4	P—Q4
2	PxP	Kt—KB3
3	B—Kt5 ch	QKt—Q2
4	P—QB4	P—QR3
5	B—R4	P—QKt4
6	PxP	PxP
7	BxP	KtxP
8	Kt—QB3	Kt—Kt5
9	P—Q4	B—Kt2
10	P—B3	P—QB3
11	B—K2	P—K4
12	Kt—K4	PxP
13	QB—B4	Kt—B4
14	KtxKt	BxKt
15	R—B	Q—K2
16	P—QR3	Kt—Q4
17	Kt—R3	B—R3
18	RxB	QxR
19	BxB	Q—R4 ch
20	K—B2	QxB
21	R—K ch	K—Q2
22	QxP	Q—R2
23	R—Q	QxQ
24	RxQ	P—B3
25	B—B	K—B2
26	Kt—B4	QR—Q
27	Kt—K6 ch	K—Q3
28	KtxR	RxKt
29	R—QR4	R—Q2
30	K—K2	K—B4
31	R—K4	R—Kt2
32	P—Kt4 ch	K—Kt4
33	K—Q3	R—Q2
34	K—B2	K—R5
35	R—QB4	K—Kt4
36	K—Kt3	R—K2
37	P—R4 ch	K—Kt3
38	R—K4	R—Q2
39	B—Kt2	K—Kt2
40	P—Kt3	Kt—B2
42	K—B2	Kt—Q4
42	B—B	P—R3
43	B—Q2	Kt—Kt3
44	P—R5	Kt—Q4
45	K—Kt3	Kt—B2
46	B—K3	Kt—Q4
47	B—B5	R—KB2
48	K—B5	R—Q2
49	R—K6	P—R4
50	P—R6 ch	KxP
51	P—Kt5 ch	K—R4
52	RxP	Kt—B2
53	B—Kt6 ch	Resigns

Solutions to Problems.

The key to No. 481, two-mover by H. P. Burkill, is solved by Kt-Kt5. Among those sending in solutions were Jacob Frech, J. W. Harris, Fred T. Hafelfinger, W. E. Bryant.

Jacob Frech writes, "Problem 481 is described (in words) as having a black Kt on QR5 and a black P on KR5 but is diagrammed with that Kt on B3 and that P on KB5. The relevant middle term for the described problem is: A problem in which white can force one of the following only quickest series of forced mates: Kt-Q3 or 7; 2 Q-R3 or B5 or Kt4 or B-R3. The relevant middle term of the diagrammed position is: A problem in which white can force one of the following only quickest series of forced mates: 1 Kt-Kt5; 2 Q-Q5 or B4 or Kt (R5)-K4 or Kt-Q7.

This latter presumably is the intended problem; a marvelously difficult one. The science of chess problem solving can wonderfully aid our scientists, our statemen and our educators, by perspicuously demonstrating the syllogistic principle implied in Aristotle's scientific definition of sagacity, viz.: a certain happy extempore conjecture of the middle term that our largely befuddled and confusing textbooks on logic do not teach this principle."

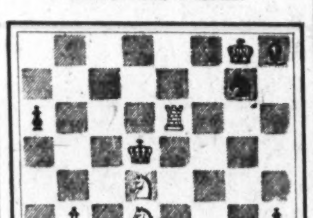
Fred T. Hafelfinger comments: "The layout indicated the key piece Where to was the problem." J. W. Harris remarks, "About as fine a problem as you've had for a long time.".

Problem No. 482.

By N. MAXIMOV, Petrograd, Russia.

K on Q4; Kt on KKt2; Bs on QKt8 and KRsq; Ps on QR3 and KR6.

BLACK—SIX PIECES.



WHITE—SIX PIECES.

K on KKt8; Q on KB2; R on K6; Kts on Q3 and [illegible]; P on QKt3.

White to play and mate in two moves.

What Today Means

By MARY BLAKE

"GEMINI."

IF May 22 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9 a. m. to 11 a. m., from 3:30 p. m. to 4:50 p. m. and from 8:30 p. m. to 10 p. m. The danger periods are from noon to 1:35 p. m. and from 6 p. m. to 7:30 p. m.

An at home Sunday would be an astrologer's advice for May 22 preparatory to an unusually strenuous week ahead. No adverse indications for the day, and a maximum of good will be derived from whatever source you seek pleasure, rest, or comfort.

Children born on this May 22 will have independent and forceful temperaments, combined with more than average vitality. Parents should strive to direct this vitality into constructive channels, for without some natural outlet, these children are apt to become restless and irritable. They will be quick, ready-witted, a trifle brusque in manner, but will make excellent companions.

Born on May 22, you are generous and kind-hearted to a fault. You readily forgive in others what they quickly would condemn in you. Yet, this unselfish and warm-hearted attitude wins for you many a dear and loyal friend. You are very much alive and vital to the joys of living, and even small, everyday happenings enlist your interest and sympathy. You are sensitive and imaginative in your dealings with others—their troubles sadden you; in their joys you find happiness. You are inclined to underrate your own ability and to overrate the ability of others. You often let chances go by, not feeling yourself quite up to the mark, whereas, in truth, you are more than capable and by your adaptability are equal to any situation.

You should cultivate more ambition and self-confidence, and give your talents a chance for growth. You are sitting in a back seat from choice and not from necessity. You need have less fear of the limelight than most people. There is something delightfully charming about your shyness, but, nevertheless, it is a detriment to you in the business side of life. All children make an appeal to you through your maternal or paternal instinct, as the case may be, and with a sympathetic mate, your home life should be ideal.

Successful people born on May 22:

Tench Coxe, "father of the American cotton industry."
Arthur Tappan, reformer.
Worthington Whittredge, artist.
Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, author.
Christopher C. Langdell, educator.
Jacob G. Schurman, educator.

(Copyright, 1932.)

How to Keep Well

By DR. W. A. EVANS

YOUR TEETH! LOOK OUT!

THE old fox and coon hunters who read this story will tell the greenhorns that it is easy to judge when a pack of dogs have hit a good trail. By its energy and enthusiasm, the tone of the bark, and the number of dogs that join in, the pack tells the trained ear of an experienced listener that the game is not far from the pursuers.

The writer had his training and knows how to time his ears to know how the dogs feel through the pitch of what they say. He has also had some experience in listening to the bay of research students chasing their prey. The signs indicate that the research men who are working on the problem of mottled teeth are soon to "make a kill."

Mottled teeth, as such, are of more interest to my beautiful neighbors who tell the ladies how to become beautiful, or how to remain so. The uglier men, and the children sometimes known to neighbors as ugly ducklings, are more interested in crumbling teeth and teeth that do not hold fillings well. Many complain that fillings will not stay in their teeth. They wonder if they should blame their dentists. There are some who complain that their own, or the children's teeth crumble as though they were made of sand, or they wear down to the roots even though the sufferer is not a tobacco chewer.

Evidence accumulates that the trouble results from drinking water that contains too much fluorin. The remedy consists in changing one's source of drinking water. When the railroads found that the water taken on by locomotives at certain tanks made steaming unsatisfactory, their first reaction was to discontinue using the objectionable tanks. The second step was to find water softeners that would convert bad water into a satisfactory product.

Probably before long all communities supplied now with water that causes mottled teeth will be using an efficient softener suited to the particular water.

One of the recent additions to the pack is a group of people connected with the University of Arizona. The people of a town in that State complained that their teeth were bad. The cause was traced to the water supply. Those citizens who did not use water from the common supply had good teeth. The research students at the university proved that the water had too much fluorin and that the foods used in the town did not. Finally they used experimental rats to clinch the proof that excess of fluorin in a water supply harmed the teeth.

ODOR NOT POISONOUS.

S. writes: Three months ago the walls of the room in which I sleep and spend several hours each day were painted. They were dry and hard in a short time, but on entering the room, which is always ventilated, there is a perceptible odor of paint. Can this contain monoxide gas?

REPLY.

No. The danger of poisoning of any kind from occupying this room is trivial.

HE MISUNDERSTOOD.

J. O. M. writes: I have a brother whose spine seems to be stiff. He cannot bend at all, but outside of that he seems to be all right. He went to a doctor and was advised he had mort of the spine, and I wish you would let me know what this means.

REPLY.

He misunderstood the physician. He should have asked him to write down his diagonsis.

My guess is that your brother has arthritis of the spine. This disease is one of the rheumatism group.

(Copyright, 1932.)

Radio Dial Flashes

By ROBERT D. HEINL

Air Selections

12:30 p. m. (WRC)—An hour with Schubert.

1 p. m. (WMAL)—Eight sons of Eli.

3:30 p. m. (WRC)—German "Comedian Harmonists."

3:30 p. m. (WMAL)—Special Olympic games broadcast.

3:30 p. m. (WOL)—Program, Association for Advancement of Colored People.

6 p. m. (WRC)—Beniamino Gigli, tenor.

6 p. m. (WBAL)—At the console.

6:30 p. m. (WRC)—Rudolf Schramm's Concert Ensemble.

8:15 p. m. (WRC)—Album of familiar music.

9 p. m. (WMAL)—Ernest Hutcheson, pianist.

9:30 p. m. (WMAL)—Ziegfeld Radio Show.

9:45 p. m. (WRC)—Sunday at Seth Parker's.

A PROPOSAL to increase the width of radio broadcast bands by more than 15,000 kilocycles to make room for new broadcasting and television stations in the United States and Europe was suggested to the Federal Radio Commission's conference to decide upon United States policies at the International Radio Conference to be held at Madrid, Spain, in September.

If the proposal is adopted, United States delegates to the conference will fall in line with the International Broadcasting Union, a European organization representing liberal interests in several foreign countries, in recommending more space in the ether for broadcasters, it was explained at the commission. The International Union has proposed a plan whereby bands totaling 17,565 kilocycles would be assigned to the exclusive use of broadcasting and television stations on both continents.

A committee was appointed to investigate the use by mobile services of frequencies in the band 150 to 500 kilocycles, with a view toward suggesting extension of the North American broadcast band below its present limit of 550 kilocycles. The committee is composed of Dr. C. B. Jolliffe, chief engineer of the commission, chairman, and Dr. J. H. Dellinger, Bureau of Standards radio expert, as neutral members, and one representative each for broadcasters, the Army, the Navy, shipowners and aviation interests. The committee will investigate use of frequencies in the specified band, and will, if possible, recommend to the commission's conference a plan for consolidating or eliminating some of the mobile services on these frequencies.

THE conference, attended by private and public radio interests, is being held to determine what recommendations United States delegates will make to the international conference.

Representatives of the commission, Government departments having radio interests, Federal and commercial communication organizations, and other radio interests discussed proposals of foreign countries and suggested recommendations for United States delegates.

Louis G. Caldwell, attorney, recommended that the United States adopt as a basis for discussion the International Union proposal for widening the broadcast band, and suggested that it be modified in the United States recommendation only insofar as it interferes with Department of Commerce airways service and other vitally necessary mobile services.

The following kilocycle bands have been suggested for exclusive use of broadcasting and television stations: 150-285, 370-460, 540-550, 3,500-3,700, 17,650-17,750, and 33,000-50,000. The new bands would be granted in addition to the present bands of 550-1,500, 6,000-6,150, 9,500-9,600, 11,700-11,900 15,100-15,350, 17,750-17,800, and 21,450-21,550. So far the United States has planned to make no recommendation to widen the present band.

"THE United States has more interest in widening the band than any other country in the world," Mr. Caldwell said. "The United States should give up no space in the ether to any foreign country until we have exhausted the possibilities of broadening the broadcast band for our use. We should stop our boycott of the union at radio conferences, and should adopt the union proposal as a basis for formulating United States recommendations, modifying it only to protect Department of Commerce airways services and other vitally necessary mobile services."

Mr. Caldwell said United States broadcasters are worried about overcrowding caused by Mexican stations.

"If it were not for the depression," he explained, "many United States channels would now be ruined by Mexican stations. Use of two frequencies has been seriously hampered by operation of Mexican stations, and we may expect many more to have their value to us materially lessened when more Mexican stations are established, unless there is some place in the ether to put these stations."

Capt. S. C. Hooper, director of naval communications, Navy Department, told the conference it cost the Navy more than $5,000,000 to move from the present broadcast band to the place in the spectrum they now use, and if they were forced to move again when the broadcast band was widened it would cost millions more.

Replying to Mr. Caldwell's assertion that the Navy must have spent more than $1,000,000 in moving each station, because they have, he said, only four channels, Capt. Hooper pointed out that the Navy operates on about 20 channels, and had the additional expense of installing new ship equipment.

The last international conference was held in Washington, D. C., in 1927. It was attended by 79 nations and resulted in adoption of what is known as "The International Radio-Telegraph Convention and General Regulations Annexed Thereto."

HIS last radio appearance of the season will be made by Beniamino Gigli, tenor, when he appears as guest soloist on the General Electric Circle program today (WRC, 6 p. m.). Mr. Gigli has selected the following numbers: "Marta" (Simon), "Tango" Albeniz-Sandoval); "Serenata Espagnole" (Sandoval), an aria from Lo Schiavo (Gomez), and a group of Neopolitan folk songs.

A pre-Olympic broadcast, featuring Will Rogers, Gov. James Rolph of California, the 200-piece University of Southern California Trojan Band and Chorus, and a group of screen celebrities, will be heard over the Columbia network from 3:30 to 4:30 p. m. this afternoon. WMAL will take only the first half hour. For the latter half listeners may tune WABC, New York, or WCAO, Baltimore.

The program will embody Gov. Rolph's official invitation to the people of America to attend the Olympic games in Los Angeles from July 30 to August 14.

The cast for the eighth addition of the "Ziegfeld Radio Show" will include as its headliners Fanny Brice, Frances White, Jack Pearl and Syd Gary, in addition to the regular contributing artists, Jean Sargent, Eddie Dowling, Florenz Ziegfeld, Charles Carlile and Al Goodman's Orchestra (WMAL, 9:30 p. m.).

The Washington Catholic Radio Hour will broadcast the Costello Post's special service from the Church of the Immaculate Conception at Eighth and N streets northwest, at which the memorial light established in the church last May by the American Legion will be rededicated. Father Hurney, post chaplain, will officiate.

THE "Church of the Air" broadcasts today will be conducted by Dr. T. Guthrie Speers, of the Brown Memorial Presbyterian Church of Baltimore, and the Rev. Fathe William H. Kane, of St. Patrick' Roman Catholic Church, Youngstow Ohio.

Dr. Speers, speaking on "God' Venture of Faith," will be heard i the morning peeriod (WMAL, 9 m.). The Brown Memorial Choi composed of four soloists and 2 voices, will participate under the direction of John H. Elterman, organis and choirmaster.

Dr. Kane will speak during th afternoon broadcast (WMAL, 1:30 m.) on the subject, "God and Man. The St. Patrick's Boys Choir will b heard during this period.

Berlin's "Comedian Harmonists, one of the most popular radio acts i Germany, will be heard in Washington, singing from the studios of th Reichs Rundfunk Gesellschaft in th German capital. The program (WRC 3:30 p. m.) will feature popular European melodies, including "Veronica, Spring Is Here," "For That's th Way With Every Sailor," "Tales From the Vienna Woods" and "My Sweetheart, Are You From Spain?"

LEADING orchestral conductors o the United States already hav announced plans to present i future concerts various of the symphonic works which received the recent orchestral awards of $10,000.

Eugene Goossens, leader of th Cincinnati Orchestra, will conduc "Station WGZBX," by Philip Jame of New York, and "Sinfonietta," b Nicolai Berezowsky, also of New York These received first and fifth award respectively.

Dr. Frederick Stock, leader of th Chicago Symphony Orchestra, wi present "Traffic," by Carl Eppert, o Milwaukee, and "Symphonic Intermezzo," by Florence Grandland Galajikian, of Maywood, Ill. Dr. Stoc plans to conduct these works in th Hollywood Bowl, when he acts a guest conductor of the Los Angele Symphony Orchestra in August, an also in Chicago next season.

In announcing his decision to present "Traffic" and "Symphonic Intermezzo," Dr. Stock said:

"It is significant that these prize winning compositions should hav come from the Middle West. The are examples of very fine art."

Another award winner, Max Wald now living in Paris, also is a nativ of the Middle West, having been bor in Indiana.

The five successful composition were selected by a committee of distinguished conductors, from 573 submitted, and ranked by a jury of som 150 musical experts all over the country, who listened as the number were played over an NBC network o May 8.

A special program of Viennese selections will be offered by Erne Hutcheson, pianist, and Howard Barlow's Symphony Orchestra during th broadcast tonight (WMAL, 9 o'clock The feature of the presentation wi be the first movement of Beethoven' "Concerto in G Minor," written during his sojourn in Vienna. Hutcheso will offer Schubert's melodic "Impromptu in A Flat."

WJZ program notes for today: varied half hour of entertainment will be presented by th "Three Bakers" at 6:30 p. m. The tri will be aided by Sylvia Froos, Bi Artz's Orchestra and Brad Brown * * * Cadman's "At Dawning" an "The Sweetest Story Ever Told" wi be featured by Ralph Kirbey on th melodies program, 8 p. m. * * * Firs official candidates to be nominate for the offices of President and Vic President for the term of 1933-3 will be heard at 7 p. m. They wi be candidates chosen by the nationa convention of the Socialist party an will be introduced by Norma Thomas, Socialist leader, from th studios of WTMJ, Milwaukee * * * A program, originating in Lausann and Basle, Switzerland, will be shortwaved to the network, beginning a 5:15 p. m. The "Liedertafel," o men's chorus, of Basle will be featured. French, German and Italia announcements will be made.

Police Dog and Pal Raided Game Ducks

Portland, Oreg. (U.P.).—When 2 wild ducks which became so tam they remained with a huge band th year around at Laurelhurst Park lak here disappeared recently, park attendants set a watch.

They saw a police dog and canine pal of nondescript breed sli to the lake shore and nab a duc each. They were frightened away bu

Daily Cross-Word Puzzle

By RICHARD H. TINGLEY

ACROSS.

1 The Destinies
6 Having a head
11 A famous English race course
16 Mourn
17 Over
18 Bluish purple
20 A food storeroom
21 Mysteries
22 Adorn
23 Roman goddess of harvests
24 Dilatory
26 A sister of the Greek Area
28 Annoy
29 Extend over
31 Remark
32 Verbal
33 Prefix meaning between 34 Surety
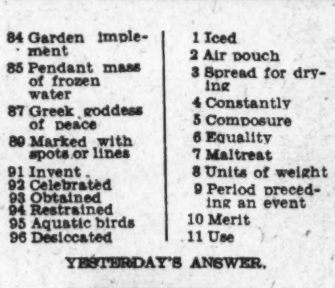
36 Grudge
37 Rabbits
38 A given point of time
39 An axis
40 Mood
41 A method of gambling
44 Commiseration
45 Different
49 A size of type
50 One of an ancient Asian race
51 Mother of the Greek Apollo
52 Remote
53 Municipality
54 Extraction
56 Stream
57 Median King slain by Moses' armies (Numbers xxxi-Evi:8
58 A tube or vessel (Anatomy)
59 Sodium carbonate
60 Daughter of the Greek Oceanus
61 Ivory
63 Kind of tree
64 Small speculators (Slang)
65 Some
66 Confer
67 Anxiety
68 Stop!
71 A stringed instrument
72 Rarity
76 A stopper
77 Girdle
78 To proceed on
78 Arrest
80 Dress
81 Delineate (Rare)
82 An agent
84 Garden implement
85 Pendant mass of frozen water
87 Greek goddess of peace
89 Marked with spots or lines
91 Invent
92 Celebrated
93 Obtained
94 Restrained
95 Aquatic birds
96 Desiccated

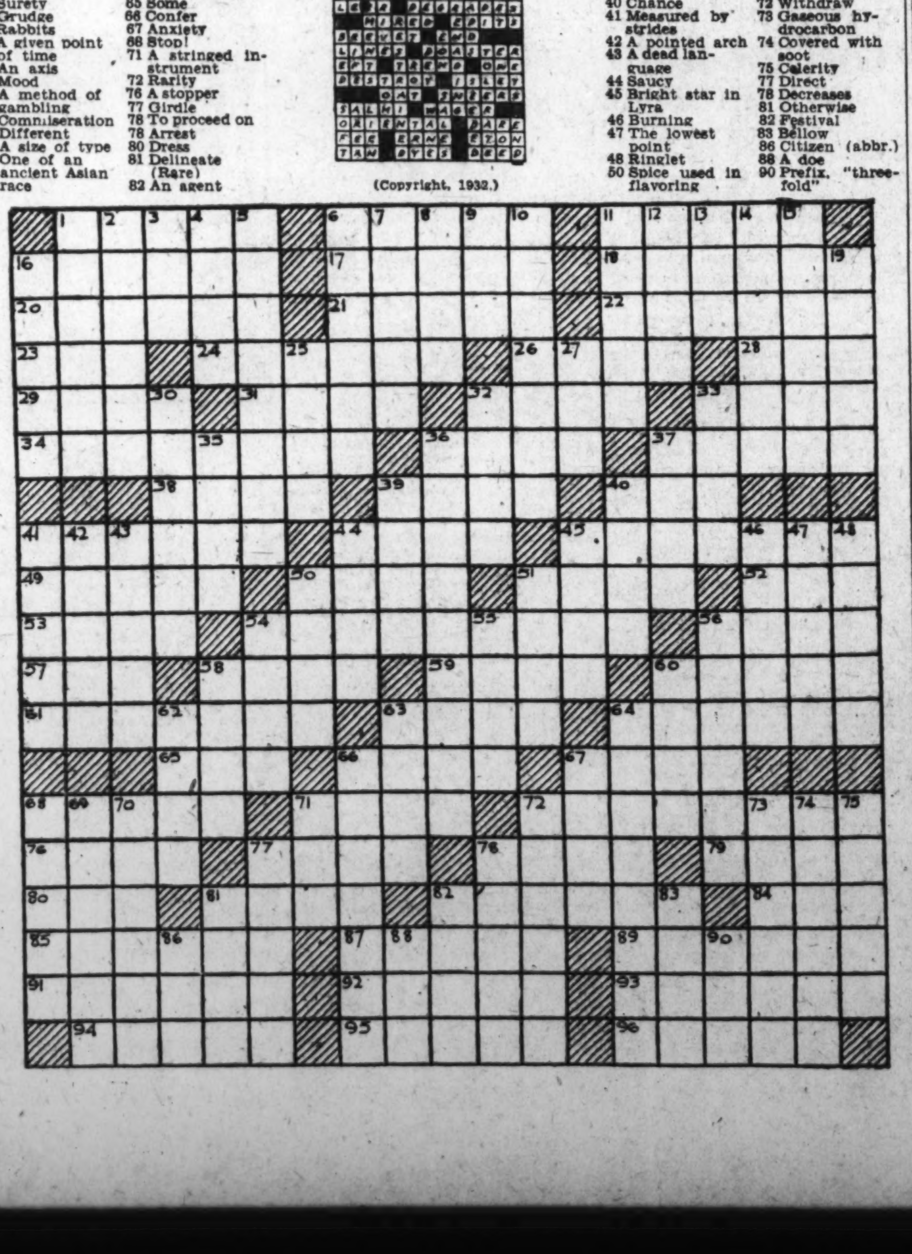
DOWN.

1 Iced
2 Air pouch
3 Spread for drying
4 Constantly
5 Composure
6 Equality
7 Maltreat
8 Units of weight
9 Period preceding an event
10 Merit
11 Use
12 Incubates
13 A cote
14 First name of Dicken's "Twist"
15 Cylindrical
16 To explain
19 The Lone Star State
25 A speck
27 Beam
30 Nakedness
32 Single
33 A peanut (Spanish)
35 People
36 Large
37 Demigod
39 Military assistant
40 Chance
41 Measured by strides
42 A pointed arch
43 A dead language
44 Saucy
45 Bright star in Lyra
46 Burning
47 The lowest point
48 Ringlet
50 Spice used in flavoring
51 To load
54 Insignificant
55 Harmonize
56 Mementos
58 Dent
60 Portentious
62 Lesson
63 Essence
64 Absolved
66 Flowing forth freely
67 Jargon
68 Caustic
69 Proclaimed
70 A Greek of Argos
71 A constituent of varnish
72 Withdraw
73 Gaseous hydrocarbon
74 Covered with soot
75 Celerity
77 Direct
78 Decreases
81 Otherwise
82 Festival
83 Bellow
86 Citizen (abbr.)
88 A doe
90 Prefix, "three-fold"

YESTERDAY'S ANSWER.



(Copyright, 1932.)



On the Air Today

WRC—National Broadcasting Co.
(316 Meters, 950 Kilocycles.)

7:00 a. m.—Melody Hour.
8:00 a. m.—Children's Hour.
9:00 a. m.—Gordon String Quartet.
9:30 a. m.—Southland Sketches.
10:00 a. m.—Neapolitan Days.
10:30 a. m.—Maj. Bowes Family Party.
11:30 a. m.—Silver Flute.
12 (noon)—"Desert Sands."
12:30 p. m.—"An Hour With Schubert."
1:15 p. m.—National Jubilee Singers.
1:30 p. m.—Moonshine and Honeysuckle.
2:00 p. m.—Wayne King Orchestra.
2:30 p. m.—National Sunday Forum.
3:00 p. m.—Jane Froman.
3:15 p. m.—John Fogarty, Tenor.
3:30 p. m.—International Broadcast from Germany—The German Revelers.
3:45 p. m.—Pastels.
4:30 p. m.—"Pop" Concert.
5:00 p. m.—The Catholic Hour.
5:30 p. m.—National Education Association Program.
6:00 p. m.—"G. E. Circle" featuring Beniamino Gigli, Tenor.
6:30 p. m.—The Washington Gas Light Co. Orchestra, Rudolph Schramm, Conducting.
7:00 p. m.—Chase & Sanborn Orchestra.
8:00 p. m.—"Our Government," by David Lawrence.
8:15 p. m.—"The American Album of Familiar Music."
8:45 p. m.—Baseball Scores.
8:51 p. m.—L'Heure Exquise.
9:15 p. m.—Revue.
9:30 p. m.—"What the Boys Bureau Has Done for Me," by Norman Edward Dorland.
9:36 p. m.—"Musings."
9:45 p. m.—Sunday at Seth Parker's.
10:15 p. m.—Last Minute News.
10:17 p. m.—Russ Columbo.
10:30 p. m.—Jesse Crawford.
11:00 p. m.—Teddy Black Orchestra.
11:31-midnight—Adelphia Orchestra.

WMAL—Columbia Broadcasting System.
(475.9 Meters, 630 Kilocycles.)

9:00 a. m.—Church of the Air.
9:30 a. m.—Salon Orchestra.
10:00 a. m.—Julia Mahoney and Charles Carlile.
10:30 a. m.—Voice of St. Louis.
11:15 a. m.—Watch Tower Service.
11:30 a. m.—International Broadcast; Hans Vogel, "How Germany Cares for Its Unemployed."
11:45 a. m.—Street Singer.
12:00 (noon)—Thomas Kennedy, United Mine Workers of America, "The Role of Labor in Early American History."
12:30 p. m.—Recital.
1:00 p. m.—Eight Sons of Eli, Howard Twins.
1:30 p. m.—Church of the Air.
2:00 p. m.—Toscha Seidel, violinist.
2:30 p. m.—Cathedral Hour.
3:30 p. m.—Special Olympic Games Program.
4:00 p. m.—Evensong Service from Washington Cathedral; sermon by the Right Rev. James E. Freeman, D. D., Bishop of Washington.
5:00 p. m.—Quiet Harmonies.
5:30 p. m.—Roses and Drums; Dramatic Sketch.
6:00 p. m.—The World's Business, Dr. Julius Klein.
6:15 p. m.—Chicago Knights.
6:45 p. m.—Frank Young, pianist.
7:00 p. m.—Alexander Haas Gypsy Ensemble.
7:30 p. m.—Highway Traveler.
7:45 p. m.—Angelo Patri, "Your Child."
8:00 p. m.—Radio Gaieties.
8:30 p. m.—Parade of Melodies.
9:00 p. m.—Ernest Hutcheson, pianist.
9:30 p. m.—Ziegfeld Radio Show.
10:00 p. m.—Gauchos.
10:30 p. m.—Eddie Duchin Orchestra.
11:00 p. m.—Gus Arnheim Orchestra.
11:30 p. m.—California Melodies.

WOL—American Broadcasting Co.
(229 Meters, 1,310 Kilocycles.)

10:00 a. m.—Opera Gems.
10:15 a. m.—Dream Sweethearts.
10:30 a. m.—Favorite Melodies.
11:00 a. m.—Services from Epiphany Episcopal Church.
12:25 p. m.—Birthdays.
12:30 p. m.—In Maryland with Uncle Gerry.
1:00 p. m.—Jack Ralston Orchestra.
2:00 p. m.—Crystal Quartet.
2:15 p. m.—Jimmy Harbison, pianist.
2:30 p. m.—Jacob Jones Post, American Legion, Program.
3:00 p. m.—Dance Melodies.
3:30 p. m.—Convention, National Association for Advancement of Colored People.
4:30 p. m.—Organ Reverie.
4:45 p. m.—National Brass Quartet.
5:00 p. m.—Washington Catholic Radio Hour.

WJSV—Incorporated.
(205.4 Meters, 1,460 Kilocycles.)

10:00 a. m.—Modern Living.
10:30 a. m.—Salon Music.
10:45 p. m.—Watch Tower Hour.
11:00 a. m.—Fourth Presbyterian Church.
2:00 p. m.—Church of the Air.
3:00 p. m.—Dance Orchestra.
3:30 p. m.—Volunteers of America.
3:45 p. m.—Stamps and Their History.
4:00 p. m.—Fred E. Gross, tenor.
4:30 p. m.—Gospel Twilight Hour.
5:00 p. m.—With the Composers—Betty Place.
5:15 p. m.—Joseph Muscatello, barytone.
5:30 p. m.—George Emmons, organist.
6:00 p. m.—Gospel Spreading Association.
7:45 p. m.—Roland Wheeler, tenor.
8:00 p. m.—First Church Christ Scientist.
9:15 p. m.—Memories of France, Germaine Johnson.
9:30 p. m.—Mormon Church Program.
10:00 p. m.—Gospel Tabernacle Service.
10:30 p. m.—Radio Evangelistic Service.

1060 Kilocycles—WBAL Independent Operation.

8:00 a. m.—Children's Hour.
9:00 a. m.—Mexican Marimba Typica Band.
9:30 a. m.—Carveth Wells.
10:00 a. m.—Morning Musicale.
11:00 a. m.—Careless Love.
11:30 a. m.—Baltimoreans.
12:00 noon—Musical Programs.
1:30 p. m.—Yeast Foamers.
2:00 p. m.—Friendly Hour.
2:30 p. m.—Balkan Mountain Men.
3:00 p. m.—Songs of Home.
3:30 p. m.—Piccadilly Circus.
4:00 p. m.—Sabbath Reveries.
4:30 p. m.—Road to Romany.
5:00 p. m.—WBAL String Quartet.
5:30 p. m.—Three Bakers.
6:00 p. m.—At the Console.

760 Kilocycles — Synchronized Operation WBAL-WJZ.
(Tune WBAL on WJZ Dial Setting.)

6:30 to 11:00 p. m.—Programs same as WJZ.

WJZ—New York.

5:30 p. m.—Three Bakers.
6:15 p. m.—"S. R. O" Comedy.
7:00 p. m.—Melodies in Voice.
7:15 p. m.—Stag Party.
7:45 p. m.—Making the Movies.
8:15 p. m.—Old Singing Master.
8:45 p. m.—Violin Twins.
9:00 p. m.—Piano Moods.
9:15 p. m.—Mello Cello.
9:30 p. m.—Ted Cook's Orchestra.
10:00 p. m.—William Stoess Orchestra.

The Nats in New Comedy—Civic Opera—The Open Air

A SPARKLING COMEDY WILL ENLIST NATS.

Tomorrow night the National Theater Players will present the comedy of comedies, "The Vinegar Tree," a play that ran a full year on Broadway, but which has never been seen in the Nation's Capital.

In bringing "The Vinegar Tree" to Washington, the National Theater Players give local theatergoers an opportunity to see what made New Yorkers laugh as they had not laughed in many seasons. The whole idea of this modern comedy is built around a central character that might have come out of a restoration comedy; one, for instance, that came from the pen of Richard Brinsley Sheridan, who wrote "The School for Scandal" and "The Rivals."

As a matter of fact, the lady who lets loose all the fun in "The Vinegar Tree" is none other than old Mrs. Malaprop herself—and those who saw Mrs. Fiske play Mrs. Malaprop will readily vision what is in store for them. To those who do not recall the original Mrs. Malaprop, it is sufficient to say that Mrs. Merrick, in "The Vinegar Tree," is a woman who gets everything "bawled up," who twists and turns the English language until it screams—and who has the happy faculty of always "putting her foot in it," to use a phrase.

Mary Boland originated the character of Mrs. Merrick, and Leona Powers will essay the role in Washington. It promises to be one that will never be forgotten. Even in the serious business of rehearsal, the players themselves could hardly refrain from laughing at the ludicrous lines and situations, which, in itself, is a tribute to any comedy. All the members of the cast are happily represented in roles to their liking—and a lot of fun is promised for the week ahead.

Matinees are listed for Wednesday and Saturday, and if the play is received as well here as it was in New York the Players may have to give an extra matinee.

Since the mammoth testimonial to the Players, given by local patrons, the stock of the National Theater Players has risen so that today they represent the most popular resident company that ever played Washington. They are winning new friends at each and every performance—a tribute to the company and to the brand of theater they present.

Each play, of course, finds a niche for itself, and the Players have gone on from one triumph to another. It is the belief, however, of Clifford Brooke, the director, that "The Vinegar Tree" will reach a high point in popularity—for it is the kind of stage material the Players like immensely, and playgoers, too.

SEASIDE PARK, ON BAY, OPENS WITH A BANG!

Seaside Park, Chesapeake Beach, which opened yesterday, swings into its 1932 season today full steam ahead, all resort amusements running full blast.

Dancers last night enjoyed the first revels of the season in the boardwalk ballroom, peped up by the jazz strains of Bernie Jarboe's Nite Hawks, and a floor show that included Mulroe and McIntyre in a comedy skit, and Peggy and Betty, specialty dancers.

Outstanding among new features of the resort this year is a miniature railway—not a mere toy for children, but a railroad for grown-ups, bordering the boardwalk and traversing the length of the pier to make connections with the bay steamers from Baltimore.

The setting out of 1,200 new plants and shrubs has added greatly to the beauty of the sylvan section of the park, and all other portions of the resort, including the ballroom and numerous amseument booths and rides, have been brilliantly redecorated. The salt water pool gives promise of continuing its popularity.

Dates for excursions to the resort have been booked for 48 Washington organizations. The first of these was yesterday's barbeque of the National Press Club at which a throng of Capital newspapermen and their friends and relatives made merry.

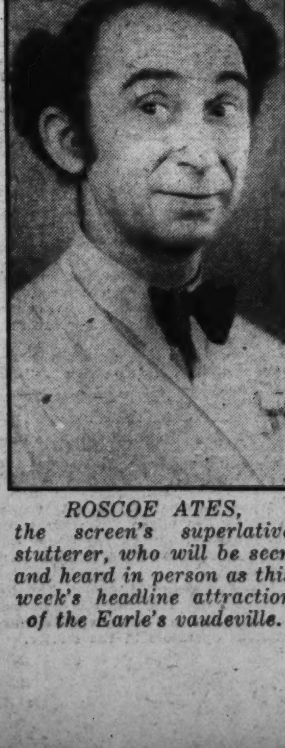
Moonlight.

The Potomac River excursion season will open officially next Wednesday night, when the Wilson Line steamer City of Washington will pull away from its pier at Seventh street wharves on the first moonlight trip of the year.

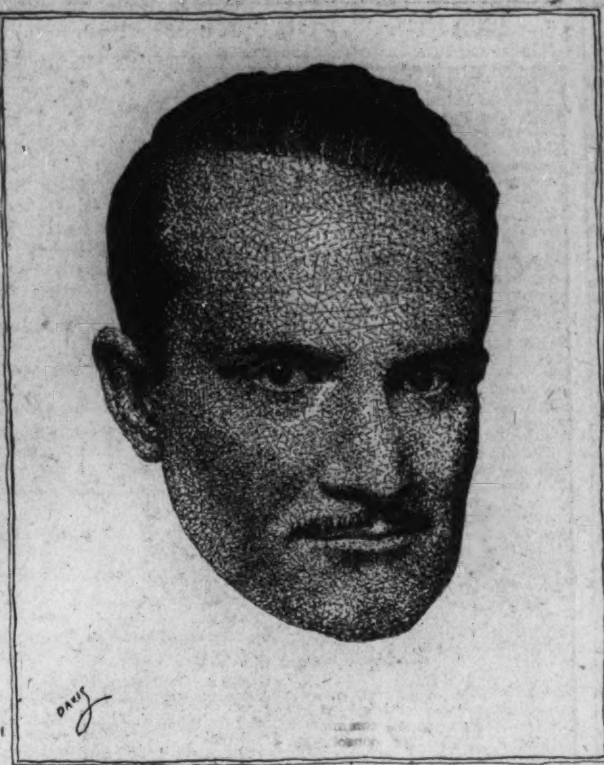
All will be merry on the dance deck, where Howard Texter and his "Commanders" will be playing the latest dance melodies. This band, with its variety of instruments and singing trio, is one of the most versatile units in Washington. For nondancers a large new searchlight has been added, which will be used to locate points of historic interest along the banks of the Potomac.

Olympic Comedy.

An outstanding comedy cast was assured for Paramount's untitled Olympic games feature, with the announcement that the principal roles will be played by Ben Turpin, W. C. Fields and Jack Oakie.



ROSCOE ATES, the screen's superlative stutterer, who will be seen and heard in person as this week's headline attraction of the Earle's vaudeville.



Raymond Bramley in "The Vinegar Tree"—National.

AT THE PLAY IN NEW YORK

By MARK BARRON.

NEW YORK, May 21 (A.P.).—Six actresses in search of an author—an author who can fashion worth-while plays for their talents—has been fairly consistently the fate of a half dozen of Broadway's outstanding feminine players.

Alice Brady, after being miserable season after season in such unhappy plays as "Bless You, Sister," and "The Game of Love and Death," finally has been rescued by Eugene O'Neill. Her sharply etched role of Lavinia in "Mourning Becomes Electra" is the first part that has measured up to her abilities since a decade or so ago, when she was captivating her audiences both on the stage and in silent pictures.

Ethel Barrymore defends her actions in putting on blackface to play in Julia Peterkin's Negro drama, as she does, too, of her revival of the now somewhat creaky "The School for Scandal." Nevertheless it appears fairly evident that her vehicles of the last two years do not measure up to her more popular performances in the days when she was playing witty things like W. Somerset Maugham's "The Constant Wife."

THE anguish-eyed, red-haired Helen Menken is another who has been a victim of considerable ill luck in choice of manuscripts. Her sympathetic playing of the leading role in "The Captive" was just about to win stage immortality for her when police censors descended and closed the play. Since then the best she has been able to get was the unimportant "The Infinite Shoeblack."

Lenore Ulrich was given plenty of fine plays while she was under the management of the late David Belasco, but her plays have not been too startling since then. As a matter of fact, she hasn't had a play really worthy of a star since "Lulu Belle" in 1925.

Madge Kennedy, one of the stage's most apt comedienne stars, has found good plays scarce. She had an excellent one in "Paris Bound." But her rightful glory was considerably dimmed by the unexpected successes of two minor actresses in the same cast—Hope Williams and Mary Murray. Otherwise, she has been compelled to stumble around in such trifles as "Love in a Mist" and "The Springboard." Now she is on her way to Broadway in a new one, "Bridalwise," which may be the one for which she has been looking.

EVEN younger actresses discover there is a dearth of good parts. Margaret Sullavan, a Virginia girl with a voice that almost matches Ethel Barrymore's in its deep throaty quality, came up to Broadway two seasons ago. She made her debut in a short-lived play, but so extraordinary was her performance that overnight she became the most-talked-about actress on Broadway. This season she returned in another comedy that did not linger long.

IT is an axiom along Broadway that the months of May and June are an excellent time to open new musical shows. So the crop of shows with tunes and dances is fairly prolific at this time of year and some of them are rather difficult to take with the hot weather and all.

For instance, "There You Are," a musical comedy presented by Hyman Adler, supervised by Hyman Adler and largely acted by Hyman Adler.

The plot, not that the weather here is not sultry enough, takes place in the Mexican desert country. A lovely, tempestuous senorita (played by Ilse Marvenga, who was born in Berlin) is in love with an American aviator, a role which charmingly allows him the opportunity to strut about the stage in riding breeches.

Well, this aviator may be "her dream boy" to Senorita Marvenga, but he is bad news to Don Jose Gomez, governor of the district. Don José wants the senorita for himself. Given that start, the show runs along from there, getting all mixed up and then straightens out to the original ending, where the hero and heroine are in each other's arms and singing "Love Lives On" very cute.

COMING STAGE ATTRACTIONS

WHEN the National Theater players revive "Captain Applejack"—as they intend to do next week, beginning Monday, May 30, Decoration Day—all Washington will have a chance to enjoy one of the modern stage classics.

It was about ten years ago, more or less, that the late Wallace Eddinger set the theater world laughing by his droll impersonation of a dual character in this play. It was one of those happy character creations that hit a responsive chord in the hearts of all Americans—and the English, too; for the play enjoyed several seasons on both sides of the Atlantic.

"Captain Applejack" is to the stage what Stevenson's classic, "Treasure Island," is to literature. In fact, the two stories have a background that is not at all dissimilar. There is a difference, of course, but the basic idea of "Captain Applejack" is adventure—and how the hero gets into action is one of the real joyous moments of theaterdom. He is a humdrum sort of fellow, whiling his time away reading books—until one day in the library he discovers that one of his ancestors was a pirate. Then, as if by magic, he turns into a pirate himself, the library vanishes and becomes the deck of a sloop on the high seas, with all the family turned piratical.

The players are keen to get at it and Clifford Brooke has a problem on his hand with the trick scenery.

THE attraction planned by Jimmy Lake for his Gayety Theater Decoration Day week, beginning with a matinee performance on next Sunday, May 29, will be "The Washington Follies."

This specially assembled troupe of comedians, singers and dancers will enlist the services of several of the most popular figures in modern burlesque.

The production will be lent added spice and zest, of course, by the presence of a hand-picked chorus as notable for ability as good looks.

GLEN ECHO TO REDUCE COSTS OF SWIMMING

It's always fair weather when good friends get together at Glen Echo Park, the greatest recreational center in or around Washington, where 50 amusement devices are in constant operation, any one of which is bound to chase all gloom away.

No greater thrill can be had than that provided by the big roller coaster, the eccentric whip, the realistic aeroplane swings, the dodgem rides, and the old mill, which, in addition to the boat rides, offers new and beautiful scenic effects Countless laughs and barrels of fun are always on tap in the midway, which is a tonic for old and young.

Glen Echo offers an ideal site for picnic parties, as, in addition to the amusements, there is everything necessary in the way of refreshments available at the numerous stands throughout the park.

A big feature every evening except Sunday is the dancing in the beautiful ballroom to the tunes of MacWilliams and his orchestra. Dancing may be enjoyed from 8:30 until 11:30.

Here's good news for swimmers, and lovers of the water. When the magnificent new swimming pool opens on May 28, a new price policy will go into effect. The prices on Sunday will be the same as they are throughout the week. The management announces the new price scale in keeping with merchandising practices of all kinds during these times.

GAYETY STEPS OUT WITH NEW BURLESK SHOW

Decidedly different and highly original in its conception and execution, "The Bon-Ton Girls," the new Columbia burlesque attraction that comes to the Gayety Theater this afternoon to open a week's tarry at that popular Ninth street playhouse, is extravagantly lauded in its advance heraldings as to the merits of its comedy, songs, production, dances and the splendid cast seen in the various roles.

Heading the cast of his well-known burlesque organization are Lillian Murray, red-haired dancing sprite in a melange of "teasing" interludes, and Lola Pierce, one of burlesque's better known artists.

Aiding them are such well-known beauties as Jeanette Alabassi, Gertrude and Rae Reed, already established as Gayety favorites, and dainty Dorothy DeHaven, whose dark beauty shines in various character conceptions. There is a chorus of eighteen charming young girls.

Monday is gift night, Wednesday is auction night and Friday is amateur night.

To Write Script.

George Marion, jr., author of "Sweetie" and other film comedies, has been signed to work with Samuel Hoffenstein and Waldemar Young on the screen play for Maurice Chevalier's starring picture, "Love Me Tonight."

Jeanette Alabassi with "Bon-Ton Girls." —Gayety.

A NOTED WORK WILL BE SUNG BY ABLE CAST

Gilbert and Sullivan's musical drama of the sixteenth century, "The Yeomen of the Guard," conducted by Alfred Manning, of the National Symphony Orchestra, with a carefully selected orchestra of National Symphony players; staged under the personal direction of J. Humbird Duffey, outstanding authority on Gilbert and Sullivan lore and tradition, will be presented by the Washington Civic Opera Company, beginning tomorrow evening at 8:30, in McKinley Auditorium, Second and T streets northeast.

The opera, which will run throughout the week, with Saturday matinee, is the most popular of all recent Gilbert and Sullivan revivals throughout the country, and the Washington production will be notable for the massive settings, beautiful lighting effects and colorful costumes to be worn by the cast and chorus.

The scene is laid on the Tower Green, near London, with the massive castle dominating the action, which is highly dramatic throughout. The story tells of one Col. Fairfax, lodged in Cold Harbour Tower, under sentence of death, who is first married to a young and beautiful strolling singer whom he has never seen; and then rescued, almost at the point of death, by another young and beautiful maiden, who secretly yearns for his love.

Jesse Veitch appears as Col. Fairfax, Esther Melick Ingram as the strolling singer, Alma Harris as Phoebe, Alma Bishop as Dame Carruthers, Maxine De Silvia as Kate, Elliott Button as Sergt. Meryll, Harry Crow, jr., as Sir Richard Cholmondeley, J. Raymond Baine as Leonard Meryll, Melville Veitch as Wilfred Shadbolt and Ira Philip Meyer as the strolling jester, Jack Point.

A chorus of Yeomen, and of citizens and citizenesses, will include more than 60 well-known and popular singers of the Capital City, many of whom are experienced soloists in church choirs and in a number of leading music studios here.

Marvel of Art.

The return visit here of Suchorowsky's realistic painting is proving a great success. During the past week hundreds of persons have flocked to "Nana's" receptions, now being held at 1314 G street northwest, and have spent considerable time in admiring the many beauties of this remarkable work.

It is a picture that requires study, for its virtues are so numerous that a passing glance is insufficient to reveal them all. The beholder is first bewildered by the dazzling beauty of the flesh tints, the splendor of the figure and the grace of the pose. As the first comprehensive glance gives way to a more critical scrutiny the glorious art with which the whole canvas is handled impresses the eye.

"Nana" may be seen at any time of the day between the hours of 10 a. m. and 10 p. m.

GIVEN SHAW, one of the decorative beauties of the "Three Screens" revue, Frank Cambria's first production for Loew, at Loew's Fox this week.

ART OF ACTING

Continued from Page 1.

measure up quite as fully to the exactments of the moment—was recently made the subject of comment by a group of old-timers in the theater, one of whom advanced a theory that is probably no more than fractionally true.

It was his conviction that to learn long parts as speedily and with such letter-perfect precision as the National Theater Players do, it is necessary to be endowed with a photographic mind—a mind that takes a picture of a page of dialogue and prints it indelibly upon the brain, never to be lost until voluntarily dismissed from conscious thought.

* * * *

That might be, in part, a scientifically defensible theory, but it still would be in essence only a theory. The fact of the matter is, I dare say, that the National Theater Players are as adept as they are because they never permit themselves to get behind in their home work, and for no other reason. Artistry, like genius, many times is nothing more than an infinite capacity for taking pains—and hard work.

* * * *

IT has always been the view of this outpost that the actor who assumes attributes farthest removed from his own natural endowments and lends them a degree of verisimilitude that creates and sustains a complete illusion in the mind of the spectator has performed a more impressive service to the drama than the player who smoothly enacts a role that permits him largely to "be himself."

This was the assumption upon which Robert Montgomery was here accredited with the best acting in "The Big House"; Marie Dressler with a more complete revelation of her art in "Anna Christie" and "Min and Bill" than as "Emma," and Lionel Barrymore with the most profoundly expert character delineation in "Grand Hotel."

No instance comes to mind in which an actor ever was more completely submerged in his character than the elder Barrymore is in the role of Kringelein. It is not my understanding that Lionel Barrymore in his propria persona is a disease-wracked office drudge whose circumscribed and distorted outlook upon life has been additionally embittered by an inferiority complex that only the imminence of death is able to dispel. That, however, was Kringelein. As I followed his adventures upon the screen, having already followed them through the pages of Vicki Baum's slightly tawdry but nonetheless exciting novel, there was never an instant when Barrymore showed through. It was always the hapless underbookkeeper who was in trouble, never merely the actor who impersonated him.

This, I hold, is the acme of the mummer's art, far surpassing the handsome, humorous, suave and glib Brother John's portrayal of the handsome, humorous, suave and glib Baron von Gaigern; excelling even Garbo's transition from the lowest depths of disconsolate morbidity to the sun-drenched heights of happiness and love, which, after all, has happened at one time or another to us all.

More than a few have advanced the contention that Joan Crawford is to be ranked foremost among the multiplicity of stars importantly cast in "Grand Hotel." While Miss Crawford's rapid advancement as an actress of constantly increasing authority and worth was celebrated in this space no longer ago than last Sabbath, the fidelity with which she clings to the limning of the young stenographer set down by Frau Baum is by no means notable. Her interpretation of the charter is colorful, bold and arresting, but it is more flambuoyantly the captivating Miss Crawford than it is the money-loving but dull-witted Flaemmchen of the book.

Next to Lionel Barrymore, I should rank Wallace Beery, in the role of Preysing, the industrial magnate, whom Fate finally delivers into the trembling hands of his browbeaten underling, Kringelein. One need only revert to his "Butch" in "The Big House," or his Bill in "Min and Bill," and compare either one with the overbearing, brutal Preysing — a craven at heart—to perceive the wide range of this sterling actor's powers.

* * * *

But what utterly fruitless task is this, trying to pick the best actor out of such a stellar galaxy? Will some one please undertake to point out a poor actor in "Grand Hotel?" Even Augustus, the Dachshund, plays his part like a gentleman and a trouper. But the greatest of all these is the dean of the Barrymores!

Or so it seems to me.

"The Mud Lark."

George Brent will play the leading masculine role in "The Mud Lark," Barbara Stanwyck's next starring picture for Warner Bros.

SENOR ITURBI EXPORTS SOME CONVENIENCES

When Jose Iturbi, the brilliant Spanish pianist, returns to the Washington concert stage next December as one of the attractions of Mrs. Wilson-Greene's Saturday evening concert series at Constitution Hall, it is highly probable that local concertgoers will hear the first Washington performance of either "Seven Foxtrots for Piano" or a composition called "Vu; Seen in Paris," both by Robert Russell Bennett, an American composer.

On his way to his home in Valencia, Spain, Mr. Iturbi proposes to visit Bennett in Paris and discuss with the composer a concerto that Bennett is said to be composing for the pianist. Bennett is the first American composer to be represented on an Iturbi program.

When Iturbi sailed, he carried with him his first American citizenship papers, his second American automobile, an American electric refrigerator, an American power plant for generating electricity and a consignment of American plumbing, most of which was destined for Iturbi's orange grove and "ranchero" at Valencia. He was accompanied by his 14-year-old daughter, Maria, who arrived from France shortly after Christmas to visit her father and who remained to accompany him on much of his American tour last season. Maria returned to Europe with a complete American wardrobe, a fine collection of American jazz records and books and a private conviction that the United States of America was easily the most thrilling country in the world.

In addition to Iturbi, Mrs. Wilson-Greene's 1932-33 Saturday evening concert series will present Ethel Leginska and her National Women's Orchestra; Lucrezia Bori, soprano of the Metropolitan Opera; the Don Cossack Russian Male Chorus, Lawrence Tibbett and Yehudi Menuhin, boy genius of the violin.

LOCAL GUILD INDOORS FOR FINAL DRAMA

The Drama Guild of Washington has made a departure from its original plans for this season and will present its final production in Wardman Park Theater, instead of in the Sylvan Theater on the Monument Grounds.

The fourth and final production of the Drama Guild for this season will be given on Friday and Saturday evenings, June 3 and 4, when "Interference," a drama in three acts by Roland Pertwee and Harold Dearden will be offered. Under the direction of William F. Baker, who directed the "Trial of Mary Dugan" earlier in the season, a strong cast is rehearsing several days a week and will include many favorites among Washington audiences.

The part of Sir John Morlay, a prominent London physician, will be filled by Maurice Jarvie; his wife, Faith Marlay, by Aileen Fowler; Philip Voaze, the first husband of Lady Marlay, who was thought to have been killed in the war but suddenly reappears and provides the opportunity for blackmailing, will be taken by Denis Connell.

A PROGRAM BY CHACE-SHAFER

Marian Chace and Lester Shafer, disciples of Ruth St. Denis and Ted Shawn, and codirectors of their own school in this city, will present a group of 30 dancers in a program of diversified moods and dance creations at Wardman Park Theater, May 27, at 8:30 o'clock.

Some of the group numbers to be seen have choreography by Ruth St. Denis and Ted Shawn, but most of them have been originated in the Chace-Shafer studio in this city. In the former group the outstanding number will be a music visualization of the second movement of Beethoven's Sonata athetique, for seven girls, with Miss Chace as the central figure. Of special interest in the original numbers will be an interpretation of the "Song of the Bayou," by Bloom.

In the first of these two dances, those taking part in addition to Miss Chace, will be Lois Balcom, Ruth Raine, Betty Elfeldt, Peggy Krist, Euphemia Fosdick and Harriet Anderson. In the "Song of the Bayou," Michael Logan will be the central figure of a group of twenty.

AMUSEMENTS

WARNER BROS. THEATRE
EARLE
NOW
ROSCO ATES
Stuttering Screen "Comic"
IN PERSON
—On the Screen—
DOUG FAIRBANKS, JR.
"TOUGH TO BE FAMOUS"
AND CAPITAL'S ONLY REAL VAUDEVILLE
Doors Open 1:30 P. M.

WARNER BROS. THEATRE
METROPOLITAN
NOW
The Amazing Story of a White Woman Living With Savages and Refusing to Be Rescued!
"BLONDE CAPTIVE"
AMAZING! AUTHENTIC! THRILLING!
ALSO SELECTED SHORTS
Doors Open 2:30 P. M.

5 ★ COURSE
5 Concerts for $3.00, $4.00, $5.00, $7.50
NOV. 10 ENGLISH SINGERS
DEC. 15 HAROLD BAUER
JAN. 12 SIGRID ONEGIN
FEB. 16 NELSON EDDY
MAR. 9 ALBERT SPALDING
THURS. EVES. 8:30, Constitution Hall
File Season Orders now at T. Arthur Smith Bureau, 1330 G st., in Homer L. Kitt. Nat. 3700.

Tickets Now On Sale at Stieff Piano Co., 1340 G NW. Dist. 2960
For the Grand Opera Spectacle
"AIDA"
At Griffith Stadium
Sunday Eve., June 5th, 8:30 P. M. Sharp
PRICES $1.00, $1.50 $2.00
Mail Orders Filled in Order Received

AMUSEMENTS AMUSEMENTS

Rx PHYSICIANS PRESCRIBE RECREATION
THERE IS PLENTY OF IT AT THE BIG FREE ADMISSION AMUSEMENT PARK
GLEN ECHO TODAY
WHERE THE MORE THAN FIFTY ATTRACTIONS PROVIDE REAL RECREATION AMID A SETTING OF SCENIC SPLENDOR
WASH. RY. & ELEC. CARS MARKED CABIN JOHN OR GLEN ECHO RUN EVERY FEW MINUTES DIRECT TO PARK ENTRANCE. MOTOR VIA CONDUIT ROAD—PARKING SPACE APLENTY!
SWIMMING POOL
SEASON STARTS NEXT SATURDAY

NATIONAL
WED.& SAT. MATINEES ALL SEATS 50¢
NIGHTS $1.00 - 75¢ - 50¢
S. E. COCHRAN & CLIFFORD BROOKE offer
The NATIONAL THEATRE PLAYERS in ANOTHER OUTSTANDING NEW YORK SUCCESS BROUGHT to WASHINGTON FOR THE FIRST TIME!
"The VINEGAR TREE"
The BIGGEST LAUGH HIT OF THE SEASON!
PLAYED IN THE EAST Starring MARY BOLAND
ON THE WEST COAST Starring BILLIE BURKE
NEXT WEEK Beg. MON. SEATS NOW SELLING
A revival of WALLACE EDDINGER'S triumph
"CAPTAIN APPLEJACK"
An adventurous comedy by WALTER HACKETT

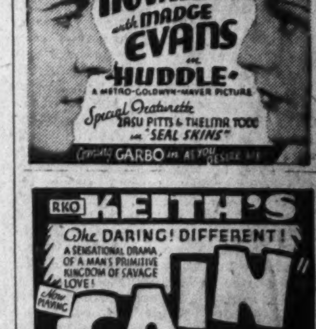
BREAKING RECORDS AT LOEW'S COLUMBIA
METRO-GOLDWYN-MAYER Presents
Greta GARBO
John BARRYMORE
Joan CRAWFORD
Wallace BEERY
Lionel BARRYMORE
LEWIS STONE
JEAN HERSHOLT
GRAND HOTEL
The greatest attraction in stage or screen history
2:30—Twice Daily—8:30—Eves., 50c, $1.00, $1.50—Mats., 50c, $1.00—All Seats Reserved.
NOT TO BE SHOWN IN ANY OTHER THEATRE IN THIS CITY THIS SEASON

Wilson Line
Season Opens This Week
May 25th
First Evening trip of the season. Dancing as usual.
Lv. Washington 8.45 P. M.
May 25th & daily thereafter
May 28th
First trip to Colonial Beach
Lv. Washington 9.00 A. M.
Thurs., Sats., Suns. & Holidays Beginning May 28th
May 29th & 30th
First trip to Chapel Point. Boat also goes to Colonial Beach.
Lv. Washington 9.00 A. M.
Mons., Weds., Fridays, Suns. & Holidays Beginning May 29th
WILSON LINE
7th St. Wharves

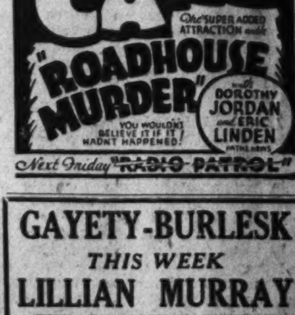
MARIAN CHACE and LESTER SHAFER AND DANCE GROUP
WARDMAN PARK THEATRE
FRIDAY, MAY 27, 8:30 P. M.
BRANCH OF DENISHAWN
Reservations by Mail or Telephone. 1223 Conn. Ave. North 0113.

Suchorowsky's Famous Painting
NANA
The most extraordinary result ever produced on canvas. "It all but breathes." Now on view at 1314 G st. nw. Hours, 10 a. m. till 10 p. m. Admission, 25c.

Loew's FOX
THEATRE OF THE STARS
NOW PLAYING
He knew all of Washington's Sins!
WARNER BAXTER in "MAN ABOUT TOWN"
A FOX PICTURE
STAGE
Wesley EDDY and THREE SCREENS
A CAPITOL THEATRE N.Y. REVUE
PHIL LAMPKIN and the FOX ORCHESTRA
Coming JOHNNY WEISSMULLER (IN PERSON)
JAMES DUNN "SOCIETY GIRL"



Loew's PALACE
THEATRE OF THE STARS
NOW PLAYING
RAMON NOVARRO with MADGE EVANS in "HUDDLE"
A METRO-GOLDWYN-MAYER PICTURE
Special Featurette ZASU PITTS & THELMA TODD in "SEAL SKINS"
Coming GARBO in "AS YOU DESIRE ME"



RKO KEITH'S
The DARING! DIFFERENT!
A SENSATIONAL DRAMA OF A MAN'S PRIMITIVE KINGDOM OF SAVAGE LOVE!
Now Playing
"CAIN"
The SUPER ADDED ATTRACTION with
"ROADHOUSE MURDER"
with DOROTHY JORDAN and ERIC LINDEN
YOU WOULDN'T BELIEVE IT IF IT HADN'T HAPPENED!
Next Friday "RADIO PATROL"

GAYETY-BURLESK
THIS WEEK
LILLIAN MURRAY
THE PRETTIEST WOMAN IN THE WORLD

AT THE SIGN OF THE FARMER
OLNEY INN
OLNEY FARM—OLNEY, MD.
Where excellence of food and refinement of atmosphere are delightfully blended.
LUNCHEON—TEA—DINNER
12 Miles Out Georgia Ave. Ext.
NO OTHER LOCATIONS
PHONE ASHTON 183
Direction: CLARA MAY DOWNEY

NEWS OF ACTIVITIES AMONG VETERANS

Veterans' Meeting List

UNITED SPANISH WAR VETERANS.

Camps.

Tuesday—Col. James S. Pettit, 921 Pennsylvania avenue southeast.

Friday—Gen. Nelson A. Miles, Pythian Temple.

Auxiliaries.

Monday—Miles Drum and Bugle Corps, 714 Eleventh street northwest. Col. James S. Pettit, Naval Lodge Hall; dance by color team.

Friday—Gen. Nelson A. Miles, Pythian Temple.

AMERICAN LEGION.

Monday, 8 p. m.—Quentin Roosevelt Post, No. 11, Potomac Boat Club.

Tuesday, 8 p. m.—Victory Post, No. 4, Odd Fellows Hall, 419 Seventh street northwest. Stuart Walcott, No. 10, Garden House, Grace Dodge Hotel.

Wednesday, 8 p. m.—Henry C. Spengler, No. 12, 1326 Massachusetts avenue northwest.

Thursday, 9 p. m.—James E. Walker, No. 26, 1816 Twelfth street northwest.

VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS.

Monday, 8 p. m.—Federal Post, No. 824, Thomas Circle Club, 1326 Massachusetts avenue northwest. Federal Ladies Auxiliary, Thomas Circle Club, 1326 Massachusetts avenue northwest. Front Line Post, No. 1401, 808 I street northwest. Front Line Ladies Auxiliary, Soldiers, Sailors and Marines Club, Eleventh and L streets northwest.

Tuesday, 8 p. m.—National Capital Post, No. 127, Pythian Temple, 1012 Ninth street northwest. National Capital Ladies Auxiliary, Pythian Temple, 1012 Ninth street northwest. Follow Me Post, No. 1830, Pythian Temple, 1012 Ninth street northwest. Follow Me Ladies Auxiliary, Pythian Temple, 1012 Ninth street northwest. Herbert L. Edmonds Post, No. 2460, 915 Fifteenth street northwest.

Wednesday, 8 p. m.—Defense Post, No. 2357, Odd Fellows Hall, 2030 Rhode Island avenue northeast.

Thursday, 8 p. m.—Potomac Post, No. 1085. Northeast Masonic Temple, Eighth and F streets northeast. Potomac Ladies Auxiliary, Soldiers, Sailors and Marines Club, Eleventh and L streets northwest. U. S. Treasury Post, No. 2400, Metropolitan Hotel, Sixth and Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Equality-Walter Reed Ladies Auxiliary, Soldiers, Sailors and Marines Club, Eleventh and L streets northwest.

Friday, 8 p. m.—Advance Post, No. 2194, Metropolitan Hotel, Sixth and Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS.

Approximately 350 radio stations, including WOL, from coast to coast, will broadcast the voice of National Commander in Chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Darold D. DeCoe in a message addressed to the patriotic citizens of the Nation in "America's flower of remembrance—the buddy poppy." These radio stations have signified that they will broadcast an electrical transcription of National Commander DeCoe's eulogy of the "buddy poppy," its aims and purposes, and will make possible the largest chain broadcast program ever undertaken by any organization. Another important contribution to the 1932 "buddy poppy" drive is being made by business firms that sponsor radio network programs over the National Broadcasting Co. and the Columbia Broadcasting System.

D. C. Department Encampment.

In response to an invitation extended by the Brookland-Woodridge Business Association to the District of Columbia Department, Veterans of Foreign Wars, the District council unanimously voted to accept the proposal to hold its convention in the association territory. Col. George L. Tait heads the convention committee for the V. F. W., aided by Dr. Joseph P. Beattie, chairman of the special parade committee, working in coordination with Mr. Hartford E. Bealer, representing the business association.

The veterans' council has selected the nights of June 8, 9 and 10 for the convention. The first evening will feature an elaborate parade followed by the reception and speech-making in the auditorium of the John Burroughs School. The parade will be headed by the Capital's own Overseas Military Band, Drum and Bugle Corps of the V. F. W. Bands and Drum Corps of Victory and Costello Posts of the American Legion, Washington Independent Boys Band, National Training School Band, De Molay Band, B. P. O. E. Boys Band, District of Columbia Fire Department, Elks Clown Band and other groups have been invited to prove their skill in open com petition for prizes.

District of Columbia officials, together with military officials representing the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard Service, the several presidents of the Brookland-Woodridge Citizens Associations and other representatives of local citizenry, the headquarters detachment of the Army, three squads from the Washington Navy Yard, National Guard, Twentith Marines, Naval Reserves, winning companies of the High School Cadets, chapters of the Eastern Star, Job's Daughters, Daughters of Isabella, Rebekahs, posts of American Legion and their auxiliaries, including the Bunker Hill Post, as well as drill teams, Knights of Pythias, Odd Fellows, Boy Scouts, contingents of several citizens and business associations and others, have all been asked to participate in the parade. Representing the V. F. W. will be fifteen marching groups of V. F. W. posts and their auxiliaries. Decorated floats entered by the different units will compete in their respective classes for trophy cups to be awarded on behalf of the Brooklyn-Woodridge Business Association. The parade will pass in review before the stand of the judges, consisting of Col. Wallach K. McCathren, of the Army; Maj. Charles Demonet, representing the reserves, and Paul F. Moore, past president of the business association.

Defense Post.

Dispensing with the regular order of business, the post at its last meeting, held in Odd Fellows Hall, 2030 Rhode Island avenue northeast, on May 11, featured a social program which was thoroughly enjoyed by the 60 or more attending members and their wives.

Signal Corps films were shown, depicting the progressive steps of Uncle Sam's participation in the World War, and also a reel entitled "The Life of Riley," portraying the training experiences of a recruit at the Army Cavalry School. Commander John W. Wimer and Comrade Jamison rendered a number of piano, drum and cymbol selections.

Comrade Heise introduced Commander Wimer, who briefly announced that the purpose of the meeting was to afford all members an opportunity to get acquainted. He then introduced the department chief of staff, Maj. Edgar H. Hale, candidate for department commander, who felicitated the post on its past successes in V. F. W. activities. He also spoke on the fundamental objects and achievements of the V. F. W. and stressed the importance of enlisting the membership affiliation of all eligibles in the organization for coordinated service with other organizations of former service veterans.

Comrade John L. Fowler, a member of the post, and the president of the Brooklynd-Woodridge Business Association, sponsors of the District of Columbia department convention which will be convened in June, spoke of encampment, parade and the open meeting on the evening of June 8 in the John Burroughs School Auditorium, the business sessions to follow on the evenings of June 9 and 10 in the East Gate Masonic Hall, Rhode Island and Mills avenues northeast, in Woodridge proper. He further spoke as to the aims of the business houses of the community toward decorating their display windows. The parade's line of march will be from Twelth street and Michigan avenue, in Brookland, thence south on Twelfth street to Rhode Island avenue, northeast on Rhode Island avenue to Twenty-fourth street, north on Twenty-fourth street to South Dakota avenue, northwest on South Dakota avenue to Monroe street, thence west on Monroe street to the John Burroughs School. Following the speeches, home-cooked cakes and ice-cream were bountifully served.

Federal Post.

The post unanimously adopted a motion at its last meeting, held at the Thomas Circle Club, on April 29, which provides that 25 per cent of the net proceeds from the sale of "Buddy" poppies shall be credited to a separate fund, to be known as the District of Columbia Cottage Fund, and to be merged with funds allocated from the several other posts of the local jurisdiction for the purpose of building a District of Columbia cottage at the V. F. W. National Home, at Eaton Rapids, Mich., to care for the widows and orphans of veterans of this city. The joint poppy committee of the post and auxiliary will meet at the home of Mrs. Mary E. McFarland, 1934 Potomac avenue southeast, on Tuesday evening to complete plans for conducting the "Buddy" poppy drive which will be launched during the week preceding Memorial Day.

Memorial service in honor of departed comrades will be held at the meeting tomorrow.

Senior Vice Commander C. E. Crowell reported that the dance and card party given at the Arlington Hotel on April 27, at which function more than 50 college girls were guests, was a success. The post is represented on the department bowling committee by Samuel Quinn, C. W. Burden, Stephen T. Nitchka, Fred J. Chase, Fred R. Stephens and Percy Welch. A date reservation has been made for the steamer City of Washington for a moonlight river excursion on July 21. The following delegates and alternates have been elected to the annual encampment: Delegates, C. J. Lawless, S. B. Lapin, T. L. Clinton, John G. Strobel, S. G. Quinn, C. E. Crowell, J. M. Dean, H. S. Burke, D. Browne, S. T. Nitchka. Alternates, J. G. Ficklin, C. W. Burden, L. C. Vogt, P. J. Welch, R. D. Slagle, R. J. Sweeney, J. J. Hummel, W. P. Irving, R. M. MacDonald and J. N. Ankers.

Advance Post.

This post will conduct a grand carnival in early June at Fifteenth street and Rhode Island avenue northeast, and the committee is planning features of entertainment. Patriotic Instructor Batson, 1017 B street southeast, will make blanket application for Verdun medals in behalf of all overseas veterans eligible to receive the medals. Comrade Arthur A. Schnebelin, 2411 Otis street northeast, chairman of the "Buddy Poppy" committee, requests all members to furnish a list of women's names, with their addresses, who will aid in the sale campaign just preceding Memorial Day.

Police and Fire Post.

At the post's meeting held in the red room of the Hamilton Hotel on May 11, the resignation of Senior Vice Commander Oscar L. Rose was accepted and Comrade Julian H. Fincher was elected to fill the vacated office. Comrades Jesse C. Arnold and William F. Mortimer were elected and Comrade Raymond Bower was obligated to membership. The transfer memberships from Front Line Post of Comrades Denbroeder, Lanciaux and Sullivan were accepted. Among the honored guests were Department Senior Vice Commander Herbert C. Davis, who talked on the approaching buddy poppy drive, and Department Chief of Staff Edgar H. Hale, who spoke concerning the appropriate observance of Memorial Day. At Arlington National Cemetery recently funeral rites were conducted by the post at the grave of Comrade Herbert M. Smith, who died at the North Carolina home of his father.

V. F. W. Bowling Tournament.

It has been definitely decided to organize a duckpin league for next season, composed of from sixteen to twenty teams. Initial plans are being worked out by Comrades Abe Grudd, president, and Bill Keefe, secretary. Post commanders will be requested to notify all interested members to attend a meeting which will be called on an early date to discuss tournament plans. The following posts will have one or more teams entered: National Capital, Equality-Walter Reed, Federal, Potomac, Front Line, Advance, Defense, United States Treasury, Gen. Frederick Dent Grant, Herbert L. Edmonds and T. N. T. Pup Tent of the M. O. C., and it is believed that Internal Revenue Post will certify the names and addresses of two representatives.

DISABLED AMERICAN VETERANS

The members of the State Department executive committee were guests at a reception held at the Austrian Embassy by Ambassador and Mrs. Prochnik on Wednesday. Among the guests present were Ambassador and Mrs. Von Prittwitz of Germany.

On Sunday, May 8, the State Department executive committee attended the unfurling of the flag of the German-American Veterans of America at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington Cemetery.

On Sunday, May 29, there will be a massing of colors at the Sylvan Theater on the Washington Monument Grounds. Department Commander Lee Turner tenders an invitation to all disabled veterans to attend this event. It will be held at 2:15 p. m.

National Commander E. Claude Babcock delivered a talk over the Jenkins Television Station during the week. Commander Babcock reviewed the campaign inaugurated by the Disabled Veterans of the World War last July to place every possible disabled veteran in a job. Through the cooperation of the United States Employment Service, headed by John R. Alpine, the commander stated that over 20,000 disabled veterans were placed in jobs. Commander Babcock also served notice that the Veterans Employment Service of the Department of Labor must not be abolished as contemplated in a bill now pending in Congress.

On Wednesday the D. A. V. has arranged for a joint organization broadcast over WJSV. On the program will appear National Commander Babcock, Department Commander Fred G. Fraser of the American Legion, Commander Samuel J. McWilliams of the United Spanish War Veterans, and Commander Jennings of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

At the meeting of the W. W. Atterbury Chapter held last Thursday evening, nine new members were initiated. The members were entertained by Sophocles Pappas and his stringed orchestra.

The Col. Charles Young Chapter has been assigned to have charge of the ceremonies at the Lincoln Cemetery on Memorial Day. Plans were completed for these ceremonies at the meeting of this chapter held on Thursday evening.

Commander Lloyd Wymer of Federal Chapter is making a drive for new members in that chapter and in a recent meeting urged that all chapters attempt to have the largest membership in the history of the organization by the time of the national convention. The indications now are that the Department of the District of Columbia will go to the convention at San Diego, Calif., with a larger membreship than that of the last. In this case Commander Babcock will be the first retiring national commander ever to take to the convention held at the end of his term of office as many members of his own department as when he was inducted into office.

Meetings of D. A. V. during week of May 22—Tuesday, Federal Chapter No. 6, 1405 G street northwest, 7:30 p. m; Wednesday, State Department executive committee, 228 Transportation Building 8 p. m.; Saturday, job committee, Old Patent Office, 1:30 p. m.

AMERICAN LEGION.

Samuel Rose, national radio officer of the American Legion for the District of Columbia Department and a member of Stuart Walcott Post No. 10, announces that an outstanding entertainment for the patients of Walter Reed Hospital has been arranged through the courtesy of WOL broadcasting system to be held in the Red Cross Building of the hospital at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, May 24.

This program will represent the largest of its kind that has ever been given at Walter Reed Hospital. Station WOL has most generously provided for talent for this occasion, which will be conducted under the direction of Fred B. Pfahler, jr., station manager for WOL, as master of ceremonies. The station has arranged for the personal appearancee of the following stage, screen and radio artists: Sterrie Wellman and Flemming Orem, marimba duets; Rodney Hart and his Vikings; Howard Cooper, the Shannons, Ethel West, Dorothy Reddish, Little Joe Hornsby, Stevens Sisters, Bob Mahoney, Community Chest Girl, George Reid, Buddy Gilligan, Catherine Toomey, Dorothy Skinner, Silver String Revellers, Dot and Dash, Romano String Quartet, Rose Novak, Dee Shannon, "Radio Joe" will also be present and will make a short address.

Jacob Jones Post.

The U. S. S. Jacob Jones Post No. 2, of the American Legion, Department of the District of Columbia, will celebrate its thirteenth anniversary next Sunday afternoon over Station WOL from 2:30 to 3 p. m.

A program has been arranged by Post Commander Mary T. Tatspaugh through the efforts and cooperation of the American Legion national radio officer, Comarde Samuel Rose. Department Commander Ferdinand G. Fraser will be guest speaker on the program and Miss Ina Holtzschiter, winner of the Atwater Kent audition in 1931 and daughter of Mrs. Beulah Bosworth, a member of the U. S. S. Jacob Jones Post, will sing. One of Miss Holtzscheiter's selections will be the "Yeoman (F) Song," sung to the tune of the "Stein Song," the words of which are by Yeoman (F) May B. McCormick, of Yeoman (F) Post No. 50, of Philadelphia. Another feature will be novel whistling numbers by Mrs. Catherine Kirk Bradwell. The Drum Corps of Victory Post, No. 4, will open and close the program.

The U. S. S. Jacob Jones Post was organized on May 22, 1919, and is composed of former service women who served as yeomen (F) in the United States Navy during the World War. The post is one of the most active in this department and has approximately 400 members.

The largest number of guests that the post has ever entertained at one time were assembled in the sail loft in the Washington Navy Yard on Saturday evening, May 21, in commemoration of the post's thirteenth anniversary and celebrating the George Washington Bicentennial. Two thousand invitations were issued to members and their friends. Music was furnished throughout the evening by thirteen members of the Navy Band Orchestra. Comrade Eloise Broaddus, entertainment chairman, had arranged a most delightful program of Washington artists, among whom were the Misses Doris Rook and Jane Malone, in specialty dances; Miss Ida Holtzchieter, a group of girls from Miss Margaret Carmody's studio danced the minuet; Miss Annette Derrick, dancing; a group of Children of the American Revolution in the minuet. Also His Fiddlers, from Station WJSV, Mount Vernon Hills, Va., who played for the four sets of Virginia reel, which was led by trained members of the post. Comrade Elsie Pinney, the post's Bicentennial chairman, presented the prize awarded for the most attractive costumes. Refreshments were served and dancing continued until a late hour.

The post will be represented at the massing of the colors on the Monument Grounds on May 29, under the auspices of the Military Order of the World War.

The post is the proud possessor of a new banner which was on display for the first time at the birthday party and George Washington Bicentennial Celebration on Saturday evening.

The commander and several of the comrades met at the home of Comrade Edith Quinn, necrologist officer, on Tuesday, to make poppies with which to decorate the graves of deceased comrades on Memorial Day. Markers have been ordered for the graves of comrades who have died during the year, and will be in place before May 30.

George Washington Post.

Past Department Adjutant and Past Post Commander Howard S. Fisk, of George Washington Post, No. 1, the American Legion, is in receipt of a letter from Department Adjutant James K. Fisk, of the Department of California, inviting all Legionnaires from the District of Columbia attending the national convention at Portland, Oreg., to approach Portland via San Francisco.

On Friday, September 9, next, the dedication of the new war memorial is scheduled to take place in San Francisco and is to be one of the outstanding events of the year there. In view of the long standing friendship between the two adjutants, who though not related, have worked together at national conventions on important legion matters, the invitation is extended to those from the District to stop off at San Francisco and be guests of the California department officials.

Adjutant Fisk also complimented George Washington Post on the recent historic pamphlet which he received from the post of its history and which he says he has preserved among the archives of the California department.

Past Commander Bernard C. McGee has been appointed by Commander John Thomas Taylor to be chairman of the committee to arrange the details in connection with Memorial Day at Rock Creek Cemetery. The post will decorate the graves of all veterans with flags and poppies as in past years, including the grave of Past Commander Charles B. Hanford.

Church Depue Post.

The Stanley Church Depue Post, No. 30, of the American Legion, held its monthly meeting Tuesday evening, at the Arlington Hotel.

At this meeting the post formulated plans whereby a theater party at the National Theater, as well as a boat trip down the Potomac, would be held as outstanding features of the entertainment plans for the coming summer. Other plans, not yet made public, are under consideration by the entertainment committee of the post. The post is also planning a stop watch contest for which an electrical refrigerator will be awarded to the winner.

The following applications for new members have been received: Leslie Engel, Edward Brandt, James Fitzmaurice and Joseph V. Savarese.

All members of the post have been requested to take part in the ceremonies to be held at the grave of Stanley Church Depue, at Arlington, on Memorial Day, May 30, at which time the wreath will be placed on his grave.

Several members of the post have indicated that they will attend the national convention of the legion in Portland, Oreg., at which time the Stanley Church Depue Post colors will participate in its first national parade.

Stuart Walcott Post.

The regular monthly meeting of the Stuart Walcott Post, No. 10, will be held at the Garden House of the Dodge Hotel, North Capitol and E streets northwest, at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening. In adition to other business to be transacted at this meeting, nominations will be held for delegates and alternates for the department convention and arrangements made for decoration of graves at the Congressional Cemetery on May 30.

Sergt. Jasper Post.

The indorsement of Department Commander Ferdinand G. Fraser for a national vice commander, Post Commander William A. Kehoe for department commander of the American Legion, and nomination of 36 delegates, 24 of whom will be elected at the next meeting of the post, to attend the local department convention in July, featured the regular meeting of the Sergeant Jasper Post, No. 13, American Legion, held at the Odd Fellows Temple, 419 Seventh street northwest, on Tuesday evening.

New members elected included Wallace F. Robinson, James L. Smith, Victor A. Reichelt, David A. Stambler and Morris Weinstock. Frederick F. Money was named chairman of the committee in charge of a card party and dance to be given jointly by the post and auxiliary unit at the New Amsterdam Hotel on Saturday, June 4. Other members on this committee include: Col. John R. Thompson, Capt. Daniel H. Pratt, Daniel M. Goodacre, Maj. Thomas J. Frailey, William P. Kershmer; Earnest A. Golden, Paul C. Robbin, L. F. Rice, William A. McCallum, Louis R. Dennis and Charles F. Brown. Commander Edward L. Marthill presided.

Victory Unit, No. 4.

Victory Unit No. 4 held its regular meeting on Thursday, May 12, at the Colonial Hotel, with Mrs. Marion Martin, president, presiding. "A Night in Portugal" program was put on at this meeting. Dr. J. DeS. Coutinho and Mme. D'Eza gave interesting talks on Portugal and Mme. Coutinbo played several piano selections, including the national anthem of Portugal. Rare hand-made laces were displayed.

Distinguished guests present at this meeting included Mrs. Joseph H. Mims, department president; vice presidents of the department, Mrs. Edythe O'Connor; Mrs. Egbert E. Corwin and Mrs. Ada V. Murray, and past department president, Mrs. Leon Arnold.

Mrs. Ada V. Murray, who is also department Fidac chairman, spoke to the unit and explained what "Fidac" means.

Mrs. Mary Gallagher, Mrs. Marie Gorsuch, Mrs. L. M. Bridges, Mrs. Catherine Davis, Mrs. Harvey M. Brown and Mrs. Charlotte Zveare were initiated and welcomed into membership in the unit.

The next regular meeting of Victory Unit, No. 4, will be held on Thursday, at Sears, Roebuck & Co. Galleries, 1106 Connecticut avenue northwest.

REESE EUROPE UNIT NO. 5.

The James Reese Europe Unit No. 5 sponsored a card tournament on April 30 for the benefit of the unit; Mrs. Julia G. Brown was in charge. At its regular bimonthly meeting on May 10 the unit went on record as having contributed toward the fund for the tree planted at Mount Saint Albans in commemoration of the 200th anniversary of the birth of George Washington. Two new candidates were received at this meeting, Mrs. Carrie E. T. Johnson and Mrs. Henrietta C. W. Rowe. All members were urged to attend a Memorial service at Asbury Church, May 29, at 7:30 p. m. A tea was held at the residence of the president, Mrs. Nellie Walker, 71½ R street northwest, last Sunday afternoon.

The next meeting of the unit will be held at 8 o'clock at the Garnet-Patterson Junior High School.

CONFEDERATE VETERANS.

The Confederate Veterans and the Sons of Confederate Veterans are arranging a card party to be given on the evening of June 15 at the Veterans Home, 1322 Vermont avenue northwest. Mrs. Carroll Schock, a member of the Stonewall Jackson Chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy, is in charge of the arrangements for the card party.

The Sons of Confederate Veterans have postponed their regular meeting of June 14 to June 17, due to Flag Day parade, which falls on the 14th. The entertainment committee, consisting of the new commander, W. F. Swairngen; the adjutant, Benjamin Grady, and Treasurer Edward S. Byrnes, is arranging an elaborate entertainment for June 17.

Plans are being perfected for the Confederate memorial exercises at Arlington Cemetery, Sunday, June 5, at 3 p. m. under the direction of the following executive committee: Gen. W. L. Wilkerson, chairman; Gen. H. Oden Lake, W. F. Swaringen, Capt. D. C. Grayson, Maj. E. O. Scaggs and D. Edward Clark. The speaker of the day will be John E. Rankin, member of Congress from Mississippi. The invocation will be by the Rev. Dr. Samuel Judson Porter, pastor of the First Baptist Church, and the benediction by the Rev. John E. Briggs, pastor of Fifth Baptist Church.

Music by the United States Marine Band and a double quartette, consisting of the following well-known singers, Fannie Shreve Heartsill, Estelle Hunt, Dean Ellsworth Condron, Joseph O. Donnell, Lillian Chenoweth, Marie Koontz, William Mattingly and S. H. Hilder, will be furnished.

The program is under the auspices of Camp 171, United Confederate Veterans, assisted by the Sons of the Confederacy, Daughters of the Confederacy, Confederate Southern Memorial Association, Children of the Confederacy, Spanish War Veterans, U. S. A., Department of the District of Columbia; American Legion of the District of Columbia.

Division Commander Fred P. Myers, Commander W. F. Swaringen, Weldon Price, Hinton Gordon, Adjt. Benjamin Grady and Treasurer Edward S. Byrnes are arranging to go to Richmond, Va., to attend the annual reunion of the Confederate Veterans on June 21 to 24.

UNITED SPANISH WAR VETERANS.

Commander A. Eugene Pierce, of the Gen. Nelson A. Miles Camp, presided at the regular meeting held on May 13, at which time two new members were added to the camp roster. Applications were received from Charles C. Newman, formerly of Troop H, First U. S. Cavalry, and Charles N. Phillips, of the U. S. Navy, and they were formally mustered into membership.

In memory of Past Commander Frederick Zulch, who died on April 27, a fifteen minute memorial service was held, and the charter was ordered draped for 30 days.

Past Commander Goltz, chairman of the St. Elizabeth memorial services, requested that the members of the camp assemble promptly at 9 a. m. on Sunday, May 29, at the second gate at St. Elizabeths Hospital, from which point the procession will march to the cemetery where memorial services will be held and decoration of the graves attended to. Commander Pierce announced that the election of delegates and alternates to the department encampment will be held at the meeting next Friday. The adjutant was directed to write a letter to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, conveying the sympathy of the members in the loss of their child. Arrangements have been completed for memorial services to be held at the tomb of Gen. Nelson A. Miles on May 30, at 12 noon, which promises to be the most elaborate ever conducted. The camp will march in a body to the Miles tomb after assembling at the Unknown Soldier's grave in Arlington, upon arrival at the cemetery following the parade to be held in the city. All members of the camp are expected to be on hand for these services.

John Jacob Astor Camp.

The semimonthly meeting was held on Monday at the U. S. Soldiers' Home, the meeting being called by Commander Lewis H. Forsyth at 7 p. m. Department Commander Samuel J. McWilliams was among the visitors and addressed the meeting. He urged that the members attend the memorial services to be held on May 30. Comrade M. M. Clarke, of Daytona Beach, Fla., also spoke and told several interesting stories. Many discussions were indulged in, which proved to be most entertaining to the members present. Owing to the extremely warm weather, some of the camp business was dispensed with to permit early adjournment. Preparations are being made for the usual ceremonies to be held on May 30 at the Soldiers' Home Cemetery and the placing of carnations and flags on the various graves, which services are attended by the members of the home in a body.

Admiral George Dewey Auxiliary.

The regular meeting was held on Monday at the Northeast Masonic Temple, the meeting being called to order at 8 p. m. by President Mary Lipscomb. The rummage sale held on May 11 and 12 was reported to be a success by the committee in charge. The meeting was attended by Department President Janet Sikken, Past Department President Bertha R. Cook, Presidents Renna Conklin, of Urell Auxiliary; Cordelia Pollard, of Lawton Auxiliary, and Myrtle Moxley, of Pettit Auxiliary, all of whom were called upon and made short addresses. The auxiliary was officially inspected by the department president.

Pettit Auxiliary.

The meeting on tomorrow will be convened at 7:30 p. m. to permit time for the proper transaction of business and to permit the members to attend the dance to be given by the color team at the close of the meeting. The meeting and dance will be held in Naval Lodge Hall, to which all members of the auxiliaries and camps have been invited.

Lawton Auxiliary.

The regular semimonthly meeting will be held on Tuesday at Pythian Temple, at which time the officers will be officially inspected by the department president. President Pollard announced that a bingo party will be held tomorrow evening at the Southern Dairies auditorium, 60 M street northeast.

Presidents Club.

The members of the Presidents Club will be entertained on Wednesday at the home of Past President Gertrude Callan, 2637 Myrtle street northeast. She will be assisted in entertaining by Past Presidents Cora Campbell and Catherine Huhn.

Arrangements for the Memorial Day parade to be held on the morning of May 30 have been completed, and full information will appear in these columns on Sunday, May 29. Past Department Commander Charles W. McCaffrey has been designated as grand marshal.

NATIONAL GUARD NOTES

STAFF AT FORT HUMPHREYS

Col. Edward H. Schulz, commanding officer of Fort Humphreys, Va., photographed with his staff. First row, left to right—Lieut. Col. Stephen R. Wood, chaplain; Col. Schulz, Lieut. Col. Harley J. Hallett, Medical Corps. Second row—Maj. Henry A. Wingate, quartermaster; Maj. William E. R. Covell, executive officer; First Lieut. Emil J. Peterson, adjutant; Second Lieut. Roland C. Brown, assistant adjutant.

Maj. Gen. Anton Stephan, commanding the District of Columbia National Guard, appeared before the Senate appropriations committee during last week and requested that the Senate reestablish the appropriations of the Militia of the District of Columbia on the same basis as those for the current fiscal year, including the insertion in the appropriation bill of those items which had been eliminated entirely in the [illegible] as passed by the House. Gen. Stephan requested that the Senate appropriations committee give particular attention to those items for "pay of employes, target practice and pay of troops."

Maj. Frank C. Scofield, Coast Artillery Corps, is to be relieved from detail as instructor, District of Columbia National Guard, and from duty in Washington, effective at such time as will enable him to sail from New York for the Philippine department on August 26.

The following enlisted men of the guard have been transferred to the reserves on account of business interference with the performance of duties: Sergt. Albert L. Johnson, jr., Corpl. Edward H. Landers, Corpl. John F. McKenzie, jr., Private Charles A. Cole, Private Robert L. Eastman and Private George T Hendry. All, with the exception of Corpl. McKenzie, were attached to the 121st Engineers and are assigned to the same reserve organizations. Corpl. McKenzie has been assigned to the Twenty-ninth Military Police Company, Reserves.

Private George A. Wood, of the medical detachment of the 121st Engineres, Reserves, and Private Albert A. Miller, of the Twenty-ninth Police Company Reserves, have been transferred to the active guard and assigned to the same units for duty.

Private Carl A. King, Twenty-ninth Military Police Company, of the District Guard, has been honorably discharged on account of removal from the District.

Privates Joseph F. Barrett, Robert E. MacCord, Thomas A. Maisel and William G. Robertson, of Company F, 121st Engineers have been transferred to the Reserves on account of business interference with the performance of duties.

Privates Joseph A. Cross, William L. Pierce, jr., Nathan Steinbach, William M. Sullivan, Charles R. Waser and Bert J. Watson, of the National Guard Reserves, assigned to Company F, 121st Engineers, have been honorably discharged on account of removal from the District of Columbia.

Private Joseph S. Goodowitz, Company E, 121st Engineers, has been honorably discharged from the guard on account of removal from the District of Columbia.

Sergt. William H. Mattoon, has been promoted to the grade of first sergeant in Company D, 121st Engineers. Corpl. Raymond L. Taylor and Privates Andy D. Flores and Donald S. Funk have been promoted to the grade of sergeants. Private Louis Gallun has been promoted to the grade of corporal.

The District National Guard Rifle Team defeated the Naval Academy Team in the annual rifle match on May 14 for the third consecutive year with a total of 2,300 to the academy's 2,287. First Lieut. E. A. McMahon, Company F, 121st Engineers, had the high score for both teams with a total of 235 out of a possible 250. The names of the individual team members and their total scores follow:

District of Columbia National Guard.	Total.
Staff Sergt. H. Parsons	233
Sergt. T. Harrell	231
Second Lieut. W. Lane	227
First Lieut. E. A. McMahon	235
Maj. C. S. Shields	230
Second Lieut. E. D. Andrus	231
Sergt. H. M. Boudinot	229
Staff Sergt. F. Brickels	227
First Lieut. T. A. Riley	233
Corpl. E. A. Ross	224
Total	2,300
United States Naval Academy.
D. S. McDougal	231
R. F. St. Germain	230
M. Sauderland	228
R. E. Baker	219
T. H. Klinkseik	230
H. J. Turton	230
G. C. Wells	232
C. Bienman	226
W. L. Richards	229
W. B. Short	232
Total	2,287

Reserve Corps Notes

By STAFF SERGT. A. S. De AGRO

The following District reserve officers have been ordered to active duty for a period of fourteen days in recent orders published by the Headquarters Third Corps Area. On June 12 the officers will proceed to Army stations indicated and report to the commanding officer for duty. At the end of the fourteen-day period, June 25, the officers will revert to inactive status: First Lieut. Sidney Berman, of 1350 Taylor street northwest; First Lieut. Henry Bernstein, of 1360 Madison street northwest; First Lieut. Robert Francis Costello of 2818 Twenty-eighth street northwest, and First Lieut. James Morgan Loftus, of 1359 Monroe street northwest, all of the Medical Corps Reserve, will report to Carlisle Barracks, Pennsylvania. Second Lieut. Carl J Ackerman, of 1335 C street northeast, Signal Corps Reserve, to Fort George G. Meade, Maryland. Second Lieut. Ralph Wardlow Watt, of 4013 Twenty-first street northeast, of the Infantry Reserve, will report to Fort Washington.

The following appointments have been made in the Officers' Reserve Corps: Sedgley Thornbury, of 2601 Calvert street northwest, and Colvin E. McRea, jr., of 1626 Webster street northwest, have been appointed second lieutenant of infantry. Bernard J. Gurwin, of 732 Ninth street northwest, appointed first lieutenant Medical Corps, and William Nathaniel Swarthout, box 387, Pennsylvania avenue station, appointed a captain in the Military Inteligence Service.

Capt. Robert Earl Palmer, of Washington Grove, Md., has been promoted to the grade of major and transferred to the Auxilary Reserve, and Second Lieut. Hershel Arthur Soskin, of 4007 Connecticut avenue northwest, promoted to the grade of first lieutenant in the Infantry Reserve. Reappointments in the Officers' Reserve Corps are announced as follows: Maj. Charles Frederic Wilson, of 406 Metropolitan Bank Building, reappointed in the Quartermaster Corps Reserve; Everett Clayton Embrey, of 404 Rittenhouse street northwest; Edson Allen Edson, of 1324 Sixteenth street northwest, and Paul S. Murphy, of 4501 Stanford street, Chevy Chase, Md., have been reappointed as second lieutenants of infantry.

The following officers have been assigned to the 80th Division: First Lieuts. Max A. Bradshaw, of 2121 New York avenue northwest, and George O. Riggs, of the Army War College, Field Artillery Reserves; Second Lieuts. John C. Bull, of the Coast and Geodetic Survey, and William F. Dismer, of 1401 Fairmont street northwest, of the Infantry Reserve. Capt. Walter P. King, of 1901 Columbia road, Second Lieuts. Michael J. Kohut, jr., of 1335 Eighteenth street northwest, and Howard H Ruppert, of 529 Lamont street northwest, Calvary Reserve, have been assigned to the 62d Cavalry Division. Maj. Horace C. Rawson, Engineer Reserve, of 1028 Connecticut avenue, has been assigned to the 627th Engineer Separate Battalion. First Lieut. Louis Bubit, Dental Reserve, of 1669 Columbia road, has been assigned to the 364th Medical Regiment of Washington. Second Lieut. John W. Green, Medical Administrative Corps Reserve, of 4519 Fifteenth street northwest, has been assigned in the capacity of personnel adjutant, to the 51st General Hospital. Maj. Robert Borchardt, Field Artillery Reserve, of 1741 Park road northwest, has been relieved from assignment to the 315th Field Artillery and is now assigned to the 313th Field Artillery.

Medical Corps or Dental Corps Reserve officers of the District will be interested to know of the exemptions now allowed under the new regulations. Reserve officers, who are graduates of the Medical or Dental Reserve Officers Training Corps units, will be exempted, in examination for certificate of capacity for promotion to the grade of captain, Medical Corps Reserve, or Dental Corps Reserve, respectively, from examination in subjects in all military knowledge qualifications listed in the present regulations except "Supply, and Mess Management" and "Defense Against Chemical Warfare," provided, that the R. O. T. C. training has been completed within five years of date of application for exemption.

The following officers have been appointed as members of a board of officers to meet in this city for the examination of such persons as may be authorized to appear before the board for examination for appointment in the Air Corps Reserve, and to conduct the practical test of such reserve officers as may be ordered before the board to determine their fitness for a certificate of capacity: Capt. Charles P. Prime, Air Corps, office of the Chief of Air Corps, will act as recorder. The reserve members of the board are as follows: Lieut. Col. Joseph F. Randall, Air Corps Reserve, of 3146 Nineteenth street northwest; Maj. Alan P. Hume, Air Corps Reserve, of 2150 Florida avenue northwest, and Capt. Marshall S. Boggs, Air Corps Reserve, of the Department of Commerce.

The following instructional conferences will be held at reserve headquarters during the coming week: Tomorrow evening the quartermaster officers will assemble for the interesting lecture on "Genghis Khan," to be presented by Capt. F. V. Fitzgerald, of the quartermaster general's office. On the same evening in the judge advocate general's office in the Walker-Johnson Building, Capt. William H. Green, of that office, will conduct "Moot Court" for the officers of the judge advocate general's reserve.

The Coast Artillery Corps Reserve will meet Tuesday evening. Subcourse on "Supply" of the Coast Artillery Extension School will be the subject to be taken up by Capt. T. J. Betts, C. A. C. The Signal Corps officers and the officers of the Military Intelligence Department will meet on the same evening in the main assembly hall of reserve headquarters. Elementary military cryptography will be the subject to be presented by Capt. H. Allison, Signal Corps, of the Third Corps Area headquarters.

Maj. John M. McDowell, the Field Artillery instructor, will lecture the officers of the 313th and 315th Field Artillery Regiments in "Pistol Marksmanship" Wednesday evening. The 343 Engineer Regiment on the same evening will have their meeting on preparation for active duty training and "Map Maneuver." Maj. J. D. Arthur, jr., of the Corps of Engineers, will be the instructor.

The committee on social activities of the 306th Cavalry Regiment has arranged a dinner and conference to be given Tuesday at 7 p. m. at the Racquet Club, 1135 Sixteenth street northwest. The regimental commander, Col. John Philip Hill, 306th Cavalry, will act as toastmaster. The Hon. Frederick H. Payne, assistant Secretary of War, will attend. Officers and enlisted reservists desiring to attend should communicate to the unit instructor at reserve headquarters for reservations.

The latest report from reserve headquarters on the Citizens Military Training Camps shows that the District of Columbia has reached its quota of 206 and the corps area, comprising the States of Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia and the District of Columbia, shows that 11,872 applications have been received. Of this number, 3,952 applications have been accepted for training and have been so notified. The Third Area quota is only 4,600.

J. D. Thacker Gets War Work Award

Service Is Rewarded With Purple Heart Medal; Twice Wounded.

Joel D. Thacker, 1432 R street northwest, has been awarded the Purple Heart Medal and oak leaf cluster for meritorious service during the World War, according to a recent War Department announcement.

Mr. Thacker entered the service prior to the entry of this country into the war. He served 19 months overseas and was wounded in action on July 18, and October 5, 1918.

He holds the meritorious citation certificate from the commander in chief, Gen. Pershing, having served in the Eighteenth Infantry, First Division, as a sergeant. Mr. Thacker is now employed at Marine headquarters here.

Burning of Brush Blamed for Fires

Harrisburg, Pa. (U.P.)—Carelessness in burning brush caused 10 per cent of the forest fires in Pennsylvania this season, according to the Department of Forests and Waters.

The department advised that brush be burned in small piles on wet days or nights with the fire headed down hill against the wind.

Navy Orders Affect Officers in Capital

Orders have been issued Capt. John W. Greenslade, U. S. N., member of the general board, for duty as commander submarine force, United States Fleet, succeeding Rear Admiral Arthur L. Hepburn, U. S. N., who is now in Geneva as a technical adviser to the American delegation to the disarmament conference. Capt. Greenslade's flagship will be the U. S. S. Bushnell, based, temporarily, at Pearl Harbor, T. H.

Capt. Hugo W. Osterhaus, U. S. N., in charge of the naval reserve personnel division, Bureau of Navigation, Navy Department, has been ordered to duty as commander Submarine Squadron 4, with additional duty as commanding officer of the submarine base, Pearl Harbor, T. H., relieving Capt. Ward K. Wortman, U. S. N. No orders have been announced for Capt. Wortman.

Siamese Army Officers Will Study in Virginia

The Secretary of War has approved the attendance at the Engineer School at Fort Humphreys, Va., of Second Lieuts. M. L. Chuan Chuen Kambhu and Bun Mar Praband, of the Siamese army, for the course of instruction starting September 1, 1932.

A prince of Siam, Second Lieut. Svasti Pradisdh, is now attending the Engineer School, having been graduated from the Military Academy in 1930.

Hair-Dresser Expects Red-Hair Fad Next

Boston (U.P.)—There'll be a 20 per cent increase in the number of red-haired women in the United States by June, according to Andre Behns, hair-dressing specialist.

"The world needs to be cheered up," he says, "and red-hair can cheer up the world best."

He believes the platinum blonde fad will be followed by a red-hair fad, pointing out that hair can be turned red easily.

Woman Forest Ranger On Job Six Years

Tamaqua, Pa. (U.P.)—A woman operated the Silver Creek State forest fire tower during the spring season and reported 60 fires during the period.

Mrs. Lee Creasy, Locust Valley, has held this position for six years and is credited with being one of the most efficient operators in the service.

AIRPLANE UTILIZED IN WAR ON PLAGUES

Fuselage Laboratory Used by Berlin Scientists to Speed Their Work.

Berlin, May 21 (A.P.).—Like Mahomet, who went to the mountain when it refused to come to him, German scientists will go to the plague spots, inasmuch as the plague spots decline to come to the laboratory.

But the present day scientist here will fly, literally, to the most remote village in Germany, carrying a fully equipped laboratory and a a detail of specialists, at the first word of an epidemic of contagious disease.

Sponsored by the Robert Koch Institute for Infectious Diseases, the miniature, but none the less effective, laboratory is available at a moment's notice. Packed neatly and carefully in boxes, the "knock down" laboratory includes a series of special microscopes, test-tubes, swabs, hypodermic needles and various types of vaccines.

Set up in the fuselage of an all-metal airplane, the scientists are able to test cultures submitted them with the first reports of the disease while they are flying from their home airport at Berlin to the scene of the outbreak.

The scientific instruments are so compactly packed that they may be carried quite a distance by the doctors without fatigue, in the event the airplane is forced to land at a spot remote from the village in which the plague threat appeared.

Speed in detecting and taking precautions is regarded by the scientists as one of the most powerful weapons in fighting a threatened outbreak and through utilization of their flying laboratory the German group is able correctly to gauge conditions which they will meet before arriving on the scene.

Isolated during the flight from Berlin, the germ is identified and the proper vaccine can be administered soon after arrival of the German germ patrol.

Y. W. C. A. Notes

The music hours will be discontinued beginning today until after the summer months. They will be resumed in the fall.

The World Fellowship committee of the Y. W. C. A. will meet on Wednesday at 11 a. m.

The Indoor-Outdoor Club, of the Y. W. C. A., will have a house party at Vacation Lodge, Cherrydale, Va., May 28 to 30.

The industrial and education departments of the Y. W. C. A. are sponsoring a bus trip to Monticello, Charlottesville, Va., May 30. Further information may be obtained at the Y. W. C. A.

Chapters.

Park View Chapter will meet at Vacation Lodge on Monday, with Mrs. George Winchester Stone as speaker.

The Open Chapter Council meeting will be at Vacation Lodge on Tuesday at 11 a. m. Mrs. William Adams Slade, president of the Y. W. C. A., will speak on the new Folger Library. Mrs. Irving Ketchum, executive secretary of the education department, will have the devotions Princeton Chapter will serve luncheon at 1 p. m.

Dupont Chapter will meet at Vacation Lodge at 2 p. m. following the chapter council and luncheon.

Girl Reserves.

This afternoon at 4:30 o'clock the 85 girls graduating from the senior high schools who are Girl Reserves will be entertained at tea at the home of Miss Elsa M. Peterson, vice chairman of the Girl Reserve department.

Miss Mabel R. Cook, Girl Reserve executive, will address the mother-daughter banquet at the Douglas M. E. Church Tuesday and at 8:30 o'clock will speak to the Girl Scout leadership meeting at the Girl Scout headquarters.

The Bon Secour Girl Reserve Club of Central High School will hold their closing banquet at the Y. W. C. A. on Thursday evening at 6 o'clock. The program will be planned by the newly elected officers of the club, and will be in honor of those who are graduating. A ceremonial installing the new officers will be held after the banquet.

The Senior High School Girl Reserve Council will hold their last meeting for this school year at the home of Miss Peterson on Friday evening. Supper will be served and a skating party will follow the meeting.

Health Education.

The health education department has secured three outdoor tennis courts for the summer months, located on Massachusetts avenue between California and S streets. They will be open to men, women and children. Miss Jennie Turnbull, assistant physical director at the Y. W. C. A., will be in charge of the courts and will give instructions to those who wish it, between the hours of 10 and 1 in the morning and 4:30 to 7:30 in the evening. Reservations for the courts may be made by calling the health education office.

Y. M. C. A.

The religious work department will have charge of the meeting at the National Training School for Boys at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. H. Lee Smith will lead the singing, and Page McK. Etchison, religious work director of the Y. M. C. A., will speak.

The weekly program of moving pictures will be shown in the lobby at 7:15 p. m. Monday.

The vocational guidance committee will meet at luncheon on Tuesday at 12:30 p. m. under the leadership of Dr. John O. Powers. The Dramatic Club will hold a rehearsal in the assembly hall at 7:45 o'clock.

Camp Letts Day will be observed at the Lions Club at the Mayflower Hotel, at 12:30 p. m. Wednesday. Special guests who are interested in the Y. M. C. A. camp will be John C. Letts, W. M. Guthrie and J. C. Ingram. Moving pictures of the camp will be shown. The annual old timers' reunion will be held at dinner in the assembly hall Wednesday at 6:15 p. m. The speakers will be John Clagett Proctor and L. W. DeGast, C. W. Pimper will preside. The Glee Club will hold its rehearsal in Room 217, at 8:15.

The Washington delegates will leave on Friday for the fourth North American assembly on Y. M. C. A. work with boys, which will be held at Blue Ridge, N. C., May 28 to June 4. The following will attend from the Washington Association: E. M. Willis, L. W. DeGast, J. C. Ingram and Ralph W. Foster. A program of educational movies will be shown in the lobby at 7:15 p. m.

The construction program at Camp Letts is making splendid progress. Four cabins have been completed and work is progressing rapidly on the athletic field.

ARMY BALLOON RACERS

Left to right—Lieut. Haynie McCormick and Capt. William J. Flood, of the Army Air Corps, who will represent the Army in the national elimination balloon race at Omaha, Nebr., on May 30. The officers will fly a 35,000 cubic foot capacity free balloon filled with hydrogen. This team won the national race in 1925 and participated in the international event in Belgium. Capt. Flood's residence is at 1322 Massachusetts avenue northwest, Washington, and Lieut. McCormick is from Hutto, Tex.

Take-Offs and Landings

By HARRIS B. HULL

If all the legislators up on Capitol Hill had their way the aviation business would undergo some radical changes. For the congressional calendar is literally crowded with all sorts of bills and resolutions affecting aeronautics that would do everything from "abolish the offices of Assistant Secretary of War and Navy for Aeronautics" to "award a posthumous distinguished flying cross to Glenn H. Curtiss."

Many of the bills introduced have no chance of ever being reported out of comimttee. A number of these have been introduced "on request of constituents." Others may get out of a House or Senate committee favorably but never get very far on the floor. And, then if they do pass one of the bodies, they still have a long trail to go in the other chamber. In many instances it is a good thing that they have a long road to travel before they become laws, for if they all passed the flying business would be upset, to put it mildly.

Included in the group of bills are a number of practical pieces of legislation that undoubtedly would, and it is to be hoped, will aid aviation.

The Washington Airport situation comes in for its share of legislation. Representative McMillan, of South Carolina, has introduced a bill "to establish a commercial airport for the District of Columbia." This would join Hoover and Washington Airports and some adjacent area and give the Capital a landing field that would keep pilots from getting nervous every time they have to land here.

Also from South Carolina, Representative McSwain has introduced a bill "to complete the acquisition of land adjacent to Bolling Field," thus improving the Army and Navy's local flying field.

Representative Mead, of New York, would allow the Air Corps to acquire airplanes by negotiation rather than by advertising and bidding in competition, as is now the practice.

Representative Vinson, of Georgia, would do away with the offices of Assistant Secretary of War and Navy for Aeronautics.

Representative Florence P. Kahn, of California, would have "an Air Corps bombardment group established in the vicinity of San Francisco."

Mr. Mead also would have "the Postmaster General directed to cancel all contracts, route certificates, extensions, or consolidation of either, for the transportation of air mail both in the United States and foreign countries which have been awarded by the Postmaster General without advertising publicly."

Representative Celler, of New York, would provide, "for compulsory use of parachutes by airplane common carriers."

Representative Crosser, of Ohio, would "develop American air transport service overseas, encourage the construction in the United States by American capital of Amtrican airships for use in fortign commerce and make certain provisions of the maritime law applicable to foreign commerce by airship." A companion bill has been introduced in the upper house by Senator McNary. Mr. Crosser's bill has been favorably reported out of committee and is now pending before the House.

Another bill would "provide for the purchase of certain inventions, designs and methods of aircraft, aircraft parts, aeronautical and aviation technique of Edwin Fairfax Naulty and Leslie Fairfax Naulty, of New York. These inventions include everything from a "Fairnault autoflight dirigible cruiser, with multiple flight nacelles and triple hull," to a simple little "Fairnault, helio flight form, ovo-avion type."

It has been a long time since I have ridden in a good "autoflight dirigible cruiser with multiple flight nacelles and a triple hull."

Representative Yon, of Florida, would "authorize the Secretary of the Navy to proceed with certain public works at the United States naval air station, Pensacola, Fla., at a cost not to exceed $8,100,000."

Representative McLeod, of Michigan, has introduced a bill to create a "department of aeronautics with a secretary of aeronautics."

Representative Sumners, of Texas, would "authorize appropriations for construction at Hensley Field, Grand Prairie, Tex.," of airport improvements costing about $100,000.

The aviation-minded Representative LaGuardia, of New York, would "provide a public terminal aviation field at Governors Island, N. Y.," a much-needed project.

Senators have been almost as active in the cause of saving aviation as have the representatives. Companion bills to a great number of the House bills have been introduced in the Senate.

Senator Schall, of Minnesota, would "amend the air commerce act of 1926 so as to provide further encouragement for civilian flying." This is a most worthy plan.

Senator McKellar, of Tennessee, would "authorize the design, construction, and procurement of one detachable combination aircraft suitable for transport purposes."

Another worthy bill introduced by aviation's champion in the Senate, Mr. Bingham, would "provide a five-year training program for the training of pilots for an unorganized reserve for the Army Air Corps."

And there are many others.

Oh, I almost forgot. The Senate will shortly investigate air mail contracts. It is a good plan and has no one worried or excited.

Eastern Air Transport's hostesses soon will be "wrapped in celophane," for these personable young ladies have found a new use for the transparent wrapper from cigarette packages. They fold them up in tiny lengths and weave them together, then make belts of them for wearing while off duty. This is not as complicated as it sounds, and the finished article, when buckled around a slender waist, makes a shiny band that looks like pearl. It is nothing unusual for passengers to watch the hostess of their plane diligently weaving celophane in an otherwise unoccupied moment as the big airliner speeds between the South and the North.

Capt. H. C. Richardson, U. S. N. retired; Lieut. Comdr. Philip V. Weems, U. S. N., and Lieut. Comdr. Elmer F. Stone, U. S. Coast Guard, will attend the first international convention of transocean flyers which will meet in Rome on May 22. Capt. Richardson was pilot of the NC-3 during the transatlantic flight in 1919. Lieut. Comdr. Weems, a navigation expert, assisted in instructing some of the transocean pilots.

This meeting will be attended by aviators from the nations which have been engaged in transoceanic flights. Since the successful flight of the NC-4, about 100 aviators have flown across oceans.

The residents of Clarkston, Ga., recently sent warm word of thanks to Frank Andre, Eastern Air Transport mail pilot, who attracted attention to a fire that destroyed the home of H. T. Kirkland.

While the warning from the sky came too late to save the residence, Pilot Andre aroused the neighborhood by diving his loaded mail plane at the fire. As a result enough people responded to save dwellings nearby.

Culbertson on Bridge

By ELY CULBERTSON

322

RESPONDING TO AN OPENING BID (Forcing).

LESSON NO. 25.

Assuming that the opponents always pass, the partner of the Opening Hand, who bids two in a suit, must never pass, even though holding a trickless hand, until a game contract—or its penalty—is reached Both partners are obligated to keep the bidding open up to game. The only time that either partner may pass is when, having shown all values or having no values to show, an intervening bid by an opponent has already kept the bidding open—but neither partner may pass after his partner passes, and the opponent's bid must not be left in unless one partner makes a Penalty Double or unless the opponent has made a Penalty Double which makes the contract sufficient for game.

The next most important thing for the Responding Hand to remember is that Raises and Takeouts must be based exclusively on honor-tricks and ruffing-tricks. Long-suit tricks in Responding Hand must be ignored.

If the Responding Hand holds less than 1 honor-trick, the first response must be notrump—a negative response, showing a bust hand. The first response must show the lack of an honor-trick, even though the hand contains adequate trump support and ruffing-tricks, or another biddable suit. Playing-tricks (for a Raise or a Takeout) can be shown on the next round of bidding.

With 1½ honor-tricks, but lacking adequate trump support or another biddable suit, the Responding Hand should show the honor-trick strength by bidding three notrump—a positive response. With 2½ or more honor-tricks, but without adequate trump support or another biddable suit, the Responding Hand should jump the notrump response by bidding four, five, or six notrump, as may be indicated by the cards held. The full strength of notrump Takeouts, based on honor-tricks, must be shown in one bid—remembering that the Opening two-bid has already shown about 5½ honor-tricks in the Opening Hand.

With at least 1 honor-trick and another biddable suit, the Responding Hand should make a regulation suit Takeout, in order that the Opening Hand may consider the alternative suit as a possible game-going declaration. Suit Takeouts should be bid gradually—never jumped—in responding to an Opening two-bid.

With about 1 honor-trick and adequate trump support, the Responding Hand should show this strength by giving one Raise in the bid suit. Each additional honor-trick or ruffing-trick justifies another Raise. The full value of the Raises must be shown in one hand.

With even 1 honor-trick, but lacking another biddable suit and lacking adequate trump support, the response is two no-trump.

If the Opening bid is two spades, and you hold:

Spades	9 8
Hearts	8 7 6 4 2
Diamonds	Q 5
Clubs	J 10 9 7

the proper response is two notrump—showing the lack of even 1 honor-trick, or certainly the lack of 1½ honor tricks and no biddable suit and no adequate trump support. If the Opening Hand now bids three hearts, you can raise to four hearts (game).

If the Opening bid is two hearts, and you hold:

Spades	K 3
Hearts	Q J 4 3
Diamonds	5 2
Clubs	8 7 6 5

you have just 1 honor-trick, with adequate trump support for hearts—you therefore raise. But should you bid three hearts or four hearts? You have adequate trump support and 1 honor-trick — which justifies one Raise. But with four hearts and a diamond doubleton, you have 1 ruffing-trick — which justifies another raise. You therefore bid four hearts.

If the Opening bid is two clubs, and you hold:

Spades	6 2
Hearts	A Q J 4 2
Diamonds	7 3 2
Clubs	J 7 6

you lack adequate trump support, but you have 1½ honor-tricks plus and a biddable heart suit, so you bid two hearts. It should be remembered that an Opening two-bid is always Forcing except when it is made to a part-score, and the bid of two plus the part-score, if the contract is made, equals a game contract.

TODAY'S POINTER.

In raising an Opening bid of two in a suit, the Responding Hand must first have adequate trump support and 1 honor-trick. Having adequate trump support, he may raise once for each honor-trick and ruffing-trick the hand contains. Long-suit-tricks can not be counted as Raises for an Opening bid of two in a suit.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS.

Question: What should South lead, holding:

Spades	10 4
Hearts	A K 6
Diamonds	7 3 2
Clubs	K J 7 4 2

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
1♠	2♣	2NT	Pass
4♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

Answer: Heart Ace. A deceptive lead. The Queen of hearts probably lies with West, and, if so, a small heart on the second lead may enable North to make the Knave of hearts. East and West's bidding is too strong to hope to defeat the contract by normal play.

* * * *

Question: Neither side vulnerable. The bidding:

West	North	East	South
1♣	Dbl.	1♠	?

What should South bid, holding:

Spades	K J 9 3 2
Hearts	A 10 8
Diamonds	Q J 6
Clubs	7 4

Answer: Double. East's bid may be psychic, and it is necessary to expose it. North and South should have a game some place in the hand. One spade doubled, if played there, should also prove profitable.

(Copyright, 1932.)

PRINCE TO SEEK JOB IN AVIATION IN U. S.

45-Year-Old Son of Spanish Princess Talks of Career in Flying.

Paris (U.P.).—Altesse Royal Infant Alphonse d'Orleans de Bourbon, 45-year-old son of Princess Eulalie de Bourbon, aunt of former King Alphonso, has decided to go to America soon to seek a job in aviation, engineering, or anything else that he may find, or be offered. He is tired of being royalty, even former royalty, and wants to go to work and earn his own living.

Prince Alphonse is the brother of Louis-Ferdinand, who, with his wife, Princess Marie de Broglie, own the historical and palatial Chateau Chaumont, once occupied by Diane de Poitiers, Catherine de Medici and Mme. de Stael, only three hours distant from here.

Alphonse has three sons, Alvaro, Alonso and Ataulfo, the first two of whom are soon to marry their cousins, Beatrice and Marie Christine, daughters of the dethroned King and Queen of Spain. Ataulfo is 16, while his brothers, Alvaro and Alonso, are 22 and 20, respectively. The wedding of Beatrice and Alvaro is to take place in July, at Fontainebleau, while Marie Christine must wait until she comes of age three years hence. Alonso is her fiance, hard at work on his engineering studies in Zurich, Switzerland.

Infanta Eulalie, mother of the adventurous prince, may possibly accompany her son to America, or come over later with his wife and youngest son. Should the family become installed in America, it would mean that Beatrice and Marie Christine and their fiances would doubtless become frequent visitors to the United States, as well as would the king and queen.

Princess Eulalie says she would "adore to visit America," but feels that she is too old to travel around the country.

Pierce Hall Group To Present Play

"Her Husband's Wife" to Be Staged on Two Successive Nights.

The Pierce Hall Players' production of "Her Husband's Wife," by A. E. Thomas, will be given two evenings, May 26 and 27, in Pierce Hall, under the direction of Frank B. Steele.

Jean Christie, who is studying dramatic art and play production at George Washington University, has a leading part. Costarring in the play is Fritz Firey, who was active in the dramatic life of her college, Salem College, North Carolina. She was associated with the Carolina Playmakers, of which Prof. Frederick H. Koch was director, and for several seasons played with the Miller Weber Players, a collegiate stock company in Durham, N. C., and the Shelton-Amos professional stock company.

Others in the cast include Charles C. Gillman, Robert Hayes, Wilbur Betts and Ruth Gilbert.

IN CAPITAL FRATERNAL CIRCLES

Eastern Star

Bethany Chapter.

Matron Amelia R. Marshall announces that the grand matron, Miss Edith Williams, and the grand patron, Paul B. Cromelin, will make an official visit to Bethany Chapter the evening of June 3 which will be "Bicentennial Nite." A class of candidates will be initiated at this meeting to be known as the "Bicentennial Class." The auxiliary home board will be entertained with a luncheon at Sholl's Cafe, 1219 G street, at noon tomorrow. Mrs. Ethel D. Morris, Mrs. Estelle Serrano and Mrs. Inez Garrigus will be the hostesses. Following the luncheon the members will participate in the general home board meeting at the Masonic Temple. The sunshine committee was entertained on Thursday. The hostesses were Past Matrons Estelle M. Catlin and Amy Alf, Mrs. Amy Thompson and Mrs. Nellie Howes. Miss Beulah Dermott, chairman of the Bethany Social Boosters, announces that arrangements are being made for a lawn fete to be held on June 11. The Past Matrons and Past Patrons Association will be entertained by Past Matron Nellie G. and Past Patron Walter P. Plumley at their home, 203 Holly avenue, Takoma Park, Md., Saturday evening, June 4.

Warren G. Harding Chapter.

Warren G. Harding Chapter will hold its next regular meeting on Tuesday, May 24, at which time the right worthy associate patron and associate grand matron and the associate grand patron, together with the associate matrons and associate patrons of this jurisdiction will be guests of the chapter. Associate Matron Budworth and Associate Patron Calfee have arranged a splendid program of entertainment for the occasion, which will be followed by dancing and refreshments in the banquet hall.

On Wednesday, May 18, the chapter gave a benefit show at the National Theater which proved a huge success.

Hope Chapter.

Hope Chapter will hold its regular meeting on Wednesday, May 25. After the regular business meeting the ladies of the chapter will be entertained by the men. A committee of men under the direction of Past Patron Charles O. Millar and Brother Edgar J. Clarkson has arranged the entire program. There will be refreshments in the banquet hall.

Columbia Chapter.

Columbia Chapter has invited the members and friends of First Congregational Church to meet with them at Masonic Hall, Fourteenth and Kenyon streets, over Park Savings Bank, Monday, May 23, at 9 o'clock. An especially attractive program has been arranged by Mrs. Hannah Overstreet and Mrs. Neena Mae Carden, who are members both of the chapter and the church. The worthy grand matron and worthy grand patron are expected to attend and also the Rev. Dr. Allen A. Stockdale, pastor of the church.

Kensington Chapter.

The last regular meeting of Kensington Chapter, No. 39, O. E. S., was held in honor of Mrs. R. L. Harrison, associate matron, and Mr. B. E. Brigfeld, associate patron. Other guests of honor were associate matrons and patrons of the following chapters: Washington Centennial, No. 26, Mrs. Gertrude B. Todd and Mr. H. J. Schmidt; Joseph H. Milan, Mrs. Doris Sutton and Mrs. William C. Dawson; Bethlehem, No. 7, Mrs. Chase; William F. Hunt, No. 16, Mr. Edward Brooker; Naomi, No. 23, Mrs. Estelle J. Jenkins and Mr. Dunning; Silver Spring, No. 66, Mr. W. C. Black. After the meeting a very enjoyable program was rendered by vocal selections by Mrs. Clarice Kingsley Griffith, song and dancing group by a group of boys and girls from the Gladys Kilbur Studio, accompanied by Miss Martha Woodell, of Kensington, and instrumental solos by Mr. Clarence Brigfeld.

The chapter will sponsor a card party to be held at the home of Past Matron and Mr. William P. Amos on West Washington street, Friday, May 27, of which Mrs. A. H. Potts is chairman, and a dance on Saturday, June 4, at Masonic Temple, Kensington.

Miriam Chapter.

Miriam Chapter will hold its regular meeting tomorrow night, at which time the degrees will be conferred upon two candidates.

The Star Point Society held its meeting last Monday evening at the home of Sister Maude E. Davis.

The Auxiliary Home Board committee will meet Wednesday, May 25, at 8 p. m., at the home of the worthy matron, Eileen H. Dalstrom, 522 Lamont street northwest. Sisters Byrdie Sisk and Jessie Tate will assist as hostesses.

B. P. O. Elks

Chairman Victor Woolridge of the committee in charge of the pilgrimage of over three hundred members and their friends who will entrain for Bedford, Va., Sunday, June 19, announces that the books for additional reservations are open to all who may want to join in this visit to the Elks' National Home. The Boys' Band will be with the party, and a de luxe entertainment has been arranged for, which will be given at the home. Reservations can be made with the secretary of the lodge, William S. Shelby, or any member of the committee.

The last bingo charity games of the season will be held next Friday night at 8 o'clock. Members holding winning tickets for the season will present them to the committee in charge. Refreshments will be served.

The committee on the arrangements for the reception of the Elks Purple fleet on their good will tour through the country, will arrive in Washington about June 16. Chairman Harvey Belt, of the committee, announces that an elaborate program is being arranged for their entertainment.

The chairman of the social and welfare committee, Joseph J. Leary, calls attention to the fact that his committee will entertain over twelve hundred orphans of the District of Columbia, in the twenty-second outing of the lodge for the kiddies. Further details will be announced later.

F. O. Eagles

United States Representative Peter A. Cavicchia of New Jersey will deliver an address to the members of the Washington Aerie, No. 125, F. O. E., Monday evening, May 23.

At this same meeting Washington Aerie will initiate a class of 200 candidates. The initiation will be conducted by the Hon. Judge Robert E. Mattingly, worthy president; Past Worthy Presidents L. B. Hayes, Jim Rinehart, J. L. Wege, G. Backenheimer and T. G. Furnary. This class will close the drive that Washington Aerie has been conducting for the past six months, and which has been one of the most successful campaigns in the history of the aerie, having more than tripled their membership.

Order of Red Men

Great Chief of Records Walter Alexander announces in response to an invitation received, that members of the order who desire to march in the Grand Army of Republic Memorial Day parade will assemble at Ninth and Pennsylvania avenue northwest, May 30, 9:30 a. m.

Past Sachem Ralph Pimes, chairman of the Great Council Jewel committee, has planned several activities for the summer months the dates to be announced later.

Logan Tribe No. 8, has appointed Great Senior Sagamore Harry J. Thompson, Past Sachem Charles Watts and Paul H. Brashers as a committee of three on welfare.

Red Wing Tribe No. 20 at their Monday's meeting had as invited guests, Great Sachem Jacque Heidenheimer, Great Senior Sagamore Harry J. Thompson, Great Junior Sagamore Wilfred Lawson and Great Prophet W. H. Ryan. Talks were made by Sachem Robert Holland, Senior Sagamore Morris Isis and Chief of Records J. Leonard Boyer.

Sioux Tribe No. 18 adopted three candidates Thursday. The degrees were conferred by a team from Powhatan Tribe under the direction of Past Great Sachem J. E. Baker.

Great Junior Sagamore Wilfred Lawson has appointed Past Great Sachems W. C. White, James J. McCracken and James A. Madison to represent the tribes, also Past Great Directresses Mrs. Helen Roland, Mrs. Hilda Richards and Miss Louise Fastnaught, of the Degree of Pocahontas, to represent the councils at the Red Men's memorial services which will be held on Wednesday evening, May 25, in Red Men's Hall.

Great Mishinewa Cecil Wiley has appointed Great Guard of the Wigwam Walter A. Jones, Great Guard of the Forest Benjamin Garner, Past Sachem Roy T. Algate and Past Sachem James R. Mitchell as color bearers to represent the order at the massing of the colors of the Veterans of Foreign Wars at the Sylvan Theater on May 29.

Degree of Pocahontas.

Idaho Council No. 1, will confer the degree at their next meeting.

White Eagle Council No. 4, held a bingo after their last meeting on Wednesday. The adoption degree was conferred on Fred Groff and Martin Williams by the Bicentennial Class Adoption Degree Team under the direction of Brother Harry O'Neill, of Idaho Council.

Waneta Council No. 6, met on Tuesday with Pocahontas Dorothy Richards, presiding. Two palefaces, Thelma Webb and Betty Gardiner, were initiated into the order, the degree team under the direction of the Great Directress Cleada Horne, Remarks were made by Great Senior Sagamore Harry Thompson, Great Prophet William Ryan, Louise Moriarity and Helen Stark, of Idaho; Amelia Stephenson, of White Eagle, and Louise Fastnaught, of Mineola.

Mineola Council No. 8, held a bingo after their meeting. Sister Mary Douglas being chairman.

All members of the Degree of Pocahontas of the respective councils are requested to meet the Great Directress Cleada Horne, at Waneta Council on Tuesday, May 24, to make plans for the celebration of the massing of the colors on May 29.

The memorial service will be held at White Eagle Council on Wednesday, May 25. All members are urged to attend and bring others with them.

Aztec Council of Baltimore will hold a card party and bingo on Monday, May 23, at 806 St. Paul street, Baltimore, and invites the members of the District to attend same.

Modern Woodmen

Adjt. J. N. May wishes all members of the battalion who wish to go to Annapolis on Tuesday, May 31, for the cup presentation to communicate with him as soon as possible. The battalion will go by bus, leaving 223 K street northeast at 7 p. m., sharp.

The Ladies Centennial Camp held its last meeting at the home of Neighbor Louise May, at which time they made arrangements for procuring uniforms for the forthcoming encampment. Three new members were obligated at this meeting. They were Miss Irene Monroe, Miss Mabel Furr and Miss Virginia Howard.

The booster committee met at the last meeting of Central Camp and made final arrangements for the moonlight excursion on the Wilson Line on June 16.

The next meeting of Ladies Centennial Camp will be held at the home of District Deputy Millard, Falls Church, Va., on Wednesday, June 1

All neighbors are requested to attend the first annual dance of the Les Vivantes Club on Tuesday night, May 24, at the Northeast Masonic Temple, Eighth and F streets northeast.

Beta Sigma Phi

Beta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority will meet at the Carlton Hotel, Monday evening, May 23, at 8 o'clock. The literary program will be as follows: "Washington Irving," by Mrs. Annette Hutterly; "Andrew Lang's Translation of the Love Story of Aucassin and Nicolette," by Mrs. Teresa H. Adams; "The Beautiful Friendship of Damon and Pythias as Told by Charlotte M. Yonge," by Louis Evans; "Shoppenhauer, the Greatest of all Pessimists," by Ruth Nicholson; "Juan Valera and His Description of the Life of a Housewife in His Native Province, Cordova, Spain," by Mamie C. Eakin; "A Noted French Mathematician and Philosopher," by Mary Belle Williams.

Mrs. Ellis Logan and the president of the chapter, Miss Virginia Alexander, will be in charge of the meeting.

N. U. A. Society

At the regular meeting of the executive board of the National Union Assurance Society, held on Wednesday, May 11, at headquarters office, Washington Loan & Trust Building, it was voted to hold a class ceremonial and entertainment on the evening of May 28, in auditorium of Pythian Temple, 1012 Ninth street northwest. This class ceremonial will be given by the associated councils of the District of Columbia and the entire membership is invited to attend. A committee composed of Arthur S. Brown, John E. Rhodes and Thomas H. Dawson was appointed to make all arrangements. It is hoped that there will be a large turn out of members on the above-named date.

Les Vivantes.

The Les Vivantes Club will give their first annual dance at the Northeast Masonic Temple, Eighth and F streets northeast, Tuesday night, May 24, at 8 p. m.

The Les Vivantes Club was organized just a short time ago, and during this period has done considerable philanthropic and social work among Jewish families.

Odd Fellows

Tomorrow evening, Grand Master Thomas C. Mettler, accompanied by his official staff, will officially visit Beacon Lodge, No. 15, meeting in Odd Fellows Temple, 419 Seventh street northwest. The grand master will enter the lodgeroom promptly at 8:30 o'clock. Beacon Lodge had its visitation postponed from March 28 in order that it may entertain its grand master in the way planned, postponement being made due to the serious automobile accident which befell the grand master at that time. An unusual and entertaining program has been arranged and Beacon has extended a cordial invitation to all members of the various subordinate bodies to attend this occasion. Beacon Lodge is the home lodge of Past Grand Sire Ernest W. Bradford. This will be the last visitation of the spring series and it is expected to be the largest attended one so far this year.

Last Friday evening, Grand Master Mettler, accompanied by his officers, accompanied Sister President Belle C. Thomson and her officers on her last visitation of the spring series to Miriam Rebekah Lodge, No. 6. A banner attendance was noted and an entertainment presented following the close of official ceremonies. The grand master was presented with a gift from Miriam Lodge.

Last Monday evening, Grand Chaplain Ashian F. Harian called a meeting of the memorial committee, which met and organized that evening. Brother Harian was chosen as chairman and Sister Helen McConnell Fall elected secretary. Plans were laid for the holding of memorial services, Sunday, June 12, being elected. The services will be held at Mount Vernon Methodist Church, Ninth and K streets northwest, Sunday evening, June 12, at 8 o'clock. Rev. Mr. Shelton will officiate. The committee expects to present an interesting program and it is requested that all subordinate lodges, Rebekah lodges, encampments and cantons, will attend in a body. Representatives from the various branches have been instructed to secure the names and dates of all deceased members to be forwarded to the office of the grand secretary prior to Wednesday, June 8. Members in general are requested to attend the services.

On Wednesday evening at 9 o'clock a special lecture will be given on Melchizedek, at Columbian Encampment, No. 1, meeting in Odd Fellows Temple. All third degree members are cordially invited to attend. Patriarch Henry H. Rowland, pastor of Langdon M. E. Church, will deliver the lecture. Brother Rowland has recently joined Langdon Lodge and Magenenu Encampment and his lecture will be an unusual and interesting one.

Past Grand Master Lemuel H. Windsor, chairman of the committee on Bicentennial, called a meeting of all branches of the order last Wednesday evening at the temple to lay plans for the activities of the order during the Bicentennial year. Preparations were also made for the participation of the order in the great fraternity day parade which will be held on October 27, in this city. Brother Windsor will attend the next meeting of the Bicentennial Commission in the National Press Building on Wednesday, May 25.

Knights of Columbus

Fred J. Rice, supreme knight of the District of Columbia, Knights of Columbus, has invited all councils from Maryland and Virginia to join with the District knights in the parade preceding the huge field mass at Catholic University Stadium on May 30. The field mass, at which 50,000 persons are expected and which will be celebrated by Archbishop Curley, is the contribution of Catholicism to the Bicentennial celebration in honor of George Washington.

Knights of Columbus will parade to the mass in a body, Supreme Knight Rice said yesterday. They will meet at North Capitol street and Michigan avenue and will form behind the band from George Washington University, which has been engaged for the occasion. In addition to this parade, which will join in the general parade at Catholic University grounds, the members of the fourth degree will act as a guard of honor for the ceremonies.

While there will be other ceremonies throughout the year, including the first national convention of the Knights of Columbus ever held in Washington, the field mass on May 30, for which the Rev. Louis Vaeth is director, is the one big event in which all Catholics, old and young, and their various organizations, will take part.

Protestant Clubs

The National Order of Protestant Clubs, Inc., held its first annual election of national officers Tuesday evening, May 17, at I. O. O. F. Hall, 822 Twentieth street northwest, at which time the various clubs or units met in session with their delegates and elected the following members to its national executive committee, which is the national or governing board of the entire order:

National president, Dr. Charles Fama, of New York; national vice president, Dr. William McDougal, of Alabama; national regional officer, Harry E. Rieseberg, of Arizona; national lecturer, Hugh H. Hartley, of Washington; national chaplain, Walter B. Fulton, of Virginia; national secretary-treasurer, Bart B. Pigman, of Indiana; national inner sentinel, Edw. M. Prince, of Virginia; national outer sentinel, Robert Keith, of Virginia; national trustee (one year), A. Shuman, of Virginia; national trustee (two years), C. See, of New York; national trustee (three years), G. Anderson, of Washington.

The following second and third vice presidents were also elected to serve on the advisory committee of the national board:

National second vice president, C. P. M. Lord, of Maryland; national third vice president, Elmer E. Rogers, of Washington.

The session devoted itself mainly to the election of officers and plans as to its propagation work in expanding throughout the United States during the next few months.

The order was organized and incorporated on May 1, 1931, by its members and is mutually owned, themselves being incorporated therein, and is a patriotic, fraternal, militant American Protestant order.

Its objects and purposes are to militantly combat anti-Americanism in all its forms to the end that the safety and stability of American institutions will be insured through an enlightened electorate and citizenship; maintain America's historic national policies and oppose foreign entanglements; maintain and aid in the establishment of laws forbidding intermarriage of the white with other races; aid in the promotion in legislation that will establish rigid control of immigration. It will not tolerate its use by selfish interests for gratification of personal ambitions, or commercialism of any nature, and endeavors by patriotic loyalty and allegiance to emulate the example of our American forefathers who, by their united efforts and sacrifices, procured for us the liberties we enjoy and are striving to preserve.

It does not charge its members affiliation fees, but only nominal dues to carry on its propagation and rental expenses.

Neither is it in any manner connected with the Klan or its offsprings which are now floating throughout the country for the purpose of commercial benefit to their incorporators.

Kallipolis Grotto

Grand Monarch Charles E. Minsihger, of Portland, Oreg., was the guest of Kallipolis Grotto during Masonic week of the George Washington Bicentennial Celebration and was received at a meeting of the Grotto on Monday evening. During his stay Past Grand Monarch Edward S. Schmid acted as host for the local grotto and accompanied him on his tour of the city. He also attended the dedication of the George Washington Masonic Memorial at Alexandria on Thursday. He left on Friday for a visit to Yedz Grotto, Baltimore. The grand monarch spoke in high praise of the condition and progress of grottoes throughout the country. Past Grand Master Gratz E. Dunkum followed the grand monarch with a masterful address which was greatly enjoyed by the prophets assembled. During the evening the Grotto Band rendered several numbers and the Grotto Drill Corps gave an exhibition of the manual of arms.

Daughters of Isabella

There was quite a large attendance of the members of the District of Columbia Circle, No. 178, Daughters of Isabella at the annual May mass held last Sunday at the Shrine of the Immaculate Conception. Rev. Bernard A. McKenna welcomed the daughters and complimented them on their attendance and the beautiful music rendered by their choir.

On next Monday evening at 8 o'clock the circle is planning an initiation which will take place at their club rooms at Seventeenth and K streets northwest. Quite a large class will be initiated and after this ceremony a reception and banquet will be given in honor of the new members.

Wives of Tomorrow

FRANCES McDONALD

MEN MORE FAITHFUL.

Are men more faithful than women? Terence declares they are. And there are times when we subscribe to the sentiment he expresses. With qualifications. In our observations we seem to have noted that very unpopular and unattractive men are very faithful, while very-much-sought and interesting women seem to be the reverse of faithful!

Now whether it is one's sex or one's opportunities that would decide the matter of life-long constancy we can not at the moment state authentically. But we have our personal theory. However, let Terence be heard, for his story is worth hearing:

"Who started the fiction about the constancy of woman? Whenever I read of woman's faithfulness as compared with man's I could laugh out loud. I have known dozens of cases of men going through life utterly devoted to one worthless woman, and endless instances of women who laugh at love or the idea of devotion.

"My father was literally a slave to my mother I have been for five years a slave to my wife. She just laughs at me as she laughed at the dozen or so who preceded me in her fluctuating affections. She was engaged eight times before we met. She was tired of me within two weeks of our marriage. There is no faithfulness in the woman.

"I am not condemning her, nor am I accusing her. I am merely stating the facts and endeavoring to refute a popular misconception that woman, because she is a woman, is necessarily the faithful one, while man, because he is man, is the fickle one. These characteristics have nothing to do with sex. People are people. They are faithful or unfaithful, fickle or constant, according to their natures, and not because they are male or because they are female.

"If in some cases women seem the faithful ones, I believe a good reason can usually be found for their faithfulness—either a family of children who must be provided for, or some other extra consideration. But innate faithfulness to one love is not an innate characteristic of woman, and I, for one, object to seeing laurels planted on her brow that rightfully belong on the brow of man. Man, the poor, plodding workhorse, the slave who gives up all he has to possess legally and forever one woman. The man, bear in mind, can be the property of all woman; can flirt from one woman to the next, but, poor faithful fool, he picks just one and backs his choice with all that he possesses, binds himself to responsibilities unseen, undertakes to provide not only for her youth, but her old age—all because he wants one woman.

"And, in the face of all this, woman continues to gather up the laurels as the faithful one. And I would like to know, why? TERENCE."

And we consider there is much to be said on this subject. True, most women after marriage are faithful to one man—but how much of this is economic? And how much inherent faithfulness?

We realize that there is nothing to be gained by discovering whether one sex is more faithful than the other—but we do agree with Terence that man does give up a good deal in his desire, however fleeting, to possess one woman forever and forever. What changes of heart may be his subsequently, he at least must have the instinct and the impulse of constancy when he decides in favor of one woman, rather than all women.

Would women, in man's place, enjoying his economic freedom, deliberately elect to share her all, assume unknown and lifelong financial burdens, as man does—just for love? We just wonder!

Didn't Need Divorce.

Vancouver, Wash. (U.P.).—When Walter and Pearl Priddy sought a divorce, they discovered they never were legally married. They immediately obtained a license, married.

Scout Troop Sets Record.

Wisconsin Dells, Wis. (U.P.).—Boy Scout Troop 66, here, established a national record in 1931 when eight of its members advanced to Eagle ranking.

NEWS OF ACTIVITIES AMONG VETERANS

Veterans' Meeting List

UNITED SPANISH WAR VETERANS.

Camps.

Tuesday—Col. James S. Pettit, 921 Pennsylvania avenue southeast.

Friday—Gen. Nelson A. Miles, Pythian Temple.

Auxiliaries.

Monday—Miles Drum and Bugle Corps, 714 Eleventh street northwest. Col. James S. Pettit, Naval Lodge Hall; dance by color team.

Friday—Gen. Nelson A. Miles, Pythian Temple.

AMERICAN LEGION.

Monday, 8 p. m.—Quentin Roosevelt Post, No. 11, Potomac Boat Club.

Tuesday, 8 p. m.—Victory Post, No. 4, Odd Fellows Hall, 419 Seventh street northwest. Stuart Walcott, No. 10, Garden House, Grace Dodge Hotel.

Wednesday, 8 p. m.—Henry C. Spengler, No. 12, 1326 Massachusetts avenue northwest.

Thursday, 9 p. m.—James E. Walker, No. 26, 1816 Twelfth street northwest.

VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS.

Monday, 8 p. m.—Federal Post, No. 824, Thomas Circle Club, 1326 Massachusetts avenue northwest. Federal Ladies Auxiliary, Thomas Circle Club, 1326 Massachusetts avenue northwest. Front Line Post, No. 1401, 808 I street northwest. Front Line Ladies Auxiliary, Soldiers, Sailors and Marines Club, Eleventh and L streets northwest.

Tuesday, 8 p. m.—National Capital Post, No. 127, Pythian Temple, 1012 Ninth street northwest. National Capital Ladies Auxiliary, Pythian Temple, 1012 Ninth street northwest. Follow Me Post, No. 1830, Pythian Temple, 1012 Ninth street northwest. Follow Me Ladies Auxiliary, Pythian Temple, 1012 Ninth street northwest. Herbert L. Edmonds Post, No. 2460, 915 Fifteenth street northwest.

Wednesday, 8 p. m.—Defense Post, No. 2357, Odd Fellows Hall, 2030 Rhode Island avenue northeast.

Thursday, 8 p. m.—Potomac Post, No. 1065, Northeast Masonic Temple, Eighth and F streets northeast. Potomac Ladies Auxiliary, Soldiers, Sailors and Marines Club, Eleventh and L streets northwest. U. S. Treasury Post, No. 2400, Metropolitan Hotel, Sixth and Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Equality-Walter Reed Ladies Auxiliary, Soldiers, Sailors and Marines Club, Eleventh and L streets northwest.

Friday, 8 p. m.—Advance Post, No. 2194, Metropolitan Hotel, Sixth and Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS.

Approximately 350 radio stations, including WOL, from coast to coast, will broadcast the voice of National Commander in Chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Darold D. DeCoe in a message addressed to the patriotic citizens of the Nation in "America's flower of remembrance—the buddy poppy." These radio stations have signified that they will broadcast an electrical transcription of National Commander DeCoe's eulogy of the "buddy poppy," its aims and purposes, and will make possible the largest chain broadcast program ever undertaken by any organization. Another important contribution to the 1932 "buddy poppy" drive is being made by business firms that sponsor radio network programs over the National Broadcasting Co. and the Columbia Broadcasting System.

D. C. Department Encampment.

In response to an invitation extended by the Brookland-Woodridge Business Association to the District of Columbia Department, Veterans of Foreign Wars, the District council unanimously voted to accept the proposal to hold its convention in the association territory. Col. George L. Tait heads the convention committee for the V. F. W., aided by Dr. Joseph F. Beattie, chairman of the special parade committee, working in coordination with Mr. Hartford E. Bealer, representing the business association.

The veterans' council has selected the nights of June 8, 9 and 10 for the convention. The first evening will feature an elaborate parade followed by the reception and speech-making in the auditorium of the John Burroughs School. The parade will be headed by the Capital's own Overseas Military Band, Drum and Bugle Corps of the V. F. W. Bands and Drum Corps of Victory and Costello Posts of the American Legion, Washington Independent Boys Band, National Training School Band, De Molay Band, B. P. O. E. Boys Band, District of Columbia Fire Department, Elks Clown Band and other groups have been invited to prove their skill in open competition for prizes.

District of Columbia officials, together with military officials representing the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard Service, the several presidents of the Brookland-Woodridge Citizens Associations and other representatives of local citizenry, the headquarters detachment of the Army, three squads from the Washington Navy Yard, National Guard, Twentith Marines, Naval Reserves, winning companies of the High School Cadets, chapters of the Eastern Star, Job's Daughters, Daughters of Isabella, Rebekahs, posts of American Legion and their auxiliaries, including the Bunker Hill Post, as well as drill teams, Knights of Pythias, Odd Fellows, Boy Scouts, contingents of several citizens and business associations and others, have all been asked to participate in the parade. Representing the V. F. W. will be fifteen marching groups of V. F. W. posts and their auxiliaries. Decorated floats entered by the different units will compete in their respective classes for trophy cups to be awarded on behalf of the Brooklyn-Woodridge Business Association. The parade will pass in review before the stand of the judges, consisting of Col. Wallach K. McCathren, of the Army; Maj. Charles Demonet, representing the reserves, and Paul F. Moore, past president of the business association.

Defense Post.

Dispensing with the regular order of business, the post at its last meeting, held in Odd Fellows Hall, 2030 Rhode Island avenue northeast, on May 11, featured a social program which was thoroughly enjoyed by the 60 or more attending members and their wives.

Signal Corps films were shown, depicting the progressive steps of Uncle Sam's participation in the World War, and also a reel entitled "The Life of Riley," portraying the training experiences of a recruit at the Army Cavalry School. Commander John W. Wimer and Comrade Jamison rendered a number of piano, drum and cymbol selections.

Comrade Heise introduced Commander Wimer, who briefly announced that the purpose of the meeting was to afford all members an opportunity to get acquainted. He then introduced the department chief of staff, Maj. Edgar H. Hale, candidate for department commander, who felicitated the post on its past successes in V. F. W. activities. He also spoke on the fundamental objects and achievements of the V. F. W. and stressed the importance of enlisting the membership affiliation of all eligibles in the organization for coordinated service with other organizations of former service veterans.

Comrade John L. Fowler, a member of the post, and the president of the Brooklynd-Woodridge Business Association, sponsors of the District of Columbia department convention which will be convened in June, spoke of encampment, parade and the open meeting on the evening of June 8 in the John Burroughs School Auditorium, the business sessions to follow on the evenings of June 9 and 10 in the East Gate Masonic Hall, Rhode Island and Mills avenues northeast, in Woodridge proper. He further spoke as to the aims of the business houses of the community toward decorating their display windows. The parade's line of march will be from Twelfth street and Michigan avenue, in Brookland, thence south on Twelfth street to Rhode Island avenue, northeast on Rhode Island avenue to Twenty-fourth street, north on Twenty-fourth street to South Dakota avenue, northwest on South Dakota avenue to Monroe street, thence west on Monroe street to the John Burroughs School. Following the speeches, home-cooked cakes and ice-cream were bountifully served.

Federal Post.

The post unanimously adopted a motion at its last meeting, held at the Thomas Circle Club, on April 29, which provides that 25 per cent of the net proceeds from the sale of "Buddy" poppies shall be credited to a separate fund, to be known as the District of Columbia Cottage Fund, and to be merged with funds allocated from the several other posts of the local jurisdiction for the purpose of building a District of Columbia cottage at the V. F. W. National Home, at Eaton Rapids, Mich., to care for the widows and orphans of veterans of this city. The joint poppy committee of the post and auxiliary will meet at the home of Mrs. Mary E. McFarland, 1934 Potomac avenue southeast, on Tuesday evening to complete plans for conducting the "Buddy" poppy drive which will be launched during the week preceding Memorial Day.

Memorial service in honor of departed comrades will be held at the meeting tomorrow.

Senior Vice Commander C. E. Crowell reported that the dance and card party given at the Arlington Hotel on April 27, at which function more than 50 college girls were guests, was a success. The post is represented on the department bowling committee by Samuel Quinn, C. W. Burden, Stephen T. Nitchka, Fred J. Chase, Fred R. Stephens and Percy Welch. A date reservation has been made for the steamer City of Washington for a moonlight river excursion on July 21. The following delegates and alternates have been elected to the annual encampment: Delegates, C. J. Lawless, S. B. Lapin, T. L. Clinton, John G. Strobel, S. G. Quinn, C. E. Crowell, J. M. Dean, H. S. Burke, D. Browne, S. T. Nitchka. Alternates, J. G. Ficklin, C. W. Burden, L. C. Vogt, P. J. Welch, R. D. Slagle, R. J. Sweeney, J. J. Hummel, W. P. Irving, R. M. MacDonald and J. N. Ankers.

Advance Post.

This post will conduct a grand carnival in early June at Fifteenth street and Rhode Island avenue northeast, and the committee is planning features of entertainment. Patriotic Instructor Batson, 1017 B street southeast, will make blanket application for Verdun medals in behalf of all overseas veterans eligible to receive the medals. Comrade Arthur A. Schnebelin, 2411 Otis street northeast, chairman of the "Buddy Poppy" committee, requests all members to furnish a list of women's names, with their addresses, who will aid in the sale campaign just preceding Memorial Day.

Police and Fire Post.

At the post's meeting held in the red room of the Hamilton Hotel on May 11, the resignation of Senior Vice Commander Oscar L. Rose was accepted and Comrade Julian H. Fincher was elected to fill the vacated office. Comrades Jesse C. Arnold and William F. Mortimer were elected and Comrade Raymond Bower was obligated to membership. The transfer memberships from Front Line Post of Comrades Denbroeder, Lanciaux and Sullivan were accepted. Among the honored guests were Department Senior Vice Commander Herbert C. Davis, who talked on the approaching buddy poppy drive, and Department Chief of Staff Edgar H. Hale, who spoke concerning the appropriate observance of Memorial Day. At Arlington National Cemetery recently funeral rites were conducted by the post at the grave of Comrade Herbert M. Smith, who died at the North Carolina home of his father.

V. F. W. Bowling Tournament.

It has been definitely decided to organize a duckpin league for next season, composed of from sixteen to twenty teams. Initial plans are being worked out by Comrades Abe Grudd, president, and Bill Keefe, secretary. Post commanders will be requested to notify all interested members to attend a meeting which will be called on an early date to discuss tournament plans. The following posts will have one or more teams entered: National Capital, Equality-Walter Reed, Federal, Potomac, Front Line, Advance, Defense, United States Treasury, Gen. Frederick Dent Grant, Herbert L. Edmonds and T. N. T. Pup Tent of the M. O. C., and it is believed that Internal Revenue Post will certify the names and addresses of two representatives.

DISABLED AMERICAN VETERANS

The members of the State Department executive committee were guests at a reception held at the Austrian Embassy by Ambassador and Mrs. Prochnik on Wednesday. Among the guests present were Ambassador and Mrs. Von Prittwitz of Germany.

On Sunday, May 8, the State Department executive committee attended the unfurling of the flag of the German-American Veterans of America at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington Cemetery.

On Sunday, May 29, there will be a massing of colors at the Sylvan Theater on the Washington Monument Grounds. Department Commander Lee Turner tenders an invitation to all disabled veterans to attend this event. It will be held at 2:15 p. m.

National Commander E. Claude Babcock delivered a talk over the Jenkins Television Station during the week. Commander Babcock reviewed the campaign inaugurated by the Disabled Veterans of the World War last July to place every possible disabled veteran in a job. Through the cooperation of the United States Employment Service, headed by John R. Alpine, the commander stated that over 20,000 disabled veterans were placed in jobs. Commander Babcock also served notice that the Veterans Employment Service of the Department of Labor must not be abolished as contemplated in a bill now pending in Congress.

On Wednesday the D. A. V. has arranged for a joint organization broadcast over WJSV. On the program will appear National Commander Babcock, Department Commander Fred G. Fraser of the American Legion, Commander Samuel J. McWilliams of the United Spanish War Veterans, and Commander Jennings of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

At the meeting of the W. W. Atterbury Chapter held last Thursday evening, nine new members were entertained by Sophocles Pappas and his stringed orchestra.

The Col. Charles Young Chapter has been assigned to have charge of the ceremonies at the Lincoln Cemetery on Memorial Day. Plans were completed for these ceremonies at the meeting of this chapter held on Thursday evening.

Commander Lloyd Wymer of Federal Chapter is making a drive for new members in that chapter and in a recent meeting urged that all chapters attempt to have the largest membership in the history of the organization by the time of the national convention. The indications now are that the Department of the District of Columbia will go to the convention at San Diego, Calif., with a larger membreship than that of the last. In this case Commander Babcock will be the first retiring national commander ever to take to the convention held at the end of his term of office as many members of his own department as when he was inducted into office.

Meetings of D. A. V. during week of May 22—Tuesday, Federal Chapter No. 6, 1405 G street northwest, 7:30 p. m.; Wednesday, State Department executive committee, 228 Transportation Building 8 p. m.; Saturday, job committee, Old Patent Office, 1:30 p. m.

AMERICAN LEGION.

Samuel Rose, national radio officer of the American Legion for the District of Columbia Department and a member of Stuart Walcott Post No. 10, announces that an outstanding entertainment for the patients of Walter Reed Hospital has been arranged through the courtesy of WOL broadcasting system to be held in the Red Cross Building of the hospital at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, May 24.

This program will represent the largest of its kind that has ever been given at Walter Reed Hospital. Station WOL has most generously provided for talent for this occasion, which will be conducted under the direction of Fred B. Pfahler, jr., station manager for WOL, as master of ceremonies. The station has arranged for the personal appearance of the following stage, screen and radio artists: Sterrie Wellman and Flemming Orem, marimba duets; Rodney Hart and his Vikings; Howard Cooper, the Shannons, Ethel West, Dorothy Reddish, Little Joe Hornsby, Stevens Sisters, Bob Mahoney, Community Chest Girl, George Reid, Buddy Gilligan, Catherine Toomey, Dorothy Skinner, Silver String Revellers, Dot and Dash, Romano String Quartet, Rose Novak, Dee Shannon, "Radio Joe" will also be present and will make a short address.

Jacob Jones Post.

The U. S. S. Jacob Jones Post No. 2, of the American Legion, Department of the District of Columbia, will celebrate its thirteenth anniversary next Sunday afternoon over Station WOL from 2:30 to 3 p. m.

A program has been arranged by Post Commander Mary T. Tatspaugh through the efforts and cooperation of the American Legion national radio officer, Comarde Samuel Rose. Department Commander Ferdinand G. Fraser will be guest speaker on the program and Miss Ina Holtzschiter, winner of the Atwater Kent audition in 1931 and daughter of Mrs. Beulah Bosworth, a member of the U. S. S. Jacob Jones Post, will sing. One of Miss Holtzscheiter's selections will be the "Yeoman (F) Song," sung to the tune of the "Stein Song," the words of which are by Yeoman (F) May B. McCormick, of Yeoman (F) Post No. 50, of Philadelphia. Another feature will be novel whistling numbers by Mrs. Catherine Kirk Bradwell. The Drum Corps of Victory Post, No. 4, will open and close the program.

The U. S. S. Jacob Jones Post was organized on May 22, 1919, and is composed of former service women who served as yeomen (F) in the United States Navy during the World War. The post is one of the most active in this department and has approximately 400 members.

The largest number of guests that the post has ever entertained at one time were assembled in the sail loft in the Washington Navy Yard on Saturday evening, May 21, in commemoration of the post's thirteenth anniversary and celebrating the George Washington Bicentennial. Two thousand invitations were issued to members and their friends. Music was furnished throughout the evening by thirteen members of the Navy Band Orchestra. Comrade Eloise Broaddus, entertainment chairman, had arranged a most delightful program of Washington artists, among whom were the Misses Doris Rook and Jane Malone, in specialty dances; Miss Ida Holtzchieter, a group of girls from Miss Margaret Carmody's studio danced the minuet; Miss Annette Derrick, dancing; a group of Children of the American Revolution in the minuet. Also His Fiddlers, from Station WJSV, Mount Vernon Hills, Va., who played for the four sets of Virginia reel, which was led by trained members of the post. Comrade Elsie Pinney, the post's Bicentennial chairman, presented the prize awarded for the most attractive costumes. Refreshments were served and dancing continued until a late hour.

The post will be represented at the massing of the colors on the Monument Grounds on May 29, under the auspices of the Military Order of the World War.

The post is the proud possessor of a new banner which was on display for the first time at the birthday party and George Washington Bicentennial Celebration on Saturday evening.

The commander and several of the comrades met at the home of Comrade Edith Quinn, necrologist officer, on Tuesday, to make poppies with which to decorate the graves of deceased comrades on Memorial Day. Markers have been ordered for the graves of comrades who have died during the year, and will be in place before May 30.

George Washington Post.

Past Department Adjutant and Past Post Commander Howard S. Fisk, of George Washington Post, No. 1, the American Legion, is in receipt of a letter from Department Adjutant James K. Fisk, of the Department of California, inviting all Legionnaires from the District of Columbia attending the national convention at Portland, Oreg., to approach Portland via San Francisco.

On Friday, September 9, next, the dedication of the new war memorial is scheduled to take place in San Francisco and is to be one of the outstanding events of the year there. In view of the long standing friendship between the two adjutants, who though not related, have worked together at national conventions on important legion matters, the invitation is extended to those from the District to stop off at San Francisco and be guests of the California department officials.

Adjutant Fisk also complimented George Washington Post on the recent historic pamphlet which he received from the post of its history and which he says he has preserved among the archives of the California department.

Past Commander Bernard C. McGee has been appointed by Commander John Thomas Taylor to be chairman of the committee to arrange the details in connection with Memorial Day at Rock Creek Cemetery. The post will decorate the graves of all veterans with flags and poppies as in past years, including the grave of Past Commander Charles B. Hanford.

Church Depue Post.

The Stanley Church Depue Post, No. 30, of the American Legion, held its monthly meeting Tuesday evening, at the Arlington Hotel.

At this meeting the post formulated plans whereby a theater party at the National Theater, as well as a boat trip down the Potomac, would be held as outstanding features of the entertainment plans for the coming summer. Other plans, not yet made public, are under consideration by the entertainment committee of the post. The post is also planning a stop watch contest for which an electrical refrigerator will be awarded to the winner.

The following applications for new members have been received: Leslie Engel, Edward Brandt, James Fitzmaurice and Joseph V. Savarese.

All members of the post have been requested to take part in the ceremonies to be held at the grave of Stanley Church Depue, at Arlington, on Memorial Day, May 30, at which time the wreath will be placed on his grave.

Several members of the post have indicated that they will attend the national convention of the legion in Portland, Oreg., at which time the Stanley Church Depue Post colors will participate in its first national parade.

Stuart Walcott Post.

The regular monthly meeting of the Stuart Walcott Post, No. 10, will be held at the Garden House of the Dodge Hotel, North Capitol and E streets northwest, at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening. In adition to other business to be transacted at this meeting, nominations will be held for delegates and alternates for the department convention and arrangements made for decoration of graves at the Congressional Cemetery on May 30.

Sergt. Jasper Post.

The indorsement of Department Commander Ferdinand G. Fraser for a national vice commander, Post Commander William A. Kehoe for department commander of the American Legion, and nomination of 36 delegates, 24 of whom will be elected at the next meeting of the post, to attend the local department convention in July, featured the regular meeting of the Sergeant Jasper Post, No. 13, American Legion, held at the Odd Fellows Temple, 419 Seventh street northwest, on Tuesday evening.

New members elected included Wallace F. Robinson, James L. Smith, Victor A. Reichelt, David A. Stambler and Morris Weinstock. Frederick F. Money was named chairman of the committee in charge of a card party and dance to be given jointly by the post and auxiliary unit at the New Amsterdam Hotel on Saturday, June 4. Other members on this committee include: Col. John R. Thompson, Capt. Daniel H. Pratt, Daniel M. Goodacre, Maj. Thomas J. Frailey, William P. Kershmer, Earnest A. Golden, Paul C. Robbin, L. F. Rice, William A. McCallum, Louis R. Dennis and Charles F. Brown. Commander Edward L. Marthill presided.

Victory Unit, No. 4.

Victory Unit No. 4 held its regular meeting on Thursday, May 12, at the Colonial Hotel, with Mrs. Marion Martin, president, presiding. "A Night in Portugal" program was put on at this meeting. Dr. J. DeS. Coutinho and Mme. D'Eza gave interesting talks on Portugal and Mme. Coutinbo played several piano selections, including the national anthem of Portugal. Rare hand-made laces were displayed.

Distinguished guests present at this meeting included Mrs. Joseph H. Mims, department president; vice presidents of the department, Mrs. Edythe O'Connor; Mrs. Egbert E. Corwin and Mrs. Ada V. Murray, and past department president, Mrs. Leon Arnold.

Mrs. Ada V. Murray, who is also department Fidac chairman, spoke to the unit and explained what "Fidac" means.

Mrs. Mary Gallagher, Mrs. Marie Gorsuch, Mrs. L. M. Bridges, Mrs. Catherine Davis, Mrs. Harvey M. Brown and Mrs. Charlotte Zveare were initiated and welcomed into membership in the unit.

The next regular meeting of Victory Unit, No. 4, will be held on Thursday, at Sears, Roebuck & Co. Galleries, 1106 Connecticut avenue northwest.

REESE EUROPE UNIT NO. 5.

The James Reese Europe Unit No. 5 sponsored a card tournament on April 30 for the benefit of the unit; Mrs. Julia G. Brown was in charge. At its regular bimonthly meeting on May 10 the unit went on record as having contributed toward the fund for the tree planted at Mount Saint Albans in commemoration of the 200th anniversary of the birth of George Washington. Two new candidates were received at this meeting, Mrs. Carrie E. T. Johnson and Mrs. Henrietta C. W. Rowe. All members were urged to attend a Memorial service at Asbury Church, May 29, at 7:30 p. m. A tea was held at the residence of the president, Mrs. Nellie Walker, 71½ R street northwest, last Sunday afternoon.

The next meeting of the unit will be held at 8 o'clock at the Garnet-Patterson Junior High School.

CONFEDERATE VETERANS.

The Confederate Veterans and the Sons of Confederate Veterans are arranging a card party to be given on the evening of June 15 at the Veterans Home, 1322 Vermont avenue northwest. Mrs. Carroll Schock, a member of the Stonewall Jackson Chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy, is in charge of the arrangements for the card party.

The Sons of Confederate Veterans have postponed their regular meeting of June 14 to June 17, due to Flag Day parade, which falls on the 14th. The entertainment committee, consisting of the new commander, W. F. Swairngen; the adjutant, Benjamin Grady, and Treasurer Edward S. Byrnes, is arranging an elaborate entertainment for June 17.

Plans are being perfected for the Confederate memorial exercises at Arlington Cemetery, Sunday, June 5, at 3 p. m. under the direction of the following executive committee: Gen. W. L. Wilkerson, chairman; Gen. H. Oden Lake, W. F. Swaringen, Capt. D. C. Grayson, Maj. E. O. Scaggs and D. Edward Clark. The speaker of the day will be John E. Rankin, member of Congress from Mississippi. The invocation will be by the Rev. Dr. Samuel Judson Porter, pastor of the First Baptist Church, and the benediction by the Rev. John E. Briggs, pastor of Fifth Baptist Church.

Music by the United States Marine Band and a double quartette, consisting of the following well-known singers, Fannie Shreve Heartsill, Estelle Hunt, Dean Ellsworth Condron, Joseph O. Donnell, Lillian Chenoweth, Marie Koontz, William Mattingly and S. H. Hilder, will be furnished.

The program is under the auspices of Camp 171, United Confederate Veterans, assisted by the Sons of the Confederacy, Daughters of the Confederacy, Confederate Southern Memorial Association, Children of the Confederacy, Spanish War Veterans, U. S. A., Department of the District of Columbia; American Legion of the District of Columbia.

Division Commander Fred P. Myers, Commander W. F. Swaringen, Weldon Price, Hinton Gordon, Adjt. Benjamin Grady and Treasurer Edward S. Byrnes are arranging to go to Richmond, Va., to attend the annual reunion of the Confederate Veterans on June 21 to 24.

UNITED SPANISH WAR VETERANS.

Commander A. Eugene Pierce, of the Gen. Nelson A. Miles Camp, presided at the regular meeting held on May 13, at which time two new members were added to the camp roster. Applications were received from Charles C. Newman, formerly of Troop H, First U. S. Cavalry, and Charles N. Phillips, of the U. S. Navy, and they were formally mustered into membership.

In memory of Past Commander Frederick Zulch, who died on April 27, a fifteen minute memorial service was held, and the charter was ordered draped for 30 days.

Past Commander Goltz, chairman of the St. Elizabeth memorial services, requested that the members of the camp assemble promptly at 9 a. m. on Sunday, May 29, at the second gate at St. Elizabeths Hospital, from which point the procession will march to the cemetery where memorial services will be held and decoration of the graves attended to. Commander Pierce announced that the election of delegates and alternates to the department encampment will be held at the meeting next Friday. The adjutant was directed to write a letter to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, conveying the sympathy of the members in the loss of their child. Arrangements have been completed for memorial services to be held at the tomb of Gen. Nelson A. Miles on May 30, at 12 noon, which promises to be the most elaborate ever conducted. The camp will march in a body to the Miles tomb after assembling at the Unknown Soldier's grave in Arlington, upon arrival at the cemetery following the parade to be held in the city. All members of the camp are expected to be on hand for these services.

John Jacob Astor Camp.

The semimonthly meeting was held on Monday at the U. S. Soldiers' Home, the meeting being called by Commander Lewis H. Forsyth at 7 p. m. Department Commander Samuel J. McWilliams was among the visitors and addressed the meeting. He urged that the members attend the memorial services to be held on May 30. Comrade M. M. Clarke, of Daytona Beach, Fla., also spoke and told several interesting stories. Many discussions were indulged in, which proved to be most entertaining to the members present. Owing to the extremely warm weather, some of the camp business was dispensed with to permit early adjournment. Preparations are being made for the usual ceremonies to be held on May 30 at the Soldiers' Home Cemetery and the placing of carnations and flags on the various graves, which services are attended by the members of the home in a body.

Admiral George Dewey Auxiliary.

The regular meeting was held on Monday at the Northeast Masonic Temple, the meeting being called to order at 8 p. m. by President Mary Lipscomb. The rummage sale held on May 11 and 12 was reported to be a success by the committee in charge. The meeting was attended by Department President Janet Sikken, Past Department President Bertha R. Cook, Presidents Renna Conklin, of Urell Auxiliary; Cordelia Pollard, of Lawton Auxiliary, and Myrtle Moxley, of Pettit Auxiliary, all of whom were called upon and made short addresses. The auxiliary was officially inspected by the department president.

Pettit Auxiliary.

The meeting on tomorrow will be convened at 7:30 p. m. to permit time for the proper transaction of business and to permit the members to attend the dance to be given by the color team at the close of the meeting. The meeting and dance will be held in Naval Lodge Hall, to which all members of the auxiliaries and camps have been invited.

Lawton Auxiliary.

The regular semimonthly meeting will be held on Tuesday at Pythian Temple, at which time the officers will be officially inspected by the department president. President Pollard announced that a bingo party will be held tomorrow evening at the Southern Dairies auditorium, 60 M street northeast.

Presidents Club.

The members of the Presidents Club will be entertained on Wednesday at the home of Past President Gertrude Callan, 2637 Myrtle street northeast. She will be assisted in entertaining by Past Presidents Cora Campbell and Catherine Huhn.

Arrangements for the Memorial Day parade to be held on the morning of May 30 have been completed, and full information will appear in these columns on Sunday, May 29. Past Department Commander Charles W. McCaffrey has been designated as grand marshal.

NATIONAL GUARD NOTES

STAFF AT FORT HUMPHREYS

Col. Edward H. Schulz, commanding officer of Fort Humphreys, Va., photographed with his staff. First row, left to right—Lieut. Col. Stephen R. Wood, chaplain; Col. Schulz, Lieut. Col. Harley J. Hallett, Medical Corps. Second row—Maj. Henry A. Wingate, quartermaster; Maj. William E. R. Covell, executive officer; First Lieut. Emil J. Peterson, adjutant; Second Lieut. Roland C. Brown, assistant adjutant.

Maj. Gen. Anton Stephan, commanding the District of Columbia National Guard, appeared before the Senate appropriations committee during last week and requested that the Senate reestablish the appropriations of the Militia of the District of Columbia on the same basis as those for the current fiscal year, including the insertion in the appropriation bill of those items which had been eliminated entirely in the bill as passed by the House. Gen. Stephan requested that the Senate appropriations committee give particular attention to those items for "pay of employes, target practice and pay of troops."

Maj. Frank C. Scofield, Coast Artillery Corps, is to be relieved from detail as instructor, District of Columbia National Guard, and from duty in Washington, effective at such time as will enable him to sail from New York for the Philippine department on August 26.

The following enlisted men of the guard have been transferred to the reserves on account of business interference with the performance of duties: Sergt. Albert L. Johnson, jr., Corpl. Edward H. Landers, Corpl. John F. McKenzie, jr., Private Charles A. Cole, Private Robert L. Eastman and Private George T Hendry. All, with the exception of Corpl. McKenzie, were attached to the 121st Engineers and are assigned to the same reserve organizations. Corpl. McKenzie has been assigned to the Twenty-ninth Military Police Company, Reserves.

Private George A. Wood, of the medical detachment of the 121st Engineres, Reserves, and Private Albert A. Miller, of the Twenty-ninth Police Company Reserves, have been transferred to the active guard and assigned to the same units for duty.

Private Carl A. King, Twenty-ninth Military Police Company, of the District Guard, has been honorably discharged on account of removal from the District.

Privates Joseph F. Barrett, Robert I. MacCord, Thomas A. Maisel and William G. Robertson, of Company F, 121st Engineers have been transferred to the Reserves on account of business interference with the performance of duties.

Privates Joseph A. Cross, William L. Pierce, jr., Nathan Steinbach, William M. Sullivan, Charles R. Waser and Bert J. Watson, of the National Guard Reserves, assigned to Company F, 121st Engineers, have been honorably discharged on account of removal from the District of Columbia.

Private Joseph S. Goodowitz, Company E, 121st Engineers, has been honorably discharged from the guard on account of removal from the District of Columbia.

Sergt. William H. Mattoon, has been promoted to the grade of first sergeant in Company D, 121st Engineers. Corpl. Raymond L. Taylor and Privates Andy D. Flores and Donald S. Funk have been promoted to the grade of sergeants. Private Louis Gallun has been promoted to the grade of corporal.

The District National Guard Rifle Team defeated the Naval Academy Team in the annual rifle match on May 14 for the third consecutive year with a total of 2,300 to the academy's 2,287. First Lieut. E. A. McMahon, Company F, 121st Engineers, had the high score for both teams with a total of 235 out of a possible 250. The names of the individual team members and their total scores follow:

District of Columbia National Guard.	Total.
Staff Sergt. H. Parsons	233
Sergt. T. Harrell	231
Second Lieut. W. Lane	227
First Lieut. E. A. McMahon	235
Maj. C. S. Shields	230
Second Lieut. E. D. Andrus	231
Sergt. H. M. Boudinot	229
Staff Sergt. F. Brickels	227
First Lieut. T. A. Riley	233
Corpl. E. A. Ross	224
Total	2,300
United States Naval Academy.
D. S. McDougal	231
R. F. St. Germain	230
M. Sauderland	228
R. E. Baker	219
T. H. Klinkselk	230
H. J. Turton	230
G. C. Wells	232
C. Blenman	226
W. L. Richards	229
W. B. Short	232
Total	2,287

Reserve Corps Notes

By STAFF SERGT. A. S. De AGRO

The following District reserve officers have been ordered to active duty for a period of fourteen days in recent orders published by the Headquarters Third Corps Area. On June 12 the officers will proceed to Army stations indicated and report to the commanding officer for duty. At the end of the fourteen-day period, June 25, the officers will revert to inactive status: First Lieut. Sidney Berman, of 1350 Taylor street northwest; First Lieut. Henry Bernstein, of 1360 Madison street northwest; First Lieut. Robert Francis Costello of 2818 Twenty-eighth street northwest, and First Lieut. James Morgan Loftus, of 1359 Monroe street northwest, all of the Medical Corps Reserve, will report to Carlisle Barracks, Pennsylvania. Second Lieut. Carl J Ackerman, of 1335 C street northeast, Signal Corps Reserve, to Fort George G. Meade, Maryland. Second Lieut. Ralph Wardlow Watt, of 4013 Twenty-first street northeast, of the Infantry Reserve, will report to Fort Washington.

The following appointments have been made in the Officers' Reserve Corps: Sedgley Thornbury, of 2601 Calvert street northwest, and Colvin E. McRea, jr., of 1626 Webster street northwest, have been appointed second lieutenant of infantry. Bernard J. Gurwin, of 732 Ninth street northwest, appointed first lieutenant Medical Corps, and William Nathaniel Swarthout, box 387, Pennsylvania avenue station, appointed a captain in the Military Intelligence Service.

Capt. Robert Earl Palmer, of Washington Grove, Md., has been promoted to the grade of major and transferred to the Auxilary Reserve, and Second Lieut. Hershel Arthur Soskin, of 4007 Connecticut avenue northwest, promoted to the grade of first lieutenant in the Infantry Reserve. Reappointments in the Officers' Reserve Corps are announced as follows: Maj. Charles Frederic Wilson, of 403 Metropolitan Bank Building, reappointed in the Quartermaster Corps Reserve; Everett Clayton Embrey, of 404 Rittenhouse street northwest; Edson Allen Edson, of 1324 Sixteenth street northwest, and Paul S. Murphy, of 4501 Stanford street, Chevy Chase, Md., have been reappointed as second lieutenants of infantry.

The following officers have been assigned to the 80th Division: First Lieuts. Max A. Bradshaw, of 2121 New York avenue northwest, and George O. Riggs, of the Army War College, Field Artillery Reserves; Second Lieuts. John C. Bull, of the Coast and Geodetic Survey, and William F. Dismer, of 1401 Fairmont street northwest, of the Infantry Reserve. Capt. Walter P. King, of 1901 Columbia road, Second Lieuts. Michael J. Kohut, jr., of 1335 Eighteenth street northwest, and Howard H Ruppert, of 529 Lamont street northwest, Calvary Reserve, have been assigned to the 62d Cavalry Division. Maj. Horace C. Rawson, Engineer Reserve, of 1028 Connecticut avenue, has been assigned to the 627th Engineer Separate Battalion. First Lieut. Louis Bubit, Dental Reserve, of 1669 Columbia road, has been assigned to the 364th Medical Regiment of Washington. Second Lieut. John W. Green, Medical Administrative Corps Reserve, of 4519 Fifteenth street northwest, has been assigned in the capacity of personnel adjutant, to the 51st General Hospital. Maj. Robert Borchardt, Field Artillery Reserve, of 1741 Park road northwest, has been relieved from assignment to the 315th Field Artillery and is now assigned to the 313th Field Artillery.

Medical Corps or Dental Corps Reserve officers of the District will be interested to know of the exemptions now allowed under the new regulations. Reserve officers, who are graduates of the Medical or Dental Reserve Officers Training Corps units, will be exempted, in examination for certificate of capacity for promotion to the grade of captain, Medical Corps Reserve, or Dental Corps Reserve, respectively, from examination in subjects in all military knowledge qualifications listed in the present regulations except "Supply, and Mess Management" and "Defense Against Chemical Warfare," provided, that the R. O. T. C. training has been completed within five years of date of application for exemption.

The following officers have been appointed as members of a board of officers to meet in this city for the examination of such persons as may be authorized to appear before the board for examination for appointment in the Air Corps Reserve, and to conduct the practical test of such reserve officers as may be ordered before the board to determine their fitness for a certificate of capacity: Capt. Charles P. Prime, Air Corps, office of the Chief of Air Corps, will act as recorder. The reserve members of the board are as follows: Lieut. Col. Joseph F. Randall, Air Corps Reserve, of 3146 Nineteenth street northwest; Maj. Alan P. Hume, Air Corps Reserve, of 2150 Florida avenue northwest, and Capt. Marshall S. Boggs, Air Corps Reserve, of the Department of Commerce.

The following instructional conferences will be held at reserve headquarters during the coming week: Tomorrow evening the quartermaster officers will assemble for the interesting lecture on "Genghis Khan," to be presented by Capt. F. V. Fitzgerald, of the quartermaster general's office. On the same evening in the judge advocate general's office in the Walker-Johnson Building, Capt. William H. Green, of that office, will conduct "Moot Court" for the officers of the judge advocate general's reserve.

The Coast Artillery Corps Reserve will meet Tuesday evening. Subcourse on "Supply" of the Coast Artillery Extension School will be the subject to be taken up by Capt. T. J. Betts, C. A. C. The Signal Corps officers and the officers of the Military Intelligence Department will meet on the same evening in the main assembly hall of reserve headquarters. Elementary military cryptography will be the subject to be presented by Capt. H. Allison, Signal Corps, of the Third Corps Area headquarters.

Maj. John M. McDowell, the Field Artillery instructor, will lecture the officers of the 313th and 315th Field Artillery Regiments in "Pistol Marksmanship" Wednesday evening. The 343 Engineer Regiment on the same evening will have their meeting on preparation for active duty training and "Map Maneuver." Maj. J. D. Arthur, jr., of the Corps of Engineers, will be the instructor.

The committee on social activities of the 306th Cavalry Regiment has arranged a dinner and conference to be given Tuesday at 7 p. m. at the Racquet Club, 1135 Sixteenth street northwest. The regimental commander, Col. John Philip Hill, 306th Cavalry, will act as toastmaster. The Hon. Frederick H. Payne, assistant Secretary of War, will attend. Officers and enlisted reservists desiring to attend should communicate to the unit instructor at reserve headquarters for reservations.

The latest report from reserve headquarters on the Citizens Military Training Camps shows that the District of Columbia has reached its quota of 206 and the corps area, comprising the States of Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia and the District of Columbia, shows that 11,872 applications have been received. Of this number, 3,952 applications have been accepted for training and have been so notified. The Third Area quota is only 4,600.

J. D. Thacker Gets War Work Award

Service Is Rewarded With Purple Heart Medal; Twice Wounded.

Joel D. Thacker, 1432 R street northwest, has been awarded the Purple Heart Medal and oak leaf cluster for meritorious service during the World War, according to a recent War Department announcement.

Mr. Thacker entered the service prior to the entry of this country into the war. He served 19 months overseas and was wounded in action on July 18, and October 5, 1918.

He holds the meritorious citation certificate from the commander in chief, Gen. Pershing, having served in the Eighteenth Infantry, First Division, as a sergeant. Mr. Thacker is now employed at Marine headquarters here.

Burning of Brush Blamed for Fires

Harrisburg, Pa. (U.P.).—Carelessness in burning brush caused 10 per cent of the forest fires in Pennsylvania this season, according to the Department of Forests and Waters.

The department advised that brush be burned in small piles on wet days or nights with the fire headed down hill against the wind.

Navy Orders Affect Officers in Capital

Orders have been issued Capt. John W. Greenslade, U. S. N., member of the general board, for duty as commander submarine force, United States Fleet, succeeding Rear Admiral Arthur L. Hepburn, U. S. N., who is now in Geneva as a technical adviser to the American delegation to the disarmament conference. Capt. Greenslade's flagship will be the U. S. S. Bushnell, based, temporarily, at Pearl Harbor, T. H.

Capt. Hugo W. Osterhaus, U. S. N., in charge of the naval reserve personnel division, Bureau of Navigation, Navy Department, has been ordered to duty as commander Submarine Squadron 4, with additional duty as commanding officer of the submarine base, Pearl Harbor, T. H., relieving Capt. Ward K. Wortman, U. S. N. No orders have been announced for Capt. Wortman.

Siamese Army Officers Will Study in Virginia

The Secretary of War has approved the attendance at the Engineer School at Fort Humphreys, Va., of Second Lieuts. M. L. Chuan Chuen Kambhu and Bun Mar Praband, of the Siamese army, for the course of instruction starting September 1, 1932.

A prince of Siam, Second Lieut. Svasti Pradisdh, is now attending the Engineer School, having been graduated from the Military Academy in 1930.

Hair-Dresser Expects Red-Hair Fad Next

Boston (U.P.).—There'll be a 20 per cent increase in the number of red-haired women in the United States by June, according to Andre Behns, hair-dressing specialist.

"The world needs to be cheered up," he says, "and red-hair can cheer up the world best."

He believes the platinum blonde fad will be followed by a red-hair fad, pointing out that hair can be turned red easily.

Woman Forest Ranger On Job Six Years

Tamaqua, Pa. (U.P.).—A woman operated the Silver Creek State forest fire tower during the spring season and reported 60 fires during the period.

Mrs. Lee Creasy, Locust Valley, has held this position for six years and is credited with being one of the most efficient operators in the service.

AIRPLANE UTILIZED IN WAR ON PLAGUES

Fuselage Laboratory Used by Berlin Scientists to Speed Their Work.

Berlin, May 21 (A.P.).—Like Mahomet, who went to the mountain when it refused to come to him, German scientists will go to the plague spots, inasmuch as the plague spots decline to come to the laboratory.

But the present day scientist here will fly, literally, to the most remote village in Germany, carrying a fully equipped laboratory and a a detail of specialists, at the first word of an epidemic of contagious disease.

Sponsored by the Robert Koch Institute for Infectious Diseases, the miniature, but none the less effective, laboratory is available at a moment's notice. Packed neatly and carefully in boxes, the "knock down" laboratory includes a series of special microscopes, test-tubes, swabs, hypodermic needles and various types of vaccines.

Set up in the fuselage of an all-metal airplane, the scientists are able to test cultures submitted them with the first reports of the disease while they are flying from their home airport at Berlin to the scene of the outbreak.

The scientific instruments are so compactly packed that they may be carried quite a distance by the doctors without fatigue, in the event the airplane is forced to land at a spot remote from the village in which the plague threat appeared.

Speed in detecting and taking precautions is regarded by the scientists as one of the most powerful weapons in fighting a threatened outbreak and through utilization of their flying laboratory the German group is able correctly to gauge conditions which they will meet before arriving on the scene.

Isolated during the flight from Berlin, the germ is identified and the proper vaccine can be administered soon after arrival of the German germ patrol.

Y. W. C. A. Notes

The music hours will be discontinued beginning today until after the summer months. They will be resumed in the fall.

The World Fellowship committee of the Y. W. C. A. will meet on Wednesday at 11 a. m.

The Indoor-Outdoor Club, of the Y. W. C. A., will have a house party at Vacation Lodge, Cherrydale, Va., May 28 to 30.

The industrial and education departments of the Y. W. C. A. are sponsoring a bus trip to Monticello, Charlottesville, Va., May 30. Further information may be obtained at the Y. W. C. A.

Chapters.

Park View Chapter will meet at Vacation Lodge on Monday, with Mrs. George Winchester Stone as speaker.

The Open Chapter Council meeting will be at Vacation Lodge on Tuesday at 11 a. m. Mrs. William Adams Slade, president of the Y. W. C. A., will speak on the new Folger Library. Mrs. Irving Ketchum, executive secretary of the education department, will have the devotions Princeton Chapter will serve luncheon at 1 p. m.

Dupont Chapter will meet at Vacation Lodge at 2 p. m. following the chapter council and luncheon.

Girl Reserves.

This afternoon at 4:30 o'clock the 85 girls graduating from the senior high schools who are Girl Reserves will be entertained at tea at the home of Miss Elsa M. Peterson, vice chairman of the Girl Reserve department.

Miss Mabel R. Cook, Girl Reserve executive, will address the mother-daughter banquet at the Douglas M. E. Church Tuesday and at 8:30 o'clock will speak to the Girl Scout leadership meeting at the Girl Scout headquarters.

The Bon Secour Girl Reserve Club of Central High School will hold their closing banquet at the Y. W. C. A. on Thursday evening at 6 o'clock. The program will be planned by the newly elected officers of the club, and will be in honor of those who are graduating. A ceremonial installing the new officers will be held after the banquet.

The Senior High School Girl Reserve Council will hold their last meeting for this school year at the home of Miss Peterson on Friday evening. Supper will be served and a skating party will follow the meeting.

Health Education.

The health education department has secured three outdoor tennis courts for the summer months, located on Massachusetts avenue between California and S streets. They will be open to men, women and children. Miss Jennie Turnbull, assistant physical director at the Y. W. C. A., will be in charge of the courts and will give instructions to those who wish it, between the hours of 10 and 1 in the morning and 4:30 to 7:30 in the evening. Reservations for the courts may be made by calling the health education office.

Y. M. C. A.

The religious work department will have charge of the meeting at the National Training School for Boys at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. H. Lee Smith will lead the singing, and Page McK. Etchison, religious work director of the Y. M. C. A., will speak.

The weekly program of moving pictures will be shown in the lobby at 7:15 p. m. Monday.

The vocational guidance committee will meet at luncheon on Tuesday at 12:30 p. m. under the leadership of Dr. John O. Powers. The Dramatic Club will hold a rehearsal in the assembly hall at 7:45 o'clock.

Camp Letts Day will be observed at the Lions Club at the Mayflower Hotel, at 12:30 p. m. Wednesday. Special guests who are interested in the Y. M. C. A. camp will be John C. Letts, W. M. Guthrie and J. C. Ingram. Moving pictures of the camp will be shown. The annual old timers' reunion will be held at dinner in the assembly hall Wednesday at 6:15 p. m. The speakers will be John Clagett Proctor and L. W. DeGast, C. W. Pimper will preside. The Glee Club will hold its rehearsal in Room 217, at 8:15.

The Washington delegates will leave on Friday for the fourth North American assembly on Y. M. C. A. work with boys, which will be held at Blue Ridge, N. C., May 28 to June 4. The following will attend from the Washington Association: E. M. Willis, L. W. DeGast, J. C. Ingram and Ralph W. Foster. A program of educational movies will be shown in the lobby at 7:15 p. m.

The construction program at Camp Letts is making splendid progress. Four cabins have been completed and work is progressing rapidly on the athletic field.

ARMY BALLOON RACERS

Left to right—Lieut. Haynie McCormick and Capt. William J. Flood, of the Army Air Corps, who will represent the Army in the national elimination balloon race at Omaha, Nebr., on May 30. The officers will fly a 35,000 cubic foot capacity free balloon filled with hydrogen. This team won the national race in 1925 and participated in the international event in Belgium. Capt. Flood's residence is at 1322 Massachusetts avenue northwest, Washington, and Lieut. McCormick is from Hutto, Tex.

Take-Offs and Landings

By HARRIS B. HULL

If all the legislators up on Capitol Hill had their way the aviation business would undergo some radical changes. For the congressional calendar is literally crowded with all sorts of bills and resolutions affecting aeronautics that would do everything from "abolish the offices of Assistant Secretary of War and Navy for Aeronautics" to "award a posthumuous distinguished flying cross to Glenn H. Curtiss."

Many of the bills introduced have no chance of ever being reported out of comimttee. A number of these have been introduced "on request of constituents." Others may get out of a House or Senate committee favorably but never get very far on the floor. And, then if they do pass one of the bodies, they still have a long trail to go in the other chamber. In many instances it is a good thing that they have a long road to travel before they become laws, for if they all passed the flying business would be upset, to put it mildly.

Included in the group of bills are a number of practical pieces of legislation that undoubtedly would, and it is to be hoped, will aid aviation.

The Washington Airport situation comes in for its share of legislation. Representative McMillan, of South Carolina, has introduced a bill "to establish a commercial airport for the District of Columbia." This would join Hoover and Washington Airports and some adjacent area and give the Capital a landing field that would keep pilots from getting nervous every time they have to land here.

Also from South Carolina, Representative McSwain has introduced a bill "to complete the acquisition of land adjacent to Bolling Field," thus improving the Army and Navy's local flying field.

Representative Mead, of New York, would allow the Air Corps to acquire airplanes by negotiation rather than by advertising and bidding in competition, as is now the practice.

Representative Vinson, of Georgia, would do away with the offices of Assistant Secretary of War and Navy for Aeronautics.

Representative Florence P. Kahn, of California, would have "an Air Corps bombardment group established in the vicinity of San Francisco."

Mr. Mead also would have "the Postmaster General directed to cancel all contracts, route certificates, extensions, or consolidation of either, for the transportation of air mail both in the United States and foreign countries which have been awarded by the Postmaster General without advertising publicly."

Representative Celler, of New York, would provide, "for compulsory use of parachutes by airplane common carriers."

Representative Crosser, of Ohio, would "develop American air transport service overseas, encourage the construction in the United States by American capital of Amtrican airships for use in fortign commerce and make certain provisions of the maritime law applicable to foreign commerce by airship." A companion bill has been introduced in the upper house by Senator McNary. Mr. Crosser's bill has been favorably reported out of committee and is now pending before the House.

Another bill would "provide for the purchase of certain inventions, designs and methods of aircraft, aircraft parts, aeronautical and aviation technique of Edwin Fairfax Naulty and Leslie Fairfax Naulty, of New York. These inventions include everything from a "Fairnault autoflight dirigible cruiser, with multiple flight nacelles and triple hull," to a simple little "Fairnault, hello flight form, ovo-avion type."

It has been a long time since I have ridden in a good "autoflight dirigible cruiser with multiple flight nacelles and a triple hull."

Representative Yon, of Florida, would "authorize the Secretary of the Navy to proceed with certain public works at the United States naval air station, Pensacola, Fla., at a cost not to exceed $8,100,000."

Representative McLeod, of Michigan, has introduced a bill to create a "department of aeronautics with a secretary of aeronautics."

Representative Sumners, of Texas, would "authorize appropriations for construction at Hensley Field, Grand Prairie, Tex.," of airport improvements costing about $100,000.

The aviation-minded Representative LaGuardia, of New York, would "provide a public terminal aviation field at Governors Island, N. Y.," a much-needed project.

Senators have been almost as active in the cause of saving aviation as have the representatives. Companion bills to a great number of the House bills have been introduced in the Senate.

Senator Schall, of Minnesota, would "amend the air commerce act of 1926 so as to provide further encouragement for civilian flying." This is a most worthy plan.

Senator McKellar, of Tennessee, would "authorize the design, construction, and procurement of one detachable combination aircraft suitable for transport purposes."

Another worthy bill introduced by aviation's champion in the Senate, Mr. Bingham, would "provide a five-year training program for the training of pilots for an unorganized reserve for the Army Air Corps."

And there are many others.

Oh, I almost forgot. The Senate will shortly investigate air mail contracts. It is a good plan and has no one worried or excited.

Eastern Air Transport's hostesses soon will be "wrapped in celophane," for these personable young ladies have found a new use for the transparent wrapper from cigarette packages. They fold them up in tiny lengths and weave them together, then make belts of them for wearing while off duty. This is not as complicated as it sounds, and the finished article, when buckled around a slender waist, makes a shiny band that looks like pearl. It is nothing unusual for passengers to watch the hostess of their plane diligently weaving celophane in an otherwise unoccupied moment as the big airliner speeds between the South and the North.

Capt. H. C. Richardson, U. S. N. retired; Lieut. Comdr. Philip V. Weems, U. S. N., and Lieut. Comdr. Elmer F. Stone, U. S. Coast Guard, will attend the first international convention of transocean flyers which will meet in Rome on May 22. Capt. Richardson was pilot of the NC-3 during the transatlantic flight in 1919. Lieut. Comdr. Weems, a navigation expert, assisted in instructing some of the transocean pilots.

This meeting will be attended by aviators from the nations which have been engaged in transoceanic flights. Since the successful flight of the NC-4, about 100 aviators have flown across oceans.

The residents of Clarkston, Ga., recently sent warm word of thanks to Frank Andre, Eastern Air Transport mail pilot, who attracted attention to a fire that destroyed the home of H. T. Kirkland.

While the warning from the sky came too late to save the residence, Pilot Andre aroused the neighborhood by diving his loaded mail plane at the fire. As a result enough people responded to save dwellings nearby.

PRINCE TO SEEK JOB IN AVIATION IN U. S.

45-Year-Old Son of Spanish Princess Talks of Career in Flying.

Paris (U.P.).—Altesse Royal Infant Alphonse d'Orleans de Bourbon, 45-year-old son of Princess Eulalie de Bourbon, aunt of former King Alphonso, has decided to go to America soon to seek a job in aviation, engineering, or anything else that he may find, or be offered. He is tired of being royalty, even former royalty, and wants to go to work and earn his own living.

Prince Alphonse is the brother of Louis-Ferdinand, who, with his wife, Princess Marie de Broglie, own the historical and palatial Chateau Chaumont, once occupied by Diane de Poitiers, Catherine de Medici and Mme. de Stael, only three hours distant from here.

Alphonse has three sons, Alvaro, Alonso and Ataulfo, the first two of whom are soon to marry their cousins, Beatrice and Marie Christine, daughters of the dethroned King and Queen of Spain. Ataulfo is 16, while his brothers, Alvaro and Alonso, are 22 and 20, respectively. The wedding of Beatrice and Alvaro is to take place in July, at Fontainebleau, while Marie Christine must wait until she comes of age three years hence. Alonso is her fiance, hard at work on his engineering studies in Zurich, Switzerland.

Infanta Eulalie, mother of the adventurous prince, may possibly accompany her son to America, or come over later with his wife and youngest son. Should the family become installed in America, it would mean that Beatrice and Marie Christine and their fiances would doubtless become frequent visitors to the United States, as well as would the king and queen.

Princess Eulalie says she would "adore to visit America," but feels that she is too old to travel around the country.

Pierce Hall Group To Present Play

"Her Husband's Wife" to Be Staged on Two Successive Nights.

The Pierce Hall Players' production of "Her Husband's Wife," by A. E. Thomas, will be given two evenings, May 26 and 27, in Pierce Hall, under the direction of Frank B. Steele.

Jean Christie, who is studying dramatic art and play production at George Washington University, has a leading part. Costarring in the play is Fritz Firey, who was active in the dramatic life of her college, Salem College, North Carolina. She was associated with the Carolina Playmakers, of which Prof. Frederick H. Koch was director, and for several seasons played with the Miller Weber Players, a collegiate stock company in Durham, N. C., and the Shelton-Amos professional stock company.

Others in the cast include Charles C. Gillman, Robert Hayes, Wilbur Betts and Ruth Gilbert.

Culbertson on Bridge

By ELY CULBERTSON

322

RESPONDING TO AN OPENING BID (Forcing).

LESSON NO. 25.

Assuming that the opponents always pass, the partner of the Opening Hand, who bids two in a suit, must never pass, even though holding a trickless hand, until a game contract—or its penalty—is reached Both partners are obligated to keep the bidding open up to game. The only time that either partner may pass is when, having shown all values or having no values to show, an intervening bid by an opponent has already kept the bidding open—but neither partner may pass after his partner passes, and the opponent's bid must not be left in unless one partner makes a Penalty Double or unless the opponent has made a Penalty Double which makes the contract sufficient for game.

The next most important thing for the Responding Hand to remember is that Raises and Takeouts must be based exclusively on honor-tricks and ruffing-tricks. Long-suit tricks in Responding Hand must be ignored.

If the Responding Hand holds less than 1 honor-trick, the first response must be notrump—a negative response, showing a bust hand. The first response must show the lack of an honor-trick, even though the hand contains adequate trump support and ruffing-tricks, or another biddable suit. Playing-tricks (for a Raise or a Takeout) can be shown on the next round of bidding.

With 1½ honor-tricks, but lacking adequate trump support or another biddable suit, the Responding Hand should show the honor-trick strength by bidding three notrump—a positive response. With 2½ or more honor-tricks, but without adequate trump support or another biddable suit, the Responding Hand should jump the notrump response by bidding four, five, or six notrump, as may be indicated by the cards held. The full strength of notrump Takeouts, based on honor-tricks, must be shown in one bid—remembering that the Opening two-bid has already shown about 5½ honor-tricks in the Opening Hand.

With at least 1 honor-trick and another biddable suit, the Responding Hand should make a regulation suit Takeout, in order that the Opening Hand may consider the alternative suit as a possible game-going declaration. Suit Takeouts should be bid gradually—never jumped—in responding to an Opening two-bid.

With about 1 honor-trick and adequate trump support, the Responding Hand should show this strength by giving one Raise in the bid suit. Each additional honor-trick or ruffing-trick justifies another Raise. The full value of the Raises must be shown in one hand.

With even 1 honor-trick, but lacking another biddable suit and lacking adequate trump support, the response is two no-trump.

If the Opening bid is two spades, and you hold:

Spades	9 8
Hearts	8 7 6 4 2
Diamonds	Q 5
Clubs	J 10 9 7

the proper response is two notrump —showing the lack of even 1 honor-trick, or certainly the lack of 1½ honor tricks and no biddable suit and no adequate trump support. If the Opening Hand now bids three hearts, you can raise to four hearts (game).

If the Opening bid is two hearts, and you hold:

Spades	K 3
Hearts	Q J 4 3
Diamonds	5 2
Clubs	8 7 6 5

you have just 1 honor-trick, with adequate trump support for hearts—you therefore raise. But should you bid three hearts or four hearts? You have adequate trump support and 1 honor-trick — which justifies one Raise. But with four hearts and a diamond doubleton, you have 1 ruffing-trick — which justifies another raise. You therefore bid four hearts.

If the Opening bid is two clubs, and you hold:

Spades	6 2
Hearts	A Q J 4 2
Diamonds	7 3 2
Clubs	J 7 6

you lack adequate trump support, but you have 1½ honor-tricks plus and a biddable heart suit, so you bid two hearts. It should be remembered that an Opening two-bid is always Forcing except when it is made to a part-score, and the bid of two plus the part-score, if the contract is made, equals a game contract.

TODAY'S POINTER.

In raising an Opening bid of two in a suit, the Responding Hand must first have adequate trump support and 1 honor-trick. Having adequate trump support, he may raise once for each honor-trick and ruffing-trick the hand contains. Long-suit-tricks can not be counted as Raises for an Opening bid of two in a suit.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS.

Question: What should South lead, holding:

Spades	10 4
Hearts	A K 6
Diamonds	7 3 2
Clubs	K J 7 4 2

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
1♠	2♣	2NT	Pass
4♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

Answer: Heart Ace. A deceptive lead. The Queen of hearts probably lies with West, and, if so, a small heart on the second lead may enable North to make the Knave of hearts. East and West's bidding is too strong to hope to defeat the contract by normal play.

* * * *

Question: Neither side vulnerable. The bidding:

West	North	East	South
1♣	Dbl.	1♠	?

What should South bid, holding:

Spades	K J 9 3 2
Hearts	A 10 8
Diamonds	Q J 6
Clubs	7 4

Answer: Double. East's bid may be psychic, and it is necessary to expose it. North and South should have a game some place in the hand. One spade doubled, if played there, should also prove profitable.

(Copyright, 1932.)

IN CAPITAL FRATERNAL CIRCLES

Eastern Star

Bethany Chapter.

Matron Amelia R. Marshall announces that the grand matron, Miss Edith Williams, and the grand patron, Paul B. Cromelin, will make an official visit to Bethany Chapter the evening of June 3 which will be "Bicentennial Nite." A class of candidates will be initiated at this meeting to be known as the "Bicentennial Class." The auxiliary home board will be entertained with a luncheon at Sholl's Cafe, 1219 G street, at noon tomorrow. Mrs. Ethel D. Morris, Mrs. Estelle Serrano and Mrs. Inez Garrigus will be the hostesses. Following the luncheon the members will participate in the general home board meeting at the Masonic Temple. The sunshine committee was entertained on Thursday. The hostesses were Past Matrons Estelle M. Catlin and Amy Alf, Mrs. Amy Thompson and Mrs. Nellie Howes. Miss Beulah Dermott, chairman of the Bethany Social Boosters, announces that arrangements are being made for a lawn fete to be held on June 11. The Past Matrons and Past Patrons Association will be entertained by Past Matron Nellie G. and Past Patron Walter P. Plumley at their home, 203 Holly avenue, Takoma Park, Md., Saturday evening, June 4.

Warren G. Harding Chapter.

Warren G. Harding Chapter will hold its next regular meeting on Tuesday, May 24, at which time the right worthy associate patron and associate grand matron and the associate grand patron, together with the associate matrons and associate patrons of this jurisdiction will be guests of the chapter. Associate Matron Budworth and Associate Patron Calfee have arranged a splendid program of entertainment for the occasion, which will be followed by dancing and refreshments in the banquet hall.

On Wednesday, May 18, the chapter gave a benefit show at the National Theater which proved a huge success.

Hope Chapter.

Hope Chapter will hold its regular meeting on Wednesday, May 25. After the regular business meeting the ladies of the chapter will be entertained by the men. A committee of men under the direction of Past Patron Charles O. Millar and Brother Edgar J. Clarkson has arranged the entire program. There will be refreshments in the banquet hall.

Columbia Chapter.

Columbia Chapter has invited the members and friends of First Congregational Church to meet with them at Masonic Hall, Fourteenth and Kenyon streets, over Park Savings Bank, Monday, May 23, at 9 o'clock. An especially attractive program has been arranged by Mrs. Hannah Overstreet and Mrs. Neena Mae Carden, who are members both of the chapter and the church. The worthy grand matron and worthy grand patron are expected to attend and also the Rev. Dr. Allen A. Stockdale, pastor of the church.

Kensington Chapter.

The last regular meeting of Kensington Chapter, No. 39, O. E. S., was held in honor of Mrs. R. L. Harrison, associate matron, and Mr. B. E. Brigfeld, associate patron. Other guests of honor were associate matrons and patrons of the following chapters: Washington Centennial, No. 26, Mrs. Gertrude B. Todd and Mr. H. J. Schmidt; Joseph H. Milan, Mrs. Doris Sutton and Mrs. William C. Dawson; Bethlehem, No. 7, Mrs. Chase; William F. Hunt, No. 16, Mr. Edward Brooker; Naomi, No. 23, Mrs. Estelle J. Jenkins and Mr. Dunning; Silver Spring, No. 66, Mr. W. C. Black. After the meeting a very enjoyable program was rendered by vocal selections by Mrs. Clarice Kingsley Griffith, song and dancing group by a group of boys and girls from the Gladys Kilbur Studio, accompanied by Miss Martha Woodell, of Kensington, and instrumental solos by Mr. Clarence Brigfeld.

The chapter will sponsor a card party to be held at the home of Past Matron and Mr. William P. Amos on West Washington street, Friday, May 27, of which Mrs. A. H. Potts is chairman, and a dance on Saturday, June 4, at Masonic Temple, Kensington.

Miriam Chapter.

Miriam Chapter will hold its regular meeting tomorrow night, at which time the degrees will be conferred upon two candidates.

The Star Point Society held its meeting last Monday evening at the home of Sister Maude E. Davis.

The Auxiliary Home Board committee will meet Wednesday, May 25, at 8 p. m., at the home of the worthy matron, Eileen H. Dalstrom, 522 Lamont street northwest. Sisters Byrdie Sisk and Jessie Tate will assist as hostesses.

B. P. O. Elks

Chairman Victor Woolridge of the committee in charge of the pilgrimage of over three hundred members and their friends who will entrain for Bedford, Va., Sunday, June 19, announces that the books for additional reservations are open to all who may want to join in this visit to the Elks' National Home. The Boys' Band will be with the party, and a de luxe entertainment has been arranged for, which will be given at the home. Reservations can be made with the secretary of the lodge, William S. Shelby, or any member of the committee.

The last bingo charity games of the season will be held next Friday night at 8 o'clock. Members holding winning tickets for the season will present them to the committee in charge. Refreshments will be served.

The committee on the arrangements for the reception of the Elks Purple fleet on their good will tour through the country, will arrive in Washington about June 16. Chairman Harvey Belt, of the committee, announces that an elaborate program is being arranged for their entertainment.

The chairman of the social and welfare committee, Joseph J. Leary, calls attention to the fact that his committee will entertain over twelve hundred orphans of the District of Columbia, in the twenty-second outing of the lodge for the kiddies. Further details will be announced later.

F. O. Eagles

United States Representative Peter A. Cavicchia of New Jersey will deliver an address to the members of the Washington Aerie, No. 125, F. O. E., Monday evening, May 23.

At this same meeting Washington Aerie will initiate a class of 200 candidates. The initiation will be conducted by the Hon. Judge Robert E. Mattingly, worthy president; Past Worthy Presidents L. B. Hayes, Jim Rinehart, J. L. Wege, G. Backenheimer and T. G. Furnary. This class will close the drive that Washington Aerie has been conducting for the past six months, and which has been one of the most successful campaigns in the history of the aerie, having more than tripled their membership.

Order of Red Men

Great Chief of Records Walter Alexander announces in response to an invitation received, that members of the order who desire to march in the Grand Army of Republic Memorial Day parade will assemble at Ninth and Pennsylvania avenue northwest, May 30, 9:30 a. m.

Past Sachem Ralph Pimes, chairman of the Great Council Jewel committee, has planned several activities for the summer months the dates to be announced later.

Logan Tribe No. 8, has appointed Great Senior Sagamore Harry J. Thompson, Past Sachem Charles Watts and Paul H. Brashers as a committee of three on welfare.

Red Wing Tribe No. 20 at their Monday's meeting had as invited guests, Great Sachem Jacque Heidenheimer, Great Senior Sagamore Harry J. Thompson, Great Junior Sagamore Wilfred Lawson and Great Prophet W. H. Ryan. Talks were made by Sachem Robert Holland, Senior Sagamore Morris Isis and Chief of Records J. Leonard Boyer.

Sioux Tribe No. 18 adopted three candidates Thursday. The degrees were conferred by a team from Powhatan Tribe under the direction of Past Great Sachem J. E. Baker.

Great Junior Sagamore Wilfred Lawson has appointed Past Great Sachems W. C. White, James J. McCracken and James A. Madison to represent the tribes, also Past Great Directresses Mrs. Helen Roland, Mrs. Hilda Richards and Miss Louise Fastnaught, of the Degree of Pocahontas, to represent the councils at the Red Men's memorial services which will be held on Wednesday evening, May 25, in Red Men's Hall.

Great Mishinewa Cecil Wiley has appointed Great Guard of the Wigwam Walter A. Jones, Great Guard of the Forest Benjamin Garner, Past Sachem Roy T. Algate and Past Sachem James R. Mitchell as color bearers to represent the order at the massing of the colors of the Veterans of Foreign Wars at the Sylvan Theater on May 29.

Degree of Pocahontas.

Idaho Council No. 1, will confer the degree at their next meeting.

White Eagle Council No. 4, held a bingo after their last meeting on Wednesday. The adoption degree was conferred on Fred Groff and Martin Williams by the Bicentennial Class Adoption Degree Team under the direction of Brother Harry O'Neill, of Idaho Council.

Waneta Council No. 6, met on Tuesday with Pocahontas Dorothy Richards, presiding. Two palefaces, Thelma Webb and Betty Gardiner, were initiated into the order, the degree team under the direction of the Great Directress Cleada Horne. Remarks were made by Great Senior Sagamore Harry Thompson, Great Prophet William Ryan, Louise Moriarity and Helen Stark, of Idaho; Amelia Stephenson, of White Eagle, and Louise Fastnaught, of Mineola.

Mineola Council No. 8, held a bingo after their meeting. Sister Mary Douglas being chairman.

All members of the Degree of Pocahontas of the respective councils are requested to meet the Great Directress Cleada Horne, at Waneta Council on Tuesday, May 24, to make plans for the celebration of the massing of the colors on May 29.

The memorial service will be held at White Eagle Council on Wednesday, May 25. All members are urged to attend and bring others with them.

Aztec Council of Baltimore will hold a card party and bingo on Monday, May 23, at 806 St. Paul street, Baltimore, and invites the members of the District to attend same.

Modern Woodmen

Adjt. J. N. May wishes all members of the battalion who wish to go to Annapolis on Tuesday, May 31, for the cup presentation to communicate with him as soon as possible. The battalion will go by bus, leaving 223 K street northeast at 7 p. m., sharp.

The Ladies Centennial Camp held its last meeting at the home of Neighbor Louise May, at which time they made arrangements for procuring uniforms for the forthcoming encampment. Three new members were obligated at this meeting. They were Miss Irene Monroe, Miss Mabel Furr and Miss Virginia Howard.

The booster committee met at the last meeting of Central Camp and made final arrangements for the moonlight excursion on the Wilson Line on June 16.

The next meeting of Ladies Centennial Camp will be held at the home of District Deputy Millard, Falls Church, Va., on Wednesday, June 1

All neighbors are requested to attend the first annual dance of the Les Vivantes Club on Tuesday night, May 24, at the Northeast Masonic Temple, Eighth and F streets northeast.

Beta Sigma Phi

Beta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority will meet at the Carlton Hotel, Monday evening, May 23, at 8 o'clock. The literary program will be as follows: "Washington Irving," by Mrs. Annette Hutterly; "Andrew Lang's Translation of the Love Story of Aucassin and Nicolette," by Mrs. Teresa H. Adams; "The Beautiful Friendship of Damon and Pythias as Told by Charlotte M. Yonge," by Louis Evans; "Shoppenhauer, the Greatest of all Pessimists," by Ruth Nicholson; "Juan Valera and His Description of the Life of a Housewife in His Native Province, Cordova, Spain," by Mamie C. Eakin; "A Noted French Mathematician and Philosopher," by Mary Belle Williams.

Mrs. Ellis Logan and the president of the chapter, Miss Virginia Alexander, will be in charge of the meeting.

N. U. A. Society

At the regular meeting of the executive board of the National Union Assurance Society, held on Wednesday, May 11, at headquarters office, Washington Loan & Trust Building, it was voted to hold a class ceremonial and entertainment on the evening of May 28, in auditorium of Pythian Temple, 1012 Ninth street northwest. This class ceremonial will be given by the associated councils of the District of Columbia and the entire membership is invited to attend. A committee composed of Arthur S. Brown, John E. Rhodes and Thomas H. Dawson was appointed to make all arrangements. It is hoped that there will be a large turn out of members on the above-named date.

Les Vivantes.

The Les Vivantes Club will give their first annual dance at the Northeast Masonic Temple, Eighth and F streets northeast, Tuesday night, May 24, at 8 p. m.

The Les Vivantes Club was organized just a short time ago, and during this period has done considerable philanthropic and social work among Jewish families.

Odd Fellows

Tomorrow evening, Grand Master Thomas C. Mettler, accompanied by his official staff, will officially visit Beacon Lodge, No. 15, meeting in Odd Fellows Temple, 419 Seventh street northwest. The grand master will enter the lodgeroom promptly at 8:30 o'clock. Beacon Lodge had its visitation postponed from March 28 in order that it may entertain its grand master in the way planned, postponement being made due to the serious automobile accident which befell the grand master at that time. An unusual and entertaining program has been arranged and Beacon has extended a cordial invitation to all members of the various subordinate bodies to attend this occasion. Beacon Lodge is the home lodge of Past Grand Sire Ernest W. Bradford. This will be the last visitation of the spring series and it is expected to be the largest attended one so far this year.

Last Friday evening, Grand Master Mettler, accompanied by his officers, accompanied Sister President Belle C. Thomson and her officers on her last visitation of the spring series to Miriam Rebekah Lodge, No. 6. A banner attendance was noted and an entertainment presented following the close of official ceremonies. The grand master was presented with a gift from Miriam Lodge.

Last Monday evening, Grand Chaplain Ashlan F. Harlan called a meeting of the memorial committee, which met and organized that evening. Brother Harlan was chosen as chairman and Sister Helen McConnell Fall elected secretary. Plans were laid for the holding of memorial services, Sunday, June 12, being elected. The services will be held at Mount Vernon Methodist Church, Ninth and K streets northwest, Sunday evening, June 12, at 8 o'clock. Rev. Mr. Shelton will officiate. The committee expects to present an interesting program and it is requested that all subordinate lodges, Rebekah lodges, encampments and cantons, will attend in a body. Representatives from the various branches have been instructed to secure the names and dates of all deceased members to be forwarded to the office of the grand secretary prior to Wednesday, June 8. Members in general are requested to attend the services.

On Wednesday evening at 9 o'clock a special lecture will be given on Melchizedek, at Columbian Encampment, No. 1, meeting in Odd Fellows Temple. All third degree members are cordially invited to attend. Patriarch Henry H. Rowland, pastor of Langdon M. E. Church, will deliver the lecture. Brother Rowland has recently joined Langdon Lodge and Magenenu Encampment and his lecture will be an unusual and interesting one.

Past Grand Master Lemuel H. Windsor, chairman of the committee on Bicentennial, called a meeting of all branches of the order last Wednesday evening at the temple to lay plans for the activities of the order during the Bicentennial year. Preparations were also made for the participation of the order in the great fraternity day parade which will be held on October 27, in this city. Brother Windsor will attend the next meeting of the Bicentennial Commission in the National Press Building on Wednesday, May 25.

Knights of Columbus

Fred J. Rice, supreme knight of the District of Columbia, Knights of Columbus, has invited all councils from Maryland and Virginia to join with the District knights in the parade preceding the huge field mass at Catholic University Stadium on May 30. The field mass, at which 50,000 persons are expected and which will be celebrated by Archbishop Curley, is the contribution of Catholicism to the Bicentennial celebration in honor of George Washington.

Knights of Columbus will parade to the mass in a body, Supreme Knight Rice said yesterday. They will meet at North Capitol street and Michigan avenue and will form behind the band from George Washington University, which has been engaged for the occasion. In addition to this parade, which will join in the general parade at Catholic University grounds, the members of the fourth degree will act as a guard of honor for the ceremonies.

While there will be other ceremonies throughout the year, including the first national convention of the Knights of Columbus ever held in Washington, the field mass on May 30, for which the Rev. Louis Vaeth is director, is the one big event in which all Catholics, old and young, and their various organizations, will take part.

Protestant Clubs

The National Order of Protestant Clubs, Inc., held its first annual election of national officers Tuesday evening, May 17, at I. O. O. F. Hall, 822 Twentieth street northwest, at which time the various clubs or units met in session with their delegates and elected the following members to its national executive committee, which is the national or governing board of the entire order:

National president, Dr. Charles Fama, of New York; national vice president, Dr. William McDougal, of Alabama; national regional officer, Harry E. Rieseberg, of Arizona; national lecturer, Hugh H. Hartley, of Washington; national chaplain, Walter B. Fulton, of Virginia; national secretary-treasurer, Bart B. Pigman, of Indiana; national inner sentinel, Edw. M. Prince, of Virginia; national outer sentinel, Robert Keith, of Virginia; national trustee (one year), A. Shuman, of Virginia; national trustee (two years), C. See, of New York; national trustee (three years), G. Anderson, of Washington.

The following second and third vice presidents were also elected to serve on the advisory committee of the national board:

National second vice president, C. P. M. Lord, of Maryland; national third vice president, Elmer E. Rogers, of Washington.

The session devoted itself mainly to the election of officers and plans as to its propagation work in expanding throughout the United States during the next few months.

The order was organized and incorporated on May 1, 1931, by its members and is mutually owned, themselves being incorporated therein, and is a patriotic, fraternal, militant American Protestant order.

Its objects and purposes are to militantly combat anti-Americanism in all its forms to the end that the safety and stability of American institutions will be insured through an enlightened electorate and citizenship; maintain America's historic national policies and oppose foreign entanglements; maintain and aid in the establishment of laws forbidding intermarriage of the white with other races; aid in the promotion in legislation that will establish rigid control of immigration. It will not tolerate its use by selfish interests for gratification of personal ambitions, or commercialism of any nature, and endeavors by patriotic loyalty and allegiance to emulate the example of our American forefathers who, by their united efforts and sacrifices, procured for us the liberties we enjoy and are striving to preserve.

It does not charge its members affiliation fees, but only nominal dues to carry on its propagation and rental expenses.

Neither is it in any manner connected with the Klan or its offsprings which are now floating throughout the country for the purpose of commercial benefit to their incorporators.

Kallipolis Grotto

Grand Monarch Charles E. Minsihger, of Portland, Oreg., was the guest of Kallipolis Grotto during Masonic week of the George Washington Bicentennial Celebration and was received at a meeting of the Grotto on Monday evening. During his stay Past Grand Monarch Edward S. Schmid acted as host for the local grotto and accompanied him on his tour of the city. He also attended the dedication of the George Washington Masonic Memorial at Alexandria on Thursday. He left on Friday for a visit to Yedz Grotto, Baltimore. The grand monarch spoke in high praise of the condition and progress of grottoes throughout the country. Past Grand Master Gratz E. Dunkum followed the grand monarch with a masterful address which was greatly enjoyed by the prophets assembled. During the evening the Grotto Band rendered several numbers and the Grotto Drill Corps gave an exhibition of the manual of arms.

Daughters of Isabella

There was quite a large attendance of the members of the District of Columbia Circle, No. 178, Daughters of Isabella at the annual May mass held last Sunday at the Shrine of the Immaculate Conception. Rev. Bernard A. McKenna welcomed the daughters and complimented them on their attendance and the beautiful music rendered by their choir.

On next Monday evening at 8 o'clock the circle is planning an initiation which will take place at their club rooms at Seventeenth and K streets northwest. Quite a large class will be initiated and after this ceremony a reception and banquet will be given in honor of the new members.

Wives of Tomorrow

FRANCES McDONALD

MEN MORE FAITHFUL.

Are men more faithful than women? Terence declares they are. And there are times when we subscribe to the sentiment he expresses. With qualifications. In our observations we seem to have noted that very unpopular and unattractive men are very faithful, while very-much-sought and interesting women seem to be the reverse of faithful!

Now whether it is one's sex or one's opportunities that would decide the matter of life-long constancy we can not at the moment state authentically. But we have our personal theory. However, let Terence be heard, for his story is worth hearing:

"Who started the fiction about the constancy of woman? Whenever I read of woman's faithfulness as compared with man's I could laugh out loud. I have known dozens of cases of men going through life utterly devoted to one worthless woman, and endless instances of women who laugh at love or the idea of devotion.

"My father was literally a slave to my mother I have been for five years a slave to my wife. She just laughs at me as she laughed at the dozen or so who preceded me in her fluctuating affections. She was engaged eight times before we met. She was tired of me within two weeks of our marriage. There is no faithfulness in the woman.

"I am not condemning her, nor am I accusing her. I am merely stating the facts and endeavoring to refute a popular misconception that woman, because she is a woman, is necessarily the faithful one, while man, because he is man, is the fickle one. These characteristics have nothing to do with sex. People are people. They are faithful or unfaithful, fickle or constant, according to their natures, and not because they are male or because they are female.

"If in some cases women seem the faithful ones, I believe a good reason can usually be found for their faithfulness—either a family of children who must be provided for, or some other extra consideration. But innate faithfulness to one love is not an innate characteristic of woman, and I, for one, object to seeing laurels planted on her brow that rightfully belong on the brow of man. Man, the poor, plodding workhorse, the slave who gives up all he has to possess legally and forever one woman. The man, bear in mind, can be the property of all woman; can flirt from one woman to the next, but, poor faithful fool, he picks just one and backs his choice with all that he possesses, binds himself to responsibilities unseen, undertakes to provide not only for her youth, but her old age—all because he wants one woman.

"And, in the face of all this, woman continues to gather up the laurels as the faithful one. And I would like to know, why? TERENCE."

And we consider there is much to be said on this subject. True, most women after marriage are faithful to one man—but how much of this is economic? And how much inherent faithfulness?

We realise that there is nothing to be gained by discovering whether one sex is more faithful than the other—but we do agree with Terence that man does give up a good deal in his desire, however fleeting, to possess one woman forever and forever. What changes of heart may be his subsequently, he at least must have the instinct and the impulse of constancy when he decides in favor of one woman, rather than all women.

Would women, in man's place, enjoying his economic freedom, deliberately elect to share her all, assume unknown and lifelong financial burdens, as man does—just for love? We just wonder!

Didn't Need Divorce.

Vancouver, Wash. (U.P.).—When Walter and Pearl Priddy sought a divorce, they discovered they never were legally married. They immediately obtained a license, married.

Scout Troop Sets Record.

Wisconsin Dells, Wis. (U.P.).—Boy Scout Troop 66, here, established a national record in 1931 when eight of its members advanced to Eagle ranking.

Merchants and Miners Issue Vacation Tours

Replete with pictures and detailed itineraries of a large number of All-Expense Tours, the 1932 edition of "Vacation Days" has just been issued by the Merchants and Miners Transportation Company. The booklet describes a variety of trips by land and sea from Baltimore; all of them including an ocean trip to Boston or to the South.

The Merchants and Miners Line has reduced all of its fares for the summer season.

Bartfield Players Plan To Give 4 One-Act Plays

Friday and Saturday, the Bartfield Players will present four one-act plays at Powell Junior High School, Lamont and Hiatt streets northwest. The program will include two plays by Washington authors. Kathleen Dillon, who wrote "In a Strassbourg Brasserie," is a student at George Washington University, and the author of "Faith" is studying drama at Central High School.

Calvary Church Players To Present "Tweedles"

"Tweedles," a comedy in three acts, by Booth Tarkington, will be presented by members of the Calvary Dramatic Club, Tuesday, at 8:15 p. m., in the Guild Hall, Calvary Methodist Church, on Columbia Road near Fifteenth street. Mrs. Hilda French, of the American University, has been in charge of direction.

Those taking part are: Stanley Wolfe, as Julian; Joan Miner, as Winsora; Mary Louise Allen, as Mrs. Albergone; Joseph Wells, as Adam Tweeds; George S. Colison, as Philemon Tweedle; Margaret Colison, as Mrs. Ricketts; Mary C. Williams, as Mrs. Castlebury; Floyd Hornibrook, as Mr. Castlebury; Thomas Hynson, jr., as Ambrose.

New Jersey State Society to Meet.

New Jersey State Society will meet at the Willard Hotel Thursday night at 8 o'clock to complete plans for the Flag Day celebration and act on by-laws.

A predatory animal hunter employed by the Spokane County, Wash., game commission trapped 40 coyotes on 40 acres of land.

Eight District Girls To Finish at Goucher

Eight residents of the District will be graduated from Goucher College on May 30, it was announced yesterday. All of them will receive degrees as bachelors of art.

Those to be graduated are Marie Louise Benoist, 244 Sixteenth street; Dorothy Hargrove, 1826 Biltmore street northwest; Arline Engart, 2141 Wyoming avenue northwest; Gladys Irene Hopkins, 2006 N street northwest; Winifred Prior, 4415 Volta place northwest; Vera Annette Reifkin, 1736 Columbia road northwest; Sylvia Reva Sherby, 1433 Decatur street northwest, and Grace Virginia Wright, 5300 Reno road northwest.

District Youth to Graduate.

Arthur B. Bennett, son of Mrs. M. B. Bennett, 2633 Adams Mill road, will be a member of the graduating class of the Colorado School of Mines, Golden, Colo., at its fifty-eighth annual commencement exercises to be held May 20.

Dollar a pound gold ore has been reported found near Baguio, in the Philippines, which last year ranked tenth in the list of gold producing countries.

Cathedral's Masonic Service Set for May 29

A national Masonic service, commemorating the life of George Washington as a Mason and churchman, will be held at the 4 p. m. evensong service in the choir and sanctuary at Washington Cathedral on Sunday, May 29, with the Rev. Dr. Joseph Fort Newton, of Philadelphia, as the preacher.

Dr. Newton is one of the most distinguished preachers in the country and is also a noted writer on religious and Masonic subjects.

Large Crowds Visiting Choir and Sanctuary

Congregations, ranging from approximately 1,000 to more than 2,000 persons, have been attending the Sunday services in the great choir and sanctuary at Washington Cathedral since its opening on last Ascension Day.

Despite the recent inclement weather, the cathedral officials have recorded a daily average of 1,600 pilgrims visiting Mount Saint Alban in the two weeks since the choir opening.

~~$119~~ $59.50
~~$169~~ $84.50
~~$115~~ $57.50
~~$225~~ $112.50
~~$175~~ $87.50
~~$175~~ $87.50
~~$235~~ $117.50
~~$159~~ $79.50
~~$179~~ $89.50
~~$135~~ $67.50

Sale Starts 8 A. M. MONDAY at The Hecht Co. Warehouse G St. Bet. 6th and 7th N. W.

Warehouse Sale! Manufacturers' Sample

LIVING ROOM SUITES

One of a kind---no two alike---on sale at our G Street Warehouse!

at 1/2 OFF

- Showroom samples, from a renowned manufacturer sacrificed to sell at exactly half price!
- One hundred beautiful suites in this tremendous sale. Not two of them are alike!
- Two-piece suites. Some with pillow backs. Some with down seats. Brocatelles. Frieze. Damask. Tapestries.
- Three-piece suites, with fine carved frame, upholstered in a variety of costly materials.
- More than ten thousand square feet of space is devoted. With extra salespeople and service.
- Since there are only one of a kind, we advise early shopping for best selections.

Doors open at 8 o'clock Monday—The Hecht Co. Furniture Warehouse—G St., between 6th and 7th delivers any suite. Deposit will hold for future delivery. Freight charges prepaid within a radius of 250 miles.

$5

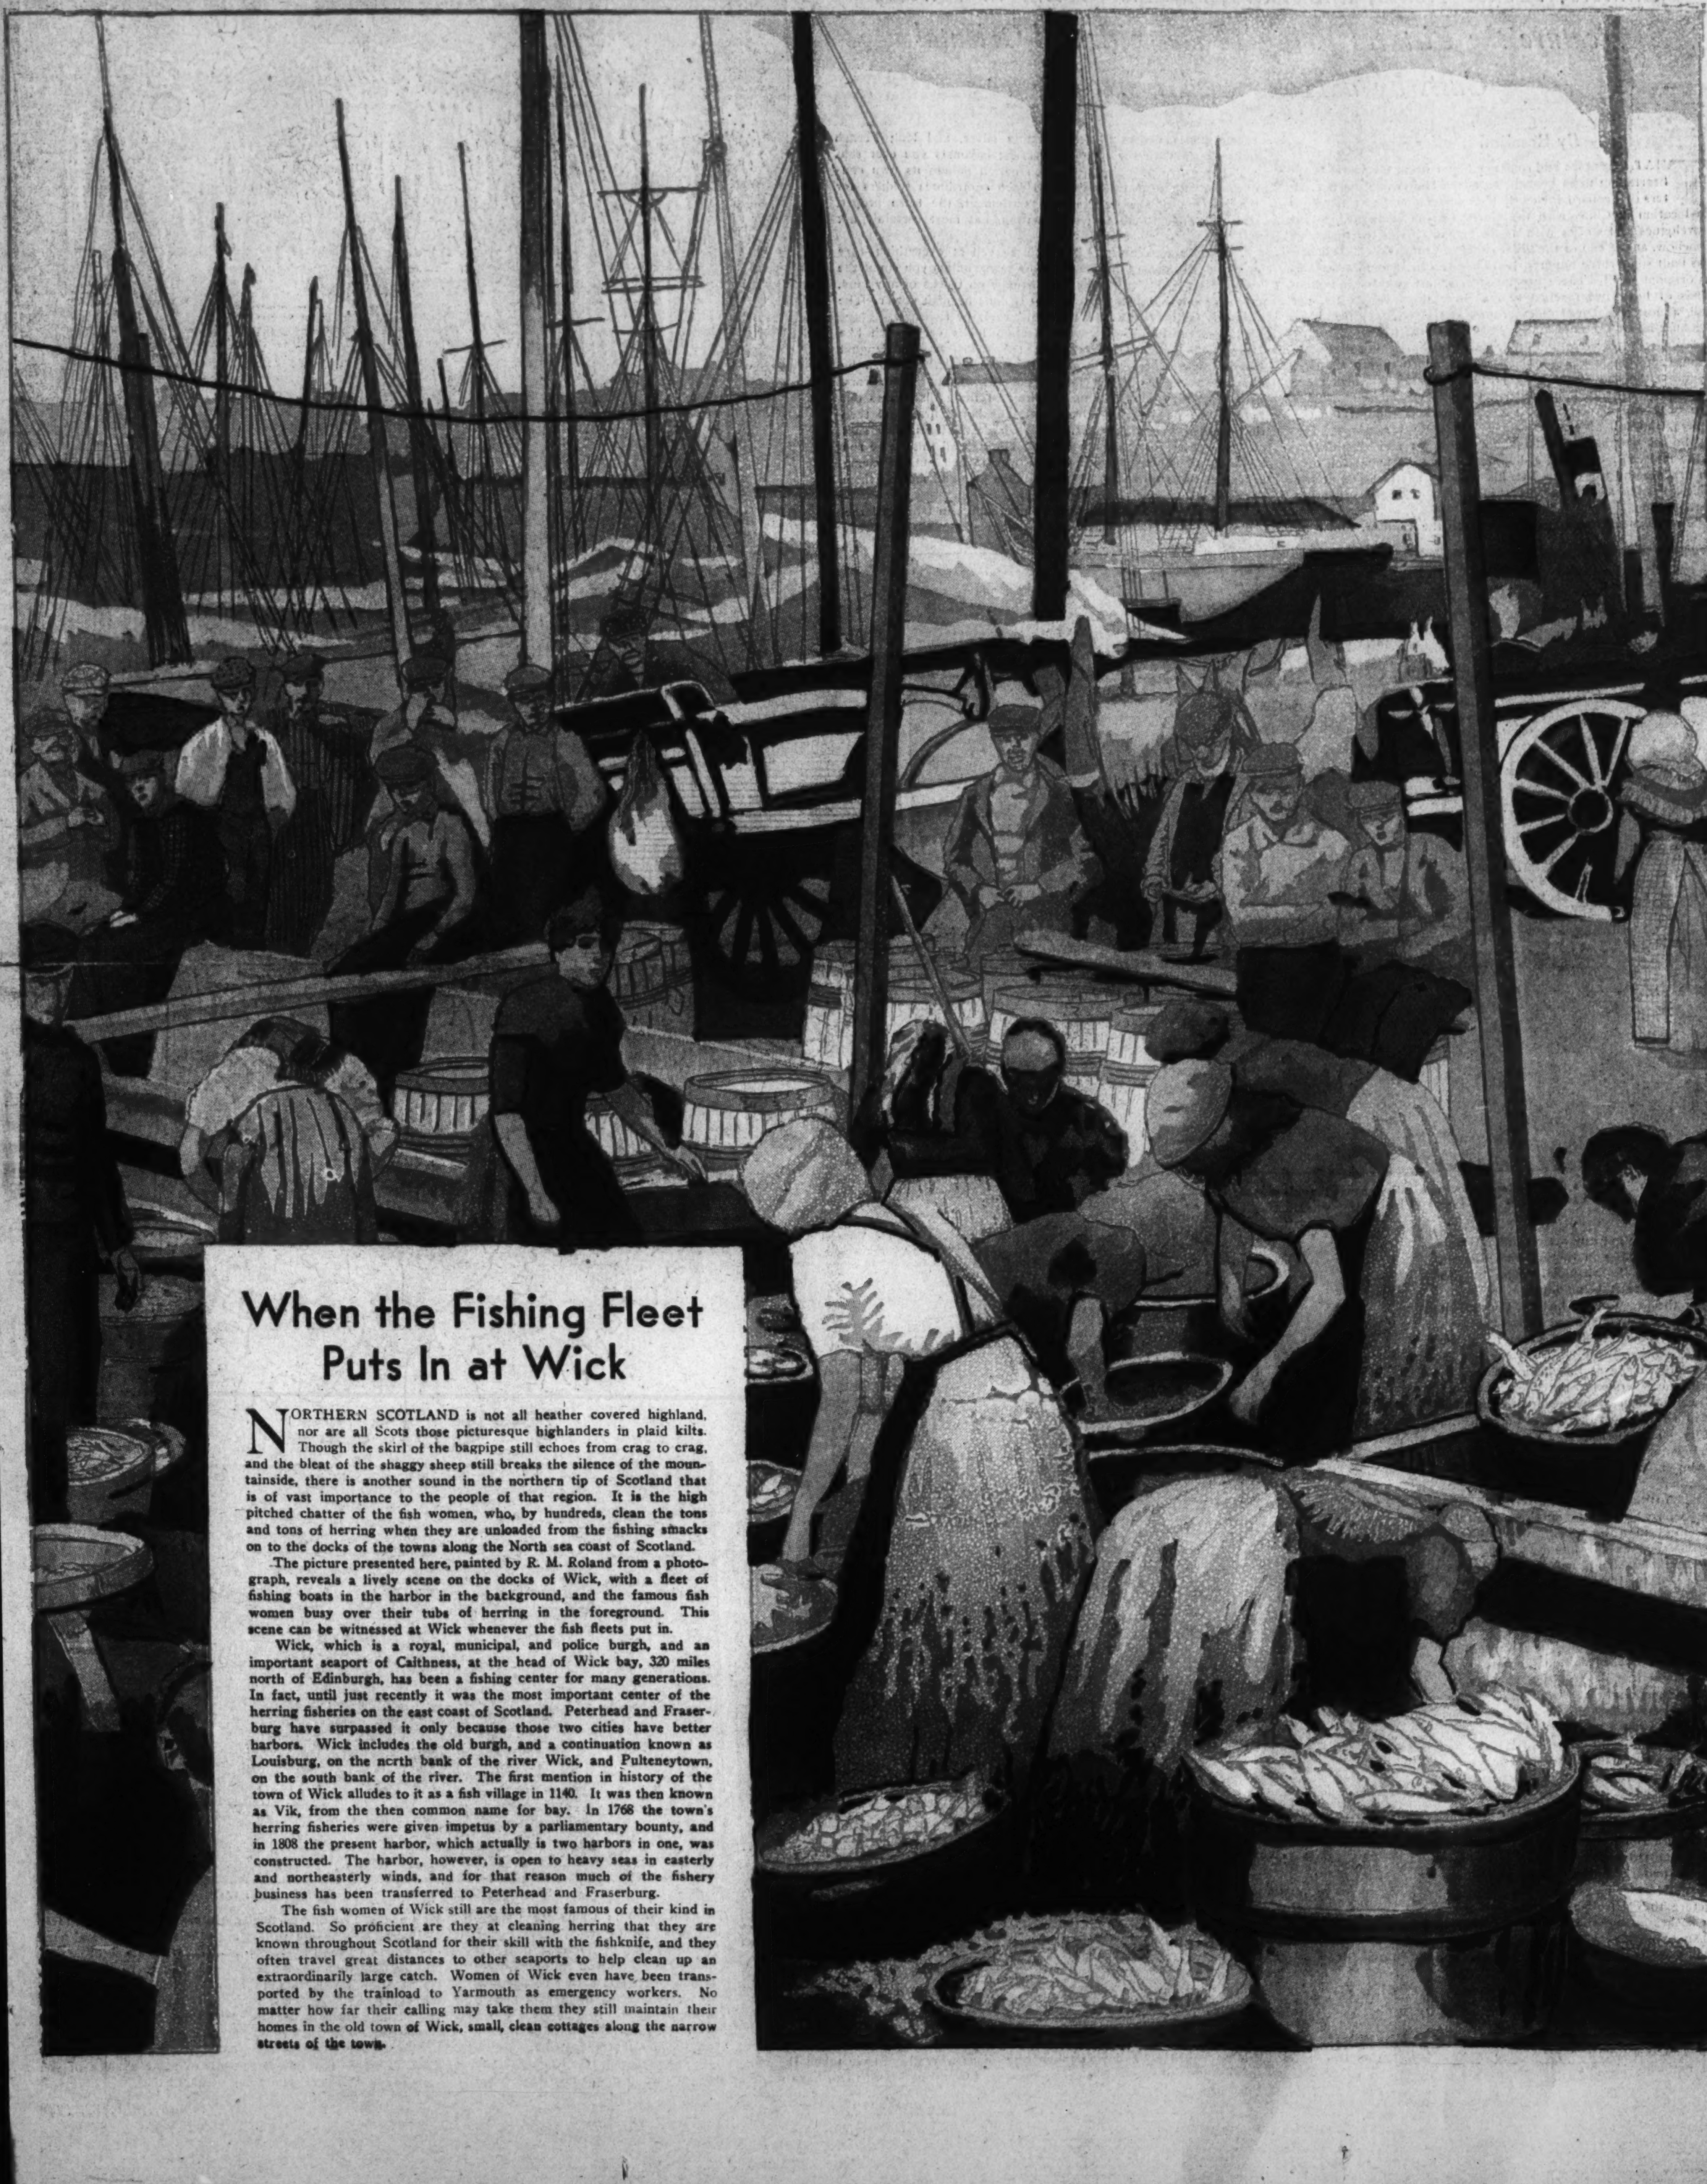
THE HECHT CO. WAREHOUSE

Just One Block From the Store — G Street Between 6th and 7th — We Will Park Your Car Free While You Shop

THE GRAPHIC WEEKLY
MAGAZINE SECTION OF THE Washington Sunday Post
THE CAPITAL'S GREATEST NEWSPAPER
MAY 22 1932



When the Fishing Fleet Puts In at Wick

NORTHERN SCOTLAND is not all heather covered highland, nor are all Scots those picturesque highlanders in plaid kilts. Though the skirl of the bagpipe still echoes from crag to crag, and the bleat of the shaggy sheep still breaks the silence of the mountainside, there is another sound in the northern tip of Scotland that is of vast importance to the people of that region. It is the high pitched chatter of the fish women, who, by hundreds, clean the tons and tons of herring when they are unloaded from the fishing smacks on to the docks of the towns along the North sea coast of Scotland.

The picture presented here, painted by R. M. Roland from a photograph, reveals a lively scene on the docks of Wick, with a fleet of fishing boats in the harbor in the background, and the famous fish women busy over their tubs of herring in the foreground. This scene can be witnessed at Wick whenever the fish fleets put in.

Wick, which is a royal, municipal, and police burgh, and an important seaport of Caithness, at the head of Wick bay, 320 miles north of Edinburgh, has been a fishing center for many generations. In fact, until just recently it was the most important center of the herring fisheries on the east coast of Scotland. Peterhead and Fraserburg have surpassed it only because those two cities have better harbors. Wick includes the old burgh, and a continuation known as Louisburg, on the north bank of the river Wick, and Pulteneytown, on the south bank of the river. The first mention in history of the town of Wick alludes to it as a fish village in 1140. It was then known as Vik, from the then common name for bay. In 1768 the town's herring fisheries were given impetus by a parliamentary bounty, and in 1808 the present harbor, which actually is two harbors in one, was constructed. The harbor, however, is open to heavy seas in easterly and northeasterly winds, and for that reason much of the fishery business has been transferred to Peterhead and Fraserburg.

The fish women of Wick still are the most famous of their kind in Scotland. So proficient are they at cleaning herring that they are known throughout Scotland for their skill with the fishknife, and they often travel great distances to other seaports to help clean up an extraordinarily large catch. Women of Wick even have been transported by the trainload to Yarmouth as emergency workers. No matter how far their calling may take them they still maintain their homes in the old town of Wick, small, clean cottages along the narrow streets of the town.

The Heathen Chinee in the Movies

Camels, House Boats, and Bars, but No Celluloid Kisses, Feature the Pictures Being Made with All-Oriental Casts by a Hollywood Director

By Rosalind Shaffer

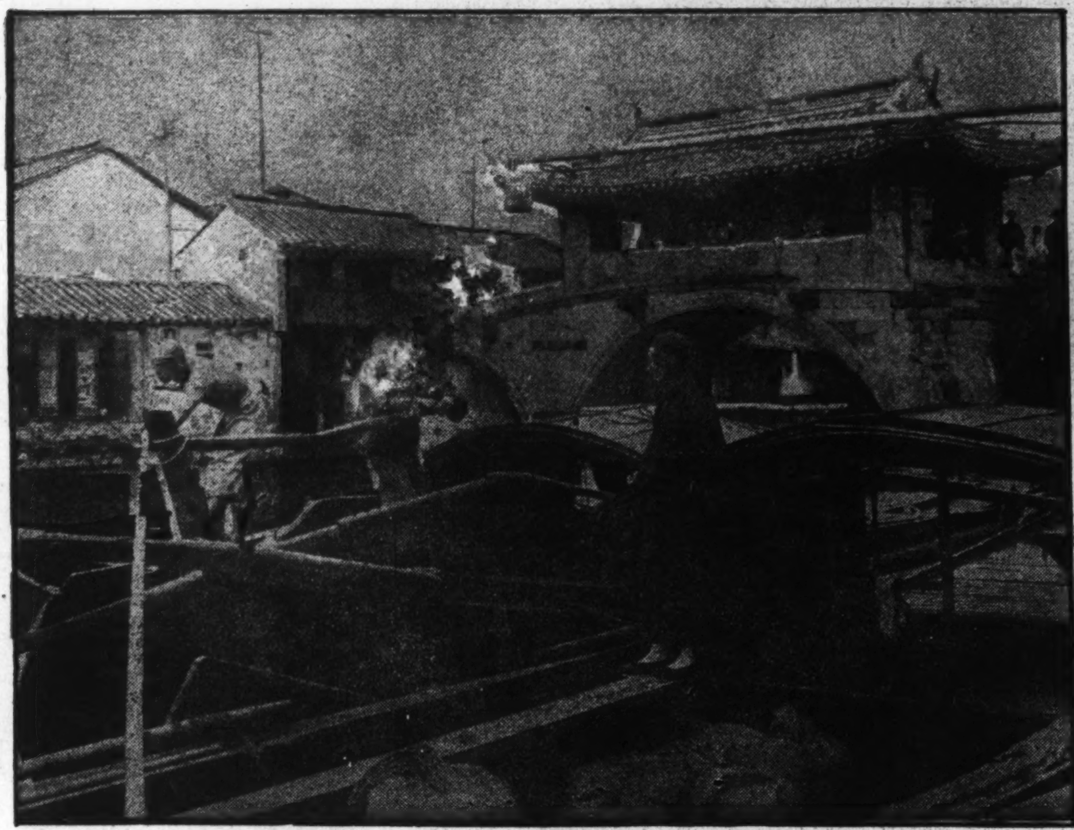
Ben Cohen's brush depicts a maiden from the all-Chinese cast of a travel film.

THAT adventure and romance linger on in the world is the heartening news brought to effete Hollywood via the letters of Leonard Fields, R-K-O writer and director, who is on location in China with the Harry Garson company, making travelogues and stories with native actors. Fields, writing from Soochow, at the end of the great canal of China, says: "Soochow was built some three hundred years before Christ and still retains its original smell. There are no streets, just canals—and thousands of beautifully arched bridges over these canals. A city wall, almost a hundred miles around and some sixty feet high, was built about the time Marco Polo visited the place.

"We wait for days, but it keeps on raining. Locations are exquisite beyond words. Arched bridges limned against the sky; designs a thousand years old. Towing paths along which move huge junks, with lines like ancient Greek ships, in use since the time of Confucius; temples, pagodas, markets—all set for the camera, and still no sun.

"So the company knocks about the town and sees things. In the middle of the road, a dignified old man, a mandarin, button gracing the top of his hat, his trousers neatly taped at the ankles, carries a bird cage carefully—just taking his pet for a little airing.

"American gestures mean nothing to the Chinese, and it is most difficult to get any action without finding that rare thing in this outlying district, an interpreter. In Shanghai pidgin English served, but here it is unknown.



Scene from "The Love Race," taken in Soochow. Above hangs the microphone; in the background is "The Bridge of Broken Hearts."

"For the first time in history, the motion picture camera was allowed inside the Forbidden City. We shot the place from one end to the other."

The story made at Soochow, Fields says, was a Chinese version of the Volga Boatman, with two boatmen competing for the hand of a girl in a race down the Grand Canal to the Big City. The chief trouble encountered by the company was in securing an old Chinaman who could speak English to act as the girl's father.

The film troupe, including a script girl and a companion who were taken along from the studio, lived in a houseboat, which moved along the river as the film was made. No fresh vegetables, fruit, nor drinking water were allowed, for fear of contagion, but other foodstuffs were cheap and good; and, "with champagne cheap, things were not so bad!"

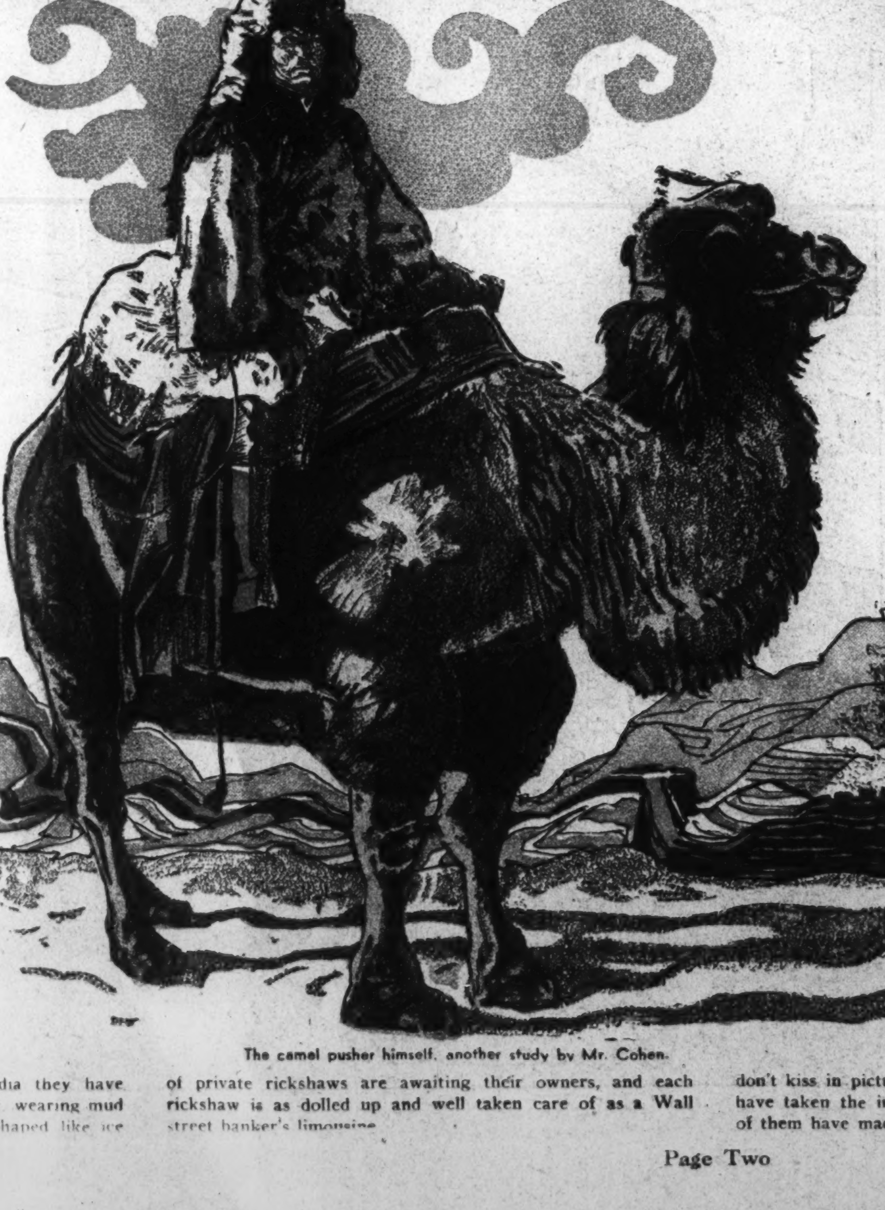
The second story, concerning a "Camel Pusher," a driver of camels, is being filmed now up at the Great Wall, in the north.

"We spent four days getting up here by camel back," writes Fields, "and on one stage we traveled by camel all night. Sensation was something like a brown derby hamburger steak with onions, with a quart of Hollywood gin, and then being forced to see a bad preview. It took me a week to get the wrinkles out of my back!

"We saw a Lama temple in Peiping, and a Lama 'devil dance.' An incredibly beautiful and weird thing that dance is! But we weren't permitted to film it.

"Every picture house I have visited in Shanghai and other cities has a bar. During the picture they have an intermission and a slide flashes on the screen: Bar Interval.

"Shanghai—what a town! We found plenty for our cameras here. The French concession, covering miles, is a dream. The whole thing is as French as anything you would see in Paris. French names on the streets, French architecture. French soldiers. You should see the Annamites from Cambodia they have brought to soldier for them. Deep tan in color, wearing mud colored uniforms faced with black—helmets shaped like ice cream cones decorated with shining silver, and long French guns tipped with the longest, silveriest bayonets you ever saw.



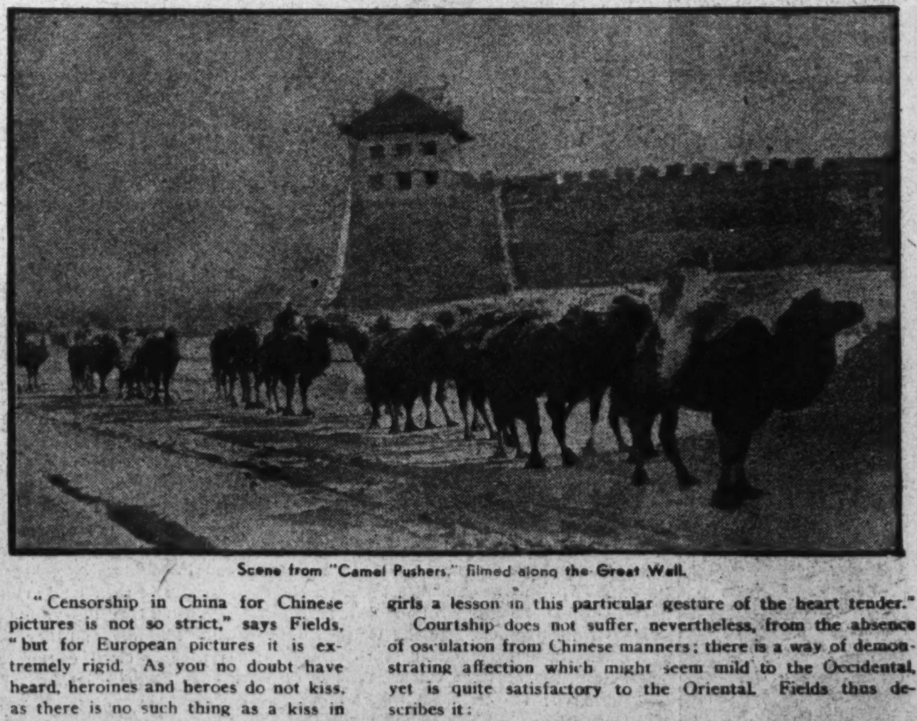
The camel pusher himself, another study by Mr. Cohen.

"There are no policemen—each nation polices its own concessions with armed soldiers, and each contributes soldiers for the policing of the international settlement, the town proper, which belongs to no individual nation, but most certainly not to China.

"The place is noisy. The Chinese yell at everything, play or work. No beasts of burden in the town, unless you count the men. Plenty of motor cars, but virtually no trucks of any kind, motor or horse drawn. Everything is done by man power. The company, as everyone else, traveled largely by rickshaw.

"A street in the downtown section looks very much like Hollywood boulevard, except for the rickshaws. A languid Chinaman indicates he is about to make a lefthand turn by gently waving his folded fan. Hundreds of tiny motor cars. Each one is honking like mad. The first thing that wears out here is the horn. The drivers start the horns first, and then the motors. When they arrive at their destinations, they shut off the motors, and then the horns. Through all this melee run hundreds of coolies, threading their way in and out, balancing enormous loads on each end of a bamboo pole and making them swing in keeping with their progress.

"To make the whole scene more interesting, in front of large places of business, such as the exchanges and banks, hundreds of private rickshaws are awaiting their owners, and each rickshaw is as dolled up and well taken care of as a Wall street banker's limousine."



Scene from "Camel Pushers," filmed along the Great Wall.

"Censorship in China for Chinese pictures is not so strict," says Fields, "but for European pictures it is extremely rigid. As you no doubt have heard, heroines and heroes do not kiss, as there is no such thing as a kiss in Chinese behavior. It is purely a European importation. Yet, though they don't kiss in pictures, I must admit that these Chinese girls have taken the importation rather seriously. In fact, many of them have made a study of it, and might give Hollywood girls a lesson in this particular gesture of the heart tender."

Courtship does not suffer, nevertheless, from the absence of osculation from Chinese manners; there is a way of demonstrating affection which might seem mild to the Occidental, yet is quite satisfactory to the Oriental. Fields thus describes it:

"Chinese girls make love with their hands. Instead of kissing one with their lips, they kiss with their fingertips. In view of the fact that their hands are more graceful than a swan's neck, and velvety enough to make a piece of silk seem rough, this isn't such a bad break, at that."

FAREWELL MISS JULIE LOGAN

In Which Adam Makes the Acquaintance of Miss Julie and She Steps into His Heart, Never Again to Leave It, Reason as He May . . . Concluding an Unusual Two-Part Story by a Modern Master

by

Sir James M. Barrie

PART II.

DEC. 26.—(Continued.)—The amelioration in the weather, which probably will not last, is what put the idea into my head. Some of us have been able to step about a little these last days. A curran herd, weary of bothy life, have made so bold as to find out where the glen road is. Of course, they cannot shovel down to it, but they have staked some of the worst bits, and several carts have passed along, as if the proximity to it gave them courage. I saw from the manse the Old Lady's carriage trying for Branders.

All our large social events take place in the smiddy, and the finest consist of Penny Weddings, when you are expected, if convenient, to bring, say, a hen or a small piece of plenishing to the happy pair. The actual marriage, of course, takes place in the bride's home, and not, in the queer English way, in the kirk. We have had no weddings since I came, but twice last month we had Friendlies, which we consider the next best thing.

Our Friendlies are always in two parts, the first part being devoted to a lecture by the minister, or some other person of culture, who is usually another minister. This lecture is invariably of a bright, entertaining character, and some are greater adepts at unbending in this way than others, the best being Mr. Watery of Branders, whose triumphant smile is of such expansion that you might say it oozes over the company like syrup. Laughter and the clapping of hands in moderation are not only permissible but encouraged.

The second part of a Friendly is mostly musical with songs, and is provided by local talent, in which Posty takes a lead. There is an understanding that I remain for the first song or so, whether I am lecturing or in the chair. This is to give a tone to the second part, and then I slip away, sometimes wishing I could bide, to let them be more at their ease. The time in which Friendlies would be most prized is when the glen is locked, but the difficulty for all except the Five Houses lies in getting to the smiddy.

Nevertheless, we are to attempt a Friendly on Thursday, though Mr. Watery, who was to be the lecturer with a magic lantern, which of course is a great addition, has cried off on account of nervousness lest the weather should change before he gets home again. I have undertaken to fill his place to the best of my more limited ability, as indeed it is. I am doing so the more readily because of this idea that came to me, which promises to be a felicitous one. It is to lecture to them on Superstition, with some sly and yet shattering references to a recent event in the glen, all to be done with a light touch, yet of course with a moral, which is that a sense of humor is the best antidote to credulity.

VII. MISS JULIE LOGAN

DEC. 28.—Hours have passed since I finished my lecture. I know not how many times I have sat down to write about her and then taken to wandering the study instead. My mind goes back in search of every crumb of her, and I am thinking I could pick her up better on my fiddle than in written words.

My eyes never fell on her till I got to my peroration. This is no reflection on my sight, for all the company in the smiddy, and there were more than thirty, had to sit in darkness so that they could better watch my face between the two candles. She was with Mistress Lindinnock, who presented her to me, and they came over to the manse while the ponies were being put in. I held her hand to guide her over the planks.

She is the Old Lady's grandniece, and her name is Miss Julie Logan. I am glad of her Christian name, for it has always been my favorite. In the past, up to this night, my lot has thrown me mostly among my seniors, and I have sometimes wished I was old, so as to be done with the clutches of youth. I am not afraid of them now. I am no hand at describing the garb of beauty, and the nearest I can get to her, after much communing, is that she is a long stalk of loveliness. She carried a large muff of fur, and at times would raise it to her face as if she knew no better than to think it was a scent bottle, or peep over it like a sitting bird in the bole of a tree. There was a diverting hood over her head, which, for some reason I cannot as yet determine, you could have got on smiling terms with though you had met it hanging on a nob.

She is from Edinburgh, and it was to convey her here that I saw the Grand House carriage going in to Branders yesterday. I have seen her for twenty minutes only. There is such a beloved huskiness in her voice that she should be made to say everything twice. She glides up a manse stair with what I take to be the lithesomeness of a panther. I like her well when she is haughty, and even better when she is melting, and best of all when she is the two together, which she often is.

I was all throughither when she sat down on one of my horsehair chairs that I have hitherto held of small account. She looked as meek at that moment as if a dove was brooding in her face. It is not beauty of person that I heed, but internal beauty, which in her is as plain to read as if she wore it outside. What I would last part with is the way her face sparkles; not just her eyes, but her whole face. That comes and goes, and when it has gone there is left the sweet homeliness that is woman's surest promise to man. Fine I knew, that forever I needed none but her.

I stroked her muff, and somehow the action made me say, "This is a very unhomely manse," though I had never thought that before. She held out her hand to me, with the palm upwards like one begging for forgiveness, and I have been wondering ever since what she meant me precisely to do with it. I pressed it on my heart and I filled at long last with what becomes a man in his hour, and I said, "I love you, Miss Julie Logan"; and she said as soft as a snow-flake, "Yes, I know."

Then Christilly came in with the blackberry wine on a tray, and the Old Lady woke up and said that the ponies must be yoked by this time, so I took the ladies across to the carriage, Christilly going in front with the lamp. I could hear Miss Julie Logan talking sweetly to her, though it was the Old Lady who was on my arm.

It is now on the chap of midnight, and since I wrote the above I have been down to my kirk and unlocked the door and lit a candle and stood looking for a long time at the manse pew. It is in a modest position on the right of the pulpit, disdaining to call attention to itself. For my part, I could never walk down the aisle of any kirk without being conscious of which was the manse pew as of which was the pulpit. I don't look, I just feel it. Usually there is only Christilly in mine, and she sits at the far end.

VIII. CHRISTILLY GOES QUEER

DEC. 30.—In the midst of my exaltation come disquieting symptoms in Christilly. I think, now I look back, that she has been unsettled these past few days and that occasionally she has glanced covertly at me as if she feared I suspected her of something.

Whether this was so or not, she is in a bad state now, and I am in a taking about her.

It revealed itself this morning when I made a remark to her about Miss Julie Logan. I know it would be more befitting not to bring that name into everyday conversation, but something within me craved to hear how it sounded on other lips. Nothing could have been more thought out than the way I introduced the subject, and yet the dryness came into my mouth that makes it so desirable for a public speaker to have a glass of water handy.

"And so," I said, "there is a young lady at the Grand House now, Christilly."

"Is there?" said she, like one cheering up for a gossip.

"Did you not know," I said, "that it is there Miss Julie Logan is staying?"

"What Miss Julie Logan?" she asked.

"The young lady," I said patiently, "whom Mistress Lindinnock brought to the manse the night before last."

"I saw no young lady," she said; "there was just the two of you came in, you and Mistress Lindinnock."

"Is this temper, Christilly," I demanded, "or what is it? You helped Miss Julie Logan to a glass of blackberry wine; also you carried the lantern when I escorted them back to the carriage, and you were in front conversing with her."

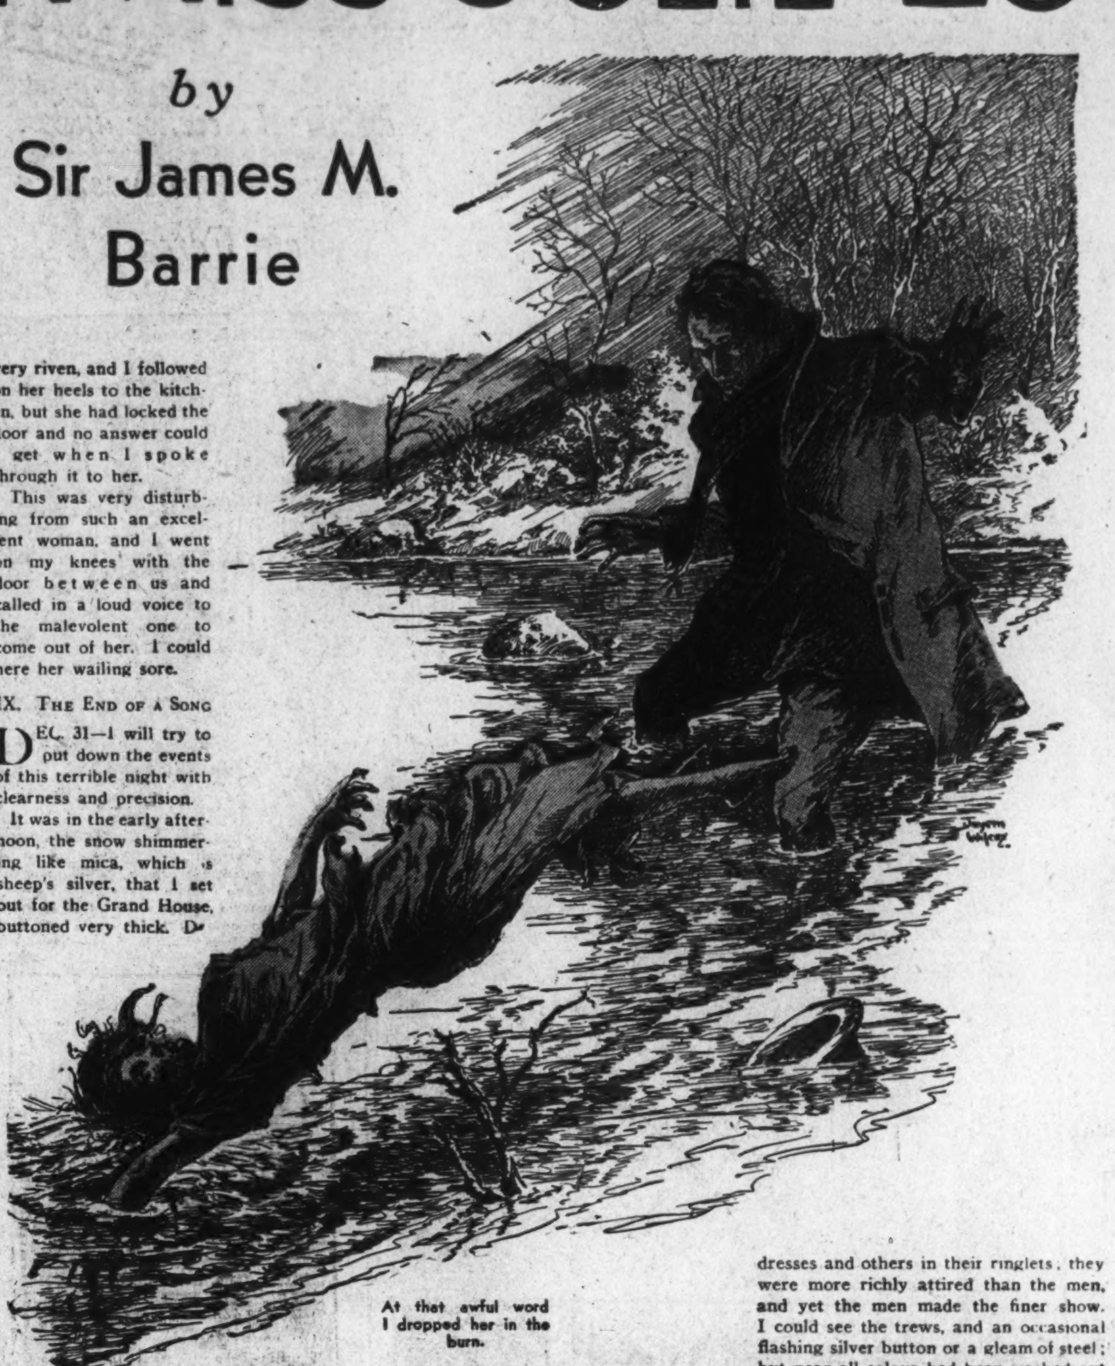
Her eyes stood out as in some sudden affliction, and, when I stepped toward her, asking if she was ill, she cried, "God help me," and rushed out of the study. What did it portend? Had I unwittingly opened the door to some secret the poor soul had been keeping from me? I was very riven, and I followed on her heels to the kitchen, but she had locked the door and no answer could I get when I spoke through it to her.

This was very disturbing from such an excellent woman, and I went on my knees with the door between us and called in a loud voice to the malevolent one to come out of her. I could here her wailing sore.

IX. THE END OF A SONG

DEC. 31—I will try to put down the events of this terrible night with clearness and precision.

It was in the early afternoon, the snow shimmering like mica, which is sheep's silver, that I set out for the Grand House, buttoned very thick. Despite the darkness that encompassed Christilly I was in an awful and sublime state of happiness. I forgot my cloth and flung snowballs at the smith's bairns, who will remember this New Year's eve by that.



At that awful word I dropped her in the burn.

The windows in the Five Houses showed a glime of light, not that it was needed yet, but they were practicing precautions against my seeing them presently at some New Year devilment. These consisted in their hanging cloths, such as human habiliments, behind the blinds, so as to deaden the light to me should I be on the watch.

There was no music as yet, and I was wondering where Posty and my fiddle were, when I fell in with them on the way. Though he has forgotten who the broken men were about whom he likes to play, I notice that one little bit, from his forbears as I take it, still clings to him; he walks up and down while he is playing the fiddle as if it were the pipes. On this occasion, however, I expect he was on the march for seasonable largess at the Grand House, which he always receives with complete surprise.

In a cozy little room where, however indiscriminately you sit down, you sit soft, Mistress Lindinnock received me. She was tatting (but that cannot be the right word) at a new tapestry, or mending an old one, which was so voluminous that she rose out of it as from the foam. She is such a little person that when she stands up you may think she has sat down; nevertheless, she is so ready that contradictious men have stepped back hurriedly from the palm of her hand, and yet not been quick enough. She has always, as I have said, been a fine friend to me till this unhappy day.

ALL was well while we were talking of Christilly's case, into which I did not have to go in much detail as I found Dr. John had obligingly gone straight to her with it from the manse yesterday. I could not help inquiring, with all the appearance of its being an ordinary question, how he had taken to Miss Julie Logan. Sharp, I got the staggering answer. "He had no opportunity, for I had packed the woman back to Edinburgh in the morning."

I have had worse blows than this tonight, though at the moment I could not have credited it; so I will only say that on rallying I asked with cold politeness when the young lady was coming back.

Mistress Lindinnock, I could see, was eyeing me closely to find out how I stood the news, but she replied at once, like one prepared for war, "Never, I hope; I don't like your Miss Julie Logan, my good sir."

I will not say that even in that stern moment I took no pleasure in hearing her called my Miss Julie Logan. Also it gave me an opportunity to reply with the thunderbolt, "That is what I want her to be."

She stamped her foot at me, but I never weakened.

"I demand her address," I said. She refused it, and I replied loftily that it mattered not, as I was confident she would write to me.

She raised her arms at that, like one appealing to a higher power, and said, "If she writes to you I give the thing up." Once she swung me round very raized and said on her tiptoes, "I could tell you things about her that would make you drop her in the burn, though you were standing in the middle of it with the jade in your arms."

I replied in my stateliest that I would stand in the middle of the ocean with Miss Julie Logan on those terms; and I meant it, too, though I am no swimmer.

When I got outside something made me reluctant to make straight for the manse. I sat down very melancholy by a little round of water in which the Grand House usually was reflected. The night was forlorn, with the merest rim of the moon in sight, and no reflection on the water beyond some misty stars. I don't know why I sat there. It was not to keep vigil; I am sure I had no suspicion that Miss Julie Logan was still in the house.

I may have been there a considerable time before I saw or heard anything. What I heard came first. It must just have been Posty playing far away the most reprehensible but the loveliest of all the Jacobite cries, "Will you no come back again?" Soon after he finished, if it was mortal man who played, all was still.

I thought no more of him, for candles to a great number, and very sly, were beginning to get lit in the water. I spied on them interestedly. It was now one of those nights when the moon wanders. The big window nearly filled the pond, and through it I saw a concourse of people in the hall. Of course it was only their reflections I saw. I saw them on their heads as in an inverted mirror, and they looked just as agreeable as the other way. They were in the Highland dress of lang syne.

I never saw them all at once, because if they came nearer they were lost in the weeds, and if they went back they had a neat way of going through the walls. The older ladies were in fine head dresses and others in their ringlets; they were more richly attired than the men, and yet the men made the finer show. I could see the trews, and an occasional flashing silver button or a gleam of steel; but near all colour had been washed out of them as if they had been over long among the caves and the eagles. There was plenty of food on a table that sometimes came forward, and they drank toasts thereat.

I could not always put a meaning to what they did, but I saw them dancing and conversing, and though they were perhaps poor and desperate, they all, the gentlemen as much as the ladies, seemed to me to be of the great. They did rochly things as if they had forgotten the pretty ways, and next minute there would be a flourish in their manners that would have beat the pipes.

There was no music, though, and when this came to me I recalled that I had not heard a sound from behind me in the hall itself, though owing to the quietness of the night I heard in the open as infinitely small a thing as the letting go of a twig. The real folk were as quiet as their reflections. If I had been an imaginative man I might have thought that the real house, which was invisible to me where I sat, was not lit up at all, and that what I saw in the water was just a reflection come trailing back from other days.

I TOOK a step or two to make sure about this, and then all the men in the water suddenly stood still, with their hands on dirk or broadsword. I thought they had heard a disquieting sound, and then I knew that what they heard had been my own movement. After that I sat very mouse, looking at nothing but the reflection. I was sure now that, despite the dancing, it was a gathering of the hunted folk as stealthy as the night itself.

I had never lost a feeling that there was an air of expectancy about them. I saw them backing against the walls to leave more space in the middle, and all eyes turned to the door, as if awaiting a great person. I suppose the tune was still dirling in my head, for I thought I knew who was coming in, the captain of them all, and I had a sinking that it would be my duty to seize him and hand him over. But it was a woman, it was Miss Julie Logan. She was not finely attired like the other ladies, but so poorly that her garments were in tatters. She would have made a braver show if each of the ladies had torn off an oddment and made a frock for her between them. It was not, however, as one of little account that they treated her or she treated them.

She was the one presence in the hall to them. They approached her singly and as if overpowered by the distinction that was befalling them. The men made profound obeisance, and the ladies sank in that lovely way to the floor. On some she smiled and let them salute her hand, and others she looked at in a way I did not see, but they backed from her as if she had put the fear of death into them. She gave the back of her hand to Mistress Lindinnock, and I never saw an old woman so gratified.

With a few she took a step or two in the dance, mayhap to make others glower, and by and by something was taking place that I could not at first fathom. It was clear she was about to leave them, for a ceremony similar in most respects to that with which she had been received was repeated and the doors thrown open for her passing. But then they all gathered in the far end of the hall, or sank through it, with their backs to her, which was baffling to me, for up to that moment you could see how carefully they gave her their faces. Yet they did it of set purpose, or possibly at her command, for she was watching them more haughtily than ever.

As soon as she was sure that every face was to the wall a complete change came over her. She hastened—she almost ran in her eagerness—to a corner of the window and lifted from the floor a good sized basket that I daresay they had placed there for her. She lifted it like one who knew for certain it would be there. She filled it with viands from the table, picking and choosing them with affectionate interest. I thought that being, in some way I had to grope for, the one they held highest, she was too proud to let them know how hungry she was, though that very knowledge was what had brought them together. I thought that, reckless of correct behaviour, as all on that side were, they were Strangers come back into the present day by some royal command to honour and feed one who had been left behind. While she had been lording it so imperiously in the hall, she was be-like thinking more about the basket than that she was the end of a song.

A MOMENT after she was gone from the hall, with a last withering look for any peeping face, I heard the first sound that had reached me from the house since I took to looking in the water. It was the closing of the front door. I hurried forward and was in time to meet Miss Julie Logan, no longer a reflection, coming down the steps with the basket.

She said, "Carry the basket, Adam," and I carried it, but first I put my topcoat on her, and she slipped my hand into one of the pockets along with her own. I think it was snowing again or a tempest or something of the kind, but we were not heeding. She took me to a small ruin of a bield for sheltering sheep in, and in a corner of it, where was a pile of stones, maybe to mark some old grave, we sat down on them and opened the basket. She was very hungry and I myself was also slow to desist from eating. For drinking we ate the snow, against which I have warned my Sabbath school scholars.

The basket was so crammed with food of an agreeable nature that when we paused, replete, there was still near a basketful left. Never in my life was I so merry as sitting on those stones, and she was also very droll. She had a way of shining her face into mine and showing her pretty teeth like a child. It was the gaiety of her, but I joukit. When we wandered on I wanted to bring the basket, but she said that was the place to leave it.

We said the kind of things a man and woman never say till they know each other through and through. It was all about ourselves, and love was one of the words I did not scruple to handle.

We were not bothering about farback times or Mistress Lindinnock, but when we came to the burn it minded me of what the Old Lady said I would do in a certain emergency. Miss Julie Logan demanded of me to repeat to her the exact words, which I did, namely, "I could tell you things about her that would make you drop her in the burn, though you were standing in the middle of it with the jade in your arms." I omitted the word jade.

Miss Julie Logan was in a dance of delight and cried, "Adam, let us try it." I said there was danger in it and she said, "I like danger fine," and she coaxed me, saying, "When you have got me there I'll tell you the thing, and then, if you don't drop me, aiblins I will be yours, Adam."

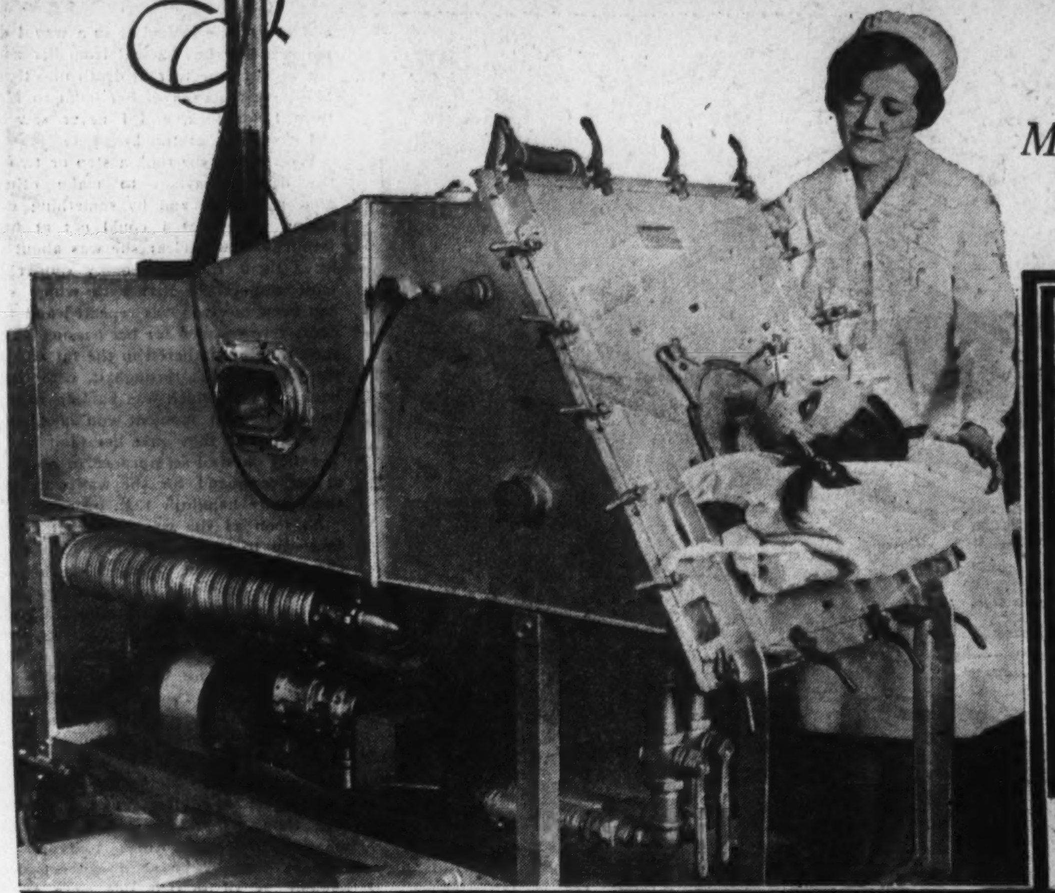
There and then I up with her and carried her into the burn. It was deep and sucking. She rubbed her head on my shoulder in a way that would make a man think she liked to be where she was. She peered up at me, and her face was of the sweet homeliness of a dove that I have mentioned, and so also were her words.

She said, "Kiss me first, Adam, in case you have to drop me." I kissed her, and I held her the tighter lest by some dread undoing I should let her slip. Her face was all sparkling now, almost more than enough. "Adam dear," she said, "to begin with, I am a Papist." At that awful word I dropped her in the burn.

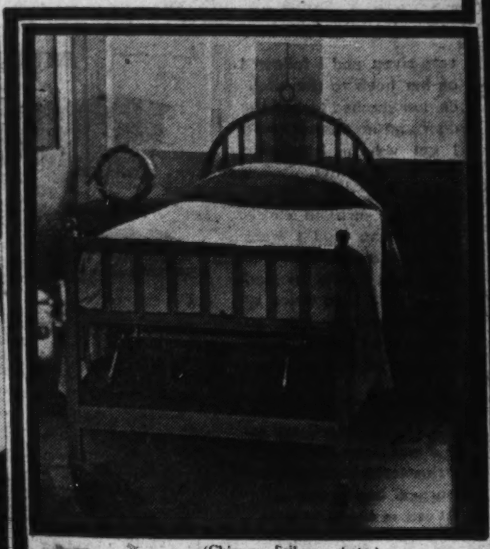
(Continued on Page Nine.)

The Mechanized Hospital

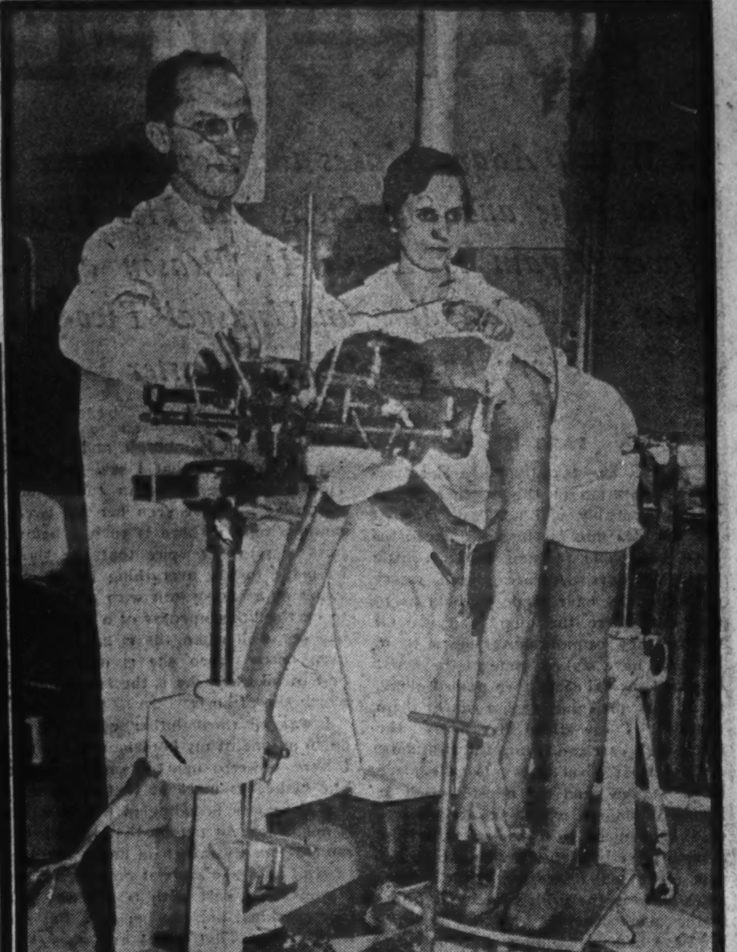
Medical Science and Mechanical Engineering Join Forces



(Chicago Tribune photo.)
An artificial respirator at St. Luke's hospital, Chicago, keeping life in a patient suffering from paralysis of the lungs.



(Chicago Tribune photo.)
Above: The oxygen room in Passavant hospital, Chicago, where patients suffering from pneumonia receive a supply of oxygen sufficient to sustain life. It was a gift to the hospital from Col R. R. McCormick

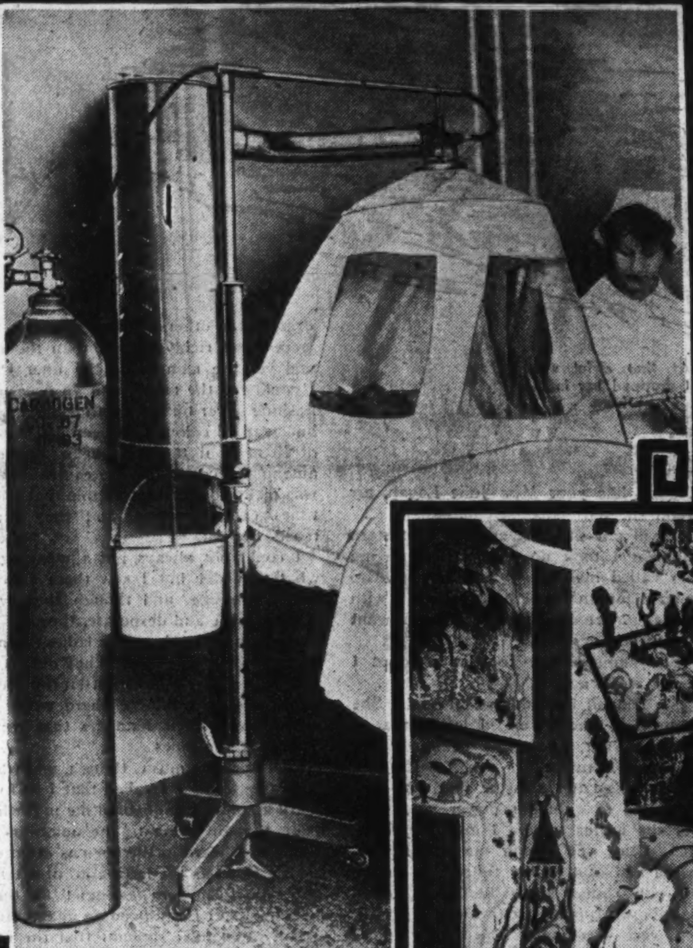


(Chicago Tribune photo.)
Above: A machine for the treatment of curvature of the spine, which has been installed in Michael Reese hospital, Chicago

By Howard Barry

MEDICAL science and mechanical engineering have joined forces. Pneumonia now is combated in specially designed oxygen rooms, crippled spines are straightened with the help of a machine, and newborn babes who threaten to leave the world as soon as they have entered it are rushed into respirators where they can catch their breath.

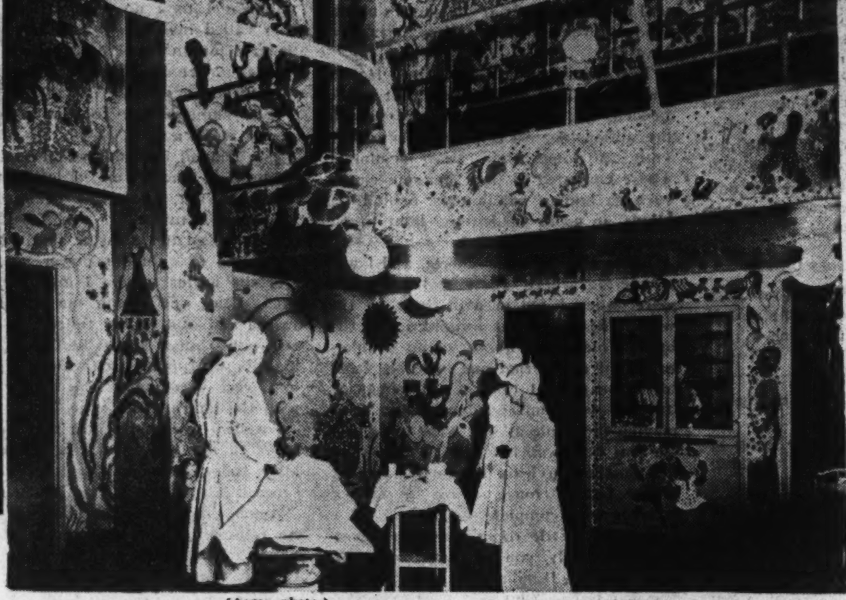
In Michael Reese hospital, Chicago, there is a recently installed machine which brings hope to hundreds of children suffering from curvature of the spine. It is thought to be the first device of its kind to be used in an American institution, having been brought there by two members of the hospital staff following a visit to the inventor, Prof. Ricardo Galcazzi, in Italy. Since 1914 the Italian physician has been conducting a series of experiments in an endeavor to perfect his machine. A publication of the remarkable results obtained led to an inspection of the device by the Michael Reese authorities. The machine permits the adjustment of the patient's spine to the natural position, after which the spine is kept in place by a plaster cast.



(Acme photo.)
At right: The carbogen tent, a machine which aids pneumonia sufferers by supplying oxygen and carbon dioxide. It also is used in the treatment of carbon monoxide poisoning and asphyxiation.

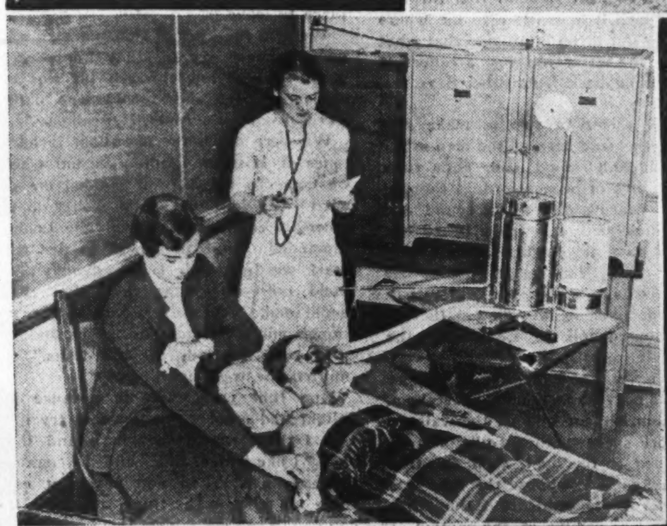
"It's a Wise Father," etc. . .

ONE of the most famous of baby mix-ups, which might have been averted by the use of artificially tanned identification marks was the Bamberger-Watkins case Though authorities of a Chicago hospital contended that the right babies had been delivered to the right parents. Watkins charged that he found a Bamberger tag on the back of the baby his wife brought home. The case was in the courts for months. The two families are satisfied today that they have the right babies.



(Acme photo.)
The walls and ceiling of this operating room in the Barnes hospital, St. Louis, are decorated with scenes from popular fairy tales to distract the patient's mind from the operation.

(Acme photo.)
This machine for tanning identification marks into the skin of newborn babies has been installed in the Beth Israel hospital, New York.



(Acme photo.)

At left: The energy output of a patient being measured with the aid of mechanical devices.

Staff physicians in St. Luke's hospital, Chicago, have combined two modern inventions, the radio stethoscope and the electro-cardiograph, into a device which they believe makes it possible to get an absolutely accurate record of the beats of the human heart.

The stethoscope's function is to amplify heart sounds. Hitherto, it is pointed out, every physician who listened had a different ear, and even when the sounds were filtered disagreements in diagnosis occurred The cardiograph has been attached to the stethoscope in such a manner that the heart beats are recorded mechanically, thus doing away with a large amount of error due to incorrect interpretation of sounds by physicians.

"The human equation is reduced to a minimum in this form of examination," said Dr. George K. Fenn, who put in a great deal of work on the perfection of the device. "All the record is made by machines, and human interpretation plays only the final part in the diagnosis."

(Chicago Tribune photo.)
A patient being examined for heart trouble with the aid of the radio stethoscope, which is designed to do away with the personal equation in the physician's observations. Under old methods, by which doctors trusted entirely to their own hearing, there were frequently contradictory diagnoses.

A small artificial respirator for new born infants has been installed in the Michael Reese hospital and has saved the lives of numerous babies after all other methods of resuscitation had failed. Members of the hospital staff believe this is the first application of the artificial respirator for newborn infants.

The oxygen room at Passavant hospital, Chicago, makes possible the perfection of the oxygen treatment which is indispensable in acute forms of pneumonia, and sometimes in cardiac cases, heat prostrations, or collapse after thyroid operations. It was a gift to the hospital from Col. R. R. McCormick. There have been oxygen rooms before this, succeeding the clumsy and wasteful oxygen tents. But they left much to be desired both mechanically and medically.

The oxygen chamber at Passavant hospital is built of metal, airtight, comprising a room within a room, the smaller unit having a passageway entirely around it to permit inspection of the patient through the glass panels.

The metal roof of the smaller room has spacious ground glass skylights, and all lighting is done from the outside to avoid any interference with the air content inside.

When placed inside one of the two spaces into which this metal room is divided, a pneumonia patient may be gasping for breath because of the congestion in his lungs which does not permit him to get a sufficient supply of oxygen from the air he is breathing. Half an hour later his face will be normal in color and his breathing much relieved, the powerful oxygen pumping equipment having increased the flow of that element into the chamber to whatever percentage is required for the individual—always considerably above that which would be comfortable for the normal man.

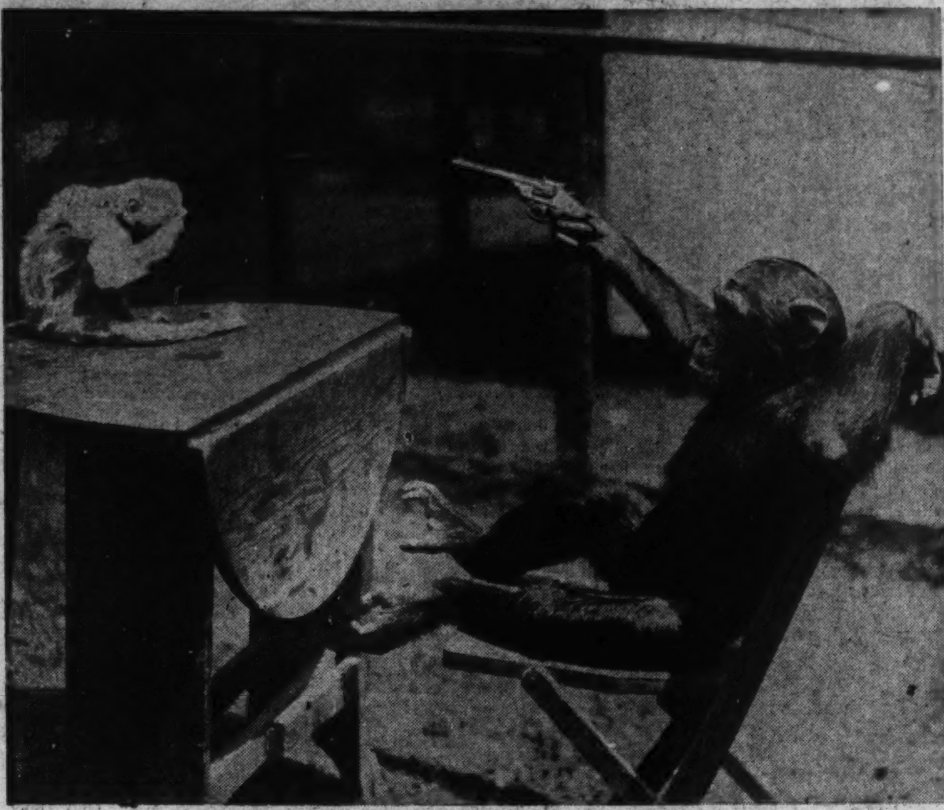
In the oxygen room there is a device for removing carbon dioxide given off by the patient in the air he breathes. Both the temperature and the oxygen content can be measured by a testing device outside the room.

One of the methods for averting mix-up of newborn babies is the use of artificial sun rays for tanning distinguishing marks into the baby's body immedately after birth. This system is employed in the Beth Israel hospital, New York City This is a substitute for the customary method of putting the identification marks on a piece of adhesive tape and sticking it to the infant's back.

Respiratory apparatus installed in St. Luke's hospital, Chicago, figured in the famous case of Frances McGann, the young student nurse who was stricken with paralysis of the lungs Unable to breathe, she was rushed into the respiratory machine, where she remained day and night for weeks, knowing that to be taken out meant death. But she kept up her morale, and gradually the paralysis released its grip upon her lungs. Presently she was taken from the machine for longer and longer periods each day. Then she was left out for several days. She was threatened with a relapse and was returned to the apparatus for short periods from time to time.

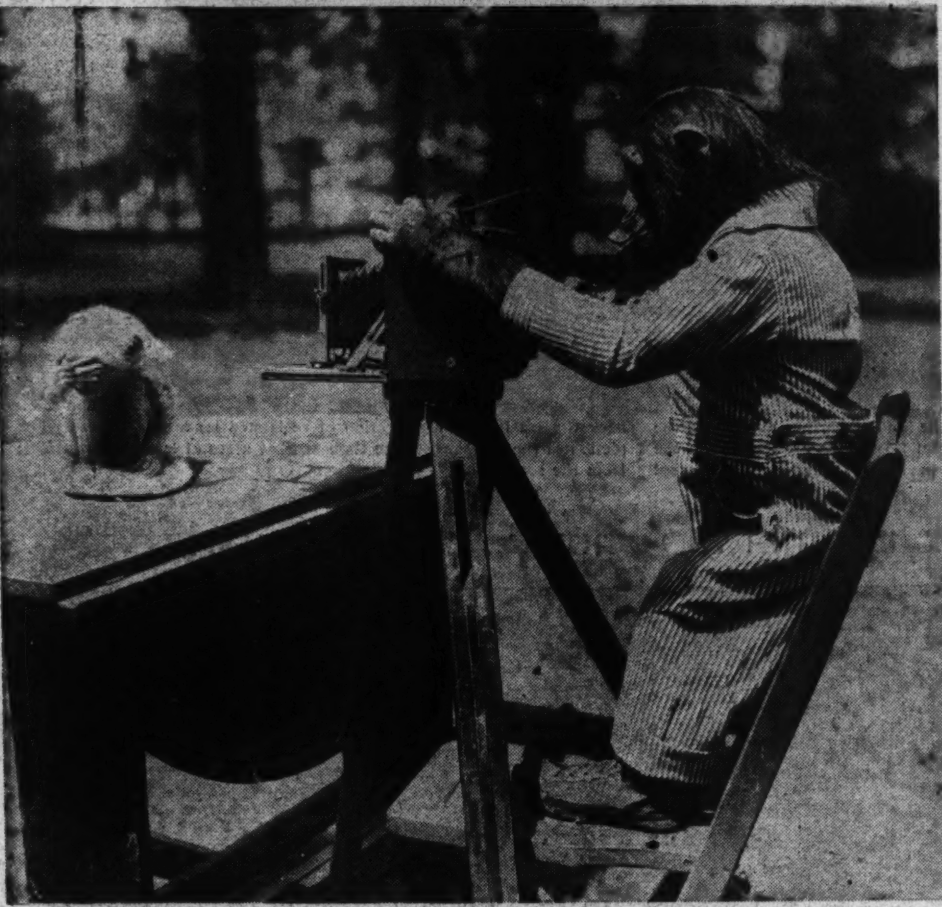
Physicians predicted that eventually she would recover completely. Without the aid of the machine she would have died when first stricken.

MONKEY BUSINESS



(Acme photo.)

A chimpanzee of a Los Angeles zoo plays holdup man and sticks up a white monkey.



(Acme photo.)

The same chimpanzee turns newspaper photographer and takes a picture of the victim of the crime.

(Associated Press photo.)

Springtime in the London zoo. Two simian crooners strike up a serenade.

THE monkey always has been a notorious mimic. Since first becoming acquainted with man, his favorite diversion has been the imitating of human actions and mannerisms. The very expression "aping a person" has come to mean mimicking him. The dog has been called man's truest friend and the horse his most devoted servant, but the monkey is his best imitator.

The movie producers have capitalized upon this propensity of the ape and have filmed pictures with all-simian casts. Every character has been a chimpanzee, or a monkey or an orang-outang.

In the picture at the top of the page, a chimpanzee of a Los Angeles zoo is shown threatening a white monkey.

Apparently the chimpanzee relented in his monkeycidal purpose, however, because in the center photo taken subsequently, the target seems very much alive, though unwilling to pose for a photograph.

The picture at the bottom shows two chimpanzees in an entirely different section of the world conducting themselves in much the same spirit of levity as their American cousins. These two live in England and are residents of the London zoo.

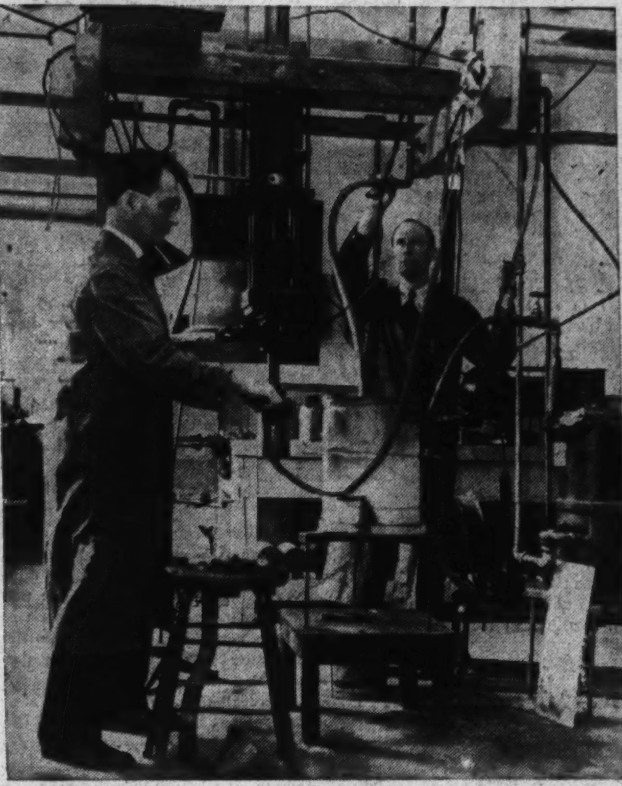
Casting a Spell on India's Deadly Cobra

THE rattlesnake is a gentleman; he sounds his warning before he strikes. The cobra, though regarded as a king by the simple natives of East India, is anything but gentlemanly in his tactics. He, whose bite is ten times more poisonous than the strike of a rattler, is like an assassin who stabs his helpless victim in the back. He crawls into the hut of the native and into the bungalow of the white man, hides in a dark corner, in the baby's crib, or among the damp pipes of the bathroom, and kills for the joy of killing. Annually the cobra and other poisonous snakes of India kill hundreds of luckless humans. Yet, with all of his depredations, the cobra is looked upon as something holy by a great part of the population of that superstition-ridden land.

Snake charmers capitalize on this weakness of the people by exhibiting the deadly cobra along the roadside, within the villages, and in the big market places. Some of the snake charmers are frauds, inasmuch as they remove the poison fangs from their serpents before exhibiting them. But others actually handle snakes that have not had their poison fangs removed. The snake charmer carries his reptiles in a wicker basket. When a crowd gathers he opens the basket and begins playing on his tiny pipe. At first no sounds are audible to human ears, though the charmer insists he is playing a tune that the snakes can hear. Gradually the sounds become audible. The cobras coil before their master and weave their great hooded heads back and forth to the rhythm of the music. The snakes are put through a few simple tricks, the charmer collects a few annas from the crowd, bundles his charges into the basket, and moves to some other place.

There is another sort of snake charmer in India; these do not exhibit cobras, but earn a meager living by charming snakes out of the houses of the inhabitants. The last named chaps always seem to know when there is a cobra in the house. They take their place outside the dwelling and continue playing on their tiny instruments until the stealthy reptile crawls out of a door or a drain pipe. It has been charged that these charmers plant the cobra in a house before they begin operations. A white man usually is willing to pay as high as ten or twenty rupees to have a cobra removed from his bungalow in this manner. The accompanying picture shows a spectacled cobra performing before a snake charmer and his assistants.

Prying Into Quake Secrets



(Associated Press photo.)

SCIENTISTS now are turning their attention to a closer study of the nature and cause of earthquakes. To do this it is necessary for them to observe the action of the various chemical elements under conditions approximating those which prevail far beneath the surface of the earth. Heretofore it has been impossible to bring about conditions in the laboratory which even approximated the intense heat and great pressures which exist beneath the surface of the earth. Recent advance in laboratory equipment, however, has made it possible to produce conditions which are in some way comparable to those of the nether regions. The apparatus pictured here was designed to produce tremendous temperatures and pressures, and it is being used by Prof. P. W. Bridgman (left) and L. H. Abbott of the department of physics of Harvard university in an attempt to discover the real nature of earthquakes. Their experiments are expected to require about five years.

Stylish Ninety Years Ago

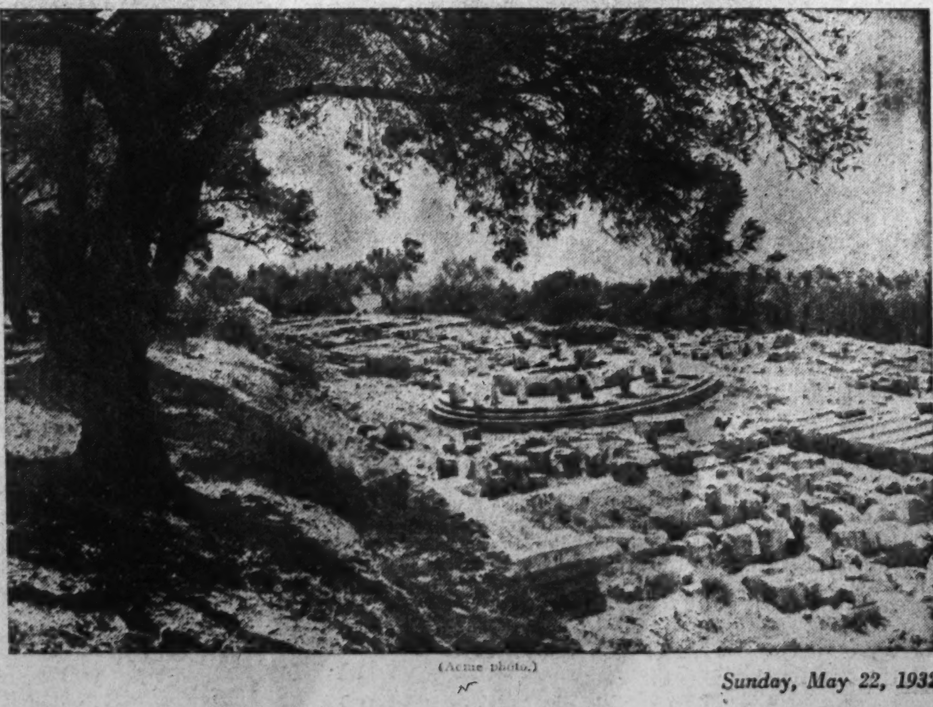
(Associated Press photo.)

WHEN grandmother was a girl the hoop skirt, with its flounces and ruffles, was the height of fashion. Many an elderly woman of today remembers seeing her mother attired as is the young woman in the picture. In 1840, the period which the young woman's outfit represents, the hoop skirt was just coming into style in this country. It lasted until well after the Civil war, with many improvements and modifications, and finally was swept into oblivion by the popularity of the bustle. The girl of the picture was one of those taking part in a "Bicentennial of Fashion" presented by the Girl Scouts of New York City. Dresses representing every period of American history for the last two hundred years were displayed. The girl in the picture is setting the hands of a museum piece clock, a part of a collection of early American furniture.

Ruins of a Famed Grecian Temple of Prophecy

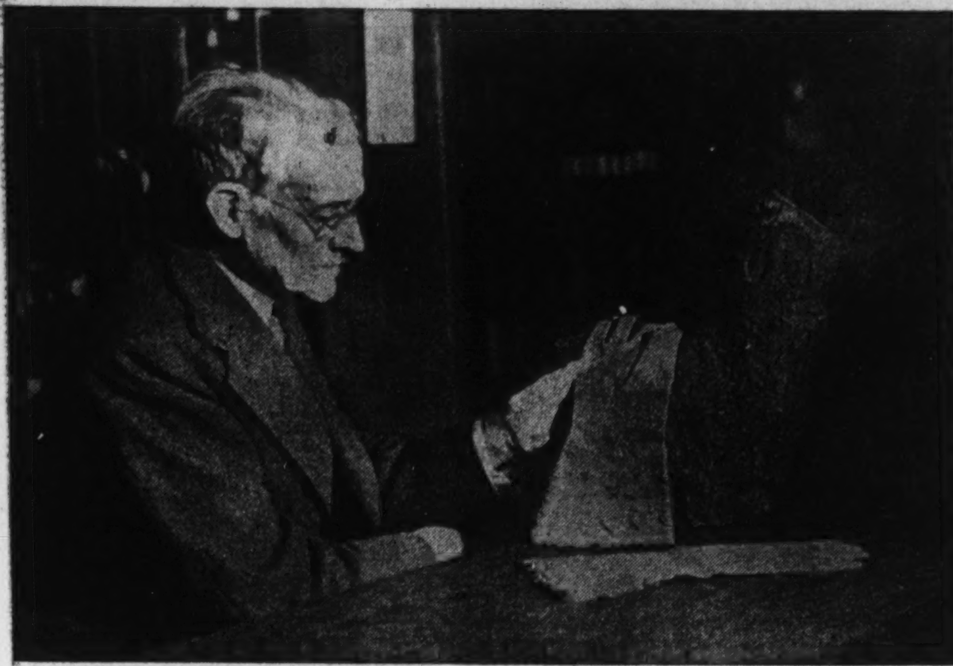
IN ONE of the lovely vales of Greece there are ruins of the temple in which the Delphic oracle once made her forecasts. All that remains of the once beautiful building are the tumbled stones seen in the accompanying photograph. The Delphic oracle, whose prophecies were made in conjunction with the worship of Apollo, was at first a maiden, but in later years a woman more than fifty years of age was generally selected for this duty. She would take her place upon the sacred tripod, and written questions would be submitted to her. Her answers would be transposed into verse and edited by the professional prophets before being given out to the people.

At Delphi there was also the Omphalos, a sacred stone which was supposed to mark the earth's center. In more recent times the site of Delphi was occupied by the village of Castri, but in 1891 it was bought by the French government. Systematic excavations were begun at once, and since that time many important discoveries have been made.

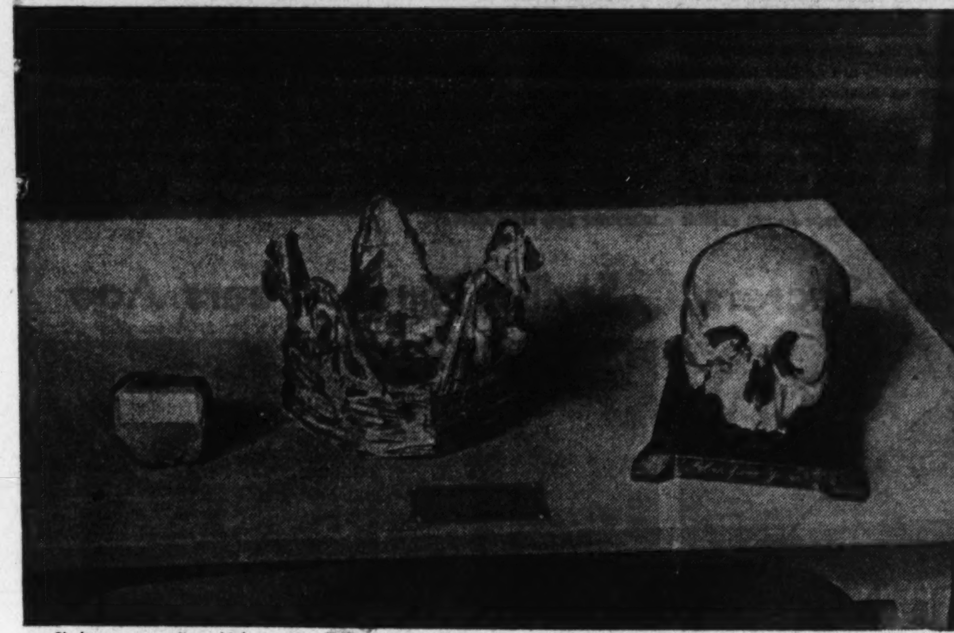


(Acme photo.)

SHAKESPEAREAN



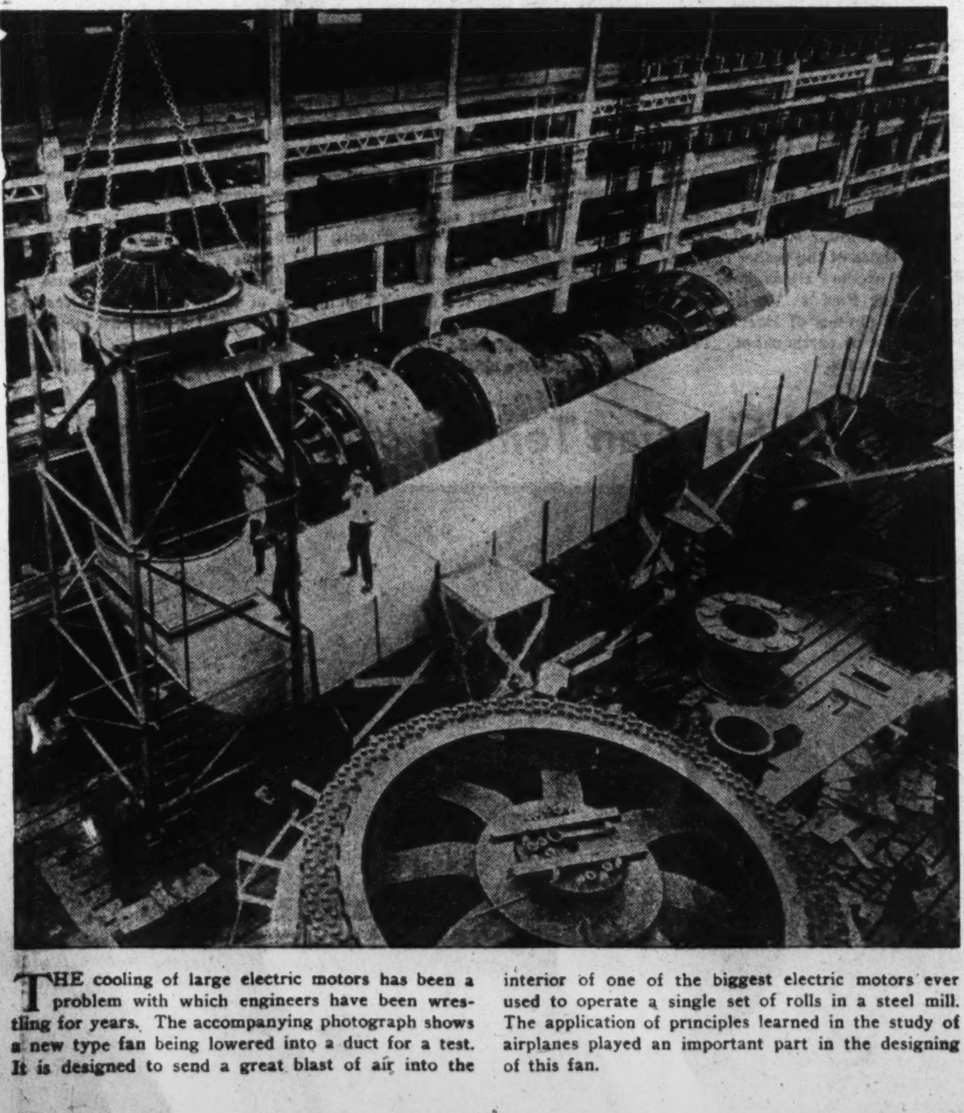
A University of Pennsylvania professor holding a pair of buckskin gloves which are said to have been worn by Shakespeare, and a piece of a mulberry log from a tree which the bard is believed to have planted.



Shakesperean relics which are on display at the University of Pennsylvania. Left to right: A piece of oak beam from Stratford-on-Avon; crown worn by Edward Forrest in a presentation of King Lear; skull of Yorick used in a production of "Hamlet" in 1850. (Acme photos.)

WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE is one of the great characters of history about whom comparatively little is known. Even the exact date of his birth is uncertain. Two portraits of him are believed to give some authentic idea of his personal appearance, but even these disagree in certain features. So the bard of Avon is more real to posterity in his plays and his poems than in the historical accounts of his life. Antiquarians have preserved several relics which are believed to have figured in the life of England's most famous playwright. Some of them are shown in the accompanying photographs. The buckskin gloves illustrated are believed to have been worn by the bard, and it is said that the tree from which the mulberry log was cut was planted by Shakespeare. These are now on display at the University of Pennsylvania, in Philadelphia. In the same exhibition there are several other relics, the authenticity of which may be more readily established. One is a skull of Yorick used in a presentation of Hamlet in 1850. Another is the crown worn by the famous actor, Edward Forrest, while playing King Lear. Still another is a piece of oak beam from Shakespeare's birthplace, Stratford-on-Avon. The table itself was used by Fanny Kemble in the course of her Shakespearean readings in 1830.

Monster Fan for Cooling an Electric Giant



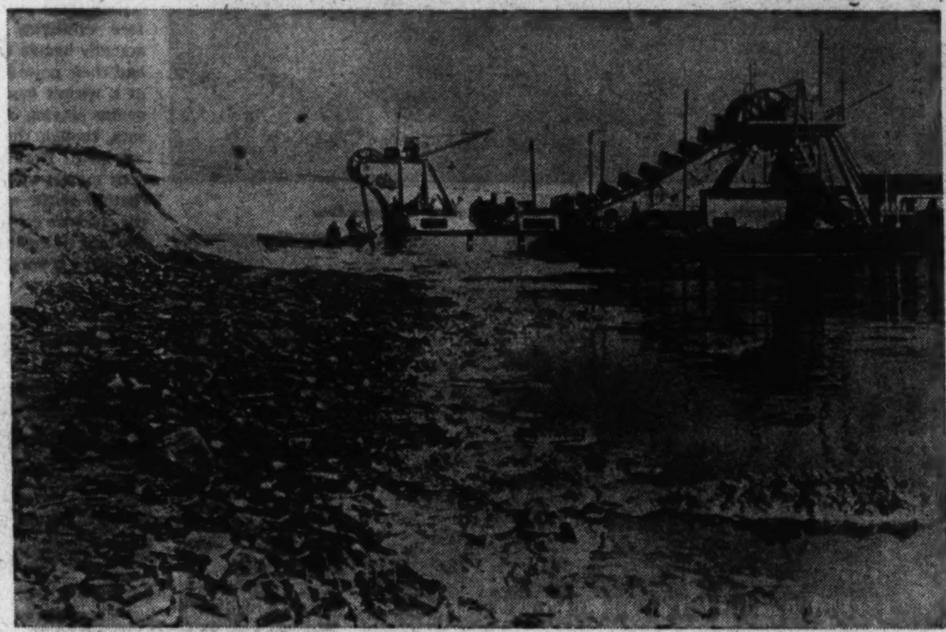
THE cooling of large electric motors has been a problem with which engineers have been wrestling for years. The accompanying photograph shows a new type fan being lowered into a duct for a test. It is designed to send a great blast of air into the interior of one of the biggest electric motors ever used to operate a single set of rolls in a steel mill. The application of principles learned in the study of airplanes played an important part in the designing of this fan.

Well Equipped for Battling with the Tiger

(Field museum photo.)

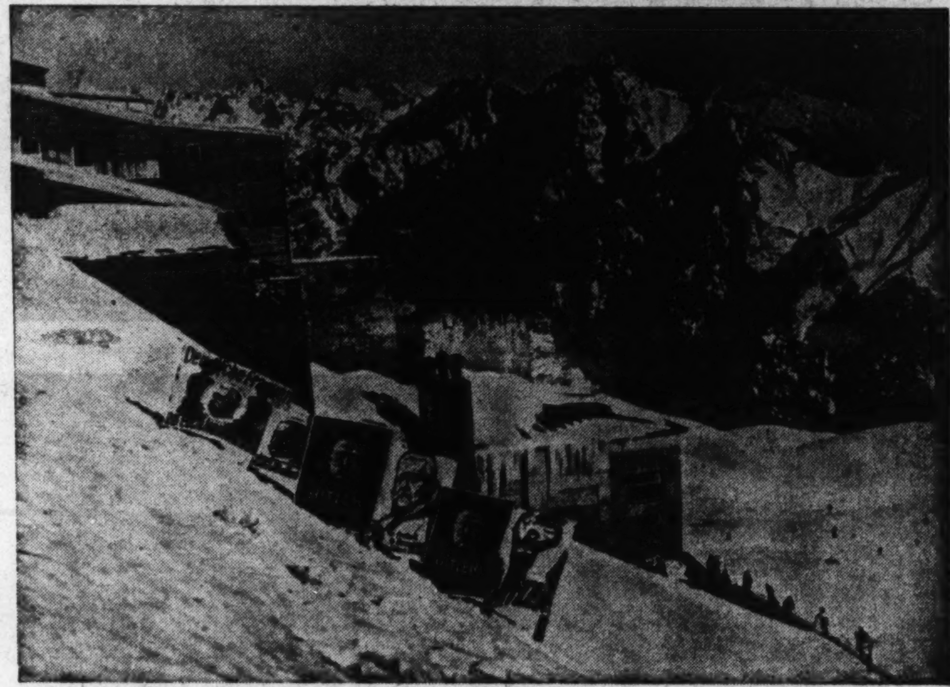
THE two beasts pictured here are mounted specimens of the Asiatic water buffalo. The animals were obtained by the Kelley-Roosevelts expedition to eastern Asia and now are on exhibit at the Field Museum of Natural History in Chicago. The wild buffalo of Asia, sometimes called the Indian buffalo, is rapidly becoming very rare, according to Dr. Wilfred H. Osgood, curator of zoology of the Field museum. Like the African buffalo, it is very dangerous and often charges hunters, sometimes with fatal results to the men. It is belligerent, vindictive, and tenacious by nature, and even when wounded will frequently charge madly. Although tigers often attack the buffalo, at times the great cats are slain by their bovine adversaries. The water buffalo is found most often wading on river bottoms and flood plains, frequently wallowing in the mud. It formerly ranged the low country along the Ganges and Brahmaputra rivers, and also in the northern part of Ceylon. Domestic varieties derived from it are widely used as draft and milch cattle in its native lands. Large herds are no longer seen, and there has been local interbreeding between the wild and domestic stock. One of the best known of the domestic varieties is the carabao of the Philippines. On account of its semi-aquatic habits it is very useful in the rice fields. Typically the water buffalo is of large size, equaling the African buffalo, but differing in its slender, flattened horns, which do not meet at the base.

How the Dutch Defeat the Encroaching Sea



SLOWLY but surely Holland is winning its war against the ocean. All of the early victories went to the white capped armies of the North sea, but of recent years the doughty Dutch have been winning back territory claimed by pounding surf centuries ago. In the first three or four centuries of the Christian era the Zuider Zee was a tiny inland lake, and the coastline of the country was where the West Frisian islands now remain. The sea kept pounding away at the coast, making inroads here and there and submerging the land at various points. In the twelfth century heavy storms and a great tidal wave broke through the last remaining walls of land and formed the Zuider Zee, the great inland sea in the middle of Holland. The Dutch then got busy and for seven hundred years have been fighting to drive back the sea. They now are on the verge of success, and the accompanying picture reveals how they have made the forces of Neptune capitulate. The illustration shows a dredge destroying a temporary dike which has been constructed to permit the building of five enormous sea locks in a permanent dike. The permanent dike, recently completed, holds back the sea from a vast section of reclaimed land. Through the completion of the permanent dike thousands of acres of land were recovered from the sea.

Billboards Even in the Snowy Alps of Bavaria



(Associated Press photo.)

EVEN in the Bavarian Alps the traveler cannot escape from billboards. This is the polling place where the German citizens of the territory of Zugspitze voted in the recent presidential election which resulted in a victory for Von Hindenburg. The billboards carry photographs of the candidates. In this wild and rugged spot the interest in politics is almost as intense as in the busy cities of the lowlands. Just as everyone in the beer gardens of Berlin talked over the chances of the various candidates before the election and commented on the result, so also in the taverns of this remote spot mountaineers expressed their opinions in no uncertain terms. On election day the people gathered from many miles around to cast their ballots. Some came in sleighs, others on skis or snowshoes. Everyone who was able to get about made it a point to come to the polling place and vote for his favorite. The people of these remote regions are quite vehement in their like or dislike of a candidate, so the voting was spirited. There were no disturbances at the polls in this section, however, for the mountain folk have a great respect for law and order.

A Rescue from Fire in the Insect World

ANTS share with bees the distinction of being the most sagacious of insects. If one doubts for a moment that insects really can be sagacious he should read some of the works of the famous Henri Fabre, who, perhaps, knew more than anyone else about the little inhabitants of the insect world. Even the casual reader is familiar with the stories of the warrior ants which fight the battles for their ant colonies, with the accounts of the tribes of ants that keep weaker insects as slaves and as cattle, and with the stories of the marching ants which destroy everything in their path as they advance like a horde of ancient Tartars. Illustrated in the accompanying picture is a winged ant rescuing one of the young of its colony from a fire. The winged ants, as has been observed by Margaret Combes, a scientist at the biological laboratories of the Fontainebleau gardens, Paris, are expert fire fighters. When they discover a blaze threatening their abode they secrete a formic acid substance upon the flames. Should this method fail they heroically hurl their own bodies upon the fire in an effort to smother it. While a portion of the colony is battling the fire, other members immediately set about to rescue the eggs and the antlets. The little fellows who have not yet sprouted wings are carried to safety and guarded from danger until all of the excitement caused by the fire is over.

Prehistoric Tusk 14 Feet Long

WHAT is believed to be the largest tusk of a hairy mammoth ever discovered by modern man has been presented to the natural history division of the British museum in London. The tusk is nearly 14 feet in length and is in a good state of preservation. It was found in a remote spot in northern Siberia, and given to the department of geology of the natural history division of the museum by the Rowland Ward trustees. Many tusks of the mammoth have been discovered in Siberia and in other northern countries; in fact, a considerable traffic in prehistoric ivory has been carried on for some time in northeastern Asia. Several instances are on record of the discoveries of entire carcasses of mammoths in the frozen ground of Siberia. In one case the body of the prehistoric beast was so well preserved that much of the hair still clung to the frozen skin.

The Invincible Armada and a Modern Battleship

The British fleets, under the command of Lord Howard of Effingham, engaged Spain's Invincible Armada, commanded by the duke of Medina-Sidonia, off Lizard Head, England, on July 20, 1588. Howard's admirals were Drake, Frobisher, Seymour, Hawkins, and Townshend. Those of the duke of Medina-Sidonia were Diego de Valdes, Moncada, Recalde, Pedro de Valdes, Oquendo, Bertendona, Mendoza and Medina. The battle lasted 13 days, ending with crushing defeat for the Spaniards. The picture is from a sixteenth century engraving.

How Puny Was the Proud Fleet of Sixteenth Century Spain as Compared with the Present-Day Superdreadnaught!

By John A. Menaugh

ON May 20, 1588, just 344 years ago last Friday, the Invincible Armada of Spain sailed from Lisbon for the purpose of driving the audacious British off the seas. Two months later it met the British fleets off Lizard Head and proved itself anything but invincible. The chief trouble was that Philip II of Spain depended altogether too much on divine protection and held seamanship too lightly. The Spaniards lacked in everything but ships and valor. Their seamanship was amateurish, their guns were inferior to those of the English, the gunpowder was of poor quality, their supplies were scanty, and even the elements were against them. To conserve ammunition they refrained from target practice on the way to battle. Lack of fresh foods brought thousands of their sailors and sea soldiers down with scurvy.

The Armada was made up of 130 craft, including ships, galleasses, and pinnaces, only 26 of which were men-of-war, capable of putting up any real fight at sea. The Armada carried 24,000 men, 17,000 of whom were soldiers. The Spanish ships were somewhat larger than those of the English fleets, but the British men-of-war were armed with 25 to 50 per cent more guns. The English fleets under Howard, Drake, and Seymour totaled 136 craft, ships and pinnaces, 28 of which were men-of-war capable of first line encounters with the enemy. The English vessels were faster and were handled much better. Thirty-five of the Spanish vessels actually were noncombatant craft. The whole of the Armada was more like an armed convoy of troop ships rather than a fleet bent on giving battle on the high seas. The object of the Spaniards was to beat off and destroy the English ships and then land soldiers on the shores of England.

The ordnance of the big English men-of-war consisted of smooth-bore guns, ranging from the cannon royal, with a bore of slightly more than eight and a half inches and hurling a 74 pound round shot, to the tiny robinet of one inch bore, which shot a ball weighing one-third of a pound. Every one of these guns was grossly inaccurate at anything but point-blank range. The gunpowder of those days was slow burning and undependable. Unless the targets were within a few hundred feet the cannonballs plopped harmlessly into the sea. The English commanders maneuvered their vessels so that they could rake the enemy with broadsides from a range of less than a hundred yards. The armament of the Spanish ships was similar, though less effective than that of the British.

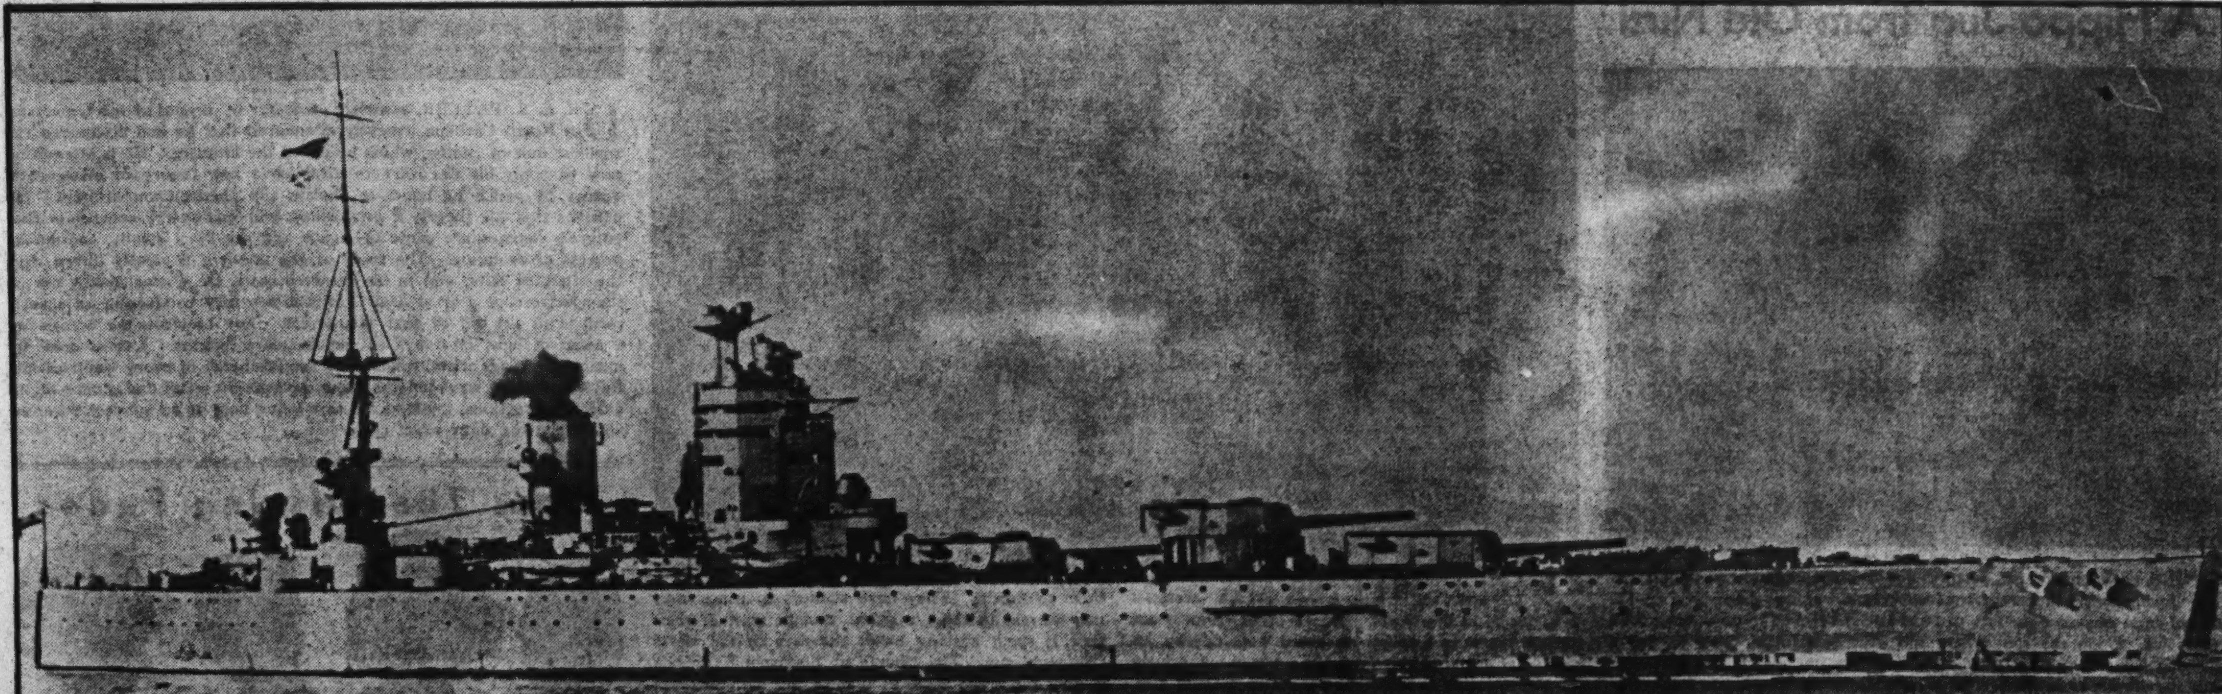
The British ships were like hornets in their attack. Under the efficient commands of Howard, Drake, Sheffield, Townshend, Frobisher, and Hawkins they drove into and through the lines of the Spanish craft, raking them fore and aft, and setting many afire with their vicious, short-range cannonading. Those Spanish ships which were not destroyed were harried through the English channel until, on Aug. 2, Howard finally put back into Dover with his seamen weary after their 13 day engagement with the Dons. The remnants of the Armada had been scattered, each vessel left to itself to get back to Spain as best it could. Heavy storms took a further toll of what once was the proud fleet of Spain. Leyva was lost off the Irish coast, Recalde and Oquendo died from exposure. Of a total of 130 vessels scarcely half returned to Spain.

One could hardly imagine an expedition today as futile and foolhardy as that of the Invincible Armada. In the first place, a great convoy of troop ships, even though protected by modern warships, would not set out to engage an enemy fleet. Naval tactics have changed considerably since the days of the Armada, just as have the fighting craft of the naval powers.

Consider the powers of destruction of a present day battleship, such as H.M.S. Nelson, pictured on this page. The Nelson is 710 feet long, its displacement is 35,000 tons (the extreme allowed by the Washington arms conference), its engines develop 45,000 horsepower, and the vessel moves at a speed of 23 knots an hour, in comparison to an extreme sailing speed of five knots, of which the best of the vessels of the Armada were capable. The Nelson is armed with nine 16 inch rifles, which hurl projectiles weighing tons to a distance of more than 25 miles. The Nelson also carries twelve 6 inch rifles and a number of smaller pieces. The armor plate of the Nelson is 14 inches thick and of the hardest steel. A cannon ball from a ship of the Armada at point blank range would bounce off of the Nelson's armor like a pea from a pea shooter.

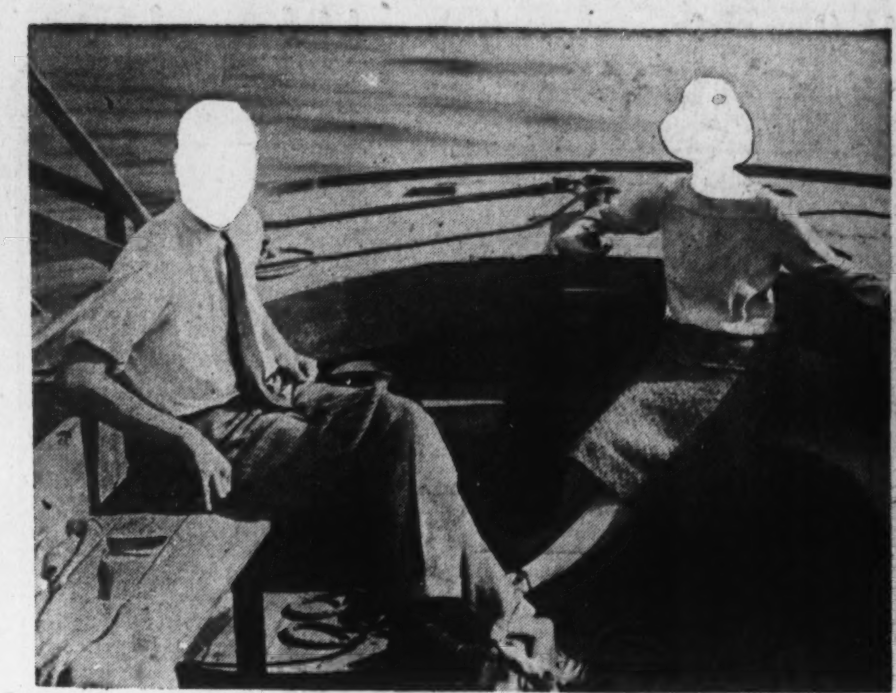
A vessel like the Nelson, which, with the Rodney, represents the most formidable type of battle craft of the British navy, could steam around a fleet like the Armada and sink every ship without being in one bit of danger. For that matter, any sort of an old steamboat that could be operated at all and which mounted nothing greater than a three inch rifle, could do the same thing.

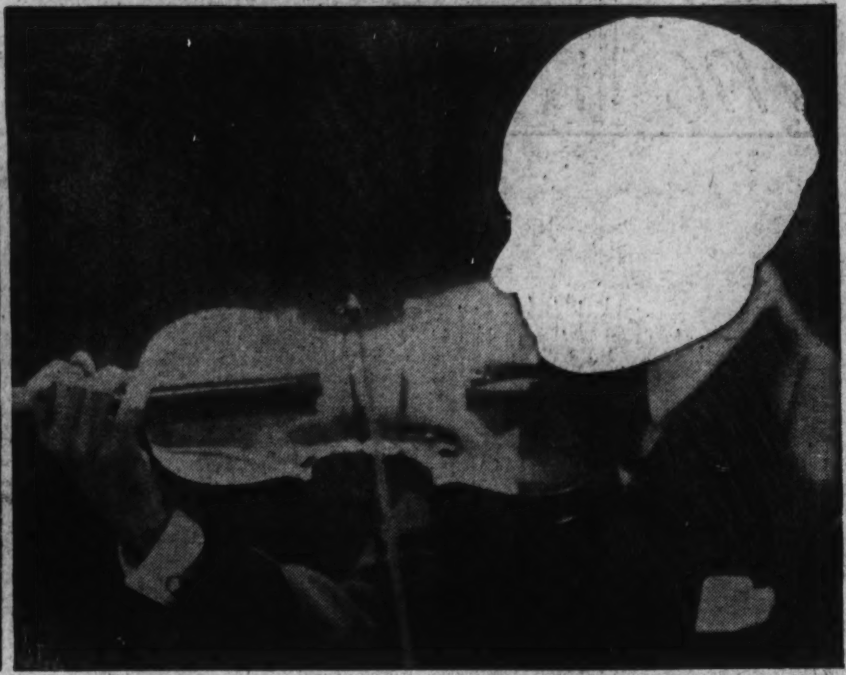
What a puny thing was the Invincible Armada, or even the English navy which defeated it, compared with the great high seas fleet of today, one unit of which could destroy a whole ocean full of Armadas! But the contrast between the fighting craft of the time of King Philip of Spain and Queen Elizabeth of England and the fighting craft of today is only a result of the progress that the difference of years has brought about.



H. M. S. Nelson of the British navy, one of the most powerful battleships afloat, which would be capable of destroying a whole ocean full of fleets like the Armada.

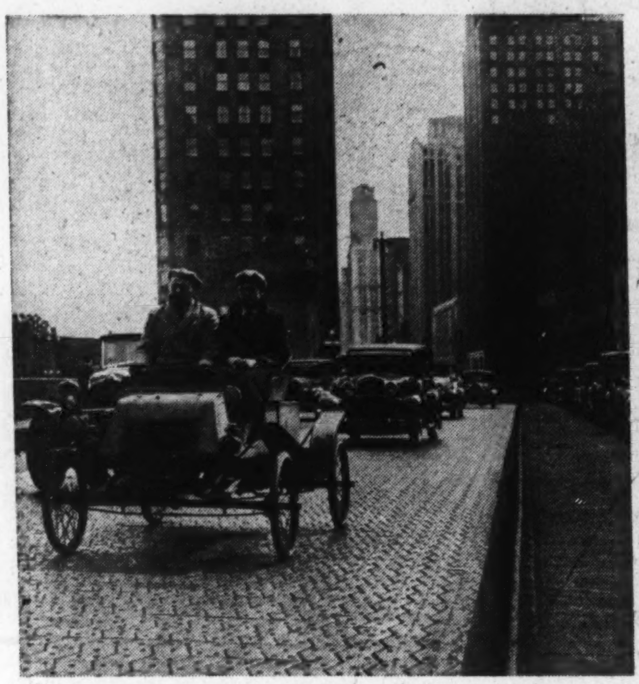
WHO?





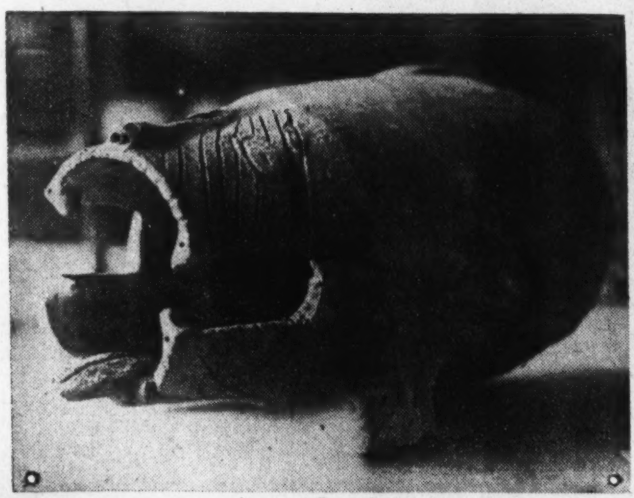
SEVERAL well known characters are shown here in moments of diversion, but they're not the persons, perhaps, you may think they are. After making his guess the reader may look in the lower right hand corner of this page, where he will find the missing faces and names. Just so it will not be too difficult, here are a few clews: The man and woman in the yacht are not Hollywood stars, but an educator and his wife. The educator belies the theory that a university president should be a venerable old fellow with white hair and studious manner. The man in the center is advanced in years and cuts wood for a pastime, but he never was emperor of Germany. He has theories on everything and expresses them in plays. The violinist is not Heifetz. The hands of the man with the bow became famous not for playing a violin but for twirling a cane. He probably has caused more laughs than any other person in the world.

Resurrecting a Wonder of '97



IN 1897 only inventors, kings, and millionaire sportsmen owned horseless carriages. In those times an automobile was almost as great a curiosity on the streets as a tyrannosaurus would be today. When it came to a chugging and palpitating halt at a curbstone throngs would gather from near and far to gaze at it in wonder and comment upon its marvelous speed of sixteen miles an hour on level ground. The first of the automobiles resembled buggies more than anything else. The wheels were small and spindly and the tires were solid, like the tires of a perambulator. Where the steering wheel should have been was a small lever by which the driver piloted the uncertain craft through the mazes of horse and buggy traffic. There was no windshield on the first auto. It had no top, and oil lamps always cost the buyer an extra amount of money. The motor of the cranky little thing was located under the seat. It was a one-cylinder affair of next to nothing in horsepower, and it ran only on rare occasions—then usually when its owner really was not very anxious to get anywhere. Pictured here is a horseless carriage of 1897 crawling over the Michigan avenue bridge in Chicago, surrounded by the automobiles of today. This ancient vehicle is owned by a resident of Lowell, Ind., and was driven to Chicago recently by the owner's son and a companion to give the residents of the Illinois metropolis a thrill.

A Hippo Jug from Old Nuzi



(Associated Press photo.)

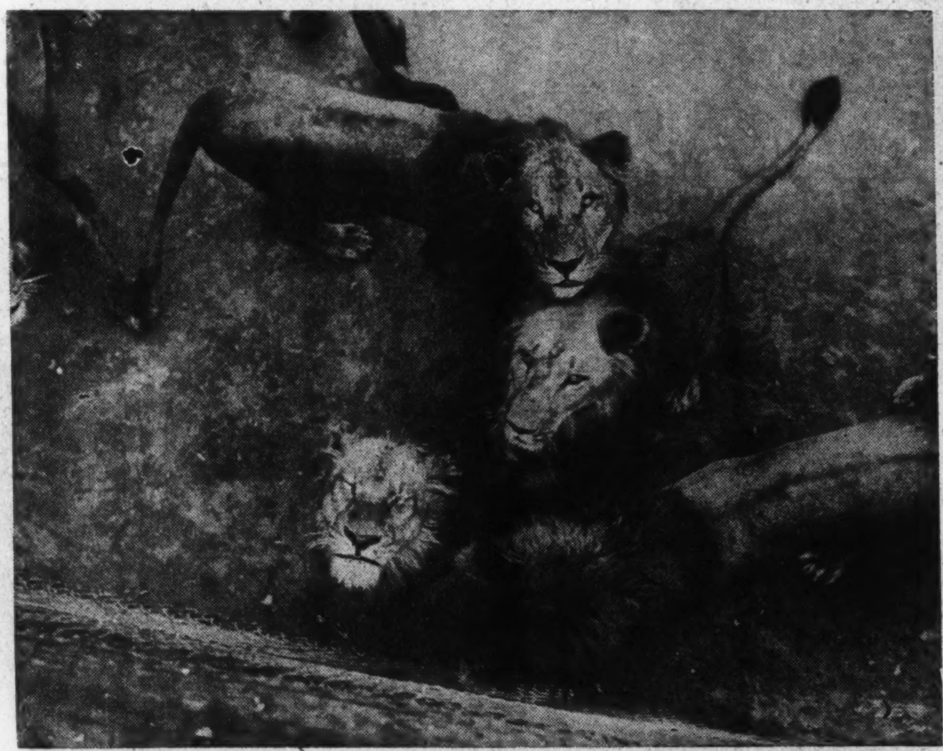
THIS earthenware jug, shaped like a hippopotamus, was found by archeologists in northern Mesopotamia. It was discovered on the site of what was once the city of Nuzi and is believed to be at least 3,500 years old. Upon the spot where this relic was found there existed a thriving community at a very early date, for one of the world's oldest cultures developed in the fertile country along the Tigris and Euphrates rivers. In fact the region has been called the "cradle of civilization." The land outside this strip was arid and unproductive, inhabited largely by nomadic tribesmen who wandered from place to place in search of suitable pastures for their herds. Within the area watered by the rivers, however, there were fertile farmlands which produced rich crops and there were meadows where herds grew fat grazing upon the long, lush grasses. There were cities, too, in which a thriving commerce was carried on. Many of the transactions consisted of trading one article for another, because the use of money as a medium of exchange was not widespread in those days, as it is now.

Fair Sharpshooters of Seattle

(Acme photo.)

THE women who went with their husbands into the wilderness in America's pioneer days were accustomed to the use of firearms. They had to be ready at any time to take their places at the loopholes of their log cabins and defend themselves against Indians. Many of the women could shoot as accurately as the men, and those who were not so adept in this line became skilful at reloading so that they could keep the rifles ready for business while the men folk fired upon the redskins. Even the most accurate of the pioneer riflewomen would scarcely be able to do better work than the young women who are shown in the accompanying photograph. They are members of the University of Washington's co-ed gun club, and they have just ended a successful season in the course of which they climbed to high honors in competition with some of the best rifle teams in the United States. The girls received their instruction from army officers on duty with the University of Washington R. O. T. C. at Seattle.

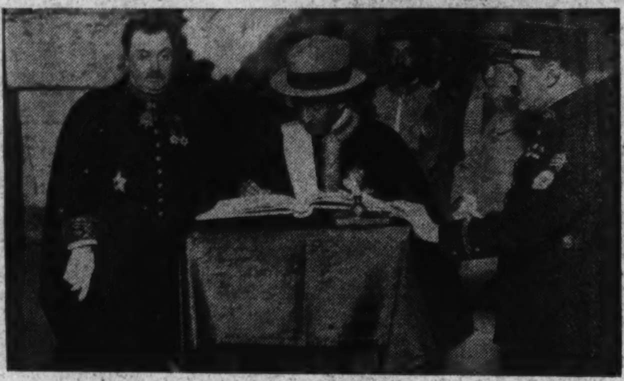
Part of the Crop of a Unique Farm



(Acme photo.)

AT EL MONTE, CAL., is one of the strangest farms in the world. Where other farmers are content to raise poultry or breed hogs, sheep, or cattle, the owner of this farm has gone in extensively for the scientific breeding of lions and nothing else. The farmer some years ago learned that there was a steady demand among circuses, zoos, and moving picture corporations for the king of beasts, so he purchased several adult lions and set up his farm. Some of the beasts with which he started his experiment were born in captivity, others were captured in their native haunts in Kenya colony, Africa. The lions of the California farm have spacious runways guarded by stout steel mesh in which they can exercise at their pleasure. The steel fences are too high for them to hurdle. They have shelters to which they may retreat in rainy weather, though most of their time is spent basking under the rays of the warm California sun. The climate of Southern California is very much the same as that of the high plateaus of Kenya, so the lions of the farm feel perfectly at home. Many of the farmer's most recent crop of lions were born on the farm. Pictured here is a group of youthful male lions gazing up at the cameraman, who was perched on top of the fence when he took the photograph. Since these lions always get plenty to eat and are accustomed to having humans about, it is doubtful whether the photographer would have suffered any serious injury if he had lost his balance and fallen among the lions.

Ethiopia's Prince in Paris



(Acme photo.)

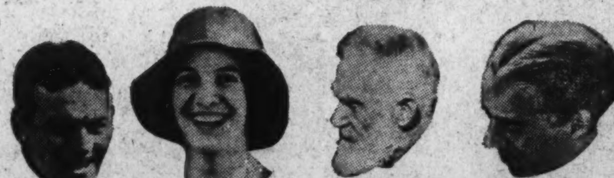
WHEN Asfaou Wosan, the crown prince of Abyssinia, visited Paris recently the French made much over the royal guest. The prince, wearing an embroidered cape and a snappy fedora, is shown in the picture signing the Golden Book at the Arc de Triomphe, after placing a wreath on the tomb of the unknown soldier. Asfaou Wosan was proclaimed crown prince and heir to the throne on Jan. 25, 1931. His father is Emperor Haile Selassie I., who was crowned Nagusa Nagast (king of kings) on Oct. 7, 1928, and made emperor after the death of Empress Zaudila on April 3, 1930. Abyssinia, formerly known as Ethiopia, is a kingdom in northeast Africa, covering more than 350,000 square miles. There are more than 10,000,000 inhabitants, though only about 3,000,000 of them are true Abyssinians. The Abyssinians are Christians, of Hamitic origin. The other 7,000,000 of the population are Arabs and savages, many of the latter having been converted to Mohammedanism. Domestic slavery still is a recognized institution in Abyssinia, but slave trading was abolished some years ago and now is punishable by death. The principal cities of Abyssinia are Addis Ababa, the capital, with a population of 70,000; Dire Dawa, and Harrar, the chief port.

How Strong Is an Atomerg?

(Associated Press photo.)

DR. E. K. PLYLER, associate professor of physics at the University of North Carolina, recently announced that he had discovered the smallest unit of energy, which he called the atomerg. He is attempting now to apply his discovery to establish a new theory of matter and energy by which he hopes to explain the phenomenon of light. He believes that the theory, if established, will lead to the conclusion that nature's changes are made by jumps and not by a steady, continuous process of evolution. The study of the atomerg is closely linked with the study of light, and in his research work Dr. Plyler makes use of the spectroscope a great deal. He is shown here conducting an experiment with the aid of that instrument. The spectroscope breaks up a beam of light into rays of various wave lengths. This is done by means of a glass prism, which is an essential part of every spectroscope. Rays of various wave lengths come through the glass and glance off in different directions, the long red rays being bent at an entirely different angle than the short violet rays.

Who: The Missing Faces



Dr. and Mrs. Robert M. Hutchins

George Bernard Shaw

Charlie Chaplin

HERE are the faces of the personalities shown in moments of diversion at the top of the page and are you surprised? Dr. Hutchins you will recognize as president of the University of Chicago, America's youngest university president. Doubtless it is needless to identify George Bernard Shaw as the eminent British playwright whose latest drama recently had its first showing in America. And Charlie Chaplin, of course is Charlie Chaplin.

THIS MATTER of CALORIES: COUNT 'EM and REDUCE

A Chart for You to Clip, Paste Upon the Wall, and Consult for the Sake of Your Waistline

By Antoinette Donnelly

TODAY I offer you a table of calories with the request that you cut this out of the paper and tack it upon the wall. This not so much to set you calorie-counting at your meals, but as a food educational feature. When in doubt about this vegetable or that being less fattening, look at the table. So with meats, fruits, fish, and so on.

With this table before you you can plan menus without having to adhere to a monotonous diet, so varied are the foodstuffs with low calorie value. All of this for the leaner limb line and more neatly indented waist line required for the slender, supple dress mode.

The calorie table is the work of Dr. Haynes Harold Fellows, medical division of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company.

BREADSTUFFS AND COOKIES
(100 Calories)

Bran muffins—1 small.
Bread, white, toast, graham and whole wheat—Medium loaf, slice ½ inch thick.
Bun, sugar—½ small.
Cookies—1 cookie, 3 inches in diameter.
Cornbread—Slice 2x2x1 inches.
Coffee cake—Cube 1½ inches.
Doughnut—½ medium.
Griddle cake—1 cake, 4 inches in diameter.
Muffin—¾ muffin.
Roll—1 roll.
Waffle—½ waffle, 6 inches in diameter.
Zwieback—3 pieces.

MEAT, FISH, AND SEA FOOD
(100 Calories)

Bacon—4 small pieces.
Beef (dried)—4 slices 4x5 inches.
Beef stew—2/5 cup.
Bologna—2 slices 4 inches in diameter, ⅛ inch thick
Chicken (chow mein, fricassee, or a la king)—¼ cup
Clams—6-12 clams.
Corned beef—1 slice 4x1x1 inches.
Codfish (creamed)—½ cup.
Duck—Very small portion.
Frankfurter—1 small frankfurter
Halibut—3x2½x1 inches.
Ham—Slice 4 inches in diameter, ⅛ inch thick.
Hamburg steak—2½ inches in diameter and ½ inch thick.
Ham omelet—1/3 cup.
Lamb chop—1 chop 3x2x½ inches.
Liver—3.1 ounces.
Lobster—¾ cup.
Mackerel—Medium portion.
Oysters—2/3 cup solid, or 6-12 oysters.
Pork chop—½ average chop.
Roasts (beef or lamb)—Slice 5x2½x¼ inches.
Roast (veal)—Slice 2x2¾x½ inches.
Roast (pork)—Slice 3x2¾x½ inches.
Salmon (canned)—½ cup.
Salmon (fresh)—Average portion
Sardines—3-6 sardines.
Sausage—2 small.
Scallops—½ cup
Smelts—3 average.
Steak (sirloin)—2 x 1½ x ¾ inches.
Tongue—2 small slices.
Trout—3 8-inch trout.
Tuna fish—⅜ cup.
Turkey—Small portion.
Veal cutlet—2/5 serving.

DAIRY PRODUCTS AND FATS
(100 Calories)

Bacon fat—1 tablespoon.
Butter—1 tablespoon
Cheese (cottage)—5½ tablespoons.
Cheese (full cream)—2x1x⅝ inches.
Cheese (Neufchatel)—2 tablespoons.
Cheese (Swiss)—4½x3½x⅛ inches.
Cream (18% fat)—¼ cup.
Cream (40% fat)—1 1/3 tablespoons.
Oleomargarine—1 tablespoon.
Olive oil—1 tablespoon.

VEGETABLES
(100 Calories)

Asparagus—20 stalks.
Beans (lima)—½ cup.
Beans (string)—2 cups.
Beets—4, 2 inches in diameter.
Cabbage—2 cups.
Carrots—4-5 young.
Cauliflower—Small head.
Celery—30 stalks.
Cole slaw—1 cup.
Corn (canned)—1/3 cup.
Corn (on the cob)—2 ears 6 inches long
Cucumbers—2, 7 inches long.
Lettuce—2 heads.
Onions (raw)—3-4 onions.
Onions (creamed)—2 onions.
Parsnips—3 large slices.
Peas (creamed)—½ cup.
Potatoes (baked or boiled)—1 medium
Potatoes (fried or mashed)—½ cup.
Radishes—30 radishes.
Sauerkraut—2 cups.
Squash—1 cup.
Spinach—2 cups.
Sprouts—2 cups.
Tomatoes (canned)—2 cups.
Tomatoes (raw)—2-3 medium.
Turnips—1 cup

Adrienne Dore, above, and Evalyn Knapp, at the right, possess the figures demanded by the dictates of modern fashion and beauty, and which are impossible of attainment without careful attention to the diet.

BEVERAGES
(100 Calories)

Cocoa—½ cup.
Coffee—1 cup, with 2 teaspoons sugar and 1 teaspoon cream.
Fruit juice—½ cup.
Milk—⅝ cup
Tea—1 cup, with 2 teaspoons sugar and 1 teaspoon cream.

NUTS
(100 Calories)

Almonds—12 to 15 nuts.
Brazil nuts—2 nuts.
Butternuts—4 to 5 nuts.
Hickory nuts—15 nuts
Peanuts—20 to 24 peanuts.
Pecans—12 meats.
Walnuts—8 to 16 nuts.

CEREAL
(100 Calories)

Cornmeal, oatmeal, rice—½ cup cooked cereal, with ½ cup milk and 1 teaspoon sugar.

SOUPS
(100 Calories)

Asparagus (cream)—½ cup.
Bean—½ cup.
Bouillon—4 cups.
Celery (cream)—½ cup.
Chicken—1 cup.
Clam chowder—¾ cup.
Consomme—4 cups.
Corn (cream)—½ cup.
Oyster stew—½ cup.
Pea—3/5 cup.
Tomato (clear)—1 cup.
Tomato (cream)—½ cup.
Vegetable—1 cup.

SALADS
(100 Calories)

Crab meat—1/3 serving (2 ounces).
Egg—2/5 serving (1.4 ounces).
Potato—½ serving (1.7 ounces).
Tomato and cucumber—⅝ serving (2 ounces).
Tomato and lettuce—½ serving (2.7 ounces).
Sardine—1/3 serving (1.1 ounces).
Waldorf—2/5 serving (1.3 ounces).

FRUIT
(100 Calories)

Apple—1 large apple.
Apple sauce—⅜ cup.
Apple, baked—½ large, with 2 tablespoons juice.
Apricots, stewed—¼ cup.
Banana—1 large banana.
Berries—1 cup.
Cantaloupe—1 melon, 4½ inches in diameter.
Cherries—1 cup.
Dates—4 dates.
Figs—1½ figs.
Grapes—20 grapes.
Grapefruit—½ grapefruit.
Orange—1 large orange.
Peach—3 medium peaches.
Pear—2 medium pears.
Pineapple, fresh—2 slices, 1 inch thick.
Pineapple, canned—1 slice, with 2 tablespoons juice.
Plums—4 medium plums.
Prunes, stewed—2, with 2 tablespoons juice.
Rhubarb, stewed—½ cup.
Tangerine—2 tangerines.

MISCELLANEOUS
(100 Calories)

Apple sauce—⅜ cup.
Baked beans—1/3 cup.
Baking powder biscuits—2 small.
Butter—1x1x¾ inch.
Candy (chocolate creams)—1 piece.
Candy (fudge)—1-inch cube.
Candy (milk chocolate)—2x1x¼ inches.
Cheese souffle—½ cup.
Crackers (graham)—2 crackers.
Crackers (soda)—4 crackers
Cranberry sauce—¼ cup.
Cream cheese—2x1x⅝ inches
Cream sauce—1/6 cup
Dressing (stuffing)—1/6 cup
French dressing—1½ teaspoons.
Gravy—2 tablespoons.
Hash—2 ounces, or 1 heaping tablespoon.
Hard sauce—1 tablespoon.
Honey—1 tablespoon.
Ice cream soda—1/3 average soda.
Jam—1 tablespoon.
Jelly—1 tablespoon.
Macaroni (cooked)—1 cup.
Macaroni and cheese—½ cup.
Maple sirup—1 tablespoon.
Mayonnaise—1 tablespoon.
Olives—4 large.
Peanut butter—1 tablespoon.
Pickles—1 tablespoon.
Popovers—1 popover.
Raisins—¼ cup
Rarebit—1½ tablespoons rarebit, ½ slice toast.
Rice, cheese, and tomatoes—¼ cup
Stuffed pepper—1 pepper.
Sugar—3 teaspoons.
Sundaes—1/3 portion.
Tomatoes (stuffed)—1 tomato.

DESSERTS
(100 Calories)

Angel cake—2x2x2 inches.
Apple snow—1 cup.
Apple tapioca—¼ cup.
Apple dumpling—1/3 medium.
Bread pudding—¼ cup.
Brown Betty—1/5 cup.
Cake (layer)—2¼ x 2¼ x 1 inches.
Cake (plain)—1⅝-inch cube
Charlotte russe—½ charlotte russe.
Chocolate blanc mange—¼ cup.
Coffee jelly—1 cup.
Cornstarch pudding—¼ cup.
Cream puff—⅝ cream puff.
Custard (cup)—1/3 cup
Custard (soft)—1/3 cup. scant.
Fig pudding—⅛ cup.
Floating island—1/3 cup.
Fruit cake—1-inch cube.
Gingerbread—1x2x2 inches.
Macaroons—2 macaroons.
Ice cream—¼ cup
Plum pudding—1-inch cube.
Pie (apple)—Sector 1⅝ inches at circumference.
Pie (custard)—Sector 2 inches at circumference.
Pie (lemon or mince)—Sector 2 inches at circumference.
Pie (pumpkin or squash)—Sector 2 inches at circumference.
Prune souffle—2/5 cup.
Rice pudding—½ cup.
Tapioca—2/5 cup.
Sherbet—¼ cup
Strawberry shortcake—1/8 average portion.

EGGS
(100 Calories)

Egg (boiled or poached)—1 large.
Egg (fried)—1 small.
Egg (scrambled)—¼ cup.
Egg (omelet)—1 egg.

Salad Dressing with Mineral Oil

1 cup mineral oil.
1 egg yolk.
½ teaspoon mustard.
Pinch of salt.
Little pepper.

Mix the egg yolk with the salt, pepper, and mustard in a cup with an egg beater. To this add slowly drop by drop the mineral oil. If the dressing should be too thick it may be diluted with white distilled vinegar. If a tart taste is desired, add six teaspoons of lemon juice or an amount of vinegar that will give the required tartness. This dressing should be flavored to taste, just as in any mayonnaise.

This dressing may be used freely and the calorie content disregarded.

Farewell Miss Julie Logan by Sir James M. Barrie

(Continued from Page Three.)

That she is still there I do not doubt, though I suppose she will have been carried farther down.

I have written this clear statement in the study, to be shown by Laurie to Dr. John and by him to the Branders constabulary. I have put down everything as it happened, and I swear to its accuracy. I have refused to go to my bed this night, and I know that Laurie is sitting on a chair outside my door. I have told him none of the facts, but I can see that the man already suspects me. I can remember nothing after I heard the splash, but he says he found me running up and down the waterside and that he had to take a high hand with me to get me home.

I would not change out of my wet things for all his blustering, but Christilly, her face swollen with misery, came bursting in and tore them off me and put me into something dry. This is the last service she will ever render to me. She says she has wrung my top-coat and put it before the kitchen fire. They both say I came back in it, but I know where my top-coat is.

X. A Quarter of a Century

IT is a quarter of a century since I stopped writing this Diary and put the thing out of my sight. Circumstances made me want to look through it again, and there it was in the garret, between the same two boards of waxcloth where I had kept it hidden from Christilly in the days of my windy youth. I had forgotten that it was written on sermon paper, and such dereliction from propriety disturbs my conscience now even more than the vapours set down in it about the Roman woman.

Of course, I am aware now that she never existed. I have been aware all these twenty-five years that I was the one who went queer and not the self-sacrificing Christilly, that it was to watch me that the man Laurie was brought to the manse, and that the story the Old Lady told me was invented for her by Dr. John. My two good friends had to work their way through thorns to clear my disordered mind, but they managed it by the time the glen road had come up again like a spring flower.

I was long bedded with colds and throats, for which the doctor blamed the burn, and in that quiet time I got rid of all my delusions, except once in the middle of my convalescence, when I escaped everybody and made for the sheep bield to decide for certain that the basket was not still there. I dug for it with my hands as if there had once been a basket, and the only result of my senseless escapade was that it retarded my recovery for another month.

I left the glen for good early in August, just before the return of the English, with whom, though I liked them well, I had no desire to have further discourse about diaries or what may seem to happen when the glen is locked. I have had two charges since I gave up my first, and for eighteen years I have been minister in this flourishing place in a mining district.

Two years after my call I married a lady of this neighborhood, and it has been a blessed union, for my Mima is one in a thousand and the children grow in grace. I tell Mima everything except about the Roman, that being a passage in my life that never took place, nor have I sufficient intellect to be able to speak about it without doing so as if it were real.

I am thankful to say that the Roman is to me as if she never had been, and of course she never was, that just being a slip of the pen. A Scottish minister has few top-coats in his life, and when any old clothes will do I sometimes still wear the one that is in the diary. Many a time I have been out in the old top-coat without remembering how pretty she looked in it; and this is natural, for she never was in it.

I have only once revisited my first charge, and it was a month ago. I stayed a night at Branders with Dr. John, who has got a partner. My old friend's hold on life is now little more than a bat's to a shutter; but he will still be at it, and some day I suppose he will be found sitting twisted in a drift, which is how he would like his end to be.

I walked down the glen through the heather, a solitary, unless it may be said that in a sense the young Adam I had been walked with me. The English were on the hills, though they were not my English. I lay for two nights in the old manse, and preached twice. They were not great sermons, but are held by some to be my two best. The lad that once I was thought himself a gifted preacher, but the man he became knows better; which is nothing to boast of, for there is naught that houks the spirit from you so much as knowing better.

Mr. Gallacher, who is the new minister, the second in succession to me, was preaching at Branders, and his wife, a genteel thick lady, sat in my old pew, nearest the door. Gallacher was very civil, but he is not the kind of man, I think, that the Old Lady would have waved good-night to with her window-blind. She, of course, has been away with it this many a year. There is a new postman, who, 'tis said, has trudged a distance equal to round the world since the days of my Posty. Christilly is married to a provision merchant in Ireland, and once a year sends me a present of eggs, with a letter enquiring very guardedly about my health. Joanna Minch and the lass have gone to some other glen.

The only faces I could give a name to in the Five Houses are the smith and two of his sons. That once lusty man is now an old carl sitting on his dyke, having reached that terrible time for a Scotsman of knowing that he will never be allowed by his offspring to do another day's work for ever and ever. Sometimes, to give him an hour's pride, they let him wheel a barrow of manure.

There have been great changes at the manse, inside and out. One hardly knows the study now, for there is a sofa fornent the fireplace. They burn coal. There is an erection containing a foreign plant on the identical spot where the Roman sat when she drew notes of exclamation, but she never sat there nor drew anything. It is not to myself that I need to tell she never was, for I know perfectly, but to him, the poor gomeril, my young self, whom I have to carry about with me.

Outside, the chief change in the manse is that Mr. Gallacher has lifted the henhouse from the west-end to the gable-end, which I consider a great mistake.

The glen has not been what can be called locked for the last eight years, and Mr. Gallacher knows very little about the old superstitions that plagued young Adam. He had heard something nonsensical about a red-shanked man on a horse, a poor affair, though unaccountable. He was very sound about the hallucinations all being clavers unworthy of investigation, and on that point at least we were in agreement. I asked him, just to keep the conversation going, if any Stranger woman had been seen, but he had heard of none, nor could he, for there never was one.

Of course, I could not go for a walk on the Sabbath day, but as I was leaving for Branders on the Monday I got up betimes to have a last wander in the glen. I did not specially want to do this, and I prefer to put it that the fillip came from the Adam I had been. It soon became very hot, though there was a nip in the air at first, and I made the mistake of wearing the old top-coat.

I sat for a time by the pond, where the reflection from the Grand House is still to be seen, but it is somewhat spoilt by a small windmill having been erected close by to provide the breeze in which, 'tis said, the trout rise best. I am told this was Posty's last contrivance to make things easy for the English.

I thought with little respect of the Jacobites and the '45, and a dog that may have been of a different opinion drove me away. I went on to the bield, but nothing is left of it now except the little pile of stones. I stood looking at them for a long time and I felt sure she was not there. I went to Joanna's sheiling, though I knew she was gone, and I found it gone, too. I just went because I was sure that Joanna's visitor had been my visitor; and so it brought us together. I liked to mind the Roman's bonny act in making a pig of herself to heat the cold body of Joanna. I wished she had been given a chance to do this. She would have done it if she could. I went to the Eagles Rock, and it looked the more lonesome because there was a scarf of rime hiding the Logan Stone. When the rime drifted I thought I could see the stone moving.

I left my visit to the burn to the end. There is now a swinging bridge for the convenience of churchgoers in the back-end of the year; but, though little more than a wimple of water was running at present and sometimes coming to a standstill, I found the exact bend in the burn where I dropped her, if she had been there to drop. I stood unruffled, keeping an iron grip on myself, my mind so rid of the old fash that I marveled at my calm. It was not so, however, with my top-coat, which I found becoming clammy cold, as if recalling another time by the burn and feeling we were again too near for safety. You might have said it tugged at me to come away.

I kept calm, but the young Adam in me must have had the upper hand, for, looking back, I see it was to him rather than to me it happened. He thought he had catched into his arms something padding by, whose husky voice said "Adam" lovingly, the while her glamorous face snuggled into his neck, the way a fiddle does. Next moment he gave a cry because he thought he was running with blood and even I had a sinking till I tried my throat with my handkerchief. I had the upper hand again. Whatever it was that had been there was gone now; and I hurried away myself. It must just have been the padding sound that made me think of the Spectrum.

I stayed the night at Branders with Dr. John, to whom I told everything except just not that. One sees how little significance either of us now gave to what had been perturbing at the time, that we could banter each other over his toddy about the old dead-and-done affair. It was as if the two of us, the one ancient and the other getting on, had got rid of young Adam for the nonce and could play with any wayward solutions that chanced to strike a spark.

Dr. John said in his dry way that, after all, there was no reason why doings of the past should not rise up like other ghosts and come back to be re-enacted. He thought it might all depend on the stillness of the glen. If it was stiller than themselves perhaps it woke them up.

We yammered on agreeably to our whim, thinking all the time of one Stranger and yet never mentioning her. We were on the edge of the serious when he advised me to drop conjecture and just think of her, if think I must, as what I had once called her, the end of a song. It was ended, he said, long before my time, but maybe its echo stirred in the stillness, and by some mischance I had got into the echo.

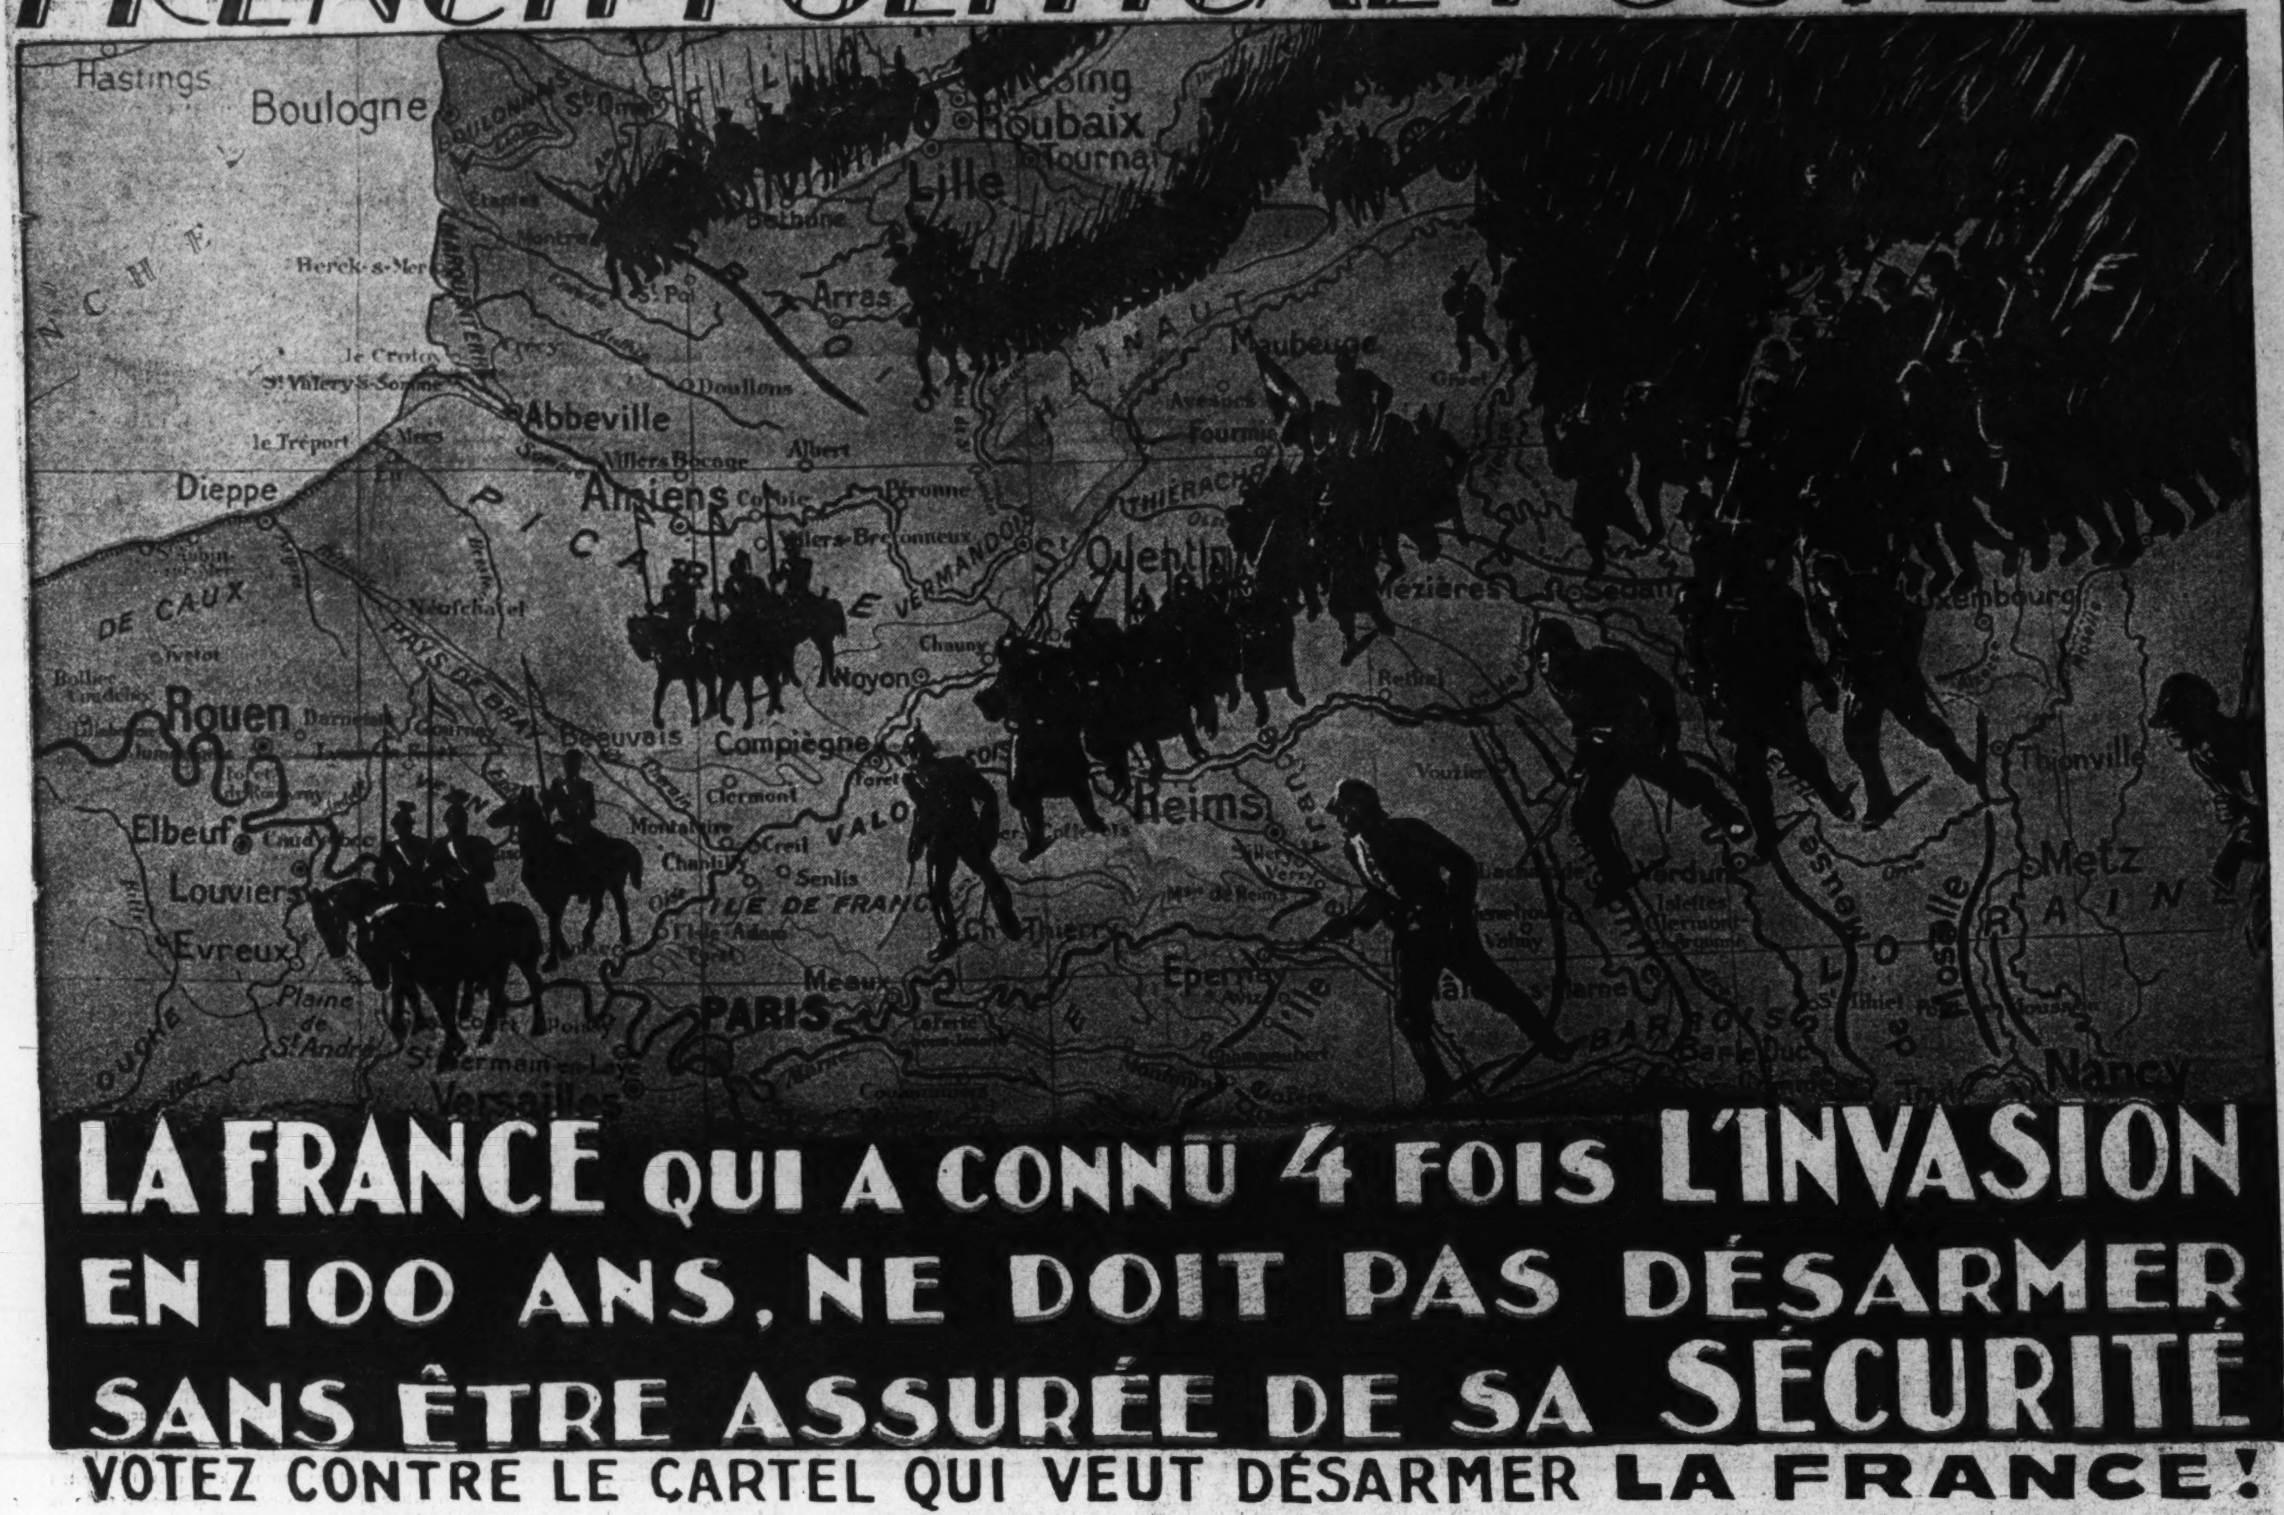
I am thinking that is the nearest we shall ever come to it; but we agreed, as he tapped out his pipe, that the wisest of us all had been the topcoat, when it said with a shove that this glen was no place for me.

I am back now, secure and serene, in my mining town, which in many ways, with its enterprise and modern improvements, including gas and carts to carry away any trifle of snow that falls, is far superior to my first charge. I have a wider sphere of usefulness and a grand family life. As I become feeble in the up-take, time will no doubt efface every memory of Miss Julie of the Logan, and of mornings I will be waking up without the thought that I have dropped something. Of course, it is harder on young Adam. I have a greater drawing to the foolish youth that once I was than I have pretended. When I am gone it may be that he will away back to that glen.

(The End.)

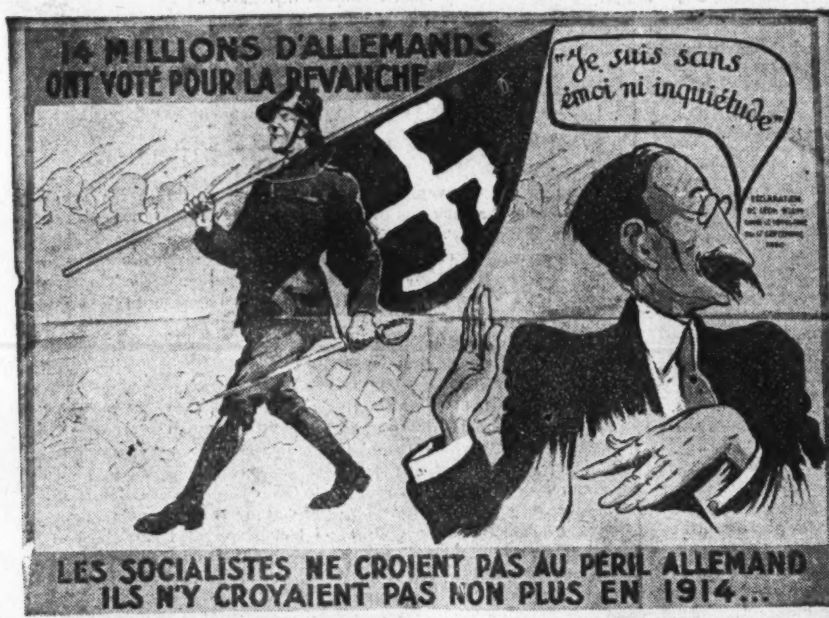
(Copyright in all countries by the author. Reproduction, in whole or in part, forbidden.)

FRENCH POLITICAL POSTERS



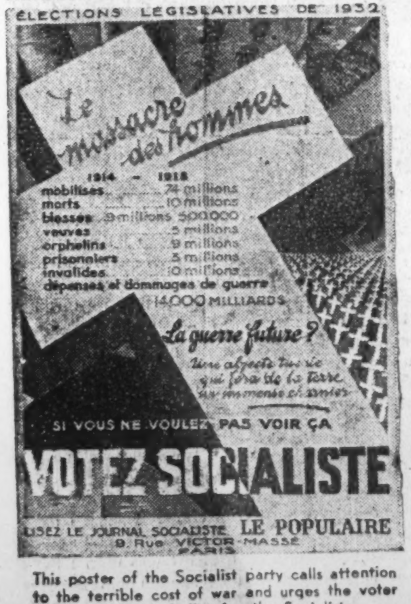
Hastings
Boulogne
Roubaix
Lille
Arras
Abbeville
Dieppe
Amiens
St Quentin
Rouen
Beauvais
Compiègne
Reims
Elbeuf
Louviers
Evreux
PARIS
Versailles
Metz
Nancy
Luxembourg
Thionville
LA FRANCE QUI A CONNU 4 FOIS L'INVASION
EN 100 ANS, NE DOIT PAS DÉSARMER
SANS ÊTRE ASSURÉE DE SA SÉCURITÉ
VOTEZ CONTRE LE CARTEL QUI VEUT DÉSARMER LA FRANCE!

This campaign poster of the National Republican party of France pictures waves of Germans streaming across the map of France. The inscription of the poster reads: "France, which has experienced invasion four times in a hundred years, must not disarm without being assured of its security. Vote against the agreement which would disarm France."



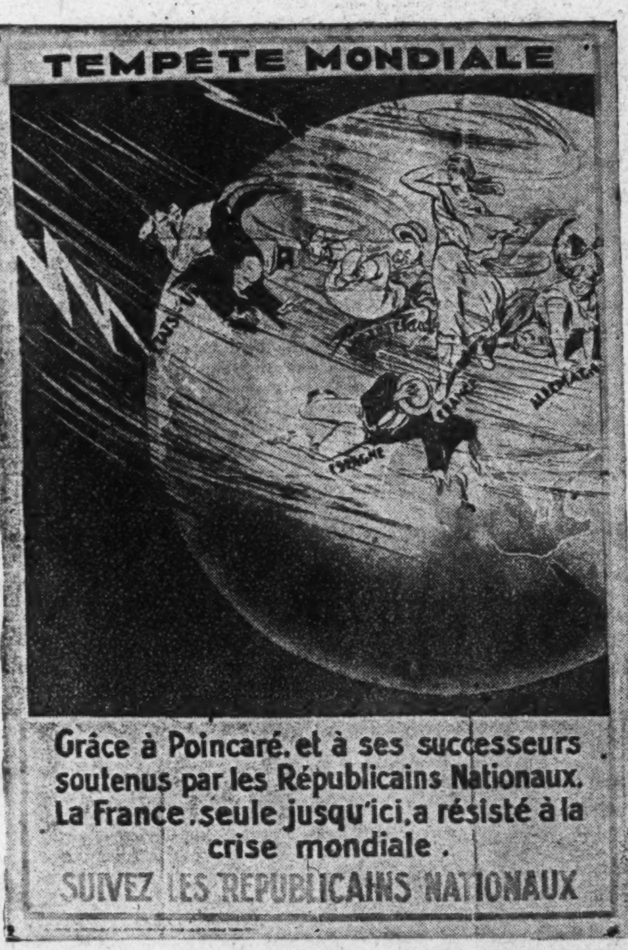
14 MILLIONS D'ALLEMANDS
ONT VOTÉ POUR LA REVANCHE
"Je suis sans émoi ni inquiétude"
LES SOCIALISTES NE CROIENT PAS AU PÉRIL ALLEMAND
ILS N'Y CROYAIENT PAS NON PLUS EN 1914...

A poster of the National Republican party picturing Leon Blum voicing his statement in the Socialist paper Le Populaire, which is quoted as follows: "I am without anxiety or uneasiness." At the left marches a shadowy group of German soldiers, their armed standard bearer carrying the swastika banner of Hitler's Nazis. Above them is the legend: "14,000,000 Germans have voted for revenge." The legend at the bottom is: "The Socialists do not believe in the German peril any more than they believed in it in 1914."



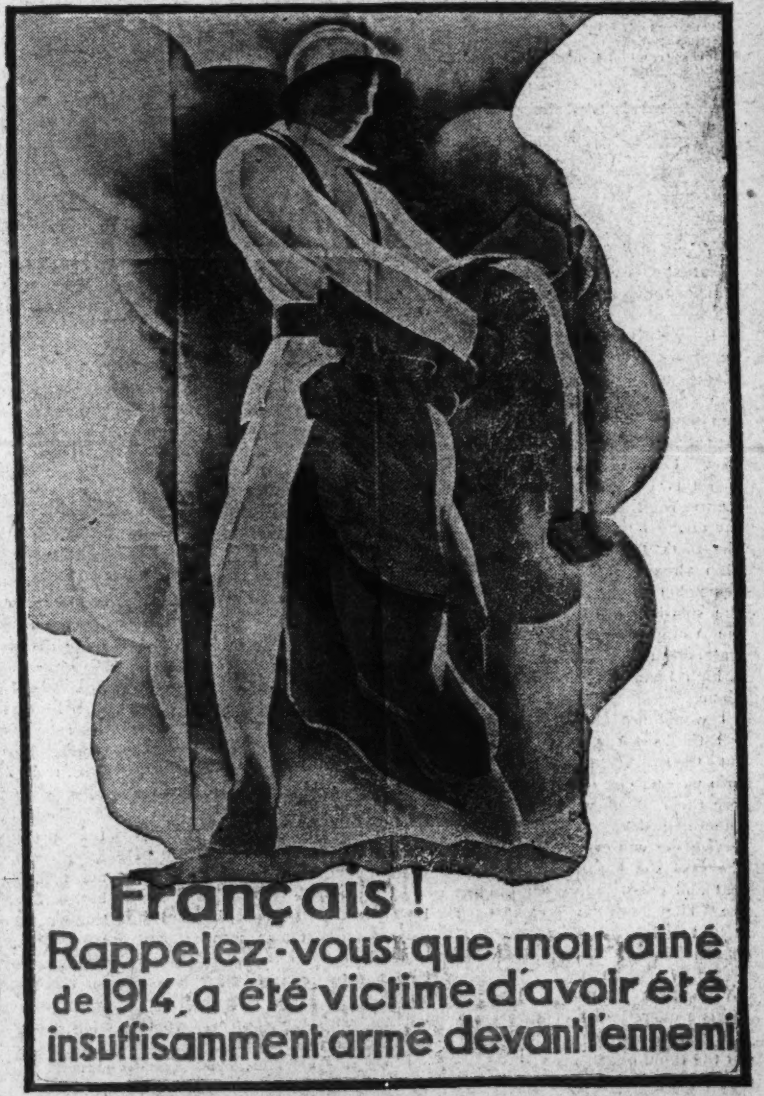
ÉLECTIONS LÉGISLATIVES DE 1932
Le massacre des hommes
1914 – 1918
mobilisés 74 millions
morts 10 millions
blessés 3 millions 500000
veuves 5 millions
orphelins 9 millions
prisonniers 5 millions
invalides 10 millions
dépenses et dommages de guerre 14000 MILLIARDS
La guerre future?
SI VOUS NE VOULEZ PAS VOIR ÇA
VOTEZ SOCIALISTE
LISEZ LE JOURNAL SOCIALISTE LE POPULAIRE
9 Rue VICTOR-MASSÉ PARIS

This poster of the Socialist party calls attention to the terrible cost of war and urges the voter to cast his ballot for the Socialists.



TEMPÊTE MONDIALE
Grâce à Poincaré, et à ses successeurs soutenus par les Républicains Nationaux. La France, seule jusqu'ici, a résisté à la crise mondiale.
SUIVEZ LES RÉPUBLICAINS NATIONAUX

A National Republican poster headed "World Tempest" and showing France alone withstanding the winds of adversity which have bowled over the United States, Britain, Germany, and Spain. The legend beneath is: "Thanks to Poincare and his successors, supported by the National Republicans, France alone has hitherto resisted the world crisis. Follow the National Republicans."



Français!
Rappelez-vous que mon ainé de 1914, a été victime d'avoir été insuffisamment armé devant l'ennemi

Another National Republican poster. This one pictures a modern poilu supporting the inert form of a soldier attired in the uniform of the early days of 1914. The legend reads: "Frenchmen! Remember that my predecessor of 1914 was a victim of facing the enemy insufficiently armed."

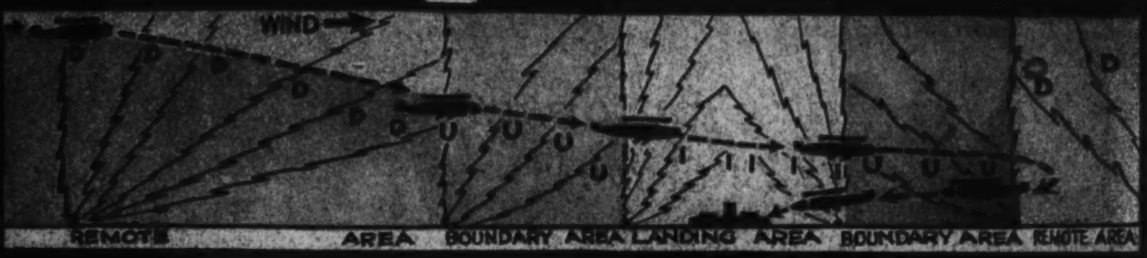
By Whitley Noble

AN ELECTION campaign in France is a time of national upheaval, bitter controversy, fiery oratory, and a display of vivid and striking political posters. This was especially true of the elections held early this month, as is obvious from the posters pictured on this page. With the country voting on 612 seats in the chamber of deputies and with the premiership at stake, France simply went wild. It was one of the most exciting campaigns ever staged in the republic, and fully as bitter in its many developments as the recent elections in Great Britain and Germany. The French are quite easily worked up to a high pitch of excitement over anything like an election. It is true, they haven't the wet and dry question to worry about over there, but they have other problems which to them are just as important or even more vital to the welfare of their nation. In the last election the two big issues in France were preparedness and financial solidity. As one can see from the accompanying posters, the campaign managers laid a great deal of stress on national military preparedness and the possible dangers of armed invasion.

During the recent campaign over there eight parties were in the field contending for seats in the chamber of deputies, although only three could be considered rightly as major parties. The National Republican party constructed its principal offensive about the issue of opposition to disarmament, and in speeches, radio addresses, electric signs, newspaper advertising, and posters of the type reproduced here made much of possible repetition of an invasion by Germany.

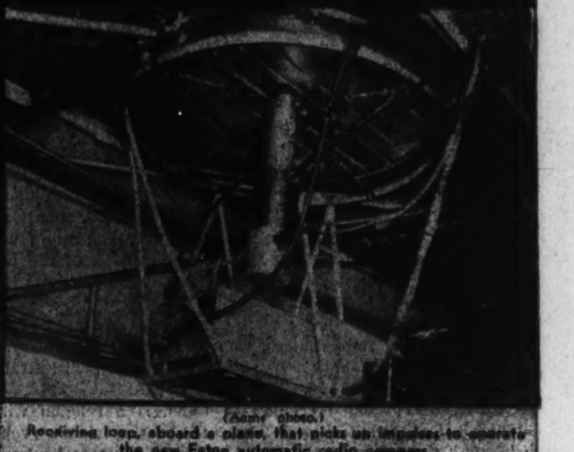
The Socialists and the Radicals were the other two major parties in the field. The Socialists in their campaign posters, one of which is reproduced, apparently ignored the possibility of another invasion of France, but did point repeatedly to the horrors of war, recounting the heavy toll taken by the World war.

Eyes for Blind Planes

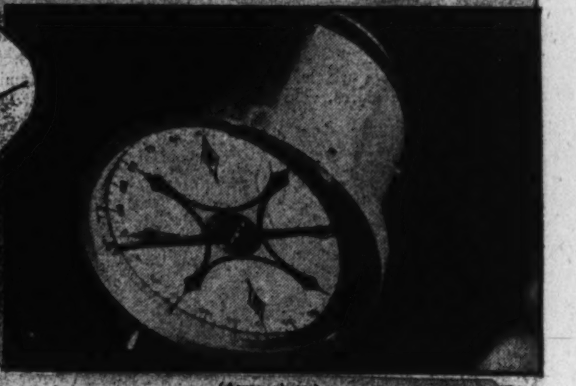


WIND
D
U
I
REMOTE AREA
BOUNDARY AREA
LANDING AREA
BOUNDARY AREA
REMOTE AREA

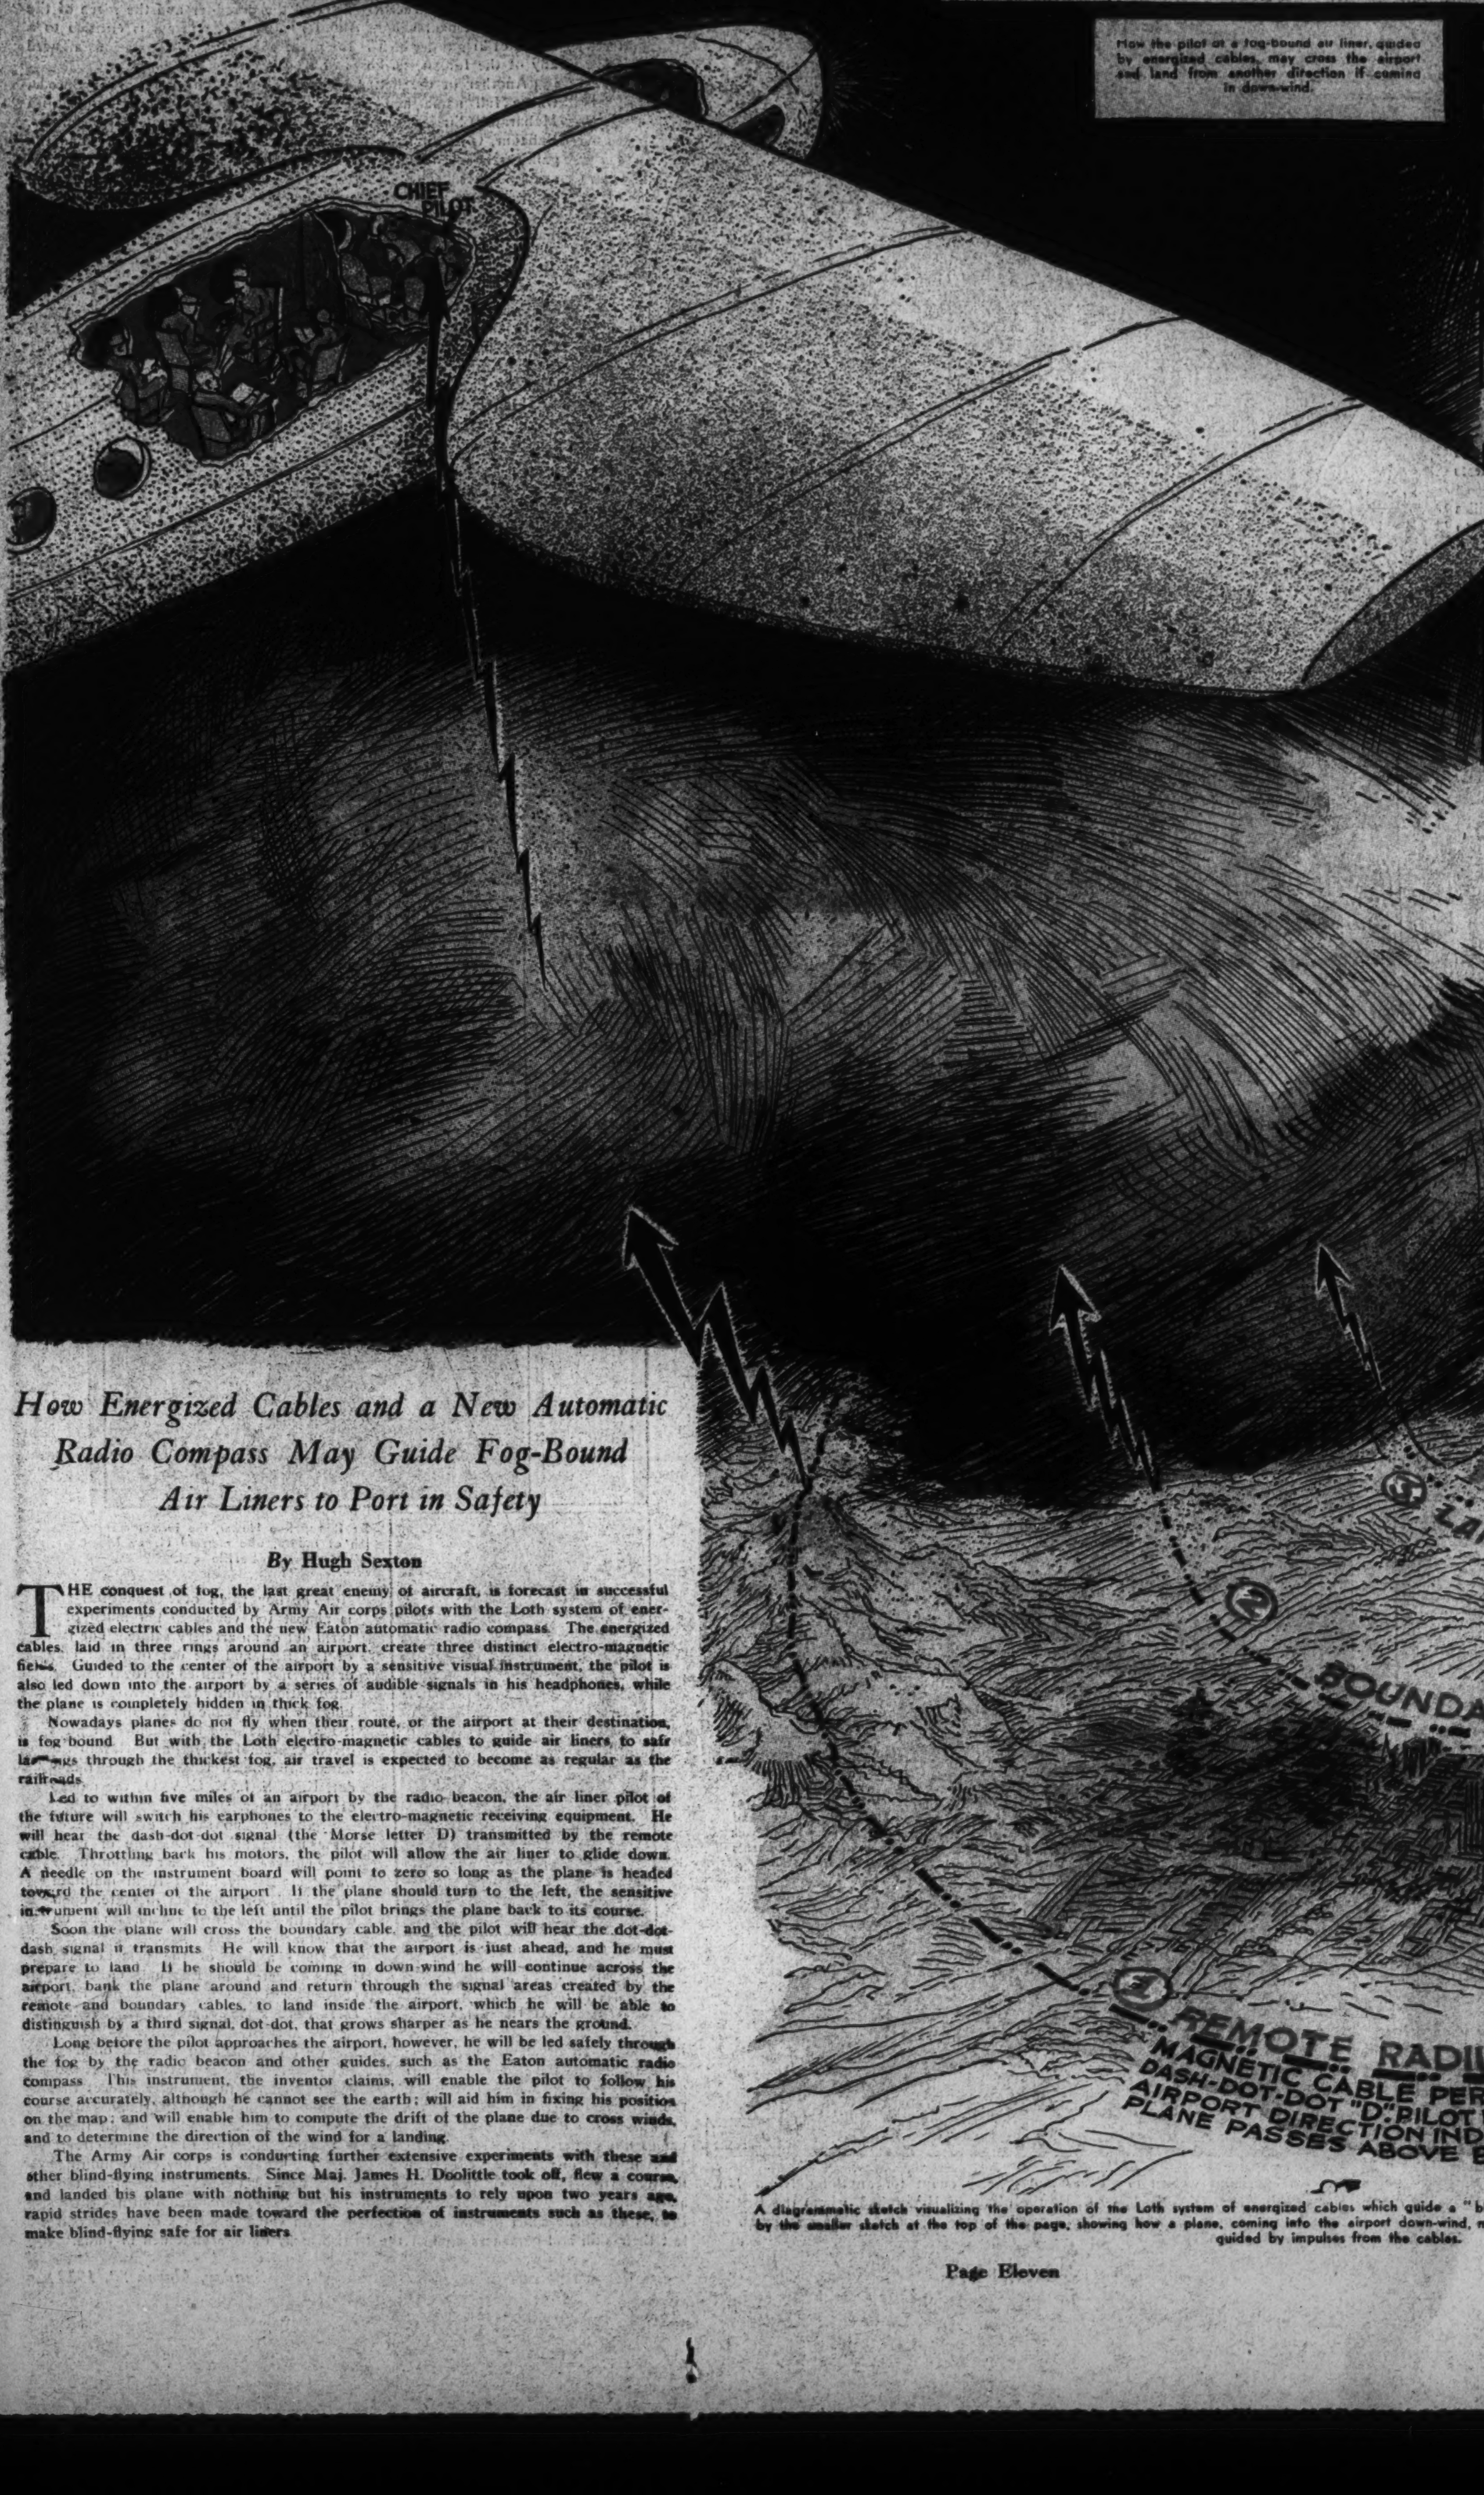
How the pilot of a fog-bound air liner, guided by energized cables, may cross the airport and land from another direction if coming in down-wind.



(Acme photo.)
Receiving loop, aboard a plane, that picks up impulses to operate the new Eaton automatic radio compass.



(Acme photo.)
Automatic radio compass developed by Warren S. Eaton of Los Angeles under secret orders for the army air corps. This instrument will enable planes to fly blind in safety, the inventor claims.



CHIEF PILOT
AIRPORT
③ LANDING RADIUS PILOT RECEIVES DOT-DOT "I" AND LANDS
② BOUNDARY RADIUS PILOT RECEIVES DOT-DOT-DASH "U" UNTIL LANDING RADIUS IS BELOW. DIRECTION INDICATION CONTINUES.
① REMOTE RADIUS 5 MILES FROM AIRPORT. MAGNETIC CABLE PERPETUALLY SENDS MORSE CODE DASH-DOT-DOT "D." PILOT RECEIVES THIS SIGNAL AND AN AIRPORT DIRECTION INDICATION (ON SPECIAL COMPASS) UNTIL PLANE PASSES ABOVE BOUNDARY RADIUS.

A diagrammatic sketch visualizing the operation of the Loth system of energized cables which guide a "blind" liner to an airport through fog. This diagram is amplified by the smaller sketch at the top of the page, showing how a plane, coming into the airport down-wind, may cross the field and land from another direction, all the while guided by impulses from the cables.

How Energized Cables and a New Automatic Radio Compass May Guide Fog-Bound Air Liners to Port in Safety

By Hugh Sexton

THE conquest of fog, the last great enemy of aircraft, is forecast in successful experiments conducted by Army Air corps pilots with the Loth system of energized electric cables and the new Eaton automatic radio compass. The energized cables, laid in three rings around an airport, create three distinct electro-magnetic fields. Guided to the center of the airport by a sensitive visual instrument, the pilot is also led down into the airport by a series of audible signals in his headphones, while the plane is completely hidden in thick fog.

Nowadays planes do not fly when their route, or the airport at their destination, is fog bound. But with the Loth electro-magnetic cables to guide air liners to safe landings through the thickest fog, air travel is expected to become as regular as the railroads.

Led to within five miles of an airport by the radio beacon, the air liner pilot of the future will switch his earphones to the electro-magnetic receiving equipment. He will hear the dash-dot-dot signal (the Morse letter D) transmitted by the remote cable. Throttling back his motors, the pilot will allow the air liner to glide down. A needle on the instrument board will point to zero so long as the plane is headed toward the center of the airport. If the plane should turn to the left, the sensitive instrument will incline to the left until the pilot brings the plane back to its course.

Soon the plane will cross the boundary cable, and the pilot will hear the dot-dot-dash signal it transmits. He will know that the airport is just ahead, and he must prepare to land. If he should be coming in down-wind he will continue across the airport, bank the plane around and return through the signal areas created by the remote and boundary cables, to land inside the airport, which he will be able to distinguish by a third signal, dot-dot, that grows sharper as he nears the ground.

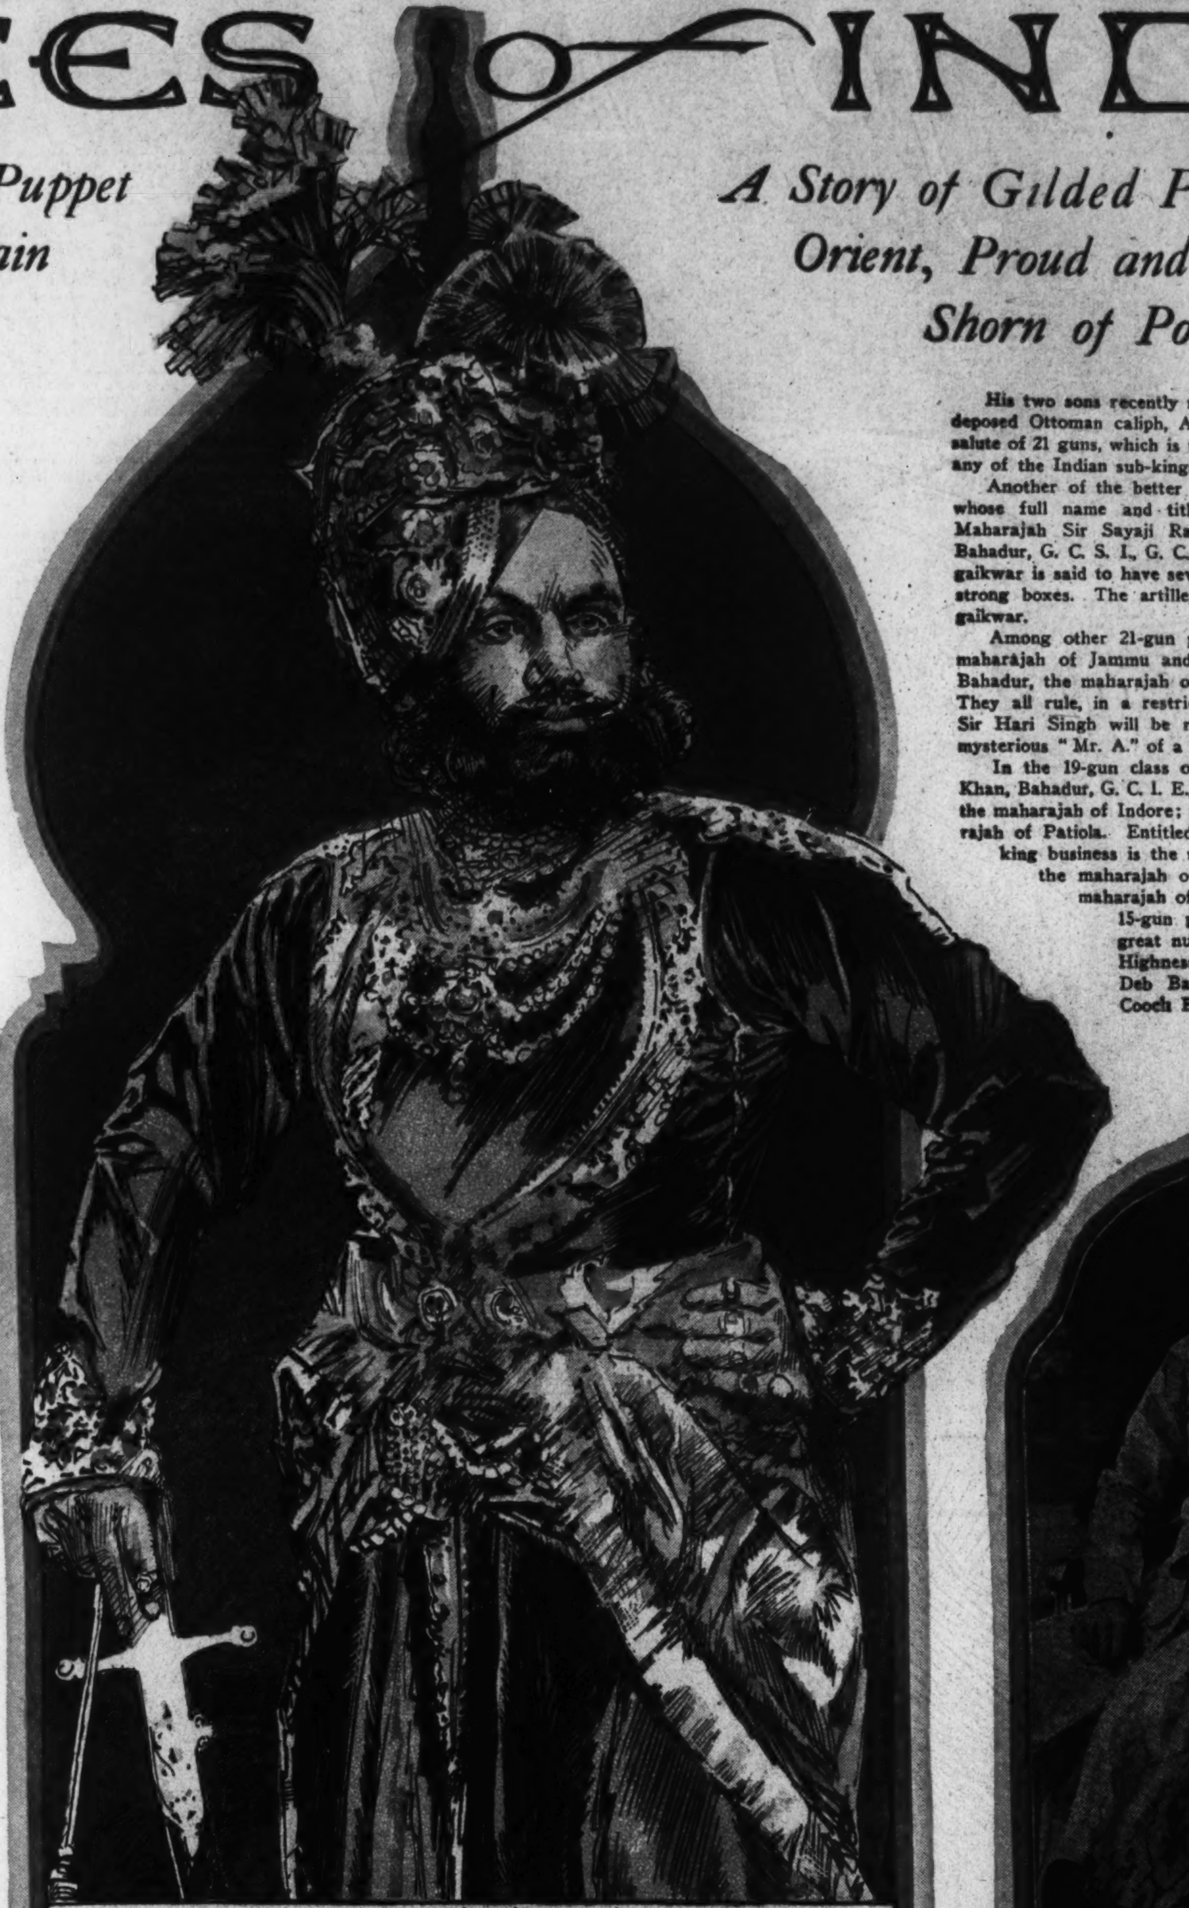
Long before the pilot approaches the airport, however, he will be led safely through the fog by the radio beacon and other guides, such as the Eaton automatic radio compass. This instrument, the inventor claims, will enable the pilot to follow his course accurately, although he cannot see the earth; will aid him in fixing his position on the map; and will enable him to compute the drift of the plane due to cross winds, and to determine the direction of the wind for a landing.

The Army Air corps is conducting further extensive experiments with these and other blind-flying instruments. Since Maj. James H. Doolittle took off, flew a course, and landed his plane with nothing but his instruments to rely upon two years ago, rapid strides have been made toward the perfection of instruments such as these, to make blind-flying safe for air liners.

PRINCES of INDIA

How Human Peacocks on Puppet Thrones Help Great Britain Hold a Vast Country

A Story of Gilded Playboys of the Orient, Proud and Rich, but Shorn of Powers



A former nawab of Bahawalpur in his state dress, decorated with pearls and diamonds. The drawing is from a photograph.

By John A. Menaugh

MYSTERIOUS INDIA—strange land of zenanas, of spices and magic, of snake-charmers, fakirs, and lordly elephants. It is just as mysterious today as it was centuries ago when the Scythians and the Parthians swept down through it from the north, just as mysterious as it was in the days of Robert Clive and Warren Hastings, just as mysterious as it was when Rudyard Kipling was writing his gripping tales about it forty years ago.

India ever will be the land of mystery, for it is a country in which the planting of western culture never takes root. India is a land of striking contrasts. On the one hand are the teeming millions of Hindus and Mohammedans, for whose independence Mahatma Gandhi is spinning a war of nonresistance on his primitive spinning wheel. On the other hand are the fabulously wealthy princes of the native states, whose palaces are the wonder of architecture and whose jewels are the envy of the richest millionaires.

Mixed up with this contrast of the poorest of the poor of India and the wealthiest of the country's rich princes is the caste system, with the lowliest untouchable at the bottom and the proud Brahmin at the top.

Hinduism, the principal religion of India, is a religion with a million gods. Mohammedanism is the creed of the Islamic prophet, which through the centuries has found fertile soil in that land which intrigues imagination. Between these two are a thousand creeds and cults, so interwoven that even the most scholarly of the native priests cannot untangle them.

The princes of India are the descendants of ancient royal families of the various native states, who for political reasons, and partly to satisfy the oriental taste for pomp and glory, have been permitted to occupy puppet thrones in the great capitals of the land. Great Britain learned early in its experience with India that it could best govern the land through permitting native rulers to keep their thrones, though to a man these princes have been shorn of virtually all of their power.

(Chicago Tribune photo.)
Bajah Rajeshwar Shrisewai, the maharajah of Alwar.

(Chicago Tribune photo.)
Maharajah Sri Brajindra Sawai Kishan Singh, Bahadur, the princely ruler of Kachhwaha.

Still Britain is wise enough to pretend, at least, to listen to these princes, and when the recent round-table conference on India's problems was held in London a whole flock of bejeweled and princely puppets sat in at the pourparlers. It is partly through the native rulers that the British are able to retain a governmental grip on the vast land of India. The princes do not look with favor on complete independence for the country.

There are scores of native rulers in India of which the western world hears but little. It is only when one of them actually does something outstanding or gets himself into trouble that he attains fame or notoriety in American newspapers.

Consider the case of Rejishwar Sawai Sri Thukoji Rao Holkar, Bahadur, G. C. I. E., former maharajah of Indore. No one outside of India ever heard much about him until he became involved in the murder of a wealthy merchant of Bombay and the kidnaping of a dancing girl, Mumtaz Begum. He cleared himself of the charges, but not until after he had relinquished his gadi or throne in 1926 to Maharajadhiraja Raj Rajishwar Sawai Yeshwant Rao Holkar, Bahadur. The former maharajah married Nancy Miller, a Seattle girl, in 1928, although he already had two wives. Nancy adopted the religion of her husband and now is known in India as Maharanee Sharmishtha Bai Saheba.

Perhaps the greatest of the native rulers of India, if the number of his subjects and his enormous wealth in palaces and jewelry count for anything, is Sir Mir Usman Ali Khan, G. C. S. I., G. B. E., the nizam of Hyderabad, whom the British permit to rule over the greatest Mohammedan state in India, with a population of more than 12,000,000.

(Underwood & Underwood photo.)
Above: The palace the maharajah of Mysore, illuminated at night by thousands of electric lights.

At left: The maharajah of Jammu and Kashmir upon the back of one of his elephants of state.

His two sons recently married the daughter and the niece of the deposed Ottoman caliph, Abdul Medjid. The nizam is entitled to a salute of 21 guns, which is the greatest number of detonations allowed any of the Indian sub-kings of King George.

Another of the better known princes is the gaikwar of Baroda, whose full name and title is Farzand-i-Khas-i-Daulat-i-Inglish-i-a Maharajah Sir Sayaji Rao Gaikwar, Sena Khas Khel Shamsher, Bahadur, G. C. S. I., G. C. I. E. Baroda is a wealthy state, and the gaikwar is said to have several fortunes in jewels locked away in his strong boxes. The artillery never stops short of 21 guns for the gaikwar.

Among other 21-gun princes are Sir Hari Singh, Bahadur, the maharajah of Jammu and Kashmir; Sir Sri Krishnaraja Wodiyar, Bahadur, the maharajah of Mysore; and the maharajah of Gwailor. They all rule, in a restricted manner, over populous native states. Sir Hari Singh will be remembered by newspaper readers as the mysterious "Mr. A." of a celebrated European blackmail case.

In the 19-gun class of princes fall Sir Muhammad Hamidullah Khan, Bahadur, G. C. I. E., G. C. S. I., C. V. O., the nawab of Bhopal; the maharajah of Indore; the maharajah of Kolhapur; and the maharajah of Patiola. Entitled to 17 guns under the rule of the British king business is the maharajah of Rewa. The mir of Khaipur, the maharajah of Kapurthala, the maharajah of Jind, the maharajah of Nabha, and the nawab of Rampur are all 15-gun princes, while the 13-gun class takes in a great number of smaller figureheads, including His Highness Maharajah Manikya Sir Bikram Kishor Deb Barman, Bahadur, of the Bengal states of Cooch Behar and Tripura.

Sir Thukoji Rao Holker, the former maharajah of Indore, who married Nancy Miller, a Seattle girl.

(Associated Press photo.)
Maharanee Sharmishtha Bai Saheba, the wife of the former maharajah of Indore, who before her marriage was Nancy Miller.

The boy rajah of Pudukkottai still is almost too young to get much of a thrill out of an artillery salute. The jam of Las Bela and the mir of Kalat may or may not be entitled to royal salutes, information about those two obscure kinglets being vague on the question, as it also is regarding the number of guns given Captain His Highness Nawab Sir Sadiq Muhhamad Khan, Abbasi, Bahadur, K. C. S. I., K. C. V. O., the nawab of Bahawalpur.

Salute or no salute, every one of these native princes has one or more fine palaces. Many are immensely wealthy. Nearly all of them maintain great herds of elephants of state, upon which they and their satellites ride on important occasions.

Quite a few of the princes have been educated in England, either at Oxford or Cambridge, and many have carried back to India an apparently sincere liking for European ways. Many have added an occidental polish to what the west considers an oriental oiliness. Britain appoints the princes to high rank in its army. There are native rulers who are colonels, others who are lieutenant colonels, and among the younger princes the ranks of major and captain are quite common. Britain also heaps honors and decorations on them, as is revealed by the strings of initials trailing behind their names like comets' tails. This is all a part of the wise policy of 10 Downing street.

A number of the native rulers are true sportsmen at heart. They enjoy hunting the tiger from the back of an elephant; they like to stalk the sambur deer and the black panther or shoot the elusive pheasant over the backs of their huntings dogs. Polo is a favorite sport among many, who maintain valuable strings of ponies and test their skill and gameness against the British army officers stationed in India.

FOR THE WASHINGTON POST BOYS AND GIRLS

The Junior Post.

SECTION OF THE WASHINGTON POST

WASHINGTON, D. C., MAY 22, 1932.

MEMORIAL DAY TO BE OBSERVED IN ONE SHORT WEEK

Valuable Lessons to Be Learned From Heroes Who Have Passed On

Dear Post Boys and Girls: A week from tomorrow is Decoration, or Memorial Day.

You will notice that we print several entries from contributors, dealing with this great day when we remember those who have given their lives for their country in the years that have passed away.

It is well for boys and girls to remember these heroes of yesterday.

In the years to come you may be called upon to serve your country in some special way. If the call comes, I hope that you will be ready to meet it.

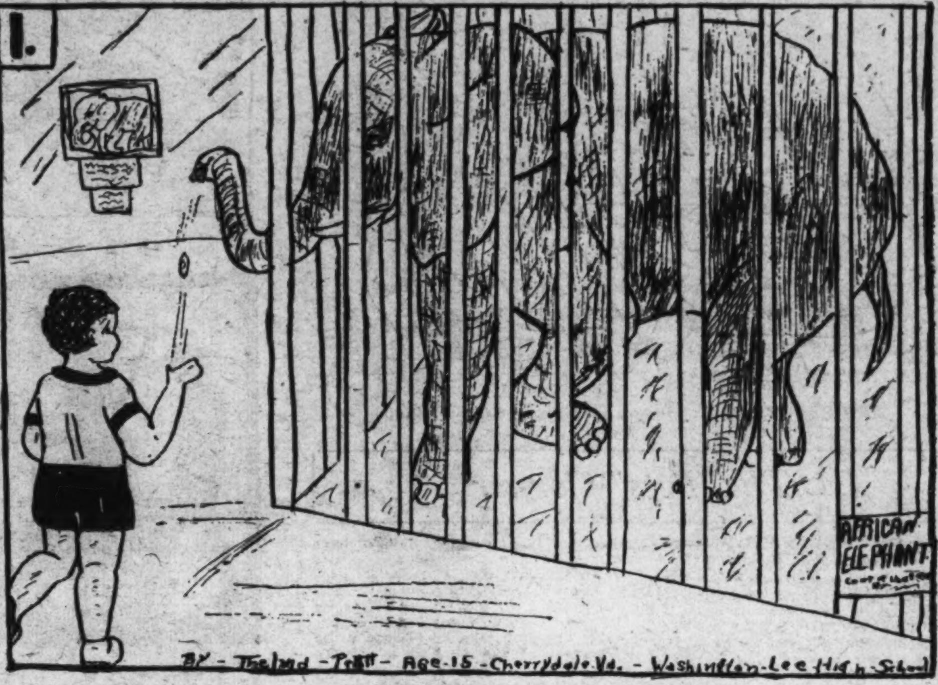
Meantime each of us can live for our country. That is sometimes as hard a task as to die for it. To live for your country means that you are willing to be a good citizen no matter how young you may be. Being a good citizen means that you obey the laws of the home, the school and the city or town in which you live.

Did you ever stop to think that in the years that are to come the country is to be in your hands and those of the boys and girls who are living in the world now with you? It will be your job to keep America safe and strong and fit for those who are to come after you, in turn. A nation can only be as strong as the people who live in it. That is why it is so important that in the days of your youth you learn the lessons of right living. More than your own welfare depends on this. It might easily mean the welfare of your city or even your nation.

Vacation days are just around the corner.

Before they arrive, however, examinations and tests will come from which promotions will be decided. So study your best in the weeks that remain before the holidays. It may be that you will be able to catch up if you have neglected your lessons this spring. At any rate, make a real try for the desired promotion. Then, if it does not come, you will know that you have at least tried hard to win it.

EDITOR JUNIOR POST.



1.
AFRICAN ELEPHANT
By - Thelma - Pettitt - Age-15 - Cherrydale Va. - Washington-Lee High-School

AT THE ZOO. Drawn by Thelma Pettitt, Cherrydals, Va.

Nature.

The ground, the flowers are wet with dew,
The clouds in the sky, there are but few,
The violet stem is firm but lean,
The wandering throne runs along unseen.
All the spring birds in bright new dress
Fly back and forth to their dainty nest.
The sun, so brilliant, sends down light
To all the bugs and worms on flight.
The water sweeps down over the falls,
Nearby the castle garden walls.
All around the children's doings;
Up in the tree a dove is cooing.
The leaves of bushes waver about,
The pansies' faces peep in and out.
And as I look with quiet eyes
Into the clear, blue, beautiful sky,
I can see why God made spring,
And why the bells and birds all sing.
It is because it goes to the heart,
For old and new before they depart,
Leaving the world to a beautiful fate,
That leads them to the golden gate.

MARIETTA ECKAM (age 12).
608 A street southeast.

To a Rose.

Have you ever seen a flower
That's as pretty as a rose?
With all its delicate fragrance
It's a joy where'er it grows.

And of the pretty roses
I like the best the white,
For when among the others
It's such a pretty sight.

It's so delicate in color
No matter where it grows,
And so my favorite flower
Will always be the rose.

ANTOINETTE KLESNER.
5217 Reno road.

The Weather of the Months.

January and February are cold and snowy;
March and April are cool and blowy;
In May the flowers start to bloom,
And June with roses coming soon;
In July the bees start to swarm;
That is when it is hot and warm;
The last of August is near summer's end;
Fall is just around the bend;
In September kids start back to school;
October begins to get windy and cool;
Next Thanksgiving comes around;
In December the jingle bells sound.

KATHLYN ANN BAILEY.
5130 Seventh street northwest.

My Mother's Cares.

My mother has so many cares,
I count them one by one,
And yet she sees the light in life,
And never misses fun.

My mother has so many cares,
But she doesn't seem to mind;
Oh, I wonder if there ever was
A mother just like mine?

My mother has so many cares,
But she laughs them all away,
And then she smiles so tenderly,
As much as if to say:

"I'm glad I've got this job of mine,
I wouldn't have another,
Because it is so very nice
To be somebody's mother!"

Because she's planted there her love
And seeds of carefulness;
And, oh, I wish her many blooms
Of joy and happiness!

EMIL FRANKLYN.
Monroe, Va.

Memorial Day.

The Civil War had ended. The Union was saved but thousands of lives of our country's bravest men were lost. The North and South alike mourned her dead.

The women of the Confederacy began to go at various times in different places to strew flowers on the graves of their soldiers and after a while the beautiful custom spread to the North.

Gen. John A. Logan, then commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, set aside May 30, as Decoration Day for the graves of the Union soldiers who had died in the Civil War. Gradually the idea spread from State to State. Each year the governor of each of the Northern and Western States proclaims the day as a legal holiday. As flowers bloom earlier in the Southern States the date of the observance is earlier there, sometimes as early as April or the first part of May.

EDITH HESSLER (age 14).
218 S street northeast.

A Mother's Love.

A mother's love! How sweet the name!
What is a mother's love?
A noble, pure and tender flame,
Enkindled from above,
To bless a heart of earthly mold—
The warmest heart that can grow cold,
This is a mother's love.

JEANNE PLANT (age 10).
35 T street northwest.

The End of Day.

As the evening sun is sinking in the western sky,
The solitary figure of a farmer hurries by.
The warbles and the songs of birds are echoed in the air.
The farmer glances toward the town, his wife and children there.
He hears the ripples of a spring and whistles loud and clear,
And though he's tired and weary, his kind heart is full of cheer.
The heaven's brightly glowing, painted by the sun's last ray,
But the weary farmer's happy, for it means the end of day.

ANTOINETTE KLESNET.
5217 Reno road.

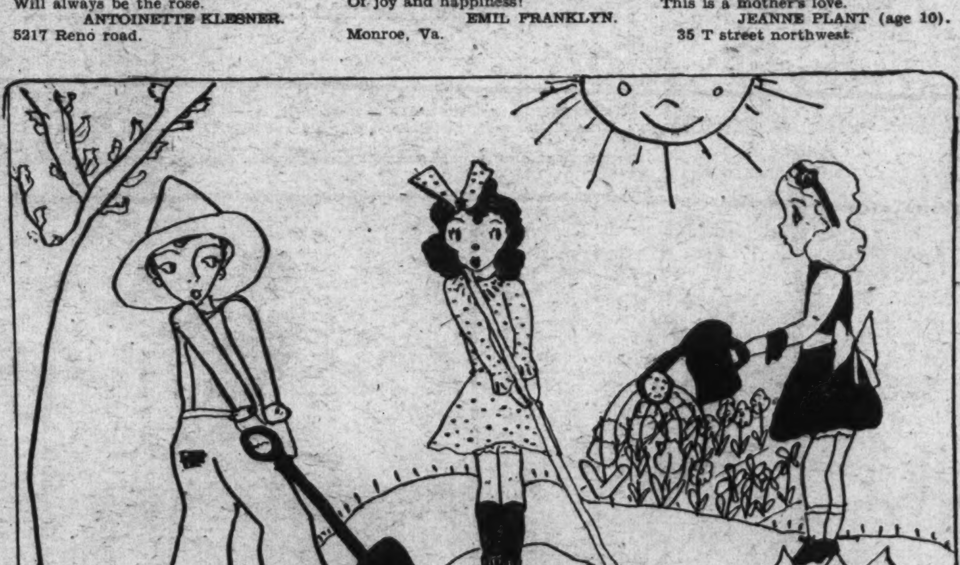
My Library.

Upon a shelf in my room are arranged several rows of books. This is my library. It is here that I come very often to select a book and read away for hours.

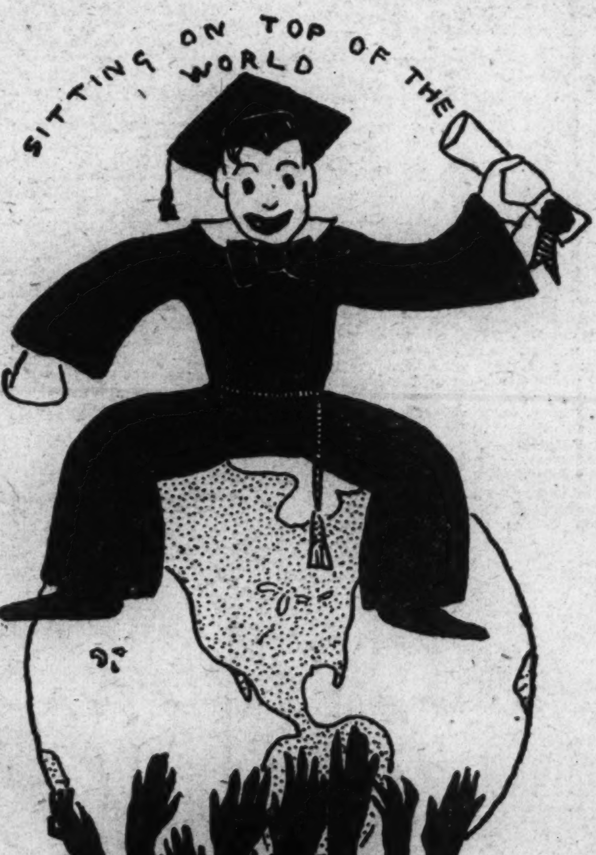
There are tales of adventure on the high sea, girlish books of school life, stories of a mother's love and sacrifice—all so wholesome and entertaining.

I love my books because they seem as living people. On each page different characters step forward, every one with his tale of happiness, love or woe. This is my little sanctum, a chamber of adventures, where stories are brought to life and enacted before my eyes.

ROSEMARY DERMODY (age 13).
440 Sixth street southwest.

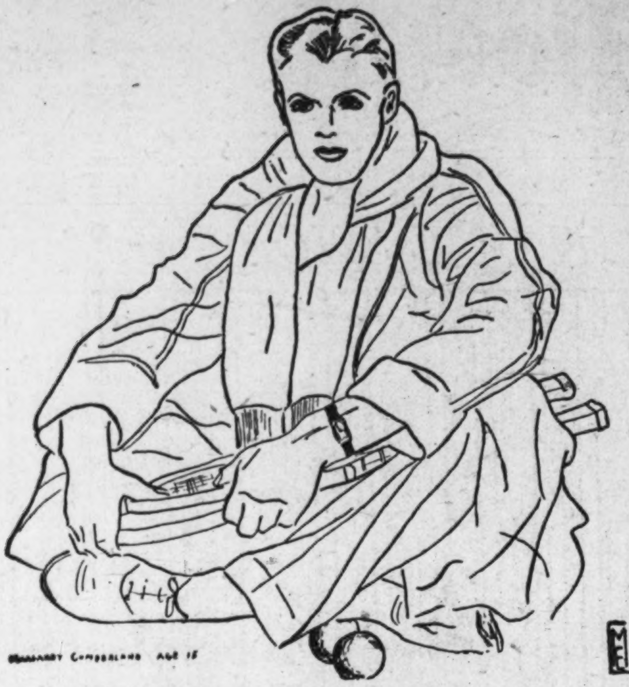


SPRINGTIME GARDENERS. Drawn by Constance Zaemes, 3310 Georgia avenue.

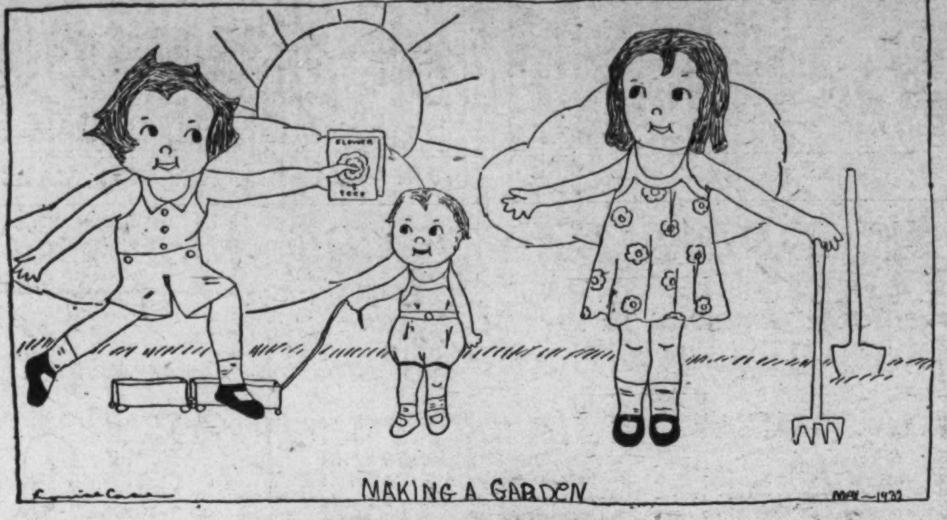


SITTING ON TOP OF THE WORLD
Tolman

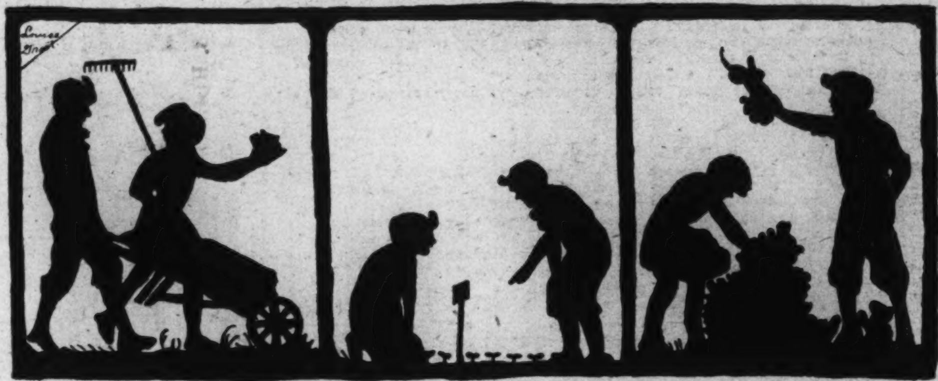
Awarded $1 cartoon prize. Drawn by Tolman.



THE RACQUETEER. Drawn by Margaret Cumberland.



Drawn by Louise Case, Purcellville, Va.



SPRING PLANTERS. Drawn by Louise Groat.

The Pets' Corner

By, DING-HOW OF HYDEGREE
(Mascot of The Junior Post).

Bow, wow, wow, wow. I have been up in the country to see how everything is getting along up there. I saw Johnnny Cockle Spaniel and Irish Bird Dog having such a good time taking their first bath in the creek this season. Of course, an editor only looked at them, for an editor takes baths in bath tubs whether he is in the city or in the country.

Mr. Tweet Canary says he prefers his own bath in his golden bungalow. He has made up a song to sing while he is taking a bath. How that bird does splash and splash and how he does hop about when he comes out of his bath.

Mrs. Black Cat says that Purr and Purr get plenty of wetting when it rains in their summer house under the hedge. I saw her coming across the lawn after a rainy day and drops of rain were on her nice new-looking black silk dress like dew.

Patrick Irish Wolf Hound Moffett has been around to show me all the blue ribbons given to him at the show recently. He is as proud as can be, and says he is going to the beauty show in New York. Well, of course, an editor does not have time to go to shows. Besides, I have a nice long blue typewriter ribbon.

Daisy and Spider say that they can run faster than Mike. But of course, I am betting on Mike, he has such nice long legs.

Ming says he is a pretty good runner and that he can come downstairs as fast as the Gracious Lady can in her elevator. Bow, wow, wow! Ming says he has such a good time when he goes away for the summer, and has promised to get the life story of Mr. Sand Crab for this corner. Bow, wow, wow.

Anyway, I think I will go to the seashore myself. I promised Mr. Tweet to sing the song I heard through the seashell radio on the shore one day. Or better still, I will bring the radio home to him.

Mr. Robin Redbreast and Mr. Baltimore Oriole came calling in our tree top today. They are some singers those birds, and Mr. Tweet was so jealous of their voices that he sang and sang and sang at the top of his lungs.

I have been on another picnic, where we had roast beef sandwiches and nice chocolate layer cake. We sat in the car and read The Sunday Post, especially The Junior Post, and the Pets' Corner. I was too modest to say much when every one praised the Pets' Corner. You know I think I just look like an editor. Lots of boys and girls knew me in the picnic grounds and I did not have my eyeglasses on or my typewriter with me.

I guess I will have to get to work now, there are so many letters on my desk. Some of the Pets want to be editors, too. I might let a few be reporters, but we only have one editor. Sandy Orkney Terrier Gordon thinks he is an editor, but he is only a reporter, and if he does not bring in some news pretty soon, he will not even be a reporter.

The Best Reward.

On a ranch in New Mexico lived a little boy who had been sick for a long time. As his father owned the ranch and a large herd of cattle, he could afford to have the best doctors with his boy. But this was done with no success. Tommy was unlike other boys because he was always unhappy. Later on, when the boy grew worse, Mr. Davis had offered a reward to anyone who could cure Tommy. But all had failed.

One day a terrific roar was heard above the house. It sounded as if it was going to come right through the ceiling. When Mr. Davis went out he saw a large airplane. It was in front of his house and two men approached him.

"Is there any gasoline near here?" asked one of the men.

"I'm sorry," replied Mr. Davis, "'but the nearest place that has any is over 50 miles. If you will come in I will send one of the ranchers after some."

"Thank you, sir," replied the man, as he accepted the invitation.

"I see you are from the East," said Mr. Davis. "Pray tell me which part you are from."

"Oh," said the other man, "we are from Washington, D. C. As an introduction, this is the editor of The Junior Post and I am the pilot of The Junior Post airship."

In a short time they were taken to see Tommy. Soon the father was summoned from the room and the editor and the pilot were left alone.

"I wish I had something to cheer that boy," said the pilot. "He looks so sad."

"I know," said the editor. "I have a Junior Post in my pocket and I will read him some of the stories until Mr. Davis comes back."

"Tommy, would you like to hear me read?" asked the editor.

"Yes, sir," Tommy replied, wanly.

After the editor had read and told Tommy about the children who sent in the stories, Tommy's face brightened and he asked, "Do those children really send in those stories and poems?"

"Yes," said the editor. "With the cooperation of these children we have made this little paper a success."

"Oh," sighed Tommy, "how I should like to write a story for the paper."

Then the editor told him if he would write a story he would take it back to Washington with him and have it published. Just then Mr. Davis came in. When he saw how pleased his little boy looked, he asked what they had done to him.

"Oh, father," said Tommy, "I am going to write a story for The Junior Post. Won't that be nice?"

"It certainly will," answered his father. "I think he is better already," he said to the men, as they came from the room.

The gasoline had been brought but the airship needed some repairs, so the editor and the pilot found it necessary to remain a few days at the home of Mr. Davis.

During this time, Tommy had improved so much that he was allowed to sit up to write his story. Soon the men were ready to leave. As they were going toward the plane, Mr. Davis told them of the reward he had offered and they were the ones to get it.

"All the reward we want is wishes for our Junior Post," said the editor, as he got aboard The Junior Post airship to start for Washington.

JUANITA CRETIZER.
Staunton, Va.

The Brook.

Through a little clump of trees,
Flowing, rippling in the breeze,
Is my little fairy brook,
Flowing on through every nook.

Over falls, and on it flows;
To the sea perhaps it goes.
On and on it flows all day
As the children by it play.

DORIS JUNE McGRAW (age 11).
3611 Van Ness street.

THE GROUCH.

MEMBERSHIP PLEDGE

The George Washington Junior Citizens

I will try to be a worthy Junior Citizen of the United States of America and to follow the example in right living, truth telling and service to others set by George Washington and other builders of this Republic

In every way possible I will strive to live up to the Code of the George Washington Junior Citizens and hereby apply for membership in this new Junior Post Club.

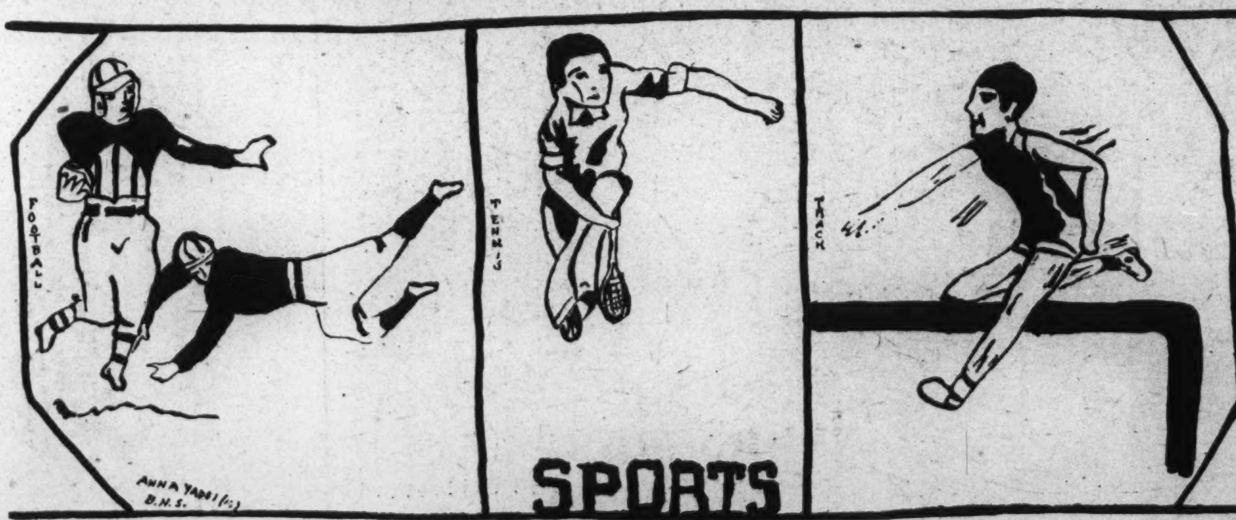
Name ....

Address .... Age..........

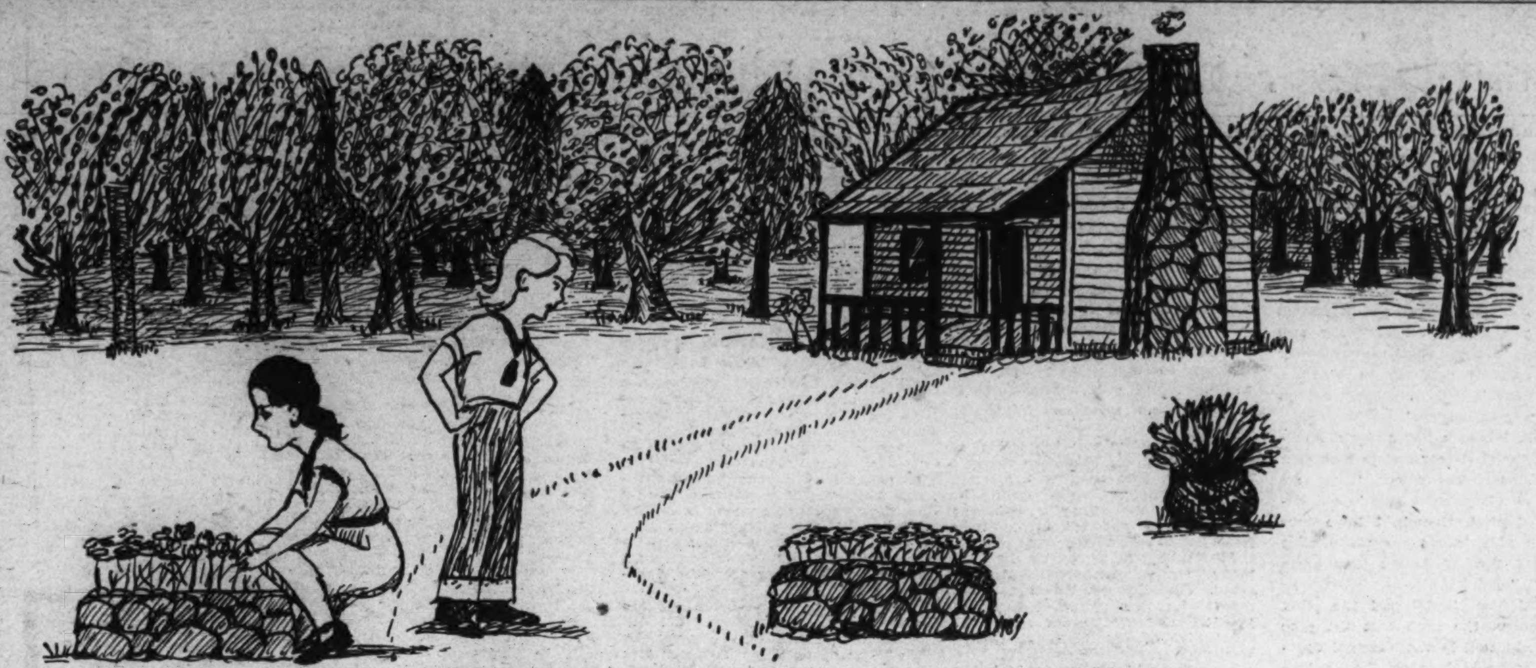
School .... Grade ....

If you are between the ages of 12 and 18 years fill out this pledge and mail it to "The Editor, Junior Post, Washington Post, Washington, D. C.," and membership card will be sent to you.

BEAUTY.
Drawn by Thelma Pettitt.



Drawn by Anna Yadgi.



THE HORTICULTURISTS. Awarded $1 strip prize. Drawn by Hazel Robey, Bluemont, Va.

In the Editor's Letter Box

Dear Editor: I read this quotation in a book and thought that it was such a good subject I decided to write about it. Inclosed is the poem entitled "Nature Is the Art of God." Thank you for publishing my last poem. Sincerely,

MARY VIRGINIA HASSEL (age 13).
5228 Chevy Chase Parkway.

Dear Editor: I am inclosing a poem which I have written and which I hope will be published in your little paper.

I have been reading The Junior Post for a number of years and I have never found a single uninteresting copy. Sincerely a reader,

JAIME FONT.
Box 431, Leesburg, Va.

Dear Editor: I am writing to you to thank you for the $1 which you sent to me for drawing a picture for The Junior Post. I like The Junior Post very much and hope to send more writings or drawings to it. Yours truly,

LOUIS A. HALEY.
348 Blue Ridge avenue, Front Royal, Va.

Dear Editor: I enjoy reading the things other boys and girls send in to The Junior Post. I saw in the last issue that you wanted things about gardens, so I thought I would try.

Inclosed is a poem entitled "My Dream Garden." I hope it will be good enough to publish. Yours truly,

ERVA BARGER.
710 Decatur street northwest.

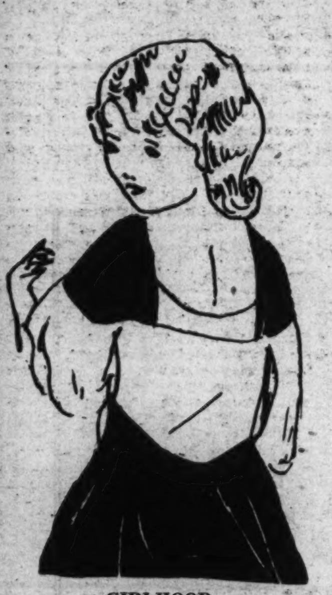
P. S.—My brother, Ben, is sending in his drawing.

Dear Editor: Thank you for publishing my drawing and awarding me $1 strip prize. I certainly do appreciate it. Inclosed are several drawings. Hoping they may be published in The Junior Post sometime, with best wishes to you and your readers, I am

HAZEL ROBEY (age 18).
Bluemont, Va.

Dear Editor: Please publish this story named "A Trip Through the Panama Canal." Thank you for publishing some of my poems that I have sent you. Sincerely,

CATHERINE DOYLE (age 12).
2926 Upton street northwest.



GIRLHOOD.
Drawn by Mary Frances.

Nature Is the Art of God.

God breathes upon the earth,
And lo! the flowers ope and bloom.
The butterflies stop at my garden
To sip nectar and inhale perfume.

The lilies, like angels white and fair,
Violets peep from their earthen bed,
Flowering dogwood shading the ferns;
Apple trees blossom down in the mead.

A humming bird flies 'round my garden,
His shaded feathers to the garden lend
An added color to the glowing picture.
All nature seems in harmony to blend.

MARY VIRGINIA HASSEL
(age 13).
5228 Chevy Chase Parkway.

To a Narcissus.

Beautiful flower,
How lovely you are!
Beautiful flower,
Just like a little star.
Your sweet perfume,
Your colors gay
Drive away Gloom,
And make us all gay.

Just a God-sent helper
To drive away our gloom;
Just a God-sent helper
To brighten ugly rooms.
Tell me lovely flower;
Where do you get your loveliness?
Where do you get that wonderful power
To help us all in our distress?

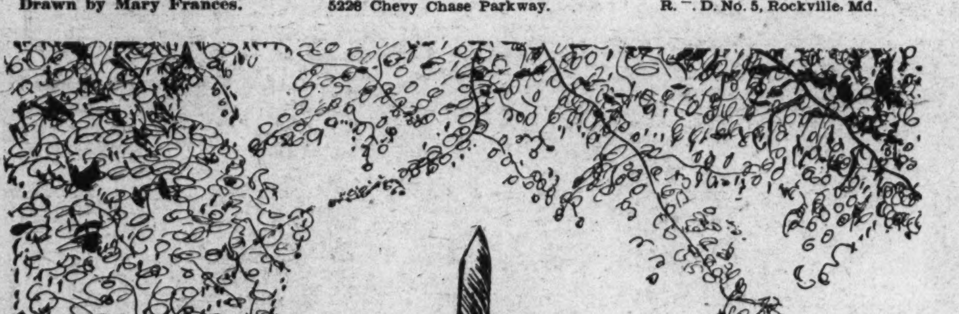
Oh beautiful flower,
Tell me your secret, true.
Oh, beautiful flower,
What in the world do you do?
Tell me sweet little flower;
Is there a world beyond?
Is there a fairy bower?
Is there a silvery wand?

Oh, little flower,
I want to know about you.
Oh, little flower,
Are you a flower, true?
Or are you
A little angel from above,
Sent from the heavens blue
To bring the earth God's love?

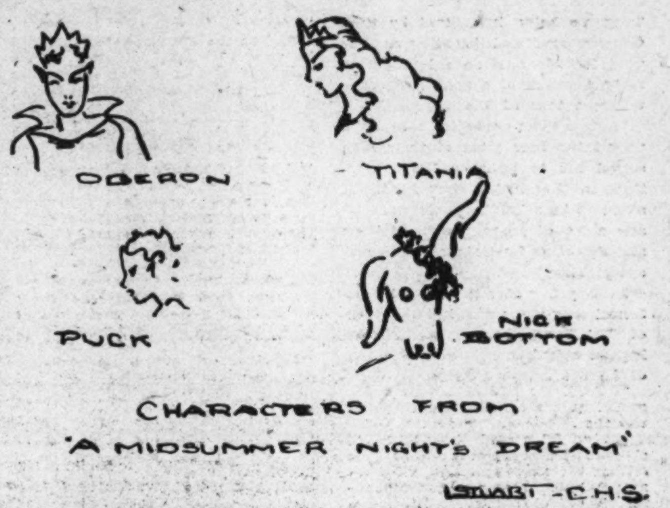
Oh, little flower,
Tell me what I must do.
Oh, little flower,
I would be more like you:
I would live for other's joy;
I would see what I might do.
I would be his envoy
To help men carry God's way through.

I would that I could live
As close to you as a trailing vine.
I would that I could live
A life so pure as thine.
A life of pure cleanliness;
A life to help the Father above;
A life of sheer helpfulness,
To carry out our Father's love.

MARCIA GADSON (age 13).
R. F. D. No. 5, Rockville, Md.



SPRINGTIME IN WASHINGTON. Drawn by Edith Hessler, St. Patrick's Academy.



Benedict Arnold.

Arnold's treason has erased all his noble deeds—covered his career with shame and left a deep curse on his name. Men turn from his grave—friends and foes speak of him with scorn and children shudder at the name of Benedict Arnold.

This is just and right, but there is another lesson besides the guilt of treason to be learned from his history—that it is dangerous and criminal to let personal friendship and party spirit promote the less deserving over their superiors. There is no reason to believe that Arnold would ever have betrayed his country had Congress treated him with justice. Finding his juniors promoted over him, he became embittered and wished to retire from the army, but the hopes held out by Washington induced him to remain at his post, and he fought bravely and nobly in the cause of freedom. Trusting to the justice of Congress he showed a patriotism unsurpassed by any officer in the army. The brilliant career and daring and gallant behavior of Arnold in battle, dazzled the people and he obtained at once a prominence which some of his fellow officers thought undeserved and so they tried to pull him down.

His irritable, haughty nature and great moral defects unfortunately gave them too much ground on which to base their hostility. His every success brought forth new insults by his powerful enemies and he became desperate and reckless. Envy and hatred combined proved too strong for him. Placing his personal feelings above everything else, he sacrificed even his country to them.

After his court-martial, which finally sentenced him to be reprimanded, he was convinced the glory of his military career was ended and he resolved on revenge. Honor, generosity and every noble feeling died at once in him and it is unfair to judge his character by his conduct after his treason.

No one can doubt that his character was radically defective. His betrayal of his country is sufficient proof that his principles were corrupt and his revenge stronger than patriotism, but the enemies of Arnold have a heavy account to render for their injustice to him.

EDITH HESSLER (age14).
218 S street northeast.

Mother.

Is there anyone who suffers
With not a cry of pain,
Or anyone who does so much
Not for a personal gain?

Is there anyone who watches
And cares so much for you;
Is there anyone who listens
And understands you, too?

Is there anyone who delights
To do for another;
Is there anyone who loves you
Better than your mother?

ALICE PUGH (age 16).
1547 Berkeley avenue, Walnut Hill,
Petersburg, Va.

Application for Membership Pin

Editor Junior Post, The Washington Post, Washington, D. C.:

I hereby apply for a membership pin of The Washington Post Junior Writers Club. My......................(fill in story, poem or drawing) appeared on The Post Boys and Girls Page, Sunday, ..., 19..., through which I earned membership

Full Name ....

Address ....

Age .... School ....

Fill out and mail this blank promptly and instruction when and where to call for your pin will be sent to you after publication of the prize-winning entry.

Members Appointed Recruiting Agents for Knighthood

THE JUNIOR POST AIRSHIP

"Just been attending several graduations," said the pilot as he tuned up the airship to take the Current Events Editor for the weekly tour of the world. "My sister's girl graduated from preparatory school today and my sister's boy was the class orator at a military academy in Virginia. They both looked nice. They are on their way to college."

"Well, I have a boy and girl starting in the first year college next year myself," said the editor. "They are going to college right here in our National Capital, though. I hope they will be able to see the world after they get through before they begin to work."

"Good idea, that," said the pilot. "Of course, the next best thing to being educated in the National Capital is to come here on the graduation tour, like that school down there. President Hoover is greeting them. They are being introduced by their Congressmen," and the editor and the pilot looked down on a hundred or more members of a graduating class taking a tour of Washington.

"I hope these graduates have saved up all the four years of their high school life to come to Washington. That is, they had a class fund. It seems to be a habit, for we certainly saw a lot of school groups arriving and departing by train and bus and automobiles."

As they flew over the Central High School they saw a nice looking group of Girl Scouts being presented the highest awards at the annual Court of Awards.

"I think the Girl Scouts are a fine group, as are the Boy Scouts," said the pilot.

"So do I," agreed the editor. "I always feel that my girls and boys are safe at the scout camps in the summer and that they are learning simple, healthful living and having a good time."

The airship turned over the hills and valleys and mountains of Virginia until they hovered over Wakefield and dipped in salute as the reconstructed Wakefield house, representing the one in which George Washington was born 200 years ago, was presented to the Nation by the Wakefield Memorial Association through Mrs. Anthony Wayne Cook, to Secretary of the Interior Ray Lyman Wilbur, representing the Government.

Then on to Annapolis to see what progress has been made for June week beginning May 27, when the upper classmen at the United States Naval Academy will be given their diplomas and commissions and become ensigns of the Navy.

"Mrs. Hoover is always interested in the American girl, whether she is a Girl Scout, a working girl or a college girl," said the editor, as they saw the First Lady receiving the first copy of the Elmira College yearbook from an American girl graduate in cap and gown.

They took a swing across the country to see the farmers busily at work and the happy life of the American people in schools and community activities and the many homes with their lovely flowers and gardens.

In California they looked down on Ernest Bacon, composer and pianist, who has received the much-coveted Pulitzer musical scholarship.

They liked the looks of our own country so much they flew back across it, and over the Atlantic to Europe to see what was happening there.

In Greece they saw the Queen of Belgium with her daughter, Princess Marie Jose, who married the crown prince of Italy, sightseeing among the ruins of Athens. They were having a good time and consulting their guide books and making many notes.

At Tuebingen University in Germany they saw our American Ambassador, Frederick M. Sackett, being decorated with a degree of doctor of political science in honor of the Bicentennial of the birth of George Washington.

They lingered a time to hear the 9-year-old American boy violinist, Grisha Goluboff, play at his first concert in Berlin at the German Press Club.

And on the way home they stopped to view through the windows the paintings of Prince Eugene, brother of King Gustaf of Sweden in Stockholm.

A Cloudy Day.

As I look out the window I see no sun at all,
But just a lot of dark clouds from where rain shall fall;
The wind is blowing through the air,
Instead of being calm and fair.

Oh, when a cloudy day comes along
We do not hear the birds' sweet song;
For in their nests they seem to stay
On a dark and still cloudy day.

MARJORIE DUVALL (age 12).
212 New York avenue northwest.

Pin With Portrait Of Washington to Be Given Workers

Attention, members of the George Washington Circle of the Knighthood of Youth!

You are appointed recruiting agents of the Knighthood of Youth.

Each member is asked to bring in at least one other member to the circle before the close of George Washington's Bicentennial year.

Any boy or girl who belongs to the George Washington Circle of the Knighthood of Youth who recruits a new member will be presented with a handsome pin containing a profile portrait of George Washington as a special reward for his or her activity on behalf of the Nation-wide club for young people sponsored by The Washington Post.

Furthermore, the page buttons and reminder cards for your recruits will be furnished, free of all charge, by The Washington Post. This will give them a good start in the Knighthood.

You will win the warm thanks of the young people you start off in Knighthood. They will thank you in after years, too, for the good habits formed by them in youth through their membership in this club.

It is just as easy to form good habits as it is bad ones. Try it and see.

Spring Is Here.

A velvety eye is lifted
So soft, so sweet, and shy
The violet
Telling us in their own sweet way
Spring is here.

The snowy-white, the delicate pink
Adorns the bent old tree,
The apple blossom
Telling us in their own sweet way
Spring is here.

L. RETSTAT.
9128 Georgie avenue, Silver Spring, Md.

Recruiters' Blank

For Membership in the Knighthood of Youth.

Knighthood of Youth Editor, The Washington Post, Washington, D. C.:

Please enroll my friend.. in the Knighthood of Youth. Inclosed find 5 cents for Page button and reminder card for my recruit:

Name ....

Address ....

Rank in Knighthood ....

To Be Filled Out by Applicant.

I pledge myself to be strictly honest in filling out my reminder card

Name ....

Parents' Names ....

Age.............. Date of birth..................................

Address ....

Street City County State

Grade in school..............Name of school..........................

Date of filing application..

I do (or do not) read The Junior Post each Sunday.

I earned the money for my membership by

....

(Explain in detail just what work you did.)

THE STORY BOOK LADY

"We have been gathering May flowers," said Susette, "and we brought some for the Story Book Lady."

"I brought her some pretty ferns for her nice fernery," said Alice. "She does so much for us by taking us on those pilgrimages every week to Story Book Land that I think it is nice to be thoughtful of her, too, and try to give her pleasure."

"I think so, too," said Harriet, as the group of girls joined the other members of the Knighthood of Youth and The Junior Post Writers Club to wait for the Story Book Lady so that they would all start for their weekly pilgrimage. "Mother has given me clippings from her favorite flowers for the Story Book Lady's garden."

"I have been working in my garden," said the Story Book Lady, as she hurried up to the group of waiting children, looking so cool in her nice white dress and sun hat. "I will be delighted to plant all the things the members of The Junior Post Writers Club and the Knighthood of Youth have given me, and every time I look at the garden or walk through it I will think of my friends of The Junior Post."

"My grandsons have some flowers for you to plant in your garden also," said Mr. Gnome, as he took off his green hat with its scarlet feather. "Blick, Flick and Little Mick have taken great pride in planting the seeds and growing the tiny plants and we hope you will remember the Gnome who keeps the Gate of the Fairy Tale Bridge that leads to Story Book Land and his three grandsons, Blick and Flick and Little Mick, when you look at your garden." And Mr. Gnome made another deep bow and his grandsons also took off their green hats with scarlet feathers and did the same.

"We are a little late today," said the Story Book Fairy as she circled about in an airplane made of a water can, and with propellers of rakes and hoes, "but we had to help plant the Story Book Fairy Land garden. What a good time we had with the Queen telling us just where everything was to be planted."

"We brought you the first roses of the season from Story Book Fairy Land," said Merry and Jolly, the Story Book Fairy Children, circling about the Story Book Lady in their parachutes made of snowball flowers and handing her tiny bouquets of tiniest, sweetest, loveliest rosebuds the boys and girls of the Junior Post had ever seen.

"Well, well," said a voice near them, "clear track ahead. If you want to have something nice to read about, come down this book street."

"We will be glad to," said the Story Book Lady. "Why, it is an engineer, and he has a nice engine and train and lots of tracks in his Book Street. Let me see," and the Story Book Lady put on her magic glasses. "It is called 'Clear Track Ahead,' by Henry B. Lent, illustrated by Earle Winslow (the Macmillan Co., New York)."

"Oh, I just love railroads and locomotives," said Thomas, as he ran on ahead with William and Jack at his heels.

"Well, this is written for boys of 8 years old," said the Story Book Lady with a laugh, "but I think older boys and girls will like it, too."

"I like steam cars, I must say," said Earle, "but I do like books with wild animals in them."

"Do you, indeed?" said a little boy standing at the end of a book street. "Well, come right in, then, for I am Little Henry, and this is the tiger in my book."

"Of course it is," said thhe Story Book Lady, putting on her magic glasses, "for the book is called 'Little Henry and the Tiger,' by Felicite Le Fevre (Harper & Bros., New York). And the drawings which enable us to see Little Henry and his Tiger so plainly are made by Erich Berry. Oh, what a lot of things did happen when Little Henry let the Tiger out of his cage. What a clever tiger it is. Just look, and how many things he knows how to do. Well, I guess I will let you read this book for yourself."

"Oh, oh, oh!" shouted Lucille, as they came to another book street. "Musical instruments and drums. I have a drum, and father says a girl can learn to play as well as a boy."

"Of course they can, my dear," said the Story Book Lady. Let me see, 'The Drum Book,' by Satis Coleman (The John Day Co., New York). "And what a nice book Mrs. Coleman has written. She is really very clever in getting us all, boys and girls, interested in musical instruments. This book not only tells how to play a drum but how to make one. It would certainly be fun to make a drum."

Knights Are Told To Never Forget Many Kind Deeds

Do you remember those who have been good to you?

This is a question for all members of the Knighthood of Youth to ask themselves through their reminder cards as we get nearer and nearer to another Decoration Day.

For ingratitude is one of the basest faults of mankind.

Not to remember those who have been good to you in years past or who are serving you in some way today is a very bad thing.

Do you remember each morning as you get up and find a nice breakfast awaiting you before you go to school the kindness and care given to you by your parents?

Do not take this so much as a matter of course. In these days of depression it may mean that your father and mother may have a great deal of worry about caring for their family. It will make the struggle easier for them if their children appreciate all that they are doing and are grateful for it.

Are you grateful for all the care and trouble your teachers take in training you for after life?

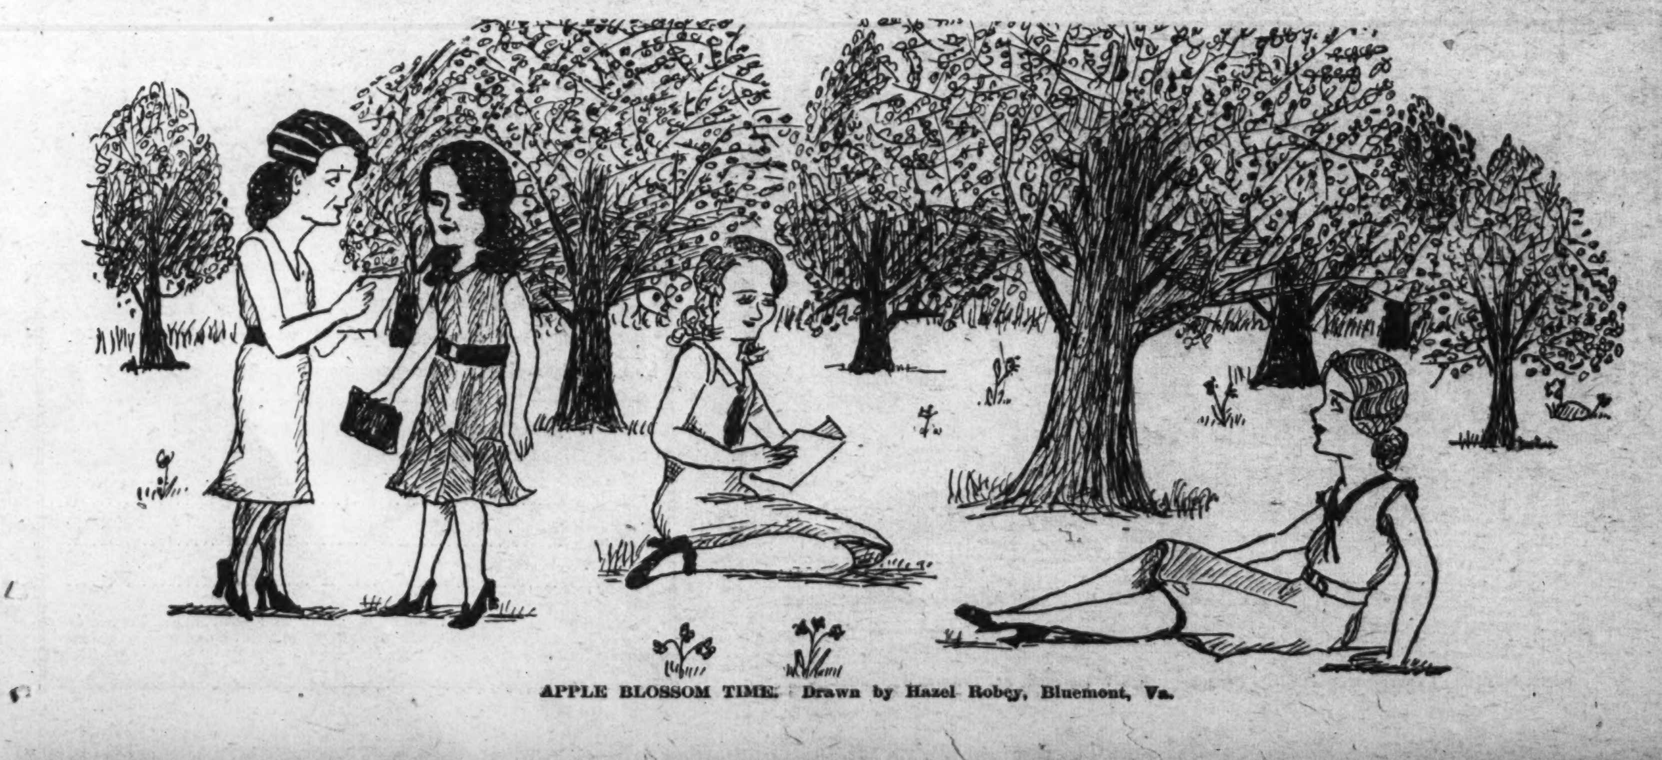
I hope so, for these men and women give of the best that is in them to your welfare. Gratitude is one sure way in which you can repay them.

The Robin.

Once a funny song I heard,
And then I saw a funny bird.
His breast was red, his back was brown,
And I knew the robin had come to town.

The robin builds a little brown nest.
How to build it he knows best.
He carries the straw in his yellow bill
Until his nest he does fill.

DAVID VENEZKY (age 7).
4719 Eighth street northwest.



APPLE BLOSSOM TIME. Drawn by Hazel Robey, Bluemont, Va.

ROTOGRAVURE
SECTION

The Washington Post.

SUNDAY
May 22, 1932

AN UNBROKEN STREAM OF HORSES! The timber-toppers literally "flowing" over the water jump at Belmont Park, N. Y.
A. P.

ATTEND DOUMER MASS. President and Mrs. Hoover, with Ambassador Claudel, leaving St. Matthews' Church.
Harris & Ewing.

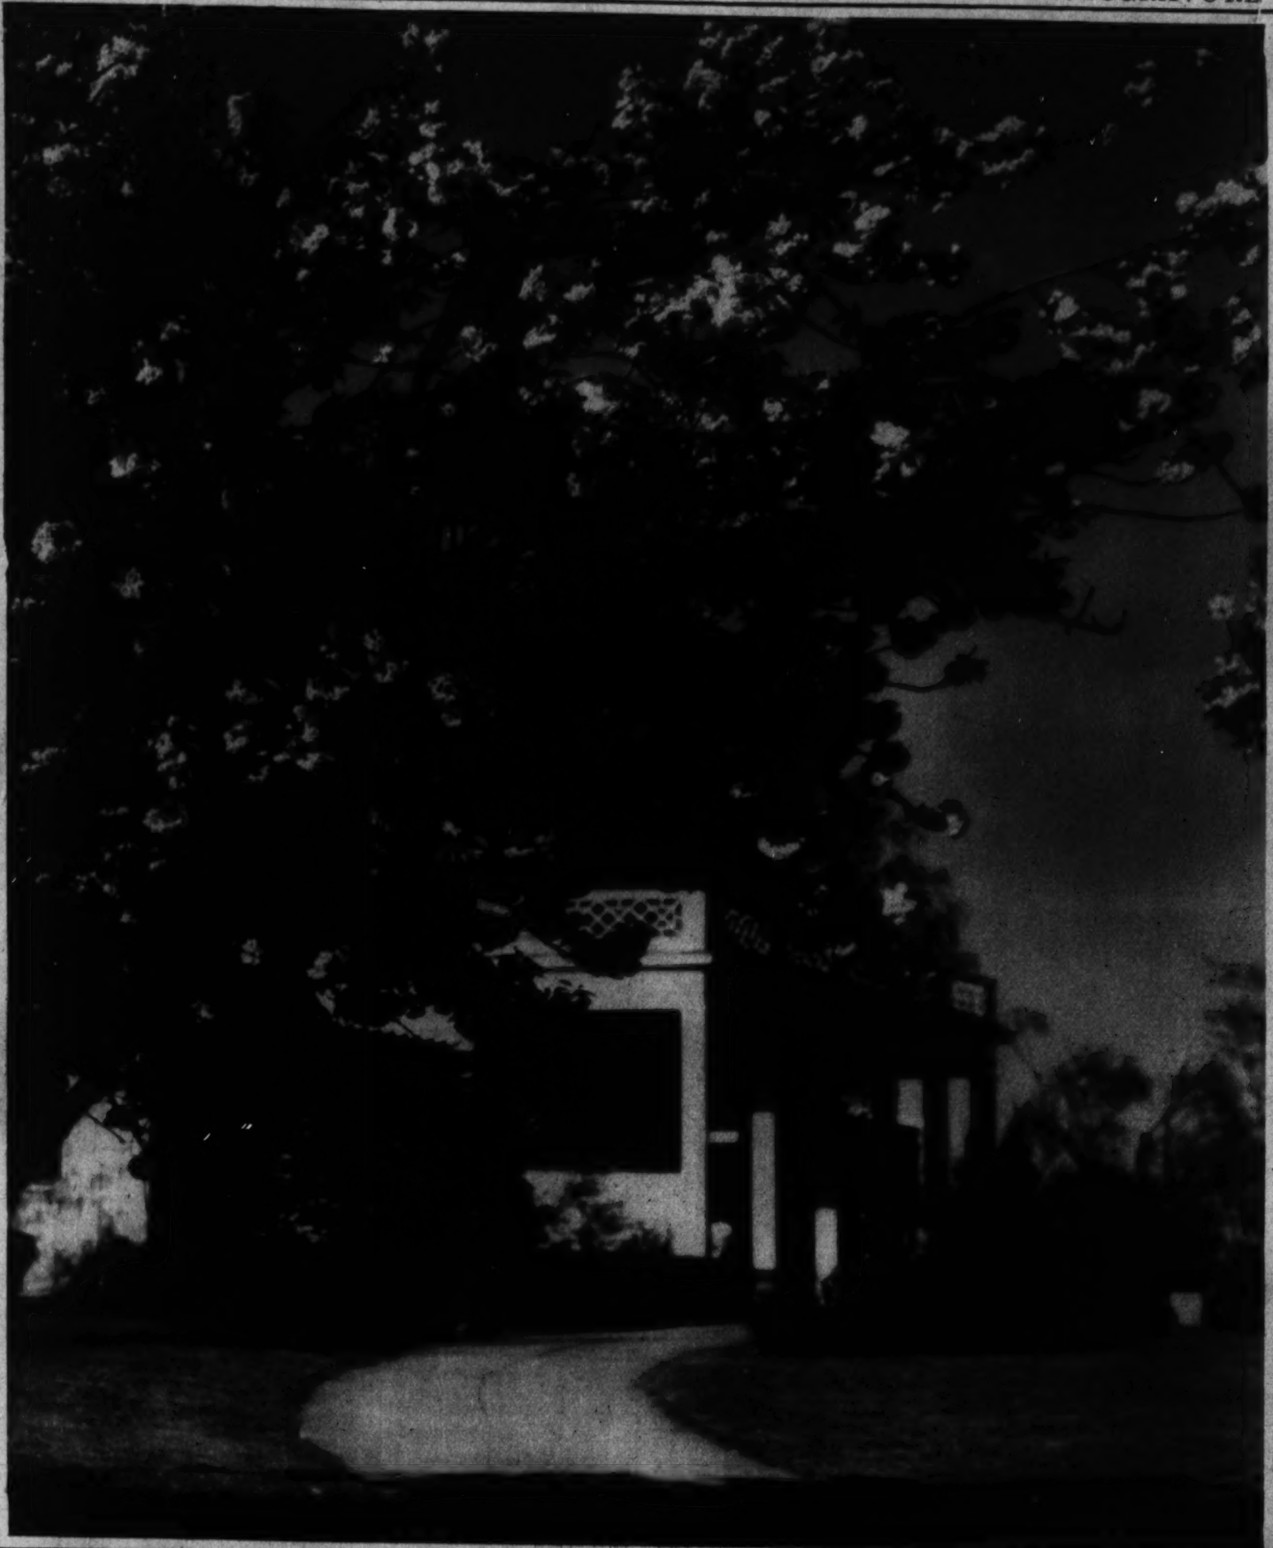
MAYOR WALKER WALKS. Mayor James J. Walker of New York City snapped leading the "beer for taxation" paraders, who numbered close to 100,000 marchers.
A. P.

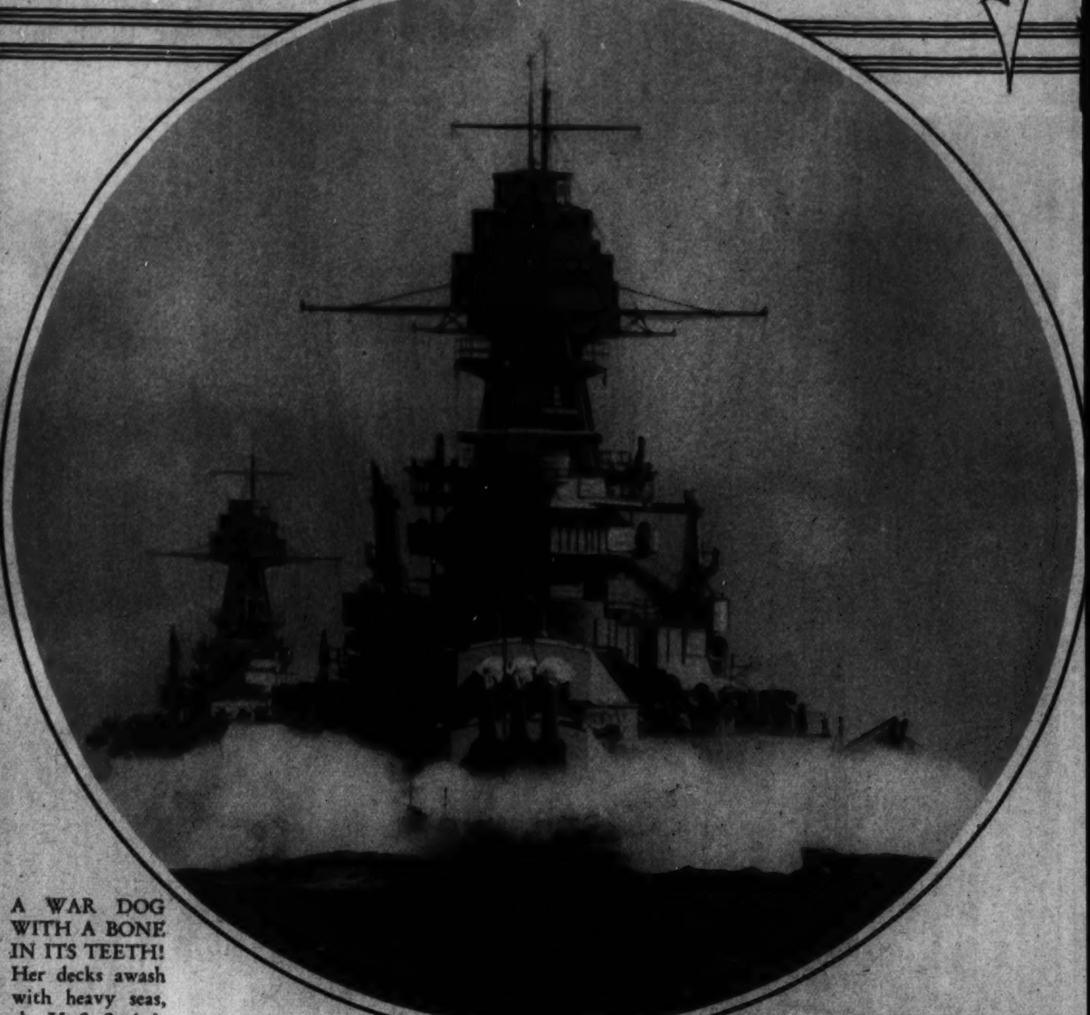
AT THE HORSE SHOW. Mrs. E. E. Gann, Mrs. Sydney Cloman and Melvin Hazen as they arrived at Bradley Farms for the National Capital Horse Show.
Underwood.

THE IRISH GUARDS PARADE. Left—Historic British regiment as they appeared in London on May 6 in a semidress rehearsal of the trooping of the colors ceremony for the king's birthday.
A. P.

CONFER WITH PRESIDENT ON RELIEF. Charles G. Dawes, head of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and Ogden Mills, Secretary of the Treasury, leaving the White House after an audience with the President.
A. P.

PRESENTED AT COURT. Miss Ella Uppercu, of New York City, one of the American women presented at the second British Court in London May 12.
A. P.



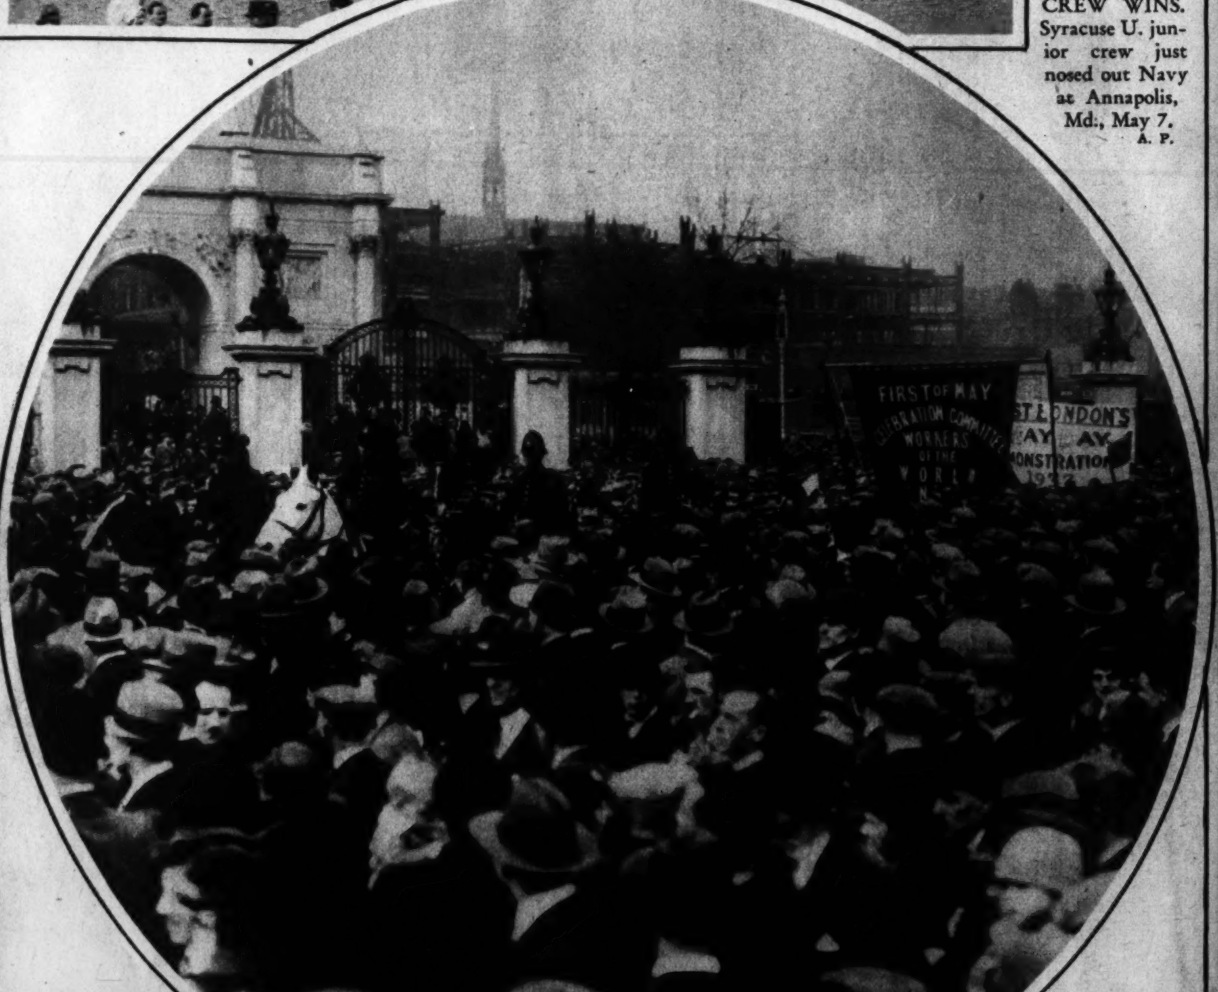


A WAR DOG WITH A BONE IN ITS TEETH! Her decks awash with heavy seas, the U. S. S. Arizona was recently snapped in some rough going en route from San Pedro to San Francisco, Calif. A. P.

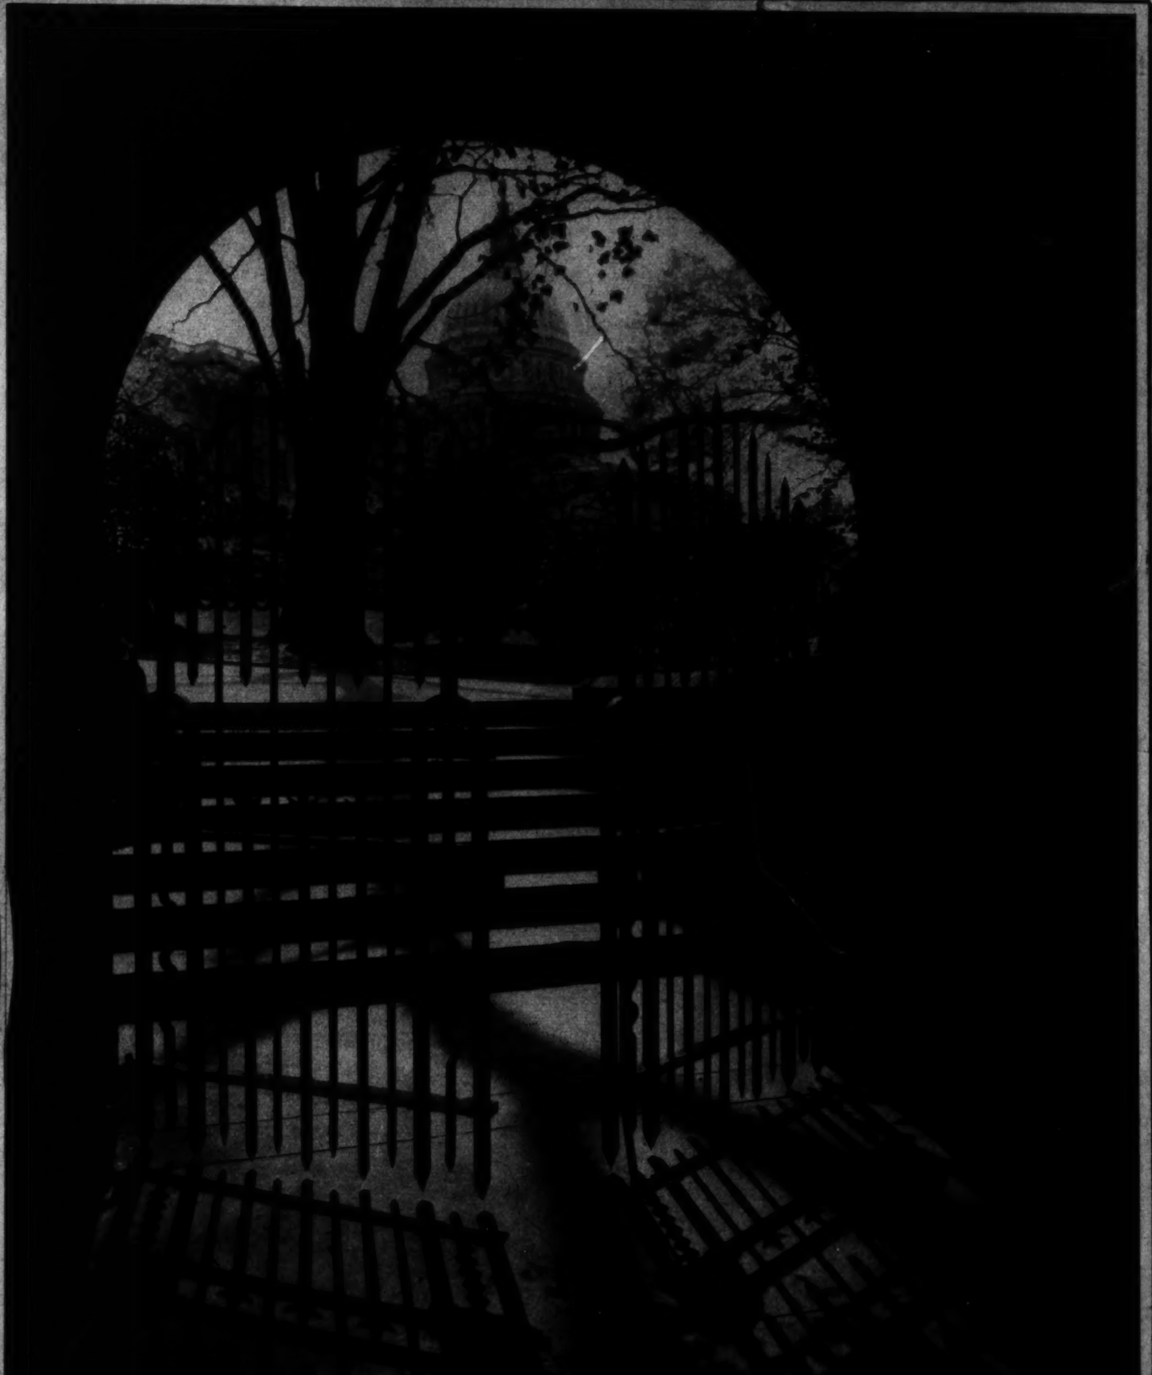
BACK FROM SOUTH SEAS. Douglas Fairbanks, Maria Alba and William Farnum as they arrived at San Francisco recently. A. P.

SPRINGTIME BEAUTY is reflected in this view of the double blossoms in full bloom about the pavilion at Hains Point. Horydczak.

JUNIOR CREW WINS. Syracuse U. junior crew just nosed out Navy at Annapolis, Md:, May 7. A. P.

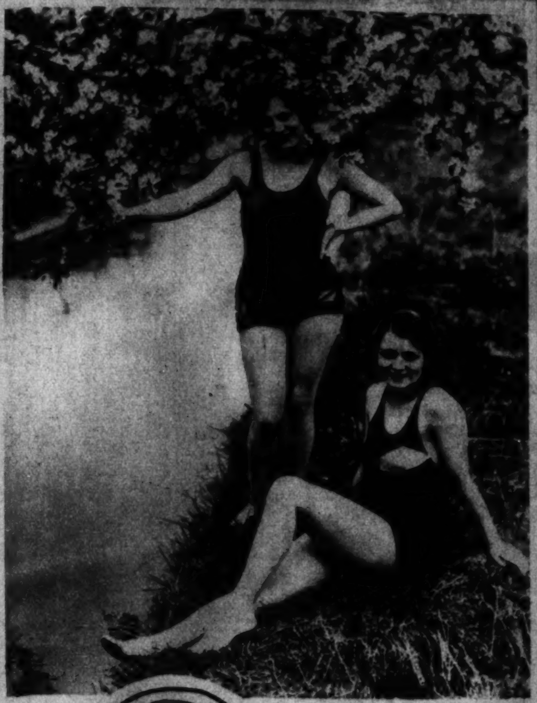


LONDON HAS ITS MAY-DAY DEMONSTRATION. Photograph shows the great crowds as they assembled from all sections for a march to Hyde Park, where they were addressed by prominent labor leaders. Disturbances were at a minimum. A. P.



A LITTLE NOTED BEAUTY SPOT OF THE NATION'S CAPITAL. A view of the U. S. Capitol Building through the iron gates of the grotto, where a bubbling spring slakes the thirst of the weary tourist and the dry of throat. Horydczak.

RAILS AWASH IN A SPANKING BREEZE! With a stiff northwest wind, ideal for San Francisco Bay yachting, the yachting season was recently ushered in by a marine parade past the U. S. fleet. A. P.

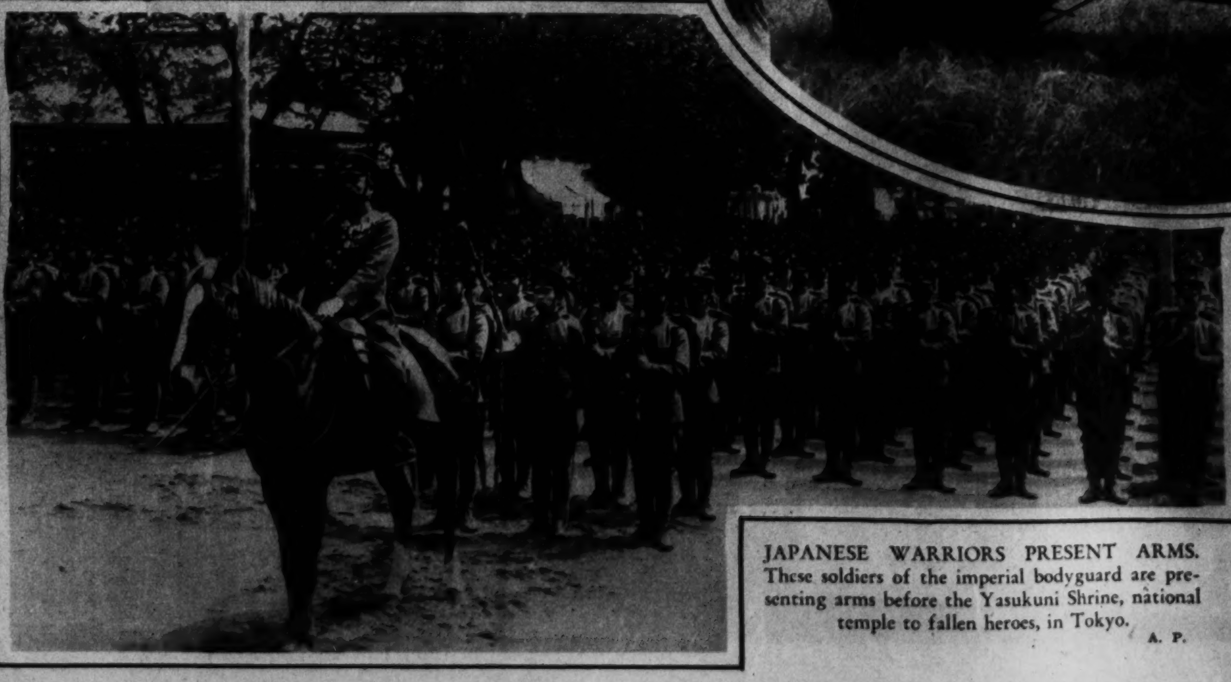


THE BLOOM OF YOUTH joins the blooms of the trees in the Wenatchee Valley appple country of Washington State. A. P.

LIZARDS ON THE LEASH. Miss Ilka Chase, New York society woman and actress, created a mild sensation when she recently went for a stroll on Broadway with these young fellows in tow. A. P.

AN AIR MARCH. Some of the 80 planes from the Army field at Riverside, Calif., flying in review at San Diego. Inset—The "flying barn door," one of two experimental combat monoplanes offered for approval of the U. S. Army. A. P.

MRS. HOWARD NORDLINGER, charming young Washington matron, resident in the Broadmoor. A. P.



JAPANESE WARRIORS PRESENT ARMS. These soldiers of the imperial bodyguard are presenting arms before the Yasukuni Shrine, national temple to fallen heroes, in Tokyo. A. P.

WHIZZING THROUGH MEXICO! For 36 hours these American lads struggled through so-called roads in northern Mexico, as shown above, and only progressed 40 miles. However, they finally completed a 9,500-mile round trip from Long Beach, Calif., to Mexico City.

PERSCREENALITIES!

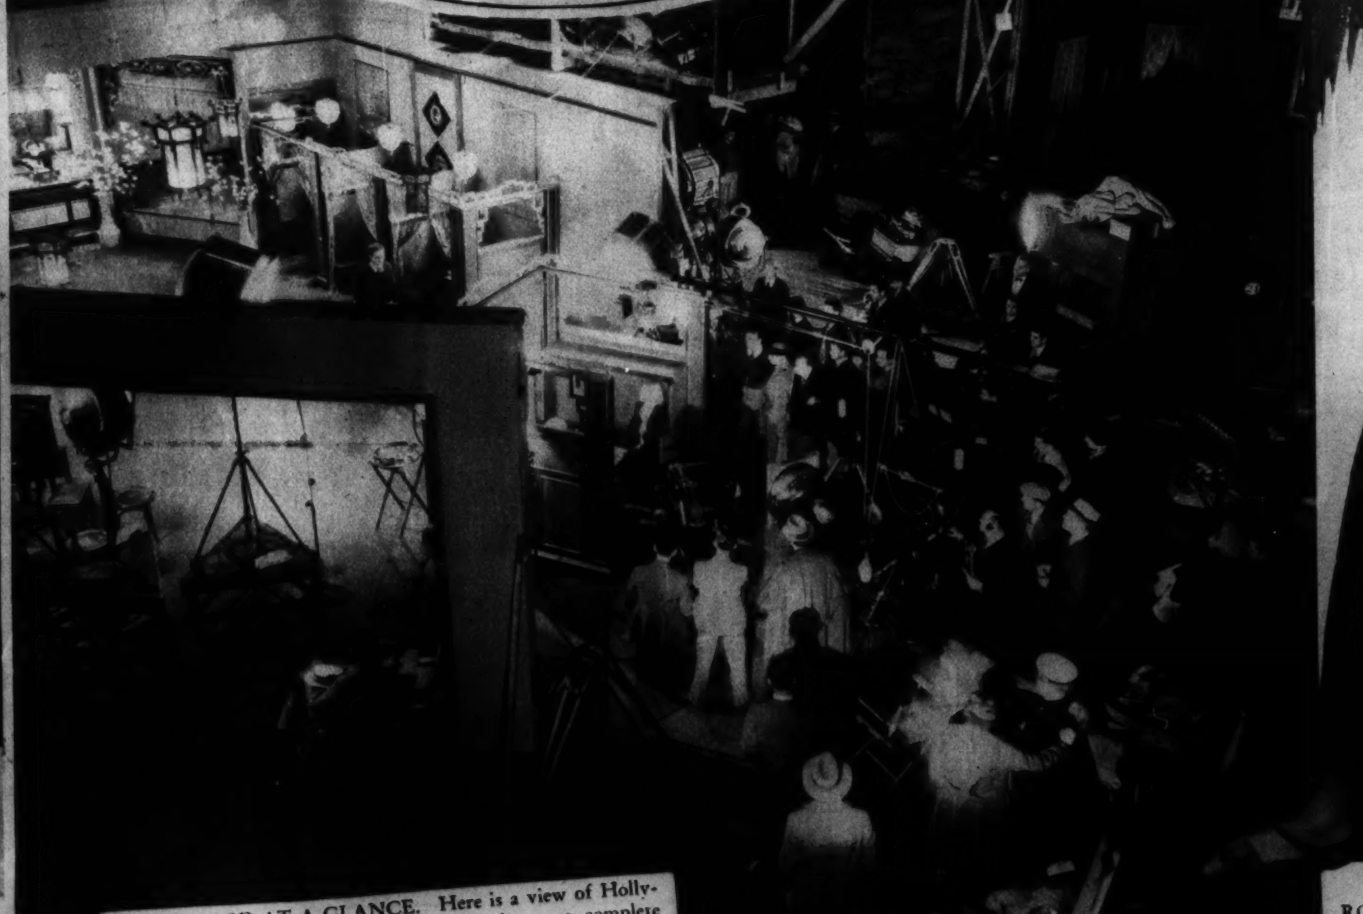
A UNIQUE PHOTOGRAPHIC STUDY of Edmund Lowe, one of the more suave of the screen's actors, in a character suggestive of an eerie sort of mystery which the cameraman has fully apprehended. Fox Photo.

A FALLING STARLET! The camera catches Arline Judge in an embarrassing off-stage moment on the RKO-Radio lot in Hollywood. Radio Photo.

A BLONDE BEAUTY. Apparently posing as a mantlepiece decoration, Adrienne Dore smiles for the cameraman and you. Warner Bros. Photo.

RECOGNIZE THIS OLD SOLDIER? Well then, it is Douglas Fairbanks, jr., when he was at military school. First National Photo.

EGGSHELL SATIN, appliqued with beige Chantilly lace—so they say. Rather fetching as worn by Evalyn Knapp, recently seen with George Arliss, don't you think? Warner Bros. Photo.



HOLLYWOOD AT A GLANCE. Here is a view of Hollywood that no tourist ever saw—one of the most complete "working set" pictures ever made. It is for "Roar of the Dragon," starring Richard Dix. Radio Photo.

ROMANCE IN HAWAII. Dolores Del Rio and Joel McCrea in a scene from "The Bird of Paradise." RKO-Radio Photo.

WILL THOSE "DUDES" FROM THE EAST NEVER SHOW UP? A bear cub in pensive mood patiently awaits the opening of the tourist season in a tree near the canyon in Yellowstone National Park.

Nor. Pac. Ry., by Wm. Bull.

FAMOUS SPIRE GIVEN SPRING CLEANING. Workmen photographed hundreds of feet above Broadway, New York, as they polish the peak of the once-celebrated Woolworth tower.

A. P.

A WOMAN MAKES SENATE HISTORY. Mrs. Hattie W. Caraway, senator from Arkansas, is the first woman ever to preside over its deliberations.

A. P.

BEFORE THE TROUBLE STARTED. The U. S. S. Akron, America's queen of the air, as she got away from her hangar at Lakehurst, N. J., en route to the Pacific Coast to join the fleet in maneuvers.

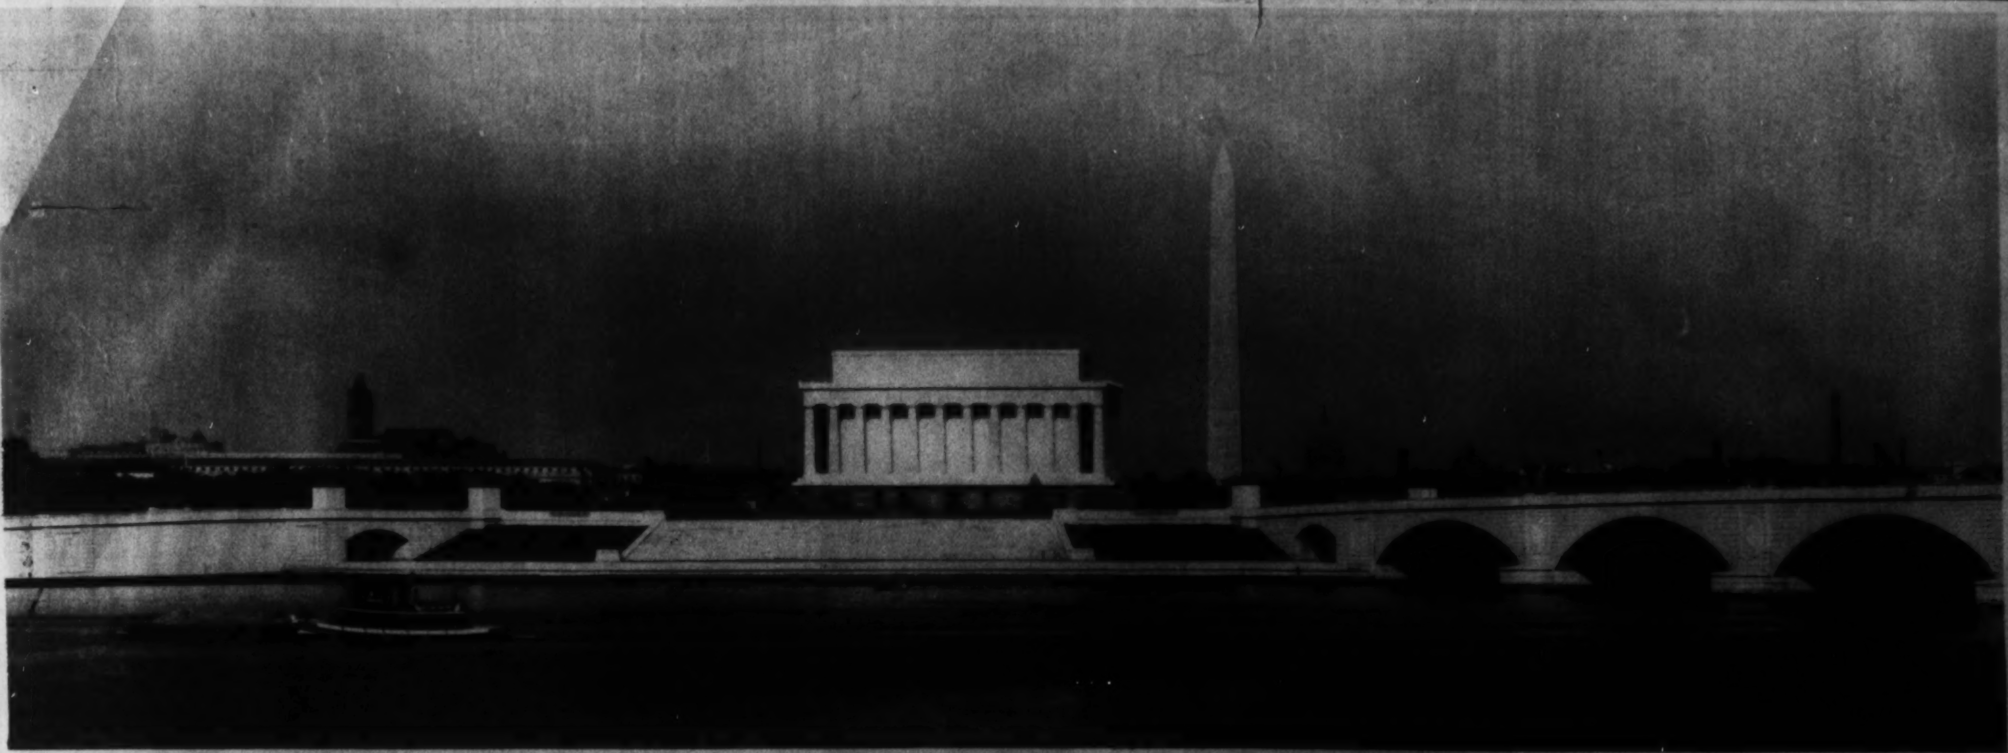
A. P.

PLEADS CAUSE BEFORE SENATE JUDICIARY COMMITTEE. Mrs. Margaret Sanger, internationally known birth control advocate, mapping plans for legislative approval of pending birth control bills.

Harris & Ewing.

PAY HONOR TO THE MEMORY OF THE FIRST PRESIDENT. A general view of the pilgrimage of the Order of the Eastern Star to Mount Vernon and the Tomb of George Washington, the Bicentennial of whose birth is being celebrated throughout the land.

Buckingham Photo.



A GLIMPSE OF THE NATIONAL CAPITAL FROM COLUMBIA ISLAND IN THE POTOMAC. At right is the newly completed Washington Memorial Bridge; center, the Lincoln Memorial and its watergate approach. In background, left to right, P. O. Department tower, Washington Monument and U. S. Capitol.

Photo by Walter Johnson.

FOR SIAMESE DANCE. Lester Shafer in headdress he created for one of his recital numbers at Wardman Park May 27.

H. & E.

GEORGE WASHINGTON U. GLEE CLUB of mixed voices to be heard at the Willard Hotel, Tuesday night, under Dr. R. H. Harmon, second row center.

WATCHING THEM RUN. Katherine Givney and Ona Munson, of the National Theater Players, are race fans.

THE DEPARTMENT STORE LEAGUE GETS GOING

Photos by Tenschert

DEPARTMENT STORE BASEBALL LEAGUE
HECHT'S – 1932

HECHT AND COMPANY is represented by this well-balanced outfit.

S. KANN SONS CO. has this team in the field to scramble for percentage.

Department Store Baseball League
Palais Royal – 1932

THE PALAIS ROYAL relies on this squad to win its share of games.

LANSBURGH'S
1932
BASEBALL TEAM

LANSBURGH'S has a fast team in the field with a feminine mascot over to the left.

Copenhaver
SOCIETY
ENGRAVERS AND STATIONERS
1521 Connecticut Avenue Washington, D.C.

AT THE HOUSE OF EMILE
Quality Far Exceeds The Price
In Addition to A Building Devoted to Beauty Culture in Its Entirety
The Famous Emile Process
—the permanent that has pleased thousands of Washingtonians—we offer—
Emile
10 Other Methods for Your Selection
The Originator of Permanent Waving in Washington
1221 Connecticut Ave.
Decatur [illegible] to [illegible]

Since 1843
6 Beverage Flavors
FULL 32-OUNCE QUART 10¢ CONTENTS
Orange—Lime—Sarsaparilla
Lemon—Root Beer—Grape
ALL Purified by Ultra Violet Rays
PALMER
Buy by the Case!
Enjoy the economy of PALMER Beverages by keeping a case of 12 bottles on hand. Ask for PALMER Beverages by name—products of Washington's oldest bottlers.
Pale Dry and Golden Ginger Ale

THOMPSON'S HEALTH BABY
No. 582
Charlene Frances Cummins,
Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. F. Cummins, Jr., 816 11th st. N.E.
Clinedinst Photo
THOMPSON'S DAIRY
[illegible] 1400

Dr. A. Sommerwerck
1365 Columbia Road N.W.
Adams 0388
[illegible]

Private Office of Mr. J. D. Marsh, Manager, Mutual Benefit Health and Accident Association of Omaha, Barr Building. Furnished by THE W. D. CAMPBELL COMPANY
1022 15th St. N.W. 1506 L St. N.W.
Business Furniture and Equipment
Decorators of Commercial Interiors
Free Parking: Investment Building Garage

Gude's
Phone Nat. 4278
Four Flower Stores for Your Convenience
Flowers for Every Occasion!

New Treatment RELIEVES PAIN
SAFELY REMOVES CORNS

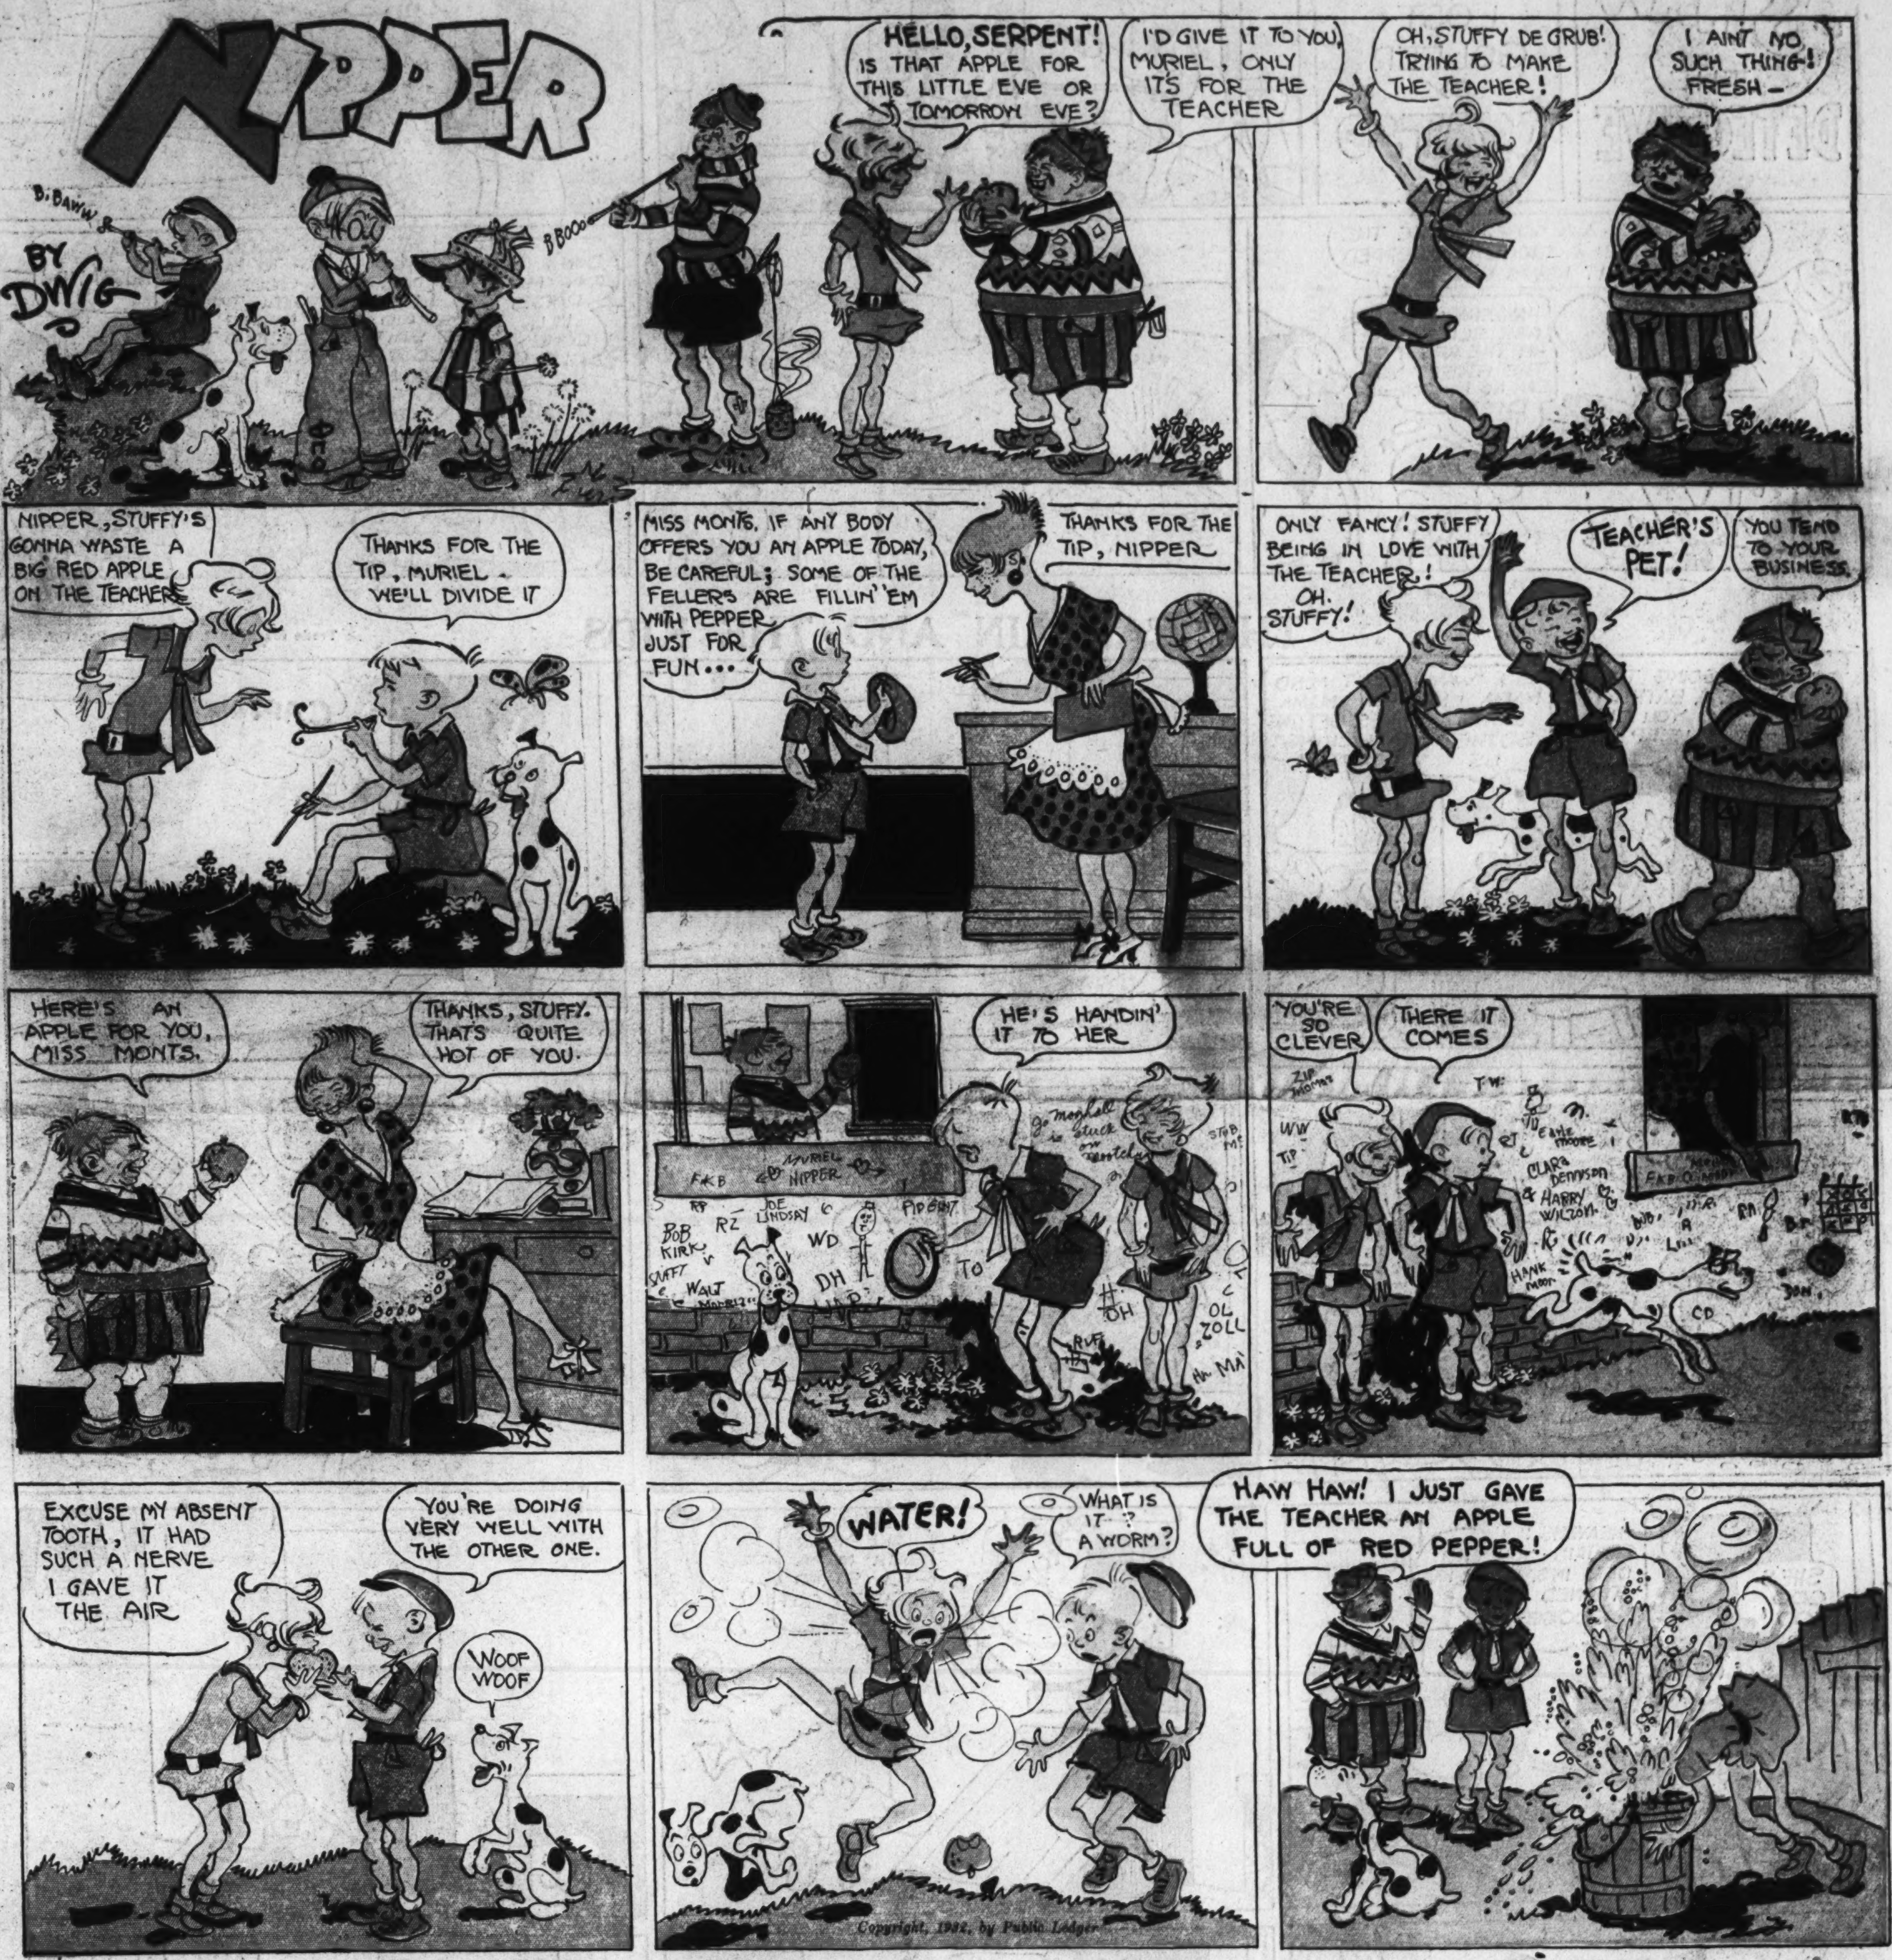
NEW DOUBLE-ACTING TREATMENT—100% SAFE!
In one minute you will be completely relieved of pain and in two days loosen and remove your corns or callouses with absolute safety! These are the remarkable benefits you enjoy by using Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads with the new Medicated Disks, now included at no extra cost! Millions have adopted this new double-acting, double-value treatment. Why be without this sure relief which Doctors everywhere recommend? At all drug, dept., shoe stores. Cost but a trifle.
Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads

8 PAGES OF COMICS

The Washington Post.

Sunday, May 22, 1932.

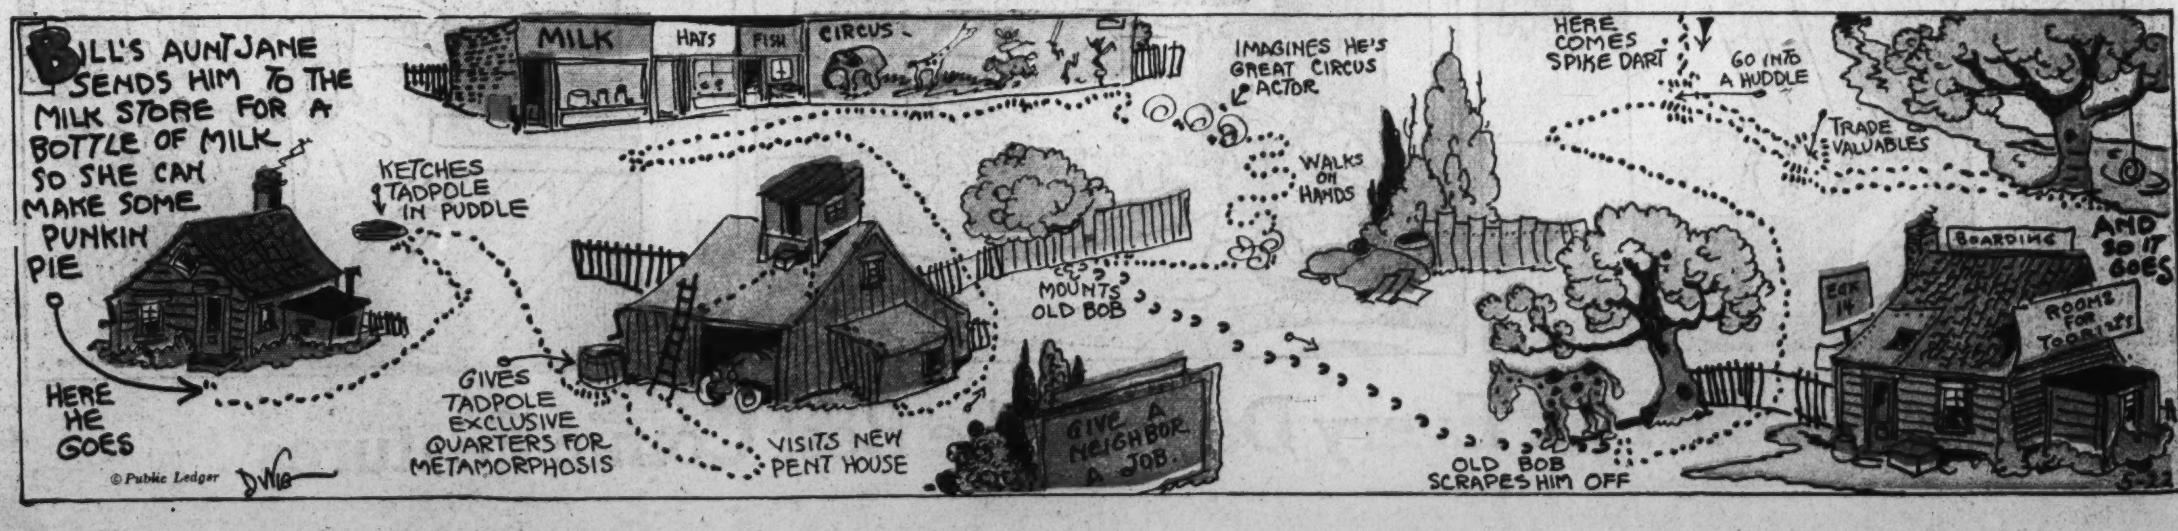
8 PAGES OF COMICS



NIPPER
BY DWIG
B-BAWW
BBOOO
HELLO, SERPENT! IS THAT APPLE FOR THIS LITTLE EVE OR TOMORROW EVE?
I'D GIVE IT TO YOU, MURIEL, ONLY IT'S FOR THE TEACHER
OH, STUFFY DE GRUB! TRYING TO MAKE THE TEACHER!
I AINT NO SUCH THING! FRESH—
NIPPER, STUFFY'S GONNA WASTE A BIG RED APPLE ON THE TEACHER
THANKS FOR THE TIP, MURIEL. WE'LL DIVIDE IT
MISS MONTS, IF ANY BODY OFFERS YOU AN APPLE TODAY, BE CAREFUL; SOME OF THE FELLERS ARE FILLIN' 'EM WITH PEPPER JUST FOR FUN...
THANKS FOR THE TIP, NIPPER
ONLY FANCY! STUFFY BEING IN LOVE WITH THE TEACHER! OH, STUFFY!
TEACHER'S PET!
YOU TEND TO YOUR BUSINESS
HERE'S AN APPLE FOR YOU, MISS MONTS.
THANKS, STUFFY. THAT'S QUITE HOT OF YOU.
HE'S HANDIN' IT TO HER
MURIEL
NIPPER
FKB
JOE LINDSAY
BOB KIRK
WALT
YOU'RE SO CLEVER
THERE IT COMES
CLARA DENNISON & HARRY WILSON
HANK MOOR
EXCUSE MY ABSENT TOOTH, IT HAD SUCH A NERVE I GAVE IT THE AIR
YOU'RE DOING VERY WELL WITH THE OTHER ONE.
WOOF WOOF
WATER!
WHAT IS IT? A WORM?
HAW HAW! I JUST GAVE THE TEACHER AN APPLE FULL OF RED PEPPER!

Copyright, 1932, by Public Ledger

Footprints on the Sands of Time



BILL'S AUNT JANE SENDS HIM TO THE MILK STORE FOR A BOTTLE OF MILK SO SHE CAN MAKE SOME PUNKIN PIE
HERE HE GOES
MILK
HATS
FISH
CIRCUS
KETCHES TADPOLE IN PUDDLE
GIVES TADPOLE EXCLUSIVE QUARTERS FOR METAMORPHOSIS
VISITS NEW PENT HOUSE
MOUNTS OLD BOB
GIVE A NEIGHBOR A JOB.
IMAGINES HE'S GREAT CIRCUS ACTOR WALKS ON HANDS
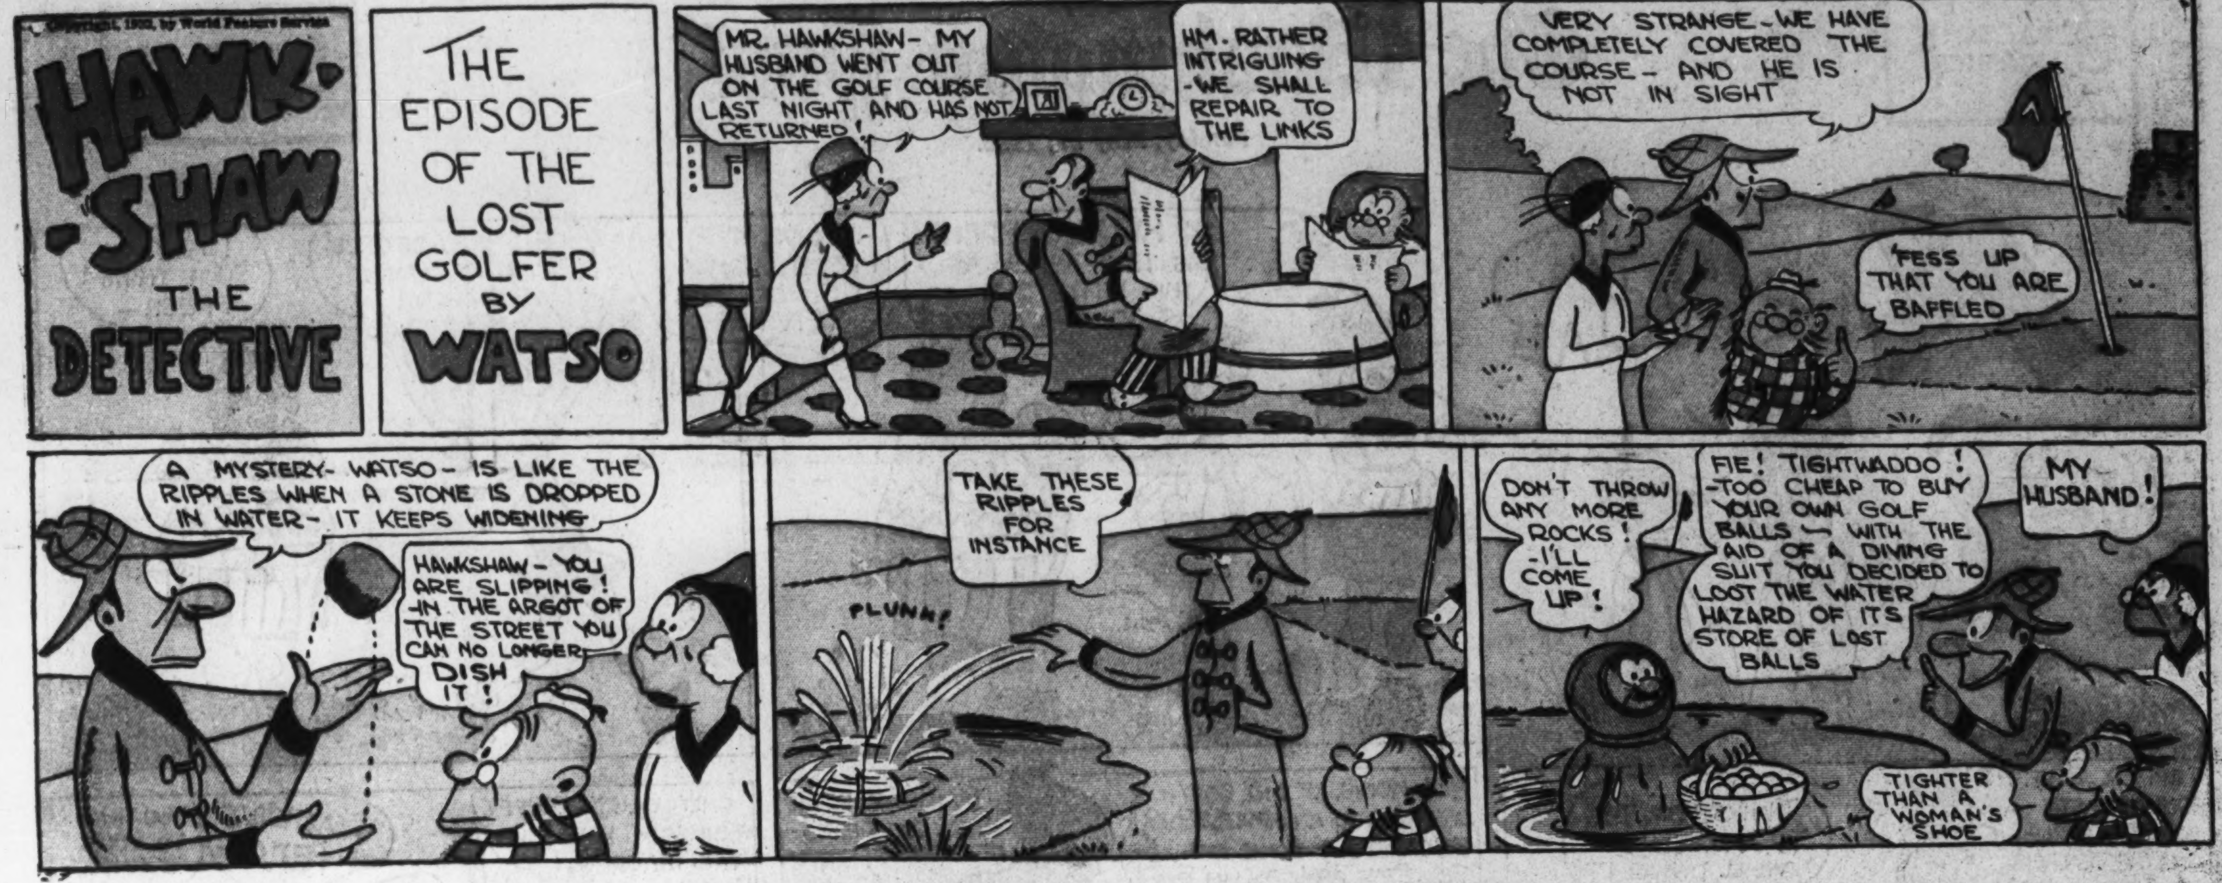
HERE COMES SPIKE DART
GO INTO A HUDDLE
TRADE VALUABLES
OLD BOB SCRAPES HIM OFF
EGG 14
BOARDING
ROOMS FOR TOORISTS
AND SO IT GOES
DWIG
5-22

© Public Ledger



Copyright, 1932, by World Feature Service
HAWK-SHAW THE DETECTIVE
THE EPISODE OF THE LOST GOLFER BY WATSO
MR. HAWKSHAW- MY HUSBAND WENT OUT ON THE GOLF COURSE LAST NIGHT AND HAS NOT RETURNED!
HM. RATHER INTRIGUING -WE SHALL REPAIR TO THE LINKS
VERY STRANGE-WE HAVE COMPLETELY COVERED THE COURSE- AND HE IS NOT IN SIGHT
'FESS UP THAT YOU ARE BAFFLED
A MYSTERY- WATSO- IS LIKE THE RIPPLES WHEN A STONE IS DROPPED IN WATER- IT KEEPS WIDENING HAWKSHAW- YOU ARE SLIPPING! -IN THE ARGOT OF THE STREET YOU CAN NO LONGER DISH IT!
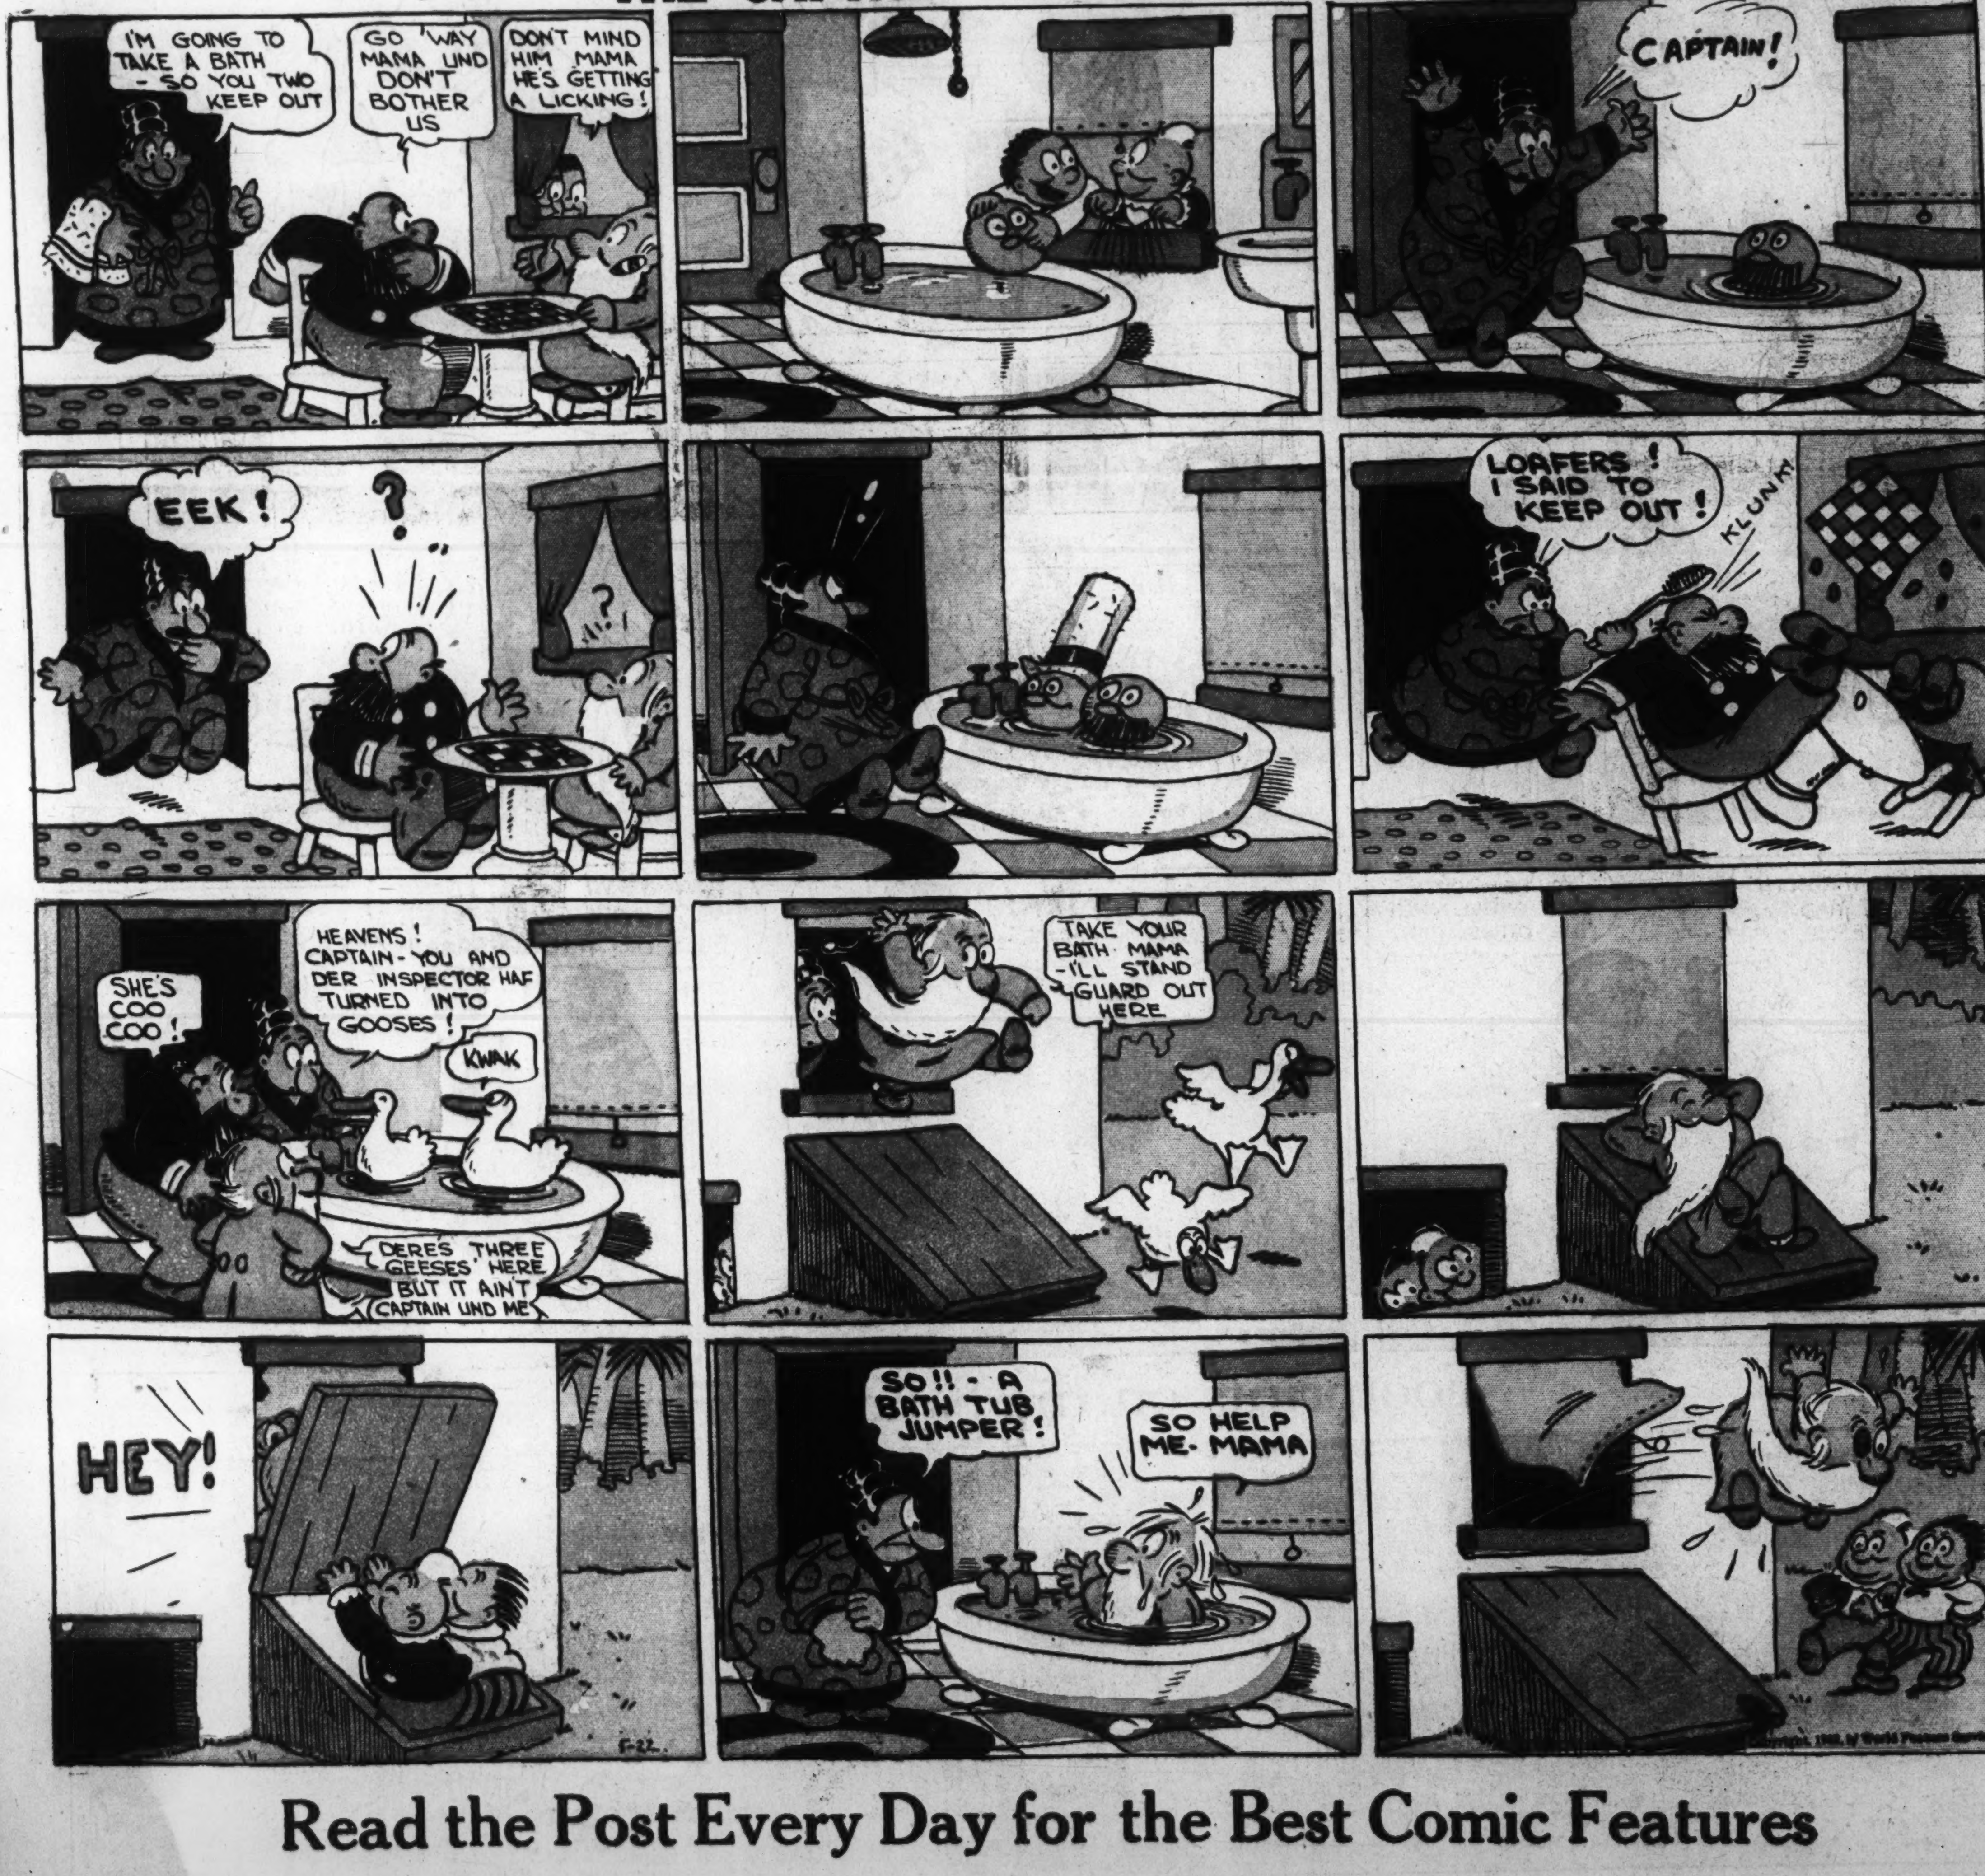
TAKE THESE RIPPLES FOR INSTANCE
PLUNK!
DON'T THROW ANY MORE ROCKS! -I'LL COME UP!
FIE! TIGHTWADDO! -TOO CHEAP TO BUY YOUR OWN GOLF BALLS — WITH THE AID OF A DIVING SUIT YOU DECIDED TO LOOT THE WATER HAZARD OF ITS STORE OF LOST BALLS
MY HUSBAND!
TIGHTER THAN A WOMAN'S SHOE

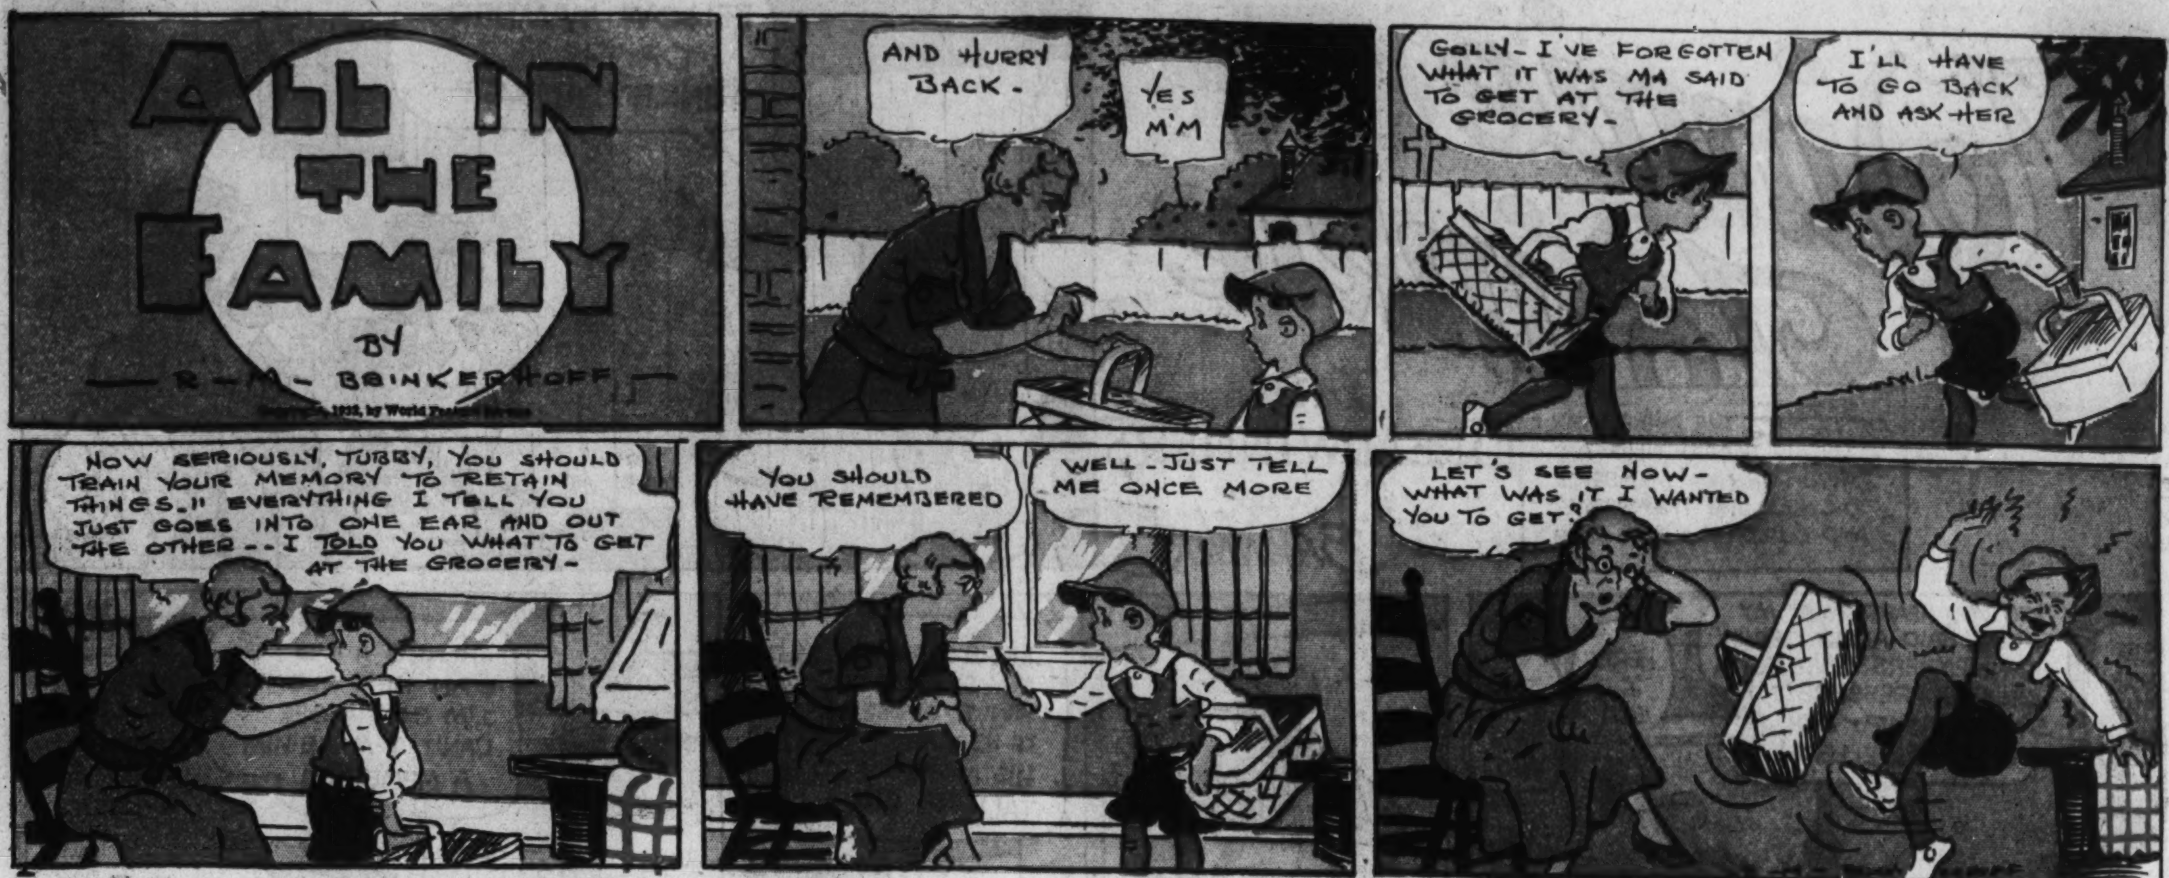
THE CAPTAIN AND THE KIDS

Trade Mark, 1932, Reg U S. Pat. Off.



I'M GOING TO TAKE A BATH - SO YOU TWO KEEP OUT
GO 'WAY MAMA UND DON'T BOTHER US
DON'T MIND HIM MAMA HE'S GETTING A LICKING!
CAPTAIN!
EEK!
?
?
LOAFERS! I SAID TO KEEP OUT!
KLUNK!
SHE'S COO COO!
HEAVENS! CAPTAIN- YOU AND DER INSPECTOR HAF TURNED INTO GOOSES!
KWAK
DERE'S THREE GEESES HERE BUT IT AIN'T CAPTAIN UND ME
TAKE YOUR BATH MAMA -I'LL STAND GUARD OUT HERE
HEY!
5-22.
SO!! - A BATH TUB JUMPER!
SO HELP ME- MAMA
Copyright, 1932, by World Feature Service

Read the Post Every Day for the Best Comic Features

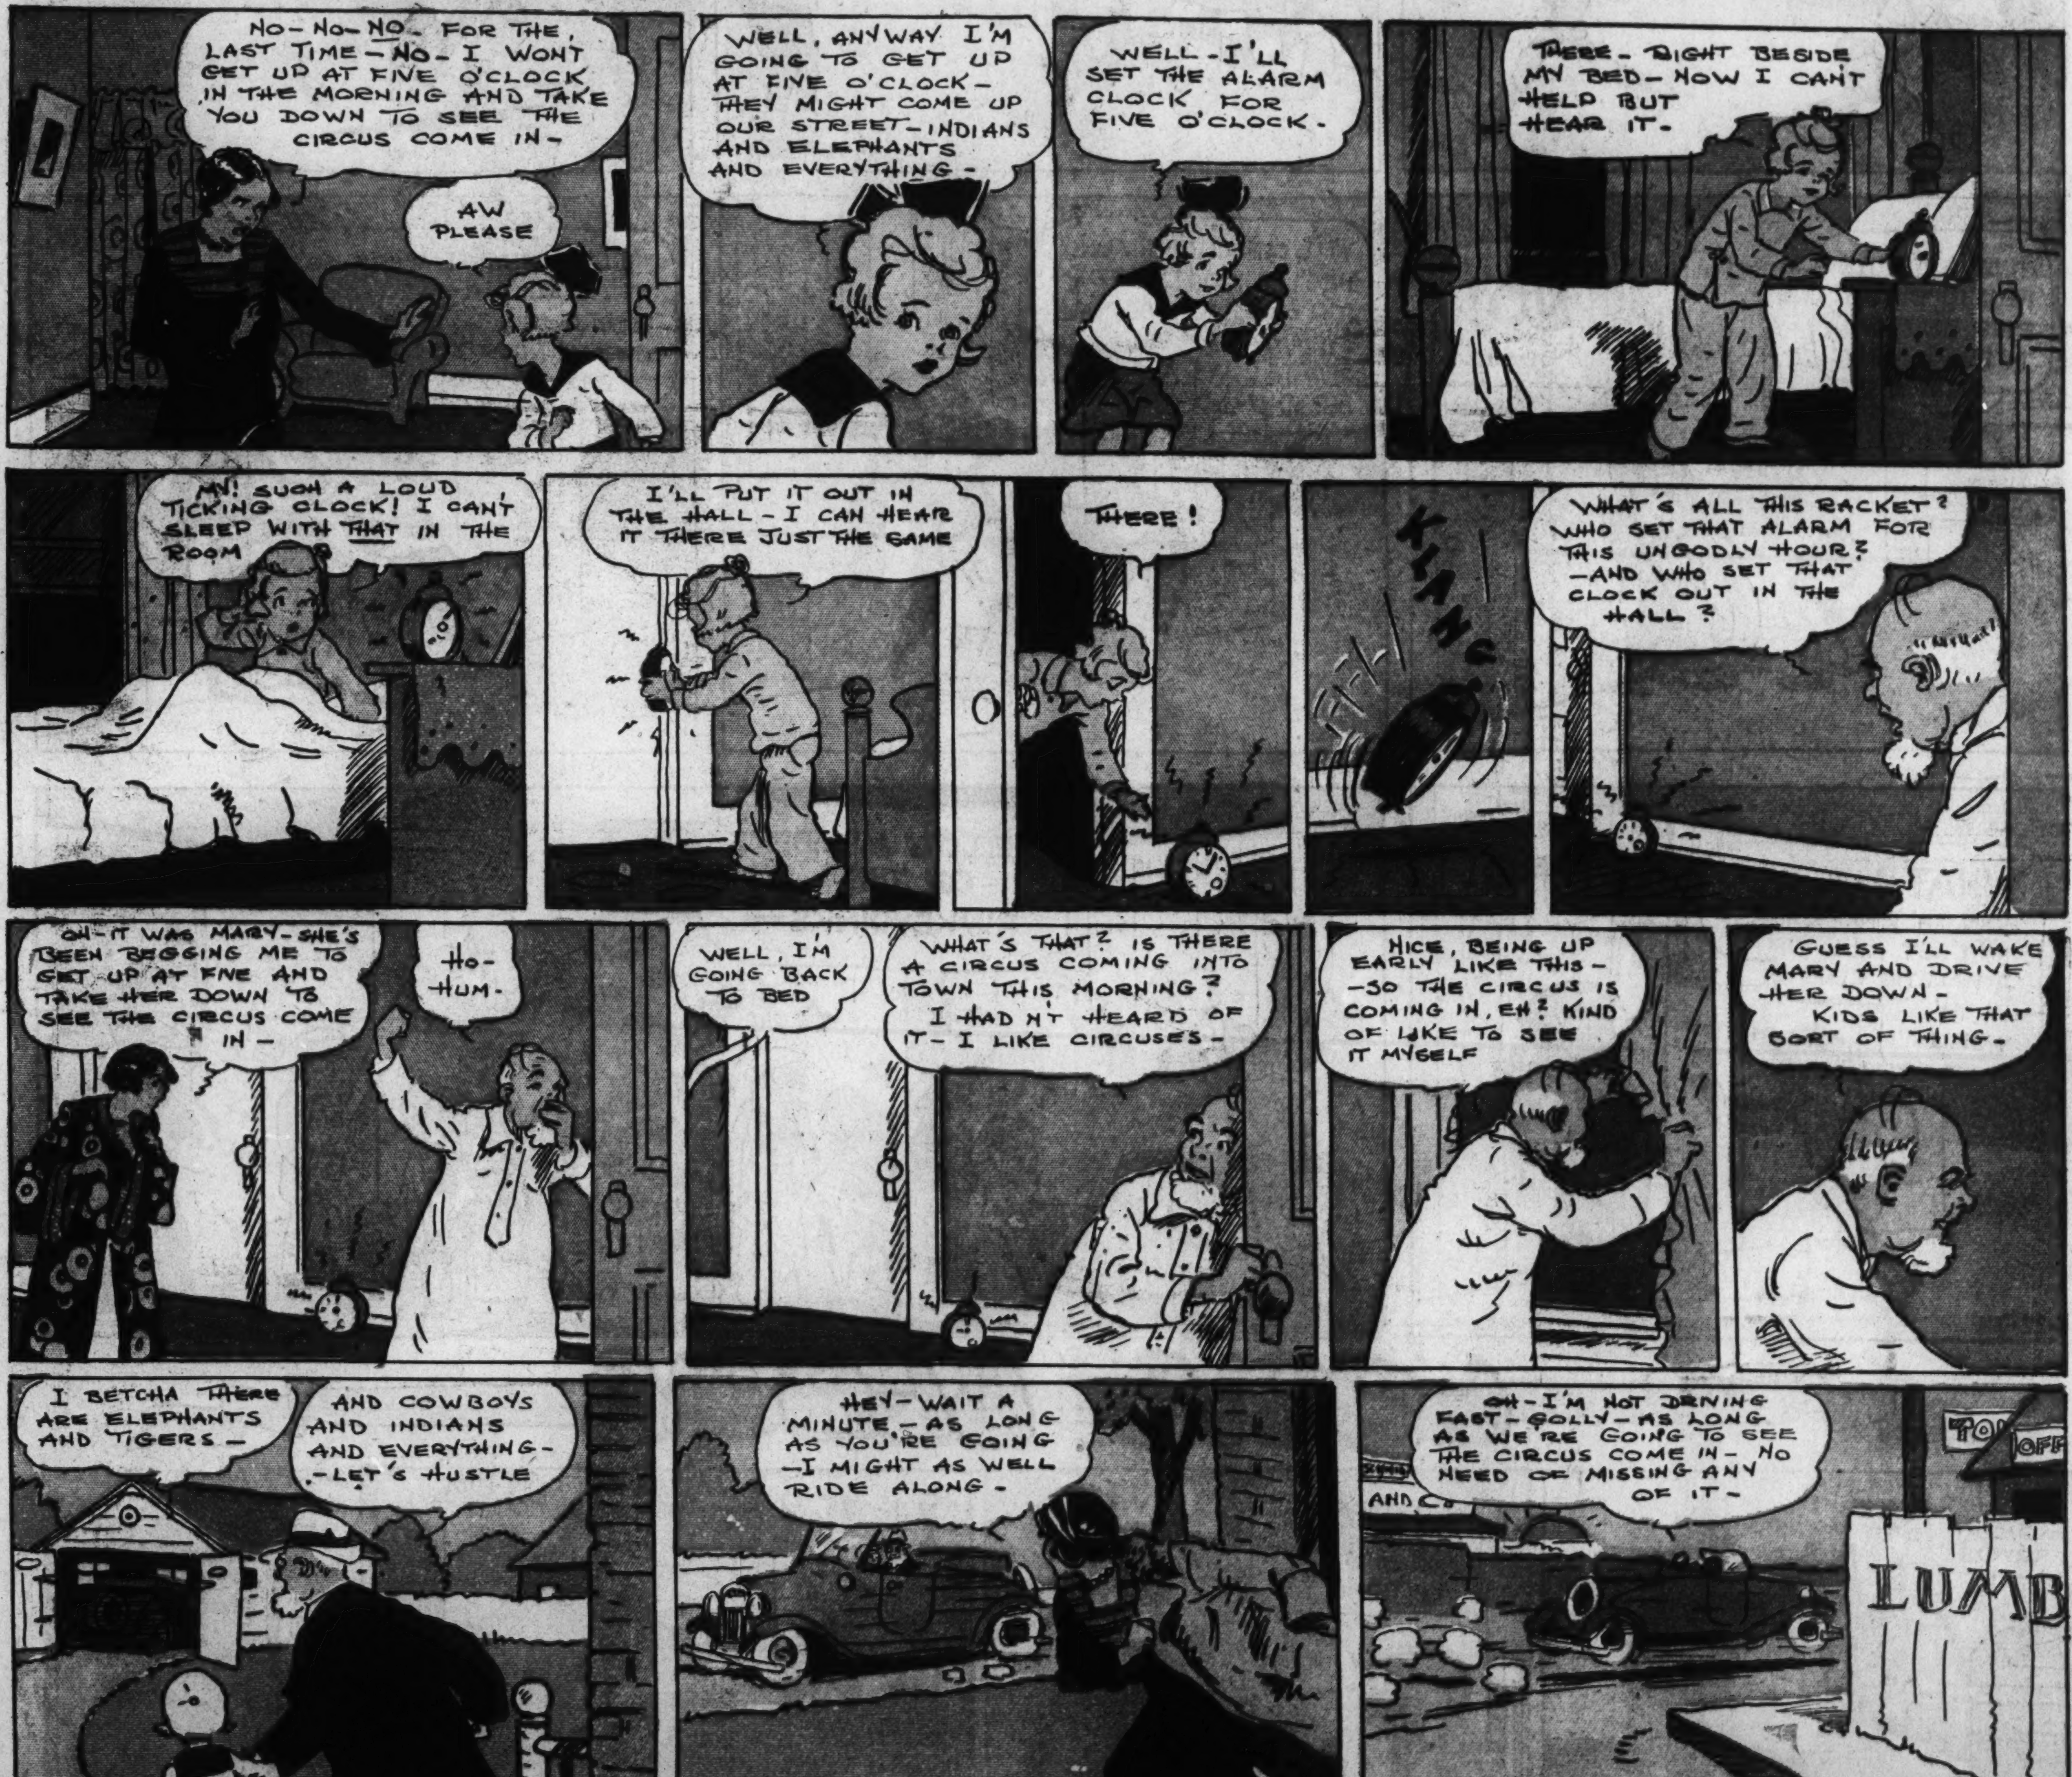


ALL IN THE FAMILY
BY
R-M- BRINKERHOFF
1932, by World
AND HURRY BACK -
YES M'M
GOLLY - I'VE FORGOTTEN WHAT IT WAS MA SAID TO GET AT THE GROCERY -
I'LL HAVE TO GO BACK AND ASK HER
NOW SERIOUSLY, TUBBY, YOU SHOULD TRAIN YOUR MEMORY TO RETAIN THINGS - EVERYTHING I TELL YOU JUST GOES INTO ONE EAR AND OUT THE OTHER - - I TOLD YOU WHAT TO GET AT THE GROCERY -
YOU SHOULD HAVE REMEMBERED
WELL - JUST TELL ME ONCE MORE
LET'S SEE NOW - WHAT WAS IT I WANTED YOU TO GET?

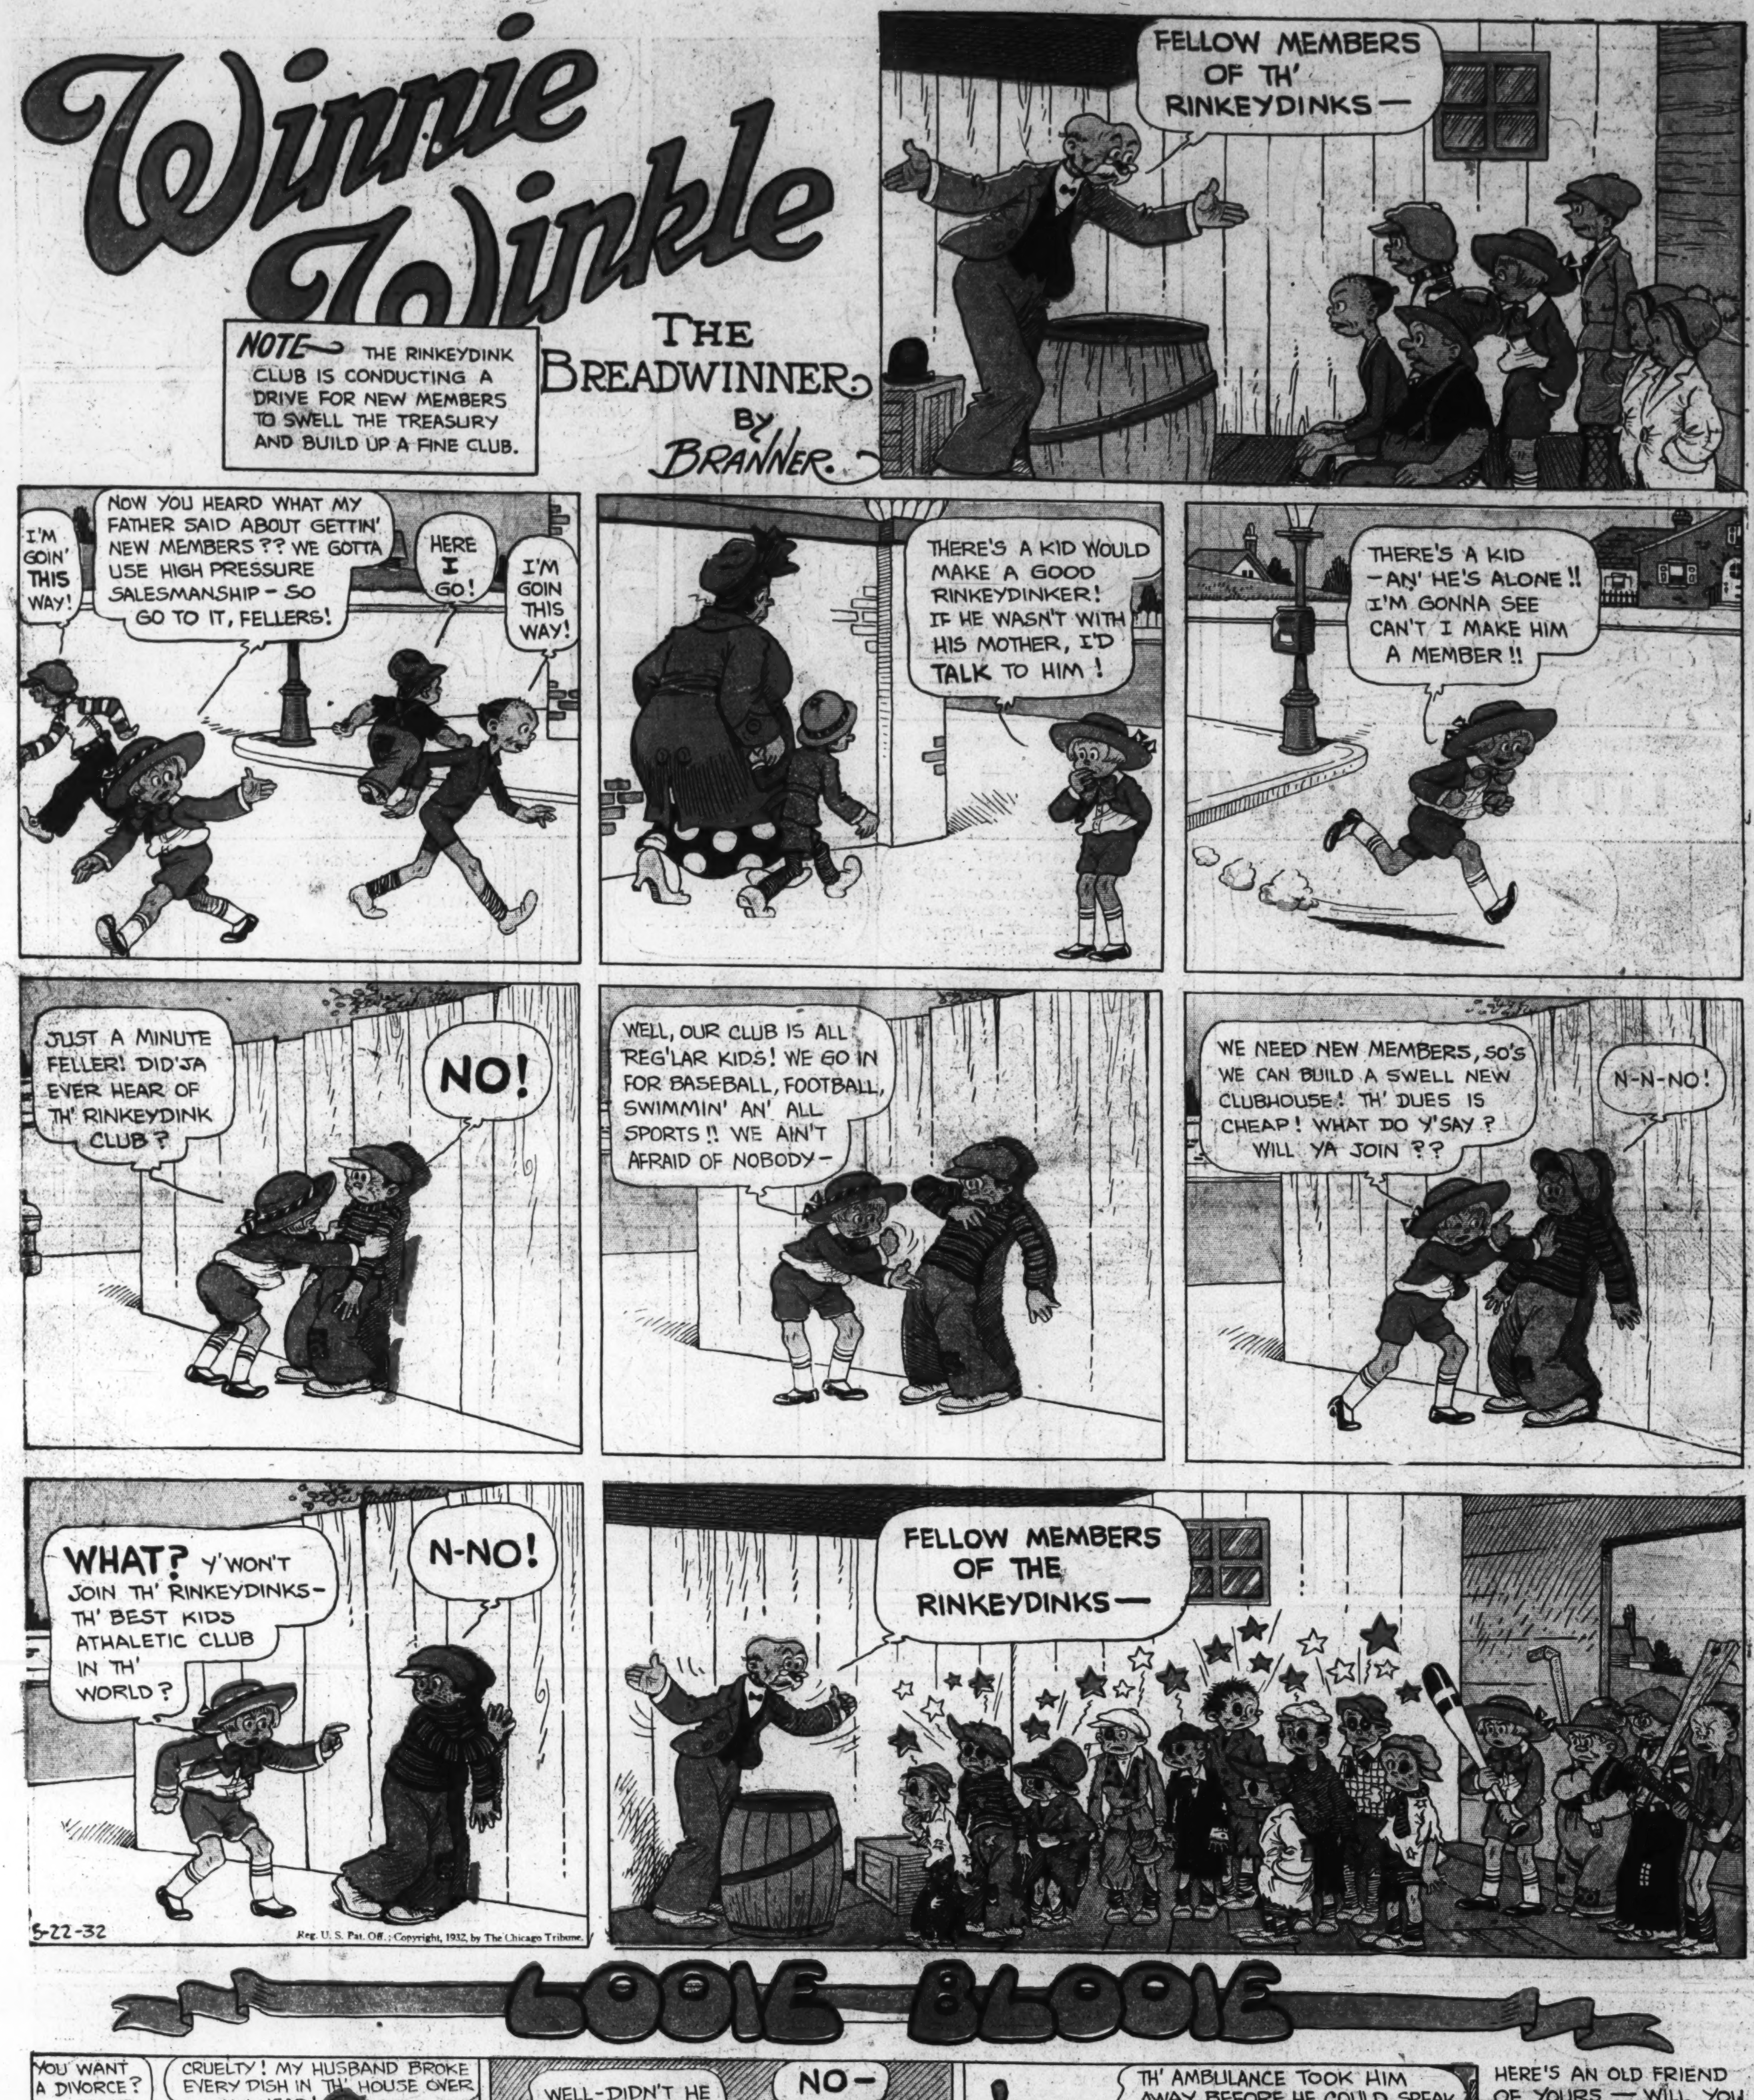
LITTLE MARY MIXUP

Trade Mark, 1932, Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

By R. M. Brinkerhoff

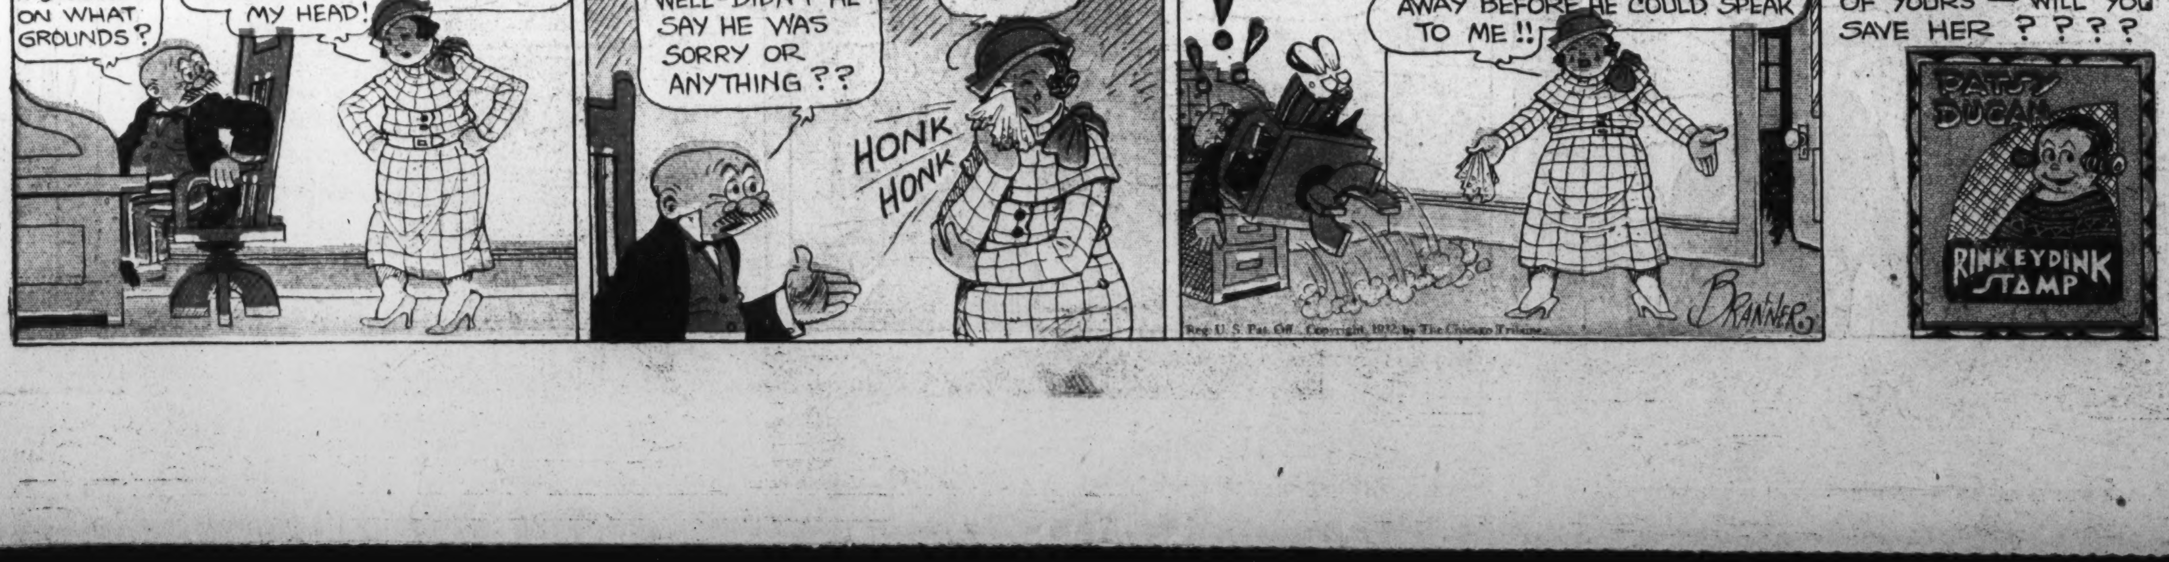


NO - NO - NO - FOR THE, LAST TIME - NO - I WON'T GET UP AT FIVE O'CLOCK IN THE MORNING AND TAKE YOU DOWN TO SEE THE CIRCUS COME IN -
AW PLEASE
WELL, ANYWAY I'M GOING TO GET UP AT FIVE O'CLOCK - THEY MIGHT COME UP OUR STREET - INDIANS AND ELEPHANTS AND EVERYTHING -
WELL - I'LL SET THE ALARM CLOCK FOR FIVE O'CLOCK -
THERE - RIGHT BESIDE MY BED - NOW I CAN'T HELP BUT HEAR IT -
MY! SUCH A LOUD TICKING CLOCK! I CAN'T SLEEP WITH THAT IN THE ROOM
I'LL PUT IT OUT IN THE HALL - I CAN HEAR IT THERE JUST THE SAME
THERE!
KLANG
WHAT'S ALL THIS RACKET? WHO SET THAT ALARM FOR THIS UNGODLY HOUR? - AND WHO SET THAT CLOCK OUT IN THE HALL?
OH - IT WAS MARY - SHE'S BEEN BEGGING ME TO GET UP AT FIVE AND TAKE HER DOWN TO SEE THE CIRCUS COME IN -
HO-HUM -
WELL, I'M GOING BACK TO BED
WHAT'S THAT? IS THERE A CIRCUS COMING INTO TOWN THIS MORNING? I HAD N'T HEARD OF IT - I LIKE CIRCUSES -
NICE, BEING UP EARLY LIKE THIS - - SO THE CIRCUS IS COMING IN, EH? KIND OF LIKE TO SEE IT MYSELF
GUESS I'LL WAKE MARY AND DRIVE HER DOWN - KIDS LIKE THAT SORT OF THING -
I BETCHA THERE ARE ELEPHANTS AND TIGERS -
AND COWBOYS AND INDIANS AND EVERYTHING - - LET'S HUSTLE
HEY - WAIT A MINUTE - AS LONG AS YOU'RE GOING - I MIGHT AS WELL RIDE ALONG -
OH - I'M NOT DRIVING FAST - GOLLY - AS LONG AS WE'RE GOING TO SEE THE CIRCUS COME IN - NO NEED OF MISSING ANY OF IT -
AND CO
LUMB
5-22-32
R - M - BRINKERHOFF



Winnie Winkle
THE BREADWINNER
BY BRANNER
NOTE — THE RINKEYDINK CLUB IS CONDUCTING A DRIVE FOR NEW MEMBERS TO SWELL THE TREASURY AND BUILD UP A FINE CLUB.
FELLOW MEMBERS OF TH' RINKEYDINKS —
I'M GOIN' THIS WAY!
NOW YOU HEARD WHAT MY FATHER SAID ABOUT GETTIN' NEW MEMBERS?? WE GOTTA USE HIGH PRESSURE SALESMANSHIP - SO GO TO IT, FELLERS!
HERE I GO!
I'M GOIN THIS WAY!
THERE'S A KID WOULD MAKE A GOOD RINKEYDINKER! IF HE WASN'T WITH HIS MOTHER, I'D TALK TO HIM!
THERE'S A KID — AN' HE'S ALONE!! I'M GONNA SEE CAN'T I MAKE HIM A MEMBER!!
JUST A MINUTE FELLER! DID'JA EVER HEAR OF TH' RINKEYDINK CLUB?
NO!
WELL, OUR CLUB IS ALL REG'LAR KIDS! WE GO IN FOR BASEBALL, FOOTBALL, SWIMMIN' AN' ALL SPORTS!! WE AIN'T AFRAID OF NOBODY—
WE NEED NEW MEMBERS, SO'S WE CAN BUILD A SWELL NEW CLUBHOUSE! TH' DUES IS CHEAP! WHAT DO Y'SAY? WILL YA JOIN??
N-N-NO!
WHAT? Y'WON'T JOIN TH' RINKEYDINKS — TH' BEST KIDS ATHALETIC CLUB IN TH' WORLD?
N-NO!
FELLOW MEMBERS OF THE RINKEYDINKS —
5-22-32

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.; Copyright, 1932, by The Chicago Tribune.



LOOIE BLOOIE
YOU WANT A DIVORCE? ON WHAT GROUNDS?
CRUELTY! MY HUSBAND BROKE EVERY DISH IN TH' HOUSE OVER MY HEAD!
WELL-DIDN'T HE SAY HE WAS SORRY OR ANYTHING??
NO-
HONK HONK
!
TH' AMBULANCE TOOK HIM AWAY BEFORE HE COULD SPEAK TO ME!!
BRANNER
HERE'S AN OLD FRIEND OF YOURS — WILL YOU SAVE HER ????
PATSY DUGAN
RINKEYDINK STAMP

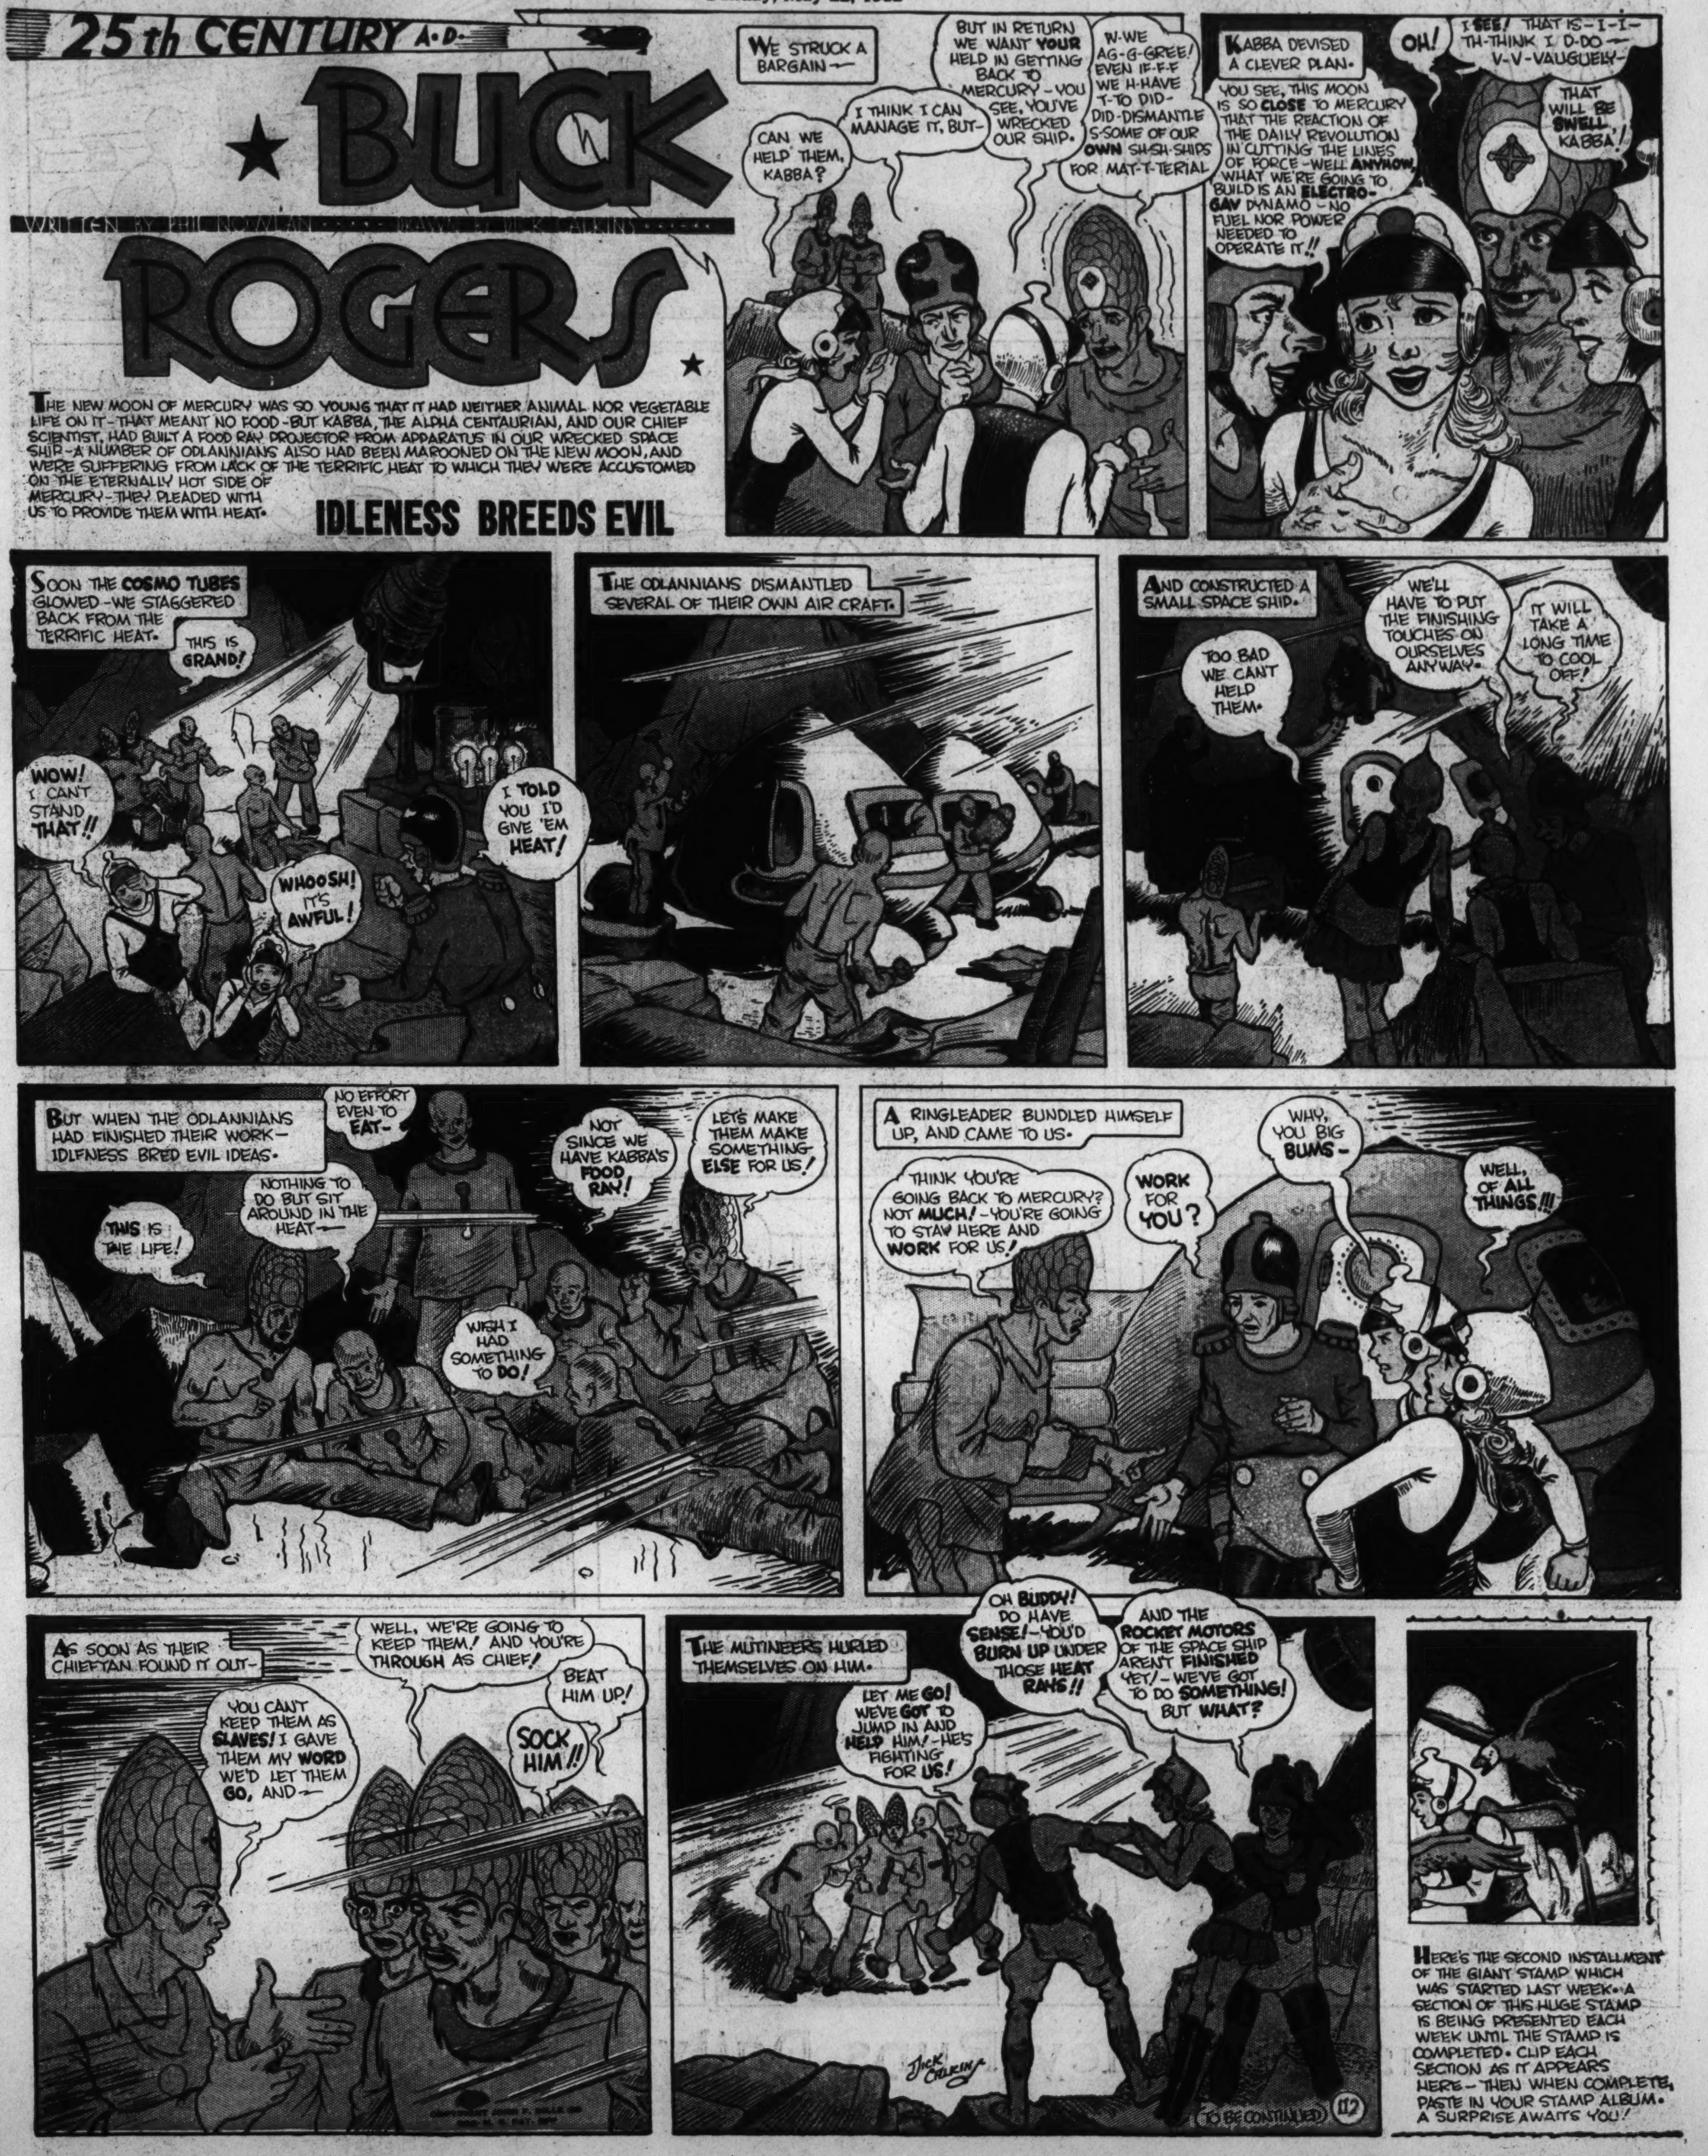
Reg. U. S. Pat. Off. Copyright, 1932, by The Chicago Tribune.

8 PAGES OF COMICS

The Washington Post.

Sunday, May 22, 1932

8 PAGES OF COMICS



25th CENTURY A.D. BUCK ROGERS

WRITTEN BY PHIL NOWLAN — DRAWN BY DICK CALKINS

THE NEW MOON OF MERCURY WAS SO YOUNG THAT IT HAD NEITHER ANIMAL NOR VEGETABLE LIFE ON IT—THAT MEANT NO FOOD—BUT KABBA, THE ALPHA CENTAURIAN, AND OUR CHIEF SCIENTIST, HAD BUILT A FOOD RAY PROJECTOR FROM APPARATUS IN OUR WRECKED SPACE SHIP—A NUMBER OF ODLANNIANS ALSO HAD BEEN MAROONED ON THE NEW MOON, AND WERE SUFFERING FROM LACK OF THE TERRIFIC HEAT TO WHICH THEY WERE ACCUSTOMED ON THE ETERNALLY HOT SIDE OF MERCURY—THEY PLEADED WITH US TO PROVIDE THEM WITH HEAT.

IDLENESS BREEDS EVIL

WE STRUCK A BARGAIN—
CAN WE HELP THEM, KABBA?
I THINK I CAN MANAGE IT, BUT—
BUT IN RETURN WE WANT YOUR HELP IN GETTING BACK TO MERCURY—YOU SEE, YOU'VE WRECKED OUR SHIP.
W-WE AG-G-GREE! EVEN IF-F-F WE H-HAVE T-TO DID-DID-DISMANTLE S-SOME OF OUR OWN SH-SH-SHIPS FOR MAT-T-TERIAL
KABBA DEVISED A CLEVER PLAN.
YOU SEE, THIS MOON IS SO CLOSE TO MERCURY THAT THE REACTION OF THE DAILY REVOLUTION IN CUTTING THE LINES OF FORCE—WELL ANYHOW, WHAT WE'RE GOING TO BUILD IS AN ELECTRO-GAV DYNAMO—NO FUEL NOR POWER NEEDED TO OPERATE IT!!
OH!
I SEE! THAT IS—I—I—TH-THINK I D-DO—V-V-VAUGUELY—
THAT WILL BE SWELL, KABBA!
SOON THE COSMO TUBES GLOWED—WE STAGGERED BACK FROM THE TERRIFIC HEAT.
THIS IS GRAND!
WOW! I CAN'T STAND THAT!!
I TOLD YOU I'D GIVE 'EM HEAT!
WHOOSH! IT'S AWFUL!
THE ODLANNIANS DISMANTLED SEVERAL OF THEIR OWN AIR CRAFT.
AND CONSTRUCTED A SMALL SPACE SHIP.
TOO BAD WE CAN'T HELP THEM.
WE'LL HAVE TO PUT THE FINISHING TOUCHES ON OURSELVES ANYWAY.
IT WILL TAKE A LONG TIME TO COOL OFF!
BUT WHEN THE ODLANNIANS HAD FINISHED THEIR WORK—IDLENESS BRED EVIL IDEAS.
NO EFFORT EVEN TO EAT—
THIS IS THE LIFE!
NOTHING TO DO BUT SIT AROUND IN THE HEAT—
NOT SINCE WE HAVE KABBA'S FOOD RAY!
LET'S MAKE THEM MAKE SOMETHING ELSE FOR US!
WISH I HAD SOMETHING TO DO!
A RINGLEADER BUNDLED HIMSELF UP, AND CAME TO US.
THINK YOU'RE GOING BACK TO MERCURY? NOT MUCH!—YOU'RE GOING TO STAY HERE AND WORK FOR US!
WORK FOR YOU?
WHY, YOU BIG BUMS—
WELL, OF ALL THINGS!!!
AS SOON AS THEIR CHIEFTAN FOUND IT OUT—
YOU CAN'T KEEP THEM AS SLAVES! I GAVE THEM MY WORD WE'D LET THEM GO, AND—WELL, WE'RE GOING TO KEEP THEM! AND YOU'RE THROUGH AS CHIEF!
BEAT HIM UP!
SOCK HIM!!
THE MUTINEERS HURLED THEMSELVES ON HIM.
LET ME GO! WE'VE GOT TO JUMP IN AND HELP HIM!—HE'S FIGHTING FOR US!
OH BUDDY! DO HAVE SENSE!—YOU'D BURN UP UNDER THOSE HEAT RAYS!!
AND THE ROCKET MOTORS OF THE SPACE SHIP AREN'T FINISHED YET!—WE'VE GOT TO DO SOMETHING! BUT WHAT?
DICK CALKINS (TO BE CONTINUED)
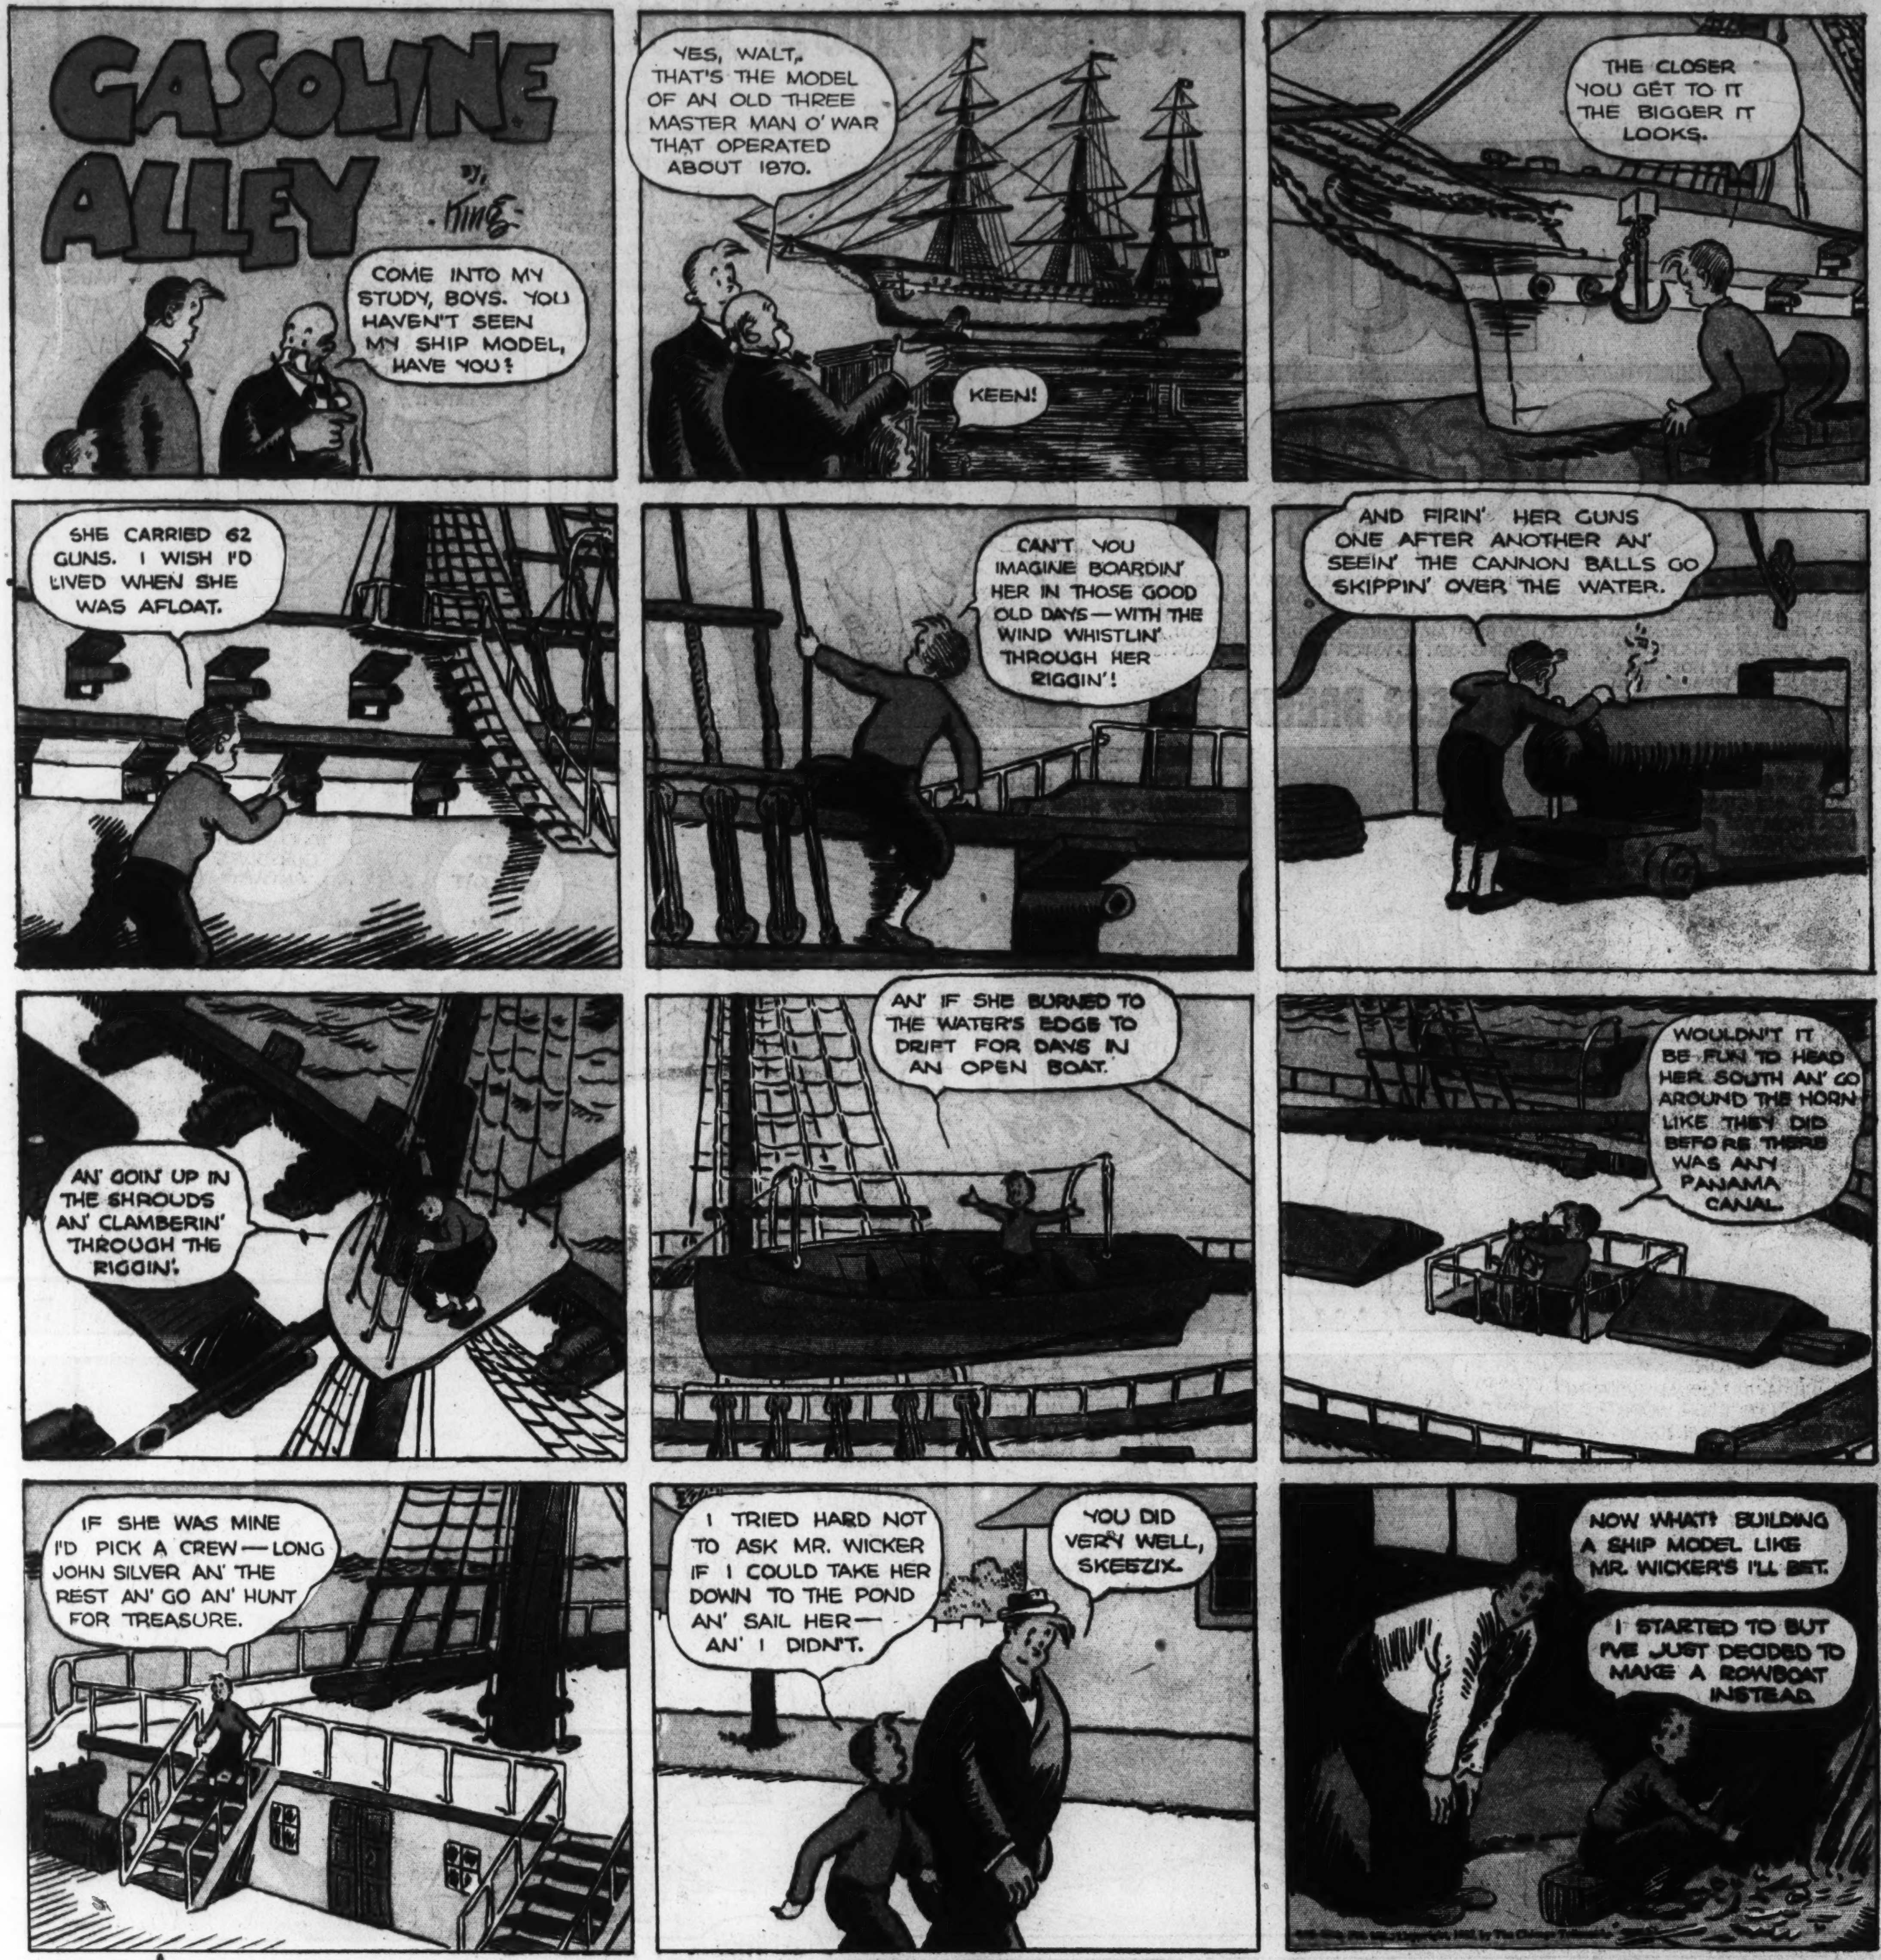
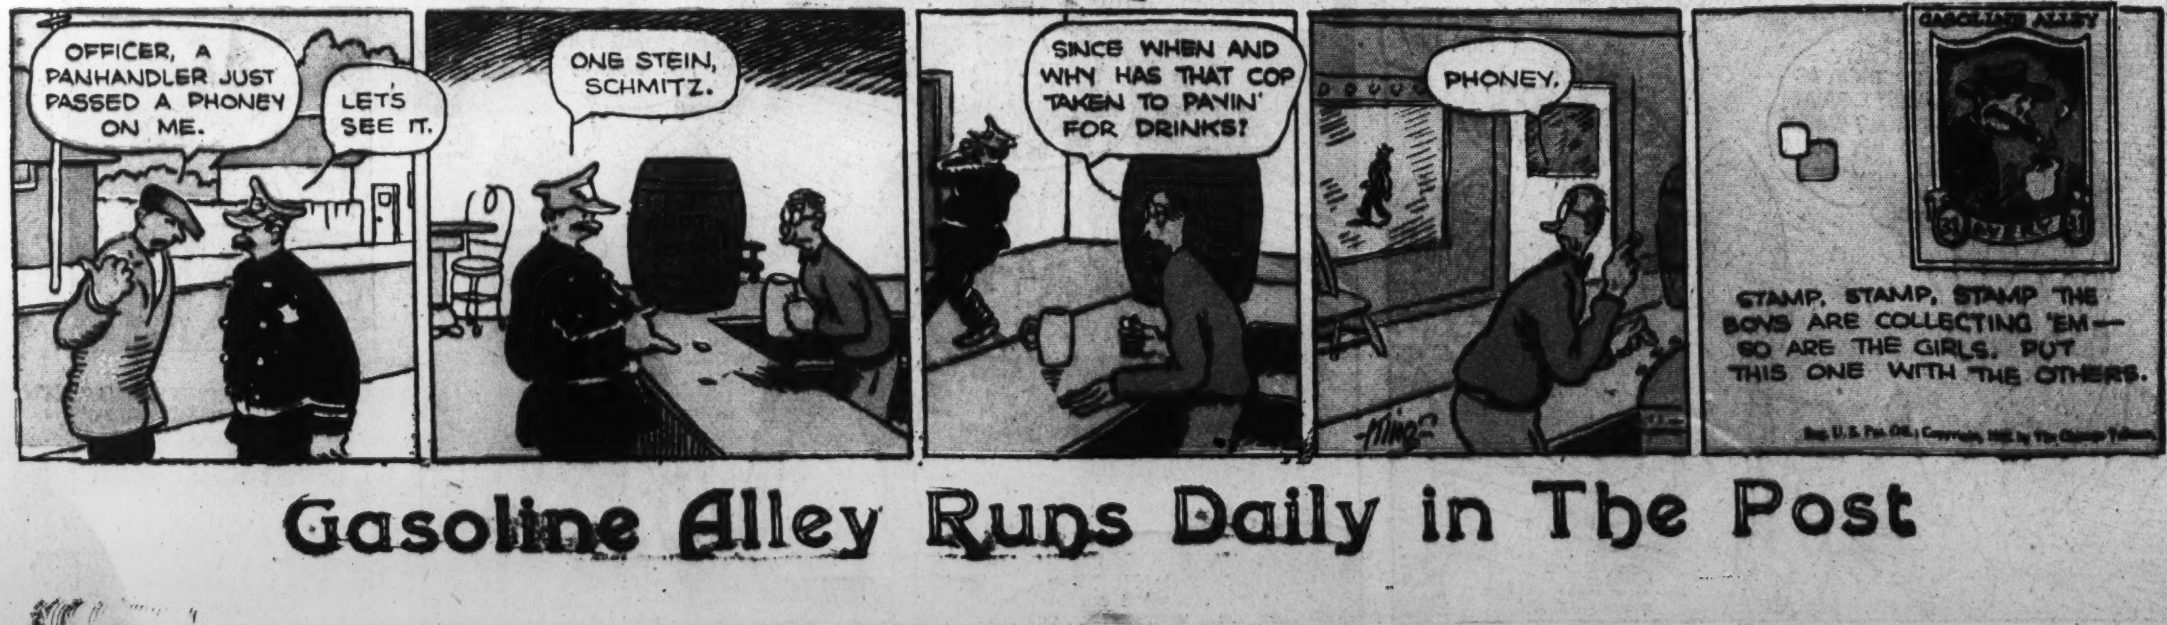
112

HERE'S THE SECOND INSTALLMENT OF THE GIANT STAMP WHICH WAS STARTED LAST WEEK. A SECTION OF THIS HUGE STAMP IS BEING PRESENTED EACH WEEK UNTIL THE STAMP IS COMPLETED. CLIP EACH SECTION AS IT APPEARS HERE—THEN WHEN COMPLETE, PASTE IN YOUR STAMP ALBUM. A SURPRISE AWAITS YOU!



GASOLINE ALLEY
BY KING
COME INTO MY STUDY, BOYS. YOU HAVEN'T SEEN MY SHIP MODEL, HAVE YOU?
YES, WALT, THAT'S THE MODEL OF AN OLD THREE MASTER MAN O' WAR THAT OPERATED ABOUT 1870.
KEEN!
THE CLOSER YOU GET TO IT THE BIGGER IT LOOKS.
SHE CARRIED 62 GUNS. I WISH I'D LIVED WHEN SHE WAS AFLOAT.
CAN'T YOU IMAGINE BOARDIN' HER IN THOSE GOOD OLD DAYS—WITH THE WIND WHISTLIN' THROUGH HER RIGGIN'!
AND FIRIN' HER GUNS ONE AFTER ANOTHER AN' SEEIN' THE CANNON BALLS GO SKIPPIN' OVER THE WATER.
AN' GOIN' UP IN THE SHROUDS AN' CLAMBERIN' THROUGH THE RIGGIN'.
AN' IF SHE BURNED TO THE WATER'S EDGE TO DRIFT FOR DAYS IN AN OPEN BOAT.
WOULDN'T IT BE FUN TO HEAD HER SOUTH AN' GO AROUND THE HORN LIKE THEY DID BEFORE THERE WAS ANY PANAMA CANAL.
IF SHE WAS MINE I'D PICK A CREW—LONG JOHN SILVER AN' THE REST AN' GO AN' HUNT FOR TREASURE.
I TRIED HARD NOT TO ASK MR. WICKER IF I COULD TAKE HER DOWN TO THE POND AN' SAIL HER—AN' I DIDN'T.
YOU DID VERY WELL, SKEEZIX.
NOW WHAT? BUILDING A SHIP MODEL LIKE MR. WICKER'S I'LL BET.
I STARTED TO BUT I'VE JUST DECIDED TO MAKE A ROWBOAT INSTEAD.

That Phoney Nickel.



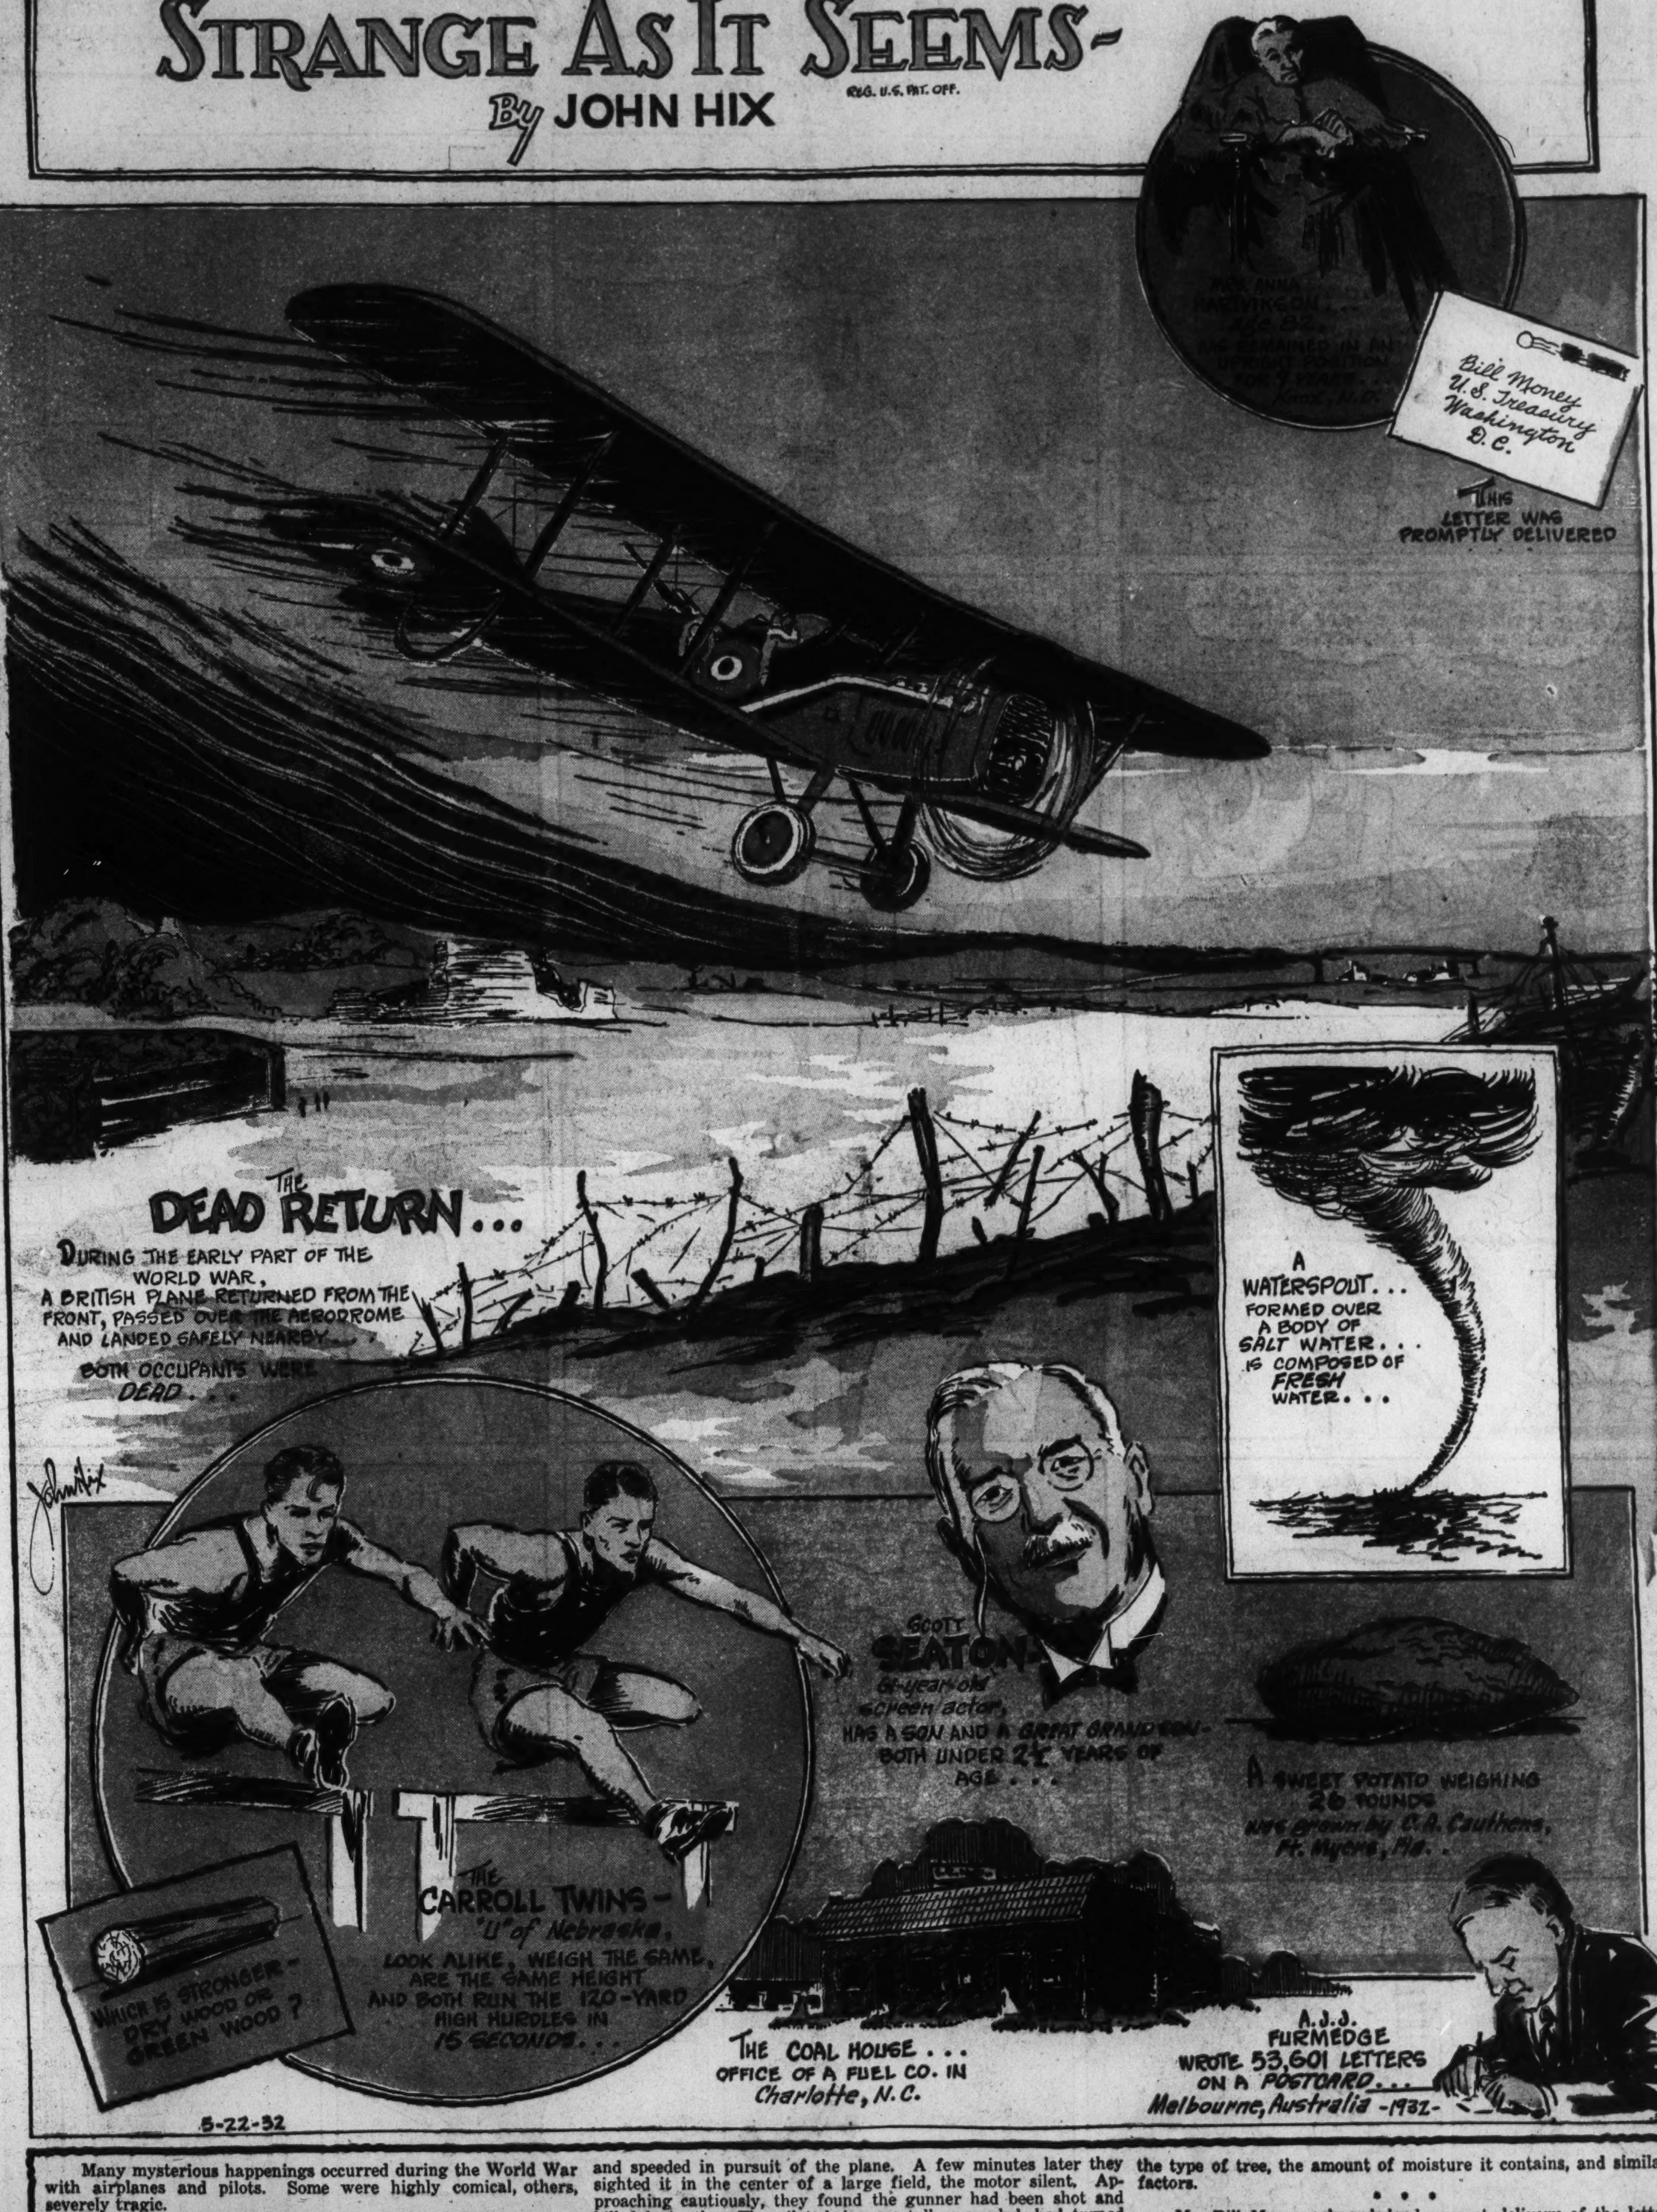
OFFICER, A PANHANDLER JUST PASSED A PHONEY ON ME.
LET'S SEE IT.
ONE STEIN, SCHMITZ.
SINCE WHEN AND WHY HAS THAT COP TAKEN TO PANIN' FOR DRINKS?
PHONEY.
KING
GASOLINE ALLEY
STAMP, STAMP, STAMP THE BOYS ARE COLLECTING 'EM—SO ARE THE GIRLS. PUT THIS ONE WITH THE OTHERS.
Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.; Copyright, [illegible] by The Chicago Tribune.

Gasoline Alley Runs Daily in The Post

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS-

By JOHN HIX

REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.



MRS. ANNA HARTVIKSON ...
Age 82,
has remained in an upright position for 9 years ...
Knox, N.D.
Bill Money
U.S. Treasury
Washington
D.C.
THIS LETTER WAS PROMPTLY DELIVERED
THE DEAD RETURN...
DURING THE EARLY PART OF THE WORLD WAR,
A BRITISH PLANE RETURNED FROM THE FRONT, PASSED OVER THE AERODROME AND LANDED SAFELY NEARBY...
BOTH OCCUPANTS WERE DEAD...
A WATERSPOUT... FORMED OVER A BODY OF SALT WATER... IS COMPOSED OF FRESH WATER...
John Hix
SCOTT SEATON-
61-year-old screen actor,
HAS A SON AND A GREAT GRANDSON-
BOTH UNDER 2½ YEARS OF AGE...
A SWEET POTATO WEIGHING 26 POUNDS
was grown by C.A. Cauthens, Ft. Myers, Fla.
THE CARROLL TWINS-
"U" of Nebraska,
LOOK ALIKE, WEIGH THE SAME, ARE THE SAME HEIGHT AND BOTH RUN THE 120-YARD HIGH HURDLES IN 15 SECONDS...
WHICH IS STRONGER- DRY WOOD OR GREEN WOOD?
THE COAL HOUSE...
OFFICE OF A FUEL CO. IN Charlotte, N.C.
A.J.J. FURMEDGE
WROTE 53,601 LETTERS ON A POSTCARD...
Melbourne, Australia -1932-
5-22-32

Many mysterious happenings occurred during the World War with airplanes and pilots. Some were highly comical, others, severely tragic.

The strangest of tragedies was that of the dead return. A small group of British airmen observed one of their planes descending from the war clouds over the front lines, in a long, steady glide. Directly over the landing field, it failed to circle and land, but kept its straight course and disappeared over a hill. Fearing that Germans had gained possession of a British ship and were attempting to land beyond the lines, the officers boarded a truck and speeded in pursuit of the plane. A few minutes later they sighted it in the center of a large field, the motor silent. Approaching cautiously, they found the gunner had been shot and killed instantly. The pilot, being mortally wounded, had turned the nose of his ship toward the home port and switched off the engine. Truly a wonderful example of presence of mind even in the grip of death.

* * *

A tree limb that has been dried is as much as two and one-half times as strong as the same limb when it was on a growing tree. The strength of dry wood compared to green, varies with the type of tree, the amount of moisture it contains, and similar factors.

* * *

Mr. Bill Money acknowledged prompt delivery of the letter sent to him, in care of the U. S. Treasury. A Mr. Penny and Mr. Nickels are also employed in the Treasury.

* * *

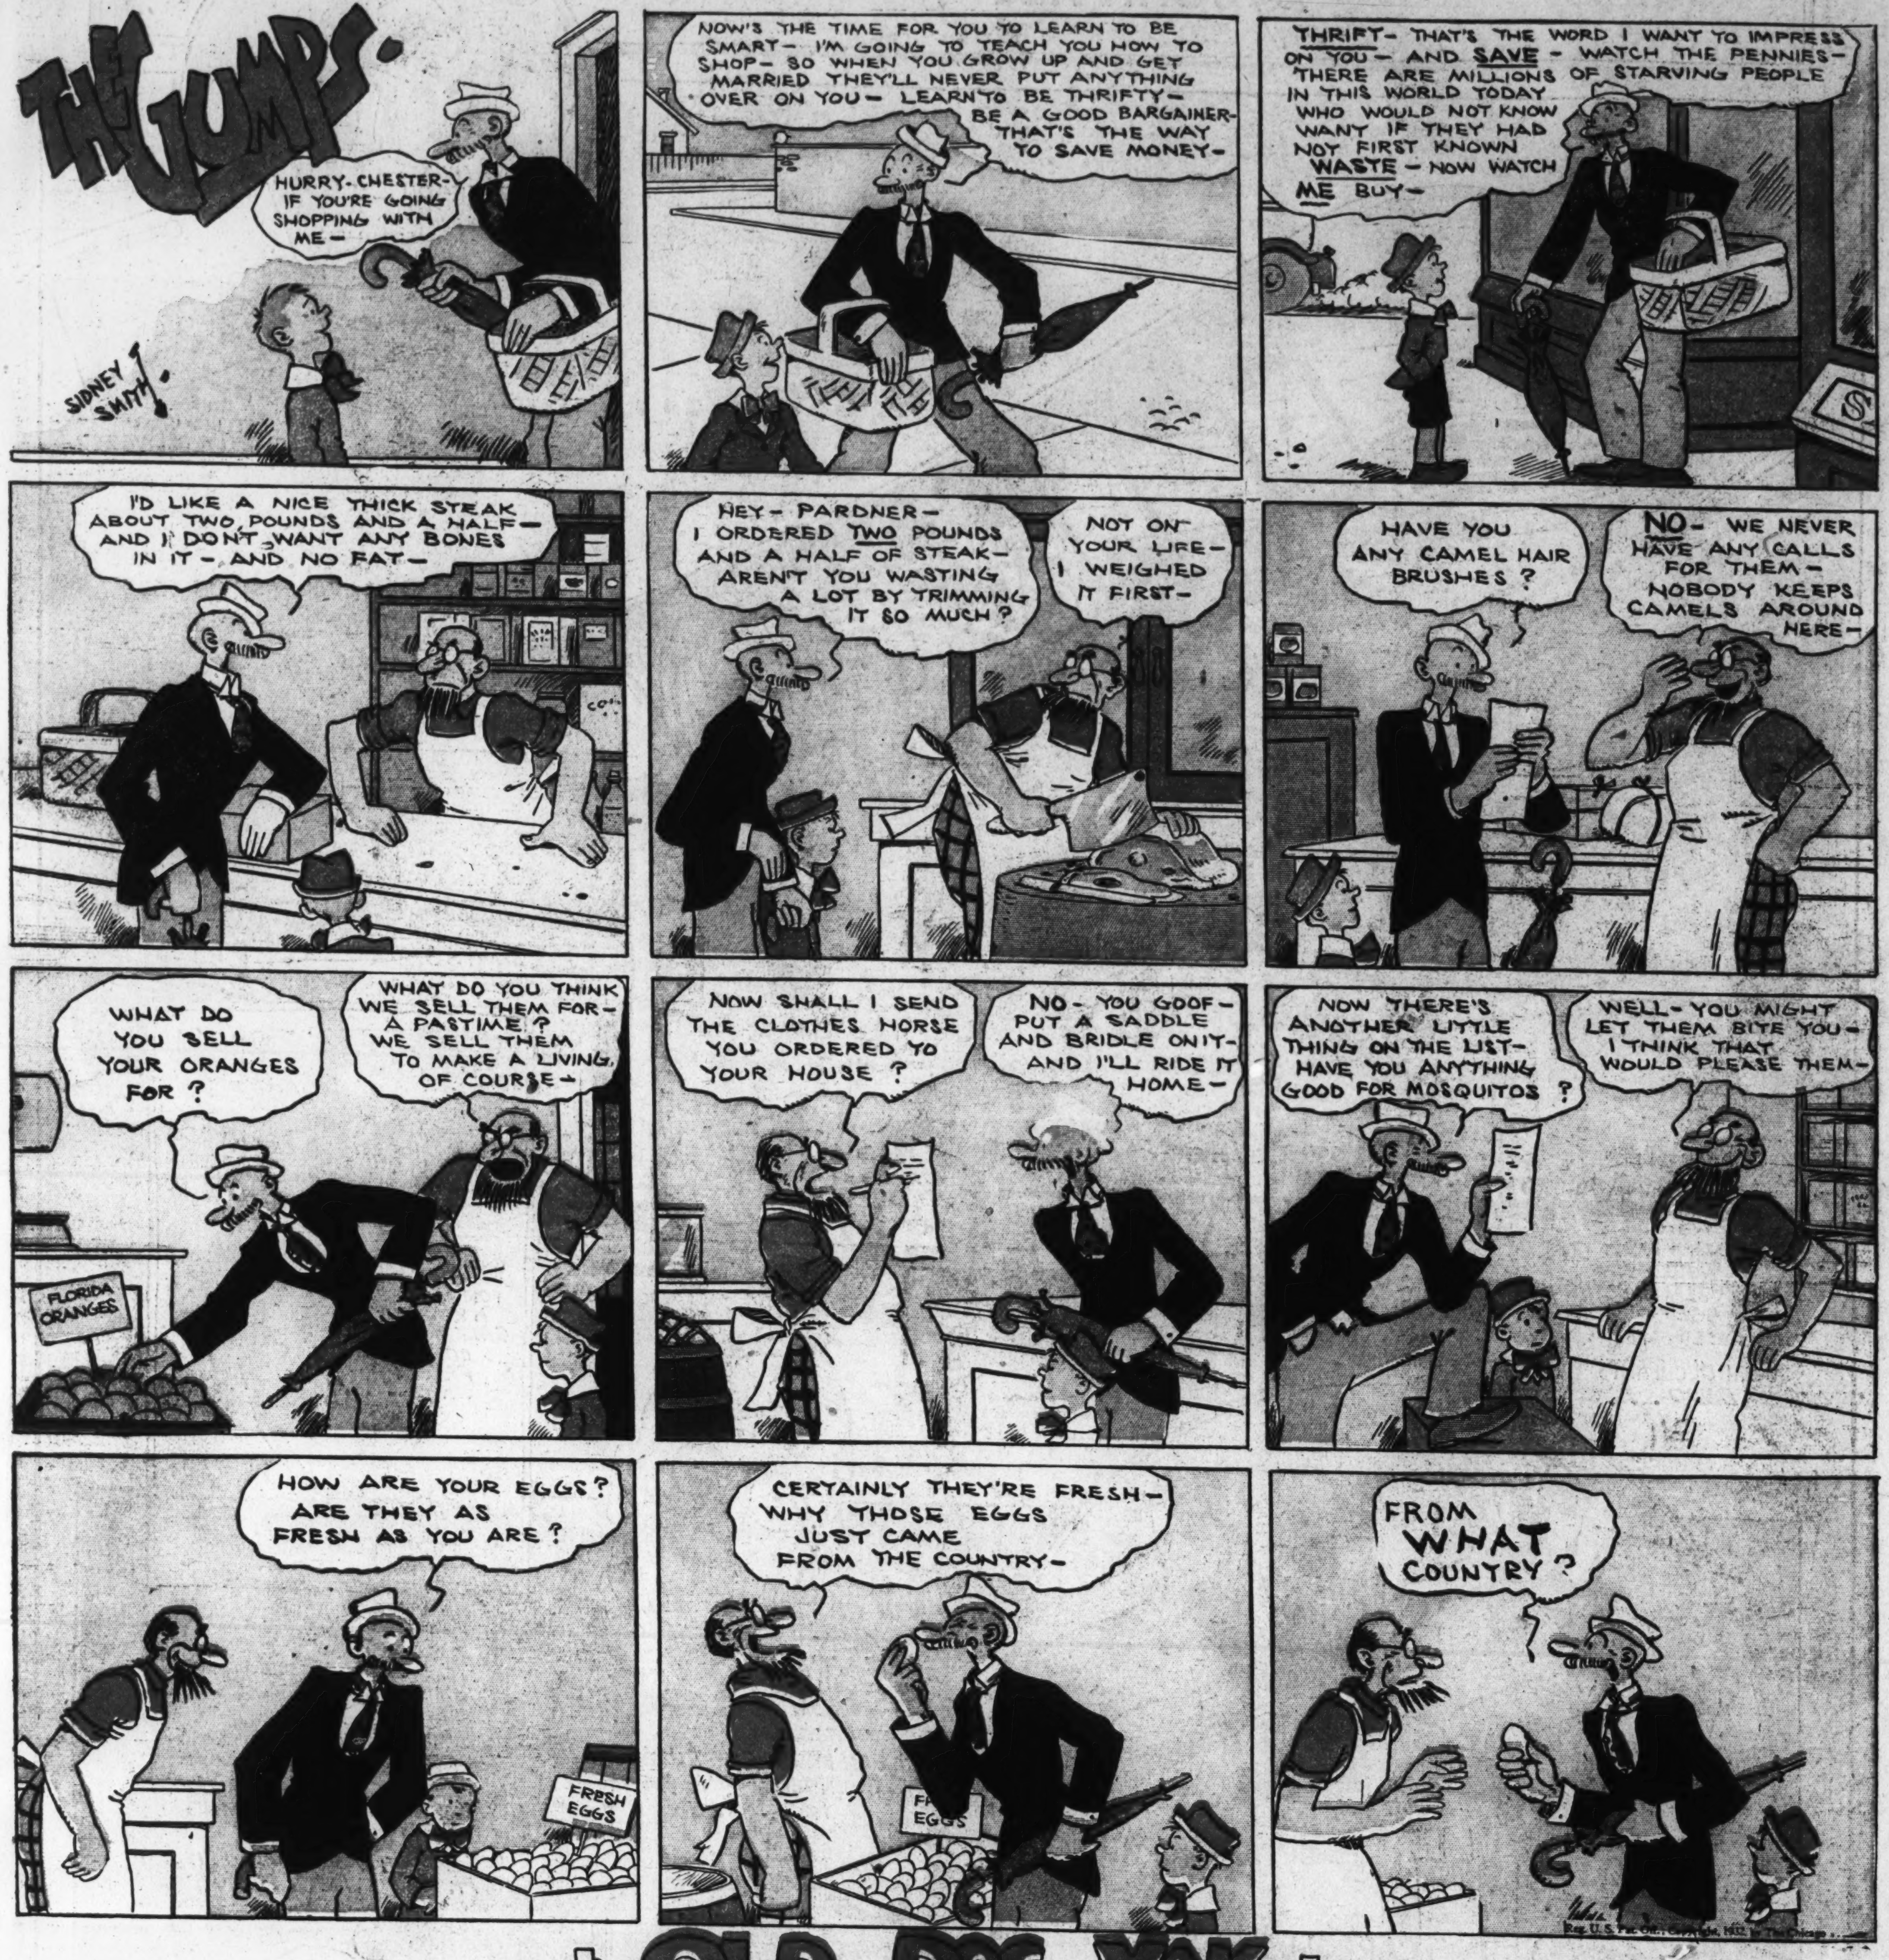
Anyone desiring additional information or proof should write the author, inclosing a stamped, addressed envelope.

8 PAGES OF COMICS

The Washington Post.

8 PAGES OF COMICS

Sunday, May 22, 1932.



THE GUMPS
HURRY- CHESTER- IF YOU'RE GOING SHOPPING WITH ME-
SIDNEY SMITH
NOW'S THE TIME FOR YOU TO LEARN TO BE SMART- I'M GOING TO TEACH YOU HOW TO SHOP- SO WHEN YOU GROW UP AND GET MARRIED THEY'LL NEVER PUT ANYTHING OVER ON YOU- LEARN TO BE THRIFTY- BE A GOOD BARGAINER- THAT'S THE WAY TO SAVE MONEY-
THRIFT- THAT'S THE WORD I WANT TO IMPRESS ON YOU- AND SAVE- WATCH THE PENNIES- THERE ARE MILLIONS OF STARVING PEOPLE IN THIS WORLD TODAY WHO WOULD NOT KNOW WANT IF THEY HAD NOT FIRST KNOWN WASTE- NOW WATCH ME BUY-
I'D LIKE A NICE THICK STEAK ABOUT TWO POUNDS AND A HALF- AND I DON'T WANT ANY BONES IN IT- AND NO FAT-
HEY- PARDNER- I ORDERED TWO POUNDS AND A HALF OF STEAK- AREN'T YOU WASTING A LOT BY TRIMMING IT SO MUCH?
NOT ON YOUR LIFE- I WEIGHED IT FIRST-
HAVE YOU ANY CAMEL HAIR BRUSHES?
NO- WE NEVER HAVE ANY CALLS FOR THEM- NOBODY KEEPS CAMELS AROUND HERE-
WHAT DO YOU SELL YOUR ORANGES FOR?
WHAT DO YOU THINK WE SELL THEM FOR- A PASTIME? WE SELL THEM TO MAKE A LIVING, OF COURSE-
FLORIDA ORANGES
NOW SHALL I SEND THE CLOTHES HORSE YOU ORDERED TO YOUR HOUSE?
NO- YOU GOOF- PUT A SADDLE AND BRIDLE ON IT- AND I'LL RIDE IT HOME-
NOW THERE'S ANOTHER LITTLE THING ON THE LIST- HAVE YOU ANYTHING GOOD FOR MOSQUITOS?
WELL- YOU MIGHT LET THEM BITE YOU- I THINK THAT WOULD PLEASE THEM-
HOW ARE YOUR EGGS? ARE THEY AS FRESH AS YOU ARE?
FRESH EGGS
CERTAINLY THEY'RE FRESH- WHY THOSE EGGS JUST CAME FROM THE COUNTRY-FRESH EGGS
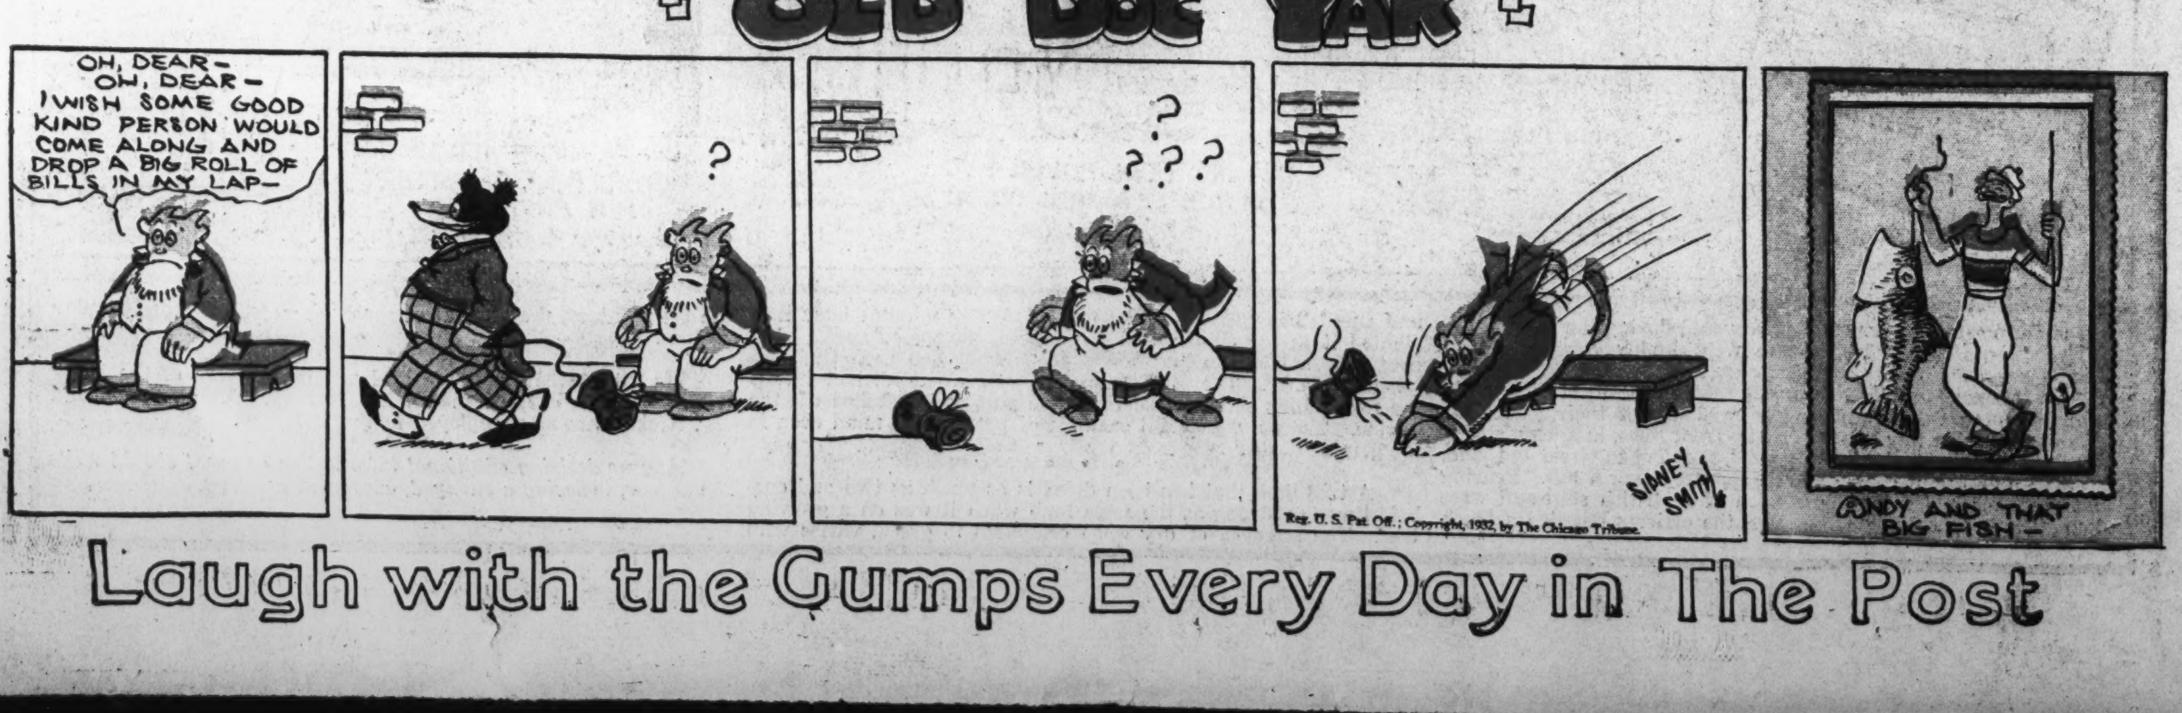
FROM WHAT COUNTRY?

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.; Copyright, 1932, by The Chicago . .



OLD DOC YAK
OH, DEAR- OH, DEAR- I WISH SOME GOOD KIND PERSON WOULD COME ALONG AND DROP A BIG ROLL OF BILLS IN MY LAP-
?
???
SIDNEY SMITH
ANDY AND THAT BIG FISH-

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.; Copyright, 1932, by The Chicago Tribune.

Laugh with the Gumps Every Day in The Post